The Columbia and Shamrock sailed on Tuesday in the second race, and the Columbia again won. This time her good fortune came from her adversary, the Shamrock, losing her topmast and its big sail. But according to the terms of the contract it still counts as a race. Today they try again. This time many believe the Shamrock will win, as she has added 3,388 pounds of lead for ballast. This enables her to carry more sail. She has a new topmast.

The race took place Thursday as announced, but was again a failure, owing to lack of wind, as the boats did not get home within the time limit, although they could nearly make it. Had they got home in time to call it a race, the matter would have ended, as the Columbia was ahead about three miles at the close. She had kept ahead all the way around. She can apparently beat the Shamrock in spite of the extra ballast the latter used yesterday to enable her to spread more sail. Another race is tried today.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Billiousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Sample bottles at O. P. Barber's, Corunna.

Patents to Indianians.

E. G. Siggers, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C. reports the following patents granted to Inventors in the State of Indiana, Oct. 3, 1899. He will mail copy of specifications and drawings of any patent for 10 cents in stamps.

C. Berst, New Albany, Ind., Shoe displaying device; William Butler, Redkey, Ind., Furnace for fire-finishing glassware; J. R. Duncan, Indianapolis, Ind., Oil burner; W. F. Fribley, Bourbon, Ind., Churn; G. H. Gray, Marion, Ind., Mold for glassware; J. W. Lambert, Anderson, Ind, Mixing device for gasoline engines; M. F. Winslow, Terre Haute, Ind., Platform scale.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

From Ohio.

A letter from S. Z. Dickinson leaves him visiting friends at Ravenna, Ohio. But he has been for a few days in Randolph which was his home for thirty-five years. He found but few of the old neighbors left, but a plenty of their children made him feel more than welcome. He speaks of the way the farmers spray their apple trees in Ohio. and as a result, the crop was large and the fruit sound, and brought good prices. while the trees not sprayed did not have much fit to use. He says the people there raise a great many potatoes, which they generally dig with a machine and horses.

Custer's Old Regiment.

Rev. J. N. Wilson went north on the noon train to atten the reunion of his old regiment, the 7th Michigan Cavalry, tomorrow, that day being the 35th anniversary of the Battle of Cedar Creek. In this battle it will be remembered one flank of our army was pushed back, but the other flank, which was the cavalry, held its ground till Sheridan came from "Winchester, twenty miles away." The 7th Michigan was Custer's old command, and his men have a high regard for his memory. Mr. Wilson is expected to give the address this year, an honor he will be fully able to meet.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE
Makes the food more delicious and wholesome
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Court Proceedings.

But little business of importance has been transcated in the circuit court during the past few days.

In the case of the Noble county Bank vs. Henry Bartnet and others, on mortgage, court found for the plaintiff.

Judge Hartman had several divorce cases under consideration yesterday. The first was that of James L. Grubb vs. Sarah E. Grubb, and after hearing the evidence the court gave the plaintiff a decree at his costs.

Mary H. Purdy asked the court to dissolve the ties that bound her to Frederick Purdy. When the case was called the defendant failed to appear, and after hearing the evidence the court took the matter under advisement.

The divorce case of Rosa B. Knisely vs. John C. Knisely was dismissed by the plaintiff.

In the case of Margaret Crane vs. William E. Crane, the defendant appeared and made a defense against the application for divorce. The plantiff's complaint alleged habitual intoxication and failure to provide, and asked that she be granted, in addition to the divorce, alimony in the sum of $1,500.00 and the privilege of resuming her former name, Margaret Dills. The defendant's cross complaintdenied the allegations made by the plaintiff, in addition to making other charges against the plaintiff. The parties were married in April, 1882, and separated in August last. After hearing the evidence Judge Hartman garnted a divorce to the plaintiff, with $340 alimony and the privilege of assuming her former name.

Judgment was redered for the plaintiff in the sum of $253.97 in the case of Philip Fralick vs. Chas. Hike et al., on mortgage.

The state of Indiana on the relation of Frank P. Seller, auditor, vs. B. F. and Caroline Blair, on mortgage, was dismissed and the costs paid.

Frank J. Dunten executor of the will of Lucinda Dunten, vs. Perry and Catharine Harkey, on notes; finding for plaintiff for $141.13.

GRAND JURY REPORTS.

After finding twelve indictments for various offenses, which were properly returned, the grand jury visited the county farm and jail. At the farm they found everything in first-class condition, but recommend that a new kitchen be built, the present kitchen to be used as a dining room, and that other changes be made in the interior arrangement of the buildings for the comfort of the inmates. The report will be published in full tomorrow. For the benefit of our readers, among whom there seem to be a difference of opinion on the report concerning the jail, we publish it below in full:

To the Honorable judge of the DeKalb Circuit Court:

We the grand jury of said court, assembled would respectfully report to the court that we have examined the county prison or jail and find two male inmates therein awaiting trial. The condition of said jail we found in very poor condition. the insane cell is unfit for occupancy and is stored full of pipes and plumbing material. There are no sewer or drainage connections whatever, and the sanitary conditions of said jail are very bad indeed and demand immediate attention of proper authorities. We recommend that connections be made at once with the city sewerage and water system. We further recommend that the present improvements for heating said prison, now in process of construction, be pushed to completion without further delay.

JOHN TREESH, Foreman.

Webster Stumbled.

The great Daniel Webster, the eloquent, whose speeches sound so grand, with never a wrong word or a word misplaced, gave one a different impression while he was actually speaking, and when his speeches got into print he had carefully cut out the words that did not suit him. Senator Hoar, who had when a young man, often heard the great statesman, says:

"He had a singular habit, which made it wearisome to listen to his ordinary speech, of groping after the most suitable word, and trying one synonym after another till he got that which suited him best. 'Why is it, Mr. Chairman, that there has gathered, congregated, come together here, this great number of inhabitants, dwellers, that these roads, avenues, routes of travel, highways converge, meet, come together here?' Is it not because we have here a sufficient, ample, safe, secure, convenient, commodious port, harbor, haven? Of course, when the speech came to be printed all the synonyms, but the best one would be left out."

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an execution to me directed from the clerk of the DeKalb circuit court, in a cause wherein H. Edward Braun is plaintiff and Henry Frick is defendant, requiring me to make the sum of sixty-four dollars and seventy-one cents, with interest on said judgment and costs, I will expose at public sale to the highest bidder, on between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. of said day, at the door of the court house of DeKalb county, Indiana, the rents and profits for a term not exceeding seven years, of the undivided one-ninth (1-9) of the undivided two-thirds (2-3) of the following real estate situated in the county of DeKalb, state of Indiana, to-wit:

Saturday, November 18, 1899,

The northwest quarter of section thirty-four (34) township thirty-five (35), north of range thirteen (13) east, except the right of way of the Fort Wayne, Jackson & Saginaw Railroad and also excepting a strip twenty (20) feet wide off the north end of that part of said quarter that lies west of said railroad right of way. Subject to the inchoate interest of Abigail Frick, wife of the defendant herein.

If such rents and profits will not sell for a sufficient sum to satisfy said judgment, interest and costs. I will at the same time and place expose to public sale the fee simple of said real estate, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to discharge said judgment, interest and costs.

JOHN H. HATHAWAY,
Sheriff of DeKalb County, Indiana.
W. H. Lesa, Attorney for Plaintiff.
Auburn, Indiana, October 25, 1899.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an execution to me directed from the clerk of the DeKalb circuit court, in a cause wherein Abigail Frick is plaintiff and Henry Frick is defendant, requiring me to make the sum of five hundred dollars, with interest on said judgment and costs, I will expose at public sale to the highest bidder on between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. of said day, at the door of the court house of DeKalb county, Indiana, the rents and profits for a term not exceeding seven years of the undivided one-ninth (1-9) of the undivided two-thirds (2-3) of the following real estate situated in the county of DeKalb, state of Indiana, to-wit:

Saturday, November 18, 1899,

The west one-half (½) of the northeast quarter of section eleven (11) township thirty-four (34), north of range thirteen (13) east, containing eighty (80) acres; and sixty-five and ninety-two one-hundredths (65 92-100) acres off the east side of the southwest quarter of section two (2), township thirty-four (34) north of range thirteen east, the same being all that part of said quarter that lies east of the highway running north and south through said quarter section, except the right-of-way of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railroad running east and west through said tract. Subject to the inchoate interest of Abigail Frick, wife of the defendant herein.

If such rents and profits will not sell for a sufficient sum to satisfy said judgment, interest and costs, I will, at the same time and place, expose at public sale the fee simple of said real estate, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to discharge said judgment, interest and costs.

JOHN H. HATHAWAY,
Sheriff of DeKalb County, Indiana.
W. H. Lesa, Attorney for Plaintiff.
Auburn, Indiana, October 25, 1899.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue a certified copy of a decree to me directed from the clerk of the DeKalb Circuit Court, in a cause wherein William R. Duperight is plaintiff and Henry Frick is defendant, requiring me to make the sum of one hundred thirty dollars ($130) with interest on said decree and costs, I will expose at public sale to the highest bidder, on between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. of said day, at the door of the court house in Auburn, DeKalb county, Indiana, the rents and profits for a term not exceeding seven years, of the undivided one-ninth—1-9—of the undivided two-thirds—2-3—of the following real estate situated in the county of DeKalb, state of Indiana, to-wit:

Saturday, November 18, 1899.

The west one-half—½—of the northeast quarter of section eleven—11—township thirty-four—34—north of range thirteen—13—east, containing eighty—80—acres; sixty-five and ninety-two one-hundredths—65 92-100—acres off the east side of the southwest quarter of section two—2—township thirty-four—34—north of range thirteen east, the same being all that part of said quarter that lies east of the highway running north and south through said quarter section, except the right-of-way of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad running east and west through said tract, and the northwest quarter of section thirty-four—34—township thirty-five—35—north of range thirteen—13—east, except the right-of-way of the Fort Wayne, Jackson & Saginaw railroad, and also excepting a strip twenty—20—feet wide off the north end of that part of said quarter that lies east of said railroad right-of-way.

If such rents and profits will not sell for a sufficient sum to satisfy said decree, interest and costs, I will at the same time and place expose to public sale the fee simple of said real estate, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to discharge said decree, interest and costs.

JOHN H. HATHAWAY,
Sheriff of DeKalb County, Indiana.
W. H. Lesa, Attorney for Plaintiff.
Auburn, Indiana, October 25, 1899.

Spain's Greatest Need.

Mr. R. P. Olivia, of Barcelona, Spain, spends his winters at Aiken, S. C. Weak nerves had caused severe pains in the back of his head. On using Electric Bitters, America's greatest Blood and Nerve remedy, all pains soon left him. He says this grand medicine is what his country needs. All America knows that it cures liver and kidney trouble, purifies the blood, tones up the stomach, strengthens the nerves, puts vim, vigor and new life into every muscle, nerve and organ of the body. If weak, tired or ailing you need it. Every bottle guaranteed, only 50 cents. Sold by H. B. McCord the Druggist.

CHICAGO'S $45,000,000 DRAINAGE CHANNEL

WITH the completion of the great drainage canal, the taxpayers of Chicago can reckon up the enormous sum of $33,000,000 that they have put into this big ditch, with a possible incidental expense of ten or fifteen millions farther along. This work is a monument to the endeavors of the people to secure pure water, and yet it is estimated that out of the 2,000,000 people residing in Chicago 1,800,000 have never seen the channel, of whom a large proportion cannot tell where it starts or where it ends. It almost passes understanding—the gigantic work that has been accomplished—and the labor done shows that it is possible to construct the Nicaragua Canal 50 per cent. cheaper than was anticipated. It was a little something for the engineers to dig a ditch through sand for the construction of the Suez Canal, it was heroic for the workers to face fever and miasma at Panama, the Erie Canal was quite a bit of work, but in cost, in magnitude, in difficulties to overcome, the drainage channel of Chicago is not rivaled by these.

BEAR TRAP DAM, LOCKPORT.

The channel is divided into two great classes of work—the earth secretions, where all the excavations have been made in the dirt, and the rock sections. In constructing the water course it was found necessary to literally take up a river, move it to one side, give it a new course, and run the channel through the old course. When the final route of the channel was determined it was found by the engineers that it would be necessary to divert the Desplaines River from its then course—the same channel through which it was coursing when La Salle, Hennepin and Joliet came and thought it so great a body of water that they could not indicate on their maps where its western banks were. In summer the stream is at points a mere brook, but in the springtime, when the freshets come, it is one of the most powerful bodies of water in the State. Taking into account, then, that a portion of the channel is now in what was once the bed of the Desplaines, its entire route is: Mouth of Chicago River through its south branch to the town of Summit; by earth excavation to Willow Springs; through the old bed of the Desplaines to Lemont, partly by solid rock; cutting to Lockport by the same process; through the controlling works, past Romeo, to Joliet; to Lake Joliet; thence to the Illinois River, and through that to the mighty Mississippi. The entire length of the channel, including that portion of the Chicago River used, is about forty miles, formed at a cost per mile of about $825,000.

CALUMET TERMINAL BRIDGE OVER CHANNEL.

If Chicago did not stand at the summit of the watershed between the basins of the Mississippi and the St. Lawrence Rivers, the drainage channel might not have been constructed, and filtered or boiled water might have been good enough for the millions. But, standing on the crest, an engineer could readily see that if the water supply of the city lay on the St. Lawrence side of the slope, it was absolutely necessary that the sewage should not be deposited there. This being decided, the remaining question was how to cross the divide and start the sewage west and south. Hence the drainage channel, and that is all there is to the problem taken up in 1889. In its natural state the water of Lake Michigan is unpolluted and healthful. The carrying away of the sewage means the doing away with costly aqueducts and great artificial storage basins. New York goes fifty miles for its water supply, and the aqueducts which convey it have cost over $30,000,000. Boston journeys twenty miles, and has paid $15,000,000 for a brick conduit and storage basins. Philadelphia is spending $20,000,000 in an effort to find pure water. Chicago by paying $33,000,000 for the drainage canal has pure water at its lake front, free of cost, save pumping through the mains. The supply comes from a natural basin 840 feet deep, with an area of 26,000 square miles—320 miles long and 80 miles broad.

The channel of the canal is 38 feet deep, has a capacity for thirty-five feet of water, and a current speed of one mile and one-fifth per hour. Either 300,000 or 600,00 cubic feet of water can be carried through it per minute. If the water covering this forty miles could be taken out and land-locked, it would make a larger lake than any in Illinois, and fully the equal of Minnetonka or White Bear in Minnesota.

If an effort could be made to drink it up at one gulp, it would take considerably more than 100,000,000,000,000 people to consume it. If it were spread flat over the surface of the earth to the depth of one inch, it would cover Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri and a good portion of Nebraska. Could it be attenuated to a depth of three and a half feet, a row boat could travel over it for more than 800 miles. If a fire engine, throwing 1,200 gallons of water per minute, were to attempt to pump the channel dry, it would be occupied over 800 days in doing so. In continuous depth it is the largest channel in the world constructed by man, over 40,000,000 cubic yards of material having been taken out of it, of which over 12,000,000 cubic yards is rock. More than 100,000 men have been employed in its construction, the largest number of men at work at one time being 8,000. The possibility exists of developing along the channel a water power equal to 24,000 horse power. Public sentiment at present is against utilization for mechanical purposes, but the power which can be developed would be sufficient to illuminate every street and alley in Chicago with electric light. Less than two score of lives have been lost in the construction work, and no wages have been paid of less than $1.50 per day for labor. Between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000 worth of land was purchased by condemnation or otherwise for the right of way.

The history of the construction of the canal is interesting. After years of preliminary surveys and figuring, precedent necessarily to such a gigantic undertaking, earth was first broken in the great waterway on Sept. 3, 1892, on the Lemont rock cut, and the day has since been celebrated as "school day" on each succeeding anniversary. Since then the contractors have cut through twenty-eight miles of solid earth and rock, making a canal approximately 160 feet wide. If the earth, loose stone, top soil ("glacial drift") excavated were dumped into Lake Michigan, into forty feet of water, it would make an island a mile square, rising eight feet above the surface of the water.

In order to arrange for "river diversion," and control the stream at all times, so that it could not overflow and back up the Chicago River into the lake again, a channel was cut, changing the course of the Desplaines, at Lockport. Thirteen miles of channel 200 feet wide was dug parallel to the main drainage channel, and a levee nineteen miles long was constructed to keep the Desplaines from flowing into the main drainage channel in "flood tides." At the head of the diversion a spillway was also built, which is aptly termed a safety valve. It consists of a great dam of concrete and stone, 397 feet long, and having a crest sixteen feet above the surface of Lake Michigan.

Many contractors underestimated, to their cost, the work necessary in excavation. Finally the bulked effort was to accomplish the maximum of work with a minimum of men, and the great cantilever crane, steam shovels and other devices were a result. Incline railway carrying cars were used, vast steel pans employed. A half-ton blast of dynamite on the rock sections was but an ordinary charge, fired several times a day. Millions of pounds of giant powder were used. The boring was done by pneumatic power drills. When a signal whistle announced the firing of the holes, the men scurried to shelter sheds. Tremendous explosions followed. At one time eight tons of dynamite were used in a single day.

The controlling works at Lockport constitute the most important part of the drainage system. These provide against the water ever diverting the current. They consist of seven immense sluice gates, through which waters can proceed to the "tail race," and thence to the Desplaines and a "tail trap dam." This dam is in itself a wonder, and has been studied and admired by engineers from all over the world.

Not only are the sluice gates and the big dam effective in case of floods in the Desplaines, but are necessary at all times, for the sanitary district must by law control absolutely the amount of water flowing through the channel, and must not let it exceed 300,000 cubic feet a minute.

This dam and these gates can be so manipulated that only a pint of water, or no water at all, can be allowed to flow into the Desplaines, and again they can be so arranged that the capacity of the channel can be doubled. The main channel ends at Lockport abruptly in a wall six feet thick, made of stone, and backed up by thousands of tons of stone dumped in from the "spoil banks." There the channel widens from 160 feet—the regulation width of the cut—to a "windage basin" 600 feet wide, in which the largest ships can be turned around. This basin, of course, is locked on three sides by stone walls extending 17 feet above the surface of the water when the channel is filled. On the north wall stands the controlling works. Where the river waters encounter the stone walls, they pass through the sluice gates and over the dam. The small gates can be lowered, cutting off the flow of the water, and the dam can be raised, cutting off some more, when it is necessary. The gates can be shut down altogether, presenting an impenetrable front, and the rear drop dam can be raised until it is as high as the level of Lake Michigan. Then the water will stand still. It cannot flow uphill.

Each gate weighs 20 tons, but so nicely are they counterbalanced that but few men are required to work the machinery to raise or lower them. They are built in solid masonry, which suggests the frowning front of a fort, but this is necessary, as the pressure against them is tremendous. The heavy granite and brick wall contains seven other spaces for additional sluice gates, which are now bricked in solidly, awaiting the time when Chicago's population has so greatly increased that the capacity of the channel can be doubled. Then these gates will be put in to permit an increased flow into the Desplaines. But the gates, while massive pieces of engineering work, are not enough without the bear-trap dam. It is called a bear trap because its shape suggests the old deadfall bear traps which were once in use by early settlers. It consists of two hinged metal leaves which present an inclined face 160 feet in width to the waters. The place of joining, known as the crest of the dam, can be raised by hydraulic power, the turning of valves allowing water from upstream to flow into chambers under the dam and easily raise its million pounds of weight. It has a total oscillation of seventeen feet—that is, it can be raised that much from its lowest point if necessary. To lower it other valves are turned and the water from the chambers under the dam are released to flow out into the tail race and the great metal barrier settles slowly down to the required level. Over the top of the dam the trees, sticks, barrels and ice floating on the surface will be allowed to pass which would never get through the sluice gates for the reason that the water will pass under the gates, leaving the surface almost placid and immovable, holding all floating objects, and in the course of time the windage basin at the end of the channel would be filled with floating debris from the twenty-eight miles of canal all hurried down against the end wall. These things will easily pass over the dam.

COMPLETED CHANNEL IN JOLIET.

The great intercepting sewer system which Chicago has inaugurated is, of course, part of the plan for keeping the lake free from sewage and directing the flow of the sewers toward the river, and thence to the drainage canal and away from the lake, into which they have heretofore emptied. All of the city sewers are part of the system to deposit contents in the drainage canal, to be carried away to the Mississippi. So thoroughly will the sewage be diluted by the time it reaches the great river it will make the Illinois far cleaner in appearance than the Mississippi is now, and so far as the fears of residents of St. Louis and towns in Central Illinois that the drainage channel will bring disease and death to them are concerned, eminent scientists have declared that fish will live in the drainage canal throughout its entire length. With the lake pouring into the Chicago river channel at a speed of one and one-fourth miles per hour fishermen may cast their lines from any of the docks along the river, which will be filled with pure, clean lake water.

LOOKING UP THE CHANNEL.

The channel offers a pleasure way for light water craft from the lake to Lockport that can be equaled nowhere so far as safety is concerned. The journey down the stream through the beautiful Valley of the Desplaines is extremely picturesque. With water practically odorless, none of the foul features of the old State canal are present. Engineers claim that for the first time in nearly forty years fish can live in the Chicago River. Some people do not know that fish cannot live in the river at present. This is true. The river is so nasty, so filled with sewage poison that even the toughest of fish will not approach it.

Some, however, say also that it will be possible to see the bottom of the Chicago River, something the present generation of citizens has been deprived of. From the Illinois Central's bridge at the mouth of the river to the end of either branch no glimpse of the river's bottom is now possible. Within the coming year it is believed all of the secrets of the depths will be revealed. Instead of having a bottom of mud, the river will replace that with sand. The coagulated masses of sewage will disappear. Where there has been no current there will be a rapidly running stream, sweet and pure.

SECTION OF WATER GATE.

The mass of filth which has accumulated at the stockyards will disappear. The foul air which has infected the district about the yards will be replaced by pure air. While the sewage will be immediately perceptible at the mouths of the sewers where it enters the river or channel, no great discoloration of the water will take place.

The inhabitants of the Valley of the Illinois, those of Joliet, will not suffer in effect from the waters of the channel. The old picture which was drawn of Joliet overcome by fumes from the stream of the channel is a false one. The water will be entirely pure when it passes through Joliet and enters the Illinois River. In fact, it is believed that it will be purer than the water now in the Illinois.

An element of the construction of the canal was the effort systematized to control the large number of workmen employed, and maintain peace and order throughout the sanitary district. A force of sanitary police was enlisted, a uniformed, organized body, which did excellent work in preserving the peace and enforcing the laws. It will be readily understood that this great body of workmen, not of the highest order of intelligence at best and surrounded at the start with a hundred and one low dives and saloons which sprang up in the canal towns and settlements, were a bit hard of management. But there never was any serious trouble on the channel, not a strike of any consequence or a riot. Pay days brought the usual grist of drunkenness and slight affrays, but no trouble as serious as was anticipated by the city police ever occurred.

The $33,000,000 expended on the drainage channel is a large sum; it is fully two-thirds of the cost of cutting a ship canal to connect the great lakes with the Mississippi, navigable to all steamers plying between New Orleans and St. Louis, when plans for changes in the Mississippi are carried out. Still, the investment will show amply for the pains and labor involved, for the drainage channel will be navigable by all vessels of draught not more than twenty-three feet, and it will enable the next move with facility—the improvement of the Desplaines and the Illinois Rivers as far as Utica.

Fooling a Spider in His Parlor.

A most amusing and interesting experiment is in the reach of everyone who has a tuning fork. Take it to a spider's web, set the fork vibrating and touch the edge of the web lightly. Mr. Spider has the buzzing sound conveyed to him by the threads of his web. He will run to the center of the web quickly and feel all around until he touches the thread against which the fork is sounding; then, taking another thread along, just as a man would take an extra piece of rope, he will run out to the fork and spring upon it, imagining that a fly has been enmeshed, for the sounding of the fork against the web exactly simulates the buzzing of a fly.

OUR BUDGET OF FUN.

HUMOROUS SAYINGS AND DOINGS HERE AND THERE.

Jokes and Jokelets that Are Supposed to Have Been Recently Born—Sayings and Doings that Are Old, Curious and Laughable—The Week's Humor.

The philosopher—The empty barrel gives the loudest sound.

The politician—There's where you are wrong. During a political campaign a bar'l filled with boodle talks the loudest.

A Slight Misunderstanding.

"Will you have some pate de foie gras, uncle?" asked the hostess of her rural relative, who was dining with her.

"Will I have a plate for grass?" echoed the old man in astonishment. "Say, do you think I'm Nebuchadnezzar or a horse?"

Never Too Late to Mend.

Naggs—Dear me, Jaggs, I'm sorry to see you in this condition. I understood you had quit drinking.

Jaggs—Yesh (hic), sho I 'ave, ol' chap. Josh (hic) let' off drinkin' 'bout (hic) minute ago, shee?

On to His Curves.

Reckless youth—Father, dear, would it be asking too much for you to advance me a small loan—say about $50?

The governor—Not at all, my son. You might ask me for double the amount with equal likelihood of getting it. You can't afford to be modest in these little requests a bit more than I can afford to grant them.—Ohio State Journal.

Part of the Business.

"Most successful man, that—whenever he has a job on hand he always has it carried out!"

"Indeed! What is he?"

"An undertaker!"—Judy.

His Little Joke.

"John," said the politician's wife, waking him up about 2 a. m., "what's that noise?"

"That noise?" echoed John, dreamily. "Oh, I guess it's some rats holding a rat-ification meeting in the attic."

A Straight Tip.

Long—What's in a name, anyway?

Short—Go ask a bank cashier to discount your note and you'll probably find out.

A Definition.

Little Willie—Say, pa, what's a peace congress?

Pa—It's a company of men that makes war against war.

Ruined by House-Cleaning.

Missionary—Was it liquor that brought you to this?

Imprisoned burglar—No, sir; it was house-cleanin'—spring house-cleanin', sir.

Missionary—Eh!—house-cleaning?

Burglar—Yessir. The women had been house-cleanin', an' the stair carpet was up, an' the folks heard me.—Tit-Bits.

Of Course.

"Can you tell me, my good man, where they begin numbering this street?"

"Why, at No. 1, of course!"—Heitere Welt.

To Forgive.

Tommy's mamma—To err is human. To forgive—

Tommy (interrupting)—I know what to fergive is.

Tommy's mamma—Well, what is it, dear?

Tommy—It's a sure thing that the other fellow can lick you.—Chicago Times-Herald.

An Immune.

Proprietor—Did Owens ever pay that little bill he owed us?

Bookkeeper—No, sir.

Proprietor—What's he doing now?

Bookkeeper—I understand he is the manager of a concern for the collection of bad debts.

Proprietor—Oh, well, if that's the case just charge the account to profit and loss.

Took It to Himself.

Stubb—I made an awful blunder last night.

Penn—What was it?

Stubb—Why, Tommy called me about midnight and asked me what the noise was downstairs. I told him it was the old cat.

Penn—Was it?

Stubb—No; it was my wife looking for ice water. It took me until morning trying to convince her that I was alluding to the old cat with black fur and nine lives.

Wanted to Be in Harmony.

Brisket—What can I send you up today, Mrs. Styles?

Mrs. S.—Send me a leg of mutton, and be sure it is from a black sheep.

Brisket—A black sheep?

Mrs. S.—Yes; we are in mourning, you know.—Tit-Bits.

Breaking It Gently.

"Then you mean to tell me I have told a lie?"

"Well, no; I don't wish to be quite so rude as that, but I will say this: you'd make a very good weather prophet."—Tit-Bits.

Food for the Mind, Also.

Page boy—I want two pounds of pork sausages, and cook says will you be so kind as to wrap them up in a newspaper containing a good love story?—Tit-Bits.

Not Hard to Answer.

"And why did Caesar cross the Rubicon?"

"'Cause he wanted to get on the other side."

Diplomacy.

"Will you love me when I'm old?" she asked.

"Certainly," he replied promptly, "if you will love me when I am bald."—Philadelphia North America.

Equivocal.

J. Brutus Coldstuff—And what salary do you draw now, Reginald?

Reginald—Five hundred per——

J. B. C.—Per what—year or month?

Reginald—Per-haps.—Tit-Bits.

A Dubious Compliment.

Young authoress (reading aloud)—But perhaps I weary you?

Enthusiastic friend—Oh, no; I long to hear the end of your story.—Tit-Bits.

No Cause for Alarm.

"Great heavens! What's the cause of all that yelling around the corner? Come! Let's hurry; there may be a murder."

"Stay! Don't get excited. We're used to that. We hear it every day. There's a painless dentist's office around there."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Rather Cruel.

The carpet knight—Yes, Miss Vitriol, I have smelled powder.

Miss Vitriol—Indeed! Infant or face?

Rapid in Every Respect.

Pearl—My brother is up in Canada shooting the rapids.

Ruby—Indeed! Why that's just what my brother is doing.

Pearl—Is he in Canada, too?

Ruby—No; he's in the Philippines shooting the Filipinos on the run.

Invisible White.

"Didn't I tell you not to shoot until you could see the whites of the enemies' eyes?" thundered the irate officer.

"Yis, sor," spoke up the Irish volunteer, "but, faith, th' inemy hod blackened each ithers' oyes so in a fist foight over rathions thot we cudn't see iny white at all."

Always Ready.

Guest—You fellows are always near the sea. Do you ever take a dip?

Waiter—Very seldom, sir; but we never fail to take a tip.

Sweeping.

Ida—Did you notice how that haughty thing swept out the room with head elevated?

May—Yes, indeed, and don't you know it reminded me of mamma down home. She always sweeps out the rooms with head elevated.

The Individuality of Labor.

Perkins—I paid a very interesting visit to the asylum for the insane yesterday and was surprised to learn that it is self-supporting. Although the inmates are crazy, they work, nevertheless.

Dolittle—Humph! Anybody who works is crazy.—Ohio State Journal.

Composition on Breathing.

A boy, 14 years old, who was told to write all he could about breathing in a composition, handed in the following:

"Breath is made of air. We breathe with our lungs, our lights, our liver and kidneys. If it wasn't for our breath we would die when we slept. Our breath keeps the life a-going through the nose when we are asleep. Boys that stay in a room all day should not breathe. They should wait until they get outdoors. Girls kill the breath with corsets that squeezes the diagram. Girls can't holler or run like boys because ther diagram is squeezed too much. If I was a girl I had rather be a boy so I can run and holler and have a great big diagram."

The Great Difference.

An average pedestrian covers about thirty inches in each step. The average wheelman at one revolution of his pedals (the equivalent of a step) covers about seventeen feet, and as the movement is so easy and devoid of fatigue he usually raises his foot twice as often in the same time, thus covering thirty-four feet while the pedestrian goes two and a half feet.

FAMOUS NEWSPAPER SCOOPS.

The Retrial of Dreyfus and the Repeal of the Corn Laws.

One of the most potent factors in bringing about the present retrial of Capt. Dreyfus at Rennes was the startling publication of all the evidence given before the Court de Cassation by Le Figaro. According to newspaper parlance this was a "scoop" of the first magnitude, and well worth that perfunctory fine which was levied upon the publishers of the Figaro for their so-called indiscretion. How the news leaked out in this case has not as yet been divulged. Sooner or later the secret is bound to become known within French newspaper circles, just as similar English and American achievements have become the common property of the editorial profession.

One of the most famous English "scoops" is that which is supposed to have furnished George Meredith with the plot for his "Diana of the Crossways." In 1845, when all the agitation was going on over the corn laws, Sir Robert Peel, then prime minister, declared that he would stand fast by them. Yet at the beginning of December of that year the Times created a sensation by declaring that the Government was about to bring in a bill for their repeal. Everybody was astounded, and the feeling generally was that the Times had been "had." Yet the accuracy of the report was very soon established, and then the question arose as how the Times had found out.

Few people ever know. The night before the Times made its announcement a cabinet council was held, and it was then actually decided to take the momentous step. When the members of the Government separated one of them, Mr. Sidney Herbert, went to dine with a Mrs. Norton, a lady well known in society. The combination of a good dinner, excellent wine, and feminine beauty resulted in Mr. Herbert indiscreetly letting the secret slip from his lips. His companion made no remark, but as soon as opportunity afforded she got in her carriage and drove to the Times office with the news. Five hundred pounds was the price demanded, and it was paid.—Collier's Weekly.

Did Not Understand Slang.

"I had a peculiar case in court the other day," said a police court lawyer. "An old Irishman named Callahan had gotten into a row with his landlord about some repairs and refused to pay his rent. The landlord was a fussy little college professor, totally unversed in the ways of the world, and he was imprudent enough to send word that he would have the family evicted and then called to discuss it personally. He emerged yelling murder and said that he had first met Mrs. Callahan, who told him her husband would do him no harm, upon the strength of which he had waited for his return. When Callahan came in he promptly gave the visitor a beating. The old Irishman and his wife were both arrested and I appeared for the defense. The ugly feature of the case was the alleged effort of the woman to lure her caller into a trap, but when put on the stand she denied the landlord's story in toto and swore point blank she had warned him that her husband proposed to punch his head. Both parties seemed perfectly sincere in their statements and I was somewhat puzzled. I finally decided to cross-examine the ex-professor.

"'Now, repeat to us,' I said, 'exactly what Mrs. Callahan told you in regard to her husband.'

"'She assured me positively,' replied the landlord, 'that he had no intention whatever of molesting me.'

"'But she didn't say it in those words,' I insisted. 'What I want is her exact language.'

"'Well, sir,' said the witness, beginning to get flustered, 'she gave me to understand——'

"'Oh, never mind that,' interrupted the judge; 'give us her own words.'

"'Very well, sir! Very well, sir!' exclaimed the little landlord, desperately. 'She said: "When Mike comes home he won't do a thing to you!"'

"When the judge got through laughing he let the prisoners off with a reprimand."

Preaching and Practicing.

The Boston Transcript tells a school story which enforces the lesson that preaching is of little use without practicing. In a school in Boston not far above the primary grade, the teacher was one day reading a story the subject of which was borrowing. She supplemented the reading with some remarks of her own, which she closed with this parting admonition:

"Above all things, children, when you have occasion to borrow, never forget to return the borrowed article. Do not put the person who was kind enough to accommodate you to the trouble of sending for it."

While she was still speaking, a knock was heard at the door.

"Come in," said the teacher, as soon as she had finished her sentence. A pupil from another department entered, and stood waiting.

"Well, what is it, please?" said the teacher.

"Miss Blank says," the visitor called out, in a voice loud enough to be heard all over the room, "will you be kind enough to send back her blotting-pad which you borrowed the other day?"

Queen Victoria's Usual Garb.

The Queen, says the Lady's Realm, is simply attired in a black dress, not always of silk, and wears a widow's cap with small lappets at the back, her silver hair plainly brushed on either side of her temples. Upon her fingers are plain memorial rings, and she invariably wears a bracelet having the portrait of her latest grandchild or great-grandchild placed in it as a medallion. The Queen always has a handkerchief bordered with lace in her hands as they lie folded in her lap, the survival of an ancient fashion.

Killed by a Practical Joke.

Weary William—Practical jokes ain't right, Sandy. Der's me old pard, Dusty Rhodes, dat died from de effects of one.

Sandy the Supplicant—How'd it happen?

"Well, you see, Dusty goes up to one of dese wayside cottages an' asks de lady fer a pie. De lady says, 'I ain't got a pie in the house, me good man, but here's a cake.'"

"What species of a cake was it, Billy?"

"'Twas—'twas a cake of soap, Sandy."—Stray Stories.

Ayer's Pills

Dizzy? Then your liver isn't acting well. You suffer from biliousness, constipation. Ayer's Pills act directly on the liver. For 60 years the Standard Family Pill. Small doses cure. 25c. All druggists.

Want your moustache or beard a beautiful brown or rich black? Then use
BUCKINGHAM'S DYE for the Whiskers
50 CTS. OF DRUGGISTS, OR R. P. HALL & CO., NASHUA, N. H.

SYRUP of FIGS

ACTS GENTLY ON THE KIDNEYS, LIVER AND BOWELS
CLEANSES THE SYSTEM EFFECTUALLY,
DISPELS COLDS HEADACHES & FEVERS
OVERCOMES CONSTIPATION
HABITUAL PERMANENTLY
TO GET ITS BENEFICIAL EFFECTS.
BUY THE GENUINE - MAN'F'D BY
CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
LOUISVILLE, KY. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. NEW YORK, N.Y.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS. PRICE 50C PER BOTTLE.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 & $3.50 SHOES UNION MADE.

Worth $4 to $6 compared with other makes.
Indorsed by over 1,000,000 wearers.
ALL LEATHERS. ALL STYLES
THE GENUINE have W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on bottom.
Take no substitute claimed to be as good. Largest makers of $3 and $3.50 shoes in the world. Your dealer should keep them—if not, we will send you a pair on receipt of price. State kind of leather, size and width, plain or cap toe.
Catalogue D Free.
W. L. DOUGLAS SHOE CO., Brockton, Mass.

DR BULL'S COUGH SYRUP
SAFE SURE
Cures a Cough or Cold at once. Conquers Croup without fail. Is the best for Bronchitis, Grippe, Hoarseness, Whooping-Cough, and for the care of Consumption. Mothers praise it. Doctors prescribe it. Small doses; quick, sure results.
FOR ALL LUNG TROUBLE

Ely's Cream Balm
QUICKLY CURES
COLD IN HEAD
Druggists, 50 Cts.
Apply Balm into each nostril.
ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N.Y.

WABASH
HOME SEEKERS' EXCURSIONS
To Western Points,
November 7 and 21, 1899.
December 5 and 19, 1899.

On the above dates the WABASH will sell from its principal stations East of Chicago and Toledo, Ill., LOW RATE HOME SEEKERS' EXCURSION Tickets to points West, South, and Southwest, granting a liberal return limit. A postal card addressed to any Wabash Ticket Agent, or to either of the following Passenger Representatives will bring you prompt and explicit information regarding rates, routes, time of trains, through car service, condition of tickets, etc., etc.

REMEMBER

The WABASH is the only line east of Chicago and St. Louis giving its patrons seats, without extra charge, in ELEGANT RECLINING CHAIR CARS running through to St. Louis and Kansas City without change.
This is your chance to go West cheap. Communicate with us.
P. E. DOMBAUGH, P. & T. A., Toledo, Ohio.
R. G. THOMPSON, P. & T. A., Fort Wayne, Ind.
A. F. WOLFSCHLAGER, P. & T. A. Detroit, Mich.
THO'S FOLLEN, P. & T. A., Lafayette, Ind.
GEO. D. MAXFIELD, D. P. A., Indianapolis, Ind.
C. S. CRANE, G. P. & T. A., St. Louis, Mo.

DON'T RENT
ESTABLISH A HOME OF YOUR OWN
Read "The Corn Belt," a handsome monthly paper, beautifully illustrated, containing exact and truthful information about farm lands in the West, letters from farmers and pictures of their homes, barns and stock. Interesting and instructive. Send 25 cents in postage stamps for a year's subscription to "THE CORN BELT," 209 Adams St., Chicago.

SORE EYES? DR. ISAAC THOMPSON'S EYE WATER

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. 25 CTS.

Aluminium in Its New Stage.

"Aluminium has passed its pipe-dread period," said John R. Bentley of Buffalo, N. Y., "and has settled down into a quiet, respectable metal. The person who first brought it into public notice was a novelist who has foreshadowed more great scientific developments than any other one man who ever lived. I refer to Jules Verne. In his 'Journey to the Moon' he described the construction of a gigantic projectile of aluminium and indulged in some remarkable conjecture as to the probable part that the metal would play in the industrial world. At that time a new German process of reduction had reduced the price to something like $4 a pound, which was thought to be amazingly cheap, but Verne foresaw still simpler methods, and his prediction was fully verified by the electrolysis system, which has scaled it down to about 30 cents. That was only a few years ago, and the pseudo-scientific scribblers immediately declared the 'new metal,' as they called it, would usurp the place of steel. They filled the papers with extravagant stories of aluminium steamships, engines, carriages, derricks, portable houses and even cannon, all of which was pure wind. It was found in actual practice that the pure metal was unsuited to almost all the innumerable purposes that were suggested, but it proved a most valuable and excellent alloy. Nowadays its practical utility is pretty well understood, and the consumption is steady and enormous. A great deal of it is made into wire, something to which it is peculiarly adapted by its tensile strength of 40,000 pounds to the square inch, hard drawn. There is a good deal of talk at present of its being used as a substitute for copper in electric cables, owing to the recent big advance in the price of the latter metal, but I am skeptical of the practicability of the scheme. To begin with, copper is still nearly 15 cents a pound the cheaper of the two, and aluminium has only about three-fourths its electric conductivity."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Passing of the Horse.

So soon as nature sees an improvement there is a change. The candle gave way to electricity and the horse to the automobile. The fact that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has been sold for over half a century, proves its value. There is nothing to equal it for stomach or liver trouble.

Whistling Trees in Africa.

Schweinfurth, the African traveler, describes an insect organ builder. In the country of the Shillooks, he says, acacia groves extend over an area of a hundred square miles. From the attacks of insects which have worked to the inside their ivory white shoots are often swollen at their base with globular bladders measuring about an inch in diameter. After the insect has managed to glide out of its circular hole this shoot becomes a sort of musical instrument upon which the wind produces flute-like sounds. On this account natives of the Soudan have named it the whistling tree.

SWANSON'S "5 DROPS" is the sun of the sick room. It has saved the public, in less than five years, more money than the national debt of this country, when you measure the value of health restored, suffering humanity relieved of its agonies and diseases. Money which otherwise would have been expended in funerals, doctors and drug bills, loss of labor, etc.

SWANSON'S "5 DROPS" never fails to cure. It has cured and is curing millions of people afflicted with ACUTE and CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA, NEURALGIA, ASTHMA, LA GRIPPE and CATARRH of all kinds. "5 DROPS" has never failed to cure these diseases, when used as directed. It will cure you. Try it. Price of large sized bottle $1.00, sent on receipt of price, charges prepaid; 25-cent sample bottle sent free, on receipt of 10 cents to pay for mailing. Agents wanted. SWANSON'S RHEUMATIC CURE COMPANY, No. 164 Lake street, Chicago, Ill.

Athletic Courtship.

Ella—Where was it George proposed to you last week?

Essie—At a hop.

Ella—And you accepted him?

Essie—At a jump.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A MAGNIFICENT WOMAN

Holds Up Peruna as the Ideal Remedy for Female Catarrh.

MRS. CLARA MAKEMER.

Mrs. Clara Makemer, housekeeper for the Florence Crittenden Anchorage Mission of Chicago, writes the following letter from 302 Chestnut street, Chicago:

"Peruna is the best tonic I have ever known for general debility, a sure cure for liver complaint, and a never failing adjuster in cases of dyspepsia.

"I have used it in cases of female irregularities and weak nerves common to the sex, and have found it most satisfactory."

From early girlhood to the end of the child-bearing period few women are entirely free from some degree of catarrh of the pelvic organs.

With Peruna the thousand and one ailments dependent upon catarrh of the pelvic organs can be wholly averted.

"Health and Beauty" sent free to women only, by The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

The microbes that cause chills and fever and malaria enter the system through mucous membranes made porous by catarrh. Pe-ru-na heals the mucous membranes and prevents the entrance of malarial germs, thus preventing and curing these affections.

CARTER'S INK
Makes millions think.

STUDENTS MOB DOWIE.

Violent Scenes the Result of Inviting Medics to His Meeting.

John Alexander Dowie, the evangelist, who claims to be able to effect miraculous cures by divine dispensation, was routed at his West Side Zion tabernacle in Chicago Wednesday night by more than 1,500 angry medical students armed with offensive chemicals, and had to be escorted to his carriage by the police. The young men who attacked the faith apostle while he was on his way to his tabernacle to deliver a lecture on "Doctors, Drugs and Devils," came out of the encounter only partially victorious. Twice the police beat a tattoo on their heads with stout clubs before they were content to remain outside of the besieged auditorium, and a dozen were arrested and sent to the police station to think over their temerity.

Throughout the lecture the howls of the enraged students of the several medical schools in the vicinity could be heard and unpleasant reminders that they were still on hand came through the windows from time to time in the shape of bottles of nitrate of ammonia, which, as they broke, exhaled a smell, compared to which the odor of Yorick's skull might be considered a perfumed breeze from Araby the blest.

Hardly a pane of glass was left in the Dowie sanctuary and when the exponent of a new gospel was finally led forth by a back doorway to his costly carriage and helped in by two quaking footmen whose once rich attire reeked of the laboratory he was in a state of perturbation that belied his confident assertions inside the brick walls which no longer protected him.

Twelve students, more demonstrative than others, were placed under arrest, but upon recommendation of the city prosecutor they were discharged upon payment of costs.

CALL THE WAR A CRIME.

Anti-Imperialists Meet and Denounce the Philippine Campaign.

Anti-imperialists from thirty States were congregated in Apollo Hall at Chicago Tuesday morning, when the conference against expansion was opened. Public meetings were held Tuesday evening, Wednesday afternoon and evening. Edward Burritt Smith called the meeting to order. Prof. A. H. Tolman of the University of Chicago delivered the opening address and was followed by a number of other speakers. The speakers announced themselves, some in violent and some in quiet words, as the bearers of the true spirit of independence and free government. Following are some of the sentiments expressed:

The American people should stamp the administration's proceedings with a verdict of disapproval so clear and so emphatic that this will be a solemn warning to future Presidents instead of a seductive precedent.—Carl Schurz.

The people begin to comprehend that homicide is homicide, that bloodshed is bloodshed; that it serves nothing to call oneself Caesar or Napoleon, and that in the eyes of the eternal God the figure of a murderer is not changed because instead of a gallows cap there is placed upon his head an emperor's crown.—J. Sterling Morton.

In nearly all the events of history the dominant minority fought out the principle of liberty. History will repeat itself.—Edward Atkinson.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

Smith College has 400 freshmen this year.

Brown has a smaller freshman class than last year.

University of Illinois professors have organized a golf club.

Williams began its 106th year with a freshman class of 110.

Residence in college halls is now required at Bryn Mawr.

Four new dormitories are to be erected for the University of Pennsylvania.

There are 240 women at the University of Illinois this year, more than ever before.

Two Cornell students have been given appointments in the Chinese customs service.

Vassar has 239 new students, and the number who dropped out is smaller than usual.

Twenty changes have been made in the faculty of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Prof. Rush Phees of Newton has accepted the presidency of the University of Rochester.

The growth in recorded use of the books in the Cornell library during seven years is 232 per cent.

Nature study at the zoological gardens is to be a part of the course of instruction in Philadelphia public schools.

Reports from the University of Minnesota indicate that its total number of students will this year reach, or even pass, 3,000.

The alumni of Tufts College have obtained a voice in the government of the college in the form of a board of overseers.

Two hundred and fifty-nine University of Michigan men were in service, either at the front or in camp, during the recent Spanish war.

The Presbyterians of Tennessee are striving to establish a college at Memphis to be known as the Cumberland Presbyterian University.

Franklin Remington, '87, of Chicago is one of the new members of the executive committee of the Athletic association of Harvard graduates.

There are 426 colleges in America, with property estimated at $250,000,000. Girard, with $15,000,000, and Leland Stanford, Jr., with $13,500,000, are the richest.

The Princeton flag was at the masthead of the Peary relief ship, along with the Stars and Stripes, and was carried farther north than any American flag since 1871.

Athletes on the University of Michigan football team will likely be taken to the Paris exposition. Trainer Fitzpatrick has broached the idea, and it is popular among the students.

The opening of the school year has been attended by few reports of hazing, the barbarous method of welcoming freshmen that long prevailed in many leading colleges and universities.

The accessions to the university library during the year have been unprecedented in the history of Princeton. The total number of accessions by gift and purchase during the year since Oct. 1, 1898, exclusive of periodicals, is 18,380 volumes.

Michigan has established a normal school for the upper peninsula at Marquette. Although it was only authorized by the Legislature of the present year, yet the school is already in operation in the city hall of Marquette, and the buildings are to be completed by Jan. 1, 1900. Dwight B. Waldo, recently professor of civics and history at Albion College, is principal.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP

The recent tight money market with its high rates has led to several suggestions for relief by the Government. The proposition is being discussed in Washington that there should be some provision for keeping the money of the country in circulation instead of having large sums locked up in the vaults of the treasury and the subtreasuries. The Government has a cash balance of $288,000,000, of which nearly $83,000,000 is on deposit in banks. The other $205,000,000 is stored in Government vaults. It is earning nothing for Uncle Sam and is performing no function as a medium of exchange in business transactions. The suggestion is made that the Secretary of the Treasury should deposit a larger proportion of this enormous fund in banks, whence it would find its way into circulation in times of tightness, but this suggestion is coupled with the proposition that the Secretary should charge the banks interest at the rate of 2 per cent per annum.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Wilson will recommend to Congress that a refund be made of the taxes paid by cigar dealers on the cigars manufactured and sold by Counterfeiter Jacobs at Lancaster, Pa. The Government knew for a long time that these bogus stamps were being used, but did not interfere with the unlawful business for fear of permitting the escape of those who were engaged in circulating the famous $100 counterfeit Monroe note. For months cigars with forged stamps were being sold, and when the counterfeiters were arrested all the cigars bearing these stamps were seized by the internal revenue officials. It was decided, however, that the purchasers were innocent of any fraud, and they were permitted to have possession of the cigars by the payment of the lawful tax.

The State Department has no records showing the number of Americans in the Transvaal. There is a directory giving the names and addresses of the more prominent business men in the republic, but this does not indicate their nationality. The population, according to the census of 1896, was 245,000 whites and an estimated population of 600,000 blacks. The State Department makes an effort to keep track of the Americans in barbarous countries. There are lists furnished annually by the American consuls in China and Morocco. The Transvaal has never been regarded as an uncivilized country, and no effort has been made to keep track of our citizens who go there.

Admiral Dewey is expected to connect himself with St. John's Episcopal Church in this city. He has never been conspicuous as a religious man. In fact, he has been known to utter robust and resounding cusswords, in moments of stress and excitement, yet so far as he is anything he is supposed to be an Episcopalian. His relatives belong to that church and his leanings are that way. A Congregational church up in Vermont claims him as a member, but that was in the long distant past when the admiral was a boy. St. John's is the fashionable Episcopal congregation of Washington, and it naturally wants to include Admiral Dewey in its fellowship.

New Department of Justice Building. Front Elevation of the New Structure for Washington.

According to the latest bulletin issued by the bureau of labor there are 140 cities in the United States having a population of 30,000 or over. The bureau has been collecting and compiling a mass of municipal statistics, and for purposes of correct comparison has broken away from the last census population figures, now nine years old, and made estimates of its own. Massachusetts leads off with 17 cities of 30,000 and over, Pennsylvania with 13, and then comes New York with 12, Ohio with 9, Illinois with 6 and Indiana and Texas with 5 each.

HOT OCTOBER WEATHER.

Chicago paid homage to the palm leaf fan Sunday, donned summer garments that had been wafted to moth chests by the autumn winds of some days before, which threatened to cut short the annual visit of Indian summer, mopped its brow, and betook itself to summer gardens, the cool drinks of the soda fountain, and the relief afforded by the ice man. In the weather bureau the mercury went up the tube to the 84 degree mark, coming within four degrees of the highest temperature ever recorded in the month of October. The upward flight of the mercury covered a rise of 23 degrees between 7 o'clock in the morning and 3 in the afternoon. Pavement thermometers took issue with the figures recorded in the weather sanctum and registered 87 degrees at 3 o'clock. The October heat record was established in 1897, when 87 degrees was booked. The other extreme occurred in 1887, when the mercury dropped to 14 degrees above zero.

Trade and Industry.

Florida has ostrich farms.

Louisiana sugar cane crop will be short.

Plumbing is taught in the London trades school.

Street car drivers in Skaguay, Alaska, are paid $4 a day.

The oyster crop of Chesapeake bay diminishes each year.

Eggs without shells are shipped from Russia to England.

Bees raised in Texas are shipped to all parts of the world.

Hundreds of Americans are at work in Russian factories.

CANNON BALL PILLS.

Big Balls of Poison Given as Medicine.

Thousands Are Suffering from Mercurial Pill-Poison Taken in Youth—Days of the Pills Are Past.

Do you want health?

Then keep your bowels clean and your liver lively!

It has always been known that constipation is the cause of nearly all disease, but the way of treating it has changed.

The old way was to make up a sickening "black draught" or, still worse, an explosive "shot-gun" cartridge of calomel, aloes, jalap, gamboge, croton oil, blue mass, colocynth—the larger the bullet the better—and after the patient had swallowed the dose, thrown the bowels into spasms and turned the liver inside out, he was settled for a few days—frequently forever.

The most dangerous "medicine" of all was the mercurial pill-poison which lodged in the blood and joints, producing life-long aches.

Force is folly, if you have any regard for your well being. When it becomes necessary to stir up your liver and have a general internal cleansing up, take Cascarets Candy Cathartic, and produce natural action in a nice, gentle, quiet, positive way.

Cascarets are up to date, antiseptic, taste good, never grip or gripe, mild but effective.

Buy and try Cascarets to-day. You'll find that it's what they do, not what we say they'll do that proves their merit. All druggists—10c, 25c, 50c, or by mail for price. Send for booklet and free sample. Address the Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago, Montreal, Can., or New York.

CCC

This is the CASCARET tablet. Every tablet of the only genuine Cascaret bears the magic letters "CCC." Look at the tablet before you buy, and beware of frauds, imitations and substitutes.

Well-Supplied.

In the negro colonies of the British colonial empire the extension of education has had one incidental result which it is to be hoped will not be permanent. The creole youth begin to despise agriculture, and commonly wish to become parsons, lawyers or doctors.

A British judge once overheard a conversation which is an amusing commentary on this tendency.

First old man: "Yer son's a big boy and must do somet'ing for a living. You hab min' to make him a liyer?"

Second old man: "No liyer. No, my min' ain't gib me fo' dat. Me no like de law. I has a cousin in Berbice Jail fo' cuttin' she fadder; anoder one in Massaruni for stealing cow; anoder one in de sea-wall gang. No; dere's law enough in de fambly already."

QUALITY AND NEWS.

FAME AND EXCELLENCE ARE DETERMINING FACTORS IN SUCCESSFUL DEVELOPMENT.

One of the Important Functions of High Class Newspapers.

In presenting interesting phases of scientific and economic problems, high-class newspapers frequently give information of as great value in their advertising columns as in those devoted to the publication of the principal events of the day; and when the fame of a product is extended beyond its natural limits into foreign lands, and a large demand created throughout Great Britain and her colonies and the principal seaports and cities of Europe, Asia and Africa, it becomes a pleasant duty to note the fact and to tell of the points of excellence on which so great a success is based. We refer to the now world-famed laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, the product of the California Fig Syrup Company. The merits of this well-known excellent laxative were first made known to the world through the medical journals and newspapers of the United States; and is one of the distinct achievements of the press. It is now well known that Syrup of Figs is an ethical proprietary remedy, approved by the most eminent physicians everywhere, because it is simple and effective, yet pleasant to the taste and acceptable to the system, and not only prompt in its beneficial effects, but also wholly free from any unpleasant after-effects. It is frequently referred to as the remedy of the healthy, because it is used by people who enjoy good health and who live well and feel well and are well informed on all subjects generally, including laxatives. In order to get its beneficial effects, it is necessary to get the genuine Syrup of Figs, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

Sacred Plant.

The plant known as vervain, which is not distinguished for its beauty, and which grows nowadays utterly disregarded, was so sacred to the Druids that they only gathered it for their divinations when the great dog star arose, in order that neither sun nor moon should see the deed.

Hall's Catarrh Cure
Is taken internally. Price 75 cents.

The Modern Method.

"It's an awful thing not to know where one's next meal is coming from."

"Yes, but a good many of us married men are experiencing it since the grocery stores got to advertising bargain sales."—Indianapolis Journal.

What Do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing, and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee, but costs about ¼ as much. All grocers sell it. 15c and 25c.

Don't employ evil means and expect good results.

To Cure a Cold in One Day
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box.

The truest wisdom is a resolute determination.—Napoleon.

Eagle Linen Letter Paper and Envelopes are the proper thing. Tell your printer to use this brand on your next order.

Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP for Children teething; softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25 cents a bottle.

Lord Curzon's Logical Justice.

An unfortunate clerk in one of the government offices, with twenty-three years' service, recently took leave and overstayed his leave by nine days. He was called upon for an explanation, and in the end the secretary ordered him to be dismissed. The clerk thereupon appealed to the Viceroy, who called for an explanation of the circumstances. The secretary showed that the man had not only overstayed his leave nine days, but was hopelessly incompetent as well. His excellency thereupon ordered the man to be reinstated, and wrote across the secretary's explanation that he considered the hopelessly incompetent man was the one who took twenty-three years to find out the other's incompetence.—Penang Gazette.

5,000 Guitars at $2.65.

For those who are accustomed to sending away from home for their goods it is of the greatest importance to know the character and reliability of the establishment selling goods to families from catalogues. The great emporium of the John M. Smyth Co., located at 150 to 166 West Madison street, Chicago, has been established for a third of a century, and has furnished over half a million homes in Chicago and vicinity alone. This firm enjoys the confidence of the public by its many years of fair dealing. It issues an immense illustrated catalogue that should be in every family, as it describes and gives the price of every article required for household use. A sample of the extraordinary values offered by this firm is shown in the illustration of the guitar at $2.65 in another column of this paper. These instruments are indeed wonderful values, and yet they are but a sample of the thousand and one useful articles illustrated and described in the beautiful catalogue of the John M. Smyth Company.

The serpent has two lungs, but only one is developed, the other being rudimentary.

"It is an Ill Wind That Blows Nobody Good."

That small ache or pain or weakness is the "ill wind" that directs your attention to the necessity of purifying your blood by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Then your whole body receives good, for the purified blood goes tingling to every organ. It is the remedy for all ages and both sexes.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

Try Grain-O! Try Grain-O!

Ask your Grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. ¼ the price of coffee. 15c and 25c per package. Sold by all grocers.

Out of His Role.

"That gloomy Mr. Simpson acted real cheerful last night."

"Did you like him?"

"No; he looked so unnatural and silly that I was glad when he got gloomy again."—Detroit Free Press.

We will forfeit $1,000 if any of our published testimonials are proven to be not genuine. THE PISO CO., Warren, Pa.

Don't refer to an unpleasant episode if it is possible to avoid it. It is an offense against good manners to open the door of monsieur the skeleton.

FITS Permanently Cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Send for FREE $2.00 trial bottle and treatise. DR. R. H. KLINE, Ltd., 931 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

There are 1,500 ocean cables.

THE ills of women overshadow their whole lives.

Some women are constantly getting medical treatment and are never well. "A woman best understands women's ills," and the women who consult Mrs. Pinkham find in her counsel practical assistance. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

PRACTICAL HELP FOR SUFFERING WOMEN

MRS. MABEL GOOD, Correctionville, Ia., tells how Mrs. Pinkham saved her life. She says:

"I cannot thank you enough for what your medicine has done for me. I can recommend it as one of the best medicines on earth for all women's ills. I suffered for two years with female weakness and at last became bedfast. Three of our best doctors did me no good so I concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking a few bottles of your medicine, I was able to do all my housework. I know that your medicine raised me from a bed of sickness and perhaps death, and am very thankful for what it has done for me. I hope that every suffering woman may be persuaded to try your medicine."

Get Mrs. Pinkham's advice as soon as you begin to be puzzled. The sick headaches and dragging sensation come from a curable cause. Write for help as soon as they appear.

MRS. DOLE STANLEY, Campbellsburg, Ind., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I was troubled with sick headache and was so weak and nervous, I could hardly go. A friend called upon me one evening and recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, saying that she knew that it would cure me. I then sent for your medicine and after taking five bottles of it, I was entirely cured. I cannot praise it enough."

JOHN M. SMYTH CO.
MAMMOTH MAIL ORDER HOUSE
150 TO 166 WEST MADISON ST CHICAGO

5,000 GUITARS AT $2.65

This Guitar is made of the finest imitation mahogany with either solid rosewood or walnut finger-board, pearl inlaid position dots and German silver raised frets; it has fancy inlay around sound hole and best quality American patent heads; the top of Guitar is beautifully bound with celluloid; it is strung with a full set of best quality steel springs and is ready to play upon.

THIS ELEGANT GUITAR FOR $2.65

No more, no less, than 5,000 of them, probably the largest contract in guitars ever made—an instrument that positively sells from $3.50 to $7.00. When this lot is exhausted we cannot duplicate this offer. Quantity talks. Only by operating on such a big scale, together with our well-known small profit policy, could such an offering be possible. Another reason for dispensing such a bargain broadcast is the confidence we feel that every guitar sold will win for us a permanent patron and a friend whose recommendation we can count upon. We will forward the guitar to any address C. O. D., subject to examination, upon receipt of 50c. We, however, advise that cash in full be sent, as that saves return charges for money and we stand perfectly ready to refund money if the guitar is not all and more than we claim for it. Remember our special price on 5,000 of them only is..... $2.65

MAMMOTH CATALOGUE

In which is listed at lowest wholesale prices everything to eat, wear and use, is furnished on receipt of only 10c to partly pay postage or expressage and as evidence of good faith the 10c is allowed on first purchase amounting to $1.00 or above.
OUR MONTHLY GROCERY PRICE LIST FREE

"Thoughtless Folks Have the Hardest Work, but Quick Witted People Use SAPOLIO

PENSIONS Get Your Pension DOUBLE QUICK! Write Cont. O'FARRELL, Pension Agent, Washington, D.C.

F. W. N. U. - - No. 43—'99.

When Writing to Advertisers please say you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS FREE

ONE OF THE GRANDEST OFFERS EVER MADE.

The first five persons procuring the Endless Chain Starch Book from their grocer, will each obtain one large 10c. package of "RED CROSS" Starch, one large 10c. package of "HUBINGER'S BEST" Starch, two Shakespeare panels printed in twelve beautiful colors, as natural as life, or one Twentieth Century Girl Calendar, the finest of its kind ever printed, all absolutely free. All others procuring the Endless Chain Starch Book will obtain from their grocer two large 10c. packages of starch for 5c. and the beautiful premiums which are being given away. This offer is only made for a short time to further introduce the famous "RED CROSS" Starch, and the celebrated "HUBINGER'S BEST" cold water Starch. Ask your grocer for this starch.

AUBURN WEEKLY COURIER.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF DeKALB COUNTY

JAMES A. BARNS, Editor.

Registered at the Auburn, Indiana, postoffice as second-class matter.

THURSDAY.....OCTOBER 26, 1899.

COURT NEWS

In the circuit court yesterday the case of the state vs Walter Eberly, forgery, was called and the defendant gave bond in the sum of $500 for his appearance later in the term.

In the case of the state on relation of Rosa King vs Jay Clark, for bastardy, judgment was rendered against the defendant for $200, payable in installments of $25 every three months.

Judge Hartman decided the case of Richard McGee, administrator, vs Emma Beard on replevin, by giving the plaintiff posession of one of the articles sued for, a gold watch valued at $25, while the defendant gets a cow worth $40. The attorneys' fees and costs in the case will amount to considerable more than the value of the articles sued for.

Jacob Stotz, who sued Ezra Loutzenhiser on note, was given a judgment by default for $277.25.

When the divorce case of Susan Rorebaugh vs Samuel was called the defendant failed to appear and the decree was granted to the plaintiff.

A verdict was rendered for the plaintiff in the case of Henry Schweitzer vs Mary and August Fleming, to quiet title.

A motion for a new trial in the Chappel-Wabash railway case, in which damages in the sum of $3,000 were awarded the plaintiff at the last term, was today overruled by Judge Hartman. Judge Hammond, attorney for the railroad company, at once filed notice of an appeal to the supreme court.

The Suit Dismissed.

From this morning's Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette we learn that the supreme court has dismissed the appeal in the case of George L. Rowe et. al. vs John W. Bateman et.al. This action, as most of our readers will remember, was begun against the appellees, who were county commissioners of DeKalb county, for the purpose of impeaching them for official misconduct and thereby removing them from office under the act of 1897. The official misconduct with which they were charged was committed before the act of 1897 was passed and the circuit court held that officers could not be impeached under that act for what they had done before it became a law. The terms of office of both the appellees having expired since the suit was instituted, the supreme court dismissed the appeal on the ground that the action could no longer be prosecuted to remove persons from an office which they have ceased to hold by reason of the expiration of their term.

Death of Mrs. Fell.

After a long illness with consumption, Mrs. Chris. Fell passed away at her home in the northwest part of town about 7:30 last evening, aged 43 years, 4 months and 20 days. The deceased, who was a most estimable woman in all that the word implies leaves a sorrowing husband and four children—three sons and one daughter to mourn her death. The funeral services will be held at the Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Arlen officiating. Interment in Evergreen cemetery.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses have been issued since our last report: Oliver M, Gramling and Helen I. Shaffer; William S. Bruner and Eva. J. Spray; George Camp and Mary Shoup; John G. Conrady and Georgiana Welch; Milan Mann and Cora M. Anthony: Sherman Sawvell and Lillie Ashby; Frank Tustison and Anna Trostel; Abraham R. Mason and Annis N. Ridgway; Lewis Hites and Cora Ellen Gillespie,

Give it a Trial.

It will surprise you. It will restore the life and beauty to your hair, stops dandruff and the hair from falling out. Beggs' Hair renewer. H. B. McCord's.

SOMETIMES when you have lame back and feel poorly, you stop working for the day. But all you do is take the rest and go right to work again when the symptoms quiet down. That is no way to head off a terrible disease that is fastening its grip upon you. Stop the first leak or you lose the ship.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver & Kidney Balm quickly cures those first irregularities and thus repels Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Rheumatism, Jaundice and Female Troubles. Druggists have it, $1.00 a bottle.

THE DR. J. H. McLEAN MEDICINE CO. ST. LOUIS, MO.

For sale by F. E. Davenport.

About the Court House.

In the circuit court the first case filed against Milan Albright, for trespass, was dismissed, but under the new indictment the defendant was arraigned and gave bond for his appearance at a later date. His bond was fixed at $200. This is the tree-cutting case which has been fully explained in the COURIER.

The divorce case of Hiram E. Wareham vs. Sarah Wareham was called yesterday. It seems that the parties, who live at Waterloo, have "kissed and made up," and the suit was dismissed at plaintiff's costs.

In the case of Wilson S. Dancer vs. James Lawhead, for partition, Albert Robbins, who was appointed commissioner with power to sell the property, reported that the sale had been made for cash at the appraised value. Sale confirmed and commissioner discharged.

The case of Cordill vs. Welsheimer, brought here from Whitley county on charge of venue, occupied the attention of the court yesterday afternoon. It was a suit brought to quiet title, but there were several other issues involved which will require some time to dispose of.

REPORT ON INFIRMANY.

The following is the report of the grand jury on the condition of the county farm and asylum:

To the Honorable Judge of the DeKalb circuit court:

We, the grand jury assembled, respectfully report to the court that we have examined the county infirmary and appurtenances thereto belonging, We find everything in fine condition, except that we would recommend that a kitchen be built on the east side of the present kitchen and use the present kitchen for a diningroom, so that the male and female inmates may have separate diningrooms; that the aisle leading to the cells be changed so that the cells be placed on the outside of a central aisle or park, to aid in heating, ventilating and lighting said cells; and that the yard to the west of said cells be surrounded by a high fence so as to confine and secure the inmate from escaping therefrom. That said institution contains nineteens male and eleven female inmates. There are also on said farm and belonging thereto seven head of horses, thirty-three head of cattle, sixty head of hogs, twenty-four pigs, about 2,000 bushels of corn, fifty tons of hay, 111 bushels of wheat, 1,300 bushels of oats, thirty-five bushels of winter apples, and 700 bushels of potatoes. There have been the following deaths: Andrew Metzler, March 14, 1899; Prudence Ritter, September 8, 1899.

JOHN TREESH, Foreman.

Obituary of Lincoln Eckhart.

(Trenton, Neb., Register.)

Lincoln Eckhart was born at Louisville, Ohio, November 23, 1860, died at his home in Cornell precinct, Hitchcock county, October 7, 1899, aged 38 years, 10 months and 14 days. He was married to Mary C. Wertz on December 14, 1884, and moved to this county in the spring of 1886 where he has since resided. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Darby, after which the remains were followed to their last resting place in the Cornell cemetery by a large concourse of sorrowing friends and neighbors. The funeral was in charge of the A. O. U. W., of which he was a worthy and honored member, their beautiful and impressive service being given at the grave.

Link Eckhart, as he was always called, was loved and respected by all who knew him. He was honest, upright and straightforward in all his dealings with his fellow men. He was kind and jovial and always had a good word for everyone. He was industrious, as his home surroundings show, and will always be missed in Cornell precinct. He leaves a wife to mourn the loss of a most devoted and loving husband, and his neighbors a true and loyal friend. This paper desires to extend its sincere sympathy to Mrs. Eckhart in this her sad bereavement.

OBITUARY

Anna Catherine Fell, maiden name Ludwig, was born in the town of Boddiger, Hesse, Germany, June 1, 1856, being the daughter of Cyrus and Anna M. Ludwig. In 1857 she came to Holmes county, Ohio, with her parents, and in 1863 the family removed to DeKalb county, living on a farm 2 miles north of Auburn. June 3, 1876, she was united in marriage to Christian Fell, and since that time husband and wife have resided in Auburn. To them were born three sons and one daughter, all of whom survive their mother. There are also left to mourn her death two sisters and three brothers. At the age of fourteen years Mrs. Fell was confirmed to the German Reformed church of which she has always been a faithful member as a devout follower of the teachings of the Master. Nearly two years ago she became a victim of that dread disease consumption, and has been daily growing weaker until Friday last at 8 o'clock in the evening when her immortal spirit was taken from its mortal home and borne to its Maker in heaven. She was a dutiful child, a kind and gentle mother, a devoted and loving wife and the possessor of a beautiful christian character, which widens the circle of mourners, and makes her death a bereavement to many friends and neighbors as well as an irreparable loss to the loved ones left behind.

OBITUARY.

Ethel, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Guilford, died Friday morning Oct. 20, of membranous croup, aged 8 years and 3 months. After short services at the house conducted by Rev. Maxwell, the remains were laid to rest at 4 p. m. Friday in Woodlawn cemetery. Little Ethel was a sweet child and will be greatly missed not only by her parents and brothers, but by her teacher and playmates in the school and Sunday school.

In The Circuit Court

The petit jury was on hand ready for business yesterday morning, but no case being ready for trial the jurymen were excused until today. Judge Hartman transacted the followieg business.

Frank Weaver, upon a plea of guilty to a charge of public intoxication, was fined $25 and costs, to stand committed until paid. Michael Siberts also plead to a like charge and was assessed $5 and costs. He gave bond for the payment of the amount and was released.

The divorce case of Elva Getz vs Edward Getz was called and upon hearing the evidence the court gave the plaintiff a decree with $500 alimony. John E. Lung also secured a dissolution of the ties which bound him to Mary E. Lung.

The petition of William E. and Cora A. Greager to adopt Lulu Bowser, infant daughter of Louise Bowser, was granted yesterday.

The case of the W. H. Kiblinger Co. vs Daniel J. Baker and Wm. Curle, on note, was dismissed by plaintiff and costs paid.

NOTICE.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on two 25 cent bottles or boxes of Baxter's Mandrake Bitters, if it fails to cure constipation, billiousness, sick-headache, jaundice, loss of appetite, sour stomach, dyspepsia, liver complaint, or any of the diseases for which it is recommended. It is highly recommended as a spring tonic and blood purifier. Sold liquid in bottles, and tablets in boxes. Price 25 cents for either. One package of either guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. E. M. FISCHLER, F. E. DAVENPORT, HOWARD MCCORD.

SEDAN.

W. H. Grane and wife were in Hudson yesterday the guests of W. W. Hamilton and wife.

O. L. Wheaton and wife visited with friends in Waterloo Sunday

Dan Steckly and family spent Sunday with father and mother Wilson.

Tom Dilgard was on our streets Sunday.

Martin Casselman has quit farming, and last week moved his family to this place.

Rev. Gaft, the new Lutheran minister at this place, delivered a splendid sermon last Sunday to a very attentive audience.

Charlie Schroeder was at home over Sunday.

Ed. Wherley has the job of painting the new school house in Smithfield township. Ed is a fine workman and can be depended on to do a good job every time.

Will Casselman moved to Kendallville last week.

George Casselman moved on the Ringer farm in Fairfield township last week.

John Vanlear moved in Will Casselman's house.

Roland Edge moved to Waterloo last week.

SUMMER COMPLAINT

s easily cured by the use of Beggs' Diarrhœa Balsam; it is safe and sure. H. B. McCord's drug store.

CEDAR.

S. Haag and family Sundayed with friends at St. John's.

Lizzie Zorn is spending a few days at home resting up from work.

Frank Holman returned to his home at Saginaw, Mich., on Friday of last week, after spending a few days with friends at Cedar.

Farmers in this vicinity are busily engaged in husking corn of which there is a large crop.

George Smith sold two horses to the Kendallville horse buyers last week.

T. F. Holman is assisting Fred Smith with his corn husking.

David Gump is suffering with rheumatism.

I. O. Bochtel of Auburn delivered another ten-barrel lot of flour to O. C. Himes of this place on Monday of this week. O. C. is selling flour at 45 cents per sack and seems to be selling lots of it.

John E. Lung claims to be a free man again, having been divorced from his wife last week.

Dissolution.

The law firm of Baxter & Brown has been dissolved by mutual agreement, and each member will continue in business in Auburn. Persons owing the firm on account are requested to settle the same by cash or note at once, which may be done by either of us.

JOHN W. BAXTER.
CHAS. M. BROWN.

AUBURN, IND., October 10, 1899.

HUMPHREYS'

WITCH HAZEL

OIL

CURES

Piles or Hemorrhoids
Fissures & Fistulas.
Burns & Scalds.
Wounds & Bruises.
Cuts & Sores.
Boils & Tumors.
Eczema & Eruptions.
Salt Rheum & Tetters.
Chapped Hands.
Fever Blisters.
Sore Lips & Nostrils.
Corns & Bunions.
Stings & Bites of Insects.

Three Sizes, 25c, 50c. and $1.00.

Sold by druggists, or sent post-paid on receipt of price

HUMPHREYS' MED. CO., 111 & 113 William St., New York.

CLUB NOTES.

The literary clubs of Auburn have commenced their regular sessions for the year and start out with renewed spirit, after the pleasant summer vacation. The work of the L. L. C. will be along similiar lines to that of last year, and on Oct. 14, the club met with Mrs. Willis with a large attendance. The program as printed was carried out with the exception of a paper on "Loyalty" by Mrs. Barns, who was absent, but furnished a substitute, Mrs. Ralston reading a humorous selection in her place, which was enthusiastically received.

Mrs. Zimmerman gave an excellent paper entitled 'Out of the Past."

Mrs. Lottie Cochran gave an interesting talk on "Tucson, Arizona," her present home.

Concert reading by the club was conducted by Mrs. Lewis in the absence of Mrs. Brown, who was detained at home.

Saturday the 21st, the club met with Mrs. Tillie McCord. The first paper entitled "Cosmopolitan America" by Miss Nellie Buckley was excellent, and "Wide Awake Women of the Day" by Mrs. McCord was full of interest and ably discussed by the members. "Fields that lie at thy Door" by Mrs. Emanuel was another excellent paper and called forth quite an animated discussion. "Missionaries in the Philippines" by Mrs. Swineford was read by Mrs. Emanuel, Mrs. Swineford not being able to be present. The club very reluctantly accepted the resignation of Mrs. Wilsen, whose duties prevented her from attending the sessions. She has been an excellent member and the club will feel her loss. Two visitors were present, Miss Anderson of Virginia, and Miss Mary Cochran of Arizona. Mrs. Houser of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Lottie Cochran of Arizona, were the honorary guests present. Adjourned to meet with Mrs. Lackey next Saturday.

Dedication Service.

Building known as Lockwood church
NOVEMBER 12, 1899.

Services will be conducted by Rev. J. J. Fred assisted by other pastors. The deed has been made to the church. All are invited.

Dissolution of Corporation.

Notice is hereby given that the Standard Mfg. Co., a corporation, has, by mutual consent of all the stockholders and by resolution of the board of directors, been dissolved. Certificates of such dissolution have been filed in the recorder's office of DeKalb county and in the office of the secretary of state at Indianapolis, Ind.

The business will hereafter be conducted by Wm. F. Kessler, proprietor, under the name of the Standard Mfg. Co.

WILLIAM F. KESSLER
JOHN HEBEL } Directors.
MICHAEL HEBEL

Auburn, Ind., October 19, 1899.

ROBBERY AT BUTLER

From O. V. Baxter, who was here from Butler to-day attending court, we learn that Dan Hook's saloon at that place was entered by burglars last night. Entrance was effected by cutting out a panel of a side door and unlocking it. the cash register was carried out into the alley and smashed, showing that job was the work of amateurs as the drawer of the register could easily have been opened. Aside from about $3 in small change found in the register, the only articles missed were three small bottles of whiskey and a box of cigars. There is no clue as to the robbers.

Queer Absence.

A man and his wife and seven-year old daughter, disappeared from Normal Park, Ill., last May and no one knows where they are. All their furniture is just as they left it, a meal partly prepared, the little girl's dolly is sitting in its cab, as if to be taken out doors soon, and all else looking as if they had left unexpectedly. He was an assistant teacher in the Normal, and no reason is known for their leaving.

Will Grind Buckwheat.

Buckwheat will be ground at the South End Mills, Auburn, on Tuesday and Friday of each week, beginning Oct. 24. Special machinery is being added to extract sand and other impurities from the grain, and insure a clean, pure flour.

Notice to the Public.

The requisitions for supplies for the county officers for the year 1900, are now on file in the auditor's office for public inspection, as required by law.

FRANK P. SHILER, Auditor.

Auburn, Oct. 25, 1899.

IT SAVED HER LIFE.

MISS MAMIE SMITH, Middlesboro, Ky., writes: My little sister had the croup very bad. I gave her several doses of Foley's Honey and Tar and she was instantly relieved. It saved her life.

Auction Sale.

Friday, Oct. 27, I will offer for sale at my home on Clinton street, North Auburn, one six-year-old milch cow, one road wagon, and household goods of all kinds. Sale commencing at one o'clock

WASH LINK.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

From Puget Sound.

JUNCTION CITY, WASH., Oct. 16, '99.

EDITOR COURIER:—Perhaps your many readers would be interested in a description of a salmon cannery, as everyone in the east is familiar with canned salmon. The salmon business is only second to lumber, the most important industry on Puget Sound. There is at this seasin about ten thousand men engaged in the fisheries and canneries of the north coast. Salmon are salt water fish, but when four years old they ascend the fresh water rivers and creeks to deposit their spawn which when hatched descend to the ocean to grow until four years old when they again seek the fresh water. A most remarkable trait of the salmon is the fact that when they once start up a fresh water stream they never turn back but push ever onward and upward until they reach the headwaters, where you will still find them in small ditches not more than a foot wide, still struggling up only to be finally worn out and die at last in their effort to get higher. The fishermen stretch miles of wire fish traps all over the sound and the salmon weighing from ten to twenty pounds are brought in every morning to the cannerier by the boat load. Tons and tons of fish from the traps are dumped into the receiver every morning where they are first counted. A uniform price of twenty-nine cents each being paid this year, which is very renumerative to the firhermen. The price last year was ten cents. The increased price is due in part to the big demand for the soldiers in the Philippines who do not relish canned beef as they did before the exposures at Chicago. After being counted the fish pass to the guillotine, where they are beheaded by machinery about as fast as you can count. Then they are distributed by means of five troughs to the two hundred Chinamen who clean and cut up and pack in tin cans which are then soldered except a pin-hole at the top of the can. in which condition they are immersed in a huge cauldron holding many tons of boiling water, where they are left for one hour, when they are taken out and the pin-hole soldered up. Then they are turned over to the women and girls who put on the tasty labels telling you of the purity of the contents and then they are boxed and shipped to every part of the world. If a DeKalb county man could stand by the door and see the stream of fish as they go pouring into the great cannery he would be puzzled to know who eats all the fish. We live near a creek about the size of Cedar creek at Auburn and at this season it is alive with salmon, traveling up to die. We go down to the creek with forks and hooks and have sport, landing the big fellows which we salt and smoke for winter use. My daughter Vesta is an adept at catching the speckled trout which also are numerous in the brooks and it is all fish galore.

Yours truly,
JOSAPH A. SHADE.

Liquor License Notice.

Notice is hereby given to the citizens of the town of Ashley, in DeKalb county, Indiana, that the undersigned will make application to the board of commissioners of said county at their December session, 1899, for a license to sell spirituous, vinous and malt liquors in quantities less than a quart at a time, with the privilege of allowing the same to be drank on the premises where sold. Said business to be carried on in the front room on the ground floor of the two-story brick building situated on lot number nine [9] in block number twenty [20] in said town and fronting north on State street. Said front room is 19 by 30 feet, and in said building on the ground floor there is a back room 19 by 28 feet, and the upper floor of said building is partitioned and used by said applicant for a dwelling house.

HENRY E. GEDDES.

October 26, 1899.

HUMBUGS

are they who tell you other cough syrups are just as good as Beggs' Cherry Cough Syrup. If you can not get it from your druggist notify us at once and on receipt of 25 cents we will send you a bottle. Guaranteed. McCord's.

PILES Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment will cure Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles. It absorbs the tumors, allays the itching at once, acts as a poultice, gives instant relief. Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment is prepared for Piles and Itching of the private parts. Every box is warranted. By druggists, by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents and $1.00. WILLIAMS MANUFACTURING CO., Props., Cleveland, Ohio. Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine.

Rotary Motion and Ball Bearings.

Porter Depew, Agent.

..THE..

Almighty Dollar

Is the dollar you spend with us because we give the greatest value for your money.

Quality is of first importance. Quality joined with low prices is the Buyer's Bonanza. We keep quality, and we sell at low prices

See our splendid stock, full of good quality and for sale at prices that make the dollar mighty.

You can't go wrong when you buy from us, because we have just one way of doing business, and that is to give a dollar in good quality for a dollar of any man's money.

MEN'S, BOYS' & CHILDREN'S CLOTHING

HATS, CAPS and GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.....

THE NEWEST STYLES IN GREATEST VARIETY

Read over a few prices quoted below, and many hundred more just such great bargains, which, for want of space, we must omit. Come and see us. You will be surprised at what you can buy for little money.

Men's Suits

Men's Business Suits at..... $3 50
Men's Good Clay Worsted Suits at..... 5 00
Men's Extra Fine Imported Clay Worsted, Tailor-made, Cutaways and sacks, cut in latest styles, at..... $10.
Men's all-wool Scotches, in plaids, latest cut.... 7 50

Boys' Suits

Boys' all-wool long pants Suits at..... 2 50
Boys' all-wool long pants Suits at..... 6 00
Boys' all-wool long pants Suits, Scotches, in Plaids, cut in latest styles..... 7 50

Child's Suits

Children's suits, ages 3 to 15, at..... 98c
Children's suits, ages 4 to 15, at..... 1 50
Children's suits, ages 4 to 15, at..... 2 00

Underwear

Men's fine heavy weight Underwear at..... 25c
Men's extra heavy weight Fleece-lined..... 38c

Hats and Caps

Men's black and brown fine dress Hats, Fedora and Pashs, at..... 1 00
Men's black and brown fine stiff Hats, in all late styles, at $1.00 and..... 1 50

Men's Overcoats

Men's Black, Blue and Brown Beaver Overcoats, the kind our competitors sell at $7 and $8, but our price is only..... 4 75
Men's Black and Blue Overcoats, an all-wool Kersey, it is a bargain at $10.00 Our price..... 7 00
Men's Nobby Dress Covert Overcoats, made up the best known anywhere; up-to-date and sold other places for $2 to $3 more; our prices are $4 50, $5 50, $6.50 & 7 50

Mackintoshes

We carry a complete line and and can sell them to you at prices lower than ever; ask to see them.

Men's Cape Coats..... 1 48
Men's Box Coats..... 2 50
Men's Blue and Black Tricot, guaranteed.... 4 00

Young Men's and Boys' Overcoats.

Young Men's Black, Blue and Brown Beaver Overcoats. We bought these before the advance in raw material and are selling them at prices at which you can all afford to wear one.... 3 75
Young Men's Covert Overcoats, Swell dressers, very latest. Fine garments at $4.50, $5.50 and.... 6 00
Boys' and Children's Overcoats. You cannot afford to let your boys go without one at the low prices we are selling them.

Rubber Coats

A good, heavy Drill Coat, guaranteed to turn water. Cannot be duplicated anywhere for less than $3.00. Our price on these is..... 1 98
You ought to have of them for rainy weather. Look at 'em.

SHOES: We carry a fine line of Men's and Boys' shoes, in all styles, black or tan, We save you 50 per cent on all shoes bought of us.

$1.00 worth of goods bought of us is $1.00 saved. Money saved is money earned. Now is the time to get the best and get it cheap from our grand new stock of Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing, Shoes, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, &c.

J. BAILER'S

Clothing and Shoe House.

3 Doors North Farmers Bank, AUBURN, IND.

Now Is the Time

TO BUY a

Wilson Heating and Ventilating Machine

They are the Greatest of all Modern Scientific Inventions.

They Save Fuel,
Will Burn Anything,
Perfectly Safe & Clean

Will Hold Fire and are Easily Regulated. We sold Eighty-Nine of them last winter, and as far as we know they are all giving good satisfaction. They are moderate in price and within the reach of all.

Buy none but the genuine Wilson and you will be both pleased and satisfied.

SOLD ONLY BY

Culbertson & Boland,

G. W. LACKEY,

North Main Street, Auburn, Ind.

Invincible Values:

Every day in each of the many departments of this BIG STORE. You may choose from complete assortments in honest qualities and newest styles—every purchase here means economy in the fullest sense of the word.

Suits, Jackets and Capes.

Every one beautiful and attractive, every one man tailored and workmanship equal to the best made-to-order garments. Every Jacket perfect fitting—every Skirt perfect hanging.

Ladies' tailor-made suits of all-wool Venition, Tweeds and Camel Hair, with and without overskirts, in black, grey, cadet, royal and navy blue. Jackets satin or taffeta silk lined. Skirts lined with percaline or silk and the prices range from $5.00 to $12.50

Tailor-made Jackets, good quality Kersey, stitched seams, self or velvet collars, good quality silk or satin lining in castor, brown or black. We start them at $5.00 and up.

Plush Capes, 30-inches long, full sweep, well lined $5.00

Silk Seal Plush Capes, silk lined, 30 inches long, a good serviceable garment at $10.00

Misses' Jackets in Kersey Golf Cloth, very stylish $4.00 to $8.00

Large line of children's Jackets sizes 4 to 12 years, from $2.00 up

Golf Capes.

Medium and long made of beautiful double faced Shawls and Cheviots. We have them for ladies and misses, have been a been a very popular garment this season, The prices start at $5.00 and up to $10.50

Separate Skirts.

A lot of black brocade skirts, percaline lined, well made, at $1.49

Large assortment of Crepon, Grey Homespun, Cheviots and Serge skirts, 23 to 30 in waist measure $4.98

Furs.

Collerettes in black Martin, Monkey, Electric Seal, Stone Martin, etc., from $2.98 to $18.00

Muffs in Electric Seal, Martin, etc., from 75c to $2.75

Autumn Millinery

The daily throngs show that ladies of taste do not loose sight of this important department. We feel a worthy pride in this season's display. The hats are beautiful, representing all the leading styles—and the prices are distinct triumphs. We want you to come and enjoy the result of our efforts.

G. W. LACKEY,
Auburn, Ind.

There are leaks and leaks. Greater leaks go through the ordinary stove than through coal buckets. Half burnt coal and burnt coal that gives half service costs more than the bucket loses.

Jewel Stoves and Ranges are the only effective remedy for stove waste. Every particle of fuel secures perfect combustion, every unit of heat gives effective service. Jewels bring to the kitchen cleanliness, comfort, economy. Examine their construction and see why. 3,000,000 in use.

Jewel Stoves are sold by

Pioneer Hardware Co., Auburn.

OUR HOUSE IS FILLED

With New Stylish Up-To-Date Shoes!

for Ladies. The best values we have ever shown. The Latest Styles! The Right Prices!!

You'll Make a Mistake

if you don't see our SPECIAL VALUES at $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50. We carry as many styles as most city stores and sell them CHEAPER.

OUR SPECIALTIES!

"SOROSIS" in Welts..... $3.50
"EMPRESS" in Turn..... $3.50
"THEODOSIA" in Welt & Turn $3.00

Bishop & Beidler,
YOUR SHOEMAKER.

Faster Than Ever to California.

"The Overland Limited," Chicago, Union Pacific and North-Western Line leaves Chicago daily 6:30 p. m., arrives San Francisco afternoon third day and Los Angeles next morning. No change of cars, all meals in dining car. Buffet smoking and library cars, with barber. The best of everything. "The Pacific Express" leaves Chicago daily 10:30 p. m., with first-class and thorough tourist sleepers to California. Personally conducted excursions every Thursday. Illustrated pamphlet describing fully this wonderful state sent free on application to Chicago & North-Western Railway.

A. H. Waggener, 22 Fifth Avenue, Chicago. 43

William's Kidney Pills

Has no equal in diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs. Have you neglected your Kidneys? Have you overworked your nervous system and caused trouble with your Kidneys and Bladder? Have you pains in the loins, side, back, groins and bladder? Have you a flabby appearance of the face, especially under the eyes? Too frequent desire pass urine? William's Kidney Pills will impart new life to the diseased organs, tone up the system and make a new man of you. By mail 50 cents per box.

WILLIAMS MFG. CO., PROPS., Cleveland, O.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

Monday's Daily.

—Notice the new advertisement of the Bazar store in this issue.

—The Foley remedies we are advertising are sold by H. B. McCord.

—Mrs. Priscilla Barclay is visiting her sister, Mrs. Mary Hixson, at Cedar Creek.

—J. L. Ferguson, northeast of town, is another who does not allow hunting on his farm.

—Frank Dawson was here Saturday and chipped in to relieve the cash box of the COURIER.

—Over six hundred carriage makers are in attendance at the national convention at Indianapolis.

—M. H. Elson of Fairfield one of our young farmer patrons gave us a call and a financial lift the other day.

—Go to Sheffer & Chaney for Michigan Lake Salt, a car load just received. Guaranteed not to get hard in the barrel. oct 26w-tf

—Russ' Bleaching Blue makes clothes whiter than snow, delights the laundress. All grocers sell it in 5 and 10 cent packages.

—WANTED:—Black Walnut logs for timber. Highest cash prices paid for same. Address, The Sanders & Egbert Co., Goshen, Ind. 8s

—Before planning your order for your fall and winter millinery call and inspect all up-to-date and get the very lowest prices at Trentman Sisters.

—There will be a rush of visitors at the county treasurer's office this week, as the time in which taxes can be paid without a penalty is rapidly drawing to a close.

—Two Indiana veterans of the Mexican war have their pensions increased from $8 to $12 a month. They are, Robert Helbey of North Manchester and Miles D. Warren of Corydon.

—Isaac Kutzner has a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pepple, saying they had to stop three days at Parsons, Kansas, on their way home owing to the sickness of their little girl. She is all right now.

—John Crimmins came over from Garrett yesterday afternoon for a brief visit with friends. He remained over part of today looking after some business connected with his duties as a city clerk, but he did not call to pay that little bill he owes the COURIER.

HANCOCK, WIS., Feb. 8, '99.
Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier will do all that they claim for it. I recommend it to the public with great pleasure.
R. P. COBB.
For sale by F. E. Davenport.

—Ministers, members and friends of the W. C. U. are earnestly requested to come to the Baptist church Friday evening to hear little Ruth Ransburg, aged nine, in the difficult temperance reading, "Pictures from Life." This gifted child won the silver medal at the oratorical contest at Fort Wayne. No admission.

—William Richmond, the engineer at the band sawmill who was so badly injured in the explosion several weeks ago, is able to be out on crutches, though far from being fully recovered. His worst injuries were about the body and lower limbs and it will be some time before he will be able to resume work again.

—The commissioners began an extra session on Saturday and are still at work. They are wrestling with the new law in regard to estimates and expenses in the various offices. They find it will take a good deal of figuring to make things work. It looks as if the man who got up the new law did not understand the nature of his job.

—WANTED—Several persons for district office managers in this state to represent me in their own and surrounding countries. Willing to pay yearly $600, payable weekly. Desirable employment with unusual opportunities. References exchanged. Enclose self-addressed stamped envelope, S. A. Park, 300 Caxton Building, Chicago tf —In December, the county commissioners in every county in the state will let contracts for records, blank books, blanks, and all stationery required by county officers for the year 1900, to the lowest and best bidders. The Columbia City Post remarks that probability is that to put in a bid for this work, most of the county contracts will go to the large city offices, while the home printers will get left.

—On Friday evening, Oct. 27, at the Baptist church, an elocutionary recital will be given free of charge in compliment to the citizens of Auburn. The program will consist of readings and pantomimes by Rosamond McIntyre, Sidney Farmer, Helen Smith and Marie Hebel, assisted by Ruth Ransburg and Florence Marie Keller, two talented recitationists of Fort Wayne. These children are students of E. Maud Winegardner. Everyone welcome.

—Several days ago while on the way home from school the little seven-year-old daughter of Thomas Proctor, the south-end colored barber, was set upon by two other little girls, one of whom it is said pushed a pin into her ear. After the child reached home she complained considerably, and upon investigation it was found that the ear drum had been penetrated and it has since given her so much trouble that the attending physician thinks the hearing of that ear is permanently destroyed. Mr. Proctor naturally feels much worked up over the matter and it is certainly much to be deplored that such things should occur. Someone may have to pay a good bill of expense before the matter is ended.

WHEELMEN

should never be without a box of Begge' German Salve; it gives instant relief. Heals sores, cuts, bruises and chafing. H. B. McCord's drug store.

Tuesday's Daily.

—Fall stock of wall paper.—DAVENPORTS.

—Wheat is growing as if its life depended on it.

—Millinery in all the latest styles and lowest prices at Trentman's.

—Read Mr. Shades letter and learn new things. He always has his eyes open.

—Second hand furniture for sale. Enquire of E. D. BEAGLE, or at residence.

—Buy your millinery at Trentman Sisters, and get up-to-date styles with low prices.

—China and silver ware at never-before-heard-of-prices at Hodge's, the up-to date Jeweler.

—The Lackey store has a new advertisement today which it will be worth your while to read.

—Miss Nettie Ernest of the sheriff's office, is in the south on some business. She is at Nashville, Tenn.

—The bluest blue makes the whitest white, that's Russ' Bleaching Blue. Refuse fraudulent imitations.

—Master Urban Pommert has been quite sick for several days with bilious fever, but is reported slightly improved today.

—Orrin Clark, wife and two daughters have gone to Jackson Tenn., to spend the winter with another daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark.

—WANTED:—To buy small boiler, new or in good condition, 2 to 4 horse power. Inquire at this office or of G. N. Harwood, Moores Ind. tf

—Mrs. Martin Rinehart of Waterloo was a caller last week. She says they have had a splendid run of business at the cider and jell mill this year.

—Will Reed's little girl is very sick with typhoid fever at the home of her grandfather, Amos Lower Truly Mr. Reed has his full share of trouble.

—To all points in competition where the fare is $2 or more we have free bus and free baggage to the Junction. tf SPROTT & KNAPP, Agency B. & O. Ry.

—Mrs. Barne entertained at tea last evening, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Houser of Indianapolis and Mrs. Mary Boyer of this place, all being friends of early days.

—James McClellan and his daughter Mrs. Will Ryan. went to Fort Wayne today to visit a few days with his son J. Y. W. McClellan who is in business there.

—G. A. Lane, an experienced and capable nurse, is at liberty, and those desiring his services can secure the same by calling at his home on west Ninth street.

—A lady drummer was in town today calling on the drygoods trade. She was very neat in appearance and showed evidence of familiarity with that line of trade.

—Justice Walter officiated yesterday at the marriage of Lewis Hites and Cora Ellen Gillespie. The ceremony was performed in the 'Squire's office and was a very quiet affair.

—The state fish commissioner, in response to a letter from Captain Gilbert of Angola, says no license is necessary for catching ciscoes with a gill net. It is unlawful, however, to catch other fish that way.

—Isaac Grogg, corner Jackson and Fifth streets, makes wood tanks and cisterns cheaper than any other man in county. It will pay you to see him before leaving your order. His work is always first-class. w&d.

—Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week we will sell China and silver ware at such low prices that you can't afford to pass our store without stopping to purchase.—D. A. HODGE, up-to-date Jeweler.

—Four wrecks occurred on the Chicago division of the Lake Shore road last Friday. There was no loss of life, but several persons were severely injured and the property loss to the company will run well up into thousands.

—William Herendeen, a brakeman on the Peru-Detroit division of the Wabash, was killed in the yards at Peru yesterday morning while coupling cars. His home was at Delray and his remains were taken there yesterday for burial.

—Ed Metcalf is piling up a little experience with the buzz saw. At the Greenler factory yesterday one of them snipped off the flesh from the ends of the first and second fingers on his right hand. Dr. Baxter dressed the hurts and he will soon be all right.

—John Robbins was able to ride up town this afternoon and call on Dr. Swarts. A. J. Ralston, who brought him up suggested a "Jag Cure" establishment was what John needed, and that the COURIER sign had attracted his eye as he passed. But John claims that rheumatism is no joke.

—The buildings and most of the stock of the Cash Lumber Co., at Columbia City were destroyed by fire early yesterday morning, entailing a loss of about $10,000. Peter Kuntz, who is president of the Auburn Lumber Co., and resides in Chicago, is the principal owner of the Columbia City concern, which was partially insured. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Frank Baer at the Greenler factory met with an accident this forenoon. He was cutting staves when the knife caught the mitten he had on his left hand pulled it off and cut it in two. He finished cutting the bolt and went to pick up the mitten, and discovered his thumb had the end chipped off to the bone. By this time he was hot to see how the thing had treated him, picked up another bolt and cut it. By this time he thought time to quit. Dr. Baxter fixed it up, and and he will be all right in a week or two.

Wednesday's Daily.

—Bargains in millinery at Trentman Sisters.

—Wm. Liens and little son were callers today and he went on our 1900 list.

—Adam Deets and his son Elmer called on the COURIER this morning, and he and Jacob Deets have thanks for payments up into 1900.

—Mrs. Hiram Brand was here yesterday accompanied by her little granddaughter, and paid a year ahead for the COURIER for her son Henry Brand.

—Capt. Lahnum is receiving much encouragement in his plans for a new militia company in Auburn. It is thought it at a number of young men from the country will join the organization.

—Old Mrs. Klink, who had lived south of Garrett, died the other day, suddenly, at Kendallville, where she was staying with her daughter. The funeral was at Cedar Chapel, Tuesday, Oct. 24.

—Dick Burniston, the jolly, was over from Garrett yesterday and put his subscription up into the 1900 class He says work over in the shops is so pushing that he has had to put in three nights each week so far this month, and three Sundays.

—WANTED:—By an established business of a high order, a representative of ability and backing who can take up its work in the state of Indiana; no scheme; permanent business with money in it for the right party. Address at once, FOUNTAIN BATH BRUSH CO, Grand Rapids, Mich. d&wlw —Deaf attorneys and doctors are now and then found as the case of Nelson B. Lutes of Tiffin, Ohio, who has a high reputation and tries difficult cases with the help of his wife. When he has a case, his wife goes with him and as the opposing attorney talks she forms the words with her lips so her husband can understand them and in this way he knows all that is said. The daughters also help at times in the same way.

—MARRIED:—At the rooms of the officiating minister, Rev. Meese, Oct. 21, 1899, Mr. Milan Mann and Miss Cora M. Anthony. Both parties are well known and popular young people, he a resident of Franklin and she of Smithfield. A singular thing about this marriage is, that the groom's father, Edwin Mann, and the bride's mother, Mrs. Anthony, were killed by the Lake Shore train between Angola and Pleasant Lake.

BUTLER.

—Rev. John Crouse is suffering from a severe attack of heart trouble.

Mrs. Hannah Dickerhoof of Garrett is here visiting her daughter, Eellen Hollinger, and other Butler relatives and friends.

Russel Young is improving slowly with fair hopes of early recovery.

John Britchius remains about the same. One of his daughters, Carrie, was married a week ago to Eugene Bryant and rumor has it that two more of them are soon to be married.

J. A. Campbell visited Orland, Helmer and Hudson on business last week and reports corn husking progressing rapidly.

Butler is fast changing its personel, but very few of the old residents remain, and the business of the place is being conducted largely by new individuals and firms. So we old-timers feel like one who treads alone; some banquet hall deserted, the lights are out, the guests are gone, and all but us departed.

Alexander Watson's barn caught fire about dark last Saturday night and burned very fiercely for a few minutes. The fire laddies were on hand in double quick time and soon had the blaze extinguished. The cause apparently spontaneous combustion—insured.

Chas. Campbell has secured a regular engine to fire on the B. & O.

I. Campbell has been promoted to conductor on the Grand Trunk railroad.

"It's a Wonder We ain't All Dead."

We eat too much, we eat too fast, we eat too often, and we take too little care of how our meals are prepared, and we would have been dead long ago but for the medical skill of Dr. Caldwell, who formulated Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Since its introduction, we find a great deal less complaint about constipation, indigestion, sick headache, sour stomach, short breath, and all the ills that come from a disordered digestive apparatus, such as some people have, but all may get rid of, by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. For sale by Davenport the Druggist.

Notice to Creditors.

The First National Bank, located at Auburn, in the State of Indiana, is closing up its affairs. All note holders and others, creditors of said association, are therefore hereby notified to present the notes and other claims against the association for payment.

CHARLES MCCLELLAN, President.
Dated October 14, 1899.

The foregoing association has been at once reorganized and will continue the business of banking as "The McClellan Bank," under same management.

SHULL'S STOCK SALE

H. C. Shull, the milk dealer, will sell all his cows, young cattle, horses, sheep, etc., on Saturday, October 28, beginning at 9 a.m. This is the chance of a life time to get desirable stock. Keep your eye on the date.

CASH MONEY

—Moody & Rickel have a large amount of money to loan on short or long time. Will make farm, town property, or personal security loans. d&-w-1

The Autumn ...Feeling

.....in the air will quicken sales on these lines, but there's a hurry tone to the prices too. They'll keep the selling on the double quick for they're values not easily duplicated, Items that you are now thinking of and will line up with your wishes in every feature; that are best for quality as well as values.

Outing in stripe and plaids, in all the pretty shades—light and dark.....Per yd	5c
Chinchilla Outing for ladies underskirts in gray's and red's.....Per yard	8 & 10c
Flanneletts, good value at 12c; we sell them at.....	9c
Stockenett per yard.....	10c
Ladies' Umbrellas, Silk Taffeta in colors, good values at $1.75, we will let them go at.....	$1.25
A BARGAIN: Ladies' black silk Umbrella, steel rod, Paragon frame at.....	98c
Children's School Umbrellas at.....	48c
Men's gloves, lined or unlined, others sell them for 25c a pair; you can have them for	19c
Ladies' fancy collars—something new—from	25c to 48c
Pompadore Combs.....	10 to 15c
Ladies' fancy Underskirts, silk Taffeta ruffles—good values at $2; you can have one for.....	$1.39

Remember Our Line of Blankets!

We can save you money on all these goods. We have them at from 45c to $1.48 per pair.

Hardware:

Handled axes, guarantee every ax at.....98c
Handled axes.....75c
Unhandled axes, guaranteed at.....79c
Padlocks from.....5c to 10c
Axe handles from.....15 to 23c
Saw files, all sizes....4c to 10c
Steel Shears per pr..24 to 48c
Crumb Brushes.....23c
Hinges, all sizes, per pair from.....4c to 13

GROCERIES.

California Dried Peaches, this year's goods per lb..10c
Full Cream Cheese.....14c
Brooms, each.....15 to 28c
Soda, per lb..... 5c
White Rose toilet soap....
Two cakes for.....5c
Tea Siftings, per lb.....25c
Uncolored Japan Tea, regular 60c goods, per lb ...40c

THE BAZAR STORE,
Auburn, Indiana.

OBITUARY.

Andrew Smith, was born in Stark county, O., June 12, 1830, and after a brief illness died at his home in DeKalb county, Ind., Oct. 18, 1899, aged 69 years, 4 months and 6 days. He was reared on a farm, remaining with his parents till manhood. When seventeen years of age he began to work at the carpenter's trade, which he followed until 1854, when he came to DeKalb county, Ind., and bought a tract of heavily timbered land which he cleared and cultivated, and now has eighty acres of valuable land under a good state of cultivation.

He was married Aug. 26, 1852, to Susan Wolf, daughter of William and Catharine Wolf, early settlers of Ohio. To them have been born six children, William X., John W., Henry B., Catharine Ann, Charles and Edward J. His companion and one son preceded him to the spirit world. He was baptized in infancy by Rev. Fost, and after arriving at the proper age was instructed in the doctrines of our holy religion, made a public confession of faith, and was received into the Reformed church by the solemn rite of confirmation. In this faith he departed this life. He leaves to mourn his departure, four sons, one daughter, sixteen grand-children, two great-grandchildren, and many relatives and friends. Their loss we trust was his eternal gain. The funeral services were held at Fairfield Center, conducted by Rev. J. A. Seitz. Interment in the Fairfield Center cemetery.

Public Announcement.

I have at my home upstairs over Sheet's tailor shop on west Seventh-st, Auburn, a number of the popular high arm, vertical feed. Davis' sewing machine, the only upper feed sewing machine on earth. Will sell them at prices to suit the times. Don't fail to call and see them before you buy. d&wtf
WM. MAXWELL.

—A popular, low rate excursion to Chicago will be run over the Lake Shore Ry. Oct. 28. Tickets $2.50 for round trip; good on train leaving Auburn at 7:35 a.m. to Waterloo, thence on special train leaving at 9:34 a.m., and until Oct. 30 for return.

NERVITA PILLS Restore VITALITY. LOST VIGOR AND MANHOOD

Cure Impotency, Night Emissions and wasting diseases, all effects of self-abuse, or excess and indiscretion. A nerve tonic and blood builder. Brings the pink glow to pale cheeks and restores the fire of youth. By mail 50c per box, 6 boxes for $2.50; with a written guarantee to cure or refund the money. Send for circular. Address,

NERVITA MEDICAL CO.
Clinton & Jackson Sts., CHICAGO, ILL.
Davenport, The Druggist.

Peter Kuntz, Pres., Chicago;
W. H. Keckler, Treas., Auburn.

The Auburn LUMBER CO.,

Central 'Phone No. 12.

We sell all kinds of Lumber for Building, and Make Window and Door Frames to Order. We can Sell you Doors and Windows and SAVE YOU MONEY. We carry all kinds of Shingles, from $1 per thousand to the very best.
Headquarters for.....

Wood Burnt Bulk Lime.

The Genuine Article

We can SAVE YOU MONEY in PRICE, WEIGHT & QUALITY Come and see us and examine our Lime, and you will be convinced. We also carry Cement, Plastering Hair, Plaster Paris, etc.

Auburn Lumber Co.
Near Wabash Depot. AUBURN.

W.A. Davidson

The Jeweler.

Headquarters for High Grade Watches Clocks and Jewelry at Lowest Prices. Call in an get prices. No trouble to give information. Fine line of Ladies' Circle Combs.

Repairing and Engraving done to suit you.

W. A. Davidson,
The Jeweler
Successor to F.J. Yeoberg.

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, INDIANA.

JAMES A. BARNS, - - PUBLISHER.

1899. OCTOBER. 1899.

Su	Mo	Tu	We	Th	Fr	Sa
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
8	9	10	11	12	13	14
15	16	17	18	19	20	21
22	23	24	25	26	27	28
29	30	31

N. M. 4th. F. Q. 12th. F. M. 18th. L. Q. 26th.

HISTORY OF A WEEK.

PEOPLE, PLACES AND THINGS OF THE WORLD.

News of Crimes and Criminals, Accidents, Fires, Etc., from North, South, East and West, Sandwiched with Minor Affairs.

CHRISTMAS BOXES

For the Boys in the Philippines—How and When They May Be Sent.

The Secretary of War has instructed the Quartermaster General to forward from San Francisco any Christmas boxes which may be delivered there prior to November 20, for soldiers in the Philippines. Such boxes should be consigned to Major O. F. Long, general superintendent, army transport service, San Francisco, Cal.

Also to forward from New York any Christmas boxes for soldiers in the Philippines which may be delivered there prior to November 1, such boxes to be consigned to Major B. F. Jones, general superintendent, army transport service, Pier 22, Columbia Stores, Brooklyn, N. Y. All boxes should be plainly marked with the name of the soldier for whom they are intended, giving the company and regiment or other organization to which he belongs, and should be further marked "Christmas box."

Report of Boer Outrages.

Cape Town special: Complaints of Boer outrages upon the natives continue to arrive. These serve further to inflame the Basutos and Zuus. Recently 150 Basutos from Johannesburg arrived at Burghersdorp, Cape Colony, and alleged that the Boers had robbed them wholesale and flogged them with "blacksnakes." The party, which included a son of Chief Lerothodi, was supplied with provisions and the Basutos then started homeward, cheering for the Queen and chanting war songs.

Immense Forest Fires.

Parsons (W. Va.) special: Immense forest fires, miles in extent, are raging in the mountains near here. Millions of feet of lumber are being burned up, and other property is in imminent danger. Residents have to fight to keep the fire out of Hendricks, three miles from here, and it looks as if similar danger will be experienced here. Smoke like a dense fog hangs over the town.

Lawton the Man.

A special from Washington says: The belief at the War Department is that the series of promotions and retirements following Shafter's retirement from the active list will result in Gen. Lawton's getting the brigadier generalship and that the next vacancy in that rank in January, 1900, following the retirement of Gen. Anderson, will be filled by Gen. MacArthur.

Sioux May Don Warpaint.

A dispatch from Sioux Falls, S. D., says: According to information received from Rosebud and Pine Ridge Indian agencies, the Sioux are greatly wrought up over the report that the practice of distributing hides "gratuitously" to Indians is to be discontinued. There is a possibility the Sioux may again take up arms against the Government as a protest.

Big Mine Robbery.

Vancouver (B. C.) special: An Ashcroftum, B. C., report states that there was a big robbery at the Cariboo Mine, near Quesnele Forks. The big safe in the Cariboo Hydraulic Company's office was blown open and part of the amalgam, worth $50,000, stolen.

Frozen to Death.

Thurlow Washburn, assistant superintendent of the Liberty Bell Mining Company, Telluride, Col., was overcome and frozen to death by the terrible blizzard which prevailed in Ouray County recently. His body has been recovered.

Kills His Family and Self.

Frank Babcock, a farmer living near Redwood Falls, Minn., shot and killed his wife and three sons and then committed suicide. Babcock has been demented for some time, but had heretofore been supposed to be harmless.

Clash Between Negroes and Whites.

There was a clash between the negroes and whites at Decatur, Ala. Frank Green (colored) was killed. The row was started by Charles James thrashing a negro woman for insulting his wife. Another clash is feared.

Water Supply Cut Off.

The Orange Free State troops have defeated a small British force at Riverton, near Barkly, north of Kimberly. Two Britishers were captured. The Boers have cut off Mafeking's water supply.

Masonic Temple, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Oct. 30—"The Stowaway."
Nov. 2—Tim Murphy.
Nov. 3—"The Runaway Girl."

Pugilist Guilty of Killing.

George Wanko, pugilist of Washington, Pa., has been found guilty of manslaughter in causing the death of Felix Carr of St. Albans, W. Va., in a glove contest near Parkersburg, W. Va., recently. The penalty is from one to five years in the penitentiary.

Denies the Charge.

Treasury Auditor Morris has issued an official denial of the charge that his department was sidetracking the Civil War pension claims to rush the Spanish War claims.

Gen. Shafter's Retirement.

Gen. William R. Shafter, who for over a year has held the position of brigadier general in the regular army and major general of volunteers, is now on the retired list of the regular army. He will, however, remain in command of the department of the Pacific.

Scarcity of Water in Texas.

Probably at no time in its history has Texas ever had so many drouths as during the past summer and this fall. Every section of the State from the Panhandle to the gulf has been visited by a drouth. Reports from the ranges say that cattle are dying for want of water.

NEWS IS HARD TO GET

BOERS CUT TELEGRAPH LINES IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Severe Censorship Also Interferes—Important Battles Expected at Ladysmith on the East and Kimberley on the West of the Transvaal.

Cable companies have notified the State Department at Washington of the interruption of communication with the Transvaal. Severe censorship interferes with the sending of war news from South Africa, but advices received indicate early battles at several points. On Tuesday Kimberley was still besieged by Boers, and there were rumors of an attack on Vryburg. Dutch forces moving south in Natal have been delayed by the difficulties met with in transporting supplies and equipments.

The disposition of the Boer forces at the outset of the war in South Africa makes it manifest that the Boer generals, instead of contenting themselves with defensive or guerrilla warfare, mean for a time to act systematically on the aggressive. The four military expeditions thus far put under way from the Transvaal and the Orange Free State have moved directly to the important strongholds on the enemy's frontier. These movements, while apparently independent, give evidence of concerted action.

At the time this is written the northern commandos of the Transvaal under Commandant Cronje are investing Mafeking, which is defended by Col. Baden-Bowell and a relatively small force. The same expedition is known to have seized the railroad to the south of Mafeking. The southern commandos of the Transvaal, under Gen. Koch, at the same time have moved into Natal, with Ladysmith, apparently, for an objective. The troops of the Orange Free State have been similarly divided, the commandos of the southern part of the republic striking for Kimberley, which they are now besieging in force, meantime destroying the railway to the south. A fourth column, also made up of Boers from the Orange Free

TYPES OF BOER SOLDIERS.

State, has struck into Natal, where it will be in a position to co-operate with the Transvaal force in front of Ladysmith against Gen. Sir George Stewart White and his formidable army of 15,000 men.

The opening of the campaign thus finds the Boers making simultaneous attacks upon three of the most important British strongholds—the points which naturally would be the bases of supply and communication for the invading army. That the defense of these strongholds will be stubborn and very likely effective need hardly be said. But it is evident that the policy of the Boer leaders thus far promises to give them advantages which will obstruct the British advance materially and greatly prolong the war. The Boer forces are mounted. They are operating on interior lines and are able to maneuver over long distances on ground with which they are familiar. They already control all the passes into the

GEN. CRONJE. COL. BADEN-POWELL.

Transvaal. With Mafeking and Kimberley under siege and two columns operating on the offensive in Natal, they, for a time at least, will be able to devastate a considerable territory, cutting telegraph wires, destroying railways and bridges and seizing stores of ammunition and supplies.

A dispatch received at Cape Town before the telegraph line to Kimberley was cut stated that the townspeople were ignorant of the measure to be adopted for the defense of the place. It is conjectured that the military authorities distrust part of the inhabitants, and therefore keep their plans secret to prevent them from reaching the enemy. The Boers of the Orange Free State are in complete possession of the railway from the Orange river to near Kimberley. The Free State Boers are also reported to have cut the telegraph wires and destroyed the railway track at Norval, where the line from Port Elizabeth to Bloemfontein crosses the Orange river.

ROBBERY OF THE NORTHWESTERN FAST MAIL TRAIN NEAR ELBURN, ILL.

Three bandits terrorize the railway men, wreck the express car and escape, to be pursued by a posse and bloodhounds.

ESTIMATE OF YEAR'S WHEAT.

Reduction of 327,000,000 Bushels from Last Year's World's Crop.

In a bulletin issued by the Agricultural Department a careful analysis is given of the wheat crop of the world for 1899 based upon the estimates of recognized conservative authorities. The production was estimated by the Department of Agriculture in 1898 at 2,907,700,000 bushels. Beerbohm estimates the production the last season at 2,445,000,000 bushels, the Bulletin des Halles at 2,516,000,000 and the Hungarian minister of agriculture at from 2,453,000,000 to 2,477,000,000 bushels.

In a carefully tabulated statement it is shown that these estimates do not cover the same field; that some of them include countries omitted by others. Setting aside minor differences and taking the countries which are included in all four of the estimates the following result is obtained: Estimate of Department of Agriculture, 1898, 2,798,000,000 bushels; estimate Beerbohm's Corn-Trade List, 1899, 2,393,000,000 bushels; estimate Bulletin des Halles, 1899, 2,489,000,000 bushels; estimate Hungarian ministry, 1899, 2,453,000,000 to 2,477,000,000.

It has already been seen by the report of the Agricultural Department that supplementing the estimates for 1899 by the additions for omitted countries which are included in the estimate of the Department of Agriculture for 1898 and then comparing the latter with the mean of the three estimates as so modified, we get 327,000,000 bushels as the quantity by which this year's wheat crop falls below that of last year. On the whole a reduction of more than 300,000,000 bushels is pretty safely inferred, and it would seem that during the current crop year the farmer should obtain satisfactory prices for his wheat.

FORCES IN THE PHILIPPINES.

More than 70,000 Men Will Be There in December.

The combined military and naval forces of the United States in the Philippines, when all the troops and ships now under orders reach their destination, will aggregate more than 70,000 men and forty-five war vessels. The last of these forces will arrive in Manila early in December. This statement shows the strength in detail of the military and naval forces assigned to duty in the Philippines:

Army—
Combatants	63,872
Non-combatants	1,506
Navy—
Blue jackets	4,997
Marines	1,184

FOR A CORNER.

Beef Trust Buying Chickens to Bolster Meat Prices.

Telegraphic advices received in Chicago from Kansas City, Omaha and St. Louis are to the effect that Armour & Co., Swift & Co. and the other big packers are buying poultry upon a scale they never attempted before. The motive is that the members of the so-called "beef ring" are desirous of avoiding the effect upon the beef market usual at this time of year, owing to the low prices of poultry. By cornering the chicken market it is reported the beef interests intend to bolster the present high price of their principal product.

Telegraphic Brevities.

The James Howard feud trial, London, Ky., has been postponed until the February term.

Dr. W. C. Wunchow of California went to Mexico with $1,000 and mysteriously disappeared.

Pasquale Edoude was killed and two others seriously injured by a falling derrick in New York.

Edward O'Malley, a lineman, Scranton, Pa., while at the top of a 33-foot pole, was electrocuted.

Miss M. Leonard, 14, East Douglass, Mass., was shot to death by Alex. Holdensworth, jealous lover.

Opium eating is increasing in England.

Rome may have a world's fair in 1919.

China's first sawmill has just been built.

Melodramas are returning to fashion in London.

Chrysanthemum salad is a popular delicacy in Japan.

Melbourne, Australia, has just had its first fall of snow.

Great Britain may have a permanent census department.

Congo natives are making seat covers of the skins of Belgians.

German authorities are trying to check an epidemic of typhus at Metz.

Revolutionary organizations for almost every object now exist in Paris.

The maintenance of the siege of Fort Chambrol cost Paris 820,000 francs.

Uganda is to be made a base of supplies for the British in central Africa.

What was once the palace of Queen Hortense in Paris is being demolished.

Germany expects to have a share in Delagoa Bay if England obtains control.

Delagoa Bay officials, being underpaid, resort to bribery on every possible occasion.

Near Hastings, England, lives an eccentric old man who daily prays to the sun at noon.

A writer in an English magazine declares that the real average Englishman is a workingman earning $6 a week.

Irish newspapers are criticising the English press for their attacks on French justice. The Irish say that it is a case of the pot and the kettle.

Ex-Premier Meline demands the immediate reconvening of the French Parliament.

The King of Corea has presented a fan to every soldier and policeman in his kingdom.

There are now twenty-three stations in all parts of the world for registering earthquakes.

Buddhist priests are endeavoring to have their religion adopted as the state religion of Japan.

Viennese youngsters are fishing in the main thoroughfares of their city, the Danube having flooded.

A naval review is to be held in Japanese waters next year in which 160 of the Mikado's ships will take part.

The inhabitants of Winton, England, believe that with the close of the century the world will come to an end.

Japan will not restore captured ships to China, but will sell her new ally 240,000 Mauser rifles and 24,000,000 rounds of ammunition at a low price.

So many Chinese officials are resigning that the Empress Dowager has ordered the punishment of those who apply for leave without pressing necessity.

London firemen have been forbidden to flirt, whether on duty or not.

Barbers have been fined in Chester, England, for keeping their shops open on Sunday.

No one with any knowledge of European politics expects any European Government to intervene between the Boers and the English.

France loses every year by infectious and contagious diseases 240,000 lives, or nearly double the number of lives lost in the Franco-Prussian war of 1870.

It took twenty years to build the statue of Victor Emmanuel, recently unveiled at Turin, and the frequent disputes over it have made it a byword in all Italy.

LOSS UNDER $10,000.

Express Officials Say Robbery Proceeds Were Exaggerated.

The statements printed in the various Chicago newspapers regarding the amount of money secured by the robbers who held up the Northwestern train at Tower W Friday night are absolutely denied by the officials of the American Express Company. Robert E. N. Cowie, confidential secretary to President Antisdel, said: "It can be stated as official that the amount of money lost by the express company will fall considerably short of $10,000. The amount of the reward has nothing to do with the loss. We offer the reward in order to secure the apprehension and punishment of the robbers, not with reference to the loss in this particular case, but to stop any future recurrence of the robbery."

RAILWAY TOWER HOUSE W.

The clews thus far secured by the secret service men of the express and railway companies, the city, and the Pinkerton agency, and all the county sheriffs and the individuals attracted by the rewards offered, are very vague. William A. Pinkerton said yesterday:

"There is no clew that is promising enough to take up as a key to the case. The robbers will be caught. Some of the most notorious robbers we have caught have been taken two or three months after the crime.

The Des Moines, Iowa, savings bank and a Cedar Rapids bank were consignors of most of the money in the express safe blown on the Northwestern train. The Des Moines bank officials refused to give the amount of money consigned to their institution, but intimate that the stories about the loss being but $8,000 is absurd. The bank depends on reimbursement by the express company.

TRIAL OF JESTER.

Prisoner Charged with Murder Committed in 1871.

Alexander Jester is on trial at Paris, Mo., charged with the murder of Gilbert Gates many years ago. The aged prisoner sits like a stone, apparently unmoved, in the court room from day to day, with his eyes intently fixed on the witnesses. Not a relative, a friend or an acquaintance is by his side to comfort and console him or to whom he can go for sympathy. At first he seemed to care little for what the witness was saying, but the trial is telling on him now. He looks haggard and worn and appears nervous and excited. 'I am all alone in the world," he said. "Everybody has forsaken me. No one is interested in my behalf; it all looks very gloomy and dark now. Everything seems to be against me, but as sure as God lives and rules I am an innocent man."

ALEXANDER JESTER.

Monday Mrs. Irene Delaney, aged 58, testified that she was living two and one-half miles west of Middle Grove, on the Paris and Booneville road, in 1871. She said Jester and Gates camped about 100 yards from her home the night of Jan. 24 of that year. About midnight she heard three loud screams come from the camp, like those of a human being in distress.

Her husband, J. B. Delaney, was then put on the stand. He corroborated his wife's statements, and further said that he went down to the wagon in the morning and asked what that noise was the night before. Jester replied that he was dreaming, and when he awoke he was choking young Gates. Gates did not hear this conversation, because he had gone to the pond for a bucket of water.

THE JAIL AT PARIS, MO.

A. M. Bassett testified that he was living one mile east of Middle Grove in January, 1871; that Gates and Jester stopped at his house to buy some hay; that Gates told him he was on his way to his home in Illinois.

J. A. Scott of Moberly, Mo., testified that he was a blacksmith in Middle Grove in January, 1871; that on Jan. 25 Gates and Jester came through Middle Grove and stopped. "Gates told me," he said, "that he wished he was at home. Afterward, when I saw Jester in jail, and asked him what became of Gilbert Gates, he replied: 'I don't know; I bought him out and he walked across the country.'"

HEAVY LOSS FOR BOERS.

Three Hundred Reported Killed by British at Mafeking.

Advices from Cape Town, South Africa, Thursday reiterated the reports contained in previous dispatches that in the fighting at Mafeking Col. Hore repulsed the Boers, inflicting a loss of 300 men. The messages came to Cape Town by dispatch riders, and accurate details were hard to get, but it is certain that some heavy fighting has taken place. Information from Mafeking says that an armored train, while reconnoitering north of the town, engaged 500 Boers, who suffered heavily. Col. Fitzclarence's column foiled the Boers, inflicting severe loss. The British casualties were two killed and fourteen wounded, two severely.

The British garrison at Mafeking raised a white flag Sunday afternoon and the engagement ceased temporarily. The Boer messenger who was sent to inquire if the garrison meant to yield was held until after sundown. Col. Baden-Powell did not surrender. The burgher forces have practically destroyed the whole of the railway line from Hopetown bridge over the Orange river, fifty miles south of Kimberley, to Ramoutsa, forty-five miles north of Mafeking. The Boers cut off Mafeking's water supply. A report from Boer sources says that the Transvaal lost sixty burghers killed and wounded in the fighting about Mafeking. A sharp engagement took place at Rathlabama station north of the town.

BRITISH TROOPS GOING INTO ACTION.

The natives in Zululand are arming, and the Zulu chief, Dimzulu, says he is unable to restrain his people. It is expected the Zulus will unite with the Swazis to the north and both tribes will help the British. Zululand is northeast of Natal and, like Swaziland to the north, borders on the Transvaal. Gen. Sir George White, commanding the British forces in Natal, has refused to arm natives who wish to fight against the Boers. The further advance of the Boers into Natal is being delayed by the failure of their transport service.

OFFERS TO TURN TRAITOR.

A Filipino General Is Willing to Betray His Country.

Messages purporting to come from Gen. Pilar offering to surrender his army and to deliver Aguinaldo into the hands of the Americans have been received by Gen. Otis. For $250,000 he offers to surrender his men after a sham battle; demands $50,000 to refrain from attacking Manila, and offers to procure the overthrow of the insurrection and the capture of Aguinaldo and other leaders for $500,000. Pilar is believed to be in the vicinity of San Mateo valley with about 2,000 men. Reports from the enemy's lines are to the effect that Pilar contemplates a dash through the American lines into Manila for the purpose of kidnaping Gen. Otis.

The pursuit of Aguinaldo is on in earnest. Gen. Lawton began his northern movement from Arayat Tuesday night at midnight, when a battalion of the Twenty-second infantry under Maj. Ballance, assisted by Maccabebe scouts, advanced and crossed the Pampanga river, marching in the direction of San Isidro. Aguinaldo is reported to be at Tarlac with a strong force, of which he is said to be in personal command.

The Americans are handicapped by inadequate transportation facilities. Supplies were to have been brought up the Rio Grande to San Isidro as a base, but the river is fast dwindling to a shallow stream. Horses and mules will have to be employed, and these are scarce. Lawton commands an effective force of 2,000 men, consisting of the Twenty-fourth infantry, two battalions of the Twenty-second, 600 of the Fourth cavalry, mounted and dismounted, one company of the Thirty-seventh infantry, and 200 Maccabebe scouts.

QUEEN CALLS A BIG ARMY.

Militia Reserves Will Be Mobilized by Great Britain.

A second message of the Queen to Parliament, giving notice of her intention to call out the militia reserves, has given rise to sensational rumors. The necessity for the move is not apparent, as it was supposed that the present military force would be sufficient for the South African war. Many prominent men hold that the strengthening of the army at this time is occasioned by alarm at the attitude of continental powers. Despite pledges of neutrality it is known that nearly all the European powers are hostile to England in the present crisis and the military demonstration may be necessary. According to the statistics published this year the militia, including the permanent staff and the militia reserve, numbers 132,493 men.

In the House of Commons Wednesday Philip James Stanhope denounced the conduct of the Transvaal negotiations and demanded that Secretary Chamberlain should clear himself of the charge of complicity in the Jameson raid. Sir William Vernon Harcourt also criticised the Government policy, holding that peace was possible had not Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Alfred Milner been determined upon war.

Municipal Matters.

Memphis' recent growth is ascribed to improved sewerage.

At Baltimore a coachman was fined $10 for delaying a car.

Berlin will assume control of all street car lines within the city.

Policy is flourishing in Philadelphia, and the Press has begun a crusade to close the shops.

The police department of Hartford, Conn., will soon be equipped with automobile patrol wagons, ambulances and prisoners' van.

Gambling is "wide open" in Savannah, and the preachers are making a crusade against it.

Philadelphia still complains of the water supply. A filtration plant has been demanded for ten years.

Dr. Henry J. Schenck has just completed his twelfth year as dog constable of Boston, during which time he has killed over 10,000 unlicensed dogs. He gets $1 for each dog he kills, but his expenses are not small.

The Socialist Mayor of Haverhill, Mass., claims as his year's record reduction in the price of gas, abolition of grade crossings, and the payment of higher wages to city employes.

INDIANA INCIDENTS.

RECORD OF EVENTS OF THE PAST WEEK.

Peacemaker Shot and Killed—Husband Imprisons His Wife in a Cellar for Several Weeks—Suicide of a Rich Young Man—Robbed by Masked Men.

An attempted double murder took place at Colmex. Bert Julian, who was recently discharged from the regular army in the Philippines, entered a saloon and shot Milo Houlehan, a discharged soldier. Julian had a grudge against Frank Gray, the proprietor of the saloon, and as he came into the place declared that he intended to kill Gray with a shotgun which he carried in his hands. Houlehan interfered, when Julian put the muzzle of the gun against his head and discharged one barrel. Houlehan's head was literally blown off. He then fired the other barrel at Gray, but missed him. He was taken in custody and hastened to Frankfort Jail.

Wealthy Young Man Kills Himself.

Leslie D. Sinclair committed suicide at Vincennes by shooting himself through the temple. He was worth $100,000, and belonged to one of the most prominent families in southern Indiana. He was one of the principal heirs to the $500,000 estate of the late William J. Wise. The coroner found a note Sinclair had written to his sister in which he said his life was a failure. Sinclair was 28 years old, and unmarried. He took his life in a restaurant.

Woman Chained in a Cellar.

Mrs. Herman Gays, who had been reported several weeks ago to have left her husband and gone to her mother in Montreal, was found the other evening to have been hidden in the cellar of her residence in English, where her husband had fastened her with a trace chain less than five feet long. The discovery was made through Gays' 12-year-old daughter by a previous wife. Gays learned of his possible arrest and fled, but every attempt will be made to capture and punish him.

Woman Robbed by Masked Men.

Mrs. Louie Wandrel, wife of the landlord of the Columbian Hotel at Logansport, was aroused from sleep by a noise in another room. Hastily arising, she suddenly found herself in the grasp of three masked men. They bound and gagged her and then robbed the rooms of all the valuables, consisting mostly of jewelry.

Within Our Borders.

One hundred horses were shipped from Anderson for the Transvaal the other day.

James Wess, farmer near Vincennes, was run down by a Big Four train and killed.

Rush County commissioners decided to build five wooden bridges instead of steel ones.

Muncie has grown until letter carriers cannot cover their routes in an eight-hour work day.

Franchise has been granted to T. Lindsay Fitch, Louisville, to put in water works at New Albany.

Construction of the Logansport, Rochester and Northern Traction Company's road will begin at an early date.

Anderson came out first, Columbus second and Seymour third in the band contest at the Greensburg street fair.

C. H. Dale, superintendent of the Hartford City paper mills, has won the chess championship of Indiana and Ohio.

Three Panhandle engines and twenty freight cars were piled up in a wreck at Peoria junction, near Logansport. Nobody hurt.

Thomas Bowers, who was found dead in bed at Anderson, was buried by relatives, his wife and daughter refusing to claim the body.

Mrs. Helen Shipley, Muncie, confessed that she was given $100 to testify falsely in a trial three years ago. She was conscience stricken.

At Etna Green, Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago east-bound freight No. 66 was run into by freight No. 78. The colliding engine and fifteen cars were wrecked.

G. L. White, a well-known traveling salesman for the Van Camp Packing Company of Indianapolis, who had been for several days at the Terre Haute House, suddenly went insane.

A serious stabbing affray occurred at Knightstown. Waite Heaton, a banker, is alleged to have stabbed Joseph Alspaugh. The men are aged 60 and 55 years respectively. The trouble is alleged to have originated over a business deal.

During the noon hour, while the office force was away for a short time, the safe of Lyons & Johnson, real estate dealers, in the most prominent building in Muncie, was opened and $400 stolen. It was done by experts, for the combination was worked and the inner drawers pried open, all in fifteen minutes' time.

It is stated in railroad circles that the Vandalia northern terminal at South Bend will be extended to Michigan City. A corps of surveyors has been running a line to Michigan City which traverses the northern part of La Porte County, and V. T. Malott of Indianapolis, receiver of the Vandalia, is credited with being interested in building the Michigan City road.

Sheriff Klingler of Brazil received a telegram from the sheriff at Philadelphia stating that he had under arrest there Fred M. Chapin, wanted at Brazil for forgery. In 1897 Chapin and Sterling R. Holt, the Indianapolis ice millionaire, bought the plant of the Brazil Ice and Cold Storage Company and Chapin was placed in charge. Soon he disappeared and it developed that he had forged Holt's name to checks for $3,000 on the First National Bank of Brazil and $2,000 on the Zeller & Riddell Bank.

Ed Speicher, 15, Logansport, went crazy studying flying machines.

Window glass combine is taking in Hartford City plants.

Labor organizations in Brazil are fining all members who trade at stores that do not recognize the clerks' union and close at 7 p. m.

There is a man in Goshen who, when he was 18, was of medium stature. In the last nine years he has been afflicted, at different times, with a debilitating complaint, and each time that he got out of bed found that he had grown a few inches. He is now seven feet tall.

George Shaffer, 13, Elkhart, accidentally shot himself in the foot with a rifle, while hunting. He bandaged the foot and walked two miles home.

James P. Light of Shelbyville and wife returned from the Yukon district, Alaska, last spring, the possessors of several claims in that locality, and Wednesday disposed of the same to Chicago parties for $57,000.

Victor James, 16, Martinsville, confessed that he and Ralph Cox, same age, tried to wreck an L. & V. train on the night of July 17. He said Detective Hornod reprimanded them for jumping on trains, and they thought he was on the train they attempted to ditch.

SCENE OF THE SOUTH AFRICAN WAR.

THE BACHELOR'S LAMENT.

Returning home at close of day,
Who gently chides my long delay,
And by my side delights to stay?
Nobody!

Who sets for me the easy chair,
Spreads out the papers with such care,
And lays my slippers ready there?
Nobody!

When plunged in deep and dire distress,
When anxious cares my heart oppress,
Who whispers hopes of happiness?
Nobody!

When sickness comes and sorrow twain,
And grief distracts my fevered brain,
Who sympathizes with my pain?
Nobody!

But I'm resolved, so help me fate,
To change at once my single state,
At Hymen's altar I will mate
Somebody.
—Thomasville Enterprise.

"I THINK him the very embodiment of chivalry and gallantry," said Ethel Hunt, enthusiastically.

She was a dark-cheeked, diamond-eyed girl of 18, with braids of blue-black hair coiled around the back of her small Greek-shaped head, and a color as rich and velvety as the side of a July peach.

"Humph!" said Aunt Sara. "I've heard girls talk so before, and it generally ended in one thing."

"For shame, Aunt Sara!" cried Ethel, coloring up to her eyelashes. "I only mean, of course, that he is a very agreeable companion."

Now, this Aunt Sara of our little Ethel was no spectacled spinster of an uncertain age, nor portly, pillow-shaped widow with the photograph of her dear, departed husband worn, locketshaped, upon her bosom—but a pretty young woman of four or five and twenty, with bright blue eyes and hair all streaked with golden gleams, who was engaged in the congenial occupation of making up her wedding clothes.

"An agreeable companion, of course," said Aunt Sara. "Look, Ethel, do you think white Maltese lace or French blonde, with a heading of Roman pearls, would be prettiest for this berthe?"

Aunt Sara knew when to drop a subject and when to hold on to it. But while Ethel was stitching the quilting

"I SAY, YOU," HE SNARLED OUT, "WHY DON'T YOU——"

of French blonde on to the white silk dress her young aunt's mind was busy upon the topic she had apparently abandoned.

"The disagreeable fellow," thought Aunt Sara. "He has somehow heard that Ethel has money, and he is determined to win it. If she could only see him in his true light; but I know what a perverse thing a woman's heart is. Just as sure as I attempted to tell her what he really is she'll make up her mind that he is the finest and least appreciated personage on the face of the earth. And I do so want to keep her heart whole until Everard Grafton comes to be Charles' groomsman. Everard Grafton is worthy of a princess!"

And Miss Sara Martell sat and sewed away in absorbed silence, without speaking a word for the unprecedented period of fifteen minutes.

"They say he is perfectly intolerable at home," she said to herself. "Clara Waters was there once and heard him rating his sisters fearfully because the beefsteak for his late breakfast was a little overdone. If I could only manage it that Ethel should see him in his true light."

She sat and thought a while longer and suddenly the color bloomed in her cheek, the dimples into her chin. She started up.

"Ethel," she said, "I'm sure you must be tired of sitting over that everlasting stitching. I've got to go over to Susy Morand's to borrow a pattern; it will be just a pleasant walk for us."

"To Miss Morand's?" Ethel was vexed with herself, but she could not help the tell-tale blood that surged into her cheeks. "Isn't it rather early? Only 9 o'clock?"

"Early! Not a bit. Susy and I are so intimate we don't mind curl papers and calico wrappers. Get your hat and come along quick."

But, in spite of her exhortations to speed, Sara Martell smiled to herself to perceive that Ethel Hunt lingered long enough in her own room to change her black lace breast-knot for a becoming little butterfly bow of rose-colored ribbon, and to rearrange the dainty tendrils of silky black hair that dropped so caressingly over her low, broad forehead.

"She thinks we shall see Julian Morand," she thought to herself. "Well, perhaps we shall. I am putting myself entirely into the hands of luck and chance."

But when they reached the Morand mansion, instead of ringing formally at the front door, Miss Martell went around to the back porch, a pretty little entrance, all shaded with honeysuckles and trumpet vines.

"I always go in here," said she, nonchalantly, in reply to Ethel's remonstrating glance. "Sue Morand and I are just like sisters."

Sue Morand, a blooming girl of 18, was in the kitchen making apple pies.

"The pattern? Of course, you shall have it!" she cried. "Just wait a minute until I get it."

"I'll go with you," said Sara. "Ethel, you'll not mind waiting for us here?"

"Not in the least," said Ethel. And she sat down by the window, where ivies, trained in bottles of water, were creeping like green jewels across the crystal panes of glass.

"Sue! Sue!" She started as the voice of her preux chevalier of the evening before came roaring down the back stairs. "Confound you all down there, why aren't my boots blacked? Sue! Mother! Nell! What's become of my breakfast? You must think a man has nothing to do but to lie here and wait all day for you lazy folks to stir around!"

There was no reply as he paused, apparently expecting one. "Mother" was down in the garden under a big green sunbonnet, gathering scarlet-cheeked tomatoes for dinner. "Nell" was in the front yard picking red-veined autumn leaves out of the gold and russet drifts that lay like treasures of precious stones upon the grass.

Sue was shut up among the mysteries of "patterns" innumerable, with Miss Sara Martell. Ethel Hunt sat coloring and half frightened, the sole auditress of Mr. Morand's objurgations.

"I know there's some one down there!" he shouted. "I can hear you breathe and your dress rustle. Just like your ugliness not to answer a fellow! Do you hear? Sue! Black my boots, quick. I'm waiting for them!"

And "bang! bang" came the useful articles of wear in question down the winding stairway that led into the kitchen.

Poor little Ethel! She half rose up, then sat down again, piteously undecided what to do; and even while she hesitated, with color varying like the red and white of the American flag in a high wind, the door at the foot of the stairs flew open and in stalked Julian Morand, sallow and disheveled, with unkempt hair and beard, fretfully curved mouth, and a most unbecoming costume of a soiled Turkish dressing gown, faded pearl-colored nether garments, and stockinged feet thrust into red morocco slippers.

"I say you!" he snarled out; "why don't you——"

And then, perceiving to whom he was actually addressing himself, he started back, turning fiery red.

"Miss Hunt!"

And, with a downward glance at his toilet, he fairly turned and fled, the skirts of his Turkish dressing gown floating like red and orange meteors, and, terrified though she was, Ethel Hunt could not resist the temptation to break into a peal of hearty laughter.

This, then, was her ideal among men, her gallant cavalier, her "Sir Launcelot" of fancied perfection, snarling at his mother and sisters like an ill-conditioned bear, flinging old boots down the stairs at them, tumbling out of bed at 9 o'clock in the morning, while his mother split kindlings and picked tomatoes out in the vegetable garden! Like some Chinese idol, so fell Julian Morand off his high pedestal in the estimation of Miss Ethel Hunt.

She told it all to Sara Martell when they were safe at home.

"Aunt Sara," she said, "I am thoroughly disenchanted!"

Miss Martell shrugged her shoulders and mentally thanked her lucky stars.

"I could have told you as much before," said she. "These Adonises are like cheap calico—they will neither wash nor wear! Wait until Everard Grafton comes."

"And who is Everard Grafton?"

"The nicest young fellow in the world—after my betrothed husband."

When Mr. Grafton came he so far justified Aunt Sara's encomiums that Ethel really did like him. And Aunt Sara was willing to leave the rest to fate.—New York News.

PLEASANT SUMMER HOUSE.

Something that the Children Will Thoroughly Enjoy.

A nice little summer house may be constructed from an old umbrella and the stump of a tree. Sometimes this stump is planted full of vines and flowers and then it is a thing of beauty, but oftener it is left unadorned and ugly. Some little girls made a nice playhouse for themselves this summer by boring a hole in the middle of the stump in their yard and putting down into the hole the handle of an old red umbrella, whose best days had gone by. Stout twine had been tied on each point of the umbrella and fastened to a peg driven in the ground near the stump. Then vines were planted, which crept up these pillars of twine, making just the nicest little retreat imaginable for a hot day.

A COZY LITTLE SPOT.

The Only Thing Left.

A grandfather, well known in the British House of Commons, was chatting amicably with his little granddaughter, who was snugly ensconced on his knee. "What makes your hair so white, grandpa?" the little miss queried. "I am very old, my dear; I was in the ark," replied his lordship, with a painful disregard of the truth. "Oh, are you Noah?" "No." "Are you Shem, then?" "No, I am not Shem." "Are you Ham?" "No." "Then," said the little one, who was fast nearing the limit of her biblical knowledge, "you must be Japhet." A negative reply was given to this query also, for the old gentleman inwardly wondered what the outcome would be. "But, grandpa, if you are not Noah, or Shem, or Ham, or Japhet, you must be a beast."

Music Wards Off Fatigue.

A Philadelphia contractor, who has recently returned from the Soudan, tells of an interesting fact connected with the building by the English of the new military railroad in that region. With every gang of forty or fifty men are assigned two harpers and a flute player. Music is furnished almost continuously, and so long as the musicians play the workmen—nearly all negroes—do not seem to feel the fatigue, and their movements are conformed as nearly as possible to the time of the music. As a general thing the players get tired before the workmen do. To a white man the melody produced by these cheerers of labor would not be inspiring, for it is peculiarly plaintive. The Africans, however, find the music a great inspiration, and work with cheerfulness and dispatch.

Due to Politics.

The Good Woman—If you are a foreign nobleman, why are you in your present circumstances?

The Tourist—Whisht, mum! Politics! Oim dthe mon thot writ dthe Borderoo-o in dthe Dhryfus case.

In a New Role.

Abe Petahs—Look a' yer, yo' Mose Jackson. De mule yo' sole me las' night is daid.

Moses—Daid! Lo'd, dat am peculiar. He neber did dat befo'.—Ohio State Journal.

Some men get up in the world only as high as the elevator runs.

This beautiful sword, the gift of Congress to Admiral George Dewey, cost $3,000. With the exception of the steel blade and the body metal of the scabbard, the sword is made throughout of 22-carat gold. On the weapon is carved the name of the cruiser Olympia and the zodiacal sign for December, the month in which Dewey was born. Below is the coat of arms of Vermont, with the motto, "Freedom and Unity." On the scabbard are the letters "G. D.," and just below "U. S. N.," while on the sword blade is the inscription, "The gift of the nation to Rear Admiral George Dewey, U. S. N., in memory of the victory at Manila Bay, May 1, 1898."

CHUMMY SISTERS.

THE attitude of a sister toward a brother is largely responsible for the brightness or the shadow of home life. A downright hon camaraderie, or chumminess, a confidential friendship, conduce to a firmly founded union of affection and thought that is a moral support to both of them, to say nothing of its delightful influence upon the daily domestic family round. Most girls seem to regard their brothers as necessary evils. They do not think it worth their while to be pleasant with them. When with a brother they lay aside all their entertaining ways, their attractive manners and their pleasing graces, says the Chicago Chronicle.

It is only because he meets some other boy's sister that he does not arrive at the conclusion that the sex is selfish and altogether disagreeable. And it is no wonder that he affects the society of others of his kind, speaks slightingly of all girls, oftentimes gets into bad habits that he would not think of if he were made much of at home, and, in fact, acts and feels very different from the youth whose sister is a real comfort and a good friend to him. When this condition exists the two discover that being brother and sister need not interfere with their having a right jolly time in each other's society. When no other escort is available the brother acts as cavalier and is as attentive as though he were "beaning" some other girl. The sister, on her side, makes herself equally agreeable, and they do not feel that an evening has been wasted because they had to spend it in each other's company.

When the time for sweethearts arrives they become more than ever confidants, knowing that no matter who comes into their lives there is one niche which can only be filled by the brother or the sister, who will ever occupy a place which cannot be second because it is distinctly individual.

A Bizarre Effect.

The "Trelawney" is a unique style that has been used in England slightly ever since "Trelawney of the Wells" was first played. In America it has been seen on a few persons who are eccentric or esthetic. The effect is bizarre and is becoming to a certain few young women who are picturesque rather than chic. The modification of the ultra mode is made of a heavy twisted zephyr; the pompadour is worn, also the Newport coil. The latter is wound in a loose circle pinned at the top and carefully bunched in the net. The fluffy effect of the front is the pompadour, very loosely puffed, and the net is caught up and pinned with very small, thin, tortoise-shell hairpins.

THE TRELAWNY.

Stinging Kind of Wit.

It seems at first blush ridiculous to say that one can be too apt at repartee, but many an over-smart reply has made an enemy for the person who showed his peculiar wit in this fashion. Gay, good-natured badinage is a delightful thing, but it is the retort courteous alone that is used by the woman of tact and refinement. Very young girls—those who have not yet attained the graces of womanhood, yet who have outgrown the naive frankness of childhood—seem especially gifted with sharp tongues.

She may, at heart, be an extremely good-natured person; she may have innumerable good qualities and be only suffering from extreme crudity, but she makes a disagreeable impression upon the older ones of the hearers by her impertinence that it will take a goodly time to efface. The thing better left unsaid is continually in evidence among some young women, who haven't the faintest idea that they could hurt any one's feelings by their gibings. It is better far never to achieve a reputation for brilliancy than to gain one at the expense of others, for society, after all, regards such a person as decidedly unpleasant, not to say dangerous.

A Woman's Pity.

John H. Christie, who married Miss Mary E. Preston in Westerly, R. I., the other day, had just concluded the serving of a sentence of four years in prison for highway robbery. The victime of the crime was Miss Preston herself, and she was the principal witness against Christie, testifying with more than willingness and pushing the case against him with energy. Then, when sentence had been passed, that emotion which is akin to love stirred in the woman's breast. She wrote a sympathetic letter to him, then visited him, and the courtship and marriage followed.

Latest Society Fad.

The "Black Cat" fan is startling when it is first flirted open before your eyes, but you'll soon get used to it, for it is to be the thing this winter. The black cat is simply painted on the fan.

Homes that Are Museums.

What are half the handsomest homes in our cities? Museums! And without orderly museum arrangement! What becomes of comfort in rooms where even the cautious must pick their way, and the careless may come to grief? Women is infinitely selfish in expressing her whims in her home surroundings. Men hate rooms that are overfull, and children are hampered and oppressed by what to them is a meaningless aggregation of things that must be avoided, not handled. This does not imply that children should be allowed to handle all things in the home; far from it; but things not to be handled should not preponderate in rooms where the family life is lived.—Woman's Home Companion.

The Face that Kills.

The once beautiful Josie Mansfield is at the home of her sister in Philadelphia a dumb, helpless, semi-paralyzed wreck. She is the woman for whom Edward S. Stokes shot down and murdered Jim Fisk, Jr., the then king of Wall street, Jan. 5, 1872, at the Grand Central Hotel. Stokes was sentenced to be hanged, and finally on a new trial got off with only four years in jail. Miss Mansfield was a noted character in those days. In 1891 she married Robert L. Reade, a rich young man. He soon found out his mistake, but although they separated he provided for her. The paralytic stroke was due, the doctors say, to mental worry.

JOSIE MANSFIELD.

Perfumed Hair.

Perfumed hair is now the "correct thing." There are different ways of perfuming it, and one of these is to use very highly-scented shampoo powder when washing the head. Another is to brush extract of musk or frangipanni into the hair daily. The scent, however, soon evaporates, and as the extract, if good, is expensive, this method cannot be generally adopted. An excellent way to scent the hair is to buy a piece of peau-d'Espagne, cut this into small pieces and sew them carefully inside the hair frames, which are now so generally worn. The fragrance of peau-d'Espagne is very lasting, and if worn in this way the hair soon becomes impregnated with the odor. A little silk cap, lined with cotton-wool, thickly sprinkled with sachet-powder, if worn for an hour occasionally, will impart to the locks a delicate, indistinct fragrance that is the very epitome of daintiness.

Refused Royalty.

Great interest has been taken in London's first big party, a royal one, given by the pretty American widow, Mrs. Ogden Goelet, since the death of her husband at Cowes. The enthusiasm of her welcome back to the light of society knew no bounds. Mrs. Goelet, according to Vanity Fair, remains very beautiful and very young-looking, and without doubt one of the most charming Americans who ever set foot on British shores. Her daughter, too, is piquant, bright, pretty, and dances to perfection. She is credited with having refused several splendid offers from young Englishmen of high birth.

MRS. GOELET.

To Clean Rugs at Home.

This is the season when every housekeeper is cleaning rugs. The Turks never shake heavy rugs holding them at the ends, but always grasp a rug at the side. The best way of all is to lay the rug on clean grass or boards, face down. Beat it thoroughly to dislodge the dust, then brush it perfectly clean and hang on a line to air. It is well to select a dull day for this sort of cleaning, as the sun should not be allowed to shine on a rug for any length of time.

How to Oil Furniture.

A flannel cloth, with a very little linseed oil, is good to rub furniture with; but the greatest care must be exercised to prevent any oil being left on the wood to attract dust. It must be rubbed until you would not know, except by the improved appearance, that any oil had been used.

Of Interest to Women.

The overskirt is here to stay.

Dynamite is used to weight silks.

Jersey City has a woman sign-painter.

Black lace is used to trim new night robes.

Dull finish silver is most popular for clasps.

It is not good form to wear skirts too tight.

Fewer housewives "put up" preserves nowadays.

Dancing will be less popular than ever this winter.

More women keep records of housekeeping expenses than formerly.

Reception gowns and walking dresses will be made in delicate shades.

The average wages of a domestic servant in London is $1.88 a week.

New York girls wear silver animals with jeweled eyes on their chatelaines.

A Chicago conductor says many women have learned how to get off a street car.

A Brooklyn man says every woman says "It seems to me" at least six times when she makes a speech.

Crusades against slang have been begun by women in Sacramento, Cal.; Fall River, Mass.; and Brooklyn.

A Philadelphia woman donned her husband's clothes and took out his street car one day when he was too sick to work.

At a recent gathering of women in Providence nearly all admitted that they felt awkward when they asked their husbands for money.

Henry Higgs, President of the Economic Science Section of the British association, told an audience that housekeeping was no better understood than it was two centuries ago—perhaps even not so well. In the interval, however, the art had become enormously simplified.

GAMES OF SHARPERS.

TWO LATE ATTEMPTS TO CHEAT THE GOVERNMENT.

Schemes Such as the Officials of the Redemption Division of the Treasury Have to Be Always On the Alert to Frustrate.

The Indianapolis Journal prints a letter from Washington about the attempts, successful and unsuccessful—mostly unsuccessful—to cheat the United States Treasury through its redemption division, so called, the division which has to do with redeeming partially destroyed government currency. We quote the story of such a wicked and foolish undertaking:

Not long ago a doctor in Alabama sent to the redemption division one-half of a ten-dollar bill, accompanied by an affidavit saying that while on a "spree" he had used the other half to light a cigar. The half which he forwarded was nicely charred along the inner edge, and the story would have been very plausible if the redemption division had not received within twenty-four hours from an Alabama bank the other half of the same note.

The theory of the Treasury officials was that while more or less intoxicated the doctor had struggled for the possession of the bill with some one, who had wrested half of it from him; that the despoiler had turned the half into the bank and received five dollars for it; that the doctor, recovering his senses, had found the other half in his pocket, and not wishing to lose his money had conceived the plan of singeing the edge of the note, and saying that the other half had been destroyed. So he committed perjury in an attempt to rob Uncle Sam of five dollars.

A short time ago a man in Chicago sent an affidavit to the Treasury, accompanying the singed half of two twenty-dollar bills and one ten-dollar bill. This affidavit was typewritten and in perfect form. It stated that the deponent was a commercial traveler; that after returning from a journey he had been cleaning out his traveling bag, when, inadvertently, he had thrown into the fire an envelope containing fifty dollars in bills; that, in accordance with section so-and-so of the law of such a date he would like to have the money restored to him, etc.

The clerk who brought this document to Mr. Relyea commented on its lucidity and completeness.

"The story seems unnatural," said Mr. Relyea. "Hold up the claim for a time."

Twenty-four hours later a big shipment of mutilated currency came from the sub-treasury at Chicago. Mr. Relyea asked if there were any half-notes in the shipment. In four or five minutes a clerk brought him the missing halves of the bills which the Chicago man had sent in.

The attempt to defraud was plain. The matter was put at once into the hands of the Secret Service Bureau. An agent was sent to Chicago. The young man who had made the affidavit was put under arrest, and the story of his crime came out. He was of decent family, but had fallen into bad company, and had been persuaded to attempt the fraud by older companions. They furnished the money and prepared the affidavit. They cut the bills in halves, and for one-half of them obtained twenty-five dollars. The other half they singed and attached to his affidavit. When he was arrested they fled.

The gross profit of the swindle could not have been more than twenty-five dollars, and in trying to cheat the Government out of that amount the young man forfeited his liberty for a year and a half.

WELLESLEY'S NEW PRESIDENT.

Miss Caroline Hazard, Recently Inaugurated, Not a College Graduate.

Miss Caroline Hazard, recently inaugurated as President of Wellesley College, is not a college graduate. She has, however, had many advantages. Her father, Rowland Hazard, the wealthy mill owner of Peacedale, R. I., is one of the men who have led in working for the higher education of women, and his daughter was not neglected. While living in Providence she enjoyed semi-collegiate privileges at Brown University, and she has attended lectures at other institutions. Miss Hazard has won a reputation as an author of papers on historical topics, in which she has shown traces of the gifts of her grandfather, Rowland Green Hazard, the philosophical writer. Miss Hazard is young for her important post, being only 43 years of age. As president of Wellesley she will have charge of eighty instructors and 700 pupils.

MISS HAZARD.

Excused for Cause.

A very sharp reproof—perhaps too sharp—is credited to Dean Liddell, of Greek Lexicon fame.

Liddell was a disciplinarian. Sometimes the dean's reprimands may not have been in the best taste. An undergraduate had failed to cap him in the street.

"How long have you been a member of the university, my lord?" asked the dean.

"A week, sir."

"I understand—puppies cannot see til they are eight days old."

When you get the worst of it always try to make the best of it.

COMPARISONS OF EXPLOSIVES.

Relative Deadly Power of Various Dangerous Compositions.

Readers of the daily papers are constantly seeing paragraphs stating that a new explosive more powerful than anything previously known has been invented by Prof. So-and-So. Many of these statements may be taken with a grain of saltpeter, but it is an undoubted fact that high-power explosives are very numerous. However, the explosives that the world hears most about are nearly all "propelling" agents and used not to displace large masses of earth and rock, but to propel projectiles from guns and rifles. The terrible explosives which are capable of tearing out the heart of a mountain, turning aside the course of a great river or destroying a whole town can rarely be used in guns. It is found that, in addition to a want of uniformity in action, the strain caused by such substances would be far too great in the large charges needed for heavy guns.

THE DEADLIEST EXPLOSIVES.

The practical value of any explosive depends entirely upon the object to be attained. Explosive force is not in the least the same thing as explosive effect. The anarchist, with his little nitroglycerin bomb comfortably tucked away in his pocket, may not be able to do half as much with it in the way of destroying a building as might be done under certain circumstances by an entirely inexperienced person with an agent of far less explosive power.

It is therefore a difficult thing to make a list of explosives in the order of their potential energy. Such a list can only be approximate. For example, probably fulminite of mercury is the strongest explosive, but, as it is too volatile and dangerous for any but detonating purposes, it can only enter the list on sufferance. Precisely the same applies to nitroglycerin.

This, however, is the nearest that can be got to an absolute table:

1 Fulminite	5 Gun cotton
2 Blasting gelatine	6 Picric acid
3 Gelignite	7 Cordite
4 Dynamite	8 Gunpowder

There is very little to choose between 3, 4, 5 and 6 as regards power. Gunpowder, it will be seen, is at the bottom of the list.

FILTER FOR SOLDIERS.

Inventor Claims It Will Be a Great Boon to Men in the Tropics.

An Illinois man has invented and patented a filter which fits inside a soldier's canteen. If the soldier has time he can filter his water through it into the canteen. If he is rushed for time he can simply fill his canteen and then put the filter in place. In this case the liquid will gradually seep through into the filter, from which he can always get a drink of pure water. The inventor claims that with this invention in use half of the danger from climatic diseases would be avoided.

FILTER FOR SOLDIERS.

Resigned to His Fate.

A French officer, conducting an exploring expedition recently up one of the rivers which flow into the Congo, tells the following pathetic story of a negro slave:

One night while we were in camp there came from the jungle a youthful voice crying out to our boatman in the Yakoma tongue: "Hallos, Sangos! Do you know on the Ubangui the Yakoma chief Dembassi of the village of Dimassa?"

"Yes! we know him."

"Is he still living?"

"He was living when we left Ubangui."

"He is my father. When you see him on your return, salute him for me. Tell him that his son, now become a man, has not much to complain of in his situation, but that he longs for his native country, his father's village and his friends. Tell them that I am a slave of the Sango chief, and that he treats me well."

"How came you here?" asked the boatman.

"My father, debtor to a Bougbou, sold me to his creditor eight times twelve moons ago. From market to market I have passed through many hands, to finish here fifty moons ago. You will give my message to my people, will you not?"

Phil Sheridan's Objection.

Gen. Meigs was the architect of the pension office in Washington and was inordinately proud of his achievement. When Gen. Sheridan inspected the building Gen. Meigs accompanied him. Sheridan went thoroughly over the structure from top to bottom without passing any comment, but when the inspection was completed he turned to his guide with: "Well, Meigs, I have only one fault to find with it." "What is that, General?" asked the delighted ex-quartermaster general. "It's fireproof," replied Sheridan.

A woman, to say the least—but, then, it isn't a woman's nature to say the least.

The man who can really afford to burn money never does it.

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Notice to Contractors.

The Board of Commissioners of DeKalb County, Ind., will receive sealed proposals until 11 o'clock a. m. Oct. 31, 1899, for the contruction of two steel leg bridges.

No. 1 40 ft. span. 16 ft. roadway.

No. 2 18 ft. span, 16 ft. roadway.

Plans and specifications are on file in Auditor's office. Each bid must be accompanied with an affidavit and bond in compliance with an act of the General Assembly and in effect Feb. 28, 1899. The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

FRANK P. SEILER.
Auditor.

Auburn, Oct. 12, 1899.

IDEAL MUSIC,

"Sweet as the angel Israfil's,
When every leaf on Eden's tree
Was trembling to his minstrelsy."

can be produced from an EBERSOLE PIANO. The Ebersole possesses a tone that no other maker has been able to imitate—being full and deep, yet with that clear singing quality which stamps it the peer of all upright pianos for homes of culture and refinement.

Frank B. Long,
119 Calhoun St. cor Washington,
Fort Wayne, Ind.

Fort Wayne

BUSINESS COLLEGE,

FORT WAYNE, IND.

The Latest and Best Methods.
The Best Equiped.
Superior Courses in all Branches.
Book-keeping, Shorthand, Penmanship, Typewriting, Banking Telegraphy and English.

You Want Success, Write Us for Full particulars and Circulars.

E. D. DOUGLASS, Pres.

Mott's Nerverine Pills

BEFORE AND AFTER USING.

The great remedy for nervous prostration and all nervous diseases of the generative organs of either sex, such as Nervous Prostration, Failing or lost Manhood, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Youthful Errors, Mental Worry, excessive use of Tobacco or Opium, which lead to Consumption and Insanity. $1.00 per box by mail; 6 boxes for $5.00.
MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Prop's, Cleveland, Ohio.
Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY Notice in "Inventive Age" Book "How to obtain Patents" FREE

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address, E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

A Narrow Escape.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Grotop, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and I thank God, I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at H. B. McCord's Drug Store. Regular size 50 and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded.

—Mrs. May Wright Sewell of Indianapolis attended the late international meeting of the Woman's National Council at London, England, and they honored America by electing her president for the coming year. Now, when she reaches her home at Indianapolis the ladies of that city will give her a grand reception, and we see by the papers that Mrs. Nicholas Ensley is one of the ladies named on the reception committee.

IT MAY SAVE YOUR LIFE.

A dose or two of Foley's Honey and Tar may prevent an attack of pneumonia, grip or severe cold if taken in time. Cures coughs, colds, croup, La-Grippe, hoarseness, difficult breathing, whooping cough, incipient consumption, asthma or bronchitis. Gives positive relief in advanced stages of consumption, asthma or bronchitis. Guaranteed.

—Meteors in countless numbers will be a striking feature of the heavens on the night of November 14. According to the calculations of the astronomers, the orbit of the Leonide will intersect that of the earth and as a result there will be visible a stream of meteors that promises to make it a memorable event. Once in thirty-three years the sight of this phenomenon is visible and the display of November 14 is expected to be especially brilliant.

A LIMA MAN'S STORY.

I have received excellent results from the use of Foley's Kidney Cure. It relieved my back-ache and severe pain over the hips. It toned up my system and gave me new vim and energy. I regard it as an honest, reliable remedy for all Kidney diseases. It makes no false claims but does what it says when given a fair trial. I certainly reccommend it.—WM FINN, 447 Elida Road, Lima, Ohio.

—A peculiar feature of the wages paid to country school teachers in Elkhart county is that the average paid the male teachers per day is $1.86, while the female teachers receive $1.89. In the city the male teachers receive an average of $4.82 a day and the female teachers an average of $2.25.

A SHORT SAD STORY.

A Cold.
Neglect.
Pneumonia.
Grief.

Had Foley's Honey and Tar been used this story would have had a happier ending. 25 and 35 cents.

—The annual meeting of the grand council of Red Men of Indiana closed yesterday. One of the last acts of the council was the passage of a resolution barring liquor dealers from membership in the future. K. M. Hord of Shelbyville was elected grand sachem.

THE BANNER PILE CURE.

Is Banner Salve. It gives immediate relief and will soon effect a cure. 25 cents.

Wednesday's Daily.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Clark are happy over a big ten-pound boy, born today.

—P. D. West is building an addition to the fine residence on south Main street, that he bought of George Henderson.

—W. E. Getts of Fairfield was here today, and paid for his father I. H. Getts up into 1900. We are horry to learn that the latter has been sick for some time.

—The Ohio campaign is getting warmed up and each side is accusing the other of a too free use of money. Public issues seem to have been lost sight of in the contest.

—Mrs. T. McClure of Waterloo, accompanied by her brother I. W. Conkey of Benton Harbor, Mich., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Kuhlman today. She is Mrs. Kuhlman's mother.

—F. A. Isbell was here this week and staid over night with his grandmother, Mrs. Houghton. He is station agent for the Union Pacific at Ft. Morgan, Colo., and in the front rank like all DeKalb boys.

—The Kendallville Sun says the Ensley flats, built by O. P. Ensley in Indianapolis a year or two ago, were sold last week for $42,000. "Ollie" is known to most of our people having been reared to manhood here.

—We learn that it is definitely settled that J. R. Lanning will soon move back here and occupy his house on north Jackson, now occupied by Evan Kutaner, who will move into the new house built by C. C. Shaffer.

—S. J. Peabody of Columbia City, recently purchased thirteen poplar trees of a farmer south of that place which scaled 33,000 feet. They were all drawn to Columbia City at one time, requiring forty teams. The teamsters carried banners, appropriately illustrating the event.

Thursday's Daily.

—W. H. Palmer is the next lucky man to pay into the 1900 list.

—W. H. Less of Waterloo is the new district deputy of the Knights of Pythias for the first district.

—Frank Beuchat and Wm. Nessel, two of our Fairfield friends were callers today. They were here paying taxes.

—The little four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Beatty of Jackson township is reported quite sick with typhoid fever.

—Within seven days seven car loads of horses were shipped from Ligonier. That town is one of the best horse markets in the state.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

—Gus Rinehart of Newville was in town today paying taxes, and though his subscription had not expired, he paid another year. Gus is managing to sleep soundly every night.

—Mrs. Lan Wildeson of Chillicothe, Ohio, is here visiting the relatives, including the family of Charley Rugman. Her husband is a prominent railroad man and, of course, a former DeKalb boy.

—Monday, November 6, will be the last day for the payment of taxes, without the penalty, and there will probably be plenty of work in the meantime for Treasurer Hines and his assistants.

—Will Rakestraw has been suffering a return of his old trouble, and today went to Buffalo, N. Y., to receive treatment. He has suffered more or less for several years, and we hope this trip may secure him relief.

—Henry C. Shull, the veteran milkman., who has been in the business for more than twenty years, has decided to to retire and will sell his cows, etc., within the next few weeks. He has earned a competence and is in a position to take things easy.

—Editor J. B. Stoll of the South Bend Times, has been appointed by Governor Mount as commissioner from the Thirteenth district to the Northwest Territory exposition which will be held at Toledo in 1900. No better selection could have been made.

Does the Baby Thrive

If not, something must be wrong with its food. If the mother's milk doesn't nourish it, she needs SCOTT'S EMULSION. It supplies the elements of fat required for the baby. If baby is not nourished by its artificial food, then it requires

Scott's Emulsion

Half a teaspoonful three or four times a day in its bottle will have the desired effect. It seems to have a magical effect upon babies and children. A fifty-cent bottle will prove the truth of our statements.

Should be taken in summer as well as winter.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

Two Facts About

Arbuckles' Coffee

It has set the standard of quality for all competitors for the last thirty years. The strongest claim any competitor can make is that his coffee is "just as good as Arbuckles'."

THREE CONCLUSIONS

The best Coffee is Arbuckles'. The only Coffee to buy is Arbuckles'.
The right thing is to insist on having Arbuckles'.

No. 72 A School Bag. 14 inches wide, 18 inches deep, made of handsome colored netting. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 73. Scholars' Companion. A most useful article for school children. Highly polished wooden box with lock and key, containing lead pencil, pen holder, rule and rubber. Sent post-paid on receipt of two cent postage stamp and 15 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 74. Noiseless Spring Tape Measure. Sixty inches long, nickel-plated metal case, well finished, it can be carried in the vest pocket. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2c. postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 75. A Fifty Foot Measuring Tape. A very useful article in the household and on the farm. Brass case, nickel-plated linen tape fifty feet long. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 18 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 76 Lady's Belt Buckle. Silver plated artistic design. Sent postpaid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 8 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 77. Telescope Drinking Cup. This article is prevented from falling apart by its unique construction. Nickel-plated and highly finished. Enclosed in embossed nickel cover no larger than an ordinary watch when telescoped, when extended holds as much as a coffee cup. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 13 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 78 An Album of Illustrated Natural History. Fifty colored pictures of Animals selected for their beauty and rarity. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 79. Pepper and Salt Holders. Made of German Silver without seam or joint except where tops screw on and off. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 80 A Spring Balance Scale. Will weigh from one ounce to 20 pounds. Sent by express, charges prepaid by us, on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 300 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee. When ordering name your nearest Express Office as well as your Post Office.

No. 81 Men's Suspenders. Elastic Web suspenders, durable, neat, well mounted. Sent post-paid on receipt of two cent postage stamp and 16 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 82 Barber Swing Strop. A double strop, one of leather and one of canvas, bound together. Length, 22 inches, width, two inches, trimmings nickel plated. Sent post-paid on receipt of two cent postage stamp and 12 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles Roasted Coffee.

No. 83 A Table Cover. Handsome cloth, variegated figured pattern with fringe, 42 inches. Sent post-paid on receipt of two cent postage stamp and 35 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

Any one Book of the following List will be sent post-paid on receipt of a 2 cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from the wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 84 A ONE NIGHT MYSTERY, and two other great Detective stories, by "OLD SLEUTH."
No. 85 ADVENTURES OF A BASHFUL BACHELOR, by CLARA AUGUSTA. A mirth provoking story.
No. 86 TEMPEST AND SUNSHINE. A Novel, by MRS. MARY J. HOLMES. The most popular female writer of fiction of the age.
No. 87 THE SUNNYSIDE COOK BOOK, by MRS. JENNIE HARLAN. This is one of the most comprehensive, common sense Cook Books ever published.
No. 88 OLD SECRETS AND NEW DISCOVERIES. This book takes the reader out of the beaten tracks of knowledge, and will be found both entertaining and useful.
No. 89 THREE THOUSAND THINGS WORTH KNOWING, by R. MOORE, author of "Moore's Universal Assistant." This book is an encyclopedia of highly useful information in condensed form.
No. 90 THE CITY OF DREADFUL NIGHT, and other stories—by RUDYARD KIPLING.

No. 91 The First Prayer. A beautiful imported Picture 15x20 inches in size. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 92 The First Kiss A beautiful imported picture 15x20 inches in size. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 93 Two is Company. The original was painted by Percy Moran. This reproduction in 16 printings is a genuine work of art. Size 16½x25½ inches. Sent post-paid on receipt of two cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 94. A Basket of Beauties. A magnificent picture of Roses by Paul de Longpre, the great painter of flowers. We believe this to be one of the handsomest flower pictures ever offered to the public. It is 16½x25½ inches in size. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 95 Three Beautiful Flower Pictures. Each measuring 8½x17 inches. The titles are "Summer Fragrance," "A Vase of Lilies," and "Fresh and Sweet." These three pictures all go together, and will be sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 5 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 96. Noah's Ark. A menagerie, consisting of 12 pairs of Animals—Elephants, Camels, Deer, Horses, Cattle, Donkeys, Goats, Lions, Bears, Tigers, Dogs and Cats. Each pair is coupled and stands alone. They are lithographed in many colors on heavy cardboard, cut out and embossed. Every feature of the Animals is distinctly shown. The elephants are 7 inches high and 10 inches long, and the other Animals are proportionately large. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 15 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 97. Eighty-one Gold Eyed Needles. Put up in a pretty morocco case, assorted sizes, and made by the best English manufacturers. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 20 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 98 Hair Pin Cabinet A metal box lithographed in colors, containing One Hundred Hair Pins, assorted sizes and styles; straight, crimped and invisible. The different styles are in separate compartments. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 99 A Pocket Mirror and Comb. Set in neat leather combination case, with white metal frame. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 7 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 100 Safety Pin Book Contains twenty-four nickel-plated Safety-Pins three sizes which enter the shields from either side, requiring no guiding when being secured or removed. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 5 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

This is a picture of the Signature on Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee Wrapper, which you are to cut out and send to us as a voucher.

No other part of the Coffee Wrapper will be accepted as a voucher, nor will this Picture be accepted as such.

Arbuckle Bros

SOME OF OUR SIGNATURES ARE PRINTED ON RED BACKGROUND.

This represents one page of a List which is found in each pound package of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee, and with each package in which the List is found the purchaser has bought a definite part of some article to be selected by him or her from the List, subject only to the condition that the signature on the package is to be cut out and returned to Arbuckle Bros. as a voucher, in accordance with the directions printed in connection with each item illustrated and described in the List. This List will be kept good only till May 31, 1900. Another page of this List will appear in this paper shortly.

Address all communications to ARBUCKLE BROS., NOTION DEPT., NEW YORK CITY, N. Y.

Friday's Daily.

—Ed. Beaty and wife rejoice in a baby boy born to them this morning.

—Dr. Buchtel reports a girl baby born this morning to Harry Myers and wife in the north part of town.

—Jacob Dull of Churubusco yesterday celebrated his eightieth birthday by walking to Columbia City, a distance of twelve miles.

—M. E. Garrett sold a good-sized bill of groceries yesterday to be shipped to VanWert, O. They all come to Auburn when they want bargains.

—Saxby McIntosh has a chance to join a party going to Egypt, North Africa, to bore for oil. It would be quite an attractive trip, and he may take it.

—Dr. Baxter reports a girl born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Crew last evening. Just before the Spanish war they were all boys; now they are girls. Verily it looks as if peace had come.

—Work on the foundation for the power house is about completed and in a few days the bricklayers will be yelling for "more mort." The big boiler was lowered into the basement today.

—Frank Holman and his nephew John Holman were callers on the COURIER today. Frank is returning to his home at Saginaw. Mrs. Holman will come down on a visit soon. John is a son of the late Wm. Holman.

—Christian Smith and wife went north through town this morning to attend the funeral of his brother Andrew. Mr. Smith is now mail carrier from Leo to Fort Wayne, and we are pleased to learn is doing well and likes the work.

—At the annual convention of the grand chapter of Royal Arch masons, held at Indianapolis yesterday, Hon. Thomas R. Marshall of Columbia City, was elected High Priest. There are ninety-five chapters in the state with a membership of 6,815.

—John Campbell, the Allen county farmer whose wife was killed by being thrown from a wagon, was given a preliminary hearing at Fort Wayne yesterday and bound over to the circuit court to await trial on a charge of manslaughter. His bond was placed at $2,000.

—Will Stimely is here from Cleveland to spend a few days with old friends. He is still with the Chase Construction company, and engaged in building an electric road out of Cleveland. He informs us that the Chase company has several big contracts which will be completed within the next six months.

—Miss Mae Rose returned this week from her visit with the relatives at Minneapolis. She left them as well as usual and is herself the picture of health. She shows the value of rest and a pleasant time. Mrs. Judge Best is now able to walk with the help of a cane only, which is a great gain and there is now a hope that she may entirely recover from the effect of her fall.

—D. D. Moody and W. D. Rickel have formed a partnership in the law, loan, collection and real estate business and are moving into the offices in the Kiblinger building recently vacated by D. M. Link. Mr. Moody will confine his attention to the law business, and collections, while Mr. Rickel will look after the other matters. This will make a strong combination and ought to succeed.

—About three months ago a stranger giving his name as Henry Wilson secured employment with Henry Webster, a farmer near Newville, and soon afterward went into the butcher business with a son of his employer at St. Joe. Everything went along smoothly until last Saturday when Wilson disappeared. It was at first reported that he had carried with him quite a sum of money belonging to the firm, but this is denied by the St. Joe News. It is the opinion of many that Wilson was an escaped criminal and left St. Joe to avoid possible detection.

MICA AXLE GREASE

It's easy to haul a big load up a big hill if you grease the wagon wheels with

MICA Axle Grease

Get a box and learn why it's the best grease ever put on an axle. Sold everywhere. Made by STANDARD OIL CO.

Saturday's Daily.

—M. B. Willis picked another mess of ripe strawberries yesterday.

—Dr. Broughton is in Auburn every Wednesday, and can then be consulted on diseases of the eye.

—John Smith of near Troy, Ohio, was called here to attend the funeral of his brother Andrew.

—Some of the Ohio politicians still seem unable to decide which is the bandwagon and which the ambulance.

—Chicago excursion over the Lake Shore Ry. Oct. 28. Extremely low rates. Particulars in another column, or ask agents.

—Miss Leona Richards of this place has been visiting with her relatives of East Union for the past week and among them Miss Bertha Metcalf.

—Jake Helms has been taken to Michigan City, to serve his sentence. It is hoped that DeKalb county will never again be cursed by his presence.

—The funeral of Andrew Smith was held at Fairfield Center yesterday, and the remains were interred in the cemetery there. The deceased leaves four sons and one daughter.

—Possibly the Transvaal war might be ended quicker if General Miles were sent to witness it. It may be recalled that the Greeks and Turks quit when they heard of his approach.

—A letter from J. H. Hornberger, now at Lawshe, Pa., brings word they are all well and enjoying a season of very fine weather. We also acknowledge the receipt of subscription paying to August 1, 1900, for which he has thanks.

—Mrs. Wm. Vallou was a caller yesterday, having come in to advertise a pair of gloves she had lost, in which was the tax receipt she had just got at the treasurer's office. She is living at Altona yet, since the death of her husband, but has a tenant in part of her house, John Moody, son of Shaw Moody.

—A funny thing occurred to Frank Holman Thursday. He and Phil Holman were driving in Butler township, and Frank was smoking a cigar. Suddenly he felt something sting him on his leg and gave that member a vigorous slap, to drive the little beast away, when he felt an added sting. Examination showed that his pants leg was on fire and a hole burned clear through.

Saturday's Daily.

News of the Day.

An 18 inch vein of silver ore has been found near Parkersburg, Ill., and the citizens are greatly excited over it. It is not yet sufficiently developed to know whether it will pay.

Much more of the South African trouble is coming to light through debates in the British Parliament, which has been called together. It appears that Great Britain agreed to the five year residence to enable Englishmen to become citizens of the Transvaal. But Kruger then raised the time to seven years. This England refused to accept, as it kept her subjects in that country so much longer in a position of inferiority. It appeared that England's determination to have her subjects all over the world, put on an equality with the people among whom they live, is largely at the bottom of the difficulty.

At Glencoe, in Natal, yesterday morning a hard battle was fought, as was predicated in the COURIER two days ago, for it was plain that this point would be held desperately. At daylight it was discovered a heavy force of Boers had occupied a high hill near the British camp and began to shell the town. The English at once, trained two field batteries on the hill, and when they had thrown the Boers into confusion two crack regiments of regulars made the assault, and drove the enemy from thier position. Then the light artillery and cavalry followed up inflicting heavy losses and capturing several commons. The loss in killed was heavy on both sides.

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Easy to take Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by H. B. McCord the druggist.

MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS

They overcome Weakness, Irregularity and obstinate Increase vigor and banish "pains at menstruation." They are "Life Savers" to great Womanhood, adding enlargement of the entire pelvic body. [illegible] remedy for women and [illegible] harmless in [illegible] and pleasant. $1 per box by mail. Sold by druggists. MOTT CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, O.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

THE AUBURN COURIER.

Volume XXIX | Auburn, DeKalb County Indiana, Thursday, November 2, 1899. | Number 44.

Dr. Broughton
WATERLOO,

Will Test your Eyes and Adjust your Glasses and GUARANTEE SATISFACTION. In Auburn every Wednesday.

C. S. SMITH,
Auburn, Ind.
Attorney-at-Law
AND NOTARY PUBLIC.
Office over Bazar Store, formerly occupied by Judge Hartman.

Sprott & Knapp,
Abstracters of Titles to Land and Lots,
AUBURN, IND.
☞ Office in Gandy Block, North of Court House.

The McClellan Bank,
AUBURN, IND.
Successor To
The First National Bank,
Capital Stock and Surplus...
$60,000
Certificates of deposits issued, drawing interest if left six months. County and Town Orders bought and sold. Money to Loan.
C. A. O. McCLELLAN, ESTATE, CHARLES McCLELLAN, D. A. GARWOOD, ISAAC HAQUE. } C. A. BENEDICT, Cashier

BANK Farmers,
Auburn, Ind.
(Incorporated and Under State Control)
Capital Stock and Surplus
$50,000
Transacts a General Banking Business and Pays Interest on Time Deposits.
Albert Robbins, Pres. J. C. Henry, V-res.
A. C. ROBBINS, Cashier.

J.E. Graham, D.D.S.
DENTIST
Over Davenport's Drugstore, Auburn, Ind.
CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK A SPECIALTY.
All Work Guaranteed. Gas Administered.
CENTRAL 'PHONE 513.
Will be at Waterloo each Thursday in Dr. Darby's Office.

DENTIST F. W. HOFFMAN,
Auburn, Ind.
Office in Gandy Building, Northeast Corner of Court Square.
WESTERN 'PHONE 103.
Crown and Bridge Work a Sprciality

Physicians D. J. Swartz, M. D. Vesta W. Swartz, M. D and SURGEONS
Office at Auburn Sanitary Baths, corner Main and Sixth Streets,
Professional Calls Promptly Answered.
'PHONES: Western..... No. 19 Central Union..... No. 19

P. V. HOFFMAN,
LAWYER,
Auburn. Indiana
OFFICE over Hebel's Grocery.

Dr. Z. H. Stamets,
Physician & Surgeon
Office on Main St., opposite Swineford Hotel.
Western 'Phone 104
Special attention given to techinal examinations and treatment of chronic and obscure cases, also special attention given to surgery and diseases of women. Calls answered at all hours. Office apart from residence.

I. O. BUCHTEL, HOMEOPATHIC Physician and Surgeon.
Special attention given to bronic and Obscure cases and catarrhal diseases of the nose, throat and lungs; also to diseases peculiar to women and children.
Office and residence over Madden Bros Marble Works, Auburn, Ind. Office apart from residence and private. All calls attended to promptly, day or night.

GRIPPE
Grippe and influenza invariably leave the system with a bad cough. For such Dr. John W. Bull's Cough Syrup is highly recommended. This wonderful remedy gives relief at once, conquers the worst cough overnight and soon effects a thorough cure.
Dr. Bull's COUGH SYRUP
Cures Grippe and Influenza.
Doses are small and pleasant to take. Doctors recommend it. Price 25 cts. At all druggists.

NOCTURNAL VISITORS

Loot the Safe and Make a Haul at Bishop & Beidler's.

When the doors of Bishop & Beidler's shoe store were opened this morning everything about the room seemed to be in its usual condition, but a few moments afterward it was discovered that something was wrong in the vicinity of the safe. On the floor lay a pile of papers of different kinds—notes, accounts, etc., of the firm and their predecessors in business, and an investigation showed that the safe had been thoroughly ransacked. Near the safe was found a chisel, evidently stolen from some carpenter, and it was soon discovered that this tool had been used to force an entrance through the rear door. Once inside, the work of the burglars seems to have been very quickly and easily done; the safe was opened by means of the combination, no force being used. Doubtless a good haul of cash was expected, as the firm has been doing a nice business of late, and in this the thieves were not disappointed—they got about $75, nearly all the money taken in after banking hours. The visitors were evidently well supplied with footwear, as none of the stock was molested.

Rumors have been rife today regarding the presence of suspicious characters in town yesterday, but up to the hour of going to press no definite clue has been secured of the perpetrators of the job. The location of the safe was such that the man who did the work could not be seen from the street or from the rear of the building, and there is little doubt that an expert safe cracker got the firm's money.

Taking the Next Census.

The census of 1900 will be taken beginning June 1, and if the census of 1890, showed no more than 8,000 inhabitants in a given city, then it must be finished in two weeks. If the city or district has over that number, they have from June 1 to July 1, to complete it. Each enumerator must be a resident of the district he wants to work, and must speak English. In ordinary districts he will get 2 cents for each name enumerated and for each death, 15 cents for each farm and 20 cents for each factory. In difficult districts the pay is higher.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an execution to me directed from the clerk of the DeKalb circuit court, in a cause wherein Abigail Frick is plaintiff and Henry Frick is defendant, requiring me to make the sum of five hundred dollars, with interest on said judgment and cos's, I will expose at public sale to the highest bidder on between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. of said day, at the door of the court house of DeKalb county, Indiana, the rents and profits for a term not exceeding seven years of the undivided one-ninth (1-9) of the undivided two-thirds (2-3) of the following real estate situated in the county of DeKalb, state of Indiana, to-wit:

Saturday, November 18, 1899,

The west one-half (½) of the northeast quarter of section eleven (11) township thirty-four (34), north of range thirteen (13) east, containing eighty (80) acres; and sixty-five and ninety-two one-hundredths (65 92 100 acres off the east side of the southwest quarter of section two (2), township thirty-four [34] north of range thirteen east, the same being all that part of said quarter that lies east of the highway running north and south through said quarter section, except the right-of-way of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad running east and west through said tract, Subject to the inchoate interest of Abigail Frick, wife of the defendant herein.

If such rents and profits will not sell for a sufficient sum to satisfy said judgment, interest and costs, I will, at the same time and place, expose at public sale the fee simple of said real estate, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to discharge said judgment, interest and costs.

JOHN H. HATHAWAY,
Sheriff of DeKalb County, Indiana.
W. H. Less, Attorney for Plaintiff.
Auburn, Indiana, October 25, 1899.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue a certified copy of a decree to me directed from the clerk of the DeKalb Circuit Court, in a cause wherein William E. Ruperight is plaintiff and Henry Frick is defendant, requiring me to make the sum of two hundred thirty dollars [$2 0] with interest on said decree and costs, I will expose at public sale to the highest bidder, on between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m, and 4 o'clock p. m. of said day, at the door of the court house in Auburn, DeKalb county, Indiana, the rents and profits for a term not exceeding seven years, of the undivided one-ninth—1-9—of the undivided two-thirds—2-3—of the following real estate situated in the county of DeKalb, state of Indiana, to-wit:

Saturday, November 18, 1899.

The west one-half—½—of the northeast quarter of section eleven—11—township thirty-four—34—north of range thirteen—13—east, containing eighty—80—acres; sixty-five and ninety-two one-hundredths—65 92-100—acres off the east side of the southwest quarter of section two—2—township thirty-four—34—north of range thirteen east, the same being all that part of said quarter that lies east of the highway running north and south through said quarter section, except the right-of-way of the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad running east and west through said tract, and the northwest quarter of section thirty-four—34—township thirty-five—35—north of range thirteen—13—east, except the right-of-way of the Fort Wayne, Jackson & Saginaw railroad, and also excepting a strip twenty—20—feet wide off the north end of that part of said quarter that lies east of said railroad right-of-way.

If such rents and profits will not sell for a sufficient sum to satisfy said decree, interest and costs, I will at the same time and place expose to public sale the fee simple of said real estate, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to discharge said decree, interest and costs.

JOHN H. HATHAWAY,
Sheriff of DeKalb County, Indiana.
W. H. Less, Attorney for Plaintiff.
Auburn, Indiana, October 25, 1899.

"Good clothes are a kind of good manners and few men can afford to disregard them."

WINTER COATS

EVERYONE has heard of the H., S. & M. overcoats, so widely advertised in all the magazines. We have HART, SCHAFFNER & MARX coats in all sizes and styles and at prices to suit every purse.

They are good to look at, good to wear and easy to buy.

HART, SCHAFFNER & MARX
H.S.&M.
TAILOR-MADE CLOTHES.

We are the only people in this section from whom you can buy this celebrated make of clothing. Every coat fitted to a living model before leaving their immense establishment; every garment absolutely guaranteed by them and us to prove perfectly satisfactory to the wearer, and better still at prices no higher (and in many cases not so high) than you are compelled to pay for common, ordinary makes. Is it to be wondered at that our clothing business is increasing so rapidly?

Never before have we shown such a variety of Ladies' Misses' and Children's Wraps.

Handsome, Stylish, Durable and at most reasonable prices.

Pretty all-wool Plain Kersey Jackets for - $7.50 and $8.00
Handsome Crushed Plush Cape $5.00

Ask for what you please and we will be very likely to have it.
Don't fail to see us before buying Ladies' Suits or Furs.
Come often.....

We are Saving You Money.

Schaab & Bro.

MEN AND WOMEN Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. For pleasing results use Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy. At druggists. Sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghampton, N. Y.

About Right.

The Dispatch of this week says:

"People sometimes, unthoughtedly we presume, do things in a way that does injustice to their best friends. For example, last week a society held an entertainment, and our neighbor, the COURIER, gave them several dollars worth of free advertising, expecting of course that it would have their printing for the entertainment in return. But when the time came, the printing was taken to a job office, which does nobody any good as far as advertising is concerned. Both of the Auburn papers give an immense amount of free advertising for various causes during the year, and if these societies are going to give their printing elsewhere, it is time that the papers should stop their free advertising, and begin charging for what they do. It is hardly fair to ask the papers to do their work for nothing and then pay some one else for what the papers can do just as well."

This is about right. In all towns outside of Auburn, as far as we know, charges are made by the newspapers, for local notices to all societies, clubs, churches, etc., etc., whenever they advertise any thing that is to raise money. The course taken by many societies, as alluded to above, will compel the two papers here to take the same course. So we are in favor of making a moderate charge in all such cases. We are very sorry to be obliged to do this, but we see no other way.

Lamp Exploded.

Geo. Apple and his wife usually keep a lamp burning over night. Tuesday evening, on retiring, they left it as usual, near the head of their bed, but later on were awakened by some loud noise. They listened a moment, then came a blaze up and around them, the bed clothes, carpet, window curtains and mattress, all were on fire and there was a wild struggle to put it out. They succeeded at last, but much of the goods named were destroyed and the woodwork about the windows charred. The exploded lamp was found under the bed.

Dangerous Runaway.

Mrs. C. M. Brown and Mrs. W. B. Brown were driving out south of town Tuesday, when the horse began to kick and soon had the dash board demolished and its heels flourishing dangerously near their faces. Mrs. C. M. Brown was driving, and seeing the horse bound to run away, turned her into the fence corner, so suddenly that both ladies were thrown to the ground, and they would have been at the mercy of the horse, but its harness had given way and the horse had cleared itself at a bound. It was soon after stopped by a man driving along that road, the one running east over the Hartle bridge. Mrs. Frank Zimmerman who was near, with a two-seated rig brought the ladies home, and Mr. Brown got a team and brought the wreck home.

TO CURE LAGRIPPE IN 24 HOURS.

No remedy equals Warner's White Wine of Tar Syrup for this terrible and fatal disease. If taken thoroughly and in time, it will cure a case in 24 ours, and for the cough that follows La Grippe it never fails to give relief. Price 25 and 50 cents.—F. E. DAVENPORT.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of an execution to me directed from the clerk of the DeKalb circuit court, in a cause wherein H. Edward Brace is plaintiff and Henry Frick is defendant, requiring me to make the sum of sixty-four dollars and seventy-one cents, with interest on said judgment and costs, I will expose at public sale to the highest bidder, on between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m, and 4 o'clock p. m. of said day, at the door of the court house of DeKalb county, Indiana, the rents and profits for a term not exceeding seven years, of the undivided one-ninth (1-9) of the undivided two-thirds (2-3) of the following real estate situated in the county of DeKalb, state of Indiana, to-wit:

Saturday, November 18, 1899,

The northwest quarter of section thirty-four (34) township thirty-five (35), north of range thirteen (13) east, except the right of way of the Fort Wayne, Jackson & Saginaw Railroad and also excepting a strip twenty (20) feet wide off the north end of that part of said quarter that lies west of said railroad right of way. Subject to the inchoate interest of Abigail Frick, wife of the defendant herein.

If such rents and profits will not sell for a sufficient sum to satisfy said judgment, interest and costs, I will at the same time and place expose to public sale the fee simple of said real estate, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to discharge said judgment, interest and costs.

JOHN H. HATHAWAY,
Sheriff of DeKalb County, Indiana,
W. H. Less, Attorney for Plaintiff.
Auburn, Indiana, October 25, 1899.

COURT NEWS

Thursday's Daily.

Wednesday came up the trouble between Mrs. Dr. Adams and her husband. It appears there has been dissatisfaction for some time, though few knew of it. But the matter culminated yesterday when she came into court with an application for divorce. He was present but did not object, and finally after hearing her statement, the legal separation was granted. We believe he will go to live with a daughter in Illinois. The case is rather a sad one for both parties are respected, and both quite well along in years. It looks as if these two worthy people had fallen into an unfortunate condition which should be held accountable for the most of the trouble. Both have been in poor health for some time.

Of a nature vastly different is another case that comes up from Butler township. A few days ago, a young lady of about 18, came to Prosecutor Pomeroy to have her own mother arrested for unlawful cohabitation. Her story was so straight forward, that the Prosecutor was impressed with its truthfulness, but advised her to get the affidavits of others, as well as her own. This she did, and yesterday John Lamphere was arrested and is in jail, the charge being that he and Mrs. Harvey, widow of the late John Harvey, have been living together as man and wife, a proof of which is a ten-days old baby. In justice to all it should be said that Lamphere denies it and insists that they married. Yesterday he sent for Mr. Pomeroy to come to the jail and they had a talk about it. If he can prove he is married, he will be released at once, but so far he has not done this, and it looks as if he would have to come into court for trial.

This forenoon they were trying the case of Dancer vs Lawhead. It appears that Jesse Dancer bought a note given as the purchase price of a fence making machine, on which James G. Lawhead was security, and the case is making quite a fight. Judge Roby is for Dancer, and Rose & Rose for Lawhead.

In this case, there was one witness whose thoughts seemed to go wool gathering. He knew he lives in Jackson township now, and said he had at one time lived in Steuben, but he could not tell in what township, although he had resided there several years. The nearest he coult get was that he had lived in the northwest part. He also remembered that at one time he lived in Richland township this county. In his statement, he said the farm he now lives on in Jackson, contains about 70 acres, and is all covered with Canada thistles. If he tells the truth it is the biggest patch in the state.

As we close, at 3 p. m., the jury has retired in the Dancer-Lawhead case.

The ditch obstruction case of Miller vs Webster is called for tomorrow.

Friday's Daily.

Most of yesterday was taken up in the trial of the case of Jesse Dancer against James Lawhead, to recover the amount paid for a patent right note. The case was warmly contested. It went to the jury a little before three in the afternoon and early in the evening brought in a verdict of $147.18 in favor of Dancer. This was the full amount, principal and interest, of his claim. It seems that Lawhead had bought the note of some parties who had received it in pay for a fence making machine. Then Lawhead sold it to Dancer, but did not endorse it. Dancer, however, claimed that Lawhead made a verbal promise that the note should be paid.

In the case of Jeremiah A. Barber against Loren B. Taylor, on note, the defendant failed to appear and judgment was rendered for the plaintiff for $34.87 by default.

The case of the State of Indiana on relation of Joseph N. Miller vs. Henry W. Webster and others, for damages by reason of the construction of a ditch, is on trial before the jury today.

The report that all the indictments against various persons, were all dismissed is a mistake. The indictments all stand as made by the grand jury. It was the "informations" filed before court begun, that were dismissed.

Krupp's Gun Factory.

At his famous plant at Essen, Germany, he employes about 26,000 persons and the whole city is as much his, as the city of Pullman belongs to that family. He has made over 30,000 cannon, Russia being the heaviest buyer. Counting his iron mines, coal mines and his big ship yard at Kiel, he employes about 42,000 people.

Dissolution.

The law firm of Baxter & Brown has been dissolved by mutual agreement, and each member will continue in business in Auburn. Persons owing the firm on account are requested to settle the same by cash or note at once, which may be done by either of us.

JOHN W. BAXTER.
CHAS. M. BROWN.
AUBURN, IND., October 10, 1899.

Mixed Hay Wanted.

A. Swayze can use a few cars of mixed hay if brought in soon. Best market price paid.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE
Makes the food more delicious and wholesome
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Heard at the Band Stand

"A Chiel's amang ye, takin' notes, An' faith he'll print it."—ROBERT BURNS.

CHAPTER XIII.

This week will close the Band Stand for this season and a suitable chapter for Saturday night reading will take its place.

The early part of the week was so favorable that a few of the members were generally present and much reminiscent talk indulged in. It was generally conceded that the season about to close had been a pleasant one, and to some extent profitable. The matters discussed through the season, had thrown much light on various questions and the views of members were broader for what had been heard and said.

An incident, now passed into the history of DeKalb county, was called up this week. A number of years ago, the good people a few miles east of town got tired of using the school houses for churches, and took steps to build a good church. It takes money to build churches, and it also happens, that much of it finally comes from the pockets of a very few who must not only contribute their own money but they must also put in their time soliciting from others. So it happened that D. D. Metcalf and possibly John Wilson or some one else canvassed Waterloo. One of its citizens put down his name for $5, or perhaps $10. It was some years ago, and we have forgotten. When the time came to pay the money, Mr. Metcalf called to see about it, but his friend was absent, and word was left, that the money might be dropped into the postoffice in an envelop directed to Mr. Metcalf, and it would reach him. A few days later, the bill was put into an envelop and deposited in the postoffice. Mr. Metcalf was not in town that week but uncle Bill Wallace was. He was often in town about those days. After getting pretty well filled as he did in those days, he started for home. But he had, as a good neighbor should, got all the mail for his neighborhood, and among them the letter for Mr. Metcalf, that gentleman having directed him to be sure and get it. Bill came home late, and the night was dark and rainy. Next morning, Mr. Metcalf called bright and early to get that letter, and Uncle Bill had just that moment discovered that his whole mail was lost. But Bill had the name of being honest, and while Mr. Metcalf started sadly homeward Mr. Wallace started back to trace the crooked path he had made coming home. Along towards noon Mr. Metcalf saw him coming, and in his hand the precious letter containing the much needed greenback. And when those who regret his failings sit in that church, and their thankful prayers arise, for the many blessings they enjoy, one or two good words might go up for old Bill Wallace, who saved the greenback that paid for some part of the comfortable edifice.

In closing the Band Stand notes, it is but proper that we allude to what we believe is the only one of our items that has caused hard feelings. This was the one about Judge Penfield's name going before the Board of Equalization. We had our information direct from one connected with the Board, and it was generally so understood by the public. It was to the effect that P. J. Lockwood told the Board, that some mortgages they were charging up to him, really belonged to Judge Penfield. When Judge Penfield visited here about a month or so ago, he called on the writer, and with considerable feeling denied any improper motives or acts in the matter. He explained that having a chance to buy the mortgage, and not having the money just then, he got it of Mr. Lockwood on a promise to repay it when convenient. Mr. Lockwood, as a sort of security for the money, as we understand it, took a mortgage in his name and no record of its transfer back to Judge Penfield had been made, at the time the Board got hold of it. We should have mentioned this explanation before, but have waited for Judge Penfield who at leaving us, promised to send over his own signature a clear statement, and we on our part promised to publish it in these columns. Of course his statement would be clearer than ours. But receiving no word from him, we state the case as we understand it, having only a desire not to do injustice to any one.

Attention Farmers.

The Auburn Handle Factory will pay the highest cash price for ash handle block delivered at their factory on the Lake Shore tracks, cut 58 inches long. Also want ash logs cut 9½, 14½ and 19½ feet long. All timber to be smooth and sound. Will also take basewood cut 4 feet long and 8 inches in diameter and up, left round with bark on. Will pay $3 per cord.—J. M. CHERRY & CO.

Aguinaldo's Terms.

The choicest person of the closing century, is the leader of that part of the Filipinos now at war with us, Aguinaldo. He controls only a part of his own tribe, the Tagals, who occupy only a part of Luzon, which is but one of several hundred islands that compose the group. And the following is what he offers to us, very little of which is his to offer:

1. Absolute free trade between the United States and the Philippine Islands, carrying with it the fullest commercial favor between the two countries.

2. Perfect religious freedom, as now exists under the government of Aguinaldo, the same being a concession made by him to the wishes of the United States.

3. Coaling stations for the United States upon all important islands of the archipelago, to be selected by the United States and ceded outright forever by the Filipinos. This would include Manila.

4. Military reservations at Manila, Iloilo, Panay, Mindora, Negros, Masbate, Samar, Mindonos and such other islands as may be determined upon by both governments.

5. The employment of United States officials in the customs and all other internal branches of the government, to be selected by the United States and paid by the Filipino government.

6. The introduction of the American police system.

7. The establishment of a judiciary as now exists in the island of Cuba.

8. The reconstruction of the entire Filipino government upon lines as nearly consistent with those prescribed by constitution of the United States and adapted to the requirements of the natives.

9. Recognition of the Filipino government as an independent republic under a protectorate of the United States.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Notice to Creditors.

The First National Bank, located at Auburn, in the State of Indiana, is closing up its affairs. All note holders and others, creditors of said association, are therefore hereby notified to present the notes and other claims against the association for payment.

CHARLES McCLELLAN, President.
Dated October 14, 1899.

The foregoing association has been at once reorganized and will continue the business of banking as "The McClellan Bank," under same management.

That Cough Hangs On

You have used all sorts of cough remedies but it does not yield; it is too deep seated. It may wear itself out in time, but it is more liable to produce la grippe, pneumonia or a serious throat affection. You need something that will give you strength and build up the body.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

will do this when everything else fails. There is no doubt about it. It nourishes, strengthens, builds up and makes the body strong and healthy, not only to throw off this hard cough, but to fortify the system against further attacks. If you are run down or emaciated you should certainly take this nourishing food medicine.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, INDIANA.

JAMES A. BARNS, - - PUBLISHER.

1899. NOVEMBER. 1899.

Su.	Mo	Tu	We	Th	Fr	Sa
•	•	•	1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12	13	14	15	16	17	18
19	20	21	22	23	24	25
26	27	28	29	30	•	•
•	•	•	•	•	•	•

N. M. 3rd. F. Q. 10th. F. M 17th. L. Q. 25th.

EVENTS OF INTEREST

THAT OCCURRED DURING THE PAST WEEK.

Tersely Told Telegraph Tales in Brief Paragraphs—Many Casualties—A Few Crimes—Some Fires—Political and Religious News.

Awful Holocaust.

Mobile (Ala.) special: The startling news has been received in this city that fourteen people had been burned to death at a place known as Faires, in Baldwin County, about thirty miles northeast of Mobile. The information was brought to this city by Capt. Joseph E. Jordan, who resides in the locality of the fatality. It appears that some time during Wednesday night last, fire destroyed the residences of Harry Goodlow and Samuel Smithson, cremating all the occupants of both houses. The Goodlow family consisted of father, mother and six children. There were six persons residing in the Smithson home, the husband, wife, three children and a sister of Mr. Smithson.

Eighty Thousand Was Left a Cleveland Man Who Saved a Man's Life.

A Cleveland, Ohio, dispatch says: City Councilman J. L. Reilly has fallen heir to $80,000. Four years ago, while in San Antonio, Texas, Mr. Reilly stopped a runaway team, probably saving the life of the driver, a wealthy farmer of Palmer, Texas, named John Wallace. His arm was so badly injured in the struggle that for a time amputation was thought to be necessary, but eventually it healed. A few days ago Mr. Reilly received notice from San Antonio that Mr. Wallace had died and left him a legacy of $80,000.

The New York Sun.

The New York Sun has begun a legal battle against organized labor. The members of Typographical Union, No. 6, struck August 6, and a very strong boycott has been in force ever since. The Sun now seeks an injunction against the boycott. Its counsel declared to the court that the boycott had caused the Sun to lose 60,000 of its morning circulation, and 40,000 of its afternoon circulation, and the Sunday Sun has lost 60,000 subscribers. There is also a loss of $300,000 in advertising since the strike.

A Terrible Tragedy.

Thomas Apple, aged about 60 years and a resident of Inwood, six miles east of Plymouth, Ind., shot and killed his former wife and immediately killed himself. The couple were divorced Monday, after having lived together thirty years, and trouble arose when the woman attempted to move some of her effects from the house. Many people witnessed the affair, but could not interfere in time to save either. The couple leave nine children.

The Dewey Home.

The house on Rhode Island avenue, Washington, D. D., recently purchased for Admiral Dewey by popular subscription, was formally turned over to him Thursday by Assistant Secretary Vanderlip, of the Dewey home committee. The purchase price was $50,000. Two subscriptions were received Thursday which completed the payment, including the expenses incident to the project.

Old Deed Recorded.

A dispatch from Middletown, O., says: The copy of an old deed has been filed in this county, in which the United States, by Thomas Jefferson, President, sells to William McClellan of Hamilton County, Section 19 of St. Clair Township. The original deed was issued in Washington, December 10, 1806.

Three Men Killed.

Three men were killed in an explosion in the Cundy mine, near Iron Mountain, Mich. They are Charles Nelson, Richard Stone and Albin Forsterison. The cause is believed to be the driving home of a dynamite charge with an iron scraper.

Death of Gen. Symons.

The death of Sir William Penn Symons, the British commander at Glencoe, who was shot in the stomach in the battle with the Boers there October 20, was officially announced in the House of Commons Friday.

Trolley Car Collision.

A serious accident occurred at Tacony, Pa., when two trolley cars came together in a fog. One should have waited on the switch until the other passed. Motorman Graham and five passengers were seriously injured.

Unknown Ship Wrecked.

A dispatch from Namsaos, Norway, says: An unknown ship was totally wrecked outside Vinten Island, on this coast. It is feared there is a serious loss of life.

Masonic Temple, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Nov. 5—Gilmore's Band.
Nov. 7—"The Hustler."
Nov. 9—Ward and Vokes.
Nov. 11—"The Telephone Girl."

Watched by the Powers.

Dispatches from the continent to the London Daily Mail say that the French fleet has received instructions to watch the movements of the British Mediterranean squadron, and that the Italian fleet is under orders to concentrate in the Bay of Spezia.

Seven Firemen Hurt.

Seven firemen were overcome by smoke and fell from a ladder at the fire of the freight depot of the Lowell Cooperage Company, in Brooklyn, N. Y. All are dangerously hurt.

Killed by Explosion of Dynamite.

Eugene Crowley of Lansing, Mich., was killed at Bowling Green, Ohio, by an explosion of dynamite. He was blasting telephone pole holes, and was looking over a hole where a blast had failed to explode, when the charge went off. His head was blown to pieces.

Find Mine on a Town Site.

The Spruce Mining Company has filed articles, with a capital of $1,000,000, to open and operate the Eveleth Townsite mine, which was discovered under the village of Eveleth, Minn., and from over the top of which the removal of the village has just been completed.

WAR FAILS TO AFFECT TRADE.

Dun Reports Business Expanding and Mills Active—Wheat Declines.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: "In most lines business continues to expand, though in some there are signs that buying has been checked, either because prices have outrun the views of buyers, or because recent purchases have been so heavy that nobody is left in need. Prices are still advancing in almost every line, supported by rising prices of materials, and works everywhere are still crowded to their utmost capacity, while at many points it is found hard to get enough competent hands. But the volume of business expressed in values rises much more than prices, showing a remarkable increase in quantities of goods exchanged. The outbreak of war in South Africa has brought no such changes as many feared. In England the markets have treated it as an event already overdiscounted, and relations with this country were not appreciably affected. Wheat has declined 1½c in price in spite of unfavorable crop reports. Wool has enlisted a powerful speculative interest, and sales of 11,206,000 pounds for the week at the three central markets represent about twice the consumption. Bessemer sales of $23 for next year and $24.50 for this year at Pittsburg are reported, with billet sales at $30 to $40 and sales of sheet bars at $36 per ton. Failures for the week have been 145 in the United States, against 221 last year, and 20 in Canada, against 24 last year."

PLOT TO MURDER IS CHARGED.

Missourian Said to Have Conspired Against His Father's Life.

Great surprise was created in Springfield, Mo., by the arrest of Noah Storms, a well-known young school teacher and popular man in society, on the charge of conspiracy to murder his father, one of the wealthiest and most influential farmers of Taney County. It is charged that Storms offered Leroy Lewis of Swan Creek, near Forsythe, where the Stormses live, $35 to do away with his parent. Lewis notified former Sheriff John L. Cook and his brother, William Cook, of the alleged proposition made by young Storms. He had the two Cooks conceal themselves where they could overhear a conversation between himself and the school teacher about the plot to kill the elder Storms. It is alleged that in the conversation the details of the contemplated murder were discussed in advance, the evident object of Storms being, it is supposed, to acquire the wealth the death of his father would give to him.

HENRY STIFT KILLS HIMSELF.

Suicide at Denver Said to Have Been Once a Policeman in Chicago.

Henry Stift, a brother of "Billy" Stift, the pugilist, committed suicide at Denver, Colo., by hanging. His body was found suspended from a beam in the stable of the Val Blatz Brewing Company. It is thought that the act was induced by despondency brought on by ill health. Henry Stift was formerly connected with the police force of Chicago, where he was driver of a patrol wagon, until his health failed him. He was about 35 years of age.

LOSS BY FLOOD OVER $100,000.

Big Dam Near Milaca, Minn., Breaks, Turning Waters Loose.

The most disastrous Minnesota flood in years took place the other day, being caused by the breaking of the great dam near Milaca. The loss so far as known is more than $100,000. Over $40,000 of this is in the neighborhood of Cambridge, Isanti County. The flood moved with resistless force along the Rum river and neighboring streams, sweeping away everything. Many farmers lost everything they had in the world.

START FIRES TO AID ROBBERY.

Confession of a Negro Captured at Baker City, Ore.

Early on a recent morning five fires were started almost simultaneously in different parts of Baker City, Ore. Two buildings were burned to the ground. A negro named Charles Johnson confessed to starting the fires, and implicated a Mexican and a white man, who were arrested also. The negro says it was planned to rob the faro banks and saloons during the excitement caused by the fires.

War Ends in Venezuela.

The Venezuela crisis is virtually over. Gen. Andrade, the president, has accepted the conditions proposed by the insurgent commander, Gen. Cipriano Castro, and will go abroad, the presidency devolving upon the vice-president. Gen. Castro will enter Caracas peacefully, thus avoiding bloodshed and a dictatorship.

Robbers Kill Their Pursuers.

The country store of Charles Kuch of Doniphan, Kan., was robbed by two masked men. In a battle which followed Kuch was wounded and Andrew Braun was killed by the robbers, who made their escape. The robbers opened fire on a posse of men who had traced them by means of bloodhounds and killed R. G. Dickerson, an Atchison policeman.

Patients Saved from Fire.

At Findlay, Ohio, the city home and hospital building was destroyed by fire. By heroic work the helpless patients were removed, the last being taken out but a moment before the walls fell. The loss is $50,000.

Fire at Wakefield, Mass.

At Wakefield, Mass., fire destroyed George H. Hathaway's large stable, with its valuable contents; an engine house, the Perkins block, Porter's laundry and seven dwelling houses. The loss exceeds $50,000.

Ship's Crew Lost in Collision.

The Boston fishing schooner Two Forty was run down and cut in two by the tramp steamer Ardanha in the upper harbor at Boston and four of the crew of eleven on board the fisherman were drowned. The vessel sank at once.

Big Lumber Fleet at Duluth.

The largest lumber boat fleet ever in the Duluth-Superior harbor at one time was there a few days ago. The fleet had a capacity of 20,000,000 feet of lumber, and difficulty was experienced in getting men to load the boats.

Killed in a Ring.

William Wilke was killed in an amateur sparring match with Charles Chelius at an exhibition given by two clubs at Chicago. The knockout blow was given in the first round, after a couple of minutes' fighting.

Czar Agrees to Arbitrate.

Russia, it has been learned, has at last agreed to arbitrate with the United States the claim resulting from the seizure of sealers in the Bering Sea, which has been pending for about eight years.

Fire in a Card Factory.

The upper stories of the large frame building of the American Card Company, in the business section of Lowell, Mass., were burned. Loss $50,000.

Minister to Argentina.

William P. Lord of Oregon has been appointed envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to the Argentine Republic.

Four Men Drowned.

Two fishermen who came in to Toledo, Ohio, brought a story of the drowning of four men near Cedar Point. A man named Francisco Demeraux and his son Severance, with a couple of New York hands, went out fishing and carried beer with them. They became drunk and began quarreling, fighting in the boat, which turned over and threw them into the water. They were all drowned.

GREAT RAILWAY DEAL ON.

First Step Toward the Amalgamation of Eastern Properties.

William Rockefeller has been elected a member of the executive committee of the New York Central Company at the meeting which authorized an issue of $15,000,000 additional stock. The New York World says: "The election of Mr. Rockefeller to the executive council of the New York Central system is of far-reaching importance, as it marks the surrender of the New York, New Haven and Hartford system to the New York Central. Mr. Rockefeller was elected a director in the New York Central a few weeks ago. He and his brother, John D. Rockefeller, have never heretofore commanded any influence in New York Central affairs, although they have for several years held a big block of its stock. But they have been important factors in the management of the New York, New Haven and Hartford system. William Rockefeller's election to the executive committee of the Central is, therefore, accepted as an indication that the union of the two systems will shortly follow. The next step in the deal will, it is believed by railway men, be the absorption of the Boston and Albany, the Boston and Maine, the Fitchburg and the Maine Central. The amalgamation of all these interests under the auspices of the Vanderbilts will end the war between the New England roads, which has continued for years."

OFFER TO ARBITRATE.

Canada's Final Proposition to Settle Alaskan Dispute.

Canada's final proposition for a permanent settlement of the Alaska dispute is very different from her former demands and was delivered to United States Ambassador Choate by the Canadian minister of marine and fisheries, Sir Louis Henry Davies. It is as follows: "That the boundary line be arbitrated upon terms similar to those imposed by the United States and Great Britain over Venezuela. That, as a condition precedent to and absolutely preliminary to arbitration, Skaguay and Dyea would be conceded to the United States without further claim if Canada received Pyramid Harbor." In other words, Canada gives up much of the disputed gold country in return for a seaport.

SENT TO JAIL FOR KISSING.

Yale Student and a Young Woman Arrested, but Appeal the Case.

Stephen O. Lawrence of New Haven, Conn., a Yale student, was sentenced to jail for fifteen days for kissing Miss May Carroll. She was out walking with young Lawrence and was kissed by him when in front of a Crown street cafe. She made no protest, but a vigilant policeman saw the act and immediately arrested the couple for disorderly conduct. In city court Judge Dow said he had decided to make an example of the prisoner, as recently he had a similar case in court and then stated he would send to jail the next culprits found kissing in the street. The student and girl appealed the case and furnished $300 bonds.

Joplin Mines to Resume Work.

The zinc mines of the Joplin-Galena district, in Missouri, which had been shut down for three weeks by order of the Zinc Miners' Association, have resumed operations, the shut down having been declared off by the association. The cause of the shutdown was the refusal of the smelters to pay the association's schedule of prices for ore.

Given Twenty Years.

Herman Hundhausen was sentenced to twenty years' imprisonment by a jury in Judge Baker's court in Chicago as an accomplice of Richard Honeck for the murder of Walter F. Koeller, who was stabbed to death at his boarding house in that city the evening of Sept. 2.

Gold Seekers Are Stricken.

Advices from Cape Nome, Alaska, brought by the steamer Lakme, are that typhoid fever has broken out in the camp in a severe form. The hospital is crowded, there now being 250 patients in it. There have been five deaths and others are expected.

Lost on Watling's Island.

The British brig Westaway, Captain Young, which sailed from Barbadoes for Rum Cay and New York, stranded at Watling's Island, one of the Bahamas, and became a total loss.

Death Sentence Is Affirmed.

The Court of Appeals at Albany, N. Y., has affirmed the verdict of conviction in the case of Howard Benham, the banker of Batavia, sentenced to death for wife murder, and he will be resentenced.

Found Guilty of Conspiracy.

At Philadelphia the jury in the Ingham-Newitt counterfeiting conspiracy trial brought in a verdict of guilty. A recommendation for mercy is made.

New York Has 476,717 Voters.

The registration in Greater New York is completed. The total registration was 476,717.

MARKET QUOTATIONS.

Chicago—Cattle, common to prime, $3.00 to $7.00; hogs, shipping grades, $3.00 to $4.50; sheep, fair to choice, $3.00 to $4.50; wheat, No. 2 red, 70c to 72c; corn, No. 2, 31c to 32c; oats, No. 2, 22c to 24c; rye, No. 2, 57c to 58c; butter, choice creamery, 21c to 23c; eggs, fresh, 16c to 17c; potatoes, choice, 25c to 35c per bushel.

Indianapolis—Cattle, shipping, $3.00 to $6.50; hogs, choice light, $2.75 to $4.50; sheep, common to prime, $3.25 to $4.50; wheat, No. 2 red, 68c to 69c; corn, No. 2 white, 33c to 34c; oats, No. 2 white, 25c to 27c.

St. Louis—Cattle, $3.25 to $6.75; hogs, $3.00 to $4.50; sheep, $3.00 to $4.50; wheat, No. 2, 70c to 72c; corn, No. 2 yellow, 31c to 33c; oats, No. 2, 23c to 25c; rye, No. 2, 55c to 57c.

Cincinnati—Cattle, $2.50 to $6.25; hogs, $3.00 to $4.75; sheep, $2.50 to $4.00; wheat, No. 2, 70c to 72c; corn, No. 2 mixed, 35c to 37c; oats, No. 2 mixed, 25c to 26c; rye, No. 2, 63c to 65c.

Detroit—Cattle, $2.50 to $6.50; hogs, $3.00 to $4.50; sheep, $2.50 to $4.25; wheat, No. 2, 70c to 72c; corn, No. 2 yellow, 36c to 37c; oats, No. 2 white, 26c to 28c; rye, 61c to 63c.

Toledo—Wheat, No. 2 mixed, 70c to 71c; corn, No. 2 mixed, 33c to 35c; oats, No. 2 mixed, 22c to 24c; rye, No. 2, 59c to 61c; clover seed, $5.85 to $5.95.

Milwaukee—Wheat, No. 2 Northern, 66c to 68c; corn, No. 3, 32c to 33c; oats, No. 2 white, 24c to 26c; rye, No. 1, 57c to 58c; barley, No. 2, 44c to 46c; pork, mess, $7.25 to $7.50.

Buffalo—Cattle, good shipping steers, $3.00 to $6.50; hogs, common to choice, $3.25 to $4.75; sheep, fair to choice wethers, $3.00 to $4.50; lambs, common to extra, $4.50 to $5.50.

New York—Cattle, $3.25 to $6.75; hogs, $3.00 to $5.00; sheep, $3.00 to $4.75; wheat, No. 2 red, 75c to 77c; corn, No. 2, 40c to 41c; oats, No. 2 white, 30c to 32c; butter, creamery, 17c to 25c; eggs, western, 14c to 19c.

HIS LESSON.

—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

WAR WILL BE ACTIVE.

Campaign in the Philippines to Open Soon on All Lines.

Secretary Root hopes the campaign in the Philippines may be opened all along the line within the next three or four weeks. Although there have been some military operations recently, he says the campaign is not fairly on yet. Gen. Lawton has been sent north to occupy San Isidro because of its strategic importance, but this is only preliminary to the regular campaign. Secretary Root has been informed that the rainy season is about over, but the country is still suffering from its saturation. There are many inundations, and the soil generally is so soft as to make military movements exceedingly difficult. Army officers vary from three to six weeks in their estimates of the length of time it will take for the country to dry sufficiently for the American forces to move with reasonable facility.

The plans of the War Department are matured for active work as soon as it is possible to advance with ease and the American lines will be pushed in all directions against the Filipinos. It will be possible to maintain this movement, because of the steady stream of volunteers to be poured into Manila as re-enforcements.

Much attention has been given to making provisions for the sick and wounded. The present hospitals have accommodations for about 2,000 patients, and Col. Woodhull reports only 1,847 beds occupied by patients, including convalescents. The War Department is making arrangements to have accommodations for 8,000 patients, which is believed to be more than ample even for the enlarged army in an active campaign.

ANDREE'S PLAN TO SEND WORD.

Had Buoys for Degrees of Latitude, One to Be Dropped Passing the Pole.

There is no doubt that the buoy recently picked up by a Swedish vessel was that carried along in Andree's balloon to be dropped when he passed over the pole. He took carrier pigeons, and arranged to drop a cork buoy bearing the Swedish flag at every degree of latitude and one when he crossed the North Pole. These, he believed, drifting either on the ice or in the ocean currents, would bring the news of whatever discoveries he might make to civilization. Each buoy consisted of a hollow bulb of cork encased for protection in a copper netting and painted in blue and yellow, the Swedish colors. Experiments were made at first with buoys made of wood, but it was found that cork best stood the tremendous concussion resulting from being dropped out of a balloon. The cork was found to resist a pressure of thirty tons without crushing. In the upper end there was screwed a small flagstaff made of German silver wire and surmounted at the top by a Swedish flag made of sheet metal.

SOME OF ANDREE'S BUOYS.

STATUARY AT PHILADELPHIA.

One of the Handsome Groups Shown at the Export Exposition.

The accompanying illustration shows one of the very handsome groups of statuary on exhibition at the National Export exposition which is now taking place in the city of Philadelphia and will continue there until Nov. 30. This group is typical of the woolen trade, and is a good example of the different representative groups to be seen at this unique exhibition.

HOW BOERS ARE ISOLATED.

Cut Off from the World Except at the Pleasure of the English.

One great disadvantage under which President Kruger and his doughty burghers labor is the fact that they are entirely isolated and cut off from communication with the outside world, except at the pleasure of their enemy, the English. Not only are the Transvaal and the Orange Free State without a seaport, but they cannot send a word by telegraph outside of their own little territories without the permission of the English Government. The cables which encircle both the east and west coasts of Africa, as shown on the map, are owned by the Eastern and South African Telegraph Company, which is, of course, under the control of the British Government.

MAP SHOWING SOUTH AFRICAN CABLES.

CURRENT COMMENT

The popular idea that all South Africa is not far removed from savagery is contradicted by the fact that in Cape Colony alone there are 6,609 miles of telegraph poles, carrying many times that number of miles of wire.

In one way, and that a financial one, the Dreyfus trial at Rennes was a direct benefit to France. All the telegraph and telephone lines in the republic belong to the Government, and the great demand for news of the trial increased the receipts from telegrams $120,000 and from telephone messages $60,000 while the case was on.

Now that the natural gas in Indiana and Ohio shows signs of giving out they have discovered a plentiful supply of it in England. In 1896 gas was struck near Heathfield station in East Essex, and the station and railroad yard are now lighted with it. It is believed to be the first practical usage of natural gas in Europe.

If the reports of the criminal courts of the State of New York may be taken as an index it is safe to say that crime is on the decrease in the United States. In 1897 there were 4,523 convictions, as against only 3,567 in 1898. This shows a decrease of 596, or nearly 20 per cent.

A new problem is pressing for solution on the Pacific coast. It promises to become even more serious than the "Chinese question." According to the census of 1890 there were at that time 2,039 "Japs" in the United States. Since then the immigration has steadily increased until the total number of Japanese who came to the United States in the fiscal year 1899 was 3,395. To-day, according to the estimate of the Japanese consul at San Francisco, there are no less than 20,000 "Japs" in this country, most of them on the Pacific coast.

The purchase of a large number of horses in the United States for the use of the English army in South Africa is made necessary by the fact that even with the elaborate horse registration system in force in Great Britain it is impossible to secure all the animals needed for immediate service at home. In time of peace the military establishment of England requires for its use a total of 13,500 horses. In time of war this total jumps at once to 28,749. Horse buyers for the army are now at work, not only in this country but also in Canada, in Australia and in Austria.

In demanding that each member of his church pay over one-tenth of his total income, "Dr." John Dowie is simply following the example of the Mormon Church. As an example of what such contributions may amount to in the course of a year, it is stated that last year the Mormon Church received from tithes alone over $900,000. This year it is estimated that the income from tithes will reach $1,500,000. As a further indication of the financial prosperity of the Mormon Church, President Snow states that the last of the twenty-year bonds, of which $1,000,000 worth were sold in 1897, will be redeemed within the next five years.

WAR WITH THE BOERS

NEWS FROM THE FRONT IS GREATLY DIVERSIFIED.

Reports So Conflicting that It Is Difficult to Outline the Situation with Any Degree of Precision—Gen. Symons Dies of Wounds.

The dispatches from South Africa have been so diversified and contrary that it has been difficult to outline the situation with any degree of precision. Three or four main facts, however, stand out prominently. Gen. Symon's fight at Glencoe was not anything like the decisive victory at first alleged, and Gen. Yule would in all probability have been annihilated or have met with the same fate as the captured hussars if he had not retreated. Gen. White's "artillery duel" at Rietfontein was a very severe engagement, in which the rifle did great execution and in which success was also achieved at a distressing cost. The bombardment of Mafeking commenced Wednesday and the Boers got their hussar prisoners safely to Pretoria.

Altogether the campaign is being pushed by the Boers so strenuously and on such sound strategical lines that the situation of the British must in all probability give them cause for deep anxiety for some time to come. Apart from the fatigue, regiments like the Gordon Highlanders and Royal Rifles have been practically without officers since the fights, and 135 additional officers have been ordered to leave England as speedily as possible.

MARIBOCO STATION, BECHUANALAND.

Outside of officialdom, and possibly even therein, London on Thursday was absolutely without definite news of importance from the vicinity of Ladysmith. It was believed that the forces of Gen. White and Gen. Yule were united, although even this was a matter of speculation. It was known that the Boer forces were near to Ladysmith.

The suppression of news has not only caused great indignation in Great Britain, but has created grave alarm for the future. As a consequence the British public is enraged at Lord Wolseley, and demands that all official dispatches be given out verbatim.

The death of Gen. Sir William Symons, the British commander at Glencoe, who was shot in the stomach in the battle with the Boers there, was officially announced in the House of Commons Thursday.

HAS MANY WIVES.

That's the Charge Against a Chicago Candy Salesman.

NEWS

The Chicago police claim they have discovered a bigamist beside whom the notorious Bates must figure as a matrimonial pigmy. Walter L. Farnsworth, a Chicago candy commission man, was arrested charged with bigamy on a warrant sworn out by one of his many wives and was locked up under $4,000 bonds. Forty-two wives scattered throughout the world, four of whom are in Chicago, was the confession alleged to have been made by Farnsworth. He also admitted that he was a man of many aliases. Some of them are Charles Bradford, A. J. Hittig, S. L. Thomas, Al Kiefer and Bradshaw. "I cannot tell exactly how many women I have married," said he. "I know of eleven in Europe, four in China, three in Peru, one in England and over twenty in different parts of the world, but to save my soul I could not tell how many."

W. L. FARNSWORTH

MICHAEL DAVITT QUITS.

Great Irish Leader Is Opposed to the Boer War.

The Irish protest against the war on the Boers culminated in a sensational manner Wednesday, when Mr. Michael Davitt, the prominent Irish nationalist and republican, and member of parliament for Mayo, announced in the House of Commons that he would resign from that body Thursday. "If I were offered an Irish republic," said Mr. Davitt, "in exchange for one word in favor of this war, I would not utter it. I shall resign and ask the chancellor to release me from further attendance."

Before leaving, Mr. Davitt thanked his opponents for their toleration, but added: "I am convinced the House of Commons was never for right unless backed by force."

WARSHIPS TO PREPARE.

Orders to Get Ready Issued by the British Admiralty.

The British admiralty has ordered that all the cruisers which mobilized for the July maneuvers be prepared for active service at a moment's notice. As the Transvaal campaign itself does not call for warships, this action of the British admiralty is taken to indicate apprehension that there is ground for the rumor that France and Russia may interfere in behalf of the Boers.

CRAZY AS A LOON.

Man Who Executed Twenty Persons Is a Mental Wreck.

Amos Lunt, hangman of San Quentin (Cal.) prison, who has a record of twenty executions in five years, is now a mental wreck from insomnia and hallucinations. He hasn't slept for nearly two weeks, because every time he falls in a doze he sees the spirit of some of the murderers whom he has executed. Especially is he haunted by the spirit of Durrant. Warden Hale will send Lunt to a sanitarium and attempt to restore his mind.

SENTENCE IS TWENTY YEARS.

Hundhausen Guilty of Accessory to a Cowardly Murder.

Herman Hundhausen, one of the slayers of Walter Koeller in Chicago, was found guilty Wednesday morning, and sentenced to twenty years in the penitentiary, as an accessory. Directly after Hundhausen had been taken back to jail after his sentence, Honeck was brought in for trial. He entered a plea of guilty, and announced that he was willing to leave his punishment to the discretion of the court, notwithstanding the judge told him there was no reason to believe mercy would be shown him.

BRITISH CONTROL WAR NEWS.

Nothing Can Come from South Africa Until It Has Been Censored.

If ever a country was bottled up, South Africa is. England has complete control of all news outlets, and she evidently has enough censors over there to choke off unfavorable news, and some relations of the late lamented Blanco to send wild and woolly tales of victories won. The cable companies in New York say that they never knew of a place so completely cut off as the scene of the present hostilities, and the censorship that England is exercising is simply stunning. All news is not only censored at its start, but it is held up from one to four times en route, and finally is for the most part delivered through London. American, German and French newspapers and press associations have sent big corps of men to South Africa, but they get mighty little show, even with their messages that have been mangled by the censors. The English newspaper men get first call, and, as a result, London is the real news center of the war.

In the first place, the Transvaal and Orange Free State are utterly and completely cut off, so far as land wires go. The only outlet has been through Durban, in Natal, on the east coast, and Cape Town on the west coast. Both these cities are in British territory. There was a land line from Pretoria to Lorenzo Marquez, which ran through Portuguese territory, but this has been interrupted either by actually cutting the wire or by diplomatic chicanery with Portugal. Portugal sympathizes with the Boers, but she has so much sea coast and is so near England that Johnny Bull has her bluffed to a standstill.

News from Glencoe, Ladysmith and other points in Natal can reach the outside world over the Durban and west coast line, or via Cape Town and the east coast. From Durban the cable runs 345 miles to Lorenzo Marquez (Delogoa Bay). Then it plunges again into the Indian ocean and emerges at Mosambique, 974 miles away, thence by cable to Zanzibar, 692 miles further, and finally to Aden, 1,020 miles further. All this by cable. At Aden the British censorship is supreme.

From Aden the news goes under the whole length of the Red Sea to Suez, 1,403 miles, thence on land wires along the Suez canal to Port Said, 92 miles, thence by cable to Alexandria, 154 miles, thence to Malta, 928 miles; to Gibraltar, 1,126 miles; to Lisbon, 390 miles; to Land's End, England, 899; then by land to London and from London to Dublin, thence to Waterville, Ireland. Then comes the long plunge over the commercial cable to Nova Scotia, 2,348 miles. Eight hundred and forty miles of cable remains, and the news is at New York. British military censors have a whack at it at Durban, Aden, Suez, Alexandria, Gibraltar and London.

Over the west coast route the start is made at Cape Town, thence by cable to Mossamedes, 1,138 miles; to Benguela, 234; to Loand, 296; to Acera, 975 miles; to Sierra Leone, 1,020; to Bathhurst, 463. At Bathhurst the cable leaves the African coast and bobs up next at Santiago, a British possession, near the Cape Verde Islands, 470; to St. Vincent, 204 miles; to Madeira, 1,169; to Lisbon, 632; thence to London, following the same route as news from the east coast.

The only place in all this west coast route where a leak might occur is at St. Vincent, where there is a cable to Brazil. England has forbidden all code and cipher messages of any description to be sent to St. Vincent and her orders are being obeyed to the letter.

On all the east coast lines all cipher and code messages are forbidden, just as on the west coast, and nothing, even remotely relating to the war, can be sent by anybody without the English "O. K." at the various relay stations.

WAR NEWS IN BRIEF.

The British movements show vastly superior strategy.

Hundreds of refugees from the Rand now crowd the coast towns.

The best Boer policy is cavalry raids and fortifications of the passes.

Cecil Rhodes is personally at the head of a band of rough riders.

England is watching the movements of France and Russia with eagle eyes.

England is placing large orders for army clothing with German manufacturers.

Gen. Yule's march from Glencoe was attended by several skirmishes with the Boers.

Gibraltar is being strengthened, and extra precautions are being taken in regard to visitors.

The Boers acknowledged they lost 100 killed and 300 taken prisoners in the battle of Elandslaagte.

When it is noon in New York it is 7 o'clock in the evening of the same day in the Transvaal.

The British at Elandslaagte were commanded by Gen. French. Col. Hamilton had charge of the infantry.

According to late reports of the fight at Spytfontein the Boers were remarkably ineffective with their artillery.

The British Government has given authority for organizing a large supplementary army medical staff in the Transvaal.

It is estimated that not less than 11,000 Boers are watching the passes in the Drakonberg range from Oliver's Hook to Collins' Pass.

The success of Gen. Symons at Dundee Hill and Gen. French at Elandslaagte were unexpected developments in the campaign.

There is the ominous possibility of a Dutch insurrection in Cape Colony. The farmers are said to be highly excited and in a state of disloyalty.

Both sides are anxious to keep the Basutos and Zulus out of the war. The spirit of humanity is strongly evinced in the policy of both war departments.

Within six days sixteen transports sailed from England carrying 10,000 officers and men and much artillery and supplies.

Monday's engagement near Ladysmith, described by the British war office as a slight skirmish, proves to have been a hard fight, for Gen. White figures up his casualties in it at 109 in dead, wounded and missing.

The meager official news received and promulgated in London is a source of great dissatisfaction to the public. The impression is prevalent that the situation is more unfavorable than the Government cares to admit.

It is officially reported that the three Boer columns in Natal consist in all of 16,000 men. These columns are backed up by 13,000 Free State troops.

The premeditated intervention by the powers explains England's vast military preparations. She is not only fighting the Boers, but is getting ready to resist by force any interference on the part of the European governments.

The deadliness of the rifle is a matter of comment in view of the recent hostilities. The Boers have fought with true Dutch valor, and their aim has been fearfully accurate. Had their artillery been as well handled the British would probably have met defeat.

SINCE WILLIE GOES TO SCHOOL.

Since Willie goes to school the days
Are always full of peace,
And in a hundred little ways
The cares of life decrease;
The halls are littered up no more
With blocks and tops and traps;
No marbles lie upon the floor,
But are we happier than before?—
Ah, well, perhaps—perhaps!

Since Willie goes to school the cat
Lies dozing in her nook;
There are no startling screeches that
Make all the neighbors look,
His playthings are all piled away,
No books bestrew the floor,
But I have found a hair to-day,
Deep-rooted, glistening and gray,
That hid itself before.

Since Willie goes to school I hear
No pounding on the stairs,
Nor am I called to help my dear
Make horses of the chairs;
A sense of peace pervades the place,
And I may be a fool
To shed the tears that streak my face,
But a boy is in my baby's place,
Since Willie goes to school.
—Chicago Times-Herald.

His Own Confidential Man

THEY were very like, this father and daughter. Lizzie was his youngest, and although she had attained the age of 18, she was still childish in her ways.

The judge placed his hand tenderly on the little curly head. "Where has my little daughter been?"

"Oh, I have been up to the hall talking with the housekeeper and wandering through the great rooms, and, oh, papa! she really took me into the beautiful conservatory, and I saw such lovely, flaming passion flowers, and the great, creamy, magnolia blossoms, and, dear me, I can't tell you of all the lovely things."

She was suddenly stopped by seeing a gentleman approaching from the opposite side of the road.

"Mr. Ray, I believe?"

The judge bowed.

"Agent for the St. Leon place?"

"Yes, sir."

"I came to see you in regard to it, and——"

"And you are Mr. St. Leon's confidential clerk, Mr. Hartley! I believe I received a letter from him to-day informing me that you would arrive this week. Yes, yes; come right up to the house and we will talk over the repairs. Shall we begin them immediately?"

* * * * * * *

"Papa, you don't mean to say you have brought him home—a confidential clerk? You know there are the best rooms to be papered and cleaned, and our pink dresses to be made, against Herbert St. Leon's arrival. Well, I shall see that he is put in the little room over the kitchen. He will never know the difference," and Blanche sank back in a studied attitude on the sofa, wondering if handsome Bert St.

"I WISH TO SEE YOUR MASTER, YOUNG MAN."

Leon would fancy her lovely pink morning dress that she had made for his special benefit.

The door of the dining room was ajar, and Mr. Hartley, standing before the fire in the little parlor, had heard it all.

"Mr. Confidential Clerk, you are crying," and Lizzie pushed the white kitten from her lap and came over to his side. "I am sorry you heard them, but never mind, I'll be your friend."

"Your friendship is very dear to me, my little girl."

"I'm not a little girl! I was 18 last week."

"Pardon me, young lady; but can you tell me something of the hall? What sort of a place is it?"

"Lizzie, Lizzie! you are talking far more than is necessary. Go to your French immediately!"

A month had passed by. Mr. Hartley had exchanged his close apartments over the kitchen for more commodious ones at the village inn, whence he calmly superintended the projected improvements at the hall, and all the gossip exchanged between himself and Lizzie was in the course of her rambles through the St. Leon woods.

And now Mr. Hartley sat in the same little parlor where Lizzie had first vowed to be his friend and awaited the appearance of the judge.

"You wish to see me, Mr. Hartley?"

"Yes, sir. I came to ask you for the hand of your daughter—your little Lizzie. I love her more than my life, Judge Ray."

"You cannot have her! No, sir. I look for something higher for my daughter than a confidential clerk. If that is all, I bid you good evening."

Next night the judge rode slowly home to dinner, feeling a presentiment of evil.

"Where is Lizzie?" he inquired of Blanche, as he entered the cozy dining room.

"In her room, I suppose, mourning after her dear clerk."

"Well, call her to dinner, child."

Blanche went, but returned immediately with a pale, frightened face.

"She is not there, pap, but this note lay on her table."

The judge broke the seal and read, with a face that had grown suddenly pale:

"By the time that you read these words, dearest papa, your little Lizzie will be another's. I shall be married to Mr. Hartley. I hope it is not wrong, for indeed I do love him very much."

As he folded the note with stern features a light step crossed the threshold, and Lizzie's arms were around his neck; the confidential clerk standing at the door with a face where pride and indomitable resolution struggled for the mastery.

"Papa, forgive us!"

"I'll see you hanged first!" roared the old gentleman. "Begone, both of you! Beg, starve, but never come to me for assistance!"

"Oh, papa," pleaded Lizzie, "I want to explain."

"I won't hear you."

"Be it so," said the clerk; "come, little wife, we have each other left, you know," and they went from the house.

Blanche was just coming out of hysterics when there came a ring at the bell, and a gentleman bearing a foreign-looking carpet bag was ushered in.

"Is this Mr. Ray?"

The judge bowed.

"Is Mr. St. Leon here?"

"Mr. St. Leon, sir, is in Paranham, Brazil."

"I think you are mistaken, sir, as I have been informed he is at this moment in his native village."

"Herbert St. Leon at home and not send word to me, his agent? I must go to the hall immediately."

The lights glimmered brightly from the gothic windows of the hall and winked defiance at the blustering storm without as the judge rang the bell at the great front door.

"Mr. St. Leon—has he arrived?"

The servant bowed and ushered him into a room whose superbly arranged furniture struck Mr. Ray with an indefinite idea of luxury.

Lizzie was standing by a tall alabaster vase, that stood in the bay window, arranging the tropic vines that curled around its standard, and the light from the colored lamps shone down on the curly head so dear to the judge's heart. The confidential clerk stood near.

"I wish to see your master, young man."

"I am at your service, sir."

"You are! Who the mischief cares whether you are or not? I wish to see Mr. St. Leon."

"Herbert St. Leon is my name, sir."

"You? Well, I thought you were the confidential clerk!"

"I never told you I was. You took that for granted. As the confidential clerk I wooed and won your daughter. As Herbert St. Leon I could have gained no greater treasure."—New York Daily News.

Strange to Him.

Mr. Evans, an artist, had recently returned from Jamaica—West Indies—and had in his New York studio some paintings of Jamaica scenery. So says the Cleveland Leader.

One day a man who had been looking through the studio stopped before a certain picture and asked:

"What does this represent?"

"That," said Mr. Evans, "is a scene in Jamaica."

"Jamaica?" echoed the visitor. "That's strange. I don't remember ever seeing anything like that in Jamaica."

"You have been there, then, have you?" the artist inquired.

"Oh, yes! I live there."

"Well, you surely must be acquainted with this place, then. It is a street scene in the principal town of the island."

The man from Jamaica looked at Mr. Evans for a moment as if he thought he must be daft. Then he said:

"I live in Jamaica, and there isn't a street in the town that bears the remotest resemblance to that picture."

The mention of Jamaica as a town cleared away the mist.

"I see," said Mr. Evans, "you live in Jamaica, Long Island, don't you?"

"Yes," replied the suburbanite. "Is there another Jamaica anywhere?"

PRINCE AND PRINCESS OF WALES

Are Living Apart and a Grave Royal Scandal Is Impending.

Just now English society is discussing no less grave a subject than the possible separation of the Prince and Princess of Wales. For months past the princess has been the guest of her family in Denmark, and her stay apparently shows no signs of coming to an end. Some believe that an actual separation of the royal couple is already in effect, while others think that the formal separation has not yet taken place. All believe, however, that a grave royal scandal is impending.

Of course, there is a woman in the case. This is not a new incident in the prince's life, as the world at large is well aware, there having never been a time since the arrival of the prince at the age of discretion that he has not been dangling after some woman. The names of Mrs. Langtry, Mrs. Cornwallis West, Mrs. James Brown Potter and Lady Brooke—now the Countess of Warwick—are among those familiar to the present generation as having been at one time or another the object of his infatuation, although, in justice both to the prince and to the ladies mentioned, it should be stated that the relations of the prince to them were purely platonic.

Just now the woman who monopolizes the greatest share of the prince's attention is Mrs. George Keppel, one of the most beautiful of the younger matrons in the society world. Mrs. Keppel comes from one of the old aristocratic families of England, being a daughter of Sir George Edmonstone, who died a few years ago. The gossips of society say that the long-suffering Princess of Wales has been driven to desperation by the conduct of her husband with Mrs. Keppel. Naturally, society divides itself into two camps, one for the prince and the other for the princess. The first says that the prince is a much-abused man, declares that his wife is unreasonable, and hints that she is "eccentric," if not insane. The friends of the princess retort that whatever might have been the excuses for the conduct of the prince in former years, they should not apply now. In his young days a disposition to sow wild oats was perfectly comprehensible, but those days are long since passed, and the follies of youth cannot be condoned in the man of 58 and the grandfather.

The situation is a delicate and a momentous one. The great mass of the British people sympathize deeply with the princess, whose amiable nature and upright and Christian character has made her beloved of all classes. The Queen is deeply exercised over the matter, and it is said she severely censured her son for his conduct, without, however, producing any change in his habits. Before the Princess of Wales left England for Copenhagen she spent three hours with the Queen at Osborne, and there detailed her grievances and the motives that impelled her to the course she had decided upon. The prince naturally desired to avoid a formal separation, knowing well the storm of denunciation that would shower upon him from every quarter—a storm that might actually prevent his ever ascending the throne. Hence every effort is being made to prevent this, but it is undeniable that the deepest uneasiness is felt in official circles over the outcome.

ENGLAND'S ROYAL SCANDAL.

MRS. JAMES BROWN-POTTER. MRS. LANGTRY. COUNTESS OF WARWICK. MRS. GEORGE KEPPEL.

NEW IDEAS OF INSURANCE.

Some Day Some One Will Organize a Company Like This.

The insurance solicitor sat in his office in the Rookery, and he was abashed. It takes a great deal to abash an insurance solicitor, but the big man in the opposite chair has been venting his views. The solicitor had been chasing him for six months for a $10,000 policy, and then, after he had run his intended victim into the home office, the doctors had turned him down.

"Told me my liver was out of order," said the big man, indignantly. "Said I had a murmur in my lungs, and talked about a sister who died thirty years ago and a lot more rot like that."

"All of which was no doubt true," said the insurance man, "but," seeing that the big man was going to flare up again, "you need not get alarmed about your health. Some of these days, when I can't make more than $6,000 a year at this business, I'm going to start an insurance company on new lines. I will take all the men that have been rejected by the other companies."

"That would be taking big risks, wouldn't it?"

"I don't think so. In the first place I would charge an extra premium. Then I would bank on human nature. Haven't you noticed that these big, strong fellows, who 'never-had-a-day's-sickness-in-my-life,' go off like a child at the first serious illness? Scared to death, maybe. Anyhow, if you want to see tenacity of life, just study the case of a man in chronic poor health. He takes no chances, guards himself against changes of the weather, applies remedies instantly, and the result is that, while he never enjoys good health, he prolongs his life twice as long as the healthy fellow who takes all kinds of chances. Insurance examiners must report on the physical condition only, and can't make allowances for human nature, but it's there."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Naturally Changed.

Mrs. Newwed—I can't understand it, mamma, but Harry is an altogether different man since we were married.

Mamma—My dear child, I should be alarmed if he were not. A man who remained the same after marriage as he was during courtship would be an anomaly. Really, I should fear there was something wrong in his intellect.—Boston Transcript.

Colony of Epileptics.

In Bielefeld, Germany, there is a colony of epileptics, numbering about 1,500. The colony was established in 1686, and patients from all parts of the world go there for treatment.

One-half the defeats could be turned into victories by a little effort.

WOMAN'S REALM

AGGRESSIVE WOMEN.

No woman can make a greater mistake in life than to adopt an aggressive attitude toward the world. The man who goes about with a chip on his shoulder is bad enough and disagreeable enough, heaven knows, but he is as nothing compared to the woman who is always on the lookout for causes of offense and who makes a kind of human porcupine of herself.

Unhappily for the peace and comfort of the rest of us, the aggressive woman is only too numerous and too familiar a figure. We meet her in the clubs, where she makes a personal question of everything and grows vindictive and spiteful toward all who dare oppose her. She is the bane of churches, where her determination to run things has fomented more quarrels and broken up more congregations, and been the cause of more hard feelings and malice and general uncharitableness than all other causes combined. As a friend, she is a rankling affliction, and as a wife and mother she is scarcely better, for she possesses the peculiar talent for creating discord.

Naturally the aggressive woman is strong on what she calls her rights, and imagines that nothing but her determination not to give way to anybody or anything keeps her from being trodden under foot, says the New Orleans Picayune. Never was there a greater fallacy. The world is a good-humored giant that can be cajoled out of almost anything, but it can never be bulldozed into anything. The very reason that so many of the causes championed by women have failed is because they have had the misfortune to have as their leaders and exponents the rabid and aggressive type of women—women the very tones of whose harsh voices converted you into an instinctive opponent before you had heard a single word they had to say.

There is a curious quality in human nature that prompts us to refuse the thing demanded of us as a right that we are glad to bestow as a gift. Those who insist on having what they call their dues, even down to the smallest fraction, may appear at first to succeed, but there soon rises up a spirit of revolt that finds a rare sport in circumventing them. Many an aggressive woman, so sure that she gets what she wants by fighting for it and demanding it, would be amazed to find how often she is outdone by her servants and tradespeople, to say nothing of her family. There is a homely old proverb that sets forth that vinegar never catches flies, and just from a worldly and selfish standpoint it is worth while to be amiable and to cultivate the gentle virtues of kindness and consideration for others. Women were not meant to fight. They were intended for something sweeter and better than that, and the aggressive woman is a libel on her sex.

Knitted Sleeping Socks.

The following instructions are for warm and comfortable sleeping socks, which are very easily knitted: Two skeins of four-ply fleecy, two bone or wooden needles, No. 5. Cast on 68 stitches—this is for the sole of the sock—increase one stitch, by picking up and knitting the stitch immediately below the second stitch four rows, thus making 72 on the needle. Knit plain for 16 rows. You now begin to decrease for the instep and ankle in the following manner: Knit 34 stitches, knit the 35th and 36th together, knit the 37th and 38th together, knit 34. In the next row knit 33, knit the 34th and 35th together, knit the 36th and 37th together, knit 33. Decrease thus in every row, twice exactly in the middle, until there are 32 stitches left. Knit 24 rows plain without any decrease. Work about an inch in a rib of 2 plain, 2 purl. Cast off very loosely and sew up. This number of stitches makes a full-sized sock.

SLEEPING SOCK.

Plants Dislike Draughts.

Draughts are fatal to growing and pot plants, and cut flowers evince a similar dislike to strong currents of air. To preserve flowers, keep them out of the draught, and remove them from a room that is lit with gas, change the water every day, snip off a little of the stem, and put a lump of charcoal or a little permanganate of potash in, say, two grains to a pint of water.

Florists occasionally, if the heat is intense, syringe cut flowers with iced water. A bell-glass turned over the vase will add materially to the life of the flowers it contains, but one hardly cares to increase their longevity by such means. Still, it may be resorted to in the evening, when the lights are turned on, and one is less critical as to appearances.—New York Press.

Mother Goose Hat.

The Mother Goose hat, past and present.

Thoroughly at Home.

A thoughtful woman, who has the happy faculty of making her guests feel just as comfortable as though they were at home, says nothing shows a narrow, meager mind worse than inability to comprehend or allow for other people's habits which vary from your own. You may be as sure as you exist that hard beds and no pillows are best for health, and yet it may be just as true that some difference in the circulation of the nerves renders feather bed and high pillows indispensable to the well-being of an elderly visitor, or one who is out of health. If you don't wish their stay with you to be a pennance, Consult their habits as far as you can as to the hours of rising and retiring and meals.

She Edits a Paper.

Mrs. Helen Moses is the editor of Missionary Tidings, the official paper of the Christian Woman's Board of Missions, which has its headquarters in Indianapolis. The society celebrated its silver jubilee in Cincinnati recently, in connection with the golden jubilee of the Christian Church missionary societies. The Board enjoys the distinction of being the only missionary society of women which collects and disburses its own funds without any authority of the men of the church.

MRS. MOSES.

What Pleases a Woman.

She likes to be truly loved and to be told so.

She likes some noble, honorable man to be thoughtful of her, kind and considerate of her welfare.

When well and becomingly dressed a quiet notice of it is always appreciated.

A word of praise for a nice dinner often more than compensates her for the worry and hard work of preparation.

She wants her husband not only to be her supporter, but her companion, remembering that it is the kind, thoughtful, appreciative word that often brings her greater happiness than a new set of dishes, though presents like the latter are always welcome.

She likes to be made to realize that she is good for something beside a mere household drudge and slave.

She likes to be petted occasionally, but not in public. The little private pet names are very dear to a woman's heart.

Insane Over Husband's Death.

Pretty Mrs. Caroline Hertz is the most interesting patient the Philadelphia Hospital for the Insane has had in years. Young, beautiful and demented, she has wandered over the whole country, and the other day found her way back again to Philadelphia, the scene of her happy married life. A life's tragedy and a life's sorrow are embodied in this case. Seven months ago the woman's husband met a tragic death beneath the wheels of a train, and her brilliant intellect was shattered. She wandered away, and now, her fortune gone, she is doomed to join the ranks of the pauper insane. She has no relatives in this country.

MRS. HERTZ.

Attractive Dress.

We all know how some women after a year or two of married life get careless about their dress, says a novelist. They seem to think that their fortune is made, and it isn't necessary to arrange the hair becomingly, and put on a pretty gown just for their husbands. This is all wrong, and it is an error that arises from laziness. Men like to see their wives look pretty just as much as they did when they were but sweethearts. Take a woman's advice, and if you can have but one attractive gown let that be the one to wear indoors. Endeavor to have daintily-arranged hair and a neat and simple costume for breakfast. Have well-fitting boots or slippers, as the case may be, and, in fact, study to make yourself just as winsome after the fish is landed as when you were not so sure of him.—Woman's Life.

Manages a Stock Company.

Miss Anna Franosch is manager of the German stock company in St. Louis. This is an unusual position for a woman, but Miss Franosch is capable of fulfilling her duties with credit. Besides being an experienced manager of German stock companies, Miss Franosch is a capable juvenile leading lady.

MISS FRANOSCH.

Remedy for a Sty.

It is claimed that the following recipe will cure a sty: Make a curd by mixing a small pinch of powdered alum with the white of an egg. Place between two pieces of soft lawn and bind over the eye before going to bed. The application may have to be repeated, but the treatment is sure to be successful.

To Make Baby's Hair Curl.

Young mothers may be glad to know that a baby's hair may often be encouraged to curl naturally if it is brushed upward and twisted round the finger while it is wet. Brushing downward rather encourages a child's hair to grow straight.

Fashion's Notebook.

Berthas the newest shoulder trimming for lingerie.

Chiffon ruche edged sashes accompanying the majority of the Venise lace gowns.

Perfectly plain, mannish coat sleeves predicted for cool weather outer garments.

Yellow, green, red, mauve and ciel blue chasing each other in the midsummer color race.

Scallops a craze and will suffer no diminution as the season advances. So fashion's autocrats affirm.

Black velvet belts with cut-steel buckles—decidedly stylish and becoming, too, as they make the waist look more slender.

Black velvet ribbon, topped by a tiny white turnover or a light tint crush satin ribbon tied in a knot and two perky ends in the back, the proper stock of the moment.

SUPPOSE WE SMILE.

HUMOROUS PARAGRAPHS FROM THE COMIC PAPERS.

Pleasant Incidents Occurring the World Over—Sayings that Are Cheerful to Old or Young—Funny Selections that Everybody Will Enjoy.

"Oh, George," wailed the maiden, as she met him in the darkened hallway, "we can't be married to-morrow! It will have to be postponed!"

"What is the matter, darling?" said George, his knees trembling under him. "Is any relative dead? Has your Uncle Hiram failed in business?"

"W-worse than that!" she sobbed. "There is a b-b-boil coming on the end of my nose!"—Chicago Tribune.

A Thoughtful Husband.

"You asked me to bring you some pin money this morning," said the young husband.

"Yes," she replied, with an air of expectancy.

"Well," said he, "I thought I might as well save you a trip downtown, so I brought you a paper of pins instead."—Chicago Tribune.

A Mark of Superiority.

"Wherein does man differ from the lower animals?" asked the professor. And the youth answered, without hesitation:

"He can ride a bicycle."—Washington Star.

Minus Dollars and Pounds.

"Our friend, the meat man, doesn't look as prosperous as he did."

"No; he says that during the hot weather he lost lots of flesh."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Her Correction.

"Mrs. Maycup is always well dressed, isn't she?"

"You mean she wears well?"—Moonshine.

The Divorcee's Marriage.

Mrs. Jones—If the clergymen hesitated, why didn't you get a civil magistrate to marry you?

Mrs. Brown—Oh, I couldn't think of it! It's bad enough for a person of a deeply religious nature to have to be divorced by a magistrate, to say nothing of being married by one.—Detroit Journal.

The Caddie Faux Pas.

"You can't imagine how shocked I was to discover that my caddie smoked cigarettes!"

"The little rascal!"

"Yes, the Scotch almost invariably smoke a pipe, you know."—Detroit Journal.

The Penalty.

Quinn—You look as sour as a pickle. Why don't you look pleasant when on the street?

DeFonte—What! and have everybody I meet stop me for a match, or to tell them where some place is?

One Comfort.

Lady—You ought to be ashamed of yourself. The idea of any one using a newspaper for a bed.

Tramp—Dat's all right, lady; 'twas one of dese "blanket-sheet" Sunday newspapers dat I used.

Weary Willie and Dusty Roads.

Weary Willie—Do yer know, I ain't goin' to de exposition next year?

Dusty Roads—Is dat possible? What's come over yer, Willie?

Weary—Dat blamed Dreyfus decision—I can't stomach dat.—Kansas City Journal.

What He Wanted.

"What kind of umbrella do you want to buy?"

"A rainy-day umbrella."

One Point Scored.

"How about the trust conference?"

"It's great; we had a photograph taken yesterday."

The Server.

Cholly—Me fawther served in the army, you know.

Ida—You don't say! Did he serve rations, drinks or newspapers?

Where Dives Flourish.

Stubb—Think what this glorious country holds for a young man who is seeking fame.

Penn—Yes; take Brooklyn bridge, for instance.

Diplomacy.

Short—Were you at the races yesterday?

Long—No.

Short—Then you are the very man I'm looking for.

Long—Why so?

Short—I want to borrow $5.

Not a Bargain.

"Don't you think," remarked the bankrupt lord to his American wife, "that you ought to call me 'dear?'"

"Yes, I suppose I ought," she replied, "for you certainly are not cheap at any price."

Accusing Conscience.

"I suppose, doctor, you have often put an incurable patient out of his misery, have you not?"

"That question, sir, I consider an insult."

"Why do you jump to the conclusion that I asked if you had ever killed a patient? What I want to know is whether or not you give opiates."

And There Are Others.

Hix—There is one thing I could never understand about these political glee clubs.

Dix—And what is that?

Hix—Where the glee comes in.

Sweet Revenge.

Mrs. Greene—How came you to recommend that girl you had to Mrs. Gray? You know you said you actually hated the girl.

Mrs. Brown—Yes; but I don't hate her as much as I do Mrs. Gray.—Boston Transcript.

Carrying Out Instructions.

"Well, boy, did you tell your mistress I was here?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well—what did she say?"

"She said I was to say she had been out for a quarter of an hour."—Moonshine.

A Collision.

Sam Sparks—Brudder, 'doan' yo' advise ebery member to walk in der narrer paf?'

Brudder Sassafras—Coase Ah do, boy; what ob it?

Sam Sparks—Nuffin', brudder; only Ah wonders what is gwine to happen when some ob our stout membahs meet on der narrer paf comin' frum opposite directions.

A Cruel Joke.

Sandy Pikes—Billy, de wickedness of dis world is appallin'.

Billy Coalgate—What's de matter, now, pard?

Sandy Pikes—Why, I went over an' asked dat lady fer a quarter to get me hair trimmed.

Billy Coalgate—What did she say?

Sandy Pikes—Asked me if I'd have it trimmed wid ribbon or lace.

A Shaker.

Doctor—Did you notice the direction on that bottle?

Larry—Yis, sor; it said "shake well before using."

Doctor—Well, did you obey?

Larry—Yis, sor; Oi shook lolke th' ould boy. Oi had a chill.

An Object Lesson.

"Holy gee, Bill! Patsy's fadder caught him smoking cigarettes!"

Perplexed.

Pearl—Our minister has been standing in front of that store for the last hour. I wonder if he is waiting for anyone?

Ruby—No; he just tied two knots this morning.

Pearl—Matrimonial knots?

Ruby—No; handkerchief knots. He is trying to remember what his wife put them there for.

Willing to Give It Away.

Hix—Say, you want something for that cough, old man.

Dix—No, I don't. I'll give it to any one for the asking.

An Increase.

Banker—You and the boy in the adjoining office appear to be good friends.

Jimmy—Yes, sir; we wuz raised together.

Banker—Ah!

Jimmy—Yep; his boss give him a dollar more de same time you did me.

Edging That Way.

"Are you and Mr. Simpson engaged, Kitty?"

"Not exactly, but we hold about six primary meetings every week."

A Long-Felt Want.

Hoax—I have just patented an invention that will be of incalculable benefit to the human race.

Joax—What is it?

Hoax—A phonographic collar button that will make its own profanity when it rolls under the bureau.

Taking It in Trade.

One of the disadvantages of doing business by barter is suggested by a story in the Golden Penny.

"Doctor," said a man to his medical attendant, who had just presented a bill of thirty-five shillings for treatment during a recent illness, "I have not much ready money. Will you take this out in trade?"

"Oh, yes," cheerfully answered the doctor. "I think we can arrange that; what is your business?"

"I am a cornet-player," was the reply.

Good Effects of Singing.

Army Doctor Barth of Koeslin, Germany, says that singing possesses health-giving properties. It intensifies, he says, the respiratory movements, thus rendering the lungs capable of dealing with more air. This increases and strengthens the action of all the organs of the body, appetite and thirst increase, and the more frequent movements of the diaphragm and the wall of the abdomen materially aid digestion.

AUBURN WEEKLY COURIER.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF DeKALB COUNTY

JAMES A. BARNS, Editor.

Registered at the Auburn, Indiana, postoffice as second-class matter.

THURSDAY... NOVEMBER 2, 1899.

Hustled When Young.

The Kendallville News, speaking of a hustling town of hustling people, says:

Three Oaks, Michigan, has won lots of glory. It won the Dewey cannon and then it was one of the towns that President McKinley had on his list to stop at in his recent tour through that state. A copy of the Press, published there, has been sent us, which gives us an idea what the town is. They evidently have some hustling people there.

The COURIER editor knew Three Oaks when the first houses were built and remembers distinctly the three oak trees from which the town got its name. It was a little station on the Michigan Central between the city of Niles on the east, and the important station of New Buffalo where the railroad strikes Lake Michigan going west. But manufactures to use up all kinds of wodd soon started up, and the town grew. In a few years all kinds of timber were gone, even the cheap logs they had been making into wooden water pipes. Then "Ed" Warren, a live Yankee seeing the timber disappear looked about him for some other material that would hold out longer. He struck the idea of utilizing the feathers wasted at the establishment where chickens, turkeys, etc., are slaughtered. He invented new machinery and hung on to his ideas, and now the "Feather Bone" articles made at Three Oaks, Mich., are known over the world and Ed Warren is as wealthy as he is energetic. It was he, mainly, who secured the Dewey cannon and will have a visit from Dewey himself, for he went to New York at the great parade, and the great admiral gave him a promise. We knew Ed when he and the writer were young, and we wish to say to the boys of Auburn, that while he was not stingy he saved his earnings, for he was as poor as the rest of us. He did not smoke, drink or chew, but was happy and contented and respected without any of these things.

Bridge Contracts Let.

At their special meeting today the county commissioners awarded the contracts for the construction of two bridges in Butler township, one of eighteen and the other of forty feet span. There were six bids, on each bridge, as follows:

SMALL BRIDGE.

Canton Bridge Co	$444 00
Wabash Bridge Co	448 60
Attica Bridge Co	455 75
Lafayette Bridge Co	469 00
Cincinnati Bridge Co	475 00
Newcastle Bridge Co	499 50

LARGE BRIDGE.

Wabash Bridge Co	$847 50
Lafayette Bridge Co	853 00
Attica Bridge Co	853 50
Canton Bridge Co	869 00
Newcastle Bridge Co	899 50
Cincinnati Bridge Co	950 00

The contracts were awarded to the Canton and Wabash companies respectively.

78th S. S. Institute.

The Richland township Sunday school institute will be held at Maple Grove church, a half mile south of Sedan, on Saturday of this week, Nov. 4, beginning at 9:30. The forenoon exercises will be by J. W. Bateman, L. D. Husselman, C. E. Moorman, A. E. Gaff, with singing led by L. W. Treesh.

The dinner will be at the church and then follows the afternoon work by J. U. Higgs, S. J. Mellinger, A. H. Tussing with a song led by Mrs. Geo. Knauer. There will be no evening session.

As usual, great pains have been taken to have a good program and make the meeting a success. The officers: H. M. Fretz, president; Emory Shook secretary; executive committee, J. E. Amstutz, L. D. Husselman, F. C. Scattergood and C. H. Bangs.

Many Claims Filed.

Deserted wives of pensioners are taking advantage of the law enacted by the last congress providing that one-half the pension be paid the wife on proof of abandonment. More than 2,000 of these claims have been filed with the pension bureau, nearly all of which have received favorable action. The pensioner in nearly every case combats every prospective curtailment of the amount he ultimately receives, but the proofs furnished by the abandoned wife have almost invariably outweighed his arguments and the percentage of applications rejected by the bureau is extremely small. Thirty days' notice is given to the pensioner within which he may show cause why the division should not be made.

LICENSE TO WED

The following couples have been licensed to wed since our last report: Charles A. Christoffel and Gertrude Mason; Wesley A. Eckhart and Annie May Bell; Arthur F. Schumaker and Mary C. Barnes; Peter Helwig and Annie W. Shaffer; William C. Tomlinson and Jessie A Ulham; Allen J Snively and Ida M. Britzius; Jacob P. Cox and Alma Henney; John A. Melton and Alta Grogg.

SUMMER COMPLAINT

easily cured by the use of Beggs' Diarrhoea Balsam; it is safe and sure. H. B. McCord's drug store.

COURT NEWS

In the case of Azam Foltz and Alvira R. Bishop vs. William Foltz and others, partition, a report was filed by D. M. Link, commissioner, of the sale of one tract of land. The other tract had been sold, but the purchaser failed to complete the purchase and it was ordered resold.

The plaintiff in the case of Martha E. vs. James Love, divorce, has filed a motion for a change of venue from Judge Hartman.

Some days ago a suit was filed by Frank S. Roby against Thomas S. Wickwire, John F. Shuman, Daniel M. Link and R. Wes McBride, with Clerk Long also one of the parties defendant. This case grows out of the division of the attorneys' fees in the case of Kelly vs. the Wabash read. As our readers will remember, the supreme court recently affirmed the judgment in favor of Kelly. As we understand it, the suit was filed for Kelly by Mr. Wickwire, who was assisted at various points in the case by the other attorneys. Mr. Wickwire was to receive a certain percentage of the money recovered, and to secure other counsel if necessary. Mr. Kelly, we believe, has received his portion of the money, and now the attorneys seem to be in a tangle over the balance. A number of points have been argued, and yesterday the plaintiff filed a motion and affidavit for a change of venue from Judge Hartman. The case promises to be warmly contested.

In the circuit court this morning a divorce suit was filed—Emanuel T. Musser vs. Rebecca Musser, and the matter was brought up before Judge Hartman. In view of the haste to bring the matter to an issue and the evident willingness of both parties to separate, the court thought there must be something wrong and proceeded to "set down" on the whole business in a most vigorous mannerr After forcibly expressing his views in the matter he declined to grant a decree and dismissed the case from the docket. So Emanuel and Rebecca will have to wait awhile for their divorce.

The jury in the case of John Clark vs. William Leas on account, brought in their verdict today, finding for the plaintiff in the sum of $74.56.

The Improved Swineford.

The Swineford House additions and improvements are progressing nicely. The new kitchen was occupied about a week ago, and workmen are fitting up and finishing the rooms above for sleeping apartments for the girls employed in the establishment. Workmen are hammerng on all three stories of the west addition which is the new sample room. This building is in fact four stories for there is a good basement under all of it, one part of which will be a dark cellar for the storage of vegetables. In the first floor proper are three separate sample rooms, as experience has shown that several traveling men are liable to be there at the same time. They will be very convenient, as they all face on the street and the floor is as high as the ordinary drays that will bring and carry these heavy articles. The second and third stories above the sample room floor will be occupied by sleeping apartments for guests. Modern water closets of the best arranged kinds will soon be done; all parts of the establishment will have the benefit of sewerage connections and city water; more complete arrangements for lighting, are being fitted up, a greater supply of soft water is secured by additional cisterns. Altogether, this popular establishment will soon be one of the most complete in this part of the state, and we feel like complimenting Mrs. Swineford on her business ability, judgment and energy.

HOW TO PREVENT A COLD.

After exposure or when you feel a cold coming on take a dose of Foley's Honey and Tar. It never fails and will prevent Pneumonia or Consumption if taken in time. H. B. McCORD.

WARNING.

We the undersigned give warning, to hunters, that no hunting will be allowed on our farms or on farms we have charge of. All those found hunting without permission of the owner, will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Wm. Merica	G. W. Burtzner
J. Wildeson	Ora Kuhlman
H. A. Lung	Perry Noel
Wm. Carson	Phillip Noel
Ambrose Heitz	Wm. Easley
E. E. Housel	David Gump
A. S. Baker	Daniel Lung
Jacob Bishop	Joseph Heitz
M. L. Hoffman	L. S. Ober
Joseph Pepple	C. H. Baber
A. N. Thrush	P. N. Weaver
James E. Holman	John E. Lung
Henry T. Smith	J. H. Benninghoff
Nicholas Lung	Geo. Reever
B. F. Hawver	H. L. Houser
J. A. Kelham	Wilber Hawver
David Heitz	John Stonestreet
Joshua Miller	Harvey A. Clark
Jacob Chisholm	Daniel Weaver
W. H. Fair	David Rineholdt
Samuel Hawver jr,	David S. Ober
Frank Yarde	Joseph Weller
H. W. Embrey	Wm. Imler
Aaron Balliet	Geo. Kelham
O. F. Clark	Samuel Downed
O. C. Clark	Lewis Duket
Geo. W. Probst	Mrs. Fortner
B. F. Hess	Henry Smith 46

Notice to Hunters.

Notice is hereby given that we the undersigned will not allow any hunting on our farms:

Mrs. A McCurry,	Mary Provines,
M Myers,	J M Hough,
James H Farver,	John Miser,
Jacob Magginis,	W D Miller,
A Provines,	J W McClellan,
F W Stoops,	Wm. Magginis,

News of the Day.

Tuesday's Daily.

The last troops of the army corps to be sent to South Africa, left England Friday. It is a long sea voyage down the west coast of Africa, and on their safe and rapid journey depends the fate of the English in that country.

Gen. Lee says the people of Cuba are getting along well under American protection and rebuilding homes, farms, and other improvements wasted by the civil war there. He says that in the main, they are not yet fitted for full independence but will be soon, and then we must gradually let them have their own government. He says he has faith that they will eventually be all right.

Gen. Joe Wheeler writing from the Philippines, does not seem to have a very high idea of the common people there. He says the poorer class dislike the friars of the Catholic church, who are very numerous, as they are very aggressive in their dealings with the natives. He also finds many wealthy people who fear the Americans will allow universal suffrage, which they say, would deprive the wealthy of many rights and give the same to the poor and ignorant. He says we ought to explain to both these extreme classes just what we expect to do, and that we will see that all classes have their proper rights. He says the people are generally illiterate, and all work is done much as it was in Bible days. There is but one tribe making war. And that is the Tagalogs, who occupy eight provinces in the neighborhood of Manila. The most of the others on that island and the other islands are going about their business. He says that he has just been riding outside of camp a few miles in all directions, and finds men, women and children all busy at farming and don't seem to care for the war. Yet a force of hostile Tagalos has been about eight miles from there all summer.

Auburn Girl Weds.

[Quincy (Mich.,) News.]

Tuesday evening, Oct. 24th, the Rev. D. J. Mitterling was again called upon to perform the ceremony that marks the most important events in the lives of two of Quincy's well known and popular young people, when Mr. Whyland P. Gregory and Miss Rowene Tefft were united in marriage at the home of Mrs. J. J. Gregory, East Jefferson street. The bride was a student of the Quincy high school in the class of '97-'98, and was during her stay here, very popular among her acquaintances. During the past year she has been a student in a commercial college at Grand Rapids. The groom is one of Quincy's popular and excellent young men and holds a position with the Michigan Portland Cement Co. as stock keeper. May such sunshine and happiness attend these united hearts as they walk down the pathway of life is the sincere wish of their many friends.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

DeKalB's Health Officers.

Dr. Fitch is the health officer for the town of Auburn; Dr. Stewart, for Garrett; Dr. Bowman, for St. Joe; Dr. Fanning for Butler; Dr. F. Bevier, for Waterloo. Dr. Phillips will attend to the matter at Corunna, though it is not an incorporated town. To get a burial permit, the law requires that they go to the nearest health officer, and a burial permit cannot be issued without a certificate of death from the attending physician. In case no physician had been called, then some member of the household must furnish the certificate, or the physician who has been the regular doctor may make out the certificate.

D. A. SEBRING,
County Health Officer.

Bismark's Iron Nerve

Was the result of his splendid health. Indomitable will and tremendous energy are not found where Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, and Bowels are out of order If you want these qualities and the success they bring, use Dr. King's New Life Pills. They develop every power of brain and body. Only 25 cents at H B. McCord's Drugstore.

Will Grind Buckwheat.

Buckwheat will be ground at the South End Mills, Auburn, on Tuesday and Friday of each week, beginning Oct. 24. Special machinery is being added to extract sand and other impurities from the grain, and insure a clean, pure flour.

Notice to the Public.

The requisitions for supplies for the county officers for the year 1900, are now on file in the auditor's office for public inspection, as required by law.

FRANK P. SEILER, Auditor.
Auburn, Oct. 25, 1899.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.

Take Warner's White Wine of Tar Syrup, the best cough remedy on earth. 25 and 50 cents.—F. E DAVENPORT

Rye Wanted.

I will pay 40 cents a bushel for first-class rye. Call at Eagle Mills, Auburn.
I. O. BACHTEL. tf

CLUB NOTES

The L. L. C. met at the home of Mrs Lackey Saturday afternoon with a fair attendance although the weather was very unfavorable. After the business session which was of unusual interest, the balloting for election of a new member, Mrs. Maude Robbins, took place, resulting in the unanimous vote of the Club in her favor. The club will cordially welcome Mrs. Robbins to a place on the roll of members. The literary part of the program was filled and well given, "Some Phases of Art," was given by Miss Margaret Buckley. It was a well prepared paper and enjoyed very much by those present.

Mrs. Nettie Eckhart gave a sweet little ballad entitled "Just You and I". This was greatly enjoyed by the club and a request was made to have her sing it again. Mrs. Ford's place on the program was taken by Mrs. Barns who read a paper on "Loyalty."

Mrs. Sprott gave a delightful paper, entitled, "An Ideal Home and its Moral Influence." It was full of good things, and if all the homes were the "ideal" ones that she portrayed the world would be a delightful place in which to live. Discussions followed each paper. The visitors present were Mrs. Dr. Spooner of Peru, and Miss Anderson of Virginia. Mrs. Lottie Cochran was with the club probably for the last time before her departure for her home in Arizona. Club meets next Saturday with Mrs. J. E. Rose.

WHEELMEN

should never be without a box of Beggs' German Salve; it gives instant relief. Heals sores, cuts, bruises and chafing. H. B. McCord's drug store.

BUTLER.

Butler has contributed quite a colony to the population of Port Huron. Clyde Wilson and Mr. Stowberger moved there last week.

There are many changes in residence among Butler people now. A number of new families are moving in.

The Church of God friends have imported a minister from Benton Harbor, Mich. He comes among us well recommended, and the writer for the people of Butler bids him welcome and hopes for his success.

Rev. Frech of the M. E. church will commence a protracted effort on the second of November, assisted by an evangelist from abroad. There is a wide field open for an improved condition among our people.

The Butler barbers foolishly open their shops and violate the Sabbath and the statutes of the state by working on Sunday. One of them expressed a wish that they all might be arrested and fined.

Uncle Peter Helwig was quietly married to Mrs. Anna Rench-Wait-Shaffer at Waterloo last Sunday. Their combined ages are 127 years. May the evening of their lives be joyous and prosperpus.

Miss Lizzie Champion has been very sick during the past week. She is at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. A Campbell.

Mrs. Fry, the aged wife of Daniel Fry, 2½ miles southeast of Butler, was buried last Sunday. Funeral at U. B church in Butler by Rev. McCloe.

The canning factory has canned about 8000 bushes of apples. They will soon be through for the season.

Will Tomlinson stole a march on the Will Squires family last week by slyly marrying Mrs Squires' niece, Miss Jessie Uhlam, very much against their wishes. Miss Uhlam is attending the high school, and just took a few minutes off at noon and was married in her school dress by Rev. Frech. May their hastily married life be attended by all of life's blessings.

NOTICE.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on two 25 cent bottles or boxes of Baxter's Mandrake Bitters, if it fails to cure constipation, billiousness, sick-headache, jaundice, loss of appetite, sour stomach, dyspepsia, liver complaint, or any of the diseases for which it is recommended. It is highly recommended as a spring tonic and blood purifier. Sold liquid in bottles, and tablets in boxes. Price 25 cents for either. One package of either guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. E. M. FISCHLER, F. E. DAVENPORT, HOWARD MCCORD.

Public Announcement.

I have at my home upstairs over Sheet's tailor shop on west Seventh-st, Auburn, a number of the popular high arm, vertical feed, Davis' sewing machine, the only upper feed sewing machine on earth. Will sell them at prices to suit the times. Don't fail to call and see them before you buy. d&wtf
WM. MAXWELL.

HUMBUGS

are they who tell you other cough syrups are just as good as Beggs' Cherry Cough Syrup. If you can not get it from your druggist notify us at once and on receipt of 25 cents we will send you a bottle. Guaranteed. McCord's.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

CONSUMPTION CURE.

Warner's White Wine of Tar Syrup, the best cough remedy on earth, cures a cold in one day if taken in time. 25 and 50 cents.—F. E. DAVENPORT. wtf.

Give it a Trial.

It will surprise you. It will restore the life and beauty to your hair, stops dandruff and the hair from falling out. Beggs' Hair renewer. H. B. McCord's.

Obituary.

John Meek, sr., was born in Green county, Penn., April 23, 1810, and died at Waterloo, Ind., Oct., 28, 1899, aged 89 years, 6 months and 5 days. He was united in marriage to Phebe Headly, January 10, 1833. To this union were born three daughters and one son, Francis, who died in his country's service at Vicksburg, August 31, 1863. From that marriage Phebe alone survives and was present at his demise.

Mr. Meek's second marriage was to Mahala Chappell, January 6, 1842, who died July 3, 1846. William Walter Meeks, the only son of this marriage, died March 4, 1843. He was married the third time, December 28, 1846 to Orpha Chappell and to them were born six children, five of whom survive, namely William W., Charles M., Etta, Ida E., and John jr. Orpha E. died February 18, 1860.

In his early manhood he obeyed the gospel, and joined church, becoming a member of the Disciples of Christ in which faith he lived and died. He leaves to mourn his loss a loving wife, six children, seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. The funeral services were at the home, October 30, by Rev. J. N. Wilson of Auburn, and interment in the Waterloo cemetery.

Obituary.

Susannah Smith Hanlon was born in DeKalb county, Ind., January 12, 1868, and died at Swan, Noble county, Ind., October 4, 1899, aged 31 years, 8 months and 22 days. December 13, 1888, she was united in marriage to Robert W. Hanlon, who has preceded her to the spirit land. To them were born three children, two sons and one daughter, who with three sisters, one brother and numerous relatives are left to mourn her loss. For the past two years she had been a constant sufferer of the dread disease consumption. During her long illness she bore her suffering with the greatest patience. A few weeks ago she was received into the German Baptist church by baptism. From that time she seemed resigned to the will of the Lord, but always expressed a desire to live for her children. Services conducted at Cedar church by Rev. Henry Steckly, from Matt. 24:44. She was laid to rest by the side of her husband in the Cedar cemetery.

GIVEN UP BY FOUR DOCTORS.

BEAVER DAM, O.

My daughter, after being treated by four doctors and being given up for lost, a neighbor recommended Foley's Kidney Cure. Today she is able to walk several miles without fatigue. I feel we would have lost her if it was not for your medicine.—Respectfully, MRS. J. M. BAILEY.—H. B. MCCORD

W.A. Davidson

The Jeweler.

A 6282

Headquarters for High Grade Watches Clocks and Jewelry at Lowest Prices. Call in an get prices. No trouble to give information. Fine line of Ladies' Circle Combs.

Repairing and Engraving done to suit you.

W. A. Davidson,
The Jeweler
Successor to F.J. Yeabers.

William's Kidney Pills

Has no equal in diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs. Have you neglected your Kidneys? Have you overworked your nervous system and caused trouble with your Kidneys and Bladder? Have you pains in the loins, side, back, groins and bladder? Have you a flabby appearance of the face, especially under the eyes? Too frequent desire pass urine? William's Kidney Pills will impart new life to the diseased organs, tone up the system and make a new man of you. By mail 50 cents per box.
WILLIAMS MFG. CO., Props., Cleveland, O.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn

MICA AXLE GREASE

lightens the load—shortens the road.

helps the team. Saves wear and expense. Sold everywhere.
MADE BY STANDARD OIL CO.

PILES Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment will cure Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles. It absorbs the tumors, allays the itching at once, acts as a poultice, gives instant relief. Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment is prepared for Piles and Itching of the private parts. Every box is warranted. By druggists, by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents and $1.00. WILLIAMS MANUFACTURING CO., Props., Cleveland, Ohio.
Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

..THE..

Almighty Dollar

Is the dollar you spend with us because we give the greatest value for your money.

Quality is of first importance. Quality joined with low prices is the Buyer's Bonanza. We keep quality, and we sell at low prices

See our splendid stock, full of good quality and for sale at prices that make the dollar mighty.

You can't go wrong when you buy from us, because we have just one way of doing business, and that is to give a dollar in good quality for a dollar of any man's money.

MEN'S, BOYS' & CHILDREN'S CLOTHING

HATS, CAPS and GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.....

THE NEWEST STYLES IN GREATEST VARIETY

Read over a few prices quoted below, and many hundred more just such great bargains, which, for want of space, we must omit. Come and see us. You will be surprised at what you can buy for little money.

Men's Suits

Men's Business Suits at..... $3 50
Men's Good Clay Worsted Suits at..... 5 00
Men's Extra Fine Imported Clay Worsted, Tailor-made, Cutaways and sacks, cut in latest styles, at..... $10.
Men's all-wool Scotches, in plaids. latest cut.... 7 50

Boys' Suits

Boys' all-wool long pants Suits at..... 2 50
Boys' all-wool long pants Suits at..... 6 00
Boys' all wool long pants Suits, Scotches, in Plaids, cut in latest styles..... 7 50

Child's Suits

Children's suits, ages 3 to 15, at..... 98c
Children's suits, ages 4 to 15, at..... 1 50
Children's suits, ages 4 to 15, at..... 2 00

Underwear

Men's fine heavy weight Underwear at..... 25c
Men's extra heavy weight Fleece-lined..... 38c

Hats and Caps

Men's black and brown fine dress Hats, Fedora and Pasha, at..... 1 00
Men's black and brown fine stiff Hats, in all late styles, at $1.00 and..... 1 50

Men's Overcoats

Men's Black, Blue and Brown Beaver Overcoats, the kind our competitors sell at $7 and $8, but our price is only..... 4 75
Men's Black and Blue Overcoats, an all-wool Kersey, it is a bargain at $10.00 Our price..... 7 00
Men's Nobby Dress Covert Overcoats, made up the best known anywhere; up-to-date and sold other places for $2 to $3 more; our prices are $4 50, $5 50, $6.50 7 50

Mackintoshes

We carry a complete line and and can sell them to you at prices lower than ever; ask to see them.
Men's Cape Coats..... 1 48
Men's Box Coats..... 2 50
Men's Blue and Black Tricot, guaranteed.... 4 00

Young Men's and Boys' Overcoats.

Young Men's Black, Blue and Brown Beaver Overcoats. We bought these before the advance in raw material and are selling them at prices at which you can all afford to wear one.... 3 75
Young Men's Covert Overcoats, Swell dressers, very latest. Fine garments at $4.50, $5.50 and.... 6 00
Boys' and Children's Overcoats. You cannot afford to let your boys go without one at the low prices we are selling them.

Rubber Coats

A good, heavy Drill Coat, guaranteed to turn water. Cannot be duplicated anywhere for less than $3 00. Our price on these is..... 1 98
You ought to have of them for rainy weather. Look at 'em.

SHOES: We carry a fine line of Men's and Boys' shoes, in all styles, black or tan. We save you 50 per cent on all shoes bought of us.

$1.00 worth of goods bought of us is $1.00 saved. Money saved is money earned. Now is the time to get the best and get it cheap from our grand new stock of Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing, Shoes, Gents' Furnishing Goods, Hats, Caps, &c.

J. BAILER'S

Clothing and Shoe House.

Doors North Farmers Bank, AUBURN, IND.

Now Is the Time

TO BUY a

Wilson Heating and Ventilating Machine

They are the Greatest of all Modern Scientific Inventions.

They Save Fuel,
Will Burn Anything,
Perfectly Safe & Clean

Will Hold Fire and are Easily Regulated. We sold Eighty-Nine of them last winter, and as far as we know they are all giving good satisfaction. They are moderate in price and within the reach of all.

Buy none but the genuine Wilson and you will be both pleased and satisfied.

SOLD ONLY BY

Culbertson & Boland,

G. W. LACKEY,

North Main Street, Auburn, Ind.

Invincible Values:

Every day in each of the many departments of this BIG STORE. You may choose from complete assortments in honest qualities and newest styles—every purchase here means economy in the fullest sense of the word.

Suits, Jackets and Capes.

Every one beautiful and attractive, every one man tailored and workmanship equal to the best made-to-order garments. Every Jacket perfect fitting—every Skirt perfect hanging.

Ladies' tailor-made suits of all-wool Venition, Tweeds and Camel Hair, with and without overskirts, in black, grey, cadet, royal and navy blue. Jackets satin or taffeta silk lined. Skirts lined with percaline or silk and the prices range from

$5.00 to $12.50

Tailor-made Jackets, good quality Kersey, stitched seams, self or velvet collars, good quality silk or satin lining in castor, brown or black. We start them at $5.00 and up.

Plush Capes, 30-inches long, full sweep, well lined

$5.00

Silk Seal Plush Capes, silk lined, 30-inches long, a good serviceable garment at $10.00

Misses' Jackets in Kersey Golf Cloth, very stylish

$4.00 to $8.00

Large line of children's Jackets sizes 4 to 12 years, from

$2.00 up

Golf Capes.

Medium and long made of beautiful double faced Shawls and Cheviots. We have them for ladies and misses, have been a been a very popular garment this season, The prices start at $5.00 and up to $10.50

Separate Skirts.

A lot of black brocade skirts, percaline lined, well made, at $1.49

Large assortment of Crepon, Grey Homespun, Cheviots and Serge skirts, 23 to 30 in waist measure $4.98

Furs.

Collerettes in black Martin, Monkey, Electric Seal, Stone Martin, etc., from

$2.98 to $18.00

Muffs in Electric Seal, Martin, etc., from 75c to $2.75

Autumn Millinery

The daily throngs show that ladies of taste do not loose sight of this important department. We feel a worthy pride in this season's display. The hats are beautiful, representing all the leading styles—and the prices are distinct triumphs. We want you to come and enjoy the result of our efforts.

G. W. LACKEY,

Auburn, Ind.

Burglars!...

WE HAD 'EM

.....They were after a pair of our Men's Fine Shoes. But when they seen the price marked on the boxes (in plain figures) they concluded they would come in and buy a pair, as we sell them cheaper than they could steal them.

You will be surprised too at the quality and prices we are offering men's fine shoes.

COME IN
(in the day-time)

Bishop & Beidler

YOUR SHOEMAKERS.

Old King Coal

is always at home in a JEWEL STOVE or RANGE, burns freer, gives better service with least amount of waste.

Jewel Stoves and Ranges

embody the most advanced scientific principles in stove building. For heating or cooking, for economy of cost, cheapness of operation, efficiency, cleanliness and desirability JEWELS stand supreme. Famous for over 30 years. 3,000,000 in use.

Jewel Stoves are sold by

Pioneer Hardware Co., Auburn.

Tourist Sleeping Car Line.

PERSONALLY CONDUCTED TOURIST SLEEPING CAR LINE BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND LOS ANGELES, VIA THE WABASH AND ATCHISON, TOPEKA, & SANTA FE R'Y.

On November 1st the Wabash railroad in connection with the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway will inaugurate a through weekly tourist car line between St Louis and Los Angeles on Sundays at 8:28 a. m. Eeastbound car will leave Los Angeles on Monday at 9:50 a m., arriving in St. Louis on Thursday at 6:15 p. m.

Particulars will be gladly furnished on application.

LIVERITA

THE UP-TO-DATE
LITTLE LIVER PILL
CURES
Biliousness, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sick-Headache and Liver Complaint.
SUGAR COATED.

Sold by all druggists or sent by mail.
Nervita Medical Co., Chicago

Davenport, The Druggist.

Monday's Daily.

—Fuller Metcalf goes on the 1900 list today.

—M. J. Thomas, Corunna's leading merchant, was here Saturday on business.

—Geo. King of Franklin was a caller today, and helped push the good work along with a cash lift.

—Adam Weirick sent us his subscription last Saturday by Milo Thomas. Friend Weirick is always on time.

—Mrs. Cook Ford went to St. Mary's, O., Saturday and will visit her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Collett, for a few days.

—Ladies who take pride in beautiful, clear white clothes should use Russ' Bleaching Blue. Refuse imitations.

—MARRIED:—At the residence of, and by Rev. W. O. Butler, Oct. 29, 1899, Mr. John A. Melton to Miss Atta Grogg.

—Frank Winegard did the agreeable thing to the COURIER office Saturday in the way of subscription and has thanks.

John Wilson of Wilmington was in town today. He has been suffering considerably from rheumatism, but is improving.

—WANTED:—Black Walnut logs for timber. Highest cash prices paid for same. Address, The Sanders & Egbert Co., Goshen, Ind. 8

—Blue Beaver Dress Overcoats at $5 50, $7 00 and $8.50. Don't buy till you see them. $1.75 cheaper than last fall.—G. H. YESBERA, Auburn.

—J. R. Lanning was a caller this forenoon. He is looking as natural as he was swearing the boys as county clerk years ago, only a little older of course.

—Miss Mary Essig like ladies in general, never lets a debt get ahead of her, and so on Saturday paid her subscription to the old reliable COURIER way into 1900.

—Fred Sodtman jr was in town today and paid up on his COURIER. He talks of moving to some other locality but we think industrious young men can get along all right here.

—I S. Miller, the farmer who lives right in the corner of the county and faces on Steuben and Noble, was here Saturday, and although on the 1900 list already put his subscription ahead again.

—Chas. Adams of Kankakee, Ill., youngest son of Dr. Adams, was here over Sunday. The doctor shipped his personal belongings to Kankakee today and will make his home with his son there.

—The storks were out Saturday evening and about eight o'clock favored Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hoffman with a call, leaving a bouncing 10-lb boy. Dr. Baxter reports all well and Oscar the happiest man in town.

—Cornelius Vanderbit, feeling that he has been badly treated by his family, will cut loose from them, sell all the stock he has in the Vanderbilt roads and have nothing to do with the family. He and his wife's father will start a bank.

—Wash Link and wife went to Huntington Saturday to visit a few days with a daughter there. After their return here they will go to Seattle, Wash., and stay about a year for Mrs. Link's health. They have relatives there.

—The business portion of the town of Wakarusa, Elkhart county, was burned yesterday morning, nineteen business rooms being destroyed. The loss will reach about $60,000 partially insured, The town has no fire protection to speak of.

—November 29, 1849, that is fifty years ago, Judge Mott moved into the house now occupied by his daughter, Mrs. Hodge, having just completed it. She recalls the fact that Uncle Jake Somers helped to carry the brick used in building it.

—The board of state charities is sending out requests to the different county sheriffs for a census of the jail population of the state. It is desired to learn how many persons are detained in the jails as tramps, insane, person serving sentences, etc.

—J. J. Latson is home from a summer's stay with his daughter, Mrs. Balliet in Benzie Co. Mich. He left the DeKalb people up there all well. They have had a fairly good season for everything except peaches, which were a failure almost. They evidently have a plenty to eat for Mr. L. comes home as fat and sleek as a thanksgiving turkey, and twice as happy.

—Farmers everywhere should remember that 1900 is the year for taking the twelfth census, that it is the crops of this year which are to furnish the figures for agriculture, and in order to help along in getting a real census and the true figures, special care should be taken to keep crop records this year, and thus help in this great co-operative work of counting our people and our industries.

—Obe Leas of Waterloo was in town today. He is now living on the old home place north of Waterloo, and he and his brother Dan, are in the hay business. They have arranged a barn in Waterloo at the site of the old tannery, that is 138 feet long 34 feet wide, and have already stored in it 250 tons of prime hay. We might add that though he lives out of town, he has a telephone like the rest.

—Henry Funk has purchased McNabb's south-end meat market and took possession this morning. Mr. Funk is too well known to need any introduction to our readers. He is an energetic and straightforward fellow and well posted in his line of business. These qualifications ought to insure him a good trade, not only among the old patrons of the shop but many new ones as well. We wish him success.

Tuesday's Daily.

—T. S. Murray of Spencerville was here today.

—To be thrice happy, use Russ' Bleaching Blue, don't be deceived by fraudulent imitations.

—Our readers should remember that this is the last week for paying taxes without the usual penalty.

—Mrs. Dr. Squires of Churubusco came up yesterday for a visit with friends, returning home today.

—Go to Sheffer & Chaney for Michigan Lake Salt, a car load just received. Guaranteed not to get hard in the barrel. oct.26w-tf

—Norris Chapel, east of town, is being given a general overhauling, among the improvments being a new belfry and bell.

—Forty-six heavy winter Suits all sizes, we are selling at $4.00 a suit. Buy one and save yourself $2.00.—G. H. YESBERA.

—Dr. Ford, Mrs. Cochran and daughter Mary, and Mrs Dr. Spooner, were guests at dinner yesterday of Mrs. E. T. Cochran.

—Mrs. Minnie Hildebrand of Andrews was called here yesterday on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. John Knoder.

—Lined Gloves 25c, Knee Pants 25c and 35c, Boys' Long Pants 50c, 65c and 75c. Black Dress Hat 50c 75c.—G. H. YESBERA, Auburn.

—WANTED:—To buy small boiler, new or in good condition, 2 to 4 horse power. Inquire at this office or of G. N. Harwood, Moores Ind. tf

—To all points in competition where the fare is $2 or more we have free bus and free baggage to the Junction. tf SPROTT & KNAPP, Agency B. & O. Ry.

A queer dispatch has just reached the outside world from Mafeking, South Africa, which, speaking of the siege by the Boers, says, "All is well. There was a four hours bombardment during which a dog was killed."

—An Allen county physician, Dr. Lipes, was fined $15 and costs the other day for failing to report a case of diphtheria. Through his carelessness the disease has spread and a number of new cases have appeared in the neighborhood.

—Admiral Dewey now has a fine home in Washington, and will soon marry a sister of John R. McLean, democratic candidate for governor of Ohio. She is wealthy and the widow of Gen Hazen, late head of the weather bureau who died in 1887. Dewey's wife died in 1872.

—Mrs Henry Ernest and Miss Etta Pontius of Fairfield were among our visitors today. Mrs. Ernest says her son George and his two sons are now at Peru, this state, the sons being being employed on the Wabash road as engineer and fireman. H. N. Ernest is in Douglas Co. Mo.

—Defiance, Ohio, has the distinction of being the the first town in which was sung, the war song, "We are coming, Father Abraham, 300,000 more." The words had been written by Whittier. A. B. Irving had furnished the music, at a war rally at Defiancet was, isung with great enthusiasm.

—Now comes Atlanta, Georgia, and says that her favorite son, Lieut. Tom Brumby of the Olympia is the real hero of Manila Bay. They insist that he planned the battle that ruined the Spanish fleet and gave us Manila, and last week, the city gave Brumby a royal welcome, making him the central figure of a big parade.

Sunday, the people of Havana turned out in great crowds to visit Cubanas Fortres, near the city, to visit the part of the works where the Spaniards had shot so many Cuban prisoners. A tablet of bronze to commemorate these atrocities, is to be fixed to the wall against which the volleys were fired, and where are many bullet scars.

—L. Bowers received a Bucyrus, Ohio, paper last week with an account of the burning of the barn of his brother, Frank Bowers near that place last Tuesday night about midnight. It was a total loss, destroying over 2,000 bushels of oats, and much other grain, farm implements, etc. The loss is $2,000, with $650 insurance in the Mutual of Crawford county. No cause of the fire is known.

The 20th Kansas, Gen. Funston's men, are coming home from San Francisco, and will probably reach home tomorrow or next day. Only about half the number that sailed for Manila a year and a half ago, are in the regiment. About 100 sick and wounded have been at different times discharged and sent home, and 114 re-enlisted to stay in tue Philippines; 188 were discharged and sent home just before the rest started; 64 accepted discharge to remain and go into business at Manila.

HUMPHREYS' VETERINARY SPECIFICS

A. A. CURES	FEVERS, Lung Fever, Milk Fever.
B. B. CURES	SPRAINS, Lameness, Rheumatism.
C. C. CURES	EPIZOOTIC, Distemper.
D. D. CURES	WORMS, Bots, Grubs.
E. E. CURES	COUGHS, Colds, Influenza.
F. F. CURES	COLIC, Bellyache, Diarrhea.
G. G.	Prevents MISCARRIAGE.
H. H. CURES	KIDNEY & BLADDER DISORDERS.
I. I. CURES	MANGE, Skin Diseases.
J. K. CURES	BAD CONDITION, Staring Coat.

50c. each; Stable Case, Ten Specifics, Book, &c., $5. At druggists or sent prepaid on receipt of price. Humphreys' Medicine Co., Cor. William & John Sts., New York. VETERINARY MANUAL SENT FREE.

NERVOUS DEBILITY,

VITAL WEAKNESS

and Prostration from Overwork or other causes.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specific No. 28, in use over 40 years, the only successful remedy.

$1 per vial, or 6 vials and large vial powder, for $5. Sold by Druggists, or sent post-paid on receipt of price. HUMPHREYS' MED. CO., Cor. William & John Sts., New York.

Wednesday's Daily.

—William W. Wile of Auburn has been granted a patent on a grate bar.

—Mrs. C. A. O. McClellan is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Dr. Sivey, at Fort Wayne.

—Warden Harley retired from the northern prison today and was succeeded by Mr. Shideler.

—J. W. Buck, the partner of J. M. Cherry in the handle factory, was here yesterday on a business trip.

—NOTICE TO FARMERS:—Heavy wool Pants $1.50 per pair, Duck work Coats $1.00, Heavy Caps 25c, 35c and 50c.

—The Rathbone Sisters will meet next Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. E D. Beadle on north Main street.

—Mrs. Henry McGinnis of Newville township came up Monday for a visit with the family of her father John Owens.

—Mrs. Michael Lumm returned to Columbia City this morning after a visit of several days with friends in Auburn.

—H. M. Philips of Ashley was in town yesterday afternoon on business and remained to see "Burr Oaks" in the evening.

—The New handle factory shipped away their first car of finished handles yesterday. It goes to Nortenstern Massachusetts.

—Knee Pant Suits 3 to 16 years old, good heavy one $1.25 suit, better ones at $1.50, $1.95, $2.40 a suit.—G. H. YESBERA, Auburn.

—Mrs. Post has resigned her position as matron of the home for the friendless at Jackson, Mich., and will return to Pennville.

—The recruiting station at Fort Wayne was closed yesterday, and those who desire to serve in Uncle Sam's army will now have to enlist elsewhere.

—Mart Sheets has raised the grade of the sidewalk in front of his block south of the jail, eight inches so to come to the grade of the cement walk next west.

—We have about 100 suit patterns in our merchant tailoring department, prices were $26 and $28, we will make them to order at $18, $20 and $22. G. H. YESBERA, Auburn.

—Otto Widney of Hicksville, son of Samuel Widney of St. Joe, was married at Adrian, Mich., today, and with his bride will at once take up their residence at Hicksville.

—Isaac Grogg, corner Jackson and Fifth streets, makes wood tanks and cisterns cheaper than any other man in county. It will pay you to see him before leaving your order. His work is always first-class. w&d.

—Wils Rohm will have a public sale at his home ¾ mile west and ¾ mile north of Green's Corners on Saturday of next week, Nov. 11, beginning at 1 p. m. There will be a lot of stock, farming implements, grains, etc.

—Several thousand boxes and packages of all sizes and descriptions have been shipped to the Philippines, containing Christmas presents for the American soldiers, have been received for shipment. The government pays the transportation and will rush the packages through without delay.

The Spaniards held prisoners yet by Aguisldo, will not be freed, as he says he wants to keep them to force Spain to recognize the independence of the Philippines. But Spain will not do this, and if she did, no attention would be paid to it. The Spanish prisoners are ill treated, but the few Americans they have are treated fairly well.

—C. P. Houser remembers his first night in Auburn forty-two years ago. His father and family reached Auburn on that night, and found that the town, what there was of it then, believed in celebrating Hallowe'en. There was plenty of racket, and next morning the streets were scattered full of cabbage heads, leaves and stalks and other stuff.

—At Depauw university, the young lady students recently adopted short skirts, like bicycle suits, for everyday wear. Last week the young gentleman students all appeared in public and went to classes with their trousers rolled half way to the knees, displaying stockings of every color and variety, even to the kind that needs darning.

—Howard B. McCord is an ardent sportsman and for a long time has wished for a fine bird dog. His wish was gratified yesterday morning when he received a fine animal of the "scooner" variety, and now all the hunters in town are green with envy. We have it from good authority that S. C. Snyder owns an interest in the dog, and doubtless himself and Mr. McCord will be in the field early on the morning of of November 10, when the quail season opens.

ELM HALL, Mich., Nov. 25, '99.

I am past 69 years of age. I have practiced medicine since that year before the rebellion, but for the past year have done only an office practice. Would you believe that so old a practitioner would step aside from his prejudices to take what is commonly called a patent medicine? For years I have been taking Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It seems to be just what I require When I am tired and languid it braces me up. EDWARD WILSON, M. D.

Volcanic Eruptions

Are grand, but Skin eruptions rob life of joy. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, cures them, also Old, running and Fever Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Felons, Corns, Warts, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Chapped Hands Chilblains. Best Pile cure on earth. Drives out Pains and Aches. Only 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by H. B. McCord the Druggist.

The Autumn ...Feeling

.....in the air will quicken sales on these lines, but there's a hurry tone to the prices too. They'll keep the selling on the double quick for they're values not easily duplicated, Items that you are now thinking of and will line up with your wishes in every feature; that are best for quality as well as values.

Outing in stripe and plaids, in all the pretty shades—light and dark.....Per yd	5c
Chinchilla Outing for ladies underskirts in gray's and red's.....Per yard	8 & 10c
Flannelette, good value at 12c; we sell them at.....	9c
Stockenett per yard.....	10c
Ladies' Umbrellas, Silk Taffeta in colors, good values at $1.75, we will let them go at.....	$1.25
A BARGAIN: Ladies' black silk Umbrella, steel rod, Paragon frame at.....	98c
Children's School Umbrellas at.....	48c
Men's gloves, lined or unlined, otners sell them for 25c a pair; you can have them for	19c
Ladies' fancy collars—something new—from	25c to 48c
Pompadore Combs.....	10 to 15c
Ladies' fancy Underskirts, silk Taffeta ruffles—good values at $2; you can have one for.....	$1.39

Remember Our Line of Blankets!

We can save you money on all these goods. We have them at from 45c to $1.48 per pair.

Hardware:

Handled axes, guarantee every ax at.....98c
Handled axes.....75c
Unhandled axes, guaranteed at.....79c
Padlocks from.....5c to 10c
Axe handles from.....15 to 23c
Saw files, all sizes.....4c to 10c
Steel Shears per pr..24 to 48c
Crumb Brushes.....23c
Hinges, all sizes, per pair from.....4c to 13

GROCERIES.

California Dried Peaches, this year's goods per lb..10c
Full Cream Cheese.....14c
Brooms, each.....15 to 28c
Soda, per lb..... 5c
White Rose toilet soap....
Two cakes for.....5c
Tea Siftings, per lb.....25c
Uncolored Japan Tea, regular 50c goods, per lb ...40c

THE BAZAR STORE,

Auburn, Indiana.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE.

Many of your friends or people whom you know of have contracted consumption, pneumonia or other fatal diseases by neglect of a simple cold or cough. Foley's Honey amd Tar, a safe and pleasant cough medicine, would have saved them. It is guaranteed.—H. B. MCCORD.

At Kansas City last week a fine Hereford calf was sold at auction for $1,110. The calf was the last bit of property owned by the widow of the great cattleman, C. S. Cross who failed a year ago. Marshall Field got the calf for $910, and the widow of another wealthy cattle dealer, added $200 as a gift. Then the bidders who failed to get the calf, said they would help the widow any way, and began to toss silver dollars into the saw dust about the calf. Nearly a peck of these was gathered up.

FOR HOARSENESS.

Geo. A. Pontius, Upper Sandusky, O., writes: I have been using Foley's Honey and Tar for sore throat and hoarseness and find it the best remedy I ever tried. It stopped the Cough immediately and relieved all soreness.—H. B. MCCORD.

—During the last three months the deaths from consumption in Indiana numbered 549, more than from any other disease.

ANY OLD SORE,

Cut, Bruises, or Sprain quickly healed with Banner Salve the greatest healing remedy in the world. 25 cents. —H. B. MCCORD.

IF THE sewers of a dwelling are faulty, or get clogged, it soon becomes so foul that life is not safe in it. That is just what happens to you when the Liver or Kidneys fail in their work. The first little signs are backache, poor appetite, changes in urine and sometimes bowel troubles and dropsical swellings. Do not neglect any of these; Deadly disorders may follow—STOP the mischief in time, use which is sure to bring speedy relief and finally a permanent cure. At druggists, $1.00 per bottle.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver & Kidney Balm

THE DR. J. H. MCLEAN MEDICINE CO. ST. LOUIS, MO.

For sale by F. E. Davenport.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given that I, Daniel M. Link, commissioner appointed by the DeKalb circuit court to sell real estate in a certain case entitled Azam P. Foltz and Levina R. Shoup vs. William Foltz et al, will offer at public sale to the highest bidder, on

Saturday, December 2, 1899,

at the court house door, Auburn, Indiana, the following described real estate, to-wit:

The west half (½) of the west half (½) of the southeast quarter (¼) of section thirty-five (35) township thirty-three (33) north, range thirteen (13) east, in DeKalb county, state of Indiana.

TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, the balance in three equal annual payments; deferred payments to be evidenced by interest-bearing notes waiving relief and secured by mortgage on the premises sold,

4w DANIEL M. LINK, Commissioner.

WHAT A WELL KNOWN R. R. MAN and resident of Lima thinks of Foley's Honey and Tar: I have been troubled a great deal with the backache. I was induced to try Foley's Kidney Cure, and one bottle entirely relieved me. I gladly recommend it to any one, especially my friends among the trainmen, who are generally similarly afflicted.—GEO. H. AUSTIN, Engineer on L. E. & W. R. R.—H. B. MCCORD.

—Over at Columbia City unique invitations were sent out for a Hallowe'en party, in the shape of small pumpkins on which the invitation was painted.

Peter Kuntz, Pres., Chicago;
W. H. Keckler, Treas., Auburn.

The Auburn LUMBER CO.,

Central 'Phone No. 12.

We sell all kinds of Lumber for Building, and Make Window and Door Frames to Order. We can Sell you Doors and Windows and SAVE YOU MONEY. We carry all kinds of Shingles, from $1 per thousand to the very best.

Headquarters for.....

Wood Burnt Bulk Lime.

The Genuine Article

We can SAVE YOU MONEY in PRICE, WEIGHT & QUALITY Come and see us and examine our Lime, and you will be convinced. We also carry Cement, Plastering Hair, Plaster Paris, etc.

Auburn Lumber Co.

Near Wabash Depot AUBURN.

POLITICS OF THE DAY

PROVIDENCE AND THE FLAG.

President McKinley is overworking Providence and the flag. In forty-six speeches delivered by the Chief Executive in his swing around the circle he had used the word "Providence" exactly 104 times.

But while "Providence" is a good, large, mouth-filling word, it has not been quite so popular with the President as the phrase "the flag." This, McKinley had used when he reached the conclusion of his forty-sixth speech just 176 times. In Dakota the other day the President said: "In the Providence of God, who works in mysterious ways, this great archipelago was put into our lap." This is a reverential way of looking at it, perhaps, but it is to be observed that Providence didn't send that check for $20,000,000 to Spain to pay the bill for the lap-filling archipelago.

Doubtless the President would like to make "Providence" responsible for the whole Philippine business, the loss of lives, the vast expenditure of money, the fighting and the folly which are to come.

Commenting on this shuffle on the part of McKinley, the New York World says: "Disguised as 'Providence,' Mr. McKinley bought the Philippine war from Spain. Disguised as 'the flag,' he has been and is 'assimilating' Filipinos, with the soil of their native land. Disguised as 'Patriotism,' he is shouting for the confounding of all traitors who dare to murmur against his performances as 'Providence' or his deeds as 'The Flag.'"

But disguises, to be effective, must not be discovered, and, unfortunately for the President, his masquerading is of the most evident character.—Chicago Democrat.

Paying War Expenses.

When this country has the extra expense of carrying on a war, the only way to meet that enlarged obligation is to increase the taxes on articles of consumption. England has a better and more effective method. With a revenue from income taxes of $100,000,000 a year in times of peace, a slight increase of the revenue tax is all that is needed to meet increased governmental expenditures. The trouble with the nation in this country is that taxes on consumption yield small revenue to the government compared with the great revenue which it brings to the trusts.

Take tin plate, for example. No revenue comes to the government from the tariff on tin plate, but the trust has increased its prices 85 per cent. As a revenue producer, the Dingley tariff has proved a failure and, as Havemeyer says, the protective tariff is the mother of trusts.

Here are a few statistics about the tin plate trust: Under cover of the tariff the trust has enormously advanced prices. To limit the supply and maintain artificially high prices the trust has shut down thirty-four tin-plate mills in the Northern and Eastern States. By this means and by an advance in prices on the American product the trust reaps a profit of $4,650,000 per year, which is devoted to stock dividends, watered on common stock to the extent of 100 per cent. and on preferred stock to the extent of 40 per cent. on real values. The trust is capitalized at $50,000,000—$20,000,000 preferred and $30,000,000 common stock. With a capitalization of $50,000,000, the actual value of the trust's plant is between ten and twelve millions.

Thus it is apparent that the tariff helps not the government, but the trusts, and that when large expenses have to be met the consumer must be taxed while the trusts go unmolested.

What McKinley Issue Means.

"Anti-administration newspapers and orators occasionally exploit the word 'McKinleyism,' but always without conveying any definite meaning to the people," says a Republican contemporary. To be definite, "McKinleyism" is the synthesis of all that "we have outgrown the Constitution" means and implies. This the people understand very clearly if our contemporary does not. McKinleyism represents and stands for a political movement to set aside the Constitution and Declaration of Independence because the country has "outgrown" both of them, which necessitates the adoption of a new line for the conduct of the concerns of the nation which shall transfer the individual sovereignty of the people to the authorities at Washington, and change it from a government of and by the people to a government for the people by those in authority at the capital of the nation.—Kansas City Times.

Patriotism for Aggrandizement.

In one of his speeches last week President McKinley proclaimed that "this is the epoch of patriotism." It would be interesting to learn when, if ever, in past times, in this country, the spirit of patriotism was lower than at present. In the gush of speech Mr. McKinley has inadvertently disparaged the whole glorious past of the American people in attempting to distinguish this as peculiarly the age of patriotism. There are cynics who insist that in the patriotism of this epoch there is a very large admixture of ambition, cant and self-interest.—Philadelphia Record.

Always a Mystery.

It will always be a mystery to many why the President, who was in possession of the facts recited by Attorney General Griggs in his review of the Carter case, allowed the embezzler to wear the uniform of a regular officer in the United States army, wear side arms, draw full pay, exercise authority over honest men and subalterns, and force his presence upon other officers of the army, when he knew his offense and had the evidence before him.—Salt Lake Herald.

Tied by the Philippine Crime.

President McKinley cannot interfere, by offer of arbitration, between Great Britain and the Transvaal. He cannot put himself in the attitude of deploring the conquest of coveted territory by Great Britain, while engaging this country in a war of conquest for like aggrandizement. He cannot affect horror at the shooting of Boers in South Africa for the purposes of establishing the suzerainty of Great Britain over that republic, while killing Filipinos in Luzon for the purpose of establishing the sovereignty of the United States over the Philippines. All this follows ruling the Declaration of Independence out of court.—Pittsburg Post.

"Beneficent Slavery."

"Beneficent slavery," pipes Peace Commissioner Schurman on his return from the Philippines, relative to that peculiar institution in the Sulu Islands. He has the nerve to claim that it is different from his plain, ordinary chattel slavery which brought on the civil war. He chortles cheerfully that the Sulu slaves are to be permitted to buy their own freedom if they want to. Why disturb such a convenient system? It is like the complacent argument of arrogant wealth, "that every American farmer and workman can become a millionaire." This remarkable statement of President Schurman's has opened the eyes of many people to the meaning of imperialism. If slavery is "beneficent" in the Philippines and contract labor is "necessary" in the Hawaiian Islands, the argument should be good for their re-establishment in the United States. If the Constitution can be openly violated in our newly acquired possessions, why not in this country? The negroes are already uneasy over Schurman's suave defense. If McKinley loses the negro vote in the Northern States, as well as that of the anti-imperialists and those Republicans who still object to slavery, he will make rather a sorry showing in the next presidential election.

Another Kind of Liberty.

If the Filipinos are governed by us against their will and under military force, as they must be if governed at all, they will be in a state of vassalage—which is defined as "political independence." They will be subjects, not citizens; vassals, not equals. The "liberty" of which Mr. McKinley speaks is not the liberty for which the Filipinos are fighting. It is not the liberty which we enjoy. It is not the liberty which our Declaration of Independence included among the "unalienable rights" of "all men." No people is free which is compelled to recognize the "sovereignty," however "benign," of another nation.—New York World.

For a Universal Grab.

If the Republicans are going into the expansion business, this is the sensible course for them to pursue. They cannot afford to make a distinction between any two of the territories. Their purpose is to turn the war we had with Spain "for humanity's sake" into a war of conquest, and the best thing they can do is to burn all bridges behind them and grab everything in sight. It becomes more and more apparent that it is to be a grab game, and Mr. McKinley's speech can be construed no other way than being an order to the Republican party to march in and take all. The Democrats now ought to know what they have got to fight.—Chattanooga News.

Only One Class Profits.

So far as can be seen, the only persons who receive any benefit from the government's announcement that it will pay the interest on bonds a year in advance, are the bankers and stock speculators who can lend out all they get at 6 per cent., though they pay no more than 2 per cent. themselves for any money they borrow.—Brooklyn Citizen.

The Unanimous Choice.

New York State may now be counted as squarely for Mr. Bryan, and this fact settles the question of his renomination, knocks the Admiral Dewey presidential boom, which has been fostered by false and anything-to-beat-Bryan friends of the naval hero, higher than Kilderoy's kite, and shows that the Democracy of the entire nation is united in support of the principles for which Mr. Bryan, more than any other member of the party, stands to-day.—Buffalo Times.

Kills Our Own Institutions.

The right of one government to control another in the slightest degree carries with it the right to control it to the highest degree. If we admit the justice of the theory that we have the right to regulate the affairs of the Filipinos we at once break down the barriers we have ourselves built in defense of republican principles.—Toledo Commercial.

A Natural Fruit.

Entangled in the meshes of its fateful Philippine policy, the McKinley administration dares not utter a word of protest against the spoliation by Great Britain, without the shadow of right, of the two little Dutch republics of South Africa. Such is one of the "first fruits" of imperialism.—Grand Rapids Democrat.

It Would Be Timely.

It is possible that when the attempt is made to unseat Congressman Roberts, of Utah, because of his three wives, explanations may be demanded of the official recognition by the United States government of polygamy and human slavery in the Sulu Islands.—Springfield Republican.

Let Imperialists Answer.

Her Majesty is the nominal head of a nation compared with which the Dutch republic is physically a pygmy. But who that loves mercy, truth, justice and liberty would not rather pray the God of battles to save "Oom" Paul than to save Britain's queen?—Chicago Chronicle.

Continuous Performance.

General Otis' forces gained their 2768th victory over the Filipinos yesterday. The Filipinos came back again after the victory, as usual, and will be defeated again this afternoon, also tomorrow.—Chicago News.

A maneuver was once a dexterous piece of handwork.

BOER AND BRITON.

History of the Trouble Which Has Led to War in the Transvaal.

KRUGER.

CHAMBERLAIN.

THE issue between the English and the Boers is one as old as this century. In many different forms, but always with much the same ground of quarrel at the bottom, it has reappeared with each succeeding decade. Many times the two peoples have met on the battlefield, and when war itself has not existed rumors of war between them have been current. Wherever the Englishman and the Boer have had their common interests in one territory strife has been sure to come, for the qualities and ideals of the two are widely dissimilar.

The great gold fields in the Transvaal are the material facts that have caused the conditions for the present struggle, for it is through them that Englishman and Boer have been brought so close together. The Boers claim to be the lords of the Transvaal country, and they persist in regarding the foreign settlers—the Uitlanders—as temporary residents without real rights. Sharply opposed to this view stands England, whose many sons in Transvaal land have their immense investments in mines and machinery and demand a full share in the government. "The Transvaal for the Boers," is President Kruger's cry, while the English against it shout: "Full rights, civil and political, for our emigrants who settle in your land."

A WEALTHY BURGHER.

The problem takes on many phases, but not one of them can clearly be understood without back reference to the history of the relations of Boers and English. The first form of the issue is over the question of sovereignty. England is asserting her suzerainty, while admitting Boer independence in local affairs, and Kruger is denying England's claim. Such is the history of the two that each can fairly make its claim.

Sovereignty or no sovereignty would not, however, be a burning question was there not reason for insisting on it. The more practical statement of the issue is that it concerns the political franchise rights which the Uitlanders now find it so difficult to acquire, and which England insists so strongly they shall secure on reasonable conditions. It is on account of inability to agree on the terms of the franchise, combined with views about sovereignty, which leave no middle ground, that war came, but even the franchise is only an incident in securing what the English really want. Sir Alfred Milner, who has been the foremost English agent in negotiations with the Boers, has said that he insisted on the franchise merely because he thought it would help the Uitlanders to secure for themselves what they need, and because he thought an agreement could be reached concerning it more easily than concerning the many reforms in Boer laws which are the real objections to be attained for the benefit of the Uitlanders, and the real occasion of England's intervention.

A BOER SUPPLY TRAIN.

Main Grievances Stated.

Reaching thus the kernel of England's reasons for interference in the Transvaal, the main grievances of the Uitlanders against Boer rule in the Transvaal can be summed up in the following declarations:

The Uitlanders pay practically all the taxes of the Transvaal, yet have no say as to how the money shall be spent.

Their children have to speak Dutch in order to gain a proper education.

Johannesburg is wretchedly governed, and is in a fearfully unsanitary condition. The Uitlanders have no power in municipal government.

Their newspapers are gagged.

They are not allowed to hold public meetings.

Trial by jury is turned into a farce.

BOER NATIONAL SONG.

Flag of our precious land, wave on,
Transvaal's four-color free,
We pray may God the hand strike down
E'er raised to lower thee.
Float proudly, banner, to the wind,
For past the threatening ill,
Our foes have fled and left behind
A land unconquered still.

Through many years of hate and blood,
Dear flag, thou didst endure,
Again the storm thou hast withstood
And floated still secure.
And as of old when foes assail
O'er brave hearts thou shalt wave,
Nor shall the black or Brit prevail
While we have strength to save.

Thou art, dear flag, our token true,
Transvaal's four-color free,
To thee we pledge ourselves anew,
Till death we'll strive for thee.
Aloft o'er all our precious land
Wave, banner, proudly on,
By God forsaken be the hand
E'er raised to drag thee down.

The dynamite monopoly is an obstacle to the industrial progress of Johannesburg.

The president may without trial expel any Uitlander from the Transvaal.

He controls the cables and can delay messages.

The Uitlanders pay more money in taxes than is spent in the government of the Transvaal.

The Uitlander has been disarmed and compelled to pay for a fort erected to terrorize him.

This, then, has been the status in the Transvaal. The Boer, caring only for farming, hunting and religion, narrow, bigoted, but fearfully strong considering his numbers, rules the Uitlander, three times as numerous, and seriously hinders the latter in his modern struggle for wealth.

The war is, however, not merely a war with the Transvaal. The Boer rules undisputed in the Orange Free State as well as in the Transvaal. Boers live in great numbers in Natal, which the English long ago wrested from their independent rule. Boers, too, are many in Cape Colony. Everywhere they are of the same nature and ideals. Everywhere they will band themselves together as foes of England. A war with the Transvaal means also war with the Orange Free State and bitter fighting with Boer sympathizers on English colonial soil.

OLD FORT AT MAFEKING.

In 1854 the Orange Free States were also declared independent, but by both treaties and conventions England retained suzerainty.

There was trouble in 1881 when a force of British was repulsed at Majuba Hill, the incident leading to a revision of the convention in that year and again in 1884. It is the latter which defines the degree of authority reserved by England under its suzerainty, and the contentions over which are involved in the present trouble. By its terms the South African Republic has full powers to frame and amend its constitutions and administer its internal affairs, but is prohibited from making any treaty save with its neighbor, the Orange Free States, without the consent of the Queen.

TYPE OF ARMORED TRAIN EQUIPPED BY THE BRITISH.

By this time British, Americans, Germans and French were pouring into the gold country, and Johannesburg began to take on the size and character of an American mining town. This annoyed the Boers, but their thrift did not desert them, and although they avoided mining and stuck to their farms, they found many means to derive national revenue from the Outlanders or "outsiders." The government, under President Kruger, levied transport dues, stamp taxes, license fees, franchise costs, customs and monopoly charges on such a mining necessity as dynamite.

The British in the Transvaal appealed to London and London appealed to Pretoria, but there was no redress. By 1896 the Outlanders were paying to the Boer government a revenue of $5,000,000 annually, which consisted almost entirely in a tax on mining.

Then a number of prominent English and American miners formed in Johannesburg what has passed into history as the National Reform Union Committee, of which Lionel Phillips was chairman, and John Hays Hammond, an American, an officer. They were in communication with Cecil Rhodes, resident director of the British South Africa Company, and Leander Starr Jameson, known as "Dr. Jim." What happened is of too recent occurrence and too sensational to have passed from the memory of readers.

The first battle of the Jameson raid occurred at Krugersdorp on Jan. 1, 1896; the second at Doornkop the day following, when Jameson's already defeated raiders were all captured by the Boers.

President Kruger turned over the raiders to the British Government, which sentenced Jameson to fifteen months in jail and some of his officers to shorter terms, after making them the heroes of London for weeks.

Kruger arrested hundreds of Outlanders in Johannesburg on the charge of treason, and upon trial four were sentenced to death. Among the latter was the American mining expert, John Hays Hammond, but their sentences were commuted to fine and imprisonment. Both the Boers and the British were fighting mad, and everyone expected war would follow between them, but it was averted in a curious manner.

Emperor William of Germany sent a cable message of sympathy to President Kruger, and the enfant terrible of the family of nations by this characteristic act changed the whole situation. England was so mad at William that for a time she forgot or ignored Kruger. She assembled such a fleet of war vessels as has never before in the history of the world prepared for war—and William sang softly.

Trouble Not Remedied.

But the trouble in the Transvaal was not remedied. War talk was heard from time to time in the Transvaal as well as in England, and in August, 1897, President Kruger, in an address to the volksraad, openly denied that England possessed any rights of sovereignty over the country.

In March last Joseph Chamberlain brought the Transvaal situation prominently before the House of Commons. He said that President Kruger had promised reforms, but that none of his proposals would be satisfactory. In another speech during the same month he defined the right of intervention in the Transvaal which England had, limiting it to cases in which the convention of 1884 had been violated, or in which English subjects had been treated in such manner as would give cause for intervention if they were residents of some independent foreign country, as France or Germany.

March 24 a petition, which had been signed by over 20,000 British subjects in the Transvaal, was forwarded to the British Government through Conyngham Greene, the British agent at Pretoria. It dealt with political grievances only, and aimed to show that the Boers were continually making existence harder for the Uitlanders. A body known as the Uitlander council was formed, and its communications with Sir Alfred Milner, governor of Cape Colony, met with a favorable response. Negotiations, in the hope of securing a settlement of the troubles, only resulted in producing a firmer, and more emphatic assertion of his rights by President Kruger.

No definite answer to the Uitlanders' petition came until May 10, when Joseph Chamberlain suggested a conference between Sir Alfred Milner and President Kruger at Pretoria. President Steyn of the Orange Free State at once invited the two men to meet at his capital, Bloemfontein, and a week later both accepted the invitation. The demand made by Milner was that every foreigner who had been a resident of the Transvaal five years, and proposed to make it his permanent home, should be given full citizenship, and that the distribution of representatives of the volksraad should be so arranged that the Uitlanders, who mostly live near Johannesburg, should have proper share in the government.

The best that President Kruger would do was much less than this. He proposed a two years' residence prior to naturalization, and then five years more before the granting of the full franchise. He placed so many conditions around even this offer that it was regarded with much suspicion. The conference had no practical result. President Kruger suggested arbitration by a foreign power, but owing to the British claim of sovereignty the commissioner could not consent to this.

Futile Negotiations.

Negotiations went on slowly after this. The British demands formulated themselves as a five-year period for admission to full burghership and an increase of the representation of the mining districts in the raad to one-fifth of the total number of members.

A bill embodying some of these points was considered by the volksraad during the early part of July. On the 19th of that month it was passed in a form that granted practically what President Kruger had proposed at the Bloemfontein conference.

Messages and diplomatic notes sent back and forth after this brought out two points of disagreement. President Kruger insisted that if he made any concessions to the Uitlanders it should be on the distinct understanding that England would not regard its interference as a precedent and would formally resign all pretense of sovereignty. Secretary Chamberlain would not listen to such a suggestion.

The other point of disagreement was in regard to the assurances that any reforms made would not have nullifying conditions attached to them. Secretary Chamberlain began to insist that a joint committee of inquiry, made up of expert delegates representing the Transvaal and the British Government, be appointed to investigate and be sure that all franchise promises would be carried out.

Aug. 21 President Kruger declined to take part in any such joint inquiry, but offered a five-year franchise on condition that England would promise not to assert sovereignty in the future, and not to interfere again with the internal affairs of the Transvaal. England formulated, Sept. 8, a note to the Boers which was so specific that it was regarded as almost an ultimatum. It asserted sovereignty and reminded Kruger that the proposal for a joint inquiry would not always remain open.

President Kruger replied Sept. 18 with a definite denial of England's sovereignty, and with a refusal to put the English and Dutch languages on an equality in the raad. He also this time placed seven years as the minimum he would consent to as a preliminary to the franchise. To this England replied Sept. 22 with a temporizing note which was taken to mean practically a postponement of any ultimatum till her troops were ready for the field. The volksraad had Aug. 28 rejected the proposal to do away with the dynamite monopoly, and that made the situation with England still worse.

Active arming was kept up on both sides, and the situation was intensified when, on Sept. 28, the Orange Free State raad decided to cast its fortunes with its neighbor republic. Britain continued to pour troops into South Africa, and the

MAP OF MAFEKING AND VICINITY.

Boers were not slow to meet the emergency. The district north of Dundee and Newcastle were hurriedly turned into camping grounds by the burghers. Laing's Nek was occupied, and other steps were taken that menaced an invasion of Natal.

Oct. 10 Kruger's government sent an ultimatum to London demanding the withdrawal of British troops from the frontier and the return to England of the special forces sent to South Africa and of the forces en route. If not complied with, a state of war was to exist in twenty-four hours. The next day Montague White, the Boer consul general, quitted London, and war was practically on.

Self-possession is more than nine points in law—or in anything else for that matter.

RECORD OF THE WEEK

INDIANA INCIDENTS TERSELY TOLD.

Deserted Husband Commits Suicide at Crawfordsville—Charged with an Old Murder—Statue of War Governor Unveiled—Wholesale Robbery.

James B. Leffew, a discharged Philippine volunteer, returned home to Crawfordsville to find his wife had just instituted divorce proceedings. He used every means to dissuade her, but she absolutely refused to dismiss the case, whereupon Leffew procured and swallowed morphine with fatal results. The wife relented when too late and was crazed with grief.

Charged with Wife Murder.

Thomas Skelton, who, it is alleged, murdered his wife fifteen years ago at their home west of Owensville by splitting her head open with an ax, has been arrested and is now in jail at Princeton. The grand jury had the case for several days before a true bill was found.

Unveil a Statue of Morton.

A statue of Oliver P. Morton, Indiana's war governor, was unveiled at Anderson, under the auspices of the public schools. The address was made by Mr. Foulke, the biographer of Gov. Morton. Mrs. Morton, the widow, was present.

Use Wagon to Steal Goods.

On a recent night at Windfall robbers looted the general store of J. H. Sellner, hauling away more than $1,000 worth of merchandise, including 200 pairs of shoes. A team and wagon was used.

Within Our Borders.

Salem had a shower of grasshoppers.

Marion will have another opera house.

Goshen has a manual training school.

Anderson and Elwood are preparing to burn wood.

A Laporte preacher says the world will last until Nov. 11.

Anderson Davis, Hope, was killed by a train at Greensburg.

John Goodin, wealthy farmer near Brazil, has disappeared.

No clew to the robbers who blew up the Reynolds bank.

A $25,000 addition will be added to the Marion normal school.

Muncie's court has decided that piano playing in saloons is legal.

Thieves are averaging about one horse a day in northern Indiana.

South Bend sold $10,000 worth of water works bonds for $541 premium.

Eastern capitalists are making heavy investments in the Indiana oil field.

Frankfort is flooded with Mexican half dollars. They pass for only 25 cents.

Muncie druggists say they sold 250,000 glasses of ice cream soda last summer.

Tipton County canning factories are canning pumpkins. There is a large crop.

Chas. Altvater's family, Terre Haute, had a close call by eating poisoned meat.

Kids destroyed fifty trees in the school yard at Montomery, just for devilishness.

William Gibson had his knee cap busted in a fight in the soldiers' home at Lafayette.

John Michaels, 14, Greenfield, accidentally shot and killed himself while hunting.

S. F. and A. H. Lockridge, Greencastle, sold 200 head of fat cattle that brought them $25,000.

Treasurer of Hamilton County sold $12,000 worth of gravel road bonds at a premium of $625.

Burglars blew a safe in a general store near Logansport, but citizens chased them away before they secured booty.

Henry Bell, Ripley County, claims to have an apple tree that is bearing blossoms, green and ripe apples.

Mrs. Ellen S. Richardson, Osgood, an invalid for three years, who lost her voice, claims to have been cured since she joined a magnetic healing class, nine days ago.

Indiana Brick Company has let a contract for the largest brick plant in the State, to be built at Anderson. It will burn coal and will have a capacity of 70,000 brick a day.

A farmer named John Winmill went insane on the streets of Laporte the other day and had to be forcibly removed from a corner where he had fixed his gaze on a telegraph pole.

William Killion, Washington, mistreated his wife, and when his father-in-law, William Buckley, upbraided him for it, Killion shot him four times in the stomach. Buckley died and Killion was arrested.

It was reported at Muncie that the differences between the American Window Glass Manufacturers' Association and the Workers' Association have been settled, the men to receive an advance of 2 per cent.

Farmers in Grant County are combining to keep hunters off of their farms, and agree not to shoot birds themselves. It is said they will control 6,000 acres. They say it is the only way to protect game birds.

William Marmin, alias Jones, of Louisville, stole a horse and buggy from a hitch rack at Marion. He drove to Muncie, where he contracted with a glass blower to sell the rig for $40, and went into police headquarters to draw up the papers. The police superintendent became suspicious and locked Marmin up until he telephoned to Marion.

Miss Edna Osborn, Kokomo, has walked on crutches for twelve years, and for the last three months has been helpless. The other day the family gathered around the bed, thinking she was going to die, and, after prayers were offered, the girl raised up and stood on her feet. She then walked across the floor, and is still improving. They think it is a case of faith cure.

Edward Casey, 7, South Bend, was accidentally drowned in the river at Elkhart.

"Si" Sheerin, Indianapolis, wants the use of the alleys in Kokomo to put in a telephone system.

Charles Rosler, Muncie, arrested in Anderson while drunk, died of appendicitis before his trial was held.

Men were discovered trying to dynamite the New Albany Cement Company's mills at Hansedale.

Contract for fencing the right of way of the Indianapolis and Muncie electric line has been let for $10,000.

Samuel C. Cowgill has a large brick plant at Summitville that brings him $100 a day, 10 per cent of which he gives to the Friends' Church.

Percy Kreug and wife, Anderson, have a baby that weighed but two pounds when it was born, several days ago, but it is as frisky as any of 'em.

Car load of German carp was smashed in a wreck on the Fort Wayne and Chicago the other night. Farmers hauled the fish away to their hogs.

The Ball Brothers' fruit jar factory at Muncie, the largest of its kind in the world, was practically closed when the carrier boys, numbering 100, struck for higher wages.

Ayer's Pills

Look at yourself! Is your face covered with pimples? Your skin rough and blotchy? It's your liver! Ayer's Pills are liver pills. They cure constipation, biliousness, and dyspepsia. 25c. All druggists.

Want your moustache or beard a beautiful brown or rich black? Then use BUCKINGHAM'S DYE for the Whiskers

Time for Action.

Freddie (whose pa is a strict disciplinarian)—Ma, can you have a man arrested if you think he's going to kill you?

Ma—Certainly, my son.

Freddie—Then I'm going to git out a warrant for pa.

Ma—You shock me, Freddie. What reason could you possibly have for any such action against your father?

Freddie—Why, I heard him tell the lumberman this morning to bring him a cartload of shingles.—Richmond (Va.) Dispatch.

Two Plans.

Wickwire—My cigar man tells me if I will stick my cigars in my vest pocket so that the small end is out instead of that big one, I'll lose less cigars.

Yabsley—I got a better plan than that. Stick 'em in your coat pocket, so they don't show at all.—Indianapolis Journal.

CASTORIA

900 DROPS

CASTORIA

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. NEW YORK.

At 6 months old 35 DOSES—35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

JOHN M. SMYTH CO.

MAMMOTH MAIL ORDER HOUSE

150 TO 166 WEST MADISON ST. CHICAGO

$14.25 $14.25 The Best Sewing Machine on Earth

At the Price, $14.25 for Our "MELBA" Sewing Machine.

A high-arm, high-grade machine equal to what others are asking $25.00 to $35.00 for. Guaranteed by us for 20 years from date of purchase, against any imperfection in material or workmanship. The stand is made of the best iron and is nicely proportioned. The cabinet work is perfect and is furnished in your choice of antique, oak or walnut. It has seven drawers all handsomely carved and with nickel-plated ring pulls. The mechanical construction is equal to that of any machine regardless of price. All working parts are of the best oil-tempered tool steel, every bearing perfectly fitted and adjusted so as to make the running qualities the lightest, most perfect and nearest noiseless of any machine made. This Sewing Machine has all the latest improvements. It makes a perfect and uniform LOCK STITCH, and will do the best work on either the lightest muslins or heaviest cloths, sewing over seams and rough places without skipping stitches. A full set of best steel attachments, nicely nickel-plated and enclosed in a handsome plush-lined metal, japanned box, and a complete assortment of accessories and book of instruction FURNISHED FREE with each machine.

60 DAYS TRIAL. We ship this machine C.O.D. subject to approval, on receipt of two dollars. If, on examination you are convinced that we are saving you $25 or $30 on agent's price, pay the balance and freight charges then try the machine. If not satisfied at any time within 60 days send the machine back to us at our expense and we will refund the full purchase price..... $14.25

OUR MAMMOTH CATALOGUE In which is listed at lowest wholesale prices everything to eat, wear and use, is furnished on receipt of only 10¢ to partly pay postage or expressage and as evidence of good faith the 10¢ is allowed on first purchase amounting to $10 or above.

OUR MONTHLY GROCERY PRICE LIST FREE.

"Use the Means and Heaven Will Give You the Blessing." Never Neglect A Useful Article Like SAPOLIO

WABASH

HOME SEEKERS' EXCURSIONS

To Western Points.

November 7 and 21, 1899.

December 5 and 19, 1899.

On the above dates the WABASH will sell from its principal stations East of Chicago and Toledo, Ill., LOW RATE HOME SEEKERS' EXCURSION Tickets to points West, South, and Southwest, granting a liberal return limit. A postal card addressed to any Wabash Ticket Agent, or to either of the following Passenger Representatives will bring you prompt and explicit information regarding rates, routes, time of trains, through car service, condition of tickets, etc., etc.

REMEMBER

The WABASH is the only line east of Chicago and St. Louis giving its patrons seats, without extra charge, in ELEGANT RECLINING CHAIR CARS running through to St. Louis and Kansas City without change.

This is your chance to go West cheap. Communicate with us.

P. E. DONBAUGH, P. & T. A., Toledo, Ohio.
R. G. THOMPSON, P. & T. A., Fort Wayne, Ind.
A. F. WOLFSCHLAGER, P. & T. A. Detroit, Mich.
THO'S FOLLEN, P. & T. A., Lafayette, Ind.
GEO. D. MAXFIELD, D. P. A., Indianapolis, Ind.
C. S. CRAFT, G. P. & T. A., St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup

The best remedy for Consumption. Cures Coughs, Colds, Grippe, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Asthma, Whooping-cough, Croup. Small doses; quick, sure results. Dr. Bull's Pills cure Constipation. Trial, 20 for 5c.

DON'T RENT

ESTABLISH A HOME OF YOUR OWN

Read "The Corn Belt," a handsome monthly paper, beautifully illustrated, containing exact and truthful information about farm lands in the West, letters from farmers and pictures of their homes, barns and stock. Interesting and instructive. Send 25 cents in postage stamps for a year's subscription to "THE CORN BELT," 209 Adams St., Chicago.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

THANKSGIVING DAY IS SET.

The President Issues a Proclamation Naming Thursday, Nov. 30.

President McKinley has issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

A national custom dear to the hearts of the people calls for the setting apart of one day in each year as an occasion of special thanksgiving to Almighty God for the blessings of the preceding year. This honored observance acquires with time a tendered significance. It enriches domestic life. It summons under the family roof the absent children to glad reunion with those they love.

Seldom has this nation had greater cause for profound thanksgiving. No great pestilence has invaded our shores. Liberal employment waits upon labor. Abundant crops have rewarded the efforts of the husbandman. Increased comforts have come to the home. The national finances have been strengthened and public credit has been sustained and made firmer. In all branches of industry and trade there has been an unequaled degree of prosperity, while there has been a steady gain in the moral and educational growth of our national character.

Churches and schools have flourished. American patriotism has been exalted. Those engaged in maintaining the honor of the flag with such signal success have been in a large degree spared from disaster and disease. An honorable peace has been ratified with a foreign nation with which we were at war, and we are now on friendly relations with every power on earth.

The trust which we have assumed for the benefit of the people of Cuba has been faithfully advanced. There is marked progress toward the restoration of healthy industrial conditions, and under wise sanitary regulations the island has enjoyed unusual exemption from the scourge of fever. The hurricane which swept over our new possession of Porto Rico, destroying the homes and property of the inhabitants, called forth the instant sympathy of the people of the United States, who were swift to respond with generous aid to the sufferers. While the insurrection still continues in the island of Luzon, business is resuming its activity, and confidence in the good purposes of the United States is being rapidly established throughout the archipelago.

For these reasons and countless others, I, William McKinley, President of the United States, do hereby name Thursday, the 30th day of November next, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed as such by all our people on this continent and in our newly acquired islands, as well as by those who may be at sea or sojourning in foreign lands; and I advise that on this day religious exercises shall be conducted in the churches or meeting places of all denominations, in order that in the social features of the day its real significance may not be lost sight of, but fervent prayers may be offered to the most high for a continuance of the divine guidance without which man's efforts are vain and for divine consolation to those whose kindred and friends have sacrificed their lives for country.

I recommend also that on this day, so far as may be found practicable, labor shall cease from its accustomed toil and charity abound toward the sick, the needy and the poor.

In witness whereof, I have set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. WILLIAM M'KINLEY.

KILLED IN FEUDS.

Hostile Factions Cause Reign of Terror in Clay County, Kentucky.

Five more men have been reported killed within the last four days by participants in the Baker-Griffin-Philpot feud, and terror reigns in Clay County, Kentucky. Judge Eversole fled from the county seat, fearing to hold court, and the Governor was asked to send troops to restore order.

Jim Bob Travis was killed Saturday at Hamlet postoffice. His body was found in a well. Four men shot to death from ambush is the record for Tuesday and Monday. Tom Whittemore was ambushed and shot through the head seven miles from Manchester Tuesday, while he was on the way from Horse Creek to Manchester with Dan Parker, who is to be tried for killing one of the Turners. Parker, who is an old fighter, was also shot, but he threw himself on the ground and escaped with a few wounds. This is the twentieth time Parker has been ambushed by his enemies. Parker and

TYPICAL CLAY COUNTY HOME.

Whittemore were friends of the Philpots, and it is supposed they were ambushed by some of the Griffin faction.

One of the Philpot faction was ambushed and killed on House branch of Horse creek Tuesday as he was coming from the Pigeon Roost district to attend court. A clash between the Baker and White factions occurred on Sexton's creek, and it is reported that two men were killed.

Circuit Judge Eversole, who was to have opened court Monday at Manchester, came within two miles of town, and, when he heard the news, fled, fearing assassination, as he was in the old Perry County French-Eversole feud. The county bar held an election and appointed Carlo Lytle special judge. Both the Philpot and Griffin factions at Manchester are in small armies, heavily armed.

THREE MEN STARVE TO DEATH.

Perish Miserably in a Blizzard, with Belts Full of Gold Dust.

William Lafler, who has returned to Tacoma from Alaska, brings a tragic story of the deaths of N. C. Daily and two Frenchmen, names unknown, all of Boston, on the Bonanza river, in northern Alaska, last winter. The men had been searching for gold, but ran out of food and starved to death during a terrible blizzard, though their belts were filled with gold dust. Daily and two Frenchmen got separated from Lafler and his partner during the blizzard, and wandered away almost without provisions and with only scanty clothing. When the storm moderated Lafler's party searched for their missing companions, and finally found their tent. The men's bones had been picked clean by wolves, though their belts and gold dust remained intact. One camp stove in the tent was found. The kettle was filled with the rawhide thongs of snowshoes which the starving men had tried to boil for food.

Dawson Offers 100 Riflemen.

Dawson, the northernmost city in the world and the most famous for its age, has offered for service in South Africa a company of 100 expert riflemen for such time as the empire has need of them, undertaking to equip and maintain this force from the time of their departure from the Klondike till their muster out.

Told in a Few Lines.

Geo. Trich, 70, Denver millionaire, is dead.

Huntsville, Ala., was damaged $75,000 by fire.

Rear Admiral Sampson's family will reside in Boston.

One hundred miners will go from Massillon, Ohio, to Utah.

Andrew Carnegie will build a public library building at Conneaut, Ohio.

Boston is fighting the gamblers, thirty-six being rounded up in one bunch.

Naphtha launch Idlewild exploded near Mayport, Fla., injuring three persons.

President Shurman says the Philippine commission will meet early in November.

The "believers," a religious sect at St. Louis, say the millennium will come in 1915.

"Duly Feed Man and Steed."

Feed your nerves, also, on pure blood if you would have them strong. Men and women who are nervous are so because their nerves are starved. When they make their blood rich and pure with Hood's Sarsaparilla their nervousness disappears because the nerves are properly fed.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Never Disappoints

A Story About Ingersoll.

Here is an entirely new story about the late Colonel Ingersoll, which is quite as good and fully as genuine as the usual run of them:

When Ingersoll was a young man he went into a short-order restaurant in Peoria and called for an egg.

"You are an agnostic, I think?" said the waiter, who was a college student in the winter, and had just associated himself with the restaurant business.

"Your habit of thinking has not betrayed you this time—I am," replied Ingersoll.

"Then you do not have faith in the integrity of this egg?" quoth the waiter.

"I have no faith in its int-egg-rity," replied Bob. "I have no faith in anything. I believe only in what I see, or in what is proved to me."

"I have faith in the egg," said the student, and he regarded the colonel with sad eyes. "My faith tells me that it contains a yolk."

"My doubt admits nothing of the kind," said the agnostic.

So the student broke the egg, and, lo! it contained a chicken!

But the fact is the agnostic took an unfair advantage of the student.

He had eaten at that restaurant before.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Chronic Nasal Catarrh poisons every breath that is drawn into the lungs. There is procurable from any druggist the remedy for its cure. A small quantity of Ely's Cream Balm placed into the nostrils spreads over an inflamed and angry surface, relieves immediately the painful inflammation, cleanses, heals and cures. Drying inhalants, fumes, smokes and snuffs simply develop dry catarrh; they dry up the secretions which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants, use Ely's Cream Balm. It is reliable and will cure catarrh, cold in the head and hay fever easily and pleasantly. All druggists sell it at 50 cents or it will be mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N.Y.

Marriages of the Deaf.

It seems somewhat strange that in marriages where one partner is deaf and the other has hearing the proportion of deaf children is as great as in cases where both father and mother are deaf. Dr. Fay's statistics show this condition to exist. He explains its seeming opposition to the laws of heredity by saying that deafness is merely a result of symptom of some disease or pathological condition, and as there are a great variety of these conditions which produce deafness it is only rarely that they are the same in both partners to a marriage, and that therefore there is not, in most instances where both are deaf, the union of "like to like," after all. Another conclusion drawn from a study of the statistics is that persons who are born deaf are more likely to transmit deafness to their offspring than those who become deaf through disease or accident, although the latter are more liable to have deaf children than those whose hearing is unimpaired. There are far more marriages in which the man and woman are both deaf than in which only one is deaf, and the former are apt to be the happier, the proportion of divorce being only 2½ per cent, while in the latter it is 6½ per cent.—Leslie's Weekly.

C. C. C. LINE NOW OPEN

Completed and Opened to the Public.

Greatest Improvement of the Age—Anyone Can Ride Over It to Health and Happiness.

Chicago.—(Special.)—The new C. C. C. line is now open to the public, and at once gained an enormous patronage on account of the meritorious service it performs. The line is built on solid merit, and leads by the straightest and shortest route to Health. Everybody is delighted, and those who thought they would never reach Health and Happiness again have found this an easy and sure way of getting there.

Ninety per cent. of the ills of humanity are caused by lazy livers, chronic constipation and their consequences, impure blood and a poisoning of the whole system. What's the use of stumbling along the roadway, sick and weary, when you can quickly ride to health—by taking Cascarets? Buy and try Cascarets Candy Cathartic to-day. You will find that it's what they do, not what we say they'll do, that will please you. Sold by druggists generally, 10c, 25c, or 50c per box, or by mail for price. Send for booklet and free sample. Address Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago; Montreal, Can.; New York.

CCC This is the CASCARET tablet. Every tablet of the only genuine Cascaret bears the magic letters "CCC." Look at the tablet before you buy, and beware of frauds, imitations and substitutes.

DO YOU COUGH DON'T DELAY TAKE KEMP'S BALSAM THE BEST COUGH CURE

It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 25 cents and 50 cents.

Car Fare in Many Lands.

In Belfast, Ireland; Berne, Switzerland; Cork, Ireland; Marseilles, France; Prague, Austria, and Sydney, Australia, the street car fare is 2 cents for any distance. In Dublin, Ireland, the fare is a cent a mile. In Berlin it is 2½ cents for the first mile and 1 cent for each additional mile. In Florence, Italy, it is 2 cents from the outskirts to the center of the city and 3 cents across the city.

A Cloud Maker.

Among the peculiar attractions at the Paris exposition will be a great machine for making clouds of all varieties at will. The machine will be in shape like two big globes. Spectators will be seated on the elevated platform at the rear. Any kind of clouds desired, from the light and feathery cirrus of the summer to the heavy cumulus of a thunderstorm, may be made. To add realism to the picture, thunder and lightning will be imitated when the machine is turning out the proper kind of product. In connection with the cloud machine a stereopticon will be used to throw pictures and advertisements on the ready-made clouds.

The Isthmus of Panama.

Its engineers believe that they have solved the problem of the successful completion of this great enterprise. If so, it will prove a great benefit, no more than has Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the remedy which never fails to cure afflictions of the stomach. The Bitters strengthens weak stomachs and torpid livers.

FLOWING ICE AND ITS EFFECTS.

Tremendous Energies Exerted in Silence and Darkness.

The action of flowing ice, whether in the form of river-like glaciers or broad mantling folds, is but little understood as compared with that of other sculpturing agents. Rivers work openly where people dwell, and so do the rain, and the sea thundering on all the shores of the world; and the universal ocean of air, though invisible, speaks aloud in a thousand voices and explains its modes of working and its power. But glaciers back in their cold solitudes work apart from men, exerting their tremendous energies in silence and darkness. Coming in vapor from the sea, flying invisible on the wind, descending in snow, changing to ice, white, spirit-like, they brood outspread over the predestined landscapes, working on unwearied through unmeasured ages, until in the fullness of time the mountains and valleys are brought forth, channels furrowed for the rivers, basins made for meadows and lakes, and soil beds spread for the forests and fields that man and beast may be fed. Then vanishing like clouds, they melt into streams and go singing back home to the sea.

Standing on this adamantine old monument in the midst of such energy, getting glimpses of the thoughts of God, the day seems endless; the sun stands still. Much faithless fuss is made over the passage in the Bible telling the standing still of the sun for Joshua. Here you may learn that the sun stands still for every devout mountaineer—for every body doing anything worth doing, seeing anything worth seeing. One day is as a thousand years, a thousand years one day, and while yet in the flesh you enjoy immortality.—Atlantic.

How's This!

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.

WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.
WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Prices 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

Information Wanted.

"Miss Upperten—Clara," began the young man, "you have no doubt noticed that my attentions of late have been more than that of a mere friend. I love you, Clara, and in asking you to share my lot I——"

"Pardon me for interrupting you," said the practical maiden, "but has the lot you wish me to share a good house on it with all the modern improvements?"—Chicago News.

First-Class Sewing Machines for $14.25.

For those who are accustomed to sending away from home for their goods it is of the greatest importance to know the character and reliability of the establishment selling goods to families from catalogues. The great emporium of the John M. Smyth Co., located at 150 to 166 West Madison street, Chicago, has been established for a third of a century, and has furnished over half a million homes in Chicago and vicinity alone. This firm enjoys the confidence of the public by its many years of fair dealing. It issues an immense illustrated catalogue that should be in every family, as it describes and gives the price of every article required for household use. A sample of the extraordinary values offered by this firm is shown in the illustration of the "Melba" sewing machine in another column of this paper for $14.25. This is one of the best sewing machines ever offered to the public, and yet it is but a sample of the thousand and one useful articles illustrated and described in the beautiful catalogue of the John M. Smyth Company.

Friendly Criticism.

Penibs—I've got a new idea for a book.

Inks—What is it?

Penibs—I'm going to write the "Autobiography of a Mule."

Inks—Pshaw! there's nothing original about that. Hundreds of men have written their autobiographies.—Chicago News.

What Do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing, and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee, but costs about ¼ as much. All grocers sell it. 15c and 25c.

God never gives but one moment at a time, and does not give a second until he withdraws the first.—Fenelon.

Lane's Family Medicine

Moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Acts gently on the liver and kidneys. Cures sick headache. Price 25 and 50c.

Don't think that pounding a felon and compounding a felony are synonymous.

FOR THIRTY DAYS YOU CAN TRY IT FOR 10 CENTS.

READ WHAT A PROMINENT PHYSICIAN Who has had 35 YEARS of active Practice of Medicine has to say.

I have never before in my 35 years of practice of medicine given my testimonial or recommendation to any patent medicine, but there is a remedy, the result of which has come under my own observation; for there is one Disease which has so baffled the medical skill of all ages as Rheumatism and to find a Reliable remedy for the same. At last we have found it in "5 Drops," manufactured by the Swanson Rheumatic Cure Company, Chicago, Ill. The "5 DROPS," has proven itself wonderful for its curative powers in Rheumatism, not as a Temporary Reliever only, but to give a Permanent Cure even in chronic cases. Sometime ago I had among others several Rheumatic cases under my treatment and prescribed for these patients the very best Remedies which I skillfully selected, but without desirable results. I then heard of "5 DROPS" and of its Wonderful Cures, and prescribed it to a few patients, who found relief from its use within a few days. After that I prescribed it to a great number and to my surprise I will say that in the course of Two or Three Weeks after they had used "5 DROPS" and "5 Drop" Plasters they were Cured. Among these were a few who had, for a number of years, been suffering with Chronic Rheumatism, who had piloted themselves around on Crutches. They came to my office without Crutches and told me they were perfectly well. They give all the credit to "5 DROPS" and to "5 Drop" Plasters and this is their testimony to the Swanson Rheumatic Cure Company for their kindness and for the conscientious way in which they are placing these Wonderful Remedies among suffering humanity, which they told me to write to the Company as an acknowledgment. As I have seen the Curative Power of "5 DROPS" and "5 Drop" Plasters, in a great many instances, I can Truly recommend them, and also that the firm is perfectly honest and reliable to deal with.

C. A. JACKSON, Physician and Surgeon, Kearney, Neb., Aug. 29, 1899. (SWANSON)

5 DROPS (TRADE MARK.)

"5 DROPS" is the most powerful specific known. Free from opiates and perfectly harmless. Relief is usually felt the first night. It is a positive cure for Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Backache, Asthma, Hay Fever, Catarrh, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, Nervous and Neuralgic Headaches, Earache, Toothache, Heart Weakness, Croup, Swelling, La Grippe, Malaria, Creeping Numbness, etc., etc.

THIRTY DAYS longer to enable sufferers to give "5 DROPS" at least a trial, we will send a 25c sample bottle, prepaid by mail for 10 cents. A sample bottle will convince you. Also, large bottles (300 doses) $1.00. 3 bottles for $2.50. Sold by druggists and agents. Agents wanted in new territory. Write us to-day.

SWANSON RHEUMATIC CURE CO., 160 to 164 Lake Street, CHICAGO, ILL.

So Near and Yet So Far.

Mrs. Jones—Mrs. Brown says her husband seems quite distant of late.

Mrs. Smith—Why, what's the trouble?

Mrs. Jones—Oh, no trouble at all. He's in Europe on business.

Try Grain-O! Try Grain-O!

Ask your Grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. ¼ the price of coffee. 15c and 25c per package. Sold by all grocers.

Very Likely.

White—She has a great command of language, hasn't she?

Black—Yes; that's the reason, I'm inclined to think, that she never got married.—Tit-Bits.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.

Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Sold in 25 and 50 cent bottles. Go at once; delays are dangerous.

A noble heart, like the sun, showeth its greatest countenance in its lowest estate.—Sir P. Sidney.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box.

In Kaffirland cattle constitute the chief currency.

Personally Conducted Tourist Sleeping Car Line Between St. Louis and Los Angeles, Via Wabash and Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway.

On November 1st the Wabash Railroad in connection with the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway will inaugurate a thorough weekly tourist car line between St. Louis and Los Angeles, via Kansas City. West-bound car will leave St. Louis on Wednesdays at 9.00 p. m., arriving at Los Angeles Sundays at 8.28 a. m. East-bound car will leave Los Angeles on Mondays at 9.50 a. m., arriving in St. Louis on Thursdays at 6.15 p. m.

Particulars will be gladly furnished on application to nearest Wabash agent, or C. S. Crane, G. P. A., Lincoln Trust Building, St. Louis, Mo.

Evicted from the Grave.

Fancy being evicted from your last resting place if your relatives neglected to pay the rent! Yet this is what happens every day in that island we have been hearing so much of lately, Porto Rico. In the Campo Santo, the consecrated field, which lies on the cliff edge near San Juan, it is impossible to buy a grave right out, except at a price which puts it out of the question for poor people. The graves are leased for a term of years, and if at the end of that time the lease is not renewed the remains are dug up and the ground relet.

An Important Industry.

The Brockton, Mass., Times says that at the factory of the W. L. Douglas Shoe Company in that city the pay roll for the week ending Sept. 30, excluding superintendent, foremen, salesmen and all clerical help, showed the average earnings of the employes, large and small, to be $15.54 per week. This was not an extraordinary week. It was the customary pay roll.

The Douglas factory has been closed but one week this year, and that for the usual summer stock taking, and it will be closed but three days the latter part of December. This would make but nine days out of the year that the factory is closed.

Owing to increased business, another addition is to be made to the Douglas factory. It will be 100 feet long, 40 feet wide, and five stories high. This addition increases the capacity 25 per cent. The W. L. Douglas Shoe Company has the largest factory in the world, producing an advertised line $3.50 and $3.00 shoes.

Origin of Arabic Figures.

According to tradition, Arabic figures were derived from Solomon's seal, upon which they can all be traced with a little care.

My doctor said I would die, but Piso's Cure for Consumption cured me.—Amos Kelner, Cherry Valley, Ill., Nov. 23, '95.

Don't ride a thin horse bareback if you enjoy comfort.

Eagle Linen Letter Paper and Envelopes are the proper thing. Tell your printer to use this brand on your next order.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething; softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25 cents a bottle.

THE very word "operation" strikes terror to a woman's soul.

Nearly always these operations become necessary through neglect.

If the menses are very painful, or too frequent and excessive, get the right advice at once and stop taking chances. It will cost you nothing for advice if you write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for it, and if you let the trouble run along it will surely cost you a great deal of pain and may mean an operation.

WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

MISS SARAH J. GRAHAM, Sheridanville, Pa., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I had suffered for several years with female troubles and doctored until I was discouraged. I felt wretched and tired of living. I had disease of kidneys, bladder trouble, dropsy and bloating, had womb trouble and a large tumor had formed; in fact all my organs were out of fix.

"Seeing a woman's letter praising your remedies, I wrote to her and she begged of me to try it, telling me all that it had done for her. I bought six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now cannot express my gratitude to you. The tumor began to come away in pieces and I got better all the time. I believe now that I am entirely cured.

"My doctors could not believe it at first, as they all had told me that my case was a hopeless one, and no human power could do me any good. They were astounded. If I can say anything that can help other women, I shall be glad to."

It is not safe to wait until the last moment. Head off trouble by prompt attention to it. Don't be satisfied without Mrs Pinkham's advice.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 & $3.50 SHOES UNION MADE.

Worth $4 to $6 compared with other makes.

Indorsed by over 1,000,000 wearers.

ALL LEATHERS, ALL STYLES

THE GENUINE have W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on bottom.

Take no substitute claimed to be as good. Largest makers of $3 and $3.50 shoes in the world. Your dealer should keep them—if not, we will send you a pair on receipt of price. State kind of leather, size and width, plain or cap toe. Catalogue D Free.

W. L. DOUGLAS SHOE CO., Brockton, Mass.

CARTER'S INK

No household can afford to be without it. Every household can afford to have it.

PENSION JOHN W. MORRIS, Washington, D. C. Successfully Prosecutes Claims. Late Principal Examiner U.S. Pension Bureau. 3 yrs in civil war. 15 adjudicating claims, atty since.

AGENTS—Mitralleuse Gaslight Burners WITHOUT MANTLES. Gasoline gas lamps WITHOUT MANTLES. Warranted 5 years. Mantle lamps failures overcome. FREE CATALOGUE. Morey Patentee, LaGrange, Ill.

F. W. N. U. - - No. 44—'99.

When Writing to Advertisers please say you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS FREE

ONE OF THE GRANDEST OFFERS EVER MADE.

The first five persons procuring the Endless Chain Starch Book from their grocer, will each obtain one large 10c. package of "RED CROSS" Starch, one large 10c. package of "HUBINGER'S BEST" Starch, two Shakespeare panels printed in twelve beautiful colors, as natural as life, or one Twentieth Century Girl Calendar, the finest of its kind ever printed, all absolutely free. All others procuring the Endless Chain Starch Book will obtain from their grocer two large 10c. packages of starch for 5c. and the beautiful premiums which are being given away. This offer is only made for a short time to further introduce the famous "RED CROSS" Starch, and the celebrated "HUBINGER'S BEST" cold water Starch. Ask your grocer for this starch.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

IDEAL MUSIC,

"Sweet as the angel Israfil's,
When every leaf on Eden's tree
Was trembling to his minstrelsy."

can be produced from an EBERSOLE PIANO. The Ebersole possesses a tone that no other maker has been able to imitate—being full and deep, yet with that clear singing quality which stamps it the peer of all upright pianos for homes of culture and refinement.

Frank B. Long,
119 Calhoun-St- cor Washington,
Fort Wayne, Ind.

Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine.

Rotary Motion and Ball Bearings.

Porter Depew, Agent.

Mott's Nerverine Pills

BEFORE AND AFTER USING.

The great remedy for nervous prostration and all nervous diseases of the generative organs of either sex, such as Nervous Prostration, Failing or lost Manhood, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Youthful Errors, Mental Worry, excessive use of Tobacco or Opium, which lead to Consumption and Insanity. $1.00 per box by mail; 6 boxes for $5.00. MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Prop's, Cleveland, Ohio. Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY Notice in "Inventive Age" Book "How to obtain Patents" FREE

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address, E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS

They overcome Weakness, Irregularity and obstinate Increase vigor and banish "pains of menstruation." They are "Life Savers" to girls at womanhood, aiding development of organs and body. No known remedy for women equals them. Cannot do harm—life becomes a pleasure. $1 per box by mail. Sold by druggists. MOTT CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, O.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

Robbed A Cornerstone.

(Decatur Democrat.)

The most contemptible theft heard of in this county for several years was the robbery of the cornerstone of the Salem church, two and a half miles east of the city, which occurred recently. For years it has been customary at the laying of a cornerstone for a church to place a box therein, into which are placed the records of the church, together with sacred little presents from members. These presents consist of coins or relics of some sort, and are generally very dear to the one who parts with them. The cornerstone of the Salem church was placed in position eighteen years ago and besides the papers there is said to have been dedicated to the sacred archive several dollars in old coins, together with a few other trinkets. On last Monday night some thieft so miserably low and debased that he should be cast from a civilized country, chiseled out a brick and removed the box containing these deposits, and the money and part of the records were stolen. Suspicion rests upon two young men in the neighborhood and an effort is being made to secure proper evidence against them to warrant their arrest. Boys who are so villainous as to do a trick of this kind should certainly be severely dealt with.

No Right To Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, skin eruptions and wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate the stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nreves, bright eyes, smooth velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming, woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at H. B. McCord's Drug Store.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the most severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup.," It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle, many years by all druggists in the world. Sample bottles at O. P. RABER'S, Corunna.

Is An Inventor.

Rev. J. W. Stringfellow is quite an inventor having already patented some useful articles, and is engaged in developing others. He invented and patented the nut locks used on so many reapers and mowers. Now he has applied for another useful patent. It is a device to support the shaft of a door lock. It is known that constant use of the door knobs tends to make the shaft on which they are fixed, to droop or sag down, or sidewise. Mr. Stringfellow's device is to hold this shaft firmly in its place. He has applied for a patent, and we hope to see him do well with it.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Wednesday's Daily.

—Dr. Baxter reports the birth of a boy to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McDonald of South Auburn.

—John Harvey of Henry county, O., is here visiting his cousin, Trustee Dancer of Jackson.

—Mrs. Davenport is able to ride out a short time each day now in the pleasant weather, which our people will be glad to hear.

When all the British troops now under orders to go, are added to those already in South Africa, the total will be over 80,000.

The very latest from South Africa is that the two British armies in Natal are trying to get together as their enemies are too strong for them to face singly.

—W. H. Lens of Waterloo went to Indianapolis yesterday to attend the meeting of the grand lodge officers and district deputies of the Knights of Pythias.

—In an opinion to the auditor of state the attorney general has held that warrants issued by county auditors must be paid within the year they are issued or they become void.

Troops leave England now every day, some 8,000 to 10,000 each day, and a crack regiment of grenadiers has been started south from Gibraltar. But it takes two weeks from England to the Cape. In the meantime the Boers will be active.

—James McClellan and his daughter, Mrs. Ryan, returned today noon from their visit with his son at Fort Wayne. He says they are situated nicely there and doing well, but yet they hanker after their old DeKalb county home now and then.

—Every season the request is made of the newspapers to publish the game laws. You may hunt in this state the following game between the dates specified: Deer, from October 1 to January 1; quails and pheasants, from November 10 to January 1; wild turkeys, from November 1 to February 1; woodcock from July 1 to January 1; wild ducks, from September 1 to April 15; squirrels, from June 1 to December 30; pigeons, doves and Chinese pheasants are protected at all times.

Thursday's Daily.

—Abraham Fike of Waterloo has been granted an increase of pension from $6 to $12.

—Surveyor Krontz has accepted the Deetz joint drain between Steuben and DeKalb counties.

—Wesley A. Eckhart and Miss Anna M. Bell, both of Garrett, were married at that place last evening.

—Frank Hersh, a teacher in the Avilla schools, has been appointed to a position in the railway mail service.

—We are indebted to our old-time friend Henry Harmes for the name of a new subscriber this week. All these favors will be duly appreciated —Joseph R. Lanning, is now located in his residence on north Jackson, having moved from the farm a day or two ago. Our people will welcome them back.

—Henry Gardner of Fairfield was a visitor to the COURIER today. He has retired from his farm and now lives in Kendallville, while his son Irvin is on the home place.

—Chris Baker is kept busy these days filling contracts for plastering. He is now at work at A. W. Madden's residence in East Auburn which will be one of his best jobs.

—W. S. Purdy's team had a lively runaway about 4:30 yesterday afternoon, starting at the Jones cooper shop where the wagon was being loaded with barrels. They ran west on Tenth street to Jackson where they were stopped before any damage was done.

—Mart Sheets is dividing the rooms in the upper floor of his building on east Ninth street to accommodate two families. The rooms will be fitted up with waterworks, closets and other conveniences, and we understand they are already rented to good tenants.

—S. N. Culler of Newville was a caller today. He had paid his subscription to next New Year, but he still pushed it further ahead, setting a splendid example that would make it easier for others, if they would follow.

—Bert Rickard, who for several years has been a soldier in Uncle Sam's regular service, and who has seen active campaigns in Cuba and Porto Rico, is here shaking hands with old friends. His term of service has expired, and being in rather poor health he will try to enjoy a well-earned rest.

Several heavy shippers of wool, grain and other produce at Ligonier have been compelled to haul their stuff to Cromwell recetly for shipment over the B. & O. railroad, owing to a lack of accommodations and heavy freight rates over the Lake Shore road. Ligonier ought to have another railroad.

—Marshal Hilkey found a team of horses hitched on Ninth street yesterday evening that had been there from early morning until 6 p. m., without food or water. The officer put the team in one of the livery barns, where the owner found them after he had got through "having a good time." This may occur once too often.

—A problem in the new arithmetics adopted recently by the state board of education is causing considerable comment and study in and out of school circles. It reads thus: How many acres does a square tract of land contain which sells for $80 an acre and which is paid for by the number of silver dollars that will lie upon its boundrary. A note in the text book suggests that the square be divided into four triangles, the bases of which are the four sides of the square, and the apexes at the center of the square. The text book gives the answer a 6,969.6 acres.

LION COFFEE

Used in Millions of Homes!
Accept no substitute!
Insist on LION COFFEE, in 1 lb. pkgs.

Best Coffee for the Money!
Try LION COFFEE and you will never use any other. It is absolutely pure Coffee and nothing but Coffee.

These articles mailed FREE in exchange for lion heads cut from front of 1 lb. LION COFFEE pkgs.

STRENGTH, PURITY AND FLAVOR

Gold Collar Button.
Mailed free for 5 lion heads cut from Lion Coffee wrappers and a 2-cent stamp. Made of rolled gold and with mother-of-pearl back; suitable alike for ladies and gentlemen. This shape is handy and popular.

Mantel Clock.
By express, prepaid, for 110 lion heads and a 2c. stamp.

Frame beautifully finished with gilt. Stands 5 inches high. A beauty and good time-keeper.

Alarm Clock.

Sent by express, prepaid, for 80 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. When ordering either clock, please name your nearest Express Office. If there is no express office located in your town.

Daisy Neck-Pin.
Genuine Hard-Enamel and Gold.

For 18 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. The illustration is only two-thirds actual size. Color a delicate pink, with jewel setting and gold trimmings. Best enamel finish, stylish and durable.

Stylish Belt-Buckle.

Handsomely gold-plated, with Roman finish, and set with ruby colored jewel in the center. This will be welcomed for "dressed-up" occasions by the ladies who like to wear different colored sashes. The gold-finish goes well with any of them. Given for 20 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

Box of Colored Crayons.

For 10 lion heads and a 2c. stamp. Fine wax crayons, fifteen different colors, accompanied with outline pictures for coloring. Each crayon is wrapped with strong paper, to prevent breaking.

Ladies' Scissors.

Length, five inches, suitable for cutting, trimming and general household use. Given for 12 lion heads and a 2c. stamp.

"The Lion's Bride."

Mailed free for 12 lion heads cut from Lion Coffee wrappers and a 2-cent stamp. An unusually fine picture, from the brush of the noted German artist, Gabriel Max. It is founded on Chamisso's poem, "The Lion's Bride." The story is interesting, and we send with each picture a handsome folder, containing copy of the poem and telling all about it. Size, 15x26 inches.

Ladies' Apron.

Made of good quality lawn, with alternate revering and tucks; broad hem at bottom, and is neatly gathered at waist; a very superior and stylish article. Size, 36 x 40 inches.

Given for 20 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

Child's Drawing Book.

A collection of nice outline pictures bound into book form with sheets of tissue paper between the leaves. On these tissue pages the children can trace the pictures beneath, this affording enjoyment, as well as instruction to the hand and eye. These drawing books and the box of crayons go very well together. There are six different kinds, and each drawing book requires 6 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

Razor.

Given for 33 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. A first-class razor, made of best English steel, and extra hollow-ground.

"Dorothy and Her Friends."

A bright, cheery picture.
For 8 lion heads and a 2c. stamp.
A bright, cheery picture, representing a little girl playing with her chickens and her rabbits. The predominating colors are rich reds and greens. Size, 14x28 inches.
For 10 lion heads and 2-cent stamp we will mail it tinned, ready for hanging.

Fruit Picture.

Size, 16x24 inches. Given for 8 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

Naval Box Kite.
See it Fly!
The celebrated box kite now so popular. Thirty inches long and comes safely folded, but can quickly be spread to fly. Every American boy wants one, and older persons also are interested.

Mailed free for 40 lion heads cut from Lion Coffee wrappers and a 2-cent stamp.

Rubber Dressing Comb.

For 10 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. Length, 7 inches, full size and weight. Made of genuine India rubber, finely finished. Appropriate for a ladies' dressing-case or for use in the household.

50-Foot Clothes Line.

Given for 15 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.
Made of closely braided cotton threads, strong, and will give the best of satisfaction.

Game "India."

Similar to "Parchesi," which has been played in eastern countries since before the dawn of history. The illustration shows plan of the game, with usual counters, dice and dice-cups accompanying it. A game which people never tire of playing. Given for 20 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

Every time you buy a pound package of LION COFFEE you have bought something else, too. Don't overlook it! You have bought a certain portion of some article to be selected by you from our new Premium Lists!

THE ABOVE ARE ONLY A FEW OF THE LION COFFEE PREMIUMS. Another list will shortly appear in this paper! Don't miss it! The grandest list of premiums ever offered!

You always know LION COFFEE by the wrapper. It is a sealed package, with the Lion's head in front. It is absolutely pure if the package is unbroken. LION COFFEE is roasted the day it leaves the factory.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

When writing for premiums send your letter in the same envelope or package with the lion heads. If more than 15 lion heads are sent, you can save postage by trimming down the margin. Ask your grocer for large illustrated premium list. Address all letters to the

WOOLSON SPICE CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Friday's Daily.

—"Theodosia" shoes.

—The Foley remedies we are advertising are sold by H. B. McCord.

—The new milkman, Mr. Robbins seems to be starting out well and has lots of patronage.

—The county teachers' association will meet in Butler the first week in December for a two days' session.

—A representative of the English government is buying up a lot of mules in southern Michigan for the use of the British army in Africa.

—The latest new name on our Weekly list is Isaac Jackman, son of the late Miller Jackman,. He is still on the old home place living with his mother.

—A Wabash county farmer sold eighty head of fine, fat steers this week for which he received nearly $5,000. There is money in that kind of farming.

—Over in Michigan there is a man who is said to have two stomachs, which prompts us to make the suggestion that he ought to be able to stand Pingreeism all right.

—Mrs. Sarah Reed, a pioneer resident of Kosciusko county, died at the home of her daughter in Pierceton last Tuesday, aged 89 years. She was born in England in 1810.

—"What are the needs of the country?" shrieks the orator. Ans. More activity in the manufacture of box cars and fewer politicians performing in private cars.

—The rural free delivery of mail on the route out of Fort Wayne, recently started is proving very popular among the farmers, whether it will pay the government or not.

—Frank Rugman and Norman Hendrickson are at Kendallville working for Mr Bodette on the sewer contract. George Baldock and possibly several others will go over tomorrow.

— President McKinley has become a stone mason, Admiral Schley a free and accepted Mason, it will now be in order for Dewey to join some secret society so as to get accustomed to the official grip.

—In estimating the resources of the Boers, it must not be forggoten that there are a number of gold mines in Boer territory with which President Kruger can open an account should he run short.

—The losses and expenses of the farmers' mutual insurance company of Steuben county for the past year were but eight cents on each $100 of insurance in force, and the usual assessment has been postponed.

—Judge Martin of Bloomington, who threatens to keep reporters out of the court room so they cannot report divorce cases, ought to hire a lawyer to take his place on the bench. He don't seem to be one himself.

—The Kendallville Sun says the record made at the October term of the circuit court in Noble county furnishes some argument to show that marriage if not a failure, is not a flaming success in every particular, as might be desired. Fifteen divorces were granted, one refused, one dismissed and ten nuptial knots hanging in balance to be determined at a later date. DeKalb county is right in line, too, more than twenty cases being filed for trial at the present term.

—Tuesday's Indianapolis News contains an extended account of the forty-seven years' pastorate of Rev. Dr. H. L. Vannuys of the Goshen Presbyterian church. Dr. Vannuys came to Goshen when he was a young man, organized this church in 1852, has served no other since his ordination as a minister, and the church has never had any other pastor. This is a remarkable record and is said to be without a parallel in the history of the Presbyterian church in this country.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says; "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave me great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular size 50 cents and $1. Trial bottles free at H. B. McCord's Drug Store! every bottle guaranteed.

—Subscribe for the COURIER.

Saturday's Daily.

—An eleven pound daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Davidson yesterday morning.

—FOUND:—A solid silver heart pin, on the streets yesterday. Call on Ed. Baxter and prove property.

—Miss Celia Schoerpf of Fort Wayne is visiting Myron Brandon and wife. Miss Schoerpf and Mrs. Brandon were school girls together.

American women in England have chartered and fitted a steamer to go to South Africa as a hospital ship without any charge to the British government.

—Claude Link is back from California where he has spent the past summer. He is looking as if he had absorbed a large amount of the "glorious climate."

—Harry Trentman went to Chicago this morning to purchase a big line of holiday goods for the Trentman Sisters' store, including books and fine stationery.

—G. A. Lane, an experienced and capable nurse, is at liberty, and those desiring his services can secure the same by calling at his home on west Ninth street.

—J. W. Johnson was in town yesterday, and brought us the name of a neighbor, David Hollinger for our subscription list. Mr. Johnson lived here for some years but has turned his attention to farming now.

—In the circuit court yesterday the ditch case of Miller vs. Webster and others was decided in favor of the defendants. The plaintiff's motion for a new trial was overruled, and an appeal was then taken to the appellate court. No court was held today.

—G. W. St. Clair and wife, with their three children were here today to call on us and put his subscription up into 1900. They have been visiting the relatives in this county since Tuesday, and will return home to Bethel, Michigan, early next week. We are glad to see them looking well and prospering.

—It is said that passenger agents on various railroads throughout the country have in view a new system of rates. The plan, briefly is this: "To charge 2½ cens per mile, to abolish excursion fares of all kinds, to do away with half fares and to sell round trip tickets only at double the face value of one way ticket."

—The impeachment proceedings against Frank A. Borst, former auditor of DeKalb county, were dismissed in the supreme court Thursday. The defendant had ceased to be an officer of the county and the court said it would not decide a question after it had ceased to have bearing of the legal rights of the party involved.

—Charles Eckhart came home from Indianapolis last evening, where he had attended the carriage makers' convention. He was one of the oldest manufacturers present, having been in the business now forty-two years. However, he says he met a man at Moline, Ill., a while ago, who had been making carriages sixty-two years.

THE FIRST BABY.

Its Coming is Looked Forward to With Both Joy and Fear and its Safe Arrival is Hailed With Pride and Delight by All.

The arrival of the first baby in the household is the happiest and most important event of married life. The young wife who is to become a mother delights to think of the happiness in store for her when the little one shall nestle upon her breast and latterly she shall hear it lisp the sweet and holy name, "mother." But her happy anticipation quickly vanishes when she realizes the terrible pain and suffering through which she must pass while bringing the little one into the world. An indescribable fear of the danger attendant upon the ordeal soon dissipates her joyfulness.

Thousands of women have learned by experience that there is absolutely no necessity for the sufferings which attend child-birth; they know that by the use of "Mother's Friend"—a scientific liniment—for a few weeks before the trying hour, expectant mothers can so prepare themselves for the final hour that the pain and suffering of the dreaded event are entirely obviated and it is safely passed through with comparatively little discomfort.

All women are interested, and especially expectant mothers who for the first time have to undergo this trial, in such a remedy; for they know the pain and suffering, to say nothing of the danger, which is in store for them. "Mother's Friend" is woman's greatest blessing, for it takes her safely through the severest ordeal of her life. Every woman should be glad to read the little book "Before Baby is Born," which contains information of great value to all. It will be sent free to any one who sends their address to The Bradfield Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.

THE AUBURN COURIER.

Volume XXIX | Auburn, DeKalb County Indiana, Thursday, November 9, 1899. | Number 45.

Dr. Broughton
WATERLOO,
Will Test your Eyes and Adjust your Glasses and GUARANTEE SATISFACTION. In Auburn every Wednesday.

C. S. SMITH,
Auburn, Ind.
Attorney-at-Law
AND NOTARY PUBLIC.
Office over Bazar Store, formerly occupied by Judge Hartman.

Sprott & Knapp,
Abstracters of Titles to Land and Lots,
AUBURN, IND.
☞Office in Gandy Block, North of Court House.

The McClellan Bank,
AUBURN, IND.
Successor To
The First National Bank,
Capital Stock and Surplus....
$60,000
Certificates of deposits issued, drawing interest if left six months. County and Town Orders bought and sold. Money to Loan.
C. A. O. McCLELLAN, ESTATE
CHARLES McCLELLAN
D. A. GARWOOD,
ISAAC HAGUE.
C. A. BENEDICT, Cashier

BANK Farmers,
Auburn, Ind.
(Incorporated and Under State Control)
Capital Stock and Surplus
$50,000
Transacts a General Banking Business and Pays Interest on Time Deposits.
Albert Robbins, Pres. J. C. Heary, V-res.
A. C. ROBBINS, Cashier.

J.E. Graham, D.D.S.
DENTIST
Over Davenport's Drugstore, Auburn, Ind.
CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK A SPECIALTY.
All Work Guaranteed | Gas Administered.
CENTRAL 'PHONE 513.
Will be at Waterloo each Thursday in Dr. Darby's Office.

Physicians and SURGEONS
D. J. Swarts, M. D
Vesta W. Swarts, M D
Office at Auburn Sanitary Baths, corner Main and Sixth Streets,
Professional Calls Promptly Answered.
'PHONES: Western..... No. 19
Central Union..... No. 19

DENTIST
F. W. HOFFMAN,
Auburn, Ind.
Office in Gandy Building, Northeast Corner of Court Square.
WESTERN 'PHONE 103.
Crown and Bridge Work a Specialty.

P. V. HOFFMAN,
LAWYER,
Auburn. Indiana.
OFFICE over Hebel's Grocery.

Dr. Z. H. Stamets,
Physician & Surgeon
Office on Main St., opposite Swineford Hotel.
Western 'Phone 104
Special attention given to techinal examinations and treatment of chronic and obscure cases, also special attention given to surgery and diseases of women. Calls answered at all hours. Office apart from residence.

I. O. BUCHTEL, HOMEOPATHIC Physician and Surgeon.
Special attention given to chronic and Obscure cases and catarrhal diseases of the nose, throat and lungs; also to diseases peculiar to women and children.
Office and residence over Madden Bros Marble Works, Auburn, Ind. Office apart from residence and private. All calls attended to promptly, day or night.

Eureka Harness Oil is the best preservative of new leather and the best renovator of old leather. It oils, softens, blackens and protects. Use
Eureka Harness Oil
on your best harness, your old harness, and your carriage top, and they will not only look better but wear longer. Sold everywhere in cans—all sizes from half pints to five gallons.
Made by STANDARD OIL CO.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

More than eighty towns and cities in Indiana are now keeping the saloons out by remonstrance.

There are a good many people, we apprehend, who are so opposed to the liquor traffic that they would be delighted to get up some fine morning and find the whole thing abolished. In that case its abolition would not have cost them anything either in money or effort. There would be nothing left for them to do but help celebrate somebody's else victory. But the liquor curse is not going that way. Every friend of the temperance reform has his own personal responsibility and work to do in pushing it forward to ultimate success.

Within the last few weeks the following Indiana judges have given decisions favoring the power of attorneys in signing remonstrances:

Judge Gillette, of Porter county; Judge Kent, of Clinton; Judge Mount, of Tipton; Judge Palmer, of White; and Judge Neal of Hamilton. One case is now in the supreme court. We would advise all leagues to use power of attorney remonstrance wock.

The case of Fred Kissel of Indianapolis is as follows: Suit was brought against him for running a saloon and beer garden on the complaint that his place was a nuisance. Every point in the case was gained by our attorneys and his place was closed by a perpetual injunction. It was opened a little later in another name and Mr. Kissel was cited to appear on a charge of contempt of court. He has been fined $300 or will be imprisoned in case he can be found. He who once defied the laws in Indianapolis is now a fugitive.

About four years ago the supreme court of Indiana held that where a saloon was located near enough to a residence to injure the rental value or the enjoyment of the residence as a home, the owner of the home could secure damages, and in some cases, close the saloon by injunction, even if it was duly licensed and an orderly place. The case would be the stronger if the saloon was kept in a disorderly manner.

Several saloons have recently been perpetually enjoined from running, by the above act.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given that I, Daniel M. Link, commissioner appointed by the DeKalb circuit court to sell real estate in a certain case entitled Azam P. Foltz and Levina R. Shoup vs. William Foltz et al, will offer at public sale to the highest bidder, on

Saturday, December 2, 1899,

at the court house door, Auburn, Indiana, the following described real estate, to-wit:

The west half (½) of the west half (½) of the southeast quarter (¼) of section thirty-five (35) township thirty-three (33) north, range thirteen (13) east, in DeKalb county, state of Indiana.

TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, the balance in three equal annual payments; deferred payments to be evidenced by interest-bearing notes waiving relief and secured by mortgage on the premises sold.

4w DANIEL M. LINK, Commissioner.

Another Problem.

"What do yen want to buy, young man?"

"One pound of bologna sausage at 20 cents a pound, one-half pound ham at 18 cents a pound, and three quarters of a pound of cheese, at 24 cents."

"Very well; you shall have it directly.

"Now if I give you a dollar, how much change do I get back?"

"Fifty-three cents—but where are you going?"

"I'm going home to write down the answer! I've got to hand it in at school tomorrow!"

Notice to Non-Resident.

STATE OF INDIANA, DEKALB COUNTY, } SS.

In the DeKalb Circuit Court, October Term, 1899

Walter Darling is hereby notified that an action has been commenced against him in said court for divorce by Martha Darling, and that the same will be heard and determined on the 3d day of January, 1900, being the 14th juridical day of the next term of said court, which commences December 18, 1899.

Witness, the Clerk of said Court this 2d day of November, 1899.

MICHAEL F. LONG, Clerk.

T. A. Redmond, Attorney for Plaintiff.

Dissolution.

The law firm of Baxter & Brown has been dissolved by mutual agreement, and each member will continue in business in Auburn. Persons owing the firm on account are requested to settle the same by cash or note at once, which may be done by either of us.

JOHN W. BAXTER.
CHAS. M BROWN.

AUBURN, IND., October 10, 1899.

TO CURE LAGRIPPE IN 24 HOURS.

No remedy equals Warner's White Wine of Tar Syrup for this terrible and fatal disease. If taken thoroughly and in time, it will cure a case in 24 outs, and for the cough that follows La Grippe it never fails to give relief. Price 25 and 50 cents.—F. E. DAVENPORT.

Mixed Hay Wanted.

A. Swayze can use a few cars of mixed hay if brought in soon. Best market price paid.

FORGING AHEAD...

THE largest OCTOBER trade we have ever experienced. The largest SEPTEMBER, AUGUST, JULY, JUNE, MAY, APRIL, MARCH FEBRUARY and JANUARY. Isn't this a record of which to feel proud? We feel that it is. It goes to prove that our prices are right and our business methods are right.

We have set our stakes for November and December to fall into line rnd make it a clean record. Our stock shall be kept in first-class condition. So fast as the new ideas crop out we shall hrve them to show you. You may depend upon our prices being the very lowest for quality of goods shown. You can Make up your mind to find in our store just what you want.

We are trying to please you. See us often.

We Are Saving You Money.

SCHAAB & BRO.

WHO IS TO LAME. Women as well as men are made miserable by kidney and bladder trouble. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root the great kidney remedy promptly cures At druggists in fifty cent and dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

OBITUARY.

Polly Weaver, daughter of Peter and Christina Weaver, was born in Lancaster county, Pa., October 2, 1806, and after weeks of suffering departed this life at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stomm, October 31, 1899, at the advanced age of 93 years and 29 days.

At the age of 19 she made a public profession of faith and united with the Lutheran church. After removing to Indiana, and when St. John's Reformed church was organized by the sainted Rev. George Kissell at the residence of John Leas, west of Hudson, on the county line, she was enrolled with fourteen others as a charter member of said congregation, of which she remained a faithful, consistent member until her death, thus giving 74 years of her life to the Master's service. In 1839, September 25, she was married to Michael Hostler. Her husband enlisted in the Mexican war, and after being taken sick was sent home, and soon thereafter died. Twelve years ago she lost her eye-sight and since then she has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Stomm. Four months ago last Monday she fell and fractured her right limb just below the hip. During that time she was entirely helpless and had to be cared for like a child. She has been suffering with a good deal of patience, and just a few days before her death she earnestly prayed God to release her from her sufferings. She told her attendants that she "wanted to go home," and that she saw "white horses coming, and white horses about her." This evidently was a premonition that her prayers would soon be answered. Her immediate relatives have all preceded her to the spirit world, but she leaves many friends to mourn her departure.

Funeral services were held on the 2d instant at the Reformed church in Hudson, conducted by Rev. J. A. Seitz, assisted by Rev. George Frederick. Interment was made in the county line cemetery. Peace to her ashes. S.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

"Theodosia" wear well.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Billiousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Sample bottles at O. P. Barber's, Corunna.

ALL WOMEN AGREE.

A druggist in Macon, Ga., says: "I have sold a large quantity of Mother's Friend, and have never known an instance where it has failed to produce the good results claimed for it. All women agree that it makes labor shorter and less painful."

Mother's Friend

is not a chance remedy. Its good effects are readily experienced by all expectant mothers who use it. Years ago it passed the experimental stage. While it always shortens labor and lessens the pains of delivery, it is also of the greatest benefit during the earlier months of pregnancy. Morning sickness and nervousness are readily overcome, and the liniment relaxes the strained muscles, permitting them to expand without causing distress. Mother's Friend gives great recuperative power to the mother, and her recovery is sure and rapid. Danger from rising and swelled breasts is done away with completely.

Sold by druggists for $1 a bottle.

THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.
ATLANTA, GA.
Send for our free illustrated book for expectant mothers.

Saturday Evenings.

CHAPTER I.

The impossibility of keeping up the meetings at the band stand, requires that a more appropriate place of meeting be chosen and the nature of the work be varied somewhat. But the popularity and value of the thirteen chapters we gave suggests that something of the sort should be kept up.

Saturday evening is a most important evening. The week's work is done and the Sabbath approaches. If we have earned wages, then on this evening we have our money to use. And the manner in which we spend our money that evening is important. And no less important is the manner in which we spend our time at the close of the week. We should round out the week by learning some useful thing, by broadening our views, by adding to our knowledge, and all this in such a way that we may grow wiser and better. To this, end these articles will, in part at least, be directed.

Our recent legislatures have given much time and thought to certain changes in our existing laws, and have in addition made a number of new ones. In some things they have made improvements. In some things, they have not. In some ways they have made the enforcement of good laws impossible by limiting the means by which public officers charged with the administration of the laws. The sheriff, for example finds that when a criminal is to be arrested there is unusually great danger, that he will at once skip into another state, for he has learned that there is no money allowed to pay the expenses of a sheriff in going into another state. It was bad enough under the old law when we have seen a sheriff spend twice as much as his own pay, in order to bring back the criminal. At present, a sheriff following a man into Ohio, or any other state, must do so at his own expense. What is the result? Only this, that in such cases the sheriff stays at home and the criminal is safe. Again, when the sheriff takes an insane person to Logansport, on reaching that city, he must take the hospital hack to take him and the patient out to Longcliff. For this service, the charge is $3. But the law gives the sheriff an allowance of 3 cents a mile. So, in order to reimburse him for that $3 the law allows him 9 cents. If I am wrong, this column is open to corrections. And there are many other things that need attending.

The Lamphere Case.

A week or so ago the COURIER noted the arrest of John C. Lamphere on a charge of fornication with the widow Harvey of Butler township. Lamphere was incarcerated in the county jail to await trial, and on Thursday afternoon was brought before Judge Hartman where he virtually acknowledged that he was the father of the child born to Mrs. Harvey recently. He was remanded to jail for further hearing, but a short time afterward Esquire Walter was called to the sheriff's residence on special business. A license had been procured, "the bride and groom were there," and in a few moments John C. Lamphere and Pluma C. Harvey were pronounced man and wife, the witnesses including Sheriff Hathaway, Ed Baxter and Tom Husselman. The ceremony over Lamphere went back to his cell and the bride returned to her home in the country to await his release.

About 11:30 today Lamphere was brought into court and was represented by Attorney Ed Baxter, who asked the court to be as lenient as possible with the prisoner in view of the fact that he had married the co-defendant. Mr. Pomeroy, for the state, made a strong plea in which he gave at some length the particulars of the case, which to say the least showed a sad state of morality as far as these people are concerned. The court took the matter under advisement until this afternoon when he was to render a decision, but up to the time of going to press the prisoner is still awaiting sentence.

Attention Farmers.

The Auburn Handle Factory will pay the highest cash price for ash handle block delivered at their factory on the Lake Shore tracks, cut 58 inches long. Also want ash logs cut 9½, 14½ and 19½ feet long. All timber to be smooth and sound. Will also take basswood cut 4 feet long and 8 inches in diameter and up, left round with bark on. Will pay $3 per cord.—J. M. CHERRY & Co.

Notice to Creditors.

The First National Bank, located at Auburn, in the State of Indiana, is closing up its affairs. All note holders and others, creditors of said association, are therefore hereby notified to present the notes and other claims against the association for payment,

CHARLES McCLELLAN, President.

Dated October 14, 1899.

The foregoing association has been at once reorganized and will continue the business of banking as "The McClellan Bank," under same management.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY.

Take Warner's White Wine of Tar Syrup, the best cough remedy on earth. 25 and 50 cents.—F. E. DAVENPORT

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE.
Makes the food more delicious and wholesome
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

THE ALBRIGHT CASE

Thursday's Daily.

This case began yesterday afternoon with Judge Hartman on the bench, and the regular jury. The state was represented by Prosecutor Rhoads Deputy Pomeroy and Judge Roby. The defence by Baxter & Brown and McNagny.

This is the case of State vs Albright, charging the latter with having cut down about 33 apples trees in Boyd's orchard. They were set out in 86 and then two years old, and cut down last year. Boyd believed Frank Albright had destroyed the trees through spite because Boyd had had him fined for killing a dog belonging to Boyd. Boyd, in order to get at the matter employed a detective named B. F. Streifling to help him. He and the detective, fixed it up, that Streifling should come into the neighborhood and pretend he be a peddler, selling tea. It was made up, that Boyd and Streifling should get into a quarrel, be arrested and given a mock trial. This was all carried out. Mr. Boyd and Streifling met where the Albrights could see them, and Boyd began the quarrel by accusing Streifling of selling him poor tea at a high price. A fight ensued and Boyd had the man arrested and brought before 'Squire Walter and a sort of trial was held and he was fined for assault and battery. It appears this had the effect that Streifling hoped, and made the Albrights his friends. In his testimony yesterday and this morning he told all we have given and much more. He said he staid over night at Albrights and secured the confidence of the family, also claims that Milan showed him the saw he cut down the trees with. Streifling says, that to keep up the matter, he himself took the saw that night, went out and cut five more of Boyd's trees. Readers of the COURIER will remember we had an item about this second cutting, though we did not know it was a part of the scheme. In a short time the detective gave away the whole matter and then he had the young Albright were arrested and lodged in jail. Albright gave bond to appear and was let out till court set. After Streifling had testified yesterday and again this morning, Constable Geo. Quince was sworn and told about going out to arrest Albright and finding the saw and a pair of rubber boots. These were shown him and he recognized them by marks on them. So did Boyd and he told how his wife had marked them.

C. C. Walter sworn. I know Streifling. I had met him before at the house of ill fame trial and knew he was a detective. After the mock trial, I told him where he could get board. Albright had been called before me before this for cutting down trees, but the state dismissed the case because there was no evidence against him.

In the afternoon 'Squire Walter was put on again, and then Mrs. Frank Albright, mother of Milan. She says he is the oldest of six children, his age being 22. She was questioned by attorneys on both sides, as to what she knew of the matter. In substance she stated that she did not see the sham fight, but heard all about it. The night Streifling staid with them, Milan had come to her in the buttery and told her he believed the man was a fraud and a liar, and she ought not to keep him. She replied it would not do to turn him out of the house now, in the night. Milan then said he hoped she would never keep another. She denied that she knew anything about cutting down the trees, but heard of it a few days later. The stranger went away in the morning and the next day Milan was arrested on charge of cutting down the trees. That day they she sent word to Love's folks to be careful and have nothing to do with Streifling as she believed he was a detective who was getting folks into trouble. She was still on the stand when we closed our copy at 3 p. m.

Friday's Daily.

We omitted yesterday to notice all of Mr. Shull's testimony in the Albright case. He was put on the stand by the state to prove the value of trees, the age and size of those cut down. He believes apple trees, planted at three years old, would be worth $10 apiece two or three years later. Good varieties of plums and peaches would be worth about $5.

The first witness put on this morning in the Albright trial was Frank Albright for the defense. He and his son Milan are both accused of cutting down Boyd's trees, or having a hand in it. Albright denied a good deal of what the detective had told on the witness stand, but now and then he corroborated parts of the latter's story. He was cross-examined at great length by Judge Roby. A fuller account of which will be given tomorrow. He told how he had seen the sham fight and thought it was real. Then he was a witness at the trial. He gave a good deal of information not given by others.

Saturday's Daily.

We refrained from giving the testimony of Frank Albright yesterday, because attorneys seemed to think it ought not to be done till the trial was over. And some of them objected earnestly to having the story of the detective published till then.

Except the statements of the detective, those of Frank Albright, the father of Milan, were the most important because he knew more of what the detective told them than anyone else. The detective had told of the sham fight with Boyd, and about going to Albright's house to stay, and about his getting of Albright that night, a saw to cut down some more of Boyd's trees, and some paris green and meat to poison Boyd's dog.

In his testimony on the witness stand Albright said he was working near his house the day of the sham fight. The peddler, (now known as the detective,) was there, when Boyd called for him to come down to the road. Streifling wanted me to go with him. I said no, as I and Boyd were not friendly, but the boys could go if they wanted to, and they went. Soon I heard them call "Oh, Pa." I started that way as I could not see the men at first on account of the orchard. When I could see them they were tussling, Boyd and Streifling. I went back. The boys were only part way to the place. Soon Boyd got up and with his hands over his chest went limping towards home. When Boyd had Streifling arrested, Albright was a witness. At this mock trial, Albright thought the whole thing was real. Streifling was fined. After getting out of the justice's office, Streifling and Albright had a short talk as to what course Streifling should take, get a lawyer or whip Boyd. Albright rather favored the latter course.

Then Albright gave his version of what happened the night of July 29. The peddler had come to stay with him. The family went to bed at the usual time, which Albright says is 9 p. m. But he and the peddler staid up. The peddler he says, claimed he would like to get even with Boyd for getting him fined. He proposed to cut some of Boyd's fruit trees and asked if Albright had a saw. Albright said he had. So he got the saw for the peddler, and gave him the paris green and meat to fix the dog. The peddler asked if he had a pair of rubber boots. Albright said he had a pair of felt boots. The peddler put them on and went out. Albright says he staid up till the man came back. Before going he asked me if I had coal oil. I said only a very little. He said he would burn Boyd out clean if it were not for the kids. He had a revolver. When he came back he gave me the saw and I put it in the shop. He gave me the boots, and I put them in an old stove in the shop. He said he had cut only five trees as the geese had chased him away. The peddler was shown to bed, and it was late when he got up. Albright said he was not at home when the officer called to arrest Milan. But on being reminded that he had a few minutes before on direct examination said he was at home, he changed it, and said he was, and told how he helped the officer to get the saw, and boots. He had not told his folks that night that the peddler had gone to Boyds, but said he knew that the peddler went to poison Boyd's dog, but did not know what else he went for. It was light the night the peddler went to Boyd's. At one point Albright spoke of having loaded all four of his guns as he thought some one was prowling around, but it was not plain which night he meant. The peddler, he said, wanted the boots that night so he could go cross lots over the meadow to Boyd's.

Early in the afternoon yesterday, the testimony being all in, the attorneys began arguments. Mr. Rhoads opened for the state and was followed by McNagny for the defense. Mr. Pomeroy then spoke for the state, and the court adjourned till this Saturday morning at 8:30.

This morning the first speech was by Hon. C. M. Brown and he was followed by John W. Baxter, both for the defense. The concluding argument was made by Judge Roby for the state. All these speakers made able pleas and did themselves great credit. The speeches of Mr. McNagny and Judge Roby were especially strong and able.

At 10:40 Judge Hartman charged the jury, and they are now out making up their verdict.

HOW TO PREVENT A COLD.

After exposure or when you feel a cold coming on take a dose of Foley's Honey and Tar. It never fails and will prevent Pneumonia or Consumption if taken in time. H. B. McCORD.

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, INDIANA.

JAMES A. BARNS, - - PUBLISHER.

1899. NOVEMBER. 1899.

Su	Mo	Tu	We	Th	Fr	Sa
•	•	•	1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12	13	14	15	16	17	18
19	20	21	22	23	24	25
26	27	28	29	30	•	•
•	•	•	•	•	•	•

N. M. 3rd. F. Q. 10th. F. M. 17th. L. Q. 25th.

HISTORY OF A WEEK.

PEOPLE, PLACES AND THINGS OF THE WORLD.

News of Crimes and Criminals, Accidents, Fires, Etc., from North, South, East and West, Sandwiched with Minor Affairs.

Philippine Commission Report.

The Philippine Commission has submitted to the President the preliminary report which it had promised to prepare.

The report appears to be a compact summary of conditions on the islands as the commission left them; of the historical events which preceded the Spanish War and led to the original insurrection; of the exchanges between Admiral Dewey and the other American commanders and the insurgents; the breaking out and progress of the present insurrection, and, finally, a statement of the capacity of the Filipinos for self-government. A notable feature of the report is a memorandum by Admiral Dewey explanatory of his relations with Aguinaldo.

Battered by a Typhoon.

The British tramp steamer Flintshire, which has arrived at San Francisco from Vladivostock and Yokohama, was caught in a severe typhoon off the coast of Asia, and for thirteen hours was at its mercy. She could make no headway and had to heave to for awhile. At its height the typhoon played havoc on the poop deck. Everything was swept clean away. The boats were carried away, but the masts remained uninjured. Her entire stock of fresh meat and provisions was carried overboard and for two weeks officers and crew had nothing but a few casks of salt pork to eat.

Convicted of Pension Frauds.

Nashville special: Thursday afternoon another chapter was enacted in the crusade against the organized gang of pension law violators when eleven persons were placed in the penitentiary. They received sentences from one to five years for their offenses. Rosetta Horton, aged 90 years, was conveyed to the penitentiary in an ambulance. She secured over $5,000 on a fraudulent claim. Included in the number of prisoners was a notary public who had been instrumental in prosecuting false claims.

A Wronged Girl's Revenge.

Edward Grafe, foreman of a printing office at Pearl and Main streets, Cincinnati, was shot four times and fatally wounded on the street by Mamie Reting, daughter of Capt. Reting of the fire department. Miss Reting declared that Grafe had wronged her and when she met him she drew a revolver and fired four shots into his body. The wounds are regarded as fatal.

A Terrible Crash.

Three men are known to have perished and three others are reported missing as the result of a collapse of a six-story building at 139 and 141 West Lake street, Chicago. Considerable damage was done to adjoining property and during the excitement it was reported that as many as forty lives had been lost. About $200,000 damage was done.

A New Bureau.

A new bureau is to be created in the War Department. It will be called the Bureau of the Insular and Colonial Affairs. The position has been offered to Robert P. Porter. The latter has reserved his decision until next week. The bureau is a compromise between the advocates of a new cabinet position and the opponents of that plan.

Rebels Routed.

Manila special: Lieut. Slavens with eighteen scouts, while reconnoitering the insurgents' position north of Angeles, encountered and routed the enemy's outpost, numbering forty men. Three insurgents were killed. Lieut. Slavens' force had no casualties. Lieut. Slavens was warmly commended by Gen. MacArthur.

Costa Rica Is Obdurate.

The Government of Costa Rica has definitely refused to surrender Rutherford, the man charged with the murder of the American citizen Archer, unless the British Government guarantees not to inflict capital punishment, to which the Government cannot accede, thus closing the case so far as Jamaica is concerned.

Castro Is Supreme.

Gen. Castro, leader of the revolution in Venezuela, has formally blockaded Porto Cabello, the only port not occupied by Castro's forces, with two cruisers. Commerce with that port has been stopped. Castro has won two victories over Heranez and the former's government is becoming well established.

On Thanksgiving Day.

Intimate friends say that Admiral Dewey and Mrs. Hazen will be married Thanksgiving Day. The latter neither deny or confirm the report.

Masonic Temple, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Nov. 9—Ward and Vokes.
Nov. 11—"The Telephone Girl."

Steamer and Crew Lost.

A dispatch received by the maritime exchange at Philadelphia, from Charleston, S. C., says the steamer George L. Colwell, Capt. Gaskill, from Fernandina for New York, has foundered. The captain is the only one saved. She had a crew of twelve men.

Boers Recruiting in the United States

Cincinnati special: It is discovered that the systematic recruiting of Boers is going on here and in most of the other large cities in the United States. They expect to ship an army of 10,000 men in December.

Striking Miners at Decatur Shot.

The first serious fight of the coal miners' strike at Decatur, Ill., occurred the other day. Two union miners were shot, one probably fatally. Fred Dongowski, a striker, was wounded, probably fatally. Charles Maurits, another striker, received a bullet in the arm.

Minister Dies on the Gallows.

The first legal execution of a minister of the gospel to be recorded in the criminal annals of Texas took place at Pan Handle City. The victim was Rev. Geo. E. Morrison, who, Oct. 10, 1897, killed his wife by giving her strychnine in an apple.

RELIEF IN THE MONEY MARKET.

Commercial Agency Reports that War Has Aided Prosperity.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: "Fears and not facts made a war in South Africa seem a menace to prosperity here, and a week of conflict has cleared away the fear. British markets for securities have been helped by the belief that mining shares would be worth more with no Boer control in mining regions, and large purchases here of ammunition, packed meats and other army food have swelled the balance due this country. Money markets have grown less embarrassing, stocks have gradually advanced, industries are still supported by a volume of demand for which no precedent can be found, and payments through the principal clearing houses for the last week have been 36.6 per cent larger than last year and 57.3 per cent larger than in 1892. Buying of wool has been heavy at Boston—10,071,200 pounds for the week, and at the three central markets 13,579,837, making 42,928,289 pounds in four weeks, against 36,394,090 in 1897, when the last great speculation was on foot. Many mills are now buying which have recently started after long idleness. Failures for the week have been 190 in the United States, against 226 last year, and 23 in Canada, against 24 last year."

CANNOT DEFEND LAND TITLES.

Government's Power Is Limited in Northern Pacific Cases.

In view of the cases which the Northern Pacific was bringing against a large number of the settlers near Fergus Falls, Minn., C. F. Hanson wrote the Secretary of the Interior to find out if there was any possibility of the Government defending its patents in the courts. Acting Secretary Thomas Ryan replies as follows: "You are advised that the Government has no interest whatsoever in these controversies, patents having been issued for the lands, and it would be utterly impossible for the Government to defend the title conveyed by it in every instance where it is attacked. The title conveyed by the Government is not warranted and the patentee gets no better title than the Government itself may have at the time it patents the land."

POKER PLAYERS ARE BLOWN UP.

House at Lyons, N. Y., in Which Men Were Playing, Is Wrecked.

While Locktender Henry, Capt. Drake of the Tonawanda Chief, Abram Canton and Agent Warner were enjoying a game of poker in the lockhouse at Lyons, N. Y., there was a terrible explosion underneath the house and cards and men were thrown in all directions. The flooring was destroyed and the door and window blown out. While all of the men were badly cut and shocked, Drake was the only one to receive serious injuries. His leg was terribly cut and will probably have to be amputated. Investigation has proved fruitless.

CANADIAN CYCLE FIRMS UNITE.

Four Big Plants with a Capacity of 30,000 Wheels Join Hands.

A company has been formed at Toronto, Ont., to take over the rights and business of four large bicycle concerns doing business in Canada—the American Bicycle Company, the E. & D. Cycle Company, the E. C. Stearns Company and the Christie & Wheeler Saddle Company. The new company will establish a factory in Toronto capable of turning out 30,000 wheels a year. The amalgamation was brought about by Lemuel H. Foster of Detroit.

Shot by an Unknown Person.

John Galt, proprietor of a dairy, was murdered in the rear of his home in West Capitol avenue at Springfield, Ill., by an unknown man, who made his escape immediately after the murder. Galt was shot twice with a revolver. After receiving the wounds he staggered into the house and fell dead. The murdered man had no known enemies and no cause for the murder can be found by the police.

Refuses to Leave His Post.

A head-end collision occurred on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad five miles east of Cambridge, Ohio, wrecking both engines and fourteen cars. Engineer W. A. Carney refused to leave his post and received injuries from which he died an hour later. The accident was caused by Engineer Carney's failure to take a siding as ordered.

St. Louis Robbers Get $30,000.

In St. Louis Robert P. Jennings, secretary-treasurer and general superintendent of the Broadway Cable Company, was robbed of $1,043 in cash and $48,750 in checks on a Broadway car at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. An envelope containing the money was taken from his pocket. Two men were concerned in the robbery.

South Dakota Short of Coal.

A coal famine is threatened in South Dakota. There is already a large shortage and wholesale dealers find it next to impossible to get their orders filled. The railroads have been using their fuel very carefully for several weeks and are fearful lest they be left short.

Lynching Follows Murder.

At Weir City, Kan., Gus McArdle, a bartender, was shot and killed, and in less than two hours his supposed murderer, George Wells, a negro miner from Scammon, was swinging to a telephone pole, the victim of a mob which had forcibly taken him from jail.

Brazil and Bolivia Agree.

The Brazilian foreign minister, Gen. De Castro Cerqueira, and the Bolivian minister at Rio de Janeiro, Mr. Paravicini, have signed a protocol settling the boundary question between their respective countries.

Miners' Strike Declared Off.

The strike of coal miners in the New River district, W. Va., has been officially declared off. The strike started for an advance of 5 cents a ton. The advance was granted by thirteen of the forty-five mines in the field.

Dwight Townsend Dead.

Dwight Townsend died suddenly at his home in New York, aged 73 years. Nearly forty years ago he founded, with Frederick C. Havemeyer, the famous sugar refining firm of Havemeyer, Townsend & Co., now Havemeyer & Elder.

England Proposes Exchange.

The Vossische Zeitung of Berlin says that Great Britain has offered Germany the Gilbert Islands and the British section of the Solomon Islands if Germany will renounce her claims in Samoa.

Murdered with a Broken Bottle.

At Great Falls, Mont., John Beupanchich murdered Frank Marhar, cutting his throat with a broken bottle. Both were Austrian smelter employes about 30 years old.

No Indorsement by Laurier.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Canadian premier, does not indorse the opinion that the temporary agreement on the Alaska boundary is to be permanent.

Bloody Battle at Ladysmith.

There has been a bloody battle between the Boers and British at Ladysmith. Gen. White reports 100 British killed.

Murder Mystery Solved.

Some time ago John Hagel disappeared mysteriously and detectives at Lacombe, in Canadian Northwest, theorized that he had been murdered near that place. They arrested the missing man's wife, with a view of scaring her into confession. This plan was successful, and as a result Mrs. Hagel's brother, Alfred Quigley, has been arrested at Fish lake, close to Kamloops, B. C. Mrs. Hagel says Quigley planned the murder of Hagel, presumably for the insurance.

MILLIONS FOR DULUTH MILLS.

New York Capital Will Re-establish Iron Plants Long Idle.

A deal has been closed in New York by which John E. Searles, president of the American Cotton Company, secures three iron manufacturing plants in Duluth, which he will put in operation as soon as necessary changes can be made. The plants are the Ironton structural steel mill, the West Duluth car works and the West Superior steel mills. The price, together with the amounts that will be expended to bring the plants completely up to date, exceeds $2,000,000, and about 2,500 men will be added to the working population of Duluth. They will manufacture all kinds of structural steel and railroad cars, and 90,000 tons of pig iron have already been contracted for from the Duluth Furnace Company, which has recently started up. These plants have all been idle five years or more. The West Superior mills will produce Bessemer pig, and $125,000 will be spent in improvements there, while $200,000 will be spent on the Ironton plant, including three new open hearth furnaces. The car works will be improved to the amount of $25,000.

GIVES TERRITORY TO CANADA.

Pioneer Alaskans Do Not Like the Terms of the Modus Vivendi.

Pioneer Alaskans, having read the recent modus vivendi in the matter of the boundary, are charging that it makes a concession of a strip of territory fifteen miles wide to Canada. The line of delimitation has officially and in general for years been understood to be at a point on the Klahena river known all over southeastern Alaska as Pleasant Camp, and for nearly two years the British flag has been flying there. The Canadian Government has built expensive barracks there and established a company of soldiers, now under the command of Capt. Jarvis. Pleasant Camp is about thirty-eight miles from Chilkat on Pyramid harbor, and by an unofficial survey made by a Juneau surveyor over a year ago twenty-seven miles from high tide of Chilkat inlet, or three miles inside American territory under the original agreement.

TRAIN ROBBER SECURES $10,000.

Fatally Injures an Express Messenger on the M., K. & T. and Escapes.

While the Missouri, Kansas and Texas train from Sherman was within the city limits of Dennison, Texas, a train robber made a murderous assault on Express Messenger Concanon, dealing him a fatal blow. When the train arrived at the station Conductor Romer discovered the messenger on the floor, with blood oozing from a ghastly wound. The express car had been robbed of a considerable sum of money, but the agent refuses to give the amount. It is rumored that a package containing $5,000 was taken, and the officers say that fully $10,000 is missing.

Fire Causes Loss.

Buildings at 39-43 West Washington street, Chicago, were consumed by flames. The first floor of the burned building is occupied by the Empire steam carpet cleaning works and M. McGregor & Co., manufacturers of machinery. The second floor was occupied by Frank Swett & Co., saw manufacturers, and the third by the Becker Brothers, electrical engine manufacturers. The property of these companies is almost a total loss.

Murderer Dies on the Gallows.

Samuel Watrous, one of the murderers of G. W. Engberg and wife, was hanged in the jail yard at Austin, Texas. Before dying Watrous said he was going to heaven. James Davidson, convicted of the same crime, will be hanged on Nov. 24.

Poolroom Swindlers Caught.

By clever work Capt. Schmittberger and his detectives have captured three of the boldest wire tappers and pool room swindlers ever apprehended in New York. The police also hold a 16-year-old girl who helped the men in their work.

Well-Known St. Louisan Dies.

Charles Gibson, one of the best known men in St. Louis, where he had lived half a century, died at Minneapolis. He was 74 years of age. Mr. Gibson spent his summers at Lake Minnetonka, where he had large property interests.

Bartender Is Left a Fortune.

A surprise in the shape of $35,000 has come to John A. Schaefer, a New York bartender. A letter came to him from Berlin stating that his uncle, Hermann Schaefer, had died and left a will making him his sole heir.

Invented the Typesetting Machine.

Ottmar Mergenthaler, the inventor of the Linotype typesetting machine, died at Baltimore of consumption. He was born in Germany on May 10, 1854.

Death of Florence Marryat.

Florence Marryat (Mrs. Frances Lean), the well-known authoress, died in London.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago—Cattle, common to prime, $3.00 to $7.00; hogs, shipping grades, $3.00 to $4.50; sheep, fair to choice, $3.00 to $4.25; wheat, No. 2 red, 73c to 74c; corn, No. 2, 31c to 32c; oats, No. 2, 22c to 24c; rye, No. 2, 55c to 57c; butter, choice creamery, 22c to 24c; eggs, fresh, 16c to 18c; potatoes, choice, 25c to 35c per bushel.

Indianapolis—Cattle, shipping, $3.00 to $6.50; hogs, choice light, $2.75 to $4.50; sheep, common to prime, $3.25 to $4.50; wheat, No. 2 red, 67c to 69c; corn, No. 2 white, 33c to 34c; oats, No. 2 white, 25c to 27c.

St. Louis—Cattle, $3.25 to $6.50; hogs, $3.00 to $4.50; sheep, $3.00 to $4.25; wheat, No. 2, 70c to 72c; corn, No. 2 yellow, 32c to 34c; oats, No. 2, 23c to 25c; rye, No. 2, 54c to 56c.

Cincinnati—Cattle, $2.50 to $6.50; hogs, $3.00 to $4.50; sheep, $2.50 to $4.00; wheat, No. 2, 70c to 72c; corn, No. 2 mixed, 35c to 37c; oats, No. 2 mixed, 25c to 26c; rye, No. 2, 64c to 66c.

Detroit—Cattle, $2.50 to $6.50; hogs, $3.00 to $4.50; sheep, $2.50 to $4.25; wheat, No. 2, 71c to 72c; corn, No. 2 yellow, 36c to 37c; oats, No. 2 white, 26c to 28c; rye, 62c to 64c.

Toledo—Wheat, No. 2 mixed, 70c to 71c; corn, No. 2 mixed, 33c to 35c; oats, No. 2 mixed, 23c to 25c; rye, No. 2, 58c to 60c; clover seed, $5.95 to $6.05.

Milwaukee—Wheat, No. 2 Northern, 66c to 68c; corn, No. 3, 32c to 34c; oats, No. 2 white, 24c to 27c; rye, No. 1, 56c to 58c; barley, No. 2, 46c to 48c; pork, mess, $7.75 to $8.25.

Buffalo—Cattle, good shipping steers, $3.00 to $6.50; hogs, common to choice, $3.25 to $4.75; sheep, fair to choice wethers, $3.00 to $4.25; lambs, common to extra, $4.50 to $5.50.

New York—Cattle, $3.25 to $6.50; hogs, $3.00 to $4.75; sheep, $3.00 to $4.50; wheat, No. 2 red, 75c to 76c; corn, No. 2, 40c to 42c; oats, No. 2 white, 31c to 32c; butter, creamery, 17c to 25c; eggs, western, 14c to 20c.

DEFEAT OF BRITONS

Disastrous Result of the Battle Near Ladysmith.

BOERS ARE VICTORS.

Surround and Capture Three Regiments of the Queen's Troops.

Irish Fusileers, Tenth Mountain Battery and Gloucester Regiment Capitulate—General White's Staff Officers and Eight Cannon Included Among the Captures—News of the Disaster to British Arms Causes Gloom in London.

Gen. White, at the head of 12,000 British, and Gen. Joubert, commanding 16,000 Boers, measured arms in the vicinity of Ladysmith Sunday and Monday, and the result was a crushing defeat for the Britons. Three whole regiments were surrounded and captured and eight cannon were taken. The British admit casualties of from eighty to a hundred men.

The two armies on Monday fought from daybreak to the middle of the afternoon. Joubert began the fight about 5 o'clock in the morning, firing several 100-pound shells in the direction of that part of the British force stationed near the railway station. Their ammunition was good and their aim excellent. Gen. White first ordered the artillery fire returned and then ordered out a large force of cavalry and infantry to advance upon the Boer positions. White's forces followed up the supposed advantage, but soon found themselves face to face with a large army of Boers, who were all well armed and full of fight. The fighting raged fiercely until shortly before noon, when White withdrew without having forced the Boers within their laagers, and with a heavy loss.

GEN. SIR GEORGE WHITE.

The column of troops, consisting of the Irish Fusileers, the Tenth Mountain battery and the Gloucester regiment, sent against the Boers Sunday, was sent rounded in the hills and after losing heavily, had to capitulate. A Boer orderly came in to the British lines in the evening under a flag of truce with letters from the survivors of the captured column, asking assistance to bury the dead.

Among those captured are Maj. Adye of Gen. White's staff; the lieutenant colonel, the majors and all the captains and lieutenants of the Irish Fusileers; the majors, captains and lieutenants of the Gloucester regiment; Maj. Bryant of the Royal artillery, all the lieutenants of the Mountain battery and also the chaplain of the Irish Fusileers. Many of the captured officers and men were wounded.

The Boers in the meantime kept up their artillery fire, and, besides playing havoc with the British troops, stampeded about forty mules used for transporting the heavy guns. The British were so busy using their small arms that they were unable to look after the mules, with the result that eight cannon were lost.

Charge Upon Big Guns.

It seems Gen. White's first purpose was to charge the positions of the Boer batteries and capture, if possible, the big guns, which played so important a part at Glencoe. The charge was considered successful at first, but upon their arrival at the point where the Boer guns had been located the British found them gone. How Joubert managed to remove the awkward, heavy weapons is a mystery to the British, as they are said to weigh fully four tons each with their carriages.

One London newspaper, trying to account for the British retirement, says that presumably the Boers were driven back until they reached strong positions, which White naturally refused to attack. Gen. White reports the stampede happening during the night, as the result of battery fighting. But the newspaper accounts indicate the runaway occurred during the day's action.

England Is Startled.

All England was startled at the news of the first severe disaster to the British. White, in what was evidently an important movement, almost lost 20 per cent of his fighting force and eight of his fifty guns at one crack. Monday he had every available man engaged against the Boers, and reading between the lines of the official report and the dispatches of the English correspondents, he had all he could do to get back to his base at Ladysmith after making his sortie. It is apparent that he had hoped to march out and strike a blow at one column of the enemy that would weaken the attack on all sides and give him the upper hand. He lost his left wing in attempting this plan.

Three extra battalions of foot and one mountain battery, with reserves, will leave England during the course of ten days to make good the casualties. The war office has ordered a second army corps to be in readiness to be called out. The military officials are determined to have everything in readiness either for a demonstration in Europe of Great Britain's capabilities or for sending even a larger force to the scene of action.

ARMORED TRAIN USED BY THE BRITISH IN DEFENDING KIMBERLEY.

HERE, GET A MOVE ON YOU!

—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

DEWEY TO WED MRS. HAZEN.

The Admiral Announces His Engagement to a Washington Widow.

Admiral Dewey has authorized the announcement of his engagement to Mrs. Mildred Hazen, the widow of Gen. William B. Hazen. The admiral Monday moved into his new home, and his anxiety to occupy it without delay leads his friends to believe that the marriage of Mrs. Hazen and himself will be an event of the near future.

Mrs. Hazen is the daughter of Mrs. Washington McLean, whose Washington residence Admiral Dewey occupied during the ceremonies in his honor there, and for a short time thereafter. It is very evident that the admiral and Mrs. Hazen were engaged prior to his return to Washington. Mrs. Hazen is a sister of John R. McLean, the Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio. Her sister is the wife of Capt. Nicoll Ludlow, U. S. N. Gen. Hazen at the time of his death a year ago was the chief signal officer of the United States army. He was succeeded by Brig. Gen. A. W. Greely, the arctic explorer.

FERRY STEAMER IS SUNK.

Collision in New York Harbor Results in Drowning of Two Men.

The Pennsylvania Railway Company's ferryboat Chicago, plying between Cortland street, New York City, and the Pennsylvania Railway depot in Jersey City, was cut down by the Savannah line steamship City of Augusta about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning as the ferryboat was crossing to the east side of the North river. Within a few minutes of the collision and before the Chicago could make her slip, she sunk in seventy-five feet of water. It is not definitely known how many passengers were on board the Chicago at the time of the disaster, but the number is variously estimated at from fifty to 100. One man, John Bryson, is known to have been drowned. His body was recovered.

DEATH FOR INCORRIGIBLES.

California Considering the Doing Away with Persistent Criminals.

California is considering the advisability of putting her incorrigible criminals to death. It has been suggested that the lethal, or smothering, chamber may be called into use to dispose of men who are so criminal in their tendencies that it would be better if they were dead. The case of a prisoner named Oppenheimer, in San Quentin prison, is now being gravely discussed by some of the California newspapers.

California criminologists think, indeed, that it would be well to put this convict to death, for if he were released he would only commit some other crime which would result in his further incarceration. He has three times made murderous assaults upon his keepers, and it seems utterly impossible to control him. The missionaries and the prison visitors have labored with him in vain. They find that he is utterly without moral sense. He has all the marks of degeneracy. Lombroso would find in him a type of the natural criminal. Punishments, solitary confinement, on a bread and water diet, and everything which the prison discipline can suggest have been tried upon this refractory prisoner. There are several other prisoners at San Quentin who are as bad as he is, and some of the experts are solemnly considering the advisability of putting them all to death. There is, of course, no law on the statute books which permit such a thing, so there is talk of making incorrigibility a capital offense.

SCENE AT LADYSMITH, NATAL.

Headquarters of the British troops under Generals White and Yule.

ANOTHER INDIAN FAMINE.

One-fifth of the Peninsula Suffering from Hunger.

It is only three years since thousands of people were dying in India, and now about a fifth of the entire peninsula is again famine-stricken. The wide famine area extends through the interior from northwesterly to central Punjab and embraces nearly 350,000 square miles; and though none of the most densely peopled regions is included in this territory, its population is about 30,000,000.

DRAKENSBERG, ON THE TRANSVAAL BORDER.

No other part of the world suffers so terribly from famine as India. Two reasons combine to make this calamity frequent and very destructive. One is that the population is so enormous as to require nearly all the food produced in the country even in the best of crop years. The other is that the monsoons from the Indian ocean which bring the rain are fickle, and when the rains fail altogether or are inadequate the irrigation ditches are empty and the lives of millions of people are in peril.

GENERAL JOUBERT.

Ten million people perished in the famine of 1771 in Bengal and Behar. Since that greatest of historic famines twenty-five seasons of food scarcity have come to one or another part of the peninsula and the loss of life in about half of these calamities has been a million or more. A million died in the famine of 1856. The region affected in 1868 was almost identical with that which is now suffering, and the deaths in that terrible fall and winter numbered over 2,000,000. The famine of 1877 carried off about the same number of victims, and while people were dying by tens of thousands a day, Calcutta was sending wheat to foreign lands, the famine regions being unable to pay the high price demanded for the grain. Governmental efforts on a large scale to relieve such distress as this are proofs of advancing civilization.

Telegraphic Brevities.

Gas explosion at Wheeling, W. Va., killed Frank Martin.

President Gompers, Federation of Labor, wants all well workers to organize.

Citizens of Billings, O. T., have ordered all negroes to decamp. They'll go.

Wm. Higgins, 45, Hoboken, N. J., was found buried beneath thirty tons of coal.

Burglars stole considerable jewelry from Gov. Stanley's home, Wichita, Kan.

Lewis Wymer, Troy, Ohio, killed himself because his son was brought home drunk.

WHAT ENGLAND WANTS.

Will Relinquish Rights in Samoa for a Part of New Guinea.

It is reported by cable that England is willing to relinquish its rights in Samoa to Germany if the latter will turn over to the British Government the German portion of the Island of New Guinea. Next to Australia, New Guinea is the largest island in the world. It is six times as large as England and is only separated from the Australian continent by a shallow strait, which is eighty miles wide in its narrowest part. New Guinea is 1,500 miles long and from twenty to 480 miles in width. The island is divided into three parts, belonging respectively to Holland, Germany and Great Britain. The Dutch claim dates from 1848, when the sovereignty was proclaimed over the western half of the island. The remainder is almost equally divided between England and Germany, the division having been made in 1884. Kaiser Wilhelm's Land, which is the official name of the German territory, is under the control of the German New Guinea Company. It has an area of 70,000 square miles, about the same as that of the State of Missouri, and a population of 100,000, of whom less than 200 are Europeans. The interior of the island is still an almost unknown country. It contains many enormous mountains and great rivers. Rich deposits of gold have been found and the forests abound with ebony and other valuable woods. Included in the German protectorate is the Bismarck archipelago, consisting of a large number of islands adjoining Kaiser Wilhelm's Land.

NEW GUINEA AND SURROUNDING ISLANDS.

CAUGHT IN FLAMING RUINS.

Collapse of a Chicago Warehouse Destroys Life and Property.

The collapse of the six-story seed warehouse at 139-141 West Lake street, Chicago, Wednesday afternoon wrecked half a block of buildings and caused the loss of at least five lives. F. S. Hanson, owner of the New England mills, adjoining, was killed, and three men are missing, and are supposed to have been crushed to death under the falling walls. An unknown woman was seen standing in front of the seed warehouse just as the front walls fell into the street. She was heard to cry out in terror, but before any one could get to the spot the walls of other buildings began falling, and the sidewalks and street became piled up with debris.

To add to the disaster, the ruins caught fire and stopped any attempt to search for the bodies of the dead for several hours. The property loss will foot up over $200,000. Dozens of people had narrow escapes from death. Several were more or less injured by falling bricks and timbers. Probably fifty people were employed in and about the wrecked buildings and it is regarded as almost miraculous that more lives were not lost.

CORNER IN BROOM CORN.

Entire Supply of Farmers Is Bought Up by Manipulators.

The great broomcorn trust, about which so much speculation has been had, has been incorporated under the laws of the State of Indiana as the Union Broom Supply Company, with headquarters in Chicago. The object of the association has been to corner the broomcorn market, and it is claimed that it has succeeded, having over $2,000,000 invested in a quantity estimated at between 15,000 and 20,000 tons, or seven-eighths of the total crop of 1899. Prices of broomcorn have been advanced over 150 per cent already, and if the promises of the syndicate, as well as their hopes, are realized, these prices will be very much further increased.

Boston's registry list shows 96,485 voters.

Philadelphia wants the next Republican national convention.

The registration in Ohio is the largest ever known.

New York City's bill for printing election tickets is nearly $30,000.

At Rochester, N. Y., the registration was the largest in the city's history.

Covington (Ky.) Republicans used a locomotive as their party emblem.

Delaware's Republican factions are as far apart as ever. Addicks continues to fight.

The Nashville American says John M. Taylor is a possibility as Democratic candidate for Governor of Tennessee.

The people of the Southwest are working hard to have the Democratic national convention to be held at Kansas City.

Mississippi Republicans had no State ticket of their own, and the fight has been between Populists and Democrats.

John E. Bell and W. E. Eldridge will be candidates in Tennessee for Congressman Carmack's seat should he be chosen Senator from that State.

Lemuel Ely Quigg now admits that the Platt machine made a blunder in opposing Seth Low for Mayor of New York two years ago. As usual, political hindsight is wonderfully illuminating.

There will be more than 160 Democratic members of the Fifty-sixth Congress, an increase of forty over the Democratic membership of the preceding Congress, and already there is some contest over the Democratic leadership. It is wholly limited, however, to Southern members, among whom are John H. Bankhead of Alabama and J. D. Richardson of Tennessee.

Representative John Lamb of Richmond, Va., is authority for the statement that 90 per cent of the people of his State want Senators elected by the people.

Alfred Perdue, non-partisan candidate for Governor of Indiana, makes his campaign travels through the State in a lumber wagon, from which he makes speeches.

Robert S. Parke, an Americanized Chinaman, who was born in San Francisco, has recently organized the Chinese voters of California, and they now propose taking an active part in the city and State politics. There are now in the city of San Francisco 1,000 native born Chinese of legal voting age.

GOOD-BY—GOD BLESS YOU.

I love the words—perhaps because
When I was leaving mother
Standing at last in solemn pause
We looked at one another,
And I—I saw in mother's eyes
The love she could not tell me,
A love eternal as the skies
Whatever fate befell me;

She put her arms about my neck
And soothed the pain of leaving,
And though her heart was like to break,
She spoke no word of grieving;
She let no tear bedim her eye
For fear that might distress me,
But, kissing me, she said good-bye,
And asked our God to bless me.
—Eugene Field.

Cupid's Revenge.

"YOUR wife, Thornton? Why, it seems only yesterday you were carrying my books to school. What do boys know of love?"

And Nellie Rivers glanced innocently up into the face of him she addressed—as innocently as though she had not known for many a month the question just put to her had been trembling on his eager lips.

A hot flush dyed Thornton May's cheeks at her words. A flash of anger leaped into the dark eyes, a moment before so tenderly passionate.

"Flirt! Heartless!" burst in a muttered whisper from the young man's white lips.

Then he rose with a dignity which seemed suddenly to have sprung into life.

Without even extending his hand, with simply a low bow of courtesy, he left her, she sitting motionless, the echo of the closing of the outside door ringing in her ears strangely like a knell.

* * * * * * * *

"They say Thornton May is engaged. What wonderful strides he has made in his art!"

"Wonderful, indeed. But who is the fortunate winner of such a prize?"

"A Spanish girl, whom he met abroad. His last picture, about which every one is raving, is said to be her counterpart."

Such was the idle conversation at an evening party which fell upon Nellie Rivers' listening ear.

And this was the meaning of his indifference, when she would have made atonement for the past—for the folly of a girl, who did not know herself, and who had learned the lesson only through four years of bitter suffering, of which this was the end.

"Dreaming, Miss Nellie, and alone? What does this mean?"

It was his voice which broke upon her reverie, his eyes resting on her, from whom, at any cost, she must hide the truth.

"I am growing old," she answered, lightly. "Like yourself I have put away childish things, though, unlike you, I have not assumed fresh responsibilities, upon which, by the way, I believe you are to be congratulated, although you hardly deserve it for keeping such a secret from your friends."

"You speak in enigmas. Of what do you speak?"

"If so, it is a Spanish enigma, and painted in lovely character, however cabalistic they may be."

"Oh," a sudden light breaking in upon him, "you speak of my picture. And does rumor give her to me as my bride? I am indeed, then, open to your congratulations. But come, as I am not yet a Benedict, may I not have this waltz?"

"And this is my revenge?" thought Thornton May, as a few hours later he sat alone in his bachelor apartments moodily surveying the dying embers in the grate. "I, who fancied her voice could no longer thrill or her beauty move me, have but riveted the chains I thought struck off from me forever. To-night how indifferently she congratulated me upon my supposed engagement! Had things been different how charmingly my pretty model might have helped out my plan! I will put the ocean between us ere, in my weakness, I once more give her the right to mock me."

* * * * * * *

"Going away, Mr. May? Have you tired so soon of your old friends that you must desert them? But I forget—some one is waiting for you."

"Yes," he answered, "I must once more say good-by, but this time, Miss Nellie, I hope you will add godspeed. I have not forgotten our last parting, though I hope my folly has long ceased to be remembered. You were right. It was a boy's presumption, and I must thank you for my lesson."

This was almost more than she could bear. For the moment tears shimmered in the dark eyes, a sob rose in her throat, but she answered bravely:

"It was I who should rather ask your pardon for the idle vanity of a girl who knew not the meaning of her own words, but who through them has been the only sufferer. Good-by, Mr. May, and godspeed!"

She the only sufferer? What could she mean?

For a moment a wild hope crossed his mind, to be extinguished the next as he glanced into the calm face and the eyes whence all trace of tears had fled, but at the hall door a moment later he paused.

He would return to disabuse her mind of this idle folly as his engagement. So, again crossing the hall and mounting the stairs, he stood upon the threshold of the room he had left so short a time before. But, O, how changed!

Down upon her face lay the figure of the girl who had haunted him all these years, while sob after sob racked her frame.

His revenge was in his hands at last. The moment had come to mock her as she had mocked him; but surely the light growing in his eyes had no mocking ray, as he clasped the sobbing girl close to his heart.

"Is this true, my darling?" he said. "And has our game been cross-purposes all this weary time? O, Nellie, my pride would have kept me silent had you not shown me your secret. I meant, my darling, to teach you, if I could, to love me, but I forgot I had learned the lesson long ago—a lesson whose sweet teachings will guard all my future life."

Thus, with lip pressed to lip, and heart to heart, her sobs new sobs of happiness, Thornton May wreaked his revenge.—Spare Moments.

GERMAN SOLDIERS DRILLED A LA FUNSTON'S SWIMMERS.

That Emperor William is keeping a close watch upon the progress of the American army in the Philippines is made manifest by the maneuvers of the German troops. Funston's men surprised the world by their wonderful swimming feats, but Emperor William is the only military man who seems to have profited by the lesson taught by the Kansans. In the recent maneuvers of the German army the soldiers were required to swim through a body of water in full marching order, rifle and all. The illustration shows the ingenious contrivance for diving, by the use of which German troops are expected to become even more expert military swimmers than Funston's heroes.

Couldn't Fill His Teeth.

In one of the rural districts of the Borough of Brooklyn is a little church which pays to its pastor a salary of fewer hundreds a year than the average city clergyman gets thousands. His women parishioners, especially one who poses as the Lady Bountiful of the church, but whose contributions scarcely fit the part, attempt to make up to him in cordiality what he lacks in financial support. They surrounded him at the picnic of the Sunday school of the church the other day and urged him to eat dainties from their baskets. Finally Mrs. Bountiful pleaded with him to try a piece of fruit cake that looked as hard as the heart of a summer girl in October.

"I—I really can't," said the minister. "My teeth are not good."

"O, why don't you get your teeth filled?" burst forth the sympathetic architect of the cake.

The underpaid clergyman fastened his eye on her and said, with a voice as dry as a truck garden at the end of the drought:

"Generally I have a hard enough time to keep my stomach filled."—New York Tribune.

CHINA'S GREAT WALL.

Reproduction of One of the Best Pictures of It Ever Taken.

Every one has heard of the great wall of China. And we produce here what is perhaps the best photograph of it that was ever taken. It is well known that this wall is one of the wonders of the world. It was originally built to be a defense against the incursions of the northern tribes, and was commenced in the year 214 B. C. Its length in a straight line would be 1,235 miles, but if measured along its sinuosities this distance must be increased to 1,500. It is formed by two strong retaining walls of brick, rising from granite foundations, the space between being filled up with stones and earth. The breadth of it at the base is about 25 feet, at the top 15 feet and the height varies from 15 feet to 30 feet.

THE GREAT WALL OF CHINA.

Another Dewey Anecdote.

At Mobile Bay, after the fall of New Orleans, Dewey was a junior watch officer on the steam sloop Mississippi. The ship's cook—called in naval parlance the "doctor"—was a superstitious old darky, with an extreme dread of sharks. He tried to convert Dewey to a faith in the danger of sharks, but Dewey held out that they would never bite a human being. The latter point was long in controversy between them. One day Dewey was sent ashore in the ship's dingey on some trifling duty. He had on, as usual, a frock coat with very long tails, such as all naval officers wore in those days. In obedience to orders, he hurried back, the sloop being on the point of getting under way, and, as he sat in the stern of the skiff, his coat-tails trailed in the water. Just as the dingey was on the point of reaching the vessel a shark arose to the surface—perhaps attracted by the gilt buttons on the coat-tails aforesaid—and bit off the starboard side of the lieutenant's after uniform. Dewey jumped to his feet, and, well satisfied under the circumstances to relinquish his coat-tail, ran up the side of the ship. The "Doctor," who had viewed the proceedings from the rail of the vessel, approached him presently with a grin of the utmost width. "Ah, ha!" he said, taking advantage of the familiarity customarily allowed him on board, "Perhaps, Massa Dewey, yo' b'lieve now dat sharks won't bite a pusson. Whar's yo' coat-tail, eh?"

"My coat-tail," replied the lieutenant, with his habitual sangfroid, "has been removed by an act of Providence."

The Penalty of Curiosity.

A somewhat distressing but undoubtedly righteous retribution recently overtook a clerk in the British postal service at Birmingham. Among the packets received at the office one day was one containing a pair of handcuffs, which were being sent from Derby to a manufacturer in Birmingham to be fitted with a key. The paper covering of the parcel had been torn during transmission so that the handcuffs were exposed to view.

They were an object of curiosity to the clerks, and presently one of the young men jocularly clasped one of the cuffs around his left wrist. It was then that he discovered that there was no key to unfasten it. The handcuff was on his wrist "to stay."

The young man went to the police station, and an officer found a key that he thought would fit. But in turning it round, he broke it off in the cuff. Now the broken key would have to be drilled out, or the handcuff filed through before the clerk could get it off.

The day was Sunday, and all the shops, including the manufacturer's place, were closed. The clerk returned to the postoffice, and explained his plight to the superintendent. This official ordered him to take the first train to Derby the next morning, explain the whole circumstance to the owner of the handcuffs, apologize to him, and then return to Birmingham and go to the manufacturer's and have the handcuff filed off.

A Cure for Dyspepsia.

A young Austrian physician has discovered that hypnotism may be used with success in cases of dyspepsia. He had a dyspeptic woman patient who could not retain any sort of nourishment. When she had been hypnotized he ordered her to eat and keep down a hearty meal. This worked all right while the hypnotic state lasted, but when it ended the patient had the same pain and sickness as usual. Then the doctor tried ordering her to forget she had eaten, and after a few experiments the woman was entirely cured.

Among the many things this country needs is a new set of molds to be used in shaping the opinions of the public.

A woman thinks she is mighty "independent" if she wears a rainy day skirt in dry weather.

WOMAN AT HOME

PAIN AND DANGER IN "SPATS."

WE never so plainly exemplify the fact that we are but children of a larger growth as when we indulge in those pettish halfway quarrels dominated by courtesy "spats." Prompted by temper or ill-health, they bloom into just such a condition of affairs as when one child says to another: "I hate you; I never mean to speak to you again," and snatching up her "doll rags" she departs in a huff, to return but an hour later in smiles and forgetfulness of the late unpleasantness.

With the adult a more grown-up form of procedure is of course but natural, but it is identically on the same plan—husbands and wives, lovers, friends, all at some time or another break out into a childish exhibition of whimsical unreasonableness, and then and there say nasty little mean things that haven't the dignity of a real grievance, but which smart and sting nevertheless both at the time and in retrospect. It is on such occasions that a wife will say: "I wish I had never married you." The sweetheart will remark: "I wouldn't marry you if there weren't another man on the earth. Thank heaven, you haven't me under marital control yet," and the friends will contrive to rake up some disagreeable reminiscence that they couldn't for the world mention if this "spat" had not occurred. With children the fire is soon quenched. They make up as easily as they fall out. Each spat means a genuine widening of a chasm that some day appears a dark and impassable yawning between them and simply because of spats begun no one knows why and continued with equally little reason.—Philadelphia Times.

Two Notable Women.

Miss Mary Crocker, the San Francisco heiress, who has just fallen heir to her double estate of womanhood and $4,000,000, and will probably be one of the most notable figures in New York society, is described as a tall, rather slender girl, with an expression that is serious at first glance and animated only at closer acquaintance. She was educated in Paris, and is the matrimonial plum of the year.

Miss Flora Shaw is of quite a different stamp. She is the young woman journalist who by her own grit won the position of colonial editor on the London Times and held the key to the Transvaal situation so well that she was the go-between for Cecil Rhodes and Mr. Joseph Chamberlain in all the occurrences that had bearing on the war. By those in position to know she is held to be directly responsible for the strained relations between England and the Boers.

MISS CROCKER. MISS SHAW.

Birth Month and Character.

Here is an old astrological prediction, said to indicate, with tolerable certainty, the character of the girl according to the month she happens to be born in, says an exchange:

If a girl is born in January, she will be a prudent housewife, given to melancholy, but good-tempered.

If in February, a humane and affectionate wife and tender mother.

If in March, a frivolous chatterbox somewhat given to quarreling.

If in April, inconsistent, not intelligent, but likely to be good looking.

If in May, handsome and likely to be happy.

If in June, impetuous, will marry early, and be frivolous.

If in July, passably handsome, but with a sulky temper.

If in August, amiable and practical, likely to marry rich.

If in September, discreet, affable and coquettish and likely to be unhappy.

If in October, pretty and coquettish and likely to be unhappy.

If in November, liberal, kind, of a mild disposition.

If in December, well proportioned, fond of novelty and extravagant.—Philadelphia Times.

Liberty of Guests.

The ideal hostess is she who permits her guests some measure of local option or of individual liberty. She does not insist on their accompanying her on excursions to which they do not want to go; neither does she remain at home with them if she discovers they are only accepting out of politeness. If she is unsuccessful in ascertaining what the visitors prefer in the way of being entertained, she has the grace to leave them to their own devices. The schedule of the day is laid out at breakfast, if not the evening before. Those who do not care to drive or sail are allowed "the liberty of the subject," as they say in England. A too-strenuous hospitality is a terror to its victim. There is a happy medium between being a "whipper-in" and a neglectful hostess.—Baltimore News.

For Your Future Happiness.

In making up your mind regarding the man whom you will marry, the one whom you will honor by trusting in his hands your life's happiness, look first of all at the character of him who asks the gracious gift from you. If there is anything which you fear may develop into some unpleasant trait which shall sadden your life and shadow your home, be firm and steadfast in your refusal. There is no more dangerous thing in the world than marrying a man who has the slightest indication of a depraved taste or the hint of a quality that may degenerate into unloveliness. You may think that you can keep and hold him, but not once in a thousand times is such an experiment a successful one. You may deem it a hardship almost too great to be borne to give him up, but what you will suffer in doing so is right and wise, and the best for your whole future and will be nothing to the intensity of suffering that will come later if you act against your own judgment and the advice of others, following blind inclination rather than reason.

If girls would listen to the pleadings of their better sense, instead of "following their feelings," there would be fewer discordant households and a far less number of appeals to the divorce courts for relief.

And if mothers would teach their daughters something of the sacredness of the marriage vows, they would be taken less lightly.—Boston Herald.

Care of the Complexion.

In some cases a poor complexion arises mainly from lack of exercise. Women who live an entirely sedentary life have a slow circulation, and usually a bad digestion, and these are fertile causes of a muddy appearing skin. Exercise gives rapidity to the movement of the blood, stimulates digestion and calms the nerves, and is frequently more beneficial than any sort of medicine, although it should not be indulged in immediately after meals. Physicians are beginning to recognize the fact that drugs are not the most potent restoratives and that exercise, peace of mind, congenial society and recreation are not merely luxuries, but necessities if good health is to be preserved. Chapped and rough lips are not only painful, but disfiguring, and it is advisable never to go into the open air without previously using a little glycerine or vaseline upon the mouth. To moisten the lips with the tongue has a drying effect upon the skin ultimately, and the habit is one to be rigorously avoided. Toilet soap of inferior quality is extremely injurious to the complexion. Only the best soap should be employed, and that does not necessarily mean the most expensive soap.

Quiet Girls.

The quiet girl nevers wears high colors in the streets; you do not see her flaunting in brilliant checks when they happen to be in style. When high hats are "in" she does not pile hers so high that it sweeps the cobwebs from the sky. She does not wear the longest train to her gown, nor the greatest number of bangles when bangles reign.

But because she does not chatter and giggle, and make herself conspicuous at matinees, does not announce her convictions on all occasions and on all subjects, and profess her admiration at every hand's turn, it must not be supposed that she has no ideas or convictions or enthusiasm. She is quiet because she has no power to make herself heard, to change her condition, or because she is maturing that power.

In the meantime it is the quiet girl who marries earliest, who makes the best match, who fills the niches which her more brilliant sisters leave vacant; who manages the servants, runs the sewing machine, remembers the birthdays, listens to the reminiscences of the old, and often keeps the wolf from the door.—Woman's Life.

Nursery Wisdom.

The very brightest and best room in the house should be used for the nursery, for little children, like tender plants, are very dependent on fresh air and sunshine.

Brightness and cleanliness should be the keynote of the nursery, and there should be no unnecessary draperies and curtains, for they collect dust, and dust often breeds disease.

Venetian blinds will serve to darken the room sufficiently without curtains, but if curtains be necessary for the sake of warmth they should be taken down frequently, to be shaken out of doors, and every few weeks they will be the better for being washed.

Varnished papers, which can be washed with a damp cloth, are the best for the walls, and linoleum or cork carpet makes the nicest covering for the floor. On this should be spread a creeping rug for the baby, but the other little folks will not need a carpet.—House Notes.

To Acquire Dimples.

There is one way in which young women who wish to acquire dimples may do so, but it is at the expense of the neighborhood in which they reside. According to the St. Louis woman who has made the discovery it is only necessary for the man or woman who aspires to dimples to practice on the cornet for a few weeks in order to acquire the "love traps of Cupid." It is said that every performer on the cornet or trombone will be found to possess a well-developed pair, one in either cheek.

ABOUT THE BABY.

When baby is cutting his teeth there is no better comforter in the world than his own little thumb. It is better than any of the patent devices sold for the purpose, it being of the right size, the right hardness, and firmly attached to the tiny hand, so that there is no fear of being swallowed.

The sucking of the thumb causes a flow of saliva, which relieves thirst and aids digestion. The pressure of the thumb eases the irritation and pain of the gums while the teeth are growing, and finally it helps to bring them through the gums.

Parents are apt to make strong objections to this infantile habit, but it should be regarded as a blessing, for it will often make a child leave off crying and fall into a peaceful and refreshing sleep.

In most countries of Europe horses were not employed in agricultural labor until a comparatively recent period.

HUMOR OF THE WEEK

STORIES TOLD BY FUNNY MEN OF THE PRESS.

Odd, Curious and Laughable Phases of Human Nature Graphically Portrayed by Eminent Word Artists of Our Own Day—A Budget of Fun.

"They say that Cupid kindles th' foire av love," mused the janitor philosopher. "Will, if he does he stops roight thor. Who iver hurrud av Cupid kindlin' th' foire in th' kitchen range on a frosty mornin'? If th' domistic man expicts iny breakfast he runs down in his stockin' fate an' applogs thor match himsilf. An' that ain't no minstril joke, aither."

A Brand-New Gag.

Tramp—Lady, could you help a poor man dat broke his arm through patriotism?

Lady—Were you in the war?

Tramp—No'm; I broke it turning an organ.

Lady—Well, where does the patriotism come in?

Tramp—I wux playing "Hail Columbia!" ma'am.

An Armed Cook.

"Der's one t'ing dat I'd like to know, Billy."

"What 'tis, Sandy?"

"Why can't a woman make dem luscious pumpkin pies without rollin' up her sleeves an' graspin' a six-poun' rollin' pin?"

Rapid Transit.

"Fast! Why the Chicago undertakers advertise 'Fastest hearse line to the cemetery.'"

Reducing Expenses.

Bingle—Well, old boy, how are you getting along? Business improving any?

Jingles (struggling merchant)—A little. I've succeeded in reducing expenses about $15 a week.

"That's encouraging. How did you do it?"

"Married my typewriter."—New York Weekly.

Teaching Him Self-Reliance.

Willie—Pa, I've made a picture of a horse, all but the tail, and I can't make that. You draw it for me.

His papa—No, my son; you must learn to draw your own conclusions.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

True to His Word.

"You shall pay dearly for this!" he hissed.

And the person addressed did, for it was the coal man, who had just deposited a ton in the cellar, who made the remark.—Philadelphia North American.

Dewey's Good Luck.

She—I think Dewey can be trusted to select a new Admiral's uniform that suits him, don't you?

He—Oh, yes! It isn't as if he were a married man.—San Francisco Bulletin.

Beyond Control.

Police officer—A notice there says bicycling is forbidden here! Can't you read?

Bicyclist—I can read, but I can'a dismount!—Heitere Welt.

Diplomatic.

"You flatter me," she said. "After all, beauty is but skin deep, you know."

"True," he replied, "but just think of the vast number of girls who haven't got it half that deep."

Facts in the Case.

Wife—I had to discharge our cook to-day.

Husband—Why, I thought you said she was a perfect jewel.

Wife—Yes, I did; but jewels, you know, are more ornamental than useful.

Suburban Sports.

"Those people next door evidently have never lived in the country before."

"What makes you think so?"

"I heard them wrangling last night—both wanted to milk the cow."—Detroit Free Press.

Was Not Superstitious.

"Robinson Crusoe was lucky, I'm sure."

"Why, yes."

"Well, didn't he have faith in Friday?"—Philadelphia Bulletin.

He Hugged Too Hard.

"Alas!" sobbed the maiden, he has broken my heart."

But she was mistaken. The doctor said it was only a rib.—San Francisco Examiner.

Safer to Sign.

Winks—I hear that some of the prominent actresses, singers, generals and society ladies get $500 for merely signing their names to articles written for them and printed in the "Uppercrust Magazine?"

Jinks—It's true, too.

Winks—Well! well! I wonder what they'd get if they wrote the whole article themselves?

Jinks—Get laughed at.—New York Weekly.

Blindness Sometimes Curable.

"She says she has seen only 19 summers."

"So? Well, I should think she had better see an eye specialist next."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Delighted.

The heathen—So glad you brought your family. We are very fond of children.

Tied Up.

Mrs. Mann—When we were first married you said I was worth my weight in gold.

Mr. Mann—Maybe I did; but what of that? I can't turn you into cash.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Hard Knots.

"It's no use of talking," remarked Stubb, "a woman can't tie a good knot."

"That may be," said Penn, "but they find no difficulty in knotting a good tie. If you doubt me come down and I'll show you my new scarf that Clara wore Sunday."

Right at Last.

"Count Hickoff, did you see the young lady's father at the wedding?"

"Yes, monsieur; he was there to say ze things about ze daughter."

"To say things about her, count?"

"To tell on her, monsieur."

"Tell on her? What could he tell, count?"

"Oh, monsieur, ze Eanglish tongue is so full of ze twists and ze wriggles. But perhaps he was there to give her away."

Of Short Duration.

"Is your husband botanizing?"

"No, he is looking for the pipe and tobacco he threw away when he swore off smoking last night."

Another Convert.

Miles—What do you think of this faith-cure business?

Giles—Oh, it's all right. I tried it once and was completely cured.

Miles—Indeed! Of what were you cured?

Giles—Of my faith in it.

A Hummer.

"They tell me," said the man who had stopped over to see the mammoth corn crop, "that prosperity is making things hum in Kansas."

"They tell you right," responded the man with the hoe; "thar's Lucy, for instance. I told her I might be able to buy her a piano and she's been humming ever since."

Reasonable.

Husband—It's perfectly disgraceful for us to quarrel as we do.

Wife—It isn't my fault. I am always willing to agree with you if you will agree with me.—San Francisco Examiner.

Printer's Mistake.

Editor—Great snakes! we're in for it now.

Assistant—What's the trouble?

"Why, in writing up Colonel Simpkins' death I stated that 'at 8 p. m. his pulse was so low that Dr. Pellets at once gave him up,' and the confounded compositor has made it read 'purse.'"—Philadelphia Record.

Not in His Repertoire.

"A musician out of work, are you?" said the housekeeper. "Well, you'll find a few cords in the wood shed. Suppose you favor me with an obligato."

"Pardon the pronunciation, madam," replied Peripatetic Padreosky, "but Chopin is not popular with me."—Catholic Times.

Many Uses of Castor Oil.

The castor oil plant is cultivated throughout India, and the oil is frequently employed by the Indian dyers as an auxiliary in certain dye preparations. This oil has the reputation of being one of the best for dressing tanned hides and skins. The uses of the oil are many, it being the only suitable one for lubricating all sorts of machinery, clocks, watches, etc. It is the best lamp oil they have in India, and gives an excellent white light, with but little soot—almost an imperceptible amount—which quality no other oils possess.—Report from R. F. Patterson, Consul General at Calcutta.

Serum Factories in Russia.

In Russia eleven laboratories are engaged in the manufacture of diphtheria serum, in which the entire people place great confidence, and not without reason, as in 44,631 registered cases in which the serum was used the death rate was but 14 per cent., against 21 per cent. of the 6,507 cases in which it was not employed.

AUBURN WEEKLY COURIER.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF DeKALB COUNTY

JAMES A. BARNS, Editor.

Registered at the Auburn, Indiana, postoffice as second-class matter.

THURSDAY... NOVEMBER 9, 1899.

Got Too Much Opium.

Yesterday morning a middle-aged stranger got off a train at the Junction and soon the station employes noticed that he was acting very wildly. It was evident that he was suffering from the effects of some drug, and after a time it was thought best to take him in charge. He was brought up town and taken to the Rohm boarding house in the Gandy building, and Dr. Nusbaum called in to attend him, when it was found that the cause of the trouble was an overdose of opium. When taken in charge at the Junction the man had in his pockets about $125 in money, and this was taken care of by the Wabash agent. The stranger, who refused to give his name, passed a rather bad night, but became rational this morning, when he stated that he was on his way to St. Louis, where he claims to have relatives. That he is a confirmed opium eater there is but little doubt, but with careful nursing and close medical attention he will doubtless soon be able to resume his journey. He seems to be very reticent and has had but little to say about himself or his business.

Through America in Pictures.

An important pictorial feature will shortly begin in the Ladies' Home Journal in a series to be called "Through Picturesque America: in 100 Pictures." Through the medium of the most superb photographs, taken expressly for this feature, the series will start where American land begins on the Maine coast, take in the greatest points of magnificence and marvelous scenic wonders in every part of America, embrace Alaska, Cuba, Porto Rico, and end where American possessions stop — at the farthest point in the Philippine Islands. Bright, popular explanatory text to accompany the pictures will be supplied by Luther L. Holden, of Boston, who has crossed the American continent one hundred times and knows every step of the way. The series will run through the magazine for a year.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

The Missouri Girl.

The above play is not new to our theater-goers. It has been here before and given the best satisfaction, even to our severest critics. Our people are always glad to welcome Fred and Sadie Raymond in any play, but most everyone prefers to see them in The Missouri Girl. The fact that the play has been re-written and enlarged will be of interest to the many friends of the Raymonds; they have had five years of uninterrupted success in this play, and its drawing power is stronger each succeeding year. The business being done by this company is something wonderful; houses packed to the door at nearly every performance. They will be with us Tuesday, the 14th at Henry's opera house. One night.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs are surely cured by it. Call on H. B. McCord, druggist, and get a free trial bottle. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed or price refunded.

DeKalb Girl Honored.

SPECIAL TO THE COURIER.

ARGOS, IND., Nov. 4, 1899.

At the Fort Wayne District Christian Endeavor convention which conveyed at Tippicanoe, Ind., yesterday Nov. 3, Miss Maggie Snyder of DeKalb county, who is the district president, was elected delegate to London international convention next year (June,) to represent the C. E. of Fort Wayne district.

NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATION.

Notice is hereby given, that the undersigned has been appointed by the judge of the DeKalb circuit court of the state of Indiana, administrator of the estate of Andrew Smith, deceased, late of said county.

Said estate is supposed to be solvent.

SYLVESTER SHUMAKER,
Administrator.

November 6, 1899.
Moody & Rickel, Attorneys.

NERVITA PILLS Restores VITALITY LOST VIGOR AND MANHOOD

Cure Impotency, Night Emissions and wasting diseases, all effects of self-abuse, or excess and indiscretion. A nerve tonic and blood builder. Brings the pink glow to pale cheeks and restores the fire of youth. By mail 50c per box, 6 boxes for $2.50; with a written guarantee to cure or refund the money. Send for circular. Address,

NERVITA MEDICAL CO.
Clinton & Jackson Sts., CHICAGO, ILL.
Davenport, The Druggist.

COURT NEWS.

As we closed Saturday the jury had retired in the case against the Albrights on the charge of destroying Boyd's trees. At about 10 p. m. they had agreed on a verdict, fining each of them $100 but giving no jail sentence. The trees had been set down in the indictment at a value of $320; and as the law fixes the maximum fine for such trespass at five times the value of the property destroyed, it would have cost the men $1,600. But the jury thought the punishment would be enough at the amount settled on.

Court is in session today, occupied mainly by the cas of Sarah Trail vs. Richard Till and wife, on mortgage.

Owing to the mental condition of Frank Albright, his attorneys asked the court to postpone final action on the verdict in the trespass case, which was granted and the date of hearing set for Friday, November 17.

The arguments of attorneys on the points involved in the case of Sarah Trail Collier vs. Margaret and Richard Till were completed this forenoon and the court took the matter under advisement.

In the case of Samuel and John Kepler vs. Samuel M. Husselman et. al., to quiet title, judgment was rendered for the plaintiffs at their costs.

The divorce case of Willian O. Greenwood vs. Blanche E. Greenwood was called this forenoon. The defendant did not appear, and upon hearing the evidence the court granted the decree to the plaintiff, he to pay the costs.

James and John Walker were given judgment by default for $661 94 against Reuben Lockwood, on note.

George Keister secured a divorce from Elizabeth Keister, but will have to pay the expenses of the suit.

In the case of Rebecca A. Musser vs. Emanuel T. Musser, for divorce, the plaintiff asked for an order restraining the defendant from disposing of any of his property. This was granted, to be in effect until the case is disposed of.

Election Returns.

While no official votes can be given the results in a general way are known and are about as follows.

Kentucky went republican by about 10,000 plurality, owing to a split among the democrats, who had two tickets in the field. Goebel the regular candidate was disliked being a sort of political boss and wire worker, so another democrat was put up and he being a gold democrat did not poll a large vote, people seeming to prefer the republican candidate.

In Ohio the republican candidate for for governor, Nash, gets about 30,000 plurality over McLean, and Jones, the independent candidate, got about 100,000 votes.

Nebraska went fusion by about 10,000 majority as against the republican candidate for supreme judge.

OBITUARY.

Prudence D. Hartle, maiden name Bolce, was born June 27, 1823, in Tyrone Tp. Seneca county, Kentucky, and departed this life Saturday, Nov. 4, 1899, at her home two and one-half miles south of Auburn, Ind., aged 76 years, 4 months and 7 days.

Mrs. Hartle came to DeKalb county with her parents in 1836, first locating two and one half miles west of her late home. After her marriage with Adam Poe Hartle, Aug. 14, 1838, she and her husband moved to her late home, where she lived until the time of her death. Their married life was blessed with twelve children, three sons and nine daughters, nine of whom survive her. In her fourteenth year she united with the Baptist church remaining a member of this body till in 1845, when she became one of the charter members of the Presbyterian church of Auburn, Ind, remaining loyal to this church up to the time of her death.

Mrs. Hartle will long be remembered as a true wife to her husband, loving mother to her children, kind and obliging to her neighbors, and withal a true Christian, always seeking the temporal and spiritual good of her children and all her friends.

After the death of Mr. Hartle in 1880, Mrs. Hartle and the children kept up the old home on the farm e,ach one looking after the welfare of the others until finally this happy band of mother and children was broken by the removal of mother to the better land.

Red Hot From The Gun

Was the ball that hit G. B. Steadman of Newark, Mich., in the Civil War. It caused horrible Ulcers that no treatment helped for 20 years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. Cures Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Boils, Felons, Corns, Skin Eruptions. Best Pile cure on earth. 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by H. B. McCord, druggist.

Custard Pie Association.

Oxford, Maine, has a custard pie association, which meets annually in a hemlock grove on the margin of Swan pond and gorges itself with custard pie. It grew out of a custard-pie-eating contest between two residents of the town thirty-nine years ago.

Card of Thanks.

The family of Mrs. Hartle desires to thank the friends and neighbors who kindly assisted them during the illness and death of their mother.—FAMILY.

Rye Wanted.

I will pay 40 cents a bushel for first-class rye. Call at Eagle Mills, Auburn.
I. O. BACHTEL. tf

The Detective's Story.

The COURIER after hearing a great deal of talk for and against the work of Detective Striefling, and also as to the kind of a man he was, concluded its readers would be pleased to have his side of the matter, and so we obtained an interview and asked him to give in brief, all that he had done in the Albright matter. This he agreed to and we are enabled to give almost his own words.

July 29, some one cut down with a saw, 23 apple trees, 8 peach trees and 1 plum tree for Andrew Boyd. He believed Milan Albright, son of Frank Albright, had done it to pay Boyd for having him fined for shooting Boyd's dog. Albright was brought to trial for it, but for want of proof was discharged. Boyd then employed a detective Ben. F. Striefling of Fort Wayne to ferret out the matter. As already told the detective went over the neighborhood pretending to sell tea, coffee and sugar. After a day or so, he had arranged with Boyd, for a sham fight and quarrel that Albrights could see, so that if they really were enemies of Boyd's they would be likely to become friendly to the detective and so give themselves away. We have already told how Boyd knew just when the peddler was at Albright's—how he came along and called the peddler out and in plain sight of Albright and his boys, quarreled, then fought and Boyd got the worst of it. But Boyd had the detective arrested for assault and battery, fined by 'Squire Walter, and Albright was a witness and he and the detective became friends.

Albright said he would not pay the fine but get John Baxter and appeal it. He invited me to stay over night with him when I was out in that neighborhood. I said I would.

Three days later I was canvassing out there, and when I was at Love's, Frank and Milan Albright drove by in a wagon. They seemed pleased to see me and called me to come to the road which I did. They shook hands and asked me how I felt. I said fine as silk and could give that cur, Boyd, another thrashing. Albright asked me to pay the visit I had promised, saying his wife and children would be pleased to see me. I said I would go there that night, and he said I would be made welcome. I went and was made welcome. The boys put out my horse. Before supper, Albright took me aside and asked if I meant to get even before leaving the neighborhood. He said I might do it that night. I asked what I could do. He spoke of burning the house. I said all right. After a minute or two I said it would be too bad to burn the children. He said, what do you care for him or the children? I insisted I would not harm little ones. He then suggested burning the barn. I said poor animals would have to suffer then. Then he said, What's the matter with cutting some more trees. I told him I had not cut any of Boyd's trees. He said, my oldest son cut 34. I said can it be done? He said, certainly. I'll give you the same saw my boy used. I said is there a dog? He said I will give you some meat and paris green to fix the dog. He showed me how to saw the trees down by bending them over and sawing them near the ground. He gave me the felt boots, poison and saw, shook my hand and wished me good luck and I started across the fields. When I got to Boyd's it was after 11. I rapped, and Boyd came to the door. I told him not to strike a light till he had put down all the curtains. I went in then, and gave Boyd the saw and he went out and sawed down two or three of the trees that had been girdled and ruined when the others were cut down. Then we cut a small notch on the saw handle so we would know it. I had a small piece of cloth with my name stitched on it, and Mrs. Boyd sewed it to the inside of the boot. I told Boyd he must go to the prosecutor next day, and leaving the meat and package of paris green with Boyd, I went back to Albrights. He was waiting for me and seemed nervous. He said, My G-d, I was afraid something had happened. Am glad you are back. He put away the boots and saw. Then showed me to bed, telling me to sleep as late as I pleased. When you get up, we will have breakfast for you. After breakfast next morning, I asked for my bill, but Mrs. Albright said I was welcome to anything in the house and gave me an order for $10 of tea, coffee and sugar. I came out and found my horse hitched up, and Milan by it. I asked him to let his brother take care of the horse a minute as I wished to speak with him. We stepped around the building and I said. Do you know what I have done last night? No, I then told him I had cut down five of that dirty, low-lived cur's trees. He shook hands on that. Then I told him I used the same saw he had used. Did you? he said. I said, yes. Well, by gracious, he said, you have taken more chances than I have. I asked why so. He said, When I cut them trees, the old folks were away on a visit, and it was a dark night, and last night was moonlight and the old people were at home. Boyd would have killed you if he knew you was there destroying his property. I asked him if he was afraid the night he went. He said no, as his father was in the next field with a shot gun. Then I drove away.

With these points as clues, Frank Albright and his son Milan were both arrested for cutting down Boyd's trees.

(This is substantially as the detective told it on the witness stand. We tell it as he told it to us and we took it down. Of course, we are not responsible for its truth. But if true, it shows a good deal of detective skill and ingenuity.)

—Subscribe for the COURIER.

CLUB NOTES.

The L. L. C. met with Mrs. J. E. Rose last Saturday and those present enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon. The state of Mississippi was the subject for the day, and the work was ably led by Mrs. Guild, others of the club assisting her by giving work on special topics regarding the state. Mrs. Schaab gave an excellent paper entitled "Artistic Sins and their Counterparts." This was very freely discussed by all present. Mrs. Nellie Hartman gave a humorous selection by Will Carleton, "How Johnny went to the Show." Congratulations were sent by the club to the new member Mrs. Maud Robbins on the birth of the little daughter. Current events closed the work and the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Guild next Saturday.

BUTLER.

John Phillips, an old and well known citizen of Franklin township, died at his residence at College corners last Wednesday after a lingering illness of many weeks. His remains were buried in the Road cemetery near there. Mr. Phillips moved to Indiana from Holmes county, Ohio, in the early 60's. His wife preceded him in death a number of years ago. He leaves one son, Theopolis, and one daughter, Mrs. Reuben Sawvel. Mr. Philips was a man of unswening integrity, friendly, hospitable, a good citizen and a kind and obliging neighbor.

Rev. Frank Jee of Terre Haute is assisting Rev. Frech in his revival effort. So far he seems to be creating a favorable impression. The only objection we hear is the length of his discourses.

Mrs. Jasper Ocher, living on west North street, died last week very unexpectedly. She was a daughter of Jacob Fetters, and an excellent young woman Her funeral took place from her late residence, conducted by Rev. Thomas of the Christian church.

Lizzie Champion has so far recovered as to be about the house.

Martin Hook, an old and well known citizen living two miles north of town, is seriously ill with some chances against his recovery.

The bowling alley is nearly as great an attraction to the tired men of Butler, as a Coney Island prize fight. Even ladies are seen trying to roll the balls sometimes, and like some of the men miss all the pins.

The Lake Shore is erecting a large corn house for the benefit of local dealers.

Dr. E. V. Campbell has moved into the Snowbergen house on east Green street, and is now assisting Dr. Shumaker in his practice.

Dr. Frank Fanning has returned from his hunting trip. He reports bad weather and poor success. Three days of snow and rain last week made the roads very bad.

Want to Sell Your Farm?

We have a buyer for a 40-acre, one for 80 acre and one for 100 to 160-acre farm. If you want to sell call.

MOODY & RICKEL,
Kiblinger Building Auburn.

CEDAR.

John Zern of Allen county called on friends here last week.

Wm. Wolf and wife of Auburn visited Mr. Wolf's parents at this place last Sunday.

We are pleased to report that Samuel Downend has so far recovered from typhoid fever that he is able to sit up a part of the time.

S. K. Slentz, the leading merchant of St. Johns, called on friends here the first of the week.

N. A. Lung and family are visiting relatives in Adams county, Ind.

The snow storm last week found many of the farmers still husking corn.

The railroad company is repairing the depot at this place.

O. C. Himes sold his roadster to Wm. Helms last week.

On account of a bad break in some of the machinery the sawmill here has not been running for the past week.

George Weygant is building a new corn crib and says he is going to lock it when he gets it filled to keep the corn from shrinking.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Public Announcement.

I have at my home upstairs over Sheet's tailor shop on west Seventh-st, Auburn, a number of the popular high arm, vertical feed. Davis' sewing machine, the only upper feed sewing machine on earth. Will sell them at prices to suit the times. Don't fail to call and see them before you buy. d&wtf

WM. MAXWELL.

Philadelphia Excursions

Account National Export Exposition, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R'y will sell excursion tickets to Philadelphia, Pa., and return on November 14th and 25th at one fare for round trip, good ten days.

HOW TO PREVENT A COLD.

After exposure or when you feel a cold coming on take a dose of Foley's Honey and Tar. It never fails and will prevent Pneumonia or Consumption if taken in time. H. B. MCCORD.

FOR SALE.

A fine Jersey cow for sale, calf by her side.—A. G. LODEWICK, Auburn, Indiana. Nov.8-6t

News of the Day.

While the British army is besieged at Ladysmith by a superior force, reports have come to the coast by carrier pigeon that two hard battles were fought, Thursday and Friday in which the British were successful, driving back the Boers from their ground, the latter losing heavily. Still this does not relieve the British from their state of siege. But if their supply of ammunition lasts, there is no danger of their being forced to surrender. Only about 6,000 of the British re enforcement have reached the Cape but a large force will reach there this week.

We have prepared three columns of men to go for Aguinaldo. One column goes by water to a point north of him and the other two will start from different points south of him, and in this way they hope to either capture him and his army or get them hopelessly scattered.

Russia is likely to sieze another seaport in China. This goverment objected to having it done, as it is a free port where we as well as other nations ship goods into that country. Then in order to satisfy us, Russia asked us to sieze a seaport also. Of course, we refused, but the matter may cause us trouble.

In the island of Negros, one of the third-size Philippines, we have organized a government for them, we retaining chief power and keeping up a garrison, and they holding the offices and governing themselves. This is called an "autonomy," and is a government similar to that in Canada. The natives held their election October 2, and quite a large vote was polled. One candidate for governor received 1,305 votes and the other 1,277.

WARNING.

We the undersigned give warning, to hunters, that no hunting will be allowed on our farms or on farms we have charge of. All those found hunting without permission of the owner, will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Wm. Merica	G. W. Burtzner
J. L. Wildeson	Ora Kuhlman
H. A. Lung	Perry Noel
Wm. Carson	Phillip Noel
Ambrose Heitz	Wm. Ensley
E. E. Housel	David Gump
A. S. Baker	Daniel Lung
Jacob Bishop	Joseph Heitz
M. L. Hoffman	L. S. Ober
Joseph Pepple	C. H. Baber
A. N. Thrush	P. N. Weaver
James E. Holman	John E. Lung
Henry T. Smith	J. H. Benninghoff
Nicholas Lung	Geo. Reever
B. F. Hawver	H. L. Houser
J. A. Kelham	Wilber Hawver
David Heitz	John Stonestreet
Joshua Miller	Harvey A. Clark
Jacob Chisholm	Daniel Weaver
W. H. Fair	David Rineholdt
Samuel Hawver jr,	David S. Ober
Frank Yarde	Joseph Weller
H. W. Embrey	Wm. Imler
Aaron Balliet	Geo. Kelham
O. F. Clark	Samuel Downed
O. C. Clark	Lewis Duket
Geo. W. Probst	Mrs. Fortner
B. F. Hess	Henry Smith 46

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Notice to Hunters.

We, the undersigned farmers of Fairfield township in DeKalb county, State of Indiana, hereby give notice that no hunting on our lands will be permitted after this date, and that any person or persons who hunt thereon after this date will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Dated this 30th day of October, 1899:

Martin McInturf,	J. F. Haller
F M Dellenbach,	Arwilda Beight
Wayne Zonker,	R H Sherlock
James McDonald,	Edward Zonker
George Harper,	Ellie Zonker
Barbara Slayman	Sarah E Miller
Wm A Zonker,	Anthony Zonker
Samuel Slayman,	Wm Fiske

Notice is hereby given that we the undersigned will not allow any hunting on our farms:

Mrs. A McCurry,	Mary Provines,
M Myers,	J M Hough,
James H Farver,	John Miser,
Jacob Magginis,	W D Miller,
A Provines,	J W McClellan,
F W Stoops,	Wm. Magginis,

We the undersigned give notice that no hunting will be allowed on our farm or on farms under our control. All who disregard this warning, will be prosecuted to the extent of the law:

S J Tarney,	J L Trover
John Deetz,	Eli Warstler
Anna Squires,	Harrison Squires
Rickey Peters.

IF THE sewers of a dwelling are faulty, or get clogged, it soon becomes so foul that life is not safe in it. That is just what happens to you when the Liver or Kidneys fail in their work. The first little signs are backache, poor appetite, changes in urine and sometimes bowel troubles and dropsical swellings. Do not neglect any of these; Deadly disorders may follow—STOP the mischief in time, use which is sure to bring speedy relief and finally a permanent cure. At druggists, $1.00 per bottle.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver & Kidney Balm

THE DR. J. H. MCLEAN MEDICINE CO. ST. LOUIS, MO.

For sale by F. E. Davenport.

Burglars!... DON'T GET SCARED

WE HAD 'EM

.....They were after a pair of our Men's Fine Shoes. But when they seen the price marked on the boxes (in plain figures) they concluded they would come in and buy a pair, as we sell them cheaper than they could steal them.

You will be surprised too at the quality and prices we are offering men's fine shoes.

COME IN (in the day-time)

Bishop & Beidler

YOUR SHOEMAKERS.

NOTICE.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on two 25 cent bottles or boxes of Baxter's Mandrake Bitters, if it fails to cure constipation, billiousness, sick-headache, jaundice, loss of appetite, sour stomach, dyspepsia, liver complaint, or any of the diseases for which it is recommended. It is highly recommended as a spring tonic and blood purifier. Sold liquid in bottles, and tablets in boxes. Price 25 cents for either. One package of either guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. E. M. FISCHLER, F. E. DAVENPORT, HOWARD MCCORD.

Tourist Sleeping Car Line.

PERSONALLY CONDUCTED TOURIST SLEEPING CAR LINE BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND LOSANGELES, VIA THE WABASH AND ATCHISON, TOPEKA, & SANTA FE R'Y.

On November 1st the Wabash railroad in connection with the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway will inaugurate a through weekly tourist car line between St Louis and Los Angeles on Sundays at 8:28 a. m. Eeastbound car will leave Los Angeles on Monday at 9:50 a m., arriving in St Louis on Thursday at 6:15 p. m.

Particulars will be gladly furnished on application.

GIVEN UP BY FOUR DOCTORS.

BEAVER DAM, O.

My daughter, after being treated by four doctors and being given up for lost, a neighbor recommended Foley's Kidney Cure. Today she is able to walk several miles without fatigue. I feel we would have lost her if it was not for your medicine.—Respectfully, MRS. J. M. BAILEY.—H. B. MCCORD

NOTICE

We the undersigned give warning to hunters that no hunting will be allowed on our farms or on farms we have charge of. All those found hunting without permission of the owner, will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

H. H. Cupp,	Jno. Cool
J. J. Cupp,	J. F. Reed,
George W. Cool,	E. Lockwood

Will Grind Buckwheat.

Buckwheat will be ground at the South End Mills, Auburn, on Tuesday and Friday of each week, beginning Oct. 24. Special machinery is being added to extract sand and other impurities from the grain, and insure a clean, pure flour.

Biggest Railroad Builder.

Perhaps the greatest railroad builder in the world is David C. Shepard, St. Paul, Minn. Since 1852 he has built railroads in thirteen states and territories and in Canada. His greatest mileage for any state is 1,452 in Minnesota. The total number of miles laid by Mr. Shepard is 7,026.

Notice to the Public.

The requisitions for supplies for the county officers for the year 1900, are now on file in the auditor's office for public inspection, as required by law.

FRANK P. SEILER, Auditor.
Auburn, Oct. 25, 1899.

FOR HOARSENESS.

Geo. A. Pontius, Upper Sandusky, O., writes: I have been using Foley's Honey and Tar for sore throat and hoarseness and find it the best remedy I ever tried. It stopped the Cough immediately and relieved all soreness.—H. B. MCCORD.

Want to Buy Real Estate

We have a client who wants to buy a small residence; also one who wants a large, well located property in Auburn.

MOODY & RICKEL,
Office Kiblinger Building Auburn.

Thanksgiving Excursion Rates.

On Nov. 20 and 30, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R'y will sell excursion tickets at reduced rates to points on its line within 150 miles selling station, good returning not after December 1st.

Pigs in Peru.

They carry a pig in Peru by tying its four legs together and suspending the animal with his back toward the ground on a pole. A noose is slipped around his nose so that he cannot squeal.

ANY OLD SORE,

Cut, Bruises, or Sprains quickly healed with Banner Salve the greatest healing remedy in the world. 25 cents. —H. B. MCCORD.

THINGS OF THE ...PAST!

Daguerreotypes and Tintipes are practically pictures of the past, but some of these old pictures.....

Are Highly Valued

We can reproduce them with our cameras in styles that will please you, and at reasonable prices too.

While in town drop in and we will show you some of our New SPECIALTIES including.....

Pictures on Handkerchiefs

Postal Cards, etc. We can please you in any kind of photographic work.

Lybarger The Photographer,
N. Main St.,
AUBURN, IND.

License Notice.

Notice is hereby given to the citizens of the town of Auburn, in DeKalb county, state of Indiana, that I will make application to the board of commissioners of DeKalb county, in the state of Indiana, at their regular session, beginning on the first Monday in December, 1899, for a license to sell spirituous, vinous and malt liquors in quantities less than a quart at a time with the privilege of allowing the same to be drank on the premises where sold, as follows, to-wit:

In the north room of the one-story frame building situated in the north-east corner of lot numbered two hundred fourteen (214) in the original plat of the town of Auburn, in DeKalb county, state of Indiana. Said room is twenty-one (21) feet in width east and west by eighteen (18) feet in length north and south.

I will also apply for the privilege to sell lunch in the room where said liquors are to be sold and drank.

EDWARD FOX.

Auburn, Ind., Nov. 7, 1899.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given, that I, Ira B. Goetschius administrator of the estate of Sophia Warstler, deceased, will offer for sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, on at nine o'clock in the forenoon, the following described real estate, belonging to the estate of said decedent, to-wit:

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9th, 1899,

Sixty-three (63) acres of land off the west side of the southwest quarter of section fifteen (15) township thirty-four (34) north of range (12) east in the county of Dekalb and state of Indiana, except two acres of land out of said tract heretofore conveyed to Alfred Warstler and described as follows, to-wit: Commencing at a point where the public highway running east and west crosses the section line running north and south between sections fifteen (15) and sixteen (16) in said township, and running from thence north twenty-six and two-thirds (26⅔) rods, thence east twelve (12) rods, thence south twenty-six and two-thirds (26⅔) rods, thence west twelve (12) rods to the place of beginning.

TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, one-third in twelve months, and one-third in eighteen months; deferred payments to be evidenced by interest-bearing notes waiving relief and secured by mortgage upon the premises sold.

IRA B. GOETSCHIUS,
Administrator.

Moody & Rickel, Att'ys for Estate.

Junk Wanted

Please save your money. Don't forget to bring all your junk to H. Greenberg, three blocks north of M. E. church in Auburn, who pays

Best Cash Prices

for rags, rubber, copper, brass, zinc, lead, scrap iron and all kinds of hides and furs. Also buys and sells second-hand material, stoves and furnaces, etc. Persons having second-hand material to buy or sell, it will be to their interest to see H. Greenberg.

William's Kidney Pills

Has no equal in diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs. Have you neglected your Kidneys? Have you ove worked your nervous system and caused trouble with your Kidneys and Bladder? Have you pains in the loins, side, back, groins and bladder? Have you a flabby appearance of the face, especially under the eyes? Too frequent desire pass urine? William's Kidney Pills will impart new life to the diseased organs, tone up the system and make a new man of you. By mail 50 cents per box.

WILLIAMS MFG. CO., Props., Cleveland, O.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

G. W. LACKEY,

North Main Street, Auburn, Ind.

Invincible Values:

Every day in each of the many departments of this BIG STORE. You may choose from complete assortments in honest qualities and newest styles—every purchase here means economy in the fullest sense of the word.

Suits, Jackets and Capes.

Every one beautiful and attractive, every one man tailored and workmanship equal to the best made-to-order garments. Every Jacket perfect fitting—every Skirt perfect hanging.

Ladies' tailor-made suits of all-wool Venition, Tweeds and Camel Hair, with and without overskirts, in black, grey, cadet, royal and navy blue. Jackets satin or taffeta silk lined. Skirts lined with percaline or silk and the prices range from $5.00 to $12.50

Tailor-made Jackets, good quality Kersey, stitched seams, self or velvet collars, good quality silk or satin lining in castor, brown or black. We start them at $5.00 and up.

Plush Capes, 30-inches long, full sweep, well lined $5.00

Silk Seal Plush Capes, silk lined, 30 inches long, a good serviceable garment at $10.00

Misses' Jackets in Kersey Golf Cloth, very stylish $4.00 to $8.00

Large line of children's Jackets sizes 4 to 12 years, from $2.00 up

Golf Capes.

Medium and long made of beautiful double faced Shawls and Cheviots. We have them for ladies and misses, have been a been a very popular garment this season, The prices start at $5.00 and up to $10.50

Separate Skirts.

A lot of black brocade skirts, percaline lined, well made, at $1.49

Large assortment of Crepon, Grey Homespun, Cheviots and Serge skirts, 23 to 30 in waist measure $4.98

Furs.

Collerettes in black Martin, Monkey, Electric Seal, Stone Martin, etc., from $2.98 to $18.00

Muffs in Electric Seal, Martin, etc., from 75c to $2.75

Autumn Millinery

The daily throngs show that ladies of taste do not loose sight of this important department. We feel a worthy pride in this season's display. The hats are beautiful, representing all the leading styles—and the prices are distinct triumphs. We want you to come and enjoy the result of our efforts.

G. W. LACKEY,

Auburn, Ind.

W.A.Davidson,

The Jeweler.

A 6882

Headquarters for High Grade Watches Clocks and Jewelry at Lowest Prices. Call in an get prices. No trouble to give information. Fine line of Ladies' Circle Combs.

Repairing and Engraving done to suit you.

W. A. Davidson,
The Jeweler

Successor to F.J. Yesbera.

Peter Kuntz, Pres., Chicago;
W. H. Keckler, Treas., Auburn.

The Auburn LUMBER CO.,

Central 'Phone No. 12.

We sell all kinds of Lumber for Building, and Make Window and Door Frames to Order. We can Sell you Doors and Windows and SAVE YOU MONEY. We carry all kinds of Shingles, from $1 per thousand to the very best.

Headquarters for.....

Wood Burnt Bulk Lime,

The Genuine Article

We can SAVE YOU MONEY in PRICE, WEIGHT & QUALITY Come and see us and examine our Lime, and you will be convinced. We also carry Cement, Plastering Hair, Plaster Paris, etc.

Auburn Lumber Co.

Near Wabash Depot AUBURN.

—FOR SALE:—Good second-hand organ; will be sold cheap. Inquire at this office.

—The Houlton orchestra will furnirh the music for the Thanksgiving ball to be given at the old armory. This promises to be one of the most pleasant affairs of the kind ever held in Auburn.

—Dr. Lewis C. Shutt, formerly of this county but now engaged in the practice of medicine at Burnettsville. this state, was married at that place October 19 to Miss Fostorir Love Winner.

—Wils Rohm will have a public sale at his home ¾ mile west and ¾ mile north of Green's Corners on Saturday of next week, Nov. 11, beginning at 1 p. m. There will be a lot of stock, farming implements, grains, etc.

—Guaranteed to stop your hair falling out, remove dandruff, restore natural color, and cure all scalp diseases,—Beggs' Hair Renewer. "Cannot praise it too highly; stopped my hair falling out and started a new growth."—Mrs. McKeever, Abbeyville, Kan.—H. B. MCCORD.

—Fred Krum has again located in town and is at home in the fine Ensley residence on south Jackson street. He has taken the hay business of his brother-in law, Jerry Carmer, as the latter is doing an outside business in the same line for a large hay dealing firm in the east. We welcome Fred back to Auburn and hope he may do well here.

—Columbia City Post:—Michael Lumm, the Wabash railway roadmaster has a new and neat device, in the way of a hand-car. The machine is built upon the plan of a bicycle. It has a diamond frame and is run with pedals. Four wheels carry the passenger, and they have a cushion tire, so that the machine is perfectly noiseless. The owner purchased the car at Detroit when in that city attending a convention, at an expense of $60.

HUMPHREYS'

WITCH HAZEL

OIL

CURES

- Piles or Hemorrhoids
- Fissures & Fistulas.
- Burns & Scalds.
- Wounds & Bruises.
- Cuts & Sores.
- Boils & Tumors.
- Eczema & Eruptions.
- Salt Rheum & Tetters.
- Chapped Hands.
- Fever Blisters.
- Sore Lips & Nostrils.
- Corns & Bunions.
- Stings & Bites of Insects.

Three Sizes, 25c, 50c, and $1.00.

Sold by druggists, or send post-paid on receipt of price

HUMPHREYS' MED. CO., 111 & 113 William St., New York.

Monday's Daily.

—Cyrus Brandeburry has thanks for a cash lift last week.

—William Sheffer is gaining slowly and able to sit up a part of the time each day.

—The ladies of the Presbyterian church at Waterloo will hold a bazar December 8 and 9.

—Geo. Shaffer and his wife of Corunna were callers today. He is now on our 1900 list also.

—W. F. McNagny was here from Columbia City again today on legal business connected with the Albright case.

—The BEST, NOBBIEST and LARGEST line of men's and boys' winter caps at at 25 and 50c in Auburn at G. H. Yesbera's.

—The saloon furniture in the Huelsenbeck building was moved out today and stored in the basement of the opera house.

—The funeral of Mrs. Prudence Hartle was held at her late home south of town this afternoon, interment in Evergreen cemetery.

—WANTED:—To buy small boiler new or in good condition, 2 to 4 horse power. Inquire at this office or of G. N. Harwood, Moores Ind. tf

—FOR SALE:—Three thoroughbred short horn bull calves. Call on me at my residence in Stafford township:—JOSEPH WILSON, breeder of short-horn cattle. 46

—D. H. Scissinger, one of the B. & O's popular engineers living at Garrett, called on the COURIER today and made the editor's heart glad by contributing his yearly dues.

—A large addition is being made to the drying kiln at the boly factory, as, owing to the large increase in their business, the capacity of the present kiln is far too small.

—The $18, $20 and $22 suits we advertised in our merchant tailoring department are going like hot cakes. Don't be slow and miss a good thing. G. H. Yesbera, the tailor, has them.

—Royal Bair of Flint in Steuben county was here today. He says he gets his COURIER O. K, for like all DeKalb boys, he wants the news from home. He went on the 1900 list also.

—Prof. James Hoffman and wife of Lafayette are here for a short visit with D. Z. Hoffman and family. They go to Albion this evening where they will spend a few days with Mrs. Hoffman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Peterson.

—Isaac Grogg, corner Jackson and Fifth streets, makes wood tanks and cisterns cheaper than any other man in county. It will pay you to see him before leaving your order. His work is always first-class. w&d.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Robbins were made happy Friday evening by the arrival of a sweet little girl in their family. That makes him even with his big brother's family. A boy and a girl each just fills the bill and we all congratulate them.

—"It has become a household medicine with us,—we cannot get along without it," writes Mrs. R. R. Wilson, Gordon, Ark., of Beggs' Cherry Cough Syrup, the guaranteed remedy for coughs, colds, la grippe, consumption and all kinds of bronchial affections. Never fails.—H. B. MCCORD.

—After a pleasant visit of several months in Auburn and vicinity with relatives and friends, Mrs. Lottie Cochran and her daughter Mary left today for their home at Tucson, Arizona. Mrs. Cochran and Mary have found, as they always do, a warm greeting in the old home, and their many friends wish them a safe journey.

—Yesterday a young lad named Fleming, living with his grandmother, Mrs. Baughman, northeast of town climbed up into an apple tree while at play. He lost his balance and started to fall, when one foot caught in the fork of a limb, leaving him hanging head downward. His graudmother tried to release him, but was unable to do so, and had to summon assistance by ringing the the farm bell. The boy was badly scared but not seriously hurt.

—Wash Link and wife start for Seattle tomorrow morning over the B. & O. to be gone through the winter at least. Their son, W. H, who lives there has just got back from the Klondike and as he is a single man, he wants them to stay out there for some time. His business is a clerk for the Northern Pacific, in which he has had employment for several years. Of course Mr. and Mrs. Link will read the Weekly, which we hope the they will receive regularly.

ELM HALL, Mich., Nov. 25, '99.

I am past 69 years of age. I have practiced medicine since that year before the rebellion, but for the past year have done only an office practice. Would you believe that so old a practitioner would step aside from his prejudices to take what is commonly called a patent medicine? For years I have been taking Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It seems to be just what I require When I am tired and languid it braces me up. EDWARD WILSON, M. D.

—Among our callers today, was Wm. Swartz of Waterloo. He brought down his sister, Mrs. Wagner of Massilon. She will visit a few days with John Treesh who is a relative and will probably later on visit a sister at Wauseon, on her way to her home. The Swartz family had a reunion, Oct. 29, at the home of Wm. Swartz at Waterloo and all except the oldest brother were present. It has been years since the family had been together, but on this occasion the brothers Frank and John of Kalamazoo Co., Mich., and the sister named, and another, Mrs. Sweitzer, of Wauseon were present, only the brother George being absent.

Tuesday's Daily.

—A. J. Emerick of Fairfield paid up to the 1900 mark Saturday.

—Mrs. John Elson spent Thursday with friends at Churubusco.

—Prosecutor Rhoads has gone up to Artic to visit his wife's parents.

—Mrs. Lutz of Concord township is the guest of Mrs. Tripp on west Ninth street.

—James McDowell is on the sick list with what appears to be an attack of quinsy.

—George Leyda will move into the rooms over the Home restaurant tomorrow.

—To be thrice happy, use Russ' Bleaching Blue, don't be deceived by fraudulent imitations.

—Rev. Frank C. Colvin dropped into town yesterday from Cassopolis for a short visit with old friends.

—F. M. Deitenbach was here yesterday to pay the subscription of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Sophia McNabb.

—Core T. Elson, Levi Jackman, Joseph Wilson and W. B. Rohm are now up to the 1900 mark on our list.

—Ladies who take pride in beautiful, clear white clothes should use Russ' Bleaching Blue. Refuse imitations.

—Our $4.00 suits are hummers. No others pretend to meet the price, come in and see us.—G H YESBERA, Clothier.

—WANTED, Employment in a small, respectable family, by a lady with a 20-months old child. Address M. Hall, Garrett, Ind. 47

—Mrs. Julia Hodge has greatly improved her property on Cedar street by grading up the lot and setting out a number of fruit trees.

—The latest new member of the COURIER list is Lewis C. Sechler of Newville, one of the prosperous young farmers of that section.

—Milas Osbun is erecting a building at the corner of VanBuren and North streets in which we understand he will establish a grocery and meat market.

—A Whitley county farmer found an ear of corn the other day on which there were thirty-eight rows of grains, and thinks it is something hard to beat.

—Marion Bemenderfer of Waterloo was here Monday on a taxpaying trip. We are sorry to learn that his second daughter has been very sick for some time.

—About twelve years ago a barber named Ackley sent a money order for $25 to a party at Hicksville. The letter was never called for or delivered, and after so many years has found its way back to Ackley, who is now employed at Elkhart.

—Since our last report marriage licenses have been issued to the following couples, Charles W Webster and Ora Fusselman, Amos M. Roberts and Ruth Makin, John C. Lamphere and Pluma C. Harvey, John Row and Norah Stahl, Mervillo Robinet and Lida Kennel.

—Makes the blood pure, renovates the entire system, gives new life and strength,—Beggs' Blood Purifier. "It cured me of a long standing and chronic case of fistula."—R. A. Bently, Summit, Fla. Endorsed by physicians. Guaranteed not to fail. Try it.—H. B. MCCORD.

—WANTED:—Local or traveling salesmen, salary or commission, to handle our Oils, Greases, Petrolatum, Paints and White Lead. Goods guaranteed. Prices low. Good freight rates and prompt delivery.—PENN PETROLATUM CO. Main Office and refinery, Coraopolis, Pa.

—Place your confidence in a remedy that is guaranteed to cure. "I coughed constantly and my strength was all exhausted. I looked more like one dead than alive. Beggs' Cherry Cough Syrup entirely cured me."—Mrs. S. D. Harsh, Fairport Kan. For all throat and lung troubles. It has never failed. —H. B. MCCORD.

—We learn that Frank Albright, the senior defendant in the tresspass case is in a serious condition mentally, and there seems to be little doubt that the worry and strain incident to the trial have temporarily unbalanced his mind. He is not violent, and it is hoped that with careful attention he will soon be restored to his normal condition.

—M. E. and Roy Garrett received word by telephone this a. m. from their uncle Henry at Wabash, that his son, Sell G., was killed by falling from a stand pipe he was putting up at Manitou, Minn. His skull was crushed. M. E. Garrett of this place went to Fort Wayne this forenoon to meet his father, Z. T. Garrett, and the uncle, Henry, to make arrangements to bring the remains home.

—S. Z. Dickinson of Waterloo has returned from an extended visit with relatives in Ohio and Michigan. He had from one point in Ohio, written us about the great difference in raising fruit in different localities and by difference of care. He was here the other day and speaking of the possibilities of fruit, he said he saw an orchard of about 3½ acres, that was well cared for and carefully sprayed, from which over 1,700 bushels of good apples were sold, 500 bushels of second-class and 200 of cider apples. Who says it will not pay to raise apple trees if we care for them properly.

—Wear the "THEODOSIA" shoe, for sale by Bishop & Beidler.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Ther's Keenest ...Pleasures

....in making your selections from a good stock; one that shows reliable ideas from the store that feels there's nothing too good to pass along to the trade. We give extra rest to your pleasure by lowest price. PRICES that particularly shrewed buyers, the buyers who are looking for a place where every possible advantage is assured them. Brimfull of good arguments is every item shown, the kind of selling logic that convinces.

Underwear

MEN'S UNDERWEAR, wool fleeced. all sizes, 48c garment or per suit.....95c
MEN'S GREY MIXED, 24c garment or suit at 48c
BOYS' WOOL fleeced, all sizes, 24c a garment or for the suit.....48c
Bargain for the boys.
CHILDREN'S fleeced lined underwear, in all sizes from 10c to 32c
CHILDREN'S fleeced lined union suits, a suit 24c
LADIES' fleeced lined union suits, good values per suit from.....24c to 48c

Boys' School Pants

Boys' School Pants, all-wool, per pair.....48c
Boys' Corduroy Pants from.....48c to 75c

Fascinators

Fascinators, all-wool, in all colors from .24c to 48c
Ice Wool Fascinators, black and white, large sizes from.....39 to 95c

Mittens

Ladies' Wool Mittens, per pair..8, 10, 15 and 24c
Ladies' Kid and Moca Mittens, Fur top, per pair.....48c
Children's Kid and Moca Mittens, Fur top, per pair.....39 to 43c
Scotch plaid gloves for ladies' per pair.....48c
Men's Leather Gloves and Mittens, per pair....19c
Every one else sells them at 25c.
Men's Jersey Shirts from.....39 to 48c
Men's Flannelet and Outing shirts.....48c
German Knitting Yarns in all colors, 19c per skein or per pound.....75c
Saxon Yarn in all colors, per skein.....5c
Ladies' all-wool underskirts.....95c to $1 69
Extra heavy ones, ask to see them.

Blankets

From the amount of blankets we sold last week it shows that the people know when to buy them. Prices from.....45c to $1.48

COLLARETTES We have sold twice the amount this year than last and still have a good line left. See them before buying and be convinced that we can save you money.

$2 50 buys a full sweep, not a little short one.

The Bazar Store,

F. J. NEBELUNG, Prop. Auburn, Indiana.

Wednesday's Daily.

—M. Meyer of South Whitley was in town last night on business.

—Frank Long, the Fort Wayne piano man, was in town last evening.

—A. S. Smith is moving into the south side of the Widney property on south Jackson street.

—James E. and James H. Ross were at Laporte yesterday looking after legal business in the circuit court.

—Go to Sheffer & Chaney for Michigan Lake Salt, a car load just received. Guaranteed not to get hard in the barrel. oct.26w-tf

—Our overcoats are said to excel all others in style, price and quality. See our $6 black overcoat. G. H. YESBERA, Auburn's Clothier.

—G. A. and E. M. Bishop were at Hicksville this morning, where they were called by the serious condition of their brother John.

—Rev. Charles Little, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Wabash, last Sunday closed the twenty-seventh year of his pastorate there.

—WANTED:—Black Walnut logs for timber. Highest cash prices paid for same. Address, The Sanders & Egbert Co., Goshen, Ind. 8

—George Ray, for several years a well known attorney at Warsaw, was found dead in his bed at a boarding house in that place yesterday morning.

—There are now 383 free rural mail delivery routs in the United States. The system is no longer an experiment, but has proven a decided success.

—To all points in competition where the fare is $2 or more we have free bus and free baggage to the Junction. tf SPROTT & KNAPP, Agency B. & O. Ry.

—Mail will be carried on the electric cars between South Bend and Goshen in the near future. This will be a great convenience for the people in towns along the line.

—Dr. C. S. Fahnestock, one of the best known homeopathic physicians of the state, has been granted a decree of divorce from his wife at LaPorte. She will receive $5,000 alimony.

—Mrs. S. Henry of Reading was here today. We are sorry to hear that they lost a good deal in common with the others at the recent big fire there But they pay for their COURIER just as if nothing had happened.

—Twenty-six Auburn Maccabees went to Hicksville last night where they assisted in the initiation of a large class of candidates. The boys were royally entertained by their Ohio brethren and everyone in the party enjoyed himself thoroughly.

—Samuel Zent, the pioneer agent of the Wabash at Roanoke and uncle of Agent Zent of this city, died Saturday. He was appointed agent there when the road was first built and served until age obliged his retirement. His daughter is now the station agent at that point. The funeral was held at that place Monday.

—Corn huskers in Benton and adjoining counties are going to have a contest, Nov 18, and every fellow who thinks he can make shucks fly, will take a peg. A prize of $20 is hung up for the fellow who can husk the most corn in five hours, without leaving "ribbons" on it, and $10 for the second best. All contestants will receive 2½ cents a bushel for the corn they husk.

—Last harvest, Isaac Martin's 4-year-old boy, at Wakarusa, slipped into the field where his father was cutting oats, and fell asleep. One foot was sticking up, and when the reaper came along, it was cut off. The bone was completely severed, only a shred of skin holding the foot to the leg. But a doctor spliced them together and now the boy is nearly well, with his foot good as new.

Now Is the Time

TO BUY a

Wilson Heating and Ventilating Machine

They are the Greatest of all Modern Scientific Inventions.

They Save Fuel, Will Burn Anything, Perfectly Safe & Clean

Will Hold Fire and are Easily Regulated. We sold Eighty-Nine of them last winter, and as far as we know they are all giving good satisfaction. They are moderate in price and within the reach of all.

Buy none but the genuine Wilson and you will be both pleased and satisfied.

SOLD ONLY BY

Culbertson & Boland,

Every Piece of Coal Counts

JEWEL STOVES and RANGES are most economical in operation — they generate the most heat from the least fuel.

Are identified the world over by this great trade-mark. Ask your dealer for JEWEL STOVES and RANGES.

Jewel Stoves are sold by

Pioneer Hardware Co., Auburn.

—St. Joe News:—They have a custom at the Lutheran Sunday school of having each class alternately furnish flowes every Sunday. There have been some very pretty displays made this summer, and last Sunday the young men's class had a fine display of roses and carnations which they had sent here from Fort Wayne. The flowers were very beautiful, and at the Endeavor meeting in the evening, each one present was given a rose or carnation.

—Angola Magnet:—Thursday of last week Deputy United States Marshal Rose arrested Harry Harmon, aged 22, a student in the Normal school in Valparaiso, for forging the name of the payee of a P. O. money order and getting it cashed, the complaint being made by an Inspector of the P. O. Department. At a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Orr, in Michigan City, Harmon was held for trial in the U. S. Court; and being unable to give the $500 bail required, he was taken to Indianapolis and lodged in jail. The accused is a son of a well-to-do farmer living near Strawn, Ill.

SORE LUNGS

Sore lungs, pain in the chest and painful breathing, the foro-runners of pneumonia, are quickly relieved and cured by the old reliable Dr. John W. Bull's Cough Syrup. It breaks up a cold in one night. Try it at once.

Dr. Bull's COUGH SYRUP

Will quickly heal Sore Lungs.

Doses are small and pleasant to take. Doctors recommend it. Price 25 cts. At all druggists.

—Francis Sowle of Angola has reached his ninety-first year and is still hale and hearty.

PILES Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment will cure Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles. It absorbs the tumors, allays the itching at once; acts as a poultice, gives instant relief. Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment is prepared for Piles and Itching of the private parts. Every box is warranted. By druggists, by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents and $1.00. WILLIAMS MANUFACTURING CO., Props., Cleveland, Ohio. Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, INDIANA.

JAMES A. BARNES, - - PUBLISHER.

Contradictory as it may seem, a fresh trust is a salt trust.

As to flying machines being a success, even air castles as a means of transporting young people ultimately tumble.

Prunes cost 50 cents a dish at Dawson City. Life must be one glad, sweet song for people who have to live in boarding houses up there.

Evidently the end of them is not yet. Forming a sardine trust would imply some think there are still as good fish in the seas as ever were caught.

A great difficulty in the road of putting the Cubans in the way to help themselves is so many others who want to help themselves at their expense.

The oldest poem in the world has recently been found, and the critics will now be busy for a while trying to decide who was plagarized by its author.

If it's true that England always insists on working disputed land where there happen to be gold mines into her possession it's a poor form of a golden rule.

The world is enriched by the establishment of an automobile magazine. This is well. Nobody will deny that we need another magazine or that the automobile is in need of advertising.

The man who invented three-card monte and the shell game died a peaceful death a few days ago. This was probably due to the fact that victims of three-card monte and the shell game generally prefer to keep as quiet about it as possible.

Speaking of the dullness of many honest reformers; their inability to get beyond small retail methods of administration; their lack of public imagination; of civic pride; of power of initiation and of quick sympathy with popular aspirations. Dr. McKelway says: "The political freebooters often take these things into account, with results that make the mercurial masses prefer brilliant brigandage to incompetent integrity." The alliterative wit of this remark need not make us forget its wisdom.

The lynching problem has been solved. An Eastern editor proposes that in all regions where mobs and lynchings are prevalent sheriffs and deputies should be armed with kodaks. When the mob attacks the jail the deadly instrument is turned upon it. No would-be lyncher, it is urged, could hold his ground. The only trouble in connection with this proposed method is the fact that lynchers usually operate in the night. However, it might prove effective to scatter officers among the mob to make flash lights brilliant enough to reveal the identity of the mobbers. The idea is a brilliant one.

In spite of the present boom, there is going to be a hard fight before the automobile wins the place predicted for it by its devotees. The greatest problem will be the reform of roads. The bicycle has done wonders in this direction, but the bicycle is too meek and unassertive to accomplish a complete reform. All it asks is four or five inches of unspoiled ground at the edge of the road, and there, if other carriages and traps do not botch its work, it will make for itself a beautiful velvety little path which answers as well as the broadest of turnpikes, so long as daylight lasts. But the automobile, though occasionally built in bicyclical form, demands more for effective use. It must have a real carriage road, built with a thoroughness and excellence not usually to be found in this country outside of the great state turnpikes and such pieces of model road as Massachusetts has been building. But while a great preliminary investment is thus called for, an even greater financial return is to be looked for from the general adoption of the automobile for traffic. Even at present there is no comparison between the cost of steam and horse power over good roads, and the saving will be greater as the mechanism is improved.

From an investigation of new patents and patent applications at Washington it is evident the inventors are turning largely to the attractive field of effort found in devices for taking the place of ice. So successful are some of these that enthusiastic promoters already predict the passing of the iceman. Devices for producing artificial cold are multiplying with great rapidity and while some of these are of but limited and costly utility others give promise of being able to meet common wants and necessities in the heated season. Even at present large business concerns have almost abandoned the use of ice for ammonia gas and other chemical devices, and it is predicted that before long it will be possible to moderate the heat of summer just as rapidly as the cold of winter is now regulated in houses by steam heat. In other words, that cold may be turned on at pleasure and a uniform temperature be maintained in city dwellings all the year. As yet, however, these glittering and pleasant promises are not in the way of immediate fulfillment. The expense of cold-generating plants and appliances at present makes them not available except in the case of great manufacturing plants. That ingenuity and invention will yet conquer the difficulties and make it possible to supply cold as gas, heat and electricity are now furnished in the modern house seems entirely probable.

A generation ago schoolboys used to find in the center of the map of Italy a section entitled "States of the Church." Since 1870, when the Italian troops marched into Rome and took possession of it as the national capital, this title of the Pope's temporal dominion has disappeared from the atlas; but the Pope has not renounced his claim to be the rightful sovereign of the mediaeval states of the church. When the Italian kingdoms and principalities were united by Cavour's diplomacy, King Victor Emanuel's campaigns and Garibaldi's valor, Rome was the only possible national capital. Cavour decreed that there should be a free church in a free state, and the Italian Parliament has resolutely refused to recognize the rights of temporal sovereignty once exercised by the Popes. Rome in the course of thirty years has doubled its population and become one of the great capitals of Europe. The Vatican has been helpless in this conflict with the state. Its Swiss guard could not offer resistance to the national army, but could only perform police duty at the Vatican and the Lateran—where the old-time Papal privileges are preserved by law. The Vatican, however, has clung tenaciously to the traditions of its ancient rights, and refused to make any compromise with the state. Pius IX. and Leo XIII. have taken the same position on this question, and charged the state with usurping what once belonged to the Latin Church exclusively. This is a brief statement of what is known in Italy as the conflict between church and state. It is a bitter quarrel between the Vatican and the Quirinal, and there is no immediate prospect of any settlement of the questions at issue. If the Vatican were willing to be reconciled with the Quirinal, its position would be altered in Europe and its resources of power would be greatly diminished. If peace were made, the Pope would be regarded at the Austrian, German and other courts as the chaplain of the King of Italy.

The government of the new commonwealth of Australia will have features resembling the governments of Great Britain, the United States and Canada, and some features peculiar to itself. Like that of the mother country and of every one of its self-governing colonies, it will be administered by a cabinet responsible to the popular branch of the legislature. For the legislature Australia borrows the American idea: a Senate, consisting of an equal number of members, six for each state, and a house of representatives based upon population. Members of both houses are to be elected by universal suffrage. Another American idea is adopted in a federal supreme court, which will decide all questions between two states or between the commonwealth and any state, from which there will be no appeal, even to the privy council of Great Britain. As in Canada, the nominal head of the government, the representative of the sovereign, will be a governor general appointed by the British ministry and not removable by the Australian government. The finances of the commonwealth, too, will be conducted on the Canadian plan, for after the general expenses are paid the balance is to be distributed in fixed proportion among the states. The greatest novelty in the new constitution is the provision for the event of a "deadlock" between the two houses. In that case, both houses are to be dissolved and new houses elected; and if the deadlock is renewed the question at issue is to be decided by a majority vote in a joint convention. The capital of the new commonwealth—as in the case of both Canada and the United States—is to be removed from the controlling influence of the great commercial cities. It is to be in the State of New South Wales, but at least one hundred miles from Sydney. Starting with a population of more than three and a half millions, and with six states—for New Zealand will not join it at present—the great democratic commonwealth of the southern hemisphere should have, and will have, most cordial wishes for its success from its great English-speaking brother, the United States. A health from U. S. A. to Aus!

BARBARISM IN CUBA.

Fetish Priests and Witch Doctors All Exert Power Over Natives.

Among the obstacles to self-government in Cuba recent observers count as one of the most important the power which fetish priests and witch doctors still exercise over the natives. In the mountains of Pinar del Rio stand the ruins of what was once the chief temple of the fetish faith on the island. It is still guarded by an ancient priest, whose wants are supplied by the people living in the vicinity, and who is looked upon with veneration by all the natives. He is regarded as a witch doctor, and his advice is taken in all matters of importance. In an effort to destroy the influence of the fetish priests the Spaniards destroyed the temple, but it had only the effect of making the fetish worshipers practice the rites of their faith in secret. All over the island, it is said, the witch doctors now hold even more than their old power. The priests travel from point to point in the disguise of fortune tellers and palmists.

CUBAN FETISH PRIEST.

Mixed.

One may be permitted to make bulls, surely, when writing about them; and so it is allowable for us to say that all "Irish bulls" are not Irish.

For example, there was a semi-weekly newspaper started in 1830, at Washington, entitled the Banner of the Constitution. It was removed to New York in 1831, and published in Philadelphia in 1832. Then it died.

The publisher and editor was so much encouraged at one time during the first year of the life of the paper that he determined to make his paper a daily, and to change the semi-weekly to tri-weekly. Later circumstances caused him to give up his project of a change altogether. He omitted to mention the last part of his plan when he issued the prospectus of the daily, but repaired the mistake in the following notice:

"We will be obliged to the gentlemen who hold copies of the prospectus of this paper as it is to be published after the first of December next, to make the following memorandum on it: 'The semi-weekly paper at five dollars per annum will be published three times a week during the session of Congress.'"

If Europe Combines Against England

THE war between Great Britain and the two Boer republics in South Africa may yet be the determining cause for the long-expected, oft predicted conflict which is to involve all the greater and lesser powers of Europe. Already, says the Chicago Tribune, the attitude of Europe is sufficiently menacing to impel Great Britain to take early steps not only to secure the fruits of the victory that nation expects to win in South Africa, but to defend its empire in all parts of the globe in the event that it finally rejects European interference in its plan to make the southern half of the African continent all British.

In every naval port in England squadrons are being hurriedly fitted out for sea. A strong naval force is already assembling at Gibraltar, and other battleships and cruisers are adding their strength to it every day. Every preparation for calling out the naval reserves has been made, and at the signal England would be ready for all eventualities.

The movements in European diplomatic circles leave no room for doubt that at least France and Russia are endeavoring to secure the assistance of other powers in joint representations to Great Britain before the close of the present war. It is regarded as certain that neither France nor Russia is acting from motives of sympathy with the Boers, for if so they would have entered their protests before the negotiations between Kruger and Chamberlain reached the ultimatum stage. Therefore it is reasonable to infer that if France and Russia act at or before the close of the present war they will do so from purely selfish motives, and with the expectation of compelling Great Britain to remain passive while they seize some other parts of the globe for their own. Russia's ambition in the direction of the Indian ocean is well known, and France has designs in China and Africa which it never has taken the pains to conceal.

Interests Are Opposed.

Unfortunately for a pacific outlook, the ambitions of both France and Russia are dangerous to the British Empire. England can neither permit France to secure preponderance in the control of northern Africa nor allow Russia to advance to the borders of India without practically destroying the British Empire. Consequently, Great Britain is almost certain to accept the alternative of war, even in its present "splendid isolation," for to no power can it turn, unless, perhaps, it may be to Germany, for assistance. If Great Britain is finally brought face to face with the alternative of submisson to the dictates of Europe or a war which shall girt the globe with a belt of flame, it unquestionably will choose the dread alternative of war.

The attitude of the several European powers and of the United States, the probable direction of such a war, and the changes it would ultimately make in the map of the old world are subjects which are just now engrossing the attention of the diplomats of Europe.

The crux of the situation will come when, after whipping the Boers of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State into submission, Great Britain will make known its plans for the future government of those two republics.

Russia Has Most to Gain.

In any future demands on Great Britain Russia will necessarily take the lead, for the Czar's empire has the most to gain. Although having the most subtle and secretive diplomats in Europe, the ambition and inflexible purpose of Russia are well known. In a general statement Russia's ambition lies in the direction of an open sea, unfettered by the ice shackles of winter. Until recently Russian forts faced the ice-clad Baltic, the Arctic ocean, and the northern Pacific. For six months of every year Russia's merchant steamers and Russia's warships were locked in ice and it was not until the recent acquisition from China of Port Arthur that the Czar's naval base in the Pacific was rendered effective by open water the year around.

For years Russia hoped to extend its empire southward to the Mediterranean, with Constantinople as the objective point, but its ambition, while perhaps not completely shattered, was indefinitely delayed by the Congress of Berlin in 1878, when Europe erected the quasi independent Balkan States as a buffer between the Czar's dominion and the sea.

Since then Russia has been pushing steadily southward toward Persia and Afghanistan. All the intrigue of which Russian diplomacy is capable has been exerted in securing a preponderating influence in the semi-barbaric courts of the Ameer and the Shah. So successfully has this diplomatic intrigue been carried on that to-day it is generally believed that Russia has engaged by secret treaty to occupy Afghanistan with Russian troops in order to preserve order after the death of the present Ameer and secure the throne to his successor.

And it is an open secret in European capitals that the Shah has agreed to give Russia the port of Bunder-Abbis, on the Persian gulf, whenever Russia chooses to occupy it, and has also granted concessions to Russian syndicates for railways running from Russian soil to the Persian gulf. Russia's control of the Persian gulf would be dangerous to the British Indian empire.

Russia's designs in China are equally understood. Already the Czar holds the Manchurian peninsula and is disputing with Great Britain at Peking the right to dictate terms and concessions to the Chinese Government.

France the Czar's Ally.

As far as territorial acquisition is concerned, France has almost as much to gain as Russia. Then, too, France is still smarting under the chagrin of the Fashoda incident, when a year ago Maj. Marchand was unceremoniously hundled out of the Upper Nile country by Lord Kitchener.

France has territorial ambitions in Africa and China, and unfortunately in the present crisis these ambitions run counter to British interests. France would like to add Morocco to the western frontier of Algeria, and in a general European war undoubtedly would endeavor to seize it. If united Europe should defeat Great Britain in war, the latter would be driven out of Egypt, and the British control pass to another power, and France would again step in to demand the land of the Pharaohs as its share of the booty. With Egypt would go naturally the control of the Suez canal, this depriving Great Britain of its short road to India. In China France, too, would expect to gain in a war with Great Britain. France already has a strong foothold in the Orient.

Added to all this is the feverish condition of France at home. The army is disaffected, conspiracies are rife and royalist plotting is incessant. The republic is torn by internal strife. Nothing would clear the French atmosphere more thoroughly than a war in which factional quarrels at home would be forgotten and employment given to a great army that long has chafed under idleness.

Will Kaiser Aid Queen?

The crux of the whole situation seems to rest with the German Emperor. If Germany casts its lot with Europe, Great Britain may as well call out its last available man, for the sea girt empire will indeed be in danger. But there is apparent reason to believe that Germany will cast its lot with Great Britain.

Several months ago, before the Transvaal negotiations assumed a dangerous phase, Lord Salisbury and the German ambassador to the court of St. James reached an agreement which to-day is the most mysterious diplomatic secret in all Europe. The mysterious agreement between Great Britain and Germany, which is exciting so much concern in Europe, is variously interpreted, the most probable explanation of its tenor being hazarded by an English statesman, who believes it gives Germany free hand in the Kaiser's pet project of establishing a great German colonial empire in Asia Minor.

If Germany unites its fleet with Great Britain and holds its army ready to march against France and Russia the proposed European coalition will end in bluster. If, on the other hand, Germany shall finally decide to make terms with France and Russia, trusting to an agreement with those powers to give it what it wants in Asia Minor or any other quarter of the globe, the coalition is as good as formed.

The Smaller Powers.

The attitude of the smaller powers is worthy of consideration, for they could hardly escape being drawn into any controversy which involves Great Britain, Russia, France and Germany.

Take Italy first. Italy is almost the only exclusively Mediterranean power, and must, for its own protection, exercise a considerable voice in the control of that great inland ocean. It is a member of the dreibund, that offensive and defensive alliance which calls Italy's army into the field whenever Germany or Austria, or both, are attacked. If Germany involves itself in war either for or against Great Britain, Italy, by the terms of the dreibund, is bound to assist.

But aside from the dreibund, Italy has interests, mostly in the Mediterranean, and a mythical one in China, which almost compel it to attach itself to the fortunes of Great Britain in the present crisis. Italy long has asserted its claim to Tripoli, and by allying itself with Great Britain Italy would be able to claim Tripoli when peace was once more restored.

It may be set down as practically certain that Austria, if it takes any hand at all in the international quarrel, will do so most unwillingly, and on the side with which Germany allies itself.

To many it might seem almost ridiculous even for a moment to consider Spain in connection with the word "war." But at the same time it must be remembered that Spain easily can put from 100,000 to 150,000 men in the field, providing the funds were forthcoming. A loan from France in the emergency, together with the hope of securing the retrocession of Gibraltar from England, might induce Spain to forget the trouncing it received from the United States a year ago, and once more try its fortune at the game of war.

The position of Turkey might bother the diplomats on both sides of the controversy. It is difficult to see how the Sultan could be drawn into the war, and equally difficult to understand how he could keep out of it. Abdul Hamid is in the unfortunate position of being compelled to choose sides in a possible conflict with the certain knowledge that he will lose with either.

He is bound by the treaty of Berlin to guard the Dardanelles against the passage of the Russian Black Sea squadron. He has been enabled by judicious loans from England to fortify the Dardanelles so strongly with modern Krupp guns that he can, if he chooses, batter the Russian warships to pieces when they try to force their way through into the Mediterranean.

If he uses his Krupp guns against Russia he will have the Czar's armies knocking at his door to the north, and Bulgaria, Servia and Roumania ready to unite to liberate Macedonia, with Austria waiting for a convenient opportunity to seize Salonica Bay.

If, on the other hand, the Sultan, even tacitly allies himself with Russia by permitting the Black Sea squadron to pass unscathed, he will have Germany and Great Britain on his back, with the certainty of losing Asia Minor, in addition to the Bulgarian uprising and the loss of Salonica Bay.

As to the little kingdoms of Europe, they undoubtedly will be permited to remain passive spectators of the great international tragedy—to preserve a stolid neutrality in the midst of the vortex of war about them.

War Around the Globe.

It is almost impossible to appreciate the magnitude and the horror which must characterize a war involving Great Britain, Russia, Germany, Austria, Italy, France and Spain in one general, widespread conflict. It would mean a war around the globe. All Europe, all Africa, most of Asia, the islands of the South Pacific, the West Indies, and the northern part of North America would be the scenes of conflict.

The greatest horrors of such a war would only be realized if Germany and its allies in the dreibund should decide to enter the field. Then France and Russia would be assailed from each side by the armies of Germany, Austria and Italy. With the greater powers engrossed in war, it is almost certain the conflict would involve the Balkan States with Turkey, and the Sultan would be compelled to make his last stand to retain his place on the map of Europe.

The enormous sacrifice of life and paralysis of all commerce would be beyond computation. Hardly a nation engaged in the contest but would emerge from it as hopelessly bankrupt and poverty stricken as is Spain to-day, and it is this aspect of the situation that furnishes the surest guarantee for peace.

Great Britain's Defense.

It is upon its navy that Great Britain would depend largely for the defense of its seagirt empire. In India and Egypt, it is true, Great Britain's soldiers would engage in land campaigns which would tax their courage and endurance to the utmost. But in all other respects the great battles of an international war would be fought upon the sea. But powerful as Great Britain's navy is, it must be conceded at the outset that France and Russia united can put a navy to sea that would be terribly effective.

The British navy has been built up to its present mammoth proportions on the theory that some day it will have to defend the empire against a possible coalition of the European powers. The fleets in active service are distributed in quarters of the globe best situated to fight such a war. Naval bases have been located in view of such a contingency.

In all the discussions leading up to a possible coalition against Great Britain the probable position to be assumed by Japan must not be lost sight of. If necessary Japan's new and powerful navy would unquestionably be thrown into the scales on the British side, and if so the issue would be quickly decided in favor of the alliance between Great Britain and the Oriental power.

Where Will America Stand?

There can be no doubt that in such a combination of circumstances the sympathy of the great masses of the people of the United States would go out to Great Britain. But when one goes beyond sympathy he will reach a domain of discussion in which it would be not only difficult but dangerous to enter.

Unforeseen contingencies might arise which would make it difficult for the United States to hold aloof. It may be set down as certain that any attempt to break through the Monroe doctrine, say, by an invasion of Canada, or the seizure of the West India Islands, would arouse a dangerous sentiment in this country, and this sentiment, it may be remarked, is one of the strongest defenses Great Britain could have for the defense of her possessions on the North American continent.

It must always be remembered that before any nation or combination of nations would dare seek to attack the United States, either at home or in the far East, the British fleets must first be destroyed, and after the destruction of a British fleet the enemy's squadron would be in poor condition for another battle.

Changes in the Maps.

And, finally, when the struggle was ended and the international congress met to arrange its terms of peace, the geographers would have to prepare new maps of Europe, Asia and Africa.

Money Found in Mail Bags.

It seems almost incredible that in the neighborhood of $40,000 in actual cash should have been confided to letters during the last year, and harder still to credit that the most exhaustive efforts failed to find the owners of one-fourth of that amount. The envelopes which are addressed are kept on file for four years, blank ones not so long, but in either case a liberal margin of time is allowed for claimants to appear before the money is finally turned into the treasury to the credit of the Post-office Department. In addition to the money contained in letters during the same period, something like $10,000 was found loose in the mails. It is officially styled "loose money."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Careful Inspectors.

In Sweden yarn is not allowed to be sold if it contains .0009 per cent. of arsenic. A carpet has been condemned by the inspectors because it contained one thousandth part of a grain of arsenic in sixteen square inches—that is, one grain in a piece of carpet ten feet square.

Shoes for a Lifetime.

A shoemaker says we wear away quite two inches of shoe leather in a year. A pair of boots that would "last a lifetime" would consequently have to be provided with soles from eight to nine feet thick.

Teacher—"Johnny, what is a thief?" Johnny Hardup—"Dunno." Teacher—"Oh! yes, you do. Now, what would I be if I took money out of your pocket?" Johnny Hardup—"Why, youse 'ud be a peach."—Ohio State Journal.

TYPES OF ENGLISH ARMY OFFICERS IN FIELD UNIFORMS.

GREAT TRAILERS THESE DOGS.

Nick and Dock Who Worked on Union Pacific Train Robbery.

Although only four-footed animals, the work of Nick and Dock in trailing men has made them famous west of the Mississippi. The services of these celebrated bloodhounds have been required in scores of well-known cases, the most prominent being the great Union Pacific train robbery last winter at Green River, Wyo.

The two hounds came from famous stock, owing their origin to the great Winchell kennels of Vermont. They were purchased by the Lincoln, Neb., Bloodhound Company when very young and placed in immediate training for trailing criminals. They were used in scores of minor cases about Nebraska's capital city, their work being astonishing. They trailed a party of burglars forty-five miles, but lost them amid the confusion of the city. Two escaped prisoners from a Fillmore County jail were followed forty-five miles before the trail was broken by the escape of the men on a railroad train.

When the Union Pacific robbery occurred last winter Nick and Dock were sent to Green River. They took up the trail of the train robbers readily, but the next day were incapacitated by a driving snowstorm. The change proved too much for them, but the officers who saw the hounds follow the trail had no hesitancy in expressing their belief that the dogs would have been successful had not the fearful storm intervened.

The latest experience of the dogs was in following two York County horse thieves. The men had "worked" the vicinity of their homes so successfully that the farmers became incensed and promises of a lynching were made if they were caught. One night two fine horses disappeared. Nick and Dock were brought from Lincoln. The trail was fresh and the dogs in good trim. Over a beautiful country for fifty miles the hounds sped after their quarry with a posse of angry farmers at their heels. About dusk one evening the thieves were sighted. A chase of several more miles resulted in their capture. A conviction followed quickly and the thieves were on their way to the State prison in less than two weeks after the last theft occurred.

DEWEY'S WASHINGTON HOME.

House Presented to the Admiral by the American People.

The home purchased for Admiral Dewey, with money raised by public subscription, is one of the handsomest and most desirable sites in Washington and it is a matter of note that the house selected finally was that which Admiral Dewey indicated as his choice, before the committee began its work of examining more than sixty sites. The house was built by James E. Fitch for his own use, and has a frontage of twenty-seven feet, with a depth of seventy-two feet. There is no rear building and the first floor is divided into three apartments of equal size. The two upper floors are arranged for sleeping rooms. The parlor is finished in white and gold, the library in old oak and sliding doors separate the rooms, giving an effect of spaciousness difficult to find in a house of similar size. The house contains seventeen rooms and four bath rooms. The house is built of brick, with brown stone trimmings. There is quite a wide plaza in front of the house.

ADMIRAL DEWEY'S NEW HOUSE.

GROWTH OF ENGLISH.

May Soon Be the Language Universally Recognized Among Nations.

The International Academy of Sciences adjourned without solving the language problem, and recognized English, German, and French as equal mediums of communication. If the growth of the English language continues at its present rate for fifty years, however, it will not need the mandate of any academy to make it the universally recognized medium among civilized nations. In 1801 English was spoken by 20,500,000 people, being surpassed at that time in numbers by the French, German, Spanish, and Russian languages. In 1890, on the other hand, English was the mother tongue of 111,100,000 people, more by nearly 40,000,000 than spoke any other European language. Next to English stands the German language, with 75,200,000 people to whom it is the mother tongue. All over Europe travelers find that when the residents of any country speak any language but their own it is usually English.

A Musical King.

King Oscar of Sweden in his young days was regarded as the most accomplished tenor in Europe, and could have made a fortune out of his voice on the stage.

When a woman is entertaining an out-of-town guest she looks very grateful when some one asks her "company" how long she is going to stay.

FOR CATARRH
COLDS GRIPPE
COUGHS CROUP
SORE-THROAT HOARSENESS

GENERAL JOE WHEELER
Says of Peruna: "I join Senators Sullivan, Roach and McEnery in their good opinion of Peruna as an effective catarrh remedy."

PERUNA THE GREAT TONIC
HALF ACTUAL SIZE.

SYRUP of FIGS

ACTS GENTLY ON THE KIDNEYS, LIVER AND BOWELS
CLEANSES THE SYSTEM EFFECTUALLY,
DISPELS COLDS HEADACHES & FEVERS
OVERCOMES HABITUAL CONSTIPATION PERMANENTLY
TO GET ITS BENEFICIAL EFFECTS.
BUY THE GENUINE - MAN'F'D BY
CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
LOUISVILLE KY. SAN FRANCISCO CAL. NEW YORK N.Y.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS. PRICE 50¢ PER BOTTLE.

Ely's Cream Balm
WILL CURE
CATARRH
Druggists, 50 Cts.
Apply Balm into each nostril.
ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N.Y.

WABASH
HOME SEEKERS' EXCURSIONS
To Western Points,
November 21, 1899.
December 5 and 19, 1899.
On the above dates the WABASH will sell from its principal stations East of Chicago and Toledo, Ill., LOW RATE HOME SEEKERS' EXCURSION Tickets to points West, South, and Southwest, granting a liberal return limit. A postal card addressed to any Wabash Ticket Agent, or to either of the following Passenger Representatives will bring you prompt and explicit information regarding rates, routes, time of trains, through car service, condition of tickets, etc., etc.
REMEMBER
The WABASH is the only line east of Chicago and St. Louis giving its patrons seats, without extra charge, in ELEGANT RECLINING CHAIR CARS running through to St. Louis and Kansas City without change.
This is your chance to go West cheap. Communicate with us,
P. E. DOMBAUGH, P. & T. A., Toledo, Ohio.
R. G. THOMPSON, P. & T. A., Fort Wayne, Ind.
A. F. WOLFSCHLAGER, P. & T. A. Detroit, Mich.
THO'S FOLLEN, P. & T. A., Lafayette, Ind.
GEO. D. MANSFIELD, D. P. A., Indianapolis, Ind.
C. S. CRANE, G. P. & T. A., St. Louis, Mo.

DON'T RENT
ESTABLISH A HOME OF YOUR OWN
Read "The Corn Belt," a handsome monthly paper, beautifully illustrated, containing exact and truthful information about farm lands in the West, letters from farmers and pictures of their homes, barns and stock. Interesting and instructive. Send 25 cents in postage stamps for a year's subscription to "THE CORN BELT," 209 Adams St., Chicago.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

CANOE THAT CARRIES 100 MEN.

Indian Craft that Is Large Enough to Cross the Ocean.

The second largest Indian canoe in British Columbia, if not on the Pacific coast, says the Seattle Times, is now hauled out on the tide-flat hill on 1st avenue south. It is a stunner, considering it is made entirely out of a single big cedar tree.

"We could cross the ocean in that canoe," said the owner this morning in very good English. "It will hold more than a hundred people, and is the largest canoe but one in all our country."

The big canoe is but one out of about a score of large canoes that belong to the Fort Rupert and West Coast Indians of Vancouver Island. Fort Rupert is on the northern end of Vancouver Island and the Indians now here were eighteen days on the voyage. With a good fair wind they can go 100 miles a day and could, therefore, accomplish the almost 1,000 mile voyage in eight or ten days. However, they do not always get the fair wind.

The big canoe is a new one, made this summer. It is about fifty-five feet long and seven to eight feet across. The Indians say there are even bigger cedar trees than the one from which the canoe was made. These Indians have been coming here ever since the first hops were planted. They always look for a sound tree for a canoe, one without any rotten parts or knot holes about it. The Indian owner hired a number of other Indians and made the canoe where the tree fell, then skidded it into the water. He considers it worth $300 or $400.

War canoes of these Northern Indians used to create a good deal of terror in the minds of the first settlers. There are old gray-headed patriarchs in the camp to-day who doubtless have in the past taken part in many a raid on the Sound Indians and possibly in some of the few attacks made on the early settlers.

Thorite, the New Explosive,

Distinguished itself by passing through a 4½-inch steel plate. If its success continues, it will make as great a record in the military world as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in the medical world. Nothing appeared which can equal this wonderful medicine for all diseases of the stomach, liver or kidneys.

French Explorations in Persia.

The French have the exclusive right to carry on researches in Persia, but half of the finds are to belong to that country. Explorations are now being carried on at Susa, the old capital of the Chaldean kingdom. As the relics are dug up they are sent to Teheran, where they are divided. The Persian government does not care for such finds and sells its shares to dealers. This results in the scattering of much valuable material.

Jason Crow, Oscarville, Ga.,

Writes us, May 31, 1899: "I feel it my duty to write and let you know what your medicine, '5 Drops,' has done for me. I have had rheumatism about eighteen years, but was able to be up most of the time until a year ago last May, when I was taken down and not able to move about. About six weeks ago I saw your advertisement and wrote for a sample bottle. After taking a few doses it did me so much good that I ordered some more for myself and friends, and in every case it has done wonders, and given perfect satisfaction.

"Dr. Woodliff, my family physician, who has had rheumatism for fifteen years, is taking the '5 Drops,' and says it is the most efficient rheumatic medicine he has ever used."

"5 Drops" is the most powerful specific known. Free from opiates and perfectly harmless. It is a perfect cure for Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Backache, Asthma, Catarrh, La Grippe, Neuralgic Headache, etc. If you or any of your friends are suffering, do not delay, but send for a bottle of "5 Drops." Large-sized bottles (300 doses), $1. For the next thirty days we will mail a 25-cent sample bottle for 10 cents. SWANSON RHEUMATIC CURE CO., 160 to 164 Lake street, Chicago, Ill.

Highballs.

Sandy Pikes—Lady, can't yer help a poor fellow dat had six balls to hit him on der field?

Lady—My poor man, was it the field of action?

Sandy Pikes—I suppose so, ma'am; from de way de players was hittin' dem golf balls I should say dey wuz pretty active.

What Do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing, and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee, but costs about ¼ as much. All grocers sell it. 15c and 25c.

Shamrock Color.

"Till me," said Larry, "what the Unoited Shtates hos iver done fer th' Olrish?"

"A good dale," spoke up Dinny; "she's hod her paper money made grane on wan solde."

"You Can't Catch the Wind in a Net."
Neither can you cure catarrh by local applications. It is a constitutional disease, and is cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla because it is a constitutional remedy. It expels from the blood the impurity which causes the disease, and rebuilds and repairs the inflamed membranes.
Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

W. L. DOUGLAS
$3 & 3.50 SHOES UNION MADE.
Worth $4 to $6 compared with other makes.
Indorsed by over 1,000,000 wearers.
The genuine have W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on bottom. Take no substitute claimed to be as good. Your dealer should keep them—if not, we will send a pair on receipt of price. State kind of leather, size, and width, plain or cap toe. Catalogue D free.
W. L. DOUGLAS SHOE CO., Brockton, Mass.

Dr. Bull's
Cures all Throat and Lung Affections.
COUGH SYRUP
Get the genuine. Refuse substitutes.
IS SURE
Dr. Bull's Pills cure Dyspepsia. Trial, 25 for 25c.

INDIANA'S PENSIONERS.

Creditable Reason Why the State Takes the Lead.

Indiana takes the lead as a pension State. The annual statement of the Pension Department has recently been issued. In round numbers the States drawing the highest pensions are Ohio, with $15,000,000; Pennsylvania, with $12,700,000; New York, $12,000,000; Indiana, $10,000,000, and Illinois, $9,000,000. Indiana has 65,000 pensioners, who draw an average pension of a fraction over $160 per annum. In the list Indiana has 225 veterans of the civil war who are drawing the limit of $72 a month, and seventy veterans of the civil and of the Mexican war who are drawing $50 a month. In number of pensioners and number of high pensioners in the average for all in the State, Indiana leads all other States in the Union by a broad margin. Indiana, with a population of 40,000 less than that of Massachusetts, by the census of 1899, receives in pensions $10,443,000 annually, while Massachusetts gets but $5,420,000. Similar comparisons will show that Indiana is the greatest pension State according to her population.

Commissioner Evans has analyzed the pension apportionment by congressional districts, and that makes a very fair basis for comparison. On this basis Indiana shows a clear lead, while Kansas comes in a good second. The Indiana pensions run $803,000 per district; Kansas $775,000. Among the States at the front are Missouri, with $448,000; New Jersey, with $312,000, and New York, with $352,000 per district. Massachusetts averages $417,000 per district. The average pensions in the five leading States are $150 in Ohio, $126 in Pennsylvania, $142 in New York, $160 in Indiana and $146 in Illinois. Though there is a difference of $14 average between Indiana and Illinois, there are over 3,000 more pensioners in that State. The difference in average, however, gives Indiana pensioners $60,000 more per annum. Though Ohio ranks first as a pension State, still, like Illinois, on a basis of population and pensioners, it ranks below Indiana.

Indiana was one of the States putting the largest number of men into the field. Among the States of the Union it stood fifth, with New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois leading, with Massachusetts and Missouri following. It put 200,000 men into the field, and in partial explanation of the great number of heavy pensioners it can be said that no other State in the Union spilled so much blood and participated in as many bloody engagements. Indiana's war history is written in letters of crimson on the roll of seventeen States.

INDIANA IS GOOD ENOUGH.

Many Emigrants to the Northwest Are sick of Their Bargains.

In a private letter a former Indianian, now a resident of North Dakota, speaks with much feeling of the mistake made by Indiana farmers who are persuaded by real estate and railroad agents from the Northwest to sell out their holdings here and go up there and buy land in the expectation of bettering themselves. The representations made by the agents are, he declares, very misleading. The temperature, which they admit gets pretty low in the winter, but which they assert is never uncomfortable, because "you do not feel the cold where the atmosphere is so dry," this correspondent says is quite as uncomfortable as cold weather anywhere else. The mercury during the last week in January ran the scale from 20 to 35 degrees below zero. Such weather is common there and not the exceptional thing of years. Further, he says, these agents conceal material facts, such as local market prices, cost of fuel, lumber, tax rates, rate of interest on loans, etc., and the new settlers are greatly disappointed and discouraged when they learn the truth. If they write back to their old-home newspapers warning others not to be beguiled as they were the letter is copied into the papers of their new homes and they are attacked and vilified. Their prudent course is to make the best of a bad bargain in silence.

This story is not a new one. It has been repeated, with variations, hundreds of times by men to whom the region that is a little farther on always seems more highly favored than the place where they now are. They could by proper inquiry satisfy themselves that the new country toward which they look bears the enchantment of distance and that it has few, if any, advantages over the place where they now are; but they do not take these precautions. The glamour of the distant and untried and the desire for the new and strange overcome them and they go to the far-off regions only to regret their venture afterward. It is doubtful if any farmer ever improved his prospects in an agricultural sense by a removal from Indiana. He will hardly find better or more easily tilled land in any other region, his markets are near at hand, and the transportation and the fuel questions do not bother him. Farmers everywhere have their problems and their difficulties, as all business men have, but those of Indiana have as few as any of their brethren, and in many respects have advantages those of States farther West do not enjoy. Those who "move on" learn to value these blessings after they have taken their flight.

FORTUNE FOR THREE FARMERS

Brothers Schmidt of Chesterton, Ind., Heirs to a $6,000,000 Estate.

Three farmers of Porter County have fallen heirs to a fortune estimated at $6,000,000. One day not long ago an old woman arrived at Chesterton, inquiring for Henry Schmidt. After finding him and his brothers, "Chris" and "Ed," she informed them she had been on a hunt for them for the last two years. She lives in Detroit, and is wealthy. The boys are heirs, she declares, to an estate in Mecklenburg, Germany, and their share is $2,000,000 each. She offers to take them to Germany and assist in proving their claim, and as a guarantee of good faith will give them $1,000 to use in making preparations for the trip.

BICYCLE WORKS LEAVE CHICAGO

Adams & Westlake and Bradley Manufactories Move to Laporte.

The removal of the Adams & Westlake and Bradley bicycle works from Chicago to Laporte has been finally decided on, the citizens having given $8,000, and the shipping of the machinery has begun. The two Chicago concerns have been amalgamated with the Lonn company, with a paid-up capital of $250,000. The three companies are outside the trust.

Brief State Happenings.

Cut worms are eating the wheat in Knox County.

Anderson glass factories, in the trust, will start Nov. 15, it is said.

Logansport is experimenting with a chemical fire-fighting engine.

Premium of $1,203 was paid for $15,000 worth of Elkhart school bonds.

Worm similar to the army worm is chewing things in Vanderburg County.

Miss Libbie Harr, Evansville, was struck in the eye with a light rubber ball, several weeks ago, and she has suddenly become blind.

INDIANA INCIDENTS.

RECORD OF EVENTS OF THE PAST WEEK.

Mother Abducts Her Own Child—Bank Wrecker Must Serve Out His Term—Suicide Caused by Domestic Troubles—Fight at North Salem.

A man and woman abducted Elvah, the 6-year-old adopted daughter of Joel Jackson of Red Bridge. The child was attending school when the pair drove up and the man entered the school room. He told the teacher, Joseph Long, that Mr. Jackson had sent for the girl. They put her into the buggy and drove away. Long, suspecting something wrong, dismissed school and went to Jackson, who started in pursuit. The couple were captured at Logansport. The woman is Mrs. Alvah Sherrill, of Attica, the mother of the child. She asserts she never surrendered her claim to the girl.

Victims Head Off a Pardon.

John F. Johnson, president of the State National Bank, Logansport, which institution he was convicted of wrecking by his embezzlement of $500,000, will not be pardoned. The stockholders of the defunct concern have followed up the petitions circulated for his pardon with such diligence that the prayer of the friends of Johnson, now serving a seven-year sentence in the Ohio penitentiary, will never reach President McKinley. The share owners appealed to Judge Baker and District Attorney Wishard, who tried the case, to stop the agitation for clemency and both agreed not to sign the petition for a pardon.

Dies to Win Her Insurance.

In Terre Haute Mrs. Pearl Kennedy, depressed by domestic troubles, committed suicide by taking poison after beseeching her 17-year-old daughter also to take poison. The daughter thought her mother was making an idle threat until a few hours later, when the elder woman's heavy breathing alarmed her. When Mrs. Kennedy paid a premium on her life insurance policy a few days before she told the agent that it would be her last and that the company's turn to pay her would come before another payment would be due from her.

Meets Death in a Quarrel.

Shade Mackey, who went to North Salem some time ago from Tennessee, where he claimed to have killed two men and served a term in prison, was killed by William Ragan, a drug clerk, with whom he became involved in a street fight. Mackey was shot through the head and Ragan through the body.

Within Our Borders.

Jay County farmers will raise tobacco.

Hanover College is making $10,000 worth of repairs.

John Romus was killed by a falling tree near Terre Haute.

Terre Haute street fair association had $483 left to divide among the stockholders.

Ohio Falls iron works has begun to "blow in" its furnaces after five years' rest.

William Herrendeems, Wabash freight brakeman, was killed in the yards at Peru.

Public monument will be erected to the memory of the men killed in the Knightstown fire.

John McGuigan, Muncie saloonkeeper, laughed at a joke, and could not stop for two hours.

Peter Rishel, 42, Muncie carpenter, who fell from a two-story building ten weeks ago, is dead.

Miss Myrtle Bond, 17, Brazil, killed herself with morphine because her father would not quit drinking.

Wm. Herrendeems, a Wabash freight brakeman from Delray, Mich., was run over and killed in the Peru yards.

Rufus Wait Lane, formerly a student at Earlham and now consul at Smyrna, married to Miss Marie Psiache, a Greek.

Charles Walker, 19, Evansville, turned his gun loose in a crowd of negroes because some of them jostled a lady. Scott Davis and Ernest Hackner were hit, but not seriously hurt.

The biggest sale of wool ever made in Indiana was closed in Crawfordsville when McClure, Graham & Rountree sold to the Manchester Mills Company of Manchester, N. H., over 300,000 pounds of fine wool. The clip was bought at from 18 to 22 cents and was sold at a slight advance.

Dynamite was exploded under the house the house of James Pitman in Rockville. Mrs. Pitman, who was alone with two children, was in the kitchen, which was wrecked. She was stunned, but not seriously injured. Mrs. Pitman says that not long ago she found a bundle of switches and a threatening note at her door.

Thomas Apple, aged 60 years, and a resident of Inwood, shot and killed his divorced wife and immediately afterward killed himself. The couple were divorced a few days ago and trouble arose when the woman attempted to move some of her effects from the house. Many persons witnessed the affair, but could not interfere in time to save either.

W. W. Watkins, the telegraph operator at Lakeville for the Vandalia road, was knocked down the other night by one of three men, who bore down upon him from a dark place behind a box car. Forty dollars in money and a gold watch were taken. Watkins was then carried to the yards of the company. After being repeatedly warned that if he made any outcry he would be killed the three men hoisted him into a refrigerator car. A bottle of whisky was thrown in and the door bolted on the outside. Watkins shouted himself hoarse. He was heard pounding on the door the next morning, after having been a prisoner more than ten hours.

Gusher gas well struck at Hagerstown.

Blood hounds are tracking thieves around Plymouth.

Big Four freight houses at Anderson are being enlarged.

Martin Kraeger, 60, Oakland City, was killed by a train.

F. J. Bosler's spoke factory, Mitchell, is in ashes. Loss $12,000. Cause unknown.

Richard Kroener, Terre Haute, called Fannie Booklocker, who had rejected him, to the door and shot at her twice. The woman fell, but was not hit.

John McBaniel, river pirate, Madison, has been sent to Jeff. to practice his piracy.

Thousands of dead fish are floating in the Maumee river at Fort Wayne. Cause unknown.

Boys of the Ball Bros.' fruit jar factory, Muncie, who recently struck, returned at the old wages.

William Mikesell, 13, Monticello, was shooting turtles from a bridge pier ninety feet high, when he fell off and was killed.

Andrew Banty, Greenfield, found a loaded cartridge in an old house and hammered it to see if it would go off. He is satisfied and will lie in bed several weeks.

AMERICA SAYS SO

The Entire Country Is On the Move.

Cascarets Candy Cathartic Did It, and Record a Phenomenal Victory—Five Million Boxes Sold Last Year.

From every part of America comes the news that sufferers from constipation have found relief in Cascarets Candy Cathartic, the wonderful modern scientific laxative and intestinal tonic. Cascarets are figuratively and literally in everybody's mouth. Thousands have tried Cascarets with the most pleasant and effective results, and voluntarily testify to their experiences. Here are a few extracts from some of the letters:

"I have been using Cascarets for headache and constipation and have received great benefit from them." Mrs. M. Gabler, 512 Larrabee St., Chicago.

"I have been taking Cascarets for over a month and find them just the thing for constipation." Albert E. Burt, 70 Main St., Andover, Mass.

"I am using Cascarets and have never found anything so satisfactory." Mrs. C. W. Durrant, 57 Emerson St., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have taken Cascarets and cheerfully recommend them to all my friends." Mrs. G. J. Gradwell, Frugality, Pa.

"Cascarets are fine for biliousness and malaria and are so pleasant to take." Mrs. Mary Cummings, Maud, Oklahoma.

"I use Cascarets in my family and find them all you recommend them to be." E. L. Irvin, Cor. Mead and Railroad, Meadville, Pa.

"You can safely add appendicitis to the list of diseases that Cascarets will benefit or cure." Eunice J. Smith, Rich Valley, Ohio.

"I have used Cascarets; there is nothing better for Constipation." Benj. Passage, Knightstown, Ind.

"Cascarets are all right. They have cured me of constipation, and I never expected anything would." Charles H. Nye, Lock Box 206, Cincinnati, Ohio.

"I am so thankful for your Cascarets. They are better than any medicine I ever used." Mrs. M. Rew, Lacelle, Iowa.

"I do not hesitate to say that Cascarets is the very best medicine ever placed before the people." Andrew Woodruff, Daysville, N. Y.

"Cascarets are the best cathartic I ever used." Tom Holt, Wellwood, Manitoba.

"I have tried your Cascarets and I want to tell you they are just splendid." John Wiegmink, Box 961, Allegan, Mich.

We could fill the whole paper with expressions like the above. Thousands of similar recognitions of the merits of Cascarets have been volunteered and prove that this delightful laxative, so pleasant of taste, so mild and yet effective, has secured a firmly established place in the hearts of the people.

Go buy and try Cascarets yourself today. All druggists, 10c, 25c, 50c. Booklet and sample free. Address Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago or New York.

CCC This is the CASCARET tablet. Every tablet of the only genuine Cascaret bears the magic letters "CCC." Look at the tablet before you buy, and beware of frauds, imitations and substitutes.

A Strange Collision.

Berlin was the scene of a collision between a horse car and a balloon recently. A captive military balloon broke loose during a squall, and drove across the Tempelhof field, dragging with it the soldiers who were holding it. On reaching the street, though its speed was checked by its carrying away some telegraph wires, it hit a horse car violently enough to upset it with its passengers. Two of the soldiers who held on were badly hurt.

$100 Reward. $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.

No Women Are Admitted.

No feminine visitors are allowed to go through the Cramps' yard in Philadelphia because every time a woman passes through the shops every one of the 7,000 workmen raises his eyes from his work, and in one minute one man's work for a fortnight is lost to his employers.

A High-Grade Top Buggy for $34.95.

For those who are accustomed to sending away from home for their goods it is of the greatest importance to know the character and reliability of the establishment selling goods to families from catalogues. The great emporium of the John M. Smyth Co., located at 150 to 166 West Madison street, Chicago, has been established for a third of a century, and has furnished over half a million homes in Chicago and vicinity alone. This firm enjoys the confidence of the public by its many years of fair dealing. It issues an immense illustrated catalogue that should be in every family, as it describes and gives the price of every article required for household use. A sample of the extraordinary values offered by this firm is shown in the illustration of the buggy at $34.95 in another column of this paper. These carriages are indeed wonderful values, and yet they are but a sample of the thousand and one useful articles illustrated and described in the beautiful catalogue of the John M. Smyth Company.

Hands Wanted.

Lady—You ought to be ashamed to admit that you can't find anything to do when the papers say they want thousands of farm hands out West.

Sandy Pikes—Farm hands? Why, I ain't got farm hands, lady. I'se got city hands.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.
Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Sold in 25 and 50 cent bottles. Go at once; delays are dangerous.

Couldn't Be Interrupted.

"Send my typewriter girl in here, Jimmy."

"I dassent interrupt her, sir; she's readin' a letter from her beau."

The Nickel Plate Road
Offers one fare for the round trip to Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 14th and 28th, account the National Export Exposition. Tickets available going only on date of sale and returning within ten days from date of issue. Your choice of a Peerless Trio of Daily Express Trains.
Secure sleeping car reservations early.

Cholly—Love me, love my dog, you know. Mabel—I should be just as likely to love your dog as to love you.

Tells Its Own Story.

In a pretty Wisconsin town not far from Milwaukee there is a "spite fence" which tells its own story to all the world. It is a high and tight board affair, and cuts off a view across a number of beautiful lawns. The man who lives on one side of it evidently feared that the fence would bring down on his head the condemnation of his neighbors. Not wishing to be unjustly blamed, he has, therefore, painted on his side of the fence, in letters that can be read a block away, these words: "He built this fence. I didn't do it!"

The man on the other side also had no idea of letting a false impression get out. Accordingly he has painted on the other side of the high barrier: "I had to do it."

Try Grain-O! Try Grain-O!

Ask your Grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal-brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. ¼ the price of coffee. 15c and 25c per package. Sold by all grocers.

A Way Out.

"Our rooms look perfectly disgraceful, and here are visitors coming."

"Let's throw things around a little more, and then we can tell them we are cleaning house."

Piso's Cure for Consumption is our only medicine for coughs and colds.—Mrs. C. Beltz, 439 8th ave., Denver, Col., Nov. 8, 1895.

We must not judge of a man's merits by his great qualities, but by the use he makes of them.—Rochefoucauld.

Winter in the South.

The season approaches when one's thoughts turn toward a place where the inconveniences of a Northern winter may be escaped. No section of this country offers such ideal spots as the Gulf Coast on the line of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad between Mobile and New Orleans. It possesses a mild climate, pure air, even temperature and facilities for hunting and fishing enjoyed by no other section. Accommodations for visitors are first-class, and can be secured at moderate prices. The L. & N. R. R. is the only line by which it can be reached in through cars from Northern cities. Through car schedules to all points in Florida by this line are also perfect. Write for folders, etc., to JACKSON SMITH, D. P. A., Cincinnati, O.

Ayer's Pills
Does your head ache? Pain back of your eyes? Bad taste in your mouth? It's your liver! Ayer's Pills are liver pills. They cure constipation, headache, dyspepsia, and all liver complaints. 25c. All druggists.

Want your moustache or beard a beautiful brown or rich black? Then use BUCKINGHAM'S DYE for the Whiskers
50 cts. of Druggists, or R. P. Hall & Co., Nashua, N. H.

Why Not?

"There's a far-away look in her eyes."

"Of course; they're sky blue."

To Cure a Cold in One Day
Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box.

Kindness in ourselves is the honey that blunts the sting of unkindness in another.—Landor.

Lane's Family Medicine
Moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Acts gently on the liver and kidneys. Cures sick headache. Price 25 and 50c.

The largest number of theaters is in London.

FITS Permanently Cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Send for FREE $2.00 trial bottle and treatise. DR. R. H. KLINE, LTD., 931 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

The New "Dooley" Character.

The new serial, "Molly Donahue," by the author of "Mr. Dooley," is announced to begin in the Christmas Ladies' Home Journal.

Eagle Linen Letter Paper and Envelopes are the proper thing. Tell your printer to use this in and on your next order.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething; softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25 cents a bottle.

EVERY woman suffering from any female trouble can be helped by Mrs. Pinkham. This statement is based on sound reasoning and an unrivalled record. Multitudes of America's women to-day bless Mrs. Pinkham for competent and common-sense advice. Write to her if you are ill. Her address is Lynn, Mass. Absolutely no charge is made for advice. "I suffered seven years and would surely have died but for your help," writes MRS. GEO. BAINBRIDGE, Morea, Pa., to Mrs. Pinkham. "It is with pleasure I now write to inform you that I am now a healthy woman, thanks to your kind advice and wonderful medicine. I can never praise it enough. I was a constant sufferer from womb trouble, and leucorrhœa, had a continual pain in abdomen. Sometimes I could not walk across the floor for three or four weeks at a time. Since using your medicine, I now have no more bearing-down pains, or tired feelings, and am well and hearty. I shall recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all my suffering friends as the greatest remedy for all female weakness."

SAFE COUNSEL FOR SICK WOMEN

MRS. SUSIE J. WEAVER, 1821 Callowhill St., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I had inflammation of the womb and painful menstruation, and by your advice I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Have taken four bottles and used one package of Sanative Wash and feel like a new woman. I thank you so much for what your medicine has done for me."

MRS. M. BAUMANN, 771 W. 21st St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "After two months' trial of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I can not say enough in praise for it. I was a very sick woman with womb trouble when I began its use, but now I am well."

JOHN M. SMYTH CO.
MAMMOTH MAIL ORDER HOUSE
150 TO 166 WEST MADISON ST CHICAGO
SAVED TO THE PURCHASER OF THIS $25.00 High Grade Top Buggy $34.95
AT OUR SPECIAL OFFER PRICE OF ONLY

We offer this buggy as actual factory wholesale price, the equal of which is frequently sold by the dealers at not less than $60.00, so that they who buy direct from us save fully $25.00 and get a better buggy.
We give you either piano or Corning style body, end springs or Brewster side-bar springs, narrow or wide track, ¾, ⅞ or 1 inch tire, all wood cloth or genuine leather trim, and furnish the buggy complete with extra heavy full-rubber top, brussels carpet, storm apron, boot, nickel dash rail, shafts, anti-rattlers, etc. Painting is perfect and equal to $75.00 buggy painting. Wheels are Sarven patent, warranted second growth hickory.
We are bound to make this buggy so perfect that it will sell many more for us. Only a limited number will be sold at our special price of $34.95. We will ship C. O. D. anywhere in the United States east of the Rocky mountains on receipt of only $2.00 as evidence of good faith.
FREE MAMMOTH CATALOGUE in which is listed at lowest wholesale prices everything to eat, wear and use, is furnished on receipt of only 10¢ to partly pay postage or expressage and as evidence of good faith the 10¢ is allowed on first purchase amounting to $10 or above.
OUR MONTHLY GROCERY PRICE LIST FREE.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS • GIVEN • AWAY.
LIKE FINDING MONEY.
The use of the Endless Chain Starch Book in the purchase of "Red Cross" and "Hubinger's Best" starch, makes it just like finding money. Why, for only 5c you are enabled to get one large 10c package of "Red Cross" starch, one large 10c package of "Hubinger's Best" starch, with the premiums, two Shakespeare panels, printed in twelve beautiful colors, or one Twentieth Century Girl Calendar, embossed in gold. Ask your grocer for this starch and obtain the beautiful Christmas presents free.

CARTER'S INK
The best ink made, but no dearer than the poorest.

PENSIONS Get Your Pension DOUBLE QUICK!
Write Cert. O'FARRELL, Pension Agent, Washington, D.C.

SORE EYES? DR. ISAAC THOMPSON'S EYE WATER

When Writing to Advertisers please say you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

IDEAL MUSIC,

"Sweet as the angel Israfil's,
When every leaf on Eden's tree
Was trembling to his minstrelsy."

can be produced from an EBERSOLE PIANO. The Ebersole possesses a tone that no other maker has been able to imitate—being full and deep, yet with that clear singing quality which stamps it the peer of all upright pianos for homes of culture and refinement.

Frank B. Long,
119 Calhoun-St. cor Washington,
Fort Wayne, Ind.

Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine.

Rotary Motion and Ball Bearings.

Porter Depew, Agent.

Mott's Nerverine Pills

BEFORE AND AFTER USING.

The great remedy for nervous prostration and all nervous diseases of the generative organs of either sex, such as Nervous Prostration, Failing or lost Manhood, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Youthful Errors, Mental Worry, excessive use of Tobacco or Opium, which lead to Consumption and Insanity. $1.00 per box by mail; 6 boxes for $5.00.
MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Prop's, Cleveland, Ohio.
Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED
ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"
Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured.
Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS

They overcome Weakness, Irregularity and omissions, increase vigor and banish "pains of maturation." They are "Life Savers" to girls at womanhood, aiding development of organs and body. So known remedy for women equals them. Cannot do harm—life becomes a pleasure. $1 per box by mail. Sold by druggists.
MOTT CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, O.
Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at H. B. McCord's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

—Three special trains carrying part of the Forty-second United States volunteers passed through Waterloo Thursday night, the soldiers being on their way to San Francisco, where they will embark for the Philippines. The rest of the companies of the regiment were taken over the Wabash, Nickel Plate, Big Four and Clover Leaf roads.

WHAT A WELL KNOWN R. R. MAN and resident of Lima thinks of Foley's Honey and Tar: I have been troubled a great deal with the backache. I was induced to try Foley's Kidney Cure, and one bottle entirely relieved me. I gladly recommend it to any one, especially my friends among the trainmen, who are generally similarly afflicted.—GEO. H. AUSTIN, Engineer on L. E. & W. R. R.—H. B. MCCORD.

—People who are susceptible to the cold should make it a point of wearing loose clothing in cold weather. Loose garments are always warmer than tight-fitting ones, not because they allow room for circulation, but because they permit a layer of air between the skin and the outside world.

Working Night and Day

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar-coated globule of health, that changes weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain-fag into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health Only 25c per box. Sold by H. B. McCord's drugstore.

—In Indiana last year 3,483 divorces were granted. Of these Marion county heads the list with 575, while Fayette is at the tail end of the procession with only one. Of the total number 2,508 were granted to wives and 975 to husbands.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE.

Many of your friends or people whom you know of have contracted consumption, pneumonia or other fatal diseases by neglect of a simple cold or cough. Foley's Honey amd Tar, a safe and pleasant cough medicine, would have saved them. It is guaranteed.—H. B. MCCORD.

—The mayor of Wabash offers $100 for the capture of the tramp who shot the deputy marshal of that city Monday. The officer was not fatally injured.

HUMBUGS

are they who tell you other cough syrups are just as good as Beggs' Cherry Cough Syrup. If you can not get it from your druggist notify us at once and on receipt of 25 cents we will send you a bottle. Guaranteed. McCord's.

—A Waterloo cooper claims to have turned out 4,700 apple barrels this season. A large number were turned out in the Jones shop here also.

SUMMER COMPLAINT

is easily cured by the use of Beggs' Diarrhoea Balsam; it is safe and sure. H. B. McCord's drug store.

Wednesday's Daily.

—O. W. and B. W. Kirkland of Hudson have received a patent on a permutation lock.

—During the year ending October 31 it cost the state of Indiana over $65,000 to furnish clothing for the inmates of the various institutions.

—James Simon, who is attending Wittenberg college at Springfield, O., played center rush in a football game with his team at Dayton last week. Wittenberg won by a score of 21 to 0.

—Isaac Hague has a fifty-cent revenue stamp of the old sort used during the rebellion and a short time after its close, when Mr. Hague was postmaster and we believe handled revenue stamps also.

—Charlie Baber, who was the auctioneer at Shull's stock sale is a success in that line. It was a big sale and all who attended thinks he is as able a stock auctioneer as Phil. Carr, of Ligonier.

—Mr. and Mrs. Houser returned yesterday afternoon from a visit with his mother at Kendallville and sister at Helmer. The latter, Mrs. Shade, has a daughter now lying very low with consumption.

—It is reported that a Butler citizen fired into a crowd of boys who were "raising Cain" on his premises last night, and that one of the boys was slightly wounded by a shot striking him in the leg. We have heard no particulars of the affair.

—About noon today fire was discovered in the roof of the kitchen of Mrs. Colvin's house on south Jackson street, occupied by E. M. Fischler, and for a short time it looked as though it would cause considerable damage. It happened, however, that help was at hand and when the fire department reached the scene, about fifteen minutes after the first alarm was sent in, the bucket brigade had the fire out. The damage was not very heavy.

—We are in receipt of a copy of the Hastings, (Neb.) Evening Record, in which we find this item: "F. J. Yesbera of Auburn, Indiana, called at this office yesterday and inquired for the junior member of the firm. Mr. Yesbera is representing a wholesale jewelry house. After being shown about the town for a few hours he expressed himself as being in love with Hastings and the surrounding country. He also complimented the Record publishers very highly for having such a neat office. Mr. Yesbera came direct from our boyhood 'stomping grounds' and was able to tell us how everybody was getting along. He left the city for Aurora this afternoon at 5 o'clock."

Thursday's Daily.

—Jonathan Hazlett of Butler has been granted an increase of pension.

—The erection of the new school building at Garrett has been postponed until next year.

—Mrs. Fetters of Kendallville returned home today after a few days' visit here with her cousin, Mrs. Lottie Cochran, and other friends.

The adjutant-general has made his report on our present army. It is at the date of his report 99,160 all told. This is the largest army by far, we ever had except during the rebellion.

—The Wabash Bridge Co. has just completed what is claimed to be the third longest single span bridge in the United States. It is across the Miami river at Hamilton, O., and is 410 feet in length.

—The appellate court has decided that a person who returns an incorrect schedule of his property to the assessor is guilty of a misdemeanor under the law and liable to prosecution. Tax dodgers will have to look out.

—Syracuse has great hopes of becoming a city through the boom the cement industry will give to the village. It is stated the firm putting in the cement plant have an order for 500 barrels a day for five years from a St. Louis firm.

—The Columbia City post says we can now look out for the Widow Hazen, who is to marry Admiral Dewey. Her picture will soon find its way into public notice and will soon adorn everything from a package of chewing gum to a threshing machine.

—A flag of the Boer republic floated proudly from a staff over the Schaab & Murphy store today. The staff and flag were put up last night by one of Mr. Murphy's near neighbors (only as a joke of course) and the four-colored banner has attracted considerable attention today.

—A telegram from Valparaiso, Ind., to the Inter Ocean, dated Oct. 31, says that "Charles H. McBride, of Indianapolis, was indicted for forgery of three checks on the Indianapolis National bank of Indianapolis, signed by Geo. K. Meyers. McBride was a quartermaster sergeant of Co. I, 157th Regt. during the Spanish war, and is now supposed to be in the Philippines.

—During the first month of service the carrier on the rural free delivery route from Pleasant Lake handled 3,554 pieces of mail. Twenty-two daily papers are taken by people along the route. Government collection boxes are on the way, to be put up at the school houses and churches, so that parents can send letters by children going to school, whether they live on the route or not.

Vice president Hobart has been lying seriously sick at his home at Paterson, N. J., for some time. For more than a year, he has suffered from a complication of diseases the worst of which is some affection of the heart. He is going to resign his office so as to be relieved of all public duties; even if he lives through this sickness, and is on the way to recovery, he would not be able to preside over the the senate this winter.

Arbuckles' Coffee

Is the Standard of Coffee Excellence by which all Coffee Quality is Compared.

No. 51 Dining Room Table Cloth.
Table Cloth, white with red bars. Size 60 x 66 inches. Sent postpaid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 60 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 53. A Dress Pattern.
15 yards Printed Organdie, 29 inches wide, 6 colors to select from, Pink, Blue, Black, Pearl and Nile Green. Sent postpaid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 100 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee. When ordering, be sure to state the color desired. No samples will be given out.

No. 56 Six Handkerchiefs.

Six Ladies' Pocket Handkerchiefs, hemstitched, colored borders, size 13 x 13 inches. Sent postpaid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 20 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 55 Four Handkerchiefs.

Four Gentlemen's Handkerchiefs, hemstitched, colored borders, size 19½ x 19½ inches. Sent postpaid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 20 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 52. Lady's Apron.
Fine quality white lawn, wide strings and fancy lace insertion. Size 32 x 40 inches. Sent postpaid on receipt of two cent postage stamp and 25 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 54. A Pair of Window Curtains.

Each Curtain a yard wide two and three-quarter yards long. Sent postpaid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 65 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 58. A Pair of Shears.

Of the best American make, 8 inches long. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 15 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 59. Razor made by J. R. Torrey.

The J. R. Torrey Razor is known as the best made in the United States. The printed guarantee of the manufacturer goes with each razor. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 28 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 57. A Pair of Scissors.
Made by the best American manufacturers and well finished, 5½ inches long. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 15 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 60. Lady's Belt.

Latest style, grain leather tan color 1½ in. wide, nickel plated buckle. Belts are following sizes only, give size in inches when ordering, from 22 to 26 in.; from 27 to 32 in.; from 33 to 36 in. Sent postpaid on receipt of a 2 cent postage stamp and 20 signatures cut from the wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 61. Man's Belt.

Grain leather, tan color, nickel-plated buckle and rings. When ordering give size of waist in inches. Belts run from 34 to 42 inches in length. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 20 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 62. A Carving Knife and Fork.

A first-class set, mounted with genuine buck-horn handles. Knife blade 8 inches long. Sent by express, charges prepaid, on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 90 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee. When ordering name your nearest Express Office as well as your Post Office.

No. 63. A Butcher's Knife.

Six inch blade, hard wood handle, good materials and well finished. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 20 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 64. A Kitchen Knife.

Will cut bread, slice ham and saw the bone. Serviceable, and should be in every kitchen. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 14 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 65 A Lady's Pen Knife.

Has two finely finished blades. Handle beautifully variegated in imitation of onyx. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 30 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 67. Picture Frame.

Cabinet size, brass, silverplated. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 12 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 66. A Gentleman's Pocket Knife.

Two-bladed knife made of best materials and finished in workmanlike manner. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 40 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 69. A Gentleman's Watch.
The "New Haven" is a watch of the ordinary size. Stem wind and stem set, dust proof, nickel-plated case, solid back. Quick beat movement, highly polished steel pinions. Modeled after a standard watch, reliable time-keeper. The printed guarantee of the maker accompanies each watch. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 90 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 71. Enameled Alarm Clock.

Highest standard of Alarm Clock. Seamless frame, ornamental hands, French pattern and second hand. Will run thirty hours with one winding. Sent by express, charges prepaid, on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 80 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee. When ordering name your nearest Express Office and your Post Office as well.

No. 68. An X-L Revolver.

Highest grade material and workmanship, 32 calibre, centre-fire double action. Sent by express, charges prepaid by us, on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 150 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee. When ordering name your nearest Express Office as well as your Post Office.

No. 70 A Porcelain Clock.
Imported porcelain frame, beautifully decorated. Movement made by New Haven Clock Co., guaranteed by them a good time-keeper, 8 inches high, same width. Sent by express, charges prepaid by us, on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 115 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee. When ordering name your nearest Express Office as well as your Post Office.

This is a picture of the signature on Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee Wrapper, which you are to cut out and send to us as a voucher.

No other part of the Coffee Wrapper will be accepted as a voucher, nor will this Picture be accepted as such.

Arbuckle Bros.

SOME OF OUR SIGNATURES ARE PRINTED ON RED BACKGROUND.

This represents one page of a List which is found in each pound package of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee, and with each package in which the List is found the purchaser has bought a definite part of some article to be selected by him or her from the List, subject only to the condition that the signature on the package is to be cut out and returned to Arbuckle Bros. as a voucher, in accordance with the directions printed in connection with each item illustrated and described in the List. This List will be kept good only till May 31, 1900. Another page of this List will appear in this paper shortly.

Address all communications to ARBUCKLE BROS., NOTION DEPT., NEW YORK CITY, N. Y.

Friday's Daily.

—Fred Huelsenbeck of Avilla was here over night on business.

—Governor Mount yesterday issued his proclamation designating Thursday, November 30, as Thanksgiving day.

—Dr. Buchtel was called over to Spencerville today to see a patient. It was a tough journey, but doctors get used to that sort of thing.

—The postal authorities say all Christmas mail for the Philippines must be in Chicago by Nov. 13. This will doubtless be of interest to those who wish to remember soldier friends.

—State Pension Agent Leighty at Indianapolis this week received a draft from the government for $2,700,000-000 to pay pension claims for the quarter ending tomorrow. That's a big lot of money to put in circulation in the state.

—The President needs in Luzon only an experienced and successful soldier and an officer of high rank combined in one person. This combination he has in Gen. Nelson A. Miles. No one could so promptly and effectually deal with and settle the military problem in the Philippines than the commanding general of the army.

—Few people believed the charge that American soldiers during their campaign in the Philippines looted churches after the fashion of a Paris mob. Those who did take stock in such stories should read the address of the Chaplain of the First California regiment. Coming from a priest who was a soldier and who was on the ground where the alleged outrages were to have occurred, his sweeping denial of the truth ought to dispose of that infamous scandal.

—The present year is witnessing a great destruction of forests in southern Indiana, says an exchange. White oak trees are especially in demand. No attention is given to the young, growing trees, and oftentimes many of them are destroyed by the falling timber. At the present rate of destruction of forest trees, with no attention given to re-foresting, the near future will find many farmers buying timber for their home consumption. Much of the land, denuded, is of no value agriculturally and will now cease to yield an income to its owners.

Saturday's Daily.

—Subscribe for the COURIER.

—W. L. Blair of Butler was in town today.

—Samuel Jones of Butler was here on a business trip yesterday.

—Nevan Pommert is able to be out again after an illness of several days.

—Henry Funk is enjoying a good trade at the south end meat market.

—Mrs. Chas. Bateman is making an extended visit with her people near Sedan.

—Joseph Wilson of Stafford was a caller today and cashed himself into the 1900 list.

—Core Elson and Levi Jackson are two solid COURIER folks who have paid into 1900.

—Mrs. Mary J. Hanes, of Buffalo, N. Y. is visiting the family of William Walsworth and other relatives in Auburn.

—John S. Olinger one of our "Old Hundredth" subscribers went on the 1900 list today and has thanks for the favor.

—Hon. W. F. McNagny, who was here as counsel for the defense in the Albright case, returned to Columbia City this afternoon.

—Mrs. James Griswold and Miss Mollie Wilson went to Butler yesterday to attend a birthday party in honor of the latter's sister Mrs. Stewart.

—The steel joists for the first floor of the power house were placed in position today, and brick laying will be resumed Monday morning if the weather is favorable.

—The supreme court holds that a board of county commissioner is not obliged to pay out of the county treasury any allowance made by a circuit court for fees to an attorney appointed in civil cases

—William Holdeman, ex-treasurer of Elkhart county, who served eighteen months of an indeterminate sentence for embezzling a large amount of money while in office, was paroled this week by the prison board.

—The Noble county council, which was called together by the commissioners to make an appropriation for a county cottage at the state soldiers' home, postponed action until the regular meeting in September, 1900.

—Some schemers at Valparaiso have started a society for small investments and promise to pay patrons a big rate of interest. Agents are now soliciting patrons in Northern Indiana town. They should be given the go by.

—WOOD WANTED:—We will be ready now at any time, for the wood to be delivered on subscription. It would be well to get it here before roads are muddy. As we now have no engine, would prefer wood that can be used in cook stove, at least for most of it.

—An Elkhart county farmer dropped a pocket-book containing $65 dollars in bills in his haymow the other day. On searching for the money the remains of the pocketbook and part of a $1 bill were found in the manger. The farmer's horse had eaten the remainder of the money.

—After an illness of about a week with pneumonia, Mrs. Prudence D. Hartle died at her home south of town about 11:30 this forenoon, aged 76 years, 4 months and 8 days. The funeral services will be held at the house on Monday, November 6, at 1 o'clock p. m; Interment at Evergreen cemetery.

—The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has placed an order with the Pullman Palace Car company for 1,500 box cars, and with the South Baltimore Car works for 1,000 box cars. The cars are to be built according to the Baltimore & Ohio standards. This makes a total of 8,860 box and coal cars ordered for delivery within the next six months.

—Captain Lahnum sent his list of applicants for membership in the new militia company to Adjutant General Gore yesterday. The list includes seventy-five names, and he informs us that he has a number of other names to be held as reserves in case of rejection from the list sent in. Auburn will have a good company of militia under the new law.

—Hayward will have to be rechristened, says the Lagrange Standard, as there is a postoffice in the state with a name so similar that if Hayward postoffice were established confusion of the mail for the two places would result. Consequently the application for a postoffice in the new town has been amended by changing the name to Stroh, in honor of the gentleman who has had charge of the new industry there from its inception.

—North Manchester is now talking sewers and it is probable that a complete system will be put in next year.

Have You Heard Of It?

You may have heard about SCOTT'S EMULSION and have a vague notion that it is cod-liver oil with its bad taste and smell and all its other repulsive features. It is cod-liver oil, the purest and the best in the world, but made so palatable that almost everybody can take it. Nearly all children like it and ask for more.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

looks like cream; it nourishes the wasted body of the baby, child or adult better than cream or any other food in existence. It bears about the same relation to other emulsions that cream does to milk. If you have had any experience with other so-called "just as good" preparations, you will find that this is a fact.

The hypophosphites that are combined with the cod-liver oil give additional value to it because they tone up the nervous system and impart strength to the whole body.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

THE AUBURN COURIER.

Volume XXIX | Auburn, DeKalb County Indiana, Thursday, November 16, 1899. | Number 46.

C. S. SMITH,
Auburn, Ind.
Attorney-at-Law
AND NOTARY PUBLIC.
Office over Bazar Store, formerly occupied by Judge Hartman.

Sprott & Knapp,
Abstracters of Titles to Land and Lots,
AUBURN, IND.
☞Office in Gandy Block, North of Court House.

The McClellan Bank,
AUBURN, IND.
Successor To
The First National Bank,
Capital Stock and Surplus....
$60,000
Certificates of deposits issued, drawing interest if left six months. County and Town Orders bought and sold. Money to Loan.
C. A. O. M CLELLAN, ESTATE
CHARLES McCLELLAN
D. A. GARWOOD,
ISAAC HAGUE.
C. A. BENEDICT, Cashier

BANK Farmers,
Auburn, Ind.
(Incorporated and Under State Control)
Capital Stock and Surplus
$50,000
Transacts a General Banking Business and Pays Interest on Time Deposits.
Albert Robbins, Pres. J. C. Henry, V-res.
A. C. ROBBINS, Cashier.

J.E. Graham, D.D.S.
DENTIST
Over Davenport's Drugstore, Auburn, Ind.
CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK A SPECIALTY.
All Work Guaranteed | Gas Administered.
CENTRAL 'PHONE 513.
Will be at Waterloo each Thursday in Dr. Darby's Office.

Physicians and SURGEONS
D. J. Swarts, M. D
Vesta W. Swarts, M D
Office at Auburn Sanitary Baths, corner Main and Sixth Streets,
Professional Calls Promptly Answered.
'PHONES: Western..... No. 19
Central Union..... No. 19

DENTIST
F. W. HOFFMAN,
Auburn, Ind.
Office in Gandy Building. Northeast Corner of Court Square.
WESTERN 'PHONE 103.
Crown and Bridge Work a Specialty.

F. V. HOFFMAN,
LAWYER,
Auburn, Indiana
OFFICE over Hebel's Grocery.

Dr. Z. H. Stamets,
Physician & Surgeon
Office on Main St., opposite Swineford Hotel.
Western 'Phone 104
Special attention given to techinal examinations and treatment of chronic and obscure cases, also special attention given to surgery and diseases of women. Calls answered at all hours. Office apart from residence.

I. O. BUCHTEL, HOMEOPATHIC
Physician and Surgeon.
Special attention given to hronic and Obscure cases and catarrhal diseases of the nose, throat and lungs; also, to diseases peculiar to women and children.
Office and residence over Madden Bros Marble Works, Auburn, Ind. Office apart from residence and private. All calls attended to promptly, day or night.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given that I, Andrew J. Shutt administrator with the will annexed of the estate of John Shutt, deceased, will offer for sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, on

Saturday, December 16, 1899,

at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the door of the court house in Auburn, DeKalb county, Indiana, the following described real estate, belonging to the estate of said decedent, to-wit:

The south two-thirds part of the east one-fourth of section number thirty four, (34) in township number thirty-three (33) north of range fourteen (14) east, in DeKalb county, in the state of Indiana, otherwise described as the south two-thirds part of the east half of the northeast quarter and the east half of the southeast quarter of said section, considered as one tract.

Said real estate will be sold subject to the rights of possession and use of the same by William H. Davis until the first day of April, 1904, as shown by the written contract between said Davis and the decedent, which contract is recorded in the proper record in the recorder's office of DeKalb county, Indiana.

TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, one-third in twelve months and one-third in eighteen months; deferred payments to be evidenced by interest-bearing notes waiving relief and secured by mortgage upon the premises sold.

ANDREW J. SHUTT,
Administrator with the Will Annexed.
John W. Baxter and Chas. M. Brown, Atty.,

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

John Bishop uses a Razor With Probably Fatal Effect.

Tuesday night G. A. and E. M. Bishop were called by telephone from Hicksville with the announcement that their brother John had attempted suicide at that place by cutting his throat with a razor, and they took the first train for that place. From Ralph Thomas, who was at Hicksville when the sad affair occurred and saw Mr. Bishop just before and after the act, we learn all the particulars obtainable at this time.

Mr. Bishop whose home is at Plainwell, Mich., where he recently retired from business, has been visiting relatives in this county. Yesterday in company with Mort Old, editor of the St. Joe News, he went to Hicksville, wher they spent the afternoon looking after business matters and calling on friends. Shortly after supper Mr. Bishop, who up to this time had shown no signs of anything wrong, left his companion and walked down the street, in a short time afterward he was found lying across a box alongside a store building, where in the darkness he had been passed by a number of people, among them Mr. Thomas, who did not discover his true condition. A peculiar noise and the struggles of the unfortunate man attracted the attention of a passer-by, and when others were called to the scene it was found that he had cut his throat in a horrible manner, almost severing the windpipe. The wound was made with a new razor, purchased by him at Hicksville yesterday.

It was at once evident that the wound was serious if not fatal, and as soon as Mr. Bishop could be given proper surgical attention word was sent to his relatives. Everything possible was done for his relief, but it was seen from the first that the chances were strongly against his recovery.

The only cause that can be assigned for the attempt at self destruction is that he was temporarily insane, rendered so by continued ill-health which had necessitated his retirement from business. This theory seems borne out by the fact that he was in his usual spirits up to within a few moments of the time the act was committed. His relatives, while noticing his despondency and nervousness, had no idea or thought that it would lead him to try to end his own life.

Since the above was put in type G. A. and E. M. Bishop have returned from Hicksville, and from the latter we learn that their brother has been removed to St. Joe and that there is a strong hope for his recovery.

State Board of Agriculture.

The COURIER believes it now time to give the practical farmer a position on the State Board of Agriculture, and in saying this we have no unkind word or thought for the present member for this, the Sixteenth district, Hon. J. E. McDonald. As far as we know, he has done well and been a valuable member. But surely, in the "fitness of things," a position purely agricultural should go to a practical agriculturist. We suggest Hon. Cal. Husselman as the fittest man in the district. He is a practical farmer, and a successful and intelligent one. He has been for many years prominent as a lecturer at farmers' institutes and in similar work, and in that way has been well received all over the state. Of course the people of the district, strangely enough, have no voice in the matter, a matter that concerns them more than it does anyone else. The election of this office is with the delegates to the state board meeting, and these delegates are chosen by, or are officers of the various fair associations. And in this Sixteenth district there are but two fairs, the one at Angola and that at Kendallville. So it will be seen that this officer will be selected by the votes of outsiders. This should be another reason why Mr. Husselman would be a suitable man, as he is, as said before, widely known among agricultural men all over the state.

Gramling-Shaffer.

At the home of the bride's mother one and one-half miles south of Auburn, October 18, by Rev. Farley of Penora, Iowa, brother-in-law of the groom, officiating, Oliver M. Gramling and Helen I. Shaffer were united in marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas of Angola, several from near Summit, of the groom's relatives, Miss Zetta Ditmars from near Wooster, Ohio, and a number of the bride's relatives and friends near Auburn were present. Mr. and Mrs. Gramling received many useful and valuable presents. One we will mention was a beautiful gold-lined silver cake basket, presented by the groom's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Gramling of eastern Pennsylvania. Altogether it was a very pleasant wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Gramling will remain with her mother during the winter.

ANY OLD SORE,

Cut, Bruises, or Sprain quickly healed with Banner Salve the greatest healing remedy in the world. 25 cents —H. B. McCORD.

"Whatever may be said to the contrary, good clothes increase the world's respect for him who wears them."

OVERCOATS

IF you have ever worn an H. S. & M. overcoat you do not have to be told they are the finest overcoats money can buy.

HART, SCHAFFNER & MARX

overcoats are stylish and durable, elegant in goods and making, richly lined and finished and full of satisfaction. The prices are reasonable.

HART, SCHAFFNER & MARX

H.S.&M.

TAILOR-MADE CLOTHES.

There's a heap of satisfaction in buying an article which proves to be all that you could wish it. There's a heap of satisfaction in selling such an article—and right here is where we come onto the stage. It's selling you just such merchandise that has built up the fine trade we are enjoying It's our carefullness in buying such merchandise that makes our store.....

An Ideal Store In Which to Trade

If you haven't been doing your trading with us, we kindly invite you to give us a trial. Our stock is in fine condition. The most complete stock of Dry Goods, Clothing, Ladies' Suits and Wraps, and Carpets in this section of the state. Our prices are most reasonable. We wish to see you often.

We Are Saving You Money.

SCHAAB & BRO.
Auburn, Indiana.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

Washington. D C:—The Department of Labor has recently issued a bulletin, (Number 24), edited by Commissioner Carroll D. Wright, in which statistics are given of police arrests in all our cities of 30,000 and upwards. The statistics for the most part are for the police year 1898,

There are 140 cities in the country having the required population, and the record of which is given in the compilation.

According to the figures there were 294,820 people arrested for drunkenness in these cities alone—almost ten times as many men as now comprise our army in the Philippines.

This crop of drunkards, from these 140 cities alone, would make five armies each as large as the combined British and Boer forces in South Africa.

Tell me not that this must be:
God's true priest is always free;
Free, the needed truth to speak,
Right the wronged and raise the weak.

LIVE WIRE KILLS FOUR FIREMEN

The above headline appeared in the Chicago Record of recent date in relation to a fire in Omaha. The "live" saloons catch in their "coils" thousands of promising young men every day in the year, but no flaming headlines do we see in any of our great papers setting forth this fact, and taking the lead in a warfare against the diabolic traffic.

* * *

Many a man withholds solids from his family when he can stand drinks for his friends.

Nothing is impossible that is right. Nothing that is right is impracticable. —C. N. HOWARD.

GOD'S LAW OUGHT TO SETTLE IT.

All this discussion of diminishing the number of saloons, or getting an increased revenue from the traffic, is a waste of time. The excise laws for the legalization of the liquor traffic in New York and Ohio all come under the condemnation of God's law, no matter what the figures show. If in either or both states the saloons had been reduced one-half, and the revenue obtained, in each state run up to fifty million dollars a year, the same fact stares us in the face, viz., that all such laws are sinful; and God has pronounced against the people or nation that upholds so great iniquity.

—Subscribe for the COURIER.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the most severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle, many years by all druggists in the world. Sample bottles at O. P. RABER'S, Corunna.

A Word to Doctors

We have the highest regard for the medical profession. Our preparations are not sold for the purpose of antagonizing them, but rather as an aid. We lay it down as an established truth that internal remedies are positively injurious to expectant mothers. The distress and discomforts experienced during the months preceding childbirth can be alleviated only by external treatment—by applying a liniment that softens and relaxes the over-strained muscles. We make and sell such a liniment, combining the ingredients in a manner hitherto unknown, and call it

Mother's Friend

We know that in thousands of cases it has proved more than a blessing to expectant mothers. It overcomes morning sickness. It relieves the sense of tightness. Headaches cease, and danger from Swollen, Hard and Rising Breasts is avoided. Labor itself is shortened and shorn of most of the pain.

We know that many doctors recommend it, and we know that multitudes of women go to the drug stores and buy it because they are sure their physicians have no objections. We ask a trial—just a fair test. There is no possible chance of injury being the result, because Mother's Friend is scientifically compounded. It is sold at $1 a bottle, and should be used during most of the period of gestation, although great relief is experienced if used only a short time before childbirth. Send for our illustrated book about Mother's Friend.

THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.
ATLANTA, GA.

COURT NEWS.

How a Few Differences Were Adjusted Last Week.

The case of the State vs David Heckathorn, for assault with intent to kill, has been continued until the next term of court, the defendant giving a bond of $500 for his appearance with John Heckathorn as surety.

It being shown to the court that Maude Porter, under indictment for prostitution, was dead, the case against her was ordered off the docket.

The case of the State vs John Lamphere and Pluma Harvey, charged with fornication, was called up again yesterday. The defendants having no money to employ counsel the court appointed F. L. Weishetmer to defend them. Trial jury was waived, and after hearing the evidence, which tore out the statements regarding the case heretofore made, Judge Hartman found that the defendants were guilty. In view of the fact that the couple had been married, and upon their promise to obey the law in the future, the court fined Lamphere $1 and ten days in jail and his wife $1 and one day. The woman was released after an hour's confinement, but unless Lamphere finds some way to settle his fine and costs he will board with Sheriff Hathaway for about fifty days.

A settlement was reached in the case of Michael Belger vs John H. Baas, receiver of the Fort Wayne Consolidated street railway company, for damages, and it was dismissed at defendant's costs.

Election Echoes.

Both parties are still claiming Kentucky, and the people are greatly excited in some quarters. It appears that as the back counties are reported some go heavily one way and some the other. This keeps the people excited and each side offers to fight if the other side does not do what is right. The official count is to be made today, and it is hoped that will end the trouble one way or the other.

The Nebraska fusion majority keeps growing. Yesterday it was reported at 12,000, but we said it was liable to reach 15,000. Todays reports show it to be 14,000.

—A big surprise has been found in the returns in Ohio. Although the republican candidate for governor Judge Nash has over 50,000 plurality, it now appears that his candidate for lieutenant governor has not over 5,000, and democrats are claiming he is defeated. It appears that the anti-saloon league worked against him over the state. It seems almost impossibe, that on an office like that in a state so large, and with such a large republican plurality, that he could beaten. Still, the governor's large plurality may have come from the way the independent vote went for Jones, the Toledo mayor. More democrats may have left McLean and voted for Jones, than there were of republicans who left their man and voted for Jones. This would make Nash's plurality greater than that of lieutenant governor. But this would not account for all the difference, as the rest of the republican ticket got good pluralities.

OBITUARY.

John S. Baker was born in Adams county, Pennsylvania, on the 22nd day of Feb. 1823, and departed this life after a short illness, last Monday, Nov. 6, 1899, aged 76 years, 8 months and 13 days. In the year 1862 he moved to DeKalb county near Spencerville, Ind., on a farm where he lived for a number of years. The last few years of his life he spent in Auburn with his son Alva, who lives on south Cedar street, except the last year, which he spent with his oldest son near Newville, Ind. Mr. Baker leaves to mourn his death four sons and two daughters. The funeral service was conducted from the home of Alva Baker on Cedar street yesterday at 2 p. m. Interment took place in Woodlawn cemetery, J. D. Broay officiating.

Like William Riley.

The pathetic story of William Riley that was sung at thousands of firesides for the first twenty years after the war of 1812, may be repeated in the case of William R. Griffin of Connecticut. He was a soldier in the Spanish war and on muster out married a girl, Kitty White, at Winsted, that state. Later he enlisted in the 35th U. S. infantry, but deserted at San Francisco, to rejoin his bride. He has been arrested, and may be shot.

Attention Farmers.

The Auburn Handle Factory will pay the highest cash price for ash handle block delivered at their factory on the Lake Shore tracks, cut 58 inches long. Also want ash logs cut 9½, 14½ and 19½ feet long. All timber to be smooth and sound. Will also take basswood cut 4 feet long and 8 inches in diameter and up, left round with bark on. Will pay $3 per cord.—J. M. CHERRY & CO.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE
Makes the food more delicious and wholesome
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Our Saturday Evenings.

CHAPTER II.

Some things are hard to explain unless we get hold of the man who knows. It will be remembered that in driving down the piling in the new power house the workmen had gone down far enough as they supposed, and then they sawed off the piles to a level, about thirty in all, and were ready to fix on the temporary floor. It was then discovered by someone, that the cellar was not deep enough to fill the contract. Here arose the question, What was the cause of trouble? An investigation was had, and it was found that some one had cut a piece off of the ten-foot pole used by the boss. Now the question is narrowed down to "Who cut off that pole?" This is respectfully referred to the committee that for fifty years has been investgating the question, "Who struck Billy Patterson?" We also might ask our high school pupils, how much must have been cut off of a ten-foot pole, to make a difference of eight inches in the depth of the cellar? It was just eight inches more than had to be cut off those piles.

The power house business reminds us, that soon after the stone work was done the new boiler was let down into the basement, and the forward end being the lowest, almost or quite, touched the water. Those who are familiar with boilers, will know that there are holes in them, into which are to be inserted the necessary tubes and other fixtures. This one had a hole at one end, and as J. J. VanAuken was looking down there a week ago today, an elderly man came along, looked at it, and asked what they had that water in the power house for. Jay asked him if he did not see that hole in the boiler. He said he did. "Well," said Jay, "that is to let the water into the boiler and save that much waste of power in pumping it in." "Well," said the old gentleman, "that is handy," and he walked off in apparent admiration of the great improvements we are likely to enjoy.

Speaking of Dewey, he is as famous over all the world as Napoleon was in 1804, or Wellington in 1815, or as Washington or Grant or Sherman or Farragut. And we wonder, Will his fame last? No doubt it will. But other men have been famous in their day, though perhaps not in quite such a marked degree or in such a way as to insure permanence.

Speaking of this recalls some names famous in their day.

W. P. Mangum was in congress, house or senate, from North Corolina, over thirty years, and was famous in the councils of the nation as a leading whig and a slave owner bitterly opposed to slavery. In 1836 he received 11 electoral votes for president.

There was John M. Berrien, after whom Berrien county and Berrien Springs, Mich., were named. He was senator from Georgia twenty years and attorney-general under Andrew Jackson.

Who recalls John Bell, an eminent southern man who carried three states Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky, as a candidate for president in 1860? He got 39 electoral votes on what was called the union ticket.

There was William H. Crawford, who received a part of the electoral votes in 1824, when John Quincy Adams was elected. The votes of the states were scattered between three, Adams, Crawford and Clay. The House of Representatives had to decide it.

James G. Birney was the free soil candidate for president in 1840 and 1844. In the latter year, he defeated Clay and caused the election of Polk, by getting a number of Clay's votes.

Who remembers these once noted men now, or how many could off hand state any of these facts, facts which made them powerful factors in their day? There are thousands of such cases. Such is fame.

Less Promptly Paid.

AUBURN, Ind., Nov. 10, 1899.

To My Friends and Neighbors:—The Prudential Insurance Company have this day paid me $117, insured by their policy upon the life of my wife. The amount due was paid in full very promptly and without putting me to any trouble.

I reccommend the Prudential to all persons needing life insurance.—Respectfully, GREENVILLE C. LAHNUM.

The Appetite of a Goat

Is envied by all poor dyspeptics whose Stomach and Liver are out of order. All such should know that Dr. King's New Life Pills, the wonderful Stomach and Liver Remedy, gives a splendid appetite, sound digestion and a regular bodily habit that insures perfect health and great energy. Only 25 cents at any drugstore.

Letter From Cuba.

Mrs. R. W. Gulford has received a letter from her brother, S. A. Ankney, now a member of Company G, Eighth United States infantry doing service in Cuba, which we are permitted to copy for the COURIER:

COLUMBUS BARRACKS,
QUEMADOR, CUBA, Oct. 24, 1899.

DEAR SISTER:—You may think I have forgotten you, but I have not and will take this opportunity of letting you know that although I have that tired feeling you hear so much about I am still able to write a letter occasionally. We are located in a fine place now; we are in barracks and have good spring bunks to sleep on, with pillows, sheets and pillow cases. The scenery here is beautiful. We can see a mountain that is twenty miles away and another that is thirty five miles, and we are two miles from the Gulf of Mexico. We get all of the fine sea breezes going, and I like it better every day. Oranges, pineapples, lemons, limes and all the tropical fruits are just ripening. We can get all the oranges we can eat for a nickel, but have to pay five cents apiece for American apples and not very big ones at that.

We do not have to drill this morning as we had a little shower. We had a fine sham battle last week; it was the second battalion of the Eighth infantry and one battery of artillery against the first battalion of the Eighth infantry, the Seventh cavalry and one battery of artillery, and was grand. It sounded like the real thing. We were in an old Spanish intrenchment and peppering away at one another with blank cartridges.

Well I am on the sick report and tried to get off this morning, but could not make it. Saturday I had fever and my temperature reached 105. They fed me quinine, castor oil and everything else, and as a result the fever has left me and I feel all right. I did not answer sick call this morning, but the doctor marked me "quarters" anyway.

About next month we will be making practice marches, and then I will have someting to write about. I see you folks had quite an explosion up there. I could hardly believe it when I read it. I expect you folks are having some cold weather already. It is cool and nice here nights. We sleep under heavy woolen blankets, and then sometimes I get cold before morning. You ought to take a ride on one of the Cuban railroads. When a person is in the coach he would think he was going fifty miles an hour, but the train makes about ten miles. Well I will close for this time, hoping to hear from you all soon.

Your brother
S. A. ANKNEY.

ASK YOUR DOCTOR!

Ask your physician this question, "What is the one great remedy for consumption?" He will answer, "Cod-liver oil." Nine out of ten will answer the same way.

Yet when persons have consumption they loathe all fatty foods, yet fat is necessary for their recovery and they cannot take plain cod-liver oil. The plain oil disturbs the stomach and takes away the appetite. The disagreeable fishy odor and taste make it almost unendurable. What is to be done? This question was answered when we first made of Cod-Liver Oil with Hypophosphites. Although that was nearly twenty-five years ago, yet it stands alone today the one great remedy for all affections of the throat and lungs.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

The bad taste and odor have been taken away, the oil itself has been partly digested, and the most sensitive stomach objects to it rarely. Not one in ten can take and digest the plain oil. Nine out of ten can take SCOTT'S EMULSION and digest it. That's why it cures so many cases of early consumption. Even in advanced cases it brings comfort and greatly prolongs life.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, INDIANA.

JAMES A. BARNS, - - PUBLISHER.

1899. NOVEMBER. 1899.

Su	Mo	Tu	We	Th	Fr	Sa
			1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12	13	14	15	16	17	18
19	20	21	22	23	24	25
26	27	28	29	30

N. M. 3rd. F. Q. 10th. F. M. 17th. L. Q. 25th.

NEWS IN BRIEF GUSTS

BLOWN IN FROM ALL PARTS OF THE EARTH.

An Important Record of the Week As Told by the Telegraph—Latest from Foreign Shores—Crimes, Casualties, Fires, Etc.

A Very Bad Wreck.

Michigan Central passenger train No. 3 from Toledo to Detroit, was ditched by the spreading of rails between Alexis and Vienna, Mich.

Three were fatally injured, ten seriously and fifteen or twenty bruised and shaken up, some of them receiving slight wounds.

The accident was the result of a deliberate piece of work by unknown train wreckers, and happened at a point just beyond a short trestle. Two freight trains had passed over the road in safety a short time before. Where the rails were spread it was found that the bolts that held the fish-plates had been unscrewed. The nuts were lying on the ties and the threads of the bolts were not marred in any way. A couple of big wrenches, such as section hands use, were found lying beside the track, indicating how the rails had been loosened.

Captured by Cannibals.

Capt. Littlehales, of the British steamship Kurdistan, which has arrived at Philadelphia from the west coast of south America, brings information regarding the probable fate of the missing French steamship Madeline, which sailed from Valparaiso last August for Havre, and disappeared completely. From information gathered at the Kurdistan's stopping points, there appears to be little doubt that the Madeline was wrecked near the Pacific side of the entrance to the Straits of Magellan, and that her crew was captured by the Patagonia cannibals.

Chief Engineer Killed.

Clarence A. Carpenter, assistant chief engineer of the Lake Shore Road, died at the Cleveland, Ohio, general hospital as a result of being struck by a fast passenger train at Saybrook. An east-bound Lake Shore train on which Mr. Carpenter was traveling stopped near Saybrook, owing to some trouble with the engine. He stepped on the west-bound track and failed to notice the approach of a passenger train running forty miles an hour. He was struck and thrown high into the air.

Was Found Dead.

Pittsburgh special: The body of Dallas C. Irish, one of Pittsburgh's wealthiest men, was found dead on an unfrequented part of Coleman's Lane, not far from his residence, in the east end. Foul play was at first suspected, but the physicians believe death was due to apoplexy. Col. Irish was a descendant of Capt. Nathaniel Irish, of revolutionary fame, and was the exclusive owner of one of the most valuable estates in Pennsylvania.

Swords for Wheeler and Lee.

The fame earned in the Spanish War by Major Generals Joseph Wheeler and Fitzhugh Lee of the United States volunteer army, will not be ignored if a number of women of Chicago are successful in an undertaking they have started. They propose to present each General with a sword costing $5,000, and will also petition Congress to make the two Major Generals of the regular army as a recompense for their services during the war.

Playing Burning at the Stake.

Charles Becker and Allie Chudynski seized John Schindler, a fellow employe in a rolling mill, at Chicago, and after they had bound him with a rope and set the rope afire, they left him. His screams recalled them and they found Schindler probably fatally burned. They are both locked up. They said they were only playing burning at the stake.

Two Killed; One Injured.

A trolley car was struck by a milk train on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, near Homer, N. Y. Frank Newton and Margaret Kennedy, passengers on the trolley car, were killed, and Motorman Criston was seriously injured. It is claimed the proper signals were given by the train.

Mine Caves In.

A special from Minominee, Mich., says: In a mine cave at Amasa, a short distance from here, Frank Brown was instantly killed. Edward P. Hughes, Charles Erickson and Abe Gill received severe, but it is not believed, fatal injuries.

A Negro Hanged.

Frank Broadenax, negro terror of the McDowell Company mining camp, was hanged at Moundsville, W. Va., for the murder of a negro boy named McFadden, last January.

Twenty Passengers Injured.

A Clover Leaf passenger and freight collided near Kokomo, Ind., damaging both trains and wounding nearly twenty people.

Masonic Temple, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Nov. 21—"The Christian."
Nov. 24—Hermann the Great.
Nov. 25—"A Colonial Girl."

Holland Boat a Success.

The submarine torpedo boat Holland was successfully tested in Peconic Bay, Long Island. The inventor was congratulated by the Board of Inspectors on his success. He had waited twenty-five years for victory, and tears streamed down his cheeks when the naval officers greeted him.

Killed by a Policeman.

Gen. Brooke, at Havana, has reported to the Adjutant General the death of Private Thomas S. Smith of Company A, Fifteenth Infantry, who was killed by a policeman on the 5th inst. while resisting arrest.

F. V. Vrooman Wins His Fight.

Frank B. Vrooman, president of the Klondike, Yukon and Copper River Mining Company, is vindicated in the report of the directors of the corporation published in Chicago of the charges made against his management by H. M. Wallace in a bill asking for a receiver.

Robbers Secure $3,000.

Burglars entered the De Kalb, Ill., postoffice, blew open the safe and vault with dynamite and secured booty to the amount of about $3,000, chiefly in postage stamps. The night watchman did not discover the robbery until about two hours afterward.

FILIPINOS LOSE SIXTY.

Forty-nine Killed in One Fight, Eleven in Another.

Two columns of Gen. MacArthur's division Sunday took Magalang, six miles northeast of Angeles. Col. Smith, with two battalions of the Seventeenth infantry, two guns of the First artillery and a body of engineers, advanced from Angeles. Maj. O'Brien, with a battalion of the Seventeenth infantry and two troops of the Fourth cavalry moved from Calumet. Col. Smith killed eleven insurgents, wounded 128 and captured fifty. Maj. O'Brien killed forty-nine insurgents, wounded many and took twenty-eight prisoners. The Americans had eleven men wounded.

Magalang, the town taken, is a strong town, situated midway between Angeles and Arayat. The movement is a part of a plan for the Americans to possess all the country to the southeast of Tarlac as the troops close in on the capital, cutting the line of the enemy's retreat in that direction.

The insurgent force is estimated at 1,000. Col. Smith first encountered a small force entrenched a quarter of a mile beyond Angeles, which soon retreated, leaving two of their number dead. The enemy made a short stand at the outskirts of Barrios and San Francisco, briskly shooting at the advancing Americans. Capt. Brush deployed with the advance guard of the battalion and charged the Filipinos, who took to flight. Seven Americans were wounded. The Americans almost surrounded the insurgents, who resisted stubbornly. A special from Washington says that with forces aggregating more than 30,000 fighting men Gens. Lawton, MacArthur and Wheaton are now closing in on Aguinaldo's army.

GUARD OUR TRADE IN CHINA.

Washington Authorities Are Extending American Interests.

The great interest manifested by the United States in the encroachments of European nations in Chinese territory has culminated in the formation of a definite policy by this Government looking to the continuation of the valuable trade advantages held by America in China. It appears to have been determined finally that no effort to participate in the partition of China shall be made, but there will be no receding from the intention to make European Governments respect the interests of the United States in their attempt to divide up the empire. The trade advantages possessed by this country are secured by treaty with China, and the Government is prepared to resent any interference with conditions over there that will make these advantages less valuable.

While the Washington officials decline to give any details of recent exchanges between the State Department and European governments on the subject, they admit frankly that an earnest endeavor to retain American influence in China is being made, and will not deny reports that Germany, France and Russia have been told that they must not let their partition plans interfere with a continuance of American trade.

DECLARES FLAG LAW VOID.

Judge Gibbons Says the Illinois Act Is Not Constitutional.

The Illinois flag law, which has provoked litigation since its passage and led to numerous arrests, was declared unconstitutional by Judge Gibbons of Chicago in a lengthy opinion. In unmistakable terms the jurist declares that the informer's fee clause in the flag act is against the spirit of American law, as tending to provoke strife and ill will between man and man.

The decision turns on this point, the court holding that the power granted by the constitution to the Governor of the State to pardon offenders and remit fines and penalties is in conflict with the statute which guarantees to the informer a share of the fine.

CURRENT COMMENT

The town of Ladysmith is named after the wife of Sir Harry Smith, at one time Governor of Cape Colony. Sir Harry Smith, while a young officer in the army, served in Spain during the Peninsular war. On one occasion, when a detachment of troops, commanded by Sir Harry, had captured and were occupying a Spanish town, he was appealed to for protection by two beautiful young Spanish girls of noble birth. Protection was, of course, given them, and shortly the commanding officer found himself deeply in love with one of his charges. She afterwards became his wife, and it is for her that the South African town is named.

-:-:-

In 1857 the coinage of the big copper pennies which everybody has seen, was suspended. Up to that time they had been coined regularly for sixty-five years. In all 156,000,000 of the big awkward coins had been put into circulation. Not more than one-fourth of that number have ever been paid back to the Government or exchanged for other coin. They are not now in general use; they have no value as curiosities; they have not been sent abroad. What has become of them? To the number of 118,000,000 they are still outstanding, though not one has been coined for forty-two years.

-:-:-

The present estimates of the total population of the world vary from 1,000,000,000 to 2,000,000,000, and the Royal Geographical Society of England thinks it is high time that the people are counted. It believes a count, or at least an accurate estimate, possible even in savage and uncivilized countries, Russia having completed a successful census in Siberia and England one in India. It proposes the formation of an international organization to take in charge the work of a world census.

-:-:-

In the medical corps of the British army there are between seventy and eighty regular trained woman nurses. They wear a uniform of gray serge, with a little red shoulder cape and a severely plain white cap. This uniform is worn on war duty as well as at home, the idea being to make the hospitals as familiar and homelike as possible. The pay of the nurses begins at $150 a year and rises to $250, everything, including food, lodging and clothing, being provided in addition.

-:-:-

People, who yet hardly have recovered from the shock of the recent daring train robbery on the Chicago and Northwestern road, may be astonished to learn that each year since 1890 more than twenty trains have been held up and robbed within the limits of the United States. In round numbers there have been within the last ten years 230 train holdups in this country, with more than eighty people killed outright and nearly as many wounded as a result.

-:-:-

In the last six months more freight cars have been ordered than ever before in the same length of time. The total number of orders placed is 88,088. If these cars were placed end to end they would cover 567 miles of track. The estimated cost of building them is $65,000,000.

RESULTS OF ELECTIONS

	Estimated Plurality.
Ohio goes Republican	50,000
Kentucky stays Republican	7,000
Iowa re-elects Shaw	60,000
Democrats regain Maryland	15,000
Massachusetts firmly Republican	62,000
Virginia sturdily Democratic	50,000
Nebraska upholds Bryan	15,000
New York State Republican (City Democratic 45,000)	75,000
Pennsylvania is Republican	126,000
South Dakota Republican	10,000
New Jersey remains Republican	15,000
Mississippi strongly Democratic	30,000

TOTAL ESTIMATED VOTE POLLED IN THE SEVERAL STATES.

	Rep.	Dem.
*Ohio	325,000	275,000
Iowa	217,500	157,500
Maryland	105,000	120,000
Massachusetts	164,000	102,000
*Estimated vote Jones, Ind		100,000

	Rep.	Dem.
†Nebraska	97,500	112,500
New York	587,500	512,500
Pennsylvania	463,000	337,000
New Jersey	150,000	135,000

†Democratic vote is Fusion.

	Rep.	Dem.
Kentucky	178,500	171,500
South Dakota	25,000	25,000
Virginia	10,000	60,000
Mississippi	10,000	40,000

Democratic vote is Fusion.

GOVERNOR-ELECT NASH, OHIO.

GOV.-ELECT SMITH, Maryland. GOV.-ELECT LONGINO, Mississippi. GOV.-ELECT CRANE, Massachusetts. GOV.-ELECT TAYLOR, Kentucky.

GOVERNOR-ELECT SHAW, IOWA.

THE BATTLE IN BRIEF.

Incomplete Returns from Twelve States Holding Elections Tuesday.

Elections were held in twelve States Tuesday. Ohio, Iowa, Kentucky, Mississippi, Maryland and Massachusetts elected a Governor and other State officers; Nebraska a judge of the Supreme Court and two regents of the State University; Pennsylvania a treasurer and judges of the Supreme and of the Superior courts; South Dakota three justices of the Supreme Court, and New York, New Jersey and Virginia a Legislature. There were five tickets in Ohio, five in Iowa, six in Kentucky, two in Mississippi, three in Nebraska, two in South Dakota, three in Maryland, five in Pennsylvania and five in Massachusetts. In Kansas and Colorado county officers were elected, and municipal elections were held in San Francisco, Salt Lake, New Orleans and Detroit. And in addition to a sheriff and some judicial officers in Greater New York mayoralty elections were held in some of the other cities in New York.

The returns from the battle of the ballots in the various States up to a late hour Tuesday night indicated that in Ohio Nash (Rep.) had been elected Governor by a substantial plurality. Jones (Ind.) received a large vote in the cities.

In Nebraska Holcomb, the fusion candidate for Supreme Court judge, defeated Reese, his Republican opponent, by a large plurality.

Democrats made a clean sweep in Maryland, carrying the State by 15,000 and electing a majority in the Assembly and State Senate.

Kentucky is claimed by both Republicans and Democrats, with the chances favoring the election of Taylor, the Republican candidate. The vote is very close and may require the official count to decide it.

Republicans win in Iowa by a plurality ranging from 50,000 to 60,000.

Greater New York goes Democratic by 45,000. Republicans gained several Assemblymen in the upper part of the State. Mazet is defeated for the Legislature.

Democrats re-elect Mayor Maybury in Detroit. James D. Phelan, Democrat, is elected Mayor of San Francisco.

Virginia and Mississippi went Democratic by increased majorities, while Massachusetts, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and South Dakota remain in the Republican column.

Nebraska.

Returns from many districts had not been received at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning, but enough were in to show that the fusionists won by majorities ranging between 12,000 and 15,000. This is a decided increase over the vote of two years ago. The total vote of the State is close to 220,000. This is 2,000 votes more than were cast for McKinley and Bryan. Both sides made a hard fight and got out all the voters. It is conceded in a large measure to be something of a personal victory for Bryan, though the fusionists assert in addition that it is a test of the popularity of imperialism in the West. No other issue was discussed during the campaign. Each side is willing to concede that the fight was made on war issues mostly, but the personal energy of Bryan had a great deal to do with the result.

Massachusetts.

While the Massachusetts Republicans elected their State ticket by a large plurality to all intents and purposes it was an anti-expansion victory. The Republican vote fell off approximately 30,000, while the Democratic vote was within a few hundred of last year. The Democratic campaign was conducted on anti-expansion and the big vote in an off year was due thereto. This is the first time since 1895 that Boston has been carried by the Democrats on a State election.

Pennsylvania.

All the returns Wednesday morning indicated a decisive Republican victory, with decreased majorities. Barnett's majority for State Treasurer will reach 100,000, about 75,000 less than that given three years ago when State Treasurer Beacom was elected. The vote was light all over the State and returns slow in coming in. The vote in Philadelphia was smaller than it has been in years. The Republican majority is estimated at 40,000 as compared with over 70,000 at the last mayoralty campaign.

Kansas.

The reports from Kansas show Republican gains throughout the State. The votes cast were for county officers. The Republicans have elected six of the ten judges and the two State Senators to fill vacancies, John T. Chaney of Shawnee County and C. C. McCarthy of Jefferson. Neither had any opposition.

New Jersey.

This was an off year in New Jersey and a light vote was cast throughout the State. The indications are that the Republicans have carried the State by a majority of about 15,000 on the Assembly ticket and that the Democrats have gained one and possibly two Senator

Ohio—Elected full State ticket. Republican, Democratic, Prohibition and Union Reform candidates were in the field. Samuel M. Jones ran as non-partisan candidate for Governor. Kinney, Republican, carried the State in 1898 for Secretary of State by 61,139 plurality.

Kentucky—Elected full State ticket. Republican, Democratic, Honest-Election Democrat, Populist, Prohibition and Socialist Labor tickets were in the field. Shackelford, Democrat, carried the State in 1897 for clerk of the Court of Appeals by 17,804 plurality.

Iowa—Elected Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Judge of the Supreme Court, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Railroad Commissioner and members of the Legislature. Republican, Democratic, Prohibition, Middle-of-the-Road Populist and United Christian candidates were in the field. Gov. Shaw, Republican, carried the State in 1897 by 29,987.

Maryland—Elected Governor, Comptroller and Attorney General. Republican, Democratic, Prohibition and Union Reform candidates were in the field. Goldsborough, Republican, was elected Comptroller in 1897 by 7,109 plurality.

Massachusetts—Elected State ticket. Republican and Democratic candidates were in the field. Gov. Wolcott, Republican, was elected in 1898 by 83,186 plurality.

Virginia—Elected members of the lower house of the Legislature and half the Senators, but no State officers. Gov. Tyler, Democrat, carried the State in 1897 by 52,815 plurality.

Nebraska—Elected judge of the Supreme Court and regents of the State University. Republican, Fused and Prohibition candidates were in the field. Gov. Poynter, Fusion, carried the State in 1898 by 2,721 plurality.

New York—Elected members of the State Assembly and one Congressman, but no State officers. Gov. Roosevelt, Republican, carried the State in 1898 by 17,786.

Pennsylvania—State Treasurer and two justices of the Supreme Court were elected. Republican, Democratic, Prohibition and People's candidates were in the field. Gov. Stone, Republican, carried the State in 1898 by 117,906 plurality.

South Dakota—Elected justices of the Supreme Court. Republican and Fusion candidates were in the field. Gov. Lee, Fusion, carried the State in 1898 by 370 plurality.

New Jersey—Elected members of the Legislature, but no State officers. Gov. Voorhees, Republican, carried the State in 1898 by 5,499 plurality.

Mississippi—Elected a full State ticket. Democratic and Populist tickets were in the field. Bryan carried the State in 1896 by 58,729 plurality, which includes the Populist vote for Bryan and Watson of 7,517.

OHIO.

Chairman Dick early Wednesday morning issued the following statement: "The returns from Hamilton, Cuyahoga and Lucas counties are yet too meager to give definite figures. Enough has been received, however, to indicate the election of Judge Nash by an increase over the plurality of Gov. Bushnell. Thus the election of the entire State ticket and both branches of the Legislature is assured." The complexion of the General Assembly will not be materially changed. The election of the fourteen members of the Democratic-fusion legislative ticket in Hamilton County is conceded by the Republican committee. To offset this they claim the election of four Representatives in Franklin, two in Lucas and one each in Hocking, Vinton, Knox, Adams and Pike. The Senate is claimed for the Republicans. It was known that Mayor Sam Jones of Toledo would cut considerable figure, but it was hard to figure out just how much or into whose preserves he would cut the most. In addition there was a factional quarrel between Republicans and Democrats in nearly every bailiwick. With all the flopping around no one could figure out to whom the balance would be credited when the clearance was made. Judge Nash, Republican, came out on the top. Jones swept everything in Cuyahoga County. Cleveland did more for him than his home town of Toledo, which went for Nash.

Kentucky.

Senator Blackburn Wednesday morning sent the following telegram to W. J. Bryan: "We have carried Kentucky by a small but safe majority. Sincerest congratulations on your splendid victory in Nebraska." Despite this statement the Associated Press at noon Wednesday claimed Goebel's defeat and announced Taylor's election by about 7,000. Gen. Taylor, chairman of the Republican campaign committee, claimed 10,000, but conservative party men thought this extravagant. It is thought that the Republicans have gained so materially that it leaves the complexion of the next Legislature in doubt, despite the holdover Senators.

Gov. Stone of Pennsylvania always reads his speeches.

Lord Kitchener has given Queen Victoria a large Arabian donkey.

William Waldorf Astor has paid $406,896 taxes in New York this year.

Andrew Carnegie's donations to libraries have exceeded $12,000,000.

President McKinley tried smoking a pipe for awhile, but he has returned to cigars.

When asked how old he was, Booker Washington told an interviewer that he did not know.

Senator Quay's voice does not betray his character. His voice is thin, nervous and undecided.

One of Admiral Sampson's biographers says that when a boy he never played or sought amusement.

Since shaving his mustache Senator Deboe closely resembles President McKinley in appearance.

Henry T. Simmons of Bloomington, Ind., is the latest double of Admiral Dewey to be discovered.

If Bryan is elected President, Jerry Simpson says he will ask an appointment as postmaster at Medicine Lodge.

Senator Hanabrough of North Dakota was galley boy in the composing room of the San Francisco Chronicle in 1870.

Mr. Beveridge of Indiana will be the youngest Senator. Marion Butler of North Carolina was the youngest in the last Congress.

NEW YORK.

Election results in New York State can be summed in a few words. The Democrats carry Greater New York, and the Republicans win up-State. Greater New York is carried by the Democrats by majorities on the local tickets, running in the four counties which average about 65,000. The Republicans retain control of the Assembly, and have probably increased their majority in the lower house from 24 to 34. The Republicans made gains in Kings and all through the country counties. Robert Mazet, Republican chairman of the investigating committee, was beaten by Perez M. Stewart, citizens' union, and Tammany, in the nineteenth district in New York City. This has been the storm center of the campaign in New York. Mazet is defeated by 393 votes. Mazet may contest the election of Stewart. Judge George C. Barrett received practically every vote cast. James A. O'Gorman, for the Supreme Court, defeated Joseph F. Daly, the fusion candidate, by about 50,000. William F. Grell, the Tammany candidate for sheriff, is elected over William J. O'Brien, the candidate of the independent labor party, the Republicans and the citizens' union, and notwithstanding the fact that O'Brien was distinctively a trades union candidate he ran about 6,000 behind his ticket.

Maryland.

Maryland has been reclaimed by the Democrats after four years of Republican supremacy. The contest resulted in the election of John Walter Smith for Governor, Isidor Rayner for Attorney General and Dr. Joshua W. Hering for Comptroller by an approximate majority of 15,000. The lower branch of the Legislature was captured by the Democrats and it is probable that they will also have a majority in the State Senate. The entire Democratic city ticket was elected in Baltimore by a majority of 8,000.

MORMON CONVERTS.

Utah Religion Spreading Through Central States.

Mormonism is gaining a firm footing in the North Central States. The report which was submitted at the annual conference in Anderson, Ind., by Elder Louis K. Kelsch, president of the North Central Mission, which includes the eleven States north and west of the Ohio and Missouri, was a great surprise to even the elders who have served at the missions in the field.

Three years ago the Mormons began their work in the section, which takes in Iowa, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Nebraska, Dakota—North and South—Wisconsin and Minnesota. The first year there were very few converts to the unpopular religion. The next year there were a few more, while during the third year, just closed, the number of converts and baptisms have been twice as great as during the first two years, and it is claimed that the number of baptisms the coming year will be as great as all of those of the three years. There are now 1,100 baptized and accepted Mormons in the sections named.

Though the missionaries who come into the field from Utah believe in polygamy and say that it is a part of their religion, they are not preaching its introduction. The feeling against Mormonism was very bitter in the States in which the missionary work has been taken up during the last three years because of the practice of polygamy, and in some cities the feeling against the elders has reached such a pitch that they have been stoned out of the city or conducted to the limits and told to stay out. In one or two cities the workers have been rotten-egged and other indignities have been heaped upon them. In almost all cities they have been barred from the churches and have been preached against from pulpits. Mormon workers accept no pay, ask no alms, take up no collections, but maintain themselves at their own expense.

KILLED AT THE POLLS.

Blood Flows During the Progress of the Kentucky Election.

Although there was less bloodshed in Kentucky than had been expected, riotous disturbances occurred in many places on election day. Several were killed and others seriously hurt. Pat Henry was stabbed at Mount Sterling in an election riot. Dr. J. P. Hearing, an election commissioner, was ambushed at Owensboro and fatally wounded. The Hon. A. J. Tharpe and William Rose were fatally shot in Estill County. John Marion was killed at Catlettsburg. Henry Gaithers was killed at Gracey. A riot of serious proportions and perhaps fatal results is reported from Pittsburg. Fifty shots were fired, and Dick Mullins was killed outright. At Newcastle, in Henry County, there was a desperate fight with knives between Thomas Raizon and John Derossett. They fought for several minutes before they fell, covered with blood, and exhausted. Both may die. Deputy Marshal Bruce while trying to make an arrest at Newcastle was badly injured in the head by a stone thrown by a man in the crowd.

At Olympia, in Bath County, John Adkins was shot and killed. At Covington Chief of Police Pugh was arrested, charged with interfering with an election. In Lexington the chairman of the Democratic county committee, Wila Viley, was arrested, charged with interfering with elections. Many other arrests were made of men prominent in local political life all over the State. Men were bodily thrown out of election booths and never were such scenes witnessed at the polls as occurred Tuesday throughout the State. Militia was in the armory at Lexington all day, and the same thing prevailed at Louisville. Hundreds of extra policemen were on duty throughout the State and business was almost completely suspended. The most remarkable campaign ever known in the State ended as many predicted.

IS BETWEEN HEAT AND COLD.

Perry, Me., to Be Marked with an Odd Monument.

A singular mark of honor, and yet one to which it is naturally entitled, has just been conferred by the United States Government upon North Perry, a little village situated in Washington County, about 21 miles from Calais, Me. That hitherto insignificant hamlet is located midway between the equator and the north pole, and this memorable fact is to be noted on a shaft which will be erected at one of the most central points in the village.

There is one church in North Perry, and the shaft will be placed on one side of the little path leading from the street to the church door. On the front of the pillar will be cut the words, "This stone marks latitude 45 degrees, north, halfway from the equator to the north pole." The stone was ordered by the Government and the spot which it will occupy has been marked by the geographical surveyors of the United States Government as being precisely midway between the equator and the north pole.

Indemnity to British.

In spite of recent reverses the English papers are beginning to figure on the amount of indemnity the South African Republic will be forced to pay when the Boers are finally conquered. In this connection it is pointed out that the financial condition of the republic is excellent. For the year 1897 the total revenue of the Transvaal amounted to $22,400,000, while the total expenditures were $21,900,000. From an English standpoint there will be room in the future for large reductions in expenditures, so that a big balance will be left which may be applied to the payment of interest on a loan sufficient to pay the indemnity which the British are to demand. At present the total State debt of the South African Republic is less than $14,000,000.

Notes of Current Events.

People at Atlanta, Ga., claim that Lieut. Brumby is the real hero of Manila.

Over 500 German families will locate on a big tract of land in Mexico.

In a collision at Thouars, France, ten railway employes were killed.

Leon Jackson, a miser, Newport, Tenn., was murdered and robbed of $600 by three men.

Mme. Algeria Barrios, the young widow of the late Gen. Barrios of Guatemala, has gone on the stage.

Miss Russell, Hamilton, Ont., will go as a nurse with the Canadian troops to the Transvaal.

RECORD OF THE WEEK.

INDIANA INCIDENTS TERSELY TOLD.

Jeffersonville Officers Battle with a Safe Blower—Peoria and Eastern Fast Express Wrecked—No Advance for Coal Miners—Suicide in a Cistern.

Sergt. Kendall and Watchman Clayton discovered burglars in the office of the Ohio Falls chain works at Jeffersonville blowing open the safe. Sergt. Kendall started on a run for the office, but was met by a man who, with a pistol in his hand, ordered him to halt. The officer instead opened fire and a lively battle followed, each man emptying his revolver. During this fight the man in the office made his escape. The other man was wounded by the bullets from the officer's revolver, but managed to get away. Thirty dollars was secured from the safe.

Miners Refused an Advance.

A joint meeting of block coal operators and miners was held at Brasil to discuss the request made by the miners for an advance in the scale of mining. The operators refused to grant an increase, but agreed to sell coal to their employes for $1.50 at the mines, which is 50 cents below the block market price. The miners referred the matter to the various local unions for consideration.

Engineer Heller Injured.

The fast express on the Peoria and Eastern Railroad was wrecked at Clermont. The engine turned over; the mail car, baggage car and two coaches left the track, but none of them was overturned. Engineer J. Heller of Indianapolis was slightly injured. His fireman escaped unhurt. None of the passengers was injured.

Drowned Herself in a Cistern.

Miss Barbara Frank of Newburg committed suicide by jumping into a cistern. She was engaged to be married to a young man at Joliet, Ill.

Within Our Borders.

Berry Billheimer, Peru, was killed by a train.

Molding sand has been discovered at Muncie.

National bank will be started at Centerville.

Burned Knightstown Masonic temple will be rebuilt.

John Long's 17-year-old daughter, insane, Fort Wayne, is missing.

"Central conference of gospel workers," is a new religious sect in Madison County.

The Odd Fellows' Hall block at Ladoga was burned, causing a loss of about $30,000.

Trustees will add 15,000 volumes to the library at the State normal school, Terre Haute.

Funeral of Rector J. A. Maglone, Episcopal minister, Sunday, was the largest in Anderson's history.

F. P. Wilt, Fort Wayne, is at the head of a company to start a wholesale grocery, with $100,000 capital.

Dr. R. F. Lipes, Fort Wayne, was fined for failure to report a case of diphtheria, under the new law.

George Nickum and Nellie Everling, Elwood lovers, shot at each other, and are now in the coop. Each pleads self-defense.

Power house for the Indianapolis-Greenfield electric line will be built at Greenfield, and must be completed by April 1, 1900.

At Vincennes, Hattie E. Young was granted a divorce from James A. Young, and before the ink was dry on the records she was married to Edgar Warren.

Postoffice at French was surrounded by the sheriff and a posse, and a swarthy, smooth-faced, stoop-shouldered robber, with a kit of safe-blowing tools, was captured.

At Muncie Ray Hallcroft, aged 23, swallowed poison because he imagined that his young wife did not love him. He had written a letter confessing his jealousy.

Mayor A. F. Kinsley, Hartford City, was cleared of the charge of shooting Carney Capper, who was with a crowd of boys prowling around the Mayor's back yard.

William Shumaker, 80, Union City, probably the wealthiest negro in Indiana, is dead. He came from the South in an early day, and began as a farm hand. His wealth goes to an only son.

John Giddings' sweetheart jilted him and he went to a school house near Osgood, climbed a tree, tied one end of a rope around his neck and the other to a limb, shot a hole through his heart, and then tumbled off his perch and hung till morning.

Mrs. Hauter, Fort Wayne, took her sister's 7-year-old baby and refused to give it up, because she said her sister would not wash it. When the humane officer went with the mother to reclaim the child there was no wise Solomon present, so the women fought it out.

The Middletown opera house block was burned and the Middletown News, Joseph Lambert, proprietor, was badly scorched. The total loss $4,000, with $3,000 insurance. An overheated natural gas stove in the News office caused the fire. The opera house will be rebuilt.

Thad Durff, while rowing with Miss Maude Kimion at Leavenworth, deliberately capsized the skiff and would have succeeded in drowning the girl but that her cries brought another skiff to her rescue. Miss Kimion clung desperately to the overturned skiff while Durff strove to tear her loose. Seeing relief coming he made his way to the Kentucky shore and escaped. Durff, who is a bookkeeper, had sought Miss Kimion's hand in marriage and been refused.

Two new rural mail delivery routes will be established out of Marion.

Rural mail delivery boxes are being distributed in Allen County.

Diphtheria has broken out at Kokomo again. At Spiceland, too.

Action is threatened against Peru kids for tearing down show bills.

George Colclazier, Morristown, dropped dead while crying a sale.

Dr. Rolling G. Pence, aged 86 years and a prominent resident, died in Peru.

John Kennedy, Franklin, licked James Hays and Hays wants $2,500 damages.

James L. Parker, Grandview, was fatally shot in a resort by Alfred Thurman.

Lafayette Marion, Terre Haute, was killed by a train. Leaves a destitute family.

Cars have been received at Franklin, to run on the electric line from Greenwood to Indianapolis.

Well diggers who were drilling for water in a Muncie town lot belonging to Thomas Toxill exploded a charge of dynamite at the bottom of the hole, forty feet from the surface, and opened a vein of natural gas. The blazing gas shot ten feet above the mouth of the hole and the pressure is apparently steady.

JAKE MOTHER USED TO MAKE.

"I was born in Indiany," says a stranger,
lank and slim,
As us fellers in the restaurant was kind
o' guyin' him,
And Uncle Jake was slidin' him another pumpkin pie
And a extry cup o' coffee, with a twinkle in his eye—
"I was born in Indiany—more'n forty year ago—
And I hain't been back in twenty—and
I'm workin' back'ards slow;
But I've et in ever' restarunt 'twixt here and Santy Fee,
And I want to state this coffee tastes like gittin' home to me!

"Pour out another, Daddy," says the feller, warmin' up,
A-speakin' crost a saucerful, as Uncle tuck his cup—
"When I seed yer sign out yander," he went on, to Uncle Jake—
"'Come in and git' some coffee like yer mother used to make'—
I thought of MY old mother and the
Posey County farm,
And me a little kid agin, a-hangin' on her arm,
As she set the pot a-bilin', broke the eggs and poured 'em in"—
And the feller kind o' halted, with a tremble in his chin!

And Uncle Jake he fetched the feller's coffee back and stood
As solemn, for a minute, as a undertaker would;
Then he sort o' turned and tiptoed to'rds
the kitchen door—and next,
Here comes his old wife out with him,
a-rubbin' of her specs—
And she rushes fer the stranger, and she hollers out, "It's him!
Thank God, we've met him comin'! Don't yer know yer mother, Jim?"
And the feller, as he grabbed her, says he, "You bet, I hain't forgot—
But," wipin' of his eyes, says he, "yer coffee's mighty hot!"

—James Whitcomb Riley.

HIS MOTHER'S COMPANION.

MRS. SHERWOOD and her companion, Irene George, were sitting in the library of the former's beautiful home, Beechwood. The young girl had been reading aloud, but happening to glance up, she had noticed that Mrs. Sherwood was paying little or no attention to the story, but seemed occupied by her own thoughts. Suddenly she started, and, looking at her now silent companion, said: "Did you know I had a son, Irene?" The girl became deadly pale and for a moment could not answer, but finally she managed to murmur that she had heard the servants speak of Master Jack, and that she had concluded he was her son.

"Yes, I have one son," continued Mrs. Sherwood, "but I fear that by my harsh treatment of him on one occasion I have separated him from me forever. Several months ago, while visiting one of his college friends, he met a young girl whom he fell in love with and married without my consent. When I received the letter telling me of his marriage I was so angry that I answered him saying that as he cared more for her than for me, henceforth he could content himself with her, as I refused to have anything more to do with him. How bitterly I have repented my cruel words will never be known to any one but myself. Let it suffice to say that I would give my life to recall them."

As Mrs. Sherwood finished speaking she buried her face in her hands, and in that position failed to notice when Irene passed her and left the room. Hastening up the stairs, the girl reached her room, and, entering, locked the door. Then, going to her writing desk, she wrote a few lines which she securely sealed, and, after carefully addressing the letter, she went out and mailed it.

Early the following evening found Irene at the end of the main walk in the beautiful and extensive grounds which surrounded the mansion. Before many seconds passed, a rapid step was heard and the next minute she was face to face with a young man whose beaming eyes and glad manner bespoke the joy he felt at seeing her. After the first greetings Irene said, softly: "Jack, go to your mother now. She is all alone, and surely you can have no better time. I will wait for you here."

"I will not be long, Irene," was his answer, "and when I return my mother will be with me."

Saying that, he hurried towards the house, leaving the young girl in an exceedingly anxious state of mind. Nearly half an hour passed ere Jack returned, accompanied by his mother, who looked ten years younger in the joy of having her son with her.

As they neared the spot where Irene was standing Mrs. Sherwood saw her, and a look of surprise came over her face. Turning to her son, she exclaimed: "Why, Jack, I thought—I thought your—your wife—" She got no further, for her son stopped her with a smile and said: "Mother, dear, I told you my wife was waiting for us here. She is. Irene is my wife."

"Irene!" exclaimed his mother. "Why, how can that be possible?" But by this time they had reached Irene, who started forward, and, going quickly to Mrs. Sherwood, said softly: "Can you ever forgive me for so deceiving you—mother?" this last word with such a smile as would melt a heart of stone. Mrs. Sherwood's answer was to clasp her in her arms.

A few moments later, when they were all seated beneath a large oak overlooking the lake, Irene told in a few simple words how Jack had met and won her, and how, after his receiving the cruel letter, she had resolved to be the peacemaker. Shortly after this she read of Mrs. Sherwood's desire for a companion, and showing it to her husband, told him that she was resolved to try for the position. The result was known. Her efforts were entirely successful, and now, with Jack and his mother reunited, she felt as though she could wish for no more happiness. Later on that evening, when they were all seated in the library, Mrs. Sherwood suddenly rose, and, crossing the room to where Jack and Irene were sitting, she said: "Jack, with my whole heart I beg your forgiveness for writing you as I did. I firmly believe that if you had searched the world over you could never have found a wife to suit both you and myself so well as does your mother's companion."—Boston Post.

Profit in Soda Water.

With the carbonated water reduced to 3 cents a gallon the profit on a glass of soda water is great. The syrups and cream represent a greater cost than the water itself, but where the flavoring extracts are made right in the store, a glass of plain soda, with any of the ordinary sirups, does not cost the dealer more than 1½ cents. A good glass of ice cream soda cannot be made for less than 3 to 5 cents. The latter is usually the average cost in high-class stores, where the best cream is used. The price of 10 cents a glass, considering the slowness with which consumers drink it, does not make the profit so large as on ordinary plain soda.

TO CARVE THE TURKEY.

The Job Is Easy Enough if These Directions Are Carefully Followed.

The man who wields the carver at a Thanksgiving feast must needs know something above the ordinary about the task confronting him. The other diners observe him closely. No matter how brisk the conversation may be, every pair of eyes at the table watches the disintegration of the turk narrowly. A blunder causes a terrible lull in the table pleasantries which stabs straight to the heart of the carver. If he hacks the bird into small bits in a vain effort to find a joint he knows that every diner has summed him up as a clumsy boor. If, on the other hand, he meets the responsibility neatly and with precision, he has earned the admiration of all hands, for artistic carvers are rare articles, and every one recognizes the genuine one at sight.

Cut No. 1 shows the initiatory stage, the removal of the left wing. To accomplish this place the fork in the breast of the turkey as shown in cut, having one prong on each side of the breast bone. Grasp the handle of the fork in the left hand, and, laying the flat of the knife parallel with and close to the neck, just above where the left wing joins the body, cut downward, catching the joint. A slight pressure severs the cartilage and a single sweep of the knife removes the wing.

The task of removing the left leg is illustrated in cut No. 2. Put the point of the knife into the flesh which holds the second joint to the carcass, and cut downward to where the second joint's bone joins the carcass.

THE THANKSGIVING PROBLEM MADE EASY.

Cut No. 3 shows the second stage of removing the leg. Place the knife between the leg and the carcass, making a downward sweep to where the second joint connects with the carcass, and meeting the cut described in illustration No. 2. A gentle pressure with the point of the knife then causes the leg and second joint to drop into the dish.

Slicing off the breast is a delicate task, and this is shown in cut No. 4. The breast may be sliced off in two ways. That shown in the illustration removes it in slices parallel to the breast bone, as indicated by the dotted lines. It can also be removed in slices cutting crossways.

The removal of the oyster bone is another delicate task, as shown in cut No. 5. Place the flat of the knife against the vertebrae connecting the pope's nose with the carcass and press the edge in the direction of the neck of the bird. When the knife reached the place indicated by the dotted line turn the blade, and the leverage causes the oyster bone to fall into the plate. After removing the oyster bone turn the platter and remove from the right side the wing, leg, breast and oyster bone in the same manner as on the left side.

Every carver should understand how to remove the wishbone, and if he fails to do this in a satisfactory way the young folks at the table will have a mighty small opinion of his ability. To properly accomplish this task place the flat of the knife against the breastbone next the wishbone, and, keeping it pressed against the carcass, sweep it toward the neck. This removes the wishbone.

When the wishbone has been removed the work of the carver is practically over, and if he has performed his work skillfully he can legitimately feel that he is the hero of the day.

Possessions of England.

Interesting statistics in regard to the increase of population, compiled by Sir Robert Giffon, show that England now has possessions in all five continents, and that a quarter of the population of the entire earth is subject to her suzerainty. The extent of territory owned by England amounts to 13,000,000 square miles, and on this immense tract is a population of 420,000,000. In the last twenty-seven years the English realm has increased by 2,854,000 square miles, and within the same period 125,000,000 have been added to the population.

Since 1871 the population of the United Kingdom—England, Scotland and Ireland—has increased from 32,000,000 to 40,000,000. At the beginning of this century England, Scotland and Ireland had a population of 11,000,000, and France of 26,000,000, yet to-day the proportion of population in both countries is almost alike. Russia has increased her population by 60,000,000 since 1870, the result being that she has now a total population of 130,000,000. Germany had a population of 20,000,000 at the beginning of this century; now she has between 50,000,000 and 60,000,000, of whom almost a quarter is the result of the increase of births over deaths. Germany, too, is making rust strides as a colonial power, and her population in those distant possessions already amounts to a big number.

A FIGHT TO A FINISH.

Strange End of an Encounter Between Stags in Colorado.

These two skulls of stags, with their horns so firmly locked together that they could not be separated, were found in the mountains of Colorado. It is quite plain that they once belonged to a couple of stags who had a terrible fight in the solitude of the mountains. After the combat had been kept up for some time, the horns became so tangled and locked together that they could not get them apart. It is very probable, that when this happened, they stopped thinking of fighting, and tried their best to get away from each other. But this was of no use. Their horns were so firmly interlocked that they could not twist nor pull them apart. So they stumbled about, for the rest of their lives, with their heads close together. We cannot know how long they lived this way. They may have been able to eat a little grass, if both of them agreed to put down their heads at the same time. But at last they died. And how curiously things turned out! Each of them hoped to kill the other, and yet the result of the quarrel was to bind them together as long as they lived, and even death did not part them. And if they thought that no one would ever know of their fight, how greatly they were mistaken! The record of their combat—these two skulls fastened together—has remained for many a long year, and will remain for many a long year, to come. It was truly a strange end to a fight.

RECORD OF THE FIGHT.

A Queer Thing.

You have probably noticed, if you are a man, that when your tie gets loose it invariably slips round to the left. This is because you use your right side during a day about five times as much as your left. This movement rebuts on your shirt-collar, causing it and your tie to move in the opposite direction. The muscles on an average man's right side have more than double strength of those on his left side; in fact, so great is the disproportion in development, that by the time a man or woman reaches 40 the right side is, even to the eye, more fully developed than the left, and in many cases this disproporationate growth is highly injurious to health, as it is liable to force the interior organs out of place.

Scottish Statue to Lincoln.

Scotland seems a strange place to find a statue of Abraham Lincoln, and yet there is one there. It adorns a monument erected in old Calton burying ground, Edinburgh, to the memory of the Scottism Americans who fought in the American civil war.

Russia's Female Physicians.

After a long and patient struggle the woman physicians of Russia have secured a decree placing them upon an equality both socially and politically with the male physicians in the empire

New Chemical Discovery.

Gold, silver, steel, aluminum, and lead, when immersed in tauric acid, a new chemical discovery, become pliable and ductile as putty.

Prussian Medicine.

The price of medicine in Prussia is regulated by the state, a new price list being published every year.

Every 16-year-old girl has an exaggerated idea of the protection in a man's presence, which makes 40-year-old girls laugh.

No woman ever marritd a man that some of the other women didn't say she chased him.

When a milliner calls a bonnet a simple little thing, it costs about twenty-five dollars.

CARTER IN JAIL LIFE

CONVICTED ARMY OFFICER'S FUTURE IN PRISON.

Five Years of Hard Work—Rigid Discipline and Frugal Fare Will Be His Portion—A Number Is Branded on His Clothes—The Daily Routine.

Capt. Oberlin M. Carter, the United States army officer recently convicted of immense frauds in connection with the improvement of Savannah harbor, Georgia, a work of which he had charge as the Government engineer, was sentenced to the Fort Leavenworth (Kansas) penitentiary for five years' imprisonment at hard labor, deprivation of his rank in the army, and dismissal, and $5,000 fine.

The contrast between Carter's life for the next five years and his life for the preceding ones could not be more dissimilar. Carter's rooms were always models of luxury. No society girl, nurtured in the lap of wealth, ever excelled this luxury-loving officer in the costly, artistic elegance of boudoir and bedroom. Priceless tapestries, rare old furniture, toilet trappings in solid gold and silver, fine linens, dainty perfumes—all these and a thousand other elegancies are as much a part of Oberlin M. Carter's life as the air he beathes.

WHERE CAPT. CARTER WILL WORK.

At the Fort Leavenworth penitentiary he must manage to survive for five long years without his wine suppers, his rapid friends, and his perfumed baths. Five changes of toilet a day are not recognized as essential at the Fort Leavenworth prison. One suit is quite sufficient, according to the prison code—a stout suit of coarse gray, with a big straw hat in summer and a small blue denim cap in winter.

The man who has played the high-roller for years, who has been courted by pleasure-loving fashionables, admired by women, and envied by men, will for the next five years be kept under lock and key as a mere thing, duly ticketed and numbered. His number will be marked in glaring red stencils on his prison garments in four places—right across the broad of his back, over the right thigh, and on the calf of each leg. A more degrading thing this branding of the criminal more prominently than the government mule is marked—could not be devised.

Fort Leavenworth is not a place where the tastes of prisoners are consulted. Discipline of the handcuff-shotgun variety is promptly applied as the occasion demands. The prison is a collection of old buildings, entered through a sallyport, guarded night and day by heavily armed men. Inside the sallyport a gloomy archway leads under the offices of the warden and his subordinates, the printing shop, and photograph gallery, to the prison buildings where the convicts are housed, fed, and bathed.

CARTER IN CONVICT GARB.

At Fort Leavenworth hard labor means just what the term implies. Carter, with hands unused to labor harder than uncorking champagne bottles and throwing away money, will find the conditions far from enjoyable. He will sleep in a regulation prison cell behind a steel-barred door, watched by a guard armed with a shotgun. It is needless to say that the rare carpets and priceless tapestries which have heretofore contributed to his comfort will not figure in his Fort Leavenworth cell.

The bill of fare is not an appetizing outlook for Carter, for this luxurious officer has fattened for years upon the choicest foods prepared by artist chefs. Nothing in the eating and drinking line has been quite good enough for the epicurean captain. Think what five years of Fort Leavenworth prison fare will mean to him—an eternity of gastronomic misery.

The work which falls to the share of almost all new arrivals is with the pick and blasting drill in the quarries two miles from the prison. The stone is for use in the construction of the new penitentiary. Carter comes in for this back-breaking, hand-blistering experience. Fort Leavenworth prison has a set of very severe rules, all rigidly enforced. Should Carter grow disobedient his prison allowance of tobacco will be shut off, he will be denied the privilege of writing or receiving letters, his diet may be restricted to bread and water, and in the event of persistent misconduct he would be handcuffed day and night to the bars of his cell. They stand no nonsense at Fort Leavenworth. Still they work no cruelties and the prisoner who behaves well, takes his medicine, as it were, unflinchingly, is treated as well as he could rightly expect. He can write to his friends and receive their letters; he may subscribe for any reputable newspaper or magazine, and may have books from the prison library.

Every Saturday afternoon Carter will be compelled not only to give himself a cold-water bath with common brown soap accompaniment, but he will be forced to wash and scrub his cell, depressing work for the man who for years has been living in perfumed baths, and relying upon the services of a skilled valet for the simplest tasks of the toilet.

Attends the Quaker Wedding.

A recent Chicago visitor to the East writes thus descriptively of a Quaker nuptial ceremony he had the privilege of attending:

"At a Quaker wedding last week, where there were no display, decorations, maids or groomsmen, the air seemed charged with joy. After a silence of several minutes the guests arose and the bridegroom taking the hand of the bride said: 'In the divine presence and before this assembly I take Patience B—— to be my wife, promising to be to her a faithful and affectionate husband until death shall separate us.' The bride responded: 'I take thee, John J——, to be my husband, promising to be a faithful and affectionate wife until death shall separate us.' A prayer was made, the bridegroom kissed the bride and after congratulations had been said all repaired to the dining-room, where the breakfast was spread. The table was set with the family silver and china, which had come from England with the great-grandfather of the bride, and there was a single rose at each corner. After the breakfast the entire party accompanied the happy pair across the meadow to their new home and were shown the gifts of loving friends. One of the guests was heard to say as she started homeward: 'What is the use of all the fuss and worry attendant upon a moderately elaborate wedding, when one can have such a sweet time as that was without them?'"

THIS MAY SAVE MANY LIVES.

An Invention of Great Use in Case of Wrecks.

Moved by the many recent accidents at sea, with the resulting loss of life, Charles Elias, who lives at Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y., has invented a life-saving buoy, which he claims will make it possible for shipwrecked mariners to float on the surface of the water for more than two weeks without danger to life. It consists of an aluminium case, shaped like a barrel, seven feet in length and weighing but twelve pounds. It is weighted at the bottom to keep it in an upright position, and is built in two halves, which open on rubber hinges on one side and fasten together on the other. The case is fitted with pockets on the inside, which hold supplies of food and water for twenty days. At the top a flag floats as a signal to passing vessels.

LIFE-SAVING BUOY.

The Ruling Passion.

The clergyman had finished and the organ was pealing forth the sonorous rapture of the Mendelssohn march.

"One moment, George," said the radiant bride, and facing the audience she raised her exquisitely bound though somewhat bulky prayer book in her daintily gloved hands, and pointed it directly at the brilliant audience. There was a sharp click.

"All right, George," said the bride, "come along."

And as they marched down the aisle she showed him that the supposed prayer book wasn't a prayer book at all. It was a camera!

"It's my own idea, George," she whispered. "Clever, isn't it?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Water Cheap in Glasgow.

In Glasgow a £15 householder obtains for 71d per annum a continuous, never failing, unrestricted stream of the purest water in the world, delivered right into his kitchen, washhouse and bathroom. It is calculated that 386 gallons of pure water are delivered to the citizens of Glasgow for every penny paid. And it is water of such peculiar softness that the householders of Glasgow can pay their water rate out of what they save on soap.

The Largest Bell.

The largest bell in the world is in a Buddhist monastery, near Canton, China. It is 18 feet high and 45 feet in circumference, and is of solid bronze. It is one of eight great bells which were cast by command of the Emperor Yunglo about A. D. 1400, and is said to have cost the lives of eight men, who were killed during the process of casting.

Sensible Legislation.

Western Australia has an act in force prohibiting the landing of any one who cannot write out a given passage in English.

When you think a man is talking nonsense, possibly he is talking sense and you are unable to comprehend him.

Clara—And are you still searching for your ideal man? Maude—No; I have quit reading novels.

SEEN UNDER A GLASS

A MICROSCOPE REVEALS BEAUTIES OF ANIMAL LIFE.

Marvelous Arrangement of a Spider's Eyes—Daddy Longlegs Can See in Any Direction—Revelations About Mosquitoes, Flies and Other Things.

Dr. B. L. Riese is a Chicago scientist who devotes his leisure time to bug-hunting. His forte is microscopy and the use of this delicate instrument in connection with insect anatomy has resulted in some extremely interesting discoveries of late. He disposes of one or two theories which have been held for years, notably the one which provides insects with cup-shaped feet, the suction of which enables them to walk on polished surfaces in seeming defiance of all the laws of gravity. His microscope shows that the insects always have hooks of great relative power on the ends of their legs, which are used to grasp inequalities invisible to human eyes.

FEELER OF A MAY FLY.

Under the microscope the polished surface of plate glass is shown to be really a mass of inequalities. The naked eye, the touch, will not reveal them to man. Under this same instrument the feet of the common house fly is shown to be re-enforced by hooks small enough to find lodgment in the inequalities of the glass surface. The foot of the mosquito has a wonderful double hook which gives it the power of holding to almost any smooth surface. In fact, the foot is frequently entangled in some meshes which to the eye appear to present no inequality. When the mosquito struggles—as can frequently be noticed—these hooks have clasped something which is clasped the tighter as the insect tries vainly to fly away.

But it is in the visual apparatus that nature shows the most marvelous adaptability to the lives of the bugs. Some of the eyes Dr. Riese has placed on microscopic slides are marvels of intricacy. The fact that they are stationary, without lateral or vertical power—they can not alter the focus or direction of gaze—makes it necessary for the insect to be provided with lenses so cut up with facets that they will capture and retain pictures in almost every degree of the lateral and vertical planes. Insects can see as well between what in man would be called the shoulder blades as they can directly in front. In many cases they see to much better advantage behind than before.

Dr. Riese adjusted his microscope at this time and placed a slide in position whereon was pasted the body of a

WATCHTOWER OF A SPIDER.

"daddy long legs," or common garden spider. This specimen is an exceptionally fine one and is so mounted as to bring the eyes directly under the searching power of the instrument. The eyes are wonders in themselves, but their position is even more wonderful. They are perched on top of a watch tower in the middle of the back. They project into the air to what seems a full inch under the glass; seen by the naked eye this tower is indistinguishable until the mind has been attracted to its existence by the microscope. The eyes are on each side of the tower, very near the top. "That insect can see as well over its shoulder as it can in almost a direct line in front," said Dr. Riese. "Possibly that is the reason—in fact, it may be said to be certainly the reason—that a spider can run backward as well as forward. The only spot where it does not seem to see well is right in front. You can capture one from that side much easier than from any other. This spider is not fitted with the additional eyes which other insects have. Usually the compound eyes are supplemented by simple eyes set in front and low down on or near the proboscis which enable it to see at short range in front. But the spider lacks these supplemental eyes.

"Here is the head of a grasshopper which shows the more ordinary style of eye with which insects are fitted," continued the doctor, placing another slide under the glass. "You will see that this insect has a huge eye on each side of the head. They resemble the eyes of a horse in a measure, but are immensely larger in proportion. Now they are fixed in the head immovably so that the bug can not turn them in the slightest degree. They have none of the delicate appliances of the human eye to reduce focus or change direction, so nature has compensated.

"You will see that the eye is enclosed in a transparent sack and that it has the appearance of hundreds of glassy fish eggs. These enable the insect to catch pictures in all directions. But just in front the lines are rather obscure, so nature has bestowed some extra eyes on the grasshopper. Look closely to the base of the antennae and you will see one of these extras. Some insects have them in the tips of their noses, as it were. These are for short range seeing and give the insect an advantage not possessed by spiders. This is an excellent type of the compound eye."

The slide was moved slightly that the leg of the insect might be examined under the powerful lens. The joint work of the limb is like a ruby rush the delicate blood vessels imparting a brilliant hue thereto. The structure is extremely powerful, the joints fitting into each other so as to impart the greatest elasticity and power. On the end of the leg are strong hooks which can close on any object with great force. They also give the insect the power to grasp any inequality forcibly, to use the enormous muscular power which results in a leap of hundreds of times the length of the insect.

"The theory," said Dr. Riese, "that insects have cup-shaped terminations to their legs, which enable them to travel up a wall or up a glass is not correct. They have nothing of the kind—at least none I examined has. Suction, the supposed force which keeps them in their seemingly unscientific position, is not used at all. Those hooks are used as a monkey uses the long fingers and as a bird uses its claws, to grasp any roughness on the surface. If the smoothest piece of glass known were examined under a powerful microscope it would be seen to be a mass of inequalities. Now, the hook or hooks—some have several on one leg—are so small that they can be inserted in these inequalities. Thus what seems to be a violation of natural laws is seen to be merely an accommodation thereto.

REVELATIONS OF INSECT ANATOMY AS SHOWN UNDER THE MICROSCOPE.
Wing and bill of a Mosquito. Foot and leg of the Mosquito. Ankle of a Cockroach. Proboscis of a House Fly. Foot of Spider. Foot of Cockroach. Eye of a Grasshopper.

"Look at this set of hooks on the end of the leg of the mosquito. A close glance will reveal the fact that this insect has powerful double hooks working from opposite sides of the leg. These can close up on anything too small to be seen and hold on with great power. The spider you will also see has a set of hooks which he uses with legs several times as long as the diameter of his body. He must have tremendous muscular power to use those legs at all, yet he handles each in succession at will."

One of the wonders of nature was shown on another slide. It was the head, and particularly the proboscis, of the common house fly. Projecting out from between the feelers is a broad net hooked up to the head by extension ropes. This net or web can be thrown out to a distance several times as far as the diameter of the head. It is used to suck up fluids and convey them to the greedy mouth. The net is a marvelous exemplification of nature's artistic power. The web is traced with beautiful lace work, the cords are twined in regular strands, as if they really are ropes, and the tackle is as intricate, yet simple in use, as anything used on a ship.

Seen under the most powerful glass—some 300 diameters were used—the tracery of the net is very clearly worth the study of engineers, for Dame Nature exceeds in skill any of her imitators. The study of this peculiar proboscis, with the beady eyes lying near to throw a brilliant light over the object assailed, is a work of art unsurpassed. In its mechanical purposes it is another evidence of the skill of the Creator in fashioning appliances to fit all needs.

One thing noticed in all the specimens displayed was that insects are usually covered with feathery hairs all over their parts. A glistening fly which to the human vision seems to be superlatively smooth is shown to be covered with a full suit of hairy feathers. The mosquito is literally ingulfed in feathers, with here and there spirals entwined among them. The wing of the mosquito shows the same courses of feathers running along with each strand of the structure, while the web or sails are covered with delicate hairs.

One of the most interesting wings seen was taken from a May fly, the mothlike insect which lives but one day, flutters about an electric or gas light and falls dead by the million. The lace work of this wing would furnish a pattern for the most delicate and slimy laces produced in Belgium, France or Austria. Under a powerful glass its intricacies are so clearly revealed that an accurate copy could be easily made.

Newfoundland Tobacco.

The jacotars, or French-Canadian half-breeds of Newfoundland, smoke the inner bark of the red willow when they cannot procure tobacco. White settlers often use this for scenting tobacco. It is called Killikinick in the Indian language.

After a man has been sick six weeks people quit worrying about him, and begin to wonder why he hangs on so long.

AUBURN WEEKLY COURIER.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF DeKALB COUNTY

JAMES A. BARNS, Editor.

Registered at the Auburn, Indiana, postoffice as second-class matter.

THURSDAY... NOVEMBER 16, 1899.

Court News.

Tuesday's Daily.

After the verdict was returned in the Jackson township case the jury was discharged for the term. Judge Hartman has disposed of the following cases in addition to those already mentioned:

James Beaty and Norman Donaldson, charged with petit larceny, appeared and gave bond in the sum of $200 for their appearance at the next term of court.

In the case of Hannah R. Moss vs Silas and Alice Franks and Frank P. Seiler, for foreclosure of mortgage, judgment was rendered for the plaintiff against the two first-named defendants for $309.35. The defendant Seiler, as county auditor entered a cross complaint upon a school fund mortgage and judgment was entered in his favor for $453.55 and foreclosure ordered.

Mary H. Purdy was granted a decree of divorce from Fred Purdy, with the privilege of resuming her maiden name, Mary H. Schorr.

After hearing the evidence in the case of Rebecca A. Musser vs. Emanuel T. Musser, for divorce, the court granted a decree to the plaintiff with $300 alimony. The custody of the child was not determined finally, but for the present it will remain with the mother.

This is the last week of the present term and it is expected that the business will be cleared up by Thursday evening.

Wednesday's Daily.

Court was in session today and Judge Hartman disposed of the following cases:

William Shellhouse, whose arrest for forgery was noted yesterday, was arraigned in court this forenoon and entered a plea of not guilty. He was placed under $500 bonds for next term, default of which he was returned to jail. Roby & Harper are the defendant's attorneys.

The case of Silas Hathaway vs. E W. Bartin and Mrs. E. Bartin, on mechanic's lien, was settled and dismissed at defendant's costs.

In the case of the Flint-Walling Mfg. Co. vs. James W. Mulholland and Chas. E. Gordon, on note, the court gave judgment for the plaintiff in the sum of $183.71. L. J. Gengler appeared as attorney for the plaintiff.

This afternoon Judge Watkins of Huntington occupied the bench for a short time this afternoon, rendering his decision in the case of Mougliher vs. Hatcher et. al., more familiarly known to our readers as the "peat moss case," which he has had under advisement since last summer. After reviewing the case at some length Judge Watkins announced his finding, which was in favor of the defendants.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought Verdict Against the Township.

The case of Schlatter vs. Jackson township, the progress of which has been briefly noted in the COURIER, ended yesterday morning at about 5 o'clock when the jury returned a verdict giving the plaintiff judgment for the full amount of the order held, which judgment carries with it interest on the order for about four years. The jury went out about 4.30 Saturday, and from the first ballot a large majority were for the plaintiff. The circumstances of the case, as we get them from the evidence presented, are as follows:

In 1895 James D. Rowley of Butler township opened and graded a new road, eighty rods in length, in Jackson township. The road had been previously established by the county commissioners after three boards of viewers had passed upon the utility, benefits, damages, etc. When Mr. Rowley completed the work of grading the road he was paid with an order upon the township treasury by the then trustee, J. J. Walter. A short time afterward Rowley sold the order to Benj. B. Schlatter of Leo, who has since held it. The principal contention of the defendant in fighting the collection of the order was that the price allowed for the work was too high, and Trustee Dancer had a number of witnesses, including Cal. VanAuken and others, who placed the value of work much below the amount asked. For the plaintiff on this point the principal witnesses were Charles Rugman and J. J. VanAuken, both of whom thought the work was worth more than the price charged. The legality of the order, as we understand it, was not questioned; it was only a question as to the value of the work.

It has been a hard-fought case and if the judgment stands, which is now more than probable, it will cost the township quite a sum of money, and may have an important bearing upon other cases of the same kind.

NERVITA PILLS Restore VITALITY LOST VIGOR AND MANHOOD

Cure Impotency, Night Emissions and wasting diseases, all effects of self-abuse, or excess and indiscretion. A nerve tonic and blood builder. Brings the pink glow to pale cheeks and restores the fire of youth. By mail 50c per box, 6 boxes for $2.50; with a written guarantee to cure or refund the money. Send for circular. Address,

NERVITA MEDICAL CO.
Clinton & Jackson Sts., CHICAGO, ILL.
Davenport, The Druggist.

MEESE CHAPEL.

This is the Name Decided On at the Dedication Last Sunday.

Sunday, November 12, 1899, was the date of a new church name in DeKalb county, and a very appropriate name, too. On that day was the dedication of the new church building on W. S. Dancer's farm in Jackson township, heretofore known as the Dancer church or the Lockwood church. On last Saturday evening there was a meeting of the official board of the church, and among other business that came up, was the matter of choosing a name for the new place of worship. John Cool suggested that if he could have the privilege of naming the church, he would give $25 toward paying the church debt. This was at once considered and a unanimous consent given Mr. Cool. Mr. Cool then named it the "Meese Chapel" which met the hearty approval of every one concerned.

The appropriatness of this name, will be fully seen, when we state that Rev. W. L. Meese organized the church in that neighborhood, which was the beginning of the present organization, Sunday forenoon, March 7, 1880, nearly twenty years ago. They then met at the school house, which is district No. 4. In the winter of 1898 he had been holding a meeting there beginning Jan. 2, and closing Feb. 9, and on the following Sunday forenoon, Feb. 13, they met and reorganized the church from the original members and new converts. April 4, 1880 at the close of services he assisted them to organize a Sunday school, and this has continued off and on ever since. So we say the church name is the most appropriate one that could be.

At the dedication last Sunday Rev. E. E. Fred, of Geneva, Ind., preached the sermon. A subscription taken, resulted in a sum sufficient to pay off all the debt, and leave enough to buy a bell and to paper the church. The regular pastor will be Rev. E. M. Peters of the Spencerville M. E. circuit. The church will belong to the Fort Wayne District.

Mr. Meese is properly pleased to have the congregation he did so much to bring together, worship in a church that bears and always will bear his name. Truly.

The good we do, lives after us.

It is a good name, and we hope the church will flourish and do more good, long after its worthy founder has passed to his reward.

John Cool, Mary E. Essig and Owen Hensinger are the board of trustees.

Well Known Garrett Man Dead.

Word was received here last evening that John Paul, a well-known citizen of Garrett, was dead and the circumstances of his passing away are indeed sad. About three years ago Mrs. Paul became insane and was taken to Longcliff assylum at Logansport for treatment. In the spring of 1898, no improvement being noticed in her condition, Mr. Paul decided to try a change of scene and fitted up a wagon in which himself and wife could travel about the country, visiting various points of interest, and letters received at frequent intervals were of a hopeful nature. They traveled extensively through the south, reaching Florida several weeks ago, and it was from a town in that state that a telegram was received Saturday evening stating that Mr. Paul had died of marsh or coast fever, which is prevalent there at this season of the year, and asking his daughter Mary to come at once. Miss Paul and C. H. Hopkins, a brother-in-law of the deceased, at once left for the south to take charge of the remains and it is expected that they will reach Garrett this evening, where the funeral services will be held under the direction of the Masonic fraternity of which Mr. Paul was a member.

The case is indeed a sad one and the bereaved family will have the sincere sympathy of a wide circle of friends. Mr. Paul was well-known in Garrett, where he owned considerable property.

Some Family Jars.

Esquire Walter had a case Saturday in his court which grew out of a quarrel in the Pifer family in Wilmington township, dating back several years. It appears that Mrs. Joseph Pifer has not been on the best of terms with her husband's family, and the other day she assaulted her sister-in-law, Florence Pifer, on the public highway. When the case was brought before the squire he advised them to bury the hatchet and let the matter drop, but it appears this could not be done and the warrant was served Mrs. Pifer entered a plea of guilty and the court assessed a small fine which with the trimmings amounted to $15.10. The defendant "cashed up" at once and the injury done to the person of the prosecuting witness, and incidentally to the peace and dignity of the commonwealth of Indiana was paid for.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE.

Many of your friends or people whom you know of have contracted consumption, pneumonia or other fatal diseases by neglect of a simple cold or cough. Foley's Honey and Tar, a safe and pleasant cough medicine, would have saved them. It is guaranteed.—H. B. McCORD.

Homes Wanted.

For three worthy children at the county farm. One boy of 9; one of 4; one girl of 7 years old. Anyone wishing to take children of this age should call on Superintendent Bartels at the county home. 48

FROM HONOLULU.

The following letter from corporal Alex McDonald, of Battery A, Sixth Artillery has been received by Mrs. Henry Shoemaker:

HONOLULU, H. I., Oct. 22, '99.

Dear Mrs. Shoemaker:—It has been so long since I heard from you, or written to you, I feel that I would like to hear from you, so I hope you will not think me forward, since I take it upon myself to write.

I wrote to you when I was on the train, going from St. Augustine to San Francisco, and waited a long time after I got here, expecting an answer from that letter. But I suppose you thought I would write again after I arrived here, and when I come to think of it, I believe I should have written to you from here if I wanted an answer.

I have corresponded with several people of Auburn since I have been here in the Sandwich Islands—Capt. Lahnum, Mr. and Mrs. Lane, and some of my old comrades. I have inquired after you a couple of times. I have been informed that Nellie is married and has been for some time. Good luck and a long and happy life for Nellie. She is truly a woman who deserves blessing and prosperity. Though I was only with you six months, and it has been more than thirteen months since I was last at your house. Still I cannot think of you or any of the family only as very near and intimate friends.

I trust you will not fail to write to me sometime in the near future, and and when you do, I wish you would tell me of Belle, of Goldie,, and all, for I would be pleased to hear from them. But much more pleased to hear from them if they would care to write. I often think of the old saying, "Should old acquaintances be forgotten?" Now I shall try not to write too long a letter this time. It is a failing of mine to write long letters; but I shall only tell you a few things about myself, and how I have fared since I left my native shores.

Truly, if I never expected to get back again, I would regret the day I ever passed out the Golden Gate. I did regret it any way, shortly after I got out to sea, for I got so severely seasick that I did not know what to do. I did not care whether I was living or dead, I felt so bad. I did not eat anything until the fifth day out. I can not express to you how glad I was to see these Islands, and to get my feet on mother earth again. But that is all over now and I am very glad that I am here.

I truly believe this is the finest country in the world. There are birds and flowers and sunshine the year round. The trees are always green and the tropical fruits grow in abundance. It is said that the pineapples and bananas grown here are the finest flavored in the world. Among other fruits, there is the pomegranate, dates, figs, cocoanuts, Guavas, mountain-apples, limes and many others which I cannot name.

The first three months here I was stationed at camp McKinley which is about three miles from town. It is near the seacoast; the quarters are good and there is an excellent place to bathe. The battery which I belong to is now in the city, guarding the palace and judiciary building, and are quartered in the barracks formerly occupied by the royal army. I have been promoted since I came here, have been appointed corporal. I think I am becoming well instructed in the school of a soldier. I understand the U. S. army and navy signal code and have had some practice at signaling. I also know the hospital, light artillery, and infantry drill. It is my desire to be thoroughly scholared in the art of war. The first opportunity I have I shall go to post school or artillery school where I can learn of the construction of dynamite bombs, time and percussion fuses, etc.

Well I have written a big letter so I will close, with love and regards to all, hoping to hear from you in the near future I remain—ever the same,

A MACDONALD, Corp.

Battery A, 6th Art'y. U.S.A., Honolulu, H. I.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Chicken Thieves.

And we are sorry to say, they stole turkeys as well as chickens. Wm. Armstrong, who has been living on Hi Weaver's place northeast of town, drove to the Ben Bailey farm in Jackson Saturday and on coming home, after dark, as he turned into the lane, he met a man carrying a turkey. He asked the man where he got it, but he dropped it and ran. Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong then armed themselves with clubs and pitchforks and began to hunt for thieves. They found some chicken heads, and later on caught sight of two men at the far end of a field. A neighbor, Mr. Goodchild, came over to help them and thed borrowed a gun of Al. St. Clair, but did not secure the thieves. They recognized at least, one of them, and if those fowls are not paid for, it will likely be a case for the December grand jury.

Teachers' Association.

We are in receipt of the program for the tenth annual session of the DeKalb County Teachers' Association to be held at Butler on Friday and Saturda, December 1 and 2. One of the principal features of the program will be a lecture on Friday evening by Dr. John P. Ashley of Albion, (Mich.) college, and State Superintendent Jones also expressed his intention of being present on Friday afternoon and a large attendance is expected.

JOHN A. LOGAN

Son of Gen. John A. Logan, Killed in the Philippines.

Word came yesterday, that Maj. John A. Logan, was killed in battle in the Philippines. He was a major in the Thirty-third volunteer regiment and was in Gen. Wheaton's command that went to the north last week and landed at San Fabian in order to get control of the wagon road running north, over which it was expected Aguinaldo would try to escape. On Saturday it was learned that quite a force of Filipinos had gathered at a point on that road about five miles distant with the evident purpose of holding the road open for Aguinaldo to get past. Wheaton at one sent a force to drive them off, the Thirty-third being among them. They had a hard fight in muddy fields and woods, and lost a few men, but drove the enemy out into the fields beyond. Then the Thirty-third spread out into a long skirmish line with Major Logan's battalion in the center. The pursuit was hot, and Logan was all the time exposed, when a sharp shooter picked him off.

News of his death was sent from the War Department yesterday to his mother who lives in Washington, and she sent it to Logan's wife, who with their three children, lives at Youngstown, Ohio.

Logan was with the army in Cuba last year, being on Gen. Bates' staff with rank of lieutenant. He was promoted for gallantry at El Caney. At the close of that war he came home. In August last he was given a commission as major in one of the new regiments of volunteers being raised to increase our army in the Philippines. He sailed with his regiment early in October and had been in the Islands but a short time.

FOR HOARSENESS.

Geo. A. Pontius, Upper Sandusky, O., writes: I have been using Foley's Honey and Tar for sore throat and hoarseness and find it the best remedy I ever tried. It stopped the Cough immediately and relieved all soreness.—H. B. McCORD.

BUTLER.

At last reports Martin Hook was a little better with some hope of recovery.

Willie Barber has so far recovered as to be about ready to start to school.

The revival at the M. E. church continues with increasing interest. Rev. Gee seems to be getting a hold on the public.

Miss Ora Evanston has resigned her place in the Butler schools in order to accompany her invalid father in a trip to Colorado for his health. Her place has been filled by a Miss Smith of Irvington, a suburb of Indianapolis.

A son of Charley Wagner on West North street is reported down with typhoid fever.

The corn crop in the vicinity of Butler breaks all previous records. There will be a large quantity to ship if a market opens.

The old Dirrim farm near Hamilton, 93 acres, was recently sold for $1,515 to Mr. Fouts of Troy township.

The DeKalb county teacher's association will meet at Butler December 1 and 2. They number about 300 will tax Butler's capacity for entertainment.

The daily papers speak of a new railroad project that might be an advantage to Butler.

The tramp nuisance seems to be abating. Instead of seeing from five to twenty of these weary people each morning, foraging for breakfast, we now seldom see any—possibly they have gone to work.

NOTICE.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on two 25 cent bottles or boxes of Baxter's Mandrake Bitters, if it fails to cure constipation, billiousness, sick-headache, jaundice, loss of appetite, sour stomach, dyspepsia, liver complaint, or any of the diseases for which it is recommended. It is highly recommended as a spring tonic and blood purifier. Sold liquid in bottles, and tablets in boxes. Price 25 cents for either. One package of either guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. E. M. FISCHLER, F. E. DAVENPORT, HOWARD McCORD.

Property for Sale.

I have for sale:

One..... .... 40 acre farm
Two..... 80 acre farms
One ....120 acre farm

in Concord township; ten acres one-half mile from Auburn; one brick and two frame residences in Auburn.—W. B. BROWN.

Want to Buy Real Estate

We have a client who wants to buy a small residence; also one who wants a large, well located property in Auburn.

MOODY & RICKEL,
Office Kiblinger Building Auburn.

Estray Notice.

Strayed to my place four miles south of Auburn a bay horse and bay mare, about fifteen years old. Owner can have them by paying expenses including this notice. ISAAC GRUBE. 47.

HOW TO PREVENT A COLD.

After exposure or when you feel a cold coming on take a dose of Foley's Honey and Tar. It never fails and will prevent Pneumonia or Consumption if taken in time. H. B. McCORD.

CLUB NOTES

A very pleasant session of the L. L. C. was held at the home of Mrs. Guild last Saturday afternoon. After the business session was closed the literary part of the program was given, Mrs. Nettie Eckhart gave work in place of Mrs. Olds who was detained at home. This was a chatty and witty paper entitled, "Life's Little Mysteries," every one enjoyed it.

"Little Women," by Mrs. Holmes was another bright paper which the club thoroughly appreciated. This was read by Mrs. Busselman as Mrs Holmes being out of town, could not be present, but sent the work.

The last paper, "American Art" was an excellent one given by Mrs. Mollie Rose.

It was full of information as well as of inspiration. Mrs. TenEyck was a visitor at the club. Adjourned to meet with Mrs. Mabel Hodge next Saturday.

WARNING.

We the undersigned give warning, to hunters, that no hunting will be allowed on our farms or on farms we have charge of. All those found hunting without permission of the owner, will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Wm. Merica	G. W. Burtzner
J. L. Wildeson	Ora Kuhlman
H. A. Lung	Perry Noel
Wm. Carson	Phillip Noel
Ambrose Heitz	Wm. Easley
E. E. Housel	David Gump
A. S. Baker	Daniel Lung
Jacob Bishop	Joseph Heitz
M. L. Hoffman	L. S. Ober
Joseph Pepple	C. H. Baber
A. N. Thrush	P. N. Weaver
James E. Holman	John E. Lung
Henry T. Smith	J. H. Benninghoff
Nicholas Lung	Geo. Reever
B. F. Hawver	H. L. Houser
J. A. Kelham	Wilber Hawver
David Heitz	John Stonestreet
Joshua Miller	Harvey A. Clark
Jacob Chisholm	Daniel Weaver
W. H. Fair	David Rineholdt
Samuel Hawver jr,	David S. Ober
Frank Yarde	Joseph Weller
H. W. Embrey	Wm. Imler
Aaron Ballist	Geo. Kelham
O. F. Clark	Samuel Downed
O. C. Clark	Lewis Duket
Geo. W. Probst	Mrs. Fortner
B. F. Hess	Henry Smith 46
H. H. Cupp,	Jno. Cool
J. J. Cupp,	J. F. Reed,
George W. Cool,	E. Lockwood
Mrs. A McCurry,	Mary Provines,
M Myers,	J M Hough,
James H Farver,	John Miser,
Jacob Magginis,	W D Miller,
A Provines,	J W McClellan,
F W Stoops,	Wm. Magginis,
S J Tarney,	J L Trover
John Deetz,	Eli Warstler
Anna Squires,	Harrison Squires
Rickey Peters.

Notice to Hunters.

We, the undersigned farmers of Fairfield township in DeKalb county, State of Indiana, hereby give notice that no hunting on our lands will be permitted after this date, and that any person or persons who hunt thereon after this date will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Dated this 30th day of October, 1899:

Martin McIntURF,	J. F. Haller
F M Dellenbach,	Arwilda Beight
Wayne Zonker,	R H Sherlock
James McDonald,	Edward Zonker
George Harper,	Ellie Zonker
Barbara Slayman	Sarah E Miller
Wm A Zonker,	Anthony Zonker
Samuel Slayman,	Wm Fiske

FOR SALE.

A fine Jersey cow for sale, calf by her side.—A. G. LODEWICK, Auburn, Indiana. Nov 8-6t

BANK STATEMENT.

Report of the condition of the Farmers Bank at Auburn, in the State of Indiana, at the close of its business on the 31st day of October, 1899.

RESOURCES.

Loans and Discounts	$185,793 23
Overdrafts	1,213 96
U. S. Bonds and Securities on Hand	5,000 00
Due from Banks and Bankers	58,774 33
Banking House	13,000 00
Other Real Estate	638 41
Furniture and Fixtures	1,501 61
Current Expenses	1,156 72
Revenue Stamp Account	239 00
Currency	5,815 00
Specie	6,156 81
Cash Items	4,167 90
Total,	$283,505 97

LIABILITIES.

Capital Stock paid in	$ 45,000 00
Surplus Fund	1,332 92
Undivided Profits	1,809 83
Discounts, Exchange and Interest	2,214 09
Rent Account	928 00
Individual Deposits on Demand	66,736 05
Certificates of Deposits on Time	158,421 87
Bank Deposits	7,563 66
Total,	$283,505 97

State of Indiana, County of DeKalb, ss:

I, A. C. Robbins, cashier of the Farmers Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true

A. C. ROBBINS, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 10th day of November, 1899.

J. H. ROSE, Notary Public.

IF THE sewers of a dwelling are faulty, or get clogged, it soon becomes so foul that life is not safe in it. That is just what happens to you when the Liver or Kidneys fail in their work. The first little signs are backache, poor appetite, changes in urine and sometimes bowel troubles and dropsical swellings. Do not neglect any of these; Deadly disorders may follow—STOP the mischief in time, use which is sure to bring speedy relief and finally a permanent cure. At druggists, $1.00 per bottle.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver & Kidney Balm

THE DR. J. H. MCLEAN MEDICINE CO. ST. LOUIS, MO.

For sale by F. E. Davenport.

"Theodosia" $3

5 Styles — WELTS & TURNS, McKAYS'

The PRETTIEST Shoe you ever saw.....
The BEST Shoes we ever sold.
('Nuff Said.)

"Sorosis" - - - $3.50

THE NEW SHOE FOR WOMEN.

3 Styles — WELTS IN KIDS AND BOX CALF — The BEST shoe at any price ('Nuff Said.)

"Our Own Shoe" $2.50

7 Styles — In Welts, Turns and McKay's, Kid, Calf and Box Calf — ('NUFF SAID).

Three Cardinal Virtues
The Prettiest Styles.....
The Best Wearing.....
The Best Fitting Shoes Made.....

BISHOP & BEIDLER,

Now Is the Time

TO BUY a

Wilson Heating and Ventilating Machine

They are the Greatest of all Modern Scientific Inventions.

They Save Fuel, Will Burn Anything, Perfectly Safe & Clean

Will Hold Fire and are Easily Regulated. We sold Eighty-Nine of them last winter, and as far as we know they are all giving good satisfaction. They are moderate in price and within the reach of all.

Buy none but the genuine Wilson and you will be both pleased and satisfied.

SOLD ONLY BY

Culbertson & Boland,

Old King Coal

is always at home in a JEWEL STOVE or RANGE, burns freer, gives better service with least amount of waste.

Jewel Stoves and Ranges

embody the most advanced scientific principles in stove building. For heating or cooking, for economy of cost, cheapness of operation, efficiency, cleanliness and desirability JEWELS stand supreme. Famous for over 30 years. 3,000,000 in use.

Jewel Stoves are sold by

Pioneer Hardware Co., Auburn.

William's Kidney Pills

Has no equal in diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs. Have you neglected your Kidneys? Have you overworked your nervous system and caused trouble with your Kidneys and Bladder? Have you pains in the loins, side, back, groins and bladder? Have you a flabby appearance of the face, especially under the eyes? Too frequent desire pass urine? William's Kidney Pills will impart new life to the diseased organs, tone up the system and make a new man of you. By mail 50 cents per box.

WILLIAMS MFG. CO., Props., Cleveland, O.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

Tourist Sleeping Car Line.

PERSONALLY CONDUCTED TOURIST SLEEPING CAR LINE BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND LOSANGELES, VIA THE WABASH AND ATCHISON, TOPEKA, & SANTA FE R'Y.

On November 1st the Wabash railroad in connection with the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway will inaugurate a through weekly tourist car line between St Louis and Los Angeles on Sundays at 8:28 a. m. Eastbound car will leave Los Angeles on Monday at 9:50 a m., arriving in St. Louis on Thursday at 6:15 p. m.

Particulars will be gladly furnished on application.

Want to Sell Your Farm?

We have a buyer for a 40-acre, one for 80-acre and one for 100 to 160-acre farm. If you want to sell call.

MOODY & RICKEL,
Kiblinger Building Auburn.

Rye Wanted.

I will pay 40 cents a bushel for first-class rye. Call at Eagle Mills, Auburn.

I. O. BACHTEL. tf

Junk Wanted

Please save your money. Don't forget to bring all your junk to H. Greenberg, three blocks north of M. E. church in Auburn, who pays

Best Cash Prices

for rags, rubber, copper, brass, zinc, lead, scrap iron and all kinds of hides and furs. Also buys and sells second-hand material, stoves and furnaces, etc. Persons having second-hand material to buy or sell, it will be to their interest to see H. Greenberg.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Safe. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse dangerous substitutions and imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists.

CHICHESTER CHEMICAL CO.
2100 Madison Square, PHILA., PA.
Mention this paper.

PILES Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment will cure Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles. It absorbs the tumors, allays the itching at once, acts as a poultice, gives instant relief. Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment is prepared for Piles and Itching of the private parts. Every box is warranted. By druggists, by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents and $1.00. WILLIAMS MANUFACTURING CO., Props., Cleveland, Ohio.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

IF YOU WANT RELIABLE MERCHANDISE GO TO LACKEY'S

G. W. LACKEY

..Dry Goods..
Carpets and Millinery,

AUBURN, IND.

IT PAYS TO TRADE AT THE BIG STORE!

The advantages of this Big Store are never ending. Every offering includes latest styles, thoroughly dependable quality, exceptionally moderate prices. Here is a partial list of the good things now on sale.

Underwear.

Cold weather comfort for men, women and children in reliable, well-made qualities. Numerous variety, every piece positively matchless.

Men's heavy weight natural wool Shirts and Drawers in all sizes, worth $1.00 per suit each..... 35c
Men's heavy Merino (shirts only) while they last at..... 19c
Ladies' Ribbed Cotton, heavy fleeced Vests and Pants, all sizes..... 23c
Children's heavy weight Merino Shirts and Drawers, sizes 16 to 34. Each from..... 8 to 25c
Boys' fleeced lined Shirts and Drawers, sizes 28 to 34, per suit..... 48c

Blankets and Comfortables.

These items are strong lessons in economy. Full size, perfect in every way.

Good fleeced Cotton Blankets 60c quality at 45c per pair or each..... 23c
Extra heavy fleeced Cotton Blankets at per pair.....50c, 75c, 85c and 1.00
10-4 Wool Blankets in white and grey, per pair..... 2.50
Better quality Wool Blankets per pair $3 00, $3.50 and $4.00.
The Iroquois, plain or in handsome plaids, 11-4 size, per pair..... 4.50
The Royal and Columbian, pure wool, in plain and fancy, 11-4 size per pair..... 5.00
Well made Comfortables, 11-4 size, filled with clean cotton, worth $1.50..... 1.23
Better grades, 11-4 size, nice bright patterns, containing fully five pounds clean cotton..... 1.50 to 1.75

Ladies' Skirts.

Good quality flannel skirt patterns, containing 2½ yards, good styles, 75c values, price... 50c
Merritts celebrated skirts, strictly all-wool, felted, nice patterns, the $1.50 quality, our price..... 1.25
Black Mercerized Skirts, lined throughout, worth $1.00, our price..... 88c

Ladies' Tailor-Made Suits.

Perfect in fit and finish—perfect in style. Tailor-made Suits of Orford Grey and Cadet Blue Venitians. Jackets silk lined, worth $10 00, now..... 7.50
Suits in Royal and Navy Venitians, silk lined Jackets, percaline lined skirts. Worth $12.50 now..... 10.50
One lot suits in Navy Blue and Black Coverts well made throughout, worth $7.50, now.. 5.00

Flannelette Wrappers.

If flannelette was used for nothing else it would merit distinction for its adaptability as a fabric for women's wrappers. The spinners make it soft, light and warmthful. The designers and dyers do their part creditably and we look after the making and pricing.

Women's wrappers made of striped and figured flannelette, ruffle over the shoulders, skirt finished with wide ruffle; would be cheap at $1.25, our price..... 98c
Wrappers made of novelty flannelettes, yokes trimmed with braid, skirt finished with wide ruffle at...$1.23, $1.39 and up to $2 98
Eiderdown Dressing Sacques in Pink, Blues Cardinal, etc.; beautiful creations at from 75c to..... $3 00

Tuesday's Daily.

—Workmen are putting on the roof of the power house.

—NOTICE. No hunting or shooting allowed on my farm. H. H. WEAVER

—Six dollars buys a heavy ulster overcoat; $8 buys one of those fine dress overcoats at G. H. Yesbera's, Auburn.

—Henry Shull has sold the dwelling opposite his residence to James Blodgett who will occupy it in the near future.

—Go to Sheffer & Chaney for Michigan Lake Salt, a car load just received. Guaranteed not to get hard in the barrel. oct.26w-tf

The whereabouts of Aguinaldo are in doubt. It is thought by some that he has not fully escaped, but may be somewhere in hiding.

—John A. Campbell, the Butler fire insurance man, was in town today and called on his old friend in this office.

—We have forty pieces of suitings we are making up to your order for $18, $20 and $22 a suit.—Yesbera, Auburn.

—John Lochner has nearly completed the two new houses at Garrett for Mrs. Ober, who will rent them to parties there.

—Mrs. Wm. Likens was her yesterday and paid their COURIER way ahead into 1900. That's what makes the editor happy.

—Charles Rugman will begin work with a force of men and the teams in a few days on a job of road making in Fairfield township.

—Mrs. Chas. Kinsey was called to South Milford by telephone today, announcing the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Geo. Dancer.

—Otis Boren has returned from Elkhart where he was employed at his trade as carpenter. He reports the work in that line as being plentiful.

—While at work cutting timber south of town this morning for the handle factory John Dawkins met with an accident that might have proved serious.

—Frank Boyle has taken the place of Lin Calkin in the light plant and is proving an apt scholar in the new business. Frank is a reliable man wherever he is.

—Mrs. Sarah Cass has received a letter from her brother in-law, Sam Buss who is now living at Denver, Col. He reports himself and family enjoying health and prosperity.

—Overstocked on men's heavy pan's and we want every man who reads this to call at our store and see the specials at $1.50, $1 98, $2 40 and $3.00 per pair —G. H. YESBERA, Auburn, Ind.

—WANTED:—Iron-gray gelding five or six years old, weight about 1400 pounds; also some other horses from 1200 up. Inquire of E. Watson at the bowling alley, one door north of marshal's office.

—LOST:—A silver link bracelet containing six silver and two gold hearts and one silver wishbone. Finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving at the office of the Auburn Lumber Company near Wabash depot.

—Four marriage licenses have been issued since our last report. Oscar Fulk and Esther E. Eberly, Daniel S. Jennings and Minnie Warner, James A. Shull and Sadie Zimmerman and one "don't publish".

—LOST:—A shepherd dog, black and shaggy, four white feet, is about six month old, will answer to the name of "Ponto." A liberal reward for his return at my home one-half north of Auburn.—FILMORE SHULL.

—King Oscar of Sweden has been chosen to arbitrate the damages caused to property in the Samoan Islands last winter by the American and British warships, when they put down the civil war between the native chiefs.

—The band sawmill is again in operation after an enforced idleness of several weeks caused by the explosion of the boilers. There is a big stock of timber on hand and the mill will be kept running steadily for some time to come.

—We are in receipt of a program of the Grant township Sunday school institute, to be held at Waterloo Wednesday afternoon and evening, November 18. C. D. Meigs of Indianapolis, general secretary of the state work, will be the principal speaker.

—"It has become a household medicine with us,—we cannot get along without it," writes Mrs. R. R. Wilson, Gordon, Ark., of Beggs' Cherry Cough Syrup, the guaranteed remedy for coughs, colds, la grippe, consumption and all kinds of bronchial affections. Never fails.—Sold by H. B. MCCORD.

—Uncle George Wagner was a caller today and chipped in in favor of the Old Reliable. He is a sound man for one of his age, for he will be 78 on Nov. 25, and on the last of December, he and his wife who is 76, will have been married 55 years. Very few people reach such a ripe age and remain in such good health.

—Place your confidence in a remedy that is guaranteed to cure. "I coughed constantly and my strength was all exhausted. I looked more like one dead than alive. Beggs' Cherry Cough Syrup entirely cured me."—Mrs. S. D. Harsh, Fairport Kan. For all throat and lung troubles. It has never failed. —Sold by H. B. MCCORD.

—William Shellhouse, was arrested by Marshal Freese of Garrett and Deputy Sheriff Baird today under an indictment for forgery returned by the last grand jury, and was brought here and lodged in jail. Less than a year ago Shellhouse completed a term in the penitentiary for a similar offense, but that experience seems to have been of little benefit to him.

—Our clothing man, Yesbera, says he will go to Chicago in a few days to select an especially fine stock of goods suitable for holiday gifts. We advise our readers to visit his store.

Ther's Keenest ...Pleasures

....in making your selections from a good stock; one that shows reliable ideas from the store that feels there's nothing too good to pass along to the trade. We give extra rest to your pleasure by lowest price. PRICES that particularly shrewed buyers, the buyers who are looking for a place where every possible advantage is assured them. Brimfull of good arguments is every item shown, the kind of selling logic that convinces.

Underwear

MEN'S UNDERWEAR, wool fleeced. all sizes, 48c garment or per suit..... 95c
MEN'S GREY MIXED, 24c garment or suit at 48c
BOYS' WOOL fleeced, all sizes, 24c a garment or for the suit..... 48c
Bargain for the boys.
CHILDREN'S fleeced lined underwear, in all sizes from 10c to..... 32c
CHILDREN'S fleeced lined union suits, a suit 24c
LADIES' fleeced lined union suits, good values per suit from.....24c to 48c

Boys' School Pants

Boys' School Pants, all-wool, per pair..... 48c
Boys' Corduroy Pants from.....48c to 75c

Fascinators

Fascinators, all-wool, in all colors from .24c to 48c
Ice Wool Fascinators, black and white, large sizes from.....39 to 95c

Mittens

Ladies' Wool Mittens, per pair..8, 10, 15 and 24c
Ladies' Kid and Moca Mittens, Fur top, per pair..... 48c
Children's Kid and Moca Mittens, Fur top, per pair.....39 to 43c
Scotch plaid gloves for ladies' per pair..... 48c
Men's Leather Gloves and Mittens, per pair.... 19c
Every one else sells them at 25c.
Men's Jersey Shirts from..... 39 to 48c
Men's Flannelet and Outing shirts..... 48c
German Knitting Yarns in all colors, 19c per skein or per pound..... 75c
Saxon Yarn in all colors, per skein..... 5c
Ladies' all-wool underskirts.....95c to $1.69
Extra heavy ones, ask to see them.

Blankets

From the amount of blankets we sold last week it shows that the people know when to buy them. Prices from.....45c to $1.48

COLLARETTES

$2.50 buys a full sweep, not a little short one.

We have sold twice the amount this year than last and still have a good line left. See them before buying and be convinced that we can save you money.

The Bazar Store,

F. J. NEBELUNG, Prop. Auburn, Indiana.

Dr. Humphreys'

Specifics act directly upon the disease, without exciting disorder in other parts of the system. They Cure the Sick.

NO.	CURES.	PRICES.
1	Fevers, Congestions, Inflammations.	.25
2	Worms, Worm Fever, Worm Colic...	.25
3	Teething, Colic, Crying, Wakefulness	.25
4	Diarrhea, of Children or Adults.....	.25
7	Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis.....	.25
8	Neuralgia, Toothache, Faceache.....	.25
9	Headache, Sick Headache, Vertigo...	.25
10	Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Weak Stomach.	.25
11	Suppressed or Painful Periods....	.25
12	Whites, Too Profuse Periods.....	.25
13	Croup, Laryngitis, Hoarseness.....	.25
14	Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Eruptions..	.25
15	Rheumatism, Rheumatic Pains.....	.25
16	Malaria, Chills, Fever and Ague.....	.25
19	Catarrh, Influenza, Cold in the Head	.25
20	Whooping-Cough.....	.25
27	Kidney Diseases.....	.25
28	Nervous Debility.....	1.00
30	Urinary Weakness, Wetting Bed...	.25
77	Grip, Hay Fever.....	.25

Dr. Humphreys' Manual of all Diseases at your Druggists or Mailed Free.
Sold by druggists, or sent on receipt of price. Humphreys' Med. Co., Cor. William & John Sts., New York.

Notice to Non-Resident.

STATE OF INDIANA, DEKALB COUNTY. } SS.

In the DeKalb Circuit Court, December Term, 1899;

Ida M. Baltz is hereby notified that an action has been commenced against her in said court, to foreclose a mortgage on real estate, by Letitia Walbern, Clara McClellan and Amanda Rice and that the same will be heard and determined on the 8th day of January, 1900, being the 19th juridical day of the next term of said court, which commences December 18, 1899.

Witness, the Clerk of said court this 13th day of November, 1899.

MICHAEL F. LONG, Clerk.

Hoffman & Link, Atty's for Plaintiffs.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE OF INDIANA, DEKALB COUNTY, } SS.

In the DeKalb Circuit Court, December Term, 1899:

Alanson Sumner and Stephen Clark are here by notified that an action has been commenced against them in said court, to quiet title and cancel mortgage on real estate, by Peter Coyle et. al., and that the same will be heard and determined on the 8th day of January, 1900, being the 19th juridical day of the December term of said court, which commences December 18, 1899.

Witness, the Clerk of said court, this 11th day of November, 1899.

MICHAEL F. LONG, Clerk.

Moody & Bickel, Att'ys for Plaintiffs.

MICA AXLE GREASE

It's easy to haul a big load up a big hill if you grease the wagon wheels with MICA Axle Grease. Get a box and learn why it's the best grease ever put on an axle. Sold everywhere. Made by STANDARD OIL CO.

Sore Throat

Sore throat and constant coughing indicate an affection of the bronchial tubes which may develop into pleurisy or inflammation of the lungs. Do not wait; but use Dr. John W. Bull's Cough Syrup at once and be cured.

Dr. Bull's COUGH SYRUP

Cures Hoarseness and Sore Throat. Doses are small and pleasant to take. Doctors pronounced it. Price 25 cts. At all druggists.

Monday's Daily.

—Mrs. J. M. Lawrence died recently at her home at Cimmaron, Kansas.

—Mrs. Rebecca Morr paid up her subscription Saturday and has thanks for it.

—FOR SALE:—A thoroughbred Jersey cow and her calf. Call on J. A. Clifton. Auburn.

—Obe Leas and wife of Waterloo visited their daughter, Mrs. Carl Schomberg, Sunday.

—John Bishop is holding his own well. The wound is healing, but his mind seems no better.

—Lafe Marvin left this morning for Edon, Ohio, where he has accepted a position on the Independent.

—V. L. Briner, editor of the Hamilton Hustler, spent Sunday in town, a guest of Frank Thomas and wife.

—Mrs. Mary McDowell has taken up her residence with her mother, Mrs. Barclay, on south Jackson street.

—John Robbins is improving and can now use his right hand a little but the other is still considerably swollen.

—James McDowell ventured out of the house a little too soon and is suffering from a relapse of his attack of quinsy.

—Frank Turbie, Princeton, fired a shotgun at a railroad tie, Wednesday and one of the shots rebounded, putting his eye out.

—One of the outgrowths of the old Humbarger estate business was argued in court this forenoon by Mr. Emanuel and Mr. Hoffman.

—LOST:—Between Auburn and Kendallville, brass top off the end of dray spindle. Finder please return to Chas. Reesch, Auburn, Ind.

—John G. Miller paid his subscription to the weekly COURIER Saturday with a load of first-class dry hickory wood. We would not object if several others would follow his example.

—Geo. Quince reports good meetings last week at Leo, Spencerville and Newville. They were at Leo Saturday evening, at Spencerville, Sunday forenoon and at Newville Sunday evening.

—Mrs. James Griswold has received word that her daughter, Mrs. Julia Flint of Lansing, Mich., is quite ill and Mrs. Frank Lawrence will go to that place tomorrow to assist in caring for her.

—MARRIED:—At the residence of the bride's parents in Stafford township by Rev. W. O. Butler, November 9, 1899, Mr. Oscar Fulk of Waterloo to Miss Esther Eberly, daughter of D. J. Eberly.

—Morris Eckhart and wife are entertaining a most welcome visitor in the person of a fine baby girl, born yesterday morning. All are well, including the happy father and Grandpas Eckhart and McEnterfer.

—Dickson Bray, farmer near Noblesville, caught his hand in a corn shredder, Tuesday, and his arm was chopped into jiblets as far as the elbow. He is the sixteenth person in the county to lose his arm in a corn shredder.

—MARRIED:—Last Saturday evening, November 11, at the Lutheran parsonage by Rev. Brosy, James A. Shull and Sadie Zimmerman. They will settle on a farm southwest of Auburn Junction. We wish them success and happiness.

—Wednesday, Attorney John W Ryan, Muncie, turned over to the county $700 that he had held in trust for Olin Orebough for 17 years. The girl was 4 years old when her father died in Kansas. He sent for her, and she never has been found.

—Those $1 50 and $2 00 knee pants suits are going fast; you had better buy one now at G. H. Yesbera't.

—WANTED:—Black Walnut logs for timber. Highest cash prices paid for same. Address, The Sanders & Egbert Co., Goshen, Ind. 8

—To all points in competition where the fare is $2 or more we have free bus and free baggage to the Junction. tf SPROTT & KNAPP, Agency B. & O. Ry.

—Mr. Harry Sprow and wife came last Thursday from their home in Oklahoma, to visit the family of Frank Powers, he being a brother of Mrs. Powers. They went to Sherwood in Defiance county today, and will visit Mr. Sprow's parents and other relatives.

—Makes the blood pure, renovates the entire system, gives new life and strength,—Beggs' Blood Purifier. "It cured me of a long standing and chronic case of fistula."—R. A. Bently, Summit, Fla. Endorsed by physicians. Guaranteed not to fail. Try it.—Sold by H. B. MCCORD.

—The funeral of Mrs. G C. Labnum was held at the Lutheran church at the hour for regular services yesterday morning, and was largely attended. The services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. Brosy, after which the remains were interred in Evergreen cemetery under the direction of G. S. McCord.

—To Deputy Postmaster Grover we are indebted for the information that during the weighing of mails which ended last Monday there originated in the Auburn office 6,478 pounds of mail of all classes, of which over 6,012 pounds was sent out over the railways. These figures compare very favorably with those of other towns in this part of the state.

—Prof. Dean C. Worcester speaks in Chicago tonight on the Philippines question. He is a member of the commission that has been in the Islands all summer to try and assist in settling the trouble and he with the other members has been in Washington a week or two with Admiral Dewey, making their report. He is the husband of Nannie Leas, daughter of the late Ex-Sheriff A. S. Leas.

—Mrs. Matt Zirwes has received a bundle of papers, the 'Freedom," from Manila, and a roster of Company D, of which her brother is a member. In the list of names his appears as a musician. She has had no letter from him for some time, but the receipt of these papers shows that he is all right so far. He was wounded in the fight at Pasig river in March, shot twice in the arm, but not seriously. Soon after they reached Manila they were put into the front lines and were in battles for four days right along, but it seems that most of the time since then the Twentieth has been on duty guarding and policing in Manila.

—Yesterday was home mission day at the Lutheran church. In the morning the Sunday school scholars, young and old came with their envelopes containing their offering for home missions, and when the offering was counted it amounted to $36.47. In the evening Lutheran exercise was rendered to a large and appreciative audience. One of the pleasing features of the entertainment was a selection by Mr. L. Bowers on his phonograph, entitled "Beulah Land." At the close of the service an offering was taken which amounted to $8.53, making in all for the day $45. The amount asked for by the pastor was $42 63. This is the largest offering the people of the Lutheran church ever made for mission in one day. They certainly did themselves credit by their liberal gift.

Wednesday's Daily.

—Santa Claus has arrived at Neher's studio. d6-w2

—Mrs. Fred Sodtman is very sick at her home south of Auburn.

—We are glad to report that Mrs. Harrison is improving, and now out of danger.

—Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Goodrich of Sedan were callers today paying their paper up into 1900.

—Dr. Baxter reports a big boy at Craig Bookmiller's on South Cedar-st, born last evening.

—The next attraction at the opera house will be "The Knobs o' Tennessee," next Tuesday evening.

—Frank Long, the jolly Ebersole piano man, was up from Fort Wayne yesterday on a business trip.

—The large new bell for Norris chapel arrived yesterday and will be placed in position this week.

—Your negatives made at Neher's studio will not leave town, and you can have duplicates made at any time.

—We have about twenty of those $4 suits yet. They are baagains and no mistake.—G. H. YESBERA, Auburn.

—Mrs. Hodge has word that her daughter Julia will arrive here the last of the month to remain several weeks.

—Ladies who take pride in beautiful, clear white clothes should use Russ' Bleaching Blue. Refuse imitations.

—The ladies of the Presbyterian church are arranging to have their annual bazar the first or second week in December.

—WANTED, Employment in a small, respectable family, by a lady with a 20-months old child. Address M. Hall, Garrett, Ind. 47

—Several Goshen men are arranging to go into business at Hayward City, the new cement town, as soon as rooms can be secured, —Billy Edgington takes pleasure in his frequent horeback rides. He was a member of the Twelfth Indiana cavalry in the rebellion.

—LOST:—On Saturday evening, a light colored gents glove for left hand. Finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving at this office. Nov.16

—An engineer is making plans to dam Niagara river enough to raise the level of Lake Erie three feet and of Lake Huron one foot.

—See Schaab & Bro.'s new and timely advertisement in this week's issue. They always have something valuable to say to their patrons.

—The DeKalb county farmers' institute will be held at Waterloo January 15 and 16. Messrs. Husselman and Ross will be the principal speakers.

—Dr. Yarian reports a case of scarlet fever a few miles in the country. To-day the patient seems improving and he hopes it will not be a severe case.

—A new insurance company is starting up at Indianapolis. It is to insure the correctness of land titles. A queer idea but it will will probably be patronized.

—S. C. Snyder and family leave for California the first of next week, where they will spend some time in the hope of benefitting Mrs. Snyder's health.

—Presents for you—fine hand painted medallions given away with each dozen photos at Neher's studio. Also handkerchief pictures and extra Platinos on superb mount. d6-w2

NOTICE TO HUNTERS.—All persons are warned not to hunt on my farm or to cross it with dogs or guns. Trespassers will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. HENRY C. SHULL.

—The contract has been signed for the construction of the electric railroad from Peru to Kendallville which will run via Rochester, Warsaw and Albion, and work will begin early next spring.

—To be thrice happy, use Russ' Bleaching Blue; don't be deceived by fraudulent imitations.

—The latest new name on our weekly list is Walter Moffitt, son of B. F. Moffitt of Jackson center. He has moved to Thos. Sommers' farm just north of town, a very desirable place for a young farmer.

—FOR SALE:—Three thoroughbred short horn bull calves. Call on me at my residence in Stafford township:—JOSEPH WILSON, breeder of short-horn cattle. 46

—A Chicago expert asserts that woman is man's equal. There are men who will admit under pressure that some of them are more than an equal for some men.

—Isaac Grogg, corner Jackson and Fifth streets, makes wood tanks and cisterns cheaper than any other man in county. It will pay you to see him before leaving your order. His work is always first-class. w&d.

—While digging a foundation for a house on the Jacob Illyes farm, southeast of Tipton, Thursday, a pot containing $1,000 in gold was unearthed. It is supposed to be the treasure that Illyes' father secreted years ago.

—Half pint bottles of champagne were used the other day in extinghishan incipient fire in the basement of a wine house in New York. The most ardent temperance reformer would hardly object to using champagne in that way.

—Guaranteed to stop your hair falling out, remove dandruff, restore natural color, and cure all scalp diseases,—Beggs' Hair Renewer. "Cannot praise it too highly; stopped my hair falling out and started a new growth."—Mrs. McKeever, Abbeyville, Kan.—Sold by H. B. MCCORD.

—The twelfth annual convention of the Christian endeavorers of Indian will be held at Richmond November 30 to December 3, and it is expected to be a record-breaker in point of attendance. There are over 80,000 members in the state divided about 30,000 delegates expected to attend the convention.

—Several months ago an Elkhart woman sued her husband for divorce, but before the case came up for trial the couple "kissed and made up." The woman refused to pay her attorneys anything for their work on the case, and they filed suit to recover; a jury tried the case and decided that the lawyers were entitled to $1,200.

—Another Auburn citizen has been chosen to an honorable position. Chas. Eckhart received notice of his selection as the Indiana member of the National Committee of the prohibition party. The National committee is called to meet in Chicago, December 13, when they will set the time and place for their national convention and also elect a chairman.

Quite a misfortune has occurred in the Philippines. One of our fine cruisers, the Charleston, run on a reef on the northwest coast of Luzon, Nov. 7. All on board were saved, but the fine steel vessel will probably be a total loss. She was made at San Francisco and was one of the first vessels sent to carry ammunition to Dewey after the Spanish fleet was destroyed.

ELM HALL, Mich., Nov. 25, '99.

I am past 69 years of age. I have practiced medicine since that year before the rebellion, but for the past year have done only an office practice. Would you believe that so old a practitioner would step aside from his prejudices to take what is commonly called a patent medicine? For years I have been taking Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It seems to be just what I require When I am tired and languid it braces me up. EDWARD WILSON, M. D.

Hand Painted Medallion Free!

A HAND PAINTED 3½ Medallion of yourself, will be given with each dozen platino cabinet pictures. This is a special offer, call early.

Pictures on Handkerchiefs

Postal Cards, etc. We can please you in any kind of photographic work.

Lybarger The Photographer, N. Main St., AUBURN, IND.

Peter Kuntz, Pres., Chicago; W. H. Keckler, Treas., Auburn.

The Auburn LUMBER Co.

Central 'Phone No. 12.

We sell all kinds of Lumber for Building, and Make Window and Door Frames to Order. We can Sell you Doors and Windows and SAVE YOU MONEY. We carry all kinds of Shingles, from $1 per thousand to the very best. Headquarters for.....

Wood Burnt Bulk Lime.

The Genuine Article

We can SAVE YOU MONEY in PRICE, WEIGHT & QUALITY Come and see us and examine our Lime, and you will be convinced. We also carry Cement, Plastering Hair, Plaster Paris, etc.

Auburn Lumber Co.
Near Wabash Depot. AUBURN.

Dr. Broughton WATERLOO,

Will test your Eyes and Adjust your Glasses and GUARANTEE SATISFACTION. In Auburn at Dr. Baxter's office every Wednesday.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

POLITICS OF THE DAY

SIX MILITARY GOVERNMENTS.

When the White House syndicate, trading on a lucky deal in bankrupt notes, made the war with Spain a pretext for imperialism the United States had an army of 27,000 men and a navy whose combined cost was $54,000,000 a year.

Look at the difference now. This republic is now maintaining six military governments. The revenues of the captured territory are not sufficiently rich as yet to defray the cost, and much of it is taken from the pockets of the taxpayer. Cuba, Porto Rico, the Philippines, Hawaii, Alaska and Guam are all under the control of the military. Civil government has been wholly eliminated in the six possessions, and the bayonet and the sword are the final arbiters. Save in the Philippines, there has been no open attempts to dispute bayonet government. But the inhabitants of the six military-ruled territories have appealed to Congress for relief from the burden. The situation in Porto Rico is especially intolerable, for the natives of that island, who met with flags and acclaim the American army of occupation, are ruled with an iron hand more unbending than that of the Spaniards we chased into the sea.

For purposes of his own the President has made no attempt to have civil government established in Porto Rico. Under the guise of controlling through the military arm until Congress would have time to act, the administration has been perpetrating a series of systematic robberies in connection with the form of government it proposes to establish there. The administration proposes no immediate change in the form of government for Cuba. Until forced to give up this tempting plum, the War Department will maintain a military despotism there. Profitable fields for speculation for the War Department's pets are made available by continued bayonet rule in Cuba. The rich revenues of the island are used without question from a higher authority. Until Congress actually takes a hand and asserts its unquestioned right to terminate the War Department's tenure, there will be millions spent in questionable ways.—Verdict.

Way Is Clear for Bryan.

The election result in Nebraska will have a tendency to deter any other Democrat from making an attempt to compete with W. J. Bryan for the Democratic Presidential nomination next year. There is no other candidate for the nomination in sight nor is it probable that any other candidate will appear. On a broad platform of Democratic time-honored principles—on a platform like that on which Tilden or Cleveland stood, with the issue of anti-imperialism added—he would lead a united party to the polls. His elation over his success in Nebraska is natural and amply displayed. He sees no rival for the leadership in his own party. This triumph he has gained by great labor and it is not disputed.

There seems now to be no possible doubt as to who will be the opposing candidates next year for President. The campaign of 1896 will be reproduced, with the results to be determined by the votes. Save that Maryland may now be counted in the Democratic column the battlefield of 1900 will be substantially that of 1896; the standard bearers will be the same, but the issues will be different.—Chicago Chronicle.

Rather Paradoxical.

At the outbreak of the British-Boer war we find devout Englishmen, as usual, prostrating themselves before their altars, and appealing to their god of battles to bless their cause. The Boers perform the same service. As they are both supposedly Christian nations, it follows that they are both appealing to the same divinity, both claiming the support of the same omnipotence. But as even a divinity could not give the victory to both sides simultaneously it follows that one party or the other is certain to be disappointed. After the issue shall have been determined the world will probably fall back to its materialistic theory, that God is on the side of the strongest battalions and those of the greatest staying powers.—Los Angeles Herald.

Pure Cant.

McKinley talks about "churches and schools," about American patriotism, about peace, about our reasons "for profound thanksgiving" and yet as a consequence of his personal policy, or lack of policy, the power of the United States is being exerted to compel the submission of a people who have never owed us submission, in violation of the very principles for which our American forefathers fought in King George's day. To talk about peace at such a time as this is the cant of a whining hypocrite.—Buffalo Enquirer.

Destiny Doing It All.

It would not be at all surprising to find the administration represented by a big fleet and an army of 40,000 men somewhere on the coast of China some fine morning. It would be there quite unexpectedly and providentially, we may depend. It would reverently recognize the fact, of course, that duty determined its destiny or destiny determined its duty to seize and benevolently assimilate a large section of China, with 50,000,000 inhabitants, more or less.—Chicago Chronicle.

A Pointed Question.

The President's commissioner says to interfere with this institution of slavery would bring on "a bloody and wholly unnecessary war." Perhaps so. But was it necessary to bring under American jurisdiction slave territory, in the first place? Was it necessary to add to American dominions territory which could not be held in peace without trampling upon the 13th amendment, that sacred heritage of the most awful sacrifices in the nation's blood and treasure?—Springfield Republican.

The War of a Syndicate.

The American branch of the Anglo-American China Development Company is the power that is behind the President in his war upon the Filipinos. They do not want peace in the Philippines. They want war. They want war for two reasons. One that the army and navy of America may be at a convenient distance from China to further their schemes in that quarter of the globe and second, as an excuse to raise a great army that can be used in their interests in the United States when the occasion requires it.—Washington National Watchman.

Hawaiian "Americans."

The expected has happened. A native Hawaiian has been permitted to land in New York, arriving by way of London, on the ground that he is an American citizen. This is exactly what Democrats have long asserted would be the result of annexing Hawaii. There are 25,000 Chinaman in Hawaii, and as soon as they understand that the island is part of this country they will begin to swarm over to the Pacific coast. Pauper labor will be imported to the States to compete with the workingmen who are now employed at starvation wages and the results are too distressing to contemplate.

But that is not the worst of it. With the Philippines a part of this nation, the lowest-priced laborers in the world will be brought here. Of this there can be no doubt, for capital is ever anxious to "reduce the expenses of production" and the starvation wages paid foreign coal miners in the East prove this assertion. If the imperialists could get their visions of glory out of their heads and come down to a serious consideration of the results which must follow their ruinous policy some hope might be had of the Republican party. But such a thing is out of the question and the only salvation for the people lies in the Democratic party.

More Honorable Part.

It is easier and pleasanter to applaud the gallantry of American soldiers and to swell with pride over the resources of our country, but it is the duty of Americans who are not blind to justice to take the harder part of opposing the exercise of our national strength in a bad cause. American imperialists are quick to see this point when it is illustrated away from home. The American press is almost a unit in condemning Great Britain for the Transvaal situation and in applauding Sir Vernon Harcourt, Mr. Morley and the body of justice-loving Englishmen who withstand the disingenuous appeal to their patriotism and show themeselves patriots by trying to put their country in the right. —Buffalo Enquirer.

A Republican Query.

Republican papers, with customary Republican idiocy, are asking: "Suppose the Filipinos are subjugated before the next Presidential election, where, then, will be your issue?" It will be here. If in the next year those harried Asiatics are overborne by superior numbers, the murder and robbery of them will not be in any less wrong. It is the duty of the Democratic party to see that this country is governed along the lines of justice and right, and the Democratic party, backed by decent Republicans, will so see.—The Iconoclast.

Are Both Wrong and Afraid.

Now, why is it that all the imperialists from McKinley down—or up—with one accord seek to make people believe that nothing whatever was possible in the case of the Philippines except either to subjugate them or else "sail away like a sated pirate" and leave the inhabitants to "domestic anarchy and foreign spoliation?" There can be only one reason. They are afraid to let the people know the truth. They are afraid to let the people know that by adopting the Cuban alternative all this costly and bloody war of subjugation might have been avoided without either domestic anarchy or foreign spoliation.—Chicago Chronicle.

No Wonder.

In Germany every man must serve in the army from 18 to 25. Just think what it means. Seven of the best years of life taken at a time when the character is being formed and the foundation being laid for a life career. No wonder that the German-Americans are opposed to the President's policy, for it will certainly bring us to the same conditions as that which exists in Germany.—Toledo Commercial.

As in the Philippines.

There is a salutary lesson to be drawn by Americans from the Transvaal war. The power of a great nation is being used to murder the people, devastate their homes and spread carnage and desolation in South Africa to enhance the fortunes of a few powerful men in England who are able to influence action of the government.—Washington National Watchman.

Only One Way to "Call" Him.

An exchange has observed that Mr. Hanna's indorsement of trusts has demoralized the Republican leaders and that he will have to be "called off." Who will call him? Mr. Hanna is boss and has sole possession of the club. The only way to reach him is through the ballot.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Signs of Being Rattled.

The Globe-Democrat is very much afraid that Mr. Bryan will hearten Aguinaldo. But what is the matter with our gifted Republican administration? Doesn't it propose to smash Aguinaldo before Mr. Bryan is nominated? Really, the organs are becoming incoherent.—Atlanta Constitution.

The Court and the Boss Don't Agree.

Mark Hanna is likely to denounce the Illinois Supreme Court; it has plainly declared a trust to be in operation in that State and that it is illegal. Mark says there is not a trust in the country. —Manchester Union.

How long will it take a farmer to acquire a competency under a system that constantly depreciates the price of what he has to sell and at constantly increases the price of what he has to buy?—Omaha World-Herald.

LET US ALL LAUGH.

JOKES FROM THE PENS OF VARIOUS HUMORISTS.

Pleasant Incidents Occurring the World Over—Sayings that Are Cheerful to Old or Young—Funny Selections that You Will Enjoy.

Confirmed Spinster.

"Marry you?" the young woman scornfully exclaimed. "I wouldn't marry you if you were——"

"Jupiter Olympus, the Czar of Russia, or the Count of Monte Cristo?" sarcastically interrupted the young man.

"No!" she rejoined, with increasing scorn. "Not even if you were the man who sent Dewey to the Philippines!"—Chicago Tribune.

On the Briny Deep.

"There is one good thing about an ocean voyage," remarked the globe trotter.

"What is that?" queried his companion.

"Why, a man can get as tight as he pleases every day and everybody will think he is only seasick," answered the traveler.—Chicago News.

Power of the Free Pass.

"Did old Skinflint object to his daughter marrying an actor?"

"No. It was shown to him that he could get free seats every time his son-in-law comes to town."—Philadelphia North American.

Absent-minded professor (mistaking hair brush for a mirror)—Really, I do need a shave.

Wonderful Development.

Watts—The development of the sense of touch in the blind is something always a wonder to me.

Gotrox—I have it pretty well developed myself. I have got it so I can tell a borrower two blocks away.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Dangerous Man.

Halfback—We ought to get that young freshman from Oklahoma on the football team.

Center Rush—Why?

Halfback—The boys tried to haze him last night, and six of them are in the hospital to-day.—New York Journal.

Objected to the "Coon Song."

"Whut's dat you wah singin'?" asked the old man.

"Dat's de lates' coon song," answered Mr. Erastus Pinkley.

"Well, you oughter go on 'bout yoh work, 'stid o' makin' yohself laughable tryin' to imitate white folks' ways."—Washington Star.

Unavoidable.

Reporter—Was that accident unavoidable?

Railroad President—Certainly, sir, certainly. No one to blame. You see the watchman had two crossings to look after, half a mile apart. You can't expect a man to be in two places at once, can you?—New York Weekly.

Knew What to Expect.

"Is you on duty, policeman?"

"Yes, miss. Why?"

"'Cause I'm lost!"—Punch.

Coffee for Breakfast.

Doctor—Dyspepsia, eh. You want to drink a cup of hot water first thing every morning.

Patient—I always do. My boarding mistress invariably serves coffee for breakfast.—Philadelphia Record.

Always "Out" Up to 1 A. M.

Wife (pathetically)—Are you going to be out until after midnight again tonight?

Husband—Oh, I suppose so! I never seem to have any luck until about 1 o'clock.—Detroit Journal.

Speaking of the Muse.

Tommy—Pop, are there nine Muses?

Tommy's Pop—Yes, my son; according to mythology.

Tommy—Is that why a cat has nine lives?—Philadelphia Record.

Almost a Suicide.

Biggs—I nearly killed my barber this morning.

Boggs—Judging from the appearance of your face I should say he nearly killed you.

Biggs—It amounts to the same thing. I shave myself.—New York Journal.

There's Many a Slip.

Toffer—Have a cigar, old boy. I'm afraid, though, these are not very good. In fact, they may be worse than those I gave you last.

Friend (in a burst of politeness)—Impossible, my dear boy, impossible.—New York Weekly.

Such Is Life.

Jimmie—Gee! De paper says dat dey ain't room ter all de kids ter go ter school. Mebbe we won't harter go dis year.

Tommy—Betcher life we will! De kids wot likes ter go ter school is de only ones wot gits ter stay away.—San Francisco Examiner.

Amateur Theatricals.

Mabel (the heroine)—Oh, dear! The curtain will rise in five minutes. Are you sure you will know your lines?

Jack (the hero)—All except the part where I kiss you. I think we'd better rehearse that once more.—New York Journal.

The Ways of Women.

Alfred, dear, I've one favor to beg of you—if we meet the Strebels be as attentive and affectionate toward me as you can! You see, Frau Strebel is always hateful to me, and her husband is as selfish and inconsiderate in his treatment of her as you are ordinarily with me.—Heitere Welt.

Two Gossips.

Mrs. Podd—I'd tell you something if I thought it wouldn't go any further.

Mrs. Pepper—You needn't be afraid. I guess I'll never see the day I can make a piece of news go farther than you can.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Needs More Practice.

Mrs. Nexdore—Our minister evidently doesn't believe in practicing what he preaches.

Mrs. Nabor—How do you mean?

Mrs. Nexdore—Well, he seems to have so much difficulty delivering his sermons.

When to Be in Dead Earnest.

"We want a clergyman who can see a joke."

"I can see a joke all right, but I don't want any humorous arrangements about my salary."—Chicago Record.

Sociability.

Wimper—Spunger is a very sociable sort of fellow, isn't he?

Sharpe—Yes, he's always trying to borrow money.

Post-Mortem Improvements.

"O, things will go better in this world when the fools are all dead, but we sha'n't be here to see it!"—Polichinelle.

Crushed Him.

The Shoe Clerk—Beg your pardon, madam, but it is a number five shoe you want, instead of a number three.

She—Number five! You must be thinking of the size of your hat.—Indianapolis Journal.

The Duet.

"Did Madge Simpson enjoy her trip to the Dewey celebration?"

"I don't know; she talked about it all the time I was there, but I was busy talking to her about my trip to the mountains."—Detroit Free Press.

At the Amateur Performance.

First Gentleman in the Lobby—Has the curtain fallen on the first act?

Second Gentleman in the Lobby—Better than that! It has fallen on the head of the leading man and knocked him senseless.—Somerville Journal.

A Strong Defense.

Mother—Why did you let him kiss you?

Daughter—How could I help it? He was holding both my hands, and I couldn't kick him, could I?—New York Journal.

Winning Argument.

The Invalid—But I am already gaining great benefit from Bogger's Onion Ointment.

The Agent—Yes, and if it should cure you, all you would get would be a single column wood cut; whereas, if you use our remedies you will surely find relief, and the two-column art etching we will print in all the principal papers of the country will be something to gaze on with pride.—Indianapolis Journal.

Cecil Rhodes' Ambition.

Sixteen years ago Cecil J. Rhodes, then a man of small means and no political record, stood in a small Kimberley shop and looked for a long time at a map of Africa which hung on the wall. An acquaintance who had watched him for several minutes stepped up to Rhodes and asked him whether he was attempting to find the location of Kimberley. Mr. Rhodes made no reply for several seconds, then placed his right hand over the map and covered a large part of south and central Africa, from the Atlantic to the Indian Ocean. "All that British!" he said. "That is my dream." "I will give you ten years to realize it," said the friend. "Give me ten more," said Rhodes, "and then we'll have a new map." Three-fourths of the required time has passed and the full realization of Rhodes' dream must take place within the next four years.

Peas and Beans Nutritious.

Peas and beans are the most nutritious of vegetables, containing as much carbon as wheat and double the amount of muscle-forming food.

BLUFF WON THE DAY.

GOOD AS A LETTER OF CREDIT IN EUROPE.

It Wouldn't Have Worked in America, but in the Little Nice Hotel It Carried Everything Before It—Assurance of a Yankee Tourist.

"Here at home bluff doesn't count for much," said a globe trotter, "but I'm telling you that a good, stiff bluff, with a cheeky American behind it, is worth a lot of money in Europe. When I got around to Nice last year the best hotels were crowded and I had to take up with a small room. On the same floor was a German who was occupying a suite, though not spending much money or putting on any great style. One day there was a great row. The landlord had asked him as a particular favor to vacate for a new-comer, and, of course, the man didn't propose to be turned out. The landlord coaxed and argued, and the German growled and muttered, and I followed them down to the office to see how it would come out. At the desk was an American I had run across in Venice—a buyer for a Chicago dry-goods house. When the landlord and the German began to gabble in chorus the buyer pulled a blank check from his pocket and reached for a pen and said:

"'All this talk is of no use. I want rooms here. I will buy the hotel and select my suite. Sir, what is your cash price for this hotel?'

"'You would buy the hotel!' exclaimed the landlord, as he threw up his hands in surprise.

"'Grounds and all, and I want it today. How much—a million—three or four? And what name shall I fill in on the check?'

"Say, now," laughed the tourist, "but you ought to have seen that thing work! The German had determined to be ugly about it, but when he bumped up against a man who had as soon pay four millions as one for what he fancied he felt awed and humbled and ready to quit. The landlord figured that to turn away such a Croesus would ruin his house, and it wasn't half an hour before the bluffer was installed in the suite and the German was chucked out into a dog hole on the top floor. And that wasn't all, mind you. When they sent the buyer a bill based on his supposed millions he got up and threatened to buy up the town and start six soap factories to running, and they cut every item in two and begged his pardon to boot. I don't believe that chap had $1,000 in his name, but he just walked over everything and everybody for two weeks, and it was current gossip that he owned the whole of Chicago and a good share of St. Louis and Cincinnati. Nothing but cold bluff which wouldn't have taken him into an American dance hall as a dead-head, but it was equal to a letter of credit for $1,000,000 over there." —Seattle Times.

FIGHTING GUY HENRY.

Was One of the Bravest Soldiers Who Ever Wore the Blue.

Death mustered out of the service in the country in Gen. Guy V. Henry one of the bravest soldiers and most picturesque characters who ever wore the blue. General Henry, more than any other army officer, perhaps, filled the romance writer's idea of a "beau sabreur." During his long army career he was almost constantly with the cavalry, and he was always at the fore front of a charge. At Cold Harbor he led a brigade across an open bullet-swept field. Midway of the charge he was wounded and his horse was killed. He mounted another horse and led on. His second steed was killed just as, in obedience to Henry's spur, it rose to jump over the enemy's entrenchment. The rider fell wounded within the lines of the foe. For this Congress gave him a medal of honor. General Henry fought the Apaches in the early '70s, and a few years later was shot through the head in a battle with the Sioux. He recovered, and later on took the field again against the same Indians. As Lieutenant Colonel, General Henry was in command of the Ninth Cavalry in the field against the Sioux in 1890. His black troopers idolized him. One day under his leadership they had made a forced march of fifty miles from beyond the White River. They had eaten only a little bread and a cup of coffee each. Word came that the Seventh Cavalry was surrounded. Henry looked at his jaded men and asked his junior officers to sound the temper of the troopers. Would they follow him to the relief of the Seventh? When the colored men found out that Henry wished them to follow they sprang to their saddles and rode after him as though, as some one expressed it, they were going to a ball. Henry and his men rode altogether about eighty miles that day, and the Seventh was saved. General Henry wore the army's medal of honor for conspicuous gallantry. He never held any bureau position. He was a fighting soldier pure and simple, being better acquainted with the frontier camp than with the streets of the city of Washington.

GEN. GUY V. HENRY.

Chamois Killed.

Prince August of Coburg has now shot 3,000 chamois on his estate at Schladming. He killed his first in 1869, in the same district. In 1884 his total bag reached 1,000, and by 1891 he had shot 2,000.

OLD-TIME HARVESTER.

A Combination Reaper and Mower of the Vintage of 1860.

There is an old combination reaper and mower in the possession of the McCormick Harvesting Machine Company. The machine was built in 1860 under the personal supervision of Cyrus McCormick, inventor of the first machine successfully operated in 1831, but which was for years an object of ridicule, both in this country and England.

Forty years ago when the people began to see the practicability of such an invention the combination reaper and mower was thought to be very fine and the farmer who could own one was envied by farmers who could not afford to pay the price these machines brought. The price of a reaper in those days was more than three times the cost of a reaper to-day.

AN 1860 MOWING MACHINE.

In 1860 it took two men to reap a field—one to drive, the other to sit astride the machine facing the cutter and rake in with his arms and throw down the bundles as fast as reaped. The illustration gives a fair idea of the crude affair the farmer was compelled to use in the '60s. Recently a farmer was examining this old reaper. He had owned one like it during the civil war. He said it took him in those days more than twice as long to reap his wheat as it does now.

Consumption.

Nearly one-fourth of the deaths among the animals at the British Zoological Gardens last winter were due to tuberculosis. This is nearly double the human average, and confirms the rapidly growing belief that the disease is emphatically one of confinement and overcrowding, for this society's superb menagerie is very much cramped for room. The difference in the distribution of the disease between the various classes of animals at the Zoo is marked. Reptiles of all sorts are almost exempt, probably because the tubercle bacillus cannot live at the low temperature of their bodies, although two or three suspicious cases were found in tortoises and pythons. Animals suffer nearly 50 per cent. more severely than birds. But the most striking difference is that between the meat-eaters and vegetable feeders. Among vegetarians (monkeys, antelopes, deer and kangaroos) it causes 20 per cent of all deaths; among meat eaters (lions, wolves, small cats, civets) barely 3 per cent. Among grain-eating birds (pheasants, pea-fowl, grouse, ostriches) tubercle is responsible for 30 per cent. of all deaths. Among flesh eaters (eagles, vultures, owls, crows) 11 per cent. Comment is superfluous. An open-air life and a meat diet are clearly the best protection against consumption.

Costly Fruit in England.

At a farmers' club in Devonshire, England, not long since, an experienced gardener in the employ of one of the nobility made the statement that the income from ten acres covered with glass beneath which early vegetables and fruits were grown would exceed that from 10,000 acres of the best farm land as ordinarily tilled. No doubt that assertion was extravagant, but it can be said within the lines of conservatism that the Britisher wasn't off in his figures more than 50 per cent. One man, to our knowledge, a German gardener, sold early cucumbers, melons, and celery, from one acre under glass—cold frames—to Leadville and Aspen (Colo.) miners to the amount of from $3,000 to $4,000 a season.

In England, where, on account of the damp, chilly climate, even peach trees must be trained flat against a brick or stone wall like vines in order to insure fruit, and where corn cannot be grown, extremely fancy prices are paid for extra early fresh fruits and vegetables. A dollar a pound for strawberries and 75 cents apiece for cucumbers are only ordinary prices for these products, when put upon the markets early. Early fruits and vegetables bring handsome returns in large cities in any country.—California Vineyardist.

Sleep Mistakes.

To get up at 7 o'clock, or 8 o'clock, or any other fixed hour every morning, no matter at what time you went to bed the night before is the most effectual way of making a bad workman of yourself. And as for saying that eight hours' sleep is what suits everybody is as nonsensical as to say that one ounce of tobacco—no more, no less—is the quantity every one ought to smoke in a day.

No doubt it is difficult for most people to sleep as long in the morning as the body requires to repair itself. Business having fixed hours, the people who do it must accommodate themselves to them. Still, as long as people use alarms or have themselves called they will continue to feel more or less out of sorts on most days of their life.

For most of us there is only one way of solving the question—that is by going to bed nine or ten hours before the time when our business requires us to get up, and sleeping until we naturally awake. This would mean getting up at various hours, instead of the usual fixed hours. But any one who carried out the plan would feel so vigorous on arising that he could turn the interval before breakfast to good account.

Tall Men Scarce in England.

The directors of the Great Northern railway of England have issued a circular letter to the station agents stating that in future the standard height for porters in the passenger department shall be 5 feet 6 inches and in the goods department 5 feet 4 inches. This is a considerable reduction, forced by a scarcity of taller men.

Electric Street Sweepers.

Electric automobile street-sweeping machines are being prepared to clean the streets of Paris. The old clumsy dirt machines now in use are to be done away with.

SERMONS OF THE WEEK

The Highest Blessing.—To see God and to know Him is the highest blessing which the soul can enjoy.—Rev. Dr. E. H. Ward, Episcopalian, Pittsburg, Pa.

The Bible.—The teachings and examples of the Bible lift it to the pinnacle of sacred books, and make it truly the spiritual light of the race.—Rev. H. R. Rose, Universalist, Auburn, Me.

Science.—Science has wrought havoc with many of the old and cherished ideas concerning God and man and spiritual things.—Rev. D. V. Bowen, Swedenborgian, San Francisco, Cal.

Christ Crucified.—Christ crucified is the one great essential theme of the Gospel. The preaching of the cross is the chief instrument for saving the world.—Rev. Felix Hill, Methodist, Louisville, Ky.

The Idea of God.—The very idea of God bears with it a belief in immortality for man. God is the beginning and end of all. "I am the Alpha and Omega—the beginning and the end."—Rev. J. J. Williams, R. C., Bishop of Boston, Mass.

Our Christianity.—The measure of our Christianity is determined by the meaning to us of the crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus Christ—the truths which they make a part of our lives.—Rev. Dr. A. V. Raymond, Congregationalist, Schenectady, New York.

Love in Justice.—There must be love in justice and justice in love. There must be long-suffering in severity and severity in long-suffering. As father, the obedience which God demands must be reasonable.—Rev. Dr. Behrends, Congregationalist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Scripture.—We may smile as much as we choose at Scripture, yet every word that God has spoken will be fulfilled. There will be compensations and adjustments. And there will be opportunities for growth.—Rev. A. A. Jennings, Universalist, Toledo, Ohio.

Evolution.—If evolution accounts for everything and there are no miracles, you cannot believe in the incarnation, the virgin birth or the resurrection. If man came by a gradual evolution you cannot believe in the fall of man.—Rev. Dr. Patton, Presbyterian, Princeton, N. J.

Blessings of Our Lord.—If we would know the fullness and joy of the blessings of our Lord, let us ask his personal presence through the spirit which God is ever most ready and willing to grant. This was the glory and joy of the church.—Rev. W. D. Thatcher, Baptist, Philadelphia, Pa.

Religion.—Religion should be a strength, guide and comfort, but not a source of intellectual anxiety or argument. If we have done our best to arrive at the truth of God's teaching, to torment ourselves about result is to doubt the goodness of God.—John Wanamaker, Evangelist, Philadelphia, Pa.

Christ's Divinity.—The acceptance of Christ's divinity is seen in the absolute failure of science to account for him. The great conjuring word of to-day is evolution. This is the open sesame to all mysteries. It goes deep and goes far. All life is within the scope of its influence.—Dr. G. H. Combs, Independent, Kansas City, Mo.

The Church.—The church is the only missionary organization, the only medium Christ has for communicating the Gospel to the world. Without it there could be no missions. Under its energetic, persistent, consecrated leadership the world would soon be converted to Christ.—Rev. J. L. Barton, Congregationalist, Bangor, Me.

Workshop of the Mind.—The things which men make are thoughts first; the institutions they have were first conceived in the invisible workshop of the mind; the characters they develop are the result of the ideas and ideals they cherish of human nature, human duty and human destiny.—Rev. Dr. Joseph Stolz, Hebrew, Chicago, Ill.

Mission in Life.—Nations, like individuals, have their mission in life. Great nations have stood for ideas. With the Hebrews it was faith; with the Romans it was conquest and government; with Greece it was art and literature. The whole world has felt the movement of those national ideas.—Rev. Dr. Conaty, Roman Catholic, Washington, D. C.

Mind.—In the so-called material realm are mighty forces which symbolize the might of mind, and yet for long ages men have been ignorant of them. It is but a few years ago that people sneered at the possibility of using electricity in any way, making of the lightning a servant or a slave.—Mrs. Annie M. Knott, Christian Scientist, Kansas City, Mo.

A Standard Lifted.—There are to-day many men who stay from church because they think they are not wanted in the church, and others who stay away because they think they do not need the church; yet both classes feel that there should be a standard lifted—a rallying point made for righteousness.—Rev. Dr. William Rainsford, Episcopalian, New York City.

The Saving of Life.—Salvation in its very etymology is the saving of life. It comprehends not merely the saving of the soul, but also the saving of all the interests which make up the life of a man. Salvation is not a mechanism or a system operating apart from the ordinary occupation of man by which heaven is attained at last, but a process, a leavening of the whole man, body and soul, through which life is perfected and saved from infirmity and guilt.—Rev. Lester Bradner, Episcopalian, New York City.

Peculiar Method of Suicide.

A peculiar way of committing suicide is said to be practiced by the African tribes who dwell near Nyassa. When a despondent tribesman tires of life he wades into the lake and patiently waits until an alligator approaches and kills him.

Habitual Drunkards.

Dr. Laborde, a French physician, in a brochure on the subject, declares that, unless measures are taken at once to prevent it, the French working class in a few years will become habitual drunkards.

Ayer's Pills

Is your breath bad? Then your best friends turn their heads aside. A bad breath means a bad liver. Ayer's Pills are liver pills. They cure constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache. 25c. All druggists.

Want your moustache or beard a beautiful brown or rich black? Then use BUCKINGHAM'S DYE for the Whiskers

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 & 3.50 SHOES UNION MADE.

Worth $4 to $6 compared with other makes.

Indorsed by over 1,000,000 wearers.

The genuine have W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on bottom. Take no substitute claimed to be as good. Your dealer should keep them—if not, we will send a pair on receipt of price. State kind of leather, size, and width, plain or cap toe. Catalogue D free.

W. L. DOUGLAS SHOE CO., Brockton, Mass.

DO YOU COUGH DON'T DELAY TAKE KEMP'S BALSAM THE BEST COUGH CURE

It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 25 cents and 50 cents.

Personally Conducted California Excursions

Via the Santa Fe Route.

Three times a week from Chicago and Kansas City.

Twice a week from St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Once a week from St. Louis and Boston.

In improved wide-vestibuled Pullman tourist sleeping cars. Better than ever before, at lowest possible rates.

Experienced excursion conductors. Also daily service between Chicago and California.

Correspondence solicited.

T. A. GRADY, Manager California Tourist Service, The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway, 109 Adams Street, CHICAGO.

PENSION JOHN W. MORRIS, Washington, D. C. Successfully Prosecutes Claims. Late Principal Examiner U.S. Pension Bureau. 3 yrs in civil war 15 adjudicating claims, atty since

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

An Indian Bridal Pair.

"Once I saw a pretty thing, a young bride of the Kickapoos, on a sort of wedding trip. She was tall and slight, and—so closely do the members of a tribe resemble one another—she looked like the twin sister of her young husband. At first they were accompanied by a stout old chief, but he left after circus day. It is odd to see an Indian chief patronise the peanut and lemonade stands, and sit unmoved at the performance, and yet stand enthralled before the cages of animals unknown on his native prairies. The bride and bridegroom spent three or four days in the town, wandering about as unconsciously as Adam and Eve in the Garden. The man was already masterful and protecting, the girl shy and subservient. Day after day they walked hand in hand, looking at everything, people, shops, cattle, but never speaking to anyone, never even to each other, yet deeply content in the consciousness of companionship. They were a living example of the happiness of simplicity, and, while they stayed in the hustling town, made many a civilized man and woman think of how far their own conduct as wives and husbands fell short of the standard of this unconscious Indian pair."—Ainslee's.

Tea Poisoning.

Victims of tea poisoning are becoming alarmingly prevalent. Women demand the life and variety of Health, and instead of doing it naturally by building up their system they resort to tea. They should take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It tones up the nerves, regulates the bowels and cures dyspepsia.

Miss Proctor's Youthful Critics.

Miss Mary Proctor, the astronomer and lecturer, takes a deep interest in social settlement work in the big cities, and frequently gives her personal services toward entertaining poor children and adults. Generally her lectures are very well received. Many of her audiences often manifest better attention than those drawn from higher circles. Now and then there are exceptions.

On one occasion a bright-eyed little boy, who sat in the front row with his eyes fixed upon the speaker, was asked how he liked it.

"I guess," he said, "it was pretty good, but she ought to talk about lions and tigers. That's better for everybody."

At another lecture a youngster criticised her as follows:

"It's all very well to talk of weighing and measuring stars. There are some people, of course, who believe that sort of thing, but if she thinks she can fool us boys with such fairy tales she's very much mistaken."—Philadelphia Post.

Struck It Big.

Henry A. Salzer, manager of the John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., also president of the Idaho Gold Coin Mining and Milling Company, is in luck. They have recently struck a wonderful deposit of gold on their properties. As a result the stock of the Gold Coin Co. has doubled in value. Many of the patrons of the John A. Salzer Seed Co. are owners of Gold Coin stock. The mines are located in the Seven Devil district, Idaho.

The Thieving Mongoose.

There are numerous instances on record of the remedy being worse than the disease. Witness the case of the mongoose, a small lizard-like animal which was introduced into the West Indies several years ago as a remedy against the gray rats. It made way with the rats partly, but not entirely.

In the meantime, however, it has itself become as great a pest. It has nearly exterminated poultry and birds from the islands, is very destructive to turtle eggs, and is a terror to small lambs pigs and kids. It devours all sorts of fruits, sugar cane, fish, wild game, snakes, crabs, and even extends its thieving operations to the provisions of the house.

A 25c SAMPLE BOTTLE FOR 10c.

DOCTORS INSIST that their patients use "5 DROPS" for RHEUMATISM, KIDNEY DISEASE etc. Read the following letters:

SWANSON RHEUMATIC CURE CO.: When I wrote you for a sample bottle of "5 DROPS" my wife was suffering terribly from Rheumatism and was very discouraged, as I had tried everything the doctors prescribed, even sending her to Richfield Springs, etc. My doctor is very much surprised at the progress my wife is making, and she is so well that she refused to keep her seamstress and is now doing her own sewing. The doctors insist on her taking "5 Drops" and assure her that it is now only a matter of a few days and she will be entirely cured, and as we are very well known here, the "5 DROPS" is receiving considerable attention and praise. F. E. PRICE, Jersey City, N. J. Oct. 13, 1899.

5 DROPS (TRADE MARK)

SWANSON RHEUMATIC CURE CO.: I suffered terribly with Kidney Trouble for years, and after using less than two bottles of "5 DROPS" I am now entirely well and I give "5 DROPS" the praise for my cure. I could not find anything that would give me the slightest relief until I tried this remedy, and I recommend it to everybody as a permanent cure for Kidney Disease. MARY A. CARBAUGH, Black Gap, Pa. Aug. 22, '99.

"5 DROPS" is the most powerful specific known. Free from opiates and perfectly harmless. It gives almost instantaneous relief, and is a positive cure for Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Backache, Asthma, Hay Fever, Catarrh, La Grippe, Croup, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, Nervous and Neuralgic Headaches, Earache, Toothache, Heart Weakness, Dropsy, Malaria, Creeping Numbness, etc., etc.

30 DAYS to enable sufferers to give "5 DROPS" at least a trial, we will send a 25c sample bottle, prepaid by mail, for 10 cts. A sample bottle will convince you. Also, large bottles (300 doses) $1.00, 6 bottles for $5. Sold by us and agents. AGENTS WANTED in New Territory. WRITE US TO-DAY.

SWANSON RHEUMATIC CURE CO., 160 to 164 Lake St., CHICAGO, ILL.

JOHN M. SMYTH CO. MAMMOTH MAIL ORDER HOUSE 150 TO 166 WEST MADISON ST CHICAGO

$14.25 $14.25 The Best Sewing Machine on Earth

At the Price, $14.25 for Our "MELBA" Sewing Machine.

A high-arm, high-grade machine equal to what others are asking $25.00 to $35.00 for. Guaranteed by us for 20 years from date of purchase, against any imperfection in material or workmanship. The stand is made of the best iron and is nicely proportioned. The cabinet work is perfect and is furnished in your choice of antique, oak or walnut. It has seven drawers all handsomely carved and with nickel-plated ring pulls. The mechanical construction is equal to that of any machine regardless of price. All working parts are of the best oil-tempered tool steel, every bearing perfectly fitted and adjusted so as to make the running qualities the lightest, most perfect and nearest noiseless of any machine made. This Sewing Machine has all the latest improvements. It makes a perfect and uniform LOCK STITCH, and will do the best work on either the lightest muslins or heaviest cloths, sewing over seams and rough places without skipping stitches. A full set of best steel attachments, nicely nickel-plated and enclosed in a handsome plush-lined metal, japanned box, and a complete assortment of accessories and book of instruction FURNISHED FREE with each machine.

60 DAYS TRIAL. We ship this machine C.O.D. subject to approval, on receipt of two dollars. If, on examination you are convinced that we are saving you $25 or $30 on agent's price, pay the balance and freight charges then try the machine. If not satisfied at any time within 60 days send the machine back to us at our expense and we will refund the full purchase price..... $14.25

OUR MAMMOTH CATALOGUE in which is listed at lowest wholesale prices everything to eat, wear and use, is furnished on receipt of only 10¢ to partly pay postage or expressage and as evidence of good faith the 10¢ is allowed on first purchase amounting to $10 or above. OUR MONTHLY GROCERY PRICE LIST FREE

BRITONS ARE BLUE.

REVERSES IN SOUTH AFRICA SPREAD WIDE DISMAY.

Alarming Rumors and War Office Reticence Serve to Stir London—Free State Successes and Annexation Edicts Influence the Dutch.

The occupation of Colesburg by the Boers was a complete surprise to the British. It has caused the greatest feeling of uneasiness, as the advance may mean the engaging of Buller's forces as fast as they arrive at De Aar, the point where the British general contemplates gathering his army corps preparatory to a campaign against Bloemfontein and Pretoria. Colesburg is just south of the Orange Free State border in Cape Colony.

Details at hand show that the advance of the Boers was accompanied by the destruction of all bridges and the tearing up of all manner of transit facilities.

The British retirement to Estcourt has given the impression that it is intended to make a stand there. Estcourt is the last important town between the Boers and the capital of Natal, and if the Boers sweep past Estcourt nothing can stop them from laying siege to Pietermaritzburg, which cannot be expected to make a protracted defense, while its fall would be a tremendous blow to British prestige throughout South Africa.

The British retirement south of Colenso has given the Boers an opportunity to make a bid for the active support of the disaffected Dutch in Natal by proclaiming the annexation of the upper Tugela section. Thus far the Dutch colonists seem to have confined their sympathy with the invading Boers to a Platonic emotion. Except for surreptitious assistance there is no evidence that they have yet joined the Boers openly in any appreciable numbers.

Boer and British Preparedness.

Since the British have met reverses in Natal there is some disposition to criticise the government for not having dispatched larger numbers of troops at an earlier stage. The war preparations, it is asserted, were not made to keep pace with the political movements of the government.

It is asserted that this criticism overlooks the wily nature of the Boer officials, who had no mind to allow a possible enemy to take his time in getting ready to crush them. Had troops been earlier dispatched to South Africa in large numbers the Boer ultimatum simply would have been delivered sooner. Nothing would have been gained by that procedure, therefore. Had the British refrained longer from moving to concentrate troops in South Africa the ulimatum would have been longer delayed and the beginning of the war would have been postponed to correspond. The Boers have been watching the British with suspicious eye for years, constantly preparing for the conflict they feared. They meant to strike whenever they saw the British moving for advantageous position. It was inevitable, therefore, that the British, if they meant to invite war in South Africa, must enter the conflict with the odds against them at the outset.

The British War Office announced at midnight Monday that no dispatches had been received beyond those already made public. Not a solitary official item of news was posted for nearly twenty-four hours. This gave rise to a crop of rumors that Ladysmith's ammunition was exhausted; that Sir George Stewart White was mortally wounded; that both facts were being concealed and that other unlucky happenings had taken place. Advices from other parts of South Africa were distinctly unpalatable to the British, and everything points to a critical situation.

The movement of Boers into Cape Colony is beginning to awaken British fear that they have greatly underestimated the forces they will have to meet and that even Gen. Buller's task may not be so easy as anticipated. It is becoming apparent that all the British calculations, based on the loyalty of population, are hopelessly at sea or there has been a very serious leakage of Dutch sympathizers from Natal and Cape Colony. Otherwise there is no accounting for the large forces of Burghers reported from all directions. The war office, consequently, is being urged to have more troops in readiness.

Interesting news comes from the channel squadron at Gibraltar, showing precautions against all eventualities almost unknown in European waters in peace times. On the way to Gibraltar the fleet spread out four miles apart, and a sharp outlook was kept for suspicious craft. At Gibraltar extra sentries are posted at night at different parts of the ships, with ten rounds of ball cartridges each. The small guns on the upper deck and in the fighting tops are kept ready for immediate use, the ammunition being on deck; a few men sleep at the guns, the searchlights are kept working, all boats are hailed and not allowed to approach without permission.

STRENGTH OF THE BOERS.

British Government Expert Estimates Have Been Grossly Inaccurate.

Mail news from South Africa shows how inaccurate have been the estimates of the intelligence department and the governmental experts. It is gleaned therefrom that a fair estimate of the Boer forces is as follows:

Around Ladysmith	25,000
Traversing Zululand	4,000
Advancing on Burghersdorp	5,000
Colesburg	3,000
Kimberley	7,000
Mafeking	4,500
On the northern Transvaal border	2,000

Exact information about the Boer artillery is lacking, but it is known that Gen. Joubert's detachment, before it was re-enforced, consisted of sixteen Krupp field pieces of the latest pattern and two heavy Creuzot siege guns, which, but for the opportune arrival of the British naval brigade, would have rendered Ladysmith untenable.

In connection with the naval guns, a most interesting and important experiment has been successfully carried out at Cape Town with a 4.7-inch gun, so serviceable at Ladysmith. One of the British cruiser Terrible's guns, mounted on a Scott traveling carriage, was fired in the same way as a field gun, with entire success. The Terrible, with a number of guns thus mounted, is on her way to Durbin, and though the guns cannot now reach Ladysmith, they may be of the greatest value in the defense of Pietermaritzburg, which, it seems, will probably have to stand a siege. The arrival of the Terrible with the relief crews for China and other available men must have placed in the neighborhood of 3,000 more men at the service of the military authorities.

NOTABLE BOER COMMANDERS.

1—General J. P. Joubert.
2—Gen. J. M. Kock.
3—Gen. Hans Botha.
4—Com. Pretorius.
5—Gen. J. S. Joubert.
6—Commandant Wolmarans.
7—Gen. F. Joubert.

HOW BRITISH OFFICERS GET KILLED IN THE BOER WAR.

The extraordinary fatality among the leaders of the English soldiers in actions at Smith Hill and Elandslaagte is clearly explained in this picture. While the men in the rushes up the kopjes took advantage of every cover, the officers esteemed it their duty to stand erect. In this position they became conspicuous quarry for the Boer marksmen.

GENERAL YULE.
Successor to General Symons.

WAR NEWS IN BRIEF.

The rising of one tribe of natives in South Africa means the rising of all.

European journals print the strongest anti-British reports with no concealment of rejoicing.

Twenty missionaries have arrived at Durban from Swaziland after many narrow escapes.

Thirty-five hundred Boers crossed the bridge at Bethulia, destroying sections of the railroad near that place.

British military experts see in the Natal situation the worst that the country has faced since certain events in the Crimean war.

The Boer farms are being worked by the women and Kaffirs. All the farms send regular contributions of supplies to the Boer commissary.

The humanity of both armies in caring for the wounded and the courteous exchange of prisoners are among the redeeming features of the hostilities.

Dispatches from Cape Colony points indicate extreme disaffection among the Cape Dutch, who are exulting over the Boer successes in Natal and are verging on an outbreak.

Reports show that while the British still hold De Aar and the Orange river bridge the Boers have the latter undermined, thus commanding the route from Cape Town to Kimberley.

All the Cape railways are now in the hands of the military authorities. Five hundred tons of foodstuffs were seized on board the steamship Maria at Durban, consigned to Delagoa bay for the Transvaal.

The thirty-four fresh British battalions ordered are to report at once. It is evident that the war department is determined to crush the Transvaal even if in Kruger's words England does pay a price that "will stagger humanity."

It is understood that the Boers have proclaimed the upper Tugela division of Natal annexed to the Orange Free State.

A dispatch from Ladysmith says that Gen. Joubert protested to Gen. White against the use of lyddite shells, fired from the big naval guns, as inhuman.

The war office is adopting Gen. Otis' tactics of silence in regard to operations and results. The public is especially indignant at the war office for misrepresentations about the British defeat at Dundee (Oct. 30), which was hailed in England at the time as a brilliant victory.

Reports indicate that the Boers are displaying great courage and skill in the management of their artillery, but that the British guns are the more effective.

While there is loud protest on the part of some English papers in regard to the censorship, public sentiment favors the Government's policy, believing it necessary, and it will be maintained.

It is believed that the Orange Free State commanders now have 11,000 men concentrated against Kimberley and the Free State southern frontier. Opposed to them are only 7,000 British troops. The towns which lie open to their attack are Aliwal North, Burghersdorp, Steynburg, Barkly and Molteno.

MURDEROUS MICROBES

Breeding and Feeding in Human Intestines.

A New Powerful Germ Destroyer Discovered—How Microbes Are Killed While You Sleep.

Millions of microbes, bacteria, ptomaines, disease germs of every kind live and breed and feed in the stomach and bowels.

For their propagation it is only necessary for the liver and intestines to become lazy and operate irregularly.

Modern science has been at work to find a means of killing microbes, and the most successful germ destroyer of all is Cascarets Candy Cathartic. They slaughter bacteria wherever they find them, are antiseptic, stop sour stomach, make the liver lively, the blood pure, the bowels regular, everything as it should be.

Go buy and try Cascarets to-day. It's what they'll do, not what we say they'll do, that proves their merit. All druggists, 10c, 25c, 50c, or mailed for price. Send for booklet and free sample. Address The Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago; Montreal, Can.; or New York.

CCC This is the CASCARET tablet. Every tablet of the only genuine Cascaret bears the magic letters "CCC." Look at the tablet before you buy, and beware of frauds, imitations and substitutes.

Can Live Without Air.

The common snail, which, although it has lungs, heart and general circulation, being in every respect an air-breathing animal, can yet live for an indefinite period without inhaling the least atom of air.

On the approach of winter the snail retreats into its shell, and hermetically closes the opening or mouth with a secretion of a silky texture, which is absolutely impervious to both air and water. Spallanzani kept a small snail hermetically sealed in a glass tube, from which all air had carefully been removed, for four years and two months, and yet it resumed all its natural functions within less than an hour after being exposed to a temperature of 90 degrees.

First-Class Sewing Machines for $14.25.

For those who are accustomed to sending away from home for their goods it is of the greatest importance to know the character and reliability of the establishment selling goods to families from catalogues. The great emporium of the John M. Smyth Co., located at 150 to 166 West Madison street, Chicago, has been established for a third of a century, and has furnished over half a million homes in Chicago and vicinity alone. This firm enjoys the confidence of the public by its many years of fair dealing. It issues an immense illustrated catalogue that should be in every family, as it describes and gives the price of every article required for household use. A sample of the extraordinary values offered by this firm is shown in the illustration of the "Melba" sewing machine in another column of this paper for $14.25. This is one of the best sewing machines ever offered to the public, and yet it is but a sample of the thousand and one useful articles illustrated and described in the beautiful catalogue of the John M. Smyth Company.

Her Opinion.

A young woman was heard discussing the merits of Hamlet with a young man who was equally fatuous as a critic.

"O Joe!" said she, "it is perfectly lovely, but so sad! I think it was an awful shame to drown Ophelia and kill Hamlet. They ought to have been married."

The young man heaved a sigh, and looked earnestly at his companion.

"I ain't great on tragedy," said he, "but that's how I should fix it."

Try Grain-O! Try Grain-O!

Ask your Grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha and Java, but it is made of pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. ¼ the price of coffee. 15c and 25c per package. Sold by all grocers.

Russia and England in Asia.

Russia's Asiatic possessions are three times the size of England's, but hold only 23,000,000 inhabitants, as compared with England's 287,000,000 subjects.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.

Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Sold in 25 and 50 cent bottles. Go at once; delays are dangerous.

Vienna Police.

A policeman in Vienna must be able to swim, to row a boat and to understand telegraphy.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box.

A brave man knows no malice; but forgets, in peace, the injuries of war, and gives his direst foe a friend's embrace.—Cowper.

Thanksgiving Day Rates

Via the Nickel Plate Road are available Nov. 29th and 30th, good returning until Dec. 1st inclusive, at one and one-third fare for the round trip within a radius of 150 miles. A Peerless trio of Daily Express Trains.

The Sweep in Switzerland.

In Switzerland the chimney sweep is an official personage. He is the employe of the commune, receiving a fixed salary. He is also, as many tourists will have noticed, one of the few sons of the Helvetian republic who on Sundays and week days sport a tall silk hat. On his official tour he takes it off blandly, and informs the householder that he is "empowered by the state to inspect his flues." In the canton of Grisons recently the post and title of "communal chimney sweep" was opened to competition. The salary was $160 a year, and the candidates were numerous. But the strange thing was that they were mostly schoolmasters from Italy, a painful sign of the times in that unrestful land.—Boston Traveler.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY.

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. CHENEY & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of HALL'S CATARRH CURE.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.
(SEAL.)

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75 cents.

Had Job Beaten.

It is related of Sir Henry Hawkins that he was hearing a long, tedious and uninteresting case in the English courts. He became weary of the long-winded argument being made by the learned counsel for one side of the controversy. At last he wrote a note and sent it by his page to the Queen's counsel, also in the case. The note read: "Patience Competition, Gold Medal, Sir Henry Hawkins; honorable mention, Job."

Ohio and Indiana Game Law.

From November 9th to December 1st inclusive excursion tickets for parties of three or more traveling together on one ticket at one fare for the round trip will be sold to points in Western Ohio and Indiana on the Nickel Plate Road. The immense quantities of small game along the line of the Nickel Plate Road affords great enjoyment to the sportsman.

Professional Sarcasm.

Young Doctor—Congratulate me, old man. I'm just preparing to visit my first patient.

Young Lawyer—Good! I'll go with you. Perhaps he hasn't made his will."—Chicago News.

I never used so quick a cure as Piso's Cure for Consumption.—J. B. Palmer, Box 1171, Seattle, Wash., Nov. 25, 1895.

Up-to-Date Remnants.

Clerk—Here is a lot of broken candy. What shall I do with it?

Confectioner—Heap it up artistically and label it "Rag-time Candy."

The Nickel Plate Road

Offers one and one-third fare for the round trip Nov. 29th and 30th, good returning until Dec. 1st inclusive, account Thanksgiving Day. Tickets available within a radius of 150 miles. Inquire Agents.

"The Best is Cheapest."

We learn this from experience, in every department of life. Good clothes are most serviceable and wear the longest. Good food gives the best nutriment. Good medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla, is the best and cheapest, because it cures, absolutely CURES, when all others fail.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Never Disappoints

Dr. Bull's COUGH SYRUP

Cures Croup and Whooping-Cough Unexcelled for Consumptives. Gives quick, sure results. Refuse substitutes. Dr. Bull's Pills cure Biliousness. Trial, so for 25.

Find Frozen Butterflies.

It is a common experience among mountain climbers to find butterflies lying frozen on the snow, and so brittle that they break unless they are very carefully handled. Such frozen butterflies on being taken to a warmer climate recover themselves and fly away. Six species of butterflies have been found within a few hundred miles of the north pole.

What Do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing, and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee, but costs about ¼ as much. All grocers sell it. 15c and 25c.

Everything Is Dewey.

Stubb—Yes, I yelled myself hoarse for Dewey.

Penn—What happened then?

Stubb—Why, a street vender tried to sell me a package of Dewey cough drops.

Lane's Family Medicine

Moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Acts gently on the liver and kidneys. Cures sick headache. Price 25 and 50c.

Die Before Seventeen.

One-fourth of the earth's population dies before reaching the age of 17.

The Nickel Plate Road

Offers one fare for the round trip to Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 14th and 23th, account the National Export Epoition. Tickets available going only on date of sale and returning within ten days from date of issue. Your choice of a Peerless Trio of Daily Express Trains.

Secure sleeping car reservations early.

Eagle Linen Letter Paper and Envelopes are the proper thing. Tell your printer to use this brand on your next order.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP for Children teething; softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25 cents a bottle.

"I GAVE little thought to my health," writes MRS. WM. V. BELL, 230 N. Walnut St., Canton, O., to Mrs. Pinkham, "until I found myself unable to attend to my household duties.

"I had had my days of not feeling well and my monthly suffering, and a good deal of backache, but I thought all women had these things and did not complain.

THOUGHTLESS WOMEN

"I had doctored for some time, but no medicine seemed to help me, and my physician thought it best for me to go to the hospital for local treatment. I had read and heard so much of your Vegetable Compound that I made up my mind to try it. I was troubled with falling of the womb, had sharp pains in ovaries, leucorrhœa and painful menses. I was so weak and dizzy that I would often have severe fainting spells. I took in all several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier and used the Sanative Wash, and am now in good health. I wish others to know of the wonderful good it has done me, and have many friends taking it now. Will always give your medicine the highest praise."

MRS. A. TOLLE, 1946 Hilton St., Philadelphia, Pa., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I was very thin and my friends thought I was in consumption. Had continual headaches, backache and falling of womb, and my eyes were affected. Every one noticed how poorly I looked and I was advised to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. One bottle relieved me, and after taking eight bottles am now a healthy woman; have gained in weight 95 pounds to 140 pounds, and everyone asks what makes me so stout."

HOLIDAY GIFTS ·FOR ALL·

A DOLLAR STRETCHER One lady writes that the greatest "Dollar Stretcher" she has ever found is the new and original method by which J. C. Hubinger is introducing his latest invention, "Red Cross" and "Hubinger's Best" starch. She says: With your Endless Chain Starch Book, I received from my grocer one large package of "Red Cross" starch, one large package of "Hubinger's Best" starch, and two beautiful Shakespeare panels, all for 5c. How far my dollar will go, I am unable to figure out. Ask your grocer for this starch and obtain the beautiful Christmas presents free.

Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages there should be cleanliness.

Ely's Cream Balm cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents by mail.

ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren Street, New York.

ELY'S CREAM BALM CURES COLD IN HEAD CATARRH HAY-FEVER 50 CTS. ELY BROS.

DON'T RENT

ESTABLISH A HOME OF YOUR OWN

Read "The Corn Belt," a handsome monthly paper, beautifully illustrated, containing exact and truthful information about farm lands in the West, letters from farmers and pictures of their homes, barns and stock. Interesting and instructive. Send 25 cents in postage stamps for a year's subscription to "THE CORN BELT," 209 Adams St., Chicago.

WABASH HOME SEEKERS' EXCURSIONS To Western Points.

November 21, 1899.
December 5 and 19, 1899.

On the above dates the WABASH will sell from its principal stations East of Chicago and Toledo, Ill., LOW RATE HOME SEEKERS' EXCURSION Tickets to points West, South, and Southwest, granting a liberal return limit. A postal card addressed to any Wabash Ticket Agent, or to either of the following Passenger Representatives will bring you prompt and explicit information regarding rates, routes, time of trains, through car service, condition of tickets, etc., etc.

REMEMBER

The WABASH is the only line east of Chicago and St. Louis giving its patrons seats, without extra charge, in ELEGANT RECLINING CHAIR CARS running through to St. Louis and Kansas City without change.

This is your chance to go West cheap. Communicate with us,

P. E. DONBAUGH, P. & T. A., Toledo, Ohio.
R. G. THOMPSON, T. & T. A., Fort Wayne, Ind.
A. F. WOLFSCHLAGER, P. & T. A., Detroit, Mich.
THO'S FOLLEN, P. & T. A., Lafayette, Ind.
GEO. D. MAXFIELD, D. P. A., Indianapolis, Ind.
C. S. CRANE, G. P. & T. A., St. Louis, Mo.

F. W. N. U. - - No. 46—'99.

When Writing to Advertisers please say you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given, that I, Ira B. Goetschius administrator of the estate of Sophia Warstler, deceased, will offer for sale at public auction, at the premises, to the highest bidder, on at nine o'clock in the forenoon, the following described real estate, belonging to the estate of said decedent, to-wit:

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9th, 1899,

Sixty-three (63) acres of land off the west side of the southwest quarter of section fifteen (15) township thirty-four (34) north of range (12) east in the county of Dekalb and state of Indiana, except two acres of land out of said tract heretofore conveyed to Alfred Warstler and described as follows, to-wit: Commencing at a point where the public highway running east and west crosses the section line running north and south between sections fifteen (15) and sixteen [16] in said township, and running from thence north twenty-six and two-thirds [26⅔] rods, thence east twelve [12] rods, thence south twenty-six and two-thirds [26⅔] rods, thence west twelve [12] rods to the place of beginning.

TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, one-third in twelve months, and one-third in eighteen months; deferred payments to be evidenced by interest-bearing notes waiving relief and secured by mortgage upon the premises sold.

IRA B. GOETSCHIUS,
Administrator.

Moody & Rickel, Att'ys for Estate.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

IDEAL MUSIC,

"Sweet as the angel Israfil's,
When every leaf on Eden's tree
Was trembling to his minstrelsy."

can be produced from an EBERSOLE PIANO. The Ebersole possesses a tone that no other maker has been able to imitate—being full and deep, yet with that clear singing quality which stamps it the peer of all upright pianos for homes of culture and refinement.

Frank B. Long,
119 Calhoun-St. cor Washington,
Fort Wayne, Ind.

Mott's Nerverine Pills

BEFORE AND AFTER USING.

The great remedy for nervous prostration and all nervous diseases of the generative organs of either sex, such as Nervous Prostration, Failing or lost Manhood, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Youthful Errors, Mental Worry, excessive use of Tobacco or Opium, which lead to Consumption and Insanity. $1.00 per box by mail; 6 boxes for $5.00.
MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Prop's, Cleveland, Ohio.
Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED
ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"
Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured.
Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.
FREE

MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS

They overcome Weakness, Irregularity and omissions, increase vigor and banish "pains of menstruation." They are "Life Savers" to girls at womanhood, aiding development of organs and body. No known remedy for women equals them. Cannot do harm—life becomes a pleasure. $1 per box by mail. Sold by druggists.
MOTT CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, O.
Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

Glorious News

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give her no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidney and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion builds up strength. Only 50c. Sold by H. B. McCord, druggist. Guaranteed.

A Wonderful Natural Bridge.

Down on Pine creek, near Camp Verde, Ariz., is a natural bridge that is probably greater than any other in the world. It is nearly five times the size of the natural bridge of Virginia, and has a span of more than 500 feet across Pine creek which is dry 300 days in the year. The height of the bridge is about eighty feet, and it is about 600 feet wide.

WHAT A WELL KNOWN R. R. MAN and resident of Lima thinks of Foley's Honey and Tar: I have been troubled a great deal with the backache. I was induced to try Foley's Kidney Cure, and one bottle entirely relieved me. I gladly recommend it to any one, especially my friends among the trainmen, who are generally similarly afflicted.—GEO. H. AUSTIN, Engineer on L. E. & W. R. R.—H. B. McCORD.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given that I, Daniel M. Link, commissioner appointed by the DeKalb circuit court to sell real estate in a certain case entitled Azam P. Foltz and Levina R. Shoup vs. William Foltz et al, will offer at public sale to the highest bidder, on

Saturday, December 2, 1899,

at the court house door, Auburn, Indiana, the following described real estate, to-wit:

The west half (½) of the west half (½) of the southeast quarter (¼) of section thirty-five (35) township thirty-three (33) north, range thirteen (13) east, in DeKalb county, state of Indiana.

TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, the balance in three equal annual payments; deferred payments to be evidenced by interest-bearing notes waiving relief and secured by mortgage on the premises sold.

4w DANIEL M. LINK, Commissioner.

Notice to Non-Resident.

STATE OF INDIANA } ss.
DEKALB COUNTY. }

In the DeKalb Circuit Court, October Term, 1899

Walter Darling is hereby notified that an action has been commenced against him in said court for divorce by Martha Darling, and that the same will be heard and determined on the 2d day of January, 1900, being the 14th juridical day of the next term of said court, which commences December 18, 1899.

Witness, the Clerk of said Court this 2d day of November, 1899.

MICHAEL F. LONG, Clerk.

T. A. Redmond, Attorney for Plaintiff.

Notice to Creditors.

The First National Bank, located at Auburn, in the State of Indiana, is closing up its affairs. All note holders and others, creditors of said association, are therefore hereby notified to present the notes and other claims against the association for payment.

CHARLES McCLELLAN, President.

Dated October 14, 1899.

The foregoing association has been at once reorganized and will continue the business of banking as "The McClellan Bank," under same management.

NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATION.

Notice is hereby given, that the undersigned has been appointed by the judge of the DeKalb circuit court of the state of Indiana, administrator of the estate of Andrew Smith, deceased, late of said county.

Said estate is supposed to be solvent.

SYLVESTER SHUMAKER,
Administrator.

November 6, 1899.
Moody & Rickel, Attorneys.

Wednesday's Daily.

—Mrs. Alice Grogg has been helping in the treasurer's office a part of the time during the rush of the closing days.

—A number of soldiers who served in the Spanish war, it is said, have applied for admission to the National soldiers' home at Marion, but they have been refused on account of lack of room.

—Mrs. S. Henry of Reading was here today. We are sorry to hear that they lost a good deal in common with the others at the recent big fire there. But they pay for their COURIER just as if nothing had happened.

—Wash Link and wife did not start west till today, as they go on the 4 p. m. train. They were induced to stay to a reception given by the W. R. C. at their hall last evening. There was a large attendance and a good time. Mrs. Link was made the recipient of a handsome present.

—Dr. Emi. G. Hirsch, rabbi of the Sinai congregation, Chicago, holds services on Sunday, instead of Saturday, and twenty of the leading churches in the country have followed his example. He does not believe God ever chose a day for holding religious services. He holds that, as his people usually keep their stores open on Saturday, they are too busy to attend service that day.

—For years past the Lake Shore road has been a favorite route for hoboes and they became so numerous and bold that the railroad company has at last been compelled to put a force of detectives at work. Already a number of young men have been arrested and fined for train jumping, most of them from towns along the line, and the fight will be kept up until the practice is stopped.

Friday's Daily.

—Hon. S. S. Shutt of Spencerville transacted business in Auburn today.

—Mrs. Snyder, wife of Dr. Fairfield Snyder, died this morning at her home in Corunna.

—Ed Beams of Spencerville chipped in today on the COURIER going onto the 1900 roll of honor.

—Callie Carper, daughter of Jacob Carper at the Junction, has been quite sick for some time.

—W. H. Dirrim is in poor health at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Perry Long, in East Auburn.

—Rev. and Mrs. Trover went up to Fairfield yesterday for a visit with friends, returning home today.

—C. B. Jackman, the Angola attorney has gone to Hot Springs, Arkansas, where he will take a course of baths in the hope of reducing his weight.

—Mrs. Ada Greiser writes from her home in Ohio that her health has been poor of late. This will be noted with regret by her many friends here.

—In addition to the big railroad mortgage, Recorder Jones has one for $500,000 given by the Central Union Telephone company to place on the records.

—It looks as if the result of the recent election would make certain the nomination of both Bryan and McKinley next year. Each carried his own state.

Wateloo Press:-Dr F. M. Hines is filling the office of county treasurer with satisfaction to all who have business with him. He is courteous and accommodating, and attends strictly to his duties.

—Word was received last evening that Vet Johnson, son of Nathan Johnson, had been injured at Fort Wayne, but no particulars were given. His sister, Miss Dora Johnson, went to Fort Wayne on the forenoon train today.

—The ladies of the local W. C. T. U. voted to raise seven dollars for the Hadley Home for orphan girls. Little Blanche Bovee of Garrett is now at the home, and other unions in this county will assist in providing her with clothes and books.

—A. J. Shutt is now credited with two marks for 1900 and one for 1901. He has paid for his son, Scudder, at Shirley, into the first day of the new century. That reminds us also, Woodburn is the real name of the place, though it has been incorporated as Shirley.

—The largest mortgage ever received for record in this county is now in the hands of Recorder Jones. It is for $165,000,000 and was given by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad company to the United States Trust Co., to refund outstanding indebtedness. The mortgage, which runs for fifty years and bears interest at 4 per cent, payable in gold, will cover over one hundred pages of record and the county will receive a nice fee for the work.

—Two years ago Nellie Whitehead of Goshen, was granted a divorce from her husband, Noah Whitehead, and the custody of her two children. Three months ago her former husband appeared in court and instituted proceedings for the possession of the children and after a bitter legal fight the court entered the astonishing decree that the parents were to have the children on alternate months. As the parents live in different towns, this necessitates a month's schooling in one place and the next month in the other and so on.

—Mrs. Green Lahnum died at her home on Railroad street at an early hour this morning, aged 49 years She had been a sufferer for a long time with dropsy of the heart, but at a late hour last night seemed to be resting comparatively easy, and she passed away so quietly that one of her daughters who was sleeping with her was not awakened. The funeral will be held at the Lutheran church next Sunday at 10 a. m., Rev. Brosy officiating. The interment will be under the directions of G. S. McCord at Evergreen cemetery.

LION COFFEE

Used in Millions of Homes!

Accept no substitute!
Insist on LION COFFEE, in 1 lb. pkgs.

Best Coffee for the Money!

Try LION COFFEE and you will never use any other. It is absolutely pure Coffee and nothing but Coffee.

These articles mailed FREE in exchange for lion heads cut from front of 1 lb. LION COFFEE pkgs.

Silk Umbrella (either Lady's or Gents).

Sent by express (charges prepaid), for 170 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

A very fine umbrella, made of union silk-taffeta; 26-inch frame with seven ribs; steel rod and silver Congo handle. Would cost $2.00 at the store.

STRENGTH, PURITY AND FLAVOR

Fancy Gold Ring. For 18 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

Genuine Ruby Setting Gold Ring. For 28 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

These rings are genuine rolled-gold plate, having the exact appearance and qualities of solid gold, and guaranteed by the makers to last two years with ordinary usage. New patterns and very popular.

To Determine the Size.

Cut a strip of thick paper so that the ends will exactly meet when drawn tightly around second joint of the finger. Lay one end on this diagram at the 0, and order the number the other end indicates.

Dress-Pin Set.

Mailed free for 15 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. Three pins in the set (larger than shown), composed of fine rolled-gold, with handsome ruby-colored settings. Suitable for waist-pins, cuff-pins, neck-pins or as a child's set.

"Knickerbocker" Watch.

Given for 175 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. Neat appearing and an excellent time-keeper. Solid nickel-silver case, with ornamental back. Nickel movements, escapement fully jeweled. The famous "Knickerbocker" watch.

Pair of Lace Handkerchiefs.

Two extra fine cambric handkerchiefs, with beautiful imported lace medallion insertions in the corners. Half-inch hem, machine hemstitched; stylish and durable. A pair of these handkerchiefs given for 18 lion heads cut from Lion Coffee wrappers and a 2c. stamp.

Art Picture, "Easter Greeting"

Given for 8 lion heads cut from Lion Coffee wrappers and a 2-cent stamp.

A highly artistic picture, that will grace the finest drawing-room. The background of royal dark-blue furnishes an appropriate contrast to the little girl and her white Easter lilies. Size, 14x28 inches.

For 10 lion heads and 2 cents we will send it tinned ready for hanging.

Sash-Belt and Buckle.

Mailed free for 15 lion heads cut from Lion Coffee wrappers and a 2-cent stamp. Latest style of imported black Swiss grosgrain ribbon belting; stylish imitation oxidized silver buckle; neat, strong and fashionable.

Ladies' Watch Chain.

A double strand of test silk cord, united at intervals with colored beads; neat and substantial. For 15 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

Gent's Watch.

Mailed free for 90 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. The celebrated "Ingersoll" watch; stem-wound and stem-set; durable nickel-plated case; each watch accompanied by guarantee of the maker. A reliable time-keeper.

Children's Picture Book.

Given for 10 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. Sixteen large pages of Mother Goose Melodies illustrated and with nicely lithographed cover. We have different books, so you can get an assortment.

Flower Picture.

For 8 lion heads and a 2c. stamp.
American Beauty Roses and Lilies-of-the-Valley. Size, 11x24 inches. Bright and artistic coloring.

Silver Napkin-Ring.

For 15 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. Neat and substantial. Made of durable metal, heavily silver-plated. Two different patterns.

Coin-Purse.

For 15 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. Color dark brown. Made of fine kid leather; chamois lining; nickeled frame, with strong snap-fastening.

Ladies' Pocket-Book.

Large size and latest shape. Black seal-grain leather, with five separate divisions, including a tuck-pocket with flap to hold visiting cards secure.

Given for 28 lion heads from Lion Coffee wrappers and a 2c. stamp

Century Cook-Book.

368 pages of valuable cooking receipts, also treatise on the labor of the kitchen, dining-room, laundry, sick-room, and remedies for the more common diseases.

Given for 15 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

"The Dancing Lesson."

The green grass and trees, the little brown kitten and the girl's snow-white dress form a pleasing combination of colors. Size, 15 x 21 inches. Mailed free for 8 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

Ladies' Pen-Knife.

For 15 lion heads cut from Lion Coffee wrappers and a 2c. stamp. Large size; good material; handles nicely decorated and assorted colors.

Table Cover.

Durable, dark-colored material that will stand washing. 32 inches square, including fancy fringed border. Mailed free for 25 lion heads and a 2c. stamp.

Boys' Pocket-Knife.

The "Easy-Opener"; strong, sharp blade; red-wood handle.

For 12 lion heads and a 2c. stamp.

THE ABOVE ARE ONLY A FEW OF THE LION COFFEE PREMIUMS. Another list will shortly appear in this paper! Don't miss it! The grandest list of premiums ever offered!

You always know LION COFFEE by the wrapper. It is a sealed package, with the lion's head in front. It is absolutely pure if the package is unbroken. LION COFFEE is roasted the day it leaves the factory.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

When writing for premiums send your letter in the same envelope or package with the lion heads. If more than 15 lion heads are sent, you can save postage by trimming down the margin. Ask your grocer for large illustrated premium list. Address all letters to the

WOOLSON SPICE CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Thursday's Daily.

—Robert Reed's subscription now reads 1900. And still there is room in that popular class.

—Jacob Link was in yesterday and renewed for his son Joseph at Beulah, Mich., up into 1900.

—Mr. McIntosh is having a monument put up for Mr. and Mrs. Cosper, Mrs. McIntosh's parents.

—Commissioner Shoemaker was here today on his way to southeast Wilmington to see about some bridge work.

—The revenue stamps on the original of the big B. & O. mortgage filed in the recorder's office this week cost $82,500.

—Sufficient money has been promised to build a new church at Grove Bethel and the construction of the building will begin soon.

—Mrs. Mina Loveland of Garrett was over yesterday visiting our schools. She was formerly a teacher at the Ward school building.

—Mrs. Rakestraw has a letter from Will at Buffalo, which reports him a little better since the second operation, which was on Monday.

—John Hoffelder was a visitor at this office today. He was here as a witness in the Jackson towuship case, as we believe the matter had come to his notice when he was a county commissioner.

—That Hicksville young lady who left her overshoe in front of Bailer's clothing and shoe store, can have the same by calling at this office, proving property and paying for this notice.

—Geo. Dietrick of Smithfield was here yesterday. He is farming Mrs. Amy Kelly's place in West Smithfield. We have not seen him for many years, as since he went west for four years he has been living in Steuben county till last summer.

—The Pioneer hardware store is having a big trade in heating stoves this fall. They still have 115 in stock, all of which were bought before the raise in prices and will be sold accordingly. Mr. Davis says they expect to clean out the stock before Christmas.

—WOOD WANTED:—We will be ready now at any time, for the wood to be delivered on subscription. It would be well to get it here before roads are muddy. As we now have no engine, would prefer wood that can be used in cook stove, at least for most of it.

—The Kendallville Sun Says:—Senator N. W. Gilbert of Angola is to be judge advocate of the new Indiana National Guard, with rank of major, and H. L. Hutson, of the same place, will be quarter-master-general, with rank of major. Both these gentlemen were members of the 157th regiment.

—The case of Schlatter vs. Jackson township is still on trial in the circuit court and a number of witnesses have been examined. It is hardly probable that the case will be given to the jury before tomorrow evening or Monday. Attorney Aiken of Fort Wayne and F. L. Welsheimer represent the plaintiff and J. E. and J. H. Rose for the defense.

—Postmaster Wyland at the Junction is a very busy man and works hard for his salary of two or three hundred. He has to handle thirteen mails a day, and sometimes to be lively about it. The biggest load he has, comes in on the fast Wabash mail going east at 8:30 a. m. This brings big packages to send out on all the other roads and mail trains.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hamnick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at H. B. McCord's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

GIVEN UP BY FOUR DOCTORS.

BEAVER DAM, O.

My daughter, after being treated by four doctors and being given up for lost, a neighbor recommended Foley's Kidney Cure. Today she is able to walk several miles without fatigue. I feel we would have lost her if it was not for your medicine.—Respectfully, MRS. J. M. BAILEY.—H. B. McCORD.

Saturday's Daily.

—W. E. Sherlock and his son Albert, were callers today, and he put his name high up in the 1900 list.

—John Brandon is running the Junction postoffice while Postmaster Wyland is visiting friends at Elkhart.

—Mrs. Almira Bartlett died at her home in St. Joe Wednesday evening. The funeral was held at Newville today.

—The Indianapolis News offers $10 for the bigest turkey raised in Indiana, the same to be sent in, if of prize winning weight, in time for Thanksgiving.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Houser returned to Indianapolis, their home, after a pleasant visit with the old neighbors here and the friends at other points, yesterday.

—Rev. W. D. Trover has gone over into Ohio and will preach tomorrow at Lost Creek near Hicksville, and the following Sunday at Antioch in Adams county, this state.

—Seven men are now serving sentences in the Elkhart county jail for jumping on Lake Shore trains. The detectives along the Air Line division are doing good work in ridding the road of bums.

—Mrs. Irvin Lockwood has been quite sick this week at the home of her niece, Mrs. Jerry Carmer, with whom she was visiting when taken ill. A change for the better in her condition is noted today.

—Daniel Welch has moved to town and will occupy the Staughdecker house at the corner of VanBuren and Joseph streets. His health has been so poor for some time that he has had to retire from hard work.

—And now the deadly corn husker will begin to add to its list of victims A dispatch from Noblesville says sixteen men in that county have each lost an arm while running that kind of machines since their introduction a year ago.

—The date of the Sunday school convention at Waterloo has been changed to Wednesday, November 23, one day earlier than first announced. D. D. Meigs, state superintendent of Sunday schools, will be present and take an active part in the exercises.

—Isaac Weirich and Henry Reinoehl of Crawford county, Ill., but former residents of this county, are visiting relatives and friends in Fairfield township. This week, in company with Michael Reinœht, they visited the family of W. D. Trover, in Auburn.

—As pointed an improvement as we have noticed for some time, is the painting and sticking up of the Staughdecker houses on south Jackson. They are buildings of good size, but have stood some years without paint. We suppose this improvement is due to the enterprise and good taste of Joseph Staughdecker, now at Cloumbia City.

—Jas. Heddon, of Dowagiac, one of the most extensive bee culturists in Southern Michigan, will market about 8,000 pounds of honey this season. Mr. Heddon estimates that the spraying of fruit trees by fruit-growers the past few years has cost him $13,000, the poison having the effect of killing the bees and at the same time reducing the secretion of sweets.

—The horses and mules replevined at Garrett by Sheriff Hathaway were today turned over to the owner who took them to Ottawa, Ohio. It seems that he had sold them on credit to one Saunders, who was working them on the B. & O. grade at Garrett but had not paid for them. The sheriff was threatened with a suit by Saunders' attorney, but is amply protected by a bond given by Mr. Harmon, the owner of the animals.

—Walter S. Ratliff, who is making a collection of Indiana apples for the Paris exposition, has already selected samples from a number of varieties. He says that it has been some year since Indiana has produced such an excellent crop. One extrordinary feature is, that all varetics are of high grade in quality. Mr. Ratliff will, within the next week, send his collection to Chicago, to be placed in cold storage. The shipment to France will be made next spring.

—Read Schaab & Bro's ad.

He Fooled The Surgeons.

All doctors told Renie Hamilton, of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 18 months from Rectal Fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with 3 boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest Pile cure on Earth, and the best Salve in the World. 25 cents a box. Sold by H. B. McCord, druggist.

THE AUBURN COURIER.

Volume XXIX | Auburn, DeKalb County Indiana, Thursday, November 23, 1899. | Number 47.

Dr. Broughton
WATERLOO,

Will test your Eyes and Adjust your Glasses and GUARANTEE SATISFACTION. In Auburn at Dr. Baxter's office every Wednesday.

C. S. SMITH,
Auburn, Ind.
Attorney-at-Law
AND NOTARY PUBLIC.
Office over Bazar Store, formerly occupied by Judge Hartman.

Sprott & Knapp,
Abstracters of Titles to Land and Lots,
AUBURN, IND.
☞Office in Gandy Block, North of Court House.

The McClellan Bank,
AUBURN, IND.
Successor To
The First National Bank,
Capital Stock and Surplus....
$60,000
Certificates of deposits issued, drawing interest if left six months. County and Town Orders bought and sold. Money to Loan.
C. A. O. McCLELLAN, ESTATE CHARLES McCLELLAN D. A. GARWOOD, ISAAC HAGUE. } C. A. BENEDICT, Cashier

BANK Farmers,
Auburn, Ind.
(Incorporated and Under State Control)
Capital Stock and Surplus
$50,000
Transacts a General Banking Business and Pays Interest on Time Deposits.
Albert Robbins, Pres. J. C. Heury, V-res.
A. C. ROBBINS, Cashier.

J.E. Graham, D.D.S.
DENTIST
Over Davenport's Drugstore, Auburn, Ind.
CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK A SPECIALTY.
All Work Guaranteed } Gas Administered.
CENTRAL 'PHONE 513.
Will be at Waterloo each Thursday in Dr. Darby's Office.

Physicians and SURGEONS
D. J. Swarts, M. D. Vesta W. Swarts, M. D
Office at Auburn Sanitary Baths, corner Main and Sixth Streets,
Professional Calls Promptly Answered.
'PHONES: Western..... No. 19 Central Union..... No. 19

DENTIST F. W. HOFFMAN,
Auburn, Ind.
Office in Gandy Building, Northeast Corner of Court Square.
WESTERN 'PHONE 103.
Crown and Bridge Work a Sprcialty.

P. V. HOFFMAN,
LAWYER,
Auburn. Indiana.
OFFICE over Hebel's Grocery.

Dr. Z. H. Stamets,
Physician & Surgeon
Office on Main St., opposite Swineford Hotel.
Western 'Phone 104
Special attention given to techinal examinations and treatment of chronic and obscure cases, also special attention given to surgery and diseases of women. Calls answered at all hours. Office apart from residence.

I. O. BUCHTEL, HOMEOPATHIC Physician and Surgeon.
Special attention given to hronic and Obscure cases and catarrhal diseases of the nose, throat and lungs; also to diseases peculiar to women and children.
Office and residence over Madden Bros Marble Works, Auburn, Ind. Office apart from residence and private. All calls attended to promptly, day or night.

WHY COUGH
Why cough and risk consumption, when the celebrated Dr. John W. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure you at once? It never fails to cure throat and lung troubles. For bronchitis, sore throat and hoarseness it is invaluable.
Dr. Bull's COUGH SYRUP
Will cure a Hacking Cough.
Doses are small and pleasant to take. Doctors recommend it. Price 25 cts. At all druggists.

Winding up Business

The October term of the DeKalb circuit court came to an end Saturday afternoon. Yesterday and today Judge Hartman disposed of the following matters:

Anna Oppenheimer vs. Jackson school township, suit on township order. Dismissed and costs paid.

The Humbarger case to quiet title was completed this forenoon and judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiffs.

In the case of Angeline Boyer vs. Wm. Rodarmer et. al., partition, the commissioner, Cyrus C. Walter, filed his report of sale of the property, which was accepted by the court.

Judge Hartman passed sentence upon Frank and Milan Albright, assessing their fine at $100 each and costs as fixed by the jury.

The case of Schlatter vs. Jackson township, decided in favor of plaintiff, has been appealed to the appellate court and ninety days granted in which to prepare the papers.

Ida Harding was granted a divorce yesterday from Fred Harding at her costs.

C. O. D. Postal Scheme.

A man in Quincy, Ill., has devised a plan for adding a collection-delivery feature to the postal service, and a movement has been inaugurated to press congress for legislation to that effect at next session.

In his test Charles sends a package to the address of the patron, and by the same mail forwards a notice to the postmaster asking him to deliver the package to the addressee on the payment of the amount due, and then return the amount collected by postal order, registered letter or stamps, less the fee for the service. The patron gets his supplies by first mails, the receipts of the postoffice are increased by the registry or postal order fee, and the sender gets his money promptly.

He Wouldn't Work.

A tramp lodger at the South Chicago police station, when offered employment unloading a vessel yesterday morning, refused the opportunity to labor on the ground, he said, he could not afford to associate with profane and Godless men.

The man, who gave his name as Ernest Walker, claimed to be a preachar out of luck. The offer of work came from the captain of the steamer Fischer, unloading at 92d street. The captain telephoned to the police sergeant for two strong "lodgers" to work as deck hands. Two other lodgers at the station volunteered to take the job.

His Great Misfortune.

Teacher—"Try to remember this: Milton, the poet, was blind. Do you think you can remember it?"

Bobby Smart—"Yes, ma'am."

Teacher—"Now, what was Milton's great misfortune?"

Bobby Smart—"He was a poet."-Ohio State Journal.

Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA

will generally correct this difficulty.

If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

"Whatever may be said to the contrary, good clothes increase the world's respect for him who wears them."

OVERCOATS

IF you have ever worn an H. S. & M. overcoat you do not have to be told they are the finest overcoats money can buy.

HART, SCHAFFNER & MARX

overcoats are stylish and durable, elegant in goods and making, richly lined and finished and full of satisfaction. The prices are reasonable.

HART, SCHAFFNER & MARX

H.S.&M.

TAILOR - MADE CLOTHES.

There's a heap of satisfaction in buying an article which proves to be all that you could wish it. There's a heap of satisfaction in selling such an article—and right here is where we come onto the stage. It's selling you just such merchandise that has built up the fine trade we are enjoying It's our carefullness in buying such merchandise that makes our store.....

An Ideal Store in Which to Trade

If you haven't been doing your trading with us, we kindly invite you to give us a trial. Our stock is in fine condition. The most complete stock of Dry Goods, Clothing, Ladies' Suits and Wraps, and Carpets in this section of the state. Our prices are most reasonable. We wish to see you often.

We Are Saving You Money.

SCHAAB & BRO.
Auburn, Indiana.

His Eighty-Fifth.

Today our venerable friend W. E. Rush had reached his 85th milestone, and as it was the "first offense" of that kind, his good wife forgave him, provided he would agree never to be 85 again if he knew it. To this he agreed and she bound the bargain by surprising him with a grand dinner, and asking in all the children and grandchildren. The COURIER joins a whole neighborhood of friends in wishing it were possible that the above promise "never to have another" might be broken so far that both might live to see just such another day, 85 years hence.

Costly Nonsense.

The nonsense of allowing soldiers in distant fields to vote in their old home, is just in evidence from Belmont, N. Y. That town had one soldier in Manila, and they wanted his vote on mayor. So he was permitted to cast his vote in Manila, send it home through a specially designated officer, and go through a good deal of red tape, and the county has to foot the bill, over $400. And as usual, that one vote did not turn the election either way. Had he not voted, the same political boss would have been made mayor, and the several other equally unimportant politicians would have been made councilmen.

THE LORD'S PRAYER.

[The following beautiful composition was captured during the war, in Charlston, S. C., by a brother of Mrs. S. B. Helmer, of this city. It is printed on very heavy yellow satin, and is quite a literary curiosity:]

THOU, to the Mercy Seat our souls doth gather,
To do our duty unto Thee..... Our Father
To whom all praise, all honour should be given,
For Thou art the Great God..... who art in Heaven,
Thou, by Thy wisdom, rul'st the world's wholeframe,
Forever, therefore..... hallowed be Thy name;
Let never more delays divide us from
Thy glorious grace, but..... thy kingdom come;
Let thy commands opposed be by none,
But thy good pleasure and..... thy will be done
And let our promptness to obey, be even
The very same..... on earth, as 'tis in Heaven;
Then for our souls, O Lord, we also pray,
Thou wouldst be pleased to..... give us this day
The food of life, wherewith our souls are fed,
Sufficient raiment, and..... our daily bread;
With every needful thing, do thou relieve us,
And of thy mercy, pity..... and forgive us
All our misdeeds, for Him, whom thou didst please,
To make an offering, for..... our trespasses,
And for as much, O Lord, as we believe
That thou wilt pardon us..... as we forgive
Let that love teach, wherewith Thou dost acquaint us,
To pardon all..... those, who trespass against us
And though, sometimes, Thou find'st we have forgot
This love of Thee, yet help..... and lead us not
Though soul or body want, to desperation,
Nor let earth's gain drive us..... into temptation;
Let not the soul of any true believer
Fall in the time of trial,..... but deliver
Yea, save them from the malice of the devil,
And both in life and death, keep..... us from evil:
Thus pray we, Lord, for that of Thee, from whom
This may be had,..... For thine is the kingdom,
This world, is of Thy work, its wond'rous story,
To Thee belongs..... the power, and the glory,
And all Thy wond'rous works have ended never,
But will remain forever, and..... forever,
Thus, we poor creatures, would confess again,
And thus would say, eternally,..... Amen.

Charleston (S. C.) July 4th, 1823.

The above is copied from an old paper picked up by A. P. Green, of this place, in the city of Corinth, Miss., the morning the rebel forces evacuated it, May 30, 1862. Our forces entered in the early morning and Mr. Green found the newspaper in a drug store and sent it home to his wife, who cut out this article and pasted it in her bible, where it has remained till now.

Better Late than Never

(Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette.)

J. F. Mellinger, of 234 West DeWald street, yesterday mailed a letter to each of the city dailies, in which he confessed to the burning of a barn on St. Mary's avenue eighteen years ago in which his own sister, a tot of four years, lost her life. For the burning of the barn a lad named Charles Sumeskey was arrested and sent to the reform school. Mellinger says that he has embraced religion and that his duplicity weighed on his mind to such an extent that he at this late day wishes to clear Sumeskey of the stigma upon his name.

The case is easily recalled by residents of the city living here then, who can remember incidents or happenings twenty years ago. Sumuskey was a lad who was found in the vicinity of the fire, and although he protested his innocence all the time, he could not give a satisfactory account of himself for his presence there. He was convicted partly on circumstancial evidence and partly on the direct evidence of Mellinger, who was himself a youngster and apparently half frightened out of his boots. His nervousness was accounted for by his fright at being brought into court to testify, and his testimony had great weight with the jury. Sumeskey was sent to the reform school, but was after a couple of years released on good behavior. He returned to Fort Wayne and was for years a well-behaved citizen engaged in ordinary labor. He died some five or six years ago of consumption or some other chronic disease. One of his sisters is now living on St. Mary's avenue.

To Make Life Happy.

Sweet music appeals to the heart and soul and lightens many of life's burdens. If you have ever heard the sweet-toned Steger Piano you will appreciate this. To reach the highest standard of excellence has always been the aim in the manufacture of the celebrated Steger Piano. Only the best material is used, insuring great durability. Every piano fully guaranteed.

The Steger factories, thoroughly equipped with the best and most improved machinery, located at Steger, Ill., are among the largest in the West.

Intending purchasers will find it profitable to write for a full descriptive catalogue, which will be mailed free upon application. STEGER & CO., (Established 1879.) Chicago, Ill.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters;' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50cts., guaranteed, at H. B. McCord's Drugstore.

Incoporated.

Upland driving and fair association. Capital, $1,000.

Upland co-operative glass company. Capital, $10,000.

Century fence post company, Madison. Capital, $50,000.

W. S. Wickard company, Indianapolis. Lumber. Capital, $15,000.

James A. Armstrong company, Fort Wayne. For manufacture and sale of millinery goods. Capital, $50,000.

Standard manufacturing company, Cambridge City. For manufacture of folding chairs and lawn swings. Capital, $20,000.

Attention Farmers.

The Auburn Handle Factory will pay the highest cash price for ash handle block delivered at their factory on the Lake Shore tracks, cut 58 inches long. Also want ash logs cut 9½, 14½ and 19½ feet long. All timber to be smooth and sound. Will also take basswood cut 4 feet long and 8 inches in diameter and up, left round with bark on. Will pay $3 per cord.—J. M. CHERRY & CO.

A Frightful Blunder

Will often cause a horrible Burn, Scald, Cut or Bruise. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, will kill the pain and promptly heal it. Cures Old Sores, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Felons, Corns, all Skin Erup'ions. Best Pile Cure on earth. Only 25 cts. a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by H. B. McCord, the Druggist.

—A Pleasant Lake man caught his hired hand stealing some of his chickens the other day. His case will be heard at the next term of the Steuben circuit court.

—Santa Claus has arrived at Neher's studio. d6-w2

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE
Makes the food more delicious and wholesome
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Our Saturday Evenings.

CHAPTER III.

Editors and newspapers are popularly supposed to be proof against the wiles of sharpers, confidence men, patent medicine fakirs and all sorts of travelling humbugs, but such is not always the case. No class of men contains a greater per cent of the gullible. Besides, they are so frequently exposed to the wiles of the wicked that their opportunities are dangerously great. The chief reason newspaper men are supposed to be invulnerable, is owing to the fact that they never tell on themselves but are prompt to tell on others, and follow up with a lot of good advice.

Newspaper men are expected to watch all the corners for evil and to expose it. They must defend virtue, stand up for the right, see that all laws are put in force, and to warn all against swindles of all sorts. Hence the following ower true tale copied from a Wabash paper last summer. A traveling doctor of the White Cloud variety, with a small company of cheap minstrels was giving medicine entertainments in the opera house at Roann, and Mr. Spotts, editor of the Roann Clarion was a regular attendant. The show folks had a little stage-and-audience quarrel that they would spring on the people every few nights. The Wabash reporter writes it up, thus:

Last week Dr. Buffalo Frank, a traveling medicine man with a concert attachment, held forth in Roann, and he was liberally patronized. During the day and in the early part of the evening the "doctor" sold his "cure-all" and presented each purchaser of a bottle with a ticket to the concert.

Saturday evening medicine was sold and the price of admission to the entertainment was fifteen cents, the free list being entirely suspended, even to the press.

The opera house was filled to overflowing. Editor Spotts was a little late and was compelled to take a back seat, but as he was surrounded by ladies not more fortunate than himself, he gallantly took his seat without entering a protest. When the performance was about half over, the song, "I Didn't Expect It so Soon," was announced by one of the artists. The warbler commenced the song, portions of which were pretty "risky." At a certain point, Dr. Buffalo Frank, who occupied a seat about the center of the hall, rose up and demanded that "No more of that song be sung."

"I've sung that song a hundred times, "replied the man, "and there were as many ladies in the audience as are here this evening."

"That makes no difference," said the doctor, "You'll not sing that song here tonight."

"Well, I will sing it, and I would like to see any one stop me!" said the songster.

"I am the proprietor of this show, and I say you will not sing it," cried the doctor. "And I say further if you attempt to sing another verse of that song I'll put you out." The other members of the troupe urged him to sing and the doctor commenced pulling off his coat.

The act caused quite a commotion in the hall. A number of the ladies turned pale, and the more timid portion of the audience began making preparations to evacuate the hall in a hurry, when the scrap which seemed imminent should commence.

The doctor had started toward the stage, and the excitement was at a high pitch. At this point Editor Spotts rose in his place and with his strong right arm extended toward the town marshal, in stentorian tones said, "Mr. Marshal, I think this disgraceful scene has gone far enough and that it is about time to interfere!"

The echo of the editor's voice had not yet died out when the entire chorus broke out with: "I didn't expect it so soon."

Mr. Spoots had swallowed the bait, hook, sinker, line and all. He saw it in an instant and collapsed and sunk clear out of sight behind a six-year-old boy. The older portion of the audience smiled, the middled-aged laughed, young men applauded and roared, and the gallery gods whistled, stamped their feet and yelled, but they couldn't bring Mr. Spotts out. He was done for.

National Export Exposition

On November 25 the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad will sell tickets to Philadelphia, Pa., at one fare for the round trip, good to return, leaving Philadelphia to and including December 5, 1899.

For further information call on or address nearest Baltimore & Ohio Ticket Agent, or B. N. Austin, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, Chicago, Ill.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Ginseng Culture.

State-geologist Blatchley used to gather ginseng, when a boy, dry it and sell it for $1 a pound. Recently he has been thinking of the possibilities of ginseng raising in Indiana. In a few states it has been cultivated successfully and has sold for $5 and $6 a pound. A man in Jackon county cultivated it one year. Mr. Blatchley is of the opinion it can bultivated on hillsides, where nothing else will grow to advantage. Much ginseng is shipped to China, where it is used for a tea in summer time when medicines are needed. Druggists in Indiana used to buy it from the boys who took the pains to search the woods for it.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Billiousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Sample bottles at O. P. Barber's, Corunna.

Thanksgiving Day Excursion

On November 29 and 30 the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad will sell tickets within a radius of 150 miles from selling station at one-third fare for the round trip; return limit December 1, 1899, inclusive.

For further information call on or address nearest Baltimore & Ohio Ticket Agent, or B. N. Austin, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, Ill.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Reluctantly Willing

Bobby—"Maw, is that the last piece of pie?"

Mamma—"No, my child. Why?"

Bobby (who has eaten two pieces)—"Well, I thought if it was I'd try to worry it down."—Ohio State Journal.

Thanksgiving Excursion Rates.

On Nov. 29 and 30, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R'y will sell excursion tickets at reduced rates to points on its line within 150 miles selling station good returning not after December 1st.

Philadelphia Excursions

Account National Export Exposition, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R'y will sell excursion tickets to Philadelphia, Pa., and return on November 14th and 25th at one fare for round trip, good ten days.

A Wife Says:

"We have four children. With the first three I suffered almost unbearable pains from 12 to 14 hours, and had to be placed under the influence of chloroform. I used three bottles of Mother's Friend before our last child came, which is a strong, fat and healthy boy, doing my housework up to within two hours of birth, and suffered but a few hard pains. This liniment is the grandest remedy ever made."

Mother's Friend

will do for every woman what it did for the Minnesota mother who writes the above letter. Not to use it during pregnancy is a mistake to be paid for in pain and suffering. Mother's Friend equips the patient with a strong body and clear intellect, which in turn are imparted to the child. It relaxes the muscles and allows them to expand. It relieves morning sickness and nervousness. It puts all the organs concerned in perfect condition for the final hour, so that the actual labor is short and practically painless. Danger of rising or hard breasts is altogether avoided, and recovery is merely a matter of a few days.

Druggists sell Mother's Friend for $1 a bottle.
The Bradfield Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.
Send for our free illustrated book.

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, INDIANA.

JAMES A. BARNS, . . . PUBLISHER.

1899. NOVEMBER. 1899.

Su	Mo	Tu	We	Th	Fr	Sa
•	•	•	1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12	13	14	15	16	17	18
19	20	21	22	23	24	25
26	27	28	29	30	•	•
•	•	•	•	•	•	•

N. M. 3rd. F. Q. 10th. F. M 17th. L. Q. 25th.

CIRCLING THE GLOBE

CONCISE HISTORY OF SEVEN DAYS' DOINGS.

Intelligence by Electric Wire from Every Quarter of the Civilized World, Embracing Foreign Affairs and Home Happenings.

MRS. AGUINALDO

Had to Leave Her Royal Wardrobe in the Hands of Lieut. Johnston.

Manila special: A correspondent of the Associated Press telegraphs an account of the rapid pace at which Gen. Young covered the road with his cavalry. The Macabebe scouts completely surprised and demoralized the insurgents around the low country. A messenger and reinforcements who were captured, say no town from San Jose to San Nicholas expected the arrival of the Americans until a day or two after they actually arrived.

Aguinaldo and his government are said to be making desperate efforts to escape to Bayombong. All the information here is that he is still in the low country.

Lieut. Johnston, with Troop M, Third Cavalry, captured at San Nicholas, twelve barrels containing the wardrobe of Aguinaldo's wife, some personal effects, the records of the Secretary of War and much commissary and medical supplies. Senora Aguinaldo probably escaped over the divide, but the Secretary of War is thought to be inside the lines.

TRAIN ROBBERS ARE FOILED.

Bold Attempt to Hold Up a Lake Shore Express.

A special dispatch from Erie, Pa., says: A daring attempt was made by a gang of masked men to rob Lake Shore express train No. 2 between Erie and Conneaut at 1 o'clock Friday morning. The robbers boarded the train at Ashtabula, where it stopped to take water. At a lonely place called Dock Junction, two miles east of Conneaut, the express messenger stepped from one car to another for the purpose of checking up some express bills, when one of the gang sprang into the car and broke into several packages, but before he could get to where the money envelopes were, the messenger returned and seeing the robber at work, gave the alarm.

The other members of the gang, who were standing on the platform of the west end of the car, then pulled the bell rope, and when the train stopped, jumped off and made their escape in the darkness.

Ocean Liner Afire.

London special: The Hamburg-American steamer Patria, from New York, Nov. 8, which passed the Lizard, is on fire near Dover. All the passengers were rescued and have arrived at Dover.

The Russian steamer Ceres sighted the Patria showing signals of distress and demanding immediate help, about twelve miles from North Hinder lightship. Putting on full steam, the Ceres soon reached the Patria, and sending a boat, learned that Capt. Froholich was in urgent need of assistance.

The boats were got out, and with great difficulty all the Patria's passengers, numbering 150, were transferred to the Ceres, which proceeded to Dover, where she arrived just before midnight.

Among the saved are many ladies and children, as well as six babes in arms.

Robbers Caught.

Two men entered a drug store on Bond street, Cleveland, and threw the night clerk into the cellar after they had exchanged shots with him, then robbed the till of $24. The night watchman, C. L. Bailey, attracted by the shooting by the robbers, held the robbers at the point of a revolver until two patrolmen arrived. The prisoners registered at the station as Harry Smith, alias Lee, of Chicago, and Fred Titus of Cleveland. The police believe the prisoners are responsible for many of the hold-ups lately.

Americans Are Captured.

Nongales (Ariz.) special: Vicani is again occupied by the Mexican troops. The Yaquis are in need of both food and ammunition. The Indians recently captured two Americans named Nettleton and Bostwick. They hanged Nettleton. The fate of Bostwick and a dozen other whites is unknown.

Firemen Injured.

Fire and an explosion of gas destroyed the contents and ruined the interior of a seven-story building on State street, Chicago. Many firemen were cut by flying glass. The loss is $125,000. The Kohlsaat restaurant is one of the heaviest losers.

Gen. Joubert Dead.

The Times of Natal, in an extra publishes a dispatch from Lorenzo Marquez saying that Gen. Joubert, the Commander-in-chief of the Boer forces, was killed in a skirmish at Ladysmith on Nov. 10. The report is not confirmed.

Masonic Temple, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Nov. 24—Hermann the Great.
Nov. 25—"A Colonial Girl."

Fatal Freight Wreck.

A freight on the Norfolk and Western jumped the track at Crooked Run, Va., and ten cars went over the bank. Two brakemen and a tramp were killed. One brakeman was beheaded. Wilbur Cary, another employe, was fatally hurt.

House Destroyed by Natural Gas.

A natural gas explosion in the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Russell, Springfield, Ohio, blew the house to atoms, the nine inmates miraculously escaping with but slight injuries. The explosion is a mystery.

S. W. Ritchie Kills Himself.

Samuel W. Ritchie, formerly a wealthy Minneapolis broker, was found dead on the floor of his room at the National Hotel in Seattle, Wash. He had slashed his throat with a razor and then driven a knife almost through his neck. He was despondent.

California Copper Property Sold.

The Curlsband-Walters copper mine property, located just south of the Oregon-California boundary line, near Coles Station, has been sold to the Siskiyou Copper Company of Roseland, B. C. The consideration is stated to have been $700,000.

GREATEST DEMAND EVER KNOWN.

Dun's Reason for Unusually High Prices for Raw Materials.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: "The most noteworthy feature of the time is the rise in prices. Cotton rose on Wednesday to 7.81 cents, with much excitement, putting the price 2½ cents higher than it was a year ago, and yet it was still higher in September, 1897. Wool has risen relatively more, about 10 per cent in two weeks, and the average of 100 quotations by Coates Bros. is higher than it has been at any other time since May, 1893. Pig iron has risen further, $25 being quoted for anthracite No. 1, the highest price since January, 1883. But hides are at the highest point since January, 1873. Prices of products have not correspondingly advanced. Leather and boots and shoes were higher in November, 1895, than they are now; cotton goods were higher in January, 1896; woolen goods in July, 1894, and even the products of iron, though greatly advanced, are not as high as they were in January, 1890. Such wide discrepancies in advance cause much embarrassment, but are the natural characteristic of a rise which is mainly due not to concerted action in any trade, but to the pressure of a consuming demand the greatest ever known, which for the time exceeds supplies, though very unequally. Failures for the week have been 157 in the United States, against 211 last year, and 23 in Canada, against 26 last year."

BATTLE WITH INSANE HUSBAND.

Mrs Ralph Reif in a Struggle for Hours with Maniac Spouse.

In the grasp of her insane husband Mrs. Ralph Reif, of St. Louis, battled for her life for seven hours. When help finally came Mrs. Reif was so weak that she could scarcely speak. She had been kept a prisoner by her husband in their third-story flat for three days. For two days of this time she was without food. When she attempted to leave the room her husband would seize her and bring her back. A tenant on the floor below hearing the disturbance, finally called a policeman. Forcing open the door they found Mrs. Reif lying on the bed with her husband's hands clutching her throat. She was struggling feebly, but was unable to offer much resistance. Her husband retained his hold until he was pulled away. Reif had been confined in the insane asylum for several months. Three weeks ago he was released at the request of his wife, as it was thought that he was cured.

DECAPITATED BY AN EXPLOSION.

Clarence Burrell Is Struck by Pieces of Wreckage and Killed

Clarence Burrell, 19 years old, son of Banker J. G. Burrell, was instantly killed at Urbana, Iowa, by an explosion of dynamite, which wrecked the bank building and partially destroyed the Monitor general store. He had just opened the doors of his father's private bank for the day's business when there was a smothered explosion in the Monitor store next door. When Burrell reached the rear of the building a second explosion of great force rang out. Pieces of wreckage hurled through the air by the second shock struck Burrell in the neck, decapitating him. Another missile penetrated his heart. Fire following the explosion destroyed both buildings, entailing a heavy loss. The bank vault and the store safe, however, were not damaged. There is no known cause for the explosion, but the authorities are working on the theory that it was done by incendiaries.

TWENTY-SIX MEN ARE INJURED.

Train Loaded with Workingmen Run Down Near Denison, Iowa.

Twenty-six men were injured in a wreck on the Fort Dodge and Omaha Railroad nine miles north of Denison, Iowa. The gravel train, running extra, and a work train containing 180 men came together around a sharp curve at a deep cut in the road. The men were just coming out from dinner and were crowded into box cars, with no chance for escape. The crash came without warning, the engine of the gravel train crashing through the box cars filled with their human freight and tearing them into splinters.

HOLLAND BOATS FOR THE NAVY.

Government Expected to Buy One and Build Other Submarine Warships.

The success of the recent tests with the Holland submarine boat at Peconic bay, Long Island, is considered by naval officials at Washington an assurance that the vessel will be purchased by the United States Government. It is believed Rear Admiral Hichborn will recommend to Secretary Long not only the purchase of the boat but also the building of at least three like it next year, these to be the nucleus of a flotilla of such vessels as an adjunct to the American navy.

Farmer Kills Quail Hunter.

Near Kokomo, Ind., William Busby, a farmer, with his revolver opened fire upon Fred Smith and Orin Springer, who were quail hunting on his farm without leave. The first shot instantly killed Springer, the bullet passing through the heart. Busby continued shooting and Smith, who saw Springer fall, raised his shotgun and sent a charge of lead into Busby's shoulder, disabling him.

Legs Are Torn from His Body.

An unknown man met a horrible death just outside the depot yards of the Chicago Great Western Railway at Kansas City. He jumped from a coach of an incoming passenger train and his feet caught in a frog. Wildly catching the handle bars of the next coach, his legs were torn out at the hips. The man lived fifteen minutes, dying in horrible agony.

Captain Stabbed by the Mate.

The American schooner J. B. Van Dusen left St. John, N. B., for New York. When about six hours out the mate, while intoxicated, stabbed Capt. Baisley and threw the body overboard. The body was recovered by two of the crew, who rowed ashore at Point Le Preaux. Maxwell, the assassin, has already been taken by the authorities.

Will Dine Their Customers.

For entertaining their customers, the members of the Vehicle, Implement and Hardware Club will establish a club house at Kansas City. The sole purpose is to make customers feel at home while they are in Kansas City.

To Save Parnell Homestead.

The Parnell homestead in Wicklow County, Ireland, now advertised under foreclosure proceedings, will not be sold. Tammany Hall, of New York, guaranteed the $10,000 needed to pay off the claim against the homestead.

Failure at Menominee.

The Pauli Mercantile Company, conducting a department store at Menominee, Mich., made an assignment for the benefit of creditors. The assets approximate $50,000 and liabilities nominally about the same.

Woman Jumps from a Train.

Alice M. Lapham of New York City jumped from an east-bound Michigan Central train near Kalamazoo, with the intention of committing suicide. She is in a critical condition.

Student Is Seriously Injured.

Charles E. Greenough of New York City, a member of the freshman class of the Yale scientific school, either jumped or fell from the third-story window of a boarding house at New Haven and sustained a severe injury to his back. It is believed that he will recover. Greenough's injury is the result of the attempt of a squad of police to stop a number of freshmen from throwing missiles from the top of the house on the heads of pedestrians below.

CUT TRAILS ALONG YUKON.

Dominion Surveyor Opens 120 Miles of Path to Dawson.

J. J. McArthur, the Canadian surveyor who has had charge of a party making trails in the Yukon country for the last three months, has returned. The special object of his undertaking north was to make trails along the Yukon river, that winter travel to Dawson might be accomplished without the danger and hard ships which have hitherto been the invariable attendants of such expeditions. To minimize these inconveniences McArthur's party cut out 120 miles of trails, while the Yukon and White Pass Railroad Company also constructed about fifty miles of trails. Under these improved conditions the Rink Rapids, White Horse, Fifty-Mile and Five Fingers can now be avoided in the course of a winter's journey to Dawson.

DRAW COLOR LINE IN CUBA.

Three Americans in Havana Punished for Barring Negroes.

In Havana three Americans, Hanson, King and Holland, have each been sentenced to two months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $65 and two-thirds of the costs of the proceedings for placing over their saloon a sign reading: "We cater to white people only." Their place had been closed in January last by order of the civil government because they had refused to serve a colored Cuban general, but they were allowed to open the saloon again on promise to serve the public without distinction of color. The defendants have appealed the case. A letter has been published in a paper of the city, written by another colored Cuban general, complaining that the owner of a barber shop had refused to cut his hair on account of his color.

FIND BODIES IN TRUNKS.

Man Having Them Claims to Be Supplying Bodies to a Medical School.

Four trunks, each containing a mutilated body, were discovered at union station, in St. Louis, and were taken to the morgue. The trunks were being handled by the Pacific Express Company. They had been shipped from Memphis, Tenn., to Keokuk, Iowa. The police have made one arrest in connection with the discovery. Frank Thompson, the man under arrest, says he is the city undertaker of Memphis, Tenn. The trunks are addressed to W. H. Hamsen, Keokuk, Iowa, who, Thompson says, is proprietor of a medical college. Thompson says he is paid for furnishing the bodies.

From Prison to Great Riches.

George Cooper, who in 1892 was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment after a sensational trial for having killed his wife at Douglas, Isle of Man, has been released, and finds himself in possession of a fortune estimated at nearly £1,000,000. Both his father and father-in-law, who were always convinced of his innocence, died during his imprisonment, leaving him large properties.

Plan Great Railway Combine.

John W. Gates, W. Edenborn, I. L. Ellwood and John Lambert, the heaviest stockholders in the American Steel and Wire interests, have joined with E. H. Harriman and the other members of the Harriman-Gould syndicate in a plan for the consolidation of the leading trunk railways of the United States.

Carnegie Fails to Sell Out.

H. C. Frick and others failing to close the option they held on his interests in the Carnegie Steel Company and allied concerns, Andrew Carnegie announces that all negotiations are off and he will not sell. This settles the deal involving many millions of dollars, which has been pending for some months.

Kansas Robbers Use Dynamite.

The safe and office furniture of the Melvern, Kan., bank were demolished by an explosion of dynamite the other night and robbers then looted the place, securing $600 in money and several thousand dollars in notes and checks. They escaped.

Fatal Freight Collision.

In a freight collision on the Pittsburg and Lake Erie road at McKee's Rocks, Pa., Alfred C. Carter, engineer, was killed and Thomas B. Brown, conductor, and Russell Lipton, a flagman, were probably fatally injured.

Commits Murder and Suicide.

At Paducah, Ky., Joseph Enders, an engineer, shot and killed Dora Shayer and afterward blew out his own brains. The tragedy was caused by attempts of the girl to rid herself of the attentions of Enders.

Logan Slain in Battle.

A cable dispatch announces that Maj. John A. Logan, Thirty-third volunteer infantry, was killed in a fight in Luzon. He was leading his battalion in action.

August A. Becker Hanged.

August A. Becker, the butcher who murdered his wife last January, was hanged in the county jail at Chicago.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago—Cattle, common to prime, $3.00 to $7.00; hogs, shipping grades, $3.00 to $4.25; sheep, fair to choice, $3.00 to $4.75; wheat, No. 2 red, 67c to 68c; corn, No. 2, 31c to 32c; oats, No. 2, 22c to 23c; rye, No. 2, 48c to 50c; butter, choice creamery, 24c to 25c; eggs, fresh, 17c to 19c; potatoes, choice, 30c to 40c per bushel.

Indianapolis—Cattle, shipping, $3.00 to $6.75; hogs, choice light, $2.75 to $4.50; sheep, common to prime, $3.25 to $4.25; wheat, No. 2 red, 66c to 68c; corn, No. 2 white, 32c to 33c; oats, No. 2 white, 25c to 27c.

St. Louis—Cattle, $3.25 to $6.75; hogs, $3.00 to $4.25; sheep, $3.00 to $4.50; wheat, No. 2, 69c to 71c; corn, No. 2 yellow, 31c to 33c; oats, No. 2, 23c to 25c; rye, No. 2, 50c to 52c.

Cincinnati—Cattle, $2.50 to $6.50; hogs, $3.00 to $4.50; sheep, $2.50 to $4.25; wheat, No. 2, 69c to 71c; corn, No. 2 mixed, 34c to 36c; oats, No. 2 mixed, 25c to 26c; rye, No. 2, 59c to 61c.

Detroit—Cattle, $2.50 to $6.50; hogs, $3.00 to $4.25; sheep, $2.50 to $4.50; wheat, No. 2, 68c to 70c; corn, No. 2 yellow, 34c to 35c; oats, No. 2 white, 27c to 29c; rye, 57c to 59c.

Toledo—Wheat, No. 2 mixed, 68c to 70c; corn, No. 2 mixed, 32c to 33c; oats, No. 2 mixed, 22c to 24c; rye, No. 2, 55c to 57c; clover seed, $4.95 to $5.05.

Milwaukee—Wheat, No. 2 northern, 64c to 66c; corn, No. 3, 33c to 34c; oats, No. 2 white, 24c to 27c; rye, No. 1, 54c to 55c; barley, No. 2, 44c to 46c; pork, mess, $8.00 to $8.50.

Buffalo—Cattle, good shipping steers, $3.00 to $6.50; hogs, common to choice, $3.25 to $4.75; sheep, fair to choice wethers, $3.00 to $4.50; lambs, common to extra, $4.50 to $5.25.

New York—Cattle, $3.25 to $6.50; hogs, $3.00 to $4.50; sheep, $3.00 to $4.75; wheat, No. 2 red, 72c to 74c; corn, No. 2, 30c to 41c; oats, No. 2 white, 30c to 32c; butter, creamery, 18c to 26c; eggs, western, 15c to 21c.

JOHN A. LOGAN SLAIN.

SON OF THE "BLACK EAGLE" DIES IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Major Is Shot Down While Leading a Victorious Charge Upon Rebel Intrenchments at San Jacinto—President Consoles Mother and Widow.

Maj. John A. Logan, namesake son of the "Black Eagle of Illinois," has been killed in battle in the Philippines. The official announcement of his death came in a dispatch from Gen. Otis Tuesday. The news was a severe shock to his mother, his wife and to a large circle of friends.

When the news reached the War Department that Maj. Logan had fallen Gen. Corbin selected Maj. Johnson, assistant adjutant general, to carry the message to Mrs. Logan. She was nearly prostrated with grief when Maj. Johnson informed her of her son's death, but soon recovered sufficiently to order her carriage and drive to the White House in the hope that she might learn from the President that there was some mistake in the dispatch and that her boy might still live. At the door she broke down completely. An usher supported her to the red parlor. Mrs. McKenna, wife of the associate justice, who was at the White House, hastened to Mrs. Logan and tenderly embraced her. President McKinley left the cabinet meeting when he learned of Mrs. Logan's presence, and with kindly words tried to assuage the grief of the heartbroken mother.

MAJOR JOHN A. LOGAN.

Consoled by the President.

The President sent this telegram to the widow of the dead soldier at Youngstown, Ohio:

"It is my painful duty to convey to you the sad intelligence of the death of your husband while gallantly leading his battalion in the charge at San Jacinto. His splendid qualities as a soldier and high courage on the fighting line have given him place among the heroic men of the war, and it will be some consolation to you to know that he died for his country on the field of honor. You have in this trying hour for yourself and the children the sincere sympathy of Mrs. McKinley and myself."

The announcement of the death of Maj. John A. Logan fell with crushing force upon his widow and children, two of whom are old enough to realize the loss of their father. Mrs. Logan and her mother, Mrs. Andrews, had completed preparations for going abroad, expecting to spend the winter in the south of France, and were anticipating a pleasant trip, when the cablegram was received, changing the home into a house of mourning. Mrs. Logan was a daughter of the late Chauncey Andrews, iron and railway magnate, and her wedding to Maj. Logan March 22, 1887, was a brilliant social event, the couple receiving gifts amounting to $200,000, the bride being presented with $100,000 in government bonds by her father and her uncle, Wallace C. Andrews. The Logans have three children.

Maj. Logan while in Cuba gained the reputation of a soldier who knew no fear, and he said to a friend prior to leaving for the Philippines: "If it is ordered that my life goes out on the battlefield I hope it will be leading my men against the enemy." In view of his death the words seem to have been prophetic. The body of the son will probably be brought home for burial beside his father, whose body lies in a tomb in the National Soldiers' Home Cemetery in Washington.

Told in a Few Lines.

Wm. Meek, Catlettsburg, Ky., killed John Marion in a political row.

John Adkins, Olympia, Ky., was shot and killed in a drunken political brawl.

Engineer Downing and Fireman Barnett were killed in a wreck at Senatobia, Tenn.

President Thomas of the Erie Railway says the Vanderbilts have not gobbled up that road.

Gen. Nunez, who succeeded Gen. Rivera as civil governor of Havana, has assumed office.

A syndicate is being organized in Texas to control the wool and sheep industry of the Southwest.

Fires have been lighted in the new steel mill of the Alabama Shipbuilding Company at Ensley.

Yaqui Indians are said to be using Mauser rifles in their guerrilla warfare against the Mexicans.

Senorita Lux Diaz, daughter of President Diaz, Mexico, was married to Francisco Rincon Gallardo.

Mrs. Jane Sennott, 65, and Elizabeth Sarsfield, 75, of Roxbury, Mass., were found dead in bed at Boston. They had been suffocated by gas.

William Hallahan, 29, Jersey City, N. J., was fatally shot by Policeman Johnston while resisting arrest.

Joseph B. Fossy, well-known insurance man, New Orleans, La., killed himself. Lost money on the election.

King Martin, colored, Kaufman, Tex., under sentence of death, tried to escape and was killed by Sheriff Keller.

Fred E. Clarke, president of the Boston and Lowell Railroad, Lawrence, Mass., died from heart disease.

WHERE MAJOR LOGAN WAS KILLED.
Scene of Operations of United States Forces in Northern Luzon.

MILES' ANNUAL REPORT.

Believes Present Army Force Is Ample for the Services Required.

The annual report of Maj. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, commanding the army, was made public at the War Department Tuesday. It is extremely brief and formal in character. It announces the transmission to the Secretary of War of the reports of the department and staff commanders and makes a brief statement of the strength and distribution of the army, including the muster out of the volunteer regiments, most of the details of which have been already published in the reports of the adjutant general. It has been the practice heretofore to discharge soldiers in Manila, paying them there and giving them free transportation to the United States on the Government transports. This has resulted in several complaints to the Secretary of War about soldiers who have landed in this country without means to get to their homes. In transmitting this report to Gen. Otis it is suggested to him that hereafter no more soldiers shall be discharged in Manila, but that when their terms of service expire they shall be sent to San Francisco, where they will get their discharge papers and their pay. The report concludes with the following general statement: "As far as organization is concerned the army is in a transition state. It is believed that the force will be ample for the service required of it up to the time authorized—namely, July 1, 1901. It is gratifying to note that the Government has authorized a military force which seems commensurate with its requirements, magnitude and institutions. I have for years recommended the adoption of a standard in proportion to the population—and I believe that the establishment of such a standard would be safe and judicious in every respect."

The annual report of Surgeon General Sternberg of the army has been made public at the War Department. Gen. Sternberg remarks: "The medical corps of the army, which was scarcely adequate before the war with Spain for our army of 25,000 men, is now entirely inadequate, and should be increased as soon as is practicable. Many of the commissioned medical officers of the volunteer army, and of the acting assistant surgeons, have made rapid progress in acquiring a knowledge of their military duties, and have demonstrated their fitness for the military service. In filling vacancies in the medical corps these gentlemen should, in my opinion, have the preference when they come within the established age limit." The report says the number of deaths from all causes in the regular army was 1,285. Of this number 22 per cent was from disease and 5.55 per cent from injuries. The total number of deaths, including the regulars and volunteers, from May 1, 1898, to June 30, 1899, is given as 6,619, of whom 496 were killed in battle, 216 by accident, 202 by gunshot wounds.

REBELS ARE ROUTED.

Desperate Battle Fought with Filipinos Near San Fabian.

The Thirty-third infantry in one of the sharpest two hours' engagements of the war with an equal force of insurgents, five miles from San Fabian, Saturday lost one officer and six men killed and one officer and twelve men wounded. The Americans captured twenty-nine Filipinos and 100 rifles and found eighty-one insurgent dead lying in the trenches and rice fields. Many more Filipinos, doubtless, were killed or wounded.

The insurgents opened the fight two miles from San Jacinto, while the leading American battalion was passing a clump of houses in the midst of a cocoanut grove, knee deep in mud. The Filipino sharpshooters, hidden in trees, houses and a small trench across the road, held their fire until the Americans were close to them. When they began firing other Filipinos opened fire from thickets, right and left, further away.

The regiment then deployed under fire, with Maj. John A. Logan's battalion in the center, Maj. Cronic's on the right and Maj. Marsh's on the left. The skirmish line, which was a mile long, advanced rapidly, keeping up a constant fire. The Filipinos made an unexpectedly good stand, many of them remaining under cover until the Americans were within twenty feet of them. The insurgents are supposed to have retreated toward Dagupan. It was impossible to pursue them, as the American troops were exhausted and their supply of ammunition was low.

Maj. Logan was shot through the head and mortally wounded early in the fight while stooping to attend a corporal who had been wounded. A hospital steward was killed while trying to drag the major to the side of the road. Shortly afterward, at the same spot, Capt. Green and a non-commissioned officer were wounded. All this was evidently the work of sharpshooters, who picked out the officers by their uniforms. Half a dozen of these men were spotted in the trees and killed by our sharpshooters. The firing on the field hospital men did not cease, however, until a detail returning from San Jacinto to convey the dead and wounded to San Fabian cleared the country of insurgents.

Maj. March's battalion was the first to enter San Jacinto. Judging from the resistance made by the enemy, it is believed the insurgents were veterans from Tarlac, under command of Gen. Minio.

Some of Love's Vagaries.

A Philadelphia woman sent her rival poisoned ice cream.

A New York woman had her sweetheart arrested for theft and then married him.

An Atchison man is suing his wife for divorce because he found her examining mourning styles.

The divorced wife of a Jersey City man is now a cook in the employ of her ex-husband's second wife.

W. B. Pile married Mrs. Vanliewan in Independence, Kan. It was her fifth trip to the altar and his third.

In spite of the strict rules of celibacy in the Amana colony, two members fell in love and were married.

On the eve of his wedding the mother of a New Jersey man kidnaped him and no one knows where they are.

While dressing for her wedding a Vienna woman learned of the groom's death. Three days later she married another man.

WRECKED ON A REEF.

CRUISER CHARLESTON MEETS WITH DISASTER.

Warship Is Lost While Patrolling the Northwest Coast of Luzon—Officers and Crew Make Their Escape from the Unlucky Fighting Craft.

The United States cruiser Charleston, which had been patrolling the northern coast of Luzon, was wrecked on a reef Tuesday, Nov. 7. All on board were saved. The Charleston had been employed cruising off the north coast of Luzon, intercepting vessels carrying arms to the Filipino insurgents. The cruiser was the vessel which took possession of Guam on her way to join Admiral Dewey, whom she supported with efficiency in the capture of Manila.

The Charleston, which was built in San Francisco in 1888, had a displacement of 3,730 tons, was 312 feet 7 inches in length, 46 feet 2 inches in beam and 21 feet 8 inches in draught. She was of steel, having two propellers, one funnel and two masts with military tops. The Charleston has been in Asiatic waters more than a year. She was one of the first vessels to be sent to Manila after the destruction of the Spanish fleet by Admiral Dewey, the Navy Department utilizing her for the purpose of sending ammunition and other supplies for the Asiatic station. Just previous to her assignment to that duty she had undergone an overhauling at the Mare Island navy yard, San Francisco, and therefore was in prime condition for her duties.

The Charleston sailed from San Francisco on May 18 last. She was heavily laden with ammunition for Admiral Dewey's fleet. She carried a crew of 380 men and no troops.

Chases Chilian Warship.

One of the most memorable episodes in the career of the Charleston was her pursuit and capture of the filibustering cruiser Itata at the time when the United States and Chili were very near to war in 1891. The Itata, primarily a merchant vessel, had been enlisted in the aid of the congressional party in Chili while civil war was raging there, and put to sea from San Diego, Cal., May 6 in defiance of United States laws, with a United States marshal virtually a prisoner on board. At sea the Itata took on a cargo of arms and ammunition from the American schooner Robert and Minnie, and with it set sail for the Chilian coast.

THE CRUISER CHARLESTON.

The Charleston on May 9 started in pursuit of the Itata with orders to take her at all hazards. The memorable stern chase lasted twenty-five days. Many thought a naval battle would occur, for it was presumed that the Esmeralda, a powerful ironclad, would attempt to protect the Itata, but no occasion for a fight arose.

When, on June 4, the Charleston arrived at Iquique she learned for the first time that the Chilian insurgents, fearing trouble with the United States, had consented to hand over the Itata with all her cargo.

The runaway shortly steamed into Iquique and was surrendered to Admiral McCann, in charge of the United States fleet. The Charleston escorted the captive cruiser back to San Francisco and international complications with the Latin-American republic were averted.

FOOTBALL GAMES.

Results of the Leading Contests on the Gridiron Saturday.

Results of the leading football games played Saturday:

Pennsylvania, 11; Michigan, 10.
Wisconsin, 23; Illinois, 0.
Chicago, 76; Northwestern, 0.
Harvard, 11; Dartmouth, 0.
Yale, 42; Pennsylvania State, 0.
Princeton, 12; Carlisle, 0.
Columbia, 16; West Point, 0.
Lafayette, 6; Cornell, 5.
Beloit, 5; Minnesota, 5.
Brown, 38; Massachusetts, 0.

As a result of the games settled Saturday three teams—Harvard, Yale and Princeton—may now be regarded as leading in the East. Pennsylvania's victory over Michigan was by no means decisive, a 11 to 10 score being practically a tie. Chicago's defeat of Northwestern was impressive, but the form displayed by the victors was even more significant of their worth than was the big score. Wisconsin trounced Illinois, which had already been beaten by Michigan. Brown's victory over the Massachusetts Institute of Technology proves little.

A comparison of the relative merits of teams in the West shows that Chicago, Wisconsin and Michigan are virtually on a par. Wisconsin and Michigan will settle their standing on Thanksgiving day. After that Chicago's recent showing against Pennsylvania may be compared with that of Michigan, both against the Quakers and against the Badgers, and a conclusion possibly reached. If Wisconsin and Michigan display about equal ability the Western championship will necessarily be still in doubt.

CHURCH AND CLERGY.

Universalists are raising $200,000 for a church extension fund.

The Methodist Church is to found a college at Skaguay, Alaska.

Jerry McAuley's mission in New York is now twenty-six years old.

New York Episcopal churches are enthusiastic over Earl Gulick, a boy soloist.

St. Jude's Episcopal Church, Philadelphia, has celebrated its fiftieth anniversary.

One of the Presbyteries in North Dakota is composed entirely of Indian churches.

Miss Florence Fenham is the first woman student at Chicago Theological Seminary.

Senator William B. Bate of Tennessee was recently baptized in the Baptist Church.

The Rev. Minot J. Savage, a New York Unitarian, says Dr. De Costa's position is more radical than that of Bishop Potter

THE WAR WITH THE BOERS.

Fighting Still Continues, with No Important Results.

At this writing it is not apparent that any serious fighting has taken place in Natal between the Boers and British since the serious reverse experienced by the latter before Ladysmith. There is a dearth of news in London relative to the South African situation, but enough is known to keep up interest and create anxiety. Ladysmith is surrounded by the Boers in large numbers and a force sufficiently strong has been sent south and has compelled the British evacuation of Colenso, the only town of importance between Ladysmith and Durban, the chief port of Natal. This obviously improves the Boer situation. It gives them the command of the Tugella river, cuts off Ladysmith completely from communication with British headquarters at Pietermaritzburg, the capital of Natal, and places them favorably for an attack upon any re-enforcement that Gen. Buller may send north from Durban for the relief of Gen. White.

Meantime at Kimberley and Mafeking, on the west side of the twin republics, the siege of these places is being prosecuted by the Boers. The later are in greater numbers than it was once thought they could muster and England may find it necessary to send even more than one army corps to South Africa.

Friday night Capt. Fitz-Clarence and Lieut. Swinburn, with D squadron of the Protectorate regiment, made a magnificent bayonet charge upon the Boers' entrenchment, driving them from their positions and bayoneting numbers of the Boers, who must have lost very heavily. The charge was most gallant and determined. The party could not hold the trenches and lost six men killed, two prisoners and nine wounded in their retirement.

A heliographic message from Ladysmith, received at Estcourt, states that the bombardment of that place continues, but thus far no harm had been done. The message adds that there is plenty of food, and all are well. The Boers are doing all the damage possible to the railroad south of Colenso, and are gathering in large numbers south of Ladysmith, the motive of these movements evidently being to hamper the British as much as they can in their efforts to relieve White.

A dispatch from Kimberley says that the Boers are apparently shelling the town at the extreme range of their guns. Their fire has been futile.

BOOM IN CHOCTAW COURTING.

Mad Rush for Indian Brides Made by Avaricious Whites.

Love-making of a fast order is now going on in the Choctaw nation, Indian Territory. About 5,000 white men have already won Choctaw brides and the land and money that accompany them. The cause of the rush is the recent announcement of the Dawes commission that after the first of the month all persons not Choctaws by blood will not be enrolled on the citizenship list. This means no white men who marry Choctaw women will be allowed to share in lands and money of the Choctaw tribe. Hence quick love-making on part of civilized man.

The Choctaw girls are rather pretty and some are highly educated. Those who are not full bloods refuse to marry

TYPE OF CHOCTAW MAIDEN.

Indians, hence there is a great demand for whites. Choctaw girls marry at the age of 17. Because of their 550 acres of land (equal amount being given to their husbands) no trouble is experienced in finding a suitable companion. These girls are of a kind and loving disposition, and are said by the white men who have tried to make excellent wives.

WAR NEWS IN BRIEF.

There are no Boers nearer Estcourt than Colenso.

A report declares that the Boers are marching into Zululand.

Foreign interference is now regarded as out of the question.

Gen. Buller did not expect to begin the campaign before Christmas.

A complete wireless telegraphic apparatus has been seized on a vessel at Cape Town.

St. Petersburg reports cite the Russians as marching toward the Afghan frontier.

The troops arrived at Cape Town now bring the total number thus far landed up to 130,000.

The strict censorship of the British authorities prevents authentic reports in many instances.

The Portuguese Government has determined not to send troops to Delagoa bay before the end of December.

Both Britons and Boers are accused of inhumanity, but these stories are not to be accepted without consideration of the source.

It is reported that the Belgian Government has warned Dr. Leyds, whose headquarters is at Brussels, that Belgium is a neutral country.

The Basutos have expressed their sympathy for the British by quitting work on the Boers' farms, and as a result the crops are rotting.

Durban advices report that a big force of the Boers was driven back from Ladysmith and that they suffered severely.

Capt. Lambton's arrival from Durban with 500 men and heavy guns was extremely fortunate for the British.

The British have abandoned Aliwal-north, an important town on the Orange Free State border, and the Boers are now occupying the place.

The humanity displayed by Joubert and commented on by Gen. White has created a favorable impression, and will mitigate in favor of clemency if England conquers.

The Italian Red Cross Society is sending fruit to the sick British soldiers in South Africa and medicine to the Boers.

It is believed that the greater portion of the Boer soldiery is concentrated between Colenso and Ladysmith. This is an extremely advantageous position.

Officials at Cape Town are now stopping all foreign official telegrams, whether in code or otherwise, except messages to the Governor of Portuguese East Africa and Portugal.

The press censorship will be stricter than ever hereafter, and it is now generally understood that there will be no more exciting news from the Transvaal until the British win some big battles.

"I DIDN'T THINK."

If all the troubles in the world
Were traced back to the start,
We'd find not one in ten begun
From want of willing heart.
But there's a sly woe-working elf
Who lurks about youth's brink,
And sure dismay he brings away—
The elf "I didn't think."

He seems so sorry when he's caught,
His mien is all contrite,
He so regrets the woe he wrought,
And wants to make things right.
But wishes do not heal a wound,
Or weld a broken link,
The heart aches on, the link is gone—
All through "I didn't think."

When brain is comrade to the heart,
And heart from soul draws grace,
"I didn't think" will quick depart
For lack of resting place.
If from that great unselfish stream,
The Golden Rule we drink,
We'll keep God's laws and have no cause
To say, "I didn't think."
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Love's Vicissitudes.

"I'M going to enjoy myself all I can for the next three weeks, for after that I shall have to settle down into a nice, respectable matron;" and the speaker drew down her pretty mouth in mock solemnity.

"That doesn't sound as if it were a pleasurable anticipation," observed her companion.

"There, Alvin, what makes you take everything so seriously? Of course I didn't mean it that way," exclaimed Edna, half impatiently.

They had been engaged for some time, and the day had been decided upon which should see them united for life. Edna Lewis was a bright, vivacious girl, with mischief lurking in her gray eyes. She loved excitement, while Alvin Hall was quiet and rather grave.

"May I ask?" he inquired, "what are the dissipations you are planning for these three weeks?"

"Well, there's Laura's party and the moonlight excursion of the club, and the circus is coming next week—you'll take me to that, won't you, Alvin?"

"My dear Edna, you know my views on that subject. I do not think it a proper place for a lady to visit."

"I don't think it's any harm, and I've set my heart on going."

"To please me you will not go, Edna," he said quietly.

"Well, I shall. Jack Woods offered to take me, and I said of course you would. If you won't I'll go with him, that's all," she exclaimed.

"Very well, if you choose to disregard my wishes I cannot prevent it," and with that he bade her good-by.

A week passed. At the party Edna met Jack Woods.

"I suppose you and Alvin are going to the circus?" he remarked, casually. "Going to be a big thing this year."

"No, Alvin isn't going," she replied. "He does not approve of those things."

"Whew! Aren't we good all at once? It isn't right, though, for him to spoil your pleasure."

So Edna thought, and when Jack renewed his offer of escort to the forbidden place she accepted it. Somehow, though, she did not enjoy the performance much, and as time went on her lover's manner showed that he had not forgiven her. Those were unhappy days. Edna was too proud to show her regret, and only those nearest her knew that she suffered. Alvin Hall went West, and reports came to her that he had married and settled down. It was then that Jack asked her to be his wife and she consented, though acknowledging that her heart had been given to another. She made him a cozy home, however, and soon three little ones came to bless it.

But one day the change came. Her husband was brought home insensible, and the doctor said that paralysis would prevent him from ever working again. Then Edna faced the problem bravely. She obtained work as a dressmaker and earned enough to maintain the family. At length her husband died, and she was alone with her children, the oldest of whom, a bright boy of 15, was employed in a store. One day he came home breathless.

"Mother," he exclaimed, "to-day two ladies came in, and one was asking where she could find a good dressmaker. I made bold to speak about you, and she gave me her card, and said would you please call to-morrow."

"I am glad of it, Jack," said his mother, "for I am not busy just now."

The next day found her at the residence of Mrs. Gleason. Her references being satisfactory, that lady gave her a dress to be finished by the following Saturday. Edna worked at it early and late, and at the appointed time she stood again on the step of that dwelling so different from her own. A gentleman answered the bell and invited her inside.

"Mrs. Woods, is it not?" he asked. "My sister said she expected you, and, as she was called out, she wished you to await her return."

As he placed a chair for her she thanked him; but something in her manner made him observe her closely. Her eyes wandered from a portrait in one corner of the room to the face of the man before her. The picture was of a young man with dark, serious eyes and a broad, high forehead. When Edna saw it she started and turned white.

"Are you ill?" inquired the gentleman. He approached her. "Good heavens!" he cried, "is it Edna, after all these years?"

"It is strange that we should meet again here," she murmured, trying to calm herself.

"Yes," he answered. "How have you fared since I saw you? Is your—husband well?"

"My husband died five years ago," she said quietly. "How are your family?"

"They have been taken from me. I am alone, except for my sister."

They were silent for a little, each occupied with many thoughts. At last Alvin spoke.

"I have much to ask forgiveness for," he said. "My heart has not changed through my long absence. Tell me, can you forgive my arrogance?"

"It was my fault, every bit of it," she exclaimed with something of her old impetuosity, "but I paid the penalty," she added.

"Then say we may begin over again," he said eagerly, "and make bright the short time that is left to us here. Will you, dear?"

"You don't know what you are saying," she faltered. "There are Jack, and Elsie, and little Alvin——"

"And, best of all, there is Edna," and he held her fast.

The door opened at this point, and Mrs. Gleason stood amazed.

"My dear," said her brother, with an arm around his first and last love, "I am glad you found a dressmaker, but I'm afraid you will have to change, because she belongs to me."—Boston Post.

HOMESPUN PHILOSOPHY.

Observations of Commonplace Things by the Atchison Globe Man.

Every prodigal knows the fatted calf story.

People soon learn to dislike a pretty girl who is slouchy.

No sane woman, past 35 years of age, has an ideal.

No difference how cheap a thing is offered, people want it for less.

Every renter asks so much that he finally moves, just because he is mad.

A yacht race seems to need just what the human race has too much of—wind.

A farmer's wife can beat her husband selling butter and eggs to a storekeeper.

You are in favor of the heathen accepting religion, but do you accept it yourself?

There is nothing to some men, except that they are smart and well educated.

A busy man always hates the fellow who has nothing to do beyond giving good advice.

The average man goes home from a visit sooner than he expected. The average woman remains longer.

We have noticed that those persons who have great confidence in medicine usually have great confidence in religion.

At the foot of a two-column notice of a wedding, it is generally stated that the groom is a clerk, and a rising young man.

When a woman has imaginary trouble, she has a great deal to say about the flower, that, being trampled on, gives out a sweeter odor.

It is one of the unfortunate things of life that when a family has quail to eat, their neighbors don't know it as they do when onions are fried.

Some people have never purchased a gold brick for no other reason than that the gold brick man has never suspected them of having the price.

After a woman has been told she is a good manager, she makes herself unpopular by attempting to manage her friends' affairs, as well as her own.

Before marrying a girl, young man, look her mother over. You can tell what a girl will be twenty or thirty years hence by looking at her mother.

PHYSICAL PAIN AS A LEVELER.

An Old Surgeon Says that Mental Suffering Is Much Easier to Bear.

"One frequently hears it said," remarked a veteran surgeon, chatting in his office, "that mental suffering is a great deal harder to bear than physical suffering, but the people who make the assertion are usually people who know very little about bodily pain. They have a vague idea that a capacity for mental anguish indicates a fine, high-strung spirit, while there is something gross about a sensitiveness to physical discomfort. Such a theory is pure rubbish, and the facts in a general way are quite to the contrary.

"It is your thoroughbred, your refined, highly intellectual person who is most susceptible to brute pain, and your rough, illiterate, dull-witted fellow who is driven to distraction by a tortured mind. I suppose the explanation is that the stupid, uneducated man is unable to bring any philosophy to bear on his troubles, while on the other hand the nerves of the cultured chap have been sharpened by civilization. But as far as my observation goes, pain, physical pain, is the great leveler. Be the form what it may—hunger, thirst, exhaustion or the agency of wounded flesh—a given amount of it will reduce all men to about the same status. I got my first lessons in that line when I was a soldier in the civil war, and I have been getting them ever since at the operating table and the bedside. I beg to doubt whether there is a single human being who can retain his or her nobility of character under long-continued bodily distress. Oh, yes; I know what you are going to say—that there are invalids and cripples whose temper has been only sweetened by years of torture. Such cases prove nothing, nothing at all. They think they are suffering continually, but they are not. There are long intervals of relief and quietude.

"Take my word for it that pain destroys moral fiber as surely as fire destroys wood, and that, by the way, was what made the rack such a great success as an instrument of judicial inquiry in the good old days. An industrious judge with a well-made rack never had any reason to lack corroboratory evidence."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Traveling in Java.

A man who has been traveling in Java thus writes about the Dutch colonial railways. He says: "Trains are used in Java, not on account of their speed, but on account of the long distances one has to cover; if you are in a hurry and you haven't more than five miles to go—walk. You may find some difficulty in keeping up to the train if it is going down a stiff gradient but you will more than make this up on the flat, and you'll romp it on coming to the slightest ascent. It is a solemn fact," he continues, "that once in the course of a mile walk along a highway running parallel with the railway line I caught up to and passed a 'snell' (express train.) Toward the end of the walk I had entered a shop to purchase some cigars, and only after I had been in the shop ten minutes did the train again pass me.—Pinang Gazette.

There Is a Difference.

"Does your daughter play the piano?"

"She says she does, but it sounds more to me as if she were working it."—Indianapolis Journal.

The average man's conscience is more or less elastic.

It's a poor brand of virtue that goes around seeking temptations.

FAMOUS FOOTBALL CAPTAINS.

HARE. Pennsylvania. M'LANE. Illinois. O'DEA. Wisconsin. STECKLE. Michigan.

GEN. MERRITT'S RISE.

MADE A MAJOR GENERAL AT THE AGE OF 27 YEARS.

He Won Seven Brevets and Promotions in Two Years and Came Out of the Civil War a Dashing Officer—"Little Phil" Praises Him.

Seven brevets and promotions, all for "gallant and meritorious service" in the field, all won in the space of two years, is the unique record established by Major General Wesley Merritt. Six times he was rewarded thus for bravery in particular engagements, and once for his service during the entire campaign. In 1860, at the age of 22, he graduated from West Point. He emerged from the war a major general at 27.

"It was in the battle of Beverly Ford that Merritt made his mark," says Gen. T. F. Rodenbough, who served with him through most of the rebellion. "He set it high up, too, for in that one day he jumped from the rank of captain, acting as colonel, to the position of brigadier general, and the command of the regular brigade, familiarly known as the Old Guard.

"In the spring of 1863 the Union cavalry, which had been split up into small divisions during the earlier part of the war, was reorganized, and Gen. Pleasonton was made chief of cavalry of the Army of the Potomac. Merritt was assigned to the Second Cavalry, with the rank of captain.

"At the beginning of June it was reported that Lee was getting ready to move north, and a force of 10,000 cavalry was sent out to see if they could locate any large bodies of Confederate troops, with a view to determining the truth of this report. In the course of our expedition we ran into some 12,000 Confederate cavalry under 'Jeb' Stuart, not far from Culpeper. Fording the Rappahannock in the early morning we attacked the Confederates' camp.

"The ensuing engagement, known as the battle of Beverly Ford, is recognized by military writers as the most conspicuous cavalry engagement of the war. The numbers on each side were nearly equal, the ground was favorable for mounted operations, and the fighting lasted all day, from 5 in the morning until nearly 7 at night.

"There were two young officers on the Union side who won great glory that day. They were Merritt and Custer, both of whom were immediately afterwards made brigadier generals. Better than all else, Merritt won the warm commendation of his old commander, the gallant Buford, of whom he afterward wrote:

"'His slightest praise was more valued by his officers than a brevet from the War Department.'

"At the battle of Gettysburg, his next big fight, Merritt performed service which was not fully appreciated until later. His command got into the fight on the third day, the day after Pickett's charge, and engaged the extreme Confederate left near Round Top. He was facing a superior force, but he kept it so busy that when Lee sent word to Longstreet to move forward and back up Pickett Longstreet replied that the Yankee cavalry was giving him all that he could attend to, and that he was unable to help Pickett. Considering the mighty results that hung on small chances that day, it is difficult to say how great Merritt's service to the country really was. It did not go unrewarded, for Merritt was breveted major from July 1, 1863, for gallant and meritorious conduct."

On the 11th day of May, 1864, Sheridan was only six miles from Richmond, when he was opposed by Stuart's cavalry. The latter believed that the safety of their capital was at stake and fought like demons. Sheridan usually knew how his battles were coming out, but he was anxious on that day, and for a time the issue hung in the balance. Then a great cheer rose on the left of the Union line, and Merritt's and Wilson's divisions dashed forward in a saber charge that swept the Confederates off the field and carried the day for Little Phil. That action made Merritt a brevet lieutenant colonel.

Merritt's fourth distinguished reward was won in the battle of Howes' Shop, seventeen days later. Gregg's division and the brigades of Torbert and Merritt were opposed by the enemy from a strongly entrenched position. Mounted troops could not dislodge them, but the cavalrymen held their own in the face of a galling fire until Custer's men, who had been hastily dismounted, came up with band playing and colors flying.

"The music and the yell which always identified Custer's men was like an electric shock to us," says one of Merritt's officers, "and we went forward over the Confederate works as though carried on a wave. The General was in front among the Johnnies, yelling with the best of us. We were all delighted when he was brevetted colonel for his work on this day."

It was only a year from the time when Merritt was assigned to duty as a line officer with the cavalry of the Army of the Potomac, and already his "gallant and meritorious conduct" had been rewarded four times from Washington. During the following year he added three more to his list of brevets.

When the battle of Winchester was begun Merritt was six miles away facing Breckinridge's column. He followed Breckinridge into the fight, although he knew nothing of the state of the battle or whether he might not have to face the whole Confederate force. He fell upon the line with a rush, breaking it, driving the cavalry back through the infantry lines, and, in the words of Sheridan's report, "sent the enemy whirling through Winchester." For his service in this battle and at Fisher's Hill, one month later, Merritt became a brevet major general of volunteers from Oct. 19, 1864.

In the following spring occurred the battle of Five Forks, in which Merritt and Fitzhugh Lee fought on opposite sides. Some of the fiercest fighting of the whole war occurred here, and Gen. Merritt was in the thick of it. His cavalry command distinguished itself by its gallant work on ground as unsuitable for the operations of mounted troops as any that could well be selected. It charged through woods and earthworks, captured a battery of artillery and carried everything before it. Merritt's bravery was again rewarded, this time by a brigadier generalship in the United States army, dating from March 13, 1865.

In the days succeeding this conflict, Merritt's command was in almost daily collision with the forces of the enemy down to April 19, when Lee surrendered the remnant of his defeated army. Gen. Merritt was one of those present at that memorable conference in McLean's house which marked the practical end of the attempt to disrupt the Union. He received the exceptional honor of a brevet major generalship, U. S. A., "for gallant and meritorious service during the campaign ending with the surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia." This was one of the rare instances in which a division commander was rewarded for services during an entire campaign. At the same time he was appointed to a major generalship of volunteers with rank from April 1, 1865.

GEN. WESLEY MERRITT.

At the end of the war Merritt was regarded by those who had served with him as a most excellent officer. Gallant Phil Sheridan paid him this compliment during the Shenandoah campaign:

"I have one division commander who is always equal to any task that I can impose upon him. That is Merritt. Others are just as brave and just as well fitted for certain kinds of work, but Merritt seems to be able to cope with any emergency. He has the genius of calculation and can get himself out of a tight place as well as he can put the enemy into one."

QUEER TALE OF ARCTIC SEAS.

Ship Icebound for Fifty Years Drifts Into the Harbor of Corvo.

One of the most curious finds ever made from the sea was that which came to the Azores in 1858. The island of Corvo was then in possession of two beach-combers, runaway English sailors. There came drifting into a little harbor one morning a craft which had evidently been frozen in the ice for a life-time, and had lately been released. It had come down from Davis strait, and was an ancient and battered hulk without masts, bulwarks, or name. The craft had been a brig, and she was a Russian. Her hatches were on and her cabin doors fast, and the hulk was buoyant. She had come out of the belly of an iceberg. She had little cargo, and that consisted of skins and furs in prime condition. No papers were found in her cabin, but it was figured that she was a sealer or trader, carrying a crew of ten or twelve, and that she had been provisioned for a year. The flour found aboard tasted like chalk, but the beef was perhaps better than the day it was put on board. She had been abandoned when frozen in, and the dark color of the woodwork and the growth of moss proved that she had drifted for years. Then she got fast in the ice, and became part of a berg.

The date of a letter found in her forecastle showed that she had been abandoned nearly half a century before. The hulk drifted on to a sandy beach, and the combers went to work on her. They got out the furs, which brought them $4,000, hoisted out a couple of barrels of beef, and then set fire to the wreck, and little remained of her when the story leaked out. That the hulk had come down from the far north was proved only a few weeks later by the log of an English merchantman. She reported passing a great iceberg to the northwest of the Azores, and of seeing a curious object embedded in it fifty feet above the surface of the water. This object was believed to be a whale, but it was probably the hull of the brig. Getting down into the warm seas, the berg fell to pieces, and that queer old relic found herself afloat again.

THE OREGON'S GREAT VOYAGE.

Her Crew's Reception of the News of Dewey's Victory.

In his account of the great voyage of the Oregon in the Century, Lieutenant Eberle thus describes the receipt at Rio de Janeiro of the news of Dewey's victory:

"On the afternoon of the second day of May came the news of Commodore Dewey's superb victory in Manila bay. The scene that followed the publication of this news might be likened to an Indian war dance. Our black, coal-begrimed men fairly went wild. They cheered; they danced in the coal barges and on the decks, and made the harbor ring; and then the coal came on board more rapidly than ever, while the band played patriotic airs. All afternoon and well into the night there was a combination of music, cheers, and shoveling coal. There were cheers for Commodore Dewey, for the Asiatic squadron, and for our captain and officers. Our minister and the American colony came on board and joined in the love feast.

"On May 5, when upon the high seas, all hands were called aft on the quarterdeck, and the captain read to the men a portion of the message which told that the Spanish fleet was supposed to be in search of the Oregon. This was followed by a scene of great enthusiasm, 500 men joining in an outburst of cheers for the Oregon, her captain, and her officers. Every preparation was made to meet the enemy's fleet. The ship was 'cleared for action.' All woodwork was torn out. Even the expensive mahogany pilot-house was reduced to a skeleton in order to prevent its being set on fire by Spanish shell. The ship was painted the dull gray war color, and the graceful white vessel that had steamed out of Rio harbor, was transformed into an ugly lead-colored fighter. To lessen the danger of conflagration, preparations were made to throw overboard all our boats upon sighting the enemy's fleet. Everybody was eager for active duty at any odds.

"Before leaving Rio our men had purchased a large supply of red ribbon, of which they made cap bands, bearing, in letters cut out of brass, the inspiring words, 'Remember the Maine,' and this legend the cap of every Oregon man bore throughout the war."

Real Case of "She" in Africa.

Everybody has read Rider Haggard's famous novel "She." The main figure of the story certainly lived and died in the Transvaal, according to an English writer, and not so many years ago, either. "She" was really Majaji. Only a few years ago there was a native disturbance up north, beyond the Zoutpansberg range of mountains, in what was known as Majaji's country. Commandant Henning Pretorius, an old Boer, and a descendant of President Pretorius, after whom Pretoria was called, went up to quell the uprising. The natives have a legendary Queen Majaji, who has really been dead for years and years, but they pretend, and partially believe themselves, that she is still alive, and dwelling in a cave in the mountains, whence she reigns over them, and issues her behests through the medicine (mounti) men.

Pretorius demanded to see their queen. The induna (chief) of the natives replied: "Show us your government and we will show you Majaji."

The natives speak of her with awe, and refer to "the-wishes-of-She-in-a-cave."

Arctic Explorer a Boniface.

Dr. Nansen has settled down as a Norwegian squire and sportsman, and is now a member of the great land owning class. His possessions, which cost a considerable sum, lie on the borders of Telemarken, to the south of Lynkopf, one of the highest summits of that district. He has become owner of a large hotel, which was built some years ago for summer tourists, but will now serve as his private residence He has also acquired a number of surrounding farms and fields.

Mother Worship in Turkey.

The strongest sentiment of the Turk is his reverence for his mother. He always stands in her presence until invited to sit down, a compliment he pays to no one else.

When you hear women abusing a young man because he does not speak to them on the street, it is safe to bet that the young man is popular with his employer.

SHORTER EUROPEAN MAIL TIME.

The Scheme Includes Railway to Louisburg, C. B., and a Fast Fleet.

A scheme which postoffice and railway authorities have had under consideration for some years is said to have been revived, whereby a fast mail service is to be inaugurated between Louisburg, Boston and New York, shortening the time between Liverpool and New York City by about forty-eight hours.

In connection with the railroad project a fleet of ocean greyhounds, equaling in speed such ships as the Oceanic and the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, is to be put into service between the Nova Scotia ports and Liverpool. The distance from Louisburg to Liverpool is given as 2,240 miles. Steamers of the speed of the vessels mentioned could cover the route in about four days and the railroad run to New York via Montreal would be covered in about forty hours, while Boston could be reached in about twenty-four hours, or five days from Liverpool. If mail can be landed in Boston in five days from Liverpool it follows that passengers will be attracted by this route.

The best time from Liverpool to Boston now is seven days. Boston receives most of her European mail via New York and most of it is dispatched that way. The consequent rehandling of mail at New York causes a delay of twelve hours or more, considerable time to those anxious to hear from friends or shape their business by European advice.

The scheme referred to comprehends the building of eighty-six miles of railroad from Louisburg to Hawkesbury, N. S. From this point an excellent railroad connection may be made to United States points. Louisburg is the most easterly port in Nova Scotia, and is a well-sheltered harbor, which does not freeze in winter time.

The distances from Louisburg to New York via the Montreal route over the Canadian Pacific, as figured by an official of that road, are as follows:

HOW TO SAVE TWO DAYS ON EUROPEAN MAILS.

Louisburg to Hawkesbury, 86 miles.
Hawkesbury to St. John, 338 miles.
St. John to Montreal, 481 miles.
Montreal to New York, 385 miles.

Adding the ocean distance from Liverpool to Louisburg gives a total of 3,530 miles.

The distances via Boston to New York are reckoned as follows:

Louisburg to Hawkesbury, 86 miles.
Hawkesbury to St. John, 338 miles.
St. John to Boston, 448 miles.
Boston to New York, 233 miles.

Adding to this the ocean distance of 2,240 miles makes a total of 3,345 miles, and almost 200 miles in favor of the Boston route.

SMOKED WITH GEN. LUDLOW.

The General Furnished the Cigars and the Spaniard the Light.

"Good afternoon, Zheneral Ludlow," and the American military commander of the city of Havana lifted his eyes from a document he was examining and greeted his visitor. The latter was an oily, smooth-tongued, plausible Spaniard, by name——, well, I have forgotten it, if ever I did know it, but Campos will answer the purpose. Before the stranger sat down he extended his right hand to the General, saying at the same time, "I am so ple-e-ezed to see you, Zheneral."

While his well-lubricated tongue and right palm were thus engaged momentarily, Campos' left was playing its little part. The Spaniard had cunningly reached over Ludlow's desk with that member, and as he took his seat and it was withdrawn the officer's sharp, quick eye noted that a fifty-dollar bill was lying under his nose. He divined instantly the purpose of Campos' visit, and almost as quickly made up his mind what to do. Without appearing to have seen the currency smuggling so close in his inside pocket that it might have jumped into it, he assumed a pleasant, debonaire manner, and inquired: "Well, senor, what can I do for you to-day?"

Campos already was beginning to think he had won his game. His eyes sparkled, his face lit up with a happy smile, and in his most courteous tone he said:

"Vell, Zheneral, I vould like to get a franchise—a conzeshon, you know."

"Oh, yes," replied Ludlow, apparently entering into the spirit of the other, "and, of course, you expect to pay for it?"

"Yes, yes," returned Campos with an eagerness he could not conceal. "I'll pay for it—zomething," and then he fixed his eyes on the fifty-dollar bill lying on the desk. He looked at it so steadfastly that Ludlow scarcely could restrain a smile, and for fear of embarrassing the visitor he, too, looked down, and for the first time appeared to see it. Then, as though on the impulse of the moment, and in order to show Campos that he understood and was appreciative, he inquired:

"Do you smoke, senor?"

"Yes, Zheneral," Campos answered, thinking, too, that things were coming his way in great shape, "I smoke zome time."

"Have a cigar," and Ludlow handed over a box of fine Havanas. "These are said to be excellent."

Campos took one; so did Ludlow. The American then picked up the fifty, and as he rolled it idly into a long, thin taper, he remarked: "Senor, I like these, and like all kinds of money. Have a light."

Ludlow struck a match, and as Campos made ready to receive it the officer lit the fifty-dollar paper and handed it to his caller. "Yes, I like this paper money," continued the American, nonchalantly, "it makes such convenient cigar lighters."

Campos' hand trembled as he lit his Havana with his own money. His face was a picture of conflicting emotion and passion. It was gray and green and red and white. His lips twitched, and he was dumb when Ludlow, now excelling the Castilian at his own polished politeness, remarked: "I'll take a light if you are through with it," and then he, too, lit a cigar with the price of a suit of clothes.

"Now, what kind of a franchise do you want?" he went on, but Campos begged to be excused for the while, pleading an important engagement elsewhere. Probably it was with a near-by cistern where he could soak his head, but he did not say so. Campos had tried Spanish methods on an American officer—an officer who belongs to the engineer corps of the United States army, and is the personification of integrity.

PLAYING IN THE DIRT.

Mothers Too Often Deny Their Children This Pleasure.

The mother who would have her children healthy must not be afraid to have them occasionally dirty. While cleanliness is akin to godliness, there is a clean dirt that comes from contact with the sweet earth that is wholesome. Have the little ones bathed frequently, insist that they come to meals with immaculate hands and faces, but between meals have them so dressed that they are free to run and romp as they will.

An overcareful mother of an only child complained to a physician that her baby was pale and delicate. He asked to see the child, and the nurse brought in the 2-year-old from the veranda, where he had been seated on a rug, looking at a picture book. His dainty nainsook frock was spotless, as were also the pink kid boots and silk socks.

"What the child needs is wholesome dirt," was the physician's verdict. "Put a gingham frock and plain shoes on him and turn him loose on the lawn or in the fresh earth. If he is not rosy and happy in a month let me know."

At the expiration of the prescribed time the baby was transformed. The eyes that had been heavy were bright, the skin had acquired a healthful glow, the arms and legs were plump, and the languid, tired little patient had become a rollicking boy. The freedom, fresh air and clean dirt had in a month's time wrought a greater change in the child's system than all the skill of the medical fraternity could have effected.

Mothers who take their little schoolboys and girls away for vacation should let them romp at will out of doors, fish in the brook, ride on the hay, and wear strong shoes and clothing of which they need not be too careful. A child is much happier if untrammeled by too many "don'ts." And the mother is happier, too, if she need not say "don't" every hour in the day.—Harper's Bazar.

NOW A WIRELESS TELEPHONE.

Marconi's System Now Used to Communicate with Moving Trains.

Since Marconi announced the result of his experiments with wireless telegraphy other Italian scientists have been at work on similar lines. Prof. D'Azar, of Rome, has perfected a wireless telephone for use especially on railroad trains. The receiver and transmitter are connected by short wires with the front of the pilot and with the rear of the train, so that the engineer, with the receiver constantly at his ear, can hear the sound of a train approaching in either direction. In this way it is claimed that the danger of collisions is reduced to the minimum. At the same time the engineer is kept constantly in communication with the office of the train dispatcher. Experiments tried with the wireless telephones on half a dozen engines in the suburban service at Rome have shown, so the inventor claims, that the invention is entirely practicable.

SPEAKING TO MOVING TRAIN.

A Speedy Prince.

The hereditary crown prince of Germany is fast becoming an expert cyclist. At a fete held recently at the cadet school in which he is a student, at Plon, the young prince won two first prizes in bicycle races, in which he had pitted against him quite a number of clever young riders.

If two brothers who don't speak to each other are members of the same church, do they refer to each other as "Brother" in church fashion?

A boy's first lesson at school is that his slate and lead pencil are not good to eat.

AUBURN WEEKLY COURIER.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF DeKALB COUNTY

JAMES A. BARNS, Editor.

Registered at the Auburn, Indiana, postoffice as second-class matter.

THURSDAY... NOVEMBER 23, 1899.

The Vice President Dead.

Vice-president Hobart died yesterday morning at 8:30 at his home at Paterson, N. J. He had been sick for some time, and recently grew weaker, indicating that death would be the result soon. His disease was some form of heart trouble. The usual formal proclamation sent out from the executive office at Washington on the death of a vice-president has been made, and it is well known that a successor is provided for always, and in this case it is very fortunate that it is so, as congress will meet a week from next Monday. There is no chance for a real vacancy, as there are two men ready to step in. A recent law gives the place to the secretary of State, now John Hay, once secretary to Lincoln, but better known to the people as a writer, especially as the author of a half-humorous poem "Little Breeches." He was also part author of a Life of Lincoln. It is also well known that at the adjournment of the senate there is always a member chosen as "president pro tem" who is often called on to preside whether there is a vacancy or not. This position is one to which great importance is attached, as it often happens that he is an abler parliamentarian than the real vice-president, who is often inexperienced.

Norris Chapel.

There will be re-opening services at the Norris chapel M. E. church next Sunday, November 26. The Rev. F. J. Norris of New Castle, Ind., will preach Sunday morning and evening. Preliminary services will be held beginning Thursday evening, November 23, by Rev. J. J. Fred of Geneva, Ind. Friday evening Rev. J. N. Wilson of Auburn, Ind; Saturday evening Rev. P. Barton of Bobo, Ind. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these services.

W. F. DINGEL,
Pastor in charge.

Coming Meetings.

Rev. W. C. Helt, superintendent of the State Anti Saloon League, and Mr. Wilson Doan will speak at a union meeting at the Presbyterian church next Sunday at 2:30 p. m. They will also hold meetings at other churches in forenoon and evening.

Mr. Helt will give a free stereopticon entertainment on next Monday evening at the Baptist church for children under 15, and at the M. E. church on Tuesday evening free for all who come. Let there be a good attendance at all these meetings.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE.

Many of your friends or people whom you know of have contracted consumption, pneumonia or other fatal diseases by neglect of a simple cold or cough. Foley's Honey amd Tar, a safe and pleasant cough medicine, would have saved them. It is guaranteed.—H. B. McCORD.

Homes Wanted.

For three worthy children at the county farm. One boy of 9; one of 4; one girl of 7 years old. Anyone wishing to take children of this age should call on Superintendent Bartels at the county home. 48

LIVERITA
THE UP-TO-DATE
LITTLE LIVER PILL
CURES
Biliousness, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sick-Headache and Liver Complaint.
SUGAR COATED.
40 PILLS LIVERITA 10 CENTS
100 PILLS 25 CTS.
Sold by all druggists or sent by mail.
Nervita Medical Co., Chicago
Davenport, The Druggist.

Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine.

Rotary Motion and Ball Bearings.

Porter Depew, Agent.

News of the Day.

Aguinaldo has been heard from. He has escaped all the columns now after him and established a new capital at Bengal farther north. Some of his scattered forces have returned southward and are carrying on a guerrilla warfare in the parts southeast of Manila.

Gen. Lawton, in his rapid march after Aguinaldo, had many narrow escapes. In swimming his horse across a swollen river he came near drowning, and several of his men were lost.

Gen. Joe Wheeler is going to resign his seat in congress to stay and help fight the Filipinos. He says congress ought to declare its intentions at once, to wipe out Aguinaldo's rebellion, as it would open the eyes of the enemy, who have been taught by Aguinaldo that most of the people in this country are their friends. Aguinaldo is evidently out for what money he hopes to get out of it. Four more vessels with troops have left San Francisco for Manila.

Emperor William of Germany arrived in England yesterday and was received at Portsmouth with royal salutes. He with his wife and those with them were taken on a train to Windsor Castle in company with his uncle, the Prince of Wales. They staid over night with the Queen who is his grandmother.

In South Africa there has been severe fighting at Ladysmith in which the Boers have the worst of it and have lost heavily. This was last Wednesday and Thursday. Still, the Boers are strong and are moving a force south to meet the coming British re-enforcements which are now at Estcourt the nearest point now in British hands, on the line from Durban to Ladysmith. This drawing off of the Boers somewhat relieves the army at Ladysmith. Farther west of this the Orange Free State Boers are invading the British territory of Cape Colony. But British forces going north to the west of that on the way to relieve Kimberly, will draw the Boers back home. It is believed the British army will send a part of its force eastward to capture or threaten Bloemfontein, the capital of the Orange Free State.

GIVEN UP BY FOUR DOCTORS.

BEAVER DAM, O.

My daughter, after being treated by four doctors and being given up for lost, a neighbor recommended Foley's Kidney Cure. Today she is able to walk several miles without fatigue. I feel we would have lost her if it was not for your medicine.—Respectfully, MRS. J. M. BAILEY.—H. B. McCORD.

CEDAR.

Died, on Monday evening, Nov. 13, 1899, Paul Lung, aged 21 years and 2 months. Interment at Cedar chapel, Nov. 15.

Maylon White has gone to Ft. Wayne to work.

School meeting at the school house west of here on Tuesday evening of last week resulted in a friendly visit with trustee, county superintendent, patrons and teachers.

Our depot has been reroofed, a new platform built and otherwise improved, making the outside a respective appearance. Now if the inside had a couple days scrubbing it would look about as well as the outside.

Perry Beard expects to move his family to Altona the first of the month.

D. B. Batdorf and wife talk of going to Auburn to live in the near future.

Rumor says we may expect another wedding in our town inside of a month.

Several of the sportsmen in this part of the country complain considerably on account of the notice given by farmers in regard to hunting on their lands.

Frank E. Smith commenced work in Garrett on Monday of this week.

L. C. Lung is trying his hand at section work for the B. & O. railroad company.

J. M. Smith put a new roof on his house this week. Wm. B. Kitchlen bossed the job.

Mrs. Sollenberger and Mrs. Weygandt visited friends in Auburn last Sunday.

FAIRFIELD CENTER.

Frank Deetz and wife of South Milford were visiting relatives at this place Sunday.

Mrs. Amanda Bram of Wabash county has been visiting friends here the past week.

Miss Edith Kettering of Ashley visited her cousin Belle Deetz Sunday.

Mr. Meuser and lady friend of Ashley were the guests of Hiram Slaybaugh's Sunday.

Godfrey Auchtenreich passed through our town Sunday.

Mrs. Nora Stomm visited frihnds at this place Sunday.

There will be a Thanksgiving supper at the school house Thanksgiving evening. Everybody invited.

NOTICE.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on two 25 cent bottles or boxes of Baxter's Mandrake Bitters, if it fails to cure constipation, billiousness, sick-headache, jaundice, loss of appetite, sour stomach, dyspepsia, liver complaint, or any of the diseases for which it is recommended. It is highly recommended as a spring tonic and blood purifier. Sold liquid in bottles, and tablets in boxes. Price 25 cents for either. One package of either guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. E. M. FISCHLER, F. E. DAVENPORT, HOWARD McCORD.

CLUB NOTES

The session of the L. L. C. held at the home of Mrs. Mabel Hodge was one full of interest and out of the ordinary line. "The Drama" was the subject for the afternoon. Mrs. Hodge as leader gave a history of the drama from its first inception, which was interesting and full of information. Mrs. Mary F. Rose gave a paper on the "Interpreter of the Drama" bringing to her hearers the characteristics of many of the leading actors of the past and present. Mrs. Husselman's subject was the "Influence of the Drama" and was a very carefully prepared paper and met the approval of the members present. A very full discussion of these papers followed. Mrs. John Robbins gave a synopsis of "The Christian" as played on the stage today. The arrangements were concluded for guest day to be held at the home of Mrs. Willis next Saturday, each member having the privilege of inviting two guests.

BUTLER.

The M. E. revival effort continues with unabated interest. Good houses as a rule grace each occasion. From fifteen to twenty persons have been converted and the good work goes on. There is no lack of material; there is room for many hundred yet to come out of the highways and hedges, and yet leave a respectable following to the devotee of Bacchus.

Charles Wagner jr., is very low with typhoid fever, but hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Henry Aldrich is reported as improving and hopes to soon be up town again.

Russell Young has so far recovered as to be able to walk up town.

John Brittius is gradually failing with no hopes for improvement.

Interest in the teachers' association grows apace. The attendance promises to be very large. Butler welcomes these good young people to her hearths and homes.

Oscar McDonald of Troy, has purchased the Crom. Bubbell place on east North street and has moved to town, his uncle Jacob who formerly lived there having removed to the country.

Isaac Hook of Hicksville attended his uncle Martin's funeral.

Miss Smith of Irvington, who came here to take Miss Evanston's place in the grammar school found the path too thorny for her nerves, and resigned almost before she commenced, and returned to her home. This creates a vacancy that the trustees should fill with some thorough and masterful disciplinarian, who would teach these smart boys and girls a lesson that they would remember long enough to repeat it to their grandchildren. Such flagant acts of insubordination, give Butler schools no enviable reputation abroad.

Mrs. Shull, living five miles southwest of Butler had a close call from fire last week. Presence of mind, plenty of water, and willing hands averted a conflagration. Insured.

The prospects of a good wheat crop in this vicinity is very good.

Plenty corn yet to husk, and the price advancing is encouraging.

OBITUARY.

Died at his residence two miles north of Butler, Nov. 16, 1899, after an illness of but short duration, in the seventy-fourth year of his age, Martin Hook.

The deceased was born at Ceslic, Switzerland, May 16, 1826. He came to this country with his parents in 1831, settling on a farm near Clinton, Summit county, Ohio. He was one of a family of five children, three brothers and two sisters, of these but a single one, John Hook of Paulding county, O., is living. He was married to Elizabeth Snyder of Doylestown, Ohio, about 1850, and lived in that town until 1863, when he moved to Indiana settling on the farm where he died. To this union were born five children, three sons and two daughters. His wife preceded him in death several years ago, as have three of his five children. John now living at Huntertown, and Charles on the old farm, alone remain. His funeral took place from the Lutheran church at Butler, Saturday November 19, Rev. Neible officiating. Mr. Hook was a man of sterling integrity, a good neighbor, kind and hospitable in his home, loved and respected by neighbors and friends.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century; discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar sizes are sold by all good druggists.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Close of Business.

Judge Hartman completed the circuit court Saturday evening disposing of the following matters:

In the somewhat celebrated case of Geo. H. Dunn and wife vs. Jacob M. Hook et. al., filed about a year ago for the replevin of a lot of sheep, the court decided upon a division of the flock, giving sixteen of the animals to the plaintiff and five to the defendant, also assessing the costs against the latter. A motion for a new trial was made by the defendant's attorneys which the court overruled, and the case was then appealed to the appellate court. The expenses so far incurred in the case will amount to more than the value of the animals.

Elizabeth Towne was granted a divorce from James E. Towne, the defendant, who failed to appear, being assessed the costs.

The case of John Mark vs. John Clark, on a hay deal, was decided for the plaintiff, judgment being rendered for $50.40.

Mrs. G. V. Farnum.

SPECIAL TO THE COURIER.

HAMILTON, IND., Nov. 17, 1899:—Mrs G. V. Farnum, one of Steuben county's pioneers has passed away. She was born in Irasburgh, Vt., Aug. 15, 1815, and departed this life Nov. 16, 1899, aged 84 years, 3 months and 1 day. She was married to George V. Farnum in 1845, and in the year of their marriage, moved to Cleveland, Ohio, and remained until 1848 when they moved to Coldwater, Mich., and remained in Michigan until 1859 when they moved to Angola, Ind. In 1860 they moved to Hamilton, Ind. where they remained the balance of their lives. She joined the Episcopal church at Manchester, N. H., in her early childhood and has been a member of some church nearly her entire life, being a member of the Church of Christ at Hamilton the later years of her life. She leaves to mourn their loss two sons, two brothers and two sisters.

SEDAN.

Mr. E. J. Dellenbach has returned from the wild and wooly west and is visiting in this place, the guest of Mr. A. W. Guthrie and wife. Ed has been gone about three years and traveled over about five thousand miles of western country, but thinks old DeKalb county is about the best place yet.

The communion service held at this place yesterday was well attended and the minister, Rev. Gaff, held the audience spell-bound while portraying the sufferings of our blessed Savior.

C. Buss is shredding corn for Henry Schuster today.

M. S. DeLong has the railroad job of graveling almost completed. It amounts to about $675 in this township.

Items of interest are scarce with the COURIER correspondent this week.

Look out for a wedding in this place in the near future.

Subscribe for the COURIER and you and your entire family will be happy. Hand your subscription to the Sedan correspondent and it will be promptly attended to.—S. W. GUTHRIE.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Kalamazoo Hollanders

Hollanders at Kalamazoo held mass meeting and vigorously protested against British invasion of the Transvall. Resolutions were adopted to be sent to President McKinley asking the intervention of the United States in behalf of the Boers.

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE OF INDIANA, DEKALB COUNTY, } ss.

In the DeKalb Circuit Court, December Term, 1899.

Sallie Skinner, unknown heirs of Sallie Skinner, Beriah Skinner, unknown heirs of Beriah Skinner, Jane Aldrich and Frederick Aldrich, Lydia Wright and David Wright are hereby notified that an action has been commenced against them in said court, to quiet title to real estate, by Oliver P. Learned, and that the same will be heard and determined on the 8th day of January, 1900, the same being the 25th juridical day of the next term of said court, which begins December 18, 1899.

Witness, the Clerk of said Court this 21st day of November, 1899.

MICHAEL F. LONG, Clerk.

Brown & West, Att's for Plaintiff.

Esray Noice.

Strayed to my place four miles south of Auburn a bay horse and bay mare, about fifteen years old. Owner can have them by paying expenses including this notice. ISAAC GRUBE. 47.

—Santa Claus has arrived at Neber's studio. d6-w2

William's Kidney Pills
Has no equal in diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs. Have you neglected your Kidneys? Have you ove worked your nervous system and caused trouble with your Kidneys and Bladder? Have you pains in the loins, side, back, groins and bladder? Have you a flabby appearance of the face, especially under the eyes? Too frequent desire pass urine? William's Kidney Pills will impart new life to the diseased organs, tone up the system and make a new man of you. By mail 50 cents per box.
WILLIAMS MFG. CO., Props., Cleveland, O.
Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

Rev. T. A. Goodwin, D. D., in his recent booklet, "Then and Now—or Indianapolis as it was under Prohibition, Contrasted with Indianapolis as it is under a wide-open policy," has given some facts concerning the value of prohibition, that very few people fully realize. Prohibition had a very short reign in Indiana a few years ago, and the effects coming therefrom were recorded in the daily papers of that date. Dr. Goodwin says:

For three months, in 1855, Indiana was under prohibition.

The law took effect June 12th. Speaking of its workings the Indianapolis Sentinel, which had opposed it said editorially, in its issue of July 15th: "The Temperance Law so far has been universally and faithfully observed. We hear of no disposition to violate its provisions." The same day the local editor said: "The new liquor law has knocked police items into a cocked hat; not a single item is to be obtained on account of John Barleycorn." Recurring to the same subject on the 20th, it said: "That the people of Indiana desire and will have a reasonable and constitutual law for the suppression of the evils of intemperance none are blind enough to deny." Recurring to the subject on the 28th of June, it said: "During the last fifteen days there has not been a single commitment in the county jail for the violation of city ordinances, and in the way of arrest by city police there is little or nothing doing."

The Indianapolis Locomotive of the 23rd said: "There has not been a single arrest or commitment to prison since June 12th. The Mayor (who was ex officio police judge) quietly sits in his official chair, and the night watch dose on the store boxes.

On the 12th of July, just one month after the taking effect of the law, the city council reduced the night watch one-half. Referring to this, the Locomotive of the 21st of July said: "The temperance law has nearly abolished rioting, drunkenness, and rowdying, and the tax payers are reducing their expenses."

The Indianapolis Journal, referring to this reduction, said in its issue of July 24th: "The reductin of the night watch was on account of the diminution of disturbances and drunkenness from dhe enforcement of the prohibitory law. On the 20th of August it said: "The law has diminished crime, reduced drunkenness, saved money and emptied jails."

The Indianapolis Evening Republican of the 20th of June said: "Rummies no longer perambulate the streets, making night hideous, and the night watch have little to do.

The Lafayette Journal of July 2d said 'Since June 12th the Mayor's court of this city has been almost deserted; our jail is now clear of all corporation prisoners, and the good effects of the law have been felt at many firesides." The Lafayette Courier of July 2d said; "What words can express the heartfelt gratitude of those whose happiness has been promoted by the enforcement of the prohibitory law." The Madison correspondent of the Indianapolis Republican of July 3d said: "The liquor law works like a charm, and sorrow and sighing have fled away. Liquor can not be purchased illegally in the city."

The Bloomington Times of July 3d said: "We have not seen a drunken man in town or heard of a single fight or quarrel since June 12th.

Liquor License Notice.

Notice is hereby given to the citizens of the town of Ashley, in DeKalb county, Indiana, that the undersigned will make application to the board of commissioners of said county at their December session, 1899, for a license to sell spirituous, vinous and malt liquors in quantities less than a quart at a time with the privilege of allowing the same to be drank on the premises where sold. Said business to be carried on in the front room on the ground floor of the two-story brick building situated on lot number nine (9) in block number twenty (20) in said town and fronting north on State street. Said front room is 19 by 30 feet, and in said building on the ground floor there is a back room 19 by 28 feet, and the upper floor of said building is partitioned and used by said applicant for a dwelling house.

HENRY E. GEDDES.

October 26, 1899.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given that I, Isaac Hague, administrator of the estate of Amos Rakestraw, deceased, will offer at private sale to the highest bidder, on

Thursday, December 28, 1899,

at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, the following described real estate, belonging to the estate of said decedent, to-wit:

The south one-half (½) of the southest quarter (¼) of section twenty-three, (23) township thirty-four (34) narth of range twelve (12) east in the county of DeKalb and state of Indiana.

Sealed bids will be received by me at the McClellan Bank until 11 o'clock of said day.

TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, one-third in twelve months, and one-third in eighteen months from date of sale; deferred payments to be evidenced by the purchaser's notes drawing six per cent. interest, waiving relief from valuation and appraisement laws and to be secured by a mortgage on the premises sold.

ISAAC HAGUE, Administrator.

D. D. Moody, Att'y for Estate.

Notice to Non-Resident.

STATE OF INDIANA, DEKALB COUNTY, } ss.

In the DeKalb Circuit Court, December Term, 1899;

Ida M. Baltz is hereby notified that an action has been commenced against her in said court, to foreclose a mortgage on real estate, by Letitia Walborn, Clara McClellan and Amanda Rice and that the same will be heard and determined on the 8th day of January, 1900, being the 19th juridical day of the next term of said court, which commences December 18, 1899.

Witness, the Clerk of said court this 13th day of November, 1899.

MICHAEL F. LONG, Clerk.

Hoffman & Link, Att'y's for Plaintiffs.

—Subscribe for the COURIER.

"Theodosia" $3

5 Styles — WELTS & TURNS, McKAYS'
The PRETTIEST Shoe you ever saw.....
The BEST Shoes we ever sold.
('Nuff Said.)

"Sorosis" - - - $3.50
THE NEW SHOE FOR WOMEN.
3 Styles — WELTS IN KIDS AND BOX CALF
The BEST shoe at any price
('Nuff Said.)

"Our Own Shoe" $2.50
7 Styles — In Welts, Turns and McKay's, Kid, Calf and Box Calf
('NUFF SAID)

Three Cardinal Virtues
The Prettiest Styles.....
The Best Wearing.....
The Best Fitting Shoes Made.....

BISHOP & BEIDLER,

Now Is the Time

TO BUY a

Wilson Heating and Ventilating Machine

They are the Greatest of all Modern Scientific Inventions.

They Save Fuel,
Will Burn Anything,
Perfectly Safe & Clean

Will Hold Fire and are Easily Regulated. We sold Eighty-Nine of them last winter, and as far as we know they are all giving good satisfaction. They are moderate in price and within the reach of all.

Buy none but the genuine Wilson and you will be both pleased and satisfied.

SOLD ONLY BY

Culbertson & Boland,

Junk Wanted

Please save your money. Don't forget to bring all your junk to H. Greenberg, three blocks north of M. E. church in Auburn, who pays

Best Cash Prices

for rags, rubber, copper, brass, zinc, lead, scrap iron and all kinds of hides and furs. Also buys and sells second-hand material, stoves and furnaces, etc. Persons having second-hand material to buy or sell, it will be to their interest to see H. Greenberg.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Safe. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse dangerous substitutions and imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists.
CHICHESTER CHEMICAL CO.
2100 Madison Square, PHILA., PA.
Mention this paper.

IF THE sewers of a dwelling are faulty, or get clogged, it soon becomes so foul that life is not safe in it. That is just what happens to you when the Liver or Kidneys fail in their work. The first little signs are backache, poor appetite, changes in urine and sometimes bowel troubles and dropsical swellings. Do not neglect any of these; Deadly disorders may follow—STOP the mischief in time, use which is sure to bring speedy relief and finally a permanent cure. At druggists, $1.00 per bottle.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver & Kidney Balm

THE DR. J. H. McLEAN MEDICINE CO. ST. LOUIS, MO.
For sale by F. E. Davenport.

FOR SALE.

A fine Jersey cow for sale, calf by her side.—A. G. LODEWICK, Auburn, Indiana. Nov. 8-6t

WABASH

GOING EAST.

No. 2	6:25 am—Daily
No. 8	8:34 am—Daily
No. 4	4:59 pm—Daily
No. 70 (local freight)	2:05 pm—ex Su
No. 96	11:35 am—ex Su
No. 98	8:30 pm—ex Su

GOING WEST.

No. 1	10:21 am—Daily
No. 9	5:38 am—Daily
No. 3	7:48 pm—Daily
No. 71 (local freight)	9:15 am—ex Su
No. 95	6:02 pm—ex Su
No. 97	7:52 am—ex Su

Nos. 8 and 9 do not stop at Auburn, but No. 9 stops at the Junction.

All these trains stop for passengers. For rates, tickets, time tables, etc. apply to I. M. ZENT, Agent, Auburn, Ind.
Chas. M. Hays, V. Pres. and Gen't Manager.
G. S. Crane, Gen'l Pass'r and Ticket Agent.

B. & O. R. R.

Schedule In Effect Nov. 22 '98
Leaves Auburn Junction.

WEST BOUND.

No. 3 Express, to Garrett only	8:53 p m
No. 5 Daily	4:30 a m
No. 7 Daily	4:17 p m
No. 17 Daily Except Sunday	12:25 p m
No. 47	1:58 a m

EAST BOUND

No. 4 Express	4:20 a m
No. 6 Daily	8:05 p m
No. 8 Daily	2:35 p m
No 14 Daily	11:17 p m
No 16, Daily, except Sunday	11:08 a m

Trains Nos. 16 and 17 are the only ones that top at Wawaseo.

F. D. UNDERWOOD, General Manager
D. B. MARTIN, Manager of Passenger Traffic.
G. H. YOUNG, Auburn Junction, Ind
THOS. H. SPROTT CHAS. H. KNAPP

L. S. & M. S. R. R.

TIME TABLE—in Effect Nov. 19 1899.

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

Stations	Mail	Exp'ss	Fre'g
Fort Wayne	11 45 am	4 40 pm	5 55 am
New Era	12 12 pm	5 08	6 40
Auburn Junction	12 26	5 21	7 10
Auburn	12 29	5 25	7 35
Waterloo	12 41	5 36	8 15
Summit	12 51	5 46	8 35
Steubenville	12 54	5 49
Pleasant Lake	1 08	5 56	8 56
Angola	1 13	6 06	9 35
Jackson	3 25	8 25	2 40

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Stations	Fre'gt	Exp'ss	Mail
Jackson dp	8 55 am	11 45 am	7 05 am
Angola	11 00	2 10 pm	9 16
Pleasant Lake	11 25	2 29	9 35
Steubenville		2 36	9 31
Summit	11 00	2 39	9 53
Waterloo	12 41 pm	2 55	9 48
Auburn	1 20	3 05	9 58
Auburn Junction	1 35	3 06	10 02
New Era	1 54	3 18	10 15
Fort Wayne	2 50	4 30	10 50

For rates on tickets or freight to all points call on or address E. T. DeLAFF, Agent Auburn.

PILES Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment will cure Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles. It absorbs the tumors, allays the itching at once, acts as a poultice, gives instant relief. Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment is prepared for Piles and Itching of the private parts. Every box is warranted. By druggists, by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents and $1.00. WILLIAMS MANUFACTURING CO., Props., Cleveland, Ohio
Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

IF YOU WANT RELIABLE MERCHANDISE GO TO LACKEY'S

G. W. LACKEY

..Dry Goods..
Carpets and Millinery,

IT PAYS TO TRADE AT THE BIG STORE!

AUBURN, IND.

The advantages of this Big Store are never ending. Every offering includes latest styles, thoroughly dependable quality, exceptionally moderate prices. Here is a partial list of the good things now on sale.

Underwear.

Cold weather comfort for men, women and children in reliable, well-made qualities. Numerous variety, every piece positively matchless.

Men's heavy weight natural wool Shirts and Drawers in all sizes, worth $1.00 per suit each..... 35c
Men's heavy Merino (shirts only) while they last at..... 19c
Ladies' Ribbed Cotton, heavy fleeced Vests and Pants, all sizes..... 23c
Children's heavy weight Merino Shirts and Drawers, sizes 16 to 34. Each from..... 8 to 25c
Boys' fleeced lined Shirts and Drawers, sizes 28 to 34, per suit..... 48c

Blankets and Comfortables.

These items are strong lessons in economy. Full size, perfect in every way.

Good fleeced Cotton Blankets 60c quality at 45c per pair or each..... 23c
Extra heavy fleeced Cotton Blankets at per pair.....50c, 75c, 85c and 1.00
10-4 Wool Blankets in white and grey, per pair..... 2.50
Better quality Wool Blankets per pair $3 00, $3.50 and $4.00.
The Iroquois, plain or in handsome plaids, 11-4 size, per pair..... 4.50
The Royal and Columbian, pure wool, in plain and fancy, 11-4 size per pair..... 5.00
Well made Comfortables, 11-4 size, filled with clean cotton, worth $1.50..... 1.23
Better grades, 11-4 size, nice bright patterns, containing fully five pounds clean cotton..... 1.50 to 1.75

Ladies' Skirts.

Good quality flannel skirt patterns, containing 2¼ yards, good styles, 75c values, price... 50c
Merritts celebrated skirts, strictly all-wool, fulled, nice patterns, the $1.50 quality, our price..... 1.25
Black Mercerized Skirts, lined throughout, worth $1.00, our price..... 88c

Ladies' Tailor-Made Suits.

Perfect in fit and finish—perfect in style. Tailor-made Suits of Oxford Grey and Cadet Blue Venitians. Jackets silk lined, worth $10 00, now..... 7.50
Suits in Royal and Navy Venitians, silk lined Jackets, percaline lined skirts. Worth $12.50 now..... 10.50
One lot suits in Navy Blue and Black Coverts well made throughout, worth $7.50, now.. 5.00

Flannelette Wrappers.

If flannelette was used for nothing else it would merit distinction for its adaptability as a fabric for women's wrappers. The spinners make it soft, light and warmthful. The designers and dyers do their part creditably and we look after the making and pricing.

Women's wrappers made of striped and figured flannelette, ruffle over the shoulders, skirt finished with wide ruffle; would be cheap at $1.25, our price..... 98c
Wrappers made of novelty flannelettes, yokes trimmed with braid, skirt finished with wide ruffle at....$1.23, $1.39 and up to $2 98
Eiderdown Dressing Sacques in Pink, Blues Cardinal, etc.; beautiful creations at from 75c to..... $3 00

Tuesday's Daily.

—Our farmer friend Arnold Blodgett is now safely placed on our 1900 list of subscript'on.

—We desire to call the attention of the ladies to our special sale of millinery, Saturday Nov. 25. n24

—Go to Sheffer & Chaney for Michigan Lake Salt, a car load just received. Guaranteed not to get hard in the barrel. oct.26w-tf

—The McCray refrigerator company at Kendallville has received an order for a large family refrigerator from Mrs. Grover Cleveland.

—Those $23 and $26 suitings we are making to your order for $18, $20 and $23 and remember you get a "Yesbera" fit.—YESBERA, Auburn. n23

—When the Cubans and Porto Ricans see American soldiers voting ballots nine feet long, they will be strongly impressed with the size of the country.

—Hayworth & Co., of Valparaiso, this week sold the skins of 8,000 muskrats, 300 minks, 500 skunks and 200 coons, besides a quantity of 'possum and otter hides.

—Ulster overcoats, heavy with extra high collar $5.50. That fine tan, blue and black dress overcoat $8 00, sells everywhere at $10,00.—G. H. YESBERA Auburn. n23 —Word comes from Garrett today that L. J. Gengler, wife and daughter are all quite sick with some kind of fever. Their many friends hope for their speedy recovery.

—Mme. Melba says that the truest compliment she ever received was from a little boy out west, who blushingly remarked, "You can sing better than my pop can whistle on his fingers."

NOTICE TO HUNTERS.—All persons are warned not to hunt on my farm or to cross it with dogs or guns. Trespassers will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. HENRY C. SHULL.

—We have sent in a re-order for men's suits, especially the stripe worsteds. They will be here Saturday morning. Prices will be $10, $11, $12 and $14.—G. H. YESBERA, Auburn. n23

—Jacob Bishop was here today and reports no COURIER'S at New Era last week. Luckily we had some copies left, and though late, they will be supplied. He goes on the 1900 list, of course.

—WANTED:—Iron-gray gelding five or six years old, weight about 1400 pounds; also some other horses from 1200 up. Inquire of E. Watson at the bowling alley, one door north of marshal's office.

—Oom Paul can handle a rifle much better than he can a pen. His signature is cramped and scarcely legible. He signs himself "S. J. P. Kruger," his full name being Stephanus Johanne Paulus Kruger.

—Marriage licenses have been issued to the following couples: Clarence E. Treesh and Myrtle Snyder, Stephen B. Brown and Della Kline, Bert Patee and Maud Loveland, Milton Barnes and Pearl Link.

—Isaac Grogg, corner Jackson and Fifth streets, makes wood tanks and cisterns cheaper than any other man in county. It will pay you to see him before leaving your order. His work is always first-class. w&d.

—We had a friendly call to-day from Editor Ellis late of the Garrett Clipper. He will remain at Garrett for a time, but is not certain as to what he will turn his attention to. We are sorry to lose him from the editorial field.

—Our friend, D. S. Segner has moved from Berea, Ohio, to Willston, Ohio. The change in location we presume is in the interest of the railroad by which he is employed. He has been a good many years in their service.

—Heavy pants $1.50 per pair. Heavy duck coats $1.00 and $1 50. Heavy caps 25, 40 and 50 cents. New line up-to-date neckwear. Odds in underwear 50 cents, go at 25 cents. Heavy gloves or mittens 25 cents per pair. At G. H. YESBERA'S, Auburn. n23

—Warsaw Times: "Rev. Kellar, of Goshen, who is conducting a revival at the Progressive Brethren church in East Warsaw, is an unusually fine orator and his meetings are growing nightly in point of attendence. It is understood that the revival will continue for a couple of weeks."

—The inheritance tax which the Federal government will get on the estate of the late Cornelius Vander bilt is likely to be over $2,000,000. Chauncey Depew will have to give up $20,000 of his $2000,000 legacy to the internal revenue collecter. Besides the Federal tax the State of New York will get about half a million.

—Place your confidence in a remedy that is guaranteed to cure. "I coughed constantly and my strength was all exhausted: I looked more like one dead than alive. Beggs' Cherry Cough Syrup entirely cured me."—Mrs. S. D. Harsh, Fairport Kan. For all throat and lung troubles. It has never failed. —Sold by H. B. MCCORD.

—Today is the 30th anniversary of the marriage of D. D. Moody and wife. Many changes have taken place since then. Of those present at the wedding, and since dead, are his father, his sister Ada, Sylvester Kutzner and wife, Rev. Stoner, who married them, Jeff Grube, John W. Rickel and perhaps others that he does not recall.

—James Barnes, now the recognized authority on all heroic phases, has written for the December number of McClure's Magazine the romantic story of Col. John Lauren's special mission to France in 1781. It is a story that has almost never been told; yet Lauren's mission is believed to have been the one thing that saved the cause of American Independence at a moment when it seemed to be lost. The article will be fully illustrated by Howard Pyle.

Ther's Keenest ...Pleasures

...in making your selections from a good stock; one that shows reliable ideas from the store that feels there's nothing too good to pass along to the trade. We give extra zest to your pleasure by lowest price. PRICES that particularly shrewed buyers, the buyers who are looking for a place where every possible advantage is assured them. Brimfull of good arguments is every item shown, the kind of selling logic that convinces.

Underwear

MEN'S UNDERWEAR, wool fleeced. all sizes, 48c garment or per suit..... 95c
MEN'S GREY MIXED, 24c garment or suit at 48c
BOYS' WOOL fleeced, all sizes, 24c a garment or for the suit..... 48c
Bargain for the boys.
CHILDREN'S fleeced lined underwear, in all sizes from 10c to..... 32c
CHILDREN'S fleeced lined union suits, a suit 24c
LADIES' fleeced lined union suits, good values per suit from..... 24c to 48c

Boys' School Pants

Boys' School Pants, all-wool, per pair..... 48c
Boys' Corduroy Pants from..... 48c to 75c

Fascinators

Fascinators, all-wool, in all colors from .24c to 48c
Ice Wool Fascinators, black and white, large sizes from..... 39 to 95c

Mittens

Ladies' Wool Mittens, per pair..8, 10, 15 and 24c
Ladies' Kid and Moca Mittens, Fur top, per pair..... 48c
Children's Kid and Moca Mittens, Fur top, per pair..... 39 to 43c
Scotch plaid gloves for ladies' per pair..... 48c
Men's Leather Gloves and Mittens, per pair.... 19c
Every one else sells them at 25c.
Men's Jersey Shirts from..... 39 to 48c
Men's Flannelet and Outing shirts..... 48c
German Knitting Yarns in all colors, 19c per skein or per pound..... 75c
Saxon Yarn in all colors, per skein..... 5c
Ladies' all-wool underskirts..... 95c to $1.69
Extra heavy ones, ask to see them.

Blankets

From the amount of blankets we sold last week it shows that the people know when to buy them. Prices from..... 45c to $1.48

COLLARETTES We have sold twice the amount this year than last and still have a good line left. See them before buying and be convinced that we can save you money.
$2.50 buys a full sweep, not a little short one.

The Bazar Store,

F. J. NEBELUNG, Prop. Auburn, Indiana.

Hand Painted Medallion Free!

A HAND PAINTED 3½ Medallion of yourself, will be given with each dozen platino cabinet pictures This is a special offer, call early.

Pictures on Handkerchiefs

Postal Cards, etc. We can please you in any kind of photographic work.

Lybarger The Photographer,
N. Main St., AUBURN, IND.

Dr. Humphreys'

Specifics act directly upon the disease, without exciting disorder in other parts of the system. They Cure the Sick.

NO.	CURES.	PRICES.
1	Fevers, Congestions, Inflammations.	.25
2	Worms, Worm Fever, Worm Colic...	.25
3	Teething, Colic, Crying, Wakefulness	.25
4	Diarrhea, of Children or Adults.....	.25
7	Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis.....	.25
8	Neuralgia, Toothache, Faceache.....	.25
9	Headache, Sick Headache, Vertigo..	.25
10	Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Weak Stomach.	.25
11	Suppressed or Painful Periods....	.25
12	Whites, Too Profuse Periods.....	.25
13	Croup, Laryngitis, Hoarseness.....	.25
14	Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Eruptions..	.25
15	Rheumatism, Rheumatic Pains.....	.25
16	Malaria, Chills, Fever and Ague.....	.25
19	Catarrh, Influenza, Cold in the Head	.25
20	Whooping-Cough.....	.25
27	Kidney Diseases.....	.25
28	Nervous Debility.....	1.00
30	Urinary Weakness, Wetting Bed...	.25
77	Grip, Hay Fever.....	.25

Dr. Humphreys' Manual of all Diseases at your Druggists or Mailed Free.
Sold by druggists, or sent on receipt of price. Humphreys' Med. Co., Cor. William & John Sts., New York.

Want to Sell Your Farm?

We have a buyer for a 40-acre, one for 80-acre and one for 100 to 160-acre farm. If you want to sell call.
MOODY & RICKEL,
Kiblinger Building Auburn.

HOW TO PREVENT A COLD.

After exposure or when you feel a cold coming on take a dose of Foley's Honey and Tar. It never fails and will prevent Pneumonia or Consumption if taken in time. H. B. MCCORD.

Monday's Daily.

—Clearing sale at Cowan Sisters, Saturday Nov. 25. n24

—The change of time on the Wabash will go into effect next Sunday.

—John Sheffer from northwest of town fixed up to 1900 on the COURIER today.

—Mrs. Cogswell of Pleasant Lake is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Klink.

—W. H. Dirrim is improving. He is now with his daughter, Mrs. John Picker.

—FOR SALE:—A thoroughbred Jersey cow and her calf. Call on J. A. Clifton. Auburn.

—S. W. Guthrie of Sedan was a caller Saturday at the COURIER office. Always glad to meet him.

—Your negatives made at Neher's studio will not leave town, and you can have duplicates made at any time.

—Ladies interested in millinery should take advantage of the sale at Cowan Sisters, Saturday Nov. 25. n24

—A strange worm in the Black Hills is killing vast areas of pine forests by boring through the bark and drinking the sap.

—WANTED:—Black Walnut logs for timber. Highest cash prices paid for same. Address, The Sanders & Egbert Co., Goshen, Ind. 8

—Miss Ernest spent Sunday at Ashley visiting an uncle there, and also her mother, Mrs. Williams in Fairfield, returning last evening.

—An Elkhart attorney recently passed the cigars in honor of the second birthday anniversary of his bird dog. The race of fools is not yet extinct.

—MARRIED—By Elder James Barton at his residence in Richland township, November 15, Mr. Clarence E. Trkesh and Miss Myrtle Snyder of this county.

—To all points in competition where the fare is $2 or more we have free bus and free baggage to the Junction. tf SPROTT & KNAPP, Agency B. & O. Ry.

—By an item elsewhere it will be seen that the Holland Dutch at Kalamazoo, who were our first source of celery are after the British lion with a hot foot.

—Mrs. Frank Ashelman returned Saturday from a visit with V. L. DeWitt and family at Oakland City. She reports them all well and enjoying life in their new home.

—Charles Donk and wife of Ashley were in town yesterday, the guests of Frank Thomas and wife. They were accompanied on their return home by Master Ainsworth Thomas.

—A man supposed to be from Auburn got a $10 bill instead of a $1 note in change at a Waterloo barber shop Saturday afternoon and he will confer a favor on the barber if he will rectify the error.

—Mike Kiplinger of Waterloo was a caller Saturday, and keeps his credit in the front rank by paying his subscription to the first day of the new century, 1901 We believe he is the second on that list.

—The Soudan Manufacturing Co. of Chicago has been moved to Elkhart, when the man who donated the land for them will be made happy by the privilege of blowing the whistle the first time the plant runs.

—As will be seen by the Lake Shore time card in another column a change of time has been made in the train going south in the forenoon. This train now passes Auburn at 9:58, twenty-five minutes later than under the former schedule. No change has been made in any of the other trains.

—Guaranteed to stop your hair falling out, remove dandruff, restore natural color, and cure all scalp diseases,—Beggs' Hair Renewer. "Cannot praise it too highly; stopped my hair falling out and started a new growth."—Mrs. McKeever, Abbeyville, Kan.—Sold by H. B. MCCORD.

—John Lamphere was released from confinement at the county jail Saturday, and in this connection they tell a good joke on Sheriff Hathaway. When the necessary proceedings had been gone through with Lamphere walked out of the court room wearing the Sheriff's hat. When the latter learned of the change in head-gear there was a warm time for a few minutes, but his late guest willingly "traded back" when he learned the mistake that had been made.

—Mrs. S. C. Snyder and son Ora, started for California this afternoon over the B. & O. They may make a short stop at Denver, but expect to reach their destination, Los Angeles, the last of this week. Mr. Snyner will join them as soon as his business interests will permit, and they expect to spend the winter on the coast. They go for the benefit of Mrs. Snyder, whose health has been poor for some time The COURIER unites with a host of friends, with good wishes for them all.

ELM HALL, Mich., Nov. 25, '99.
I am past 69 years of age. I have practiced medicine since that year before the rebellion, but for the past year have done only an office practice. Would you believe that so old a practitioner would step aside from his prejudices to take what is commonly called a patent medicine? For years I have been taking Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It seems to be just what I require When I am tired and languid it braces me up. EDWARD WILSON, M. D.

—Col. R. M. Johnson, known here, and H. C. Dodge also known to many DeKalb people, are having a quarrel, and may have a lawsuit. They own each, a block in Elkhart standing side by side and there is only one stairway for both, leading to the second and third floors. The tenants of the two uppers of the two blocks have quarreled a good deal, and in order to stop this, Dodge, in whose building the stairway is, has walled up the passage from his block into Johnson's. So Johnson's tenants have to climb out of the window and down the fire escape.

—Auditor Seiler had a telegram from Terre Haute Saturday announcing the death from typhoid fever that day, of his niece the oldest daughter of the late Michael Seiler at her home there. He at once telegraphed his brother, Cyrus at Goshen, and the latter's wife came down here, and she and Mrs. Seiler went to Terre Haute today. The family there seem very unfortunate, as the younger daughter, now about twelve is lying quite low with the same disease. The deceased was a bright girl of 17, and was expecting soon to go to Europe to finish her musical education.

—An expensive accident occurred in the B. & O. yards at Garrett last night through a defective switch. Eastbound passenger train No. 6, was coming into the city and when near the coal shutes, after the engine and baggage car had passed over the switch the rails spread, throwing all the remaining cars off the main track onto the switch track. The cars were badly damaged and the track torn up but fortunately not one of the passengers or train men was injured. The passengers were transfered to other coaches and the train pulled out of Garrett several hours late.

Wednesday's Daily.

—You can buy a hat at rock bottom price at Cowan Sisters Saturday.

—A. C. Robbins and C. F. Scoville transacted business in Fort Wayne yesterday.

—Z. T. Garrett and wife were here from Cedarville today visiting their sons Milo and Roy.

—A union service will be held at the M. E. church Thanksgiving day. Sermon by Rev. Arlen.

—To be thrice happy, use Russ' Bleaching Blue; don't be deceived by fraudulent imitations.

—Aaron Jones of South Bend was yesterday re-elected grand master of the National Grange.

—John Kraus remembered his old friend in the COURIER office handsomely yesterday and has thanks.

—The Central Union linemen will complete their work tomorrow after which they will leave for Elkhart.

—Marion Miller and wife of Dundee, Minn., are visiting in the family of his father, Samuel Miller, east of town.

—Ladies who take pride in beautiful, clear white clothes should use Russ' Bleaching Blue. Refuse imitations.

—HOUSE TO RENT:—Good five-room house with buttery and clothes closet. Inquire of John Otto north Main street, Auburn. n22-tf —Rev. W. F. Dingel of Waterloo was a caller here today. He is working in the interest of the coming meeting at Norris chapel.

—A. R. McCurdy of Fort Wayne has been appointed an aide on the staff of the Commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

—Cowan Sisters will show an extensive line of trimmed hats of the latest and most approved styles at the clearing sale Saturday, Nov. 25. n24

—The next attraction at the opera house will be the Mozart Symphony Club in a fine musical program, Saturday evening, December 2.

—Twenty-five employes of the Lesh Manufacturing Co., at Warsaw went out on a strike Saturday. They have been getting $1.10 per day and want $1.25

—Mr. and Mrs. Romine of Newell, Iowa, have returned to Auburn, and expect to buy property and make their home here. He is a son of Perry Romine.

—Our merchants will this year have the finest line of holiday goods ever shown in Auburn. Patronize the merchants who advertise and ask for your trade.

—The Madden marble works have had a big run of work this fall and a number of big jobs of monumental work will have to be laid over until next spring.

—The "Knobs o' Tennessee" company left this morning for Kalamazoo, Mich. They make some long "jumps" on this route, but only play the best show towns.

—New line of hats came Monday. When you call ask for those $1.00 black and brown "Fedoras" and the $1.00 crushes so popular just now.—G. H. YESBERA, Auburn. n23

—John Paul's remains reached Garrett last evening on No. 3, and the burial was in Calvary cemetery there this afternoon, as the condition of the body would not permit a longer delay.

—Grand Master Workman T. B. Neal of Indianapolis is here for a visit with the local A. O. U. W. lodge this evening. Mr. Neal is making his annual visiting trip and always finds a warm welcome in Auburn.

—A letter from Mrs. W. T. Allison at Phillipsburg, Montana, encloses $3 to pay the weekly. Thanks, not only for the cash but the friendly letter. There is always a pleasure in a letter from our former fellow teachers, —John F. Harter was here today to go on our 1900 list and reports the death of our old friend Israel H. Groh, a neighbor of his. His death was on Sunday, the result of Bright's disease The funeral was at Richland Center Tuesday.

—We mean to give our patrons the advantage of clearing sale prices before they are supplied, and while the stock is in good condition. You can not afford to miss this rare opportunity. Remember the date, Saturday, Nov. 25.—COWAN SISTERS. n24

—Shortly after the first of the year says the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette, the navy department will send a war vessel to Havana to bring the remains of the 166 sailors of the Maine to this country. They are now interred in the Colon cemetery, Havana.

—Theodore Roosevelt in his recent speech-making tour in Maryland, told the story of the Rough Riders in Cuba, but did not even mention the name of commander of the regiment, Col. Wood. Mr. Roosevelt would gain more real admiration if he did not show himself so anxious to claim it all.

—The onion is said to be a reliable weather prophet. When the winter is to be cold it develops two or three skins; when mild weather is probable one coat is sufficient. Thus the humble vegetable demonstrates the fact that foretelling the weather is, more or less, a skin game.

—Makes the blood pure, renovates the entire system, gives new life and strength,—Beggs' Blood Purifier. "It cured me of a long-standing and chronic case of fistula."—R. A. Bently, Summit, Fla. Endorsed by physicians. Guaranteed not to fail. Try it.—Sold by H. B. MCCORD.

—We have been favored with a program of the St. Joe lecture course for this season. The course opens Saturday evening, December 9, with a lecture by Col. Copeland, and closes with a grand concert March 2, 1900. The list of attractions is a good one and the course should be well patronized.

—We often (in fact every day) receive local items that are illegibly written and especially in the names of persons. The proof reader is not supposed to know every person in and out of Auburn, and oftentimes names are incorrectly printed through the carelessness of the person furnishing the items.

—G. C. Lahnum expects to devote his time this fall and winter to the fruit tree business. He has taken the agency heretofore handled by I. M. Johnson, for the Monroe, Mich., nurseries, and will devote his time to it. These nurseries are among the very best, and being near at home, the trees shrubs, vines, etc., reach here in better shape than when brought from a distance. It will be well to hold order and see Mr. Lahnum.

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you use Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Easy to take Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by H. B. McCord the druggist.

Want to Buy Real Estate

We have a client who wants to buy a small residence; also one who wants a large, well located property in Auburn.
MOODY & RICKEL,
Office Kiblinger Building Auburn.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Peter Kuntz, Pres., Chicago; W. H. Keckler, Treas., Auburn.

The Auburn LUMBER Co.

Central 'Phone No. 12.

We sell all kinds of Lumber for Building, and Make Window and Door Frames to Order. We can Sell you Doors and Windows and SAVE YOU MONEY. We carry all kinds of Shingles, from $1 per thousand to the very best.
Headquarters for.....

Wood Burnt Bulk Lime.

The Genuine Article

We can SAVE YOU MONEY in PRICE, WEIGHT & QUALITY Come and see us and examine our Lime, and you will be convinced. We also carry Cement, Plastering Hair, Plaster Paris, etc.

Auburn Lumber Co.
Near Wabash Depot AUBURN.

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE OF INDIANA, DEKALB COUNTY, } ss.
In the DeKalb Circuit Court, December Term, 1899:

Alanson Sumner and Stephen Clark and unknown heirs of the said Alanson Sumner and Stephen Clark are hereby notified that an action has been commenced according to law against them in said court, to quiet title and cancel mortgage on real estate, by Peter Coyle et. al., and that the same will be heard and determined on the 6th day of January, 1900, being the 19th juridical day of the December term of said court, which commences December 18, 1899.

Witness, the Clerk of said court, this 11th day of November, 1899.

MICHAEL F. LONG, Clerk.
Moody & Rickel, Att'ys for Plaintiffs.

WHAT A WELL KNOWN R. R. MAN and resident of Lima thinks of Foley's Honey and Tar: I have been troubled a great deal with the backache. I was induced to try Foley's Kidney Cure, and one bottle entirely relieved me. I gladly recommend it to any one, especially my friends among the trainmen, who are generally similarly afflicted.—GEO. H. AUSTIN, Engineer on L. E. & W. R. R.—H. B. MCCORD.

Some Youthful Corn Huskers.

At a corn husking at the farm of Jesse Hire in Noble county one day last week the following youths husked 75 bushels of corn, hauled it to the crib and tied up the fodder: Jesse Hire, aged 90 years; William Trine, 88; Mr. Smith, 74; J. A. Hire, 60.

FOR HOARSENESS.

Geo. A. Pontius, Upper Sandusky, O., writes: I have been using Foley's Honey and Tar for sore throat and hoarseness and find it the best remedy I ever tried. It stopped the Cough immediately and relieved all soreness.—H. B. MCCORD.

No Hunting.

J. F. Mott north of town, Levi Jackson east of St. John, and Mrs. Ruth Saxton east of town, give warning to all hunters not to trespass on their lands, or hunt there, as they will be prosecuted.

THANKSGIVIN' IN THE COUNTRY

Ef yer goin' to the country, to spend
Thanksgivin' there,
Jest take along yer appetite, an' sharpen it with care;
Fur ther's goin' to be a turkey and a chicken pie, I ween,
Pertaters, squash an' onions, too, the finest ever seen;
An' ther's goin' to be a raisin' cake, an'
mince an' pumpkin pie,
An' a puddin' full o' plums, et with sugar
sass, oh, my!
An' ye'll eat enough to bust ye, 'fore ye know what yer about;
An' ye goin' to get the colic,
Ef ye
don't watch
out.

An' when the dinner's over, on that Thanks-
givin' day,
An' the dishes is all tidied an' the table
cleared away,
When the old folks in the parlor by the fire
are settin' down,
An' the popcorn, an' the apples is a circu-
latin' roun',
When the men is talkin' politics, the women
talkin' clo'es,
An' gran'ma in her spectacles has dropped off in a doze,
While the young folks in the kitchen is a frolickin' about,
Ther's goin' to be some sparkin'
Ef ye'
don't watch
out.

An' when it's gettin' darker, an' the fire is burnin' low,
An' the shadders in the corners keep a-wav-
in' to an' fro,
When the wind comes round the corner with a sad an' mournful soun',
An' ye see outside the snowflakes, one by one, a settlin' down,
When ye hitch yer chairs up nearer, as the twilight's wearin' on An' speak of them 'twas with ye in Thanks-
givin's that are gone,
When ye look upon the empty chairs a standin' round about,
Then ye'll blubber like the dickens
Ef ye
don't watch
out.

THANKSGIVING DUEL.

IT was Thanksgiving Day, and this is the story as it was told by Miss Pepper, the fine needle worker, at the woman's boarding house on Tenth street: "You see, my dears," said Miss Pepper, who was like a sweet faded old rose in the group of eager young women about her, "the trouble with Jack Brice was this: He was heels over head in love with my cousin, Margery Lee, but he was too poor to marry.

"He lived with his uncle, Tom Brice, of the Mansion House—old Squire Brice, as all the county called him, though he wasn't more than 50; and naturally when they both came courting Margery, her father favored the squire's suit most. But Margery favored Jack's, and showed it openly.

"A man may be as rich as Croesus, but when he's choleric and up in years—none too good in the bargain—he needn't expect to make much headway with a love sick girl of 20. Long-legged Jack's good looks outweighed the squire's gold, but when her father found out which way the wind was blowing he forbade Margy to see him again. She said nothing, for she was not a girl to talk. But every night she wrote him a long letter, that she would hide in a hollow tree stump, and that Jack would come and take away.

"Sometimes, too, in the early morning, hardly daylight, she would jump on her bay mare, Hornet, and dash two miles down the river to the ford, where Jack would be waiting, and would swim his horse over from the other side, just to have five minutes' talk with her.

"Ah, but they were in love, I can tell you! And I never saw a better matched pair—both so good looking; both so full of life!

"Whether my uncle ever heard of their goings on I don't know. But he stopped talking against Jack and urging the squire's suit. He only told us, Margy and me both, for I lived with them, that old Tom had him in his power and could ruin him, and now that she wouldn't marry him he was going to take his revenge.

"Then he fell sick, and seemed likely to die, and my poor cousin was in a terrible quandary.

"She loved Jack, but she loved her father, too. And she felt it was worry that was killing him.

"One terrible night, when we were almost expecting my uncle to breathe his last, Margy fell on her knees and promised she'd marry the squire, and he at once began to get better with astonishing quickness.

MEETING AT THE FORD.

"She wrote Jack one letter, one curt, cold letter, that she sat two days over; and that he tore in half and sent back to her, and then left the county on top of it.

"This left the field of love open to the squire, and he made the most of it, coming every afternoon to our place, spruced up like a young man, in a light black suit, and with his hair combed over his bald spot.

"He would send Margy splendid presents, too. And sometimes a love letter, a fine, proper love letter, calling her a red rose with the dew on it, a black-eyed gypsy, or some such prettiness, all of which you may be sure, though, only I ever read.

"Meanwhile the wedding arrangements were going on with wicked hurry. My uncle seemed like one possessed to have it over with. And Margy, numb with misery ,and worn to a shadow with longing for Jack, said nothing. Perhaps she was afraid if too long put off she would lose courage for the sacrifice; perhaps she was all the time hoping and praying—as women can pray sometimes—for the very daring thing that did happen.

"That night, I remember, it stormed. The wind howled, and all along the country road the big oaks swung their arms and creaked as if ready to fall on our rumbling old carriage.

"It was Thanksgiving night, a festival not in favor in the South in those days, and we were going to the mansion house to a family dinner. The wedding was only three days off now, and the squire had taken a fancy to keep it in honor of his coming happiness.

"When we rolled up to the open doorway there he was, magnificent—in a rosebud satin waistcoat, and with a flower in his buttonhole, for all the world like a bedecked old turkey cock!

"'Welcome to the Mansion House,' he said, gayly, as I bundled up the stairs first.

"And then to Margy, though quite loud enough for me to hear: 'In three short days!'—meaning, of course, the marriage that was to leave her in his home forever.

"She winced as if he had struck her, her face as white as her muslin frock, and I verily believe that if he hadn't walked her into the dining room on his arm she would have fallen.

"What sort of a dinner did they have?

UP AND AWAY.

glass high in the air, and was echoed by a dreadful laugh.

"'To the devil, you mean; to the devil, you old villain,' said a voice. 'He gave you money enough to buy a wife, so toast him deep!'

Why, the best in the world, you may be sure!

"The Mansion House was the finest place in the county—for that matter in all South Carolina—and the squire knew good living, and the big mahogany table fairly groaned under cut glass and silver.

"Uncle and I were at each side, and Margy was at the foot in the place of honor; where, three times a day, she was soon to face old Tom, until death should mercifully take one or the other of them out of the world. None of us talked much; none, even my uncle, who was emptying goblet after goblet of wine to drown his thoughts. And when the squire stood up suddenly with his champagne glass to toast the bride—a frozen bride that looked ready for the tomb—I almost welcomed the interruption that followed.

"'To the bride!' repeated the squire,

"And there in the middle of the floor, landed by a jump through the flung up window, was Jack, his clothes covered with mud and satan in his eye.

"True love poisoned by wounded vanity, you see, my dears, may sleep drugged for a while, but the time will come when it will fight like a tiger for what it feels its own.

"And this had been the case with Jack, who was now almost maddened with thinking over the coming wedding.

"'You young puppy,' roared the squire, 'didn't I tell you not to come here again?'

"'That for your telling,' said Jack, diabolically cool; and with the whirl of a long whip in his hand the squire's uplifted wine glass fell to the floor cut like a flower from the shank!

"Then followed a terrible scene, while we looked on like people in a nightmare.

"The two men seemed suddenly to turn into raging demons, but from the very first I could see Jack had the upper hand.

"He held the squire, squirming and cursing like a trooper, down in his chair as if he had been a child.

"'Margy,' he called out over his head, 'did you write me that letter of your own account?'

"And getting no answer beyond the denial of her death-white face and piteous eyes, his rage knew no bounds. 'Your friend, the devil, gave you money enough to buy a wife,' he kept saying, shaking the squire as a cat would a mouse; 'but by heaven it's only over my dead body you'll get her!'

"'Defend yourself, you old rascal,' he yelled, 'defend yourself, for, kin or not, we are one too many on earth.'

"There was a pair of swords crossed on the wall, slender, murderous dueling swords, and, tearing them down, he flung one to his uncle, and in a moment they were fighting like mad, parrying, thrusting and feinting, with a dexterity sickening to see.

"For the squire, you must understand, was an experienced swordsman; he had pinked his man in his time; but, fired by love and hate, and always a good fencer, Jack was a match for him. One moment it was he who was doing the parrying. The next it was the squire. And presently, as if in a dream, I could see my uncle and Prince, the negro butler, standing on chairs and putting out the candles that were fastened to the antlers of the deer heads against the walls, in the hope that this would stop them.

"But it did nothing of the sort; it only made them all the more determined to kill each other; and directly in the pitch dark, after a moment's groping—groping that sent an icy chill to the roots of my hair—their swords clashed, and we knew that the duel was not yet over.

"Margy fell faint across my lap and my uncle began to pray.

"All I could think of was to hope that Jack would beat, and with my heart in my mouth I sat staring at the sparks that flew from their swords and waiting for the end.

"At last, after an eternity of time, a time made up of appalling silence and mad, blind, loomings together—and again that hideous groping—there was a cry, a fall, and when the frightened negro made a light again, there was the squire, pinned by Jack's sword, through an ear, to the floor, and there outside the window were Jack and Margy clinging to each other on the same horse and ready to dash off into the night.

"Well, my dears," said little Miss Pepper mildly in conclusion of her spirited recital, "of course, they got married and lived happy ever after.

"And equally, of course, the squire melted in time and forgave them, and tore up the notes he held against my uncle.

"And to this very day, if any of you should go to Buck Forest, anybody there will tell you how Jack Brice won his bride on Thanksgiving night."—St. Louis Republic.

SOLDIERS' PUDDING.

How the Cook of a Company Surprised His Comrades.

"In November, '62," said Judge Langbein, who was a drummer boy in the famous Hawkins Zouaves, "we were in camp at Falmouth, directly opposite Fredericksburg, Md., where many of our command fell a little later. We could get nothing but the ordinary rations, but we had prepared for that by starting a company fund several months before for the purpose of supplying a Thanksgiving dinner. There must have been something like $40 in the fund, and our cook kept the disposal of this fund a profound secret. It seems ridiculous now, but I don't believe that any child ever waited for the coming of Christmas morning with a keener excitement than we did for that Thanksgiving dinner. When it came at last, we found that the great dish was nothing more nor less than a good old-fashioned plum pudding, rich and savory. I'll never forget that pudding, but it was the only thing we had. It had taken all the company fund to buy the flour and other ingredients for the pudding. I tell you, though, it seemed good to our stomachs, which had endured a steady diet of hardtack and coffee for weeks. I don't believe that a band of street ragmuffins ever tackled a feast with a keener relish than we poor fellows felt when we devoured that pudding."

The Farmer's Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Oatcake—What did you thank the Lord for to-day, Silas?

Silas Oatcake—F'er th' wheat failure in Europe.

SUBJECT OF THANKSGIVINGS.

Extensive and Highly Interesting Volume Might Be Compiled on It.

An extensive and highly interesting volume might be compiled on the subject of Thanksgiving and the events which have signalized them. For instance, on Thanksgiving day, 1783, the British army evacuated New York, while Washington and Clinton marched into the city at the head of the continental army and took formal possession in the name of the young republic. Festivities and a grand display of fireworks closed that memorable day. Thanksgiving had fallen that year on Dec. 25, and the combination of evacuation day and that festival were long jointly honored in New York.

The Thanksgiving day of 1816 is memorable as the occasion upon which an American theater was first illuminated with gas. This event happened in Philadelphia. The experiment was a complete success, and the manager of the affair was Dr. Kingler. During the war, of the battles and skirmishes fought on Thanksgiving, the most notable was that of Lookout mountain (1863).

A few odd and distinctive methods of celebrating the great holiday still survive in different parts of the United States, although the tendency is toward a uniform manner of rejoicing. In sections of Connecticut, for instance, the "Thanksgiving barrel burning" is a time-honored institution. For a month before the day Connecticut boys diligently collect and store in a place of security all the barrels, old or new, which they can find. All barrels are regarded as the property of whomsoever can carry them away. On Thanksgiving night the barrels are piled in a huge heap and ignited. Boys and girls then dance around the bonfire until the very last barrel has gone up in smoke.

A Thoughtless Remark.

"How often," said Miss Miami Brown, "hit do happen dat er thoughtless remark'll spile de plaisure ob er occasion!"

"Yassendeed," replied Erastus Pinkley. "One o' de gues'es at ouah own table stopped pap right in de middle o' de kyahvin' ter ax 'im whah he got de turkey."

Pumpkin Pies.

Of course you'll make pumpkin pies at Thanksgiving time. It wouldn't be much of a Thanksgiving without them—leastways, our folks would think so, and I find that most people feel the same. Now, if you want to know how to make what I call my best "company" pies, I'll tell you how to do it. They are just prime ones, that would make your mouth water to look at them.

Stew just as much pumpkin as you want to make pies. I generally make up six at a time—they do not have time to grow stale, for they don't last long in our house. Then I sift and measure it, and for a quart of the pumpkin I stir in a pound of brown sugar, a quart of rich milk, and six new laid eggs that have been beaten up till they are all of a froth. Now I put in my salt and cinnamon, and ginger—a pinch at a time till I get it good and well seasoned. That's the secret in making them—the seasoning and the baking. You can't slide them into a cool oven and have them first class. The oven has got to be right hot at first, then after they've been in about six minutes check your heat and let your oven cool off a little; if you don't the heat will puff them up, and then they'll fall, and your pies will come out as flat as pancakes.—Exchange.

A Boy on Thanksgiving.

Here is a funny little composition written by a boy about Thanksgiving day: "Thanksgiving was brought over from England by the Puritan fathers in the year 1620. It has staid here ever since. On Thanksgiving everybody goes to church in the morning, so as to have everything out of the way before dinner. Then you come home and hang around a little while and get awful hungry smelling the turkey. After dinner Thanksgiving is over."

Influence of Food.

"I know that the food a person eats has much to do with the eater's characteristics."

"Is that so?"

"It is. You will notice that about Thanksgiving day many turkey eaters will become gobblers."—Judge.

WOMEN

AWAY WITH SHAM.

THE effort that some women make to keep up appearances wears them to skin and bone, and what is their reward? A significant shrug from those who see through their pretenses and the toleration of those who are quite willing to accept the struggles they make to be something they are not, but are quite well aware all the time of the sham and veneer that they try to palm off as the real thing.

How much happier would these ambitious feminines be if they just put aside the chicanery of social effort and appeared in their plain and natural guise, making no pretense above their means and securing thereby a mental and bodily comfort heretofore unknown. If this resolution were arrived at and lived up to we would see no more of the woman with one servant endeavoring to impress the world with the idea that she has at least three, and fretting the life out of the poor girl by rushing her into cap and apron to appear at the door when she is elbow deep in the washday suds, or insisting upon her removing her friends' wraps and shoes when the odor of burning meat proclaims the fact that her place is in the kitchen, not in the boudoir.

Then, again, in the matter of dress we would be relieved from hearing the endless tale of exorbitant dressmakers' bills and treated to the sight of silk-lined frocks covering cotton stockings and the plainest of lingerie. A healthier condition would prevail when madame provided more than a cracker and a cup of tea for her own luncheon and terrapin and champagne for her guests when she wished to duly impress them. When women are once again their own natural selves happiness will have some chance of existence, and, strange as it may sound, those whom they are now making such frantic efforts to imbue with an idea of their own importance will think a hundred times more of them for honesty and enjoy their society a hundred times more when they know that the entertainment offered them, while meager, perhaps, is not costing the hostess a sleepless night worrying over how it is to be paid for.—Philadelphia Times.

More than a Century Old.

With more than 300 living descendants throughout the United States to wish her a longer life and fuller measure of happiness, Mrs. Catherine Watts, who resides with her son, William Watts, near Sellersville, Pa., Saturday, quietly commemorated the 103d anniversary of her birth.

MRS. WATTS.

She passed her 103d milestone apparently as sound in mind and body as the youngest of her great-great-grandchildren. To sit idly by when there is work to be done is far from her mind. Only this summer she visited a relative a mile away from her home, "snitzed" apples, and later in the day helped to convert them into "latwerge"—apple-butter. Three times this summer she participated in "latwerge" parties and at one of these she lent her assistance until midnight. She walks about the house and large yard as gayly as a girl. Mrs. Watts has never spoken a word of English except such as are contained in the Pennsylvania German.

Heir of an English Lord.

Miss Nora Florence Casey, of Cayuga Lake, N. Y., is in direct line to an English estate. Her father, Rev. William Casey, is the heir of the late Lord Brampton, of Hitchin, formerly Sir Henry Hawkins, chief justice of the high criminal court of England.

MISS CASEY.

The Hasty Word.

To think before you speak is so wise an axiom that one would hardly think it needful to emphasize it by repetition. And yet in how many cases the hasty temper flashes out in the hasty word, and the latter does its work with the precision and the pain of the swift stiletto! Singularly enough, the hasty word oftenest wounds those who love one another dearly, and the very closeness of their intimacy affords them opportunity for the sudden thrust. We know the weak points in the armor of our kinsman and our friend; we are aware of his caprices, and ordinarily are tender and compassionate even of his vanities and his small fancies and whims; but there dawns a day when it is written in the book of fate that we shall be as cruel as we are loving. We are cold, or tired, or hungry. We are anxious over unpaid bills, or our expected letters have not arrived, or one of the children is ailing, and we dread the outcome of the malady. So politeness fails us, fortitude is vanquished, philosophy is in abeyance, and we say that which we repent in sackcloth and ashes. But though the hasty word may be forgiven, it is not at once forgotten. It has flawed the crystal of our friendship; the place may be cemented, but there is a shadowy scar on the gleaming surface. Oh, if the word of haste had but been left unspoken; if the strong hand of patience had but held back the sword as it was about to strike!—Harper's Bazar.

A Good Rule to Go By.

"In selecting a wife," said a man whose success in such selection has been conspicuous, "always go by the mother of the girl. It's a good rule, and I've never yet known it to fail. There's a good long stretch of future before most people who make up their minds to get married, and for a considerable portion of that stretch the girl will be much more like her mother than like herself. It's easy enough to choose a wife so far as the present is concerned, but if you want to know something of your wife for the future you should take her mother into account. When you see a truly charming mother you may be pretty sure that her daughter is to be depended upon when she reaches the same age. Long before I was more than aware of the existence of my wife I thought her mother was one of the loveliest women in the world. I was only a little chap, and she, a brilliant young matron, was, of course, unaware of my devotion, but my allegiance never lost its hold, and when I grew up I promptly fell in love with the daughter of the woman whom I had so long admired. I have great faith," concluded the man, "in the doctrine that calls mothers 'warnings.'"

Her Original Idea.

Miss Bernice Castello, a bright Missouri girl, recently took to the lyceum platform as a means of earning a livelihood. Instead of following the usual stereotyped methods, she put on her thinking cap and decided that, in addition to the inevitable singing, she would give as the principal portion of her performance, impersonations of the characters of some well-known novel, which she would carry through from beginning to end. She selected James Lane Allen's charming story, "A Kentucky Cardinal," and her success has been so great that numbers of imitators have already appeared.

MISS CASTELLO.

Value of "Little Things."

How few women realize the true value of attention to the details of their work. A man in business gives to them his careful consideration, but a housekeeper often, from lack of time, perhaps, or physical strength, will neglect what she feels is the trivial part of the machine work. This is a mistake; better undertake less and do it thoroughly. It is the people who do the great things who have given attention to the little ones as well.

These things cannot be acquired, all at once; they must be a part of the habit of one's life. Attended to as a duty, they are a most important element in success; indeed, it is doubtful if a genuine success in life can be achieved without attention to little things, for neglect of them gives the impression of unreliability, a reputation fatal to any kind of achievement. "Want of time" is a modern fiction glibly employed by those who rarely put any portion of their sixteen waking hours to any useful purpose.—Woman's Life.

Avoid Personalities.

It's a bad policy to discuss one's own private affairs in the public conveyance, and it is not always safe to discuss those of another person, for coincidences are eager things; they like to happen. Recently two women were overheard conversing on a railroad train. They were talking quite unguardedly, because no one knew them, but the woman in the seat just in front of them was a cousin or some relation of that sort to the discussed individual. There is a queer fascination about hearing a familiar name unexpectedly sounded in strange voices, but imagine her feelings when she heard her cousin spoken of as a mother who was getting very anxious indeed about her daughters and matrimony.—New York Sun.

Lotion that Removes Freckles.

To remove freckles, mix 1 ounce of lemon juice, a quarter of a drachm of powdered borax, half a drachm of pulverized sugar, and let it stand in a glass for a few days; then apply it and let it dry on the skin. Or apply with a linen cloth two tablespoonfuls of grated horseradish mixed with a teacupful of sour milk. If a girl freckle easily she should keep this lotion and use it frequently, being careful not to allow it to touch her eyes.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Of Interest to Woman.

Over 85 per cent. of the housewives of this country do without a servant.

Ninety per cent. of American women spend less than $50 a year for clothing.

In the Jewish wedding ceremony the bride is not asked to promise anything.

At a school meeting in Stoughton, Wis., over half of 900 votes were cast by women.

The Rev. Miss Sowles, of Prospect, Wis., began preaching before she was 11 years old.

Sarah Cohen, an aged Jewess of New York, makes a comfortable living matching buttons for society women.

London society women are wearing less rings than formerly, on the ground that rings spoil the beauty of a hand.

Thirty young women from Ireland have gone to Texas to enter the San Antonio Convent of the Divine Providence.

The "hoodoo" has been taken from the opal, and it is now popular, at least in the South, as an emblem of happiness and luck.

Five nuns from Italy are to found a new convent in Washington, the expenses to be met by Mrs. Thomas F. Ryan, of that city.

Mrs. Susan M. Miller, of Philadelphia, owns a table set over a hundred years old, made of oak and metal from an old State House.

Mrs. Cornelia S. Robinson, President of the West End Woman's Republican Club in New York, is working for trades unions among women.

At the London Church Congress the Bishop of London had a word for women in which he said that husbands were hulking, blundering creatures about the house, but that wives must remember that, after all, they had chosen them and must make the best of them.

INDIANA INCIDENTS.

RECORD OF EVENTS OF THE PAST WEEK.

Gold Burglary in Jeffersonville—Briscoe Building Burns at Hartford—Freight Trains Collide at Reelsville—Bottle Factories Unable to Get Help.

The most daring hold-up ever attempted in Jeffersonville occurred the other night about 10 o'clock in a thickly settled locality. Herbert Loomis, clerk in a drug store, was in the act of closing, when two unmasked men walked into the lighted store and covered him with their revolvers. One of the burglars ordered the other to fire after he had counted ten if Loomis failed to open the safe. The safe was then opened and the entire contents, which aggregated nearly $500, was taken. The thieves escaped.

Boy Famine Worries Factories.

The boy famine prevailing all over the Indiana gas belt, and more especially in towns and cities where bottle factories are located, is seriously felt at Hartford City, where three large bottle plants are located. Notices of "boys wanted" have been posted all over the county, and money prizes are offered for the boys who remain in the firm's employ longest, but there is the greatest scarcity. Many of the concerns in the gas belt are compelled to run only half force owing to the scarcity.

Business Block Is Burned.

Fire broke out in the furniture department of the J. L. Hoover store in the Briscoe block at Hartford City, and three hose companies battled with the flames for two hours and a half before they were finally subdued. The interior of the structure was destroyed, only the walls being left standing. The R. Kirschbaum block adjoining was damaged by water. The estimated loss is $75,000, about one-third of which is covered by insurance.

Natural Gas Is Diminishing.

Natural gas is rapidly failing in the north part of the Indiana field. The Dietrich syndicate has given notice that it will abandon its plants in the smaller towns. Five towns in Howard County are left to freeze and nearly 2,000 families will eat cold victuals and shiver over fireless stoves. Coal cannot be had at any price and there is no wood in the market.

Bad Wreck on the Vandalia.

The Vandalia Railroad Company suffered a most damaging wreck at Reelsville. Train No. 22, east-bound, was trying to make a switch and was run into by train No. 26, also east-bound. The engine of the last train plowed through ten cars, totally demolishing them. One of the cars was loaded with stock. Three of the trainmen were injured, one seriously.

Within Our Borders.

Smallpox at Fort Wayne.

Linton wants a city charter.

Frankfort is grabbing for a steel plant.

Greenwood high school has been commissioned.

Fort Wayne water works bonds have been floated.

Noblesville is fighting an increase in natural gas rates.

Clinton County has the largest corn crop in her history.

Columbus thinks she has a shoe factory within her clutches.

Thomas Williams, 73, Mexican war veteran, Salem, dead.

North Manchester is planning a fifteen-mile sewerage system.

William Mabee and wife, Martinsville, celebrated their golden wedding.

Marion and her suburbs are again entangled in the school transfer law.

Robert Myler, former county auditor, died at South Bend, aged 58 years.

Charles W. Byers, 13-months-old baby, Vincennes, drank carbolic acid and died.

Spencer County will vote on an issue of bonds for the new Southern Indiana Railroad.

At Lapel the 9-year-old son of James Anderson shot and fatally wounded his 2-year-old sister.

Prof. F. L. Morris of the chair of mathematics, Hanover College, has resigned. Old age.

William Reas, farm hand near Princeton, is told that he is heir to a $75,000 estate in Germany.

Wesley Harwick, 87, Hendricks County, has lived on the same farm seventy years. He never used tobacco or whisky.

Miss Barbara Frank, Newburg, who was to have been married in a week, avoided the ceremony by jumping into a cistern. Cause unknown.

Ed Spencer, in jail at Evansville, charged with murdering his sweetheart, Lizzie Swanee, Troy, tried to commit suicide by setting his clothes on fire.

The pastor of the Methodist Church in Ebenezer preached from the text, "Do Away with the Old and Build Anew." A few days later the church burned.

One hundred and twenty-five miners went out on strike at the Princeton Coal and Mining Company plant on account of the scale weights. The company will have the scales tested.

At Connersville Miss Katherine Welsh, aged 20 years, was found dead, with her head nearly blown off and a shotgun lying by her side. The family express the belief that her death was accidental, but others think it suicide, as she had been in poor health for a long time.

Options on 7,000 acres of marl beds near Milford have been taken up by parties who expect to establish an immense cement manufacturing plant at that place. The purchasers will incorporate as the Indiana Cement Company and build a mill at Milford which will produce 1,000 barrels a day.

Free mail delivery has begun at Martinsville.

Larger beds of asphaltum are under the east end of Logansport than was at first supposed.

Company to mine gold at Cripple Creek, Colo., has been organized at Anderson.

Mrs. Phebe Hole, 70, Muncie, was knocked down by a crowd and received a broken leg.

Retail coal dealers have chalked coal up 10 and 15 cents, and at the mines it goes 40 cents higher.

Standard Oil Company is paying fancy prices for leases in Adams County.

Fourteen Mongolian pheasants were turned loose in Madison County for sports to shoot.

German Baptist Fire Insurance Company has swallowed the Wayne County Farmers' Insurance Company.

Mrs. Elwood Thompson, Muncie, wants a divorce, because her husband sleeps with a hatchet under his pillow.

George Heath's 13-year-old daughter, Muncie, was declared insane. The case is remarkable because of her age.

Clew has been struck to the robbers who hauled away $1,700 worth of goods from a dry goods store in Pendleton.

Ayer's Pills

Look at your tongue! If it's coated, your stomach is bad, your liver out of order. Ayer's Pills will clean your tongue, cure your dyspepsia, make your liver right. Easy to take, easy to operate. 25c. All druggists.

Want your moustache or beard a beautiful brown or rich black? Then use BUCKINGHAM'S DYE for the Whiskers
50 cts. of Druggists, or R. P. Hall & Co., Nashua, N. H.

SYRUP of FIGS

ACTS GENTLY ON THE KIDNEYS, LIVER AND BOWELS
CLEANSES THE SYSTEM EFFECTUALLY, DISPELS COLDS, HEADACHES & FEVERS
OVERCOMES HABITUAL CONSTIPATION PERMANENTLY
TO GET ITS BENEFICIAL EFFECTS.
BUY THE GENUINE - MAN'F'D BY
CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
LOUISVILLE KY. SAN FRANCISCO CAL. NEW YORK N.Y.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS. PRICE 50c. PER BOTTLE.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 & 3.50 SHOES UNION MADE.

Worth $4 to $6 compared with other makes.
Indorsed by over 1,000,000 wearers.
The genuine have W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on bottom. Take no substitute claimed to be as good. Your dealer should keep them—if not, we will send a pair on receipt of price. State kind of leather, size, and width, plain or cap toe. Catalogue Free.
Sold in the world.
W. L. DOUGLAS SHOE CO., Brockton, Mass.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP
SAFE SURE
Cures a Cough or Cold at once, Conquers Croup without fail. Is the best for Bronchitis, Grippe, Hoarseness, Whooping-Cough, and for the cure of Consumption. Mothers praise it. Doctors prescribe it. Small doses; quick, sure results.
FOR ALL LUNG TROUBLE

ELY'S CREAM BALM
Cures CATARRH.

It is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate. It is not drying, does not produce sneezing.
Druggists, 50 cts. or by mail.
ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N.Y.

PENSIONS Get Your Pension DOUBLE QUICK!
Write Capt. O'FARRELL, Pension Agent, Washington, D.C.

Catarrh with SORE EYES use Dr. ISAAC THOMPSON'S EYE WATER

Without Prejudice.

A party of young men and women were bicycling along a country road. It was a sketching class, and every one was wide open for an artistic subject. Suddenly the whole party dismounted with various exclamations of delight and surprise.

Just within the fence on the left grew innumerable graceful stalks, each bearing aloft globes of pale green that shaded into gray and purple.

"How enchanting!" said a young woman.

"How decorative!" said a young man.

"Just what we are looking for," said the teacher, a full-fledged artist.

A gardener was standing near at hand.

"Do tell us," cried a girl, "what those beau-oo-tiful things are!"

"Which?" replied the gardener.

"Why, those,' said the girl.

"Them?" said the gardener, with a chuckle. "Them's onions gone to seed."

SWANSON'S "5 DROPS" is the sun of the sick room. It has saved the public, in less than five years, more money than the national debt of this country, when you measure the value of health restored, suffering humanity relieved of its agonies and diseases. Money which otherwise would have been expended in funerals, doctors and drug bills, loss of labor, etc., and relieved suffering humanity of at least 10,000,000 years of excruciating pain and agony. This is more than can be said of any or all other remedies or electrical appliances of any kind. If you have never used it, do not fail to send for at least a trial bottle.

SWANSON'S "5 DROPS" never fails to cure. It has cured and is curing millions of people afflicted with ACUTE and CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA, NEURALGIA, ASTHMA, LA GRIPPE and CATARRH of all kinds. "5 DROPS" has never failed to cure these diseases, when used as directed. It will cure you. Try it. Price of large sized bottle $1.00, sent on receipt of price, charges prepaid; 25-cent sample bottle sent free, on receipt of 10 cents to pay for mailing. Agents wanted. SWANSON'S RHEUMATIC CURE COMPANY, No. 164 Lake street, Chicago, Ill.

Crematories.

Italy leads in the number of crematories, having twenty-four. America has twenty-two, Germany four, England three and France two.

First-Class Sewing Machines for $14.25.

For those who are accustomed to sending away from home for their goods it is of the greatest importance to know the character and reliability of the establishment selling goods to families from catalogues. The great emporium of the John M. Smyth Co., located at 150 to 166 West Madison street, Chicago, has been established for a third of a century, and has furnished over half a million homes in Chicago and vicinity alone. This firm enjoys the confidence of the public by its many years of fair dealing. It issues an immense illustrated catalogue that should be in every family, as it describes and gives the price of every article required for household use. A sample of the extraordinary values offered by this firm is shown in the illustration of the "Melba" sewing machine in another column of this paper for $14.25. This is one of the best sewing machines ever offered to the public, and yet it is but a sample of the thousand and one useful articles illustrated and described in the beautiful catalogue of the John M. Smyth Company.

It is the vain endeavor to make ourselves what we are not, that has strewn history with so many broken purposes, and lives left in the rough.—Lowell.

Try Grain-O! Try Grain-O!

Ask your Grocer to-day to show you a ackage of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha and Java, but it is made of pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. ¼ the price of coffee. 15c and 25c per package. Sold by all grocers.

Neither a borrower nor a lender be; for loan oft loses both itself and friend.—Shakespeare.

Thanksgiving Day Rates

Via the Nickel Plate Road are available Nov. 29th and 30th, good returning until Dec. 1st inclusive, at one and one-third fare for the round trip within a radius o 150 miles. A Peerless trio of Daily Express Trains.

Politeness is good nature regulated by good sense.—Sidney Smith.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS · GIVEN · AWAY.

LIKE FINDING MONEY.

The use of the Endless Chain Starch Book in the purchase of "Red Cross" and "Hubinger's Best" starch, makes it just like finding money. Why, for only 5c you are enabled to get one large 10c package of "Red Cross" starch, one large 10c package of "Hubinger's Best" starch, with the premiums, two Shakespeare panels, printed in twelve beautiful colors, or one Twentieth Century Girl Calendar, embossed in gold. Ask your grocer for this starch and obtain the beautiful Christmas presents free.

JOHN M. SMYTH CO.
MAMMOTH MAIL ORDER HOUSE — U.S. MAIL — 150 TO 166 WEST MADISON ST CHICAGO

$14.25 $14.25 The Best Sewing Machine on Earth

At the Price, $14.25 for Our "MELBA" Sewing Machine.

A high-arm, high-grade machine equal to what others are asking $25.00 to $35.00 for. Guaranteed by us for 20 years from date of purchase, against any imperfection in material or workmanship. The stand is made of the best iron and is nicely proportioned. The cabinet work is perfect and is furnished in your choice of antique, oak or walnut. It has seven drawers all handsomely carved and with nickel-plated ring pulls. The mechanical construction is equal to that of any machine regardless of price. All working parts are of the best oil-tempered tool steel, every bearing perfectly fitted and adjusted so as to make the running qualities the lightest, most perfect and nearest noiseless of any machine made. This Sewing Machine has all the latest improvements. It makes a perfect and uniform LOCK STITCH, and will do the best work on either the lightest muslins or heaviest cloths, sewing over seams and rough places without skipping stitches. A full set of best steel attachments, nicely nickel-plated and enclosed in a handsome plush-lined metal, japanned box, and a complete assortment of accessories and book of instruction FURNISHED FREE with each machine.

60 DAYS TRIAL. We ship this machine C.O.D. subject to approval, on receipt of two dollars. If, on examination you are convinced that we are saving you $25 or $30 on agent's price, pay the balance and freight charges then try the machine. If not satisfied at any time within 60 days send the machine back to us at our expense and we will refund the full purchase price..... $14.25

MAMMOTH CATALOGUE In which is listed at lowest wholesale prices everything to eat, wear and use, is furnished on receipt of only 10¢ to partly pay postage or expressage and as evidence of good faith the 10¢ is allowed on first purchase amounting to $1.00 or above. OUR MONTHLY GROCERY PRICE LIST FREE

HUMOR OF THE WEEK

STORIES TOLD BY FUNNY MEN OF THE PRESS.

Odd, Curious and Laughable Phases of Human Nature Graphically Portrayed by Eminent Word Artists of Our Own Day—A Budget of Fun.

"Julius, my last winter's seal-skin is entirely too short."

"Too short? Well, can't you sew a ruffle on it, or some of those bias bands you women are always talking about?"—Detroit Free Press.

Lovely.

"Was it an artistic wedding?"

"Oh—perfectly lovely! The maid of honor walked up the aisle just like one of those automatic toys."—Detroit Free Press.

Inspiring Confidence.

"It pays to be cheerful."

"That's right; as long as you look as if you had money your creditors have confidence in you."—Chicago Record.

His Only Alternative.

The lady—What caused you to become a tramp?

The tramp—I wuz drove away from a happy home an' forced to become a wanderer.

The lady—How did that happen?

The tramp—Me wife an' me mudder said dat I elder had ter go to work er git out, an' I got out.—New York Journal.

Gone, but Not Forgotten.

"How can a man perpetuate his memory most easily?"

"By dying in debt."—Chicago Record.

Not Responsible.

Customer—I don't like these photographs of my husband at all! Why, they look like the picture of a monkey!

Photographer—I'm sorry, madam, but you should have thought of that before you married him!—Der Floh.

There Are Many Such.

Battleby—How glum poor old Charlie Summers looked!

Letherout—His vacation ended yesterday.

Battleby—Vacation! The chap hasn't been away a day this summer!

Letherout—Yes; but his wife got back yesterday.—New York World.

Butchers and Butchers.

"I understand he is not received into society because one of his remote ancestors was a butcher."

"Not exactly. It was because one of his remote ancestors was a butcher of beasts rather than of men."—Detroit Journal.

Her Point of View.

He—That tall young man dancing with Miss Dashing was originally intended for the church, I understand.

She—Indeed! Judging from his appearance I could easily imagine that he had been cut out for the steeple.—Chicago News.

A Bold Front.

"I believe in carrying the flag to the front," said the youth in the red, white and blue bosom.

"I don't belive in carrying it to the shirt front, though," said the girl who hated display.

Hampered by the Flesh.

The poet—Strange that the muse should be so hampered by the trammels of the flesh! Now, I can think of no word to rhyme with "sigh" but "pie!"

Fine as Silk.

Critic—How do you get such a realistic snow scene?

Manager—We get the leading lady to sit up in the flies and tear up her love letters.

Cut in Two.

Mrs. Bibbits—So you have named your girl twin Henrietta?

Mrs. Tibbits—Yes, but I changed it a little. It was such a long name that I cut it in two and called the boy Henry and the girl Etta.

No Barrier to True Love.

He—This war in South Africa will make diamonds dearer.

She—I suppose so, but any girl who really loves a man would be willing to wear a ring of pearls and opals until the trouble is over.

Offended.

"Miss Clara needn't think I'm Fred Constant," growled the French poodle.

"Did she offend you?" inquired the yard dog.

"Yes. She kissed me after eating onions."

Taken Literally.

Sergeant Brown—Halt! You can't go in there.

Private McGinnis—Phoy not?

Sergeant Brown—Because it is the general's tent, blockhead!

Private McGinnis—Thin phoy in th' dence hov they got "Protvate" over th' door?

Feminine and Feline.

Stubb—Dawson speaks disrespectful of his wife. He refers to her as the "old cat."

Penn—No wonder, when she insisted upon naming the baby Kitty.

His Strong Box.

Lawyer—You say the miser kept his gold in a strong box?

Witness—Yes, sir. He kept it in an empty limburger cheese box.

Great Luck.

Sam—Daddy, dar's a man at de side show wid three feet.

Daddy—Huh! boy; dat's nuffin fo' a cullud man to hab three feet.

Sam—How am dat?

Daddy—Why, he has two feet in his shoes an' a rabbit's foot in his pocket.

An Unusual Boast.

Husband—Some one at the restaurant to-day started to carry off my overcoat, but I recognized it as he was passing by these two buttons that are missing.

Wife (in triumph)—And to whom are you indebted for the fact that the buttons were not sewed on?—Humoristische Blaetter.

His Little Joke.

Mrs. Stubb—John, I wonder why in the world did that man send up a watering pot with the new range. I never ordered it.

Mr. Stubb—Why, Maria, I guess he intended that for the damper.

Just a Bit of Vanity.

"Ye kin always till a fomily's first piano," remarked the janitor philosopher, "they always leave th' impty box standin' out on th' front pavement."

His Latest.

Sandy Pikes—Lady, cud ye'er please give me 4 cents? I wants to write a letter to me poor old mudder.

Lady—What do you want with 4 cents? Two cents will send a letter anywhere in the country.

Sandy Pikes—Yes, lady, but I wants to send me mudder a check an' I wants de extra 2 cents fer a revnue stamp.

An Unknown Luxury.

"Do many of the Filipino officers 'die with their boots on?'" inquired the foreign correspondent.

"Bless you, no," responded Aguinaldo, "there are very few of my officers that know what a boot is."

Only Thing to Do.

"In my husband's library there isn't a book but what I've read. I wish I knew what to do next!"

"O, it's very simple—get another husband!"—Der Floh.

Great Fighters.

Tommy—What's Willie Wyman bragging about?

Billy—Why, he says his father looks like Dewey, an' his grandfather looks like Oom Paul.

Edgeways.

Stubb—I never met such a Boer sympathizer as Burch. Why, he actually intends to boycott England.

Penn—In what way?

Stubb—Why, he began by trading his eight-blade Sheffield pocket-knife for a "made-in-Germany" two-blade affair.

Her Economy.

Mr. Quinn—Lucy, why in all creation do you persist in sending for that plumber if he charges more than the rest?

Mrs. Quinn—Because, Archibald, he always leaves enough scrap zinc to tack over the rat holes in the kitchen.

In Season.

Larry—Th' doctor said OI hod an unusual thick coat on me tongue.

Dinny—Faith! it must be an overcoat, thin.

Parlor Ornaments.

"What tall mantels you have, Mrs. Jimp."

"Yes; I want to put my bric-a-brac up so high that I can't see whether it is dusty or not."

Not Easy to Tell.

"Miss Nixy told me always to ring her door-bell twice."

"She must think a good deal of you to honor you with such a friendly arrangement."

"I don't know; maybe she wants a chance to escape."

Difference in Bootblacks.

"Did you ever notice the difference between the darky and Italian bootblacks?" said a man about town. "I say darkies and Italians because most of the 'shining' in Chicago is done by one or the other. The darkies do the work in barber shops and shoe stores and the Italians run most of the 'parlors.'

"Now, you watch a larky, and if he's alone he'll talk to his customer. If there's two of them they'll chatter together like magpies. And the darky is so full of music and dance that he's got to put them into his work. He'll put in all sorts of fantastic motions and beat out a rude kind of time, as if he were picking a banjo or cutting a pigeon wing. When he brushes you he'll beat you with the whisp broom in the same way.

"Go into one of the Italian 'parlors' and it's as still as a grave. There may be a dozen bootblacks, but not one of them will speak to you or to a companion. They do their work steadily and rapidly, but it's work, and nothing else. Same way with their brushing you. It's as different as a watch service from a cake walk."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

NOT AS SIMPLE AS IT LOOKED.

Years of Experiment Required Before the Yardstick Was Completed.

"People who handle the yardstick have but little idea of the years of study and experiments that were necessary to secure the standard yard measure," observed an official of the coast survey to a Star reporter. "Bird, a famous scientist, made the first standard yard, in 1760, but the English government did not legalize it until 1824. Ten years afterward, when the House of Parliament in London was destroyed by fire, the standard yard was lost and England was again without a standard yard of length. Sheepsbanks next made a standard yard measure, which the English government adopted, and, so that it could not be again destroyed by fire, four authorized copies were made of it. One of these was deposited in the royal mint, another in the Royal Society, another in the observatory at Greenwich and the fourth was imbedded in the walls of the new House of Parliament. The standard yard measures which were owned by the government are copies of the original, one of which is owned by the coast survey. The United States naval observatory has one also. The delicacy of its construction may be gathered from the fact that a change of temperature of one-hundredth of a degree Fahrenheit has been found to produce a sensible effect on the length of the bar.

"The copies of the standard are made of bronze, for the reason that bronze is less affected by the temperature than any distinct or single metal. Standard inch measures are to be found in many places. They are so nicely made that they indicate one-ten-thousandth part of an inch. There is a machine in existence which measures a millionth part of an inch. The change of temperature caused by simply touching any part of it by the hand sensibly affects it. The standard yard measures are never used as a matter of fact, but they are kept simply because they are the standard, because for all practical purposes the standard inch can be and is used. Though there are no serious consequences arising from it, and never can be, a mere comparison of the various yardsticks and foot rules in general use will show that but few of them agree, the difference between them varying all the way from one thirty-second of an inch to the foot down to one-hundredth of an inch.

"The cost of the construction of the original standard yard measure involved the labor of Bird and his assistants for nearly six years. Sheepsbanks was eleven years in producing the accurate copies which he made from Bird's original measurements.—Washington Star.

Still More Counterfeiting.

The Secret Service has just unearthed another band of counterfeiters and secured a quantity of bogus bills, which are cleverly executed. Things of great value are always selected for imitation, notably Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which has many imitators but no equals for disorders like indigestion, dyspepsia and constipation.

Wooden Shoes.

They sell sabots, or wooden shoes, at a store in Indianapolis, and the dealer says they are made in Grand Rapids, Mich., from basswood, by Belgians. They are used by people who work in canneries, where hot solder, acid, etc., on the floors ruin leather soles; by people who stand on wet floors, such as employes of creameries and washerwomen, and now and then a fashionable woman buys a pair to wear without stockings when she wishes to rest her feet.

Output of Tobacco.

The United States turn out annually 185,000,000 pounds of plug tobacco, 12,000,000 pounds of fine cut, 14,000,000 pounds of snuff, 4,000,000,000 cigars and 5,000,000,000 cigarettes

What Do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing, and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee, but costs about ¼ as much. All grocers sel lit. 15c and 25c.

There Is a Difference.

"Does your daughter play the piano?"

"She says she does, but it sounds more to me as if she were working it."—Indianapolis Journal.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.

Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Sold in 25 and 50 cent bottles. Go at once; delays are dangerous.

FITS Permanently Cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Send for FREE $2.00 trial bottle and treatise. DR. R. H. KLINE, Ltd., 931 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Pride is increased by ignorance; those assume the most who know the least.—Gay.

NO MORE GRIPS

New Line Now Open to the Public.

Take the C. C. C. Route to Certain Relief Without a Grip or Gripe—Fare 10c—Get Passage at Any Drug Store.

No more grips. Russian or any other kind.

That is the verdict of the traveling public who have grown tired after years of experience with the grips and gripes of pill form and liquid purgatives.

To open the bowels naturally, easily, without disagreeable feelings or results, has been the problem before modern science, which has been solved in Cascarets Candy Cathartic.

Cascarets are the ideal laxative, harmless, purely vegetable, mild yet positive. They make the liver lively, prevent sour stomach, purify the blood, regulate the bowels perfectly.

They cure constipation. We want you to believe this, as it is the truth, backed by an absolute guarantee. If Cascarets do not cure any case of constipation, purchase money will be refunded.

Go buy and try Cascarets to-day. It's what they do, not what we say they do, that proves their merit. All druggists, 10c, 25c, or 50c, or mailed for price. Send for booklet and free sample. Address Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago; Montreal, Can.; or New York.

CCC This is the CASCARET tablet. Every tablet of the only genuine Cascarets bears the magic letters "CCC." Look at the tablet before you buy, and beware of frauds, imitations and substitutes.

CARTER'S INK
Used by millions, sure proof of its quality.

How Bobby Achieved His End.

"Mamma," said Bobby the other day when he came home from school, "has irony anything to do with iron?"

"Nothing whatever, Bobby. Irony means that we mean the opposite of what we say."

Bobby thought a moment, and continued:

"I don't love you just a cent's worth, mamma. Is that irony?"

"I suppose so," replied his mother, with a smile that she didn't attempt to repress.

"Then," said Bobby with an air of triumph, "wasn't it irony when you said the day before yesterday that you wouldn't give me a quarter to buy a ticket to the circus to-day?"

Whether it was or not, he went to the circus that afternoon.—Harper's Bazar.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co.

Sold by Druggists, price 75c per bottle.

Second Marriages Not Popular.

While first marriages are looking up, in second marriages there has been a marked and steady decline during the last quarter of a century. Nearly one-fourth of all the marriages twenty-four years ago were second ones on the part of either the bridegroom or the bride. Now they form but one-sixth. And men must be disconcerted to see it is the widow and not the widower who most commonly avoids the second adventure.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box.

We know accurately only when we know little; with knowledge doubt increases.—Goethe.

I believe Piso's Cure is the only medicine that will cure consumption.—Anna M. Ross, Williamsport, Pa., Nov. 12, '95.

Not an Artistic Job.

"He's not as bad as he's painted."

"That remarks applies better to his wife."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Nickel Plate Road

Offers one and one-third fare for the round trip Nov. 29th and 30th, good returning until Dec. 1st inclusive, account Thanksgiving Day. Tickets available within a radius of 150 miles. Inquire Agents.

"He That Any Good Would Win"

Should have good health. Pure, rich blood is the first requisite. Hood's Sarsaparilla, by giving good blood and good health, has helped many a man to success, besides giving strength and courage to women who, before taking it, could not even see any good in life to win.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Never Disappoints.

Window Guards.

Windows without guards, especially in nurseries or chambers or playrooms occupied by small children, are sources of terrible accidents. In fact, invitations to fractured skulls and sudden death. All windows to which children have access should be protected by proper fastenings inside and proper iron guards on the outside.

The Nickel Plate Road

Offers one fare for the round trip to Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 14th and 28th, account the National Export Epositions. Tickets available going only on date of sale and returning within ten days from date of issue. Your choice of a Peerless Trio of Daily Express Trains.

Secure sleeping car reservations early.

The Proper Term.

Whenever I ride now I feel queer because I haven't any lines to slap on the horse's back."

"That's an automobile on you."

Lane's Family Medicine

Moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Acts gently on the liver and kidneys. Cures sick headache. Price 25 and 50c.

Longevity in Norway.

In Norway the average length of life is greater than in any other country on the globe.

Ohio and Indiana Game Law.

From November 9th to December 1st inclusive excursion tickets for parties of three or more traveling together on one ticket at one fare for the round trip will be sold to points in Western Ohio and Indiana on the Nickel Plate Road. The immense quantities of small game along the line of the Nickel Plate Road affords great enjoyment to the sportsman.

Eagle Linen Letter Paper and Envelopes are the proper thing. Tell your printer to use this brand on your next order.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething; softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25 cents a bottle.

MRS. PINKHAM says that irritability indicates disease. Women who are nervous and snappish are to be pitied. Their homes are uncomfortable; their dispositions grow constantly worse. Such women need the counsel and treatment of a woman who understands the peculiar troubles of her sex.

EVERY-DAY TALKS WITH WOMEN

MRS. ANNA E. HALL, of Milldale, Conn., was all run down in health and had completely lost control of her nerves. She wrote to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Now she writes:

"I wish to thank you for what your Vegetable Compound has done for me. It has helped me more than anything else. I suffered for a long time with nervousness, pains in back and limbs and falling of the womb; also had neuralgia in my head and could not sleep. I told my husband that something must be done, for I was nearly frantic with pain. Having read of the wonderful cures Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had performed, I determined to try it. I have taken it and am happy to say I am cured. I recommend it to all my friends and never tire of telling the benefit I have derived from its use. I have you alone to thank for my recovery."

MRS. ELLEN FLANAGAN, 1810 Mountain St., Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—Three years ago I was a sufferer from chronic dyspepsia, was irritable and cross, and can say that after taking seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was entirely cured. I take great pleasure in writing this to you and would be pleased to be interviewed by any one who is afflicted with that distressing complaint. I am very grateful to you."

Personally Conducted California Excursions

Via the Santa Fe Route.

Three times a week from Chicago and Kansas City.
Twice a week from St. Paul and Minneapolis.
Once a week from St. Louis and Boston.

In improved wide-vestibuled Pullman tourist sleeping cars. Better than ever before, at lowest possible rates.
Experienced excursion conductors.
Also daily service between Chicago and California.
Correspondence solicited.

T. A. GRADY,
Manager California Tourist Service,
The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway,
100 Adams Street, CHICAGO.

DON'T RENT

ESTABLISH A HOME OF YOUR OWN

Read "The Corn Belt," a handsome monthly paper, beautifully illustrated, containing exact and truthful information about farm lands in the West, letters from farmers and pictures of their homes, barns and stock. Interesting and instructive. Send 25 cents in postage stamps for a year's subscription to "THE CORN BELT," 209 Adams St., Chicago.

WABASH

HOME SEEKERS' EXCURSIONS

To Western Points,

December 5 and 19, 1899.

On the above dates the WABASH will sell from its principal stations East of Chicago and Toledo, Ill., LOW RATE HOME SEEKERS' EXCURSION Tickets to points West, South, and Southwest, granting a liberal return limit. A postal card addressed to any Wabash Ticket Agent, or to either of the following Passenger Representatives will bring you prompt and explicit information regarding rates, routes, time of trains, through car service, condition of tickets, etc., etc.

REMEMBER

The WABASH is the only line east of Chicago and St. Louis giving its patrons seats without extra charge, in ELEGANT RECLINING CHAIR CARS running through to St. Louis and Kansas City without change.

This is your chance to go West cheap. Communicate with us,

P. E. DONBAUGH, P. & T. A., Toledo, Ohio.
R. G. THOMPSON, P. & T. A., Fort Wayne, Ind.
A. F. WOLFSCHLAGER, P. & T. A., Detroit, Mich.
THO'S FOLIEN, P. & T. A., Lafayette, Ind.
GEO. D. MAXFIELD, D. P. A., Indianapolis, Ind.
C. S. CRANE, G. P. & T. A., St. Louis, Mo.

F. W. N. U. - - No. 47—'99.

When Writing to Advertisers please say you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given, that I, Ira B. Goetschius administrator of the estate of Sophia Warstler, deceased, will offer for sale at public auction, at the premises, to the highest bidder, on at nine o'clock in the forenoon, the following described real estate, belonging to the estate of said decedent, to-wit:

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9th, 1899,

Sixty-three (63) acres of land off the west side of the southwest quarter of section fifteen (15) township thirty-four (34) north of range (12) east in the county of Dekalb and state of Indiana, except two acres of land out of said tract heretofore conveyed to Alfred Warstler and described as follows, to-wit: Commencing at a point where the public highway running east and west crosses the section line running north and south between sections fifteen (15) and sixteen [16] in said township, and running from thence north twenty-six and two-thirds [26⅔] rods, thence east twelve [12] rods, thence south twenty-six and two-thirds [26⅔] rods, thence west twelve [12] rods to the place of beginning.

TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, one-third in twelve months, and one-third in eighteen months; deferred payments to be evidenced by interest-bearing notes waiving relief and secured by mortgage upon the premises sold.

IRA B. GOETSCHIUS,
Administrator.
Moody & Rickel, Att'ys for Estate.

IDEAL MUSIC,

"Sweet as the angel Israfil's,
When every leaf on Eden's tree
Was trembling to his minstrelsy."

can be produced from an EBERSOLE PIANO. The Ebersole possesses a tone that no other maker has been able to imitate—being full and deep, yet with that clear singing quality which stamps it the peer of all upright pianos for homes of culture and refinement.

Frank B. Long,

119 Calhoun-St- cor Washington,

Fort Wayne, Ind.

Mott's Nerverine Pills

BEFORE AND AFTER USING.

The great remedy for nervous prostration and all nervous diseases of the generative organs of either sex, such as Nervous Prostration, Failing or lost Manhood, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Youthful Errors, Mental Worry, excessive use of Tobacco or Opium, which lead to Consumption and Insanity. $1.00 per box by mail; 6 boxes for $5.00.

MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Prop'r, Cleveland, Ohio.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

PATENTS — DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"
Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured.
Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

FREE

MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS

They overcome Weakness, Irregularity and Sickness, Increase Vigor and banish "pains of menstruation." They are "Life Savers" to girls at womanhood, aiding development of organs and body. No known remedy for women equals them. Cannot do harm—life becomes a pleasure. $1 per box by mail. Sold by druggists.
MOTT CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, O.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given that I, Andrew J. Shutt administrator with the will annexed of the estate of John Shutt, deceased, will offer for sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, on

Saturday, December 16, 1899,

at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the door of the court house in Auburn, DeKalb county, Indiana, the following described real estate, belonging to the estate of said decedent, to-wit:

The south two-thirds part of the east one-fourth of section number thirty four, (34) in township number thirty-three (33) north, of range fourteen [14] east, in DeKalb county, in the state of Indiana, otherwise described as the south two-thirds part of the east half of the northeast quarter and the east half of the southeast quarter of said section, considered as one tract.

Said real estate will be sold subject to the rights of possession and use of the same by William H. Davis until the first day of April, 1904, as shown by the written contract between said Davis and the decedent, which contract is recorded in the proper record in the recorder's office of DeKalb county, Indiana.

TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, one-third in twelve months and one-third in eighteen months; deferred payments to be evidenced by interest-bearing notes waiving relief and secured by mortgage upon the premises sold.

ANDREW J. SHUTT,
Administrator with the Will Annexed.
John W. Baxter and Chas. M. Brown, Atty.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given that I, Daniel M. Link, commissioner appointed by the DeKalb circuit court to sell real estate in a certain case entitled Azam P. Foltz and Levina R. Shoup vs. William Foltz et al, will offer at public sale to the highest bidder, on

Saturday, December 2, 1899,

at the court house door, Auburn, Indiana, the following described real estate, to-wit:

The west half (½) of the west half (½) of the southeast quarter (¼) of section thirty-five (35) township thirty-three (33) north, range thirteen (13) east, in DeKalb county, state of Indiana.

TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, the balance in three equal annual payments; deferred payments to be evidenced by interest-bearing notes waiving relief and secured by mortgage on the premises sold.

4w DANIEL M. LINK, Commissioner.

Notice to Non-Resident.

STATE OF INDIANA } ss.
DEKALB COUNTY, }

In the DeKalb Circuit Court, October Term, 1899

Walter Darling is hereby notified that an action has been commenced against him in said court for divorce by Martha Darling, and that the same will be heard and determined on the 2d day of January, 1900, being the 14th juridical day of the next term of said court, which commences December 18, 1899.

Witness, the Clerk of said Court this 2d day of November, 1899.

MICHAEL F. LONG, Clerk.
T. A. Redmond, Attorney for Plaintiff.

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE OF INDIANA, } ss.
DEKALB COUNTY, }

In the DeKalb Circuit Court, December Term, 1899:

Alanson Sumner and Stephen Clark are here by notified that an action has been commenced against them in said court, to quiet title and cancel mortgage on real estate, by Peter Coyle et. al., and that the same will be heard and determined on the 8th day of January, 1900, being the 19th juridical day of the December term of said court, which commences December 18, 1899.

Witness, the Clerk of said court, this 11th day of November, 1899.

MICHAEL F. LONG, Clerk.
Moody & Rickel, Att'ys for Plaintiffs.

Notice to Creditors.

The First National Bank, located at Auburn, in the State of Indiana, is closing up its affairs. All note holders and others, creditors of said association, are therefore hereby notified to present the notes and other claims against the association for payment.

CHARLES McCLELLAN, President.
Dated October 14, 1899.

The foregoing association has been at once reorganized and will continue the business of banking as "The McClellan Bank," under same management.

NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATION.

Notice is hereby given, that the undersigned has been appointed by the judge of the DeKalb circuit court of the state of Indiana, administrator of the estate of Andrew Smith, deceased, late of said county.

Said estate is supposed to be solvent.

SYLVESTER SHUMAKER,
November 6, 1899. Administrator.
Moody & Rickel, Attorneys.

Thursday's Daily.

—Great time for presents at Neber's studio. d6 w2

—Mrs. J. T. Hayden is visiting friends at Waterloo.

—Mrs. Albert Rohm has been sick for several weeks. They live northwest of town on the old I. K. Shaffer farm.

—Whitley county's woolly calf is being given a wide notoriety through the columns of the metropolitan newspapers.

—The school trustees at Waterloo have added one hundred dollars to the salary of Prof. M. D. Smith, principal of the high school.

Allen county farmers find their sugar beets exceptionally rich, and they are kicking because the beet sugar bounty bill was not passed.

—The Garrett Clipper says Charles Barnes has been summoned from Fort Wayne to the bedside of his father, John S. Barnes, who is very sick.

—John Bishop was taken to Battle Creek yesterday for treatment at the sanitarium. He was accompanied by his brother Mell and Arthur Olds.

—Terre Haute boys tried to kill a cow tied on a common, but the rope wrapped around the stake until she couldn't reach the bucket of poisoned food.

—Mrs. T. C. Ford came home last evening after a three weeks' visit with her daughter Margaret at St. Mary's. She left them both in good health.

—J. Y. W. McClellan and wife have returned from Fort Wayne, and for the present will occupy rooms in Chas. Reesch's residence on East Sixth street.

—Presents for you—fine hand painted medallions given away with each dozen photos at Neber's studio. Also handkerchief pictures and extra Platinos on superb mount. d6-w2 —Among the divorce cases on the docket of the Steuben circuit court is one entitled Salim John Zetiun vs. Mary Cabtiel John Zetiun. The defendant resides in the ancient city of Damascus.

—Caleb Neal is moving back to Auburn, after a residence of two years in Wilmington township. He will occupy his own residence near the Ward school house.

—Only five new cases have been filed for the November term of the Lagrange circuit court which commences next Monday. The court officials there are certainly not overworked.

—Mrs. Eva Snyder of Jackson township, was in to pay her subscription today. She is one of our most faithful patrons. We are sorry to hear that her son, C. A. Craybill, is still in poor health.

—Norris chapel will be re-dedicated November 26. The sermon will be preached by Rev. H. J. Norris, now of New Castle, for whom the church was named. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Norris.

—Married at the Lutheran parsonage last evening by Rev. J. D. Brosy, Stephen B. Brown and Della Kline. Mr. Brown will farm his mother's place four and one-half miles east of Auburn. We wish them a happy future.

—Word comes from Havana that Fernando Capote, mayor of Cardenas has submitted to Governor-General Brooke a scheme to coin Cuban silver and copper into currency stamped with the heads of the initiators of the revolution.

—Clyde Wildeson and wife have company. It is a young lady who arrived on earth this morning, and Clyde is (or thinks he is) the biggest man in Auburn. Dr. Casebeer, the attending physician, reports mother and daughter doing well.

—Senator O. Z. Hubbell of Elkhart county, brother of Mrs. P. V. Hoffman and a former resident of this county, has taken up his permanent residence in California where he has purchased an orange farm. He may also continue in the practice of law.

—James S. Dodge of Elkhart, past commander of the Indiana department, G. A. R., has formally announced his candidacy for governor on the republican side of the house. There will be no lack of candidates for first and second places on the ticket.

—W. H. Gross of Tippecanoe City, O., was in town today on business. Mr. Gross was major of the Third Ohio regiment, which was camped alongside the 157th Indiana in Florida last year, and a strong friendship grew up between the officers and men.

—P. L. Newcomb, a B. & O. freight conductor, was killed at Defiance yesterday forenoon. He was checking some cars there while his train was switching, and the train happened to back against him. He leaves a wife and child. The deceased was a most estimable man and highly respected as a citizen.

Secretary Gage of the treasury department has concluded to buy $25,000,000 bonds so as to push out that much money now lying idle in the U. S treasury. He will pay the market price, but no one can be compelled to part with them as they are not due till 1904 and 1907. There is a large sum in the treasury that might be used in this, to put more money in circulation.

—Our readers will remember that some time ago a jury in the DeKalb circuit court gave a judgment against the Wabash railroad company for $350, for damages done to a trotting mare owned by John F. McCormick of Churubusco, and that the case was appealed. Yesterday the appellate court reversed the decision and the case will have to be tried over again unless McCormick gives up the fight.

ANY OLD SORE.

Cut, Bruises, or Sprain quickly healed with Banner Salve the greatest healing remedy in the world. 25 cents —H. B. McCORD.

Two Facts About Arbuckles' Coffee

It has set the standard of quality for all competitors for the last thirty years. The strongest claim any competitor can make is that his coffee is "just as good as Arbuckles'."

THREE CONCLUSIONS

The best Coffee is Arbuckles'. The only Coffee to buy is Arbuckles'. The right thing is to insist on having Arbuckles'.

No. 72 A School Bag. 14 inches wide, 10 inches deep, made of handsome colored netting. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 73. Scholars' Companion. A most useful article for school children. Highly polished wooden box with lock and key, containing lead pencil, pen holder, rule and rubber. Sent post-paid on receipt of two cent postage stamp and 13 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 74. Noiseless Spring Tape Measure. Sixty inches long, nickel-plated metal case, well-finished. It can be carried in the vest pocket. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2c. postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 75. A Fifty Foot Measuring Tape. A very useful article in the household and on the farm. Brass case, nickel-plated linen tape fifty feet long. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 18 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 76 Lady's Belt Buckle. Silver plated artistic design. Sent postpaid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 8 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 77. Telescope Drinking Cup. This article is prevented from falling apart by its unique construction. Nickel-plated and highly finished. Enclosed in embossed nickel cover no larger than an ordinary watch when telescoped, when extended holds as much as a coffee cup. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 13 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 78 An Album of Illustrated Natural History. Fifty colored pictures of Animals selected for their beauty and rarity. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 79. Pepper and Salt Holders.

Made of German Silver without seam or joint except where tops screw on and off. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 12 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 80 A Spring Balance Scale.

Will weigh from one ounce to 24 pounds. Sent by express, charges prepaid by us, on receipt of 3 cent postage stamp and 200 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee. When ordering name your nearest Express Office as well as your Post Office.

No. 81 Men's Suspenders.

Elastic Web Suspenders, durable, neat, well mounted. Sent post-paid on receipt of two cent postage stamp and 16 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 82 Barber Swing Strop. A double strop, one of leather and one of canvas, bound together. Length, 22 inches, width, two inches, trimmings nickel plated. Sent post-paid on receipt of two cent postage stamp and 12 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles Roasted Coffee.

No. 83 A Table Cover.

Handsome cloth, variegated figured pattern with fringe, 32 inches. Sent post-paid on receipt of two cent postage stamp and 25 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

Any one Book of the following List will be sent post-paid on receipt of a 2 cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from the wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 84 A ONE NIGHT MYSTERY, and two other great Detective Stories, by "OLD SLEUTH."
No. 85 ADVENTURES OF A BASHFUL BACHELOR, by CLARA AUGUSTA. A mirth provoking story.
No. 86 TEMPEST AND SUNSHINE. A Novel, by MRS. MARY J. HOLMES. The most popular female writer of fiction of the age.
No. 87 THE SUNNYSIDE COOK BOOK, by MRS. JENNIE HARLAN. This is one of the most comprehensive, common sense Cook Books ever published.
No. 88 OLD SECRETS AND NEW DISCOVERIES. This book takes the reader out of the beaten tracks of knowledge, and will be found both entertaining and useful.
No. 89 THREE THOUSAND THINGS WORTH KNOWING, by R. MOORE, author of "Moore's Universal Assistant." This book is an encyclopedia of highly useful information in condensed form.
No. 90 THE CITY OF DREADFUL NIGHT, and other stories—by RUDYARD KIPLING.

No. 91 The First Prayer.

A beautiful imported Picture 15x20 inches in size. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 92 The First Kiss

A beautiful imported picture 15x20 inches in size. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 93 Two is Company.

The original was painted by Percy Moran. This reproduction in 14 printings is a genuine work of art. Size 16½x25½ inches. Sent post-paid on receipt of two cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 94. A Basket of Beauties. A magnificent picture of Roses by Paul de Longpre, the great painter of flowers. We believe this to be one of the handsomest flower pictures ever offered to the public. It is 16½x25½ inches in size. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 95 Three Beautiful Flower Pictures. Each measuring 9½x17 inches. The titles are "Summer Fragrance," "A Vase of Lilies," and "Fresh and Sweet." These three pictures all go together, and will be sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 5 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 96. Noah's Ark. A menagerie, consisting of 12 pairs of Animals—Elephants, Camels, Deer, Horses, Cattle, Donkeys, Goats, Lions, Bears, Tigers, Dogs and Cats. Each pair is coupled and stands alone. They are lithographed in many colors on heavy cardboard, cut out and embossed. Every feature of the Animals is distinctly shown. The elephants are 7 inches high and 10 inches long, and the other Animals are proportionately large. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 15 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 97. Eighty-one Gold Eyed Needles.

Put up in a pretty morocco case, assorted sizes, and made by the best English manufacturers. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 20 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 98 Hair Pin Cabinet A metal box lithographed in colors, containing One Hundred Hair Pins, assorted sizes and styles; straight, crimped and invisible. The different styles are in separate compartments. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 10 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 99 A Pocket Mirror and Comb. Set in neat leather combination case, with white metal frame. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 7 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 100 Safety Pin Book Contains twenty-four nickel-plated Safety-Pins three sizes which enter the shields from either side, requiring no guiding when being secured or released. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 8 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

This is a picture of the Signature on Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee Wrapper, which you are to cut out and send to us as a voucher.

No other part of the Coffee Wrapper will be accepted as a voucher, nor will this Picture be accepted as such.

Arbuckle Bros

SOME OF OUR SIGNATURES ARE PRINTED ON RED BACKGROUND.

This represents one page of a List which is found in each pound package of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee, and with each package in which the List is found the purchaser has bought a definite part of some article to be selected by him or her from the List, subject only to the condition that the signature on the package is to be cut out and returned to Arbuckle Bros. as a voucher, in accordance with the directions printed in connection with each item illustrated and described in the List. This List will be kept good only till May 31, 1900. Another page of this List will appear in this paper shortly.

Address all communications to ARBUCKLE BROS., NOTION DEPT., NEW YORK CITY, N. Y.

Friday's Daily.

—Auditor Seiler informs us that all the school funds have been loaned and that he has on file applications for $9,000 more.

—E. M. Brumbeck of Sedan and Baltzer Koontz of Spencerville are now in our 1900 class, and have thanks for their favors.

—The first passenger train of the Air Line division was run into Goshen November 15, 1852, forty-seven years ago last Wednesday.

—The Kendallville Sun locates that woolly calf in Thornecreek township, DeKalb county. Wonder where that township is situated.

—Mrs. Jay McIntosh and baby of Waterloo came over yesterday afternoon for a visit with her sisters, Mrs. T. A. Carter and Mrs. Eugene McDowell.

—Levi Jackson east of St. Johns, warns hunters that no shooting will be allowed on his farm. He is opposed to having quail destroyed and will punish trespassers.

—Curt Elson has been compelled to take a lay-off from his work on account of facial neuralgia, which has temporarily destroyed the contour of his unusually handsome phiz.

—It will interest the friends of Mr. and D. S. Cochran, that Andrew Carnegie offers to give Tuczon, Arizona, $25,000 for a public library if the city will donate a lot for it to occupy.

—The St. Joe News says that Mrs. Mack Leighty of near that place sold $63 worth of turkeys one day last week. There is money in poultry raising if properly conducted.

—Daniel Blucher of Waterloo called yesterday and put his name up into the 1900's on our subscription list. He is giving all his attention to buying and shipping timber, business in which he has been engaged for some years.

—Twenty Ladies of the Maccabees caught Mrs. Cory Shugers napping last night and gave her a genuine surprise at her home in East Auburn. Mrs. Shugers has been one of the leading members of the hive in Auburn and in recognition of her faithful services as record keeper, the visitors presented her with a handsome dish and a fine gold pin emblematic of the order. We are told by one who was there that they had a royal good time.

—Yesterday we stated that DeKalb had paid about $540 to Steuben county on account of change of venue cases. Auditor Seiler informs us that at least $424.40 will come back, as that is the amount charged against Steuben for cases of the same kind.

The body of Maj. Logan had to be buried at Manila, as it was impossible to embalm it at San Jacinto where he was killed and when it reached Manila no other course was possible except burial. He will be brought home later.

—Jesse Myers of Smithfield called today. He says the people up his way need a few regulators, as some one is committing a good many petty thefts. Mr. Myers has lost a quantity of lard recently and some time ago a lot of chickens. Others have lost various articles.

—The second today to pay up into 1901 was Geo. K. Walker of Smithfield. He believes in keeping ahead. We are sorry to learn of the poor health of his second son, William, who went up to Maple City, Mich., a month or two ago for his health. At last accounts he was improving.

We have also captured several hundred thousand pounds of rice, 7,500 pounds of salt, 1,500 pounds of flour in sacks marked "Dayton, Ohio," 2,500 pounds of sugar, 1,300 new uniforms for Filipino soldiers and a large quantity of Mauser cartridges. But Aguinaldo has not been found.

—The Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette says: "Congressman J. M. Robinson will leave Sunday evening for Washington, to attend the forthcoming session of congress. Mr. Robinson believes the session will be a very long one, and the business before it is of such importance as to warrant him saying it will be very important as well."

—We have received a copy of the Citizens Call, published at Phillipsburg, Montana, in which is an account of how Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Allison went over to Granite, a neighboring town, together with several others, and helped to organize a lodge of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Allison, better known to Auburn people as Rebecca Shull, was Grand Conductress, and on this occasion was commissioned to act as Grand Matron. DeKalb people always lead.

—Subscribe for the COURIER.

Saturday's Daily.

—D. R. Best was here from Angola today on legal business.

—Little Russell Brandon, whose leg was broken in an accident, is rapidly recovering.

—Two Corunna boys, Will Mercer and Chas. Harper, are with the Thirty-first infantry in the Philippines.

—Oliver Pipes and and wife of Garrett are visiting relatives and friends here. Mr. Pipes is a conductor on the B. & O.

—WANTED, Employment in a small, respectable family, by a lady with a 20-months old child. Address M. Hall, Garrett, Ind. 4t —William Fields, Daviess county, shot an eagle that measured seven feet from tip to tip, the other day. It had been carrying his pigs away.

—Clyde Baker, the Newville school teacher, has resigned his place in the school there to accept one as bookkeeper in the Butler bicycle factory.

—Bert and Joseph Hull were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lewis at dinner today. The former is moving back to Auburn and will occupy his property on Joseph street.

Papinta, a dancing girl in Indianapolis sets herself on fire on the stage and burns up in plain sight of the audience. Only a little heap of ashes remains and the audience is tickled.

—Dr. Ford received word that Mrs. Lottie Cochran and her daughter Mary reached Tucson, Arizona, Monday night. They expected to get home Sunday, but their train was delayed about twenty-four hours by a wreck.

—The town board at Waterloo has ordered a special tax levy of fifty cents on each one hundred dollars valuation to pay the orders issued for the building of the town hall. The suit brought to recover on the bond will probably be settled and dismissed.

—A bad state of affairs exists at Maysville, Allen county. The supposed case of small pox reported there is of the semi-confluent type, which means that the pox marks are close together and that the disease is of a most serious nature. Members of three families are affected and many persons have been exposed to the disease.

—A special to the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette says that Mary Krugar of Garrett, is reported missing. She left her home on Tuesday night and was lightly dressed. She wore no hat, had on a dark dress and carried a bundle of clothing. She is supposed to have had about $250 on her person. She is demented. No trace of her has been found.

—The big Place ditch over in Starke county is to be 22½ miles long. It is to straighten the Kankakee river, the stretch of river straightened being 60 miles long and the ditch crossing and recrossing the Kankakee 63 times. The ditch has four arms, one four miles long, another 3½ miles, another six miles and another two miles. It will drain 6,000 acres and 1,800 people are to be assessed from 80 cents to $4 per acre. It will cost $141,833.

—The Baltimore & Ohio railroad company, in order to avoid the heavy grade from Garrett to Ripley, will construct a road from Garrett to Ripley, running south of the present track between those points. The new road will be about twelve miles long, and at places on the line a cut of about forty-five feet will be made. The right-of-way is being secured, and work will commence at an early date. The grade from Garrett to Avilla is about fifty feet on the road now in use, and on the new line this will be nearly all over come. J. E and J. H. Rose, attorneys for the company, have the legal proceedings to procure right-of-way in charge.

A Thousand Tongues

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer, of 1125 Howard-st. Philadelphia, Pa., when she found that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this Royal Cure—"it soon removed the pain in my chest and I can sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the Universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the Throat, Chest or Lungs. Price 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottles free at H. B. McCord's drugstore, every bottle guaranteed.

THE AUBURN COURIER.

Volume XXIX | Auburn, DeKalb County Indiana, Thursday, N[illegible] 30, 1899. | Number 48.

Dr. Broughton
WATERLOO,

Will test your Eyes and Adjust your Glasses and GUARANTEE SATISFACTION. In Auburn at Dr. Baxter's office every Wednesday.

C. S. SMITH,
Auburn, Ind.
Attorney-at-Law
AND NOTARY PUBLIC.
Office over Bazar Store, formerly occupied by Judge Hartman.

Sprott & Knapp,
Abstracters of Titles to Land and Lots,
AUBURN, IND.
☞Office in Gandy Block, North of Court House.

The McClellan Bank,
AUBURN, IND.
Successor To
The First National Bank,
Capital Stock and Surplus....
$60,000
Certificates of deposits issued, drawing interest if left six months. County and Town Orders bought and sold. Money to Loan.
C. A. O. McCLELLAN, ESTATE, CHARLES McCLELLAN, D. A. GARWOOD, ISAAC HAQUE. } C. A. BENEDICT, Cashier

BANK Farmers,
Auburn, Ind.
(Incorporated and Under State Control)
Capital Stock and Surplus
$50,000
Transacts a General Banking Business and Pays Interest on Time Deposits.
Albert Robbins, Pres. J. C. Heary, V-res.
A. C. ROBBINS, Cashier.

J.E. Graham, D.D.S.
DENTIST
Over Davenport's Drugstore, Auburn, Ind.
CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK A SPECIALTY.
All Work Guaranteed } Gas Administered.
CENTRAL 'PHONE 513.
Will be at Waterloo each Thursday in Dr. Derby's Office.

Physicians and SURGEONS
O. J. Swarts, M. D. Vesta W. Swarts, M. D.
Office at Auburn Sanitary Baths, corner Main and Sixth Streets.
Professional Calls Promptly Answered.
'PHONES: Western..... No. 19; Central Union..... No. 19

DENTIST F. W. HOFFMAN,
Auburn, Ind.
Office in Gandy Building, Northeast Corner of Court Square.
WESTERN 'PHONE 103.
Crown and Bridge Work a Sprciality.

P. V. HOFFMAN,
LAWYER,
Auburn. Indiana
OFFICE over Habel's Grocery.

Dr. Z. H. Stamets,
Physician & Surgeon
Office on Main St., opposite Swineford Hotel.
Western 'Phone 104
Special attention given to techinal examinations and treatment of chronic and obscure cases, also special attention given to surgery and diseases of women. Calls answered at all hours. Office apart from residence.

I. O. BUCHTEL, HOMEOPATHIC Physician and Surgeon.
Special attention given to chronic and Obscure cases and catarrhal diseases of the nose, throat and lungs; also to diseases peculiar to women and children.
Office and residence over Madden Bros Marble Works, Auburn, Ind. Office apart from residence and private. All calls attended to promptly, day or night.

CROUP
Mothers, when your children are attacked by the dreadful croup, you need not despair; Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will relieve and cure them at once. You can always depend on this marvelous remedy; it always cures.
Dr. Bull's COUGH SYRUP
Will cure Croup without fail.
Doses are small and pleasant to take. Doctors prescribed it. Price 25 cts. At all druggists.

BAD B. & O. WRECK.

Engineer Bradford Killed and Others Badly Injured.

Thursday's Daily.

After we had gone to press last evening word came from Garrett that the B. & O. wreck was not so serious in the loss of life as at first reported. Engineer Bradford was the only man killed, but Engineer Sarber and Firemen Orr were badly hurt. Sarber was cut and bruised about the head; Stein had both legs broken and sustained numerous bruises, and Orr was taken out from under his engine terribly bruised and with one broken leg. None of the passengers or trainmen were seriously injured so far as we can learn, though several were given a good shaking up by the shock of the collision. A number of box cars in the freight were demolished and their contents destroyed.

A special train was sent to the scene of the wreck and this train returned to Garrett last evening, bringing the body of the dead engineer, and the injured men who were taken to their homes. Engineer Bradford was one of the most trusted and popular men on the road and his tragic death is deeply regretted by the entire community. He leaves a wife and four children.

At the time of the accident a heavy fog prevailed and the engineers of the limited were unable to see the train ahead of them until too late. The blame for the accident probably rests with the freight crew.

The funeral of Mr. Bradford will be held at the M. E. church in Garrett on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

W. C. T. U. COLUMN.

A stern but true indictment of the saloon was given not long since by a judge of one of the Chicago courts. What is true of Chicago is equally true of other great cities. The judge said:

"You may ransack the pigeon-holes all over the city and country, and look over such annual reports as are made up, but they will not tell the truth. Not only are the saloons of Chicago responsible for the cost of the police force, the fifteen justice courts, the Bridewell, but also the criminal courts, the county jail, a great proportion of Joliet State Prison, the long murder trails, the coroner's office, the morgue, the poorhouse, the reform schools, the mad house. Go anywhere you please and you will find, almost invariably, that whisky is at the root of the evil. The gambling houses of the city, and the bad houses of the city, are the direct outgrowth of the boon companions of drink. Of all the prostitutes of Chicago, the downfall of almost every one can be traced to drunkenness on the part of their parents, husbands, or drunkenness on their own part. Of all the boys in the reform school at Pontiac, and in the various reformatories about the city, 95 per cent are the children of parents who died from drink, or became criminals through the same cause. Of the insane or demented cases disposed of here in the court every Thursday, a moderate estimate is that 90 per cent are caused by alcohol. I saw estimated the other day that there were 10,000 destitute boys in Chicago who are not confined at all, but are running at large. I think that a small estimate. Men are sent to jail for drunkenness, and what becomes of their families? The county agent and poor house provide for some. It is a direct expense to the community. Generally speaking, these families go to distruction; the boys turn out thieves and the girls and the mothers generally resort to the slums. The sandbaggers, the murderers, and thugs generally of today, who are prosecuted in the police courts and criminal courts are the sons of men who fell victims of drink. The percentage in this case is fully 65 per cent. "I know whereof I speak.

OBITUARY.

Israel Henry Groh was born in Stark county, Ohio, February 15, 1838, and departed this life November 19, 1899, aged 61 years, 9 months and 4 days. He was one of six children, four sons and two daughters. Two brothers and one sister have preceded him to the spirit world. At the age of seven years he, with his parents moved to DeKalb county, Ind., where he has since resided. Because of his occupation (that of a thresher) he had a great many acquaintances. A little over a year ago, he with his wife united with the Lutheran church at Richland Center. His affliction was of such a character that he was unable to attend the services at his church, but frequently expressed a desire to do so. He leaves a wife, three sons, one brother and one sister, besides a great many acquaintances and friends. The funeral services were conducted in the Richland Center church by Revs. A. E. Gaff and E. E. Campbell, Text, John 3:36.

The family of Israel Groh desire to express their heart felt thanks to the neighbors who so kindly assisted during the illness of the deceased. Also the choir for music.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

We Bought and Have Had Delivered to Us Fully

1/3 More Merchandise this fall than last and last fall was the best we had had up to that time. Still we are not going to have nearly enough, every day we get in new supplies, keeping our stock bright and complete. From the above facts you must reason that our trade is increasing at a rapid rate. Furthermore that there must be good reasons for it. We give several reasons why our store is an ideal one in which to trade.

WE carry strictly high-class merchandise.
buy from responsible houses.
absolutely guarantee every article.
buy for CASH.
cheerfully refund your money if not perfectly satisfied.

We willingly exchange anything you may get and not answer your purpose.

We carry Dry Goods, Clothing and Carpets, good as can be found in cities of 25,000 to 50,000.

We sell these goods to you at less price than you have to pay elsewhere.

CAN YOU ASK MORE?

We wish to see you often.

We are Saving You Money.

SCHAAB & BRO.

Broke the Record.

Rev. J.D. Brosy broke the record yesterday on weddings, joining in marriage three couples. At the parsonage yesterday morning at 8 o'clock James Ferguson and Florence Grube were joined in marriage; at 1 p. m., at the home of the bride on south Jackson street, John H. Grate and Sarah M. Smurr were made one, and at 3 p. m. at the Shull farm, three miles southwest of Auburn, Samuel C. Hough and Minnie M. Crouse were united in wedlock. We extend to all of these couples congratulations and good wishes, and hope their married lives may be happy and prosperous.

WHAT A WELL KNOWN R. R. MAN and resident of Lima thinks of Foley's Honey and Tar: I have been troubled a great deal with the blockage. I was induced to try Foley's Kidney Cure, and one bottle entirely relieved me. I gladly recommend it to any one, especially my friends among the trainmen, who are generally similarly afflicted.—GEO. H. AUSTIN, Engineer on L. E. & W. R. R.—H. B. McCORD.

Homes Wanted.

For three worthy children at the county farm. One boy of 9; one of 4; one girl of 7 years old. Anyone wishing to take children of this age should call on Superintendent Bartels at the county home. 48

Want to Buy Real Estate

We have a client who wants to buy a small residence; also one who wants a large, well located property in Auburn.
MOODY & RICKEL,
Office Kiblinger Building Auburn.

William's Kidney Pills
Has no equal in diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs. Have you neglected your Kidneys? Have you overworked your nervous system and caused trouble with your Kidneys and Bladder? Have you pains in the loins, side, back, groins and bladder? Have you a flabby appearance of the face, especially under the eyes? Too frequent desire pass urine? William's Kidney Pills will impart new life to the diseased organs, tone up the system and make a new man of you. By mail 50 cents per box.
WILLIAMS MFG. CO., Props., Cleveland, O.
Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the most severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Beschee's German Syrup.' It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. many years by all druggists in the world. Sample bottles at O. P. RABER'S, Corunna.

Be Careful

No woman can be too careful of her condition during the period before her little ones are born. Neglect or improper treatment then endangers her life and that of the child. It lies with her whether she shall suffer unnecessarily, or whether the ordeal shall be made comparatively easy. She had better do nothing than do something wrong.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

is the one and the only preparation that is safe to use. It is a liniment that penetrates from the outside. External applications are eternally right. Internal medicines are radically wrong. They are more than humbugs—they endanger life.

Mother's Friend helps the muscles to relax and expand naturally—relieves morning sickness—removes the cause of nervousness and headache—prevents hard and rising breasts—shortens labor and lessens the pains—and helps the patient to rapid recovery.

From a letter by a Shreveport, La., woman: "I have been using your wonderful remedy, Mother's Friend, for the last two months, and find it just as recommended."

Druggists sell it at $1 per bottle.
THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.
ATLANTA, GA.
Send for our free illustrated book, "Before Baby is Born."

ANOTHER LIFE SACRIFICED.

Wreck on the B. & O. near Auburn Junction—Conductor Thoman Killed.

Friday's Daily.

The old saying that "It never rains but it pours" has been exemplified on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad this week. Scarcely had the circumstances of the terrible wreck at McCool begun to fade from the public mind, and before the victim of that disaster is laid at rest, when there comes another fatal accident in which a faithful employe of the company lays down his life in the performance of his duties, and another home is made desolate.

About nine o'clock last night a westbound train in charge of Conductor Theodore Thoman arrived at the Junction, where, as has been the custom since the big rush of freight began, the engine and caboose were cut loose and the cars pushed onto the north track. Conductor Thoman walked to the front end of the train on top of the cars to see that everything was all right. About a half-mile west of the Junction another string of cars had been left on the track and in the darkness it is supposed Mr. Thoman did not see them until to late to signal his engineer and the two sections came together with terrible force. Six cars were demolished and the unfortunate conductor was soon afterward taken out of the wreck. He was carried down the track to the express office where he died soon afterward.

A yard engine and caboose were sent down from Garrett and after the remains of the dead conductor were taken on to that place the work of clearing up the wreck began. In the absence of the regular wrecking crew who were at the McCool wreck, the work was done by an improvised crew from Garrett assisted by section men. It was not until about 3 o'clock this morning that trains could pass on the south track.

Theodore Thoman, the dead conductor had been in the employ of the company for a number of years and was regarded as a careful, trustworthy man. Before going on the B. & O. he was for several years a conductor on the Wabash. He leaves a wife and two children at Garrett. Less than a year ago he was in a wreck which came near costing him his life, but recovered after a long sickness.

Some More Mabus.

For several years Conrad Mabus, who emigrated to this county from Whitley, has been causing trouble by his violations of the liquor law. He first located at Butler, but later moved to Waterloo where he has conducted a "hard cider" joint. The place has borne a rather unsavory reputation, and this week Mabus was pulled up before Esquire McBride on a charge of selling liquor to minors. He was found guilty and fined $20 and costs, amounting in all to $46.20. This he promised to settle the next morning, (Wednesday,) but instead of doing so walked to Auburn and asked to be put in jail. He brought no papers with him but Sheriff Hathaway locked him up. Learning of this action Deputy Prosecutor Pomeroy ordered the officers at Waterloo to levy on Mabus' outfit and sell it, and a short time afterward the old man received word from home to come back at once. He went, and what has been done since we have not learned.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from the first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well; now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at H. B. McCord's Drug Store. Only 50 cents and $1.00, every bottle guaranteed.

Purdue's Men.

Purdue University has 65 of its former students now in the United States service, in army or navy or in other branches, and in various parts of the world. Among the number is the famous newspaper artist and correspondent, John T. McCutcheon, who is now with our army in the Philippines as correspondent of the Chicago Record. He shares the dangers and excitement of the campaigns and often writes while under fire more or less from distant fighting.

Attention Farmers.

The Auburn Handle Factory will pay the highest cash price for ash handle block delivered at their factory on the Lake Shore tracks, cut 58 inches long. Also want ash logs cut 9½, 14½ and 19½ feet long. All timber to be smooth and sound. Will also take beswood cut 4 feet long and 8 inches in diameter and up, left round with bark on. Will pay $3 per cord.—J. M. CHERRY & Co.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE
Makes the food more delicious and wholesome
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Our Saturday Evenings.

CHAPTER IV.

How few of our people realize the vast outlay of money that must be made to carry out and utilize many of the great improvements of the age. We heard much a few years ago, of the cost of the Union Pacific railway. Since then, our great telegraph and cable lines have mainly come into existence. A late number of the "engineering Magazine" gives us some insight as to ocean cables. It says:

The difference in cost between long cables in deep seas far away, and short cables in shallow seas near manufacturing centers, is shown by the comparison of the contract price for the Denmark-Iceland cable, and the estimates of the British Commission for the proposed British-Pacific cable. The distance from Denmark to Iceland, with a landing on Scotland, is 900 miles and the route lies through shallow northern oceans. The contract price is 450,000 Kroners, $134 or £27, 10s. per mile. The estimate for the Vancouver-New Zealand cable—a distance of 7,986 n. miles with one long stretch of 3,561 miles—is £2,000,000, equalling £250 or $1,220 per mile. The annual maintenance cost of this long cable, exclusive of operating expense, is put at $350,000 annually. Owing to its one long stretch of 3,561 miles, this cable costs per mile nearly ten times as much as the 200 mile Icelandic cable in two stretches. These are extreme examples one, the cheapest long cable in the world; the other, the most expensive.

Speaking of the great sums paid out by law in certain states, for wolf scalps, groundhogs and other pests reminds one, how easy it is for a thing to become general after being once set against. And this reminds us of the latest story from the Indiana State Geological Department:

About a month ago the Indianapolis papers printed a story to the effect that State Geologist Blatchley was in need of a hornets' nest. Since that time he has received about fifty letters regarding the matter and at least a dozen nests have been sent him. The last one arrived yesterday afternoon from Madison. A number of people who knew the location of choice nests offered to sell them. One man said he was certain that he knew of a nest that would meet with every requirement and offered to sell it for $5. Another letter came from a woman who explained that there was a nest on her farm, but as it was inhabited and it would be somewhat dangerous to drive the hornets from their home and secure the prize she thought $100 would be the proper compensation.

DeKalb farmers, especially those of earlier days, will appreciate the difficulty the lady last mentioned would have to meet. The editorial room of the COURIER was for several years, ornamented with one of the largest of these nests, made of a paper that no trust could control.

Japanese Rice.

Last year, says Wm. E. Curtis in the Chicago Record, Mr. Wilson, secretary of Agriculture sent to Japan for ten tons of rice and seed of the best quality in that country, which is supposed to be the finest in the world. This seed was distrubted among the rice-growers of the southern states free of charge, particularly Louisiana, South Carolina and Georgia. The first crop in Louisiana is harvested and the berry from the Japanese seed is superior to any that has ever been produced there. Samples were received at the agricultural department yesterday for comparison with that grown from the ordinary American seed. The yield is not only much larger, but in thrashing it is found that the Japanese rice turns out much better and the waste by cracking was only 17 per cent in Louisana. Secretary Wilson is much gratified at the result of the experiment, and expects that the ordinary American rice will be entirely supplanted by the Japanese variety. The planters in Louisiana are so well satisfied that one of them has already sent to Japan for ten tons of seed on his own account.

President Pro Tem.

William P. Frye, senator from Maine is the president, pro tem, of the senate, having been chosen for the place by that House at the close of the last session. He will probably act as presiding officer all the time, as Secretary Hay will no doubt prefer to attend to his regular duties. Had Mr. Hobart lived, but been unable to attend, then Frye would have done the work all the term, unless himself incapacitated, or obliged to be absent. For with the vice-president still living, the secretary of state would have no right to the place.

Murder at Hicksville.

About 3 o'clock this morning Enos Rath, night policeman at Hicksville, while walking down the main street, saw two men standing in front of the residence of Wm. Bricker. He stopped and accosted the men, both of whom covered him with revolvers and commanded him to keep quiet. At this juncture a third man whom the officer had not noticed began beating him about the head with a club. Rath fought desperately, but was overpowerd and the three men then disappeared, leaving him lying on the walk. Bricker heard the noise and went to the door, but before he could dress and go to the officer's assistance the men had escaped.

Rath in the meantime had got up and started up town. He stopped at the hotel and went into the wash room to wash the blood from his face and one hand which had been injured in the fight. Before this was done he dropped to the floor and died in a few moments. The description given of the men was that one was large and well-built, another short and heavy-set, and the third tall and, slim. Neither Rath nor Bricker recognized any of the men, who were thought to be strangers.

The murdered officer was for a number of years a night-policeman at Defiance, where he made a record as a fearless officer and was instrumental in breaking up several tough gangs. He had been nightwatch at Hicksville for four or five years and his tragic death has been almost the sole topic of conversation there today. As no alarm was given until several hours after the tragedy the murderers had plenty of time to escape and will not probably be apprehended.

The Governor.

Gov. Sayre of Texas was surprised the other day to see that a noted life criminal had been pardoned and set free. He hunted over the papers, found his own name and the state seal all right, but don't remember signing it. He thinks the man's attorney got the governor's secretary to lay a filled out pardon among a lot of unimportant papers, and that he has gone on and signed the pile without examining them. But it is too late now. The man has his pardon duly signed and is free. But the governor is mad and the man will have a tough time to get a pardon.

FOR SALE.

A fine Jersey cow for sale, calf by her side.—A. G. LODEWICK, Auburn, Indiana. Nov.8-6t

Danger Signals!

Do you take cold with every change in the weather? Does your throat feel raw? And do sharp pains dart through your chest?

Don't you know these are danger signals which point to pneumonia, bronchitis, or consumption itself?

If you are ailing and have lost flesh lately, they are certainly danger signals. The question for you to decide is, "Have I the vitality to throw off these diseases?"

Don't wait to try SCOTT'S EMULSION "as a last resort." There is no remedy equal to it for fortifying the system. Prevention is easy.

Scott's Emulsion

prevents consumption and hosts of other diseases which attack the weak and those with poor blood.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is the one standard remedy for inflamed throats and lungs, for colds, bronchitis and consumption. It is a food medicine of remarkable power. A food, because it nourishes the body; and a medicine, because it corrects diseased conditions.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, INDIANA.

JAMES A. DARNELL, - - PUBLISHER.

1899. NOVEMBER. 1899.

Su	Mo	Tu	We	Th	Fr	Sa
•	•	•	1	2	3	4
5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12	13	14	15	16	17	18
19	20	21	22	23	24	25
26	27	28	29	30	•	•
•	•	•	•	•	•	•

N. M. 3rd. F. Q. 10th. F. M. 17th. L. Q. 25th.

NEWS IN BRIEF GUSTS

BLOWN IN FROM ALL PARTS OF THE EARTH.

An Important Record of the Week As Told by the Telegraph—Latest from Foreign Shores—Crimes, Casualties, Fires, Etc.

Battle with the Boers.

Loudon special: The Secretary of War has received the following dispatch from Gen. Methuen, dated Belmont:

"Attacked the enemy at daybreak. He was in a strong position. Three ridges were carried in succession, the last attack being prepared by shrapnel. The enemy fought with courage and skill.

"Our victory was complete. Have taken forty prisoners. Am burying a good number of the Boers, but the greater part of the enemy's killed and wounded were removed by their comrades."

Fears for the Peach Crop.

Benton Harbor (Mich.) special: Fruit growers in this section are greatly alarmed over the prospects for the peach crop next season. For several days the weather has been as warm as summer, and it is feared the peach buds have started prematurely and will be killed by frost. County Treasurer John Clark, a veteran farmer, believes thousands of dollars worth of peaches will be lost unless the temperature lowers within a short time.

New Record Made.

The record for a round trip to Manila is held by the United States transport George W. Elder, which arrived at San Francisco recently, having made the round trip in sixty-one days. She sailed a few hours ahead of the Belgian King, which is now due. The Belgian King is bringing the body of Major Guy Howard, son of Gen. O. O. Howard, retired, who was killed in action last October.

New Machines Broken Up.

The custodian of the Indiana Wire Fence Factory at Crawfordsville, Ind., which was recently absorbed by the trust, acting under instructions from headquarters, destroyed three new wire fence machines. These cost $1,500 each, and had been used but a few weeks when the factory was closed. They were broken to bits and the fragments will be sold to junk dealers.

Charleston a Total Loss.

The naval authorities have virtually abandoned all hope of saving the wrecked cruiser Charleston, when they received a cable from Capt. Lentze, saying that when last seen, on Nov. 13, the cruiser was under water from stern to smokestack. There has been a heavy typhoon since. There is every prospect that she has become a total loss.

Fatal Wreck on the B. & O.

West-bound passenger train No. 5, on the Baltimore and Ohio Road, ran into the rear end of a west-bound freight train near McCool's Station, Ind., while running at a high rate of speed, causing a bad wreck, killing Henry Bradford and E. H. Sarber, engineers, and Elmer Orr and John Stine, firemen. A number of the passengers were injured.

Price of Bottles Advance 10 Per Cent.

The National Bottle Manufacturers' Association met in Indianapolis recently, and decided to advance the price of their product 10 per cent. The advance will take effect the first of the year. All factories are working day and night and are unable to fill their orders.

Found a Fortune.

A dispatch from Santiago De Cuba says: The wreckers working on the sunken Spanish armored cruiser Almirante Oquendo discovered a chest containing $19,000 in Spanish gold. Work on the cruiser has been in progress for five months and many thousands of dollars' worth of treasure has been secured.

A Town Destroyed.

The town of Magazine, Ark., was destroyed by a tornado. Magazine is on the new Choctaw and Memphis Road, sixty miles east of Fort Smith. All efforts to reach Magazine by wire failed. Boonville, ten miles from Magazine, suffered a severe storm, houses being blown down and cattle killed.

On Its Last Legs.

Paris special: Agoncillo is preparing to go to Hong Kong. It is reported that he was recalled by Aguinaldo because the rebellion in the Philippines is on its last legs, and the junta can do no good here.

A Bank Robbed.

The Exchange Savings Bank of Brooklyn, Mich., was blown to atoms. The burglars got $3,000. The explosion aroused people. The robbers were frightened away, leaving $1,200 on the floor.

Masonic Temple, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Nov. 29—"Because She Loved Him So."
Nov. 30 and Dec. 1 and 2—"The Limited Mail."

Loving Cup for Schley.

A solid silver loving cup has been received at Tompkinsville, Staten Island, for Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley. It came from the citizens of St. Louis and was sent out to the Admiral's flagship, the Chicago, which is lying off the government anchorage.

Castro Is Recognized.

A Caracas (Venezuela) dispatch says: The United States Government has officially recognized the de facto government headed by Gen. Cipriana Castro, the victorious revolutionary leader.

Masked Men Slay 3,000 Sheep.

Two thousand sheep belonging to the Geddes Sheep Company were driven from Wyoming into Routt County, Colo., to the range forty miles northwest of Craig. Later fifty masked men captured the herders and then proceeded to kill the entire flock.

David Ayers' Will Set Aside.

The will of David Ayres, involving an estate valued at $35,000, and which was contested by his son David and his granddaughter, Roa Ayres, both of Chicago, was set aside by the jury at Sandusky, Ohio, on the ground of incapacity and undue influence.

PRICES CONTINUE STRONG.

Most Values Unchanged, Though Some Have Declined Slightly.

Bradstreet's views the business situation thus: "General trade and industry continue at a maximum volume for this season of the year, while prices as a whole manifest a strength unapproached in recent years. Strength of values is still most notable among manufactured textiles, but cereals, hides, leather and manufactures thereof have also strengthened slightly. On the other hand, pork products, raw cotton and tin are slightly lower. The great majority of prices, however, remain firm at unchanged quotations. The strength of cotton goods this week, partly the result of active demand, and also of heavily reduced available stocks, has been in striking contrast with the irregularity and at times weakness manifested by the raw product. Wheat, including flour, shipments for the week aggregated 4,540,007 bushels, against 4,050,842 bushels last week. Corn exports for the week aggregate 4,002,718 bushels, against 4,581,447 bushels last week."

PLAN A NORTHERN WATERWAY.

Project to Connect Grand Forks, N. D., and Duluth by a Canal.

A project for a canal from Grand Forks, N. D., to Duluth, connecting the rich wheat region of the Red River valley with Lake Superior by water, is now to be pushed. A syndicate of Eastern capitalists has formed a company, to be known as the Great Northern Canal and Transportation Company, to build the canal. It has no connection with the Great Northern Railway. The president is G. McGowan of Trenton, N. J., head of the rubber trust, and besides the Eastern capital a number of Duluth and Grand Forks men are interested. The route is from the Red river to Red lake and thence by way of numerous small lakes with which that region is filled, making use also of the Mississippi for a part of the way. Between 300 and 400 miles of cutting will be necessary before the St. Louis river is reached.

ROCK ISLAND ROAD MULCTED.

Damages Awarded for Death of a Passenger Riding on a Free Pass.

At Fairbury, Neb., in a suit against the Rock Island Railroad Company to collect $5,000 for the death of W. H. Hambell, killed with ten others in a wreck near Lincoln five years ago, the jury rendered a verdict for the full amount. The verdict is considered unusual, inasmuch as Mr. Hambell was riding on a pass and had signed the usual agreement waiving all claims for damages. It was also claimed by the company that it was relieved from responsibility by the fact that the wreck was due to the malicious removal of fish plates from the rails, for which George W. Davis, a Lincoln negro, was convicted and is now serving a life sentence. The case will be appealed.

Famine in Bombay Appalling.

The famine which is spread over the greater portion of Bombay district of India is daily becoming more acute. The enormous number of 951,523 men are employed on various relief works, but there are still millions of persons destitute for whom no relief can be provided and who must inevitably starve to death unless immediate outside assistance is forthcoming.

Fight a Duel by Moonlight.

Near Selma, Ala., Wesley Ethridge and John C. Stouenboro, prominent planters, had an impromptu duel in the moonlight, Stouenboro using a double-barrel shotgun and Ethridge a pistol. Ethridge fell at the first fire with a load of buckshot in the abdomen, but continued shooting until he expired. Stouenboro was unhurt.

Schley Is Now in Command.

The other afternoon a blue flag, bearing two white stars, shot upward on the mainmast of the United States cruiser Chicago as she lay at anchor off Tompkinsville, S. I. A second later a salute of seventeen guns thundered forth, announcing that Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley had assumed formal command of the South Atlantic squadron.

Deserting Soldier Is Shot.

Corporal Faire and a private soldier of the Tenth infantry pursued two deserters from Fort Crook and overtook one of them, Samuel Morgan, at La Platte, Neb. He refused to halt when ordered to do so, and Faire and his companion both fired. Morgan dropped mortally wounded and died in a few minutes.

Former Banker Found Guilty.

David V. Rieger, former president of the Missouri National Bank, which failed Nov. 30, 1896, owing depositors $1,500,000, was found guilty in the United States District Court at Kansas City, Mo., of misapplying the bank's funds and sentenced to six years in the penitentiary.

Uses Dynamite to Kill Wife.

At Janesville, Wis., Fred O'Brien placed a ten-pound stick of dynamite beneath his wife's bedroom. A terrific explosion followed, partly wrecking the house. In the two small bedrooms were Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Brien and two small children and Mrs. Fred O'Brien and child. All the persons in the house escaped injury.

Capital Stock of $12,000,000.

The carriage spring and axle manufacturers are preparing to consolidate. The combine will be known as the American Spring and Axle Company and will be capitalized at $12,500,000. Forty concerns, controlling 85 per cent of the trade, will join the combination.

Carnegie Buys Cuban Mines.

Rumors current for several weeks culminated in the definite admission by officials of the Santanillo and Moroto Railroad and the Ponupo mine at Santiago de Cuba that both properties had been sold to the Carnegie company.

Port for Russian Vessels.

Representatives of the Russian Government are on the coast looking for a Pacific port to be the terminus of a fleet of freight steamers to be operated in connection with the Transsiberian Railroad.

Rollinger Dies on the Gallows.

Emil Rollinger, the Chicago wife murderer, declared on the gallows with his last breath that he was an innocent man. The drop fell, breaking his neck instantly.

Claim to a Part of Pullman.

The Rev. Joseph Hartwell of Binghamton, N. Y., who died recently, held papers which it is claimed will entitle his heirs to a large part of the land on which the village of Pullman, Ill., is now located.

Cubans Want to Vote.

Congress will be petitioned by Cubans to allow an election to be held next February for a president, vice-president and members of a cortes.

John M. Thurston Is Married.

Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska and Miss Lola Purman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Purman of Washington, D. C., were married a few days ago.

For Pullman Shops in Denver.

Officials of the Pullman company are looking for a Denver site upon which to build large shops.

Shoots Supposed Abductors.

Dr. Thomas E. James, a prominent physician of Greenville, S. C., and his son, Wade Hampton James, were killed near Six Mile Church in Pickens County. The shooting was done by Sam Lanier, a farmer, and the alleged cause of the killing was that Dr. James and his son were driving away, so Lanier thought, with the latter's wife. Mrs. Lanier was in the buggy at the time of the murder.

THUGS WRECK AND ROB A BANK.

Blow the Safe in a Michigan Institution and Get $2,800.

Three terrific explosions following each other in rapid succession were heard throughout the village of Brooklyn, Mich., about 2:30 o'clock the other morning. The villagers rushed into the street. Those living nearest the Exchange Savings Bank saw three men hurrying away from the institution. John Werden and two or three others pursued the men, but the latter turned and fired three shots at their pursuers. As Werden and his companions were unarmed they retreated. The crowd turned its attention to the bank and found that the explosions had left the building a complete wreck. The large safe had been blown to atoms. Money was scattered all over the floor. About $1,500 had been left in the debris by the safe blowers. An inventory by Cashier Shekell showed that the robbers got away with $2,800. The building was damaged to the extent of $2,000.

DROWNED ON HIS WEDDING EVE.

Captain of a Wrecked Schooner Loses Life Trying to Save a Brother.

The schooner Maple Leaf was brought into Port Stanley harbor, Ont., by the tug Snowstorm. She was found tossing in the waves abreast of New Glasgow, a complete wreck above decks. Her captain, Ralph Robson of Leamington, who is her owner, and his brother, Evan Robson of Leamington, had both been drowned, and the two surviving members of the crew, David Adams and J. A. McIntosh, had had a terrible experience. The storm struck them twenty-five miles north of Cleveland. Capt. Robson was engaged to be married the following day to Miss Clara Foster of Leamington. Evan Robson was knocked overboard by a boom and his brother went after him in a boat.

VOTES $263,317 FOR MISSIONS.

Methodist Committee Makes Appropriations for the Foreign Field.

The missionary committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church at its session at Washington made the following appropriations: North India, $57,156; northwest India, $26,612; southwest India, $20,694; Bombay, $23,164; Bengal-Burma, $16,315; Foo Chow, $21,589; Hing Hua, $6,868; central China, $35,106; north China, $42,169; west China, $13,544. Total, $263,317; an increase of $32,177 over last year.

Girl to Be Given $1,000,000.

Miss Hattie Smith of Stevens Point, Wis., the 18-year-old daughter of a retired farmer, Thomas Smith, has been chosen as heiress to $1,000,000. Miss Smith's granduncle, Richard Smith, a wealthy business man of Glasgow, Scotland, has signed a contract to settle $1,000,000 on Miss Smith when she arrives at the age of 21, in consideration of her going to Glasgow to live with the old man.

Child Reunites the Home.

Some time ago Mrs. William Miller of Bradner, Ohio, filed a petition for divorce from her husband on the ground of cruelty. An arrangement was effected by which the father was to give up his interest in the little daughter and the son was to choose between the father and mother. The little fellow could not give up either of them and his entreaties have led to a reconciliation.

Honduras Is Prosperous.

Frank M. Parker, Jr., special agent of the North American Trust Company of New York to Spanish Honduras, speaking of the financial condition of the republic, said: "Spanish Honduras is today in a much better financial condition than any other of the Central American republics, the exchange there being only 125, while in Guatemala it is about 500."

Posse Fights with Indians.

A special dispatch from Glenwood Springs, Colo., says that Game Warden Johnson and his posse had a fight with the Indians who had invaded the State from Utah for the purpose of hunting, and one Indian was killed.

Shoots Four of His Children.

Cornelius Corcoran of 5401 Dearborn street, Chicago, killed one of his children, shot and fatally wounded three others, and then ended his own life. The father, it is said, had been insane for some time.

Wife of British Premier Expires.

Lady Salisbury, wife of the British premier, who had been in ill health for a long time, suffering a second stroke of paralysis in July last, is dead.

Typhoid Closes a State Normal.

An epidemic of typhoid fever has broken out at the State normal and industrial college at Greensboro, N. C., making it necessary to close the school until Jan. 1.

Moody Cancels Engagements.

The Rev. Dwight L. Moody, seriously ill with heart trouble, has been forced to cancel engagements.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago—Cattle, common to prime, $3.00 to $7.00; hogs, shipping grades, $3.00 to $4.25; sheep, fair to choice, $3.00 to $4.50; wheat, No. 2 red, 66c to 68c; corn, No. 2, 32c to 33c; oats, No. 2, 23c to 24c; rye, No. 2, 54c to 56c; butter, choice creamery, 24c to 26c; eggs, fresh, 17c to 19c; potatoes, choice, 35c to 45c per bushel.

Indianapolis—Cattle, shipping, $3.00 to $6.50; hogs, choice light, $2.75 to $4.25; sheep, common to prime, $3.25 to $4.25; wheat, No. 2 red, 65c to 67c; corn, No. 2 white, 32c to 33c; oats, No. 2 white, 25c to 27c.

St. Louis—Cattle, $3.25 to $6.75; hogs, $3.00 to $4.25; sheep, $3.00 to $4.25; wheat, No. 2, 70c to 72c; corn, No. 2 yellow, 30c to 32c; oats, No. 2, 23c to 25c; rye, No. 2, 51c to 53c.

Cincinnati—Cattle, $2.50 to $6.50; hogs, $3.00 to $4.25; sheep, $2.50 to $4.00; wheat, No. 2, 70c to 72c; corn, No. 2 mixed, 32c to 33c; oats, No. 2 mixed, 25c to 26c; rye, No. 2, 59c to 61c.

Detroit—Cattle, $2.50 to $6.50; hogs, $3.00 to $4.00; sheep, $2.50 to $4.00; wheat, No. 2, 69c to 71c; corn, No. 2 yellow, 33c to 35c; oats, No. 2 white, 26c to 28c; rye, 56c to 58c.

Toledo—Wheat, No. 2 mixed, 69c to 70c; corn, No. 2 mixed, 33c to 34c; oats, No. 2 mixed, 23c to 24c; rye, No. 2, 55c to 57c; clover seed, $4.90 to $5.00.

Milwaukee—Wheat, No. 2 northern, 65c to 67c; corn, No. 3, 32c to 34c; oats, No. 2 white, 24c to 27c; rye, No. 1, 55c to 57c; barley, No. 2, 44c to 46c; pork, mess, $7.75 to $8.25.

Buffalo—Cattle, good shipping steers, $3.00 to $6.50; hogs, common to choice, $3.25 to $4.25; sheep, fair to choice wethers, $3.00 to $4.25; lambs, common to extra, $4.50 to $5.25.

New York—Cattle, $3.25 to $6.50; hogs, $3.00 to $4.50; sheep, $3.00 to $4.25; wheat, No. 2 red, 73c to 74c; corn, No. 2, 40c to 42c; oats, No. 2 white, 31c to 32c; butter, creamery, 21c to 27c; eggs, western, 19c to 21c.

HOBART PASSES AWAY

VICE PRESIDENT SUCCUMBS TO LINGERING ILLNESS.

End Comes with His Family Present at the Home in Paterson—Deep Sorrow Expressed at Washington for the Nation's Loss—His Career.

Garrett A. Hobart, Vice-President of the United States, died at his home in Paterson, N. J., shortly after 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. Dr. William K. Newton, who has remained at his bedside almost constantly since his condition became serious two weeks ago, ascribes the immediate cause of death to heart failure.

Mr. Hobart's condition began to change for the worse late Monday afternoon. He became suddenly weaker and his heretofore wonderful vitality seemed to be deserting him. Shortly before midnight he spoke to Mrs. Hobart, who was kneeling by his bedside. What his words were are not disclosed, but after they were spoken the Vice-President became unconscious. He remained in a comatose condition during the balance of the night. At his bedside when he passed away were Mrs. Hobart, Garrett A. Hobart, Jr., Dr. Newton and his wife and Miss Alice Wardell, the nurse. As soon as the Vice-President expired a message announcing his death was sent to President McKinley at the White House. Another message was dispatched to Gov. Voorhees of New Jersey.

GARRETT A. HOBART.

CAREER OF GARRETT A. HOBART.

From a Country School Teacher to Vice President.

Garrett Augustus Hobart was born at Long Branch, N. J., June 3, 1844. He received his education at Rutgers College and graduated when he was 20 years old. He began his career as a schoolmaster. Later on he took up the study of law and was admitted to the bar in 1869. In 1871 he became city counsel of Paterson, and in 1872 counsel of the freeholders of Passaic County. He represented the Third district of Passaic County in the State Assembly in 1872.

Mr. Hobart soon became one of the leading Republicans of his section. He was married July 21, 1869 to Jennie Tuttle, daughter of ex-Mayor Socrates Tuttle of Paterson. He was re-elected to the Assembly in 1873, and at once took the highest rank and was chosen Speaker of that body. In 1876 Mr. Hobart was elected to the State Senate, and in 1881 was elected president of the Senate, and was re-elected the following year.

During his terms in the Senate he became a member of some of the most important committees. From 1880 to 1891 he was chairman of the State Republican committee of New Jersey, and under his leadership the party conducted some brilliant campaigns. He was nominated in 1884 for United States Senator, but the Legislature being Democratic, he was defeated by John R. MacPherson. He was a delegate at large to the Republican national convention in 1876 and again in 1880. He became a member of the national Republican committee in 1884, and served until 1896, when he was nominated for Vice-President and elected.

Since his election to the vice-presidency Mr. Hobart had played an important part in political affairs. Between the President and Mr. Hobart there have existed the most cordial relations, and the visits between the two have been of the most informal and neighborly character.

Mr. Hobart was a first-class business man and was connected with numerous big concerns. Mr. Hobart was a very fascinating man, with a pleasant face. He always had his pocketbook open in behalf of charity. When he located in Paterson his entire capital amounted to only $1.50. He worked hard and his efforts were rewarded by a remarkable success.

Garrett A. Hobart was well beloved in Paterson. He is said to have been a good neighbor and an honest business man. During his illness the city seemed to neglect regular duties to hear the news from the bedside, and on all sides were heard prayers for the sick man. Mr. Hobart in health was a genial, courteous gentleman and was most approachable. After his election to the vice-presidency he remained the same to his old friends and associates.

Mrs. Hobart has been invaluable to Mrs. McKinley, relieving her of many of her trying social duties. Mr. Hobart has been equally valuable to McKinley. He was a man of great tact, and his diplomacy has been made use of by the President in several trying situations.

Telegraphic Brevities.

Statue of Oliver Cromwell was unveiled in London by workmen.

James Meahon, 22, Titusville, Pa., dragged his gun over a log. He is dead.

Mrs. Harriet A. Fox, mother of Della Fox, the singer, is dead at her home in St. Louis.

Mrs. Jane H. Sennatt, aged 65 years, and Mrs. Elizabeth Sarsfield, aged 75, were suffocated by escaping gas at Roxbury, Mass.

Ex-County Treasurer John C. Lemmerts of Lockport, N. Y., whose official accounts showed a heavy deficit, was convicted of grand larceny.

Thomas Wright was hanged at Stephensville, Texas, for the murder of John Adams, whom he believed had caused him to be sent to the penitentiary.

William C. Whitney, New York, has sold the Fifth avenue stage line to the Electric Vehicle Company.

W. J. Latta has been elected president of the new telephone combine. He has only ten shares, at $50 each. Capital stock is $30,000,000.

In Boston the other day a man who had been arrested on a charge of non-support was fined $20, and his neglected wife secured his release by paying that amount.

The heavy frosts in Alabama have practically killed the growth of top cotton. Reports from several counties show that the cotton fields have practically been abandoned.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Henry C. Payne, who may manage the next Republican national campaign, has had good political training. During the contest of 1896 he was one of the most able of Senator Hanna's lieutenants and paid special attention to the work in the Western States. Senator Hanna has the highest appreciation of Mr. Payne's political skill and the general impression is that should the present chairman retire he would be his successor in the management of the next presidential campaign. Since 1872 Mr. Payne has served consecutively as secretary and chairman of the Young Men's Republican Club of Milwaukee, secretary and chairman of his county committee, and the same offices in the State central committee of Wisconsin. Since 1880 he has been a member of the national committee, and for ten years he was postmaster at Milwaukee.

HENRY C. PAYNE.

-:—:-

Mrs. Maria Jenks of Pontiac, Mich., who supports herself by washing and ironing, was once engaged to marry Gen. U. S. Grant. Recently at a church social one of the curiosities displayed to the guests was a little rose-colored silk apron bearing the legend: "This is the apron which matched Gen. Grant's tie at a necktie party 40 years ago." Mrs. Jenks was found to be the owner of this and she told how she had become Grant's partner that evening and a short time later they were engaged. The young woman's father did not like Grant and sent his daughter to Albany. She never saw the future President again.

MRS. JENKS.

-:—:-

Miss Daisy Leiter, of Chicago, whose beauty and prospective fortune have caused her to take a conspicuous place in society in this country and abroad since her debut a few years ago, and who is accounted one of the great "catches" of the day, is, it is reported, engaged to Major Colin Powys Campbell, a British officer of illustrious ancestry and distinguished achievement. Major Campbell is one of the heroes of the Anglo-Indian army. He is at present an officer of the Second Central India Horse. Miss Daisy Leiter is the youngest of the three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Z. Leiter, of Chicago. Her oldest sister is the wife of Lord Curzon, Viceroy of India.

MISS LEITER.

-:—:-

Already the inventors of the country are busy getting up new attractions for the coming presidential campaign. From Oklahoma comes one of the most novel of the new suggestions. It is calculated not only to stir partisan feeling to the height, but, at the same time, to render miserable the lives of all residents along the line of march of political processions. It consists of a torch at the top of which is mounted a papier mache representation of the face of the presidential candidate. Below the lamp a pair of cymbals is mounted, one of them being loosely fastened, so that by swinging their torches the marchers can make as much noise as may seem desirable.

CAMPAIGN TORCH.

-:—:-

Whether or not the report that Count Herbert Bismarck is to separate from his young wife be true, it is said to be a fact that their married life has not been a happy one. The count is 50 years old and his wife is not yet 30. She was the daughter of Count George Hoyos, a retired officer of the Austrian army. Count Hoyos is the son-in-law and partner of Whitehead, the inventor of the torpedo which bears his name. The Countess Hoyos is the sole heir to the wealth of her father and her daughter has a fortune in her own right. She was married to Count Herbert Bismarck in 1892.

COUNTESS BISMARCK.

-:—:-

The first war correspondent to be captured in South Africa is Eugene Easton, who was picked up by Boer outposts while riding along the frontier of the Transvaal Republic. Mr. Easton's father, the Rev. J. A. Easton of Tippecanoe, Ohio, has asked the State Department to interfere in his behalf. Young Easton is said to represent a syndicate of American newspapers, and it is thought that he may have allowed himself to be captured in order to get inside the lines of the Boers.

EUGENE EASTON.

-:—:-

President Kruger has sent seven sons and fifty grandsons into the Boer army to fight the English, in addition to taking the field himself, and it would appear from the illustration, which is drawn from a photograph, that even the fourth generation is keeping up the martial reputation of the family. The young soldier shown is Fritz Eloff, a great-grandson of the president, who rejoices in the courtesy title of "lieutenant" in spite of the fact that he is only 4 years old.

KRUGER'S GRANDSON.

DEWEY TRANSFERS HIS HOME.

Surprise and Disappointment Caused by the Admiral's Action.

Admiral George Dewey has transferred to his wife the title to the home which was presented to him as a token of esteem by the people of the United States. The transfer was accomplished by two papers which carried the title first to a friend and then to Mrs. Dewey. The deeds have been formally recorded.

No explanation of the reasons actuating the admiral in taking this extraordinary step were given. Naturally all sorts of rumors were afloat as to debts and other more serious complications. It was even reported that a firm of Washington lawyers had instructions from their client, a woman, to bring suit against the admiral of the navy for breach of promise, but the lawyers in question stoutly denied that they knew anything whatever of the existence of such a suitor.

A Washington correspondent asserts that there is a very general disapproval of the transfer. Admiral Dewey is severely criticised upon the ground that good taste dictated the house given him by the people in grateful acknowledgment of his services to the country should have been kept in his own name as long as he lived. Subscribers to the fund are already writing indignant letters pointing out that they gave their money to buy a house for Mr. Dewey, not for Mrs. Dewey, who is already a rich woman. Some of the largest subscribers to the fund have demanded the return of their contributions, and they are quite bitter in their comment. Papers throughout the country speak very disapprovingly of Admiral Dewey's action.

THE HOUSE GIVEN DEWEY.

ACCUSE COLONEL METCALF.

Soldiers Swear He Shot a Helpless Filipino Prisoner.

Serious charges were made at Topeka, Kan., against Col. Wilder S. Metcalf, recently brebetted brigadier general for gallantry in the Philippines. Private Harris C. Husky and Lieut. Arthur M. Ferguson, members of the late Twentieth Kansas, make affidavit that Col. Metcalf shot a defenseless Filipino while he was a prisoner of war.

The affidavit of Husky is dated at Manila, July 24, and alleges that at the battle of Caloocan a prisoner was brought to Maj. Metcalf, who without provocation drew his revolver and shot the insurgent soldier. The prisoner was unarmed and on his knees when the shooting occurred.

Col. Metcalf, who is now in Elyria, Ohio, denies the charges. He says he does not know either of the men who accuse him and declares the charges are absolutely false.

BIG BATTLE IN COLOMBIA.

One Thousand Rebels Said to Have Been Killed.

A bloody page has been added to the history of Columbia, South America. A dispatch from Bogota says that a terrible battle was fought near Bucamaranga on Friday and Saturday between the rebels and the Government forces, in which 1,000 rebels were killed and about 2,000 wounded. The engaging forces aggregated 10,000 men. The rebel general, Pablo Villar, is reported to be among the slain. Two generals on each side were wounded.

MURDERED HIS FATHER.

Young Moore of Dexter Tells How the Crime Was Committed.

Elijah Moore, aged 19, who has been held at Dexter, Mo., under suspicion for the foul assassination of his father, Rev. Jesse Moore, made a full confession, implicating his 15-year-old sister Mary as an accessory. He afterward amended his confession by exonerating his sister. He planned the assassination two weeks previous to its commission, and his reason given for the deed was that his father was a hard, cruel man in his family, rigid in his discipline, and that he allowed his children no pleasure of any character whatever.

London now has women barbers.

London is importing American ballet girls.

Parliament fixes freight rates in England.

India has 170,000 widows under 9 years of age.

Tokio's recent fire destroyed 3,027 houses.

Automobiles are being used in the Italian army.

Emperor William has learned to speak Swedish.

Germany has spent $350,000 on its new airship.

London has 109,000 students in its night schools.

St. Petersburg is to have an underground railway.

Morocco has an army of 40,000 men fairly well trained.

Hawaii is complaining of a heavy influx of Chinese.

Women are now employed as sign painters in Berlin.

France receives $970,000 a year from taxes on bicycles.

German newspapers praise the American consular service.

Japan will open twenty-one new ports to foreign commerce.

Nansen told a Berlin reporter that he believes Andree dead.

English people drink twice as much Scotch as Irish whisky.

The French Republicans no longer fear a Royalist coup d'etat.

Many Frenchmen believe that Labori bungled the Dreyfus defense.

RECORD OF THE WEEK

INDIANA INCIDENTS TERSELY TOLD.

Mellinger, After Conversion, Confesses an Old Crime—Reveals Death Compact After Taking Poison—Havoc by Fire at Logansport—Church Is Ruined.

J. F. Mellinger, a painter, 24 years old, sent an open letter to the Fort Wayne newspapers confessing that when 6 years old he set fire to a barn in play, which cremated his 3-year-old sister. Charles Sumersky, an older lad, was charged with the crime and sent to the reform school for six years. Mellinger recently joined the church and since then his conscience has troubled him. Sumersky's whereabouts are not known.

Two of a Suicide Club Dead.

Andrew S. Thompson died at Frankfort from a dose of morphine taken with suicidal intent. Thompson, after taking the drug, told his friends that Fred Griner, who killed himself a few days before, Thompson and three other young men had formed a suicide club and within a month all would be dead. Thompson was 26 years old and unmarried.

Serious Fire at Logansport.

A fire occurred in Logansport, which gutted the shoe store of Walker & Raugh, France's dry goods store, Barnhart & Son's stove store and George W. Lucy's tailor store. The stores were mostly damaged by water. All the firms were will insured.

Interior of Church Ruined.

Unknown persons broke into Mount Hope Methodist Church, south of Waverly, smashed the windows and doors, destroyed the pulpit, chandeliers and furniture, tore the church Bible and all the testaments to bits and then smeared the walls and floor with mud. There is no clew to the wreckers.

Within Our Borders.

Glanders in Clay County.

Elkhart has a central labor union.

Indiana celery crop blighted by frost.

Diphtheria is on the increase in Marion.

Seymour will have free mail delivery Jan. 1.

Elwood is troubled with an epidemic of thieving.

Female burglars are at work in Evansville.

Fort Wayne garbage crematory went up in smoke.

Evansville is having another epidemic of burglary.

Anderson Elks have begun their new $10,000 home.

Winter apples are said to be rotting unusually early.

Gambling houses in Anderson have been ordered closed.

A million dollar plug tobacco factory will be built in Madison.

Hamilton, Ohio, capitalists will put up fifty $1,000 houses in Anderson.

Two district schools in Ripley County are closed on account of diphtheria.

Miss Grace Steere, Carthage, was found dead in bed. Cause unknown.

An incendiary is firing barns along the Air Line track, in southern Indiana.

Bunker Hill coal mines, Sullivan, will be worked and lighted by electricity.

Anderson will swell its population 4,000 by annexing Park Place and North Anderson.

Eli Lane, 45, Anderson, died from injuries received in a strawboard factory recently.

Invention that does six boys' work has been introduced in the Muncie flint bottle factory.

Contract has been let for an electric railroad between Logansport and Kendallville.

South Bend police arrested three little girls the other day for shoplifting. All under 12.

Unless farmers in Wayne County put up improved mail boxes, they will lose free delivery.

B. & O. S. W. train killed W. B. Smith, Lawrenceville, Ill., on the Briggs creek trestle.

Jamestown wants electric lights, a school house, two churches and a chemical fire engine.

'Squire Orr, who disappeared from Frankton some time ago, has been located in Lima, Ohio.

Mrs. Fred Weber, Fort Wayne, gave her baby a dose of morphine for other medicine. Fatal.

Frank Weikel, Evansville, ran into the street and grabbed a strange dog. An arm nearly torn off.

There is now a rivalry between gas belt cities, to see which can strike gas at the slightest depth.

A deed was recorded at Goshen, conveying a lot in Nappanee, that was acknowledged in Jerusalem.

During a fight in the Kokomo city cemetery James Horn was fatally shot by William Clubs. Horn had accused Clubs of alienating his wife's affections.

Alonzo Humphrey, 45, a farmer of Burney, was mysteriously murdered. His body was found in the woods near Clifty creek. He had been shot in the neck.

O. E. Fryatt, chief clerk in Terre Haute for the Chicago and Eastern Illinois and the Evansville and Terre Haute Railroad companies, was accidentally killed while hunting. He was 32 years old and unmarried.

William E. Heal, the Grant County treasurer, who disappeared from Marion Oct. 5, 1897, has returned home, after an absence of over two years. When he left Marion it was disclosed that he was short nearly $18,000, of which $14,000 was Grant County funds. He will stand trial.

John Flora, Paoli, was sentenced for life for the murder of Jesse O. Burton. His defense was insanity.

Rural mail delivery in Boone County is a success, besides being the means of building several gravel roads.

A. P. Powell, Versailles, has an apple tree that has borne two crops already this season, and is blooming for a third.

Loogootee's gas wells are of unusual capacity, having a rock pressure of from 180 to 250 pounds and a daily output of from 390,000 to 415,000 cubic feet. Land has doubled in price and factories are flocking.

Alonzo Humphrey, aged 45 years, a farmer living near Burney, was mysteriously shot to death, his dead body being found near his home. There is no clew.

William Wagroner, in the Spencer jail, under sentence for life for wife murder, tried to strangle himself with a handkerchief, but another prisoner discovered him before he died.

Matthew Dooley and John Henry, coal miners, were crushed to death by a Chicago and Eastern Illinois switch engine at Clinton. Dooley's limbs were severed from the trunk and he died instantly. Henry died while en route to the hospital. His hand was torn off and both legs were crushed to pulp.

MARGERY.

Fair Margery I chanced to view
Within her garden's gay-decked space,
Clad in a gown of purple hue,
A sylph with all a flower's grace.
You left upon my heart so true
An image time can ne'er erase—
Maid in violet!

A love-light in her eyes, whose blue
Of heaven's azure seemed a trace;
What wonder I began to woo!
* * * * * * *
One obstacle they needs must face;
The other lovers who would sue—
A promise without days of grace,
Made inviolate.
—Woman's Home Companion.

HER BIGGEST PUPIL.

Scene: The little parlor in the modest cottage in which Miss Mary Brewster boards.

Mr. Jim Thrasher nervously awaiting her, his stalwart form perched on the edge of an easy chair.

As she enters his eye brightens, he smiles, and dropping his broad brimmed hat on the floor he rises.

Mary—You wished to see me?

Jim—Yes, Miss Mary. (He eagerly puts out his hand. She takes it in a hesitating manner.) You don't know me. I was afraid you wouldn't. Fifteen years, and a beard, and any number of hard knocks do change a man. But you—why, you've scarcely altered a particle. Can't you guess who it is?

Mary—You remind me—something in your voice—in your smile—reminds me of—of a boy I once knew.

Jim, delightedly—I'm the boy.

Mary—Not—not Jim Thrasher?

Jim—The very identical.

Mary—I'm so glad to see you. (She takes his hand impulsively.) Sit down, please. It is so kind of you to hunt me up. I've thought about you many times and tried to wonder what you were doing and what you had become.

Jim—That's very good of you, Miss Mary. I hardly supposed you'd cherish such pleasant remembrances for your biggest pupil. What a gawk I was! I can't imagine how you had any patience with me. Let me see. I was just 20 that last winter in the old red school house and a head taller than you—and two years older, wasn't I? What an awkward problem I must have been for you! Too old to learn and too big to whip.

Mary—Ah, but you never needed whipping. You were my right hand man, my prop, my encouragement. I don't know what I would have done with those big boys from down the creek if it hadn't been for your strong muscles.

Jim—Do you remember how you talked to me the first day I came to school? I had come with those very creek boys to make trouble. My mother died when I was very young, and no other woman had ever talked kindly to me. When you appealed to my honor, and putting your hand on my shoulder begged me not to bury the good that was in me, something seemed to swell in my breast, and from that moment I resolved to be a man—a man whom you would one day be proud to say you knew.

Mary—You make me very happy. It is a wonderful pleasure to feel that my poor efforts were not all wasted. It makes life worth living.

Jim—Life, then, hasn't always—but tell me something about yourself.

Mary—There is very little to tell. My mother died the summer after you went West, and I had to return home and keep house for father. In a year or two his health failed, and after a long, long sickness he died. My brother and I were alone, and after he found a situation on the railroad we moved here. When the war broke out brother enlisted, and died at Tampa of a fever.

Jim, after a pause—And so you have no ties to keep you here?

Mary—None.

Jim—And may I ask——

Mary—How I support myself? I have five little pupils whom I am teaching the rudiments, and I do some fine sewing. I get along very well—only there is always the fear of sickness. Now tell me about yourself.

Jim—One moment. I want to say to you, Miss Mary, that I've been trying to find you out for a long time. I wrote to the old neighborhood, asking for you, but they answered that nobody knew where you had gone. I wouldn't have traced you down here if it hadn't been for Joe Slater. You remember little red-headed Joe, the scamp of the school? Well, he came out to Montana, looking for work, and I gave him a job, and, one day, in recalling old times, he said he was sure he saw you in this town. That's how I came to be here. About myself? Well, whatever I am, it is you that gave me the start. I fancy I've done pretty well. I'm something of a mine owner and something of a capitalist, and I've served a term in Congress and could have gone back. I've got a nice house in Helena, and there's enough idle cash lying around to enable me to travel as much and as far as I please. You understand I'm not blowing my trumpet for the personal gratification there is in it—and yet it is a personal gratification to blow it before you. I'm accounting, as it were, for the use I've made of those talents you called my attention to fifteen years ago.

Mary—I'm very glad to hear of your success. I knew you had it in you. You have made the day very bright for me.

Jim—I am not yet quite sure whether it will be a bright day for me or not. The fact is, I—I want to ask you a favor, Miss Mary.

Mary—A favor, Jim?

Jim—Yes, a great favor. I—I want to be your biggest pupil again!

Mary—I—I don't understand.

Jim—And I want to be your only pupil. I need your help. They're talking of making me governor next fall, and I'll require lots of polishing up. Oh, it will be hard work, but you'll find me a willing pupil. I——

Mary—I don't know what you mean.

Jim (rising and coming closer)—I'll explain. They say, you know, that a well-ordered boy usually falls in love with his teacher. That's his very first love. And most well ordered boys get over it. But this boy is different. He doesn't get over it. That teacher has been to him the one ideal of sweetest womanhood through all his fifteen years of hard knocks and growing success. Do you understand now? Teacher, guide, friend, will you be that grateful boy's wife?

Mary (covering her face with her hands)—Oh, Jim, Jim, I'm so old!

Jim (taking her hands)—Nonsense! And you are growing younger every minute. Besides, don't forget for a moment that I am two years your senior! Come, Mary; I need you. There is a home waiting for you in the West, and comfort, and love. I don't ask you to love me—yet. Perhaps I can teach you that. There, there; don't cry. Surely there's nothing you leave behind worth these tears.

Mary (rising)—They are tears of happiness, Jim.

Her head drops on his shoulder.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A NIECE OF KRUGER.

She Is Now in This Country and Is a Remarkably Well-Bred Girl.

Miss Sannie Kruger, a grandniece of President Paul Kruger and of his wife as well, is now a resident of Philadelphia. She came from South Africa several years ago in company with her brother, who is interested in mines in Arizona. Miss Kruger's sympathies are strongly with the brave men who are defending her native land, but she can see that they have no chance for ultimate success. Miss Kruger was educated in Europe and is proficient both as a musician and artist. She says the popular idea of the Boers in this country does them injustice. The burghers are not, as a class, she declares, coarse, uneducated and brutal. On the farms no more attention is paid to dress than by the agricultural portion of any community. In the cities and towns, however, the Boer women dress as well and as much attention is paid to the amenities of life as in other countries. Miss Kruger expects to return before long to South Africa and will spend the remainder of her life there.

MISS SANNIE KRUGER.

He Returned the Purse.

Miss H. was taking a railway journey. A suave old gentleman sitting opposite to her presently bent forward and said, with gentle reproof:

"Excuse me, but do you think it wise, when there are so many thieves about, to carry your purse so conspicuously?"

As he spoke, he pointed to her purse, which was projecting slightly from her pocket. Miss H., considering the stranger rather officious, thrust the portemonnaie down into her pocket and thanked him with a stiff reserve, perhaps a trifle scornfully. At the next station the old gentleman got out. As he did so, he turned to his pretty vis-a-vis with a polite bow and the mischievous indulgence of his years.

"Allow me to restore your purse. You see, it was not so hard to lose as you supposed!"

So saying, he held out to her the purse she had supposed was safely reposing in her pocket. Miss H. received it, coloring with childlike mortification, thanked him profusely, and her old friend took his leave with a friendly smile. A few minutes later, when the official came round to collect tickets, Miss H. discovered her purse to be empty.

Unmistakable Evidence.

Aguinaldo: "Why do you suspect he is an American spy?"

Filipino: "Hist! He has on a 'Union' suit!"

A Journey of 350 Years.

A well-known astronomer calculates that if an express train running sixty miles an hour day and night, without stopping, kept it up for 350 years, it would just about complete the diameter of the circle made by the earth in its yearly journey round the sun. Now let this immense circle be represented by the lady's finger ring, and taking that as the standard of measurement, the nearest fixed star would be a mile distant, and the farthest visible through the telescope at least twenty miles.

Age of the Yew Tree.

It is believed that the yew tree even exceeds the oak in age. In England, Scotland and Ireland it is nothing unusual to find yew trees which, according to authentic accounts, date from 1000 A. D. Many of these trees are celebrated in history and legend. There is an immense yew tree in Wiltshire, Eng., with a hollow trunk capable of accommodating a breakfast party.

Siamese Superstition.

The Siamese have so strong a superstition against even numbers that they will have none of them. The number of rooms in a house, of windows or doors in a room, even of rungs on a ladder, must always be odd.

It is useless to acquire knowledge unless you have a little common sense with which to season it.

The people are more easily fooled every year than the year before.

DISCIPLINE OF MATRIMONY.

THE first year of married life may be compared with the first attempts of a baby to walk warily and swiftly, says a woman of the world. By stumbling and overbalancing itself does the infant learn how he may locomote with safety to himself and without treading on the toes of his companions.

The angles of our characters, we being usually agreeably unconscious of them, become unpleasantly revealed to us because they get in the way of our partner for life. And he whom we consider faultless proves to have angles as well. Each has to learn the other all over again in the intimacy of marriage.

Matrimony is a splendid institution for the elimination of self-will. By the time those angles above referred to have become rounded and inaggressive, the nature of their owner has undergone a change of which he or she may possibly be unaware. All the same, it is in the nature of discipline, and discipline is not invariably pleasant.

When true love helps in the process it may be comparatively painless. The love acts as an anaesthetic; or, to vary the simile, love is as the skilled dentist, who minimizes the pain of his operations.

When there is marriage without love the discipline of adjusting the two natures to each other and to the necessities of a double existence may be likened to the unskilled operator, who gives his patients the maximum of pain with the minimum of benefit.

Duchess of Sutherland.

The Duchess of Sutherland, who has just published an anti-socialistic novel, is the wife of one of the richest noblemen of England. Though still a young woman she has been prominent for some years in philanthropic and temperance work. The town house of the Duke is one of the show places of London. The Duke's father, whom he succeeded in 1892, startled London society, after the death of his invalid wife, by marrying the widow of his gamekeeper, Mrs. Blair. To add to the complications of the situation Mrs. Blair became a widow through an unfortunate accident on the part of the Duke. While hunting one day he accidentally shot Mr. Blair, and it was while calling on Mrs. Blair to express his sorrow and sympathy that he fell in love with her. She was then over 40 years old, but as the Dowager Duchess is still a somewhat prominent and extremely interesting factor in English society. The present Duke owns 1,400,000 acres of English land.

DUCHESS OF SUTHERLAND.

Plump and Comely.

As a rule the Cuban woman is round in figure and pretty in feature. Her face is seldom vivacious—one looks in vain for the beauty of expression. Her hair is often a glory to her, and is sometimes of that blue-black shade only possible with the daughters of Southern Europe and their descendants, though occasionally the Cuban girl varies the program by being a blonde, and to be plain, rather fat.

This lady is often a woman at 12, and the mother of a large family at 19 or 20. So pretty in her youth, in age she becomes lean and dried, or fat and unwieldy. She fades early, and, for want of strength of character, is apt to lose control of her husband, who, nevertheless, still continues to need such control as badly as any man of his times. But whatever she may grow or seem, her eyes never fade. To the last, through all vicissitudes, they are big and black.—Boston Traveler.

Wants the Law Changed.

Miss Margaret Lee, of Brooklyn, has instituted a movement for the repeal of the copyright law now in force, by which the author's right to his books ceases to exist forty-two years after publication.

"The idea suggested itself to me," she said, "on seeing a chance newspaper statement that several large editions of works by American authors, copyrighted previous to 1857, were soon to be issued. It seems to me a scandalous thing that the writers, several of whom are still living, should have no profit from the transaction. The law is sixty-eight years old, and is old fogy to the last degree."

MISS LEE.

Length of the Skirt.

Trailing dresses have already proved so uncomfortable and unsuitable for walking that a number of our most noted ladies' tailors have decided to make a virtue of necessity by setting forth a tailor round skirt for traveling and walking uses.

By a round skirt is not meant one of short length and devoid of a certain graceful sweep, but a carefully sloped model whose greatest length sweeps the ground about two or three inches just at the back, says the New York Post.

Demi-trains are retained for ceremonious calls, made in a carriage, for afternoon entertainments, and for pretty house gowns, and the long train appears only on toilets for elaborate dress occasions.

Recreation Needed.

No home should consider itself well oragnised that does not make some appropriation for recreation. The amusement need not cost more than car fare to the free illustrated lecture or concert, or perhaps only time and desire to walk to the park, where luncheon may be carried from home; but recreation of some decent and enjoyable kind there should be. There is no home so humble but that its hospitality should be extended sometimes to friends, though it be upon the scale only of friendly chat and apples and popcorn.—American Kitchen Magazine.

Housewife and Domestic.

The first effort a woman can make in the management of her household is toward preserving a demeanor of dignified amiability. If she wishes to exact deference, respect and good will, let her make a fair exchange in offering kindly words, a "thank you" for little services, a good night and good morning, and invariable gracious civility without familiarity, says the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The second art to study is that of bestowing tactful correction. To announce that the soup was unfit to eat, and the coffee abominable is discouraging and irritating to a cook, especially when the reprimand is given in an unpleasant tone, as too many misguided women honestly believe is the one and only impressive means. The truly impressive method is to talk the matter over quietly after the meal, point out exactly the fault in the dish, repeat none of the family criticisms, and by advice and encouragement stir the servant's pride and confidence.

Takes to the Stage.

The latest recruit to the ranks of tragedy actresses is no less a person than the widow of the late President Barrios, of Guatemala. Her husband was assassinated in February, 1898, by a British subject named Oscar Solinger, who was pursued and killed by the friends of the murdered President. Mme. Barrios took refuge in this country and lived for some months in San Francisco. It was supposed at the time of her husband's death that he had left a fortune of seevral million dollars, but eventually almost all of the property which stood in his name was seized by alleged creditors and the widow was unable to get any satisfaction from the men who, after a number of attempted revolutions, succeeded to the government. She has since studied for the stage.

MME. BARRIOS.

What a Quiet Girl Does.

The quiet girl never wears high colors in the streets; you do not see her flaunting in brilliant checks when they happen to be in style. When high hats are "in" she does not pile hers so high that it sweeps the cobwebs from the sky. She does not wear the longest train to her tea gown, nor the greatest number of bangles when bangles reign.

But because she does not chatter and giggle, and make herself conspicuous at matinees, does not announce her convictions on all occasions and on all subjects, and profess her admiration at every hand's turn, it must not be supposed that she has no ideas or convictions or enthusiasm. She is quiet because she has no power to make herself heard, to change her condition, or because she is maturing that power.

In the meantime it is the quiet girl who marries earliest, who makes the best match, who fills the niches which her more brilliant sisters leave vacant; who manages the servants, runs the sewing machine, remembers the birthdays, listens to the reminiscences of the old, and often keeps the wolf from the door.—Woman's Life.

A Good Tooth Powder.

In order to keep the teeth in good condition absolute cleanliness is necessary, and they should be brushed night and morning with some good powder. Here is an excellent one: Take half an ounce each of powdered orris root and prepared chalk and add to them one teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda. Mix thoroughly. The soda acts as an antacid and neutralizes the acids of the mouth, while the chalk and orris are gritty enough to remove any particles of food which may cling to the teeth.

Millinery Fad.

An old fad in the milliner's department is showing the feet of the birds. The doves and birds that decorate beauty's headgear hang and dangle their feet over the brim in a most curious and ungainly fashion.

It is unattractive. It's not becoming, and it is most decidedly startling. But it is the correct thing.

The feet are shriveled and yellow, and anything but an ornament, but they are used as such.—New York Telegram.

Rules for Hospitality.

Do not intrude into your hostess' affairs.

Go direct when the call or visit is ended.

Do not make a hobby of personal infirmities.

Do not overdo the matter of entertainment.

Do not forget bathing facilities for the guest.

"Make yourself at home," but not too much so.

In ministering to the guest do not forget the family.

Do not make unnecessary work for others, even servants.

Do not gossip; there are better things in life to think about.

Let no member of the family intrude in the guest chamber.

Conform to the custom of the house, especially as to meals.

Be courteous, but not to the extent of surrendering principles.

When several guests are present, give a share of attention to all.

Introduce games or diversion, but only such as are agreeable.

Better simple food with pleasure than luxuries with annoyance and worry.

Have a comfortable room in readiness, adapted to the needs and tastes of the guest.

A guest need not accept every proposed entertainment; he should be considerate of himself and host.

MAKE FINE WAX FROM OIL.

Residual Oil from Illuminants Makes Article Superior to Honeycomb.

The busy little bee was long ago cheated out of his monopoly in the honey-making business by artificial honey manufacturers. Now he is left to improve the shining hour as best he may, for his corner on wax is rapidly slipping away from him. Paraffin, a product of crude petroleum, is taking the place of beeswax in commerce very largely, and half the "wax" candles of to-day are of pure paraffin and never saw the inside of a beehive.

Whiting, Ind., just over the southern line of Chicago, is the place where this wonderful wax is made. Cleveland, Ohio, has a paraffin works, but it is only a small affair compared to the Whiting plant. The paraffin works are quite distinct and apart from the oil refinery—which is near the lake front—and is quite a large plant in itself. The oil treated here is the "residual oil," or oil from which all illuminating and fuel oils have been distilled in the oil refinery, and which would be deemed practically worthless by an outsider.

As it is pumped from the oil refinery into its first receptacle, the "tar stills"—huge piles of iron and brick with innumerable pipes—it has the appearance of liquid tar or New Orleans molasses or anything else that is dark, sluggish and looks as unlike the beautiful candles as possible. The company has the money to pay for the services of expert chemists and by their skill, combined with continual work, this ropy, dark stream becomes a thing of beauty.

A parallel could easily be drawn between the paraffin works and a beehive, only instead of one building there were many, each under its own manager and each doing its part in converting this worthless looking refuse into wax.

Nothing is wanted. As this "residual oil" is pumped from building to building in its course of purification it in turn leaves a refuse from which axle grease and all kinds of lubricating oils are made. Here they make wool oils,

TAR STILLS—THE REDUCER.

rope and twine oils—some of a pale yellow, others red—and carbons for electric light. The carbons are made from the last stubborn dregs from which every drop of oil has been pressed. The extreme refuse is used as fuel and is called coke. It gives out great heat and is used for heating "stills" and sometimes the homes of the employes. A more interesting process cannot be conceived than that by which wax is made from petroleum. The machinery used is massive and complicated and the manager of each department is an expert in his particular line.—Chicago Chronicle.

Churchill in Philadelphia.

When Lord Randolph Churchill was last in America he visited Philadelphia; and, while collecting statistics relating to the State prisons of Pennsylvania, he was referred to the head of the Prisons Board, Mr. Cadwallader Biddle. Before calling, Lord Randolph fell into the hands of wags of the Union League Club.

"You've got the name wrong," said one of these merry jesters; "it's not Cadwallader Biddle, but Bidcallader Addle."

"Don't mind what he says, Lord Randolph," exclaimed another; "the real name is Wadbillader Caddle."

A third member took the ex-Chancellor of the Exchequer aside and imparted to him in confidence that he was being gulled.

"The actual name," confided his false friend, "is Didbollarder Widdle."

And when Lord Randolph drove to the Prisons Board that afternoon he was so much upset that he stammered:

"Will you take this card in to Mr. Bid—cad—wid—wad—did—dollarder, what's his name? I mean the chief, but I forget his extraordinary nomenclatural combination."

Getting Acquainted.

A Ravenswood man tells this story about a friend of his whose business takes him away from home frequently.

For the last month or so he has had a respite, and his neighbors have noticed the unusual length of his visit at his own house. One of them asked him recently if he had got pretty well acquainted with the members of his family.

"I think I am making an impression," he responded. "My little girl went to her mother the other day and said: 'That man who comes here sometimes spanked me to-day.'"—Chicago News.

British Postoffice Statistics.

The report of the British Postmaster General estimates that the number of postal packets delivered in the United Kingdom during the year ending March 31st, 1899, was 3,496,513,000, which included 2,186,800,000 letters, 382,200,000 postal cards, and 701,500,000 book packages and circulars. The number of letters registered in the United Kingdom was 15,240,000. The total value of property in letters opened in the returned letter office was $3,003,050. These statistics show, by comparison, a steady increase in every department of the British Post Office

Bull Fights in Paris.

Paris is to have its bull fights to add to the excitement of its populace. The arena, however, will not be within the city walls, but at Enghien, which is some twelve minutes' journey by train.

The real cup defender out in this section of the country is the woman whose children got silver mugs for christening presents.

NINA VAN ZANDT.

Woman Who Was Married by Proxy to August Spies, the Anarchist.

Nina Van Zandt, the woman who was married by proxy to August Spies, the anarchist, almost upon the eve of his execution, is now Mrs. Stephen Malato, wife of a prominent Italian politician of Chicago, and has been living quietly since her marriage, four years ago. She now dismisses the escapade of her proxy marriage to Spies by saying: "I was a foolish young girl then." She is the daughter of an expert chemist, who lived in a fine house on Huron street.

NINA VAN ZANDT-MALATO.

When the Haymarket riots occurred she was only 17 years old, and fell in love with Spies when she saw him at the preliminary hearing. She became a constant visitor to the courtroom, always elegantly dressed. She made no secret of her infatuation, sending flowers and meals from expensive restaurants to the jail. Her parents made no effort to break off the attachment. When Spies asked her to marry him she consented, but the sheriff interfered. It was then decided to use a proxy, and Miss Van Zandt was married to Chris Spies, acting for his brother. The girl continued her visits to the jail, and used every endeavor to save her proxy husband's life. For a long time after the anarchist's death Miss Van Zandt shut herself up in her home on Huron street, and denied herself to all callers. She had a marble bust of Spies made.

A GOVERNMENT JOB.

It Very Often Saps the Energy of Its Holder.

The narcotic effect of government employment is notorious, explains an Eastern newspaper writer, but, as in other cases, the victim of the sedative habit does not believe and cannot realize its power until it is too late.

There is a certain fascination to the old and hardened to watch the young struggle against their fate. The same sensations may be secured by observing the operations on a sheet of fly paper. The victim is "foot loose" and is looking around for a favorable opening. In the meantime it seems desirable to have some temporary lodgment—standing-room, as it were—until the delayed opening appears. So the fly steps into the soft Government stickum. At first it does not seem so bad, and it is only when he feels his feet sinking that he decides to quit. But this he finds it not so easy. He pauses and begins to cast about for a little leverage or a way to wade out. In the operation he tangles up another member or two. By this time he suspects that the danger is serious and buzzes frantically. The result is the same, and while he is resting from the exertion he tangles up one wing. The other waves for a while, the emblem of a disappointed and hopeless ambition, now and then buzzing about the time to come when he will quit the Government fly paper and enter business or a profession. Then he rents a larger house and his wife takes a few friends to board. His body is submerged in the Government glue and he is in the Government service for life.

As Secretary of the Civil Service Commission Mr. Doyle has had opportunity to observe the number of Government employes who leave the service for other occupations and then return to it. "A few years ago," said Mr. Doyle, "my attention was called to a man by the excellence of the examination which he passed. He secured the place, but after a year or so he resigned. He had saved money and was going to Yale College. After four years I heard he had graduated and was studying law. Then I heard he had been admitted and had gone to New York to practice. And just the other day," he continued, "the man came in and made application to take the examination for his old place in the department."

Gold in the Philippines.

It is said that there is not a stream rising in the mountains of Luzon—and the same is true of other islands of the Philippine group—which has not its gold-bearing sands. The alluvial deposits of the precious metal have been garnered for many years, but no thorough exploration for gold at its sources in the mountains has ever been made, because the Spaniards were unable to conquer the tribes inhabiting the interior regions. Some of these tribes are said to look upon the digging up of the earth as a sacrilege, and they will not seek gold in that way, nor permit others to do it, lest the wrath of the gods should grow hot against them.

Underground City.

Epernay, in France, is a vast subterranean city, the streets for miles being hewn out of solid chalk, flanked with piles of champagne of all blends and qualities. The largest champagne manufacturers in Epernay possess underground cellars which cover no fewer than forty-five acres, and contain 5,000,000 bottles of wine.

Fans.

It is no unusual thing for a vessel plying between Japan and London to carry 1,000,000 fans as a single item of its cargo.

Wisconsin Christmas Trees.

As early as September orders were placed in Wisconsin for 50,000 Christmas trees, to be shipped East.

It is no disgrace to work for a living, but the living some men get for their work is disgraceful.

SERMONS OF THE WEEK

Prejudice.—Nothing is more injurious to proof or logic than prejudice.—Prof. Felix Adler, Ethical Culture, New York City.

Christian Scientists.—Christian Scientists believe that God is infinite love, the beautiful source of all life, the great physician who heals all our diseases.—Wm. G. Ewing, Christian Scientist, Chicago, Ill.

Blessed in Work.—A secret of blessedness in work is the conviction that we are doing the work that God wishes us to do, for the benefit of our fellow-men.—Rev. Dr. Kent, Congregationalist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Transformation.—The transformations nature works upon things dumb and dead are as nothing compared to the transformation that God can work upon man's soul.—Rev. Dr. Hillis, Congregationalist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Church of God.—The church of God knows no classes and no masses. Before its altars stand only men and women and its ordinations and sacrament make no distinctions.—Rev. H. E. Foss, Methodist, Bangor, Me.

Unbelief.—Unbelief is the sin of all sins. We become very much exercised over our special sins—but the sin of all sins is the rejection of Jesus Christ, our Lord and Savior.—Rev. W. B. Stradley, Episcopalian, Atlanta, Ga.

The Living Christ.—The living Christ must abide with us in the church and everywhere. What he will not say we must not utter. In his steps is the one safe path for us to take.—Rev. Albert Hyde, Congregationalist, Toledo, Ohio.

The New Church.—The new church is often misrepresented, some claiming that we are Spiritualists, others that we do not accept the divinity of Christ. We found our faith on the Bible.—Rev. Julian K. Smyth, Swedenborgian, New York.

Skeptical.—Half the scientific men of Europe—in England and America a much smaller proportion—are skeptical of the integrity of the human mind when the heart and conscience are involved.—Rev. S. R. Calthrop, Unitarian, Syracuse, N. Y.

The Jewish Creed.—The keynote of the Jewish creed has been holiness unto the Lord. It has made them a people distinguished for virtue, temperance and purity, the chosen people of God.—Rev. F. E. Williams, Presbyterian, Baltimore, Md.

Weakness of the Christian.—The conscious weakness of the Christian is a virtue whose prayer finds answer in the co-operation of the victorious hand of God, the glory of which the firmament declares.—Rev. W. D. Thatcher, Baptist, Philadelphia, Pa.

Christians.—Christians must obey that final command of their risen Lord to "go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." This does not mean that every Christian should be a foreign missionary.—Rev. E. A. Woods, Baptist, San Francisco, Cal.

Character Study.—Character study is always interesting. To search for the springs of human action, and, as far as possible, discover the reason for the divine attitude toward any given man, is a matter of keenest interest.—Rev. W. F. Lloyd, Methodist, Louisville, Ky.

Inspiration of Christ.—To-day is certainly marked by a return of the inspiration of Christ. The restrictive form of Christianity comes far short of being the ideal; it does not tell of his spirit in any form, nor reveal the broad possibilities of the Christian life.—Rev. J. S. Penman, Bangor, Me.

Whole Personalities.—When desiring to share the father's life, we try to perfect ourselves as whole personalities, striving in all the functions of body and soul to become a finished instrument of divine activity that is religion; that is salvation.—Rev. Lester Bradner, Episcopalian, New York.

Divine Institutions.—It is quite universally believed that there are three particularly divine institutions—the family, the church and the state. These fundamental elements which enter so thoroughly into the life of every individual, come out of the heart.—Rev. C. O. Rowlinson, Independent, Indianapolis, Ind.

First Cry of the Soul.—The first cry of the soul is that the past may be blotted out, forgotten, regarded as though it were not. Every hope for the future seems to lie in escape from its bondage. This desire fosters belief in atoning sacrifice.—Rev. A. Y. Raymond, Congregationalist, Schenectady, N. Y.

The Body.—The body, like the mind and soul, is an attribute of whom we call God. But while the body may be dissolved to the last analysis as a physical substance, the mind cannot be comprehended at all, except that consciousness feels its force, so to speak.—T. B. Wilson, Theosophite, Kansas City, Mo.

Critical Study of the Bible.—The critical study of the Bible has uncovered the Word of God itself to the modern world. It is not too much to say that we have gained a new Bible. The Bible itself is the same Bible, but in our age the distinction has become plain between the Bible itself and the opinions of men respecting it. We are no longer compelled to study the Bible behind the veil of these opinions, but may study it face to face. This study is regarded by some as destructive. It is destructive of all sound human opinions about the Bible. It is not destructive of the Bible itself.—Rev. Dr. Briggs, Episcopalian, New York City.

Origin of Goldfish.

Goldfish are of Chinese origin. They were originally found in a large lake near Mt. Tsientsing, and were first brought to Europe in the seventeenth century. The first in France came as a present to Mme. de Pompadour.

Russian official: "You can't stay in this country, sir." Traveler: "Then I'll leave it." Official: "Have you a permit to leave?" Traveler: "No, sir." Official: "Then you cannot go. I give you twenty-four hours to make up your mind as to what you shall do."—Tit-Bits.

AUBURN WEEKLY COURIER.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF DeKALB COUNTY

JAMES A. BARNS, Editor.

Registered at the Auburn, Indiana, postoffice as second-class matter.

THURSDAY... NOVEMBER 30, 1899.

John Ralston Dead.

Mrs. A. J. Ralston has received a letter from Waxahatchie, Texas, announcing the death of John Ralston, at his home there, a week ago last Sunday, November 19, of paralysis. He had been suffering from a stroke for some time, and it is supposed had had another.

Mr. Ralston was well known in Auburn and over the county, and had always been prominent in county affairs. At the county election October 10, 1854, he was a candidate for county treasurer against Edward Fosdick, but lost it by the small margin of 27. Five years later, October 11, 1859, he was a candidate for clerk against Edward H. Taylor and got it by the small majority of 5. October 13, 1863, he was elected for a second term, beating Dr. William M. Mercer by 28. He served his full two terms with credit, retiring when J. R. Lanning took the office in 1867. A few years later he moved south and has made his home there since.

The Waterloo Plan.

[Chicago Record:]

A new departure which has been inaugurated by the Waterloo (Ind.) high school is a commendable one which might well be adopted by the schools of the country. About 100 of the scholars have signed their names to the following: Whareas, we, the members of the Waterloo high school, have awakened to reality, that life is much what we make it, and feeling a desire to make much of life and to take full advantage of our privileges; and, whereas, we desire to grow up as noble citizens of this, the greatest government on earth; and, whareas, we feel that truth knowledge can be obtained only when it goes hand in hand with discipline and order, we fully declare that, in high school convened, this the 7th day of November, 1899, we have enacted and unanimously adopted the following "Rules of Etiquette," and do by the signing of our names hereto cheerfully and sincereuy resolve to observe the following rules as far as in us lies and to profit by these rules:

1. We will not communicate nor ask to communicate while in the school building.
2. We will keep refined positions in our school seats.
3. We will cultivate a light step.
4. We will not ask for indivdual favors.
5. We will prepare all writing material in the morning.
6. We will make the school room a place of quietude.
7. We will not allow others to be more polite to us than we are to them.
8. We will not make ourselves odious by the use of tobacco.
9. We will, on passing passing people in the street, give them half the walk.
10. We will not jeer at any one in the street or off the street.
11. We, the young gentlemen, will tip our hats to the ladies.
12. We will avoid being boisterous wherever we may be.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Sophia Lane, who died at the home of her son, Elmer Lane, on south Jackson street, November 27, 1899, was born in Herkimer county, New York, June 23, 1823; aged 76 years, 5 months and 4 days. She was united in marriage to Mr. L. E. Lane June 1839. To them were born twelve children, seven boys and five girls, seven of whom preceded her to the spirit land. In the year 1846 they moved to Detroit, Mich., where they lived two years. Two years later they moved to Wisconsin among the Indians where they endured all the hardships of pioneer life. In 1864 they left Wisconsin and moved to Rantoul, Ill., where they have since lived. Her death was caused by a fall which she received while coming here to visit her children. Mother Lane was a believer in the saving merits of Christ and died in that blessed faith. She leaves to mourn her death a companion, five children, besides other friends. The funeral service was conducted from the home of Elmer Lane on south Jackson street yesterday at 10:30 a. m. Interment took place in Woodlawn cemetery, J. D. Brosy officiating, assisted by Mrs. Ehlers.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to return our sincere thanks to the friends and neighbors whose kindly offices were so freely rendered during the illness and following the death of our beloved wife and mother. These favors will always be remembered.—L. E. LANE AND CHILDREN.

NERVITA PILLS Restore VITALITY, LOST VIGOR AND MANHOOD

Cure Impotency, Night Emissions and wasting diseases, all effects of self-abuse, or excess and indiscretion. A nerve tonic and blood builder. Brings the pink glow to pale cheeks and restores the fire of youth. By mail 50c per box, 6 boxes for $2.50; with a written guarantee to cure or refund the money. Send for circular. Address,

NERVITA MEDICAL CO.
Clinton & Jackson Sts., CHICAGO, ILL.

Davenport, The Druggist.

CAUGHT BY BLOODHOUNDS.

Three Young Men Arrested at Antwerp for the Hicksville Murder.

Editor Schell of the Hicksville News has kindly furnished us with additional particulars of the murder of Night Policeman Rath of that place, an account of which was given in Saturday evening's COURIER, which was in the main correct. Three separate assaults were made upon the officer, and the fellows only disappeared after his cries for help had aroused several families living near the scene. Rath was taken to the Swilley House where he died in about forty minutes. He could not tell who the parties were.

A telegram was sent to Oakwood, and a pack of bloodhounds were on the scene in a few hours. The animals tracked the parties through alleys and back lots to where they had taken a rig, and soon afterward word came from Antwerp of the suspicous actions of three young men there—Ed. Johnson, Floyd Rumbaugh and Frank Zuber. They had been at Hicksville a few evenings before accompanied by women of bad character, and were driven out of town by the policeman. They then swore to get even with him; on Friday night had hired a rig to go to Hicksville. When they procured their rig at Hicksville to go to Payne they incautiously told of having had a big fight, and when the sheriff learned of these facts the bloodhounds were loaded in rigs and taken over there. When put down upon the barn floor where the young men had alighted on their return the dogs became greatly excited and soon tracked the young men to their various homes and hiding places. They were taken in charge by the officers and brought to Hicksville in the early morning, but owing to the great excitement among the people and possibility of a lynching, were hurried off to Defiance on a freight train.

Circumstantial evidence against the three young men is complete and no doubts are entertained that they are the guilty parties. All day Saturday hundreds of people visited the scene of the crime and Sunday groups of citizens discussed the matter which was the sole topic of conversation. Excitement is at a fever heat and the citizens threaten to make a sweeping clean-up of local and foreign suspicious characters. The murdered officer leaves a wife and two children.

And Still Another.

From the Goshen Daily Democrat we learn that wreck number six on the B. & O. occured at Syracuse about 8 o'clock yesterday morning. Fortunately no one was killed, but three engines and a number of cars were demolished. The accident was due to the heavy fog which prevailed at the time.

A double-header was laboring eastward with a long string of loads and engines were puffing away with all their massive strength. At the same time an extra freight train was creeping westward. They attempted the impossible feat of passing on the same track and with the usual result. The enginemen saw the danger in time to jump and all escaped injury with the exception of an engineer who was slightly hurt in a fall. The wrecked engines were numbered 764, 960 and 795. The track was blockaded for several hours before the wreckage could be cleared. The accident happned at the siding just west of the station at Syracuse.

CONCORD.

The farmers are getting along well with their cornhusking. The weather has been favorable for them.

Mrs. Ida Long, son and daughter are spending a few days with her father, Mr. Uriah Johnson, and will return to their home at Toledo in the near future.

Quite a few gathered at the home of Mr. Fred Morr on Wednesday of last week. Those present were, Mrs. John Morr, Mrs. Jennie Grumm, Mrs. Lottie Tate, Mrs. Betsy Shull, Mrs. Josie Morr, Mrs. Liddie Morr, Miss Martha George, Mrs. Dan Morr, Mrs. Thomas Morr and daughter Beulah.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Layman are very happy over their new-born baby girl.

HOW TO PREVENT A COLD.

After exposure or when you feel a cold coming on take a dose of Foley's Honey and Tar. It never fails and will prevent Pneumonia or Consumption if taken in time. H. B. McCORD.

Paris Pawnshops.

London Chronicle: All sorts and conditions of people patronize the Paris Mont de Piete, or municipal pawnshop. A report just issued shows that among the borrowers last year were 8,500 working people, 8,497 employes, 6,564 merchants, tradesmen and manufacturers, and 3,019 representatives of the liberal professions. Rentiers, who live on their dividends, frequently seek the help of the friendly Mont, and 3,209 of this class are among the borrowers. The institution is looked upon more as in the nature of a bank than is the pawnshop. It advances money at low rates of interest on any form of security, including furniture and railway shares, and is used by the tradesman short of capital as well as by laborers out of work.

K. O. T. M. Notice.

Notice is hereby given that on Wednesday evening, December 6, will occur the annual election of officers of Auburn Tent No. 51, K.O.T.M., also one trustee for three years. Bear in mind, Sir Knights.

H. E. COE, Commander.
GEO. H. SNYDER, Record Keeper.

The Eminent Kidney and Bladder Specialist.

The Discoverer of Swamp-Root at Work in His Laboratory.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Then the richness of the blood—the albumen—leaks out and the sufferer has Bright's Disease, the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root the new discovery is the true specific for kidney, bladder and urinary troubles. It has cured thousands of apparently hopeless cases, after all other efforts have failed. At druggists in fifty-cent and dollar sizes. A sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling about Swamp-Root and its wonderful cures. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. and mention this paper.

News of the Day.

Our forces are still pressing on after Aguinaldo, or in the direction where he is supposed to be. We take a town or two every day and sometimes several of them. A steamer from San Fabian, reached Manila Sunday with 115 rescued Spanish prisoners and $75,000 in insurgent government money they had recently captured from the Filipinos. Wheaton has captured three old fashioned cannons, 12,000 rounds of Maxim cartridges, 1,000 shrapnel, 800 pounds of powder, and some rifles and other property. He also liberated seven American prisoners and 94 Spanish prisoners.

An alarming rumor comes from Cuba that some of the restless spirits there are planning a rebellion against the United States. Whether this is true or not, our government should make a public, official statement as to just what we are going to do, how long we expect to hold the island and just what kind of government we expect to leave them. A frank statement like this may save much trouble, and it is due to them, for they have our solemn promise before war began, that we would not claim the island for our own.

In South Africa the situation is changed but little. The eastern British column, that is to relieve Ladysmith, has done the most effective work. The battle of Beacon Hill proves a real victory and the Boers have not recovered from it. They are falling back toward Ladysmith and the British trying to get ahead of them, but are not likely to do it. The Boers destroyed a massive bridge at Frere, and will likely now destroy that at Colenso, the town they have held for some weeks, but are now likely to lose. If the British get it back, they will be near Ladysmith and open up communication with that city. This would relieve the present danger there.

Breeches on the Wrong Man.

Bret Harté is so frequently complimented as the author of "Little Breeches," that he is almost as sorry it was ever written as is Col. John Hay, who would prefer his fame to rest on more ambitious work. A gushing lady, who prided herself on her literary tastes, said to him once: "My dear Mr. Harte, I am so delighted to meet you. I have read everything you ever wrote, but of all your dialect verse there is none that compares to your "Little Breeches." "I quite agree with you, madam," said Mr. Harte, "but you have put the breeches on the wrong man."

From the Royal Table.

In the Austrian court it is contrary to custom for perishable articles to appear twice on the imperial table. The result is large perquisites for the attendants. To one man falls all uncorked bottles, to another the wine left in the glasses, to another the joints, and to another still the game or the sweets. Every morning a sort of market is held in the basement of the palace, where the Viennese come to purchase the remains.

Magnetism in Bricks.

From time to time experts have noticed certain unexplainable peculiarities in magnetic instruments in various buildings. Electricians now declare, as the result of experiments and investigations, that the vagaries are due to the presence of magnetism in bricks. They are made of earthy matter containing a greater or less proportion of magnetic iron ore.

Claimed Spur Money.

The choir boys of St. George's chapel, Windsor castle, in accordance with ancient custom, have the right to claim five shillings as "spur money" from any military man wearing his spurs in church during service. On a recent Sunday an officer had innocently infringed this regulation, and at the close of the service the boys, to his surprise, demanded the fine.

Plants for Commercial Use.

It is interesting to know that 4,200 species of plants are gathered and used for commercial purposes in Europe. Of these 420 have a perfume that is pleasing, and enter largely into the manufacture of scents and soaps. There are more species of white flowers gathered than of any other color—1,124 in all.

Vegetarians' Hearts.

The heart of a vegetarian beats on an average of 58 to the minute, that of the meat-eater 75. This represents a difference of 20,000 beats in 24 hours.

Guest Day at the L. L. C.

Last Saturday was enjoyed by both members and guests. Over seventy-five were present and listened attentively to an address by Mrs. Ehlers, subject, "A White Life for Two." Mrs. Ehlers is too well known to the ladies of Auburn for us to make an elaborate report of her work; suffice it to say that it was most excellent and that she handled the subject with delicacy and yet with power. Mrs. Ralston gave a carefully prepared and very valuable paper, entitled "The Moral Influence of Diet." Both papers were listened to with earnest attention. The interest of both papers was increased by the intelligent reading of them by the writers.

After current news, the club adjourned for a social hour. Delicious punch was served by an efficient committee. These guest days are very pleasant to the members of the club, and are no doubt also pleasant to the guests. The club will meet next Saturday with Mrs. Husselman.

NOTICE.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on two 25 cent bottles or boxes of Baxter's Mandrake Bitters, if it fails to cure constipation, billiousness, sick-headache, jaundice, loss of appetite, sour stomach, dyspepsia, liver complaint, or any of the diseases for which it is recommended. It is highly recommended as a spring tonic and blood purifier. Sold liquid in bottles, and tablets in boxes. Price 25 cents for either. One package of either guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. E. M. FISCHLER, F. E. DAVENPORT, HOWARD MCCORD.

Back from Cuba.

E. J. Rickard got back from Cuba a few days ago, having served for the past six months in Cuba. He had joined the Thirty-first Michigan, and has been at Camp Alger and other camps including Knoxville, Tenn. They were there last spring, and though the war was over, the company wanted to see service, and having a governor who had influence, they were sent over there, leaving Knoxville in April and remaining in Cuba nearly seven months. We believe he had seen service before, when quite young. He comes home looking in very fair health. His son, Bert, is here after serving his three years in the regular army.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue a certified copy of a decree to me directed from the clerk of the DeKalb Circuit Court, in a cause wherein the state of Indiana ex rel Frank P. Seller, Auditor of DeKalb county, Indiana, is plaintiff, and Jerry Andrews, Mary Andrews, Jacob W. Stout, Matilda Stout, Ed Haggerty, Mettie Haggerty and William Liberens are defendants, requiring me to make the sum of seventeen hundred thirty-two dollars [$1732] with interest on said decree and costs, I will expose at public sale to the highest bidder, on between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. of said day, at the door of the court house of DeKalb county, Indiana, the rents and profits for a term not exceeding seven years of the following described real estate, to-wit;

Saturday, December 23, 1899,

Commencing at the northeast corner of the west half of the northeast quarter of section eighteen ...18.. in township thirty-three..33.. north of range fifteen ..15..east, and running due west one hundred four and one-half...104½.. rods; thence south one hundred twenty-seven and one-third..127⅓.. rods; thence east one hundred four and one-half..104½..rods; thence north north one hundred twenty-seven and one third..127⅓..rods to place of beginning, in DeKalb county, Innlana.

If such rents and profits will not sell for a sufficient sum to satisfy said decree, interest and costs, I will at the same time and place expose to public sale the fee simple of said real estate or so much thereof as may be sufficient to discharge said decree, interest and costs.

JOHN H. HATHAWAY,
Sheriff of DeKalb County, Indiana.

D. M. Link, Attorney for Plaintiff.
Auburn, Indiana, November 28, 1899.

Flowers Under Artificial Light.

Nearly all flowers in which there is a notable proportion of blue are unattractive when seen under artificial light. Hence purple and lilac flowers do not usually look well at night, though there are exceptions, owing to the intensity of the red in some purples, which comes out well at night and causes them to appear as crimsons. Yellows invariably lose brilliancy and pale yellows become bad whites under gaslights, but reds and crimsons and all shades of pink and white retain their beauty, and, as a rule, green leaves are pleasing under any light.

Drinking Restricted.

No person in Norway may spend more than 6 cents at one visit to a drinking place.

IF THE sewers of a dwelling are faulty, or get clogged, it soon becomes so foul that life is not safe in it. That is just what happens to you when the Liver or Kidneys fail in their work. The first little signs are backache, poor appetite, changes in urine and sometimes bowel troubles and dropsical swellings. Do not neglect any of these; Deadly disorders may follow—STOP the mischief in time, use which is sure to bring speedy relief and finally a permanent cure. At druggists, $1.00 per bottle.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver & Kidney Balm

THE DR. J. H. MCLEAN MEDICINE CO. ST. LOUIS, MO.

For sale by F. E. Davenport.

BUTLER.

Our sick people are reported as improving generally.

R. C. Campbell visited Indianapolis last week as a delegate to the grand lodge of I. O. O. F.

Mrs. Vandermetter, a sister of Mrs. I. Campbell of Fort Wayne, is visiting with them this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, the aged parents of Mrs. Albert Price of Fort Wayne, are visiting here.

The M. E. protracted meeting closed Sunday night, after a continuous service of over three weeks. While the results were not a landslide, still much good was accomplished, and the church materially strengthened by an influx of the best young men and women, and a liberal sprinkling of the older ones. Rev. Gee has made a favorable and lasting impresion on our people. The way is now open for the other churches to reap plentifully from the seeds thus bountifully scattered abroad.

The writer paid a second visit to the coming metropolis of Northern Indiana las week—Almira, Hayward City, Straw, or whatever name that may be by the by. It seemed as if a magician's wand had been stretched over an unbroken landscape in the six weeks intervening. The winding pathway, down lanes, across shee pastures and blazed way through the woods, had given place to a straight, well-graded highway. The little piles of sand and stone had developed into nearly a dozen substantial frame dwellings. The dozen or more tents had been folded and taken to places new. The rude foundation of the cement plant had put on shape, and massive walls stretched around an enclosure for more than a thousand feet. Busy workmen were in evidence everywhere, streets began to show outlines, and all in all there is every evidence of a town in the near future, where the sporting frog erstwhile held nightly concerts.

GIVEN UP BY FOUR DOCTORS.

BEAVER DAM, O.

My daughter, after being treated by four doctors and being given up for lost, a neighbor recommended Foley's Kidney Cure. Today she is able to walk several miles without fatigue. I feel we would have lost her if it was not for your medicine.—Respectfully, MRS. J. M. BAILEY.—H. B. MCCORD.

CEDAR.

Geo. Weygandt is trying work in the Garrett shops.

Three days' service at the church here this week.

Jacob G. Hess has erected a picket fence along his farm.

Jacob Zern of St. Joe, Ind., spent last Sunday with friends at this place.

John Stonestreet and wife made a business trip to Kendallville one day last week.

Dr. Clevenger of Garrett and J. M. Smith of our place spent Monday of this week hunting.

Wm Zern is running the sawmill for Hagg & Shaffer, that is, he runs the lumber away from the saw.

The friends and neighbors of Sam Downend met at his place on Friday last and husked a nice lot of corn for him.

We understand that the deaf and dumb detective that was circulating in this vicinity a week or so ago has departed, leaving an unpaid board bill.

Electric Bell Substitute.

A substitute for an electric bell has been devised by a deaf couple. Not being able to hear the bell themselves and having no servant, they have fixed up an arrangement by means of which, when the button at the front door is pressed, the electric lights all over the place light up, and remain so until the button is released. By a reversal of the arrangement, all the lights are switched off when the button is operated after dark.

FOR HOARSENESS.

Geo. A. Pontius, Upper Sandusky, O., writes: I have been using Foley's Honey and Tar for sore throat and hoarseness and find it the best remedy I ever tried. It stopped the Cough immediately and relieved all soreness.—H. B. MCCORD.

Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine.

Rotary Motion and Ball Bearings.

Porter Depew, Agent.

A POINTER IF YOU WANT THE BEST

WE HAVE IT.

Our Assortment is Complete.

OUR SPECIALTIES: Rings Watches Novelties

We carry the largest and best line in the county.

WE ATTRIBUTE OUR SUCCESS TO

1. QUALITY which is unquestioned.
2. STYLE always up-to-date.
3. PRICE always the lowest.

D. A. Hodge,

THE UP-TO-DATE JEWELER.

IF YOU ARE INVITED

To the Thanksgiving Ball....

Don't forget that your feet, well and comfortably shod will add grace and beauty to your costume. We have just received a handsome line of dancing pumps for ladies and gentlemen. Call and see them.

BISHOP & BEIDLER,
Your Shoemakers.

Now Is the Time

TO BUY a

Wilson Heating and Ventilating Machine

They are the Greatest of all Modern Scientific Inventions.

They Save Fuel, Will Burn Anything, Perfectly Safe & Clean

Will Hold Fire and are Easily Regulated. We sold Eighty-Nine of them last winter, and as far as we know they are all giving good satisfaction. They are moderate in price and within the reach of all.

Buy none but the genuine Wilson and you will be both pleased and satisfied.

SOLD ONLY BY

Culbertson & Boland,

Attention Farmers.

The Auburn Handle Factory will pay the highest cash price for ash handle block delivered at their factory on the Lake Shore tracks, cut 58 inches long. Also want ash logs cut 9½, 14½ and 19½ feet long. All timber to be smooth and sound. Will also take basswood cut 4 feet long and 8 inches in diameter and up, left round with bark on. Will pay $3 per cord.—J. M. CHERRY & CO.

Want to Sell Your Farm?

We have a buyer for a 40-acre, one for 80-acre and one for 100 to 160-acre farm. If you want to sell call.

MOODY & RICKEY,
Kiblinger Building Auburn.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

IF YOU WANT RELIABLE MERCHANDISE GO TO LACKEY'S

G. W. LACKEY

..Dry Goods..
Carpets and Millinery,

AUBURN, IND.

IT PAYS TO TRADE AT THE BIG STORE!

The advantages of this Big Store are never ending. Every offering includes latest styles, thoroughly dependable quality, exceptionally moderate prices. Here is a partial list of the good things now on sale.

Underwear.

Cold weather comfort for men, women and children in reliable, well-made qualities. Numerous variety, every piece positively matchless.

Men's heavy weight natural wool Shirts and Drawers in all sizes, worth $1.00 per suit each..... 35c
Men's heavy Merino (shirts only) while they last at..... 19c
Ladies' Ribbed Cotton, heavy fleeced Vests and Pants, all sizes..... 23c
Children's heavy weight Merino Shirts and Drawers, sizes 16 to 34. Each from..... 8 to 25c
Boys' fleeced lined Shirts and Drawers, sizes 28 to 34, per suit..... 48c

Blankets and Comfortables.

These items are strong lessons in economy. Full size, perfect in every way.

Good fleeced Cotton Blankets 60c quality at 45c per pair or each..... 23c
Extra heavy fleeced Cotton Blankets at per pair.....50c, 75c, 85c and 1.00
10-4 Wool Blankets in white and grey, per pair..... 2.50
Better quality Wool Blankets per pair $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00.
The Iroquois, plain or in handsome plaids, 11-4 size, per pair..... 4.50
The Royal and Columbian, pure wool, in plain and fancy, 11-4 size per pair..... 5.00
Well-made Comfortables, 11-4 size, filled with clean cotton, worth $1.50..... 1.23
Better grades, 11-4 size, nice bright patterns, containing fully five pounds clean cotton..... 1.50 to 1.75

Ladies' Skirts.

Good quality flannel skirt patterns, containing 2¼ yards, good styles, 75c values, price... 50c
Merritts celebrated skirts, strictly all-wool, fulled, nice patterns, the $1.50 quality, our price..... 1.25
Black Mercerized Skirts, lined throughout, worth $1.00, our price..... 88c

Ladies' Tailor-Made Suits.

Perfect in fit and finish—perfect in style. Tailor-made Suits of Orford Grey and Cadet Blue Venitians. Jackets silk lined, worth $10.00, now..... 7.50
Suits in Royal and Navy Venitians, silk lined Jackets, percaline lined skirts. Worth $12.50 now..... 10.50
One lot suits in Navy Blue and Black Coverts well made throughout, worth $7.50, now.. 5.00

Flannelette Wrappers.

If flannelette was used for nothing else it would merit distinction for its adaptability as a fabric for women's wrappers. The spinners make it soft, light and warmthful. The designers and dyers do their part creditably and we look after the making and pricing.

Women's wrappers made of striped and figured flannelette, ruffle over the shoulders, skirt finished with wide ruffle; would be cheap at $1.25, our price..... 98c
Wrappers made of novelty flannelettes, yokes trimmed with braid, skirt finished with wide ruffle at....$1.23, $1.39 and up to $2 98
Eiderdown Dressing Sacques in Pink, Blues Cardinal, etc.; beautiful creations at from 75c to..... $3 00

Tuesday's Daily.

—John Clark's baby continues to improve.

—FOR SALE:—A coal stove, inquire of Mrs. Nagle on VanBuren street.

—Adam Hohman of Sedan called today, and now he is a 1900 man on our list.

—Hear the Mozart Symphony Club at Henry's opera house next Saturday evening.

—WANTED:—A partner, in a good paying business, in Auburn. Inquire at this office. Dec.2

—To be thrice happy, use Russ' Bleaching Blue; don't be deceived by fraudulent imitations.

—Miss Inez Sponhour and her uncle, David Butler, went to Kalamazoo Mich., today to visit friends.

—Seats will be on sale at Davenport's Thursday morning for the Mozart Symphony Club. Telephone 513.

—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rinehart of Jackson township spent the day with the family of Nathan Johnson.

—Mr. Essig of the Junction has purchased the property on south Jackson street occupied by Chas. Picker, jr.

—The ladies of the Lutheran church will hold their nickel social with Mrs. Charles Pommert Friday afternoon.

—Wm. McIntosh was able to come up town today after being confined to the house about a week by sickness.

—We had a call yesterday from A. J. Emerick and wife, Mrs. B. S. Wiltrout and Mrs. Geo. Wiltrout, all of Fairfield township.

—See D. A. Hodge's advt. He is right in line for the finest holiday trade in holiday and everyday goods.

road company.

—G. I. Patterson and wife were here today and he was the next man to pay to the first day of the new century, January 1, 1901.

—Your negative made at Neher's studio will not leave town, and you can have duplicates made at any time. At Hoffman's old stand.

—The people have the money. We have the goods. Anything and everything in holiday goods at D. A. HODGE'S, the up to-date jeweler.

—WANTED:—Black Walnut logs for timber. Highest cash prices paid for same. Address, The Sanders & Egbert Co., Goshen, Ind. 8

—Yesbera's special sale of tailor made to your measure suits at $18, $20 and $22. You men who are hard to fit should take advantage of this sale.

—People who want the best, newest and "swellest" 'Xmas presents, go to D. A. Hodge's Store. We always have the latest, best and cheapest. Dec.2

—Little over three weeks till 'Xmas. Our 'Xmas specialties are nearly all in. An invitation is extended to you to visit our store.—Auburn's clothier, G. H. YESBERA.

—LOST:—On Monday evening, a silver watch with small gold chain attached. The watch is not in running order. Finder please leave at the COURIER office.

—Unclaimed letters remaining in the postoffice, week ending Saturday, Nov. 25, 1899: Mrs. Minnie Steele, Miss M. A. Gruter, Estella Eva, Rev. W. Reese, D. J. Taylor & Co.

—D. S. Segner, now at Williston, Ohio, sends his Thanksgiving check to the COURIER, and from the fact he says nothing about it, we suppose he and his family are well and prospering.

—The democratic state central committee will meet at Indianpaolis December 12, to consider several important matters. Thomas R. Marshall of Columbia City is the member for this district.

—Dr. Fitch, secretary of the town board of health, has received a number of diphtheria culture tubes, for use in determining doubtful cases, and physicians can obtain them by calling on the doctor.

—Isaac Grogg, corner Jackson and Fifth streets, makes wood tanks and cisterns cheaper than any other man in county. It will pay you to see him before leaving your order. His work is always first-class. w&d.

—Miss Maud Trover goes to Chicago next Tuesday, where she is to take the musical part of an entertainment by an elocutionist. She also has an invitation to attend the wedding of a friend there. DeKalb people are always in demand.

—A company has been organized at Fort Wayne to build an electric railroad from Hicksville, Ohio, to Marion, Ind., a distance of eighty miles. It is claimed that this is not a road on paper but that the cars will be running within the next year.

—Makes the blood pure, renovates the entire system, gives new life and strength,—Beggs' Blood Purifier. "It cured me of a long-standing and chronic case of fistula."—R. A. Bently, Summit, Fla. Endorsed by physicians. Guaranteed not to fail. Try it.—Sold by H. B. MCCORD.

—A young man from Auburn who spent Sunday Nov. 19, in Butler says he went to the M. E. Sunday school and into the basemet with the Men's Bible Class. Two editors in different sides of the political fence were present and instead of discussing the lesson of the day it was consumed over very earthly politics and our Auburn man was told that this was the rule rather than the exception in that class.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE.

Many of your friends or people whom you know of have contracted consumption, pneumonia or other fatal diseases by neglect of a simple cold or cough. Foley's Honey and Tar, a safe and pleasant cough medicine, would have saved them. It's guaranteed.—H. B. MCCORD.

Desirable Thanks Giving Offerings

BUT GOOD AT ANY TIME

Especially desirable because the prices touch the lowest point, but the goods are known as best and live up to it in every respect. Its a splendid good saving to make your November selections here, as these are decided values, Ribbon Sale of Moire and Taffetas in all colors, 25c values to be had at 15c yard. Good opportunity to buy your ribbons for fancy work for the holidays.

Ribbons that sold for 10c-15c in plaids, all silk, beautiful goods, we will let go per yd 5c
Plush Capes that sold for $6 and $7, 30 inch cape, full sweep to go at..... $5
Call and see before buying and be convinced.
Plush Capes—Plain 32 inch long full sweep capes that sold for $8 we will sell for..... $5
Portiers in the tapeatries; new goods in red, green, brown $2.50
Beautiful portiers in the fancy tapestries, per pair and up 2.50
Our floss, children's fleeced line at 10c. Beat anything ever sold for the price.
Handkerchiefs for ladies' and children consist of all new things in the line running from 1c to 50c each
Head Shawls all-wool in plaids and plain for..... 24c
Men's Corduroy Pants, the best of quality for per pair.... $1.98
Men's wool pants from 98c to $1.24

Men's Overalls with or without bibs, good values at 45c, we will sell them at 29c try a pair
Ladies' Ribbed Wool Hose at 15c or 2 pair..... 25c
Roman Open Work for table and dresser scarfs in all the new styles from..... 35 to 69c
Ladies' All-Wool Merritts, full cassamere flannel knit, from $1 to $1.69—ask to see them.
Ice Wool in black and white to knit your scarf with—a skein... 10c
LAMPS Beautiful new goods, the late shapes that will not cost you very much to buy one from 75c to..... $4.50
MEDALLIONS, beautiful new goods. In order to make an early selection, call and see our line. We have them from 19c 98c

Bazar Store.

Hand Painted Medallion Free!

A HAND PAINTED 3½ Medallion of yourself, will be given with each dozen platino cabinet pictures This is a special offer, call early.

Pictures on Handkerchiefs

Postal Cards, etc. We can please you in any kind of photographic work.

Lybarger The Photographer,
N. Main St.,
AUBURN, IND.

HUMPHREYS' VETERINARY SPECIFICS

A.A. CURES FEVERS, Long Fever, Milk Fever.
B.B. CURES SPRAINS, Lameness, Rheumatism.
C.C. CURES EPIZOOTIC, Distemper.
D.D. CURES WORMS, Bots, Grubs.
E.E. CURES COUGHS, Colds, Influenza.
F.F. CURES COLIC, Bellyache, Diarrhea.
G.G. Prevents MISCARRIAGE.
H.H. CURES KIDNEY & BLADDER DISORDERS.
I.I. CURES MANGE, Skin Diseases.
J.K. CURES BAD CONDITION, Starting Coat.

50c. each; Stable Case, Ten Specifics, Book, &c., $5. At druggists or sent prepaid on receipt of price. Humphreys' Medicine Co., Cor. William & John Sts., New York. VETERINARY MANUAL SENT FREE.

NERVOUS DEBILITY, VITAL WEAKNESS and Prostration from Overwork or other causes.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specific No. 28, in use over 40 years, the only successful remedy.

$1 per vial, or 5 vials and large vial powder, for $5. Sold by Druggists, or sent post-paid on receipt of price. HUMPHREYS' MED. CO., Cor. William & John Sts., New York.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Safe. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse dangerous substitutions and imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists.
CHICHESTER CHEMICAL CO.
2100 Madison Square, PHILA., PA.
Mention this paper.

PILES Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment will cure Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles. It absorbs the tumors, allays the itching at once, acts as a poultice, gives instant relief. Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment is prepared for Piles and Itching of the private parts. Every box is warranted. By druggists, by mail on receipt of price. 50 cents and $1.00. WILLIAMS MANUFACTURING CO., Props., Cleveland, Ohio. Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

—FOR SALE:—A thoroughbred Jersey cow and her calf. Call on J. A. Clifton. Auburn.

Monday's Daily.

—All things in 'Xmas presents to be had at Hodge's.

—Hon. S. S. Shutt of Spencerville was in town today.

$8 buys one of those dress overcoats in black, tan or blue at G. H. Yesbera's, Auburn.

—Mrs. J. D. Leighty of St. Joe has gone to Indianapolis to spend the winter with her husband.

—Ladies who take pride in beautiful, clear white clothes should use Russ' Bleaching Blue. Refuse imitations.

—Go to Sheffer & Chaney for Michigan Lake Salt, a car load just received. Guaranteed not to get hard in the barrel. oct.26w-tf —Cal. VanAuken made another big purchase of lumber today from the Hardwood Company for the big cement buildings at Hayward.

—The friends of John Bishop, who was taken to Battle Creek, have word that he is improving, and much more rapidly than they had hoped.

—A. M. A. Miller was called over to Hicksville yesterday by the serious illness of his brother-in-law, Mr. Getrost, who used to be in business here.

—To all points in competition where the fare is $2 or more we have free bus and free baggage to the Junction. tf SPROTT & KNAPP, Agency B. & O. Ry.

—The first Filipino child born in the United States died yesterday at San. Its parents were members of a company of Flipino acrobats performing in that city.

—Presents for you—fine hand painted medallions given away with each dozen photos at Neher's studio. Also handkerchief pictures and extra Platinos on supesb mount. d6-w2

—Mr. Forest Hixson and Miss Amanda Houser spent Sunday with Miss Jennie Kelham. All are popular young people of Butler township. The latter is going to school here.

—Fred Reinig of Smithfield was here this forenoon and put down the name of his brother Mike Reinig as a subscriber to the Weekly COURIER, the popular paper of the county.

—With the exception of the left arm, every bone in the body of Benton Wantz, killed at Millersberg by a train last week was broken, and even the silver money in his pocket was dented.

—WANTED:—Iron-gray gelding five or six years old, weight about 1400 pounds; also some other horses from 1200 up. Inquire of E. Watson at the bowling alley, one door north of marshal's office.

—About 200 girls employed in the S. M. Foster shirt and waist factory at Fort Wayne, went out in a body Saturday morning on a strike. The cause was an unsatisfactory scale of prices for piece work.

—Mrs. Peter Bishop of Spencerville and Mrs. Kagey of St. Joe were here a few hours today on the way to Fort Wayne, where they were called by the serious illness of Mrs. Bishop's sister-in-law, Mrs. J. R. Bittinger.

—G. W. Osbun will have a public sale of personal property, including horses, cattle, hogs, farm implements, etc., at his residence, four and one-half miles southeast of Auburn, on Tuesday, December 5. The usual terms will be given.

—Mrs. Shade of Findlay, Ohio, arrived here today on her way to Holmer, called there by the critical condition of her brother Mr. Kimmel. Having missed the train at noon she was driven across the country by Mrs. Sarah Smith.

—I advise my readers, needing a medium or better-grade suit, to remember what G. H. Yesbera says on this page and when in Auburn, should see him, as the Yesbera store is reliable.—Editor.

—The Goshen Democrat says the Modern Woodmen of America are rejoicing over the notice received from the head camp at Rock Island, Ill., that no assessment would be levied for December. This will only make ten assessments for 1899.

—Otto Lund, the celebrated violin soloist, is a member of the Mozart Symphony Club, which will be heard at Henry's opera house next Saturday evening, December 2. Mr. Lund is a master of this instrument and his selections are always heartily encored.

—Place your confidence in a remedy that is guaranteed to cure. "I coughed constantly and my strength was all exhausted. I looked more like one dead than alive. Beggs' Cherry Cough Syrup entirely cured me."—Mrs. S. D. Harsh, Fairport Kan. For all throat and lung troubles. It has never failed. —Sold by H. B. MCCORD.

—When Conrad Mabus went back to Waterloo the other day after staying a few hours with Sheriff Hathaway, he found that the papers were made out for his commitment to jail for violating the liquor law. He was offered the alternative of paying his fine in instalments, but this he refused to do and is again a guest at the jail, where he will probably board out that $46.20.

—Mrs. Lane, whose illness as the result of an accident at Peru has been noted in the COURIER, died at the home of her son Elmer at 9:20 this morning, aged about 76 years. She suffered but little during her illness, and her death was peaceful. The funeral services will be held at the house tomorrow at 10:30; services conducted by Rev. Brosy and burial in Woodlawn cemetery.

—The Wathrloo Dawn says: "Editor Weeks of the Edon, Ohio, Indepehdent, does not feel very kindly toward DeKalb county, One night last week he drove over the road near Artic where the new bridge is being built and in the darkness the horse went down the embankment. Mrs. Weeks, the aged mother of the editor, had her arm broken. A damage suit may be brought against the county.

The latest from Manila informs us that at the last meeting of Aguinaldo and his chief officers it was decided to separate into small guerrilla bands and ambush Americans and kill them whenever possible. They were also directed to murder all Filipinos who showed friendship to us. This sort of thing was at once put into execution and every Filipino who has come into our lines and given himself up, has been killed if they could get to him.

—The Auburn high school football team had a walkaway at Butler Saturday afternoon; in fact, as one of the boys expressed it, the contest was hardly a practice game. Butler was given the privilege of picking the best men in the town and it was thought they would put up a good strong game. Auburn had the game won from the start and did not allow their opponents to score. The score at the close of the game was, Auburn 68; Butler 0.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Wednesday's Daily.

—Santa Claus has arrived at Neher's studio. d6-w2

—F. C. Pfander, the Defiance lumberman, was in town yesterday on business.

—The November terms of the state supreme and appellate court commenced Monday.

—Captain Gilbert has announced that he will not seek the republican nomination for governor next year.

—The Aveline hotel at Fort Wayne was sold under a mortgage Monday to T. B. Shoaff, the principal mortgagee, for $80,000.

We are ready. Our stock is complete. Come early, make your holiday selections and avoid the rush. D. A. HODGE, jeweler. d2 —Three brothers named Grady were sent to the southern reformatory at Jeffersonville last week from South Bend for larcency.

—A store full of pretty things. We do business in it. You are sure to be pleased if you trade with us. D. A. HODGE, the jeweler. d2

—Ex-congressman Geo. W. Cooper of Columbus, Ind, died in a Chicago hospital Monday night as the result of a surgical operation.

—The dedication of the new Allen county court house has been postponed until the arrival home of Gen. Lawton who will be presented with a fine sword on that occasion.

—Yesbera is offering some special bargains in men's heavy wool pants. All wool at $1.50, $1.75 and $2.45 per pair. You save 50 cents to $1 if you buy at these prices.

—The war department has ordered that the remains of Major Logan, killed in the Philippines, shall be distinterred at the end of two weeks and shipped to this country.

—The postoffice at Warsaw was robbed Monday night and about $450 in stamps and money orders taken. The safe was blown open and the office was systematically plundered.

—A Laporte man "borrowed" a chew of plug tobacco. When he began to musticate the chew his teeth struck something hard, which upon investigation proved to be a diamond.

—Clarence Cook, who recently returned from the Klondike, has taken a position on the city staff of the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette. Mr. Cook was formerly city editor of the Sentinel.

—The annual meeting of the Indiana State Dairy association will be held at Cambridge City on Thursday and Friday of next week. Cal Husselman is on the program for a paper on "The Covered Barnyard."

—In the United States court at Fort Wayne yesterday Judge Roby of this city and J. B. Harper of Fort Wayne filed a petition in bankruptcy for Ben Stiefel of Butler. The liabilities are placed at $5,013.33 and assets are $529.

—Miss Kittie McCarthy of Garrett, who was so badly burned at Fort Wayne nearly three months ago and has since been under treatment at St. Joseph's hospital, was able to sit up for the first time last week. She is still quite helpless, but steadily improving.

—Guaranteed to stop your hair falling out, remove dandruff, restore natural color, and cure all scalp diseases,—Beggs' Hair Renewer. "Cannot praise it too highly; stopped my hair falling out and started a new growth."—Mrs. McKeever, Abbeyville, Kan.—Sold by H. B. MCCORD.

—Col. O. D. Hurd, and old Fort Wayne soldier and widely known, died at Home City, Ohio, Monday. Col. Hurd organized a company of the Ninth Indiana volunteer infantry, and afterwards became captain of Company A, Thirtieth Indiana, serving until September, 1864, being promoted to Lieutenant Colonel.

—The COURIER wants news items and respectfully solicits anyone to assist. Items handed to the carriers or telephoned to the office will receive attention. Both 'phones in the office. Nearly every person has news that the public is interested in. Kindly help us.

—Men are at work pumping water out of the power house basement, preparing to put down the cement floor. The resuk of this part of the work will be watched with considerable interest, as the water has been a great impediment, and it will doubtless be a hard job to shut it out.

—"It has become a household medicine with us,—we cannot get along without it," writes Mrs. R. R. Wilson, Gordon, Ark., of Beggs' Cherry Cough Syrup, the guaranteed remedy for coughs, colds, la grippe, consumption and all kinds of bronchial affections. Never fails.—Sold by H. B. MCCORD.

—The following marriage licenses have been issued since our last report: Elmer M. Long and Miss Josie Ross; Frank Pence and Nora Pearl Wyatt; Samuel Hurni and Margaret Long; John H. Grate and Sarah M. Smurr; George Snap and Ollie Bordner; James Ferguson and Florence Grube; Samuel C. Heugh and Minnie M. Crouse, and one "don't publish."

ANY OLD SORE.

Cut, Bruises, or Sprain quickly healed with Banner Salve the greatest healing remedy in the world. 25 cents —H. B. MCCORD.

Peter Kuntz, Pres., Chicago;
W. H. Keckler, Treas., Auburn.

The Auburn LUMBER CO.

Central 'Phone No. 12.

We sell all kinds of Lumber for Building, and Make Window and Door Frames to Order. We can Sell you Doors and Windows and SAVE YOU MONEY. We carry all kinds of Shingles, from $1 per thousand to the very best. Headquarters for.....

Wood Burnt Bulk Lime.

The Genuine Article

We can SAVE YOU MONEY in PRICE, WEIGHT & QUALITY Come and see us and examine our Lime, and you will be convinced. We also carry Cement, Plastering Hair, Plaster Paris, etc.

Auburn Lumber Co.
Near Wabash Depot, AUBURN.

Junk Wanted

Please save your money. Don't forget to bring all your junk to H. Greenberg, three blocks north of M. E. church in Auburn, who pays for rags, rubber, copper, brass, zinc, lead, scrap iron and all kinds of hides and furs. Also buys and sells second-hand material, stoves and furnaces, etc. Persons having second-hand material to buy or sell, it will be to their interest to see H. Greenberg.

Best Cash Prices

ROBES! BLANKETS..

BISHOP FUR ROBES,
CHASE PLUSH ROBES,
SA HORSE BLANKETS,

....These are the best goods the market affords. If you want Bargains, want to Save Money on these goods, come and see us.

HARNESS,—light and heavy, Hand-Made, Large Stock to select from, Quality of Stock, Workmanship and Price not excelled by any other.

Collars, Felt Goods, Whips, Harness Oil and Dressings.

Horse and Cattle Powders, Guaranteed Oil Cake, and Ground Flax Seed, Poultry Powders, Guaranteed Oyster Shell cheaper than you ever bought it before.

We solicit a share of your trade. Your harness repairing done neatly and promptly.

Eberle & Freygang,
South Side Public Square

WABASH

GOING EAST.

No. 2	6:25 am—Daily
No. 8	8:34 am—Daily
No. 4	4:59 pm—Daily
No. 70 (local freight)	2:05 pm—ex Su
No. 96	11:35 am—ex Su
No. 98	8:30 pm—ex Su

GOING WEST.

No. 1	10:21 am—Daily
No. 9	5:38 am—Daily
No. 3	7:48 pm—Daily
No. 71 (local freight)	9:15 am—ex Su
No. 95	6:02 pm—ex Su
No. 97	7:52 am—ex Su

Nos. 8 and 9 do not stop at Auburn, but No. 9 stops at the Junction.

All these trains stop for passengers. For rates, tickets, time tables, etc. apply to I. M. ZENT, Agent, Auburn, Ind
Thos. M. Hays, V. Pres. and Gen'l Manager.
O. S. Crane, Gen'l Pass'r and Ticket Agent

B. & O. R. R.
Schedule In Effect Nov. 22 '98
Leaves Auburn Junction.

WEST BOUND.

No. 3 Express, to Garrett only	8:58 p m
No. 5 Daily	4:30 a m
No. 7 Daily	4:17 p m
No. 17 Daily Except Sunday	12:25 p m
No. 47	1:58 a m

EAST BOUND

No. 4 Express	4:30 a m
No. 6 Daily	6:05 p m
No. 8 Daily	2:35 p m
No 14 Daily	11:17 p m
No 16, Daily, except Sunday	11:05 a m

Trains Nos. 15 and 17 are the only ones that top at Wawaseo.

F. D. UNDERWOOD, General Manager
O. S. MARTIN, Manager of Passenger Traffic.
G. M. YOUNG, Auburn Junction, Ind
THOS. H. SPROTT CHAS. H. KNAPP

L. S. & M. S. R. R.
TIME TABLE—in Effect Nov. 19 1899.

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

Stations	Mail	Exp'ss	Fre'gt
Fort Wayne	11 45 am	4 40 pm	5 55 am
New Era	12 12 pm	5 08	6 40
Auburn Junction	12 36	5 21	7 10
Auburn	12 39	5 25	7 30
Waterloo	12 41	5 35	8 15
Summit	12 51	5 44	8 35
Steubenville	12 54	5 49
Pleasant Lake	1 08	5 56	9 20
Angola	1 13	6 00	9 35
Jackson	2 25	8 25	9 40

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Stations	Fre'gt	Exp'ss	Mail
Jackson dp	5 55 am	11 45 am	7 05 am
Angola	11 00	2 10 pm	8 14
Pleasant Lake	11 25	2 29	8 26
Steubenville		2 34	8 31
Summit	11 56	2 39	8 33
Waterloo	12 41 pm	2 55	8 45
Auburn	1 20	3 05	9 05
Auburn Junction	1 35	3 07	10 02
New Era	1 54	3 18	10 15
Fort Wayne	2 50	4 40	10 50

For rates on tickets or freight to all points call on or address R. P. DeLAPP, Agent Auburn.

POLITICS OF THE DAY

RESULT OF ELECTION.

That the recent election carried with it a severe condemnation of imperialism is evident to all intelligent people, and claims to the contrary on the part of administration organs are simply buncombe and nothing more.

That this fact is apparent to those who allow themselves to reason is made evident by the editorial comment in the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, a newspaper true to the grand old party, but opposed to imperialism.

Discussing the result of the recent election, the Republican says:

"The election carries to the administration a terribly emphatic rebuke for its war of criminal aggression. Maryland has swung back to its Democratic moorings. Nebraska shows large gains for Democrats. As to Ohio, the issue on imperialism was clearly drawn."

The Republican continues: "The great lurch which sends the President's party in Ohio from large and apparently unassailable majorities in years past into a striking minority has been brought about by the Presidential policy of criminal aggression."

Nash was elected Governor of Ohio by the Republicans it is true, but with a plurality of 50,000 there was a popular majority of 60,000 against the policy of imperialism.

Jones received 110,000 votes, every one of which was a protest against McKinley.

There can be no doubt that the Jones vote was against imperialism, and this is the view taken of it by Candidate Jones.

In concluding its comments, the Republican says:

"The verdict of the election raises at once the question of the expediency of Mr. McKinley's renomination. It points to the impossibility of electing him for 1900 on the platform he has made for himself, and by which he must now apparently stand or fall."

Coming from a Republican newspaper, this is rather cold comfort for Emperor William McKinley.—Chicago Democrat.

Republican Party and Trusts.

Senator Chandler (N. H.) has recently given to the public his opinions of the policies to be pursued by the Republican party in the coming campaign, and these expressions of his are made the basis of the following editorial by the Washington (D. C.) Post (Ind.):

"The reasoning which Senator Chandler advances in support of his propositions is sound enough. The party of which he is so distinguished a member will, however, experience great difficulty in persuading the American people that it is honestly opposed to allowing trusts the widest latitude in their operations. The most pronounced advocates and beneficiaries of trusts are Republican in politics. The chief spokesman of the administration, who is also the national chairman of the Republican party, is an outspoken defender of these combinations. Even the laws initiated by Republicans have proven ineffective, or, if adequate, have not been enforced. The Republican national platform of 1896 was silent upon the subject, while the Democratic denunciation was most vigorous. It will be difficult, therefore, for the Republicans to impress the country with their sincerity in any hostile attitude which may now be assumed. They cannot eradicate in a few months a sentiment which has been steadily growing during as many years.

"There is also a well-grounded belief that the question of trusts and the existence of enormous campaign funds are interwoven. It is certainly a common impression that the combinations of capital are large contributors to the Republican campaign fund, thereby purchasing essential immunity from legal interference. With this sentiment almost universal, the voters are likely to view with some suspicion the sudden hostility to trusts which Senator Chandler advises. They will remember, for instance, that in 1896 the Democrats lacked funds for ordinary and legitimate expenses, while the Republican treasury was filled to overflowing. There is every reason to believe that this experience will be repeated in 1900, for the levy upon corporations will be as unblushing as the demand recently made upon office-holders."

That Large Standing Army.

Evidence is not lacking to show that the imperialistic policy of McKinley contemplates the establishment of a standing army composed of 100,000 men.

This would be a force four times as large as that to which this country has been accustomed.

But it is not likely that so radical a measure as this will be pushed in the next Congress. McKinley knows full well that the American people are opposed to a large standing army and is not likely to risk such a dangerous proposition on the eve of a national political campaign.

Naturally enough the trusts and combines want the regular army increased. They prefer regular troops when labor troubles break out, and they never fail to call for them in preference to the militia whenever occasion offers.

It is well that the American people should understand what plots against their liberties are being made by the Republican leaders. It is well that the American people should know just what imperialists are contemplating in the event that McKinley is re-elected.

Senator Hawley, of Connecticut, who is chairman of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs, does not favor immediate action on the question of increasing the standing army. He realizes the danger of such action in the face of a political campaign.

Should McKinley be re-elected, Senator Hawley would be ready to advocate an increase of the standing army to 100,000 men.

Therefore, the wise Senator from Connecticut thinks that no action should be taken until after the presidential election.

Forewarned is forearmed. The people should know what the imperialists propose and should see to it that McKinley is defeated in 1900, and William J. Bryan elected President of the United States.

Republicans Frightened.

Evidently the Republicans, no matter how much they may whistle to keep their courage up, are pretty thoroughly frightened over the results of the recent elections.

Realizing the fact that Bryan has gained ground rapidly and that even McKinley's home State is in danger, the Republicans are now talking about an early convention.

Recalling the history of the last presidential election and the amount of time, money and printing it took to stem the tide of Bryan's eloquence, the Republican national committee is said to be unanimously in favor of calling the national convention together early in June.

Another "campaign of education" must be fought, the trusts must be got in line and "milked" to the last drop in the way of contributions to the corruption fund and documents "explaining" the policy of imperialism must be prepared and it takes time to do all this.

Of course, a long campaign will disturb business, but the Republicans will have all the business they can take care of in an endeavor to make the people believe that there are no trusts in this country and that trusts are a good thing anyhow.

Time will also be required to demonstrate that the declaration of independence is an antiquated document not worth regarding by advanced thinkers and ardent imperialists such as make up the firm of Hanna, McKinley & Co.

Therefore, an early meeting of the national Republican convention is to be called by the frightened members of the McKinley cabal.—Exchange.

As to Self-Government.

The elections last week have caused the administration to give it out semi-officially that its policy toward the people of Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines is because they are not capable of self-government; that were they left to themselves there would be hurtful strifes for political supremacy, and that the course of the Washington government is approved by the business men of the commercial centers of the several islands. Had the people of the States holding elections on Nov. 7 given a pronounced assent to the President's policy, as proclaimed by himself on very many occasions, the excuse that the inhabitants of our new possessions are not mentally and morally equal to self-government would not be given. It must not be supposed, however, that the President has abandoned his original purpose to make dependencies of the islands and mere subjects of their people. This talk about lack of ability of the inhabitants to manage their own political concerns is to deceive, and the disgrace of it is all the deeper because the excuse the President gives for depriving them of political rights is precisely the same that Spain always put forth.—Kansas City Times.

Ammunition for the Democrats.

Congress' pledge was to leave Cuba to its inhabitants as soon as it was "pacified." Cuba is already "pacified," according to the unanimous testimony of the army officers stationed there. If by the time of holding the national political conventions next summer Cuba is still ruled by the United States Government there will exist presumptive evidence that the Government has no intention of ever letting go. The situation would enable the Democrats to denounce the Republicans in the Presidential campaign as violators of the national honor and repudiators of the national faith.—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

Cuba's Natural Resources.

Under favorable conditions almost every art of peace may be developed in Cuba. Her natural resources are many. Her forests are stocked with the finest wood in the world—wood, several species of which are as hard as iron, turning the edge of the ax and remaining imperishable under water. There are found woods invaluable for the dye industry, ebony, cedar, fustic, lancewood, mahogany, rosewood, jocuma, acana and many others. There are fifty varieties of palm. Her fruits are valuable and little cultivated. The climate is admirably suited for the olive and the orange; the lemon, the pineapple and the banana are indigenous. The mineral resources of the island are great. Almost all the metals are found in Cuba. Copper is abundant. She is rich in marble. On the coasts are immense deposits of rock salt, and there are also unlimited quantities of the purest white sand, capable of being converted into fine earthenware. As a pastoral country Cuba was more productive a century ago than she is now, but her pastures are broad and rich. Of her area only 10 per cent is under cultivation, and the possibilities are unlimited.

True to Their Duty.

A military play was being acted at a small theater. Men were required on the stage as soldiers, and the colonel of the regiment then quartered in the town lent to the manager a certain number of his regiment, who were of course glad to add a little extra money to their pay. The regiment happened to be an Irish one. Everything went splendidly up to the battle scene, when the signal was given for the fight to cease, and for the regulars, who personated the beaten foe, to retreat. On this particular evening, however, they took no notice of the signal, but still fought on in terrible earnest, and punished their opponents so unmercifully that at last they threw down their weapons and used their fists instead. Eventually the curtain had to be dropped on the raging conflict, when the manager dashed furiously upon the stage and demanded angrily, "What does all this mean? Why didn't you retreat?" An Irish sergeant, with his face very much damaged, replied indignantly, "Shure, and is it retrate you'd have us, with the colonel in front? Sorra a bit of it!"

THE CULTURE OF TEA.

SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENTS ARE MADE IN THE SOUTH.

Gardens in South Carolina Produce a Superior Article at Twenty-five Per Cent. Profit—A New and Growing Industry for the Southland.

Some years ago a few far-seeing men of the Southern States looked far enough ahead to see that cotton would not always be king, and opened to discussion the problem of raising tea. At that time cotton was king, and there was no denying it, so the effort to create an interest in tea raising proved abortive. In less than fifteen years came a great war in which the South was swept clean as by a hurricane. One result of the war, minor perhaps, besides some of the other results, was that cotton was dethroned. Into the new South was introduced other forms of agriculture, and not only that, but manufactures which the South heretofore had despised with pride in its "splendid isolation."

And now, a generation after the war has closed, after King Cotton has been deposed, Southerners themselves have taken up the culture of tea in earnest, bound to make it contribute to the general prosperity of that section of the country. A leader among these leaders is Prof. Charles U. Shepard, of Pinehurst, Summerville, S. C., and in a publication of the agricultural department in Washington he tells of the success of his experiment.

Since he has made a profit of 25 per cent. on his venture the undertaking is entitled to be taken out of the class of experiments and put in with the solid accomplishments that will endure. It is seven years since he first reported on the operations on the Pinehurst estate. He says that it seems probable from the facts so far gathered that the cultivation of tea can be made profitable in the warmer portions of the United States in two ways. One is by establishing a plantation on the scale of the experiment at Summerville with capital sufficient to carry the work to a point where the product can be offered on equal terms with teas holding an established place in the markets of the United States. The other is to grow tea for home use in the farm garden. In either case tea growing can be undertaken safely only where the temperature rarely goes lower than 25 degrees Fahrenheit, and never below zero, and where a liberal supply of water can be depended upon. There is probably no place in the United States where the rainfall is sufficient for the best results with the tea plant, and irrigation should where possible be provided for in growing tea.

The experiment at Summerville, on the growth and manufacture of tea, began about ten years ago. At the beginning it was wisely on a small scale, but has gradually been increased until now over fifty acres have been planted in tea. When the plants arrive at full bearing the yield should be at least 10,000 pounds of high-grade tea; and this should suffice for the object in view, viz., to determine whether commercial tea may be profitably grown under the local conditions of soil, climate and labor.

One of the most productive of the Summerville gardens is that called the Rose garden. The output of green leaf from it has been: Crop of 1892, 56 pounds; crop of 1893, 81 pounds; crop of 1894, 151 pounds; crop of 1895, 333 pounds; crop of 1896, 600 pounds; crop of 1897, 648 pounds; crop of 1898, nearly 1,200 pounds. One thousand two hundred and sixty pounds of green leaf will afford 300 pounds of standard Pinehurst black tea. But the "Rose Garden" is not to be regarded as an exceptional result, nor of difficult imitation. Two larger gardens, also formerly piney-woods ponds, planted with Darjeeling seedlings, promise successful rivalry within a few years, and yet others appear to be awakening to a more vigorous productiveness.

Without undue endeavor, Prof. Sheppard sold his crop of 1898, about 3,000 pounds, as also about 500 pounds of the crop of the previous year (which had been bought to maintain prices), at a profit of about 25 per cent. The Pinehurst black tea has a distinctly characteristic flavor, and, like some of the choicer Oriental teas, its liquor has more strength than its color indicates. These qualities render its introduction slow. But it has always proved a difficult matter to change the taste of tea consumers; notably so in the introduction of Ceylon tea into Great Britain, the mother country of its producers. Nevertheless there has been a steadily increasing demand for Pinehurst tea, and a great many people will drink no other.

Green tea also is made at Pinehurst, and has attracted keen interest in the trade. There is probably a greater demand in the United States for green than black tea. At present, a large amount of sophisticated green tea is consumed in this country. As it is chiefly made of inferior leaf, highly colored with Prussian blue, and faced with powdered soapstone, etc., so as to hide all natural defects, it cannot be regarded as either nutritious or healthful. But the nature of the demand indicates a decided preference for the taste and qualities of green, i. e., not oxidized, teas, and should stimulate us to supply in its stead a pure, wholesome article of the same type. Unfortunately, green teas can as yet be made by hand only; they represent cheap Oriental labor, and in the lower and medium grades competition by American manufacture is well-nigh impossible. Black teas can be made by machinery in almost every step after the delivery of the leaf in the factory.

The cost of production of teas in this country is high, owing to the comparative dearness of labor. This must be met by a greater productiveness in the field, by the substitution of machinery for hand labor in the factory, and by the manufacture of varieties of teas which, from inherent chemical causes, cannot be brought from the Orient.

TEA NURSERY IN JULY.

Filling Out Garden Corners.

There is a large class of people who might profitably add the cultivation of tea to that of flowers and vegetables, filling out the corners of their gardens and home fields with tea bushes, as they do in China, or substituting useful as well as ornamental evergreen hedges of that plant for the present unsightly and costly and frequently unreliable fences. Cultivated in this way, the outlay of time, labor and money could hardly prove burdensome; and, as one result, the household should be able to supply its own tea—pure, strong and invigorating, instead of the wishy-washy, often far from cheap, stuff generally sold throughout the country.

As these little tea gardens are extended and multiply factories will be established in each neighborhood for the larger manufacture of commercial tea, whither the products of the gardens surrounding may be brought and sold, precisely as canning factories and dairies consume the surplus production of fruit and milk.

One feature in the cultivation of tea has only to be stated to appeal to every one who plants, namely, that the season for gathering the leaf lasts in this climate for six months. Thus a crop is not dependent for at least partial success upon the weather of any one or two months, as is so apt to be the case with most of the objects of the husbandman's labor and solicitude.

For the present it will be wiser to limit the production of tea in the South to the better grades, such as retail at from 50 cents to $1 per pound. The greater cost of unskilled labor in this country than in the Orient should constitute a smaller fraction of the total expense if the product commands a higher price. Other things being equal, the quality of any tea depends on the "fineness" of the leaf plucked. If only the tiny, tender, youngest leaf be picked, the quantity of the crop must be comparatively small; but its quality will be decidedly superior to that obtained by "coarse" plucking, which also embraces the older, larger and necessarily tougher leaves.

ROSE TEA GARDEN WITH ASSAM-HYBRID TEA

ROLLING AND DRYING ROOM.

Problem of Cheap Labor.

Leaf-plucking demands the careful attention of the tea grower. It is a light employment, suitable for women and children, but they must be taught patiently and their work must be scrutinized strictly. At Pinehurst colored children do the picking, and very satisfactorily. A free school is maintained for them; every pupil of suitable age and size is required to pick; others are excluded from the gardens. Regular attendance and better discipline are thus secured. But, otherwise, there would be no difficulty in securing an ample force, as the wages earned prove in themselves a sufficient attraction. The older children earn from 30 to 50 cents a day; the younger one in proportion. The tea gardens are picked twenty times a season, or once every ten days, and it takes three days for the average force of twenty children to make the round of the gardens. The more industrious and skillful pick from ten to twenty pounds of fresh leaf a day. It takes four and a fifth pounds of fresh leaf to make one of dry leaf.—New York Press.

A Nation of Cooks.

There is scarcely an individual in China who is not competent to cook himself a respectable meal. The peasant sits down to dinner cooked by the hand of his wife or daughter-in-law. In large establishments the cooks are invariably men. Half a dozen coolies will squat round a bucket of steaming rice and from four to six small savory dishes of stewed cabbage, onions, scraps of fat pork, cheap fish, etc. They fill their bowls at discretion from the bucket. They help themselves discreetly with their chop-sticks from the various relishes provided. On ordinary occasions even a wealthy Chinaman will sit down to some such simple fare, served indeed on a table instead of on the ground, but in almost equally simple style. It is only when a banquet is substituted for the usual meal that eating is treated seriously as a fine art, in a manner worthy its importance to the human race. Then the guests will assemble between 2 and 4 in the afternoon and will remain steadily at the table until any hour from 10 to midnight.

A HUMAN HIVE.

A Place Where Most of Our Jewelry Is Made.

Providence, R. I., has the largest silverware factory in the world, the largest screw factory, the largest manufactory for small tools and the largest file works. Perhaps it is especially unique in producing more jewelry than any other city in the United States, says the Nashville American, and nearly as much as all the rest of the country combined. There is no city which possesses so many separate and distinct shops for the manufacture of a single commodity as Providence does for the manufacture of jewelry. There are at least 250 separate factories devoted to the making of gold, silver, rolled-plated, electroplated and brass jewelry and novelties. In addition, the auxiliary industries for furnishing supplies of special labor to the jewelry factories number more than seventy-five. Many of the jewelry shops are small, employing only ten or a dozen hands, while some employ as high as 300, and in one case 1,400. By the State census of 1895 the capital invested in this industry in Providence is $12,000,000; average number of hands employed, 7,000; annual wages paid, $3,500,000; value of material used, $5,500,000; value of annual products, $14,000,000. Had these figures been taken in 1898 they would have been at least 33 per cent. more. In almost every case the shops have been started by poor men with small capital, and as a result of success there has arisen a large class of well-to-do people, neither rich nor poor, but prosperous and contented.

MALADIES OF TELEGRAPHERS.

Subject to Tuberculosis, Heart Trouble and Brain Congestion.

"Telegraph operators are kept in a constant state of cerebral tension," says Mr. Hull, President of the Railway and Telegraph Workers' Union. "They are exposed to a great number of maladies, and it can well be said that their work is dangerous. A telegraph operator reads better with his ears than with his eyes. He carries out an essentially mental operation by using the nerves of hearing. This faculty is consequently highly developed in his case. In the ordinary work of reading twenty words a minute the telegraph operator must distinguish 150 alternate strokes or intervals, and when there is a rush of work this figure can go as high as 450. There is also the transforming the sounds into visible symbols, or writing, which implies another mental process. And whereas the normal amount of varied sensatory impulses per minute is 120, the telegraph operator has to accomplish 150 to 450.

"Without taking extreme cases into consideration, it may be said that the sense of hearing in a telegraph operator is two and a half times more powerful than in an ordinary individual. Again, in telegraphy the continuity of the nervous stimulation, the monotony of sounds and the fixity of attention are further causes of exhaustion. It is found also that during forced work the telegraph operator's breathing is affected, his heart's action precipitated and his brain congested." As a result of these phenomena it is noticeable that a general decline of the organism follows, ending in tuberculosis."

According to Mr. Hull, the ordinary death rate for tuberculosis is 13.8; that of telegraph operators is 46.6. And what is true of tuberculosis applies to other affections of the respiratory organs. The general death rate for the latter is 3.5, but it rises to 18.4 among telegraph operators between 15 and 25 years of age, to 23.1 between 25 and 35 years of age, instead of 4.0, and to 12, instead of 5.3, between the ages of 35 and 45. From 45 years upward it declines, being 4.3, instead of 5.3, but this diminution is very delusive, seeing that it is due to the elimination of the weak members who have died off in the preceding years. It becomes more marked with increasing age. Between 55 and 60 it stands at 0.5, instead of 5.4, and above 65 at 0.4, instead of 8.2. But these are not the only affections to which telegraph operators are liable. The nervous tension which they endure often gives rise to a state requiring immediate withdrawal from their work.

CAREER OF RHODES.

DIAMOND KING, STATESMAN AND MILLIONAIRE.

He Is the Most Picturesque Figure After Oom Paul in the Transvaal War—His Meteoric Career in South Africa.

The most picturesque figure next to Oom Paul in the Anglo-Transvaal war is Cecil Rhodes, diamond king and politician. He is the mightiest millionaire of the age. Others may have more money, but Rhodes possesses the power and ability to shape the destiny of South Africa. The son of a minister, sent to South Africa to improve his health, he has added within a few years an empire to England's territory and has become the modern colossus of Rhodes.

The surprising growth of British South Africa is due largely to the efforts of this one man, the organizer and manager of the Imperial British South African Company. The career of Rhodes has been meteoric. Probably no Englishman since Sir Francis Drake sailed round the globe with the gold of Spain has brought more glory to his country with less expense to his Government than he. He has taken the milk from the African cocoanut.

CECIL RHODES.

He was born on July 5, 1853, and his father was Rev. Francis William Rhodes, vicar of Stortford, a town about twenty-five miles from London. His elder brother, Herbert, had a plantation in the south of Natal, and in 1869 Cecil, whose lungs were too weak for the English climate, was sent to live with him.

It is impossible for those who know him now to think of him as a consumptive sent abroad to die. He is six feet one inch tall and heavy and muscular in proportion. His appetite is a marvel. Chief Lobengula called him "the man who eats a whole country for his dinner."

His Early Ambition.

The story is told that, on arriving at Natal, the boy of 16 laid his hand upon a large map of Africa, exclaiming:

"All that my hand covers will one day be mine!"

A merchant who heard him said:

"That is your dream, is it?"

"That is my dream," replied the young man.

"Well, I'll give you ten years to wake up," was the reply of the merchant.

Two years after this the history of South Africa changed. Diamonds were discovered on the present site of Kimberley and Rhodes, with his brother, hastened to the place where the future empire builder laid the foundation of his fortune. In 1889 all the diamond mines were consolidated under the name of the De Beers Consolidated Mines (Limited), capitalized at $19,750,000, with Cecil Rhodes president. Meantime Rhodes' brother had died, turning over to the former his interests at Kimberley and Cecil himself had found time to return to England and graduate from Oxford.

While busy with his mines Cecil Rhodes did not neglect politics. Early in the '80s he was elected to the Cape House of Assembly from Barkley. After receiving a charter in October, 1889, he started back to Africa to open the new lands.

There was still the unexplored region of the Matabeles left. The King of the Zulus was Lobengula, who pursued the usual Zulu policy of exterminating all weaker people with whom they came in contact and appropriating their cattle and wives, but they had a wholesome fear of the whites.

Far to the north of the land of the Matabeles was Mashonaland, a nation conquered by the Zulus, and the King of the Zulus gave to Rhodes permission to dig for gold in the land of Mashonaland. Railroads were built and with them came the telegraph and mail.

The Matabele War.

Mashonaland boomed for two years, and then it was discovered that its wealth was overestimated greatly.

It looked like failure for the South African Company. Something must be done. The gold miners were clamoring for a chance to locate claims in Matabeleland. Then was started the Matabele war, the barbarities of which exceeded previous campaigns, because the company was bent on destroying the Matabele nation to seize their rich country. The Matabeles gave the excuse by sending warriors to punish cattle thieves. The company's "border police" replied, and the war was on. Volunteers were called for, and to every man who enlisted were promised 6,000 acres of land and twenty claims in the new El Dorado, when it should be won. The Matabeles were attacked on three sides, their capital, Buluwayo, was taken, and great was the slaughter. Opinions differ as to the justice of the Matabele war, but it put the South African Company on its feet again, which was its purpose. On April 25, 1893, Matabeleland was thrown open to the world.

The new land was called Rhodesia. Rhodes was made premier of the colony and in 1895 was appointed Queen Victoria's privy councillor, a purely honorary position.

His great ambition was partly realized. He added almost an empire to Great Britain's possessions.

The present war in South Africa is in line with Rhodes' policy—the formation of a British empire in South Africa that shall embrace the Transvaal republic and the Orange Free State.

Every time a girl gets onto a new wrinkle in hair-dressing she has her picture taken.

FLASHES OF FUN.

Uncle Dick—I hope you are a good boy in school, Bobbie. Bobbie—Naw! I'm going to be a hero.—New York Journal.

In extenuation.—Sally Gay—But, dear, he is a gambler. Dolly Swift—Yes, I know, but he has such winning ways.—Judge.

Suitor—Dearest—idol of my heart—say you will be mine. Widow—How much alimony do you usually pay?—New York Journal.

"We're in a pickle, now," said a man in a crowd. "A regular jam," said another. "Heaven preserve us," exclaimed an old lady.—Columbus State Journal.

Sharp little thing: "Papa," said the missionary-worker's little daughter, "I am playing that my dolls are heathen." "That is nice, dear." "And—and—papa, I want 10 cents to pay my salary."—Puck.

He had his arm about her shoulders when the young brother dashed into the room, playing "street car." "Change to the belt line," whooped the innocent youngster as he dashed out again.—Detroit Free Press.

"And did you shake hands with Dewey when you were in New York attending the reception to him?" "No, but I succeeded in buying a rose that is warranted to have been run over by his carriage."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Stubb—So the audience found the show to be a fake? Penn—Yes, and among them was a football captain. He made the biggest kick. Stubb—Good for you! But how did he express himself? Penn—He said he wanted his quarter back.

"Come on," said Noah, looking at his watch, "it's time we were getting into the ark." "You'll have to wait a minute," replied Mrs. Noah from the top of the stairway. "I'm not going out without my rainy day skirt on."—Chicago Tribune.

Tramp—Lady, I'm hungry, an' I'm lookin' fer a chance to work—— Lady—very well; there's the woodpile. Tramp—Lady, it ain't perlite to interrupt. I was jest sayin' I'm lookin' fer a chance to work somebody fer me breakfast.—New York World.

Mrs. Casey—If iver I catch your goat atin' me washin' agin, Mrs. Mulligan, I'll sue ye fer damages. Mrs. Mulligan—There's no nade of suin', Mrs. Casey. Coom over here an' I'll give ye all the damages ye want an' more, too.—New York Journal.

"Money talks," they observed. There came into the eyes of the trillionaire the wild, hunted look peculiar to his kind. "But it doesn't give itself away," he cried, agonizedly. For the fear that he would die rich was haunting him in day and night shifts.—Detroit Journal.

"Did you ever earn an honest dollar in your life?" "Never," answered Meandering Mike. "Onst I worked two hours fur a dollar, but when I got it I found it had a ping in it, right over de head of de American eagle. Dat's what embittered me life."—Washington Star.

Caddie: "Lemme carry yer clubs, boss. I kin be ex blind and ex deaf as er post!" Golfer: "I don't consider that any particular recommendation!" Caddie: "Not if yer playin' wid yer chum er yer mudder-in-law; but w'en yer playin' wid yer girl it pays ter hev er caddie wot knows his biz!"—Puck.

Housekeeper: "Why are apples so high in price?" Market-man: "'Cause they're scarce, mum." Housekeeper: "But the papers said the crop was so enormous that apples were rotting on the trees all over the country." Market-man: "Yes'm. That's why they're scarce. It didn't pay to pick 'em."—New York Weekly.

"Marry you?" the young woman scornfully exclaimed: "I wouldn't marry you if you were——!" "Jupiter Olympus, the Czar of Russia, or the Count of Monte Cristo?" sarcastically interrupted the young man. "No," she rejoined, with increasing scorn, "not even if you were the man who sent Dewey to the Philippines!"—Chicago Tribune.

"Now, Morton," said one of the party who had gone deep into the Maine woods in search of adventure, "we know you've been a famous hunter, and we want to hear about some of the narrow escapes you've had from bears, and so on." "Young man," said the old guide, with dignity, "if there's been any narrer escapes, the bears and other fierce critters had 'em, not me!"—Boston Christian Register.

"Charlie, dear," said the young mother, "I've decided on a name for baby. We will call her Imogen." Papa was lost in thought for a few minutes. He did not like the name, but if he opposed it his wife would have her own way. "That's nice," he said, presently. "My first sweetheart was named Imogen, and she will take it as a compliment." "We will call her Mary, after my mother," was the stern reply.—Collier's Weekly.

Sunday School Superintendent (pointing a moral)—Yes, scholars, the great thing is to know one's duty and then do it. Admiral Dewey knew his duty when he entered Manila Bay and saw the Spanish ships, and the world has seen how nobly he performed it. Now, children, what is our duty in this bright holiday season? How may we emulate the great admiral? What should we do when we see about us the poor, the sick and the suffering? Small-Boy Class (in concert)—Lick 'em!—Exchange.

A Natural Weather Bureau.

An enchanted ravine of the Ulloa Valley, Honduras, is described as a regular weather bureau, with the peculiarity that it is always reliable. The tumbling of a cataract down the side of a mountain gives the ravine its voice, which can be heard for many miles, and this indicates by its volume the approach of rain and whether the coming storm is to be light or heavy. Tradition says that the ravine is the home of a dragon who controls the clouds and winds.

The average married woman acts as if she found her husband easy to get, and expects to have another one.

Every poor man has a favorite joke which he tells on some rich man.

Ayer's Pills

Sick headache. Food doesn't digest well, appetite poor, bowels constipated, tongue coated. It's your liver! Ayer's Pills are liver pills, easy and safe. They cure dyspepsia, biliousness. 25c. All Druggists.

Want your moustache or beard a beautiful brown or rich black? Then use BUCKINGHAM'S DYE for the Whiskers

Revenge.

Voice (from the top flat)—Can't you see the sign in the hall there—"no peddlers allowed in this building?"

Answering voice (at other end of speaking tube, loud enough to be heard through the building)—I ain't a peddler, ma'am. I'm the boy from the dentist's, with your new teeth!

An Honest Criticism.

Author—Now, I want your honest opinion. Tell me what faults you see in my book.

Friend—Well, for one thing, I think the covers are too far apart.—San Francisco Examiner.

MAN'S MECHANISM.

Delicate Machinery That Needs Constant Care.

Absolute Cleanliness and Regulation as Necessary as for Any Other Kind of Machinery—How to Keep It in Working Order.

There's a screw loose somewhere!

One little screw in the big machine gets a trifle loose and the whole apparatus clogs, balks and refuses to work properly.

A skillful engineer can tell by the "feel" of his engine when there's a screw loose.

Occasional constipation—call it costiveness or biliousness—needs prompt attention. It clogs the whole delicate mechanism of man, and must be removed skillfully without force or shock. Only a vegetable laxative should be used, and Cascarets Candy Cathartic, which you can eat like a piece of candy, are the most agreeable, natural and effective of all laxatives.

Cascarets are the only antiseptic cathartic, and not only make the liver lively, remove obstructions in the bowels, strengthen the intestines, but kill all germs of disease in the body. Therefore prevent as well as cure.

Buy and try Cascarets to-day. You'll find that it's what they do, not what we say they'll do, that will please you. All druggists, 10c, 25c and 50c, or will mail for price. Send for booklet and free sample. Address Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago; Montreal, Can.; New York.

CCC This is the CASCARET tablet. Every tablet of the only genuine Cascarets bears the magic letters "CCC." Look at the tablet before you buy, and beware of frauds, imitations and substitutes.

DO YOU COUGH DON'T DELAY TAKE KEMP'S BALSAM THE BEST COUGH CURE

It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 25 cents and 50 cents.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup The best remedy for Consumption. Cures Coughs, Colds, Grippe, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Asthma, Whooping-cough, Croup. Small doses; quick, sure results. Dr. Bull's Pills cure Constipation. Trial, 20 for 5c.

WABASH

HOME SEEKERS' EXCURSIONS

To Western Points,

December 5 and 19, 1899.

On the above dates the WABASH will sell from its principal stations East of Chicago and Toledo, Ill., LOW RATE HOME SEEKERS' EXCURSION Tickets to points West, South, and Southwest, granting a liberal return limit. A postal card addressed to any Wabash Ticket Agent, or to either of the following Passenger Representatives will bring you prompt and explicit information regarding rates, routes, time of trains, through car service, condition of tickets, etc., etc.

REMEMBER

The WABASH is the only line east of Chicago and St. Louis giving its patrons seats, without extra charge, in ELEGANT RECLINING CHAIR CARS running through to St. Louis and Kansas City without change.

This is your chance to go West cheap. Communicate with us.

P. E. DONBAUGH, P. & T. A., Toledo, Ohio.
R. G. THOMPSON, P. & T. A., Fort Wayne, Ind.
A. F. WOLFSCHLAGER, P. & T. A., Detroit, Mich.
TEO'S FOLLEN, P. & T. A., Lafayette, Ind.
GEO. D. MAXFIELD, D. P. A., Indianapolis, Ind.
C. S. CRANE, G. P. & T. A., St. Louis, Mo.

NOVEL POINT OF VIEW.

The Man with but One Lung Thought Himself a Good Risk.

The young man was either an optimist or the possessor of a Harveyized steel armorplated nerve. Perhaps he was a little of both.

A short time ago he came to the conclusion that he would like insure his life. With this object in view he made application to a prominent company. After filling up the necessary form he received an invitation to call upon the medical officer of the company and undergo the usual medical examination. In due course he presented himself at the office of the examining physican.

Requesting the young man to remove his coat and vest, the doctor produced a stethoscope and began his examination. All at once he stopped and regarded the candidate with an expression of alarm.

"Young man," he said, "do you think you can bear a shock?"

"Oh, I think so," was the cheerful response. "Fire away and let me here the worst."

"You have only one lung!" announced the doctor, solemnly.

"Well what of that?" retorted the candidate, with the utmost composure. "I never told you I had any more, did I?"

"What!" exclaimed the doctor, "do you mean to say you were aware of your condition?"

"Of course I was. Do you suppose a man could have only one lung without being aware of the fact?"

"And yet," said the doctor, "you apply to a respectable company for a policy of life insurance. Do you expect to get it?"

"I certainly do. Not only that, but I think I ought to get it at a substantial reduction in the premium."

"Upon what ground, may I ask?"

"Upon the ground that, having only one lung, I am 50 per cent less liable to contract consumption than if I had two lungs."—Rival.

Timidity of Wives.

Newly married wives often feel a decided timidity about asking their husbands for money. A recent bride, who was traveling in Europe on her wedding tour, wrote home to her father, saying she had spent all her allowance and asking him for more.

"Why do you not ask your husband?" queried her father as he sent her the required sum. And the answer came back.

"Because I do not feel that I know him well enough."

A woman who had been married several years said that she never could get over the feeling of awkwardness in asking her husband for money because he did not belong to her family. Unfortunately for the poor husband, however, this hesitation is never lasting.—New York Tribune.

Electricity for Brain.

A scientist has discovered an apparatus which will stimulate the brain. It consists of an electric band. While scientists have been inventing unnatural ways of making the brain work, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has for fifty years been doing it naturally. It cures dyspepsia and all stomach troubles and builds up the system.

A Few English Bulls.

An English vestryman declared that the local baths were a "millstone hanging round the necks of the ratepayers like a white elephant." Not long ago an orator on Streatham common remarked that "we must fight the lions of poverty with the bridge of progress," while another vestryman hinted that some people could "see the mote in other people's eyes, but could not see the camel in their own." A chairman of a temperance gathering indignantly repudiated the charge of being an ascetic, declaring that he had been a total abstainer from his birth.

First-Class Sewing Machines for $14.25.

For those who are accustomed to sending away from home for their goods it is of the greatest importance to know the character and reliability of the establishment selling goods to families from catalogues. The great emporium of the John M. Smyth Co., located at 150 to 166 West Madison street, Chicago, has been established for a third of a century, and has furnished over half a million homes in Chicago and vicinity alone. This firm enjoys the confidence of the public by its many years of fair dealing. It issues an immense illustrated catalogue that should be in every family, as it describes and gives the price of every article required for household use. A sample of the extraordinary values offered by this firm is shown in the illustration of the "Melba" sewing machine in another column of this paper for $14.25. This is one of the best sewing machines ever offered to the public, and yet it is but a sample of the thousand and one useful articles illustrated and described in the beautiful catalogue of the John M. Smyth Company.

Spanish Are Charitable.

The Spanish are among the most charitable people on earth. Without a poor tax, Spanish communities of 50,000 self-supporters feed a pauper population of 5,000 or more.

What Do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing, and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee, but costs about ¼ as much. All grocers sell it. 15c and 25c.

The Male Ostrich.

The male ostrich at times utters a cry which sounds like an effort to speak with the mouth shut tight.

25c. SAMPLE BOTTLE 10c. FOR NEXT THIRTY DAYS.

How long have you suffered with ... RHEUMATISM?

How Long Have You Read About "5 Drops" Without Taking Them?

5 DROPS (TRADE MARK.)

Do you not think you have wasted precious time and suffered enough? If so, then try the "5 Drops" and be promptly and permanently cured of your affliction. "5 Drops" is a speedy and Sure Cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago (lame back), Kidney Diseases, Asthma, Hay Fever, Dyspepsia, Catarrh of all kinds, Bronchitis, La Grippe, Headache (severe or neuralgic), Heart Weakness, Dropsy, Earache, Spasmodic and Catarrhal Croup, Toothache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Creeping Numbness, Malaria, and kindred diseases. "5 Drops" has cured more people during the past four years, of the above-named diseases, than all other remedies known, and in case of Rheumatism is curing more than all the doctors, patent medicines, electric belts and batteries combined, for they cannot cure Chronic Rheumatism. Therefore waste no more valuable time and money, but try "5 Drops" and be promptly CURED. "5 Drops" is not only the best medicine, but it is the cheapest, for a $1.00 bottle contains 200 doses. Price per bottle, $1.00, prepaid by mail or express, or 6 bottles for $5.00. For the next 20 days we will send a 25c sample FREE to anyone sending 10 cents to pay for the mailing. Agents wanted. Write to-day.

SWANSON RHEUMATIC CURE CO., 160-164 E. LAKE ST., CHICAGO.

SUPPOSE WE SMILE.

HUMOROUS PARAGRAPHS FROM THE COMIC PAPERS.

Pleasant Incidents Occurring the World Over—Sayings that Are Cheerful to Old or Young—Funny Selections that Everybody Will Enjoy.

The Boss—See here, Jimmie; I thought you told me your grandmother was dead when I let you off yesterday?

The Office Boy—Yes, sir; she is dead; be'n dead four years. But 'twas the Phillies got laid out ylstiddy.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

An Artist.

"My wife has just completed a handsome piano cover," said Hickby. "Does your wife do any fancy work?"

"Does she do fancy work!" roared H. Peck. "You ought to see her when I go home late from the lodge."—Philadelphia North American.

Where a Pull Counted.

"Those two dentists have had a contest to see which one extracted the most teeth in a month."

"How did it come out?"

"Oh, it was a draw."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Proof of Greatness.

Mistah Smiff—Dat Aggernaldo am a wondahful man!

Mistah Mose—Indeed he am! I can't fo' de life ob me see how dat niggah gits his wool to stan' up pompadour.—Kansas City Independent.

His Idea.

"What's your idea of supreme punishment, Weary?"

Weary Wallace—Workin' in a soap factory.

Change of Appearance.

"Isn't he stuck up? Why, he doesn't recognize the girls now that he was so thick with at the shore last summer."

"No wonder. Those same girls look quite civilized now."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Not What She Meant.

"So you have given up your music since you got married, Mrs. Mango?"

"Oh, yes; I seem to have forgotten all I ever knew about harmony."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Rightly Called.

"Isn't her new gown stunning?"

"Yes; her husband must have been stunned when he got the bill."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Merely Sounded the Alarm.

"He is a brave man," said one Parisian citizen as the personage who fights duels in the newspapers passed.

"A very brave man," answered the other. "I have known him to call out a dozen men in one day!"

"Impossible!"

"Yes. They were members of the fire department!"—Washington Star.

One Man's Theory.

Mrs. Wederly—Men talk about the joys of single blessedness, but statistics show that more bachelors then married men commit suicide.

Mr. Singleton—Yes, that's true.

Mrs. Wederly—Oh, you admit it, do you? Then, I suppose, you can explain why it is true.

Mr. Singleton—Certainly. They are driven to desperation by other people's babies.

Misunderstood.

She—You said before we were married that your income was $5,000 net.

He—You wrong me, my dear. I said $5,000 nit.

Poor Consolation.

"Stone walls do not a prison make," quoted the prison visitor.

"Maybe not," said the convict, "but they make it darned hard fer a feller to get out."—New York Journal.

Action and Reaction.

"Daughters are a great anxiety."

"How so, Mrs. Nooch?"

"If you don't dress them handsomely they are not attractive; and if you do dress them handsomely men are afraid to marry them."

Not Refined.

"Mrs. Sparks, mah Sam hab gone to sail on a warship."

"Dat so, Mrs. White? Well, Ah guess he's what dey call a 'tar.'"

"No; he ain't bin on de boat long enuf to be a tar yet."

"Huh! Den Ah guess he must be a common turpentine."

How Things Work.

"New shoes make old ones last better."

"What do you mean?"

"When you know you have a new pair in your closet you feel like wearing the old ones a while longer."

The Right Word.

Mrs. Wickwire—Our washerwoman always talks about "wrenching" the clothes, instead of rinsing them.

Mr. Wickwire—Maybe she says what she means. She has wrenched all the buttonholes out of half my shirts.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Misunderstanding.

"Do you think you earn enough to support two?" asked her father.

"Two?" answered the young man quizzically. "I've only asked for one of your family. Who else are you going to ring in on me?"—Philadelphia North American.

His Captain.

Newlywed (after the ceremony)—Do you really think I shall make a good mate, darling?

Mrs. Newlywed—Oh, you're all right. How do you like your captain?—Philadelphia Record.

A Mean Insinuation.

The Man—Don't you think that she's out of the common?

The Maid—Yes, and not long out either.—Kansas City Independent.

Cheated.

Indignant Young Housewife—O, Mr. Dubbs, I am sorry to say you cheated me over that ice you sent me yesterday morning. You said it weighed six pounds. Well, I had it weighed last night before dinner, and it was barely three pounds.—Moonshine.

No Economy.

"It will cost you $1," said the jeweler, inspecting the works of the timepiece through his eyeglasses, "to put this watch in thorough repair."

"Hand it back," haughtily replied the young man on the outside of the counter. "I can get a new one for 98 cents."—Chicago Tribune.

His Satisfactory Examination.

"I am told," said Blanche to Ethel, "that the doctor has been examining your eyes."

"Yes."

"What was the result?"

"He seemed to be perfectly satisfied. He said he always did prefer blue eyes."—New York World.

Strategy.

Mamma—You can't have another apple now; so run off and play.

Ostend—We can't play without the apple, mamma.

Mamma—Why not?

Ostend—Because we're going to play 'William Tell' and I want to shoot the apple from Belle's head.

Bound to Have Their Way.

The Klondike Miner (as the avalanche sweeps him away)—Durn them Canadians! They're bound to have their way about this boundary line.

Move On!

"Brown," said the partner of the corner office, "you put that notice on the wall, 'No Loafing,' and there are now actually five men lounging directly under it. Go out and tell them to move on."

"No," responded Brown, by the way of a joke, "I won't do it. They are beneath my notice."

With a Loud Din.

Mack O'Rell—Did you know they make watches of gun metal?

Luke Warme—Certainly! But I think it would be a better plan to have alarm clocks made of it.

Mack O'Rell—Why so?

Luke Warme—Because then there would be no difficulty in getting them to go off.

Briefly Defined.

"Define divorces."

"It's the interlude to rag-time matrimony."

A Dog Shed.

Ida—Maud Beulah is going to cut all the fur trimming from her skirt.

May—Is it moth-eaten?

Ida—No, indeed; But her French poodle shed all his fur and Maud says she'll have to get rid of hers to harmonize the effect when he trots by her side.

Cupid is a Huff.

"Our engagement is off again."

"What's the matter now?"

"I gave her a belt buckle with my photograph on it, and she uses it to fasten her dog's collar."

Famine Funds of Animals.

Nearly all of the animals that store away food for a time of famine live on vegetable substances in a concentrated form, whether it be beans or grain, hoarded by the hamster, or nuts and hard fruits by the squirrel, nuthatch and possibly some of the jays. But there is one vegetable-eating animal whose food is neither concentrated nor easy to move. The beaver lives during the winter on the bark of trees. As it is not safe, and is often impossible, for the animal to leave the winter when the ice has formed, it stores these branches under water, cutting them into lengths, dragging them below the surface, and fixing them down to the bottom with stones and mud. This is more difficult work then gathering hay.

Sir Arthur Sullivan, Inventor.

Sir Arthur Sullivan has come out in a new guise; he has invented an appliance for attaching to carriages, by which he claims that safety is obtained for the occupants of a vehicle in case the horses run away. The vehicle is so constructed that the occupant, by touching a spring, can release the shafts, thus leaving the horse to go on alone.—M. A. P.

Happy Pekins.

A young married woman, whose home is in that vague region known as uptown, startled some of her relatives greatly the other day by a quite unexpected humorous onslaught. She is an impetuous young woman and she was just ready to go out, downtown presumably, when she suddenly turned back and rushed into the family sitting room. Several members of the family were there and she exclaimed:

"Did you hear about those New York fakers?"

"What about them?" cried somebody.

"Why, they're just earning loads of money selling canes made from the log of the Olympia! Ha, ha, ha!" And she rushed from the house to catch the car.

All the listeners laughed save one.

"I don't see," said this exception, "how they could spare it."

"Spare what?" queried one of the laughers.

"That log."

"Do you know what a log is?"

The exception smiled in a superior manner. Hadn't she just been up the lakes?

"Why, it's one of those timbers," she said, "that they hang over the side of the boat to keep other boats from bumping into it."

This time the laughers roared.—Cleveland Plain Dealer

How's This!

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligation made by their firm.

WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.
WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Prices 75c. per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Testimonials free.

Female Bootblacks in Paris.

In Paris and other large towns in France female bootblacks are increasing in number. They wear a peculiar garb, not unlike that of Sisters of Mercy, which renders their appearance rather neat and attractive. Not a few among them attend to their work with gloved hands.

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. Druggists sell the 50c. size; Trial size by mail, 10 cents. Test it and you are sure to continue the treatment.

Announcement.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation.

The Facts in the Case.

Brutus—What's this yarn about Caesar thrice refusing a golden crown?

Cassius—The dentist wanted to crown one of his teeth and Caesar didn't have the nerve to let him go ahead.—New York Journal.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.

Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Sold in 25 and 50 cent bottles. Go at once; delays are dangerous.

Of all the faculties of the mind memory is the first that flourishes and the first that dies.—Cotton.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box.

Love laughs at locksmiths, but a mosquito sneers at iron bars.

A SENATOR'S LETTER.

Peruna as a Nerve and Catarrh Tonic the Talk of the World.

HON. W. V. SULLIVAN, U. S. Senator from Mississippi.

Hon. W. V. Sullivan, United States Senator from Mississippi, in a letter recently written to Dr. Hartman from Oxford, Miss., says the following:

"For some time I have been a sufferer from catarrh in its most incipient stage, so much so that I became alarmed as to my general health. But, hearing of Peruna as a good remedy, I gave it a fair trial and soon began to improve. Its effects were distinctly beneficial, removing the annoying symptoms, and was particularly good as a tonic.

"I take pleasure in recommending your great national catarrh cure, Peruna, as the best I have ever tried.

"W. V. SULLIVAN."

Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Peruna has no substitutes—no rivals. Insist upon having Peruna. Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio, for a free book on catarrh.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 & 3.50 SHOES UNION MADE.

Worth $4 to $6 compared with other makes.

Indorsed by over 1,000,000 wearers.

The genuine have W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on bottom. Take no substitute claimed to be as good. Your dealer should keep them—if not, we will send a pair on receipt of price. State kind of leather, size, and width, plain or cap toe. Catalogue Free.

W. L. DOUGLAS SHOE CO., Brockton, Mass.

"Do It and Stick to It."

If you are sick and discouraged with impure blood, catarrh or rheumatism, take Hood's Sarsaparilla faithfully and persistently, and you will soon have a cure. This medicine has cured thousands of others and it will do the same for you. Faithfully taken,

Hood's Sarsaparilla Never Disappoints

A Doubtful Compliment.

"What is the price of this holder?" inquired a young man in a small store, taking up a photograph-holder which contained several pictures.

"Twenty-five cents," replied the attendant.

"Does that include the pictures?"

"There!" responded the salesman, in an affable manner, "I was saying this morning that some bright person would be asking that, but did not think it would be you, Mr. Stewart!"

Lane's Family Medicine Moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Acts gently on the liver and kidneys. Cures sick headache. Price 25 and 50c.

At Work in the World's Coal Mines.

About 1,500,000 persons are employed in the coal mines of the world.

Eagle Linen Letter Paper and Envelopes are the proper thing. Tell your printer to use this in and on your next order.

Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP for Children teething; softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25 cents a bottle.

WOMEN do suffer!
Even so-called healthy women suffer!
But they are not healthy!

MUST WOMEN SUFFER?

The marks left by pain are on the young faces of many of our daughters. Pain that leaves its mark comes from a curable cause. If that cause is not removed its influence reaches out and overshadows a whole life. The reason Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been so uniformly successful for over a quarter of a century in overcoming the suffering of women, is that it is thorough and goes directly to the cause. It is a woman's remedy for woman's ills.

MISS EMILY F. HAAS, of 148 Freeman St., Greenpoint, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I wish to state that I used your Vegetable Compound with the greatest success. I was very sick for nearly a year with hysteria, was down-hearted and nervous; also suffered with painful menstruation and pain in back and limbs. I often wished for death, thinking nothing would cure me. I had doctors, but their medicines did me no good. At last, by the advice of a friend, I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am happy to say it has entirely cured me.

JENNIE SHERMAN, of Fremont, Mich., Box 748, writes: "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel that I must write you and tell you what your medicine has done for me. I had neuralgia of the stomach for two years, so bad that I could not do any work. I had two or three doctors, but did not seem to get any better. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and improved from the first, had better appetite, and after taking three bottles of Compound and one box of Liver Pills, can say that I am cured. Your Vegetable Compound is a wonderful medicine."

JOHN M. SMYTH CO.

MAMMOTH MAIL ORDER HOUSE. 150 TO 166 WEST MADISON ST. CHICAGO.

$14.25 $14.25 The Best Sewing Machine on Earth

At the Price, $14.25 for Our "MELBA" Sewing Machine.

A high-arm, high-grade machine equal to what others are asking $25.00 to $35.00 for. Guaranteed by us for 20 years from date of purchase, against any imperfection in material or workmanship. The stand is made of the best iron and is nicely proportioned. The cabinet work is perfect and is furnished in your choice of antique oak or walnut. It has seven drawers all handsomely carved and with nickel-plated ring pulls. The mechanical construction is equal to that of any machine regardless of price. All working parts are of the best oil-tempered tool steel, every bearing perfectly fitted and adjusted so as to make the running qualities the lightest, most perfect and nearest noiseless of any machine made. This Sewing Machine has all the latest improvements. It makes a perfect and uniform LOCK STITCH, and will do the best work on either the lightest sheerest or heaviest cloths, sewing over seams and rough places without skipping stitches. A full set of best steel attachments, nicely nickel-plated and enclosed in a handsome plush-lined metal, japanned box, and a complete assortment of accessories and book of instruction FURNISHED FREE with each machine.

60 DAYS TRIAL. We ship this machine C.O.D. subject to approval, on receipt of two dollars. If, on examination, you are convinced that we are saving you $25 or $30 on agent's price, pay the balance and freight charges then and try the machine. If not satisfied at any time within 60 days send the machine back to us at our expense and we will refund the full purchase price..... $14.25

OUR MAMMOTH CATALOGUE which is listed at lowest wholesale prices everything to eat, wear and use, is furnished on receipt of only 10¢ to partly pay postage or expressage and as evidence of good faith the 10¢ is allowed on first purchase amounting to $1.00 or above.

Personally Conducted California Excursions

Via the Santa Fe Route.

Three times a week from Chicago and Kansas City.
Twice a week from St. Paul and Minneapolis.
Once a week from St. Louis and Boston.
In improved wide-vestibuled Pullman tourist sleeping cars.
Better than ever before, at lowest possible rates.
Experienced excursion conductors.
Also daily service between Chicago and California.
Correspondence solicited.

T. A. GRADY, Manager California Tourist Service, The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway, 100 Adams Street, CHICAGO.

DON'T RENT

ESTABLISH A HOME OF YOUR OWN

Read "The Corn Belt," a handsome monthly paper, beautifully illustrated, containing exact and truthful information about farm lands in the West, letters from farmers and pictures of their homes, barns and stock. Interesting and instructive. Send 25 cents in postage stamps for a year's subscription to "THE CORN BELT," 209 Adams St., Chicago.

CARTER'S INK Makes writing a comfort.

When Writing to Advertisers please say you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given, that I, Ira B. Goetschius administrator of the estate of Sophia Warstler, deceased, will offer for sale at public auction, at the premises, to the highest bidder, on at nine o'clock in the forenoon, the following described real estate, belonging to the estate of said decedent, to-wit:

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 9th, 1899,

Sixty-three (63) acres of land off the west side of the southwest quarter of section fifteen (15) township thirty-four (34) north of range (12) east in the county of Dekalb and state of Indiana, except two acres of land out of said tract heretofore conveyed to Alfred Warstler and described as follows, to-wit: Commencing at a point where the public highway running east and west crosses the section line running north and south between sections fifteen (15) and sixteen [16] in said township, and running from thence north twenty-six and two-thirds [26⅔] rods, thence east twelve [12] rods, thence south twenty-six and two-thirds [26⅔] rods, thence west twelve [12] rods to the place of beginning.

TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, one-third in twelve months, and one-third in eighteen months; deferred payments to be evidenced by interest-bearing notes waiving relief and secured by mortgage upon the premises sold.

IRA B. GOETSCHIUS, Administrator.

Moody & Rickel, Att'ys for Estate.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

IDEAL MUSIC,

"Sweet as the angel Israfil's,
When every leaf on Eden's tree
Was trembling to his minstrelsy."

can be produced from an EBERSOLE PIANO. The Ebersole possesses a tone that no other maker has been able to imitate—being full and deep, yet with that clear singing quality which stamps it the peer of all upright pianos for homes of culture and refinement.

Frank B. Long,

119 Calhoun-St. cor Washington,

Fort Wayne, Ind.

Mott's Nerverine Pills

BEFORE AND AFTER USING.

The great remedy for nervous prostration and all nervous diseases of the generative organs of either sex, such as Nervous Prostration, Failing or lost Manhood, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Youthful Errors, Mental Worry, excessive use of Tobacco or Opium, which lead to Consumption and Insanity. $1.00 per box by mail; 6 boxes for $5.00.

MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Prop's, Cleveland, Ohio.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address, E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS

They overcome Weakness, Irregularity and Omissions, increase vigor and banish "Pains of menstruation." They are "Life Savers" to girls at womanhood, aiding development of organs and body. No known remedy for women equals them. Cannot do harm—life become a pleasure. $1 per box by mail. Sold by druggists. MOTT CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, O.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given that I, Andrew J. Shutt administrator with the will annexed of the estate of John Shutt, deceased, will offer for sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, on

Saturday, December 16, 1899,

at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the door of the court house in Auburn, DeKalb county, Indiana, the following described real estate, belonging to the estate of said decedent, to-wit:

The south two-thirds part of the east one-fourth of section number thirty four, (34) in township number thirty-three (33) north of range fourteen [14] east. in DeKalb county, in the state of Indiana, otherwise described as the south two-thirds part of the east half of the northeast quarter and the east half of the southeast quarter of said section, considered as one tract.

Said real estate will be sold subject to the rights of possession and use of the same by William H. Davis until the first day of April, 1904, as shown by the written contract between said Davis and the decedent, which contract is recorded in the proper record in the recorder's office of DeKalb county, Indiana.

TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, one-third in twelve months and one-third in eighteen months; deferred payments to be evidenced by interest-bearing notes waiving relief and secured by mortgage upon the premises sold.

ANDREW J. SHUTT, Administrator with the Will Annexed.

John W. Baxter and Chas. M. Brown, Atty.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given that I, Isaac Hague, administrator of the estate of Amos Rakestraw, deceased, will offer at private sale to the highest bidder, on

Thursday, December 28, 1899,

at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, the following described real estate, belonging to the estate of said decedent, to-wit:

The south one-half (½) of the southest quarter (¼) of section twenty-three, (23) township thirty-four (34) narth of range twelve (12) east in the county of DeKalb and state of Indiana.

Sealed bids will be received by me at the McClellan Bank until 11 o'clock of said day.

TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, one-third in twelve months, and one-third in eighteen months from date of sale; deferred payments to be evidenced by the purchaser's notes drawing six per cent. interest, waiving relief from valuation and appraisement laws and to be secured by a mortgage on the premises sold.

ISAAC HAGUE, Administrator.

D. D. Moody, Att'y for Estate.

Notice to Creditors.

The First National Bank, located at Auburn, in the State of Indiana, is closing up its affairs. All note holders and others, creditors of said association, are therefore hereby notified to present the notes and other claims against the association for payment,

CHARLES McCLELLAN, President.

Dated October 14, 1899.

The foregoing association has been at once reorganized and will continue the business of banking as "The McClellan Bank," under same management.

Liquor License Notice.

Notice is hereby given to the citizens of the town of Ashley, in DeKalb county, Indiana, that the undersigned will make application to the board of commissioners of said county at their December session, 1899, for a license to sell spirituous, vinous and malt liquors in quantities less than a quart at a time with the privilege of allowing the same to be drank on the premises where sold. Said business to be carried on in the front room on the ground floor of the two-story brick building situated on lot number nine (9) in block number twenty (20) in said town and fronting north on State street. Said front room is 19 by 30 feet, and in said building on the ground floor there is a back room 19 by 28 feet, and the upper floor of said building is partitioned and used by said applicant for a dwelling house.

HENRY E. GEDDES.

October 26, 1899.

Eureka Harness Oil is the best preservative of new leather and the best renovator of old leather. It oils, softens, blackens and protects. Use on your best harness, your old harness, and your carriage top, and they will not only look better but wear longer. Sold everywhere in cans—all sizes from half pints to five gallons.

Eureka Harness Oil

Made by STANDARD OIL CO.

Thursday's Daily.

—Great time for presents at Neher's studio. d6 w2

—Mrs. Polly Elson has gone to Hicksville where she will remain for some time.

—J. Y. W. McClellan was in town today, though he is most of the time on the road.

—Mrs. J. D. Conley of Pleasant Lake is visiting her daughter, Mrs. James L. Lewis.

—S. P. Kosht, who receives the COURIER at Butler, came in today and advanced his subscription to 1900.

—Mrs. Allen Wolf was here yesterday. Her little boy Karl is on the sick list, but nothing serious, we hope.

—Reports of the state superintendent of public instruction show that nearly 50 per cent of the counties of Indiana have not lent all their school fund money.

—MARRIED, this afternoon Nov. 23, 1899, by Rev. W. L. Meese at his rooms on West 9th-st, Frank D. Pence and Nora Pearl Wyatt, both of Butler town ship. They are worthy young people and have the COURIER's best wishes.

—In these days, when the heroes of the American Navy are having their exploits complimented on all sides, that Revolutionary hero, Paul Jones, must rest uneasy in his European grave. It is a commendable project, this agitation for bringing his body to the United States.

—Many farmers will ask the next legislature to make September, October and the first nine days in November a closed season against any form of hunting. Men who pretend to go after rabbits and who bag quail will then be in danger of prosecution should they continue their practice.

—C. A. Patterson and A. B. Filley of St. Joe were callers on the COURIER yesterday. The former is one of the "Big Four" and the latter the St. Joe sawmill man. Both are old-time friends of ours and we are always pleased to receive a call from them. They say they have a good prospect for at least as successful a lecture course as they have ever had.

E. G. Siggers, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C., reports the following patents granted to Inventors in the State of Indiana, November 14, 1899. He will mail copy of specifications and drawings of any patent for 10 cents in stamps. W. L. Casaday, South Bend, Flexible shaft; W. W. Chaney, Ft. Wayne, Wind-wheel regulator; G. E. Lash, Elkhart, Rotary motor; C. H. Lawton, Wabash, School furniture; J. F. McCune, Indianapolis, Timber lock joint; M. Rinkel, Ashley, Steam boiler.

ELM HALL, Mich., Nov. 25, '99.

I am past 69 years of age. I have practiced medicine since that year before the rebellion, but for the past year have done only an office practice. Would you believe that so old a practitioner would step aside from his prejudices to take what is commonly called a patent medicine? For years I have been taking Dr. J. H. McLean's Strengthening Cordial and Blood Purifier. It seems to be just what I require. When I am tired and languid it braces me up. EDWARD WILSON, M. D.

Friday's Daily.

—Alonzo Lower of Waterloo has been granted an increase of pension.

—The Churubusco Truth has made appearance on our exchange table. It is a wide-awake newspaper.

—Several loads of good wood have been received at this office today on subscription. Let 'er come.

—Father Bathe, chancellor of the Fort Wayne catholic diocese, says there is no truth in the report that Bishop Rademacher has resigned.

—Mrs. Farmer has a letter from her father G. W. Link, stating himself and wife have reached Seattle in safety and found their son W. H. all right and prospering.

—E. O. Rose, deputy United States marshal, arrested a young man named Pederson of Valparaiso, Wednesday, for sending obscene letter to a Chicago girl who had jilted him.

—Those Washington ladies who are lending themselves to the movement for a home for Rear Admiral Schley, are taking serious chances of incurring the displeasure of the Sampson contingent in the Navy Department.

—The sympathy of lovers of manly righteousness and the highest ideals of Christian character the world over, will sympathize with Rvv. Dwight L. Moody in his severe sickness and wish for him a speedy restoration to health and vigor.

—The Steuben county man who stole chickens from his employer near Pleasant Lake was sent to jail for ten days and fined one dollar. In the presence of the court he stated that the Lord had led him into this sin in order to convert him.

—The past week has been an unlucky one for the B. & O., five wrecks having occurred on the Chicago division—between Chicago and Chicago Junction—in that time. Aside from the loss of life, the damage to property will probably not be less than $50,000.

—Rev. Julius McGill of Ligonier, a Jewish rabbi, will probably be the republican candidate for treasurer of Noble county at the next election. This is probably the first instance in the history of the state where the Jewish rabbi has been sought to make the race for a county office.

—While assisting in clearing up the wreck near the Junction this morning, George Ridgway, the B. & O. section foreman, was pretty badly hurt by the breaking of a heavy chain. He was cut in several places about the head and also hurt in the back, but Dr. Nusbaum who was called to attend him, thinks he will pull through all right.

LION COFFEE

Used in Millions of Homes!

Accept no substitute!
Insist on LION COFFEE, in 1 lb. pkgs.

Best Coffee for the Money!

Try LION COFFEE and you will never use any other. It is absolutely pure Coffee and nothing but Coffee.

STRENGTH, PURITY AND FLAVOR

These articles mailed FREE in exchange for lion heads cut from front of 1 lb. LION COFFEE pkgs.

Gold Collar Button.

Mailed free for 8 lion heads cut from Lion Coffee wrappers and a 2-cent stamp. Made of rolled gold and with mother-of-pearl back; suitable alike for ladies and gentlemen. This shape is handy and popular.

Daisy Neck-Pin.

Genuine Hard-Enamel and Gold.

For 18 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. The illustration is only two-thirds actual size. Color a delicate pink, with jewel setting and gold trimmings. Best enamel finish, stylish and durable.

"The Lion's Bride."

Mailed free for 12 lion heads cut from Lion Coffee wrappers and a 2-cent stamp. An unusually fine picture, from the brush of the noted German artist, Gabriel Max. It is founded on Chamisso's poem, "The Lion's Bride." The story is interesting, and we send with each picture a handsome folder, containing copy of the poem and telling all about it. Size, 15x26 inches.

"Dorothy and Her Friends."

A bright, cheery picture.

For 8 lion heads and a 2c. stamp.

A bright, cheery picture, representing a little girl playing with her chickens and her rabbits. The predominating colors are rich reds and greens. Size, 14x28 inches.

For 10 lion heads and 2-cent stamp we will mail it finished, ready for hanging.

Stylish Belt-Buckle.

Handsomely gold-plated, with Roman finish, and set with ruby colored jewel in the center. This will be welcomed for "dressed-up" occasions by the ladies who like to wear different colored sashes. The gold-finish goes well with any of them. Given for 20 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

Ladies' Apron.

Made of good quality lawn, with alternate revering and tucks; broad hem at bottom, and is neatly gathered at waist; a very superior and stylish article. Size, 36 x 40 inches.

Given for 20 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

Fruit Picture.

Size, 16x24 inches. Given for 8 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

50-Foot Clothes Line.

Given for 18 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

Made of closely braided cotton threads, strong, and will give the best of satisfaction.

Box of Colored Crayons.

For 10 lion heads and a 2c. stamp.

Fine wax crayons, fifteen different colors, accompanied with outline pictures for coloring. Each crayon is wrapped with strong paper, to prevent breaking.

Child's Drawing Book.

A collection of nice outline pictures bound into book form with sheets of tissue paper between the leaves. On these tissue pages the children can trace the pictures beneath, thus affording enjoyment, as well as instruction to the hand and eye. These drawing books and the box of crayons go very well together. There are six different kinds, and each drawing book requires 6 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

Naval Box Kite.

See it Fly!

The celebrated box kite now so popular. Thirty inches long and comes safely folded, but can quickly be spread to fly. Every American boy wants one, and older persons also are interested.

Mailed free for 40 lion heads cut from Lion Coffee wrappers and a 2-cent stamp.

Mantel Clock.

By express, prepaid, for 110 lion heads and a 2c. stamp.

Frame beautifully finished with gilt. Stands 5 inches high. A beauty and good time-keeper.

Alarm Clock.

Sent by express, prepaid, for 80 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. When ordering either clock, please name your nearest Express Office, if there is no express office located in your town.

Ladies' Scissors.

Length, five inches, suitable for cutting, trimming and general household use. Given for 12 lion heads and a 2c. stamp.

Razor.

Given for 35 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. A first-class razor, made of best English steel, and extra hollow-ground.

Rubber Dressing Comb.

For 10 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. Length, 7 inches, full size and weight. Made of genuine India rubber, finely finished. Appropriate for a ladies' dressing-case or for use in the household.

Game "India."

Similar to "Parchesi," which has been played in eastern countries since before the dawn of history. The illustration shows plan of the game, with usual counters, dice and dice-cups accompanying it. A game which people never tire of playing. Given for 20 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

Every time you buy a pound package of LION COFFEE you have bought something else, too. Don't overlook it! You have bought a certain portion of some article to be selected by you from our new Premium Lists!

THE ABOVE ARE ONLY A FEW OF THE LION COFFEE PREMIUMS. Another list will shortly appear in this paper! Don't miss it! The grandest list of premiums ever offered!

You always know LION COFFEE by the wrapper. It is a sealed package, with the lion's head in front. It is absolutely pure if the package is unbroken. LION COFFEE is roasted the day it leaves the factory.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

When writing for premiums send your letter in the same envelope or package with the lion heads. If more than 15 lion heads are sent, you can save postage by trimming down the margin. Ask your grocer for large illustrated premium list. Address all letters to the

WOOLSON SPICE CO., Toledo, Ohio.

—There are many claims to the honor of being the youngest soldier in Indiana to enlist in the civil war. The latest claimant is Joby A. Howland, who declares that he was born October 6, 1849, and enlisted in the 57th Indiana regiment of volunteers, was a prisoner in Libby, and was exchanged.

—Miss Florence Flower, prima donna soprano, appears in the Mozart Symphony Club this season for the first time. She possesses one of the greatest of voices, either for concert or operatic stage, power and compass. She will be heard at Henry's opera house Saturday evening, December 2.

—Dr. Stamets reports that George Keister, whose right leg was badly crushed at the knee in the explosion at the band saw mill some weeks ago, is doing nicely and is able to be out with the aid of crutches. It was first thought that his limb would have to be amputated but this has been prevented by careful attention and skillful treatment.

—Kendallville News:—W. P. Myers, who has been engaged for fourteen years with the Standard Oil company, in the sale of their lubricating oils, resigned his position a few weeks ago. Mr. Myers says he will lay off this winter and visit around awhile and when spring comes will find something to do. We hope, whatever Mr. Myers finds to do, it will not take him and his wife from Kendallville.

—J. H. Coleman and wife east of Auburn will start Tuesday, Nov. 28, for New York State, to remain for some time with friends at the old home, Freeville in Tompkins county. Mrs. Coleman's health is poor and they think a good visit will benefit her, and both will enjoy it. We trust this may be the case. The COURIER will make its regular visits to them while they are absent. He is on our 1900 list.

Volcanic Eruptions

Are grand, but Skin eruptions rob life of joy. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, cures them, also Old, running and Fever Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Felons, Corns, Warts, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Chapped Hands, Chilblains. Best Pile cure on earth. Drives out Pains and Aches. Only 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by H. B. McCord the Druggist.

Saturday's Daily.

—A. D. Schoup contributed on the COURIER yesterday, setting his name up to 1900.

—C. Barkey has thanks for dues paid on this paper into 1900, sent by the hand of Milo J. Thomas.

—Ed. Morell of Wolcottville called at this office today. Sorry we were not in as we are always glad to meet him.

—John Oiler has thanks for subscription for himself and his brother Frank, way into 1900. Frank is at Grand Haven, Mich.

—Hon. James M. Robinson was one of the congressmen appointed to attend the funeral of Vice-President Hobart today as a representative of the House.

—It is now claimed that the meteoric display was not due this year. The announcement is now made the phenomena may be witnessed one year hence.

—A Noble county man was fined $10 the other day for refusing to send his children to school. He is "boarding it out" in the county jail. Serves him right.

Willis Wilson of Stafford was a caller today. He also goes on the 1900 list. Mr. Witson has been for sometime interested in the sale of the celebrated Drake remedies, in which he has been quite successful.

—George Ridgway, the B. & O. section foreman who was injured while clearing up the wreck near the Junction yesterday morning, is getting along nicely and will probably be able to resume work again soon.

—A dispatch from Waterloo says that Alvarado Haskins, the oldest man in Steuben county, shot a man named Pember, who was stealing rails from his fence. Forty shot hit Pember, who was afterward arrested.

—In the Steuben circuit court this week Salem John Zetium, a Greek, was granted a divorce from his wife who is in Greece and refused to join him in this country. Soon after the divorce was granted Zetium was married to Lillian Trump of Steuben county.

—John Stine, the fireman who was injured in the wreck at McCool's siding Wednesday morning, died at his home in Garrett last night. The funeral will be held at that place Monday. Engineer Sarber and Fireman Orr are thought to be on the road to recovery.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters, she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by H. B. McCord the Druggist.

—Willis S. Blatchley, State Geologist, says there is no truth in the rumor that block coal is rapidly failing in Indiana. Around Brazil, where block coal was first discovered, he says, the supply has greatly diminished and there is little block coal left, but to the south of Brazil, about Patrickburg, new veins have been discovered, and there is no danger of exhaustion. There are other fields in the vicinity, he says, which have been worked only for local use on account of a lack of railroad facilities to the mines.

Bismark's Iron Nerve

Was the result of his splendid health. Indomitable will and tremendous energy are not found where Stomach, Liver, Kidneys, and Bowels are out of order. If you want these qualities and the success they bring, use Dr. King's New Life Pills. They develop every power of brain and body. Only 25 cents at H. B. McCord's Drugstore.

—It is a remarkable fact that the conductors of the Baltimore & Ohio represent so many years of service. In fact, the average for 191 conductors is twenty years. There are eighteen with a record of thirty years' service, forty with twenty-five years, forty-one with twenty years, fifty-two with fifteen years and twenty-nine with ten years.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE OF INDIANA, DEKALB COUNTY, } ss.

In the DeKalb Circuit Court, December Term, 1899.

Sallie Skinner, unknown heirs of Sallie Skinner, Beriah Skinner, unknown heirs of Beriah Skinner, Jane Aldrich and Frederick Aldrich, Lydia Wright and David Wright are hereby notified that an action has been commenced against them in said court, to quiet title to real estate, by Oliver P. Learned, and that the same will be heard and determined on the 18th day of January, 1900, the same being the 22th juridical day of the next term of said court, which begins December 18, 1899.

Witness, the Clerk of said Court this 21st day of November, 1899.

MICHAEL F. LONG, Clerk.

Brown & West, Att's for Plaintiff.

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE OF INDIANA, DEKALB COUNTY, } ss.

In the DeKalb Circuit Court, December Term, 1899.

Alanson Sumner and Stephen Clark and unknown heirs of the said Alanson Sumner and Stephen Clark are hereby notified that an action has been commenced according to law against them in said court, to quiet title and cancel mortgage on real estate, by Peter Coyle et. al., and that the same will be heard and determined on the 8th day of January, 1900, being the 19th juridical day of the December term of said court, which commences December 18, 1899.

Witness, the Clerk of said court, this 11th day of November, 1899.

MICHAEL F. LONG, Clerk.

Moody & Rickel, Att'ys for Plaintiffs.

Notice to Non-Resident.

STATE OF INDIANA, DEKALB COUNTY, } ss.

In the DeKalb Circuit Court, December Term, 1899.

Ida M. Baltz is hereby notified that an action has been commenced against her in said court, to foreclose a mortgage on real estate, by Letitia Walborn, Clara McClellan and Amanda Rice and that the same will be heard and determined on the 8th day of January, 1900, being the 19th juridical day of the next term of said court, which commences December 18, 1899.

Witness, the Clerk of said court this 13th day of November, 1899.

MICHAEL F. LONG, Clerk.

Hoffman & Link, Att'y's for Plaintiffs.

NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATION.

Notice is hereby given, that the undersigned has been appointed by the judge of the DeKalb circuit court of the state of Indiana, administrator of the estate of Andrew Smith, deceased, late of said county.

Said estate is supposed to be solvent.

SYLVESTER NEUMAKER, Administrator.

November 6, 1899.

Moody & Rickel, Attorneys.

THE AUBURN COURIER.

Volume XXIX | Auburn, DeKalb County Indiana, Thursday, December 7, 1899. | Number 49.

Dr. Broughton
WATERLOO,

Will test your Eyes and Adjust your Glasses and GUARANTEE SATISFACTION. In Auburn at Dr. Baxter's office every Wednesday.

Sprott & Knapp,
Abstracters of Titles to Land and Lots,
AUBURN, IND.
☞Office in Gandy Block, North of Court House.

The McClellan Bank,
AUBURN, IND.
Successor To
The First National Bank.
Capital Stock and Surplus....
$60,000
Certificates of deposits issued, drawing interest if left six months. County and Town Orders bought and sold. Money to Loan.
C. A. O. M CLELLAN, ESTATE
CHARLES McCLELLAN
D. A. GARWOOD.
ISAAC HAQUE.
C. A. BENEDICT, Cashier

BANK Farmers,
Auburn, Ind.
(Incorporated and Under State Control)
Capital Stock and Surplus
$50,000
Transacts a General Banking Business and Pays Interest on Time Deposits.
Albert Robbins, Pres. J. C. Henry, V-res.
A. C. ROBBINS, Cashier.

J.E. Graham, D.D.S.
DENTIST
Over Davenport's Drugstore, Auburn, Ind.
CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK A SPECIALTY.
All Work Guaranteed | Gas Administered.
CENTRAL 'PHONE 513.
Will be at Waterloo each Thursday in Dr. Darby's Office.

Physicians and SURGEONS
D. J. Swarts, M. D
Vesta W. Swarts, M D
Office at Auburn Sanitary Baths, corner Main and Sixth Streets,
Professional Calls Promptly Answered.
'PHONES: Western..... No. 19
Central Union..... No. 19

DENTIST
F. W. HOFFMAN,
Auburn, Ind.
Office in Gandy Building. Northeast Corner of Court Square.
WESTERN 'PHONE 103.
Crown and Bridge Work a Specialty.

C. S. SMITH,
Auburn, Ind.
Attorney-at-Law
AND NOTARY PUBLIC.
Office over Bazar Store, formerly occupied by Judge Hartman.

P. V. HOFFMAN,
LAWYER,
Auburn. Indiana
OFFICE over Hebel's Grocery.

Dr. Z. H. Stamets,
Physician & Surgeon
Office on Main St., opposite Swineford Hotel.
Western 'Phone 104
Special attention given to techinal examinations and treatment of chronic and obscure cases, also special attention given to surgery and diseases of women. Calls answered at all hours Office apart from residence.

I. O. BUCHTEL, HOMEOPATHIC Physician and Surgeon.
Special attention given to bronic and Obscure cases and catarrhal diseases of the nose, throat and lungs; also to diseases peculiar to women and children.
Office and residence over Madden Bros Marble Works. Auburn, Ind. Office apart from residence and private. All calls attended to promptly, day or night.

GRIPPE
Grippe and influenza invariably leave the system with a bad cough. For such Dr. John W. Bull's Cough Syrup is highly recommended. This wonderful remedy gives relief at once, conquers the worst cough overnight and soon effects a thorough cure.
Dr. Bull's COUGH SYRUP
Cures Grippe and Influenza.
Doses are small and pleasant to take. Doctors recommend it. Price 25 cts. At all druggists.

USED THEIR OLD TACTICS.

A Mob at Bryan Attempt to Wreak Vengance on the Auburn High School Foot-ball Team.

AUBURN HIGH SCHOOL.....16
BRYAN SLUGGERS.....0

The Thanksgiving football game between Auburn high school and the Bryan city team was won by the former by a decisive score of 16 to 0, and will go down in local football annals as a record-breaking contest. The Auburn high school team was booked to play the Bryan high school, but on arriving at Bryan at 2:30 p. m., Thanksgiving, they found that Bryan had loaded for them and they were compelled to play a team of local toughs and Oberlin college men. Auburn made a big kick, on a fellow named Jim Newman, a local heavy-weight of 235 pounds. It was at last decided to rule him out on account of his age and weight, and after much jangling the game commenced.

Auburn won toss and took goal. Bryan kicked off, sending ball well into Auburn's right field. Auburn ran the ball back twenty yards and was downed; in the next three downs Auburn advanced the ball fifteen yards. The ball was finally lost in downs. Bryan ran the ball back about six yasds, then lost on downs. Auburn then by several of her quick backs and a quarter-back punt ran the ball about twenty yards in Bryan's territory; next it was forced to Bryan's twenty-five yard line; here by a clever exchange of half and full-back, Link ran the ball over for a touch down. Auburn held the advantage throughout the game and in the last play ran the ball one hundred yards for a touch down: here the mob closed in and amid howling and curses the game was at last forfeited by the Bryan manager. Score 16 to 0.

The boys were met at the depot by the Bryan band and were escorted to the William's House, and were escorted back to the depot by the marshal and deputies. The difference in arrival and departure is easily stated, but not easily explained. Bryan has an unsavory reputation as to the way it treats people who come there to play any game. Their conduct on this occasion was most shameful and outrageous. It was a disgrace to any civilized community.

Although the big man was ruled out in the first half he was put in on the second, and when our boys objected they were told that they must allow him in the game, or they would not get the pay for their expenses, as promised. So our boys submitted. In one of the rough plays made, Charlie Borst in a struggle, tore the big fellow's sweater off of him and that made him crazy mad. He made a dive for Borst, swearing he would do him up Borst escaped by diving into the crowd outside the lines, and so got away. Later on, he got into the hotel, where a howling mob of men and boys collected, swearing and shaking fists and clubs, and daring him to come out. He staid pretty close, but as time to go to train drew nigh, he tried three times to leave, but each time was confronted by the mob, and rather than get into a fight, in which the odds were all against him he went back into the hotel. The question is, why did the hotel people not object to such a mob? He finally got the marshal to take him to the train.

John Baxter was present and heard that his son Frank was the object of a mob's wrath, as he was the referee. He found Frank backed up against a fence and the swearing hoodlums in front threatening and abusing him. Mr. Baxter reached his side just as one of the mob reached for Frank. He got his boy away to a place of safety but did not find him again till they went to the train.

When the game was over the boys, or those who were left after Borst and Baxter had been driven from the grounds, came down town, followed by a jeering, cursing gang of boys and men, including the two toughs who had caused so much of the trouble. John W. Baxter, C. E. Baxter and Prof. Harrison were with the Auburn boys and unite as to the correctness of what we are saying. Not satisfied with verbal abuse, the mob resorted to violence. Tin cans and brickbats were thrown, one of the latter striking Leo Buckley in the back. He dropped aside and got away by an alley. Thug Newman is reported as saying that Frank Baxter and Charlie Borst must apologize to him or they would have broken bones before they left town. One respectable looking man, ashamed of such conduct, took sides with the Auburn boys and was rewarded by a blow from one of the Bryan men.

Much more could be said of this most brutal and disgraceful conduct, but enough has been stated to make Bryan, if she has any self-respect, hide her head in shame. We shall have more to say from another standpoint.

FOR PNEUMONIA.

Dr. C. J. Bishop, of Agnew, Mich. says: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in three very severe cases of pneumonia the past month with good results." H. B. McCord

Santa Claus!

A household word just at this time of year. Some of us wondering what he will bring to us, but more worrying over what to have him give to others. We are here to help you out. Never before in the history of our business career have we made such extensive preparations for Christmas. Every department in our store is bubbling over with choice merchandise suitable for presents—prettier, better, and a greater variety. Look over this list of attractions and see if we haven't just the thing you ought to give:

Furs	For Children, Misses and Ladies.
Umbrellas	The prettiest ever seen here
Handkerchiefs	The most beautiful patterns, 5c to $1
Mufflers	For ladies and gentlemen, latest patterns and shapes.
Wraps	For ladies, misses and children, stylish, sensible and durable.
Suits	and Overcoats for men, boys and children. The most desirable and reasonable in price You could give nothing more pleasing.
Mittens	Of all descriptions
Gloves	For young and old
Neckwear	The handsomest we've ever shown.
Shirts	For men and boys. Any style and each the best to be had for the money
Mackintoshes	Guaranteed quality for one and all
Gowns	In muslin or outing flannel. Prettily and well-made of good materials.

LACE CURTAINS, PORTIERES, RUGS, CARPET SWEEPERS, and a thousand and one other things usually found in a general store. See us often.

We are Saving You Money.

SCHAAB & BRO.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Billiousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Sample bottles at O. P. Barber's, Corunna.

A HUSBAND SAYS:

"Before my wife began using Mother's Friend she could hardly get around. I do not think she could get along without it now. She has used it for two months and it is a great help to her. She does her housework without trouble."

Mother's Friend

is an external liniment for expectant mothers to use. It gives them strength to attend to their household duties almost to the hour of confinement. It is the one and only preparation that overcomes morning sickness and nervousness. It is the only remedy that relaxes and relieves the strain. It is the only remedy that makes labor short and delivery easy. It is the only remedy that puts the breasts in condition so that swelling or rising is impossible. Don't take medicines internally. They endanger the lives of both mother and child.

Mother's Friend is sold by druggists for $1.
Send for our free illustrated book.
The Bradfield Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.

News of the Day.

We have had the first certain news of Lieut. Gilmore and his boat crew who were captured at Baler on the northeast coast of Luzon last April. Sunday, a force of marines from the Oregon, landed and took a town named Vigan, north of San Fafian, and for the first time we know how Gilmore was taken. His boat had started up the river to reconnoiter, and after turning a point of land, were out of sight of his ship, and he never came back. It now appears that he landed, and a concealed force fired on them, killing two and mortally wounding two others. Every man of the force was hit. Gilmore's wound was not serious, but he was stuck fast in the mud. There was no escape from certain death, but to surrender. The Filipinos said if he would surrender, and at the same time secure the surrender of the Spanish garrison at Balers, that they had had cooped in a church for about a year, they would let all off, both Americans and Spanish go free, as what they wanted most was the Spanish arms and town. Gilmore sent a man to the Spaniards, but they refused, and our men were then tied hand and foot and taken to San Isidro where Gen. Luna ordered them shot. They were tied up and a crowd gathered to see it. Gilmore demanded as a soldier and a gentleman to have their hands untied when shot. Before this point was settled it is claimed that Aguinaldo ordered the men spared, but kept them in prison ever since. They and the Spanish prisoners had the same fare and allowance of five cents a day for bananas and rice. Our forces are moving rapidly as possible through a country of wet ground, hills, trees and mud, but are closing in. We hope to release about 5000 Spanish soldiers who have been kept off there out of the way. Our troops are suffering more or less from the hard marches and exposure and there is considerable sickness.

Aguinaldo's mother has been brought safely to Manila and is cared for now by a prominent friend Filipino.

On the island of Panay, we have had quite a battle with the rebels and driven them to the mountains. It looks as if the fighting there is about over, as it is carried on by tribes who have always been bandits.

FOR SALE.

A fine Jersey cow for sale, calf by her side.—A. G. LODEWICK, Auburn, Indiana. Nov.8-6t

ANOTHER FATAL WRECK.

Fireman Dickson Killed and Engineer Froelich Fatally Hurt Between Garrett and the Junction.

Friday's Daily.

Shortly after 5 o'clock this morning another wreck occurred on the B. & O between the Junction and Garrett which resulted in the instant death of Fireman Dickson and the fatal injury of Engineer Frœlich, the particulars of which, as gained by a COURIER representative, were as follows:

As noted in the report of the wreck in which Conductor Thoman lost his life last Thursday night, the north track between the Junction and Garrett has been used for some time as a storage track on account of the crowded condition of the yards at the latter place. Last night the night yard crew was sent out to clear up this track and bring in the cars. Several hours later it was reported that the track was clear and when a west-bound freight reached the Junction about 5 o'clock Engineer Frœlich was given "clearance" to Garrett. While going at a good speed, about a half-mile west of the scene of the last wreck, the engine, No. 700, ran into several freight cars which had been missed by the yard crew, resulting in an awful wreck. At this point there is a fill of about eight feet, and when the engine struck the cars it turned over and landed at the bottom of the grade. The tender was thrown crosswise on top of the engine with the rear end mixed among the telegraph wires on the north side of the track.

Under the cab of the engine, which was completely wrecked, were Engineer Al. Frœlich and his fireman, a young man named Dickson. Mr. Frœlich managed to crawl out and across to the fence, but Dickson was pinned under the cab and literally roasted to death by the escaping steam, presenting a horrible appearance when taken out. The unfortunate engineer was soon afterward taken to Garrett, where medical aid was given him. But little hope was expressed, however, for his recovery.

A wrecking crew was called from Garrett and soon had the track cleared. Aside from the engine several cars were demolished and the loss to the company will reach several thousand dollars. Coming so close upon the recent serious and fatal accidents on the road the news of the wreck created considerable excitement and a large number of Auburn and Garrett people visited the scene during the forenoon.

Since the above was put in type we learn that Engineer Frœlich died about 11 o'clock from the effects of his injuries. This makes the sixth death as a result of accident among the railroad men on this division within the past two weeks. Frœlich was married and leaves a family at Garrett.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

It's Easy To Take

Thin, pale, anæmic girls need a fatty food to enrich their blood, give color to their cheeks and restore their health and strength. It is safe to say that they nearly all reject fat with their food.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF COD LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA

is exactly what they require; it not only gives them the important element (cod-liver oil) in a palatable and easily digested form, but also the hypophosphites which are so valuable in nervous disorders that usually accompany anæmia.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is a fatty food that is more easily digested than any other form of fat. A certain amount of flesh is necessary for health. You can get it in this way.

We have known persons to gain a pound a day while taking it.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE
Makes the food more delicious and wholesome

Our Saturday Evenings.

CHAPTER V.

How easily we fall into the memories of early days. Riding on the cars Chicagoward a few days ago, we noticed that the seats were occupied or nearly so, when at a crossing station there came into our car a gentleman and his wife, middle aged, well dressed, and with the appearance of well-to-do and well-traveled people. He secured a half seat for his wife, and with the invariable instinct of politeness so natural in a newspaper man, a half of our seat was offered to the gentleman. Like a gentleman, as he was, he thanked us and we were soon on good terms. After a time, it came out that they were from California and had been several months visiting the old home in Ohio, including Toledo, and to include Chicago, where he had once been in business. It took but a step more to ascertain his present location which is Riverside. Riverside! Well, that is where some Fort Wayne people went many years ago, soon after someone discovered that the "Great Desert of Southern California" as the early geographies taught us to call it, was below the level of an abundant source of water, and could be reclaimed by irrigation. This discovery had opened up a splendid field for improvement and eventually for wealth. For, from being a cheerless waste, Riverside side is today the richest community for its population, on earth. We asked him if he knew Carey Evans, Rudisill, and others. Certainly. He knew them well, and Carey Evans, was a sort of partner today, as both own stock in the original Riverside property. And so we fell to talking, and are therefore able to give Auburn people a bit of history that will be of interest to, at least, the older ones.

The newfound friend's name is Perry D. Cober, and his brother, T. W. Cober, is the man who really discovered the great possibilities of the great Riverside tract. The history of this famous enterprise is briefly told.

T. W. Cober had made the acquaintance of a Frenchman named Provo, a visionary sort of man, yet a man of ability, and the two had talked over the possibilities of silk culture, as Provo knew it in France. It struck them that the extreme south of California would be a promising place, and they investigated it. The result of the examination was satisfactory and they organized the first company to develop this now prosperous region. They called their company, themselves being the owners, "The Silk Center Association," as they had no thought of anything but the silk culture. Of course they had the proper climate, but they must also have mulberry trees, and these would need water. So the water supply problem was investigated, resulting in the fortunate discovery, that irrigation could be secured if plenty of money was put into it. So they began these great improvements. It took big money, however, and they were soon at the end of their string. But the prospects were too flattering to allow the matter to die out and in time new capital was secured and under the name of "The Southern California Colony Association," the improvements went on. By the time the improvements were well nigh made, and before returns could come in to assist them the funds again were exhausted. From the beginning, up to this point not far from half a million had been invested. But they could get no farther.

It was at this point that Carey Evans and the Fort Wayne men came into a knowledge of the conditions there and took up the matter.

A new company was organized under the name of "The Riverside Land and Irrigation Company" of which Evans had the largest share of the stock, and it is understood that the expensive plant was secured for no larger sum than $30,000. The improvements went forward, orange and similar fruit trees were growing and in time to bring in returns. Still there was a financial struggle for years. The great boom struck them, and for a time probably benefited at least a part of the owners. But the collapse came and there was a general slumping of values, and a general loss, distributed among the owners according, we suppose, to the extent of their holdings. Our informant, Perry D. Cober, had in the meantime joined the colony and secured an interest. He lost with therest, dropping not less than $20,000.

(To be concluded next Saturday.)

A Frightful Blunder

Will often cause a horrible Burn, Scald, Cut or Bruise. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, will kill the pain and promptly heal it. Cures Old Sores, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Felons, Corns, all Skin Eruptions. Best Pile Cure on earth. Only 25 cts. a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by H. B. McCord, the Druggist.

OBITUARY.

Samuel Cornell was born in the state of Maryland, ten miles south of Gettysburg, Pa., on the 29th day of June, 1821. After he had finished the common school, he entered the Gettysburg college of the Lutheran church, where he remained for several years. His parents and pastor tried to persuade him to enter the ministry of his church but he did not feel called of God, hence he declined. He taught school in his native state for eight years and followed that profession for several years after coming to Jackson township. On the 26th day of March, 1850, he was joined in marriage to Miss Mary A. Hawver, and settled in the woods, on the farm which he had purchased the year before, and which he still owns. By the united and untiring effort and economy of both, they cleared away the forest and developed and improved the land to its present valuable condition. To Father and Mother Cornell were born six children, two sons and four daughters, three of whom are still living. Wesley who is living in Washington state, Laura who lives in Iowa, and Ella who lives a half mile north of the old home. Father Cornell was the youngest of a family of eight children, and was the last to depart this life. When a young man he became a christian and united with the Lutheran church from which he never departed. He was an active and honored member in the church of his choice. For a number of years he was connected with the Lutheran church in Spencerville, Indiana, where he enjoyed many happy and pleasant services; after the organization of the Lutheran church in Auburn, feeling that the church needed his help, transferred his membership where he remained a faithful and esteemed member until death. He was one of the fathers of the church, always interested in her welfare. He not only gave his time and energy, but he also gave freely of his means to carry on the blessed work for the Master. He was a man of power and influence in the church, and was thoroughly acquainted with the doctrines of his church, and lived in defense of her precious faith, until transferred to the church triumphant above. He was a man of clean and virtuous habits, and manly principles, living soberly, righteously and godly in this present evil world. It was his ambition to so live, that the Saviour might present him blameless before the throne of God in the closing hour of life. Father Cornell was elected as director of Wittenberg college located in Springfield, O., for two successive terms. Once he represented the district synod as delegate to the general synod, the highest legislative body in the Lutheran church, and several times was he elected as delegate to the district synod by his home church. He was a man of great intelligence, and was well informed on all the current events of the day; he was a quiet, but useful and noble citizen, always taking an interest in county, state and national affairs. Six years ago he had an attack of la grippe which racked his system so as to leave him in ill health. His body began and continued wasting away till he succumbed to death on last Wednesday morning, Nov. 28, at the ripe age of 78 years, 4 months and 29 days. Thus another christian man and faithful member of the Lutheran church, another pioneer and citizen of DeKalb county has gone to his rest. He was a devoted and faithful husband and an affectionate father, always seeking the comfort of his own. He leaves to mourn his death a wife, three children, thirteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren besides many other friends. The funeral service was conducted from the Cedar Chapel church on Saturday at 10:30 a. m., Dec. 2. Interment took place in Cedar chapel cemetery, J. D. Brosy officiating.

Mrs. Burke Married.

Our people were surprised to hear today, that Mrs. Julia Burke was married. At about 6 p. m. Rev. Mr. Arlen and wife, Mr. and Mrs West, Mrs. Forkner and Miss Ida Bates assembled at the home of Charles Spake, son-in-law of Mrs. Burke, and the ceremony by Mr. Arlen united this popular lady to Mr. Jacob Dawson of Redlands, California. They start for that place on the B. & O tomorrow. It appears that they became acquainted on the train at the time Mrs. Burke was in California a year or two ago. He was formerly a well-to-do farmer, near Charlotte, Mich., but is now an orange grower. All our people wish them the utmost good fortune and happiness.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, INDIANA.

JAMES A. BARNS, - - PUBLISHER.

1899. DECEMBER. 1899.

Su	Mo	Tu	We	Th	Fr	Sa
•	•	•	•	•	1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24	25	26	27	28	29	30
31	•	•	•	•	•	•

N. M. 2nd. F. Q. 9th. F. M. 16th. L. Q. 24th.

EVENTS OF INTEREST

THAT OCCURRED DURING THE PAST WEEK.

Tersely Told Telegraph Tales in Brief Paragraphs—Many Casualties—A Few Crimes—Some Fires—Political and Religious News.

MILLIONS IN SMOKE.

Lippincott's Publishing House in Ashes—Large Department Stores in Ruins.

One of the most disastrous fires in the history of Philadelphia started in the large department store building owned by Patridge & Richardson. The loss is fully $2,000,000.

Before the fire department could get the department store fire under control, the flames had enveloped the Lippincott Publishing Company's building, which was the next to go down to destruction and in a short space of time the George Bailey store adjoining was in flames.

Three brave firemen fell from this building, overcome by heat and smoke.

Many other buildings in the vicinity were practically flooded with water to prevent a further spread of the fire. Three buildings and their stocks were of course badly damaged.

The Lippincotts lost the valuable plates of the American Encyclopedia, which was about to be issued for the holiday trade. This loss will be great, as thousands of copies had already been sold for early delivery.

The Lippincotts gave out for publication that their loss will reach $5,000,000. The total loss of the fire will reach over $7,000,000.

Battled with a Typhoon.

Manila special: The transport Manauense, with Lieut. Col. Webb and three companies of the Thirty-first Infantry on board, has arrived here. She narrowly escaped disaster. The officers and soldiers were for twelve days bailing with buckets. The steamer was unseaworthy, undermanned and short of provisions. Her engines broke down and she rolled three days in a typhoon.

War Department officials are surprised at the information contained in the Manila dispatches concerning the condition of the transport Manauense, which has just arrived at Manila. They are at a loss to account for the deplorable state of affairs which is said to have existed on the ship.

Riot in Chicago.

A riot occurred at the intersection of Indiana avenue and Thirty-ninth street, Chicago, where for weeks there has been a strike on the large intercepting sewer being constructed by the city. The strikers have beaten several of the colored men badly, but the tables were turned, the strikers were beaten, clubbed and chased out of the neighborhood. Twenty men were injured. Many arrests were made.

Will Withdraw Troops.

Gen. Leonard Wood, who has reached Washington, had a two hours' conference with the Secretary of War. After the conference Secretary Root announced that his recommendations as to the removal of troops from Cuba had been approved and that orders would be issued putting them into effect.

Made a Big Haul.

Two burglars entered the Postoffice at Warsaw, Ind., and made a big haul. They opened the safe and secured besides $400 in cash 80,000 2-cent postage stamps. This made their plunder amount to just $1,000. The burglars successfully eluded the Warsaw town officers and the night watchman.

Killed on a Crossing.

A Pennsylvania train crashed into a stage at Cranberry Crossing, near Hazleton, Pa., killing Miss Davidson of Grafton, W. Va.; Miss Emma Goeddee of Butler, and Mrs. Paisley of Harwood. Toney Cherby of Hazleton, the driver of the coach, was severely injured.

Will Garrison Mindanao.

Gen. Otis cabled the War Department announcing that the Thirty-first Volunteers who arrived on the Pekin and Manauense will garrison parts of Mindanao.

Father and Daughter Killed.

James King, a farmer, and his daughter and horse were killed by the fast Panhandle train near Xenia, Ohio. They did not see the train owing to the dense fog.

A Vessel and Crew Lost.

A dispatch from St. John's N. F., says: The schooner Seraphis, bound for the Bay of Islands, is believed to have been foundered, with her crew of seven men.

Sail for Manila.

The transports Dolny Vostock and Columbia have sailed for Manila from San Francisco with the Forty second Infantry on board.

Masonic Temple, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Dec. 6—West's Minstrels.
Dec. 9—"The Evil Eye."

Second Army Corps To Be Called Out.

Lord Wolseley, speaking in London recently, confirmed the semi-official announcement that another division of the Second Army Corps would be called out. This division, he said, would soon be on the way to the Cape.

Bogus Mint in Prison.

A counterfeiting outfit has been captured in the Alabama Penitentiary at Wetumka. The mold was made by taking an impression in wet plaster of paris. Some dollar pieces that were found were well calculated to deceive Swept by a Cloudburst.

A portion of the town of Cotulla, Tex., was washed away by a cloudburst. Four inches of rain fell in thirty minutes. A merchant named Walker and his wife were drowned. Many buildings were wrecked and great damage to live stock and ranch property in the vicinity.

Big Fire in Navy Yard.

The ship-fitters' shop at Charlestown navy yard, Boston, was destroyed by fire, and the machinery contained in it is estimated to have been damaged to the extent of $25,000 to $50,000. The machinery was valued at $300,000. How the fire started could not be determined.

MONETARY ANXIETIES FADE.

Better Feeling in Financial Circles—Wool Sales Pass All Records.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: "Monetary anxieties have faded with sales of bonds to the treasury under the recent offer, the fall in sterling exchange in spite of dearer money abroad and easier here, and the receipt of about $750,000 net from the interior during the week. There is no trouble in the commercial money market, as there has been none, and loans on securities have ruled at easier rates. The iron industry shows no yielding in material, but a little advance in Bessemer pig at Pittsburg, with large inquiries for next year. Sales of wool pass all records, having been at the three chief markets 61,094,203 pounds in three weeks of November; whereas October sales in five weeks were but 68,314,989 pounds, and in only one other full month have sales ever reached 60,000,000 pounds. The trading is largely between dealers and leaves no indication of consumption. Failures for the week have been 191 in the United States, against 188 last year, and 22 in Canada, against 21 last year."

DIAMOND ROBBERY STOPPED.

Act of Errand Boy Frustrates a Big Theft at Pittsburg.

A bold attempt at diamond robbery was made at Pittsburg, but was frustrated by the prompt action of a boy and the police. Just before closing time three men entered the jewelry store of A. E. Siedle. While two of the men engaged the clerk and porter in conversation the third opened a showcase and transferred thirty diamonds, valued at about $6,000, from the case to a pocket apron he had suspended about his waist. The errand boy employed at the store gave the alarm and followed the man in his flight. The robber jumped on a trolley car, but the conductor put him off. Detective McGovern arrested him after a fierce struggle, in which the prisoner tried to shoot his captor. All of the diamonds except one were recovered. The man gave his name as Jack Robinson of Cincinnati, but the police think he is from New York.

CLAIM AGAINST SPAIN.

Naturalized American Was Imprisoned in Porto Rico as a Spy.

Haffis Azar, a Syrian by birth, but a naturalized citizen of the United States, arrived in this country on the steamship San Marcos a few days ago to look after a suit for $100,000 damages to health and property which, he says, he suffered at the hands of the Spanish. At the time the war broke out he had a jewelry store in Mayaguez, Porto Rico, April 4, he says, he was arrested by Lieut. Gabriel F. Morales as a spy. All his property, consisting of jewelry and gems, valued at many thousands of dollars, was carried away. In his place of business was found a New York newspaper, and this confirmed the belief of the authorities that he was a spy. He was incarcerated in a narrow cell and was given insufficient food, and wears glasses as the result of his impaired eyesight. He will press his suit.

RECONCILED AT THE INQUEST.

St. Louis Attorney, Exonerated by the Jury, Meets His Wife Again.

At St. Louis the coroner's jury returned a verdict of justifiable homicide in the case of Attorney James T. Roberts, the lawyer charged with the murder of Prof. R. A. Simpson, the dramatic agent. At the inquest Mrs. Roberts testified that Simpson, who was giving her theatrical lessons, had insulted her. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, who had been separated for some time, became reconciled at the inquest.

FARMER SHOOTS TWO OFFICERS.

Attempt to Levy an Execution Results in a Double Tragedy.

Near Chicago Junction, Ohio, Constable William Smith was killed and Marshal J. T. Conklin of Plymouth was fatally wounded by Ezra Moore, a farmer. The officers went to Moore's house to levy an execution and Moore became incensed. Seizing a gun, Moore shot Smith in the head and Conklin in the head and shoulder. Smith died in a few minutes.

WRECK CAR WITH DYNAMITE.

Explosives Used on Springfield Line Having Trouble with Strikers.

At 8:30 o'clock the other night a street car on the Seventh street line of the Springfield, Ill., Consolidated Street Railway Company was dynamited in the northern part of the city. The car was badly demolished, but the motorman, conductor and the three women who were passengers escaped injury.

Uses Knife for Pneumonia.

Dr. H. L. Grosh, the Toledo, Ohio, city physician, has performed the first successful operation for pneumonia in the United States, if not in the world. The patient is Frank Turley. Dr. Grosh pronounced his patient out of danger after three successive surgical operations, each time abscesses being removed from the lungs. Specialists had pronounced the case hopeless.

Robbers Loot Another Bank.

The Bank of Bluff City, Kan., was looted on a recent night by robbers who are thought to be members of the same gang that blew open the safe at Clearwater. It is not known how much money was secured at Bluff City, although the loss is reported to be about $600 and about $600 worth of notes and other papers.

Big Stores Burn in Detroit.

The building occupied by A. Krolick & Co., commission merchants, at 35 and 37 Woodbridge street, and the wholesale dry goods establishment of Strong, Lee & Co., back of it, at 153 Jefferson avenue, Detroit, were destroyed by fire. The total loss is estimated at $300,000 on stocks and $30,000 on buildings.

Plot Against the Sultan's Life.

A number of arrests of Mussulmans have been made in Constantinople, including a general of division and several important officials, charged with being engaged in a plot to assassinate the Sultan with dynamite bombs on the occasion of the Selamlik. The accused have been exiled to Yemen.

Cripple's Desperate Deed.

At Mount Vernon, Ohio, Charles Goldsborough, a crippled saloonkeeper, shot and killed his wife and then ended his own existence by sending a bullet through his head. The tragedy was enacted in the apartments of the couple over the saloon. Jealousy on the part of the husband led to the deed.

New War Ship Is Swift.

Against tide, wind and a heavy head sea for at least half her course the new battleship Kentucky made a record of 16.877 knots an hour on her official speed trial over the Government course from Cape Ann to Boone Island.

Blown to Pieces by Dynamite.

The house of Scott McAfee, near Fountain Park, Ohio, was wrecked. McAfee was killed and Miss Clara Ropp fatally injured by an explosion of dynamite. McAfee had placed a stick of dynamite under the kitchen stove to dry.

Indiana Postoffice Robbed.

A daring postoffice robbery took place at New Pittsburg, Ind. Burglars drilled the office safe and exploded a charge of dynamite. The safe was almost blown to pieces and the entire front of the building was torn out by the force of the explosion. Eighty dollars in money and some postage stamps were obtained by the thieves. There are no clews to the criminals.

SHIP'S MISSION A MYSTERY.

Vessel at Mare Island to Go to Panama Under Sealed Orders.

The United States ship Ranger, now lying at Mare Island, San Francisco, has been quietly fitted out for some long voyage, and well-founded rumors are current that she is bent on some secret mission. The officers of the warship refuse to discuss the nature of the voyage. Several six-inch guns are being placed in position on the vessel. The only thing the officers will admit is that the Ranger has been ordered to Panama, and will sail early in December. Sealed instructions have been received from Washington, to be opened on arrival at Panama. It is believed by naval men in San Francisco that the Ranger's ultimate destination is Manila, and that she will be anchored for shore duty at some of the new ports recently taken from the rebels.

LOGAN'S ESTATE LEFT TO WIFE.

It Will Aggregate $55,000, Mostly in Life Insurance Policies.

Under the conditions of the will of the late Maj. John A. Logan his entire estate is left absolutely to his wife. On account of business complications the financial affairs of Maj. Logan have been for several years in the hands of Robert Bentley and H. M. Garlick of Youngstown, Ohio, and James Shaw of New York. Maj. Logan carried life insurance amounting to $34,500, payable to his wife. Aside from the life insurance it is probable his estate will not be less than $20,000. Robert Bentley has been appointed administrator.

Daring Hold-Up at Dixie, O. T.

A daring hold-up occurred at Dixie, O. T. A man and an 18-year-old boy with handkerchiefs tied over their faces rode into town and, going into S. B. Bunn & Co's store, compelled ten men to hold up their hands while they took $80 from the cash drawer, and remounting their horses the robbers compelled the crowd to march before them 150 yards.

Will Watch Enrollment of Cherokees.

The chief of the Cherokee nation has appointed Col. L. B. Bell of Vinita, I. T., and W. W. Hastings of Tahlequah as attorneys to represent the Cherokee nation before the United States commission to the five civilized tribes during the time that commission is engaged in making the new rolls of citizens of the Cherokee nation.

Strike Leader Sent to Jail.

John P. Reese of the United Mine Workers of America, who was sent to Fort Scott, Kan., by National President Mitchell to direct the coal miners' strike, was found guilty of contempt of the Federal Court by violating an injunction against strikers and was sentenced to jail for three months and to pay $100 fine and several hundred dollars costs.

Dying by Hundreds.

Yokohama advices say that a terrible condition of affairs prevails at New Chwang, Manchuria, with respect to the bubonic plague. Hundreds of deaths are occurring weekly, the mortality reaching forty to sixty every day. The disease is beginning to spread over Manchuria.

Dramatic Teacher Shot Dead.

James T. Roberts, an attorney, shot and killed Prof. Ray Simpson, conductor of a dramatic school in St. Louis, because, he alleges, Simpson had alienated the affections of Mrs. Roberts. Simpson was shot in the heart and died without regaining consciousness.

Newspaper Office Wrecked.

Unknown parties entered the office of the Monroe, Neb., Mirror during the night, destroyed the presses and dumped the type and other material into a creek. The act is supposed to be the outgrowth of a bitter town fight. The paper is the State organ of the Liberty party.

Fierce Fire in Chicago.

The Chicago department battled hard with a fierce blaze in the Morse & Johnson storage warehouse at 182 Kinzie street, which, after nearly two hours' fighting, was subdued at a loss estimated at $190,000.

Yields to the Navy.

Secretary of the Navy Long has received a cablegram from Admiral Watson informing him that the entire province of Zamzoanga, island of Mindanao, had surrendered unconditionally to Commander Very of the Castine.

Americans to Build Railway.

Advices from Tien-Tsin say that the negotiations of the American syndicate regarding the Hankow-Canton railway have been brought to a successful conclusion.

George R. Davis Is Dead.

Col. George R. Davis, most prominently known for his official connection with the World's Fair as director general, died at his home in Chicago of palpitation of the heart.

Warehouse Destroyed by Fire.

The warehouse of Fones Brothers' Hardware Company at Little Rock, Ark., was destroyed by fire. The loss is $175,000, insurance $125,000.

MARKET QUOTATIONS.

Chicago—Cattle, common to prime, $3.00 to $7.25; hogs, shipping grades, $3.00 to $4.00; sheep, fair to choice, $3.00 to $4.50; wheat, No. 2 red, 65c to 66c; corn, No. 2, 31c to 32c; oats, No. 2, 22c to 23c; rye, No. 2, 54c to 55c; butter, choice creamery, 25c to 27c; eggs, fresh, 17c to 19c; potatoes, choice, 35c to 45c per bushel.

Indianapolis—Cattle, shipping, $3.00 to $6.50; hogs, choice light, $3.00 to $4.25; sheep, common to prime, $3.00 to $4.25; wheat, No. 2 red, 65c to 67c; corn, No. 2 white, 32c to 33c; oats, No. 2 white, 25c to 27c.

St. Louis—Cattle, $3.25 to $6.75; hogs, $3.00 to $4.00; sheep, $3.00 to $4.25; wheat, No. 2, 71c to 72c; corn, No. 2 yellow, 30c to 32c; oats, No. 2, 23c to 25c; rye, No. 2, 5[illegible]c to 53c.

Cincinnati—Cattle, $2.50 to $6.50; hogs, $3.00 to $4.25; sheep, $2.50 to $4.00; wheat, No. 2, 69c to 70c; corn, No. 2 mixed, 31c to 33c; oats, No. 2 mixed, 25c to 27c; rye, No. 2, 59c to 61c.

Detroit—Cattle, $2.50 to $6.50; hogs, $3.00 to $4.00; sheep, $3.00 to $4.00; wheat, No. 2, 69c to 70c; corn, No. 2 yellow, 33c to 35c; oats, No. 2 white, 27c to 28c; rye, 57c to 59c.

Toledo—Wheat, No. 2 mixed, 67c to 68c; corn, No. 2 mixed, 32c to 34c; oats, No. 2 mixed, 23c to 24c; rye, No. 2, 55c to 57c; clover seed, $4.70 to $4.80.

Milwaukee—Wheat, No. 2 northern, 64c to 66c; corn, No. 3, 32c to 34c; oats, No. 2 white, 24c to 26c; rye, No. 1, 54c to 56c; barley, No. 2, 43c to 45c; pork, mess, $7.75 to $8.25.

Buffalo—Cattle, good shipping steers, $3.00 to $6.75; hogs, common to choice, $3.25 to $4.25; sheep, fair to choice wethers, $3.00 to $4.50; lambs, common to extra, $4.50 to $5.25.

New York—Cattle, $3.25 to $6.75; hogs, $3.00 to $4.50; sheep, $3.00 to $4.75; wheat, No. 2 red, 72c to 74c; corn, No. 2, 39c to 40c; oats, No. 2 white, 30c to 32c; butter, creamery, 23c to 27c; eggs, western, 18c to 21c.

A MAXIM DETACHMENT IN NATAL.

COMING INTO "ACTION FRONT."

These troops represent the Natal carbineers, who took part in the recent engagements at Glencoe and Elandslaagte.

BATTLE AT GRAS PAN.

Gen. Methuen Meets Boer Force Ten Miles from Belmont.

Gen. Lord Methuen's force, advancing to the relief of Kimberley, again met the Boer army at Gras Pan, ten miles north of Belmont, Saturday, and a desperate battle, lasting many hours, ensued. The engagement was not ended when the official report was sent, but it was construed as a British victory, despite heavy losses, in which the naval detachment stood more than its share. A recapitulation of the losses by Gen. Methuen's forces at Gras Pan shows that fifty Boers were killed and twice as many wounded. The battle began at 6 a. m., lasting until 10 a. m. Boer losses must have been much heavier than known. Fifty horses were found dead where the Boers withstood a steady rain of shrapnel. The British did not pursue the routed forces of the enemy, but halted one day to rest.

The brunt of the fighting in both engagements was borne by the Ninth brigade, the naval brigade, the Second Yorkshire light infantry and First North Lancashire regiment. The Boer force was composed of Transvaal and Free State commandos. Its artillery was commanded by the Transvaal general, Delarraye. The artillery was carried off the field, despite the flanking attack of the British cavalry. Among the killed were Commander Alfred P. Ethelsten of the cruiser Powerful, Captain Guy Senior of the Royal marine artillery, attached to the battleship Monarch, and Maj. Plumbe of the Royal marines. Flag Captain R. C. Prathers was severely wounded. The Boers shelled a camp of Rhodesian horse, north of Crocodile river, and captured the horses and mules of the squadron.

Up to date the Boers hold as prisoners thirty-nine officers, 1,237 men and sixty-two political prisoners. The total British losses since the opening of the campaign on Oct. 15 are 222 killed, 881 wounded and 676 missing, making a total of 2,779. About 400 who are not accounted, it is feared, were killed.

Gen. Methuen's second battle foreshadows a hard campaign for the British. The information sent by correspondents concerning Gen. Joubert's movements is not altogether reliable, and engagements may be looked for in unexpected places.

Gen. Joubert, in an interview, declares the British will be greatly weakened by their losses, and that a defensive war by the Boers will result in guerrilla warfare the British could not long endure.

A dispatch from Rome says many Italians are leaving there to join the Boers. The Boers in their marches frequently halt their horses and dismount to pray for divine guidance and aid. As the second stand by the Boers at Gras Pan was only ten miles from where the first engagement took place, another battle is expected as soon as the British again advance.

DEATH OF GEORGE R. DAVIS.

Director General of World's Fair Expires in Chicago.

Col. George R. Davis died at the family residence, 692 Washington boulevard, Chicago, Saturday night. At the bedside were his wife, his two sons, Benjamin and George R. Davis, Jr., and his four daughters, Delia, Nellie, Georgia Belle, Elizabeth Davis and the attending physicians, Drs. Patton and Foster.

On Nov. 13 Col. Davis was stricken with heart trouble and a specialist was called at once. His patient was found in a critical condition, but owing to his great vitality rallied and for several days there was hope of his recovery. On Saturday, however, he began to sink and an hour before he passed away he became unconscious.

COL. GEORGE R. DAVIS.

Col. Davis was born in Palmer, Mass., in 1840. In 1862 he enlisted and was made a captain in the Eighth Massachusetts infantry. Later he entered the cavalry service and was promoted to a colonelcy. In 1871 he went to Chicago. He was director general of the World's Fair.

EVANS A CANDIDATE.

Tennessee Will Name Him for the Vice Presidency.

Tennessee will present the name of H. Clay Evans as a candidate for the Vice-Presidential nomination on the Republican ticket. The announcement has been made at Chattanooga by Mr. Evans' friends. Evans, it is claimed, is the most popular man among the Illinoisans for the vice-presidency. Senator Cullom stated before starting for Washington that no better man could be put on the ticket.

H. CLAY EVANS.

IN WICKED CHICAGO.

A Thousand Crows Rob a Farmer and Claw Him.

A thousand voracious crows swooped down on John Schmidt, a German truck farmer in the suburbs of Chicago, Thursday, and took from him a five-pound package of sausage and flew away.

The experience of Schmidt is one of the most remarkable of the kind that ever decorated the books of the Chicago police department. The attack upon him was made near his home when he was returning from a meat market half a mile away. His face and hands show the effects of his fight with the birds, and a Newfoundland dog that accompanied him lost one of its eyes.

MAC ARTHUR ROUTS REBELS.

Occupies Mangatarem and Drives Filipinos Toward Mountains.

Manila advices say that Gen. MacArthur's force has occupied Mangatarem, west of Bayambang, in the valley of the Rio Agno. Seven Americans who had escaped from the insurgents were found at Mangatarem. Three other Americans escaped from the rebels at the same time. The escaping American prisoners say that four American deserters are serving with the insurgents. The insurgents remaining in the west are retreating before MacArthur into the mountains, dragging six guns. They are in command of Gen. Alejandro. Maj. Bell is in pursuit of them.

Much interest is manifest in Washington official circles as to the disposition of Aguinaldo in case of his capture. Some persons say that the best solution would be to put him to death in action. Should Aguinaldo escape to Hong Kong the United States could not as a matter of right ask for his surrender, and the President would therefore doubtless determine to leave the insurgent leader alone. In connection with the disposition of

THE SLIPPERY AGUINALDO.

Aguinaldo in case of capture, the authorities would have to consider the effect of their policy upon the natives.

When the insurrection is finally subdued, a civilian or a committee will be sent to govern the Philippines. The archipelago will be divided into four military departments, the island of Luzon in two, over which Gens. Lawton and MacArthur will probably preside.

Admiral Watson Monday cabled a confirmation of the reported surrender of the entire province of Zamboanga, island of Mindonao. An unconditional surrender was made by the natives to Commander Very of the Castine. Gen. Otis' troops now occupy Zamboanga, which is the principal city of the island. The southern half of the island is pacified and American authority supreme in the district. Secretary Root and Secretary Long are elated and predict that the remnants of the native army will melt away without offering further effective resistance.

After the last Filipino council of war at Bayambang in the house now occupied by Gen. MacArthur, the native army scattered everywhere along the lines of railroads. Twenty Filipinos captured three and killed one of a foraging party of soldiers near Bamban. The Americans punished the natives by driving the Filipinos into the mountains and burning their village.

At Malasiqui the throats of Antonio Mejia, president of the town, the vice-president and five members of the council were cut because they welcomed the Americans. The mayor of San Carlos, who rode in a carriage with Gen. MacArthur, was murdered.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

Treasury Statistics Showing Balance of Trade in Favor of Uncle Sam.

The detailed tables of the September imports and exports have been completed by the treasury bureau of statistics. The summarization which accompanies them shows the foreign commerce of the month by great classes, compared with that of the corresponding month of last year, as follows:

IMPORTS.	Sept. '98.	Sept. '99.
Articles of food and live animals	$14,071,345	$20,579,033
Articles in a crude condition for domestic industry	14,046,165	24,328,742
Articles manufactured for use in the mechanic arts	4,537,358	6,872,713
Articles manufactured ready for consumption	8,980,100	10,432,714
Articles of voluntary use, luxuries, etc.	6,821,419	8,446,206
Total imports	$48,456,387	$70,659,408
Per cent. of free	40.58	43.06
Duties collected	$16,759,574	$19,120,358
Foreign goods remaining in warehouse	35,207,434	35,421,921
DOMESTIC EXPORTS.
Products of agriculture	$57,368,965	$69,184,412
Products of manufactures	25,020,047	31,373,264
Products of mining	2,644,469	2,877,999
Products of the forests	3,544,131	4,137,338
Products of the fisheries	596,729	752,944
Miscellaneous	110,039	253,388
Total domestic exports	$89,304,380	$108,579,346
Foreign goods re-exported	1,341,057	1,296,146
Gold imports	$16,808,341	$2,593,894
Gold exports	3,102,810	618,993
Silver imports	2,000,696	2,376,844
Silver exports	5,152,103	3,622,041
Total imports of merchandise nine months	475,360,806	585,354,123
Total exports of merchandise nine months	869,292,778	892,468,318

VALUE OF HOBART ESTATE.

Dead Vice President's Wealth Is Estimated at $5,000,000.

It is estimated that Vice-President Hobart left an estate valued at $5,000,000, or perhaps more. He carried life insurance with several large companies amounting in the aggregate to $350,000. The remains of the late Vice-President will not be placed under ground, but will be inclosed in a massive tomb especially built for their reception in Cedar Lawn Cemetery. In the meantime the body will be left in the receiving vault at the Paterson Cemetery, where it now lies.

FACE DEATH AT SEA.

FEARFUL VOYAGE OF TRANSPORT MANAUENSE.

Vessel Is Caught in a Typhoon and Arrives at Manila in a Sinking Condition Soldiers Kept Bailing for Days in Ignorance of Their Danger.

The army transport Manauense arrived at Manila, thirty-three days from San Francisco. She narrowly escaped foundering with all on board, as her engines broke down and she rolled three days at the mercy of a typhoon. The Manauense had on board Lieut. Col. Webb Hayes and three companies of the Thirty-first infantry. The officers and soldiers were kept baling for twelve days and it was almost a miracle that the vessel reached Manila. The steamer, it is claimed, was unseaworthy, undermanned and short of provisions.

When the Manauense anchored in Manila bay there was several feet of water in her hold and 400 grimy, greasy, hungry, exhausted soldiers and sailors who had been passing buckets of water for two weeks, night and day. First Assistant Engineer Dunleavy was under arrest, and, according to Col. Webb Hayes' official report, the chief engineer would also have been under arrest if there had been anyone to replace him.

Men Ignorant of Danger.

The colonel's report also declares that the captain of the vessel told him that the only thing which brought them through was the fact that the men were greenhorns and failed to realize their danger, while experienced seamen would have deserted the ship and taken to the boats in midocean.

The Manauense is a chartered ship flying the British flag. She started from San Francisco accompanied by the transport Pekin, which carried the remainder of the regiment and encountered heavy seas to Honolulu without accident.

After starting it developed that she was undermanned and soldiers had to be detailed to act as firemen, coal passers and waiters and to do other work. Before reaching Honolulu the crew concluded that the ship was not safe and the majority agreed to desert. Though they were closely watched, many of the crew succeeded in getting away and the Manauense left Honolulu with less than half her crew. The vessel sprung a leak and an investigation resulted in finding several feet of water in her hold. The steam pumps were tried, but failed to work, and there were no hand pumps on board. However, forty-six buckets were found, others were improvised and the soldiers not employed in working the ship were organized into five shifts and, stripping and forming lines, they began baling, the officers working with the men, passing the buckets, which were sent up to the deck by a windlass. The baling continued until the ship anchored at Manila.

Machinery Is Disabled.

The same day the leak was discovered the machinery collapsed and the electric lighting plant and evaporating, distilling and refrigerating apparatus failed to work. There were no lamps and the few candles found were exhausted after a few days. During the last week of the passage the Manauense was in utter darkness at night. She had been rolling in heavy seas all the way, but Nov. 22 she encountered a typhoon and pitched and tossed alarmingly. The Pekin became separated from the Manauense in the storm. The water rose rapidly and the firemen could only feed the fires by being lifted on the shoulders of the other men through water waist deep.

The typhoon lasted two days and a half and in the midst of it the engines stopped. The officers held a council and found that there were 420 persons on board, with lifeboat accommodations for 213.

In the meantime the men below, ignorant of their extreme peril, were passing buckets and singing, while the ship rolled helplessly on the ocean with hatches closed. The heat was intense until the typhoon passed. Throughout the remainder of the voyage the engines of the Manauense failed frequently and the ship would roll for a few hours while the engines were repairing. Then the steamer would proceed again for a few hours.

The meat and vegetables rotted because of the failure of the refrigerators and were thrown overboard. The officers and soldiers were utterly exhausted when they reached Manila. They declare the engineers were grossly incompetent. The officers also say that the behavior of the troops was beyond praise. For days they worked in the dark, suffocating hold with water sometimes up to their shoulders and planks washing about in a manner dangerous to life and limb.

HARPER & BROTHERS IN STRAITS

State Trust Company Takes Charge of New York Publishing House.

The difficulties under which the New York publishing house of Harper & Bros. has, according to rumor, been laboring for many months, resulted Tuesday in the entire business passing from the hands of the Harpers into the control of the State Trust Company, acting as trustees for J. P. Morgan & Co., holders of $3,500,000 in mortgage bonds. The trust company has appointed George B. M. Harvey, who was recently elected president of Harper & Bros., as its agent to take charge of the property, and it is thought a reorganization may be effected, which will insure the continuance of the business under the old name, but under Mr. Harvey's management. Besides the amount of the mortgage Harper & Bros. have unsecured liabilities of about $2,000,000.

OLD WORLD NOTABLES

Argentina's president has a $7,500 uniform.

King Alfonso of Spain has a new automobile.

Ex-President Pierola of Peru has $50,000,000.

Earl of Harrington owns a grocery in London.

The descendants of Queen Victoria now number seventy-one.

The Grand Duchess Nicholas Nicolaievitch is a Russian nun.

Lord Lister ranks Sir William Turner as the foremost living anatomist.

All of the Danish princesses are taught to sew and make their own dresses.

Queen Victoria advocates sensible footwear and practices it by wearing felt shoes.

The Duke of Richmond and Gordon, in his eighty-second year, goes fishing almost daily.

The Prince of Wales inspected the Scots Guards prior to their departure for South Africa.

The Crown Prince of Germany becomes of age next May and will have as his separate establishment the old castle at Potsdam.

The horses in Queen Victoria's stables are being drilled in the presence of motor cars to make them safe for driving among automobiles.

INDIANA INCIDENTS.

RECORD OF EVENTS OF THE PAST WEEK.

Boy Prevents a Train Wreck—Student's Hearing Destroyed by Initiation—Explosive Under an Undertaking Establishment—Schoolgirl's Brave Deed.

The presence of mind of 14-year-old Frank Williams prevented a disastrous wreck and doubtless great loss of life on the Vandalia railroad. Williams was going from Knightsville to Brazil when he noticed a broken rail, which had been pressed out of position by a freight train. He heard the west-bound passenger and mail train whistle for the Knightsville station. Knowing that the train did not stop there, the boy ran up the track and when he sighted the train stood between the rails and waved his hat. The engineer, seeing the boy would not leave the track, stopped the train. The engine then was within a few feet of the broken rail. The engineer said he was running fifty miles an hour when he saw the boy signaling him to stop.

Serious Result of a Prank.

At the Eastern Indiana Normal University in Muncie Clarence Deaton was initiated into the mysteries of class society. Wagon axle grease was smeared all over his body. His clothing was then torn off in shreds and an electric battery was applied. The shock was so great that his sense of hearing has been destroyed. Another candidate was tied to a tombstone in the cemetery and kept there all night.

Girl Saves Child's Life.

Miss Ethel Smock, a girl in the Centennial school at Lafayette, distinguished herself by saving the life of a child. The child fell between the Monon tracks just as the Louisville express dashed on to the crossing. Miss Smock rushed in front of the engine, seized the baby and barely escaped.

House Wrecked by Dynamite.

Farmersburg was the scene of a terrible explosion. Some unknown person or persons placed dynamite beneath the undertaking establishment of W. J. Wood of that place and the explosion wrecked the building and broke window glass throughout the town.

Large Water Tank Collapses.

In Indianapolis the immense water tank of Kingan & Co.'s packing house collapsed. The paint shop and other smaller buildings were destroyed by the avalanche of water. The tank was 100 feet high and held 38,000 gallons or 140 tons of water. No one was injured.

Within Our Borders.

Martinsville will have a sewer system.

Anderson bolt works will be moved to Louisville.

Muncie trades council will establish a free library.

Krein chain works, Marion, has gone into the trust.

Chas. Curtner, 24, Union City, was cut in two by a train.

The electric railroad from Logansport to Kendallville is a go.

Benson Wantz, 65, Goshen, was instantly killed by a train.

W. F. Edwards, agent for the Lake Erie at Hobbs, is missing.

Oliver B. Arthur, Waterloo, has been appointed railway mail clerk.

Fern McGovern, 4, Anderson, fell from a toy wagon and broke his neck.

Theodore Pratt was instantly killed by a runaway team near Ross station.

Beds of shale near Martinsville may be the means of locating a large steel mill there.

Farmers in DeKalb County complain because there are no little potatoes to feed the pigs.

Mrs. Louis Schorr, near Batesville, found several lumps of gold in a duck's craw the other day.

Three mules at Brazil had glanders, and they were ordered shot and the stable burned over them.

Lafayette physicians held a private meeting the other day to take steps to stamp out diphtheria.

Haynes & Apperson, automobile manufacturers, Kokomo, have turned out a motor to propel farm machinery.

Three children of Conrad Baker, Pleasant township, died within a few hours of each other, of diphtheria.

Benson Wantz, aged 65, a prominent and wealthy early settler, was struck and instantly killed by a Lake Shore train at Millersburg.

Little child of Ryan Hickerson, Petersburg, got hold of a box of pills and swallowed all of them. He will live, but will never do it again.

A new sidewheel steamer line, known as the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and Louisville Packet Company, has been organized with $150,000 capital, to buck the Louisville and Cincinnati Packet Company.

Employes of the Midland Steel Company, Muncie, have requested that the weekly pay law be not enforced, as the mills would be closed Saturday afternoon to make out the pay rolls, which means a loss to each of $2 a week.

While Ambrose Colby, Noblesville blacksmith, was shoeing John E. Kercheval's horse, Kercheval's dog jumped through a window. The horse was frightened and kicked Colby on the leg, crippling him for life. Colby has now sued for $10,000 damages.

The custodian of the Indiana wire fence factory at Crawfordsville, which was recently absorbed by the trust, acting under instructions from headquarters, destroyed three new wire fence machines. These cost $1,500 each and had been used but a few weeks when the factory closed. They were broken to bits and the fragments will be sold to junk dealers.

Cambridge City is having trouble with "kids" between 15 and 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Jacobs, Clark County, have been married sixty-one years.

E. E. Sours, Huntington County stock raiser, sold his short horn herd for $17,160.

The Hudnut Milling Company at Terre Haute has equipped its plant with machinery for the purpose of making oil from corn. The inside of the kernels will be crushed, the oil extracted and the refuse pressed into bricks for the feeding of stock.

Lagrange County farmers have lost several steers with "mad itch," supposed to have been contracted from eating corn fodder that hogs had chewed.

George Carver and Molly Stout, Anderson, wanted to be married so badly that they chased Rev. Stafford to the station, and by cutting the ceremony, he succeeded in tying the knot as his train was pulling out.

The hoisting engineers at the coal mines in Brazil district struck for an advance of $25 a month, making their wages $75. Four thousand miners were thrown out of employment. The operators conceded the advance and signed a scale for one year.

FROST ON THE PUNKIN.

When the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock,
And you hear the kyouck and gobble of the struttin' turkey-cock,
And the clackin' of the guineys, and the cluckin' of the hens,
And the rooster's hallylooyer as he tiptoes on the fence;
O, it's then's the times a feller is a feelin' at his best,
With the risin' sun to greet him from a night of peaceful rest,
As he leaves the house, bare headed, and goes out to feed the stock,
When the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock.

They's something kind o' heartylike about the atmosphere
When the best of summer's over and the coolin' fall is here—
Of course we miss the flowers and the blossoms on the trees,
And the mumble of the hummin' birds and buzzin' of the bees;
But the air's so appetizin', and the landscape through the haze
Of a crisp and sunny morning of the early autumn days
Is a pictur' that no painter has the colorin' to mock—
When the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock.

The husky, rusty rustle of the tossels of the corn,
And the raspin' of the tangled leaves, as golden as the morn;
The stubble in the furries—kind o' lonesomelike, but still
A-preachin' sermons to us of the barns they growed to fill;
The strawstack in the medder, and the reaper in the shed;
The hosses in their stalls below—the clover overhead—
O, it sets my heart a-clickin' like the tickin' of a clock,
When the frost is on the punkin and the fodder's in the shock.
—James Whitcomb Riley.

NAN'S KINDERGARTEN

"IF ever I was thankful I am this minute," said Nan Gray, as she threw herself in an easy chair on the piazza. "It did seem as if school would never end, but everything has an end if you can only wait for it, and this blessed day winds up the term, and now for a good summer's rest from teaching the young idea and all its attendant afflictions."

"Well, dear, are you tired?" said her mother as she entered.

"Tired to death, and I believe I almost wish I might not see a child again until September. Don't, please, don't take any children to board at the cottage this summer, ma."

"Why, Nan Gray, I always thought you loved children."

"So I do, mamma, but after one has eaten a pound of chocolates she doesn't care for any more immediately, does she? Don't you understand?"

"Yes, Nan, I see. We will announce 'No children need apply,' so don't worry."

The next morning Nan and George, with their mother, started for their house at the beach, where they were to take a few boarders. On the steamer sitting near them was a young man with three children and a nurse maid. The youngest child was about a year old, a bright, pretty little thing. The other two were boys, perhaps 3 and 5 years old, with sweet faces and cunning ways.

"Nan," said George, "go and ask him if he doesn't want a nice boarding place for the summer. That's just what you've been looking for in the way of boarders, you know."

Nan flashed a look at her brother, then turned her eyes to the broad expanse of sea, but in spite of herself her thoughts would come back to the group near by. "I wonder where they are going. Where's the mamma? Perhaps she's dead. He does look sad and serious. How lovingly he holds the little boy?" But it was nearly time for our travelers to land, and they began to pick up their bundles and bags.

"Look, Nan, they land here, too. I'll bet a cookie they are coming in answer to that 'ad' for a few boarders you put in the paper. Jolly! wouldn't it be a joke on you, though, sis?" And George chuckled heartily.

"Dear me, I ought to have added 'No children,' but I forgot. Do you suppose they can be coming to our house, ma?"

"Time will tell, Nan," said her mother, smiling. They walked briskly on and reached their house a few minutes in advance of the "kindergarten party," as Nan's brother called it.

Looking around, they observed the gentleman evidently inquiring the way somewhere. He had stopped the local fish merchant, and from all appearances was being directed to the Gray cottage. In a moment came a ring at the door, to which George responded. "Does Mrs. Gray live here?" inquired the stranger, who was leading the little boy of 3 or 4. Closely following was another boy two or three years older, and the nurse with the baby girl on her arms.

George, though intensely amused at Nan's predicament, invited the party in very politely, and spoke to his mother.

Nan, who had dropped into a chair in the further part of the room, sat gazing out of the window into the orchard. She heard the gentleman introduce himself as Mr. Bailey and tell her mother that he had seen the advertisement in the paper. His wife died about a year ago, and since that time his mother had been with him and looked after his little ones and directed the servants. But illness in her own home had called her there, and for the summer at least she must remain away. After seeing the "ad" yesterday he decided this morning to give the babies a sail down the harbor and see if any arrangement for a summer home could be made in case a suitable place was found. The doctor had advised the seashore, and he wanted them near enough the city so he could see them every day. "I assure you they are good children, Mrs. Gray, and Nurse Mary will see that they trouble no one. I will pay you well if you will let them have a home with you for a while."

Motherly Mrs. Gray would have said "yes" immediately to his pleading, but she remembered her promise to Nan. Excusing herself, she beckoned Nan into a side room. "Well, Nan, you have heard the plea, what do you say?"

"Oh, dear," said Nan. "I don't see how we can say 'no' with those little motherless things right before us. If I had only been a little wiser on wording that 'ad.' I know how anxious you are to take the whole brood under your wing, and I know too well what its shelter means to urge you to say no, when your heart says 'yes,' you dear mother soul!"

So the little family stayed many weeks, Papa Bailey coming down every night. And so dear did they become to Nan that it was only with feelings of sadness that she thought of their leaving.

It was the last Saturday of vacation. Nan had taken Baby May into the hammock in the orchard and had sung her to sleep in her arms. "You little darling, I wish I might keep you always," she whispered, as she gazed down into the sweet, rosy little face.

Looking up she saw bending over the hammock baby's papa. "I wish I dared to say the same thing to you, Nan," whispered he, as he looked into Nan's blushing face. "I have wished so many times this summer that I might always have you near. Won't you give up your large school and take a smaller one? We will be good pupils."

"I am not used to mixed grades," said Nan, mischievously, "but will try it if you wish it very much. But I must tell you a little story first. Perhaps you won't care for such a teacher then." So Nan told him of her wearliness at the close of school, and the narrow escape he had from being summarily dismissed when he applied for board for his babies.

He understood perfectly, and with a loving kiss to both occupants of the hammock he slipped a ring on Nan's finger. In the early fell Nan became Mrs. Bailey, and happiness reigned in the Bailey kindergarten.

GEN. CIPRIANO CASTRO.

Who Has Fought His Way to the Presidency of Venezuela.

Gen. Cipriano Castro, the new president of Venezuela, is only 36 years old, but he has been in politics for a long time. He was always one of the warmest supporters of the Liberal party, and took part in the war of defense during the revolution that was led by Crespo. That general did all he could to influence Castro to his side, and even offered him a portfolio, but Castro could not be persuaded to take it. The reverse, indeed, was the fact, for Castro severely criticised Crespo's administration. When Andrade's star began to rise Castro led a movement against him and Crespo. After the failure of the "Mocho" Hernandez revolution the man who is now president successfully defeated Morales and Larria and became the dominant military power of the country. With his new success came hordes of followers, and Castro, after carrying numerous towns, at last took the capital itself. President Castro is a highly educated young man and a hard worker, but he is handicapped with that explosiveness of character that is the greatest handicap to the Latin race.

GEN. CASTRO.

Counting the People by Machinery.

Our first census, made in 1795, showed the population of the United States to be five million, and the count cost Uncle Sam, who was comparatively poor then, one cent for each person. It is estimated that the twelfth census, to be made in June, 1900, will show that our people number seventy-five million, and that the item of clerk hire, in the Census Bureau alone, will exceed $5,000,000. Clifford Howard, writing of "How the Next Census Will Be Taken," in the Ladies' Home Journal, says that "although the work of enumeration will be completed by the first of July, it will probably be two or even three months later before the last of the schedules are received at the census office; for not only must they all be first examined by the supervisors, but in many cases they will probably require revision because of some error or informality. The actual counting of the people will not be done until the schedules are turned into the census office. The enumerators simply gather the facts, and the office force in Washington does the counting and the compiling, which is done by electricity. In 100 days all the facts relating to 75,000,000 people will be tabulated."

Sorry He Said It.

There are so many things in this wicked world we would rather not have said. Mean things, spiteful things, unfeeling things, reckless things which trickle over the lips before we realize it. An estimable man in town has a wife who is a good woman, though she can never be a candidate at a beauty show. He admires her, however, and as he is the one to be pleased her lack of loveliness is a small matter. One day he was talking with some friends about his disposition.

"No," said he candidly, "you rarely see me get worked up, nervous and cross. I am the easiest person in the world to please."

"One glance at your wife shows that," replied a dear friend, who is the soul of politeness, and who, poor wretch, really meant to imply she did not have the looks of a hagged or brow-beaten woman, and must get on easily with him. But, oh, it didn't sound that way, and that man would gladly have given $10 down for a hole in the ground just about that time.—Louisville Times.

Took Him at His Word.

"Thar's one er them agents what sells clocks on a credit wants to see you right off," said the new farm hand.

"Hang the agent!" exclaimed the farmer; "I don't want to see him or his clocks!"

The new farm hand vanished and did not return for an hour.

When he put in an appearance he asked:

"Whar'bouts roun' here does the coroner live?"

"What in thunder does you want with the coroner?"

"Well," said the new farm hand, taking a seat on a stump and wiping the perspiration from his brow with his shirt sleeve, "I hanged him!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Australian Railroad Fares.

The railroads of Australia have never discovered that it is possible to take up tickets on the train, hence the passengers are locked in the cars to prevent any of them from stealing a ride, and when they arrive at their station are hustled out through a turnstile and held up for tickets.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Women's Doings.

WHEN A MAN REALLY LOVES.

WE needs must love the highest where we see it, and our belief is that there is no man so matter how degraded, but has some worship to bring a really good woman when he recognizes her. But women, as a rule, do not seem to be alive to this desire. When a woman has won a man's true affection, he is ready and willing to idealize her and place her on a pedestal. He likes to think of her as some one better than himself, some one to whom he can pour out all his noblest aspirations.

All of us have our serious moments and an inner life which we do not show to the world, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. But who cares to "wear his heart on his sleeve for daws to peck at?"

The modern woman seems bent on disillusionizing man. They would worship, but she will not let them. She does her best—or her worst—to dissipate the halo of romance with which he would surround her.

How can one worship the modern girl? She treats lightly all the old ideals. She talks lightly of love, marriage and religion. She thinks it clever to make all kinds of risky little speeches and startling allusions.

To Walk Gracefully.

It is a rare thing to see a woman walk well, and the fault lies with the failure to teach her how. A girl is taught to dance, to ride and to swim, but since walking is the natural means of locomotion she is allowed to perform it in her own natural way, and to be natural is, unfortunately, not always to be graceful.

A long, swinging gait, in which the arms, swinging backward and forward like pendulums, plays as important a part as the legs, or a small, mincing pace, that no one else can manage to keep in step with, is far from graceful.

To walk with the entire body in active motion or with the body motionless and the head and neck stretched forward, as though to lead the way, is equally ugly. In graceful walking there is no stiffness and but little motion.

The body is held erect, the shoulders well back, the chest expanded, the abdomen in, and one steps out firm and true, putting each foot, slightly pointed outward, not directly in front of the other, but to one side, placing the ball of the foot on the ground and allowing the weight of the body to rest thereon for a fraction of a second, then raising the body on it toward the toe before following with the other foot.

Practice this method if you would walk well. It may in reading seem complicated, but it is in reality very simple, and with a little practice one soon acquires the art.—American Queen.

The Laws of Friendship.

Serious friendship cannot be enjoyed except by persons of character. Those who, themselves light and frivolous, choose friends from whim or fancy, or drift into the relation from chance proximity, or who make passionate or extravagant demands, forgetting the other duties of life in a swift transport of feeling, must forever remain ignorant of the depth, the solemnity and the sacredness of which friendship is capable, says the Denver Times.

Emerson says: "Our friendships hurry to short and poor conclusions because we have made them a texture of fiber of the human heart. The laws of friendship are austere and eternal—of one web with the law of nature and of morals. But we have aimed at a swift and petty benefit to such a sudden sweetness. We snatch at the slowest fruit in the whole garden of God, which many summers and many winters must ripen."

Matthew Arnold's Sister Dead.

Mrs. W. E. Forster, whose death occurred recently, was the sister of Mathew Arnold, and the "Dearest K." who figured so frequently in her brother's two volumes of letters. Young Forster was a Quaker, and in those days it was not permitted to marry outside the "society." Mrs. Forster used afterward to describe with much amusement how, soon after the wedding, a couple of grave elders called officially on the young couple, solemnly excommunicated William Forster, and then shook hands and staid to lunch.

MRS. FORSTER.

Do Not Omit Civilities.

If, as the old saying has it, civility costs nothing, it certainly gains much, both in the way of liking and kindness; therefore, it seems a great pity that so many people dispense with it in small matters of daily life.

There are, no doubt, very few people who are actually and actively rude and uncivil, but there are, on the other hand, many who are, if we may use the term, passively impolite. They do not, that is, commit a downright rudeness, but they omit a vast number of little civilities.

Men, perhaps, grumble the most, but it is the women who really feel most the loss of little civilities, for every woman at heart loves to be thought of, looked after and treated with care and consideration.

Happiness Is a Duty.

Be happy! Be happy in spite of everything! When a person is not happy, he is a failure in life. To be happy is to be normal, and the normal people are those who come out on top in the long run. Nature and human nature detest abnormal things, and unhappy people are certainly abnormal people. It is said that nothing makes happiness like happiness, and, from observation, one sees that it is true, says the Pittsburg Press. Happiness is two things—a good habit and a spiritual state. Many women, you think, are born unhappy. Is there any one such a weak-minded creature that she cannot cultivate the good habit of being happy?

The trouble with average woman who fancies herself unhappy is only an unwholesome fancy. She caresses and nourishes unhappiness. In other words, she hugs trouble. She luxuriates in being melancholy, in looking on the wrong side of things. If she only knew how disagreeable this made her in the sight of men, she would very soon change her tactics, for it has come to be a recognized fact in modern civilization that happiness is a necessity of life.

A Club Leader.

Mrs. Frederick Hanger, of Arkansas, is not only noted in her own State for her executive abilities in the field of clubwork among women, but was also instrumental in securing the success of the national meeting of women's clubs held last year in Denver, Col. Mrs. Hanger now holds the honored office of President of the Arkansas federation of women's clubs.

MRS. HANGER.

Ill-Treatment of Boys.

"I am always made sorry when I ride in the cars, through the shopping districts particularly," says a writer, "to see the way mothers ill-treat small boys. It is quiet as disastrous as physical ill-treatment might be.

"I see poor little fellows of 7 and 8, nice little men who would be manly if they were allowed to be, pulled around in the cars, out of the cars, pushed into that seat and out of it into another as if they were so many little dummies. They usually are very nearly that, for seven or eight years of such pushing and pulling is enough to take all the spirit out of a small boy unless he has unusual vigor of character. A boy of that age ought to be beginning to look out for his mother and finding seats for her.

"Occasionally a sensible mother, who treats her boy like a human being, is to be found, and it is a pleasure to see them together. The boy who is dragged around during the early part of his life is apt to come to himself after a time if he is not entirely ruined, and then he goes to an opposite extreme, is rude and self-asserting while he is trying to establish an equilibrium, and the mother can't imagine what the trouble."—New York Times.

Athletic Maid, Adieu!

There is a tremor of uncertainty and fear among the ranks of the athletic and shirt-waist maidens.

It is softly whispered among those who think they know that the knell of the reform skirt and linen collar has been run and that the girl of girls will in the near future be the dainty, befrilled, frou-frou girl of the early '50s, says the New York Herald.

Women may deny the soft impeachment that they dress to please the men, but as this weakness has been a failing with the gentler sex for many years, it will take a great many more for the strong-minded women to mold their weaker sisters to an utter indifference to the good opinion of some favored man.

"After all is said and done," remarked a wise woman, "man is really the arbiter of woman's dress."

Miss Hay a Novelist.

Another writer from the ranks of society will soon have book readers talking. Miss Hay, daughter of Secretary Hay, is at present engaged in writing a novel that will deal with the social life of Washington. Her book, friends say, is likely to cause something of a stir in the fashionable and diplomatic world, as a number of the characters will be easily recognized as persons in public life. Miss Hay made her debut in society a year ago. She is a handsome young woman of many talents.

MISS HAY.

To Curl Feathers.

Since feathers are so fashionable, it would pay the average woman to buy a curling knife and learn to curl her feathers at home. They require it often and it is much cheaper and sometimes it is impossible to send them to a professional curler. The knives are cheap and can be bought at any hardware store. Hold the feathers over a kettle of boiling water, spreading out with both hands the flues to their full length. Let them become damp, but not wet; then wave gently from side to side until partially dry. Begin to curl at the end, not at the beginning of the stem, taking only a few flues at a time, and curl under.

Men Hate Caustic Women.

A man's ideal woman is gentle, loving and humble in her own conceit, and he can find nothing admirable in a woman, however clever, who indulges in a caustic wit, or who is so infallible in her own estimation that she believes her opinion to be the only right one, though it be contrary to all the rest of the world, says the Cleveland Plaindealer. Cleverness in women is attractive to men provided its owners are not spoiled by conceit, and that they are too kind-hearted to indulge in sarcasms at the expense of their neighbors.

Short Fashions.

Side or knife plaiting is back again.

Your skirt must flare below the knees.

Fine suede is the proper thing for dress wear.

Strapping is no longer necessarily on the straight.

Evening hood are to be a big feature this winter.

The pocket lurks in almost every garment save the skirt.

Boots are beautifully "medium," though they lean to heaviness.

You must have a buckle on your bonnet, not to mention your hat. Otherwise no one will care enough to ask you where you got it.

Don't choose a one-piece skirt for a girl. It will sag, and a short dress that sags is simply horrible. If she's too old to have it on the straight, make it with three or more gores.

DONE BY RAILROADS.

THEIR AID IN DEVELOPING WESTERN STATES.

Strong Contrast Between State of Affairs in Ante-Railroad Days and at Present—Credit to a Useful Agent of Civilization.

Before the railroads were built, it took a week to go from New York to Buffalo, nearly three weeks from New York to Chicago; and at that time, no man would have thought of making a trip from New York to the Pacific coast, except a few of the hardiest pioneers, and when on such an occasion the good-bys were said, it was expected on both sides that it would be forever, said George H. Daniels, general passenger agent of the New York Central Railroad, in a recent address before the International Commercial Congress at Philadelphia. If to-morrow night you should place a letter on the Pacific and Oriental mail train, which leaves New York at 9:15, you may be sure that your correspondent in San Francisco will be reading it next Monday night—four days from New York. The framers of our Constitution would have considered a man entirely beside himself, who would have suggested such a possibility.

In 1875 the States east of the Missouri River were sending food and clothing to the starving people of Kansas. Thanks to the facilities afforded by the railroads the corn crop of Kansas this year is 340,000,000 bushels.

It seems but a very few years since I made my first trip to Colorado, and stopped on my way at the home of Buffalo Bill, at North Platte, Nebraska, on the Union Pacific. At Ogallala, fifty-one miles west of North Platte, the Sioux Indians were roaming over the prairies and making more or less trouble for the early settlers who ventured so far out of the beaten paths of civilization. The Nebraska corn crop this year covers 8,000,000 acres, and the yield is 290,000,000 bushels.

Previous to the construction of the Northern Pacific, the Great Northern, Northwestern, St. Paul, Burlington and other railways that traverse that wonderful region known as the "wheat belt," there was nothing to be seen but prairie grass and an occasional band of untamed savages. Minnesota this year will ship 90,000,000 bushels of wheat, South Dakota 45,000,000 bushels, North Dakota 65,000,000 bushels, and Montana 4,000,000 bushels.

In 1849 there came across the continent reports of the discovery of gold in California, but the only means of reaching its Golden Gate was by sea around Cape Horn, or the long and perilous journey, with ox teams, across the plains, including what was then styled in our geographies the American desert, and through the hazardous mountain passes of the western part of the continent. The completion of the Pacific railroads changed all this, and opened new fields for all kinds of enterprises, in an unexplored territory stretching over more than 2,000 miles to the west, northwest and southwest of the Mississippi River, the products of which region were practically valueless until the means of transporting them were provided by the railroads.

The wheat crop of California this year is 37,000,000 bushels. The largest crop ever produced in California was in 1880, when owing to exceptionally favorable weather conditions that State produced 63,000,000 bushels. The gold output of California for the year 1899 is estimated at $16,00,000. The vineards and orange groves of California would be of practically little value were it not for the fact that the railroads, by their trains of refrigerator and ventilated fruit cars, make it possible to transport the products of her fertile valleys to all sections of the country.

It seems but yesterday that the railroads were completed into Portland, Ore., Tacoma and Seattle, Wash., and it is marvelous that for the year ended June 30, 1899, there was exported from the Columbia River Valley 16,000,000 bushels of wheat, and from the Puget Sound region 10,000,000 bushels. Oregon and Washington form the northwest corner of the Territory of the United States, south of the line of British Columbia, and are directly on the route to our extreme northwest possession, Alaska. The wheat crop of the States of Oregon and Washington for the year 1899 is 48,600,000 bushels. There was exported during the year ended June 30, 1899, from the Columbia River direct to foreign ports, 1,110,000 barrels of flour, and from Puget Sound points 800,000 barrels.

Colorado, which, with its inexhaustible mines of gold, silver, lead, iron and coal, forms almost an empire in itself, will produce this year of 1899 of gold, $24,000,000; of silver, $14,200,000; of lead, $4,400,000; in addition to a magnificent crop of wheat, fruit and vegetables.

Without railroads, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Montana, Colorado, California, Oregon and Washington would still be the home of savages.

Queen's Free Lunch.

The following amusing story is told of Queen Margaret of Italy. She recently arrived in a town, where great preparations had been made to do her honor. The Mayor was at hand to escort her to the room where luncheon was served, but the Queen declined to eat anything, saying that all she needed was a glass of water and a sandwich. At the end of this frugal repast she was about to take her handkerchief from her pocket to wipe her lips, when the Mayor, misinterpreting her action, bowed respectfully, and said: "Your Majesty need not trouble yourself. I can assure you the lunch is paid for."

Home of the South Sea Bubble.

South Sea House, London, the home of the South Sea bubble, which convulsed England in the early part of the eighteenth century, is soon to be torn down to make way for new warehouses. For a century after 1720, when the bubble burst, the building stood practically untenanted; but of late years it has been the headquarters of prosperous traders.

No man who is considered half way decent ever takes a step in the wrong direction, that somebody does not notice it.

GEN. GRANT'S WIDOW.

At 75, She Is Still Physically and Mentally Vigorous.

Mrs. Julia Dent Grant, the venerable widow of the famous warrior President, has reopened her Washington home after an absence of nearly five months. Mrs. Grant returns in excellent health and spirits. Her outing, spent in Saratoga, Magnolia, Mass., and later in Newport, where she attended the wedding of her favorite granddaughter, Julia Dent Grant, proved replete with interesting adventures. She especially enjoyed the gayeties attending the nuptials of the Princess Cantacuzene, and is never tired of relating her experiences to her friends. This venerable woman, although 75 years of age, is remarkably vigorous physically and mentally. She receives her friends almost every morning in her pleasant sitting room in her Massachusetts avenue home. She is perfectly impartial in the reception of these guests. The lowly friends of early years are as welcome as the leaders of society.

MRS. JULIA DENT GRANT.

KING MENELEK.

He Is Said to Be the Greatest of All African Monarchs.

It is announced that King Menelek of Abyssinia will visit the Paris exposition and that on the way to the French capital from his little kingdom in eastern Africa he will call on his friend, the Czar of Russia. The black king is the most picturesque as he is the greatest of African monarchs. A giant in stature, he rules his kingdom with a rod of iron, and the great powers of Europe are all glad to be on good terms with him. He has an army of real fighting men, armed with modern weapons, and both England and Italy know to their cost that he has skillful and daring generals and that his soldiers are brave and impetuous. The king lives in the interior of his country, surrounded by a great desert, so that it would be almost impossible for an invading army to reach him. In the center of the royal city he has caused a tall tower to be erected. To this tower he ascends at frequent intervals, and with a telescope observes how his people are behaving themselves in the city below him. Offenders are punished with great severity, and as a result there is little disorder of any kind at the court or about it. The king and most of his people are nominally Christians, and the Golden Rule is said to be the ruling principle of the Government, in spite of the severity of the punishments sometimes inflicted.

KING MENELEK OF ABYSSINIA.

Peace Offering Preceded Him.

She received a large box full of American beauty roses by messenger from her husband along toward 4 o'clock the other afternoon.

"James is absorbing Martigny cocktails again," she mused shrewly.

Half an hour later another messenger brought her five pounds of expensive candy from her husband.

"James has ordered that $80 overcoat he was talking about, but said he couldn't afford," she mused again.

Half an hour later a wagon drew up, with a florist's name painted on the sides thereof, and two handsome, full-grown palms were delivered at her door, marked as coming from her husband.

"Olive branches preceding him," she mused some more. "He'll be home by dark."

He was home by dark. He had been absorbing Martignys. He had ordered the $80 overcoat. The prescience of the modern married woman is sufficiently awe-inspiring to persuade any man to raise his bonnet thereto.—Washington Post.

Gladstone's Memorial.

A marble and alabaster Gladstone memorial tablet has been placed in Hawarden Church, between the pulpit and Armenian window. In the upper part are the words, "That rock was Christ," and on one side are four verses of the late statesman's favorite hymn, "Rock of Ages." On the opposite panel are the same verses in Latin, with the inscription at the foot, "Translated in 1848 by William Ewart Gladstone. Placed by his grandchildren, in love, gratitude and reverence."—London Chronicle.

Opal Mines Exhausted.

The opal mines in New Mexico and the United States have been about exhausted, no gems of much value being extracted from them, though at one time large sums were made out of these mines. Opals occur in veins in the same manner as silver or gold.

Justice Among the Parsees.

Among the Parsees a murderer is punished with ninety stripes on his bare back, while a master who neglects his dog receives 200 stripes.

The fun in hitting an enemy is not worth the pain of the blow the enemy will give in return.

People are always ready to be amused, and to complain when an attempt is made to instruct them.

SERMONS OF THE WEEK

The Greatest Thought.—If God be but a thought he is the greatest thought.—Rev. Frank Crane, Methodist, Chicago, Ill.

Religion.—Heart religion makes a man a fanatic; mind religion an infidel. The two together make a man a Christian.—Rev. De Witt Talmage, Presbyterian, Elizabeth, N. J.

Self-Mastery.—The grandest exhibition of a true soldierly quality is, to fight yourself up and out into the world liberty of self-mastery.—Rev. Dr. M. C. Peters, Independent, New York City.

Advance in Religion.—Every advance in religion, as in liberty and morality for centuries, is the result of the children battling the beliefs of their ancestors.—William G. Ewing, Christian Scientist, Chicago, Ill.

The Old Theology.—The old theology is doomed. The world is rushing at a fearful rate toward a rational belief or none. The Universalist Church is here to stand in the breach of a rational faith.—Rev. Dr. Crowe, Universalist, New York City.

Method of Preaching.—A new method of preaching is coming into vogue containing sentimentality and sociology in about equal proportions. Ministers talk about expansion and not so much about justification by faith.—Rev. Dr. Patton, Presbyterian, Princeton, N. J.

The Bible.—Often is it spoken of as "the noblest book in the world," and with reason. Considered simply as literature, it is easily above all other writings. Take the diction. Even in its English translation how simple and beautiful.—Rev. H. R. Rose, Universalist, Auburn, Me.

A Real Revival.—A quiet embodiment in life and conduct of the spirit of Jesus Christ is a real revival of religion—a revival of righteousness growing up right within the churches, showing itself in more Christ-like, loving lives.—Rev. W. H. Ramsey, Methodist, Farmington, Me.

The Soul of Man.—The soul of man cannot but be immortal by its very essence, being made after the image of God, and is by essence a simple, spiritual substance, self-subsisting, independent in its intellectual action of the body.—Rev. J. J. Williams, R. C. Bishop, Boston, Mass.

The Government.—Many so-called Christian people are such mammon worshipers and are so absorbed in making money that they care little what becomes of the Government. Usually we are content to live in political squalor.—Rev. John L. Scudder, Congregationalist, Jersey City, N. J.

The Living Christ.—The living Christ it is who holds our hands when they ache with pain. The living Christ leads us tenderly down into the shadows, and brings us up again into the promised land. He it is who is the peace, power and hope of all life.—Rev. Albert Hyde, Congregationalist, Toledo, Ohio.

Symbolism of the Scriptures.—The Bible has a symbolic meaning. Christ often explained the symbolisms. The key for interpreting the symbolisms of the Scriptures has, we believe, been revealed in the writings of Swedenborg. They disclose truths of wonderful spiritual beauty.—Rev. Julian K. Smyth, Swendenborgian, New York City.

Liberty.—Pope Leo XIII. call liberty "God's greatest gift to man." To exercise that gift in political life for the betterment of society, to have that gift safeguarded by law, in civil and religious life, to use it for the improvement of social conditions, is one of the blessings of American citizenship.—Rev. Dr. Conaty, Catholic, Washington, D. C.

Revelation.—Revelation has been at work among men, this newly kindled "enthusiasm for humanity" is a spiritual product; it springs from the root of religion, it is not a new experiment in politics, it is not a scheme for the enrichment of a few or to gratify the ambition of a power-loving class.—Rev. George W. Stone, Unitarian, Kansas City, Mo.

God.—We cannot define God; we are too poor in thought and too impotent in speech. We must be content with such partial and practical knowledge as comes to us in observation, experience and revelation. We may know something of God by the patient study of the work of his hands.—Rev. Dr. Behrens, Congregationalist, Brooklyn, New York.

The Lord's Supper.—To us the Lord's supper represents his bequest of divine love. There is a terrible power in this bequest of love. If we are not so narrow-minded, the memory of such a love, as told in the observance of this event, will lift us up and ennoble us. It will bring us safely to his kingdom.—Rev. Dr. Rainsford, Episcopalian, New York City.

Sacred to History.—The spots of earth sacred to history are those where the everlasting struggle toward a perfect freedom has flamed out afresh. Bunker Hill and Manila are the shrines of freedom, and even spots associated with a higher, quieter protest against bondage in some subtle form have an unfading luster.—Rev. J. G. Smith, Christian Church, Indianapolis, Ind.

Self-Acquired Possessions.—One who boasts in his self-acquired possessions and powers, and selfishly banks his trust and confidence on these, is destined to a rude awakening. Sooner or later these props will be of no earthly personal good, and certainly of no heavenly good, unless they have been righteously used.—Rev. T. Jefferson Danner, Episcopalian, Pittsburg, Pa.

Paper Pillows.

Pillows stuffed with paper are being recommended for use in hospitals and schools. The paper must not be cut into small squares, but into strips three or four inches long and a quarter of an inch wide; it should then be curled with one blade of a pair of scissors, like a feather. Such pillows are very comfortable.

A Kentucky girl has invented an improvement in pocket flasks. If a girl can't catch a man one way she can another.

AUBURN WEEKLY COURIER.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF DeKALB COUNTY

JAMES A. BARNS, Editor.

Registered at the Auburn, Indiana, postoffice as second-class matter.

THURSDAY.....DECEMBER 7, 1899.

Narrow Escape from Death.

An accident occurred at the Junction this morning in which Mrs. W. D. Trainer of Garrett, wife of the well known B. & O. engineer, had a narrow escape from death. Mrs. Trainer, with a number of others, came over on the special train bearing the Froelich funeral party, and while standing on the depot platform noticed that the train was moving off. She attempted to board the train and in doing so slipped and fell between the platform and the rails. Fortunately she did not get under the wheels, but when rescued from her perilous position it was found that one arm was broken in several places and severe bruises inflicted which will confine her to her bed for some time. It was at first reported that she was fatally injured, but late reports are that she is resting easy and will recover.

Abe Johnson.

Count that year lost, in which we don't hear anything from our former citizen Abe Johnson. Last week we were shown a draft by assistant cashier Hague at the McClellan bank, which came a few days ago from a bank at Lagrange, Mo. It was for $75 and signed "S. S. Shutt" but was so plainly the handwriting of "Our Abe" that it could deceive no one here. Of course the bank sent the draft back at once with a proper testimonial of the status of Abe Johnson, but whether Abe had got any cash advanced on the draft, we do not know. Abe has let S. S. Shutt and John Boots have a much needed rest, now, for two or three years. But it could not be hoped that he could be good much longer. We presume that in the meantime someone else had to suffer.

G. A. R. Officers.

The following is the list of the officers elected by DeLong Post, G. A. R., at their regular meeting Monday evening.

Post Commander.....D. C. Marvin
Senior Vice Commander.....Wm. Elson
Quartermaster .....J. R. Thomas
Chaplain.....John Otto
Officer of the Guard.....Henry Wolf
Officer of the Day.....J. O. Davidson
Adjutant.....Jos. Rainier

James May was chosen as representative of the Post at the state encampment.

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS.

At the regular meeting last night the following officers were chosen by the W. R. C.:

President.....Mrs. Anna Silver
Senior Vice President...Mrs. Davidson
Junior Vice President.....
.....Mrs. Kate Walters
Treasurer .....Mrs. Clara Zimmerman
Chaplain.....Mrs. Lydia Cowan
Conductor.....Mrs. Ida Metcalf
Guard.....Mrs. Maria Hanes

Delegate to department encampment, Mrs. Rose Headley; alternate, Mrs. Lou Prosser.

Commissioners.

The Board, as stated yesterday re-organized and elected Mr. Shultz president and D. M. Link attorney for the coming year. Bills were examined, also a good deal of work was done in regard to the St. Joe and Spencerville gravel road. Trustee Thrush was up from Butler township to see about the expense of burial for a man who was crushed in the saw log pile at Cedar Creek. Trustees who have poor accounts are expected to bring them up at the regular uuarterly term.

The trustees also came in and made the report of school book sales to the county superintendent.

Licensed to Wed.

The following couples have been licensed to marry since our last report: Sylvester L. Parrett and Mary. L. Small, William A. Miller and Clara Rakestraw, Henry W. Rakestraw and Clara M. Miers, Charles Friend and Daisy Squires, Frank O. Lens and Clara Stomm, Allie A. Anderson and Nannie Grable, Jacob Dawson and Julia Burke Millard F. Payne and Mary Jane Henderson, Harry I. Gilmore and Ora Christoffel, Irvin Swank and Katie Widner, Fred Kruger and Laura Dillgard, John W. Smith and Ida Harding and two "don't publish."

Sentinels Free.

Several of our subscribers do not yet seem to understand that we are sending the Indianapolis Weekly Sentinel as a gift. It is absolutely free to them, for one year, and will not be sent longer. Take it and read it, and tell all your neighbors about it.

A New Definition.

McSwatters—"What's a political reformer?"

McSwitters—"It's a man who can't get a job in either democrat or republican party—Syracuse Herald.

Want to Sell Your Farm?

We have a buyer for a 40-acre, one for 80-acre and one for 100 to 160.-acre farm. If you want to sell call.

MOODY & RICKEL,
Kiblinger Building Auburn.

CONGRESS OPENS.

The Roll Call Shows 106 New Members in the House.

Monday forenoon witnessed the first roll call of the new House of representatives, The new speaker, Mr. Henderson of Iowa, occupied the chair and read his opening address, making a good impression on the members of all parties.

The only colored gentleman is George E. White of North Carolina, a fine appearing and well educated man.

The roll call brought out the case of Roberts of Utah. When his name was called to come forward and take the oath, he rose and had got about half way, when Taylor of New Lisbon, Ohio, who is chairman of the elections committee objected. He made a short speech saying that he had proof that Roberts had broken the statutes by having three wives, and also that he had never been naturalized. It appears that Roberts was born in England and came to this country with his parents when 7 years old. Another member spoke against Roberts, and then one for him, and Roberts was told by the Speaker to stand aside, which he did after being assured that he would have a full hearing. He is represented as a man of fine appearance and ability. It looks as if he would hold his seat, unless it is proved that he is not a citizen of the United States.

Of the new members Charles E. Littlefield takes the place of the late Mr. Dingley, author of the tariff bill.

Amos L. Allen succeeds Speaker Reed as member for the First district in Maine. He was Reed's roommate at Bowdoin college, and later was Reed's private secretary.

Wm. Astor Chanler, who was one of Roosevelt's Rough Riders, is another new member. He is a grand-son of the original John Jacob Astor, his mother being a daughter of the old millionaire.

There are three Jews in the house; Joseph Simon, Oregon, Julius Kahn of Colorado and Jefferson L. Levy of New York. Kahn used to be an actor. and Levy is quite wealthy, being also the present owner of Monticello, the home of President Jefferson.

Dorsey W. Shackleford succeeded the late Richard P. Bland of Missouri. He is a zinc miner.

Two grandsons of President Polk are in the House from Pennsylvania. Rufus K. Polk, who served in the Spanish war, and James K. Polk Hall, a lawyer.

Roberts is not the only man who is having trouble; Quay, in the senate, has to fight for his seat.

When the senate roll was called, and Quay's name reached, objections were made by Cockrell of Missouri and Jones of Arkansas, both democrats, and by Senator Burrows of Michigan a republican. The objections were based on petitions from the legislature of Pennsylvania, signed by a majority of the members, including both parties.

Clark, the new Senator from Montana, is also objected to, the ground being bribery to obtain his seat. He is enormously wealthy.

Ex-governor Culbertson of Texas is a new member of the Senate. His father is well known as having so many years been a member of the House.

Both Houses adjourned to meet today and hear the President's message. When that is over, the House will begin on the Roberts case.

It is the opinion that Quay will be seated, although charges as to bribery, lack of a majority of votes, are preferred against him. He is a republican and Roberts is a democrat.

Manila Paper.

A. F. Clark has received two Manila papers from Will Clark, of the 20th regulars. They are copies of the "American," whose motto is, "Equal rights for All," and it is quite a good paper. It has several items that go to show that the local government is in full control there, though in many instances the court plainly derives its authority from the military powers. Cases come up in these courts, and have attorneys to work for each side, as well as many other things that remind one of our own country. There are also items dealing with native citizens, showing many interesting points in the native character. The paper is probably conducted by American soldiers, and is chuck full of patriotism. Its advertising patronage is immense, but is mostly for liquor, cigars and tobacco dealers, wholesale and retail. But they have also, news from all over the world. In fact, this paper on the opposite side of the earth from us, has all the characteristics of a neat Yankee paper.

Cold Steel Or Death.

"There is but one small chance to save your life and that is through an operation," was the awful prospect set before Mrs. I. B. Hunt, of Lime Ridge, Wis., by her doctor after vainly trying to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. He didn't count on the marvellous power of Electric Bitters to cure Stomach and Liver trouble, but she heard of it, took seven bottles, was wholy cured, avoided surgeon's knife, now weighs more and feel better than ever. It's positively guaranteed to cure Stomach, Liver and Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Price 50c at McCord's drug store.

The Shah's Treasures.

Of all the sovereigns of the world, the shah of Persia is said to possess the largest treasure in jewel and gold ornaments, it being valued at no less a sum than £12,000,000.

From Puget Sound.

EDITOR COURIER:—I am not a hunter or a sportsman, but I have a wife who is able to charm the wild beasts of this great forest. Her experience with the wild animals during the past month is novel. This is the time of year that beasts of prey become most bold and desperate. Many panthers, lynx and wild cats come to our very door and look for anything in the line of flesh. My wife has destroyed five wild cats this month by baiting with poisoned fowl, but the last one that came would not be taken that way. He was an enormous specimen, as large as a calf, and came trotting boldly up to within ten feet of where my wife was milking a cow and was in the act of picking up our Thanksgiving goose, whereupon she pitched the milk bucket and all at his demonical face and ran at him and struck him with a club, when he sat up on his hind legs and spit at her. She then shook her apron at him and began to talk to him and to her great surprise he changed his demeanor entirely and became suddenly pleasant and playful. He would lay down and roll over and catch the grass playfully with his huge paws. This frolicking continued for more than an hour when my uncle Joe appeared on the scene with a repeating rifle, the charm was broken and he deemed discretion the better part of valor. He gave my wife a parting smile and sped up a tree, whereupon my uncle opened a cruel fire upon the poor beast, who then rapidly came backing down the tree and beat a hasty retreat. A big dog and another hunter then joined in the chase and he was soon brought to bay in the top of an immense fir where he was, after considerable shooting, brought to the earth by a bullet through his heart. Uncle Joe skinned his catship and will keep the hide as a trophy of his first battle with the demon of the great northern jungle.

There are so many going from here to the Alaska gold fields and so much excitement over gold finds in the north that there is a gold fever panic here at home, so much so that even the women have taken to prospecting. Gulches and creeks that have never been prospected before are now being examined for gold colors. My wife and daughter have found many colors in the brook that tumbles over the rocks beneath our house. Although I am an Abe Lincoln greenbacker I am beginning to get interested in the yellow metal myself and will help my wife dig for gold in the little creek that ripples by our door.

This is a warm fall with us. There has been no frost in October or November, but plenty of rain. We are all remarkably healthy and busily engaged in our various avocations, and wish the readers of the COURIER a merry Christmas and a happy New Year. Yours truly,—JOSEPH A. SHADE.

Tourist Sleeping Car Line.

PERSONALLY CONDUCTED TOURIST SLEEPING CAR LINE BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND LOSANGELES, VIA THE WABASH AND ATCHISON, TOPEKA, & SANTA FE R'Y.

On November 1st the Wabash railroad in connection with the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway will inaugurate a through weekly tourist car line between St Louis and Los Angeles on Sundays at 8:28 a. m. Eeastbound car will leave Los Angeles on Monday at 9:50 a. m., arriving in St. Louis Thursday at 6:15 p.m.

Particulars will be gladly furnished on application.

Attention Farmers.

The Auburn Handle Factory will pay the highest cash price for ash handle block delivered at their factory on the Lake Shore tracks, cut 58 inches long. Also want ash logs cut 9½. 14½ and 19½ feet long. All timber to be smooth and sound. Will also take basswood cut 4 feet long and 8 inches in diameter and up, left round with bark on. Will pay $3 per cord.—J. M. CHERRY & CO.

Public Sale.

There will be a public sale of the personal property of the late Holmes Link at the late residenc two miles east of Garrett, on Saturday Dec. 16, beginning at 10 a. m. There is a large amount of desirable property. horses, cows, farm implements of all kinds hay and corn fodder; also a large amount of household goods.

SOME of the worst diseases scarcely give a sign until they strike their victim down. The terrible Bright's Disease may be growing for years and only show now and then by a backache or change of urine, by sallow face and failing appetite.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver & Kidney Balm

is a tried remedy that grapples with this disease in every symptom. Cures this and all other disorders of the liver, kidneys or bladder. Sold by druggists—$1.00 a bottle.

THE DR. J. H. McLEAN MEDICINE CO. ST. LOUIS, MO.

For sale by F. E. Davenport.

CLUB NOTES

Saturday's sermon of the L. L. C. at the home of Mrs. Nusbaum, was as usual an excellent one, all the subjects being of general interest. A paper on "The Laws and Principles of Decoration," by Mrs. Hortense Robbins was read by Mrs. Mollie Rose, as Mrs. Robbins was unable to be present, It treated of the artistic decorations and furnishings of the home and was full of interest to housekeepers. "The Character Study of Anthony Hope," by Mrs. Hartman was also sent to the club as Mrs. Hartman was not present. It gave many points of interest in regard to the life and character of this very popular author. Mrs. Nusbaum then gave an exceedingly clear synopsis of "The Prisoner of Zenda." Anyone having never read the story could obtain a good idea of it from the synopsis. Mrs. Olds gave some delayed work of hers, "America in the Far East," which was most excellent and stirred one's patriotism to its depths. It also contained much forgotton history and information. After current news the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Zimmerman next Saturday.

Visins The Old Home.

George Ernest came up from Peru this morning on the early Wabash train and was met here by his youngest brother Dan, who came down from the old Fairfield neighborhood to meet him and take him to the old Ernest home south of Fairfield Center. There, his aged mother still lives. It is the place where he was born and to-day being his fifty-second birthday, he wanted to be there to celebrate it. He has been absent chiefly in Missouri for nearly thirty years, and will find many changes in the country and its people. In 1884, for about three days he made a hasty visit here but has not been in the county except then. His two sons, one an engineer, run through here over the Wabash. His brother Henry is still in Missouri. Miss Nettie Ernest in the Sheriff's office is his neice.

ST. JOE.

Miss Blanche Woodcox has the sore throat.

Commissoner Gunsenhouser was in town Saturday.

Clyde Woodcox has been at home the past eight days. He has the quinsy.

Attorney Link of the Hub was in town Friday of last week looking after some parties who were married or wanted to get married.

We are informed that we are to have another mail distributed at this place. Commencing Monday, No. 7 will throw off mail late in the afternoon.

Rev. Medbury of Angola will deliver his lecture entitled, "Indiana Boys in the South," at the Christian church on Saturday evening December 9,

Mr. Taylor and family, who moved into the Shilling property, sold their household goods on Saturday and have gone away—no one knoweth where.

Orvie Engle and wife are rejoicing over the appearance of a little girl at their home. It is said that the mother is getting along nicely, but Orvie is somewhat under the weather.

Late reports from our old friend Jacob Dermott, say that he is some what improved, but is yet in feeble health. We hope in the near future to mention of his usual good health.

Sol. Barney and wife were in Chicago three days last week looking after the Christmas wants of their many patrons. There'll be no old-fashioned, worn out goods displayed in Sol's store the coming Christmas.

Uncle Sol Shilling is often seen on our streets of late. He is interested to some extent in the shipping of stock. Twenty years ago he was about the only buyer of stock in this part of the country and his coming back again looks like a revival of good old days. Although nearly seventy-five years of age, his only infirmities are the whiteness of his hair and beard.

IT HITS THE SPOT.

When Suffering from a severe cold and your throat and lungs feel sore, take a dose of Foleys Honey and Tar when the soreness will be at once relieved, a warm grateful feeling and healing of parts affected will be experienced and you will say: "It feels so good. IT HITS THE SPOT." Guaranteed. H. B. McCord.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Her Teacher.

An Atchison servant girl makes particularly good bread, and four different women for whom she has worked, but who cannot make good bread themselves, claim to have taught her.—Atchison Globe,

A Good Farm.

If you want to sell or trade your farm or town property call and list it with us, while we have some buyers; we can make you a quick deal. MOODY & RICKEL, Auburn. d2w4

Vegetarians' Hearts.

The heart of a vegetarian beats on an average of 58 to the minute, that of the meat-eater 75. This represents a difference of 20,000 beats in 24 hours.

—Subscribe for the COURIER.

BUTLER.

Our people were shocked and surprised last week at the sudden death of Edward Stiner, one of the strongest and apparently the healthiest men in town. The cause was lung fever. The funeral was from the late residence conducted we believe, by Rev. Frech.

Peter Helwig has been seriously sick for the past week and has not reached a point yet where danger is eliminated.

John Shafer has traded his Ohio farm, four miles east of Butler, that he has owned fifty years, to W. H. Scott, taking as part pay the Jesse Vohlum house on corner of Depot and west Avenue streets.

Last Sunday's snow and unpleasant weather made meager attendance at church and Sunday school,

The teachers' association here last week called out the greatest number of pretty school ma'ams that ever visited Butler on any one occasion. The sessions were of deep interest and made us older teachers think we were dreaming to hear questions discussed that were not yet born in our day of greatness.

Jeff Boyle, Geo. Rowe and J. A. Campbell attended the Fred Fralich funeral at Garrett last Sunday. It was from the Baptist church of which he was a deacon, conducted by Rev. Pearce and was one of the most impressive services the writer ever attended. His remains were taken to Howell, Mich., for interment.

On Monday morning when the funeral party reached Auburn Junction, Mrs. William Trenner who had accompanied them this far, in an attempt to to board the returning train, which was under motion. fell beneath the wheels, to the horror of all who saw her, and who fully expected to see her crushed to death—fortune seemed to favor her as she came out of it, with a severely injured arm as afterward reported.

OBITUARY.

Died, at her home on the south side, Butler, November 27, 1899, in the seventy-sixth year, Mary Hensler.

Mary Castin was born at Blankfelden Wurtemburg, Germany, on the 6th day of August, 1824. At the age of 14 she was confirmed in the Lutheran church. In 1847 she emigrated to the United States with a party of others and settled in Pittsburg, Pa, In 1848 she came to Wyanteburg, Wayne county, Ohio, and in the same year she became the wife of George Hensler, who died in 1890. To this union were born six children, four of whom survive their mother. They removed from Ohio to Millersburg, Ind., in 1864, and to Butler in 1868. Her funeral took place from the Lutheran church.

LOST.

Many have lost confidence and hope as well as health, because they have told Kidney disease was incurble. Foley's Kidney Cure is a Guaranteed remedy for the discouraged and disconsolate. H. B. McCord.

A Brief Description.

Teacher—"Can you tell me what a Roman triumph was?"

Pupil—"It was a sort of a Dewy day."—Puck.

Orders Called.

All county orders are called for redemption. Interest stops after December 15, 1899.

F. M. HINES, Treasurer.
December 1, 1899.

William's Kidney Pills

Has no equal in diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs. Have you neglected your Kidneys? Have you overworked your nervous system and caused trouble with your Kidneys and Bladder? Have you pains in the loins, side, back, groins and bladder? Have you a flabby appearance of the face, especially under the eyes? Too frequent desire pass urine? William's Kidney Pills will impart new life to the diseased organs, tone up the system and make a new man of you. By mail 50 cents per box.

WILLIAMS MFG. CO., Props., Cleveland, O.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

ROBES! BLANKETS..

BISHOP FUR ROBES,
CHASE PLUSH ROBES,
5A HORSE BLANKETS,

....These are the best goods the market affords. If you want Bargains, want to Save Money on these goods, come and see us.

HARNESS,—light and heavy, Hand-Made, Large Stock to select from, Quality of Stock, Workmanship and Price not excelled by any other.

Collars, Felt Goods, Whips, Harness Oil and Dressings.

Horse and Cattle Powders, Guaranteed Oil Cake, and Ground Flax Seed, Poultry Powders, Guaranteed Oyster Shell cheaper than you ever bought it before.

We solicit a share of your trade.

Your harness repairing done neatly and promptly.

Eberle & Freygang,
South Side Public Square

A POINTER

IF YOU WANT THE BEST

WE HAVE IT.

Our Assortment is Complete.

OUR SPECIALTIES:
Rings
Watches
Novelties

We carry the largest and best line in the county.

WE ATTRIBUTE OUR SUCCESS TO

1. QUALITY which is unquestioned.
2. STYLE always up-to-date.
3. PRICE always the lowest.

D. A. Hodge,
THE UP-TO-DATE JEWELER.

Our Specialties!

Men's Fine Shoes!

Ladies' Fine Shoes!

We are giving the people of Auburn and vicinity better shoes for their money than they ever bought before, and judging by our increasing business, the people are beginng to appreciate it.

HERE IS THE WHOLE SECRET IN A NUT SHELL.

We buy our goods direct from the manufacturer, which saves the jobber's profit. We can buy our goods for Spot Cash, which sayes you the discount between 90 days credit and 10 days Spot Cash.

Think this over as a business proposition.

Your Shoemakers,
BISHOP & BEIDLER,

Now Is the Time

TO BUY a

Wilson Heating and Ventilating Machine

They are the Greatest of all Modern Scientific Inventions.

They Save Fuel,
Will Burn Anything,
Perfectly Safe & Clean

Will Hold Fire and are Easily Regulated. We sold Eighty Nine of them last winter, and as far as we know they are all giving good satisfaction. They are moderate in price and within the reach of all.

Buy none but the genuine Wilson and you will be both pleased and satisfied.

SOLD ONLY BY

Culbertson & Boland,

NOTICE.

Having changed my residence from Auburn, it will be inconvenient to continue the publication of "The Clarion." Those who have paid me in advance for same, are requested to call on Mr. Chas. E. Baxter, over G. W. Lackey's store and receive money due them. Also, those who have not yet paid may settle with him. Dec.2

J. L. MARVIN,
Edon, Ohio.

Want to Buy Real Estate

We have a client who wants to buy a small residence; also one who wants a large, well located property in Auburn.

MOODY & RICKEL,
Office Kiblinger Building Auburn.

IF YOU WANT RELIABLE MERCHANDISE GO TO LACKEY'S

G. W. LACKEY

..Dry Goods..
Carpets and Millinery,

AUBURN, IND.

IT PAYS TO TRADE AT THE BIG STORE!

The advantages of this Big Store are never ending. Every offering includes latest styles, thoroughly dependable quality, exceptionally moderate prices. Here is a partial list of the good things now on sale.

Underwear.

Cold weather comfort for men, women and children in reliable, well-made qualities. Numerous variety, every piece positively matchless.

Men's heavy weight natural wool Shirts and Drawers in all sizes, worth $1.00 per suit each..... 35c
Men's heavy Merino (shirts only) while they last at..... 19c
Ladies' Ribbed Cotton, heavy fleeced Vests and Pants, all sizes..... 23c
Children's heavy weight Merino Shirts and Drawers, sizes 16 to 34. Each from..... 8 to 25c
Boys' fleeced lined Shirts and Drawers, sizes 28 to 34, per suit..... 48c

Blankets and Comfortables.

These items are strong lessons in economy. Full size, perfect in every way.

Good fleeced Cotton Blankets 60c quality at 45c per pair or each..... 23c
Extra heavy fleeced Cotton Blankets at per pair.....50c, 75c, 85c and 1.00
10-4 Wool Blankets in white and grey, per pair..... 2.50
Better quality Wool Blankets per pair $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00.
The Iroquois, plain or in handsome plaids, 11-4 size, per pair..... 4.50
The Royal and Columbian, pure wool, in plain and fancy, 11-4 size per pair..... 5.00
Well-made Comfortables, 11-4 size, filled with clean cotton, worth $1.50..... 1.23
Better grades, 11-4 size, nice bright patterns, containing fully five pounds clean cotton..... 1.50 to 1.75

Ladies' Skirts.

Good quality flannel skirt patterns, containing 2¼ yards, good styles, 75c values, price... 50c
Merritts celebrated skirts, strictly all-wool, fulled, nice patterns, the $1.50 quality, our price..... 1.25
Black Mercerized Skirts, lined throughout, worth $1.00, our price..... 88c

Ladies' Tailor-Made Suits.

Perfect in fit and finish—perfect in style. Tailor-made Suits of Orford Grey and Cadet Blue Venitians. Jackets silk lined, worth $10.00, now..... 7.50
Suits in Royal and Navy Venitians, silk lined Jackets, percaline lined skirts. Worth $12.50 now..... 10.50
One lot suits in Navy Blue and Black Coverts well made throughout, worth $7.50, now.. 5.00

Flannelette Wrappers.

If flannelette was used for nothing else it would merit distinction for its adaptability as a fabric for women's wrappers. The spinners make it soft, light and warmthful. The designers and dyers do their part creditably and we look after the making and pricing.

Women's wrappers made of striped and figured flannelette, ruffle over the shoulders, skirt finished with wide ruffle; would be cheap at $1.25, our price..... 98c
Wrappers made of novelty flannelettes, yokes trimmed with braid, skirt finished with wide ruffle at... $1.23, $1.39 and up to $2 98
Eiderdown Dressing Sacques in Pink, Blues Cardinal, etc.; beautiful creations at from 75c to..... $3 00

Hand Painted Medallion Free!

A HAND PAINTED 3½ Medallion of yourself, will be given with each dozen platino cabinet pictures This is a special offer, call early.

Pictures on Handkerchiefs

Postal Cards, etc. We can please you in any kind of photographic work.

Lybarger The Photographer,
N. Main St.,
AUBURN, IND.

HUMPHREYS'

WITCH HAZEL

OIL

CURES
Piles or Hemorrhoids
Fissures & Fistulas.
Burns & Scalds.
Wounds & Bruises.
Cuts & Sores.
Boils & Tumors.
Eczema & Eruptions.
Salt Rheum & Tetters.
Chapped Hands.
Fever Blisters.
Sore Lips & Nostrils.
Corns & Bunions.
Stings & Bites of Insects.

Three Sizes, 25c, 50c. and $1.00.
Sold by druggists, or sent post-paid on receipt of price
HUMPHREYS' MED. CO., 111 & 113 William St., New York.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Safe. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse dangerous substitutions and imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists.
CHICHESTER CHEMICAL CO.
2100 Madison Square, PHILA., PA.
Mention this paper.

PILES Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment will cure Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles. It absorbs the tumors, allays the itching at once, acts as a poultice, gives instant relief. Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment is prepared for Piles and Itching of the private parts. Every box is warranted. By druggists, by mail on receipt of price. 50 cents and $1.00. WILLIAMS MANUFACTURING CO., Props., Cleveland, Ohio. Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

—FOR SALE:—A thoroughbred Jersey cow and her calf. Call on J. A. Clifton. Auburn.

Monday's Daily.

—Santa Claus has arrived at Neher's studio. d6-w2

—Heavy plush caps for 50 cents at YESBERA.

—Albright Brown of Waterloo paid his dues Saturday for 1900.

—See the new ad of Bishop & Beidlers. It presents solid facts.

—Heavy wool pants $1.50 per pair; best in Auburn, at G. H. YESBERA'S.

—Everybody is invited to inspect our holiday stock. Make your selections early.—MCCORD the druggist. d16

Misses Dora and Nellie Bunge returned to Butler Saturday after a visit with their sister, Mrs. J. E. Pomeroy.

—Go to Sheffer & Chaney for Michigan Lake Salt, a car load just received. Guaranteed not to get hard in the barrel. oct.26w-tf

—Miss Allie Mathews a teacher in the Waterloo schools spent Sunday at the Keeran Sisters, a guest of the Moor girls.

—McCord's drug store is crowded full and running over with the most elegant line of holiday goods we have seen this season. d16

—Cora Elson will move to Fairfield township this week, where he has bought a farm southwest of Hudson, the Frank Gushwa place.

—Wm. Sheffer was able to ride out to the home of his brother John a few days ago and seems to be steadily gaining in health.

—The postmaster general has issued an order establishing domestic rates of postage between the United States and the Philippine islands and Guam.

—To all points in competition where the fare is $2 or more we have free bus and free baggage to the Junction. tf SPROTT & KNAPP, Agency B. & O. Ry.

—A fine bird dog owned by Perry Penland got mixed up with a B. & O. freight train the other day and came limping home minus its tail and part of one leg. No blame is attached to any of the railroad men.

—Read this. You contemplate buying a Christmas present for some one. Don't buy till you see our Christmas specialties. If you are buying for a gentleman, we have just what you want. G. H. YESBERA.

—Miss Julia Hodge gave an excellent address at the Methodist church Saturday evening in the place of the regular sermon by the pastor. There was a good attendance and the address was listened to with marked interest.

—Byron Grube of Flint, Ind., was a caller Saturday and helped out the condition of our finances. The old-time teachers always have a welcome here any way, for we can talk over old times together. We are glad to know he is doing well.

—Mrs. Annise Lease returned this morning from her visit with her son John at Lake Forrest, Ill. She was detained several hours by a wreck on the Northwestern road. She reports John is good health and enjoying his work at the academy.

—John Harris at the Junction spent Sunday with his son, Henry, who is in charge of the factory at Wakarusa. Those who knew Henry as a recent graduate of Auburn high school, will be gratified to know he has developed into such a reliable business man.

—The famous Canadian Jubilee Singers and Imperial orchestra, now in their twenty first season, will appear at the Presbyterian church next Monday evening, December 11. The company comprises eleven people and is the leading colored concert company of America.

—Beginning today we have a new mail direct to Chicago over the B. & O. which will be carried on train No. 7. there are now seventeen mails per day received at the postoffice and a like number sent out, not counting the Mt. Hope Star route mail which is carried every other day.

—Guaranteed to stop your hair falling out, remove dandruff, restore natural color, and cure all scalp diseases,—Beggs' Hair Renewer. "Cannot praise it too highly; stopped my hair falling out and started a new growth."—Mrs. McKeever, Abbeyville, Kan.—Sold by H. B. MCCORD.

—Auburn closed the footbal season of 1899 last Saturday when there was a rather mixed up game in which the home team composed of players in and out of the high school met an eleven made up of three from Spencerville, four from Kendallville and four from Auburn. As usual Auburn won the game; score, 12 to 0.

—The funeral of Engineer Froelich was held at the Baptist church in Garrett yesterday afternoon, the services being in charge of Apollo Commandery of Kendallville, of which he was a member. Rev. W. P. Pearce of Goshen, his former pastor, preached the funeral sermon. The remains were brought to the Junction on a special and transferred to the Wabash to be taken to Detroit for burial.

—A smooth duck is doing Indiana towns with a trick that lays the gold spectacle man in the shade. He goes well dressed, talks nice, but is in a whole lot of trouble. He is very anxious to be in some other state, but is busted, but is willing to part with a fine gold watch for almost nothing. If he can't get more, $3 will buy it. He has his clothes full of watches and they cost him $2.15 each.

—At Defiance, after a session lasting four days, a special grand jury brought in a verdict Saturday night returning an indictment for murder in the first degree against Ed. Jackson, Frank Zuber and Floyd Rumbaugh, the young men arrested for the killing os Policeman Rath at Hicksville. When the jury's finding was announced Rumbaugh broke down and wept like a child, Zuber fainted and Johnson laughed and declared the whole thing a farce. The men will probably be tried at the next term of court.

—Mr. Robert Coe teacher of the 7th Grade is making a specialty of Bookkeeping in his department. Each pupil is provided with a day book, ledger, billbook, cash-book, check-book, and every other kind of a book found in an office. They have paper money which they use in carrying on actual business transactions. A pupil is given so much capital, and sent out into the world to make or lose his fortune, keeping his own accounts. The teacher is the banker and each member of the class must check up ever so often. Such practical methods cannot help but bring good results.

NOTICE.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on two 25 cent bottles or boxes of Baxter's Mandrake Bitters, if it fails to cure constipation, billiousness, sick-headache, jaundice, loss of appetite, sour stomach, dyspepsia, liver complaint, or any of the diseases for which it is recommended. It is highly recommended as a spring tonic and blood purifier. Sold liquid in bottles, and tablets in boxes. Price 25 cents for either. One package of either guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. E. M. FISCHLER, F. E. DAVENPORT, HOWARD MCCORD.

Tuesday's Daily.

—Edward Shull has been granted an increase of pension.

—David Weldierof Waterloo went on our list of 1900 to-day.

—Holiday goods, bigger line than ever at McCord's drug store. d16

—Mrs. Wm. Huffman is visiting for several weeks in Newark, Ohio.

—Bishop & Beidler's new ad in this issue is worthy of some thought on your part. d4

—P. J. Lockwood is in town having arrived Sunday. He reports all well at Washington.

—You can buy more holiday goods for the same money at McCord's drug store that elsewhere. d16

—Imitation is sincerest flattery, don't be persuaded to take any of the many imitations of Russ' Bleaching Blue.

—Such a fierce cold snap as this is a sharp contrast to the picking of pansies in the open air less than three days ago.

—Sol. Barney and other St. Joe people were here Monday on business connected with the gravel road down there.

—H. Hilkey and wife are home from their visit with the family of J. N. Harkey at Hicksville. We believe the ladies are sisters.

—The famous beaver cloth caps, 50 cents, 75 cents and $1. Colors black, brown, blue and gray mixed, at G. H. YESBERA'S.

—A. Brown of Garrett was in town today. He is moving Levi Roland to the Culbertson farm about eight miles east of town.

—Mrs. Wallace Shutt is in the country visiting her little son, who is, we believe, with his grandparents in Jackson township.

—WANTED:—Black Walnut logs for timber. Highest cash prices paid for same. Address, The Sanders & Egbert Co., Goshen, Ind. 8

—Chapped hands, cracked lips and roughness of the skin cured quickly by Banner Salve, the most healing ointment in the world. 25c. H. B. McCord.

—The total number of deaths reported to the state board of health for the month of October was 3,009, giving an annual death rate of 13.4 per thousand.

—M. T. Bishop and wife and Mrs. Z. T. Kagey of St. Joe and Mrs. S. J. Zimmerman went to Ft. Wayne today to attend the funeral of Mrs J. R. Bittenger.

—Reduced rates will be given on all railroads to those who wish to attend the meeting of the state teachers' association at Indianapolis, December 26 to 29.

—We have taken some more of our high-priced suits and marked them down to $4 and $6 a suit. If you are a bargain buyer, now is your chance. G. H. YESBERA.

—The fair held by the Catholic congregation at Garrett last week was a success in every respect, the net receipts amounting to nearly one thousand dollars.

—The commonest things are often overlooked. For instance, many of our people do not know that our government is coining silver pieces, three of which make a dollar.

—The person who disturbed the congregation last Sunday by coughing, is requested to call on H. B. McCord and get a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar, which always gives relief.

—We have money to loan on short notice; large or small sums; mortgage or personal security; short or long time. Call on us if you need money. MOODY & RICKEL, Aubbrn. d2w4

—WANTED:—Iron-gray gelding five or six years old, weight about 1400 pounds; also some other horses from 1200 up. Inquire of E. Watson at the bowling alley, one door north of marshal's office.

—Just the thing for a lady's jacket or coat. We have a number of overcoatings 2¼ yard pieces which we have decided to sell by the piece. Now is your chance. Come before the best are picked out. G. H. YESBERA.

—A suit has been filed in the circuit court by Wm. Blakely against George H. Bodette, for damages for injuries sustained by the caving in of the sewer on the Waterloo road several weeks ago. Moody & Rickel are attorneys for the plaintiff.

—The Minneapolis-St. Paul story is having a new lease of life. One person asks another if he has heard that Minneapolis has ordered the Bible put out of her schools. The other asks why, and the reply is that the Bible often speaks of St. Paul, but never has a word about Minneapolis.

—"It has become a household medicine with us,—we cannot get along without it," writes Mrs. R. R. Wilson, Gordon, Ark., of Beggs' Cherry Cough Syrup, the guaranteed remedy for coughs, colds, la grippe, consumption and all kinds of bronchial affections. Never fails.—Sold by H. B. MCCORD.

—There is some excitement on the south side of Concord township over the existence of small pox at Maysville, about six miles south in Allen county. Some pupils from over in Allen, attend school in DeKalb, but it is believed, no small pox is within five miles of their homes. So there is probably no danger.

—Yesterday afternoon the Canadian Jubilee Singers, who are descendants of slaves, performed a service of song at the Egyptian Hall at the Mansion House. In the absence of the Lord Mayor, Sir Richard Temple presided, and there was a large attendance.—Daily Chronicle, London. At the Presbyterian church, December 11.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Wednesday's Daily.

—H. B. McCord again takes the lead in holiday goods. d16

—We underbuy and undersell. BISHOP & BEIDLER.

Miss Anna Trentman returned yesterday from a visit with relatives at Fort Wayne.

—The Knights of the Maccabees will hold their annual election of officers tonight.

—Toys, drums, dolls, books, games, guns—everything for the children at MCCORD'S drug store. d16

—Willis Pearse, the well-known Ft. Wayne horseman, has filed a petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities are $2,645; assets $230.

—Several Auburn hunters braved the cold weather yesterday and went out after rabbits. Quite a number of cotton-tails were killed.

—At some points in Northwestern Indiana snow fell Monday night to a depth of twelve inches or more and a number of people enjoyed sleigh rides.

—The Presbyterian bazar is at the church on Friday and Saturday of next week, December 15 and 16. They have a market on Saturday beginning at 9 a. m.

—This cold weather is a reminder that Christmas is close at hand and H. B. McCord has the largest and most complete line of holiday goods in Auburn. d16

—If your property is mortgaged we can sell your equity or trade you a smaller property clear of debt. Call and see us quick. MOODY & RICKEL, Auburn. d2w4

—Over at Knox, the capital of Starke county, the people have decided by a vote of 252 to 79 that they don't want a municipal water, works and electric light plant.

—Presents for you—fine hand painted medallions given away with each dozen photos at Neher's studio. Also handkerchief pictures and extra Platinos on supesb mount. d6-w2

—Caps! Caps! Caps! The largest assortment ever shipped to Auburn. Buy one of our 50 cent beaver caps. Caps that keep the head warm in cold weather. G. H. YESBERA.

—Charlie Weaver has been considerably under the weather for several days as the result of a severe cold, but has managed to attend to his duties as town clerk and express agent.

—There will be a box social and cake walk, with hot coffee, at G. A. R. hall on Thursday evening, December 14, to which all citizens of Auburn and vicinity are cordially invited. Admission free.

—We are having the biggest cap trade in the history of our business. Why? Because we are the exclusive sellers of the famous beaver caps. Caps at 50 cents, 75 cents and $1. G. H. YESBERA.

—Chaplain Medbury of Angola will lecture at the Christian church in St Joe on Wednesday evening, December 13, on "Indiana Boys in the South." Mr. Medbury is an eloquent speaker and will doubtless be greeted by a large audience.

—The Canadian Jubilee Singers will be at the Presbyterian church next Monday, December 11. They are all the sons and daughters of slaves who ran away to Canada in slave days. They are splendid singers. Come and hear them.

—The Brazil Democrat, daily and weekly, is offered for sale. The proprietor, Louis Holtman, is desirous of locating elsewhere, for the benefit of his health. The plant is a good one and has paid satisfactory dividends. For the right sort of a newspaper man this is a good opening.

—The concert given by the Canadian Jubilee singers was, without exception, the finest ever given in Findlay, and it was greatly appreciated by a large audience. The Imperial Orchestra, composed of ten pieces, rendered some choice selections, etc., etc. Findlay. O., Republican, Oct. 28, 1898.

—A diocesan conference composed of Archbishop Elder and a number of prominent priests of the Catholic church was held at Fort Wayne yesterday to choose a coadjutor to Bishop Rademachar. Several candidates were mentioned but the decision of the conference will not be rendered for some time.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Home of Swamp-Root.

The Bazar at 'Xmas Tide

At present the best sight in town is our Handsome Stock of Holiday Goods, which includes the pick of the market in Bright, Fresh New Styles and Novelties for the Christmas Season, and we are waiting to show it to you.

It will give you New Ideas to See Our HOLIDAY LINE

It is easy to select from because it contains everything to make people happy, whether they are old or young.

Pretty Gifts---Plenty Too are ready and waiting for your inspection. To look through our fine assortment is a pastime—to price the goods is a pleasure—to possess them is a privilege. Come and see the best for christmas in

The New, Novel and Beautiful!

It is a stock to please the many and save the money of all who come. You'll trade with us simply because you can't duplicate the goods or the prices. Whatever your wants may be, we can meet them with the most desirable and satisfactory selections.

The Bazar Store

Auburn, Indiana.

NOTICE FOR SUPPLIES.

Requisition For Supplies For De-Kalb County Poor Asylum

The Board of Commissioners of said county will receive sealed bids for supplies up to Dec. 27, 1899, at 10 o'clock, a. m., for quarter ending March 1, 1900.

GROCERIES AND DRY GOODS.

Commissioners reserving the right to reject all bids at their discretion, may demand a bond from the successful bidder, conditioned upon the fulfillment of their contract.

Requisition and sample of goods may be seen at the Auditor's office.

FRANK P. SEILER,
Auditor.

Auburn, Ind., Dec. 6, 1899.

CEDAR.

J. W. Kenton's father is making him a visit and expects to start for California in the near future.

Mrs. Sollenberger and daughter spent Sunday with friends at Butler.

F. A Hixson had the misfortune to lose three head of young cattle last week; supposed to have died from the effects of smut in the fodder.

Mrs. W. W. Jackson is visiting her father and mother at Bourbon, Ind.

Perry Beard and family moved to their new home at Altona, Ind., on Saturday last.

The demand for fresh oysters in this place is so strong that our merchants are awakened at midnight and sometimes at 2 o'clock to supply some one.

Rev. Finney of Fort Wayne occupied the pulpit here on Saturday and Sunday last.

Several of our pedagogues attended the institute at Butler last Saturday.

D. B. Batdorf and wife have broken up housekeeping and gone to live with their daughter, Mrs. Joshua Miller, for the present.

FOR HOARSNESS.

Benj. Ingerson, of Hutton, Ind., says: he had not spoken above a whisper for months, and one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar restored his voice. It is used very largely by speakers and singers. H. B. McCord.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received at the Auditor's office in DeKalb County, Indiana, until 2 o'clock p. m., Wednesday, December 27, 1899, for furnishing Blank Books, Stationery and other supplies, as per requisitions on file in this office.

Bids will be received as per requisitions on file.

The Board of Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

FRANK P. SEILER,
Auditor,

Auburn, Ind., Dec. 6, 1899.

Peter Kuntz, Pres., Chicago;
W. H. Keckler, Treas., Auburn.

The Auburn LUMBER CO.

Central 'Phone No. 12.

We sell all kinds of Lumber for Building, and Make Window and Door Frames to Order. We can Sell you Doors and Windows and SAVE YOU MONEY. We carry all kinds of Shingles, from $1 per thousand to the very best.
Headquarters for.....

Wood Burnt Bulk Lime.

The Genuine Article

We can SAVE YOU MONEY in PRICE, WEIGHT & QUALITY Come and see us and examine our Lime, and you will be convinced. We also carry Cement, Plastering Hair, Plaster Paris, etc.

Auburn Lumber Co.
Near Wabash Depot AUBURN.

Junk Wanted

Please save your money. Don't forget to bring all your junk to H. Greenberg, three blocks north of M. E. church in Auburn, who pays

Best Cash Prices

for rags, rubber, copper, brass, zinc, lead, scrap iron and all kinds of hides and furs. Also buys and sells second-hand material, stoves and furnaces, etc. Persons having second-hand material to buy or sell, it will be to their interest to see H. Greenberg.

NERVITA PILLS Restore VITALITY, LOST VIGOR AND MANHOOD

Cure Impotency, Night Emissions and wasting diseases, all effects of self-abuse, or excess and indiscretion. A nerve tonic and blood builder. Brings the pink glow to pale cheeks and restores the fire of youth. By mail 50c per box, 6 boxes for $2.50; with a written guarantee to cure or refund the money. Send for circular. Address,

NERVITA MEDICAL CO.
Clinton & Jackson Sts., CHICAGO, ILL.
Davenport, The Druggist.

Topics of the Times

In the three years that the London institution for lost and starving cats has been established 13,904 animals have been received and cared for, or, if absolutely homeless and unhealthy, painlessly destroyed in lethal boxes.

A New Jersey man has patented a hitching post which will accommodate bicycles as well as horses, the portion of the post nearest the pavement being provided with slots of sufficient width to admit the wheel of the machine.

The city of Concord, N. H., has exempted from taxation for ten years the new machinery, to the value of $60,000, of the New Hampshire spinning mills, of Penacook, reported as organized recently for the manufacture of fine grade combed yarns.

The first American bank in Honolulu opened its doors on Sept. 5. The money on hand, amounting to $500,000 in gold, was officially counted by Minister of the Interior J. A. King, who gave the bank permission to begin business as a Hawaiian corporation.

Railroad building has been actively engaged in throughout the country during the current year, 2,700 miles of new track having been laid up to Oct. 1 last. This is at the rate of 3,600 miles a year, which would be about 400 miles in excess of the new mileage for 1898.

A dip in the "briny" is nowhere considered sufficient for cleanliness, and among the Polynesians one can hardly insult a man more than to state that his skin shows marks of salt water. In fact, directly after bathing in the sea a bath in fresh water is considered a necessity to wash off the salt.

Herman McIntyre is suing the city of Binghamton, N. Y., for damages. Some time ago, under city authority, the number 13 was tacked on the door of his residence. Since then on Jan. 13 his wife died and on May 13 his house burned down. He is sure that the unlucky number which the city tacked on his door hoodooed him.
to him.

It appears that there is now a very well-established carrier-pigeon service from London to Belgium, under the auspices of the Chatelet Club. The result of a recent trial of birds liberated in London and homing to Chatelet was that out of 300 birds released one-half reached Chatelet, 200 miles distant, within fifteen minutes of each other.

A handsome young woman was arrested in New York recently, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses by advertising to furnish tips on the stock market. But the judge discharged her. He held that the girl's offer was so manifestly nonsensical that the dupes who would have faith in it were not entitled to either pity or protection.

The cost of operating the great steamship Oceanic is between $40,000 and $50,000 a month. The extreme earning capacity of the Oceanic is about $90,000 a month. When the cost of repairs, insurance and deterioration in the value of the ship itself is taken into consideration the profit remaining represents only a fair return on the investment of $4,000,000.

A Persian, six Porto Ricans and a full-blooded native of the Sandwich Islands are among the students that attract especial attention at the University of Michigan. Yale has a blind law student. He is Robert G. Dayton, of Bridgeport, who lost his sight on account of an accident three years ago while he was a student in the Bridgeport high school. His lessons are read

The occurrence of French names like Joubert on the Boer side of the Transvaal literature is explained by the fact that many Huguenots went to the Cape of Good Hope while it was still a Dutch colony and there became prosperous and prominent. The descendants of many of these Huguenots are found in the Transvaal to-day and are quite as Dutch in all their ways as the other Boers.

John Jentzen, fumigating official of the sanitary office at Atlanta, is said to have become suddenly bald from the action of formaldehyde gas on his skull. He had been called to disinfect a house in which there had been a case of scarlet fever. He adjusted the tube of the generator to the front door keyhole, but failed to remove the key. He then turned on the gas, when the tube blew out, spraying him with steam and vapor. Before he reached his office all of his hair had fallen out.

In a recent paper Dr. Sheard, medical officer of health in Toronto, says that during the past year in the Blood Indian reserve of the Canadian Northwest territories, in a population of 2,000, there were 127 deaths from pulmonary consumption, constituting 23 per cent. of the total death rate. This occurred in a tribe occupying one of the finest climates of the world, among the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, a region in which consumption is extremely rare among the white population.

Prof. A. Czeke, of Pensacola, owns, perhaps, the oldest violin in the United States, and one of only seven of the make in existence. It was built in 1516 by Gaspard Duiffopruggar, who was born in Welch-Tyrol in 1467, and was called at the court of Francois I., King of France, in 1510. Only seven of these old Duiffropruggar violins are known to be in existence. Three are owned in Aix-la-Chappelle, one in Boulogne, one in London, one in St. Petersburg, and that of Prof. Czeke the seventh.

BOY CHIEF OF AFRICAN TRIBE.

Youngster of Twelve Commands Group of Savages.

A remarkable youngster of 12 years of age has brought to London for exhibition a band of ten wild Swazi warriors out of the heart of Central Africa. This white boy is their chief and they obey him implicitly.

The boy is Bandini Norburn; his first name was given him by his father, a South African traveler, in honor of King Bandini of the Swazis. The elder Norburn acted as adviser to King Bandini for many years, and among the savages the boy has grown from babyhood.

This remarkable boy came to London with his ten Swazis to keep them in order. They are to exhibit their war dances, but not in improper places. They are not to smite people with their spears. Chief Bandini says so. He is their war lord, interpreter, protector, guide and adviser. He keeps them out of mischief.

"I am here to mind my people," says Bandini very modestly. "Of course, they will do just as I want them to do; I am their chief. I have been since the old king, whose namesake I am, died in 1892.

"I get up early and bathe and have my breakfast. By that time the Swazis want me. I stay with them all morning. Some people think they have been 'tamed' to come to England, but if they saw the Swazis sometimes they would call them warlike enough, though they daren't hurt me, and they wouldn't.

"They are like children—like very fierce and big children. They do not know the value of human life or the meaning of law. They have no rights worth speaking about and do not want any. They are simply faithful and loyal and obedient. Do they like me? Why, I suppose they do, because I have lived long in their country and—but that isn't it, you see. I am the chief. They have got to obey me. They wouldn't dream of anything else."

The child chief, unlike most boys of his age, makes scarcely any friends among other youngsters. He enjoys his unique life too thoroughly to court companionship. His curious experience has taught him self-reliance and his pleasant eyes look keen and unabashed straight at one with whom he talks. He has the manner of one much older and speaks crisply, briefly and to the point, as befits a chief.

BAD MEMORY A FAULT.

Practical Man Says Forgetfulness Is Mainly Due to Laziness.

A successful business man said that there were two things which he learned when he was 18 and which were ever afterward of great use to him—namely, never to lose anything and never to forget anything.

An old lawyer sent the young man with an important paper, giving him definite instructions what to do with it.

"But," inquired the young man, "suppose that I should lose it, what shall I do then"

"You must not lose it," said the lawyer, frowning.

"I don't mean to," said the young man, "but suppose I should happen to."

"But I say you must not happen to. I shall make no provisions for such an occurrence. You must not lose it."

This put a new strain of thought into the young man's mind, and he found that if he was determined to do a thing he could do it. He made such a provision every contingency that he never lost anything.

He found this equally true about forgetting. If a certain matter of importance was to be remembered, he pinned it down on his mind, fastened it there and made it stay. He used to declare:

"When a man tells me that he forgot to do something I tell him he might as well have said: 'I did not care enough about your business to take the trouble to think of it again.'

"I once had an intelligent young man in my employ who deemed it sufficient excuse for having neglected an important task to say, 'I forgot.' I told him that would not answer. If he was sufficiently interested he would be careful to remember. It was because he did not care enough that he forgot. I drilled him with this truth.

"He worked for me three years and during the last year of the three he was utterly changed in this respect. He did not forget a thing. His forgetting, he found, had been a lazy and careless habit of mind, and he cured it."—Country Gentleman.

Bad Posture Causes Disease

It was recently announced by a well-known medical man that the reason men suffer so much from dyspepsia is because the stomach is crowded out of position and cannot readily perform its proper functions. Now comes a surgeon, who puts forward the suggestion that appendicitis is common because of the habit of sitting with one leg thrown over the other.

Many causes have been quoted for appendicitis, but none has satisfactorily explained why men should more frequently suffer from the disease than women. "The habit of sitting with the legs crossed," says the surgeon, "restricts the action of the digestive apparatus, especially of the lower intestine, and causes stagnation of the contents and the stretching of the opening of the vermiform appendix, making it possible for obstructions to reach the latter organ and thus causing appendicitis. The appendix is only loosely attached to the caecum, the portion where the small intestine joins the large intestine, and there is always some half-digested food in the caecal bag. By crossing the legs, and it is generally the right leg that is put upon the stretch, the undigested food passes into the vermiform appendix and sets up an inflammation. In the space of a few hours pathological processes set in and an attack of appendicitis has been developed."—Glasgow Mail.

Bound to Be Safe.

Washington has an old blind colored man who makes his living by traveling from door to door selling matches. As he is a good-natured old fellow, he has many friends, who are careful to see that he is in need of nothing. One day not long ago his customers heard that he and his family had had the misfortune of losing their house and their few personal belongings by fire. Many offers of assistance were made. The morning following his loss the old man was on his beat as usual. A certain lady who took considerable interest in him gave him an overcoat and some other clothes for himself and his wife. It being early in the day, the lady said: "Uncle Joe, you'd better leave these things here till you go home to-night."

"No," said Uncle Joe; "it hain't no use. I'm a gwine to kerry 'em 'long."

"Yes, Uncle Joe," said the lady, "but they'll be heavy, and bother you."

"Dat's all right, missus," said the darky, "but I hain't gwine to run no chances, for I'se afraid when I gits back you'll change your notion."

Pliable Sword Blades of Old.

The sword blades forged at Toledo by the Saracens could be coiled up like a clock spring, and would resume perfect straightness as soon as released.

ABOLISHING THE GRADE CROSSING

THIS is the story of how Chicago dealt with grade crossings, mainly condensed from the Chronicle:

Fifteen years ago Chicago was intersected in every direction and at all possible angles with railroad tracks. Every track was laid at the grade of the streets or alleys it crossed. Accidents—generally fatalities, for grade crossing accidents rarely stop short of the death of the victim—were of daily, almost hourly, occurrence. Chicago began to murmur and rebel against the grade crossing—it was determined to abolish them once for all.

The railroad companies were willing to elvate or depress the numerous tracks, but were not willing to undergo the hardship and expense of the improvement. Guards and watchmen were maintained at the crossings, time tables were public property, and the roads saw no reason why they should be called upon to bear millions of dollars extra expense to remedy the difficulty.

ENGLEWOOD AND WENTWORTH AVENUES.

The grade status in Chicago to-day is an excellent exemplar of what Chicagoans can do when they will it. Hundreds of miles of tracks have been elevated or depressed, hundreds of crossings abolished, either subways or viaducts containing the offending tracks, and the roads have paid out nearly ILLINOIS CENTRAL AT 55TH STREET.

$17,000,000. The city has not been at any expense at all in accomplishing this feat. Ninety per cent. of the tracks no longer menace the public on foot or horseback or in carriages. Every spadeful of earth, every block of masonry, every bolt in every piece of iron provided for by ordinance has been put in place.

Chicago won the fight as she generally wins whatever she seeks. But it was a long, hotely contested and interesting contest just the same, for the big lines are no mean antagonists, and had many fairly sound arguments to advance to show they should not bear all the expense, interruption to traffic and worry incidental to such a colossal undertaking. But in the end they had this to do just the same. First it was held by the lines that they could not be compelled to elevate their tracks or in any other manner alter the grades. This point was argued laboriously after months and even years of skillful research in the law books; it took the highest court in the State but a few minutes to destroy the illusion.

Ten years ago the question of elevating the tracks was a political issue in this city. Parties battled over the question, one side being inclined to the belief that the city lacked the power to force the roads to act and the other certain the power existed. But by the beginning of 1890 it was no longer a dividing question. No candidate for Mayor could hope to win unless outspoken in favor of sending up all the tracks and making the roads pay the bills. To-day no administration looks upon the question as anything more than a mere matter of detail. Ordinances must be drawn and accepted by the roads and work done under them as regularly as streets are paved or cleaned—in fact, more regularly than can be said of the cleaning process.

Under the administration of the elder Harrison a determined effort was made to get at the matter in a business-like manner. The roads at first merely laughed at the idea as a visionary plan utterly impossible of accomplishment. They held that neither they nor the city could afford the expense even if they could stand the interruption to their ordinary business while their tracks were being elevated.

The first objection raised was that the roads would practically be forced to suspend business while this work was going on. The Mayor thought differently, but in conclusion said let them suspend then, for the lives and limbs of the people were valuable beyond any mere financial computation. But it was also shown by engineering experts that the elevation could be accomplished without substantial interruption to traffic, a contention which has been demonstrated daily ever since the first carload of material was dumped in a right of way.

The roads did not deny that if the thing could be done it would be a valuable thing for both sides, but the roads also declined to consider the proposition in any guise. They had laid their tracks under charters and ordinances, had complied with the laws, and no body or corporation could disturb their possession. They sometimes carried this contention to such an extent as to battle among themselves to prevent some rival line from crossing their rights of way. Work was done on Sunday and holidays to evade, if possible, the interference of police or sheriff. But these attempts were always met by a like determination, resulting finally in defeat or compromise.

When the roads learned that the courts had held that the power lay in the city, under general regulations of police as well as under charter provisions, to force changes of grade to meet modern necessities, they asked who would pay for it. When told that they would be expected to do this, a new fight was commenced, for they at first absolutely refused to do any such thing.

It was discovered to the deep disgust of the companies that they could be forced to alter any grade named and also be forced to foot the bill. Then the element of suggested compromise entered into the controversy early in 1890. The companies began to spar for wind and suggest that each side pay half.

But the city had won every round in court and was not inclined to help one little bit. The roads were successively notified to begin the work. No exact plan was adopted, but pronies were furnished by the city engineer as a basis for the work. The roads might do it any way which seemed best to them, provided they did it. But with masterly inactivity they did nothing.

WEST LAKE AND ROCKWELL STREETS.

The city sent warning after warning and even threatened to begin the work itself. Then the last legal act of the fight was commenced; injunctions were applied for. These failed.

Meanwhile the general managers had formed an association for mutual protection. This was held out to be an association to protect business, prevent rate-slashing, and by concert of action get all roads into line on a general policy. It was really designed to fight the elevation scheme. But even injunction-made laws failed them, for the courts held that the city had the power to act. It looked along in the years just before the World's Fair as if a direct conflict would take place between the city officers on one hand and road employes on the other.

Expert engineers declared that it would cost as much or more to elevate or depress the tracks as it had cost in the original construction of the roads. Road attorneys, using this as a basis, argued that the hardship on the roads was so great that even conceding the power of the city to force action no court would force such an extremity of hardship. The lawyers also argued that this expense, heavy as it would be, would be but a trifle when compared with the loss entailed by the interruption of traffic. The contention of the experts regarding the cost has been proved to be under rather than over the actual expenditure. It has cost the roads about $50,000 a mile to do the work. But the alleged loss due to interrupted traffic has been proved to be but a dream. The roads suffered inconvenience, to be sure, but no line lost a pound of freight or a single passenger on this account. The tribunals also disappointed the legal lights by calmly saying the city would force the roads to do what was needed.

Not an inch of track has been established according to the new grade without a persistent fight in which all the skill, foresight and acumen of the companies has been expended. The expense, as has been shown, has been enormous, even if no other cost had been involved than the filling in and retaining of the roadbed within the limits prescribed. But every step in the progression has been fought over bitterly, entailing additional expense on the roads. So far as the city is concerned, the battle has been substantially without expense beyond that provided for in the ordinary administration of public affairs.

Jan. 1, 1892, not a mile of the hundreds of tracks in the city had been elevated. Probably somewhere near 2,000 crossings were in existence. In one year—last year—nearly 200 crossings were eliminated. This is a mere straw to show how rapidly the tide set in the other way when once the city got down to business. With every crossing on grade in the beginning of the initial year of actual elevation, the year closed with some fifty miles in the air and a large number of dangerous crossings, especially on the south side, no longer menaced the people.

Seven years ago every train, freight or passenger, which entered the city poked along slowly from the limits to the depots with very few exceptions. Ordinances provided that only a certain speed should be maintained inside the city limits, that the peril to pedestrians or other citizens in the city might be reduced to a minimum. Some few express trains rushed along at a high rate of speed, but they were guarded at block intervals for six or seven miles. Gates were dropped when the trains were half a mile distant, and the gongs rattled without ceasing until after the rushing express had passed. There is no diminution of this speed to-day. It is rather increased, for the trains can run at sixty miles an hour without running the slightest risk of killing a citizen at any grade crossing.

SUBWAY, 55TH ST. BOUL. UNDER P., F. W. & C. RAILWAY.

With the World's Fair coming on, one road saw the advantage of elevated tracks to hurry visitors down to the grounds. By the time the ceremonies of dedication in October, 1892, were all arranged for the Illinois Central had elevated its tracks as far south as 63d street. Like all others, this road fought the whole thing bitterly, but, seeing no escape, the road accepted the ordinances passed to provide for the work on its lines. These ordinances are really plans carefully prepared to obviate engineering difficulties and enable the line to elevate or depress the tracks at the smallest estimated cost. The city pays nothing, but has enforced its demands until few roads wish to make the fight any longer.

This beginning inspired the people and authorities with reason to feel that the grade crossing would have to go. It also taught the railroad companies that all they could do would be to fight for time; they must all get in the bandwagon in the end. So when the World's Fair Mayor was elected it was believed that considerable progress would be made. One thing had militated against progress, and that was that the city was trying to do too much at once. The city had been trying to battle the combined roads as a combination. Ordinances were being prepared which were blankets covering the entire system in the city. These necessarily failed from too great complication.

In 1893 a change in plan was inaugurated. It was decided to go at the roads in detail, taking one or two at a time, drawing up ordinances on engineering schemes agreed upon between the city engineer and the experts of the roads. All other roads would be left alone for the time being, the city determining to fight the enemy in detail instead of in bulk. The result was at once apparent, for the roads were tangled up, and each had its own particular fight on its hands. The Northwestern was the second to get to work, for in 1893 plans were submitted for the elevation of the Galena division, which, with some unimportant modifications, were decided upon as good working plans.

DIVERSEY AVENUE AND C. & N. W. TRACKS.

FOLIAGE RECALLS BISMARCK.

Branches of Trees Spell Name of German Statesman.

Germany's man of blood and iron is still remembered in the fatherland in many unique ways. Bismarck, it appears, has left his imprint upon Germany to the extent of controlling the shape of its apple trees. This isn't the pleasantest thing in the world for young Kaiser Wilhelm to realize, particularly when the knowledge is forced upon him in so abrupt a manner as it was the other day at Geisenheim.

The Kaiser was journeying to Alsace. On the way he stopped at Monrepos, Geisenheim, the greatest fruit nursery in Germany. The Emperor has rather a fancy for horticulture, and, indeed, includes it among his numberless special hobbies. His host was Baron Von Lade, proprietor of the orchards. When the circuit of the orchards and gardens had been made Baron Von Lade said:

"Now, I beg leave to show your majesty the finest grown fruit tree in the world." The Kaiser amiably consented to look at the tree and found it an enormous growth trained to grow in the outlines of the eight letters of Bismarck's name. This very Teutonic feat had been accomplished by planting four little trees close together and clipping and training them constantly.

Next to this prize tree was one which Baron Lade called the "Bismarck cup." It was ingeniously trained to the form of a communion cup.

These wonders did not interest the Emperor as the Baron had anticipated. Indeed, the great man was obviously vexed.

Then the Baron bethought himself. He turned to a tiny tree in the adjoining garden.

"But here, your majesty," he said, with unction, "is a tree that will eclipse these and all others. I have called it 'Wilhelm der Grosse.' Your majesty can see that the letters are already partly formed."

After which the Kaiser went on his way propitiated.

SMALLEST REPUBLIC.

Two and a Half Square Miles, with a Population of Sixty.

The smallest republic in the world is that of Tavolara, an island about five miles long, with an average width of a little more than half a mile, situated about a dozen miles to the northeast of Sardinia. The total population of the whole republic does not exceed 60, but they elect a President every six years, and a Council of six members, all of whom serve the state without pay. The women of this island go to the polls and vote with the men, and ever since it became a republic, in 1886, all public business has been transacted without turmoil; the elections taking place without any high party feeling or undue excitement.

In 1836 King Charles Albert of Sardinia granted the Island of Tavolara to a family of the name of Bartoleoni, but in less than half a century the inhabitants threw off the yoke of monarchy and took to themselves the right to be governed by themselves. This little war did not alarm the world, and was quite a peaceful one. King Paul I. reigned until 1882, and on his deathbed requested that none of his kin should succeed to the throne, and as no one claimed the honor four years later the people decided to draw up a constitution, and Tavolara has been a very successful little republic since.

Twelve years ago its independence was recognized by Italy, and, it is to be presumed, other powers would have recognized it also if they had known of its existence. The inhabitants live principally by fishing and raising fruits and vegetables. They fear no sudden invasion, for they dispense with any army or navy, and, presumably, in case of need, would rely upon the entire population to uphold the freedom of the country.

Adulterate It Themselves.

A process has been invented and patented in Brazil for preparing coffee in tabloids by a system of compression. It is argued that not only will there be less expense in exporting coffee in this form, but that the customer will be more certain of thus receiving for his use the pure, unadulterated article.

"Your dog seems to follow you without orders." "Yes, he wouldn't take any orders from me. He's been in the family long enough to know the real boss."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

She—What's the difference between a dimple and a wrinkle? He—Oh, about thirty or forty years.—Town Topics.

ESTERHAZY OWES HIM $10.

A Telegraph Operator in New Orleans Says French Officer "Did" Him.

"Count Esterhazy, who figured so prominently in the Dreyfus trial, has been in New Orleans several times," said a guest at the Grunewald Hotel. "I myself saw him on one of his visits and was present when he did some cabling to France, the cost of which, or rather a portion of the fee, he deliberately defrauded the operator out of. It happened thus:

"Esterhazy had come in town by one of the roads from the north and went to the Southern Pacific depot to board a train for the West. While waiting for his train he remembered that he had some cabling to do and walked over to the telegraph operator in the building and asked for a blank.

"The operator gave it to him, and the Frenchman wrote out quite a lengthy coded cablegram and addressed it to a private party in Paris. By this time there were only a few moments left for him to get aboard the train, and the operator had to hurry in looking up the rate. To arrive at the exact figures necessitated some little calculation, and the operator, to expedite matters for the noble count, told him the rate and asked him to make the calculation, too.

"This the Frenchman, who was evidently quick at figures, did, and had finished a moment before the operator called out his result, and asked if that was what he made it. Esterhazy looked straight at the operator a second, as though reading his very thoughts, and unhesitatingly replied: 'It is correct.'

"He paid the amount and hurried away. A few minutes later the operator discovered that he had been paid just $10 less than the correct amount; he had made an error in his calculations, and the count had taken advantage of his error to save the money. The young man immediately wired ahead of the train asking the conductor to see Esterhazy, explain the calculation, and request the $10. The conductor complied, but when he had explained to the noble traveler, the latter only shrugged his shoulders and replied that it was no concern of his. And the operator made good the shortage from his own salary. It was as clear a case of steal as I ever heard of."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

One on Senator Depew.

Nothing is more incomprehensible to European writers than the American custom of breaking eggs in a glass. Chauncey M. Depew likes to follow the American custom, and one day the waiter at the Hotel de Russe, in Paris, told him he mustn't do it. There was a dispute, and the head waiter was called. "The glasses cannot be properly washed," it was explained. "They are ruined."

"Nonsense," said Mr. Depew, "my servants at home do it every day in the year. Use a little more elbow grease."

Then Mr. Depew broke his egg into the glass, as usual, and the waiter watched him. When the glass was set aside he came with a dustpan, cracked the glass on his boot heel and disappeared with the fragments. The charge for the glass was on Mr. Depew's bill, and he refused to pay it. He was too good a customer to make angry, so the hotel people smiled. They knew that Mrs. Depew was going to remain a week longer. A broken egg glass was ingeniously worked into her bill, and she paid for it, but Mr. Depew didn't know it for many months afterward, when he was telling the story as an instance of his success in counteracting the extortions of European hotel keepers.—New England Home Magazine.

How the Walls Ran Down.

The Irishman who went up in the hotel lift without knowing what it was did not recover easily from the surprise. He relates the story in this way.

"I wint to the hotel, and, says I, 'Is Misther Smith in?'

"'Yes,' says the man with the sojer cap. 'Will yez step in?'

"So I steps into the closet, and all of a suddint he pulls the rope, and—It's the truth I'se telling yez—the walls of the building begun running down to the cellar.

"'Och, murther!' says I, 'what'll become of Bridget and the children which was left below there?'

"Says the sojer-cap man. 'Be aisy, sorr; they'll be all right when yez comes down.'

"'Come down, is it?' says I. 'And it is no closet at all, but a haythinish balloon that yez got me in!'

"And wid that the walls stood stock still, and he opened the door, and there I was wid the roof just over my head! And, begorra, that's what saved me from goin' up to the hevins intirely!"—Irish Independent.

Thumb Marks.

It seems an astonishing thing that the natural signature, the impression of the thumb or finger tip, is not used to a greater extent than it is for purposes of identification. If the thumb be lightly pressed on a surface smeared with printing ink, and then pressed upon clean paper, an impression is obtained which is distinctive for the particular individual who owns the member. No two thumbs or fingers are alike in the arrangement of their multitudinous lines; each, therefore is a seal which is unique, and a seal which cannot readily be mislaid or lost. The French police use this test to assure themselves of the identity of a prisoner; but surely the system could be usefully extended.

The Octopus as Food.

The octopus now finds a place on the fish stalls in Jersey, where it is eaten either dried or fresh. The local estimate of it is that it makes very good eating, but the local taste also inclines to other things which do not find favor with alien palates. Octopus fishing parties have been very popular in the Channel Islands of late, not, however, because the uncouth creature is desired for food, but on account of the destruction it works among the lobsters.—London Globe.

Wiggs—Why does Bjones have that phonograph going all the time? It's awful. Waggs—Well, you see his wife's away, and when he has the phonograph going he says he doesn't miss her so much.—Philadelphia Record.

A soft heart and a hard head make a combination that is hard to beat.

Ayer's Pills

Dizzy? Then your liver isn't acting well. You suffer from biliousness, constipation. Ayer's Pills act directly on the liver. For 60 years the Standard Family Pill. Small doses cure. 25c. All druggists.

Want your moustache or beard a beautiful brown or rich black? Then use BUCKINGHAM'S DYE for the Whiskers
50 CTS. OF DRUGGISTS, OR R. P. HALL & CO., NASHUA, N. H.

Honor for Old King Cole.

According to Anglo Saxon chroniclers, Colchester owes its name and fame to old King Cole—Coel Godebog, to give him his true title. From a book compiled by Messers. Wilson Marriage and Gourney Benham, two ex-mayors, who have taken in hand the building of a new town hall, we learn that Cole the Merry is to be honored in stained glass and sculptured stone, with the other worthies, ancient and modern, of the town. Municipalities in this country too often lose their opportunities of making their municipal buildings storehouses of local history and quaint traditions and customs. Colchester's new town hall is to be a show place as well as a work place, and we commend it as an example to other municipalities.—London Globe.

Eagle Linen Letter Paper and Envelopes are the proper thing. Tell your printer to use this brand on your next order.

How to Utilize Coal Dust.

Householders who find that they have been supplied with an undue proportion of dust with their coal may thus utilize it: Take three or four handfuls of common washing soda, and, having well wetted a bushel of coal dust, thoroughly mix the soda with it. Let it partly dry and it will answer excellently for burning when a slow fire is required.

GOOD NIGHT!

Sweet, Soothing Slumber Man's Greatest Blessing.

Nothing Kills So Quickly as Loss of Sleep—Rest Needed for Repairs—How to Obtain it Without Fail.

When you don't sleep well, look out for yourself.

Nothing breaks down a person so quickly as loss of sleep, that boon of mankind which gives the exhausted system rest for repairs.

No time for repairs means destruction of the machinery. It is so with the human body.

You are nervous, have a load on your chest, are troubled with unaccountable anxiety and forebodings of evil, and roll and toss all night.

Towards morning you have fitful naps from sheer exhaustion, awake in a cold sweat, unrefreshed, pallid, trembling, with a bad taste in your mouth and a feeling of great weakness.

It's your stomach, your liver, your bowels.

Keep your digestive organs all on the move properly and your sleep will be restful and refreshing and all repairs will be attended to.

The way to do it is to use a mild, positive, harmless, vegetable laxative and liver stimulant—Cascarets Candy Cathartic. They make the liver lively, prevent sour stomach, purify the blood, regulate the bowels perfectly, make all things right as they should be.

Go buy and try Cascarets to-day. It's what they do, not what we say they'll do, that will please you. All druggists, 10c, 25c, or 50c, or mailed for price. Send for booklet and free sample. Address Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago; Montreal, Can.; or New York.

CCC This is the CASCARET tablet. Every tablet of the only genuine Cascarets bears the magic letters "CCC." Look at the tablet before you buy, and beware of frauds, imitations and substitutes.

Millions of Acres

160 ACRES FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

Of Choice Agricultural Lands now opened for settlement in Western Canada. Here is grown the celebrated No. 1 Hard Wheat, which brings the highest price in the markets of the world. Thousands of cattle are fattened for market without being fed grain, and without a day's shelter. Send for information and secure a free home in Western Canada. Write to E. Pedley, Supt. Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the undersigned, who will mail you atlases, pamphlets, etc., free of cost: C. J. Broughton, 1221 Monadnock Bldg., Chicago, Ill.; M. V. McInnes No. 1 Merrill Block, Detroit, Mich.; D. Caven Bad Axe, Mich.; James Grieve, Reed City, Mich., Agents for the Government of Canada.

Dr. Bull's

Cures all Throat and Lung Affections.

COUGH SYRUP

Get the genuine. Refuse substitutes.

IS SURE

Dr. Bull's Pills cure Dyspepsia. Trial, 20 for 5c.

Ely's Cream Balm

QUICKLY CURES

COLD IN HEAD

Druggists, 50 Cts.

Apply Balm into each nostril. ELY BROS., 56 Warren St., N.Y.

ELY'S CREAM BALM CATARRH HAY-FEVER 50 CTS. ELY BROS. NEW YORK

Personally Conducted California Excursions

Via the Santa Fe Route.

Three times a week from Chicago and Kansas City.

Twice a week from St. Paul and Minneapolis.

Once a week from St. Louis and Boston.

In improved wide-vestibuled Pullman tourist sleeping cars. Better than ever before, at lowest possible rates.

Experienced excursion conductors. Also daily service between Chicago and California.

Correspondence solicited.

T. A. GRADY,
Manager California Tourist Service,
The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway,
109 Adams Street, CHICAGO.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

OUR BUDGET OF FUN.

HUMOROUS SAYINGS AND DOINGS HERE AND THERE.

Jokes and Jokelets that Are Supposed to Have Been Recently Born—Sayings and Doings that Are Old, Curious and Laughable—The Week's Humor.

Old Beau—Ah, Miss Clara, I love you. May I hope to some day call you my wife?

Miss Clara—Have you spoken to my mother on the subject?

Old Beau—Why—er—yes, I believe I did—some twenty-one years ago.

Most of Them Do.

She—Do you believe that man sprang from the ape?

He—No. But I believe all women spring from the mouse.

He Wasn't to Blame.

"Sir," began the tramp as he stepped in front of a pedestrian, "I've seen better days, and——"

"Well," interrupted the other, "you needn't blame me for it. I'm not the weather man."

An Awful Blow.

Larry—Whoile Oi wuz hilpless in th' chair thot barber give me a tirrible blow in th' face.

Dinny—Ye don't sae?

Larry—Yis, an' Oi wudn't hav moinded it so much if th' son av a shavin' mug hodn't bin atin onions.

All Fair Game.

Louise—There they go off to pop at the patridges.

Polly—I wish they would stay at home and pop the question.—Fun.

Turning the Tables.

Hix—Weeks tells me he has met with serious reverses recently.

Dix—Sorry to hear that. How much did he lose?

Hix—Only his freedom.

Dix—Why, what do you mean by that?

Hix—He married his stenographer.

Dix—But where do the reverses come in?

Hix—She dictates to him now.

Bruin the Hugger.

He—Speaking of animals, which is your favorite?

She—The bear.

He—Oh, yes, of course.

Less Noise.

Stubb—Isn't the hammerless revolver a great invention?

Penn—Yes; but think what a great invention the hammerless anvil would be

Under the Influence.

Mr. Bender—Marcha, I shaw something th-that made m-m-my hair sthand up straight.

Mrs. Bender—Well, that shows your hair is better off than you are. It can stand up straight.

The Hidden Hero.

Mrs. A.—Yewed? What an uncommon name for a baby! Is it Swedish?

Mrs. Z.—No, indeed! Just read it backward. Isn't so bad, is it?

How African Explorer Can Travel Safely

—New York Journal.

A Gentle Hint.

Frank—Blanche pinned a tiny flatiron on my coat last night.

Dick—Do you know what that means?

Frank—No.

Dick—Why, she wants you to press your suit.

Settle Up.

Reggy—I am tewibble short, doncherknow. If Miss Violette was to intimate a cawwiage wide ther'd be the deuce to pay.

Cholly—Yeas, dear boy; and there'd be the cawwiage driver to pay, too.

Foundations of Belief.

"Don't you believe in signs?" asked the superstitious man.

"Oh, yes; largely decorative ones particularly," replied the ruddy-faced individual. "You see, I'm a sign painter."—Philadelphia North American.

A Great Oversight.

Ida—Here is an account of a woman who went to sleep, had a terrible dream and woke up to find her hair was white.

May—It's her own fault. I suppose she forgot to apply the hair dye before retiring.

A Long File.

Visitor—I suppose you consider this a model prison?

Warden—Yes, sir; we are very proud of it.

Visitor—Suppose I tell you that I saw a file within the walls to-day.

Warden—You did! I'll——

Visitor—Hold on! It was a file of prisoners going to breakfast.

The Target Safe.

Old Lady—Shame on you, boys! Now, you never hear of little girls throwing stones and killing birds.

Bad Boy—Course yer don't! Whoever saw a girl dat could throw a stone straight enuf to kill a bird?

The Kind They Keep.

Jack—Remember, darling, that this diamond is a secret.

Ida—All right, dear; rest assured that I will keep it.

Felt for Him.

Slobbs—Did her father appear sorry that he had to turn you down?

Blobbs—Well, he felt for me.

"So?"

"Yes, with his foot, and he reached me, too."—Philadelphia Record.

Works Both Ways.

"They say that Charlie's wife can read him like a book!"

"Yes, and she can shut him up like one, too."—Moonshine.

Sure Thing.

Miss Hitts—Do humorists ever make jokes at their own expense?

Mr. Funston—Sure. All jokes the publishers decline are at their own expense.

Missed His Vocation.

Patient—You should have gone into the army, doctor.

Doctor—Why so?

Patient—Judging by the way you charge your friends you would be able to completely annihilate an enemy?

Not Equal to the Emergency.

New Cockatoo—Does the girl we live with seem clever?

Parrot—No; I've been here a year and she hasn't got me to stop swearing yet.

Versatile.

Roscius de Mamme—What is your repertoire this season, old man?

Barnes Tormer—Hamlet and Uncle Tom.—Indianapolis Journal.

Restful Evenings.

"Prosperity brings peace."

"That's so; the man next door is so busy now that he comes home at night too tired to practice on his cornet."

Agreed at Last.

He—Well, my view is that there should always be give and take between husband and wife.

She—My idea exactly! The husband should give and the wife take.—Moonshine.

A Bachelor's Romance.

"I came pretty near getting engaged once."

"Why didn't you?"

"The day I made up my mind to propose to the girl a man came along and asked me to go fishing."

On the Safe Side.

Mrs. A.—I always clip out the stock yard news and the weather report before Willie sees the paper.

Mrs. Z.—Why, dear?

Mrs. A.—Because I don't wish him to read "blood-and-thunder" trash.

All Ablaze.

Manager—Did you see those sleeping cars that were reported on fire?

Engineer—No, sir. When I got there they were all smoking cars.

Brought the Dressing.

Ida—I don't know what to think of those waiters in that dining-room.

May—What have they been doing of late?

Ida—Why, I was sitting in there the other day when I remarked to Jack that my hair needed dressing. I thought no more of it until one of the waiters appeared with a bottle of catsup and said: "Here is the dressing, miss. Anything else?

Model Pedestrians.

Prospective Leaser—Are the tramps bad around here?

Landlord—Bad? Why, sir, they are such good tramps that they are not satisfied with one Sunday, but actually keep seven to the week. Not one will do a hand's turn on the Sabbath, either.

Seeking Sunken Treasure.

Soundings and divings are taking place near the Island of Terschelling, in the north of Holland, at the spot where a French warship sunk just 100 years ago. She was loaded with silver and gold to the amount of 40,000,000 francs, or $8,000,000. The captain's log mentions the amount, and as early as 1800 French sailors succeeded in bringing to the surface a bar containing 1,500,000 francs' worth of gold and silver ingots. In 1856 and 1860 a private undertaking succeeded in raising another 1,250,000 francs value. The warship sunk in 230 feet of water and divers have great difficulty in working at such a depth. Dynamite is now being used to break up the iron cases.

Its Value Is Overestimated.

An English scientist shows that liquid air cannot do the great things expected of it as a source of power or of refrigeration. The cost of manufacture is such that it cannot pay to use the air produced by the evaporation of the liquid for the propulsion of an engine. For refrigeration a lump of ice beats a bottle of the liquid air.

DOLLAR OF 1804 IS A MYTH.

This Is an Assertion of the American Journal of Numismatics.

Is there an American dollar of the date of 1804? If there is, it is worth a fortune, for it is one of the jack o' lanterns of numismatics. In a recent issue the American Journal of Numismatics goes into an interesting account of what it terms the "myth of 1804 dollars," and denies that any such coin, struck in that year, is in existence. Like comets, these alleged coins have been turning up in most unexpected places for nearly a century. Recently coin dealers were excited by a story from Racine, Wis., which told how a women went into a dry goods store to buy a spool of thread and tendered in payment a worn silver dollar, saying that she did not know whether it was good or not. The clerk saw the date "1804" on the coin, put it into his pocket, and threw a new silver dollar into the cash drawer. He was offered $1,500 for the old coin by a dealer, but refused to sell. In this way the story got out, and the clerk's employer put in a claim to the 1804 dollar. Both men have employed lawyers to defend their titles, and now the woman shopper is preparing to bring suit for the possession of it.

For years, Mr. Nexsen, an expert of Brooklyn, N. Y., has made a study of the subject. He has convinced himself and other competent judges that no genuine 1804 dollar was ever coined. He has become convinced that the alleged dollars of that date are alterations of Spanish, Mexican, Bank of England 5-shilling pieces, or some such fraud. It is believed that an experimental die with milled edges was made but not used in 1804. In 1842 some one, perhaps surreptitiously, struck a few dollars on this old, unused die, and it is these that are occasionally found.

Non-Sinkable Boats.

The latest invention for saving life is a non-sinkable boat. If people would pay as much attention to the preservation of life in other ways there would be a great improvement. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a life preserver. It cures dyspepsia, indigestion and all forms of stomach trouble. It is an excellent tonic.

Up-to-Date Definitions.

Love—A childish disease which silly persons have more than once.

Weather Reports—Dreams that go by contraries.

The Inside Track—The alimentary canal.

A Man of Sense—One who advises you to follow the plan you had previously laid out yourself.

Marriage—A lottery where the blanks win the prizes.

Divorce—A chance the law gives one to make a fool of one's self over again.

Bargain—An article that seems cheap when you buy it.

Beauty—A gilt-edged security in the matrimonial market.

Dowry—The only thing that saves many a woman from becoming an old maid.

Law—A bait that induces you to spend your money in search of justice.—New York World.

Combination Book Case for $13.95.

For those who are accustomed to sending away from home for their goods it is of the greatest importance to know the character and reliability of the establishment selling goods to families from catalogues. The great emporium of the John M. Smyth Co., located at 150 to 166 West Madison street, Chicago, has been established for a third of a century, and has furnished over half a million homes in Chicago and vicinity alone. This firm enjoys the confidence of the public by its many years of fair dealing. It issues an immense illustrated catalogue that should be in every family, as it describes and gives the price of every article required for household use. A sample of the extraordinary values offered by this firm is shown in the illustration of the combination bookcase in another column of this paper for $13.95. This is one of the best bookcases ever offered to the public, and yet it is but a sample of the thousand and one useful articles illustrated and described in the beautiful catalogue of the John M. Smyth Company.

A Natural Inference.

Cholly—Me fwiend Softleigh is—aw—vewy sewiously ill, doncher know.

Miss Ethel—What seems to be the trouble?

Cholly—The—aw—doctah says he has concussion of the bwain.

Miss Ethel—Indeed! I suppose he must have accidentally bumped his head against a cobweb.

Deafness Can't Be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Interesting.

"Life must be very monotonous for you," said the sympathetic friend.

"Not at all," answered the Chinese Emperor. "I find a great deal of excitement getting up early in the morning to see whether or not I was assassinated the night before."—Washington Star.

What Do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink, called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing, and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee, but costs about ¼ as much. All grocers sell it. 15c and 25c.

Too Much! Too Much!

"Are they smooth Boers—the fellows who are fighting in South Africa?"

"Yes. But the British war news says many of the are being rifled."—Philadelphia North American.

Lane's Family Medicine

Moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Acts gently on the liver and kidneys. Cures sick headache. Price 25 and 50c.

Stay near a coward if you would be sure of safety.

Piso's Cure for Consumption has saved me large doctor bills.—C. L. Baker, 4228 Regent Sq., Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 8, '95.

Mr. R. Williams, of Fosterville, Ark., writes, on Sept. 26th: My mother, who had been afflicted with Neuralgia and Rheumatism for eight years, being so bad in her arm that it was partially paralyzed, I learned of your "5 DROPS" and purchased a sample bottle. Seeing that it helped her so much, I ordered a dollar bottle, and after taking one-half of the large bottle her arm was all right, and I consider her entirely cured. "5 DROPS" is the most powerful specific known, free from opiates and perfectly harmless. It is a positive cure for Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Backache, Asthma, Catarrh, La Grippe and kindred diseases. Dollar sized bottle, containing 300 doses, $1.

SWANSON RHEUMATIC CURE CO.
164 East Lake street, Chicago.

Fecundity of Microbes.

The fecundity of microbes is prodigious. If fifteen drops of water polluted with bacteria are allowed to fall into a cup of broth the germ population will increase in twenty-four hours to 80,000,000.

Try Grain-O! Try Grain-O!

Ask your Grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha and Java, but it is made of pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. ¼ the price of coffee. 15c and 25c per package. Sold by all grocers.

Many Italians Victims of Lightning.

The summer of 1899 will be historical in Italy for its tale of victims to lightning stroke.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box.

Newspapers in Russia.

For every million inhabitants in Russia there are only ten newspapers and journals of all sorts.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.

Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Sold in 25 and 50 cent bottles. Go at once; delays are dangerous.

Infectious Diseases in France.

France loses every year by infectious and contagious diseases 240,000 lives, or nearly double the number of lives in the Franco-Prussian war of 1870.

VITALITY low, debilitated or exhausted cured by Dr. Kline's Invigorating Tonic. FREE $1 Trial Bottle containing 1 week's treatment. Dr. Kline's Institute, 931 Arch Street, Philadelphia. Founded 1871.

Many a cook is merely wise in her own receipts.

Eagle Linen Letter Paper and Envelopes are the proper thing. Tell your printer to use this brand on your next order.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething; softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25 cents a bottle.

SYRUP OF FIGS

ACTS GENTLY ON THE KIDNEYS, LIVER AND BOWELS,

CLEANSES THE SYSTEM EFFECTUALLY,

DISPELS COLDS, HEADACHES & FEVERS

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS

OVERCOMES HABITUAL CONSTIPATION PERMANENTLY.

TO GET ITS BENEFICIAL EFFECTS

BUY THE GENUINE—MAN'F'D BY

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.

LOUISVILLE, KY. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. NEW YORK, N.Y.

Only $21.41 THIS $38 Stove for $21.41. Save the Retailers' Profit—save the Wholesalers' Profit. Take advantage of our contract purchase. Others have advanced their prices of Parlor Stoves, but our contract with the manufacturers compels them to furnish us with these, so we can sell them at a small profit at $21.41, $24.27 and $27.77. YOU would be proud of either one of these parlor stoves. The pictures give but a faint idea of their elegance. Sent C. O. D. on receipt of 25c, you to pay balance to your banker or freight agent on arrival at your depot. The greatest bargains ever offered. A Large Stove takes less fuel than a small one for heat given; bear in mind when ordering. 8¾x12¾ 112-PAGE STOVE CATALOGUE FREE.

PRICE, $22.75 BOTH OF THESE FINE HIGH CLASS EXTRA LARGE SIZE, FOR FIRST STATE SIZE OF WOOD YOU BURN IN. CLEAN YOUR LAND OF STUMPS. FREE Catalogues for a 2 cent stamp A—Furniture. B—Harness and Vehicles C—Stoves and Ranges. D—Agricultural Implements. E—Baby Carriages. F—Drugs and Patent Medicines. G—Musical Instruments. H—Organs and Sewing Machines. I—Bicycles. J—Guns and Sporting Goods. K—Ladies' and Gents' Furnishing Goods. L—Dry Goods. M—Ready-made Clothing for Men and Boys. N—Boots and Shoes. O—Ladies' Capes and Cloaks. Send 15 cts and our Large Supply Catalogue containing over 1000 pages and over one hundred thousand articles and prices will be sent express paid,

T. M. ROBERTS' SUPPLY HOUSE, MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

JOHN M. SMYTH CO.

MAMMOTH MAIL ORDER HOUSE — U.S. MAIL — 150 TO 166 WEST MADISON ST. CHICAGO

This Beautiful Combination Bookcase $13.95

No other house in America buys, sells and manufactures the quantity of Furniture we do, hence our extremely low prices. This particular offering is out of the ordinary, even for us, and should be promptly taken advantage of.

This elegant Combination Bookcase is a highly useful as well as ornamental piece of furniture. It is made of the fashionable golden oak or selected birch finished mahogany. The French beveled plate mirror is 12x12 inches. Between the writing desk and roomy lower cabinet is a swelled front drawer with heavy cast brass handles. The total height of the case is 70 inches and the width 44 inches. The glass door is of extra thickness and the four shelves are adjustable. $35 is what you might expect to pay for such a piece of furniture, instead of which. Our price is only $13.95

THE MAMMOTH CATALOGUE which is listed at lowest wholesale prices everything to eat, wear and use, is furnished on receipt of only 10¢ to partly pay postage or expressage and as evidence of good faith the 10¢ is allowed on first purchase amounting to $1.00 or above. OUR MONTHLY GROCERY PRICE LIST FREE.

WABASH

HOME SEEKERS' EXCURSIONS

To Western Points.

December 19, 1899.

On the above dates the WABASH will sell from its principal stations East of Chicago and Toledo, Ill., LOW RATE HOME SEEKERS' EXCURSION Tickets to points West, South, and Southwest, granting a liberal return limit. A postal card addressed to any Wabash Ticket Agent, or to either of the following Passenger Representatives, will bring you prompt and explicit information regarding rates, routes, time of trains, through car service, condition of tickets, etc., etc.

REMEMBER

The WABASH is the only line east of Chicago and St. Louis giving its patrons seats without extra charge, in ELEGANT RECLINING CHAIR CARS running through to St. Louis and Kansas City without change.

This is your chance to go West cheap. Communicate with us.

P. E. DONAGHUE, P. & T. A., Toledo, Ohio.
R. G. THOMPSON, P. & T. A., Fort Wayne, Ind.
A. F. WOLFSCHLAGER, P. & T. A. Detroit, Mich.
THO'S FOLLEN, P. & T. A., Lafayette, Ind.
GEO. D. MAXFIELD, D. P. A., Indianapolis, Ind.
C. S. CRANE, G. P. & T. A., St. Louis, Mo.

CARTER'S INK Has a good, deep color and does not strain the eyes.

PENSIONS Get Your Pension DOUBLE QUICK! Write Geo. O'FARRELL, Pension Agent, Washington, D.C.

SORE EYES? Dr. ISAAC THOMPSON'S EYE WATER

When Writing to Advertisers, please say you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine.

Rotary Motion and Ball Bearings.

Porter Depew, Agent.

IDEAL MUSIC,

"Sweet as the angel Israfil's,
When every leaf on Eden's tree
Was trembling to his minstrelsy."

can be produced from an EBERSOLE PIANO. The Ebersole possesses a tone that no other maker has been able to imitate—being full and deep, yet with that clear singing quality which stamps it the peer of all upright pianos for homes of culture and refinement.

Frank B. Long,

119 Calhoun-St. cor Washington, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Mott's Nerverine Pills

BEFORE AND AFTER USING.

The great remedy for nervous prostration and all nervous diseases of the generative organs of either sex, such as Nervous Prostration, Failing or lost Manhood, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Youthful Errors, Mental Worry, excessive use of Tobacco or Opium, which lead to Consumption and Insanity. $1.00 per box by mail; 6 boxes for $5.00.

MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Prop's, Cleveland, Ohio.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY Notice in "Inventive Age" Book "How to obtain Patents" FREE

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address, E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

MOTT'S · PENNYROYAL PILLS

They overcome Weakness, Irregularity and obstacles, increase vigor and banish "pains of menstruation." They are "Life Savers" to girls at womanhood, aiding development of organs and body. No known remedy for women equals them. Cannot do harm—life becomes a pleasure. $1 per box by mail. Sold by druggists. MOTT CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, O.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue a certified copy of a decree to me directed from the clerk of the DeKalb Circuit Court, in a cause wherein the state of Indiana ex rel Frank P. Seiler, Auditor of DeKalb county, Indiana, is plaintiff. and Jerry Andrews, Mary Andrews, Jacob W. Stout, Matilda Stout, Ed Haggerty, Mettie Haggerty and William Liberenz are defendants, requiring me to make the sum of seventeen hundred thirty-two dollars [$1732] with interest on said decree and costs, I will expose at public sale to the highest bidder, on between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. of said day, at the door of the court house of DeKalb county, Indiana, the rents and profits for a term not exceeding seven years of the following described real estate, to-wit;

Saturday, December 23, 1899,

Commencing at the northeast corner of the west half of the northeast quarter of section eighteen ...18.. in township thirty-three..33.. north of range fifteen ..15..east, and running due west one hundred four and one-half. 104½.. rods; thence south one hundred twenty-seven and one-third..127⅓.. rods; thence east one hundred four and one-half..104½..rods; thence north north one hundred twenty-seven and one-third..127⅓..rods to place of beginning, in DeKalb county, Inniana.

If such rents and profits will not sell for a sufficient sum to satisfy said decree, interest and costs, I will at the same time and place expose to public sale the fee simple of said real estate or so much thereof as may be sufficient to discharge said decree, interest and costs.

JOHN H. HATHAWAY,
Sheriff of DeKalb County, Indiana.
D. M. Link, Attorney for Plaintiff
Auburn, Indiana, November 23, 1899.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given that I, Isaac Hague, administrator of the estate of Amos Rakestraw, deceased, will offer at private sale to the highest bidder, on

Thursday, December 28, 1899,

at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, the following described real estate, belonging to the estate of said decedent, to-wit:

The south one-half (½) of the southest quarter (¼) of section twenty-three, (23) township thirty-four (34) narth of range twelve (12) east in the county of DeKalb and state of Indiana.

Sealed bids will be received by me at the McClellan Bank until 11 o'clock of said day.

TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, one-third in twelve months, and one-third in eighteen months from date of sale; deferred payments to be evidenced by the purchaser's notes drawing six per cent. interest, waiving relief from valuation and appraisement laws and to be secured by a mortgage on the premises sold.

ISAAC HAGUE, Administrator.
D. D. Moody, Att'y for Estate.

Notice to Creditors.

The First National Bank, located at Auburn, in the State of Indiana, is closing up its affairs. All note holders and others, creditors of said association, are therefore hereby notified to present the notes and other claims against the association for payment,

CHARLES McCLELLAN, President.
Dated October 14, 1899.

The foregoing association has been at once reorganized and will continue the business of banking as "The McClellan Bank," under same management.

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE OF INDIANA, } ss.
DeKALB COUNTY,

In the DeKalb Circuit Court, December Term, 1899:

Alanson Sumner and Stephen Clark and unknown heirs of the said Alanson Sumner and Stephen Clark are hereby notified that an action has been commenced according to law against them in said court, to quiet title and cancel mortgage on real estate, by Peter Coyle et. al., and that the same will be heard and determined on the 8th day of January, 1900, being the 19th juridical day of the December term of said court, which commences December 18, 1899.

Witness, the Clerk of said court, this 11th day of November, 1899.

MICHAEL F. LONG, Clerk.
Moody & Rickel, Att'ys for Plaintiffs.

Notice to Non-Residents.

STATE OF INDIANA, } ss.
DeKALB COUNTY,

In the DeKalb Circuit Court, December Term, 1899.

Sallie Skinner, unknown heirs of Sallie Skinner, Beriah Skinner, unknown heirs of Beriah Skinner, Jane Aldrich and Frederick Aldrich, Lydia Wright and David Wright are hereby notified that an action has been commenced against them in said court, to quiet title to real estate, by Oliver P. Learned, and that the same will be heard and determined on the 15th day of January, 1900, the same being the 25th juridical day of the next term of said court, which begins December 18, 1899.

Witness, the Clerk of said Court this 21st day of November, 1899.

MICHAEL F. LONG, Clerk.
Brown & West, Att's for Plaintiff.

Wednesday's Daily.

—Ira Goeishius put his name on our 1900 roll of honor today.

—Russell Brandon is able to walk out with the aid of two crutches.

—Frank Traster now at Swanton Ohio, is coming back to Auburn to make it his home.

—Henry Meggionis of Newville was here today and checked the COURIER up into 1900.

—Fred Sodtman reports that his wife is improving now. Fred went onto our 1900 list today.

—A. M. St. Clair has now advanced his subscription up to 1901, the first of the new century.

—Mrs. Philip Weller from west of Garrett and her sister, Mrs. Jonathan Bishop, from Kansas were visiting their niece, Mrs. Samuel Culver, yesterday.

—Culbertson & Boland have on exhibition in front of their store a monster steel trap which some of our poultry owners ought to secure and set for chicken thieves.

—Mrs. Clara McClellan, Miss Maud Link and E M. Bishop leave on the Lake Shore morning train tomorrow for Richmond to attend the state Christian Endeavor convention as representatives of the Lutheran society.

BALDWIN, GA., Sept. 14, 1899.
Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm cured my wife of dropsy after four physicians had given her up to die.
J. F. McINTIRE.
For sale by Davenport the Druggist.

—Rev. W. L. Meese went to Chicago this afternoon and will spend some time there with the family of his daughter, Mrs. Ira T. Eaton at 140, 42nd Place. The COURIER and many others hope he will have a pleasant Thanksgiving visit.

—The Studebaker company shipped 300 wagons to South Africa last Monday for use by the British army in the war with the Boers. They are built much like the ordinary American army wagon and will have a capacity of about 6,500 pounds each.

—Makes the blood pure, renovates the entire system, gives new life and strength,—Beggs' Blood Purifier. "It cured me of a long-standing and chronic case of fistula."—R. A. Bently, Summit, Fla. Endorsed by physicians. Guaranteed not to fail. Try it.—Sold by H. B. McCORD.

—The old teachers never go back on the COURIER. In proof of this we received a fine Thanksgiving turkey today, the timely gift of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Winslow. The editor will try and get even with them if takes a year or two. In the meantime we are thankful, not alone for the gift, but for the evidence of old-time friendship.

—The sneak thief who frequents the football dressing room at the school building made the fourth raid last evening while the boys were at practice and got about $5 out of their pockets, besides a few trinkets. The members of the team undressed in one of the furnace rooms. In all about $10 has been taken this fall in this way.

—An old maid stood on the steamboat deck, whence all but her had fled; and calmly faced the kissing bug that circled overhead. The maidens shrieked and the matrons swooned, and the men all swore amain, but the game old maid like a hero stayed and whispered "come again." There was a buzz—a thunder sound. The old maid—was she dead? Nay, still she stood and cried for more, but the kissing bug had fled.

—The Modern Woodmen of this city adopted a class of three into the mysteteries of woodcraft last evening. This makes seven added during November. This order is not alone growing here, but has jumped with rapid strides until it is now by far the largest society of the kind in the country, having a membership of 450,000 and gaining at the rate of 10,000 per month. The society starts the month of December with no assessment for that month and a million dollars on hand.

The transport Manauenz, with a part of the 31st infantry on board, had a perilous voyage of 33 days from San-Francisco to Manila. The ship was a poor affair and soon began to leak but not seriously till after passing Honolulu. There, many of the regular crew deserted, fearing the ship was unsafe. Soldiers had to take their places, and the leaks became dangerous. For twelve days the men worked day and night passing buckets of water to keep from sinking. It was a dangerous and terrible experience. The captain declares the ship would have been lost, but for the fact that the green hands did not know their danger. It was a vessel under the English flag, but Senator Perkins of California, is part owner. The owners are greatly blamed for letting such a weak ship go to sea.

A Monster Devil Fish.

Deseroying its victim, is a type of Constipation. The power of this murderous malady is felt on organs and nerve and muscles and brain. There's no health till it's overcome. But Dr. King's New Life Pills are a safe and certain cure. Best in the world for Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowels. Only 25c at McCord's Drug Store.

Arbuckles' Coffee

Is the Standard of Coffee Excellence by which all Coffee Quality is Compared.

No. 51 Dining Room Table Cloth.

Table Cloth, white with red bars. Size 50 x 68 inches. Sent postpaid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 50 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 53. A Dress Pattern.

When ordering, be sure to state the color desired. No samples will be given out.

15 yards Printed Organdie, 28 inches wide, 5 colors to select from, Pink, Blue, Black, Pearl and Nile Green. Sent postpaid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 100 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 56 Six Handkerchiefs.

Six Ladies' Pocket Handkerchiefs, hemstitched, colored borders, size 12 x 12 inches. Sent postpaid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 20 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 55 Four Handkerchiefs.

Four Gentleman's Handkerchiefs, hemstitched, colored borders, size 13½ x 13½ inches. Sent postpaid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 20 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 52. Lady's Apron.

Fine quality white lawn, wide strings and fancy lace insertion. Size 32 x 40 inches. Sent postpaid on receipt of two cent postage stamp and 25 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 54. A Pair of Window Curtains.

Each Curtain a yard wide two and three-quarter yards long. Sent postpaid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 65 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 58. A Pair of Shears.

Of the best American make, 8 inches long. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 15 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 59. Razor made by J. R. Torrey.

The J. R. Torrey Razor is known as the best made in the United States. The printed guarantee of the manufacturer goes with each razor. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 28 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 57. A Pair of Scissors.

Made by the best American manufacturers and well finished, 5½ inches long. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 15 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 60. Lady's Belt.

Latest style, grain leather tan color 1½ in. wide, nickel plated buckle. Belts are following sizes only, give size in inches when ordering, from 22 to 28 in.; from 27 to 32 in.; from 32 to 36 in. Sent postpaid on receipt of a 2 cent postage stamp and 20 signatures cut from the wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 61. Man's Belt.

Grain leather, tan color, nickel-plated buckle and rings. When ordering give size of waist in inches. Belts run from 34 to 42 inches in length. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 20 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 62. A Carving Knife and Fork.

A first-class set, mounted with genuine buck-horn handles. Knife blade 8 inches long. Sent by express, charges prepaid, on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 90 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee. When ordering name your nearest Express Office as well as your Post Office.

No. 63. A Butcher's Knife.

Six inch blade, hard wood handle, good materials and well finished. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 20 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 64. A Kitchen Knife.

Will cut bread, slice ham and saw the bone. Serviceable, and should be in every kitchen. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 14 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 65 A Lady's Pen Knife.

Has two finely finished blades. Handle beautifully variegated in imitation of onyx. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 30 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 67. Picture Frame.

Cabinet size, brass, silverplated. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 12 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 66. A Gentleman's Pocket Knife.

Two-bladed knife made of best materials and finished in workmanlike manner. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 40 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 69. A Gentleman's Watch.

The "New Haven" is a watch of the ordinary size. Stem wind and stem set, dust proof, nickel-plated case, solid back. Quick best movement, highly polished steel pinions. Modeled after a standard watch, reliable time-keeper. The printed guarantee of the maker accompanies each watch. Sent post-paid on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 90 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee.

No. 71. Enameled Alarm Clock.

Highest standard of Alarm Clock. Seamless frame, ornamental hands, French pattern and second hand. Will run thirty hours with one winding. Sent by express, charges prepaid, on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 80 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee. When ordering name your nearest Express Office and your Post Office as well.

No. 68. An X-L Revolver.

Highest grade material and workmanship, 32 calibre, centre-fire double action. Sent by express, charges prepaid by us, on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 150 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee. When ordering name your nearest Express Office as well as your Post Office.

No. 70 A Porcelain Clock.

Imported porcelain frame, beautifully decorated. Movement made by New Haven Clock Co., guaranteed by them a good time-keeper, 8 inches high, same width. Sent by express, charges prepaid by us, on receipt of 2 cent postage stamp and 115 signatures cut from wrappers of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee. When ordering name your nearest Express Office as well as your Post Office.

This is a picture of the signature on Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee Wrapper, which you are to cut out and send to us as a voucher.

No other part of the Coffee Wrapper will be accepted as a voucher, nor will this Picture be accepted as such.

Arbuckle Bros.

SOME OF OUR SIGNATURES ARE PRINTED ON RED BACKGROUND.

This represents one page of a List which is found in each pound package of Arbuckles' Roasted Coffee, and with each package in which the List is found the purchaser has bought a definite part of some article to be selected by him or her from the List, subject only to the condition that the signature on the package is to be cut out and returned to Arbuckle Bros. as a voucher, in accordance with the directions printed in connection with each item illustrated and described in the List. This List will be kept good only till May 31, 1900. Another page of this List will appear in this paper shortly.

Address all communications to ARBUCKLE BROS., NOTION DEPT., NEW YORK CITY, N. Y.

Friday's Daily.

—Jerry Carmer's little daughter has been quite sick.

—Miss Fay McDonald is visiting Miss Maggie Kircher and other friends at Garrett.

—A good story bears repeating. Use Russ Bleaching Blue, don't be deceived by fraudulent imitations.

—Curt Elson and wife attended a family reunion at the home of Mr. Criswell, near Newville yesterday.

—Uncle Johny Wyatt as he is familiery known took Thanksgiving dinner with his daughter, Mrs. Phenia Kail.

—Mrs. Ford and little Walter went to Hicksville yesterday to spend the day with her father, They came home today.

—Miss Emma Gfeller and Miss Zella Colegrove came over from Waterloo yesterday to spend thanksgiving with their aunt, Mary McEntarfer.

—Will Miller, the barber, is being cared for at the jail, as he has some sort of tremens. He is improving now. His case is a sad one, and should be a warning to other young men.

—The Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette the Wabash chief train dispatcher's force has been moved from Ashley to Montpelier. The force consists of the chief dispatcher, three assistant dispatchers, three operators and one clerk.

—R. H. Weamer, wife and daughter Sadie, came down from Hudson yesterday and "thanksgivinged" with the family of L. E. Gregg. We hope Bro. Weamer will forgive us for coining a new word. Of course they had a good time.

—E. A. Stephens and Albert Airgood are starting a skunk and Belgian hare farm near LaGrange. Skunks will be raised for their fur, and hares for their pelts and meat. The hind quarters of the hare will be marketed, and the remainder of the carcasses fed to the skunks.

—Mrs. E. O. Wallace and daughter Emma of Fort Wayne spent Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Steves who are relatives. The daughter is a clerk in the office of the Central Union Life Insurance office there. J. E. Ensley's two little girls, Hazel and Helen, returned to Fort Wayne with them today to visit with Mrs. Malcom Green.

—Number 3, the B.& O. fast train due at the Junction at 2:35 p. m., collided with a freight train at Hicksville Wednesday afternoon. The freight was taking the siding but failed to clear and the passenger engine struck the caboose, doing considerable damage. Engineer Frank Kircher of the passenger jumped, but in doing so received injuries that will lay him up for some time, but so far as we can learn no one else was hurt.

—Married last evening at the Central Hotel at 5 o'clock, by Rev. J. D. Brosy, Millard F. Payne of Traverse City, Mich., and Mary Jane Henderson of Spencerville, Ind. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the bride's brother, Mr. Isaac Saunders of Wayne county, Ohio, and her youngest sister, Maria Petty of Mason, Mich. They will make their home on Mrs. Payne's farm west of Spencerville, Ind. We wish them happiness and prosperity.

—Rev. Brosy's services seem to be in big demand of late in the performance of the marriage ceremony. Last Sunday, as noted in the COURIER, he joined together three couples and on Wednesday this was repeated, one of the weddings being a double one. The parties were William Miller and Clara Rakestraw, Henry Rakestraw and Clara Miers and one obligation sufficed for both couples. They are excellent young people and deserving of happiness and prosperity. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening.

A Night Of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning" writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from Pneumonia, but she begged for Dr King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and cured her of Consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung Diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at McCords drug store.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Saturday's Daily.

—Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Shoemaker of Fairfield was in town today on business.

—J. W. Squires of Kansas City, Mo., with his sister, Mrs. Burton Brown, were in town today.

—Cory Baxter returned yesterday from a visit of several days at the old homestead near Hamilton.

—Miss Pearl Cullar of Hicksville has taken the place in the laundry recently vacated by Miss Saloma Thomas.

—Willis Bishop paid up into the 1900 list Friday. He has an idea that a receipt looks better with that date on it. Correct.

—Judge S. A. Powers of Angola has resigned the presidency of the Northeastern Indiana Traction company, says the Republican.

—Mrs Hiram McEnterfer and daughter Cora, and Miss Meda Vogtman drove down from Waterloo and called on friends today.

—The Lake Shore road is 2,400 cars short of filling its orders The car famine seems to be growing worse as the season advances.

—Frank Kelley of Ashley has purchased the old Baxter farm, about four miles east of that place, the consideration being $4,000.

—Dr. M. M. Latta, for more than half a century a practicing physician at Goshen, was found dead in bed at that place Thursday evening.

—Mrs. G. D. McGown and Mrs. Orpha A. Hayden remembered the printer at this Thanksgiving season and placed their names high up into 1900.

—The Postal Telegraph-Cable company announces that it is now prepared to operate its lines to Alaska, British Columbia and Northwest territory.

—FOUND:—Near Union Chapel, a package containing two bottles of medicine, which owner can have by proving property and paying for this notice.

—Fred Krum is again in the hay trade, succeeding to the business of Jerry Carmer, who is now employed as a buyer by a large hay firm of Boston.

—Mrs. Louthain and Mrs. Mollie McClellan, who were guests of Dr. Matheny and family over Thanksgiving returned to Fort Wayne yesterday afternoon.

—The Hudson Banner says considerable petty thieving has been going on in that vicinity and that there is strong talk of organizing a vigilance committee to look after the offenders.

—Judge Hartman did not find it necessary to call the Steuben county grand jury this term, and the petit jury will only be called for the last week. This will effect quite a saving in court expenses.

—L. J. Miller has been confined to his home for a time, with a swelling of some kind on one of his legs. He is able to sit up but not to walk, and seems now improving. We hope to hear soon of his recovery.

—Place your confidence in a remedy that is guaranteed to cure. "I coughed constantly and my strength was all exhausted. I looked more like one dead than alive. Beggs' Cherry Cough Syrup entirely cured me."—Mrs. S. D. Hersh, Fairport Kan. For all throat and lung troubles. It has never failed. —Sold by H. B. McCORD.

—While the lineman was repairing the broken wires at the wreck yesterday morning, the top wire on the fence at the north side of the track was used as a "relay" over which to send messages. A lad standing by touched his chin against this wire and got a shock that he will not soon forget. He was badly scared, but not hurt.

—It is not often that pansy blossoms can be gathered from unprotected plants so late in the season as Dec. 2nd but it was done this morning. This autumn has been unusually fine. Mrs. Hodge who brought us some of these lovely flowers today says that on the same day, Dec. 2, twenty-nine years ago, when her home was at Pierceton, she had pansies in bloom. The fall weather there, was almost exactly the same as this year.

—Mrs. Cole the wife of a Baltimore physician, while visiting her family in Michigan City told Miss Hodge that Miss Amy Plum studied with her husband when preparing for a medical degree and frequently assists him in operations and Dr. Cole says she is the most skillful person he has ever known in administering anaesthetics. Her family resides in Baltimore and Miss May Plum is housekeeper Their friends here will be gratified to hear of their prosperity.

THE AUBURN COURIER.

Volume XXIX | Auburn, DeKalb County Indiana, Thursday, December 14, 1899. | Number 50.

Dr. Broughton
WATERLOO,

Will test your Eyes and Adjust your Glasses and GUARANTEE SATISFACTION. In Auburn at Dr. Baxter's office every Wednesday.

Sprott & Knapp,
Abstracters of Titles to Land and Lots,
AUBURN, IND.

☞Office in Gandy Block, North of Court House.

The McClellan Bank,
AUBURN, IND.
Successor To
The First National Bank,
Individual Responsibility....
$100,000

Certificates of deposits issued, drawing interest if left six months. County and Town Orders bought and sold. Money Loaned on Farms, Personal Security, or Live Stock. Notes bought.

C. A. O. McCLELLAN, ESTATE
CHARLES McCLELLAN
D. A. GARWOOD,
ISAAC HAQUE.
} C. A. BENEDICT, Cashier

BANK Farmers,
Auburn, Ind.
(Incorporated and Under State Control)
Capital Stock and Surplus
$50,000

Transacts a General Banking Business and Pays Interest on Time Deposits.
Albert Robbins, Pres. J. C. Henry, V-res.
A. C. ROBBINS, Cashier.

J.E. Graham, D.D.S.
DENTIST
Over Davenport's Drugstore, Auburn, Ind.
CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK A SPECIALTY.
All Work Guaranteed } { Gas Administered.
CENTRAL 'PHONE 513.
Will be at Waterloo each Thursday in Dr. Darby's Office.

Physicians and SURGEONS
D. J. Swarts, M. D
Vesta W. Swarts, M D
Office at Auburn Sanitary Baths, corner Main and Sixth Streets,
Professional Calls Promptly Answered.
'PHONES: Western..... No. 19
Central Union..... No. 19

DENTIST F. W. HOFFMAN,
Auburn, Ind.
Office in Gandy Building, Northeast Corner of Court Square.
WESTERN 'PHONE 103.
Crown and Bridge Work a Specialty.

C. S. SMITH,
Auburn, Ind.
Attorney-at-Law
AND NOTARY PUBLIC.
Office over Bazar Store, formerly occupied by Judge Hartman.

P. V. HOFFMAN,
LAWYER,
Auburn. Indiana.
OFFICE over Hebel's Grocery.

Dr. Z. H. Stamets,
Physician & Surgeon
Office on Main St., opposite Swineford Hotel.
Western 'Phone 104
Special attention given to techinal examinations and treatment of chronic and obscure cases, also special attention given to surgery and diseases of women. Calls answered at all hours. Office apart from residence.

I. O. BUCHTEL, HOMEOPATHIC Physician and Surgeon.
Special attention given to hronic and Obscure cases and catarrhal diseases of the nose, throat and lungs; also to diseases peculiar to women and children.
Office and residence over Madden Bros Marble Works, Auburn, Ind. Office apart from residence and private. All calls attended to promptly, day or night.

SORE LUNGS
Sore lungs, pain in the chest and painful breathing, the fore-runners of pneumonia, are quickly relieved and cured by the old reliable Dr. John W. Bull's Cough Syrup. It breaks up a cold in one night. Try it at once.
Dr. Bull's COUGH SYRUP
Will quickly heal Sore Lungs.
Doses are small and pleasant to take. Doctors recommend it. Price 25 cts. At all druggists.

Accidental Death.

Our people were greatly shocked to hear Thursday of the accidental death of Wm. Morris who lived west of town, a little this side of Charles Bugman's. In fact, it had been known to a few, the evening before. It appears that yesterday afternoon Mr. Morris had sold stock to David Yarde, and had gone from there to Garrett, and about seven in the evening had started for home. Harry Whittington and Jay Link were hitching up to come to town, when the rig went by Whittington's. They came on and overtook it near John Olinger's, and seeing the horse going slow drove by. They then saw there was, as they thought, no driver, and so waited at Rugman's, a little way ahead, for the rig to come up. The Rugman boys also waited and when the horse came up one of them took it by the bit and held it. They talked several minutes before they noticed that Morris was lying in the road wagon. He had evidently pitched forward and fell with his head between the wheel and the shafts, and the wheel had drawn his head down, and it hung there, the neck being broken. Chas. Rugman was called and he got into the wagon and supported Morris till they reached his home, about forty rods ahead, and broke the terrible news to his wife and children. Although it was pretty certain he was dead, Dr. Baxter was sent for but could do nothing. His neck was probably broken at once, as his head was first drawn down, and no one knows where that happened. He had evidently hung fast there for a mile or two, as the heavy coat of paint on the wheel had worn off on his head. It is believed he was helplessly intoxicated, but we wait for further particulars for the coroner's report. Dr. Campbell came over last night and the inquest is still going on. A report was out, that he had lost or spent his money. But it was all found on his person.

That Skunk Trust

Many of our readers will remember that John Robbins not long ago, published an article about a "skunk trust" he was supposed to be interested in. Of course it was all a joke, and intended merely to show off some of the bad points in general. He soon became famous, some taking him in earnest and others wishing to join in the ridicule of truste. The capsheaf came to hand yesterday, when a gentlemanly, well dressed, and apparently well informed stranger registered at the Swineford hailing from Cincinnati. In a short time, John Robbins, who is not yet clear from his rheumatic hands, heard a call to the door, and to his surprise a stranger entered. It was the Cincinati man, and he had come all the way up here to get pointers on the new business. He was in dead earnest, and it took all the nerve Mr. Robbins had, to get through the interview in a satisfactory manner. He first explained how he had written the original article to hit off trusts, but as to the trust itself, he was now out of it, as his health had compelled to him to give up all active business for a time Still the stranger, whose name is Geo. W. Spellmire, kept on asking questions, as he had a brother who wanted to go into the business. He himself is the clerk of board of city affairs of Cincinnati. Mr. Robbins had really read a good deal on skunks and their habits, since this matter had got started, and gave the man valuable and instructive details on how an enclosure should be built, what the animals eat, how to care for their health, etc. But John is an outsider from this on, as far as the skunt trust is concerned.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says; "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave me great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular size 50 cents and $1. Trial bottles free at H. B. McCord's Drug Store! every bottle guaranteed.

n in vivid retrospection; perspiration pped from his forehead as he realized t only for a short time could he with-nd the awful strain. And then he opped. Four inches below him he uck a heavy body, which afterward oved to be the globe.

Statues of Christ in Italy.

talian Catholics propose to celebrate e nineteenth century by erecting hteen colossal statues of Christ in nspicuous points of the peninsula.
nong the places selected are Mount rarce, the Grau Sasso d'Italia, and e toe, the heel, and the instep of "the ot." The statues are to be of gilded st iron.

FOR SALE.

A fine Jersey cow for sale, calf by her side.—A. G. LODEWICK, Auburn, Indiana. Nov.8-6t

Santa Claus!

A household word just at this time of year. Some of us wondering what he will bring to us, but more worrying over what to have him give to others. We are here to help you out. Never before in the history of our business career have we made such extensive preparations for Christmas. Every department in our store is bubbling over with choice merchandise suitable for presents—prettier, better, and a greater variety. Look over this list of attractions and see if we haven't just the thing you ought to give:

Furs	For Children, Misses and Ladies.
Umbrellas	The prettiest ever seen here
Handkerchiefs	The most beautiful patterns, 5c to $1
Mufflers	For ladies and gentlemen, latest patterns and shapes.
Wraps	For ladies, misses and children, stylish, sensible and durable.
Suits	and Overcoats for men, boys and children. The most desirable and reasonable in price You could give nothing more pleasing.
Mittens	Of all descriptions
Gloves	For young and old
Neckwear	The handsomest we've ever shown.
Shirts	For men and boys. Any style and each the best to be had for the money
Mackintoshes	Guaranteed quality for one and all
Gowns	In muslin or outing flannel. Prettily and well-made of good materials.

LACE CURTAINS, PORTIERES, RUGS, CARPET SWEEPERS, and a thousand and one other things usually found in a general store. See us often.

We are Saving You Money.

SCHAAB & BRO.

Eclipse of the Moon.

[Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette]

There will be an eclipse of the moon this month, on the 16th, visible in all, or a large part of its duration, throughout the continents of the world. It will be strictly speaking, a partial eclipse, though barely one edge will be left outside of the total shadow of the earth at the middle of the eclipse. The moon will rise a few minutes before the sun sets and will enter the earth's shadow at 5:45. The middle of the eclipse will be reached at 7:26 and the moon will leave the shadow at 9:07. This eclipse is so nearly total that it may be utilized largely as such for purposes of observation.

For all Stages of Colds, Use "77"

First stage, easy to "break up"—feeling or lassitude, chilliness, yet flushed face and heat in head, lameness and soreness in limbs and bones.

Second stage, cure takes longer—headachy, thirsty, yet water don't taste right; fullness over eyes and nose; easy flowing discharge from nose; dryness, scrapy raw feeling in throat.

Third stage, is the full development of the disease and requires persistent treatment, but always yields to "77"—it may be la grippe, or a stubborn cold, influenza, or catarrh; sore throat or diphtheria; bronchitis or pneumonia. Manuals of all diseases sent free. For sale by all druggists, or sent on receipt of price, 25c, or five for $1.00. Humphreys' Homeo Medicine Co., Cor. William & John Sts., New York.

The C. & N.-W. Ry.

The Chicago & Northwestern Ry. has built a good many miles of new road during the past year, being mostly branches from the main lines to enable them to reach business. The C. & N.-W. proper has built in this way over 250 miles. The Chicago and St. Paul, which they control, has 48 miles of new road, making a total for the system of nearly 300 miles built this year.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the most severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup.,' It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. many years by all druggists in the world. Sample bottles at O. P. RABER'S, Corunna.

Every Month

there are thousands of women who nearly suffer death from irregular menses. Sometimes the "period" comes too often — sometimes not often enough—sometimes the flow is too scant, and again it is too profuse. Each symptom shows that Nature needs help, and that there is trouble in the organs concerned. Be careful when in any of the above conditions. Don't take any and every nostrum advertised to cure female troubles.

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR

is the one safe and sure medicine for irregular or painful menstruation. It cures all the ailments that are caused by irregularity, such as leucorrhœa, falling of the womb, nervousness; pains in the head, back, breasts, shoulders, sides, hips and limbs. By regulating the menses so that they occur every twenty-eighth day, all those aches disappear together. Just before your time comes, get a bottle and see how much good it will do you. Druggists sell it at $1.

Send for our free book, "Perfect Health for Women."
THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.
ATLANTA, GA.

From Santiago de Cuba.

The following extracts taken from a letter from James Rosenbury to Capt. Lahnum will doubtless be of interest to many of our readers:

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Nov. 8, '99.

FRIEND LAHNUM:—Here I am again and you will doubtless wonder at my returning to this reputed sickly country especially at the beginning of the rainy season. However, my action is only an additional freak of an impulsive nature, which as you know is liable to do anything. Uncle Sam needed more men in his clerical and quartermaster's departments to relieve the homesick ones, and it was only when I heard the stirring strains of the "Star Spangled Banner," the harmonies of which were hard to resist, (especially to one who has smelled powder) that I gave in and re-enlisted.

We left New York on the United States transport, Burford, on the afternoon of April 26. The weather at first was very rough, but the last few days it was very pleasant. On the evening of the fifth day we touched at San Juan, Porto Rico, 1,200 miles from New York, where we remained two days. A more beautiful place than this island I never saw. Tropical verdure abounded everywhere. San Juan is a city of about 35,000 people. The streets are well payed and remarkably clean, and lighted with electricity. Spanish is of course the prevailing tongue. The ox is the principal beast of burden and looks very odd considering the other up-to-date features of the place. When they are broken to work the yoke is never taken off until one dies. This seems very cruel to the average American.

The inhabitants are very dusky in color, in fact look very "niggerish;" however, to use a familiar expression, "All coons look alike to me." The women of the higher classes, generally speaking are very beautiful and fine formed. They dress very tastefully, but powder profusely and smoke cigarettes. Porto Rico, with its geographical location, fine climate, the intelligence, morality and culture of its people, and their sympathies with the United States, is destined to become one of the brightest stars of the Union. The finest coffee is produced in the mountains, which crossing the island in every direction, makes it a veritable Switzerland. Sugar cane grows on its well watered plains; the tobacco equals that of Cuba, and all kinds of tropical fruits, bananas, oranges, figs, lemons, etc., are here in abundance.

We arrived at Santiago de Cuba on the morning of May 6. It is very interesting to visit the quaint, historical city and its various approaches by land and sea, the former of which I have not been able to yet view. The memorable battle ground of San Juan hill where many brave American soldiers' lives were sacrificed lies just in sight, and we can see where Spain's proud fleet was annihilated, and where Uncle Sam's battleship Indiana and other vessels chased and beached the Vizcaya and her sister ships. The battered hulls of some of the latter still remain visible in the bay, a testimonial of the remembrance of the Maine.

Next we pass historical Morro Castle over whose parapets "Old Glory" now waves. The massive walls and monster guns guard the boy and city as a grim and silent sentinel watches before a sleeping camp. It was here that Lieut. Hobson and his men were confined after sinking the Merrimac, the wreck of which still remains a little farther in the bay. The past hideousness of this castle as a prison of unusual atrocity and torture has been doomed and almost forgotten in the light of intelligence and freedom. The weather here during the daytime is intensely hot, but the evenings are delightfully pleasant and cool; a heavy dew, amounting almost to a shower, falls during the latter part of the night. This, I presume, accounts for the luxuriance of the flowers and herbage. Santiago is now reputed to be one of the cleanest and healthiest cities of our new possessions, thanks to American energy and intelligence. For two centuries it had the reputation of being one of the most unclean cities on earth; in the language of an old sea captain "it could be smelled for ten miles at sea." When Gen. Wood, the first United States military governor, assumed charge of the city last July its streets and courts and houses had come to the last degree of filth, and of the forty odd thousand inhabitants no small number were sick and starving. Bodies of the dead lay in the streets, and as Gen. Wood rode about the streets making his first inspection, vultures flew up before him from feasting on human carcasses. There was no food to speak of, and the first meal eaten by the general himat the Cafe Venus in the Plaza de Armas (place of arms) cost him fourteen dollars in gold, and the meat served was horse meat. Gaunt men and women stretched lean arms from the window and begged weakly for food. Some died as they begged and remained where they fell. Meat had gone up to 90 cents per pound and was scarce at that. Bread sold at equally fabulous prices.

However, in forty-eight hours after the establishment of a new government actual famine was brought to a close. Food depots were established at various places, and as many rations as could be obtained were issued with a free though careful hand. In the light of these facts it is gratifying to note the wonderful change in health, peace and plentitude. The provincial jail, a foul spot in every city under Spanish rule, was next investigated. Here he found poor, wretched prisoners who had been closely confined for years without trial. In many cases there was even no charge of an offense or record against them, and all the jailer could say when asked why they were held was, "at the will of the governor-general." One man had spent ten years of his life in prison at the will of an officer who had not only forgotten his existence, but had left the country. There was soon a general cleaning out and orders were issued that no person should be detained longer than forty-eight hours without either a trial or an investigation.

I shall visit San Juan hill soon and will write of it later. I intend to go to the theater tonight and to a Spanish fandango afterwards which place I expect to capture a beautiful senorita, all of which I will tell you about in my next letter I received the money due me all right and thank you very much for the same. With kindest regards to yourself and the members of Company K, I will close.—JAMES S ROSENBURY, Co. A. Sixth U. S. Infantry, Santiago, Cuba.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE
Makes the food more delicious and wholesome
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

No Right To Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, skin eruptions and wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate the stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming, woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at H. B. McCord's Drug Store.

A New Candidate.

Alf Purdue, of Salem township, Delaware county, who has been self-announced candidate for govenor for some time has opened out on Col. Durbin. He said: "I heered up the road that Durby had cum out after tellin' me and Bill Kittinger in his office that he's fur me. Now what does Durby mean? Durby can't buy me off, and the people have said I'm the man."

Is Baby Too Thin?

If so, there must be some trouble with its food. Well babies are plump; only the sick are thin. Are you sure the food is all right? Children can't help but grow; they must grow if their food nourishes them. Perhaps a mistake was made in the past and as a result the digestion is weakened. If that is so, don't give the baby a lot of medicine; just use your every-day common sense and help nature a little, and the way to do it is to add half a teaspoonful of to the baby's food three or four times a day. The gain will begin the very first day you give it. It seems to correct the digestion and gets the baby started right again. If the baby is nursing but does not thrive, then the mother should take the emulsion. It will have a good effect both upon the mother and child. Twenty-five years proves this fact.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

Our Saturday Evenings.

CHAPTER VI.

(Continued from Dec. 2.)

The chief object of these two chapters, was to talk of Carey Evans, as may well be seen. Many of our people will remember him not only as a prominent citizen of Fort Wayne, but more particularly for the active part he took in promoting and building Auburn's first railroad, "The Fort Wayne, Jackson and Saginaw Railroad," later known as the Fort Wayne and Jackson railroad, now as the Jackson Branch of the Lake Shore. Our people also remember his leaving for California and becoming a working factor in the great Riverside enterprise that has reclaimed a desert and made it the garden spot of the world.

In our last, we left Carey Evans at Riverside. Mr. Cober says that Rudisill did not prove a success, and after several ups and downs has ceased to be a factor in the enterprise, and is practically bankrupt. But he has been a useful man in some ways, being an engineer, and the prosperity of the colony depended and still depends on the working of its great system of irrigating canals and ditches. Mr. Evans, at times, parted with some of his holdings, but has retained a good deal, his present ownership of stock being not less than $90,000, so that he has in some regards, a controlling interest. A few years ago he established a bank, but it did not seem to suit his taste or his talents, and after a time he gave it up, closed its accounts and turned his capital into other channels. He is getting old now of course, but is in fair health and about as sprightly and active as he used to be. Like all prominent business men, he has his enemies and his friends, but Mr. Cober considers him a man of ability, strict honesty, and with an abundance of admirable qualities. He is not in any active business, but his large property interests are sufficient to keep him employed, and prevent his rusting out. He often speaks of his friends out in northeastern Indiana.

What is now Riverside, was in 1861 a perfect desert. We have already spoken of its present wealth. Oranges are the chief production, although there is an abundance of other tropical fruits. To give an idea of the annual business, they expect to ship during the shipping season now beginning, not less than 5,000 car loads of oranges alone.

Riverside is the original home of the famous and justly popular Navel oranges, known originally as the "Washington Navel orange." It is claimed to be, for all purposes, the finest orange grown in the world, and it always commands a high price in the market. It gets its name "navel" from the shape of the blossom end of the fruit.

Mr. Cober is well informed on all subjects connected with southern California, and knows a good deal of the communities in that end of the state including Ontario and Los Angeles, both of which always contain some Auburn and DeKalb county people. He expects to retire soon from active business and make his home in Los Angeles.

We separated in the big station at Chicago and were soon lost to each other in the rumble and roar of the great city with its thunderous elevated roads and its perplexing maze of trolly and cable lines. But we have to thank him for a few hours pleasantly and profitably spent, and for the gratification that always follows the making of an agreeable acquaintance.

Wellington Farrington Dead

The Waterloo Press says: Wellington Farrington had a severe stroke of paralysis last Thursday, while enjoying the hospitalities of Thanksgiving at his daughter's, Mrs. Thompson, in the south part of town. He was rendered helpless, and was taken to his home on Maple street. His condition since has been critical, and while he is conscious, he suffers much pain. He is 76 years of age, rather portly, and the chances of his recovery are against him.

Today, we learn that he died last night. He had been a prominent citizen of Smithfield township from early days.

Eureka Harness Oil is the best preservative of new leather and the best renovator of old leather. It oils, softens, blacks and protects. Use
Eureka Harness Oil
on your best harness, your old harness, and your carriage top, and they will not only look better but wear longer. Sold everywhere in cans—all sizes from half pints to five gallons.
Made by STANDARD OIL CO.

Auburn Courier.

AUBURN, INDIANA.

JAMES A. BARNS, - - PUBLISHER.

1899. DECEMBER. 1899.

Su	Mo	Tu	We	Th	Fr	Sa
•	•	•	•	•	1	2
3	4	5	6	7	8	9
10	11	12	13	14	15	16
17	18	19	20	21	22	23
24	25	26	27	28	29	30
31	•	•	•	•	•	•

N. M. 2nd. F. Q. 9th. F. M. 16th. L. Q. 24th.

NEWS IN BRIEF GUSTS

BLOWN IN FROM ALL PARTS OF THE EARTH.

An Important Record of the Week As Told by the Telegraph—Latest from Foreign Shores—Crimes, Casualties, Fires, Etc.

Will Honor Both.

A special to the New York Herald from Washington says: President McKinley, during an interview with Senator Wellington, expressed himself in favor of reviving the grade of Vice Admiral in the interest of both Rear Admiral Sampson and Rear Admiral Schley. He believes that this is the simplest solution of the whole Sampson-Schley question, and it is expected that Senator Wellington will introduce a bill in a few days providing for the appointment of two Vice Admirals without specifying names. The President very frankly said that if such a bill became a law he would promply nominate both Sampson and Schley, in the order named. This arrangement, both the President and Senator Wellington believe, will meet the approval of a majority of the friends of both officers.

Lives Lost in a Factory Fire.

Two bodies have been recovered from and three are yet believed to be in the ruins of a fire which destroyed the big hosiery establishment of Nolde & Horst at Reading, Pa. The property loss is $250,000, with $150,000 insurance.

When the fire broke out there was a panic among the 600 girls employed in the establishment. At least fifty were more or less injured in getting from the building. Some are reported in a critical condition. Many who could not get to the fire escapes jumped to the ground.

Two unrecognizable bodies have been recovered from the ruins and three girls are said to be missing from their homes. The presumption is they were burned to death.

Powder Mill Explosion.

The powder works of James S. Miller, near Sumneytown, Pa., were completely wrecked by an explosion, and three men were killed and several others injured. The dead are:

William Barr, superintendent of the works; Allen Schenck, John Schwager.

Frank Schaefer was probably fatally injured and Raymond Faust was seriously bruised.

The entire five buildings which comprised the works were demolished. The cause of the explosion is not known.

Finds Body Burned to a Crisp.

Elmer Fleming found the body of his sister-in-law, Mrs. William Fleming, burned to a crisp at her home, four miles east of Seymour, Ind. Her 1-year-old baby was also badly burned about the face and body and it will die. Mr. Fleming was at work several miles from his home and four other children were attending school. It is supposed that the woman had a fit and fell into the open grate. She was 35 years old and leaves a husband and five children.

Gen. Young Heard From.

Gen. Young's brigade is again located. According to Gen, Otis' report Gen. Young encountered the enemy near Narbacan, twelve miles south of Vigan, and drove them into the mountains. Six hundred Spanish and American prisoners escaped from the insurgents and are probably now with the American troops. One American was killed and twelve wounded. The enemy left twenty-five dead.

Woods to Go Higher.

It is reported that Gen. Woods' appointment to be Major General is preparatory to his appointment as Governor of Cuba. President McKinley is said to have decided not to divide the island, but to have Gen. Woods govern the whole. The army officers, it is said, will inaugurate a movement to prevent the confirmation of Gen. Woods' nomination in the Senate.

Gompers Is Seriously Ill.

Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, is seriously ill at his home in Washington, D. C., as the result of a fall from his bicycle. After the accident Mr. Gompers was removed to his home, and it was thought his injuries were of a trivial character. It is now feared he was hurt internally.

Colored Rapist Hanged.

Samuel Johnson, colored, aged 22, was hanged in the jail yard at Hagerstown, Md. The drop fell at 1:23 p. m. and Johnson was pronounced dead eleven minutes later. His neck was not broken and he died of strangulation.

Lake Vessel and Crew Lost.

A dispatch from Port Colborne, Ont., says: It is believed here that the Canadian steamer Niagara has foundered on Lake Erie and that all hands were lost. The crew probably comprised sixteen persons.

Masonic Temple, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Dec. 15—Hoyt's "A Texas Steer."

Week Dec. 18—Peruchi-Beldini Company, repertoire.

Not Allowed to Interfere.

London special: It is reported from Cape Town that the Transvaal Government still refuses to acknowledge the right of the United States to interfere regarding prisoners in Pretoria, insisting that Great Britain must inquire through Commandant General Joubert.

Kimberley Well Provisioned.

A dispatch from Modder River says: A searchlight message from Col. Kekewich, at Kimberley, says the town is provisioned for forty days, with forage for thirty days, and has a plentiful water supply.

Sign Parcels Post Treaty.

President McKinley, Postmaster General Smith and Laga Arriaga, the Guatemalan minister, have signed a parcels post treaty between the United States and Guatemala, to take effect Jan. 1. It is similar to the other treaties now in force.

Important Find in the Heavens.

The European Union of Astronomers announces, through Harvard College observatory, the discovery of a minor planet by Charlois. The name is tenth magnitude by Charlois. The [illegible] believed to be has a motion of minus 14 minutes [illegible] I am not worth [illegible] cension and 4 minutes north in [illegible] Ten years ago I lost m[illegible] fortune by the failure of [illegible] which I had speculated in[illegible]

TWO CONVICTS IN A BATTLE.

Desperate Man Seriously Stabs His Fellow Prisoner in Ohio.

There was a terrific battle in the "demon's" cage at the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus, in which Frank O'Neil, the Cleveland prisoner who killed Guard Lauderbaugh a year ago, was nearly stabbed to death by Otis Hurley of Dayton. Both of the men have been confined to the cage because of their murderous dispositions and have quarreled constantly since they have been together. Hurley had fashioned a dagger out of a heavy piece of wire and attacked O'Neil while the latter was asleep. Hurley had inflicted a half dozen wounds with the weapon when it stuck in the bone of O'Neil's shoulder and broke at the hilt. Hurley claims that O'Neil had threatened to kill him and that the stabbing was done in self-defense. Hurley was "paddled" and put through the "ducking tub" and his good time canceled. He was far from being penitent, however, and threatens to renew the assault at the first opportunity.

WAS PRISONER FOR TWO WEEKS.

St. Louis Woman Tells a Remarkable Story About Being Abducted.

Mrs. Belle Harrison, the handsome young widow who disappeared from her home in St. Louis several days ago, was found on a suburban street car in a faint condition from the effects of chloroform which she says had been administered to her continuously during her absence. She tells a remarkable story. While walking down the street she says she was stopped by a man and woman in a carriage, taken in, covered with a blanket and chloroformed. She was driven several miles into the country and placed in a dungeon in a house which she had never seen before. She was kept in constant captivity until a certain day, when she was released after signing some paper which, she declares, her captors forced her to do before giving her her liberty. She does not know what was in the paper, but from the threats made by her captors, it was a promise not to tell what had happened to her.

PRAIRIE SAILS FOR HAVRE.

Auxiliary Cruiser Carries Shipment of Exhibits for Paris Exhibition.

The United States auxiliary cruiser Prairie has sailed from the Brooklyn navy yard for Havre, France, with the first shipment of the United States Government exhibit for the Paris exposition. The vessel will proceed to Norfolk, Va., and to Baltimore, where she will take aboard additions to her cargo, and will then go direct to Havre. The cargo which the Prairie has taken on at New York consists principally of about a dozen car loads of structural iron for the United States machinery building at the exposition. Materials for the installation of the educational, social and economical exhibits and a number of cases of photographs, charts, maps, etc., for the educational exhibit are also on board.

TRAGEDY IN A NEBRASKA TOWN.

Mrs. F. L. Densmore, Formerly of Chicago, and Fred Laue Are Dead.

A mysterious double murder or murder and suicide, it is not known definitely which, occurred at Odessa, Neb. Mrs. F. L. Densmore is dead, as is also Fred Laue. Densmore went to a neighbor's and told him that Laue had killed Mrs. Densmore and then committed suicide. The Densmore and Laue families lived in a double house. Mrs. Densmore's death was evidently due to poison and Laue's to a bullet which passed through his head. Densmore and his wife had only been married a few months.

Ends Life with a Revolver.

Charles Z. Dressel, United States deputy revenue collector, committed suicide in the office of Dr. Lapoint at Lesueur, Minn. He had become involved in his accounts with the Government and had been telling his trouble to Lapoint, and when the latter stepped out across the street on business Dressel went into his private room and fired the fatal shot. The bullet entered the mouth and death was instantaneous.

Train Goes 150 Miles an Hour.

A speed of 150 miles an hour was attained by a runaway train that got beyond control of the brakes on the Bruce division of the Canadian Pacific Railroad near Toronto. The train came down the mountainside at a terrific rate. It kept to the rails and only came to a standstill when it ran up an opposite grade. James Maloney, the engineer, says the highest speed made was 150 miles an hour.

Three Killed in a Wreck.

A wreck on the Neihart branch of the Great Northern resulted in the death of three men and the destruction of an engine and ten cars. A heavy coal train from Belt, drawn by a Mogul engine, was about a mile from Great Falls, Mont., when the engine struck a steer, left the track and ten cars were piled on top of it.

Made a Murderer by Drink.

Robert Barnwell, a respectable young man of Louisville, Ky., attacked Fred Carruth in the street while crazed by drink and beat him so severely that Carruth died of his injuries. When Barnwell was seen in his cell he declared that he had no knowledge whatever of having made an attack upon, or of having had any difficulty with, Carruth.

Will Contest Is Abandoned.

The contest of the will of ex-Judge Henry Hilton of New York instituted by his son, Henry G. Hilton, who was cut off with the interest of $25,000, which he was to share with his wife, has been abandoned. Mr. Hilton's attorneys have effected a settlement on his behalf with the other heirs.

Hat-Making Combine Certain.

The proposed combination of the hat manufacturers throughout the country, which has been under consideration for some time, is likely to become a reality. It is claimed that $15,000,000 of capital is ready to buy every available hat-making plant.

Finds Husband Killed Her.

At Jacksonville, Fla., the coroner's jury found that Mrs. Jessie Williams, who died on Thanksgiving night, came to her death from a blow in the abdomen given by her husband, John D. Williams. Williams is in jail charged with murder.

Wealthy Texan Is Murdered.

Louis Schinska, a wealthy resident of Dallas, Texas, was found dead in front of the county court house. His skull had been crushed and his face disfigured. He had been murdered for robbery, as his pockets were empty when found.

Earthquake in South Dakota.

An earthquake shock was plainly felt at many points in South Dakota. The seismic vibration was very perceptible, but lasted only an instant.

Crushed to Death in the Mill.

Joseph Fox was drawn into the machinery of the card department at the Bradford mills at Philadelphia and crushed to death.

Illinois Bank Robbed of $3,000.

The private bank at Poplar Grove, Ill., was entered by burglars and the safe blown open. The robbers secured $3,000 and made their escape.

Shoots His Two Brothers.

At State Line, Miss., Edmund, the 5-year-old son of Dr. W. H. Boykin, shot and instantly killed his brother Roderick, aged 11, and severely wounded his brother Tom, aged 13. The elder boys were playing with an airgun, which Edmund wanted, and when refused he declared that he would shoot them if they did not give it to him. He went into the house, got a small shotgun and put his threat into execution.

THUGS THREATEN CREMATION.

Pour Kerosene on a Woman and Thus Succeed in Robbing Her.

With her clothes saturated with kerosene from head to foot and with three masked robbers standing over her with lighted matches threatening to cremate her if she didn't obey them, Mrs. Charles Snyder gave the three thieves $110 in the kitchen of her home in Chicago. The three thieves entered the kitchen while a confederate engaged Mrs. Snyder's attention in the parlor. Hearing a noise in the kitchen Mrs. Snyder went there, and was confronted by these men, who pushed revolvers into her face and made her give them her purse, which contained $2. Not satisfied they demanded more, and poured kerosene over the woman and forced her to hand over to them the roll containing $110.

CREEK INDIANS SELECT A CHIEF.

Choose Gen. Pleasant Porter Head of the Nation at Okmulgee.

Gen. Pleasant Porter was selected at Okmulgee, I. T., as chief of the Creek Nation. There was no demonstration on the part of the full bloods, who had protested against Gen. Porter. After his election, Chief Porter urged upon the Legislature the importance of having representatives at Washington who should have power to come to an agreement with Congress by which the rights of the Indians would be secured.

MOB BURNS A NEGRO.

Murderer Dick Coleman Taken from Officers and Tortured to Death.

At Maysville, Ky., Dick Coleman, the negro murderer of Mrs. Lashbrook, was taken from the officers by a mob of 1,000 men and burned at the stake. The mob, led by the husband of the negro's victim, dragged the shrieking criminal through the principal streets of the town, bound him to a small tree, set fire to brush and tow about him, and stood guard until he was dead.

Scandal Leads to Resignation.

The State insane hospital scandal at Yankton, S. D., culminated when seventeen attendants, composing the heads of nearly all the wards, handed in their resignations. The trouble grows out of charges of incompetency, drunkenness and criminal carelessness, resulting in the death of a patient, a fire in one of the wards and an assault by one asylum physician upon another.

Peculiar and Fatal Accident.

William Harherson, aged 67 years, met death in a peculiar manner at Philadelphia. While walking to his home he became benumbed with cold and fell down a railroad embankment into a small stream which was frozen over. Harherson's head went through the ice, which formed a collar about his neck and strangled him to death.

Boy Shoots a Young Girl.

At Dallas, Texas, Roy Morton, 14 years old, killed Nora St. Clair, 11 years old, by shooting her with a Winchester rifle. The tragedy took place in the store of the boy's father. The little girl playfully snapped a toy pistol at the boy. The latter seized a rifle, exclaimed "I'll fix you, you 'monk.'" and fired. The girl fell dead.

Life Lost in a Big Fire.

While fighting advancing flames in a fire in the Chicago lumber district several members of an engine company, blinded by the smoke, were swept off a shed roof by the debris from a falling wall, one fireman being killed and one injured, while two were unhurt. Harty Brothers and J. A. Gauger suffered damage reaching $60,000.

Burned to Death in His Shop.

In Philadelphia George N. Heyl, 52 years old, was burned to death in a fire which occurred in his shop, while he was sleeping. Heyl's body was found leaning against the front door. It is believed he was endeavoring to escape when he was overcome by smoke.

Mrs. Cook Fatally Hurt.

Mrs. E. J. Cook, an aunt of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., was thrown from a trap at Macon, Ga. Mrs. Cook received injuries from which she cannot recover.

Notorious Counterfeiter Captured.

A man captured at Toledo, Ohio, who had counterfeit money has been identified as old Charley Johnson, the most notorious counterfeiter and plate-engraver alive.

Blow Open Bank Safe.

Seven robbers entered the village of Cornell, Ill., and by the use of nitroglycerin blew open the safe of the Cornell Bank and secured over $5,000 in money and also many valuable papers.

Lumber Combine Is Formed.

The Kootenai-Yale lumber combine has been organized to control the lumber business of British Columbia. It is capitalized at $500,000.

Congress Is in Session.

The Fifty-sixth Congress of the United States met and organized on Monday.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago—Cattle, common to prime, $3.00 to $7.50; hogs, shipping grades, $3.00 to $4.25; sheep, fair to choice, $3.00 to $4.50; wheat, No. 2 red, 65c to 66c; corn, No. 2, 29c to 31c; oats, No. 2, 22c to 23c; rye, No. 2, 51c to 52c; butter, choice creamery, 25c to 27c; eggs, fresh, 20c to 21c; potatoes, choice, 35c to 45c per bushel.

Indianapolis—Cattle, shipping, $3.00 to $6.50; hogs, choice light, $3.00 to $4.25; sheep, common to prime, $3.00 to $4.00; wheat, No. 2, 64c to 65c; corn, No. 2 white, 30c to 31c; oats, No. 2 white, 26c to 27c.

St. Louis—Cattle, $3.25 to $7.25; hogs, $3.00 to $4.25; sheep, $3.00 to $4.25; wheat, No. 2, 70c to 72c; corn, No. 2 yellow, 29c to 31c; oats, No. 2, 23c to 25c; rye, No. 2, 50c to 52c.

Cincinnati—Cattle, $2.50 to $6.50; hogs, $3.00 to $4.25; sheep, $2.50 to $4.00; wheat, No. 2, 69c to 71c; corn, No. 2 mixed, 31c to 33c; oats, No. 2 mixed, 26c to 28c; rye, No. 2, 60c to 62c.

Detroit—Cattle, $2.50 to $6.75; hogs, $3.00 to $4.00; sheep, $3.00 to $4.25; wheat, No. 2, 69c to 70c; corn, No. 2 yellow, 32c to 34c; oats, No. 2 white, 26c to 27c; rye, 57c to 58c.

Toledo—Wheat, No. 2 mixed, 67c to 69c; corn, No. 2 mixed, 30c to 32c; oats, No. 2 mixed, 23c to 25c; rye, No. 2, 53c to 55c; clover seed, $4.70 to $4.80.

Milwaukee—Wheat, No. 2 northern, 64c to 66c; corn, No. 3, 32c to 33c; oats, No. 2 white, 24c to 26c; rye, No. 1, 54c to 56c; barley, No. 2, 46c to 47c; pork, mess, $7.75 to $8.25.

Buffalo—Cattle, good shipping steers, $3.00 to $6.75; hogs, common to choice, $3.25 to $4.50; sheep, fair to choice, $3.00 to $4.50; lambs, common to extra, $4.50 to $5.75.

New York—Cattle, $3.25 to $6.75; hogs, $3.00 to $5.75; sheep, $3.00 to $4.75; wheat, No. 2 red, 73c to 75c; corn, No. 2, 40c to 41c; oats, No. 2 white, 30c to 32c; butter, creamery, 23c to 28c; eggs, western, 16c to 22c.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR

BRIGHAM H. ROBERTS.

Brigham H. Roberts, Representative-elect from the State of Utah, is not to sit as a member of the Fifty-sixth Congress. Final judgment on his case was indicated when the House by a vote of 302 to 30 declined to accord him permission to take the oath of office. A special committee composed of nine members was appointed to investigate the charges that caused the action. Roberts intimated that if all other resources fail he may appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States for adjudication of the legal questions involved in the proceedings to oust him. Roberts made a gallant defense in his own behalf. He refused to sue for the mercy of the House, but demanded as his right that he be permitted to occupy his seat so that the State of Utah might be represented in Congress. Originally limited to twenty minutes for the presentation of his argument, his time was extended thirty minutes longer.

Roberts made good use of his opportunity. He crowded as many ideas and facts into his speech as it would contain. The galleries were crowded to their fullest capacity while the debate was in progress and, as during the opening, the audience was largely composed of women. They were coldly hostile to the man from Utah. They listened to his eloquent argument without betraying the slightest sympathy with the deductions he drew. On the other hand, when his prosecutors scored against him, they swelled the applause with which Congressmen on both the Democratic and Republican sides of the house greeted the hits, and appeared to be resentful when Speaker Henderson warned them that they must preserve order.

Roberts, notwithstanding his bulldog determination and unflinching nerve, which were betrayed in every line of his heavy face, was not unmindful of the unsympathetic conduct. He accepted the moiety of sympathy which came from a few with eloquent gratitude, which proved the extremity of his position. When the debate was closed and the House voted down the amendments to the Taylor resolution and then proceeded to a roll call on the resolution which would deprive him of his seat pending the investigation by the special committee, Roberts picked up his books and papers and hastened to the cloakroom and thence left the building for his hotel. Not a man among the 356 Representatives held out a hand of friendship or said good-by. He passed out of the capitol practically unnoticed, except by the curious, who simply regarded him as the man whose case has been attracting national attention for six months.

CURRENCY BILL.

The Republican Measure for Regulating the Country's Finances.

The text of the currency measure elaborated by the Republican Senate Finance Committee has been made public. The bill is a gold standard bill. It affirms the existing standard without equivocation. It declares that "the dollar consisting of twenty-five and eight-tenths grains of gold nine-tenths fine shall, as established by section 3511 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, continue to be the standard unit of value, and all forms of money issued or coined by the United States shall be maintained at a parity of value with this standard."

In the next place, the Senate bill, like that of the House, provides that the greenbacks and the treasury notes of the law of 1890 "shall be redeemed in gold coin" of the standard specified. In the third place, a reserve fund of $150,000,000 is set apart for redemption purposes, and the treasury is given power to issue bonds for the maintenance of that trust fund. The House bill provides for a reserve fund equal to 25 per cent of the outstanding volume of government notes, which at present would amount to less than $109,000,000. Again, the Senate bill enlarges the privileges of the national banks by allowing them to issue notes up to the par value of bonds deposited. It provides for a reduction of the tax on circulation issued not, indeed, against all bonds, but against bonds bearing only 2 per cent interest. The House bill does away with this tax altogether, but it imposes instead a tax equal to that eliminated on the capital and surplus and undivided profits of the banks.

The House bill converts all outstanding "coin" bonds into gold obligations. The Senate committee has refused to do this. It leaves the coin bonds as they are, making it possible for a secretary to redeem them in silver. The House bill also authorizes the exchange by the treasury of gold for silver, which provision the Senate bill omits.

Telegraphic Brevities.

'Frisco is tired of caring for returning troops from the Philippines.

Rowland East, American and British Consul, Piura, Peru, is dead.

Twenty-two horses from the Palo Alto, Cal., farm sold in New York for $9,785.

W. H. Watson, a notorious New York thief, has been captured at Houston, Texas.

Effort is on foot to combine forty nitrate companies of Chili. Capital, $81,000,000.

Secretary Long wants some radical improvements made at the Cavite naval station.

Chicago trade press wants Congress to establish a department of commerce and industry.

William Gallion, a soldier of Portsmouth, fell from a train near Stockport, N. Y., and was killed.

President McKinley isl asked to pardon Rosetta Horton, 90, Nashville, Tenn., in the pen. for pension fraud.

Edgar Hill, traffic manager of the I. H. & St. L. Railroad, dropped dead of heart disease in Louisville.

Ambrose Bantista, late President of the Filipino Congress, says he wants to be a Supreme Justice at Manila.

A quarantine has been declared against Montana by Manitoba, owing to the prevalence of smallpox in that State.

Movement is being started in Cleveland, Ohio, to crush Mormonism. Evangelists and singers will be sent to Utah to strike at the root of polygamy.

MAILS FOR THE YEAR.

Annual Report of the Postmaster General Made Public.

Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith, in his annual report, devotes more space to the abuses in second-class mail matter than any other one subject. The most urgent need of the postal service, he declares, is the rectification of the enormous wrongs which have grown up in the perversion and abuse of the privilege accorded by law to that class of mail matter. This reform was paramount to all others.

"There are," he says, "many improvements and advances waiting development and application; there are opportunities for speedier transmission and delivery; there are fields for broadening the scope of the mail service and bringing it closer home to the people; there are possibilities of reduced postage; but above and beyond all of these measures of progress which experience and intelligence are working out, is the redemption of the special concession which Congress granted for a distinct and justifiable object from the fungus growths and the flagrant evils that have fastened upon it.

"For this costly abuse, which drags on the department and weighs down the service, trammels its power and means of effective advancement in every direction, it involves a waste of $20,000,000 or upward a year. The postal deficit for the current year is $6,810,776. But for this wrongful application of the second-class rate, instead of a deficit there would be a clear surplus of many millions.

Statistics of the different classes of matter carried in the past year are quoted in the report, from which an estimate is made that one-half the matter mailed at second-class rates (176,371,613 pounds) is improperly classified, and should justly be paid for at third-class rates. These figures, says the report, show:

1. That more than one-fourth of the entire volume of weight of matter carried through the mails is rated, and pays as second-class matter, when under the spirit and intent of the law it ought to be rated and to pay as third-class matter.

2. That while this wrongly classed matter amounts to more than one-quarter of the whole volume of mail transmitted, it furnishes only one fifty-fifth part of the postal revenue.

3. That the expense of transportation being reckoned at 8 cents a pound, the mere carrying of this matter costs $14,108,129, while the revenue from it was only $1,763,516, involving a loss to the Government of $12,344,613.

"These statements convey their own moral," the report continues. "It is a gross and manifest wrong that a particular and limited group of private interests, using the mail solely for their own business ends, and with no public object, direct or incidental, should first succeed in eluding the plain purpose of the law, and should then and thus carry on their mail transactions, not at their own expense, but the expense of others. If there is to be a favored class, let it embrace all the people."

CLOSE AFTER "AGGIE."

Insurgent Leader Heading for Montoc Followed by Maccabebes.

Advices from Manila report that Wilder's Maccabebes are closely following the Filipino leader. Gen. Young, with a troop of cavalry and a battalion of the Thirty-third infantry, is cutting his way from Vigar to Bangued, where the American and Spanish prisoners are held by the Filipinos. Maccabebe scouts have been placed between Namagapacan and the mountains to prevent the rebel's retreat. Maj. Swigert, with three troops of cavalry, is patroling the coast and hopes to cut off Aguinaldo's escape by sea.

A dispatch from Hong Kong reports that Aguinaldo has been in communication with the Filipino junta in Hong Kong. The members, it is said, assured him of a safe haven in Hong Kong and advised him to throw himself on the mercy of the United States consul.

AGUINALDO'S COAT OF ARMS.

Vigan, the chief port of South Itocos, occupied by an American garrison, was attacked by a large body of insurgents with a loss to the defending forces. It is reported that eight Americans were killed and fifty wounded. The rebels were repulsed, however, after a hard fight, and were finally routed and fled through the mountains. The rebels are believed to have suffered severely.

BIG RATE WAR IS ON.

Involves All Railroads from New England to the Pacific Coast.

A passenger rate war has begun which threatens to become the greatest ever known. Already all the lines forming direct routes from New England to California are involved. From present indications the war will be between the Vanderbilt and Pennsylvania systems, and the Northwestern, Rock Island, Burlington and St. Paul roads on one side, and all the differential lines between Chicago and the Atlantic coast, with the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Illinois Central roads on the other side.

So far only rates on traffic to California are seriously affected, but signs of demoralization are apparent on all classes of traffic. The present trouble grows directly out of the old controversy of Eastern railroads over differential rates. Second-class tickets from Boston to San Francisco are being sold for about $1[illegible] less than the regular second-class ra[illegible] from Chicago to San Francisco.

Municipal Matters.

Nothing adds more to a city than go[illegible] streets.—Carmi Republican.

Encourage city officials who lend the[illegible] selves to sanitary improvement. Th[illegible] deserve it, and it will pay.—Galvest[illegible] News.

Cleanliness is essential to public heal[illegible] Clean up the city and keep it clean t[illegible] whole year round.—Baltimore Americ[illegible]

Dust costs in doctor bills ten times [illegible] much as it would take to maintain cle[illegible] streets. There are in addition to [illegible] losses in dollars and cents many sadder losses for which no estimate can be made. —Galveston News.

"Are you in favor of municipal ownership?" asked the earnest citizen. "Such questions," replied the political boss, wearily, "are a sheer waste of time. It all depends, of course, on who the owner is going to be."—Washington Star.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Less than two years ago the American people grieved with Senator Thurston of Nebraska in the death of his wife. They had been to Cuba to investigate the condition of affairs and the horrors the reconcentrados were enduring so worked upon her sympathetic nature that her health gave way and death called her upon her return to this country. The separation was a severe hardship for the brilliant Nebraskan, and for a time his grief threatened his future, but conscious of the duty he owes himself and his motherless children, he has now taken a new helpmate, and those who sorrowed with him in affliction now rejoice with him in his happiness. The bride was Miss Lola Purman, a Washington belle. She is a highly gifted young woman, whose mother was Miss Leadora Finlayson of the well-known old Southern family of that name. Her father, Maj. William J. Purman, at the breaking out of the civil war, entered the army and served with distinction under Gens. Meigs, Crane, Sprague and Meade. He was a leading member of the constitutional convention of Florida and in reconstruction days was elected to Congress from that State. The "bride of the Senate," as the newest wife in that body is always called, is more than ordinarily good looking and has a sweet soprano voice.

SENATOR THURSTON AND HIS BRIDE.

Charles E. Macrum, the United States consul to the Transvaal, was a glass manufacturer of East Liverpool, Ohio, which is in President McKinley's old congressional district. He was appointed in 1898, upon the recommendation of Senator Hanna, Senator Foraker and Representative Taylor, and is said to be a very good man, but he insists upon coming home just when his services are most needed and will neither wait for permission nor the arrival of his successor. He has made two applications for leave of absence since the war broke out, both of which have been refused, and has now deserted his post and left the interests of the United States and the archives of the British consulate, which were intrusted to him, to a minor named Atterbury. There is no explanation of Mr. Macrum's persistency, and it is naturally suggested that he is frightened. The President directed Adelbert Hay, son of the Secretary of State, to start at once for Pretoria and take charge of the consulate.

CONSUL MACRUM.

United States Senator William P. Frye of Maine, who, as president pro tempore of the Senate, will fill the function that had been the chief duty of the late Vice-President Hobart, does not by reason of this fact stand in any succession whatever to the presidency. That succession is fixed by law and falls upon the members of the cabinet, beginning with the Secretary of State. President Frye assumed his duties when the Senate convened Monday. Mr. Frye has occupied a seat in the House or in the Senate since the Forty-second Congress. He was elected to the Senate to fill the seat vacated by James G. Blaine when that statesman was appointed Secretary of State. He was elected president pro tempore of the Senate in 1896 and he was a member of the commission that was sent to Paris to adjust terms of peace between the United States and Spain.

SENATOR FRYE.

While Gen. Elwell S. Otis is away off in the Philippines his family, consisting of his wife and three charming daughters, make their home in the old Otis homestead in Rochester. Heretofore they have always moved about with Gen. Otis from post to post, but he declined to take them to the other side of the world, although they were anxious to go. Perhaps the handsomest of Gen. Otis' three daughters is Miss Mary Otis. She is a tall young woman of good figure and is about 19 years old. Miss Laura Otis is a year or two older, and "Bobbie," as Gen. Otis calls the third sister, is the youngest of the group.

MISS MARY OTIS.

There is a touch of pathos in the hard luck of Lieut. Matthew F. M. Meiklejohn, senior subaltern of the Second Gordon Highlanders, son of Prof. Meiklejohn of St. Andrew's University. He had been fighting on the Indian frontier with the First battalion for the last five years and was one of the heroes of Dargai, where he was [illegible]

[illegible] the cost of canning is increased [illegible] nts per dozen cans, and the selling price of the goods will be increased accordingly.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

[illegible] in Republican Philadelphia.

[illegible] Wanamaker is convinced that [illegible] mechanical device is needed to [illegible] a fair election and an honest [illegible] in Philadelphia. A scaffold op[illegible] by a conscientious vigilance [illegible] might do the business.—[illegible]aukee Sentinel.

Worked from Washington.

[illegible] administration organs talk about [illegible]a's drift toward annexation." A [illegible] investigation will reveal the fact [illegible] the "drift" is the result of some [illegible] strong financial propellers worked [illegible]

ENSIGN GHERARDI.

[illegible] val Academy from Massachusetts and served for the first four years after his graduation with the Pacific squadron. The younger Gherardi got out of the Naval Academy just in time to take part in the war with Spain.

GAGE MAKES REPORT.

Secretary of the Treasury Shows Receipts and Expenditures.

Secretary of the Treasury Lyman J. Gage has issued the annual report of his department. Statistics necessarily make up a considerable portion of the report, and the first tabulated item to appear upon the pages is one which shows a deficit for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1899, of no less than $89,111,559.67.

Revenues of all kinds foot up $610,982,004.35, while the expenditures were $700,093,564.02. Internal revenue is the largest item in the receipt column, amounting to $273,437,161.51, and customs next, with $206,128,481.75. All other receipts were of a minor and comparatively insignificant nature. That the deficit was caused largely through the war with Spain is shown by the fact that the expenses of army and navy for the fiscal year amounted to $293,788,358.72, to which must be added the lump sum of $20,000,000 paid to Spain. Pensions for the year amounted to $139,394,929.07.

Mr. Gage favors the proposition to allow national banks to issue their notes in the form of paper money, and makes many general recommendations in regard to their control, but none of a specific nature. Close adherence to the gold standard is deemed advisable and lengthy eulogies delivered on its believed merits. Immigration reports show 311,715 immigrants at the ports of the United States and Canada. The transactions of the fiscal year, as shown by the report of the treasurer of the United States, were of unusual magnitude, the net ordinary receipts having been exceeded in any like period but once, in 1866, and the net ordinary expenditures but thrice, in 1863, 1864 and 1865.

Important changes took place during the year in the composition and distribution of the stock of money. The amount of notes and silver certificates in circulation was increased by $43,828,886, reducing the paper holdings of the treasury to the minimum required for the transaction of business.

During the existence of the system, up to the close of the year ended June 30, 1899, 5,201 national banks have been organized. On the latter date, 3,589 banks were in operation, 1,247 had been placed in voluntary liquidation by shareholders, and 365 placed in the charge of receivers.

On June 30, 1898, there were 3,590 banks in existence, showing a net loss during the year of one bank. During the past fiscal year, seventy-three banks were organized, and sixty-seven placed in voluntary liquidation and eight in charge of receivers. The authorized capital stock of the banks on June 30 last was $607,871,245, and on June 30, 1898, $630,025,295, showing a decrease during the year of $22,154,050.

The national bank circulation outstanding on June 30, 1899, aggregated $241,268,696, of which $205,264,094 was secured by bonds on deposit with the treasurer of the United States and $36,004,602 by lawful money deposited on account of liquidating and insolvent associations and those reducing circulation.

The silver dollars coined were from bullion purchased under the act of July 14, 1890. The total coinage of silver dollars from bullion purchased under act of July 14, 1890, from Aug. 13, 1890, to July 1, 1899, was $97,005,966, containing 75,028,051.81 fine ounces, costing $71,185,539.09, giving a seigniorage of $25,810,426.91. In bullion the mints used $76,252,487.23 in domestic gold and $7,220,896.57 in domestic silver. In total the expenditures went above those for 1898 to the extent of $161,703,597.05.

RACINE COUPLE SHOT.

Burglar Severely Wounds Rev. Dr. and Mrs. David B. Cheney.

The Rev. Dr. D. B. Cheney was shot down in his home at Racine, Wis., by an unknown assassin. Mrs. Cheney was also shot. The minister was shot through the breast and groin. Mrs. Cheney was shot in the throat, the bullet lodging in the larynx.

The shooting took place at 10 o'clock in the morning. The murderer fled, and was last seen near the western limits of the city. A posse was at once organized and started in pursuit. There were many threats of lynching should the murderer be captured.

The crime was one of the most desperate ever committed in the State. Both victims were shot twice, it being the evident object of the man to kill rather than to rob. Mrs. Cheney heard a noise in the second story of the house. Going to the hallway, she met a man coming down the stairs. The man suddenly drew a revolver and ordered her to throw up her hands. Mrs. Cheney screamed and the man fired, the bullet taking effect in Mrs. Cheney's neck. As she fell the man deliberately fired a second time, the bullet grazing the head of his victim. Dr. Cheney was in the library at the time, and hearing screams he rushed into the hall. He grappled with his wife's assailant and attempted to overpower him. The man, however, used his revolver. Dr. Cheney fell. He was found suffering from a wound in the groin and another through his breast, just below the heart.

Several persons saw the assassin run from the house, but no attention was paid to him and not until nearly an hour later did it become known that Dr. Cheney and his wife had been severely wounded by a burglar.

OLD WORLD NOTABLES

For a private audience Queen Victoria is usually plainly attired in black silk.

Queen Wilhelmina dresses the most economically of all the European sovereigns.

Sir Edward Sassoon has taken the house formerly owned by Barney Barnato in London.

Li Hung Chang owns the finest collection of furs in the world. They are valued at $1,000,000.

Alfred Austin, England's poet laureate, is said to be offended because he has not been made a Knight.

Queen Victoria has expressed her thanks to Canada for sending volunteer troops to South Africa.

George Berry, the English bandmaster, has retired after sixty-three years' service with military bands.

The Khedive of Egypt draws a salary ten times as great as that of the President of the United States.

President Steyn of the Orange Free State is suave, cultured and, unlike Kruger, is careful of his personal appearance.

For the Crown Prince of Japan a beautiful palace is being built, with the frame work of iron calculated to withstand earthquakes.

Lady Louisa Tighe and Lady Sophia Cecil are the two living women who were present at the ball given before the battle of Waterloo.

Zola's dog, which had been his pet for nine years, died recently, and the novelist says it is one of the greatest sorrows he has ever borne.

The Sultan is the victim of a rather strange superstition regarding death. He believes that on a certain day he will die and not till then, and that the manner by which he shall relinquish his life has already been prepared. This he feels convinced is by poison.

NO LATCHSTRING OUTSIDE.

"The latchstring's on the outside"—that's what they use to say,
An' we never knocked in winter, nor the rosy time o' May,
Till I got to lovin' Sally, an' she's named the day to be;
An' then thar' wus no latchstring on the outside door fer me!

I knowed I wuzn't anything—all that I had wus jest
The sweet, uplittin' knowledge that her dear heart loved me best!
That some time for her life an' mine
some happiness there'd be;
An' then thar' wus no latchstring on the outside door fer me!

An' the winter went, an' springtime, with the birds, an' blossoms sweet
Made the violets like a carpet fer the fallin' of her feet;
Thar' wus light an' thar' wus beauty on the lan' an' on the sea,
But never any latchstring on the outside door fer me!

An' I know the worl's a good worl', with its medders green an' wide,
With its thorns an' with its roses—with its love, an 'all beside,
'Cept this: Ter all the good things that air past, or goin' to be,
Thar's never any latchstring on the outside door fer me!
—Atlanta Constitution.

The Ebon Cross.

My friend, Robert Thurston, is a man whose real character, and that indicated by his appearance, are as far different as can be imagined. He is the proverbial "black sheep" of the family, and yet, despite all his wildness, he has often been mistaken for a clergyman. Here is the story of one of my nomadic friend's adventures, as related by himself:

I was in Paris. The city and its ways were well known to me, while my circle of acquaintances was not small.

One day, while wandering about the city alone, I came to a standstill at the corner of one of the most fashionable streets. A man passed me who looked very searchingly into my face. In a few minutes he returned, and again favored me with that annoying stare.

"I beg your pardon, monsieur, but is not this Alaris?"

The man was sincere, and I comprehended that I was mistaken for some other person, but I was about to deny all knowledge when the desire for a little sport overcame my more serious inclinations and I gravely replied:

"I am so called."

"I thought it must be so," he continued, with an air of satisfaction. "Those black crosses are too uncommon to be seen in large numbers on this corner at the appointed hour."

I bowed slightly. I knew my strange friend referred to the ebon cross that hung over my white shirt bosom; but for all that his words were most mysterious.

"You are nearly an hour before time," continued the unknown, "but if you are ready we will at once proceed to the residence of my master."

"Quite ready," I replied; "lead on."

Had you been present, my dear fellow, you would, without doubt, have been greatly shocked at the course I was taking; but it just suited me, and I saw before me a prospect of rich pleasure.

So I followed on after my guide, who finally paused before one of the most pretentious mansions of the city, and applied for admission. While we waited for an answer to his summons, I read the name upon the door-plate of the mansion. It was M. Jules Levane.

The servant who answered the bell admitted us without question, and my companion conducted me through several rooms into the library, and then left me with the announcement that he would at once send M. Levane to my presence.

The mystery was deepening. This house, with its magnificence, was such as might well be inhabited by a prince,

"IF YOU WILL PERFORM THAT CEREMONY THIS GOLD IS YOURS."

and I began to fear I had carried my joke too far.

The reflection that it was now too late to retreat caused me to determine to keep up the deception for a time longer, and I heard advancing footsteps with the utmost tranquility.

A tall, imperious-looking man of about 50 years entered, and, while saluting me, kept his gaze constantly fixed upon me.

"You are the clergyman sent here by Col. de Lisle?" he questioned, abruptly.

"Sent to the corner of —— and —— streets," I amended, at a venture.

"And you are the gentleman who was directed to answer to the name of Alaris?"

"I am."

"Very good. Did Col. de Lisle inform you as to the nature of the business in hand?"

"He did not," I ventured to affirm.

"Very well; I will make it plain to you. First, however, I presume you are the bold, fearless man Col. de Lisle agreed to send to me—one willing to perform a bold deed for a pecuniary inducement?"

"Col. de Lisle knew his business," I returned with an emphatic nod.

"Then monsieur, we will to business at once. As you have, perhaps, learned, my name is M. Jules Levane. I am believed to be very wealthy, but really I am not worth a thousand louis d'ors. Ten years ago I lost nearly my whole fortune by the failure of a scheme in which I had speculated largely. Ruin stared me in the face. I knew not what to do in such a fearful situation. Accustomed from my youth to a life of luxury and ease, and looked upon as a man whom princes dared not slight, the idea of falling was too terrible for contemplation.

"Thus situated, I did what nearly every other man would have done in my situation. I had a ward, gived to my charge five years previously, by her dying father, my early friend. This ward was very wealthy, and all her property was under my control. To save myself from ruin I appropriated her fortune that has for ten years kept my head above the tide. Now my ward has reached the age at which her fortune was to be placed conditionally in her hands. Monsieur, what shall I do? Ruin is inevitable if I give up her money."

"Let me hear your plan," said I.

"I have a son, 24 years of age, the heir of my respectability and my poverty. If Louis and Marie were to marry, the fortune would not need to leave my control, and all would be well."

"Then, let them marry."

"Ah, that is the trouble. Marie refuses to wed my son."

I began to comprehend the plot, and resolved to carry out the plot I had undertaken.

"Proceed," said I, blindly.

"Did you ever hear of a marriage ceremony being performed where the bride refused to give her consent to the union?" demanded M. Levane, fixing a gaze upon me as though he would read my very thoughts.

"Frequently," I replied, carelessly.

"I asked the same question of Col. de Lisle," said the old villain, with an air of relief, "and he gave me an affirmative reply. He furthermore promised to send a clergyman to the corner of —— and —— streets, at 2 o'clock p. m. today, who would be kind enough to perform such a ceremony. Col. de Lisle was obliged to start for Lyons this morning on important business, so he could not be present. It was agreed, however, that the reverend gentleman should wear upon his breast a peculiar black cross, and it was by that my man recognized him."

MLLE. MARIE ACTED THE PART OF THE UNWILLING BRIDE.

M. Levane here arose and went to a desk in one corner of the room. This he unlocked, and took therefrom a stout canvas bag, which was half-filled with glittering gold. He laid the bag before me, and then continued:

"Now, monsieur, Marie Duchane must wed my son. If you perform that ceremony this gold is yours."

I did not hesitate an instant, but, pocketing the gold, bade the scheming guardian lead the way to the bride's chamber.

I found the bride-elect, a most beautiful girl, to be firmly opposed to the union contemplated by her guardian, and so I applied to M. Levane for permission to argue the case with her. He readily consented to this, and I took the unwilling bride aside and explained the circumstances of the case to her. She was at first inclined to doubt my statements, but I succeeded in convincing her of my truthfulness at length, and by my advice she consented to let the ceremony proceed, when assured that it would be a mere farce.

Levane was delighted at my success as a diplomatist, and the marriage was at once performed. Mlle. Marie acted the part of the unwilling, but submissive, bride to perfection, and I venture to say my part was creditably performed, thanks to the experience I had had in our miniature plays at home.

After partaking of a bountiful supper I left the Levanes, father and son, in raptures, and, with the bag of gold in my pocket, proceeded to the office of the chief of police, where I told my story and demanded justice for the unfortunate ward of M. Jules.

I need not dwell on what followed. Marie Duchane recovered her fortune and soon after married a worthy young man.—New York News.

Anti-Climax in a Mine.

Professor Weed, the noted geologist, recently had a thrilling and hair-raising experience in Butte. He was decending a mine on a ladder and when several hundred feet down the ladder parted, leaving him suspended in the dark. He hung to the round with all the tenacity his being was capable of, determined to strain the very last drop of his vitality in the hope that succor would come. He cried out for help, but the deep, dark walls returned his voice unanswered. His whole life came back to him in vivid retrospection; perspiration dripped from his forehead as he realized that only for a short time could he withstand the awful strain. And then he dropped. Four inches below him he struck a heavy body, which afterward proved to be the globe.

Statues of Christ in Italy.

Italian Catholics propose to celebrate the nineteenth century by erecting nineteen colossal statues of Christ in conspicuous points of the peninsula. Among the places selected are Mount Soratce, the Grau Sasso d'Italia, and the toe, the heel, and the instep of "the boot." The statues are to be of gilded cast iron.

"I wonder if all men are fools," snapped Mrs. Enpeck during a little domestic tiff the other morning. "No, indeed, my dear," replied her husband. "I know a number of men who are bachelors."

Even when a man does have greatness thrust upon him he really thinks he achieved it.

"MY KING."

—Chicago Inter Ocean.

LADY SALISBURY.

Her Death Removes an Influential Factor in British Politics.

The death of Lady Salisbury, wife of the British premier, has removed a woman of high social prominence and one who exercised a great influence on the political life of England. Lord Salisbury placed unlimited confidence in his wife's sagacity and judgment and in consequence she was a power in the councils of the Conservative party, and when that party was in office, in the councils of the nation.

Lady Salisbury was the daughter of Sir George Hall Alderson and was married to Lord Salisbury—then Lord Robert Cecil—in 1857. Her husband was then 27 years old, while she was some years his senior.

Four years before, her husband had been elected a Fellow of All Souls' College, Oxford, and had been returned to Parliament for Stamford. The early years of their married life were passed in comparative obscurity. They had little money, and lived in lodgings off the Strand. The future prime minister added to his slender income by writing for magazines and newspapers, his wife acting as amanuensis. In 1865 Lord Robert Cecil became Viscount Cranborne, and heir to the Marquisate through the death of his eldest brother. It was then that his political career really began. As her husband advanced in rank and station Lady Salisbury filled every place with grace and tact. With advancing years she grew to care less for social functions, but until her illness, some years ago, she was never remiss in her duties as a hostess, and when her husband has been in office these have been of the most onerous character.

THE MARCHIONESS OF SALISBURY.

Lady Salisbury had five sons and three daughters, all of whom are living except a daughter who died in 1867.

What effect Lady Salisbury's death will have on the political condition of England is not definitely known, but Lord Salisbury is reported to have said that in the event of the death of his wife he would retire as soon as possible from public life.

THE ARMY OF PICKPOCKETS.

An Observant Policeman Describes Their Ranks and Methods.

Some men operate on the "single-handed" basis; they travel alone, arrange their own "frame-ups" (personally corner their victims) and keep all the profits. There are a few well-known successful pickpockets of this order, and they are rated high among their fellows, but the more general custom is for what is called a "mob" of men to travel together, one known as the "tool" doing the actual picking and the others attending to the "stalling."

A stall is the confederate of the pickpocket who bumps up against people or arranges them in such a way that the pickpocket can get at their pockets. Practically any one who will take a short course of instruction can learn how to stall, but there are naturally some who are more expert than others. A tool who hires his stalls and makes no division of spoils with them will sometimes have to pay as much as $5 a day for skilled men. When he divides what he gets, each man in the mob may get an equal share or not, according to a prearranged agreement, but the tool is the man who does the most work.

Of first-class tools, men who are known to be successful, there are probably not more than 1,500 in the United States. Practically every professional offender has a "go" at pocketpicking some time in his career, but there are comparatively few who make a success of it as actual pickpockets; the stalls are numberless. Among the 1,500 there are some women and a fair proportion of young boys, but the majority are men anywhere from 20 to 60 years old. The total number of the successful and unsuccessful is 30,000, 40,000 or 50,000, as one likes. All that is actually known is that there is an army of them, and one can only make guesses as to their real strength.—Independent.

NEW GAS LAMP.

It Is Particularly Adapted for Use as a Table Lamp.

A new acetylene gas lamp has been invented by Peter Josserand, of Josserand, Texas, which is particularly adapted for use as a table lamp, and which is arranged to insure a uniform, perfect, and brilliant light.

GAS LAMP.

The lamp comprises a base supporting a bowl forming a generator in which the calcium carbide is contained and in which gas is generated. A cap screws on the generator and terminates in a pipe by which a water-reservoir is supported. A tube provided at its upper end with a burner, extends through the reservoir and serves to conduct the gas. Water is supplied from the reservoir to the generator below by means of a pipe provided with an automatic valve. As shown in the enlarged detail view this valve has a downwardly extending stem fitting loosely in the end of the water-pipe, and an upwardly-extending stem receiving the end of a rod screwed in a cap closing the valve-chambr. The screw-rod is provided with a collar engaged at its lower end by a spring coiled around the stem. A tube opening into the valve-chamber above the valve, conducts the water to the generator.

When the screw-rod is screwed down, the valve is seated to cut off the water supply, but when the rod is screwed out until the collar abuts against the under side of the cap so as to allow the spring to hold the valve loosely to its seat, then the water rises in the valve chamber and flows drop by drop to the generator. When the gas pressure overbalances the water pressure, the valve is seated, thus preventing the further generation of gas. When the gas pressure has diminished, the valve is opened by the water and generation is resumed.

The supply of carbide can be replenished by unscrewing the generator cap and placing the required quantity of the material within the bowl. The water reservoir can be filled by means of a filling cap.

First American Vessel on Lake Erie.

The first American vessel on Lake Erie was The Washington, built near Erie, Pa., as early as 1797. In the next year the Jemima was put together three miles below Rochester by one Eli Granger, and was the first of our vessels to plough the waters of Lake Ontario. It was not until 1817 that a steam boat appeared on the lakes. This was the Ontario, which was made after the pattern of the Sea-Horse, then running on Long Island Sound. During the following year Walk-on-the-Water appeared, and surprised the marine world by steaming from Black Rock, New York, to the prosperous little town of Detroit. It was a clumsy but a wonderful thing, that primitive sidewheeler, with her belching funnels and cranky machinery, for on her first trip, we are told, she was greeted with cheers and cannon at every port into which she put. Her journey took her five days, and her passenger list was limited to twenty-nine but she was a slight improvement on that original canal boat, with a great upright engine in her hold, which constituted the first lake "tug."—Ainslee's.

Americanism Abroad.

In the poet's corner of Westminster Abbey a bust of Lowell has found its place, and American enthusiasm rises high at the sight and feels that it must leave a record. Calling cards of all sorts and conditions are consequently posted about the bust of the American poet.—New York Evening Sun.

Ancient Sacred Fire.

The sacred fires of India have not all been extinguished. The most ancient which still exists was consecrated at Vodwada twelve centuries ago, in commemoration of the voyage made by the Parsees when they emigrated from Persia to India.

Emma—"I could never marry a man who smokes." Artie—"Then I guess there is no hope for——" Emma—"I was going to add, sir, opium," she diplomatically interrupted, and the wedding date was set before the evening had passed.—Philadelphia Call.

Some people do so much worrying that they haven't time for anything else.

POLITICS.

UNITE TO CONQUER.

There is every evidence that in the campaign of 1900 all the elements opposed to the administration of public affairs by McKinley will unite and form one solid Democratic column to opposition. Leaving the money question entirely out of the account, the two great issues of anti-trust and anti-imperialism will serve as a common ground on which the anti-McKinley hosts can rally.

But the money question is not dead by any means. Former Congressman Towne, the able leader of the silver Republican party, in speaking of this matter, says:

"If Congress this winter in response to the demand of the President destroys the bond-paying value of silver, calls in silver certificates and reissues gold-paying certificates, the silver question will be a leading issue in the next presidential campaign. Such action on the part of Congress would furnish an entirely different proposition from that which confronted the people in the last campaign. The Republican party won because of the fear of the ratio of 16 to 1. The adoption of the Gage and McKinley financial plan by Congress would mean the contraction of the currency of the country and the people would be confronted with a fact, not a theory, in the battle of standards. The silver question is not dead in American political affairs."

Without united action on the part of all those who desire the overthrow of the Republican party nothing can be accomplished. This fact had ample illustration in the recent election in Ohio. With a popular majority of 50,000 against him, Nash, the Republican candidate for Governor, was elected. This story will be repeated in 1900 if the same policy of personal selfishness is followed by those who ought to sink personal ambition for the common good.

There is but one motto for those who wish to rescue the republic from the dangers which threaten it, and that is: "Unite to conquer."—Chicago Democrat.

Next Year's Issues.

McKinley's renomination for the Presidency is a foregone conclusion. The Republican party appears to be devoted to him and his ways to such an extent that no other candidate can get himself seriously discussed. Thomas B. Reed, of Maine, saw this some months ago and resigned his place in Congress and betook himself to New York City for the practice of his profession. He saw clearly that there is no chance just now for the gratification of his ambition and he concluded that he had better make all the money possible until the political situation becomes more favorable to his candidacy.

With McKinley as the nominee Hanna will, of course, be the maker of the platform and the manager of the campaign. This means that a certain number of Democrats are to be humbugged again on the money question into voting the Republican ticket. The "sound currency" cry is to be taken up once more. The mismanagement of the war with Spain, the Alger scandal, the incompetence of Otis, the establishment of military dictatorship in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, the fostering of thieving trusts under the New Jersey man whom they put into the Attorney General's office, are things to be ignored, and the "scare" of 1896 is to be worked over.

Under these circumstances what ought the Democrats to do? There should be no doubt about the answer. Those things that the Republicans want to avoid should be brought to the front. If the failure to govern the new island acquisitions properly, the scandalous incompetence displayed in the War Department, the favoritism shown to monopolistic corporations and the general lack of ability in the conduct of affairs are brought to the front, as they should be, the verdict at the polls next year is not at all doubtful.—New York News.

President as a Pardoner.

President McKinley's abuse of the pardoning power calls forth complaints from leading papers of his own party. The criticism rests on good ground. He has broken the record. During the little more than two years he has been in office he has granted 349 pardons and 129 commutations of sentence, which equals the total number granted by President Cleveland in four years, and surpasses the number granted by any of his predecessors for a like period. The charge has been made that political influence is potent in securing executive clemency, and it has strong backing. Of the whole number of cases (478) in which the President has exercised his power, 24 of the criminals were bank wreckers, embezzlers or concerned in frauds against national banks, 90 were dishonest postmasters or others convicted of offenses against the postal service, and 47 were counterfeiters or concerned in crimes against the currency of the United States. The unusual clemency for 90 dishonest postal officials was certainly not shown in the interest of an efficient postal service or for the benefit of the public.—Pittsburg Post.

Republican Losses.

Republicans realize that they are losing ground with the people. No less an authority than Former Speaker Reed admits this fact. In his recent speech before the New York bankers, Reed said:

"Two years ago the candidate in Ohio who represented the gold standard received 526,000 votes and all his opponents received 486,000. That was 40,000 majority. This year the Republican candidate had but 49,000 plurality, while a third candidate had 106,000 votes."

The fact that there was a majority of 50,000 votes in the President's own State against the administration policy has frightened Reed. With a great popular protest against the gold standard, Reed thinks that the only safety for millionaires is to force gold legislation through the next Congress. This is a remarkable confession of weakness. In it there is comfort for Democracy.

Peter Kuntz, Pres., Chicago;
W. H. Keckler, Treas., Auburn

The Auburn LUMBER CO.

Central 'Phone No. 12.

We sell all kinds of Lumber for Building, and Make Window and Door Frames to Order. We can Sell you Doors and Windows and SAVE YOU MONEY. We carry all kinds of Shingles.

Headquarters for.....

Wood Burnt Bulk Lime.

The Genuine Article

We can SAVE YOU MONEY in PRICE, WEIGHT & QUALITY. Come and see us and examine our Lime, and you will be convinced. We also carry Cement, Plaster, Hair, Plaster Paris, etc.

Auburn Lumber Co.
Near Wabash Depot AUBURN

ROBES!
BLANKETS..

BISHOP FUR ROBES,
CHASE PLUSH ROBE
5A HORSE BLANKETS

....These are the best goods the market affords. If you want Bargains, want to Save Money on these goods, come and see us.

HARNESS,—light and heavy Hand-Made, Large Stock to select from, Quality of Stock, Workmanship and Price not excelled by any other.

Collars, Felt Goods, Whips, Harness Oil and Dressings.

Horse and Cattle Powders, Guaranteed Oil Cake, and Ground Flax Seed, Poultry Powders, Guarantee Oyster Shell.

"Gen. Wheaton captured Aguinaldo's infant son."—News item.

New Book by Harvey.

W. H. Harvey is writing a sequel to "Coin," and the chairman of every Democratic county committee in the country has received a letter signed by Chairman J. G. Johnson, of the Executive Committee, asking him to get hold of a good book agent in his county to push the sale of "Coin's" new book, which, writes Mr. Johnson, "Will be as good if not better than 'Coin's Financial School.'"

The first chapters of "Money, Trusts and Imperialism" are in type, and they show that Mr. Harvey is closely following the style which made "Coin" a marvelous seller in 1895 and 1896. "Coin's Financial School" was the text-book of the free silver orators in 1896. During the height of its boom over 15,000 books were sold in one day. Mr. Harvey hopes that his new book will be the Democratic bible next year. The original "Coin" was a private venture. The new book will have the backing and indorsement of the Democratic Executive Committee.

Trust Ruin.

The two glass works, around which Hazelhurst, Pa., a town of 1,800 people, was built, went into the trust and have been abandoned, and the place is in the most distressed condition. Six hundred working men have been thrown out of employment, the merchants are bankrupt and property is almost worthless in the market. Still Mark Hanna thinks the trust a good thing.—Bellaire Herald-Tribune.

Canned Goods Cost More Now.

The Indiana State Canners' Association bears witness to the extortion of the tin plate trust, paper trust and lumber trust. It announces that owing to the increased cost of cans, labels and cases the cost of canning is increased 17½ cents per dozen cans, and the selling price of the goods will be increased accordingly.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

In Republican Philadelphia.

John Wanamaker is convinced that some mechanical device is needed to promote a fair election and an honest count in Philadelphia. A scaffold operated by a conscientious vigilance committee might do the business.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Worked from Washington.

The administration organs talk about "Cuba's drift toward annexation." A little investigation will reveal the fact that the "drift" is the result of some very strong financial propellers worked from Washington.—Omaha World-Herald.

Don't Be Hasty.

People who refuse to go to Paris on account of the Dreyfus case might pause and reflect that no nation has yet boycotted us on account of the finding of the roast beef board of inquiry.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

ORIGIN OF CUSTOMS.

WHY DO WE DO SOME FAMILIAR THINGS?

Many of the Most Common Practices of Everyday Life Are Derived from Old Superstitions or Barbarities of Our Distant Ancestors.

It is surprising what a number of little things we do without knowing the reason.

Why, for instance, do widows wear caps? Perhaps you may say because they make them look pretty and interesting. But the real reason is that in England they shaved their heads as a sign of mourning. Of course, a woman couldn't let herself be seen with a bald head, so she made herself a pretty cap. And now, though the necessity of wearing it has passed away, the cap remains.

Why do we have bows on the left side of our hats? In olden times when men were much in the open air and hats couldn't be bought for half a dollar it was the habit to tie a cord around the crown and let the ends fall on the left side to be grasped on the arising of a quail. They fell on the left side so they might be grasped by the left hand, the right usually being more usefully engaged. Later on the ends got to be a bow, and later still they became useless; yet the bow has remained, and will probably remain till the next sluge or something of that sort.

What is the meaning of the crosses on the's on a barrel of beer? They signify degrees of quality nowadays. But originally they were put on by those ancient monks as a sort of trade mark. They were crosses in those days, and meant a sort of oath on the cross, sworn by the manufacturer that his barrel contained good liquor.

Why are bells tolled for the dead? This has become so familiar a practice that at a funeral without it would appear unchristian. Yet the reason is quite barbarous. Bells were tolled long ago, when people were being buried, in order to frighten way the evil spirits which lived in the air.

Why do fair ladies break a bottle of wine on the ship they are christening? Merely another survival of barbaric custom. In the days of sacrifice to the gods it was customary to get some poor victim when a boat was being launched and to cut his throat over the prow, so that his blood baptized it.

Why are dignitaries deafened by a salute when they visit a foreign port? It seems a curious sort of welcome this firing off of guns, but it seems the custom arose in a very reasonable way. Originally a town or a warship fired off their guns on the approach of important and friendly strangers to show that they had such faith in the visitors' peaceful intentions they didn't think it necessary to keep their guns loaded.

Why do we sometimes throw a shoe after a bride? The reason is not very complimentary. From of old it has been the habit of mothers to chastise their children with a shoe. Hence the custom arose of the father of a bride making a present to the bridegroom of a shoe, as a sign that it was to be his right to keep her in order.

OPIUM SMOKING IN THE ORIENT

"Hitting the Pipe" in the Chinese Empire and in Formosa.

To learn the actual number of opium smokers is impossible, but we know the amount of the foreign import of this drug and the naive confessions of reformed opium smokers tells us precisely the amount of opium required to pass the yin or craving. It is one-fifth of an ounce daily. An ounce or liang is consumed in five days, and a catty suffices for eighty days. Four catties are enough for 320 days, and another half catty will carry the smoker to the end of a year with comfort. A picul is enough, then, for only twenty-two persons, and 50,000 piculs is sufficient for not more than 1,100,000 persons. The law of compulsion in the smoker is just as imperious for native opium as for foreign. It is a matter of great interest to know the extent of the evil.

In regard to Szechuen, that very populous and wealthy province, Mr. Schjoth, in the Trade Report for 1898, informs us that Szechuen produces 100,000 piculs of opium, and the cultivation is always increasing. At Chungching, where he is commissioner, he is told that 30,000 piculs suffice for consumption in the province, and that 65,000 piculs are exported. We may conclude that the smokers of that province cannot be less than 660,000. Since the population is 67,000,000, the number of smokers is one in a hundred. In Shensi one in one hundred and forty smoke; in Szechuen one in a hundred. In Formosa one in fifteen is the proportion in cities where the people are sunk to the lowest point of degradation, and this is the largest proportion yet known of opium smokers as compared with the general population.—Shanghai (China) Mercury.

Angling for Anchors.

There are many extraordinary ways of gaining a livelihood practiced in New York, but the queerest of all is the occupation of dragging for lost anchors. At least six sloops and schooners are engaged almost exclusively in this trade, and the anchor hunters are as familiar with the ground where anchors are likely to be found in the bays and rivers along the coast, and even in the open sea, as the fisherman is with the favorite haunts of the living inhabitants of the sea.

The method pursued in fishing for anchors is very simple. A chain is let down in a loop long enough to drag along the bottom, and the vessel continues on her way, with all hands on board eagerly alert for a "bite," and the "bite" generally results in a catch.

The recovered anchors are usually sold again at 5 or 6 cents a pound. Five cents is now the prevailing price, as that is just one cent under the market price for new anchors. A big anchor will weigh 5,000 or 6,000 pounds; thus the anchor fisherman makes a gross profit on his haul of from $250 to $300. But more often the anchor recovered weighs from 1,000 to 2,000 pounds. Nevertheless, there is said to be a good profit in the business, even at that.

What a jolly old world this w[illegible] if others could only se[illegible] Mrs. [illegible] memory [illegible] eyes.

AUBURN WEEKLY COURIER.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF DeKALB COUNTY

JAMES A. BARNS, Editor.

Registered at the Auburn, Indiana, postoffice as second-class matter.

THURSDAY....DECEMBER 14, 1899.

Just As It Is

Several papers of the county have had a good deal to say about the cost of the power house here, and either carelessly or purposely mislead their readers. They have been stating the power house alone will cost at least $7,000. We have obtained a statement of the amounts being put into all the improvements recently made. They are:

Power House	$2,206.60
Court house repairs	325 00
Jail repairs	$ 805.00
Plumbing	$1180.52
New boiler and all machinery connected with heater	1187.85
Extra expense on foundation	518 70
Extra for cement	140.00
Total for all building, repairs, plumbing, and extras	$6363.67

The plumbing is for water closets, mainly.

The large item for extras includes making connections with the waterworks and sewers for power house jail and court house.

The item of court house repairs and that for the jail includes the painting outside and in, the whitewashing etc., all the variety of repairs and renewals made on both buildings.

The extra work on foundation of the power house, means the expense of putting down the piling for the floor, getting the water out and extra work of building the wall in the wet bottom. And this also took the extra cement. The cost of the power will be about $3000.

December Juries.

The following names were drawn by the jury commissioners today for the December term which begins next Monday:

GRAND JURY.

Richard H. Murch	Franklin
Richard Harding	Richland
Frank Provines	Jackson
H. H. Slaybaugh	Fairfield
William Seeley	Newville
Wyatt Squires	Concord

PETIT JURY.

Brown Albright	Smithfield
C. C. Buss	Richland
Rufus Strong	Jackson
Jacob N. Olinger	Keyser
Eugene Carper	Jackson
A. Lee Hollopeter	Keyser
C. S. Thomas	Smithfield
D. J. Blair	Newville
James May	Union
W. H. Shilling	Butler
I. G. Cool	Grant
C. A. Houghton	Newville

Fire at Waterloo.

The big hay barn at Waterloo owned by Obe and Dan Less caught fire from some unknown cause, supposed to be incendiary, shortly before 12 o'clock Sunday night and in spite of the efforts of the firemen was totally distroyed, together with about 480 tons of baled hay. The loss on building and contents will be nearly $5,000, on which there is an insurance of $2,000. The fire burned for several hours and the light could be seen at points within a radius of a dozen miles.

Attention Farmers.

The Auburn Handle Factory will pay the highest cash price for ash handle block delivered at their factory on the Lake Shore tracks, cut 58 inches long. Also want ash logs cut 9½, 14½ and 19½ feet long. All timber to be smooth and sound. Will also take basswood cut 4 feet long and 8 inches in diameter and up, left round with bark on. Will pay $3 per cord.—J. M. CHERRY & CO.

A Powder Mill Explosion.

Removes every thing in sight; so do drastic mineral pills, but both are mihty dangerous. Don't dynamite the delicate machinery of your body with calomel, croton oil or alloes pills, when Dr. King's New Life Pills, which are gentle as a summer breeze, do the work perfectly. Cures Headache, Constipation. Only 25c at McCord's drug store.

Public Sale.

There will be a public sale of the personal property of the late Holmes Link at the late residenc two miles east of Garrett, on Saturday Dec. 16, beginning at 10 a. m. There is a large amount of desirable property. horses, cows, farm implements of all kinds hay and corn fodder; also a large amount of household goods.

Notice of Administration.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned have been appointed by the clerk of the DeKalb circuit court, of the state of Indiana, administrators of the estate of Martin Hook, deceased, late of said county.

Said estate is supposed to be solvent.

CHARLES E. HOOK,
JOHN H. HOOK,
Administrators.

December 9, 1899.

Sentinels Free.

Several of our subscribers do not yet seem to understand that we are sending the Indianapolis Weekly Sentinel as a gift. It is absolutely free to them, for one year, and will not be sent longer. Take it and read it, and tell your neighbors about it.

Russian handkerchiefs are the government.

CHINESE CLOTHING.

No Means of the Common Blue Cloth They Look to Be.

To wear your grandfather's coat would not seem much of an honor, but to John Chinaman it is the greatest dignity. Not only is the common-looking, shapeless blue blouse of his ancestor prized because it is his ancestor's, but because of its intrinsic value. The clothing usually worn by a Chinese is of the purest silk, and costs anywhere from $100 to $250 a suit. As a nation the Chinese object to wearing clothing of any other kind, and centuries of experiment have taught them how best to make up the silky caterpillar thread into the most durable form. On this account the Chinese dress, though of purer material, has none of the sheen usually associated with silk, a peculiarity which has resulted in the erroneous idea as to their composition. All the garments are made in China, and are only exported for the personal use of Orientals in foreign countries. Owing to their cost, however, they are only purchased at long intervals, each garment being of so durable a character that they are handed down to the third and even the fourth generation. Wear wears to rather improve them than otherwise, with the result that the coat of the father or grandfather often has more intrinsic value than the newer and less worn articles. Another article peculiar to the Chinese is the felt slippers they invariably wear. These are of peculiar shape, and are also imported from the native country, where the method of treating felt until it almost rivals leather for wear is kept a close secret.

Monkeys Hard to Teach.

An experienced animal trainer says: "As a rule monkeys are readily trained, but occasionally there is one, like in the human species, who is a dunce and won't learn anything, is positively stupid, and refuses persistently to become educated. The trouble in teaching monkeys is largely that they are mischevious. They try to disobey things and do things which are not wanted of them; so that in order to make them perform as desired tedious drilling is necessary, although they grasp an idea quickly. The only species of animals which can be taught by precept and example are the chimpanzee and the orang-outang. They are imitators, and to instruct them in doing a thing it is only necessary for the trainer to do it first himself and then either one of these will imitate him."

Overrun by Pirates.

San Francisco Correspondence of the Chicago Record: According to Canton advices received here by steamer, piracy in Kwangtung has reached alarming proportions. At Muhowkeng, a village near Hoching, there is a big band of pirates whose numbers are augmented by desperate lepers. These lepers levy blackmail on every junk

Lois, little daughter of Wallace B. and Sarah E. Campbell, of Anderson, was born December 27, 1898; departed this life after two days' sickness at the age of 11 months and 13 days. The remains were brought to Auburn yesterday afternoon, and after a short service at the home of S. U. Tarney, were laid at rest in Woodlawn cemetery by the side of her sister Helen. Rev. J. D. Brosy officiated.

Advance a Step.

If you have been in the habit of taking pills for your constipation and with poor results, just try a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and you will be surprised at the results. Very pleasant to take. 10 cents, 50 cents and $1. Sold and recommended by H. B. McCord.

NOTICE.

We the undersigned, do hereby give notice that we will not allow any hunting or tresspassing on any lands under our control, and any violation of this notice, will subject the guilty parties to prosecution.

H. Quince	H. H. Squires
J. M. Brumbeck	A. M. White
S. Reinœhl	Albert Atz
J. B. Bower	J. B. Childs
William Haller	David Martz
Isiah C. Wert	Peter Wert
Johanna Martz	Wm. Bowman
P. D. Childs	G. M. Buchanan
Park Seberts	C. W. Oiler
T. W. Gray	Albert Buchanan
David DeLong	G. W. Fretz
Jane DeLong	Simon Rohm
Henry Schuster	Geo. Schuster
M. S. DeLong	Al. Sebert
C. Farrington	Henry H. Deetz
W. A. Goodrich.

SOME of the worst diseases scarcely give a sign until they strike their victim down. The terrible Bright's Disease may be growing for years and only show now and then by a backache or change of urine, by sallow face and failing appetite.

Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver & Kidney Balm

is a tried remedy that grapples with this disease in every symptom. Cures this and all other disorders of the liver, kidneys or bladder. Sold by druggists—$1.00 a bottle.

THE DR. J. H. McLEAN MEDICINE CO. ST. LOUIS, MO.

For sale by F. E. Davenport.

Letter from Manila.

Allen Clark has a letter from his son Will, now with the 20th United States Infantry in the Philippines, from which we are permitted to publish the following:

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 5, 1899.

DEAR FATHER:—Your letter was received some time ago and I take this first opportunity of answering it. I was sick some time since, but am getting all right again. We have had some hard work doing police duty in Manila. We are stationed in a district called Santa Cruz and are quartered in a police station. We have all the way from ten to one hundred Chinamen and Filipinos and a few Americans to be tried by the military courts. The Chinamen are the biggest crooks I ever saw, and the natives are not far behind them. The principal offenses for which they are tried is filthiness, gambling and stealing out after 8:30 at night (nobody is allowed out after that without a pass signed by General Otis or the provost marshal.)

It begins to look as though we would have to remain in the city this fall and winter and will not get to see or take part in the scrap that will wind up Aguinaldo and his so-called government. It is quite amusing to read some of the accounts the soldiers send back to the American papers about their great fights and the hardships they have to suffer. Two-thirds of the statement criticising the officers and regarding the men dying for want of good medical attendance are untrue. There are no better hospitals and nurses (over one-half the latter are ladies) in the world. The condition of the army is fine considering the number of men who are here. We have plenty to eat, fresh meat every day, and you can tell the people that there is little truth in any reports to the contrary.

I am on my last year now and it will not be long until I am a civilian again. I think I will be back as soon as possible after I get my discharge next fall and I will not leave Auburn again. When I reach home I will have been around the world, as I expect to come by way of New York.

Your son,
WILL CLARK.

BUTLER.

The rainy weather the first of the week has made the roads anything but good.

Peter Heiwig is slightly improved since last week. He is able to sit up a little.

Miss Lizzie Champion is again ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. A. Campbell.

The Church of God friends are holding a protracted effort and awakening considerable interest.

The colored jubilee singers are at the M. E. church tonight. A good house seems to be assured them.

A Mrs. Firestone, a daughter of John Blakers, died at the residence of her brother at the west end, last week.

A movement is on foot to close all our places of business on Sunday. This is a consummation much to be desired.

The Daughters of Rebekah had work in their degree last Friday night and entertained the brothers with a banquet.

Mrs. Hamilton and her granddaughter, Vera Campbell, are home again after a two weeks visit with friends in Steuben county.

Ezra Gilmore, a young married man living on the south side, died last Monday morning. His parents live nine miles northeast of Butler.

The second new teacher, Miss Koons commands the situation and the last youngsters are not around bragging about their escapades in school.

The Butler Company are increasing their force of workmen. Their output this year promises to exceed all former years. Their orders are largely from England.

—Chapped hands, cracked lips and roughness of the skin cured quickly by Banner Salve, the most healing ointment in the world. 25c. H. B. McCord.

NOTICE.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on two 25 cent bottles or boxes of Baxter's Mandrake Bitters, if it fails to cure constipation, billiousness, sick-headache, jaundice, loss of appetite, sour stomach, dyspepsia, liver complaint, or any of the diseases for which it is recommended. It is highly recommended as a spring tonic and blood purifier. Sold liquid in bottles, and tablets in boxes. Price 25 cents for either. One package of either guaranteed to give satisfaction or money refunded. E. M. FISCHLER, F. E. DAVENPORT, HOWARD MCCORD.

Want to Buy Real Estate

We have a client who wants to buy a small residence; also one who wants a large, well located property in Auburn.

MOODY & RICKEL,
Office Kiblinger Building Auburn.

Orders Called.

All county orders are called for redemption. Interest stops after December 15, 1899.

F. M. HINES, Treasurer.

December 1, 1899.

A Good Farm.

If you want to sell or trade your farm or town property call and list it with us, while we have some buyers; we can make you a quick deal. MOODY & RICKEL, Auburn. d2w4

Latest News of the Day.

A company of Filipino bandits has been captured. They were a part of Aguinaldo's army, before it went to pieces, and have since been robbing and killing peaceable Filipinos, especially such as were friendly to the Americans. They will be executed. One these bandits attacked Gen. Joe Wheeler's secretary, with a bolo, or big knife, when he happened to be alone a little outside of camp, and came near killing him.

We have liberated over 2000 Spanish prisoners lately, making over 3000 in all. They are being taken to Manila. No organized army of Filipinos is left now, north of Manila. It is broken up in to small bands.

A Postmaster's View of It.

BLOOMINGDALE, Ind., Feb. 20, '99.
Pepsin Syrup Co.

Gentlemen:—After having given Dr. Caldwell's Syrup a fair trial in my family, I unhesitatingly pronounce it a great boon to all suffering from indigestion, constipation and dyspepsia in all their forms with all their train of evil consequences I have fought constipation and dyspepsia of a severe character for 25 years, have employed the most skilled physicians that I could reach, have spent hundreds of dollars and now I find more relief in this pleasant remedy than I have in anything else. To all persons of sedentary occupations in life, I wish to say, buy it and use it. I have spent 12 years at the postmaster's desk, averaging 14 hours per day, and know now if I had had this remedy years ago it would have saved me much suffering.—Yours respectfully, W. M. MCCOY, Postmaster, Bloomingdale, Ind.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

The Waste Basket.

An editor of great erudition once said that if a newspaper man should print the contents of the waste basket there would probably be a riot. There would certainly be trouble in many homes, arrest in some directions, shot guns in another, and trouble all around. But the patron never sees the waste basket. He only glances at the beautifully printed sheet, complains if one letter in 50 is upside down, growls if a name in 300 happens to be wrong, kicks because his communication signed "Taxpayer" has been condensed into respectable English, frowns because the editor did not take his advice about publicly telling his neighbors about their shortcomings, and is generally disgruntled.

Auburn Wins from Warsaw.

The Auburn bowling team arrived home this morning from Warsaw where they met the local team in a contest last night. The alleys there are not in good shape and the boys were at a considerable disadvantage. Thomas was taken sick and was unable to roll the last frame, his place being filled by Will Roby. The score:

WARSAW.
Hatfield	136	130	112	378
Hankinson	153	128	104	385
Conrad	138	143	94	375
Hass	131	134	125	390
Oplinger	153	112	154	419
Totals	711	647	589	1947
AUBURN.
Cantelbury	157	111	150	418
Dierstein	128	135	124	387
Richards	167	142	129	438
Ames	125	191	101	417
Thomas	105	106	.....	211
Roby	...	...	103	103
Totals	682	685	607	1974

—See the Shape:—Fox,s "Forex" Butter Crackers are not shaped like other crackers. They are sweet and nutty. The fresh flavor of delicious sound wheat is distinctly noticed in "Forex." Get them and you get complete cracker satisfaction.

—Subscribe for the COURIER.

Dr. Humphreys'

Specifics act directly upon the disease, without exciting disorder in other parts of the system. They Cure the Sick.

NO. CURES.	PRICES.
1—Fevers, Congestions, Inflammations.	.25
2—Worms, Worm Fever, Worm Colic...	.25
3—Teething, Colic, Crying, Wakefulness	.25
4—Diarrhea, of Children or Adults	.25
7—Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis	.25
8—Neuralgia, Toothache, Faceache	.25
9—Headache, Sick Headache, Vertigo	.25
10—Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Weak Stomach	.25
11—Suppressed or Painful Periods	.25
12—Whites, Too Profuse Periods	.25
13—Croup, Laryngitis, Hoarseness	.25
14—Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Eruptions	.25
15—Rheumatism, Rheumatic Pains	.25
16—Malaria, Chills, Fever and Ague	.25
19—Catarrh, Influenza, Cold in the Head	.25
20—Whooping-Cough	.25
27—Kidney Diseases	.25
28—Nervous Debility	1.00
30—Urinary Weakness, Wetting Bed	.25
77—Grip, Hay Fever	.25

Dr. Humphreys' Manual of all Diseases at your Druggists or Mailed Free.
Sold by druggists, or sent on receipt of price. Humphreys' Med. Co., Cor. William & John Sts., New York.

William's Kidney Pills

Has no equal in diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs. Have you neglected your Kidneys? Have you overworked your nervous system and caused trouble with your Kidneys and Bladder? Have you pains in the loins, side, back, groins and bladder? Have you a flabby appearance of the face, especially under the eyes? Too frequent desire pass urine? William's Kidney Pills will impart new life to the diseased organs, tone up the system and make a new man of you. By mail 50 cents per box.
WILLIAMS MFG. CO., Props., Cleveland, O.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Home of Swamp-Root.

ST. JOE.

Will Everett has a job in Elkhart.

Marshal Hadsell had business at the Hub on Saturday.

L. S. Saylor of Ashley was in town Friday of last week.

J. Y. Davis and Grady Woodcox had business in commissioners court Friday of last week.

Our old friend John Boots was in town Saturday. He was visiting with the family of J. W. Dills.

Clyde Woodcox returned to Garrett Sunday and will resume his work as conductor for the B. & O.

Five car loads of hogs, three of sheep, four of hay, one of potatoes and two of oats is not a bad showing for our end of the town.

Mrs. Belle Woodcox has been at the home of her parents, A. B. Filley, for the past few days, sick. She returned to her home in Newville Saturday evening.

We are to have a handle factory in St. Joe. Land has been purchased and foundation blocks set for a building 30x80. We hope it will not pan out like the shoe factory and canning factory.

Col. Copeland, who lectured at the Lutheran church Saturday night, has come and gone. It is said upon good authority that he used some pretty big words and still louder gestures when the railroad people refused to stop No. 14 and take him aboard.

We see by the Daily papers that the 34th Infantry has had a big fight in our Island possessions. That reminds us that one of our Concord boys is in that regiment and was undoubtedly in the fight. He is the son of H. Callender, living north of Concord.

A new sidewalk has been completed in front of the Zern property which is a great convenience for the people going to the station. If the News would only hurry up with that brick walk they told us about a few weeks ago, some people would arise and call them bleesed.

—About ten days until Christmas Don't wait until the last minute to select your Christmas gifts; buy while we have a big stock from which to select. —G. H. YESBERA, Auburn.

LIVERITA
THE UP-TO-DATE
LITTLE LIVER PILL
CURES
Biliousness, Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sick-Headache and Liver Complaint.
SUGAR COATED.
40 PILLS LIVERITA 10 CENTS
100 PILLS 25 CTS.
Sold by all druggists or sent by mail.
Laverita Medical Co., Chicago

Davenport, The Druggist.

Hand Painted Medallion Free!

A HAND PAINTED 3¼ Medallion of yourself, will be given with each dozen platino cabinet pictures This is a special offer, call early.

Pictures on Handkerchiefs

Postal Cards, etc. We can please you in any kind of photographic work.

Lybarger The Photographer,
N. Main St.,
AUBURN, IND.

Give Presents That Wear

For Christmas Gifts.

All our goods are WARRANTED both in PRICE and QUALITY. The Most Complete Line of Goods Ever Shown in Aubu.n.

Call and See Them

D. A. Hodge,
Auburn's Jeweler.

Our Specialties!

Men's Fine Shoes!

Ladies' Fine Shoes!

We are giving the people of Auburn and vicinity better shoes for their money than they ever bought before, and judging by our increasing business, the people are begining to appreciate it.

HERE IS THE WHOLE SECRET IN A NUT SHELL.

We buy our goods direct from the manufacturer, which saves the jobber's profit. We can buy our goods for Spot Cash, which saves you the discount between 90 days credit and 10 days Spot Cash. Think this over as a business proposition.

Your Shoemakers,
BISHOP & BEIDLER,

Now Is the Time

TO BUY a

Wilson Heating and Ventilating Machine

They are the Greatest of all Modern Scientific Inventions.

They Save Fuel,
Will Burn Anything,
Perfectly Safe & Clean

Will Hold Fire and are Easily Regulated. We sold Eighty Nine of them last winter, and as far as we know they are all giving good satisfaction. They are moderate in price and within the reach of all.

Buy none but the genuine Wilson and you will be both pleased and satisfied.

SOLD ONLY BY

Culbertson & Boland,

Colic and Diarrhoea.

Cured and corrected by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This remedy restores the natural action of the stomach and bowels, and is better than a remedy that checks, but does not correct the conditions. Sold and recommended by H. B. McCord.

PILES Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment will cure Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles. It absorbs the tumors, allays the itching at once, acts as a poultice, gives instant relief. Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment is prepared for Piles and Itching of the private parts. Every box is warranted. By druggists, by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents and $1.00. WILLIAMS MANUFACTURING CO., Props., Cleveland, Ohio.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

SUPPLEMENT TO

AUBURN WEEKLY COURIER.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF DeKALB COUNTY

JAMES A. BARNS, Editor.

Registered at the Auburn, Indiana, postoffice as second-class matter.

THURSDAY....DECEMBER 14, 1899.

POWER OF AUTHORITY.

Lack of Respect for It Causes Many Political Crimes.

The authority of the state is as sacred in its own place as the authority of the home, and that nation which above all personal and individual rights holds the law of the land and the government of the nation in the highest esteem is the nation which will insure its final prosperity. And yet there are those, and they are not in small number, in this and other lands, who rebel against the constituted authority of their government, and at the same time consider themselves good citizens. European rulers have been assassinated, two attempts have been made upon the life of England's queen, and in our country Presidents Lincoln and Garfield were foully murdered. And what was the primary cause of these terrible tragedies? Nothing more nor less than lack of respect for constituted authority. And there are those today who, while perhaps they will not resort to such deeds of violence, nevertheless have a hatred of the government of the nation, because, forsooth, the political party which they favor does not happen to be in power. With such people, no matter what the chief executive of the nation does, it is wrong. No matter how carefully political affairs, the affairs of the nation, are planned and managed, the whole government in their opinion (anything but a humble opinion, by the way) consists of a set of thieves, robbers, money-grabbers and the like, who are only at the seat of government with the one intention of seeing what they can make out of their term of office. In some cases this may be more or less true; but if it is, it certainly does not excuse any loyal and patriotic citizen of this great republic from being bound to pay his meed of homage and respect for the constituted authority of the government of his country.—Donohoe's Magazine.

British Coastguards.

There are 4,200 coastguards stationed round the shores of Great Britain and Ireland, and they form the finest and most highly trained reserve force for the navy in case of war. When the ranks of Britain's Jack Tars are thinned by the enemy's shots in the next great naval war, it is the coastguards who will be called upon to fill their places. Every coastguard is a naval seaman of at least nine years' standing, who knows pretty well all that there is to be known about navigation, gunnery and torpedoes before he has the option of retiring from the roving life of a sailor and settling down ashore with his wife and family. The drill of these land sailors is kept efficient by continual exercise.

Electricity and Foliage.

An extraordinary phenomenon has been noticed with regard to the chestnut trees in the Avenue Louise, Brussels, since the installation of the electrical trams. Their foliage begins to turn brown and drop early in August, to bud, and even to blossom, again in October. The trees on the opposite side to the tramway behave like ordinary trees, for they lose their foliage in the late autumn and do not put forth fresh blossoms until the spring. Botanists are inclined to believe that the cause of this singular state of things is due to the electrical current which passes underground, acting upon the roots of the trees, which are otherwise quite healthy.

Proper Quantity of Food.

Dr. Pavy, one of the most eminent authorities upon diet, says that the average man in a state of absolute rest can live on sixteen ounces of food a day, a man doing ordinary light work can live on twenty-five ounces, and a man doing laborious work needs from twenty-six to thirty ounces. This is food absolutely free from water, and it must be remembered that everything we eat contains more or less water, so that from forty-eight to sixty ounces of ordinary food are necessary according to the work in which a man is engaged.

For Damp Cupboards.

Damp cupboards and rooms can be made dry and airy by placing a basin of fresh lime where the moisture penetrates to the detriment of food, linen, etc. The lime quickly absorbs the unwholesome humidity, and the remedy need only be repeated every now and then. In living rooms which are not to be depended upon as being dry as would be desirable it is advisable to place saucers containing salt under sofas, etc. This will absorb the moisture in a wonderful manner. If thoroughly dried, the salt can be used again for the same purpose.

To Utilize Coal Dust.

Householders who find that they have been supplied with an undue proportion of dust with their coal may thus utilize it: Take three or four handfuls of common washing soda and, having well wetted a bushel of coal dust, thoroughly mix the soda with it. Let it partly dry, and it will answer excellently for burning when a slow fire is required.

Dwarf Elephants Found There.

The island of Malta is the only known spot where the remains of dwarf elephants are found. One of these, whose teeth and bones showed it to be fully grown, was less than two and a half feet in height, and could not have weighed over 600 pounds when in flesh.

Soldiers' Handkerchiefs.

Russian soldiers are supplied with handkerchiefs at the expense of the government.

CHINESE CLOTHING.

By No Means of the Common Blue Cloth They Look to Be.

To wear your grandfather's coat would not seem much of an honor, but to John Chinaman it is the greatest felicity. Not only is the common-looking, shapeless blue blouse of his ancestor prized because it is his ancestor's, but because of its intrinsic value. The clothing usually worn by the Chinese is of the purest silk, and costs anywhere from $100 to $250 a suit. As a nation the Chinese object to wearing clothing of any other kind, and centuries of experiment have taught them how best to make up the costly caterpillar thread into the most durable form. On this account the Chinese dress, though of purer material, has none of the sheen usually associated with silk, a peculiarity which has resulted in the erroneous ideas as to their composition. All the garments are made in China, and are only exported for the personal use of Celestials in foreign countries. Owing to their cost, however, they are only purchased at long intervals, each garment being of so durable a character that they are handed down to the third and even the fourth generation. Wear appears to rather improve them than otherwise, with the result that the coat of the father or grandfather often has more intrinsic value than the newer and less worn articles. Another article peculiar to the Chinese is the felt slippers they invariably wear. These are of peculiar shape, and are also imported from the native country, where the method of treating felt until it almost rivals leather for wear is kept a close secret.

Monkeys Hard to Teach.

An experienced animal trainer says: "As a rule monkeys are readily trained, but occasionally there is one, as in the human species, who is a dunce and won't learn anything, is positively stupid, and refuses persistently to become educated. The trouble in teaching monkeys is largely that they are mischevious. They try to overdo things and do things which are not wanted of them; so that in order to make them perform as desired steady drilling is necessary, although they grasp an idea quickly. The only two species of animals which can be taught by precept and example are the chimpanzee and the orang-outang. They are imitators, and to instruct them in doing a thing it is only necessary for the trainer to do it first himself and then either one of these will imitate him."

Overrun by Pirates.

San Francisco Correspondence of the Chicago Record: According to Canton advices received here by steamer, piracy in Kwangtung has reached alarming proportions. At Muhowkeng, a village near Hoching, there is a big nest of pirates whose numbers are swelled by desperate lepers. These men levy blackmail on every junk going to or returning from Canton. The pirates have arranged a regular schedule which must be paid, or the cargo and boat are sold. At Mongchow are 4,000 robbers who are members of the dreaded Triad society. They recently held up two riceboats. One paid $300 blackmail, but the other refused, when the rice was seized and sold in the open market.

Wax for Floors.

The best wax for hardwood floors is a preparation of turpentine and beeswax, properly melted together. The chief mistake that amateurs make is to apply this wax too generously. An expert in this matter says that a pound of wax ought to cover 300 feet of surface. After the wax is applied and rubbed in with a weighted brush it should be allowed to stand for a while and a second coat applied before the floor is used.

The Princess Engaletcheff.

Among the American women who have married titled Europeans, the Princess Engaletcheff, who was Miss Evelyn Partridge, a Chicago belle, is one of the most accomplished, and her attractive personality wins admiration from all who are favored by her acquaintance. Much of her life has been spent in Europe, and it was there that she met the prince, who was formerly a member of the Imperial guard at St. Petersburg.

Speculating on Winter.

The coming winter, judging by the goose bone, will be cold at times. The sun will shine, however, on pleasant days, but when it is stormy, snow may be confidently looked for. Ice will certainly form by Christmas, and the worst of the season will be over by March 31, 1900. Paste this prediction where you can read and verify it later. —Minneapolis Journal.

Adulterate It Themselves.

A process has been invented and patented in Brazil for preparing coffee in tabloids by a system of compression. It is argued that not only will there be less expense in exporting coffee in this form, but that the customer will be more certain of thus receiving for his use the pure, unadulterated article.

A Gorgeous Bicycle.

A gorgeous bicycle has just been sent from France to an Indian rajah, the parts which on an ordinary machine are nickel plated being made of gold. Even the spokes are cased with gold, while the gold-cased rims are studded alternately with turquoises and rubies. A scarlet cloth held down with jewels covers the saddle.

Lightning's Curious Wounds.

Curious wounds were made by lightning strokes on residents of Berlin. none of the wounded has extensive burns; the wounds look as if caused by a charge of grain shot. The holes reach to the bone, and are surrounded by a web of blue and brown lines.

Telephones in Stockholm.

Stockholm has more telephones than any other European city. It is stated that the central station has about 100,000 calls a day, or about one for every three persons in the city.

Georgia Convict Labor.

There is a boom in Georgia convict labor. Jim Smith, the well-known convict lessee, has sold his good-will to James W. English, Jr., of Atlanta. While the price he received for his convicts is not given out, it is known that he sold out his holdings at a handsome profit. Recently there has been a strong demand for state convicts, and the lessees under the new system are anxious to get all the men that they can, even at advanced prices. The activity in the coal, iron and lumber markets causes a big demand for this class of labor, which it is generally understood is the very best that can be had, due to the fact that a lessee gets six days' full time out of his convicts every week, rain or shine. This makes them valuable and will continue to keep them so.—New York Tribune.

UNCLE SAM'S

Methods of Guarding Vaults of the United States Treasury.

Washington Special Chicago Tribune: Frequently remarks are heard as to how easy it would be for a handful of determined desperadoes to make away with a rich haul of gold and silver as it is being transferred to or from the vaults of the treasury on one of the business thoroughfares of this city. At any hour of the day a curious crowd can be seen standing about the heavy platform at the Fifteenth street entrance to the treasury, upon which small iron safes containing money are being placed in transferring currency to and from the treasury. Speculation is always indulged in and plans formulated for making away with a large amount of Uncle Sam's gold. Those who indulge in this wild speculation are not aware of the danger which would attend such an undertaking. In the first place, it requires at least three men to handle each safe, and it would be almost an impossibility to wrest these treasure-laden boxes from those who have charge of them. Even if this should be done, the robbers would not be able to get away with the booty, as within an incredibly short time a number of government employes armed to the teeth would be on the spot. It is not generally known, but inquiry developed the fact that the seedy men who loiter around with no apparent aim in life are expert marksmen. These men can shoot equally well with either hand, and would furnish highly entertaining sport for any one who should attempt to rob Uncle Sam. They are employed by the government at a good salary. Aside from these expert marksmen at the main entrance of the building will be found a number of watchmen, each of whom is provided with a rifle. Secreted in one of the rooms are two gatling guns, and it would require but a short time to bring all these arms into play. To the layman it would seem to be an apparently easy matter to steal some of the government's funds, but it is safe to say a number of lives would be forfeited if such a foolhardy attempt were made.

The Youthful Conscience.

One day, says a writer in the Boston Transcript, the mother of a 10-year-old boy gave him two slices of buttered bread, telling him to give one of them to his little sister. He carried out the order. That night when he went to bed he was evidently disturbed in his mind and remorseful about something, and his mother questioned him in a way to bring out the truth. "I—I wasn't nice to Peggy about that bread and butter," he owned. "Why?" asked his mother; "did you take the bigger piece?" "No," he answered. "Hers was a little bigger than my piece was, but mine was a good deal butterer!"

Youngest Officer in the World.

Without doubt the youngest officer in the world is the son of the Turkish consul general in Taurus, Persia. He is only two and a half years old. A short time ago the wife of the Turkish plenipotentiary obtained an audience with the crown princess of Persia, and, as is the custom of the country, brought along her youngest son. The princess and her spouse busied themselves with the little boy, and the prince took such an interest in him that he made him an officer in the Persian army, and himself fastened the insignia of rank on the boy's breast.

Big Klondike Nugget.

The largest pure gold nugget found up to date in the Yukon fields was turned up on No. 34 Eldorado. It was found by Peter Gorat, a veteran miner, 80 years of age. It weighs six pounds and eight and one-half pennyweights. The gold in it is worth exactly $1,148. It is a beautiful piece of pure gold, and its lucky finder sold it for $2,500, as a specimen. A larger piece of gold has been found, but it was mixed with quartz. It was worth $1,800 and was unearthed last spring.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Largest Moose Head Known.

A moose head whose antlers measure from tip to tip six feet and one-half inch, a head on which from tip to tip a board could be placed, the tallest of men lie down and not be too tall for the length of it—in fact, the largest moose head in the world—is the property of W. F. Sheard of Tacoma, Wash. It has forty prongs, and its immense fan-like antlers are enormous in their width as well as in height. The marvel is that any neck could have carried such a burden.—New York Tribune.

Queen's Horses Face Motor.

A curious scene took place at the royal mews, Windsor, the other day. In order to test the royal horses again in the presence of motor cars several of these new vehicles were run up and down in front of the horses. The gallant steeds did not take fright, but more the trial with admirable fortitude and composure. It was noticeable that those which showed any nervousness were not the best-bred horses of the collection.

Richest People.

The Osages are probably the richest people per capita in the world. Each one of them, man, woman and child, has 900 acres of good land and receives $50 from the government four times a year.

FIRST RAILROAD IN CHINA.

Went Around the Towns Instead of Through Them.

Mr. Wu, the present Chinese minister at Washington, has many amusing stories to tell of the first railroad ever built in the celestial kingdom, which was constructed under his supervision in the province of Tong Chong, where Li Hung Chang reigned as viceroy, says the Saturday Evening Post. Curiously enough, this road was built without the consent of the emperor, without his knowledge even, the projectors realizing that they must educate their countrymen, from the highest to the lowest, by an object lesson. The road once in operation, they argued, the people, understanding it was a wonderful servant of commerce, and not a great devil; that it carried freight better and quicker than the old-fashioned way, and would bind the uttermost parts of their kingdom together, would no longer oppose it. Its establishment, however was missionary work of a different character, even to so sagacious a diplomat as Mr. Wu, and, though he succeeded in overcoming the prejudice to a certain extent, he failed utterly to gain consent that the road should run through the towns and villages that marked its route. "No, no," said the leading men of those places; "build your road if you must, but keep it away from us—the farther the better." "Well, well," said Wu, "have it as you will. We will run our road at a distance from your limits, but you will regret it for all time; and when you realize what serious harm you have done to your own interests don't come and insist upon our moving the road nearer your borders." The railroad was hardly in operation before the men who had opposed it besought him to change its route that it might come by their towns and cities; but the management was obdurate, and Tong Chung received a most wholesome lesson.

Earthquakes.

Some years ago Commander Morrison, an officer of the British navy, who foretold from the stars the civil war in this country, formulated the following rules for predicting earthquakes. These conditions are about to be fulfilled, and according to him we may look for mother earth to become restless. 1. Earthquakes generally follow close on the heels of eclipses. 2. At the time of the earthquake many aspects will be found between the planets in the heavens; also as regards the places of the planets at the previous eclipse. 3. Earthquakes generally happen when there are several planets on or near the tropics or equator. 4. Earthquakes happen more frequently when there are planets, especially Uranus, Saturn, Jupiter or Mars, in the sign Taurus or Scorpio.

How Quickly We Can Think.

Prof. Richet, in his lecture on "Nerve Vibrations," said that the rate of transmission of nerve impulses could not be more than ten or twelve times a second. Prof. Richet states that if one tried to think a set of words in succession he could never pass that speed, and could not receive a more rapid succession of sensations on the same organ. This period, then, might be called the psychological "unit of time." If the rapidity were greater, sound, electricity, and light would be perceived as independent undulations, not continuous sensations; were it slower, one would see the motion of the hour hand of a watch and the growth of a tree.

Prairie-Dogs and Rattle-Snakes.

A writer in Forest and Stream describes a victory which he saw gained over a rattlesnake by the inhabitants of a prairie-dog village in the Indian territory. The ugly invader crawled into one of the dog holes, whereupon fifteen or twenty dogs gathered about the place and began to push dirt into the hole. The snake stuck its head up through the dirt, and the dogs took to flight; but the moment the snake entered another hole they flocked about it again, and this time pushed in the dirt so rapidly that the rattler was effectively entrapped. Then the dogs tamped the dirt down hard with their noses, and left the snake to suffocate.

Foreign Parcels Post.

Washington Special New York Times: In spite of the frequent publication in the newspapers of the fact that a parcels post convention has been concluded between the United States and Germany, and has gone into effect, the people of the United States remain in ignorance of it. At least, so says Superintendent Brooks of the foreign mail service. Twenty-eight parcels were sent from the United States to Germany Oct. 1, the day the convention went into effect, and seven from Germany to this country. Capt. Brooks says he thinks Americans will awaken to their new privilege before long and that there will be general use of the mails for exchange of parcels.

Drinkers of Wine.

The British consumption of wine per head of population is not half a gallon. The French, being wine-makers, naturally drink more of the beverage of their own country—twenty-nine and one-half gallons per head. The Germans, also wine-makers, but on a comparatively small scale, drink a little over a gallon per head. Germany consumes nearly two gallons of spirits per head, and the United Kingdom only one. Belgium is the biggest consumer of spirits per head, the consumption there being a trifle higher than in Germany.

New Danger to Boilers.

A singular and unexpected source of danger was lately discovered on a French boiler. The top of this was covered with sand and a tiny steam jet escaping around a rivet set some of the particles in motion, creating a novel sand blast that was rapidly cutting a hole through the shell of the boiler when the leak was fortunately detected.

Fatal Mining Accidents.

Fewer deaths are caused by mining accidents now than in 1855, although at the present time there are two and a half times as many people employed underground.

To Shock Howell Wells.

An electric heater has been devised which, it is hoped, will make used up oil wells as good as new. The common theory of exhaustion of wells is that the oil in passing upward has so clogged the porous stone with paraffine that further flow is stopped. Some think that it is because the supply in the earth has given out, but the generally accepted idea is that the oil is still in abundance. The stone through which the oil passes is of a porous nature, and as the liquid is in a crude state the dregs settle in the rock. It has been common to use torpedoes to shatter the stone, thus breaking up the clogged matter, but this is expensive. The new electric heater melts out the paraffine.

VICTIM OF HIS OWN JOKE.

Some Buzzard Eggs Which Reached a Wrong Destination.

This is a true story of Sheriff Brookshire of Williamson county, Texas, and what came of his efforts to play a practical joke on his wife. Sheriff Brookshire is full of good nature, and the love of fun is his predominant characteristic. To get the laugh on a friend is to him the next best thing to rounding up a band of horse thieves. He is owner of a good-sized ranch, and while working out in a pasture near his home some time since came across a buzzard's nest, in which reposed four as handsome snow-white eggs as the eye of man ever looked upon. The discovery of these eggs immediately set him to thinking of a little game that he would play upon his faithful spouse. Wrapping them up with care he bore them to his house, intending to tell Mrs. Brookshire that he had been presented with some uncommonly fine egs from a fancy breed of chickens, and that it was the proper thing to put them under one of her setting hens immediately. He knew how fond she was of having choice specimens of the feathered tribe, and shook with laughter as he pictured her disgust when these young buzzards should be hatched out. Revolving these merry thoughts, he went into the kitchen to make the presentation. It happened that his wife was not there, and he placed them on a table, intending to call her attention to them later. Just at this time he was called out of his domicile on very important business, and the matter was of consequence enough to drive all thoughts of the joke out of his head. He stayed away a couple of hours and when he reached home supper was ready. Being rather hungry from his tramp in the pasture, the sheriff sat down to the table and ate with good relish the viands before him. Suddenly the recollection of his find flashed across his mind. "My dear," said he, "when I left the house awhile ago I put some eggs on the table yonder. Did you get them?" "I certainly did, and you have just eaten them for your supper," quoth Mrs. Brookshire. "Why, what on earth ails you?" as the sheriff clapped both hands about the middle of his corporosity and rushed for the open air. She thought, maybe, that he had been suddenly seized with a fit of some kind, and followed to render assistance. It took him several hours to recover, but he has utterly renounced practical joking.—Washington Post.

Sues for Seasickness.

Chicago Inter Ocean: Mrs. Sarah L. Ungerman, who has filed a suit against the Hamburg-American Steamship company for damages for seasickness, is from Missouri. She says she paid for a comfortable trip on the steamship across the ocean, but she didn't get it. She estimates the damage to her health, comfort and dignity at $5,000. Mrs. Ungerman is specific in her charges. She says she was guaranteed four good meals a day aboard the steamer going to Europe, but on account of the peculiar antics of the ship in trying to find the bottom with her nose and stand on her stern, she was unable to eat, and the display of fare was tantalizing. Insult was added to injury, she says, when, in the midst of her suffering, the captain prescribed salt pork as a remedy. Steamship managers are said to be worrying over the suit, as an adverse decision would establish a very dangerous precedent, and would probably result in driving them out of business.

Gypsy Cleverness.

Some clever Romanys have outwitted the city authorities of Milwaukee. That city has an ordinance prohibiting fortune-telling. For some the roving bands of gypsies have settled just over the city line, and there the women of the bands have waited for the credulous who wished a peep into the future. But the dollars came slowly this way, and the wits of the gypsies were taxed to overcome the obstacle of transportation. They solved the problem by engaging a room in the city and installing a long-distance telephone. Word was quietly passed around, and soon there was a steady stream of patronage.—New York Post.

European Bison.

It is not generally known that there is still living in Europe a large herd of European bison—larger, probably, than the herd of American bison which roams Yellowstone park. These rare animals are preserved by the czar of Russia in the imperial forest of Bielovege, in Lithuania, and number something like 700. Fourteen men have been sent to Siberia within the last three years for the offense of killing scattering animals.

Amazing Longevity.

Instances of amazing longevity are by no means uncommon in Russia, but the case of the brothers Kovalenko, aged respectively 112, 118 and 120 years, is certainly very remarkable even for that country. The three brothers have lived in the same place all their lives, and are still strong and healthy. The eldest, Michael, is of the same age as was Moses at his "passing," and of him, as of that old world worthy, it can be truly said that "his eye is not dimmed nor his natural force abated." The ages are perfectly authentic, for the Russians always have their papers, in which the date of their birth is officially entered, and without which they cannot reside in any part of the empire.

Peter Kuntz, Pres., Chicago;
W. H. Keckler, Treas., Auburn.

The Auburn LUMBER CO.

Central 'Phone No. 12.

We sell all kinds of Lumber for Building, and Make Window and Door Frames to Order. We can Sell you Doors and Windows and SAVE YOU MONEY. We carry all kinds of Shingles.

Headquarters for.....

Wood Burnt Bulk Lime.

The Genuine Article

We can SAVE YOU MONEY in PRICE, WEIGHT & QUALITY Come and see us and examine our Lime, and you will be convinced. We also carry Cement, Plastering Hair, Plaster Paris, etc.

Auburn Lumber Co.
Near Wabash Depot. AUBURN.

ROBES!

BLANKETS..

BISHOP FUR ROBES,
CHASE PLUSH ROBES,
5A HORSE BLANKETS,

....These are the best goods the market affords. If you want Bargains, want to Save Money on these goods, come and see us.

HARNESS,—light and heavy, Hand-Made, Large Stock to select from, Quality of Stock, Workmanship and Price not excelled by any other.

Collars, Felt Goods, Whips, Harness Oil and Dressings.

Horse and Cattle Powders, Guaranteed Oil Cake, and Ground Flax Seed, Poultry Powders, Guaranteed Oyster Shell cheaper than you ever bought it before.

We solicit a share of your trade. Your harness repairing done neatly and promptly.

Eberle & Freygang,
South Side Public Square

Junk Wanted

Please save your money. Don't forget to bring all your junk to H. Greenberg, three blocks north of M. E. church in Auburn, who pays

Best Cash Prices

for rags, rubber, copper, brass, zinc, lead, scrap iron and all kinds of hides and furs. Also buys and sells second-hand material, stoves and furnaces, etc. Persons having second-hand material to buy or sell, it will be to their interest to see H. Greenberg.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Safe. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse dangerous substitutions and imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists.

CHICHESTER CHEMICAL CO.
2100 Madison Square, PHILA., PA.
Mention this paper.

Chased by a Ball of Fire.

A member of a Swiss scientific society thus tells how he was chased by a ball of fire: "At 6:30 o'clock I drove from Versoix to Genthoud. On the Malagny road the coachman's eyes became so much fatigued by intense lightning that he couldn't, even in the intervals, see the road. I stepped onto the box and took the reins. We had barely passed the gate of Dr. Marcet when I became conscious of a bright and lasting luminosity behind me. I turned around and saw at a distance of 300 yards a ball of fire of about sixteen inches diameter. Just as the ball was about seventy-five feet to our right it burst with a terrific noise, and it seemed as if lines of fire started from it. We felt a violent shaking and remained blinded a few seconds. Then I saw that the horses had turned at a right angle to the carriage, with their chests in the hedge, with drooping ears and signs of great terror."

Nobody Wants It.

There now remains only one people and one little valley south of the equator whose sovereignty has not been claimed by some European power. It is the valley of Barotse, fifty or sixty miles wide, north of Lialui, in South Africa.

WABASH

GOING EAST.

No. 2	6:25 am—Daily
No. 8	8:34 am—Daily
No. 4	4:59 pm—Daily
No. 70 (local freight)	2:05 pm—ex Su
No. 96	11:35 am—ex Su
No. 98	8:30 pm—ex Su

GOING WEST.

No. 1	10:21 am—Daily
No. 9	5:38 am—Daily
No. 3	7:48 pm—Daily
No. 71 (local freight)	9:15 am—ex Su
No. 95	6:02 pm—ex Su
No 97	7:52 am—ex Su

Nos. 8 and 9 do not stop at Auburn, but No. 9 stops at the Junction.

All these trains stop for passengers. For rates, tickets, time tables, etc. apply to I. M. ZENT, Agent, Auburn, Ind
Chas. M. Hays, V. Pres. and Gen'l Manager.
G. S. Crane, Gen'l Pass'r and Ticket Agent

L. S. & M. S. R. R.

TIME TABLE—in Effect Nov. 19 1899.

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

Stations	Mail	Exp'ss	Fre'gt
Fort Wayne	11 45 am	4 40 pm	5 55 am
New Era	12 13 pm	5 08	6 40
Auburn Junction	12 25	5 21	7 10
Auburn	12 29	5 25	7 35
Waterloo	12 41	5 36	8 15
Summit	12 51	5 46	8 35
Steubenville	12 54	5 49
Pleasant Lake	1 05	6 04	8 50
Angola	1 15	6 16	9 05
Jackson	3 25	8 35	2 40

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

Stations	Fre'gt	Exp'ss	Mail
Jackson dp	5 55 am	11 45 am	7 05 am
Angola	11 00	2 10 pm	9 16
Pleasant Lake	11 35	2 29	9 26
Steubenville		2 38	9 37
Summit	11 50	2 39	9 53
Waterloo	12 41 pm	2 55	9 48
Auburn	1 20	3 06	9 58
Auburn Junction	1 35	3 06	10 03
New Era	1 54	3 18	10 13
Fort Wayne	2 50	3 50	10 50

For rates on tickets or freight to all points call on or address E. T. DeLAPP, Agent Auburn.

B. & O. R. R.

Schedule In Effect Nov. 22 '98
Leaves Auburn Junction.

WEST BOUND.

No. 3 Express, to Garrett only	8:53 p m
No. 5 Daily	4:30 a m
No. 7 Daily	4:17 p m
No. 17 Daily Except Sunday	12:22 p m
No. 47	1:05 a m

EAST BOUND

No. 4 Express	4:20 a m
No. 6 Daily	8:05 p m
No. 8 Daily	2:35 p m
No 14 Daily	11:17 p m
No 16, Daily, except Sunday	11:08 a m

Trains Nos. 16 and 17 are the only ones that top at Wawaseo.

F. D. UNDERWOOD, General Manager
O. B. MARTIN, Manager of Passenger Traffic.
G. H. YOUNG, Auburn Junction, Ind
Thos. H. Sprott Chas. H. Knapp

A Special Christmas Book.

The beautiful Christmas number of the Lake Shore Ry's "Book of Trains" will be ready to distribute about Dec. 20. Order at once if you want a copy. Contains a choice collection of poetry prose from favorite authors, also a charming short story of Christmas eve "The Third Vice-President's Special." Beautifully illustrated with halftones, etchings, crayon and pen and ink effects from original drawings, subjects especially sellected from the various texts.

Sent on receipt of four cents in postage by A. J. Smith, G. P. & T. A., Cleveland, O.

To Make Life Happy.

Sweet music appeals to the heart and soul and lightens many of life's burdens. If you have ever heard the sweet-toned Steger Piano you will appreciate this. To reach the highest standard of excellence has always been the aim in the manufacture of the celebrated Steger Piano. Only the best material is used, insuring great durability. Every piano fully guaranteed.

The Steger factories, thoroughly equipped with the best and most improved machinery, located at Steger, Ill., are among the largest in the West.

Intending purchasers will find it profitable to write for a full descriptive catalogue, which will be mailed free upon application. STEGER & Co., (Established 1879.) Chicago, Ill.

Tourist Sleeping Car Line.

PERSONALLY CONDUCTED TOURIST SLEEPING CAR LINE BETWEEN ST. LOUIS AND LOSANGELES, VIA THE WABASH AND ATCHISON, TOPEKA, & SANTA FE R'Y.

On November 1st the Wabash railroad in connection with the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway will inaugurate a through weekly tourist car line between St Louis and Los Angeles on Sundays at 8:28 a. m. Eeastbound car will leave Los Angeles on Monday at 9:50 a. m., arriving in St. Louis Thursday at 6:15 p. m.

Particulars will be gladly furnished on application.

Holiday Rates—Lake Shore Ry.

On December 23, 24, 25, 30 and 31, 1899, and Jan 1, 1900, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Ry. will sell excursion tickets to points on its line at reduced rates, good for return until January 2. Tickets will also be sold to points on some of immediate connecting lines. Full particulars from ticket agents. 51

No. 8751.—Gent's Large Antique Rocker.

Made of hard wood, with wood seat, has bolted arms, making it very strong.

Price, freight paid, anywhere in Indiana,

$1.25.

This is one of the many thousand of bargains I have to offer.

Send for Large Catalogue.

W. H. MESS[illegible] the gift of Mrs. [illegible] in memory [illegible]
201 E. Washington St., [illegible]
15, 16 & 17 S. Del. St.

BEST GOODS FOR LEAST Money

BAILER'S

CHEAPEST STORE in Northern Indiana

CLOTHING & SHOE STORE

3 DOORS NORTH FARMERS BANK.

A FEW SUGGESTIONS FOR THE CHRISTMAS BUYER

Men's Suits.

Men's all-wool Business Suits—cut in the newest styles of black, striped and checked patterns—all sizes in the lot—regular $9.00 and $10.00 values—an extraordinary offering $5.00

Men's Winter Suits—they are made from all-wool blue and black rough cheviots, and the most select patterns in fancy cassimeres and Scotch tweeds, also the brown and gray striped cheviots, in single and double breasted styles—they are the $15 qualities, choice $8.50

Mackintoshes and Rubber Coats.

$4.00 Cape Mackintosh in black or blue will go at this store for $2.25

$3.00 Rubber Coat, water proof, in any size. At this store for $2.00

Rubber Hats, sold everywhere for 50 and 75c, at this store 25c.

Men's Overcoats.

Just 250 Men's all-wool Beaver Overcoats—this is a splendid chance for men of moderate means—these coats are in blue, black and brown shades, and are cut in the newest styles—they were sold as high as $10, but we offer them for only $5.75

Men's Overcoats—the rough faced fabrics that are so universally worn this season, including all shades and colors in the Broadbrook Vicunas and Oxford Box Overcoats, they are extremely well tailored, with heavy body linings, French faced and Skinner's best grade satin sleeve linings, all with silk velvet collars, and $15 values, price .. $8.50

Men's Ulsters.

Men's Ulsters — Irish Frieze and Chinchilla, well tailored with heavy Italian and cloth linings. Regular $10 and $12 values for only $7.50

Bargains for the boys!

Boys' Ulsters—ages 14 to 19—extra heavy frieze, well-lined and finished, regular $5 and $6 qualities Only $2.95

Boy's Top Coats—ages from 3 to 12 Made of pure all-wool friezes, finished with French facing, lined with fancy worsted, $5 and $6 qualities 1.95

Boys' Winter Overcoats—ages 14 to 19 Made of black kersey, extra well-lined and tailored, real $6 and $7 values—only 3.95

Boys' 3-Piece Suits—ages 9 to 16, are made of pure all-wool cheviots and cassimeres—neat fancy mixtures; regular $5 and $6 values—pick them out at 2.95

Boys' Winter caps—polo and golf shapes—worth 50c 25c

Boys' Angora Toques—most any color you may desire—usually sold at 98c, only 45c

Boys' Winter Gloves and Mittens—plain and fancy patterns—40c values 25c

Boys' Knee Trousers Suits—2-garment style, ages 7 to 15, coat double-breasted style, pure all-wool cheviots, many of them double seats and knees; the best of $3.50 value $1.90

More Wet Weather Goods For Men.

$6.00 Box coat guaranteed to turn water. This can be used as a dress overcoat. At this store for $3

$10.00 all-wool Tricot, in grey or brown. This coat can be worn for warmth as well as rain. Price .. $4.50

Bargains for the boys!

Children's Vestee Suits—ages 3 to 10—neat, good wearing cassimeres and cheviots, small collars, some have button-up vests—the best of $3.50 value $1.75

300 Boys' Long Pants Suits—ages 14 to 19 years, sizes 30 to 35—pure all-wool smooth cassimeres, neat patterns, dark shades, extra well made and trimmed—regular $7.50 value—while they last 3.50

200 Boys' Winter Top Coats—ages 3 to 16—heavy brown melton, fancy check worsted, body lining, French faced—the best $6.00 overcoat 2.75

Boys' Reefers—ages 8 to 15—made from blue chinchilla, large storm collars, fancy worsted lined — $3.50 value 1.98

Boys' Knee Pants—all sizes except 11, 12 and 13—pure all-wool materials—best 50c and 75c values ever offered in this city 25c

Boys' Long Trousers—ages 14 to 19—300 pairs all-wool cheviots, good desirable patterns — regular $2.00 quality 98c

60 dozen Boys' Black Cotton Stockings—all sizes, 5½ to 10, warranted fast colors—the best 20c values to be found anywhere 7c

Boys' Double Band Golf Caps—made from pure all-wool blue and fancy cheviots, silk lined—regular 75c values 38c

Men's Pants.

Black Cheviot Pants, all sizes—thoroughly well-made, they ar $2 values $1.00

Striped Casimere Pants at just half price, light and darr, and a few mixtures in tweeds to chose from—positively $3.50 qualities for 2.00

Men's Odd Vests is the greatest value-giving event of the year....they are from $8 and $10 suits, sizes 34, 35, 39, 40 and 42, choice for 98c

SHIRTS & COLLARS

Madras and percales, fancy dress white laundred and unlaundered shirts, worth up to $1.50, all go for 50c

Turn-down or standing collars, all the latest styles, all sizes 10c

Bargains in Winter Haberdashery.

Men's Double-breasted Jersey Shirts—extra heavy fleece lined—dark blue and brown—worth $1.50—to be closed out at 50c

All our small lots of men's 50c, 75c and 90c Winter Underwear will be closed out in all sizes for the remarkably low price 25c

Men's Heavy all-wool Mufflers — in dark colors, with mercerized silk stripe, and worth 50c and 60c, at 50c

Men's Scotch and Jersey Gloves — heavy fleece lined—plain and fancy colors, worth 50c and 65c, at 25c

Men's Heavy Working Gloves—fleece lined—double sewed—calf or goat skin—worth 75c, at 50c

Men's String Ties—about 100 dozen to close out—worth 50c, at 25c

Shoe Bargains.

Men's genuine Box Calf shoes in winter tan and black, heavy double sole and London toes, reduced from $2.50 $1.75

Broken lines of Ladies Durable Shoes, French vici kid and Box calf—lace styles, reduced from $2.00 to 1.25

HOWARD ALPINE.

Boys' and Youths' School Shoes, broken sizes of our regular $1.50 winter shoes reduced to $1

Ladies' Cloth Alaska Overshoes—just the thing for cold and snowy weather, reduced from $1 to only. 40c

More Bargains Too

Hats and Caps.

Derby and Fedora Hats—the latest styles—regular $1.00, $2.00 and $2.50 values at .. $1.00

Men's Solid Plush Caps in Brighton shapes, full double band and heavy satin lined, worth $1.00 for 50c

About 200 Men's all-wool cloth Caps—double band, Golf and Brighton shapes — silk lined and worth 50c for 25c

Felt and Rubber Boots and Shoes.

Men's Rhode Island Felts and Rubbers, a regular $2.50 value, we sell at only $1.75

Buying these goods direct from the manufacturers enables us to undersell all competitors. Men's Rubber Boots, lined or unlined $2.60

Men's Arctic Overshoes worth $1.50 for only $1.00

Men's Candee or Goodyear Glove Felts and Rubbers, snag proof, regular $3.00 value for only $2.25

J. BAILER'S STORE

Headquarters for Clothing and Shoes,

3 Doors North Farmers Bank, AUBURN and FT. WAYNE

the route has departure is m
praise and support.

Purchases made for holiday gifts will be laid aside until called for, provided a small deposit is made at the time of selection.

G. W. LACKEY

We advise all that can possibly do so to shop in the morning—the earlier the better. The crowds are not so large in the morning and we can give you better service.

North Main Street, Auburn, Indiana.

Bargain Carnival at the Big Store.

A grand assortment of useful articles found in every department. No matter where you turn in this commodious store there is brightness and suggestive holiday thought. It is just such a store that is ready under all circumstances to cater to the welfare and comfort of its patrons. THE BEST STORE because of BEST MERCHANDISE at all times. Merchandise methods that are best planned to please the people.

Dress Goods for Presents.

Gifts like dress goods brighten friendship and strengthen the ties of kinship. Our vast collection responds freely and promptly to your every wish. Stuffs for the street, traveling, dinner and reception are here in an abundance—all colors, most all weaves—easy to choose, easy to pay.

Camel Hair Homespuns—the season's roster holds nothing more highly favored. We have them in black, royal blue, grey, steele, etc., 54-inch goods and worth fully $1.00 per yard. Our price, on a bargain basis, 65c.

Beautiful black and colored Crepons are here in almost endless variety. We start them as low as 50c and up to $2.00 yd.

Plaids, in all the various combinations, in the heavy and light weights—very popular this season, from 25c to $1.00 per yd.

Skirt lengths have been made from whole or cut pieces of Plaids, Venitions, Camel Hair, and a variety of Novelties; so with plain goods, so with black. Only Christmas special efforts can account for the remarkable figures at which you buy these patterns.

Silk & Wool Waists for Presents.

Rare plums among the silk waists—Saint Nicholas knows it and will do his choosing accordingly. The stock shows we haven't been dosing. Been cudgeling our brain and straining our energy for months in order to say, "Ready" when December dawned. That's the word now and it means more than it ever did before.

Waists made of fine heavy Taffeta Silk, front and back trimmed with clusters of cords, corded stock collar, $6.00 quality; our price $4.98.

Waists made of Taffeta, in Cardinal, Pink, Lavender and Navy, good values at $4.50; our price $2.98.

Assibet Flannel Waists, lined throughout, regular $2.00 quality. Our Price $1.25.

Twilled French Flannel Waists, back and front tucked or braided, $2.50 quality; our price $1 50.

Mercerized Waists in black; look as well and will out wear silk, worth $2.00; our price $1.50.

Better goods of Mercerized Waists, in Black and Colors, all sizes, at 2.00 to $2.50.

DRESSING SACQUES.

Eiderdown Dressing Sacques, in Cardinal, Light Blue, Cream White, etc., worth $1; our price 75c.

Finer grades of Eiderdown Dressing Sacques, in white and colors, nicely trimmed with ribbon and cord, at $1, 1.50 and 2.

WRAPPERS.

From the lowest priced in Percale (69c) to the best made in Flannelette, at 98c, $1.25, 1.39, 1.50 and up to 2.98.

GLOVES.

Ladies' two-clasp Kid Gloves, in Tan, Brown, Black, Red and Green, worth 90c; our price 79c.

Ladies' two-clasp Kid Gloves, in Black, Steel, Castor, Tan, Blue, White and Cream—a superior quality, worth $1.25; our price $1.00.

Ladies' two-clasp Kid Gloves, in Black, White, Cream, Steel, Tan and Brown, an extra good Glove; our price $1.25.

Ladies' Moca five-hook, in Tan and Brown $1.00.

Ladies' Moca two-clasp Glove, in Green, Red, Blue and Black, $1.50.

Men's Dogskin Gloves, good quality, from 50c to $1.00.

Men's Moca Gloves, two-clasy, in Black, Tan and Drown; our price 1.00.

Mens' Moca Cloves, two-clasp, in Black, Tan and Brown, silk and wool lined, from $1.25 to $1.75.

Mittens, in Silk, Wool and Leather, for Ladies, Misses and Children, from 15c to $1.00.

HANDKERCHIEFS.

Our Handkerchief department is full to overflowing with almost every style of Handkerchief, in every grade, from the lowest to the better qualities. We bought them in the early part of the year, which means a saving to you of from 15 to 20 per cent on every handkerchief you buy of us. The stock is too extensive to enumerate, but if it is Handkerchiefs you want you will find them here from 1c up to $2.00 each.

Holiday Specialties in

LEATHER GOODS.

Good quality Leather Pocketbooks at 25c.

Seal, Alligator, Morocco and Grain Leather Pocketbooks, plain and trimmed, 49c to $1.00.

Alligator and Grain Leather Club Bags, $1.75 to $3.50.

HOUSEHOLD LINEN.

There is no lax logic about our flax advertising—the exact truth concerning qualities and prices form the stamina of what we print.

Unbleached linen Crash, 18 in. wide, 5c.

Checked Glass Towling, 20 in. wide, 8c.

Hemmed huck whack Towels, 21x30 in. 15c.

Turkish Bath Towels, 16x30, 10c.

Large line of Damask Towels, various sizes, 10 to 25c.

Table Linens at 25, 35, 45, 50c and up to $1.50 per yard.

Napkins to match all the better grades.

Full line of Stamped Linens from 5c up.

Plush, Golf and Cloth

CAPES.

Plush Capes, plain or crushed, 30 inches long, satin lined, fur trimmed, worth $10; our price $7.50.

Kersey Capes, very heavy quality, strapped and stitched, regular price $12.50; holiday priee $10.00.

Golf Capes, good variety of plaid and plain material, made up in a number of stylish designs—your choice $7.50.

Stylish Jackets for Ladies and Misses at almost one-half actual value.

FURS.

Electric Seal Capes, fine quality, lined with fine Seal Brown Sateen. $15.00 value our price $9.98.

Martin Collarettes, very stylish, high storm collar, satin lined, $8 to $18.

Muffs, in Coney, Electric Seal and Monkey, from 75c up.

Children's Fur Sets, in plain round or fancy styles, in Lamb, Angora, and Thibet, $1.00 up.

Fur Trimming, in Coney, Martin, Astrican, etc., from 1 to 2 inches wide.

LACE CURTAINS.

Nottingham Lace Curtains, in Ecru or White, 3 yards long—the pair 55 to 75c.

25 pairs Nottingham Curtains, in Ecru and White, 3½ yards long—the pair from $1.00 to $2.98.

Brupel Net Curtains, 3½ yards long, fine goods, nice patterns—the pair $4.50 to $7.00.

Babbinet Ruffled Curtains, the swell window drapery, dainty and inexpensive—the pair $2.50 to $5.00.

Monday's Daily.

—See those $6 ulster overcoats at G. H. Yesbera's.

—The foot doctor refers to those he has done work for and there are many of them.

—Don't stay away from church because of your corns and bunions, but see the foot doctor while he is here.

—Go to Sheffer & Chaney for Michigan Lake Salt, a car load just received. Guaranteed not to get hard in the barrel. oct.26w-tf

—Geo. T. Weeks, editor of the Edon Independent, was a visitor to Auburn today and of course called on the COURIER.

—T. R. Cool of South Bend was a welcome caller at this office Saturday evening. He returned to that place yesterday afternoon.

—If your property is mortgaged we can sell your equity or trade you a smaller property clear of debt. Call and see us quick. MOODY & RICKEL, Auburn. d2w4

—WANTED:—Iron-gray gelding five or six years old, weight about 1400 pounds; also some other horses from 1200 up. Inquire of E. Watson at the bowling alley, one door north of marshal's office.

—LOST:—A pocket book Tuesday evening, December 5, between Culbertson's store and Joseph street. Contained a sum of money. Finder will be suitably rewarded by returning same to this office.

—G. H. Yesbera gives our readers some special news this week. From a long acquaintance with him and his business we will say that he is thoroughly reliable and that his store is a good place to trade.[—EDITOR.

—During the month of November 5,335 pieces of mail were handled on the free rural delivery route from Pleasant Lake. Nearly every family on or near the route has a mail box and the new departure is meeting with hearty praise and support.

—The funeral of Mrs. S. S. Potter at the M. E. church yesterday afternoon was well attended, the spacious edifice being crowded and many unable to gain admission. The A. O. U. W. lodge attended in a body and the town officials were also present. The interment was made in Woodlawn.

—Among those from a distance who attended the funeral of Mrs. S. S. Potter yesterday were: Mrs. Sarah Snyder and Mrs. Lacy, Antwerp, O.; Mrs. Wm. Schafer and Mrs. Rinehart, Henry Wyatt and daughter, Mrs. Ella Markley, and Mrs Marion Markley, Fort Wayne; Mrs. Eunice Potter, Churubusco; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kniss, LaOtto.

We have some time been looking for a letter from Ed. Koons up at Lewiston, Idaho, giving his experiences in that wild country. But the other day, we received money to pay his subscription into 1900, which is the next best thing to a letter. He said he thought the editor would have more time to spend the money before the holidays and he would have more time to write after the holidays. Well, we are glad to hear from him anyway.

—A pleasant family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Imhoff in East Auburn, Saturday, in honor of Mrs. Daniel Cool, the aged mother of Mrs. Imhoff, who has reached her eighty-first year. Those present were T. R. Cool of South Bend, Ed. Cool and wife of Columbia City, Mrs. Kenagy and two children of Hudson, Daniel I. Stroh and wife of Butler, John Frick and wife of Waterloo. Everyone present thoroughly enjoyed the meeting, especially the aged mother.

—Men's heavy suits $4, $5, $6 and $7.50. They were our $6, $7, $8.50 and $11 suits. You don't need to believe this announcement, but call at our store and we will convince you that it is a fact.—G. H. YESBERA, Auburn.

—Elegant line of perfumes and toilet requisites for holiday trade at DAVENPORT'S. d13

Tuesday's Daily.

—Artistic holiday novelties at Davenport's. d13

—The time for killing quails will expire at New Years.

—Don't limp and complain of your feet. See the foot doctor.

—Handkerchief, glove, collar and necktie boxes and folders—new things, at DAVENPORT'S. d13

—Imitation is sincerest flattery, don't be persuaded to take any of the many imitations of Russ' Bleaching Blue.

—Those fine dress overcoats in tan, blue and black are $2 cheaper than last year's prices. We now offer them at $10.—G. H. YESBERA.

—FOUND.:—A pocketbook. Owner can have same by calling on Al. Geisinger at Sheffer & Chaney's meat market, Tarney's old stand.

—Dr. Wesley Hines and wife of Warsaw came over yesterday to attend the funeral of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Campbell.

—John Stearns of Troy has thanks for subscription sent by mail. Our distant subscribers will find this a convenient way to keep even.

—Mrs. E. Newark at Hoytville, Mich., is one of the latest names on the Weekly list. Everybody wants the COURIER, Daily or Weekly.

—Cyrus Graybill, a farmer living south of here, is reported to have filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $1,600 and assets $500.

—Dr. Buchtel reports the two children of Cal VanAuken who were quite bad with diphtheria, are now greatly improved and on the road to recovery.

—We have money to loan on short notice; large or small sums; mortgage or personal security; short or long time. Call on us if you need money MOODY & RICKEL, Auburn. d2w4

—The democratic state central committe is in session at Indianapolis and a number of Twelfth district politicians are there to lend their advice and assistance in the deliberations.

—The funeral of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell's little one yesterday, was a very sad one. It is there second bereavement having lost by death, their first child, at the time they lived here.

—Isaac Dittmar had a queer accident Saturday. He was after a chicken for dinner when he fell, dislocating his shouldier. He came to town and got Dr Buchtel to put him together again, and now he is ready for another chase.

—A dance will be given at the old Armory Hall on Friday evening, December 22, beginning at 8:30. The dance will be under the management of J. A. Burkholder and G. W. Stover and we are assured that it will be conducted in a genteel and up-to-date manner. Tickets 50 cents.

—We have an especially selected stock of mufflers, gloves, suspenders, hats, umbrellas, mackintoshes, neckwear, cuff buttons, fob chains, shirts, hosiery, etc.—G. H. YESBERA.

—The cause of the noon train on the Lake Shore getting an hour behind, yesterday, was an accident to the Lake Erie train coming up from the south to connect with it. One of the drive rods broke and as usual, tore through the cab compelling the engineer and fireman to jump for their lives. The engine got away then and only by the greatest good luck an accident of a serious nature was averted.

—We cordially invite you to pay us a visit of inspection. Call and look at our holiday specialties for gentlemen. Always glad to show goods.—G. H. YESBERA, Auburn.

—T. C. Ford had a letter from his wife last evening. She was resting well, and was able to take some solid food. Everything seems favorable for her. In speaking yesterday of the operation, we mentioned only Dr. Porter as he did the chief work. But there were other doctors present and assisting, including Dr. Baxter of this place and Dr. Sweringen of Fort Wayne. Dr. Baxter has had charge of the case from the first but advised that a specialist in tumors etc be employed to perform the operation.

—On the 12th day of December, 1842, fifty-seven years ago today, Samuel W. Ralston and family arrived in Auburn. There were beside Mr. and Mrs. Ralston three children, Helen Y., Emily A. and A. J. G. C. was born the following September. This was the eighth family here, those preceding them being the Parks, Freemans Puffenbergers, Parsons, Leymans, Houghtons and Sherlocks. They left Plymouth on the last day of November and arrived in Auburn on Mr. Ralston's thirty-fifth birthday, a trip that can now be made by railroad in four hours. The last day's journey was from the Isaac B. Smith farm in Smithfield township, about eight miles from Auburn.

—It's the largest assortment ever brought to Auburn of men's and boys' heavy winter caps at 50 cents, 75 cents and $.—G. H. YESBERA.

Wednesday's Daily.

—S. J. Lige has thanks for cash favors today.

—Mrs. James Barclay is confined to her bed with an attack of rheumatism.

—A good story bears repeating. Use Russ Bleaching Blue, don't be deceived by fraudulent imitations.

—Mrs. Barns went to Fort Wayne on the forenoon train to spend the day with Mrs. Ford at Hope hospital.

—The large new advertisement of the Bazar store contains much that will interest holiday buyers. Read it over.

—The bicycle factory at Marion, recently absorbed by the trust, has been shut down, throwing 200 men out of employment.

—John Knoder has a fine Kimball organ, used but little and in good condition, which he will sell at a bargain. See him at once. d3w2

—All the latest novel and new gift books at Davenport's. Anything published will be ordered at publishers prices. Order now. d13

—Joseph Tarney, of the state University at Bloomington, was called here yesterday to attend the funeral of his niece, Lois Campbell.

—You are going to buy a present for a gentleman. We carry men's and boys' needs exclusively, and can show you just what you want at Yesbera's.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Campbell returned to Anderson on the afternoon train. They hope to return here at the holiday season to visit a few days.

—It appears that Mr. Tefft has found an error in accounts of the late Sheriff Stroh with DeKalb county, by which the commissioners will have to allow him some $400.

—M. B. Masters has been on the sick list for a day or two, It was an aggravated case of his old trouble with his head and heart. He is able to be about again, however, we are pleased to note.

—Mrs. Rachel Dowell died at her home in Jackson township about 6 o'clock last evening, aged about 63 years. Her funeral services will be held at Hopewell church Friday at 10 o'clock.

—A. F. Clark has sold his place out in the country and is now staying at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Matt Zerwes. In a short time he expects to go to Tennessee to remain there during the winter.

—Cook Ford had a postal card from his wife last evening written by herself. It was brief and evidently written with her left hand, but the words were brave and hopeful, though she said she was still weak.

BALDWIN, GA., Sept. 14, 1899.
Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm cured my wife of dropsy after four physicians had given her up to die.
J. F. McINTIRE.
For sale by Davenport the Druggist.

Christmas is Coming...

And everybody who sees our beautiful display of Holiday attractions is glad of it. Come to headquarters for Popular Presents at Popular Prices.

The right thing for every person, old, middle-aged or yonng. We will please you; we will satisfy you; we will meet your wants be they large or small with the most suitable presents at the fairest price.

OUR ATTRACTIVE HOLIDAY DISPLAY wants your inspection. We are glad to welcome visitors and pleased to show our goods.

DOLLS.

We have them from 5c to $1.00. Bisque heads with natural wigs, sleeping dolls at 50c. Kid body dolls 24c. Any price you wish them.

Doll Heads—china heads 5 to 15c. Bisque heads 10 and 15c. Sleeping doll heads with natural wigs.....25, 35 and 48c

Doll Cabs from 23 to 98c.

TOYS.

Childs' Rock Horses from 48 to 69c; chairs 10 to 23c. Toys and games of all descriptions and at popular prices Crono Boards at $1.00. Children's Dishes from 5 to 24c set. Drums 24c. Building Blocks from 5 to 24c, and many others too numerous to mention. Call and see what we have in this department

CHINA and BRIC-A-BRAC

The new things in all this line for the holidays and at prices that suit the times. Tea Sets cream and sugar from 24c to $2.25. Beautiful ware of all shapes and styles.

Vases—Bohemian Vases at.....5, 10, 25 and 50c.

Rockwood—the nobby styles—lovers of fine art will see it in this line.

Jardiniers for a pretty present and not an expensive one. From.....10, 25, 48c to $1.19
Prettiest line ever seen on the market and at such prices.

Dinner Sets—American ware 100 piece sets, in white and decorated ware $6.35. Alfred Meekin's English ware, open stock, sets can be had from.....$8.00 to $$14.50

Lamps—Our stock of Lamps for holidays which makes a very pretty present and a very useful one, we have the latest styles, prices ranging from.....75c to $7.50
Night lamps for 25c.

Cuspidors for 10c; glazed goods at 25c; china from.....50 to 98c

SILVER NOVELTIES.

Something new in this line of goods. Fresh, new goods. Silver plated goods, a hundred pieces or more to be had for.....25c

See our line of Quadruple Silver plated goods in tea sets, cake and berry dishes, butter dishes, water pitchers, cracker bowl, celery dish—any of these goods can be had by the piece for.....$1.48

PERFUMES and TOILETS.

To make your lady friends a present that they will appreciate—see our line of these goods—a nice bottle of perfume, the best goods, from.....10 to 50c
We also carry perfumery in bulk.

HANDKERCHIEFS.

Ladies' Handkerchiefs—On this line we are especially strong, as we have them from 1c to 50c. The finest goods we have ever offered for the price. See our 5 and 10c handkerchiefs. Ladies' initial all-linen handkerchiefs 15c or two for.....25c

Gents' Handkerchiefs—Japanese hemstitched for 5c, Japanese silk embroidery initial handkerchiefs 10c, the best value ever offered for the price. All-linen hemstitched handkerchiefs 15c, two for 25c. Silk initial handkerchiefs from.....25 to 48c

Mufflers—Pretty, bright new goods in plaids for 24c. Silk for.....48c

POCKETBOOKS—MITTENS.

Pocketbooks for ladies and gents. A complete line of these goods from 5 to 48c. Challets for children 10c. Ladies' challets the new thing for.....98c

Ladies' Mittens—wool mits from.....8 to 24c
Kid mits 48c, silk mits for.....48 to 59c
Children's Kid mits 39 to 43c. Wool mits..8 to 24c

FURS.

Collarettes, Electric Seals.....$2.50 to $4.50
Persian Lamb $5.00; Electric Seal, Astrakhan yoke for $5.00; Martin Seal yokes, for $9.00. Seal Boas with six tails a bargain at.....$3.00
Plush Capes, extra length with or without braid, Taffeta linings, cape that sold for $7.00 and $8.00 to go for.....$5.00

BLANKETS.

We have the best values ever offered. Blankets for 45, 55 and 59c pair. Camel hair for.....$1.48

GROCERIES FOR XMAS.

Mixed Candy at	5c lb
Mixed Nuts at	10c lb
Seeded Raisins at	10c lb
Cleaned Currants at	10c lb
XXXX Crackers 7c, three pounds for	20c
Ginger Snaps 7c, three pounds for	20c
Bulk Coffee	10, 12, 14 and 18c lb
Nine cakes Jackson soap	25c
Ten cakes Key soap	25c
Self-Rising Buckwheat	10c pkg
Self-Rising Pancake flour	10c pkg
Dried Peaches	10c lb
Prunes	8c lb
Toilet Soap	5c
Bulk Coconut	20c lb
Pepper, ground or berry	20c lb
Lion or XXXX coffee	9c lb
Arbuckle	10c lb
Golden Rio	11c lb

The Bazar Store,

J. J. Nebelung, - - Auburn, Indiana.

—Photo albums are becoming quite popular this year. Everyone recognizes the fact that they are the best for preserving photos. Davenport the Druggist has a large line of new styles, ranging in price from 25 cents to $6.

—Knights of Pythias are hereby notified that on Dec. 29, 1899, at the regular semi-annual election of officers, one trustee will be elected to serve a term of three years. A full attendence is requested.—Bert W. Beidler, Chancellor Commandor.

—Mrs. E. C. Foltz and Mrs. John Palmer braved this morning's storm to call on the COURIER office, and Mrs. Foltz now sends the Weekly to her daughter, Mrs. Kircher, in Chicago, which we hope the latter may find a welcome holiday gift. She also brought in the subscription of her son Frank and cash to pay both into the 1900 list. That's the way to do business.

—Diploma of merit:—The Fox Crackers have been imitated, but not equaled. These imitations are merely diplomas of merit awarded by competitors to Fox's goods. Fox's "Forex" is safe from imitators. The design is original and is entirely secured by patents.

—Yesbera's store is having its full share of patronage, judging from the way we see the packages of goods going away from his store.

—There is a man here doing any amount of good; a chiropodist, commonly called corn doctor, who removes without any pain (and the feet do not get sore) the most troublesome corn, bunion, or ingrowing toe nail. He has been here two weeks and has the best references in this city. Is stopping at Mrs. Richard's; second house east of the Methodist church.

—The replevin case of Mrs. Conrad Mabus, to recover certain goods levied on by Constable Stamets of Waterloo to satisfy fine and costs assessed against her husband for violating the liquor law, was decided by the jury in Esquire Walter's court, about 12 o'clock last night. After the levy was made Mrs. Mabus claimed ownership of the goods, but the jury decided that her claim was not good and gave judgment for the state. Attorney Phillips gave notice of application for a new trial, which will be argued somorrow.

—FOR SALE:—A thoroughbred Jersey cow and her calf. Call on J. A. Clifton, Auburn.

—The Indiana Knights of Pythias are making preparations to attend the meeting of the supreme lodge and national encampment at Detroit next August.

—Original Shape:—No need to be deceived, Fox's "Forex" Butter Crackers original in shape. No other crackers look like them. No other have that fresh wheaty flavor.

—AN INVITATION:—Ladies, we especially invite you to look over our special, suitable and appropriate holiday presents for gentlemen. If you buy it of us you will buy him just what he wants.—G. H. YESBERA, Auburn.

—Yesterday a box of roses came addressed to Mrs. Etta Potter and had been sent by Mrs. Ben. Deller whose home is now at Princeton, this state. It was a touching tribute from a former neighbor, and we suppose Mrs. Deller had not yet heard of Mrs. Potter's death, but sent them to cheer her in her sickness. These little acts of kindness are greater than people imagine and do much to smooth the sorrows of the death bed. To the relatives and the bereaved husband, the gift of Mrs. Deller's will be dear in memory always.

President's Message.

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY'S third annual message was not delivered to Congress until the second day of the session. The message is of unusual length, comprising nearly 25,000 words, and is regarded as one of the most important ever emanating from the White House. The leading features of the message relate to the new dependencies and to the financial question. Sovereignty is to be established throughout all the Philippine Islands and to be permanently maintained. Civil government is to be extended throughout the islands as rapidly as possible. Attention is invited to the report of the Philippines commission as to why it is impossible for the United States to part with the islands and as to the great commercial advantages in holding them. Civil government in Cuba under military control is recommended until some substantial progress has been made through the medium of suffrage toward the establishment of an independent form of government. For Porto Rico he asks the appointment of a civil governor and the election by the people of a council or legislatnre, property and educational qualifications to be prescribed for voters. Immediate legislation is suggested for Hawaii.

On the financial question the President recommends that the gold standard be provided for by law, and the interest-bearing obligations of the United States be specifically made payable in gold. The regulation of trusts and great commercial combinations so as to prevent the stifling of competition, but without in any way hampering the development of American manufactures and commerce, is urged.

The President, in the opening paragraph, refers feelingly to the recent death of Vice-President Hobart and then proceeds in substance as follows:

The Fifty-sixth Congress convenes in its first regular session with the country in a condition of unusual prosperity, of universal good will among the people at home, and in relations of peace and friendship with every government of the world. Our foreign commerce has shown great increase in volume and value. The combined imports and exports for the year are the largest ever shown by a single year in all our history. Our exports for 1899 alone exceeded by more than a billion dollars our imports and exports combined in 1870. The imports per capita are 20 per cent less than in 1870, while the exports per capita are 58 per cent more than in 1870, showing the enlarged capacity of the United States to satisfy the wants of its own increasing population, as well as to contribute to those of the peoples of other nations. Exports of agricultural products were $784,776,142. Of manufactnred products we exported in value $339,592,148. Government receipts from all sources for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1899, including $11,798,314.14, part payment of the Central Pacific Railroad indebtedness, aggregated $610,982,004.35. Customs receipts were $206,128,481.75, and those from internal revenue $273,437,161.51. For the fiscal year the expenditures were $700,693,564.02, leaving a deficit of $89,111,659.67. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1899, the internal revenue receipts were increased about $100,000,000.

Condition of the Treasury.

The present gratifying strength of the treasury is shown by the fact that Dec. 1, 1899, the available cash balance was $278,004,837.72, of which $239,744,905.36 was in gold coin and bullion. The conditions of confidence which prevail throughout the country have brought gold into more general use and customs receipts are now almost entirely paid in that coin. The strong condition of the treasury with respect to cash on hand and the favorable showing made by the revenues have made it possible for the Secretary of the Treasury to take action under the provisions of section 3691, Revised Statutes, relating to the sinking fund. The Treasury Department therefore offered to purchase during November $25,000,000 of the 5 per cent loan of 1904, or the 4 per cent funded loan of 1907, at the current market price. The success of this operation was sufficient to induce the Government to continue the offer to purchase bonds to and including the 23d day of December, instant.

Increased activity in industry, with its welcome attendant—a larger employment for labor at higher wages—gives to the body of the people a larger power to absorb the circulating medium. It is further true that year by year, with larger areas of land under cultivation, the increasing volume of agricultural products, cotton, corn and wheat, calls for a larger volume of money supply.

In its earlier history the national banking act seemed to prove a reasonable avenue through which needful additions to the circulation could from time to time be made. Changing conditions have apparently rendered it now inoperative to that end. The attention of Congress is respectfully invited to this important matter with the view of ascertaining whether or not such reasonable modifications can be made in the national banking act as will render its service more responsive to the people's needs.

To Maintain Gold Standard.

I urgently recommend that to support the existing gold standard and to maintain "the parity in value of the coins of the two metals (gold and silver) and the equal power of every dollar at all times in the market and in the payment of debts," the Secretary of the Treasury be given additional power and charged with the duty to sell United States bonds and to employ such other effective means as may be necessary to these ends. The authority should include the power to sell bonds on long and short time, as conditions may require, and should provide for a rate of interest lower than that fixed by the act of Jan. 14, 1875. The financial transactions of the Government are conducted upon a gold basis. We are maintaining the parity of all the money issued or coined by authority of the Government. We are doing these things with the means at hand.

Happily at the present time we are not compelled to resort to loans to supply gold. It has been done in the past, however, and may have to be done in the future. It behooves us, therefore, to provide at once the best means to meet the emergency when it arises, and the best means are those which are the most certain and economical. Our receipts now equal our expenditures; deficient revenues no longer create alarm. Let us remove the only remaining cause by conferring the full and necessary power on the Secretary of the Treasury and impose upon him the duty to uphold the present gold standard and preserve the coins of the two metals on a parity with each other, which is the repeatedly declared policy of the United States.

American Merchant Marine.

The value of an American merchant marine to the extension of our commercial trade and the strengthening of our power upon the sea invites the immediate action of Congress. Our national development will be one-sided and unsatisfactory so long as the remarkable growth of our inland industries remains unaccompanied by progress on the seas. There is no lack of constitutional authority for legislation which shall give to the country maritime strength commensurate with its industrial achievements and with its rank among the nations of the earth. The other great nations have not hesitated to adopt the required means to develop their shipping as a factor in national defense, and as one of the surest and speediest means of obtaining for their producers a share in foreign markets. Like vigilance and effort on our part cannot fail to improve our situation. The expense is as nothing compared to the advantage to be achieved.

Calls Attention to Trusts.

Combinations of capital organized into trusts to control the conditions of trade among our citizens, to stifle competition, limit production and determine the prices of products used and consumed by the people are justly provoking public discussion, and should early claim the attention of the Congress. The industrial commission, created by the act of Congress of June 18, 1898, has been engaged in extended hearings upon the disputed questions involved in the subject of combinations in restraint of trade and competition. They have not yet completed their investigation of this subject, and the conclusions and recommendations at which they may arrive are undetermined.

It is universally conceded that combinations which engross or control the market of any particular kind of merchandise or commodity necessary to the general community, by suppressing natural and ordinary competition, whereby prices are unduly enhanced to the general consumer, are obnoxious not only to the common law, but also to the public welfare. There must be a remedy for the evils involved in such organizations. Whatever power the Congress possesses over this most important subject should be promptly ascertained and asserted.

An act to protect trade and commerce against unlawful restraints and monopolies was passed by Congress the 2d of July, 1890. The provisions of this statute are comprehensive and stringent. It declares every contract or combination in the form of a trust or otherwise, or conspiracy in the restraint of trade or commerce among the several States or with foreign nations, to be unlawful. It denominates as a criminal every person who makes any such contract or engages in any such combination or conspiracy, and provides a punishment by fine or imprisonment. It invests the several Circuit Courts of the United States with jurisdiction to prevent and restrain violations of the act, and makes it the duty of the several United States district attorneys, under the direction of the Attorney General, to institute proceedings in equity to prevent and restrain such violations. It further confers upon any person who shall be injured in his business or property by any other person or corporation by reason of anything forbidden or declared to be unlawful by the act the power to sue therefor in any Circuit Court of the United States, without respect to the amount in controversy, and to recover three-fold the damages by him sustained and the costs of the suit, including reasonable attorney fees. It will be perceived that the act is aimed at every kind of combination in the nature of a trust or monopoly in restraint of interstate or international commerce.

The prosecution by the United States of offenses under the act of 1890 has been frequently resorted to in the federal courts, and notable efforts in the restraint of interstate commerce, such as the Transmissouri Freight Association and the Joint Traffic Association, have been successfully opposed and suppressed.

State legislation for relief from the evils of trusts has failed to accomplish fully that object. This is probably due to a great extent to the fact that the different States take different views as to the proper way to discriminate between evil and injurious combinations and those associations which are beneficial and necessary to the business prosperity of the country. It is apparent that uniformity of legislation upon this subject in the several States is much to be desired. It is to be hoped that such uniformity may be obtained and that means may be found for the Congress within the limitations of its constitutional power so to supplement an effective code of State legislation as to make a complete system of laws throughout the United States adequate to compel a general observance of the salutary rules to which I have referred.

Review of Foreign Relations.

A review of our relations with foreign states is presented with such recommendations as are deemed appropriate. In my last annual message I adverted to the claim of the Austro-Hungarian Government for indemnity for the killing of certain Austrian and Hungarian subjects by the authorities of the State of Pennsylvania, at Lattimer, while suppressing an unlawful tumult of miners, Sept. 10, 1897. In view of the verdict of acquittal rendered by the court before which the sheriff and his deputies were tried for murder, and following the established doctrine that the Government may not be held accountable for injuries suffered by individuals at the hands of the public authorities while acting in the line of duty in suppressing disturbances of the public peace, this Government was constrained to decline liability to indemnify the sufferers.

The Belgian Government has mitigated the restrictions on the importation of cattle from the United States, to which I referred in my last annual message.

A convention of extradition with Brazil, signed May 14, 1897, has been ratified by the Brazilian Legislature.

The claim growing out of the seizure of the American-owned newspaper, the Panama Star and Herald, by the authorities of Colombia has been settled, after a controversy of several years.

The good will of Colombia toward our country has been testified anew by the cordial extension of facilities to the Nicaraguan canal commission in their approaching investigation of the Panama canal and other projected routes across the Isthmus of Darien.

Nicaragua Ship Canal.

The contract of the Maritime Canal Company of Nicaragua was declared forfeited by the Nicaraguan Government the 10th of October, on the ground of nonfulfillment within the ten years' term stipulated in the contract. The Maritime Canal Company has lodged a protest against this action, alleging rights in the premises which appear worthy of consideration. This Government expects that Nicaragua will afford the protestants a full and fair hearing upon the merits of the case.

The Nicaraguan canal commission, which had been engaged upon the work of examination and survey, for a ship canal route across Nicaragua, having completed its labors and made its report, was dissolved May 31, and June 10 a new commission, known as the isthmian canal commission, was organized under the terms of the act approved March 3, 1899, for the purpose of examining the American isthmus with a view to determining the most practicable and feasible route for a ship canal across that isthmus, with its probable cost and other essential details.

This commission, under the presidency of Rear Admiral John G. Walker, U. S. N. (retired), entered promptly upon the work intrusted to it, and is now carrying on examinations in Nicaragua along the route of the Panama canal, and in Darien from the Atlantic, in the neighborhood of the Atrato river, to the Bay of Panama, on the Pacific side. The great importance of this work cannot be too often or too strongly pressed upon the attention of the Congress.

Chili Shows Friendship.

A pleasing incident in the relations of this Government with that of Chili occurred in the generous assistance given to the warship Newark when in distress in Chilian waters. Not alone in this way has the friendly disposition of Chili found expression. That country has acceded to the convention for the establishment of the bureau of the American republics, in which organization every independent state of the continent now shares.

American Interests in China.

The interests of our citizens in that vast empire have not been neglected during the last year. Adequate protection has been secured for our missionaries and some injuries to their property have been redressed. In my message to Congress of Dec. 5, 1898, I urged that the recommendation which had been made to the Speaker of the House of Representatives by the Secretary of the Treasury the 14th of June, 1898, for an appropriation for a commission to study the commercial and industrial conditions in the Chinese Empire and report as to the opportunities for, and obstacles to, the enlargement of markets in China for the raw products and manufactures of the United States, should receive at your hands the consideration which its importance and timeliness merited, but the Congress failed to take action. I now renew this recommendation.

Paris Exposition of 1900.

Preparations for the representation of the industries, arts and products of the United States, at the world's exposition to be held in Paris next year continue on an elaborate and comprehensive scale, thanks to the generous appropriation provided by Congress and to the friendly interest the French Government has shown in furthering a typical exhibit of American progress. There has been allotted to the United States a considerable addition of space. The American exhibit at Paris should, and I am confident will, be an open volume, spreading abroad a clearer knowledge of the worth of our productions and the justice of our claim to an important place in the marts of the world.

Cordial Relations with Germany.

Our relations with Germany continue to be most cordial. The increasing intimacy of direct association has been marked during the year by the granting permission in April for the landing on our shores of a cable from Borkum, Emdem, on the North Sea, by way of the Azores, and also by the conclusion Sept. 2 of a parcels post convention with the German Empire. The several governments of the empire seem reluctant to admit the natural excellence of our food products and to accept the evidence we constantly tender of the care with which their purity is guarded by rigid inspection from the farm, through the slaughter-house and the packing establishments, to the port of shipment. It is to be hoped that in time the two governments will act in common accord toward the realization of their common purpose to safeguard the public health and to the insuring of the purity and wholesomeness of all food products imported by either country from the other.

Joint High Commission.

In my last annual message I referred to the pending negotiations with Great Britain in respect to the Dominion of Canada. By means of an executive agreement a joint high commission has been created for the purpose of adjusting all unsettled questions between the United States and Canada, embracing twelve subjects, among which were the questions of fur seals, the fisheries of the coast and contiguous inland waters, the Alaskan boundary, the transit of merchandise in bond, the alien labor laws, mining rights, reciprocity in trade, revision of the agreement respecting naval vessels in the great lakes, a more complete marking of parts of the boundary, provision for the conveyance of criminals and for wrecking and salvage.

Much progress has been made by the commission towards the adjustment of many of these questions when it became apparent that an irreconcilable difference of view was entertained regarding the delimitation of the Alaskan boundary. An adjournment was taken until the boundary should be adjusted by the two governments. The subject has been receiving the careful attention which its importance demands, with the result that a modus vivendi for provisional demarcations in the region about the head of Lynn Canal has been agreed upon.

Neutrality in Boer War.

This government has maintained an attitude of neutrality in the unfortunate contest between Great Britain and the Boer States of Africa. We have remained faithful to the precept of avoiding entangling alliances as to affairs not of our direct concern. Had circumstances suggested that the parties to the quarrel would have welcomed any kindly expression of the hope of the American people that war might be averted good offices would have been gladly tendered.

Upon the withdrawal of the British agent from Pretoria the United States consul was authorized, upon the request of the British government and with the assent of the South African and Orange Free State Governments, to exercise the customary good offices of a neutral for the care of British interests. In the discharge of this function I am happy to say that abundant opportunity has been offered to show the impartiality of this government toward both the combatants.

Lynching of Aliens.

For the fourth time in the present decade question has arisen with the government of Italy in regard to the lynching of Italian subjects. The latest of these deplorable events occurred at Tallulah, La., whereby five unfortunates of Italian origin were taken from jail and hanged. The authorities of the State and a representative of the Italian embassy having separately investigated the occurrence, with discrepant results, particularly as to the alleged citizenship of the victims, and it not appearing that the State had been able to discover and punish the violators of the law, an independent investigation has been set on foot, through the agency of the Department of State, and is still in progress.

The recurrence of these distressing manifestations of blind mob fury directed at dependents or natives of a foreign country suggests that a contingency has arisen for action by Congress in the direction of conferring upon the Federal courts jurisdiction in this class of international cases where the ultimate responsibility of the Federal government may be involved.

Treaty with Japan.

The treaty of commerce and navigation between the United States and Japan Nov. 22, 1894, took effect in accordance with the terms of its nineteenth article the 17th of July last, simultaneously with the enforcement of like treaties with the other powers, except France, whose convention did not go into operation until Aug. 4, the United States being, however, granted up to that date all the privileges and rights accorded to French citizens under the old French treaty.

Cable to Philippines.

The Japanese government has shown a lively interest in the proposition of the Pacific Cable Company to add to its projected cable lines to Hawaii, Guam and the Philippines a branch connection with the coast of Japan. Without repeating the observations of my special message of Feb. 10, 1898, concerning the necessity of a cable to Manila, I respectfully invite attention to it. I recommend that, in case the Congress should not take measures to bring about this result by direct action of the government, the postmaster general be authorized to invite competitive bids for the establishment of a cable.

Mexican Extradition Treaty.

Following the termination Jan. 20, 1899, by Mexico of the convention of extradition of Dec. 11, 1861, a new treaty more in accordance with the ascertained needs of both countries was signed Feb. 22, 1899, and exchanged in the City of Mexico the 22d of April last. Its operation thus far has been effective and satisfactory. The new treaty stipulates that neither government shall assume jurisdiction in the punishment of crimes committed exclusively within the territory of the other.

Rio Grande Boundary.

The international water boundary commission, organized by the convention of March 1, 1889, for the adjustment of questions affecting the Rio Grande frontier, has not yet completed its labors.

Claims growing out of the seizure of American sealing vessels in Bering Sea have been under discussion with the government of Russia for several years, with the recent happy result of an agreement to submit them to the decision of a single arbitrator.

Events in Samoa.

Important events have occurred in the Samoan islands. The election, according to the laws and customs of Samoa, of a successor to the late king, Malietoa Laupepa, developed a contest as to the validity of the result, which issue, by the terms of the general act, was to be decided by the chief justice. Upon his rendering a judgment in favor of Malietoa Tanu, the rival chief, Mataafa, took up arms. The active intervention of American and British warships became imperative to restore order, at the cost of sanguinary encounters. In this emergency a joint commission of representatives of the United States, Germany, and Great Britain was sent to Samoa to investigate the situation and provide a temporary remedy. By its active efforts a peaceful solution was reached for the time being, the kingship being abolished and a provisional government established.

Recommendations unanimously made by the commission for a permanent adjustment of the Samoan question were taken under consideration by the three powers parties to the general act. But the more they were examined the more evident it became that a radical change was necessary in the relations of the powers to Samoa.

A satisfactory arrangement was concluded between the governments of Germany and England, by virtue of which England retired from Samoa in view of compensations in other directions, and both powers renounced in favor of the United States all their rights and claims over and in respect to that portion of the group lying to the east of the 171st degree of west longitude, embracing the islands of Tutuila, Ofoo, Olosenga and Manua.

I transmit to the Senate, for its constitutional action thereon, a convention, which, besides the provisions above mentioned, also guarantees us the same privileges and conditions in respect to commerce and commercial vessels in all of the islands of Samoa as those possessed by Germany.

Treaty with Spain.

My annual message of last year was necessarily devoted in great part to a consideration of the Spanish war, and of the results it wrought and the conditions it imposed for the future. I am gratified to announce that the treaty of peace has restored friendly relations between the two powers. Effect has been given to its most important provisions.

Home Rule for Cuba.

The withdrawal of the authority of Spain from the island of Cuba was effected by the last of January, so that the full re-establishment of peace found the relinquished territory assumed by us in trust for the inhabitants, maintaining, under the direction of the executive, such government and control thereto as should conserve public order, restore the productive conditions of peace, so long disturbed by the instability and disorder which prevailed for the greater part of the preceding three decades, and build up that tranquil development of the domestic state whereby alone can be realized the high purpose, as proclaimed in the joint resolution adopted by the Congress the 19th of April, 1898, by which the United States disclaimed any disposition or intention to exercise sovereignty, jurisdiction or control over Cuba, except for the pacification thereof, and asserted its determination when that was accomplished to leave the government and control of the island to its people. The pledge contained in this resolution is of the highest honorable obligation and must be sacredly kept.

America's Great Responsibility.

This nation has assumed before the world a grave responsibility for the future good government of Cuba. We have accepted a trust, the fulfillment of which calls for the sternest integrity of purpose and the exercise of the highest wisdom. The new Cuba yet to arise from the ashes of the past must needs be bound to us by ties of singular intimacy and strength if its enduring welfare is to be assured. Whether those ties shall be organic or conventional, the destinies of Cuba are in some rightful form and manner inevitably linked with our own, but how and how far is for the future to determine in the ripeness of events. Whatever be the outcome, we must see to it that free Cuba be a reality, not a name; a perfect entity, not a hasty experiment bearing within itself the elements of failure.

By the treaty of peace the Spanish people on the island have until April 11, 1900, to elect whether they will remain citizens of Spain or become citizens of Cuba. Until then it cannot be definitely ascertained who shall be entitled to participate in the formation of the government of Cuba. By that time the results of the census will have been tabulated and we shall proceed to provide for elections which will commit the municipal governments of the island to the officers elected by the people. Meantime and so long as we exercise control over the island the products of Cuba should have a market in the United States on as good terms and with as favorable rates of duty as are given to the West India islands under treaties of reciprocity which shall be made.

Diplomatic Relations Resumed.

Following the exchange of ratifications of the treaty of peace the two governments accredited ministers to each other, Spain sending to Washington the Duke of Arcos, an eminent diplomatist, previously stationed in Mexico, while the United States transferred to Madrid Bellamy Storer, its minister at Brussels. This was followed by the respective appointment of consuls, thereby fully resuming the relations interrupted by the war.

Judicial intercourse between the courts of Cuba and Porto Rico and of Spain has been established, as provided by the treaty of peace. The Cuban political prisoners in Spanish penal stations have been and are being released and returned to their homes in accordance with article 6 of the treaty. Negotiations are about to be had for defining the conventional relations between the two countries, which fell into abeyance by reason of the war. I trust that those will include a favorable arrangement for commercial reciprocity under the terms of sections 3 and 4 of the current tariff act.

Claims Against Turkey.

The United States minister to Turkey continues, under instructions, to press for a money payment in satisfaction of the just claims for injuries suffered by American citizens in the disorders of several years past and for wrongs done to them by the Ottoman authorities. In the Turkish Empire the situation of our citizens remains unsatisfactory. Our efforts during nearly forty years to bring about a convention of naturalization seem to be on the brink of final failure.

Venezuela Boundary Award.

The international commission of arbitration, appointed under the Anglo-Venezuelan treaty of 1897, rendered an award, Oct. 3 last, whereby the boundary line between Venezuela and British Guiana is determined, thus ending a controversy which has existed for the greater part of the century. The award, as to which the arbitrators were unanimous, while not meeting the extreme contention of either party, gives to Great Britain a large share of the interior territory in dispute and to Venezuela the entire mouth of the Orinoco, including Barima Point and the Caribbean littoral for some distance to the eastward. The decision appears to be equally satisfactory to both parties.

Treaties Under Tariff Act.

The fourth section of the tariff act, approved July 24, 1897, appears to provide only for commercial treaties which should be entered into by the President and also ratified by the Senate within two years from its passage. Owing to delays, inevitable in negotiations of this nature, none of the treaties initiated under that section could be concluded in time for ratification by the Senate prior to its adjournment the 4th of March last. Some of the pending negotiations, however, were near conclusion at that time, and the resulting conventions have since been signed by the plenipotentiaries.

Conventions of reciprocity have been signed during the congressional recess with Great Britain for the respective colonies of British Guiana, Barbados, Bermuda, Jamaica and Turks and Caicos Islands, and with the Republic of Nicaragua.

Important reciprocal conventions have also been concluded with France and with the Argentine Republic.

The interest taken by the various States forming the International Union of American Republics in the work of its organic bureau is evidenced by the fact that for the first time since its creation in 1890 all the republics of South and Central America are now represented in it. Its maintenance is therefore assured for the next ten years.

Pan-American Exposition.

The act to encourage the holding of the Pan-American Exposition on the Niagara frontier, within the county of Erie or Niagara, in the State of New York, in the year 1901, was approved March 3, 1899. This exposition, which will be held in the city of Buffalo, in the near vicinity of the great Niagara cataract, and within a day's journey of which reside 40,000,000 of our people, will be confined entirely to the western hemisphere. Satisfactory assurances have already been given by the diplomatic representatives of Great Britain, Mexico, the Central and South American republics and most of the States of the United States that these countries and States will make an unique, interesting and instructive exhibit, peculiarly illustrative of their material progress during the century which is about to close.

Philadelphia Commercial Congress.

In accordance with an act of Congress, approved Dec. 21, 1898, and under the auspices of the Philadelphia Commercial Museum, a most interesting and valuable exposition of products and manufactures especially adapted to export trade was held in Philadelphia from the 14th of September to the 1st of December, 1899.

Peace Congress at The Hague.

In response to the invitation of his majesty the Emperor of Russia, delegates from twenty-six countries were assembled at The Hague May 18, as members of a conference in the interest of peace. The final act of the conference includes conventions upon the mediation of the laws and customs of war on land, the adaptation to maritime warfare of the principles of the Geneva convention of 1864 and the extension of judicial methods to international cases. The convention for the pacific settlement of international conflicts embodies the leading features of the American plan, with such modifications as were rendered necessary by the great diversity of views and interests represented by the delegates. While earnestly promoting the idea of establishing a permanent international tribunal, the delegates of the United States was not unmindful of the inconveniences which might arise from an obtrusive exercise of mediation, and in signing the convention carefully guarded the historic position of the United States.

Increase in Army.

Since my last annual message and in obedience to the acts of the Congress of April 22 and 26, 1898, the remaining volunteer force enlisted for the Spanish war, consisting of 34,834 regulars and 110,202 volunteers, with over 5,000 volunteer officers, has been discharged from the military service. By the act of March 2, 1899, Congress gave authority to increase the regular army to a maximum not exceeding 65,000 enlisted men and to enlist a force of 35,000 volunteers, to be recruited from the country at large. By virtue of this authority the regular army has been increased to the number of 61,999 enlisted men and 2,248 officers, and new volunteer regiments have been organized aggregating 33,650 enlisted men and 1,524 officers. Two of these volunteer regiments are made up of white men, with colored line officers. The new troops to take the places of those returning from the Philippines have been transported to Manila to the number of 581 officers and 26,322 enlisted men of the regular army, and 504 officers and 15,386 enlisted men of the new volunteer force, while 504 officers and 14,110 men of the volunteer force are on the ocean en route to Manila.

The force now in Manila consists of 905 officers and 30,578 regulars and 394 officers and 15,238 of the volunteers, making an aggregate of 1,499 officers and 45,816 men. When the troops now under orders shall reach Manila, the force in the archipelago will comprise 2,051 officers and 63,483 men. During the last year we have reduced our force in Cuba and Porto Rico.

Postal Needs in Islands.

In restoring peaceful conditions, orderly rule and civic progress in Cuba, Porto Rico and, so far as practicable, in the Philippines, the rehabilitation of the postal service has been an essential and important part of the work. American trained officials have been assigned to the directing and executive positions, while natives have been largely employed in making up the body of the force. The development of the service in all of the islands has been rapid and successful. It has moved forward on American lines, with free delivery, money order and registry systems, and has given the people mail facilities far greater and more reliable than any they have ever before enjoyed.

Domestic Postal Service.

The domestic postal service continues to grow with extraordinary rapidity. The expenditures and the revenues will each exceed $100,000,000 during the current year. Fortunately, since the revival of prosperous times the revenues have grown much faster than the expenditures, and there is every indication that a short period will witness the obliteration of the annual deficit. Reformst suggested in the report of the Postmaster General, would, in his opinion, not only put the postal service at once on a self-sustaining basis, and I commend the subject to the consideration of the Congress.

Naval Prestige Maintained.

The navy has maintained the spirit and high efficiency which have always characterised that service, and has lost none of the gallantry in heroic action which has signalized its brilliant and glorious past. The nation has equal pride in its early and later achievements. Its habitual readiness for every emergency has won the confidence and admiration of the country. The people are interested in the continued preparation and prestige of the navy and will justify liberal appropriations for its maintenance and improvement. I heartily concur in the recommendations for the increase of the navy, as suggested by the Secretary.

Army and Navy Pensions.

The 30th of June, 1899, the pension roll of the United States numbered 991,519. These include the pensioners of the army and navy in all our wars. The number added to the rolls during the year was 40,991. The number dropped was 43,186, and the number of claims disallowed was 107,919. The amount disbursed for army and navy pensions during the year was $138,855,052.86, which was $1,651,461.61 less than the sum of appropriations.

Preliminary Work of Census.

In accordance with the act of Congress approved March 3, 1899, the preliminary work in connection with the twelfth census is now fully under way. The officers required for the proper administration of the duties imposed have been selected. The provision for securing a proper enumeration of the population, as well as to secure evidence of the industrial growth of the nation, is broader and more comprehensive than any similar legislation in the past.

Under the authority of the act of Congress approved July 7, 1898, the commission, consisting of the Secretary of the Treasury, the Attorney General and the Secretary of Interior, has made an agreement of settlement, which has had my approval, of the indebtedness to the government growing out of the issue of bonds to aid in the construction of the Central Pacific and Western Pacific railroads. The agreement secures to the government the principal and interest of said bonds, amounting to 58,812,715.48. The whole indebtedness was about $30,000,000, more than half of which consisted of accrued interest, for which sum the government has realized the entire amount, less about $6,000,000, within a period of two years.

Progress of Agriculture.

The Department of Agriculture is constantly consulting the needs of producers in all the States and Territories. It is introducing seeds and plants of great value and promoting a fully diversification of crops. Grains, grasses, fruits, legumes and vegetables are imported for all parts of the United States. Under this encouragement the sugar beet factory multiplies in the North and far West semi-tropical plants are sent to the South and congenial climates are sought for the choice productions of the far East. The subject of irrigation when it is of vital importance to the people is being carefully studied. Markets are being sought and opened up for surplus farm and factory products in Europe and Asia. The outlook for the education of the young farmer through agricultural college and experimental stations, with opportunities given to specialize in the department of agriculture, is very promising.

There is widespread interest in the improvement of our public highways at the present time, and the Department of Agriculture is co-operating with the people in each locality in making the best possible roads from local material and in experimenting with steel tracks.

Philippine Island Problem.

Dec. 10, 1898, the treaty of peace between the United States and Spain was signed. It provided, among other things, that Spain should cede to the United States the archipelago known as the Philippine Islands, that the United States should pay Spain the sum of $20,000,000, and that the civil rights and political status of the native inhabitants of the territories thus ceded to the United States should be determined by the Congress. The treaty was ratified by the Senate Feb. 6, 1899, and by the government of Spain March 1 following. The ratifications were exchanged April 11, and the treaty publicly proclaimed. March 2 the Congress voted the sum contemplated by the treaty and the amount was paid over to the Spanish government May 1. In this manner the Philippines came to the United States. The islands were ceded by the government of Spain, which had been in undisputed possession of them for centuries. They were accepted, not merely by our authorized commissioners in Paris, under the direction of the executive, but by the constitutional and well-considered action of the representatives of the people of the United States in both houses of Congress. I believe I speak for them when I say that they believe, and I still believe, that this transfer of sovereignty was in accordance with the wishes and the aspirations of the great mass of the Filipino people.

From the earliest moment no opportunity was lost of assuring the people of the islands of our ardent desire for their welfare and of the intention of this government to do everything possible to advance their interests. In my order of May 19, 1898, the commander of the military expedition dispatched to the Philippines was instructed to declare that we came not to make war upon the people of that country, "nor upon any party or faction among them, but to protect them in their homes, in their employments and in their personal and religious rights."

Dec. 21, after the treaty was signed, the commander of the forces of occupation was instructed "to announce and proclaim in the most public manner that we come, not as invaders and conquerors, but as friends, to protect the people in their homes, in their employments and in their personal and religious rights." The same day, while ordering Gen. Otis to see that the peace should be preserved in Iloilo, he was admonished that: "It is most important that there should be no conflict with the insurgents." Jan. 1, 1899, urgent orders were reiterated that the kindly intentions of the government should be in every possible way communicated to the insurgents.

The 21st of January I announced my intention of dispatching to Manila a commission composed of three gentlemen of the highest character and distinction, thoroughly acquainted with the Orient, who, in association with Admiral Dewey and Maj. Gen. Otis, were instructed to "facilitate the most humane and effective extension of authority throughout the islands, and to secure with the least possible delay the benefits of a wise and generous protection of life and property to the inhabitants."

These gentlemen were Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, president of Cornell University; Charles Denby, for many years minister to China, and Prof. Dean C. Worcester, of the University of Michigan, who had made a most careful study of life in the Philippines.

Aguinaldo's Claim Disproved.

While the treaty of peace was under consideration in the Senate these commissioners set out on their mission of good will and liberation. But before their arrival at Manila the sinister ambition of a few leaders of the Filipinos had created a situation full of embarrassment for us and most grievous in its consequences to themselves. The clear and impartial preliminary report of the commissioners, which I transmit herewith, gives so lucid and comprehensive a history of the present insurrectionary movement that the story need not be here repeated. It is enough to say that the claim of the rebel leader that he was promised independence by any officer of the United States in return for his assistance has no foundation in fact and is categorically denied by the very witnesses who were called to prove it. The most the insurgent leader hoped for when he came back to Manila was the liberation of the islands from the Spanish control, which they had been laboring for years without success to throw off.

The prompt accomplishment of this work by the American army and navy gave him other ideas and ambitions, and insidious suggestions from various quarters perverted the purposes and intentions with which he had taken up arms. No sooner had our army captured Manila than the Filipino forces began to assume an attitude of suspicion and hostility which the utmost efforts of our officers and troops were unable to disarm or modify. Their kindness was taken as a proof of cowardice. The aggressions of the Filipinos continually increased, until, finally, just before the time set by the Senate of the United States for a vote upon the treaty, an attack, evidently prepared in advance, was made all along the American lines, which resulted in a terribly destructive and sanguinary repulse of the insurgents.

Order of Extermination.

Ten days later an order of the insurgent government was issued to its adherents who had remained in Manila, of which Gen. Otis justly observes that "for barbarous intent it is unequaled in modern times." It directs that at 8 o'clock the night of the 15th of February the territorial militia shall come together in the streets of San Pedro, armed with their bolos, with guns and ammunition where convenient; that Filipino families only shall be respected; but that all other individuals, of whatever race they may be, shall be exterminated without any compassion, after the extermination of the army of occupation. A copy of this fell by good fortune into the hands of our officers and they were able to take measures to control the rising, which was actually attempted the night of Feb. 22, a week later than was originally contemplated.

Rebellion Must Be Put Down.

This was the unhappy condition of affairs which confronted our commissioners on their arrival in Manila. What they found can best be set forth in their own words:

"Deplorable as war is, the one which we are now engaged was unavoidable by us. We were attacked by a bold, adventurous and enthusiastic army. No alternative was left to us except ignominious retreat. Whatever the future of the Philippines may be, there is no course open to us now except the prosecution of the war until the insurgents are reduced to submission. The commission is of the opinion that there has been no time since the destruction of the Spanish squadron by Admiral Dewey when it was possible to withdraw our forces from the islands, either with honor to ourselves or with safety to the inhabitants."

The course thus clearly indicated has been unflinchingly pursued. The rebellion must be put down. Civil government cannot be thoroughly established until order is restored.

With a devotion and gallantry worthy of its most brilliant history, the army, ably and loyally assisted by the navy, has carried on this unwelcome, but most righteous campaign with richly deserved success. Although their operations have been somewhat interrupted and checked by a rainy season of unusual violence and duration, they have gained ground steadily in every direction, and now look forward confidently to a speedy completion of their task.

The unfavorable circumstances connected with an active campaign have not been permitted to interfere with the equally important work of reconstruction.

American Rule in Sulu.

The authorities of the Sulu Islands have accepted the succession of the United States to the rights of Spain, and our flag floats over that territory. The 10th of August, 1899, Brig. Gen. J. C. Bates, U. S. Volunteers, negotiated an agreement with the Sultan and his principal chiefs, which I transmit herewith. By article 1, the sovereignty of the United States over the whole archipelago of Sulu and its dependencies is declared and acknowledged. The United States will give full protection to the Sultan in case any foreign nation should attempt to impose upon him. The United States will not sell any island of the Sulu archipelago to any foreign nation without the consent of the Sultan. Any slave in the archipelago of Sulu shall have the right to purchase freedom. The agreement by Gen. Bates was made subject to confirmation by the President and to future modifications. This agreement is not to be deemed in anyway to authorize or give the consent of the United States to the existence of slavery in the Sulu archipelago. I communicate these facts to the Congress for its information and action.

Everything indicates that with the speedy suppression of the Tagalo rebellion life in the archipelago will soon resume its ordinary course under the protection of our sovereignty, and the people of those favored islands will enjoy a prosperity and a freedom which they have never before known.

Now Rests with Congress.

The future government of the Philippines rests with the Congress of the United States. The islands lie under the shelter of our flag. They are ours by every title of law and equity. They cannot be abandoned. If we desert them we leave them at once to anarchy and finally to barbarism. We fling them, a golden apple of discord, among the rival powers, no one of which could permit another to seize them unquestioned. Their rich plains and valleys would be the scene of endless strife and bloodshed.

The suggestion has been made that we could renounce our authority over the islands and, giving them independence, could retain a protectorate over them. This proposition will not be found, I am sure, worthy of your serious attention. Such an arrangement would involve at the outset a cruel breach of faith. It would place the peaceable and loyal majority, who ask nothing better than to accept our authority, at the mercy of the minority of armed insurgents. It would make us responsible for the acts of the insurgent leaders and give us no power to control them. It would charge us with the task of protecting them against each other and defending them against any foreign power with which they chose to quarrel. In short, it would take from the Congress of the United States the power of declaring war and yet that tremendous prerogative in the Tagalan leader of the hour.

It does not seem desirable that I should recommend at this time a specific and final form of government for these islands. When peace shall be restored it will be the duty of Congress to construct a plan of government which shall establish and maintain freedom and order and peace in the Philippines. Until Congress shall have made known the formal expression of its will, I shall use the authority vested in me by the Constitution and the statutes to uphold the sovereignty of the United States in those distant islands as in all other places where our flag rightfully floats.

Status of Hawaii.

Some embarrassment in administration has occurred by reason of the peculiar status which the Hawaiian islands at present occupy under the joint resolution of annexation approved July 7, 1898. While by that resolution the Republic of Hawaii as an independent nation was extinguished, its separate sovereignty destroyed, and its property and possessions vested in the United States, yet a complete establishment for its government under our system was not effected. The people of these islands are entitled to the benefits and privileges of our Constitution. It is manifestly important, therefore, that an act shall be passed as speedily as possible erecting these islands into a judicial district, providing for the appointment of a judge and other proper officers, and methods of procedure in appellate proceedings, and that the government of this newly acquired territory under the federal Constitution shall be fully defined and provided for.

Alaska Needs Legislation.

A necessity for immediate legislative relief exists in the Territory of Alaska. Substantially the only law providing a civil government for this territory is the act of May 17, 1884. This is proper in its provisions and is fitted only for the administration of affairs in a country sparsely inhabited by civilized people, and unimportant trade and production, as was Alaska at the time this act was passed. There is practically no organized form of government, and no reason why a more complete form of territorial organization should not be provided.

Government of Porto Rico.

I recommend that legislation to the same end be had with reference to the government of Porto Rico. The time is ripe for the adoption of a temporary form of government for this island. It is desirable that the government of the island under the law of bel

The Whole Truth!

There's nothing so bad for a cough as coughing.

There's nothing so good for a cough as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

The 25 cent size is just right for an ordinary, everyday cold. The 50 cent size is better for the cough of bronchitis, croup, grip, and hoarseness. The dollar size is the best for chronic coughs, as in consumption, chronic bronchitis, asthma, etc.

DO YOU COUGH
DON'T DELAY
TAKE KEMP'S BALSAM
THE BEST COUGH CURE

It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 25 cents and $1 cents.

THE CLEANSING AND HEALING CURE FOR CATARRH
is
Ely's Cream Balm

Easy and pleasant to use. Contains no injurious drug.
It is quickly absorbed. Gives Relief at once.
It Opens and Cleanses the Nasal Passages. Allays Inflammation. Heals and Protects the Membrane. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents by mail.
ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren Street, New York.

CATARRH
ELY'S CREAM BALM CURES COLD IN HEAD CATARRH HAY-FEVER 25 CTS. ELY BROS. NEW YORK
COLD IN HEAD

Dr. Bull's COUGH SYRUP
Cures Croup and Whooping-Cough
Unexcelled for Consumptives. Gives quick, sure results. Refuse substitutes.
Dr. Bull's Pills cure Biliousness. Trial, 20 for 5c.

WABASH
HOME SEEKERS' EXCURSIONS
To Western Points.
December 19, 1899.

On the above dates the WABASH will sell from its principal stations East of Chicago and Toledo, Ill. LOW RATE HOME SEEKERS' EXCURSION Tickets to points West, South, and Southwest, granting a liberal return limit. A postal card addressed to any Wabash Ticket Agent, or to either of the following Passenger Representatives will bring you prompt and explicit information regarding rates, routes, time of trains, through car service, condition of tickets, etc., etc.

REMEMBER
The WABASH is the only line east of Chicago and St. Louis giving its patrons seats, without extra charge, in ELEGANT RECLINING CHAIR CARS running through to St. Louis and Kansas City without change.
This is your chance to go West cheap. Communicate with us.
P. E. DOMBAUGH, P. & T. A., Toledo, Ohio.
R. G. THOMPSON, P. & T. A., Fort Wayne, Ind.
A. F. WOLFSCHLAGER, P. & T. A., Detroit, Mich.
THO'S FOLLEN, P. & T. A., Lafayette, Ind.
GEO. D. MAXFIELD, D. P. A., Indianapolis, Ind.
C. S. CRANE, G. P. & T. A., St. Louis, Mo.

DOCTOR IS DRIVEN INSANE.

Experience in a Madhouse Dethrones His Reason.

A celebrated Scotch physician tells a story of a madhouse doctor whose presence of mind alone saved his life:

"A great friend of mine was for a considerable time the medical superintendent of a lunatic asylum near Glasgow. One night in making his customary rounds he had occasion to visit the patients in the kitchen, who were preparing the dinner. There were seven of them, all big, sturdy fellows who were believed to be harmless. The keeper only looked in upon them now and again, feeling that his constant presence was unnecessary.

"The doctor unlocked the iron-barred door of the kitchen and went in among the lunatics. There were five large boilers containing scalding water ready for making the day's dinner for the patients.

"One of the lunatics pointed at the boilers full of hot water and laying his hand upon the doctor's shoulder, said, 'Doctor, you'll make a fine pot of broth,' and the words had no sooner been uttered than the other six madmen shouted in a voice of delight, 'Just the thing!' and, seizing the doctor, were in the very act of putting him into one of the large boilers of scalding water when the doctor had the presence of mind to say, but not a second too soon:

"'Capital broth, but it would taste better if I took my clothes off.'

"The madmen with a yell of delight said 'Yes,' and the doctor asked them to wait a moment while he went and took his clothes off, but as soon as he got out of the kitchen he turned the key in the door and ordered the keeper to see to the lunatics being put under restraint.

"The doctor's presence of mind saved him, it is true, from a terrible death, but he died shortly after raving mad. The experience had destroyed his reason."

New Pass in Rocky Mountains.

After numerous hairbreadth escapes a party of explorers in the Rocky Mountains stumbled on to a new pass. In a like manner people who believed dyspepsia incurable are astonished to find that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters used faithfully will make the digestion strong, the bowels regular, the liver active. Try it.

Didn't Like the Risk.

An old countryman took his wife to a magic lantern entertainment, at which the wonders of the microscope were to be exhibited. The various curiosities seemed to please the good woman very well, till the animalculae contained in a drop of water came to be shown.

These appeared to poor Janet not so pleasant a sight as the others. She sat patiently, however, till the "water tigers" magnified to the size of twelve feet, appeared on the sheet, fighting with their usual ferocity.

Janet now rose in great trepidation, and cried to her husband:

"For mercy's sake, come awa', John!"

"Sit still, woman," said John, "and see the show."

"See the show! bless us, man, what would come of us if the awfu'-like brutes wad break out o' the water!"

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science have proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,
F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.

In Chicago Just Now.

Relative (from beyond the suburbs)—'Mandy, who's that young fellow snoopin' around in the kitchen?

City Niece—Never mind him, Aunt Ann. He's the hired girl.—Chicago Tribune.

Try Grain-O! Try Grain-O!

Ask your Grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha and Java, but it is made of pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. ¼ the price of coffee. 15c and 25c per package. Sold by all grocers.

No Time to Lose.

Old Gentleman—Little boy, do you know that I am 70 years old and have never used tobacco in any form.

Kid—Gee! Yer better get a hustle on yerself if yer want ter learn it before yer die.—New York Journal.

The ad. of T. M. Roberts' Supply House in another part of this paper should be of interest to everyone desiring bargains in household goods. Get their complete catalogue of everything you need before making purchases.

Always the Wrong Thing.

"There's a trust now to control the output of peanuts."

"Well, what we need is a trust to control the output of peanut shells."—Chicago Record.

For lung and chest diseases, Piso's Cure is the best medicine we have used.—Mrs. J. L. Northcott, Windsor, Ont., Canada.

There is only one sudden death among women to eight among men.

Eagle Linen Letter Paper and Envelopes are the proper thing. Tell your printer to use this brand on your next order.

Blue eyes are said to be the weakest.

SUPPOSE WE SMILE.

HUMOROUS PARAGRAPHS FROM THE COMIC PAPERS.

Pleasant Incidents Occurring the World Over—Sayings that Are Cheerful to Old or Young—Funny Selections that Everybody Will Enjoy.

"Wheatmore," said the tall broker, "was a square man."

"Yes," responded the short broker, who was thinking of several wheat deals, "and his sharp 'corners' often rubbed against us."

Weary Waiting.

Caller—Do you have many transient boarders here?

Landlady—Oh, yes; we frequently have people stop here a day or so while they have a prescription filled in the drug store opposite.

Smoking Manila.

Dinny—At th' battle av Manila Dewey signaled "Ye may foire, Gridley, whin ready."

Larry—Will, if Ol'd bin Gridley, O'd ruther he'd signaled "Ye may smoke, Gridley, whin ready."

Not in the Center.

Ida—Luther is not frank. He never says or does anything right out.

May—No; he even parts his hair on the side.

Skin Game.

Stonewall—What must Ah do wid dese hyar skins, mammy?

Mammy—Tan dem.

Stonewall—Tandem? Ah ain't talkin' 'bout bisickles, mammy.

East Indian English.

First Hindoo—Have you ever been for a boatsail?

Second Hindoo—Oh, yes.

First Hindoo—How did you enjoy it?

Second Hindoo—I did not like it; it is too horrible. The boat is going upside and downside, and your inside is going inside and outside!—Punch.

Heavy Affairs.

"My doctor is a bird!" exclaimed the women with the capsules.

"A regular pelican!" grunted her husband.

"Why do you call him a pelican, Archibald?"

"On account of his big bill, Eva."

Left Behind.

Stubb—The Shamrock has three leaves, hasn't it?

Penn—Yes. It left England, it left America and left the cup.

Coming Their Way.

Bender—The stars are kind this year, old chap.

Tippler—In what way?

Bender—They are expected to fall just before daybreak on three dates in succession. Who says we won't sit up and see them through big glasses?

Another Problem.

She—A mathematician has figured it out that a man 60 years old has spent three years of his life buttoning his collar.

He—Is that so? I wonder how many years of her life a woman of 45 has wasted in putting her hat on straight.

Consolation.

"I told the boss that when I entered his employ I was a young man. Now, I have no hair on my head or teeth in my mouth."

"What did he say?"

"He gave me the cards of a dentist and a wigmaker."

No Wonder.

His Bride (during the honeymoon)—Look, Morris, even the sun laughs—

Morris—Could he do otherwise, if he looks at us.—Meggendorfer's Humoristische Blaetter.

Nothing New.

"It seems to me," said the reading boarder, "that in such wet climates as the Philippines our soldiers should tar their tents to make them waterproof."

"Perhaps they do," ventured the man in black suspenders. "Anyway, we are told that they often pitch their tents."

An Evil Day.

Sandy Pikes—Billy, it gives me de greatest satisfaction to fall asleep Saturday night an' wake up de following Tuesday.

Billy Coalgate—Why so, pard?

Sandy Pikes—'Caus' den I'se unconscious of Monday, de wash day.

Dear to Him.

Edmund—What queer substance is that you have on your desk? Is it a lump of scorched glass?

Cholly—Aw, no, deah chap. I bought that from a peddlah. He said it was weally a genuine chunk of Lunnon fog.

At the Spiritualistic Seance.

Widow (who has called for the spirit of her late husband just as a servant stumbles in the outer hall and falls against the door)—Great heavens! That is he, and he is already drunk again.—Meggendorfer's Humoristische Blaetter.

One of Many.

Quadds—Hello, old boy! What are you doing now?

Spacer—Writing for the press.

Quadds—Don't you find it rather thankless sort of work?

Spacer—On the contrary, nearly everything I write is returned with thanks.

Comparatively Speaking.

"He is honest enough. He paid me a dollar he owed me which I had forgotten."

"Yes, he did the same with me, and then borrowed five more."—Philadelphia North American.

Proof Positive.

"Yes," said the scientific passenger, "It is a well-established fact that dark-haired women have much more violent tempers than their blonde sisters."

"Are you sure of that, mister?" asked the meek little man across the aisle.

"There is no doubt about it, my dear sir," said the S. P. "But have you a personal interest in the matter?"

"Well, yes," replied the meek individual. "I've always suspected that my wife bleached her hair, and if what you say is true I know it now."

Proof Wanted.

Professor—I love you, Theresa—what a pity it is that I cannot demonstrate it to you mathematically.—Fliegende Blaetter.

In the Neck.

"If you want a dinner," said the prim housewife, "take this ax and——"

"Stop!" cried the dusky pilgrim. "I can't cut wood."

"I don't wish you to cut wood; I want you to decapitate a turkey."

Watered Bank Stock.

Tommp—Pop, what is watered bank stock?

Tommy's Pop—Why—er—didn't you ever hear of the Banks of Newfoundland? Run away and play.

He Was Compelled To.

Physician—You should repose on the right side only in order to enjoy a good night's rest. It is positively injurious to lie on both sides.

Patient—But how can I help it, doctor? You seem to have overlooked the fact that I am a lawyer.

This Happened in Pittsburg.

Hotel Guest (as fire alarm sounds)—Does the fire department here have any difficulty in locating a fire?

Landlord—Not any more than in any other city, I suppose. But why do you ask?

Hotel Guest—Well, it's so smoky here I don't see how they ever find the fire.

One Man's Views.

She—It's a woman's privilege to change her mind, you know.

He—Yes, and her age, too, but she takes her time in doing it.

How Publicity Was Secured.

"How did they manage to get the particulars of their elopement in the papers?"

"They arranged all the details by telephone."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Decrease of Births in Europe.

Analysis of the official figures of different European countries in respect to births and deaths shows that the country in which the decrease of births is most striking is England, including Wales, whose coefficient of decrease is 0.306 per one hundred; Scotland, whose mean birth rate is nearly the same, decreases but 0.027 per one hundred; and Ireland, whose birth rate is much smaller, decreases only 0.233 per one hundred. Somewhat after England and Scotland, but before Ireland, are found Holland and Germany, having a coefficient of decrease of 0.0244 per one hundred, followed closely by Belgium, 0.0230. Then, passing by Greece, comes France, whose natality decreases annually by 0.0170 per one hundred. After France, comes Russia, 0.0158, Sweden 0.0147, Switzerland 0.0128; and last come, having less than 0.01 per one hundred, Denmark 0.0078, Austria 0.0077, Pomerania 0.0033, and Hungary 0.0024. On the other hand, an increase is noted in Italy and Spain; while Servia and Norway are nearly stationary.

OLDEST MAN IN AMERICA

Tells How He Escaped the Terrors of Many Winters by Using Peruna.

Mr. Isaac Brock, the Oldest Man in the United States.

Mr. Isaac Brock, of McLennan County, Tex., has attained the great age of 111 years, having been born in 1788. He is an ardent friend to Peruna and speaks of it in the following terms:

"During my long life I have known a great many remedies for coughs, colds, catarrh and diarrhoea. I had always supposed these affections to be different diseases, but I have learned from Dr. Hartman's books that these affections are the same and are properly called catarrh.

"As for Dr. Hartman's remedy, Peruna, I have found it to be the best, if not the only remedy for these affections.

"Peruna has been my stand-by for many years, and I attribute my good health and my extreme age to this remedy. It exactly meets all my requirements.

"I have come to rely upon it almost entirely for the many little things for which I need medicine. I believe it to be especially valuable to old people."

ISAAC BROCK.

Catarrh is the greatest enemy of old age. A person entirely free from catarrh is sure to live to a hale and hearty old age. A free book on catarrh sent by The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

The men of Chicago spend $3,500,000 a year for shaves.

Coughing Leads to Consumption. Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Sold in 25 and 50 cent bottles. Go at once; delays are dangerous.

Not a single infectious disease is known in Greenland.

The Nickel Plate Road

Offers to Students desiring to return home for the Holidays, the special rate of one and one-third fare for the round trip. Tickets will be sold on the day school closes and the day immediately preceding, good returning to and including the date school reconvenes, but not later than Jan. 10th, 1900.

It is estimated that one crow will destroy 700,000 insects every year.

What Do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing, and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee, but costs about ¼ as much. All grocers sel it. 15c and 25c.

Blue eyes are said to be the weakest.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. 25c. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box.

There are 1,500 ocean cables.

Air Cushion Rubber Stamps—the Best—the Cheapest. Send your orders to Lock Box 219, Fort Wayne, Ind.

The Nickel Plate Road

Will sell Holiday excursion tickets good going on Dec. 23rd, 24th, 25th, 30th and 31st, 1899, and Jan. 1st, 1900, at one and one-third fare for the round trip, good returning to and including Jan. 2nd, 1900. With its Peerless Trio of Daily Express Trains and an Unexcelled Dining Car service, the Nickel Plate Road offers special inducements for Holiday travel.

SYRUP OF FIGS

ACTS GENTLY ON THE KIDNEYS, LIVER AND BOWELS
CLEANSES THE SYSTEM EFFECTUALLY,
DISPELS COLDS, HEADACHES & FEVERS
OVERCOMES HABITUAL CONSTIPATION PERMANENTLY
TO GET ITS BENEFICIAL EFFECTS.
BUY THE GENUINE—MAN'F'D BY
CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
LOUISVILLE, KY. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. NEW YORK, N.Y.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS. PRICE 50c. PER BOTTLE.

Millions of Acres

Of Choice Agricultural Lands now opened for settlement in Western Canada. Here is grown the celebrated No. 1 Hard Wheat, which brings the highest price in the markets of the world. Thousands of cattle are fattened for market without being fed grain, and without a dog's shelter. Send for information and secure a free home in Western Canada. Write to F. Pedley, Supt. Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the undersigned, who will mail you atlases, pamphlets, etc., free of cost: C. J. Broughton, 1229 Monadnock Bldg., Chicago, Ill.; M. V. McInnes, No. 1 Merrill Block, Detroit, Mich.; D. Caven, Bad Axe, Mich.; James Grieve, Reed City, Mich.; Agents for the Government of Canada.

Caisson to Be Held Under Water.

The Russian government has appointed a committee of technical experts to make a trial in the Neva river of a new form of caisson, which has been invented by a Russian engineer, L. Astorchoff, for use under water. The inventor claims that this caisson, which is conical in shape, can be used on the bed of a river at a much lower atmospheric pressure than is the case with those now in use.

The John M. Smyth Co. Have No Agents.

The well-merited popularity of the great mail order establishment of the John M. Smyth Co. of Chicago seems to have induced unscrupulous parties to go through the country and falsely represent themselves as sales agents for this house. By thus representing themselves they have succeeded in imposing upon many by selling goods and taking cash and notes from victims who actually believed they were purchasing goods from the representatives of the firm direct. The John M. Smyth Co. have no agents and denounce as frauds all parties traveling through the country and claiming to represent the firm. The public should be on the lookout for such impostors.

World's Deepest Lake.

The deepest lake in the world is Lake Baikal, in Siberia. In some parts it is 5,261 feet deep; its length is 397 miles, with an area of 15,000 square miles. It is the largest lake in Asia, and the sixth largest in the world.

Lane's Family Medicine

Moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Acts gently on the liver and kidneys. Cures sick headache. Price 25 and 50c.

The man who pardons easily courts injury.—Corneille.

EDUCATE YOUR BOWELS.

THOUSANDS OF PREMATURE DEATHS CAUSED BY NEGLECT.

Every Person Can Prolong Life and Enjoy Health and Happiness Who Will Listen to the Voice of Progress.

If you want to open a door, you don't smash it with a crowbar, but open it with a key.

It's easier and less destructive.

When you are costive, or bilious, or constipated, don't take an old-time dose of physic, throw your bowels into spasms and turn your liver inside out, as long as every thing can be set right, in a nice, gentle, quiet, positive, natural way by Cascarets, the ideal laxative.

We have all found out that persuasion is stronger than violence.

Instead of trying to force your disordered organs to do their duty, Educate Your Bowels and make them act naturally by using Cascarets Candy Cathartic, so pleasant to the taste, so mild, so effective. They are guaranteed to cure any case of constipation or money refunded.

Buy and try Cascarets to-day. It's what they do, not what we say they'll do, that proves their merit. All druggists, 10c, 25c, 50c, or by mail for price. Send for booklet and free sample. Address Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago, Montreal, Can., or New York.

CCC

This is the CASCARET tablet. Every tablet of the only genuine Cascarets bears the magic letters "CCC." Look at the tablet before you buy, and beware of frauds, imitations and substitutes.

It is believed that the most ancient dictionary in the world is the Chinese lexicon, compiled by Pacut-she, a thousand years before Christ.

Eagle Linen Letter Paper and Envelopes are the proper thing. Tell your printer to use this brand on your next order.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething; softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25 cents a bottle.

SAVE YOUR STAR TIN TAGS

"Star" tin tags (showing small stars printed on under side of tag), "Horse Shoe," "J. T.," "Good Luck," "Cross Bow," and "Drummond" Natural Leaf Tin Tags are of equal value in securing presents mentioned below, and may be assorted. Every man, woman and child can find something on the list that they would like to have, and can have

FREE!

	TAGS.		TAGS.
1 Match Box	25	25 Clock, 8-day, Calendar, Thermometer, Barometer	500
2 Knife, one blade, good steel	25	34 Gun case, leather, no better made	500
3 Scissors, 4½ inches	25	35 Revolver, automatic, double action, 32 or 38 caliber	500
4 Child's Set, Knife, Fork and Spoon	35	36 Tool Set, not playthings, but real tools	650
5 Salt and Pepper Set, one each, quadruple plate on white metal	50	37 Toilet Set, decorated porcelain, very handsome	800
6 French Briar Wood Pipe	35	38 Remington Rifle No. 4, 22 or 32 cal.	800
7 Razor, hollow ground, fine English steel	50	39 Watch, sterling silver, full jeweled	1000
8 Butter Knife, triple plate, best quality	60	40 Drum Suit Case, leather, handsome and durable	1000
9 Sugar Shell, triple plate, best qual.	60	41 Sewing Machine, first class, with all attachments	1500
10 Stamp Box, sterling silver	70	42 Revolver, Colt's, 38-caliber, blued steel	1500
11 Knife, "Keen Kutter," two blades	75	43 Rifle, Colt's, 10-shot, 22-caliber	1500
12 Butcher Knife, "Keen Kutter," 8-in blade	75	44 Guitar (Washburn), rosewood, inlaid	2000
13 Shears, "Keen Kutter," 8-inch	75	45 Mandolin, very handsome	2000
14 Nut Set, Cracker and 6 Picks, silver plated	80	46 Winchester Repeating Shot Gun, 12 gauge	2000
15 Base Ball, "Association," best qual.	100	47 Remington, double-barrel, hammer Shot Gun, 10 or 12 gauge	2000
16 Alarm Clock, nickel	150	48 Bicycle, standard make, ladies or gents	2500
17 Six Genuine Rogers' Teaspoons, best plated goods	150	49 Shot Gun, Remington, double barrel, hammerless	3000
18 Watch, nickel, stem wind and set	200	50 Regina Music Box, 15½ inch Disc	5000
19 Carvers, good steel, buckhorn handles	200
20 Six Genuine Rogers' Table Spoons, best plated goods	250
21 Six each, Knives and Forks, buckhorn handles	250
22 Six each, Genuine Rogers' Knives and Forks, best plated goods	500

THE ABOVE OFFER EXPIRES NOVEMBER 30TH, 1900.

Special Notice! Plain "Star" Tin Tags (that is, Star tin tags with no small stars printed on under side of tag), are not good for presents, but will be paid for in CASH on the basis of a twenty cents per hundred, if received by us on or before March 1st, 1900.

BEAR IN MIND that a dime's worth of STAR PLUG TOBACCO
will last longer and afford more pleasure than a dime's worth of any other brand.
MAKE THE TEST!
Send tags to CONTINENTAL TOBACCO CO., St. Louis, Mo.

JOHN M. SMYTH CO.
MAMMOTH MAIL ORDER HOUSE
150 TO 166 WEST MADISON ST. CHICAGO

NO EXCUSE FOR NOT BEING A MUSICIAN

$3.25

Only for this high grade genuine Stradivarius model Violin that retailers ask $5.00 and upward for. No teacher necessary as we furnish a fine book of instructions free.

Cut out this ad. and send it to us with 10c, and we will forward this elegant, high-grade genuine Stradivarius model violin C. O. D., subject to your approval. You have the privilege of thorough examination at the express office; if perfectly satisfied pay the agent the balance, together with return charges and you get the bargain of a lifetime, or if you remit cash in full with order you save return charges and we guarantee to refund money if you say so. This violin is an exact copy of the genuine Stradivarius model violin, is of an elegant reddish brown color, has solid ebony trimmings; the tone is sweetest, being much finer than produced by many higher-priced instruments. We furnish this violin strung up and with an extra set of fine steel strings, a good high-grade bow, a cake of rosin, a fine instructor—all complete in a heavy marbleized pasteboard box. Our prime reason for selling this outfit for such a pittance is that we want to get better acquainted in your neighborhood. Our special price complete $3.25

MAMMOTH CATALOGUE FREE

In which is listed at lowest wholesale prices everything to eat, wear and use, is furnished on receipt of only 10¢ to partly pay postage or expressage and as evidence of good faith the 10¢ is allowed on first purchase amounting to $1.00 or above.
OUR MONTHLY GROCERY PRICE LIST FREE.

Only $21.41

THIS $35 Stove for $21.41. Save the Retailers' Profit—save the Wholesalers Profit. Take advantage of our contract purchase. Others have advanced their prices of Parlor Stoves, but our contract with the manufacturers compels them to furnish us with these, so we can sell them at a small profit at $21.41, $24.27 and $27.12. YOU would be proud of either one of these parlor stoves. The pictures give but a faint idea of their elegance. Send C. O. D. on receipt of 95c, you to pay balance to your banker or freight agent on arrival at your depot.
The greatest bargains ever offered.
Size of Stove taken here that than a small one for heat given; bear in mind when ordering.
SEND 112-PAGE STOVE CATALOGUE FREE.

A Large Store takes less fuel than a small one for heat given; bear in mind when ordering.

PRICE, $22.72

CLEAN YOUR LAND OR STUMPS

FREE Catalogues for a 2 cent stamp: A—Furniture. B—Harness and Vehicles. C—Stoves and Ranges. D—Agricultural Implements. E—Baby Carriages. F—Drugs and Patent Medicines. G—Musical Instruments. H—Organs and Sewing Machines. I—Bicycles. J—Guns and Sporting Goods. K—Ladies' and Gents' Furnishing Goods. L—Dry Goods. M—Ready-made Clothing for Men and Boys. N—Boots and Shoes. O—Ladies' Capes and Cloaks.
Send 15 cts and our Large Supply Catalogue containing over 1000 pages and over one hundred thousand cuts and prices will be sent express paid.
T. M. ROBERTS' SUPPLY HOUSE, MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

Personally Conducted California Excursions
Via the Santa Fe Route.
Three times a week from Chicago and Kansas City.
Twice a week from St. Paul and Minneapolis.
Once a week from St. Louis and Boston.
In improved wide-vestibuled Pullman tourist sleeping cars. Better than ever before, at lowest possible rates.
Experienced excursion conductors. Also daily service between Chicago and California.
Correspondence solicited.
T. A. GRADY,
Manager California Tourist Service,
The Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway,
109 Adams Street, CHICAGO.

Consistent.

"I have no sympathy wid a strike," said Meandering Mike.

"But you don't blame folks fur not workin'," protested Plodding Pete.

"Ye can't strike unless ye've got a job, kin ye?" was the withering rejoinder. "Dey had no business goin' to work in the first place."—Washington Star.

MAKE YOUR FORTUNE on the Board of Trade, quickly, with small capital; send for free book, fully explaining to E. G. GUNSOLUS, 61 Commerce Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

CARTER'S INK
Bring your children up on it.

F. W. N. U. - - No. 50—'99.

When Writing to Advertisers please say you saw the Advertisement in this paper.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION

25c. SAMPLE BOTTLE 10c. FOR NEXT THIRTY DAYS.

How long have you suffered with . . . RHEUMATISM?

How Long Have You Read About "5 Drops" Without Taking Them?

5 DROPS (TRADE MARK.)

Do you not think you have wasted precious time and suffered enough? If so, then try the "5 Drops" and be promptly and permanently cured of your afflictions. "5 Drops" is a speedy and Sure Cure for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago (lame back), Kidney Diseases, Asthma, Hay Fever, Dyspepsia, Catarrh of all kinds, Bronchitis, La Grippe, Headache (nervous or neuralgic), Heart Weakness, Dropsy, Earache, Spasmodic and Catarrhal Croup, Toothache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Creeping Numbness, Malaria, and kindred diseases. "5 Drops" has cared more people during the past four years, of the above-named diseases, than all other remedies known, and in case of Rheumatism is curing more than all the doctors, patent medicines, electric belts and batteries combined, for they cannot cure Chronic Rheumatism. Therefore waste no more valuable time and money, but try "5 Drops" and be promptly CURED. "5 Drops" is not only the best medicine, but it is the cheapest, for a $1.00 bottle contains 300 doses. Price per bottle, $1.00, prepaid by mail or express, or 6 bottles for $5.00. For the next 30 days we will send a 25c sample FREE to anyone sending 10 cents to pay for the mailing. Agents wanted. Write to-day.
SWANSON RHEUMATIC CURE CO., 160-164 E. LAKE ST., CHICAGO.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine.

Rotary Motion and Ball Bearings.

Porter Depew, Agent.

IDEAL MUSIC,

"Sweet as the angel Israfil's,
When every leaf on Eden's tree
Was trembling to his minstrelsy."

can be produced from an EBERSOLE PIANO. The Ebersole possesses a tone that no other maker has been able to imitate—being full and deep, yet with that clear singing quality which stamps it the peer of all upright pianos for homes of culture and refinement.

Frank B. Long,
119 Calhoun-St. cor Washington,
Fort Wayne, Ind.

Mott's Nerverine Pills

BEFORE AND AFTER USING.

The great remedy for nervous prostration and all nervous diseases of the generative organs of either sex, such as Nervous Prostration, Failing or lost Manhood, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Youthful Errors, Mental Worry, excessive use of Tobacco or Opium, which lead to Consumption and Insanity. $1.00 per box by mail; 6 boxes for $5.00. MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Prop's, Cleveland, Ohio.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED
ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"
Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured.
Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS

They overcome Weakness, Irregularity and Omissions, Increase vigor and banish "pains of menstruation." They are "Life Savers" to girls at womanhood, aiding development of organs and body. No known remedy for women equals them. Cannot do harm—life becomes a pleasure. $1 per box by mail. Sold by druggists. MOTT CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, O.

Sold by Fischler & Son, Auburn.

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue a certified copy of a decree to me directed from the clerk of the DeKalb Cirquit Court, in a cause wherein the state of Indiana ex rel Frank P. Seiler, Auditor of DeKalb county, Indiana, is plaintiff, and Jerry Andrews, Mary Andrews, Jacob W. Stout, Matilda Stout, Ed Haggerty, Mettie Haggerty and William Liberenz are defendants, requiring me to make the sum of seventeen hundred thirty-two dollars [$1732] with interest on said decree and costs, I will expose at public sale to the highest bidder, on

Saturday, December 23, 1899,

between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. of said day, at the door of the court house of DeKalb county, Indiana, the rents and profits for a term not exceeding seven years of the following described real estate, to-wit;

Commencing at the northeast corner of the west half of the northeast quarter of section eighteen ..18.. in township thirty-three..33.. north of range fifteen ..15..east, and running due west one hundred four and one-half. 104½.. rods; thence south one hundred twenty-seven and one-third..127⅓.. rods; thence east one hundred four and one-half..104½..rods; thence north north one hundred twenty-seven and one-third..127⅓..rods to place of beginning, in DeKalb county, Inniana.

If such rents and profits will not sell for a sufficient sum to satisfy said decree, interest and costs, I will at the same time and place expose to public sale the fee simple of said real estate or so much thereof as may be sufficient to discharge said decree, interest and costs.

JOHN H. HATHAWAY,
Sheriff of DeKalb County, Indiana.
D. M. Link, Attorney for Plaintiff
Auburn, Indiana, November 28, 1899.

Notice of Sale of Real Estate.

Notice is hereby given that I, Isaac Hague, administrator of the estate of Amos Rakestraw, deceased, will offer at private sale to the highest bidder, on

Thursday, December 28, 1899,

at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, the following described real estate, belonging to the estate of said decedent, to-wit:

The south one-half (½) of the southest quarter (¼) of section twenty-three, (23) township thirty-four (34) narth of range twelve (12) east in the county of DeKalb and state of Indiana.

Sealed bids will be received by me at the McClellan Bank until 11 o'clock of said day.

TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, one-third in twelve months, and one-third in eighteen months from date of sale; deferred payments to be evidenced by the purchaser's notes drawing six per cent. interest, waiving relief from valuation and appraisement laws and to be secured by a mortgage on the premises sold.

ISAAC HAGUE, Administrator.
D. D. Moody, Att'y for Estate.

Notice to Creditors.

The First National Bank, located at Auburn, in the State of Indiana, is closing up its affairs. All note holders and others, creditors of said association, are therefore hereby notified to present the notes and other claims against the association for payment,

CHARLES McCLELLAN, President.
Dated October 14, 1899.

The foregoing association has been at oce reorganized and will continue the business of banking as "The McClellan Bank," under same management.

NOTICE FOR SUPPLIES.

Requisition For Supplies For DeKalb County Poor Asylum

The Board of Commissioners of said county will receive sealed bids for supplies up to Dec. 27, 1899, at 10 o'clock, a. m., for quarter ending March 1, 1900.

GROCERIES AND DRY GOODS.

Commissioners reserving the right to reject all bids at their discretion, may demand a bond from the successful bidder, conditioned upon the fulfillment of their contract.

Requisition and sample of goods may be seen at the Auditor's office.

FRANK P. SEILER,
Auditor.

Auburn, Ind., Dec. 6, 1899.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received at the Auditor's office in DeKalb County, Indiana, until 2 o'clock p. m., Wednesday, December 27, 1899, for furnishing Blank Books, Stationery and other supplies.

Bids will be received as per requisitions on file.

The Board of Commissioners reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

FRANK P. SEILER,
Auditor.

Auburn, Ind., Dec. 6, 1899.

Wednesday's Daily.

—Mrs. Orpha A. Hayden goes tomorrow on a visit to friends at Sturgis and Toledo.

Mrs. Olive Williams, nee Jackman, of Congress, Arizona, is visiting friends in Auburn and vicinity.

—WANTED:—To buy small boiler new or in good condition, 2 to 4 horse power. Inquire at this office or of G. N. Harwood, Moores Ind. tf

—Jacob Stiefel of Butler yesterday filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States court at Fort Wayne through his attorneys, Roby & Harper. His liabilities are given at $11,575.45, and assets at $112 97.

—Dr. M. W. Johnston was over from Garrett yesterday attending to some business matters. We are glad to hear that he is making success of his profession, dentistry. His father, Dr. S. B. Johnston was an excellent dentist and we presume, Dr. M. W. has inherited and perhaps improved on his father's talent.

Thursday's Daily.

—Cal. Husselman is doing farmers' institute work in southern part of the state.

—Little Florence Buss is out in the country visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Buss.

—O. H. Widney and Elijah Saylor of St. Joe have thanks for cash favors, that put them both into the 1900 list.

—Because of a typographical error, the Princeton News said a party was the "smellest" thing of the season.

—Steuben county is now without a saloon, a remonstrance having prevented a Hudson man from securing a license.

—Mrs. Henry Beams and son Frank of Spencerville, were visiting here today, Mr. Beams is improving after his late illness.

—A letter from Roann says the "Immortal J. N." is by no means disabled as reported. He spent a day or so at Roann and is as lively as ever.

—Supt. Ogg, of the Kokomo schools, has ask the council to pass an anti snowball ordinance, as it is very annoying to the public. Personally, he said, he was not concerned.

—Married, at the Lutheran parsonage last evening by Rev. J. D. Brosy, Harry D. DePew and Miss Effy Belle Lawhead. They will make their home on the old DePew farm, seven miles west of town.

—W. H. McIntosh went out to the old Cosper neighborhood yesterday to see about placing a monument for the late J. R. Cosper and his wife, parents of Mrs. McIntosh. The work we believe is done by the Eckharts of Toledo —'Squire Walter is coming to the front as a marrying official. Today he united two couples, Milan F. Walker of Concord, and Cora L. Wilks of Jackson, and Frank W. Hill and Anna R. Smith. Mr. Hill is a B. & O. conductor, but hails from Fort Wayne.

—Guaranteed to stop your hair falling out, remove dandruff, restore natural color, and cure all scalp diseases,—Beggs' Hair Renewer. "Cannot praise it too highly; stopped my hair falling out and started a new growth."—Mrs. McKeever, Abbeyville, Kan.—Sold by H. B. McCORD.

—Attorney General Taylor has rendered a decision that insurance companies writing insurance of children from one to two years of age are violating the law. The opinion was asked for by the auditor of state, who learned that two or three companies were writing insurance on infants.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Friday's Daily.

—Howard Krise is one of the latest names added to our Weekly list.

—Our friend Wm. Treesh of Richland helped the COURIER out nicely today.

—The 1900 list keeps growing. It was W. N. Myer's turn today. And still there is room.

—Wm. Sheffer took advantage of the fine weather to ride out this afternoon. We are glade to note that he is steadily improving.

—A letter from John Pepple at Smithville, Texas, leaves the two families well, and they are prospering, with plenty to do.

—This is one of the sensational heads in a Bloomington paper: "Frustrated Polecat Jim's attempt to break jail nipped in the bud."

—Henry Shade put his name on the COURIER list today, paying in advance. He is a brother of our correspondent Joseph Shade, and as luck would have it, his first COURIER had a go-d letter from Joe.

—John Weinholt is the next man that pays up to 1901, and is about the fifth one on that far ahead list. With his paper paid way ahead and a good crop of corn in the crib, it is our opinion he will enjoy the winter all right.

—Peter Shull was in town today, but did not find the 10-pound horse blanket he lost about two weeks ago. He had come to town in the evening to do his trading as he usually does. When he went to go home, the blanket was missing.

—Goshen Democrat:—John F. Persing, Co. H, 157th Reg. Ind. Vols., was here today to submit to special examination by Dr. W. B. Kreider. He is an applicant for pension. James Showalter, Co. C, has also applied. The list will soon grow large.

—Makes the blood pure, renovates the entire system, gives new life and strength,—Beggs' Blood Purifier. "It cured me of a long-standing and chronic case of fistula."—R. A. Bently, Summit, Fla. Endorsed by physicians. Guaranteed not to fail. Try it.—Sold by H. B. McCORD.

LION COFFEE

Used in Millions of Homes!
Accept no substitute!
Insist on LION COFFEE, in 1 lb. pkgs.

Best Coffee for the Money!
Try LION COFFEE and you will never use any other. It is absolutely pure Coffee and nothing but Coffee.

These articles mailed FREE in exchange for lion heads cut from front of 1 lb. LION COFFEE pkgs.

Silk Umbrella (either Lady's or Gents).

Sent by express (charges prepaid), for 170 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

A very fine umbrella, made of union silk-taffeta; 26-inch frame with seven ribs; steel rod and silver Congo handle. Would cost $2.00 at the store.

STRENGTH, PURITY AND FLAVOR

Fancy Gold Ring.

For 18 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

Genuine Ruby Setting Gold Ring.

For 28 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

These rings are genuine rolled-gold plate, having the exact appearance and qualities of solid gold, and guaranteed by the makers to last two years with ordinary usage. New patterns and very popular.

To Determine the Size.

Cut a strip of thick paper so that the ends will exactly meet when drawn tightly around second joint of the finger. Lay one end on this diagram at the 9, and order the number the other end indicates.

Dress-Pin Set.

Mailed free for 15 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. Three pins in the set (larger than shown), composed of fine rolled-gold, with handsome ruby-colored settings. Suitable for waist-pins, cuff-pins, neck-pins or as a child's set.

"Knickerbocker" Watch.

Given for 175 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. Neat appearing and an excellent time-keeper. Solid nickel-silver case, with ornamental back. Nickel movements, escapements fully jeweled. The famous "Knickerbocker" watch.

Pair of Lace Handkerchiefs.

Two extra fine cambric handkerchiefs, with beautiful imported lace medallion insertions in the corners. Half-inch hem, machine hemstitched; stylish and durable. A pair of these handkerchiefs given for 18 lion heads cut from Lion Coffee wrappers and a 2c. stamp.

Art Picture, "Easter Greeting"

Given for 8 lion heads cut from Lion Coffee wrappers and a 2-cent stamp.

A highly artistic picture, that will grace the finest drawing-room. The background of royal dark-blue furnishes an appropriate contrast to the little girl and her white Easter lilies. Size, 14x28 inches.

For 10 lion heads and 2 cents we will send it framed ready for hanging.

Sash-Belt and Buckle.

Mailed free for 15 lion heads cut from Lion Coffee wrappers and a 2-cent stamp. Latest style of imported black Swiss grosgrain ribbon belting; stylish imitation oxidised silver buckle; neat, strong and fashionable.

Ladies' Watch Chain.

A double strand of best silk cord, united at intervals with colored beads; neat and substantial. For 15 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

Gent's Watch.

Mailed free for 90 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. The celebrated "Ingersoll" watch; stem-wound and stem-set; durable nickel-plated case; each watch accompanied by guarantee of the maker. A reliable time-keeper.

Children's Picture Book.

Given for 10 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. Sixteen large pages of Mother Goose Melodies illustrated and with nicely lithographed cover. We have different books, so you can get an assortment.

Flower Picture.

For 8 lion heads and a 2c. stamp. American Beauty Roses and Lilies-of-the-Valley. Size, 11x24 inches. Bright and artistic coloring.

Silver Napkin-Ring.

For 15 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. Neat and substantial. Made of durable metal, heavily silver-plated. Two different patterns.

Ladies' Pocket-Book.

Large size and latest shape. Black seal-grain leather, with five separate divisions, including a tuck-pocket with flap to hold visiting cards secure.

Given for 25 lion heads from Lion Coffee wrappers and a 2c. stamp

Century Cook-Book.

368 pages of valuable cooking receipts, also treatise on the labor of the kitchen, dining-room, laundry, sick-room, and remedies for the more common diseases.

Given for 15 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

"The Dancing Lesson."

The green grass and trees, the little brown kitten and the girl's snow-white dress form a pleasing combination of colors. Size, 15x21 inches. Mailed free for 8 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp.

Coin-Purse.

For 15 lion heads and a 2-cent stamp. Color, dark brown. Made of fine kid leather; chamois lining; nickeled frame, with strong snap-fastening.

Table Cover.

Durable, dark-colored material that will stand washing. 32 inches square, including fancy fringed border. Mailed free for 25 lion heads and a 2c. stamp.

Boys' Pocket-Knife.

The "Easy-Opener"; strong, sharp blade; red-wood handle.

For 12 lion heads and a 2c. stamp.

Ladies' Pen-Knife.

For 15 lion heads cut from Lion Coffee wrappers and a 2c. stamp. Large size; good material; handles nicely decorated and assorted colors.

THE ABOVE ARE ONLY A FEW OF THE LION COFFEE PREMIUMS. Another list will shortly appear in this paper! Don't miss it! The grandest list of premiums ever offered!

You always know LION COFFEE by the wrapper. It is a sealed package, with the lion's head in front. It is absolutely pure if the package is unbroken. LION COFFEE is roasted the day it leaves the factory.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

When writing for premiums send your letter in the same envelope or package with the lion heads. If more than 15 lion heads are sent, you can save postage by trimming down the margin. Ask your grocer for large illustrated premium list. Address all letters to the —Sheriff Hathaway thinks he is "the only pickle in the barrel" since he was voted the most popular man in Auburn at the Rathbone Sisters' social. The prize was a doll baby of the African persuasion, and Mr. Hathaway is naturally very proud of it.

WOOLSON SPICE CO., Toledo, Ohio.

—In the U. S. federal court at Indianapolis Thursday morning a young lawyer was forced by Judge Baker to return half of a fee of $200, collected from a client on trial for "raising" a one-dollar bill to a ten. The court thought the fee excessive.

—Though the instrumentality of the city agents, the B.&O. management has concluded to stop train No. 7 at the Junction. It is the one going west at 4:30 in the morning. As this is the one so many Auburn people take for Chicago, it will be an accommodation that all will appreciate.

—"It has become a household medicine with us,—we cannot get along without it," writes Mrs. R. R. Wilson, Gordon, Ark., of Beggs' Cherry Cough Syrup, the guaranteed remedy for coughs, colds, la grippe, consumption and all kinds of bronchial affections. Never fails.—Sold by H. B. McCORD.

—Newt Henderson was here today and ordered the COURIER to be sent to his new location which is at Leo. He has been employed on the city railway at Fort Wayne for some time, as conductor, but has tired of that and will return to farming. Newt generally makes a success of whatever he turns his hand to.

—Montgomery county teachers' association adopted resolutions Monday, indorsing Governor Mount's proposition to teach agriculture in the schools. It also decided to devote more time to developing personal and civic virtue, and set aside one day of each week to give the pupils lessons in appreciation of home ties.

—The Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette has this to say of a young lady well known here: "Miss Bessie Hunter, a niece of County Treasurer L. C. Hunter, writes from the east that she is having phenomenal success on the vaudeville stage. The young lady formerly lived in Huntertown, this county, and began her career only recently."

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Saturday's Daily.

—M. T. Bishop of St. Joe was in town last night.

—Henry Fretz of Richland is delivering about 300 cords of wood to customers in Auburn.

—Rev. W. L Meese still claims the championship, for he married four separate couples in one day.

—Treasurer Hines will go to Indianapolis next week to make his settlement with the state treasurer.

—W. H. Carver, a well-known farmer near Orland, committed suicide Wednesday by shooting himself. He was 61 years old.

—Col. W. T. Durbin of Anderson is making a tour of northern Indiana in the interest of candidacy for the republican nomination for governor.

—I have a nice driving mare which I will sell, or exchange for something heavier and pay difference.—Ev. WATSON, Auburn Bowling Alleys. d&wlt

—The Washington authorities are after fourth-class postmasters who sell stamps to the city offices. Legislation is to be enacted which cover the matter.

—WANTED:—Black gelding, weight 1,400, and other good horses from 1,200 up. Call on Ev. Watson at the bowling alley, Auburn, who pays highest market price. d&wlt

—Geo. Ernest and his brother Daniel came down from Fairfield yesterday. George says he finds many old friends, but they have aged greatly since he saw them.

—Some one left a load of wood at the home of the editor of the Albinn New Era, the other day, without identifying himself. The editor is at a loss to know which delinquent to check up.

—Alva Warstler reports that someone has peeled and killed a lot of young apple trees he set out this fall. One would think the recent case in court would discourage this kind of work.

Volcanic Eruptions

Are grand, but Skin eruptions rob life of joy. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, cures them, also Old, running and Fever Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Felons, Corns, Warts, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Chapped Hands Chilblains, Best Pile cure on earth. Drives out Pains and Aches. Only 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by H. B. McCord the Druggist.

—Congressman Griffith wants a bill passed giving every Spanish-American war soldier a warrant for 160 acres of government land. Mr. Griffith must be looking for something higher in the political line.

—Chauncey Towell, Pendleton, has invented a telephone device that will enable farmers to establish lines along their barbed wire fences. The ground connection that is established by the use of staples is overcome by a daub of paint.

—S. W. Guthrie of Sedan and his brother-in-law E. J. Dellenbaugh were callers today. Mr. Dellenbaugh has just returned from a three years stay in the mountain districts of the far west. He saw much of interest, but is satisfied now to remain in old DeKalb.

—Place your confidence in a remedy that is guaranteed to cure. "I coughed constantly and my strength was all exhausted. I looked more like one dead than alive. Beggs' Cherry Cough Syrup entirely cured me."—Mrs. S. D. Harsh, Fairport Kan. For all throat and lung troubles. It has never failed. —Sold by H. B. McCORD.

—Philadelphia and New York are after the republican national convention next year. The committee meets at Washington this month to make the selection and it is predicted that Chicago will be chosen. The democratic committee will meet in Washington, Feb. 22nd. Kansas City, Milwaukee and New York will endeavor to get the convention.

—George A. Ashley, assistant state geologist, has submitted a report, which says he found marl deposits in eleven northern Indiana counties, which, if properly worked, will give a great yield. The Goshen Cement company, with a capital of $1,500,000, will be incorporated under the laws of New Jersey to build a plant for utilizing the deposits near the Michigan state line.

—Orrin Heckathorne of Steuben county was this week sentenced by Judge Hartman to a term of two to twenty-one years in the state reformatory at Jeffersonville, fined $50 and disfranchised for years. In a recent trial in the Steuben circuit court Heckathorne swore to statements which he afterward admitted were false, and Judge Hartman, who is a firm believer in the sanctity of a witness' oath, punished him for perjury.

IT HITS THE SPOT.

When Suffering from a severe cold and your throat and lungs feel sore, take a dose of Foleys Honey and Tar when the soreness once relieved, a warm grateful feeling and healing of parts affected will be experienced and you will say: "It feels so good. IT HITS THE SPOT." Guaranteed. H. B. McCord.

—For the first time in many years two brothers, from differnt states, are members of the same house of congress. They are Representative Clayton of Alabama, and Representative Clayton, of New York, nephews of ex-Senator Pugh, and both democrats.

FOR HOARSNESS.

Benj. Ingerson, of Hutton, Ind., says: he had not spoken above a whisper for months, and one bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar restored his voice. It is used very largely by speakers and singers. H. B. McCord.

—We have heard of a boy, who, when his father had prayed earnestly that God would feed the hungy, said: "Why don't you answer that question yourself? You've got enough wheat in the granary and potatoes in the cellar to feed all the poor about here."

LOST.

Many have lost confidence and hope as well as health, because they have told Kidney disease was incurable. Foley's Kidney Cure is a Guaranteed remedy for the discouraged and disconsolate. H. B. McCord.

—One hundred car loads of sugar beets were raised on a farm of 102 acres near Berrien Springs, Mich., this season.

FOR PNEUMONIA.

Dr. C. J. Bishop, of Agnew, Mich., says: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in three very severe cases of pneumonia the past month with good results." H. B. McCord

Mrs. Sow—Always be careful of your manners, Teddy, if you want to grow up to be a perfect hog.—New York Journal.

THE AUBURN COURIER.

Volume XXIX | Auburn, DeKalb County Indiana, Thursday, Dec[illegible]r 21, 1899. | Number 51.

Dr. Broughton
WATERLOO,

Will test your Eyes and Adjust your Glasses and GUARANTEE SATISFACTION. In Auburn at Dr. Baxter's office every Wednesday.

Sprott & Knapp,
Abstracters of Titles to Land and Lots,
AUBURN, IND.

☞ Office in Gandy Block, North of Court House.

The McClellan Bank,
AUBURN, IND.
Successor To
The First National Bank,
Individual Responsibility....
$100,000

Certificates of deposits issued, drawing interest if left six months. County and Town Orders bought and sold. Money Loaned on Farms, Personal Security, or Live Stock. Notes bought.

C. A. O. McCLELLAN, ESTATE
CHARLES McCLELLAN
D. A. GARWOOD,
ISAAC HAGUE.
} C. A. BENEDICT, Cashier

BANK Farmers,
Auburn, Ind.
(Incorporated and Under State Control)
Capital Stock and Surplus
$50,000
Transacts a General Banking Business and Pays Interest on Time Deposits.
Albert Robbins, Pres. J. C. Henry, V-res.
A. C. ROBBINS, Cashier.

DENTIST F. W. HOFFMAN,
Auburn, Ind.
Office in Gandy Building. Northeast Corner of Court Square.
WESTERN 'PHONE 103.
Crown and Bridge Work a Specialty.

Physicians and SURGEONS
D. J. Swarts, M. D
Vesta W. Swarts, M D
Office at Auburn Sanitary Baths, corner Main and Sixth Streets.
Professional Calls Promptly Answered.
'PHONES: Western..... No. 19
Central Union..... No. 19

J.E. Graham, D.D.S.
DENTIST
Over Davenport's Drugstore, Auburn, Ind.
CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK A SPECIALTY.
All Work Guaranteed } Gas Administered.
CENTRAL 'PHONE 513.
Will be at Waterloo each Thursday in Dr. Darby's Office.

C. S. SMITH,
Auburn, Ind.
Attorney-at-Law
AND NOTARY PUBLIC.
Office over Bazar Store, formerly occupied by Judge Hartman.

P. V. HOFFMAN,
LAWYER,
Auburn. Indiana
OFFICE over Hebel's Grocery.

Dr. Z. H. Stamets,
Physician & Surgeon
Office on Main St., opposite Swineford Hotel.
Western 'Phone 104
Special attention given to techinal examinations and treatment of chronic and obscure cases, also special attention given to surgery and diseases of women. Calls answered at all hours. Office apart from residence.

I. O. BUCHTEL, HOMEOPATHIC Physician and Surgeon.
Special attention given to chronic and Obscure cases and catarrhal diseases of the nose, throat and lungs; also to diseases peculiar to women and children.
Office and residence over Madden Bros Marble Works. Auburn, Ind. Office apart from residence and private. All calls attended to promptly, day or night.

That Stroh Matter.

Yesterday, we gave on the authority of Mr. Tefft, the item that the Board of Commissioners would have to allow Stroh some $400 on an error Tefft had found. This statement was altogether misleading and in the main erroneous. We have been wondering how such a thing could happen, and an investigation has brought out the facts.

At the December special term, 1898, Stroh's accounts were audited by Mr. Boland and attorney J. W. Rose, and it was found that he had not received all of his last year's salary by $578.

But Stroh had already collected and not turned over, fees to the amount of $39.94, which would reduce the amount due him that much. Later on, he collected fees amounting to $66 55. Also, since then the Board allowed him for fees that Sheriff Hathaway had collected for him and turned into the treasury $103. So, that the original amount due Stroh is to be reduced by all these sums, which will leave the balance due Stroh only $368 52. The only error in the whole matter, was the omission of one day of Stroh's time in the original settlement, which will give him about $6 more. All the talk about large sums still being due Stroh, is nonsense. Stroh was on a salary a part of the time at $2,200 a year, and a part at $2,300 a year, and when he gets the amount $368.52, and the odd $6 spoken of, he will have every penny due him. There has probably been enough fees of his collected by Sheriff Hathaway, to pay this off, and then we will be rid of Stroh, on the county books at least After that, any fees due for Stroh's services go to the county. The sheriff gets a fixed salary, and gets his pay only as fast as fees are collected and turned into the treasurer. Outside of this he is paid for boarding the prisoners.

Lockwood vs. Nickey.

As soon as the Hasenfuss murder case that is now in the hands of the Ft. Wayne jury, is finished, the Lockwood case comes up there. This is a case in which P. J. Lockwood sues A. B. Nickey to recover the amount of a mortgage he holds against a piece of land. It appears that Philo sold the land to his brother Lyman, but held a mortgage for part of the purchase money. Afterwards Lyman sold the land to Nickey, who of course at once took off the timber, which materially reduced the value of the property, on which Philo still holds the mortgage. Of course, the land will be held for the payment of the mortgage and Philo could get it, but he don't want the land. So, he sues Nickey for the money, instead. It promises to be a difficult case, and able attorneys will make the fight. Lockwood's attorneys are Chapin & Ninde, and equally able men are on the other side.

New Pension Order.

United States Pension Agent J. D. Leighty says that the report that the new order compelling pensioners to get their quarterly payments from the districts agency wherein they live will not as reported, greatly increase the amount paid out in Indianapolis. He says that the names stricken off the rolls will be largely replaced by new names from other agencies, and the total of over $2,500,000 paid out every three months will not greatly vary. The next payment will be from the new roll books, which have been in preparation for a year, and will contain over 70,000 names.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs are surely cured by it. Call on H. B. McCord, druggist, and get a free trial bottle. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed or price refunded.

Frank Rempis Dies.

A special from Waterloo Saturday reports the death at 5 a. m. of this unfortunate man. It will be remembered that he was accidentally shot, while hunting near Denver, Colorado, August 11. His companion walked fourteen miles to get help and then had to ride twenty-four miles to get medical help. At the end of three weeks, his father brought him home, and since then his death has been looked for any minute, as the ball injured the spinal cord, so he was paralyzed. Once he was operated on, in the hope to relieve him, but to no avail.

A Good Farm.

If you want to sell or trade your farm or town property call and list it with us, while we have some buyers; we can make you a quick deal. MOODY & RICKEL, Auburn. d2w4

Santa Claus!

A household word just at this time of year. Some of us wondering what he will bring to us, but more worrying over what to have him give to others. We are here to help you out. Never before in the history of our business career have we made such extensive preparations for Christmas. Every department in our store is bubbling over with choice merchandise suitable for presents—prettier, better, and a greater variety. Look over this list of attractions and see if we haven't just the thing you ought to give:

Furs	For Children, Misses and Ladies.
Umbrellas	The prettiest ever seen here
Handkerchiefs	The most beautiful patterns, 5c to $1
Mufflers	For ladies and gentlemen, latest patterns and shapes.
Wraps	For ladies, misses and children, stylish, sensible and durable,
Suits	and Overcoats for men, boys and children. The most desirable and reasonable in price You could give nothing more pleasing.
Mittens	Of all descriptions
Gloves	For young and old
Neckwear	The handsomest we've ever shown.
Shirts	For men and boys. Any style and each the best to be had for the money
Mackintoshes	Guaranteed quality for one and all
Gowns	In muslin or outing flannel. Prettily and well-made of good materials.

LACE CURTAINS, PORTIERES, RUGS, CARPET SWEEPERS, and a thousand and one other things usually found in a general store. See us often.

We are Saving You Money.

SCHAAB & BRO.

Club Notes.

The session of the L. L. C. held at the home of Mrs. Zimmerman December 9, was conducted by Mrs. McCord, assisted by Mrs. Zimmerman and Mrs. Willis. The subject was "Missouri" and the history of the state was given fully, followed by a discussion which brought out the characteristics and customs of the state. "The Philippines" was the subject of a paper sent by Mrs. Holmes. No word was received from Mrs. McTihe, who was on the program for a paper entitled "My Journey to Lasbegas." The Club by a unanimous vote decided to send flowers to Mrs. Ford at Hope Hospital, Fort Wayne, as a token of their love and sympathy.

Last Saturday the Club met with Mrs. Brown. In place of the paper to have been given by Mrs. Barns, she gave a reading entitled "The School Board's Ills," by George Ade. This brought out a very spirited discussion as to the prevailing idea that our pupils are being overworked in our public schools. The majority seemed to be of the opinion that in the intermediate and grammar grades at least are given lessons too long and too difficult for immature minds and that the strain that is made upon their mental and physical strength is developing a nervous tendency in our girls and boys that is very much to be deplored.

The special work of the afternoon was a debate, Resolved That Heredity is a stronger Influence than Environment. Affr. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Lewis. Neg. Miss Buckley and Mrs. Swineford. All the arguments were very excellent, and the Judges found it very difficult to decide, but finally decided in the affirmative. This debate was also followed by a general discussion, which was interesting and added much to the pleasure of the meeting. The Club has a two weeks vacation, and adjourned to meet with Mrs. Barns, January 6.

Red Hot From The Gun

Was the ball that hit G. B. Steadman of Newark, Mich., in the Civil War. It caused horrible Ulcers that no treatment helped for 20 years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. Cures Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Boils, Felons, Corns, Skin Eruptions. Best Pile cure on earth. 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by H. B. McCord, druggist.

Officers Chosen

We are indebted to Will Hyler, recorder of Auburn Lodge No. 12, A. O. U. W., for the following list of officers, chosen at their last meeting:

Master Workman	A. J. Harris
Foreman	J. W. Bell
Overseer	C. O. Tenney
Recorder	Wm. Heyler
Financier	T. C. Ford
Receiver	Chas. Raut
Guide	F. D. Smith
Inside Watchman	Thos. McCrum
Outside Watchman	Al. Sebring
Representative	Samuel Brandon
Alternate	T. C. Ford
Drs. Hines and Yarian	Med. Ex

Want to Buy Real Estate

We have a client who wants to buy a small residence; also one who wants a large, well located property in Auburn.
MOODY & RICKEL,
Office Kiblinger Building Auburn.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Home of Swamp-Root.

SERVANTS OF THE STATE.

Auburn's New Militia Company Mustered in by Major John E. Miller.

Pursuant to the call published in the COURIER by Captain Lahnum, those who had signed the application for membership in Auburn's new militia company met in the Modern Woomen's (old armory) hall last night to take the oath of allegiance to the state and nation, with all that oath implies as to faithful military service in the supression of rebellion and in the repelling of invasion. We doubt very much if a better body of young men ever stood before a mustering officer in the old Hoosier commonwealth, which has a record for sending out good fighting material, with representatives all over the world. It was gratifying to Captain Lahnum as well as to the citizens present to note that the company is made up largely of members of company K, of the One Hundred and Fifty-Seventh Indiana, a regiment that made an enviable record as servants of the state and Uncle Sam. In addition to these there is a goodly number of young men who have never seen active military service, but made of the stuff that is found in the composition of good soldiers.

When the boys lined up before Major John E Miller of Indianpolis; of Adjutant General Gore's staff, fifty recruits answered to roll call. Several of those who had signed the application for membership were absent, and the quota was filled by the addition of several new recruits who were examined by Dr. Baxter. After the oath had been taken the company proceeded to the election of the three commissioned officers. Milo D. Husselman was chosen secretary.

But one name was presented for captain, that of Captain James F. Lahnum, and his election was made unanimous. For first lieutenant two names were announced.—B. F. Joliff and Morton Hilkey. Mr. Joliff was a successful candidate, the vote being:

Joliff	35
Hilkey	17

Four candidates were named for second lieutenant—J. W. Brown, Morton Hilkey, Milo D. Husselman and Herman Lobmiller. Mr. Brown secured a majority on the first ballot by the following vote:

Brown	31
Hilkey	9
Husselman	8
Lobmiller	5

Major Miller addressed the company briefly, and after complimenting the company upon their good appearance gave them some wholesome advice. Captain Lahnum and Lieutenants Joliff and Brown followed in short speeches of thanks for the honors conferred, after which the company "broke ranks" and did full justice to cigars furnished by Mr. Joliff.

In concluding this report the COURIER wishes to congratulate Capt. Lahnum and those who have assisted him in the formation of a new company, and to add the hope that all will work in harmony to make it the best organization of the kind in the state. The company will meet at the armory next Thursday evening to complete the organization, and as soon as possible after this is done the state will furnish a complete equipment, including uniforms, arms, etc.

The following is the roster of the new company:

Captain	James F. Lahnum
First Lieutenant	Benjamin Joliff
Second Lieutenant	John M Brown
Ankeny, Lewis B	Little, Edward O
Baer, John F	Lobmiller, Harmon
Baird, Chas. R	Myles, Chas. E
Baker, Edward	Mills, Samuel M
Baker, Bert	McDougall, Wade
Beeman, Clyde	McDowell, John R
Bennett, John H	Nicholas, Clinton
Brandon, Arthur	Palmer, Wm. E
Brown, Ralph T	Reesch, Frank
Bryant, Byron E	Reffner, Claude C
Bryant, James W	Richwine, Harry M
Basse John C	Richards, John B
Davidson, Harvey O	Richards, Jacob
Douglas, James R	Rorebaugh, D W
Edwards, Calvin	Stewart, David E
Foltz, Frank E	Springer, Melvin
Guinn, David	Thomas John P.
Grogg, Wilson	Welterschied, H
Hensinger. George	West Henry
Hilkey, Morton E	Williamson, Jos. D
Hoodlemire, D L	Williamson, Harry
Husselman, Milo D	Wolf, Andrew J
Kolbe, August	Woodcox, Arthur
Lane, Francis E	Wolf, Geo. D
Little, Tracy C	Zimmmer, Arthur

A Brave Coward.

The Chicago & North-Western Railway Company announces the publication of a thrilling story of campaigning in the Philippines, entitled "A BRAVE COWARD." The famous battle of Malate, the charge at La Loma, a love romance, the career of the Tenth Pennsylvania at Manila and in Luzon, the conquering of cowardice by a young Pennsylvanian, are all interwoven into one of the most delightful short stories of the hour yet issued. In common with the First Nebraska, the Thirteenth Minnesota, the Utah and Oregon men and the Twentieth Kansas, the Tenth Pennsylvania made history in the war against Aguinaldo. The tale is superbly illustrated with half-tone, printed in convenient form, and will be forwarded to any address on receipt of 6 cents in postage by W. B. Kniskern, 22 Fifth avenue, Chicago, Illinois. 51

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ABSOLUTELY PURE
Makes the food more delicious and wholesome
ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Our Saturday Evenings.

CHAPTER VII.

If everyone who does a thing he or she should be ashamed of knew the secret was known to many, very much less of wickedness would be done. Someone ought to tell those who stray out of the proper path, that their shortcomings are not the close secrets they think they are. There are men in Auburn, who slyly take a drink at the bar, but who seem to think no one knows it, though their breath gives them away before any other effects are noticed. Their air of utter innocence becomes ludicrous. In the same way, men and women who break the laws of morality and decency, fondly imagine their secret is sacred. Yet in nine cases out of ten, their sin is known to many, even while they are posing in public as models of propriety. There are a few such, not many, right here in Auburn. Hence the following story entitled.

The Mystery of Four Ways

In using this name, we make no apologies to the Chicago Record, which is now running a fine serial story with the same title. We have the first right to the name, for the story we give happened last summer, several months before the Chicago Record began publishing the novel by Florence Warden. And our hero and heroine are not named Nigel and Piety. There is no piety connected with our story.

We had been out driving with a friend, and on parting near the edge of town, had started to walk home. The evening was pleasant and rather warm, and to shorten the distance, we started up an alley. And right here is where we get the patent on the name of our story. It is the meeting of four ways. Two alleys cross, and in doing so, divide a large block into four parts, and each part has front streets, so that the four-way crossing of the alleys is an obscure place through which people seldom go, and where a person once there, is not likely to be seen. A part of the ground is low, and has an open ditch to carry off the surplus water. As fortune would have it, we came quietly along, and suddenly came on a man and woman sitting on the bank of the ditch, talking in "loves's low tones." How long they had been there, we don't know, nor how long they staid. But there was something in the tone of voice, the half-seen faces and forms, that reminded us of some one we had seen before. We did not stop to visit, and that is perhaps, one reason why they did not know they were observed. And when they read this "Mystery," it will be a mystery to them, how it was ever known they were there, for they were not man and wife. It will also perhaps be a mystery to Auburn people, as to who they were and where it all happened. Hence we say, we have a right to use that name. And we also insist that our original assertion was true, that most people who think they have a well-kept secret are greatly deceived.

The Hasenfuss Trial

The jury is this case at Fort Wayne have disagreed. Yesterday forenoon they came into the court room, and asked for further instructions. The Judge, O'Rourke, said he thought nothing could be added, but finally, read his original instructions all over again. Then the jury went out and tried it again. In the afternoon, the jury came in again and reported they had taken a number of ballots, but could not agree. They were discharged, and the case will all have to be tried over again. Mrs. Hasenfuss is charged with murder, poisoning of a man named Westenfeld.

Advance a Step.

If you have been in the habit of taking pills for your constipation and with poor results, just try a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and you will be surprised at the results. Very pleasant to take. 10 cents, 50 cents and $1. Sold and recommended by H. B. McCord.

Orders Called.

All county orders are called for redemption. Interest stops after December 15, 1899.

F. M. HINES, Treasurer.
December 1, 1899.

Silent on one Point.

When women are talking with each other about clothes they never say much about the old things they wear around the house rainy days.—New York Press.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

It was his Fiftieth.

